Polls Open 7 A.M. Tuesday For Blackman Vs. Koonz

Both Candidates For Local Office Campaign Hard

As Springfield voters prepared to go to the polls Tuesday, to decide, among other things, who will represent them on the Township Committee, candidate Alex Blackman, Democrat, and Vincent J. Bonadies, Republican, were campaigning hard for the single seat vacated by Committee member Vincent J. Bonadies. Bonadies, a member of the Committee for eight years, and mayor for three, is seeking election to the State Assembly on the Democratic ticket.

The polls will be open from 7 a.m. to 8 p.m.

ELVEN YEARS OF Springfield election results are shown in chart above. As the township grew so did the Democratic vote—majority, hitting its peak in 1955 when Vincent Bonadies ran stronger than the Presidential candidate. Trend was reversed in 1961 with high Republican vote, and was maintained in last year's general election. Black sections in chart indicate Democratic vote and white, Republican.

Political Profiles Vincent J. Bonadies, Candidate For Assembly

When Springfield voters turn out at the polls this Tuesday, they will find the familiar name of Township Committee member Vincent J. Bonadies in an important spot on the ballot.

Specific regulations now govern the moving of buildings within the Township of Springfield. At a special meeting Monday night the Township Committee passed a resolution to establish work rules for the moving of houses within township boundaries.

Koonz, Blackman Clash Over Changing Town's Form Of Government

William F. Koonz, Republican, and Alex Blackman, Democrat, clashed Tuesday night over the wisdom of changing Springfield's form of government — a program Blackman has said he will work for and one which Koonz says he will not buy.

ALEX BLACKMAN

The pair, candidates for the Springfield Township Committee at next Tuesday's election, spoke at a candidates' forum sponsored by the Springfield League of Women Voters which drew an audience of about 100.

Blackman said that he hoped tax reforms would make it less costly. Under the Fair Labor Act, he said, the township would be able to change to one of several forms of government.

In 1955, indicated a council-manager form of government was preferred in Springfield but that a referendum on the subject was defeated. He pointed to Irvington and another neighboring town which, he said, have seen only troubles from a change in government.

Blackman was asked by Robert Johnson, 31 Ruby st., whether he would consider rest in seeking a change of government. "Would it be possible to have the referendum in the next year?"

Blackman said that he hoped tax reforms would make it less costly. Under the Fair Labor Act, he said, the township would be able to change to one of several forms of government.

In the five minutes allotted him under the league's industrial rules, three minutes were allowed for rebuttal and then for answering questions. A timekeeper in the audience as a member of the Springfield League — used to put watch to enforce the rule.

Koonz proposed to give new industrial and business rates into the community in the industrial tract along Rt. 22 and adjacent to Interstate Highway 73 when it is completed. "The new highway," he said, "will bring new tax payers."

He said that an expanded recreation program is needed, particularly for teen-age girls and adults. He said that the schools could be a significant use for recreation and suggested bringing back Saturday night tennis classes.

He proposed to work for easing the tax burden on major citizens by having the township assume the cost of the school district so that they need not move from a community after retirement, for a two-year community college program, and for curtailing the powers of the State Highway Department so that highway construction will be distributed in a pattern of community planning.

VINCENT BONADIES, local Democratic candidate for Assembly, said that he supports the referendum because it is a referendum because we have no alternative for needs now being met.

He said that his business experience as sales manager for the Duquet Fish Company in Springfield will be an asset in helping maintain a sound financial program. Within the township and his experience as a consultant for the same firm could be used to help upgrade the physical condition of the playgrounds and parks here.

Protocol In Polling When Polls Open? Splitting Vote?

Here's a quickie course in polling place protocol for those who are voting Tuesday for the first time — or for the first time in a long while.

The polls are open from 6 a.m. to 8 p.m. If you don't know where to vote, a complete list of voting districts and voting places appears elsewhere on this page. If you are still uncertain, a helpful neighbor can probably tell you where the polling place is. Or, call the township clerk's office at DR 6-5100.

You can split your vote if you wish. You don't have to cast all your ballots in the same political camp. Pushing down a fever for one candidate does not automatically cast a second vote for his running mate.

You don't have to cast a vote for every office or an answer on every referendum. If you haven't decided on some issues or candidates, you may pass up voting merely by failing to depress those particular levers.

You don't have to register every year — or vote in the primary — in order to cast a ballot in the general election. If you voted in November, and you still live at the same address you're eligible to vote Tuesday.

If you were a "Miss" last year, and you were a "Mrs." this year, you needn't file out an affidavit, even though you neglected to inform the Election Board of your new name, unless, of course, you've moved into another county. If you are otherwise eligible to vote, the election worker will ask you to sign both your old and new name. This also applies to name changes due to court decree or divorce.

Are you a newcomer to Union County? If you moved here from another county since the last election, and did not re-register, you cannot vote. If you moved into the county after Nov. 20, the registration deadline, you are not registered and cannot vote Tuesday.

If you moved WITHIN the county after the registration deadline and failed to notify the election board, you can still vote. If your new address is in the same election district, poll workers will let you cast a ballot after you sign an affidavit. If you moved from one district to another, you'll have to vote in your old polling place, after signing an affidavit.

Blind or physically disabled voters may ask for assistance within the voting booth. However, election law states that help must be selected BEFORE the voter enters the booth. The Film-On-Pacific Ocean Slated At Trailside — "Across the Pacific" a color sound film will be shown to the Sunday afternoon visitors at the Union County Park Commission's Trailside Nature and Science Center, in the Wetland Reservation, at 3 p.m. Sunday. The life aboard ship is reflected in this film journey which extends from Seattle, Washington, to a major port in Australia. The film will show dockings at San Francisco, Honolulu, and the Fiji Islands, depicting the leisurely ways of the Pacific.

Mayors To Meet, Discuss Road Aid

Mayors and the engineers of largely unknown. He said that will suffer under the impact of the highway program. He said that the highway program will be a boon to the state and county funds.

Initial meeting of the mayors was held last Wednesday. The meeting, called by Springfield Mayor Arthur St. Eakin, included the chief executives of Cranford, Westfield, Summit, Kentworth, Mountaineer and Millburn.

Mayor Eakin said that it was the consensus that an area approach to the problems of such road construction will eliminate overlapping and give a stronger hand in obtaining state and county funds.

He said that the location, costs and amount of traffic expected on feeder roads was now held in a single meeting and that they would be held. Present at the meeting were State Senator Nelson Hamler and Freshford Edward Miller of Garwood. Hamler told the group that he felt there was an urgent need for the communities so far involved in the highway construction to coordinate their efforts.

PARAPLEGIC JAILED

Magistrate Gives Vet 15 Days

Henry L. Terry, 41-year-old paraplegic, who lives at 82 Meeker st., Springfield, was fined $305 and sentenced to 15 days by Magistrate Thomas A. Argyris in Springfield Municipal Court Monday night for driving on the revoked list.

Terry, who is paralyzed from the waist down, was taken to the Union County jail along with his wheel chair.

The court had reserved decision in the matter two weeks ago after Terry pleaded guilty to the charge. He had been convicted of the same offense earlier in September and was given a 60-day suspended sentence and fined $155. The latest revoked driving offense occurred before the 60-day period expired.

Terry, a World War II veteran, has a long record of motor vehicle convictions, as well as convictions for his connection in breaking and entering cases in Union and East Orange, the court revealed. He transported in his car the persons who actually committed the burglaries.

NSC Enrollment At 2,005 Students In Addition To 3,800 Part-Timers

Student enrollment at Newbury State College, Union, has risen above 2,000 this year for the first time in the college's history. Official enrollment now is 2,005. Last year it was 1,801, while in the college year 1957-58 enrollment was 883.

Enrollment figures refer to the number of full-time undergraduate students, the usual index to the size of a college. Total enrollment also would include about 3,800 part-time students in the Field Services Division. The college may enroll 2,200 or more next fall. Present plans call for a freshman class of 825 next year, as opposed to 808 this year.

The ratio of women to men remains about 4-1. This year there are 1,602 women to 413 men, as compared with 1,407 to 303 last year.

ROLLER SKATING FOR OLDER FANS
Why Should Kids Corner All The Fun?

When you're roller skating, it's not just a kid's game. It's a fun, relaxing activity for everyone. The club's 20 members, including several married couples and at least one pair of grandparents, are enjoying the fun. Mrs. Brewer, president of the club, says she is the only one who skates every week. She says she has learned a lot from the other members and is enjoying the fun. The club meets every Wednesday night at 8 o'clock in the Twin City Arena in Elizabeth. On Friday and Saturday nights, the members usually get together for an outdoor skating session. Bonadies Raps GOP For 'Closed-Door' Method In Trenton

Former Mayor Vincent J. Bonadies of Springfield, candidate for the State Assembly from Union County, this week accused the Republican Assembly candidates of practicing a "closed-door" method of government for the people of Union County in the State House in Trenton.

Bonadies charged that when the GOP Assembly candidates declared that it is essential for the county to be represented by a Republican Senator and a full slate of Republican Assembly representatives, they "sealed the door" to open government to the Union County people.

WJZ To Air Results Of Union County Race

Union County residents will be able to hear the latest returns of the Stantler-McGovern race for the county's state senate seat over radio station WJZ, 970 on the dial, Tuesday.

Bonadies further charged that the five Republican Assembly candidates gave a mere telephone call from Trenton that they would not support income tax, sales tax or the Governor's Bond Issue.

Miss Kanane Hits 'Scare Tactics' Of Opponent Kirk

Mrs. C. Kanane of Union, Republican candidate for surrogate this week charged her opponent with engaging in "scare tactics" in an attempt to "frighten the voters."

"In effect their stand did not recognize the urgent needs for providing shelter, employment and education for our children for higher education; in those who wait patiently for admission to our institutions for retarded and mental illnesses and to industries and commerce suffering from the strangulation of growth and inadequate highway facilities."

7 Lose Licenses For Points, Speed

Seven Union County motorists from this area have forfeited their licenses for violating points under the state's 60/70 Excessive Speed Program and Point System, the Division of Motor Vehicles announced this week.

Bonadies advocated greater job security with professional status and the review of present "stagnant" residence laws with a view toward making it possible for police and firemen to establish a realistic standard of living of their own choosing.

"We must attract more talented young men to the ranks of police and firemen by supporting legislation guaranteeing equitable wages, broader pension consideration and family benefits," Bonadies said.

Team Teaching Is Special Program At Jonathan Dayton High School

Second in a series on the Union County Regional High School District.

By MARGAN BROWN

It is then a question of evidence?" asked social studies teacher Paul Karish, recently of a book review panel of four Jonathan Dayton Juniors in an experimental U. S. History 2-group.

He faced the panel across a corridor between rows of students whose desks fan out on either side in a double classroom in the agriculture building behind the high school. A partition between the two rooms is thrown open to create one large room.

The panel was discussing Arthur Schlesinger's book, "Coming Of The New Deal," before three classes which meet in combined sessions in a team teaching pilot program launched to increase the intellectual depth of the course through variety in method and teacher-pupil contacts.

They had raised the question of bias in the author's treatment of the late Franklin Delano Roosevelt, subject of the book.

"He shows Roosevelt more like a god than a person," said David Gershen, one of the panelists.

"I don't think so at all, Dave," Robert Wuerz countered. "He points out that Roosevelt made serious political errors."

It was at this point that Karish asked if the group thought bias could be expressed through the author's selection of evidence.

One of the panelists thought there is room for bias in selecting evidence concerning Roosevelt's conflict with the Supreme Court when it declared the NIRA and other programs unconstitutional. Another thought Schlesinger unqualifiedly biased because he said that Roosevelt was not a Socialist.

He is just one of the special projects used to challenge the inquisitive youngster with demonstrated academic ability. It was launched by Miss Pauline Keith, district coordinator of the social studies department, who explained that it is proving so successful that the method may be used with other groups next year.

The book review panel was followed the next day with a field trip to Hyde Park and after that with lectures on the accomplishments and bibliography of the New Deal. A film, "This is TVA" rounded out the week.

The work unit covers the dramatic scene in American history between the two world wars and includes a bibliography of 59 books. The selection of good literature is brought in whenever possible for history, the 1920s and 1930s are compared by contrasting the Great Gatsby with "Gangs of Wreck."

"AMERICA'S ROLE in the international scene during the same period will follow and will include a comparison between philosophical, social and economic aspects of capitalism and communism. The book list that goes with this unit should provide a lifetime of reading for all who take the course. There is a great deal of source material here if it is not just a list of theoretical interpretations.

Miss Keith said that she plans to invite members of the English department to speak on literature representative of the period. For instance, Alex Kropnick, who teaches world literature, a Jonathan Dayton English elective, will be asked to speak on Russian literature when the group studies the development of Russian thought.

"This is properly included in American history," Miss Keith explained, as it affects our foreign policy.

The English department is fitting into this venture in depth, for it has a sophisticated reading list of its own. Mrs. Muriel Muller, district coordinator for English, said that the Junior and senior reading list this year runs a gamut from Mark Twain to James Joyce.

Novels in English teacher may select for class use include Moby Dick, Huckberry Finn, The Scarlet Letter, Dan Quilso, Red Badge of Courage, The Secret Shivers, Portrait of an Artist as a Young Man, Crime and Punishment. The Unvanquished and Return of the Native. Plays include comedies by Aristophanes, Moliere, and Shaw and tragedies by Sophocles, Shakespeare, Ibsen, Strindberg, and O'Neill.

The vast amount of outside reading which may follow will include a comparison between philosophical, social and economic aspects of capitalism and communism.

They are among 32,000 students throughout the country who are receiving letters of commendation, Stankaker said. "Although they did not reach the status of semi-finalists in the current merit program they are so capable that we wish to call attention in this way to their achievement and academic promise. Semi-finalists and commended students constitute about two per cent of all high school seniors."

First names, addresses and test scores will be sent to the colleges they indicated as their preferred choice when they took the test in order to increase their scholarship opportunities. Although they will not receive the four-year merit scholarships which will be awarded to finalists this April they are eligible for scholarships offered through the facilities of the National Merit Scholarship Corporation.

Five leaders have been hired by the department to guide the 120 registrants in the program. Mrs. Lillian Johnson will serve in an advisory capacity.

The scheduled time for the program are Tuesday at 3:30 p.m. and Saturday 10 a.m. For more information concerning the program contact Seal Donahue, at the Municipal Building or call DR 6-5800, a recreation spokesman said.

Did You Know?

Legislative Control at Stake Tuesday
Why are the Democratic politicians afraid of Nelson F. Stampler? Because, without Nelson Stampler, the Democratic politicians take over control of New Jersey lock, stock and barrel. The election of Nelson Stampler will keep New Jersey out of the hands of the big-city bosses.

Wears No Man's Collar
Senator Nelson F. Stampler goes to the State House wearing no man's collar. He rises above partisanship to support bills in the public interest, yet he is unafraid to criticize members of either party when he feels they're wrong. Stampler is a man who has never feared to voice his opinion on the issues which others avoided. He speaks out boldly, courageously.

More Efficiency, Not Taxes
The Democratic Administration is committed to a billion-dollar spending spree that will force on taxpayers both a massive sales and personal income tax. Senator Stampler wants to bring more government out of every tax dollar, not spend more money unwisely. He sponsored a bill to study waste and inefficiency in the State Government, a bill killed by the Democrat-controlled Assembly.

Gets Things Done
Senator Nelson F. Stampler is an effective legislator. He gets things done. Of 156 bills signed into law this year, Stampler sponsored 44 of these. His record of action shows "much concerned thought about citizen problems of every type," as one Union County newspaper editor put it.

demands on rent adjustments that would make this possible. The proposed reconstruction is 320 feet wide by 84 feet long, tapering to 300 feet along the street. It would include a five-foot wide walk, curbing, drainage, fencing, street lights and parking meters. Siffelman said the Chamber hopes the Township will install the meters and use the revenue from them for maintenance, water, snow removal and lighting. The lot would increase pedestrian traffic, Siffelman said, and spur business on both sides of Morris ave. It would provide incentive for stores to remain in the area and expand operations, encourage new stores to locate on Morris ave., and act as a safeguard for landlords for present and future leases.

Police Jail Youth After Wild Chase

John P. Fitzsimmons, 18, of 110 Linden ave., Springfield, is in Union County jail in default of a $3,000 bail as a result of a two-mile, gun-fire chase by Springfield police in that county and his capture in Millburn during the early morning hours of Oct. 23.

His twin brother, Joseph, is free in $750 bail pending a hearing Monday night resulting from a separate altercation with Springfield police last Friday night. He has the same address.

Police in Springfield were unaware of a series of burglaries along Rt. 22 from the junction to Springfield in which 33 Mr. Fitzsimmons and the juvenile were to be apprehended, according to acting Chief Leslie Joyner.

Patrolman Ralph Merlino and Edward Reischer initially gave chase, because they saw two youths pull out of a diner driveway in a car with no license plates. They did not know at the time that the car had been stolen.

Fired Shots

Off-duty Patrolman Samuel Calabrese, who happened to be nearby, also took part in the chase for two miles in and out of streets in Springfield and into Millburn, Chief Joyner said.

The officers fired shots in an effort to puncture the tires of the car. When the chase ended, there were five bullet holes in the car trunk, the police said.

Millburn police joined in the chase, until the youths continued flight on foot after driving the car up onto a lawn, according to Springfield police.

The officers pursued on foot until John Fitzsimmons ran into a four-foot fence, which stunned him for a moment, but he leaped over it and down into a 15-foot ditch, police said.

The officers returned for headlights and went down into the ditch themselves. They searched until Calabrese spotted a hand in a pile of leaves. It belonged to John Fitzsimmons, he said, and he was arrested.

The juvenile, meanwhile, had been up and taken into custody.

Reports then began coming in from other communities of the "AMPER WITH OUR COMPLETE SELECTION OF AQUARIUMS. Toys • Cages • Beds" advertisement.

Citizens Opposed

Turnpike earnings which the bond plan advocates contend will be available beginning in 1972 to help retire the proposed state bond issues plus their $300,000,000 interest costs. The group advised that the freeways, some of which are already partially constructed, will replace 600 Northern New Jersey and divert considerable traffic to new freeways to use the Turnpike.

Citizens Opposed also pointed out that the Federal Highway Aid Program is scheduled to end in the next fiscal year, and that construction not completed by that year will have to be paid for in full by New Jersey taxpayers.

Next, they allegedly broke into a North Plainfield boat center and police there are conducting investigation of three other highway "break-ins" that night and morning, they said.

John Fitzsimmons was arrested the same day before Magistrate Thomas A. Argyris on charges of possession of stolen goods and failure to give a good account of himself.

John Fitzsimmons entered innocent pleas to indictments charging him with breaking and entering and larceny at a service station in Scotch Plains and in breaking with the intent to steal from a Mountaineer refreshment stand, a snack bar and restaurant in Westfield and a Springfield service station.

The total number of charges today is 12. He also faces motor vehicle charges in Millburn.

Events surrounding the arrests of Joseph Fitzsimmons and John were reported by Police Chief Wilbur C. Schneider, who had since returned from vacation.

Joseph Fitzsimmons, who is 30 pounds heavier than his 150-pound twin, police said, was approached by Patrolmen Richard Elfin and Rex Powell while the youths were lightly plucked at Mountain and Houshauve aces, according to the chief. The officers asked for identification, but got abuse in return, they said.

One of the boys challenged one officer to take off his badge, Powell said.

A scuffle ensued, police said, involving the two officers and two boys, who were subdued and taken to police headquarters.

The two officers charged each of the two boys with assault on a police officer and disorderly conduct. Each of the boys filed counter-complaints against the two officers for simple assault and disorderly person.

Joseph Fitzsimmons is awaiting recall to active duty in the U. S. Navy, the chief added.

Honoring Director Of Library

Mrs. Helen C. Reyer, retiring director of the Springfield Public Library, will be honored at a testimonial dinner Jan. 15 at 7 p.m. at Stouffer's Restaurant, Short Hills. It was announced this week. The affair will be attended by the library board of trustees, the library staff, township officials, friends and members of other organizations with which Mrs. Reyer is affiliated. Tickets are available at the library from Mrs. Helen C. Reyer, acting director, who is in charge of reservations. Mrs. Joseph A. Bomler, vice president of the board of trustees, is chairman of arrangements. She will be assisted by Kenneth R. Hessel, Jr., president, and Mrs. Francis Reyer. Mrs. Reyer served as library director from 1933 until she was named director in 1957. During her decade with the library circumstances have risen from 30,000 books in 1933 to 150,000 this year, according to figures released by Mrs. Francis Reyer. In 1957, an addition three times the size of the original library was built. At a library board meeting last February Mrs. Reyer submitted formal requests for retirement effective this Feb. 7. She was then named consultant to the board and asked to prepare a 10-year history of the library and a study of library facilities and services. Mrs. Francis said that she will present a recommendation for expanded facilities at the end of this year.

Stratton told the board that he had examined the property and described it as an "island type." He said it was too small for construction of a road through the property and would therefore make it impractical to divide for single home construction. Some properties would be of unusual depth, he said, and the property depth only be used for seven or eight lots.

Simon said that parking for 65 cars had been provided and noted that this was 11 more than required by ordinance. He said that the conventional home would not be used for care of "mental patients, drug addicts, epileptics" or contagious diseases.

He said that the use would not be out of keeping with that already existing in the area, which, he noted, already had a temple, church and three schools.

Simon said that traffic would not be affected by the proposed use of the nature of the structure. He pointed out that a convalescent home was not a hospital in the sense that people would not be constantly coming and going. Visiting hours he said, are planned from 2 to 4 p.m. on weekdays.

Dr. Henry Susserman, a Newark physician, a vice president of the board, said that approximately 100 persons would be employed on three shifts.

A letter signed by four residents protesting erection of the home was entered in evidence and six persons in the audience protested its erection largely on the issue of congestion. Two residents appeared in favor of the project.

Board Chairman Robert C. Miller said that the board could not answer the question of whether the land could be used for another purpose if the venture was not successful, and the structure sold.

Town Enacts Rules For House Moving

(Continued from Page 1) the discretion of the building inspector no damage to private or public property will ensue, a permit will be issued.

Maximum height of the building has been set at 25 feet, or at the discretion of the building inspector. Tree cutting, under the regulations, must be done by members of the Shade Tree Commission and no removal or excess tree cutting will be permitted.

Five days will be permitted for the entire moving project, the resolution states, and all rubbish and materials left at the excavation site must be cleared within 10 days.

If moving exceeds the five day limit, a charge of $100 a day will be levied for each day in excess.

In addition, the movers must post liability insurance to cover damage caused by any equipment and cash deposits of $1,000 from the mover and $1,000 from the owner must be supplied.

If a moving permit is denied by the building inspector, the owner may apply at the township clerk's office and consideration of the case will be given by the Township Committee.

The resolution stipulates that all occupants of homes on township roads must be notified of the move and the township engineer must be notified 48 hours before the move. The owners must agree to abide by the decision of the engineer.

The owners of the structure must pay expenses of any police officer or other township employee whose services are required during the move, the resolution stipulates.

No building will be allowed to relocate in the township in approximately $30,000. The applicants were also requesting that they be allowed to convert an existing room into a private coffee shop.

Other applications were from Manor, Inc. to erect a 40-foot high on their property on Rt. 22, adjacent to Union County Park Commission property. Malcolm Schmitt, who said the owners of the property stock holders of Manor, said that the sign was needed so that the building could be identified. The building is presently hidden by trees from the adjacent road, he said. The application was requested for approval.

Raymond Stawick of 13 Prince Street, who asked for a sign on his yard, said that the sign was needed so that the property could be identified. The building is presently hidden by trees from the adjacent road, he said. The application was requested for approval.

violation of zone laws, and when the house is loaded on the trailer, prior to the actual move, it cannot extend over a public right-of-way.

In addition, no planned moves will be permitted in the township. Although state statute sets the hours for the moving of houses between 9 p.m. and 6 a.m., the committee agreed to continue on its route if the move cannot be completed within those hours.

It was explained that this was being done to facilitate the move and have the structure on its new location as quickly as possible.

Passage of the resolution by the committee was prompted by the appearance of over 50 Bryant ave. residents at last week's Township Committee meeting, who were protesting the moving of a house along their street.

Falling limbs. The house, according to measurements given by Committee member Robert D. Harbridge, was 27 feet wide and was being moved along a 30-foot street.

The two-and-a-half story structure, rising 34 feet on the back of a rig operated by a house moving firm from Nyack, N. Y., caused the cut-off of power in the area, knocking off of tree limbs (both public and private) and caused a traffic jam on the street for some seven hours.

Residents of the area complained that the cutting of trees "unable to be replaced" was done by men of the Township Department of Public Works. Under the direction of Township Engineer Walter Kozub and Road Superintendent Bill Trivett.

They told the committee that the house only moved a few feet at a time along their street and that limbs and trees were cut as it approached. One woman said she was unable to leave her driveway when the house passed in front of her home for over two hours.

In the wake of the moving, residents said, limbs and sawdust caused by cutting of trees in the township's chipper lay strewn on their lawns. They said the damage was worse than that caused by a hurricane and said the area was left in a state resembling "Sherman's March through Georgia."

GOVERNOR NAMED IT. When Columbus landed on the island of Puerto Rico in 1493, he named it San Juan Bautista. According to the book "King of Kings," it was then the longest first Spanish governor of the island, who gave the territory its present name.

Hold Union Man For Grand Jury On Knife Charge

Harold Tucker, 41, of 484 Pennsylvania ave., Union, was held for action of a Union County grand jury on a stabbing charge Monday night.

A preliminary hearing was held in Springfield Municipal Court before Magistrate Thomas A. Argyris. Tucker had pleaded innocent at a previous arraignment, had been free in $2,500 bail. The magistrate Monday night granted a defense request for a lower bail amount and set the amount at $750. Tucker remains free in bail.

Tucker, who is charged with atrocious assault and battery, allegedly attacked a business associate, David Margolis, 38, in the home of a mutual friend in Springfield. Margolis, who lives at 18 Lancaster rd., Union, was treated at a hospital for a cut on the face after the alleged incident Sept. 23.

Tucker and Margolis formerly were associated in a business, the Springfield Realty Co., Union. Springfield police said an argument broke out between the two men in the friend's living room over a mortgage transaction, and it became heated, they said, and it is alleged that Tucker ran into the kitchen, grabbed a knife and attacked Margolis.

The Scouting program in Springfield encompasses over 400 boys and leaders in 8 units in Springfield, sponsored by civic clubs and churches, according to Falkin. The Cub Scout program for boys 8 through 10 is sponsored by the First Presbyterian Church, Pack 70; St. James Roman Catholic Church Pack 73, and the Lions Club Pack 172.

Director Reports Peak Enrollment For Adult School

A record 1,885 registration in the Union County Regional Adult School for this year, was reported at last week's meeting of the school board held at the Jonathan Dayton Regional High School.

Dr. Monroe L. Solivak, school director, said that the previously announced record enrollment of 1,936 for the fall semester was increased to the new figure because of late registration. Another order of business was the selection of courses to be offered.

These included: Creative Studies, Furniture, Refinishing, Transistor Theory, Creative Expression, Beginning and Popular Piano, Accordion, Philately, Photography, Polish-Reading and Writing, Creative Sewing and Children's Clothes.

William Blumso, treasurer, read the financial report which was approved. Dr. Herman Bleber, board chairman, presided.

Opposes Bond Issue In Unanimous Voting. The Springfield Republican Club Monday night unanimously voted against Gov. Hughes' bond issue proposal. John Grifo, president, announced.

He said about 40 members were on hand to vote for a resolution opposing the bond issue question. Grifo noted that the proposal had been discussed at several club meetings in the past.

Re-elected voters grew to 4,491 in 1962, and the Republicans regained a foothold. Republican Raymond Forbush tallied 2,082 votes against his high Democratic opponent Keane who received 1,485.

In that same year, Republican Arthur Handville was elected with a total of 1,967 votes and Irwin Weinberg, a Democrat, was defeated with a final count of 1,719.

Remaining Republicans in 1958. Bonnelly was elected with 3,041 votes and his high Democratic opponent Keane drew 2,753 votes, although he did not finish. Bonnelly's running mate Albert G. Bender, elected to the committee with 2,994 votes. Registered voters that year totaled 6,537 and 81 percent of those registered their votes.

For the election of 1957, Springfield formerly a six district township, was re-districted into 12. Total voter registration was 6,885 and 80 percent of the registered voters turned out to elect Bonadies by a vote of 3,931 to 1,686. Republican candidate Henry Grabarz drew 2,208.

Democratic voting ran high for the next three years. In 1958 Democrats Howard Flammer and Daniel Lucy won township committee seats by votes of 3,559 and 3,605 respectively. While Republicans Isaac Freedman and Handville registered 1,864 and 1,872 respectively.

By 1959 voter registration was 7,234. The margin between the Republicans and Democrats was closing, but Democrats Russel Sibble and William Batwinille were elected by 2,822 and 2,848. James Cavley and Paul Beck drew 2,686 and 2,611 votes.

Bonadies defeated Paul Murphy, Republican in 1960 by a vote of 3,528 to 3,067 to gain the only vacancy on the committee. Bonadies tallied 1,163 votes ahead of the Democratic Presidential candidate, topped the vote for Republican Presidential candidate, Richard Nixon and Congressman Florence Dwyer and ran "behind Senator Clifford Case."

1961 brought the margin vote back to the Republicans and that vote was held last year. Total registration in 1961 was 6,245 and 80 percent of the voters turned out at the polls to elect Republican Robert D. Harbridge and Arthur M. Falkin by 3,217 and 3,375 respectively. Democratic candidate Richard Sullivan brought in 3,054 votes and his running mate Peter Finnetta 2,641.

In the same election, Harbridge beat McCarthy's opponent for a one-year unexpired term by a vote of 3,319 over the Democrat John C. Finney's 2,901 abstention.

We talk about Halloween fun and think about it, and plan for it, too. But we really need to think about and plan for more than the costumes, the refreshments, the treats and the excitement. Or, at least, we need to keep in mind the importance of not having any of the fun spoiled by accidents or tragedy.

Poor visibility and carelessness with fire are two of the chief causes of accidents. Halloween masks and head coverings and the use of open flames from candles or matches are often two hazardous aspects of Halloween. Add flowing robes as part of a costume which can distract the attention of the wearer, cause tripping or being easily seen, and the Halloween dress-up tradition has far too many tragedy-promoting aspects.

BE GOOD TO YOURSELF EAT AT...

GARY'S RESTAURANT
1750 Springfield Ave. Maplewood, N. J.

These are the suggestions of the New Jersey State Safety Council for "trick or treaters!"

Provide a "make-up mask" — which never can block a child's vision. Make up his face with nontoxic paints so he can imagine himself to be a witch, goblin, ghost, pirate, Indian, cowboy, gypsy, clown, devil, etc. There are equally fascinating characters for girls. Apply color over cold cream base for easy removal. With this type of "make-up," a child will be able to see danger in time to avoid it. He cannot do with a paper bag over his face or when a fabric or plastic mask is skewer over his eyes.

Make him "bright at night" — by wearing a light-colored costume so he can be clearly visible to motorists. Or, for glamour and extra visibility of dark costumes, dress up the garment with bands of reflectorized tape and daubs of glitter-stuff that reflect light. Keep the length short enough not to trip the wearer when he is walking or running.

Use a flame-retardant process — on any homemade costume as a safety measure to prevent a flashfire from a flame or spark. Dip the fabric in a solution of nine ounces of borex, four ounces of borac acid and a gallon of warm water. Wring by hand and hang to dry. Ironing does not reduce the flame-resistance, but the treatment must be repeated after each washing.

Wash and purchase manufacturer's costumes; "beans," slippers, inspect labels for statements of treatment for flammability.

SPORTS EDITORIAL

David Barr Memorial

David Barr, publisher of "The Sports Reporter," died last week.

All who knew Dave and his publication knew of his devotion to the sport of bowling. For 23 years "The Sports Reporter" has brought news of bowling and the bowling industry to many avid readers throughout the state.

Dave Barr was always quick to help his fellow journalist in any way possible and was often called upon. His knowledge of the game and its stars—past and present—was astounding. He lent his efforts and publication to all worthy causes and was a central figure in last year's annual Union County Bowling Day.

In recent years Dave had numerous problems, both health and financial, but "The Sports Reporter" was still available every week. Dave considered the paper's publication a responsibility to his public—and he never shirked it.

Dave Barr is gone, but the bowling world he knew and loved will never forget him. Bowling proprietors, associations and bowlers should make it their business to establish a memorial to his memory. We urge that they organize and plan NOW for a "David Barr Memorial" tribute.

Bulldogs Control Play On The Field, But Lose Again

Another loss. They begin to pile up, and Dayton's football record is now 1-3-1. The reason for the extended drought seems to be a problem to the coach, the team and everyone concerned.

Last Saturday it was Scotch Plains which acted, the role of spoiler. They are a good team and their record shows just that, but the Plainsmen were out-paced, out-passed and possibly even outplayed on their home field—they won, 13-7.

After viewing the movies of the game Herb Palmer, Dayton football coach, admitted to the enigma, ball was not disheartened by the loss. He pointed out that there were some good plays pulled off by the Springfield squad, but was not hesitant to praise the playing of the boys from Scotch Plains.

"We made a few mistakes—loped to be all bunched together—they capitalized on them—and that was the ball game."

Palmer admits that the undefeated Cranford team the Bulldogs will face Saturday at Berkeley Heights is a good squad. "They have three good backs, and they will be tough," the coach said.

Since most of Cranford's game is conducted on the ground, the Bulldogs will sharpen their line play during the week. But Cranford is not a soft sponge in the aerial department either as Palmer will attest to. "They beat Clark in the 10th minute of play," he said. It will be a tough game but a good one.

Cranford has played 14 games and Springfield met the latter in a pre-season scrimmage, this and possibly a scouting report is all that Palmer has to work with.

Terry Krowba, Springfield's big breaker, threat and fastest back on the team, was lost for the season when he suffered a fractured cheekbone in last week's contest. But Palmer had praise for the running of tailback Frank Monticello. "It is really coming along and will soon show into his own," the coach said.

Bob Reis was another who was singled out for the coach as having played a fine game against the Plainsmen. Palmer also lauded the play of center Charley Roll and tackle Al Greenberg.

About the next game the manager would only say "we will have to wait and see" but the team is out in win and they are three.

Scotch Plains scored in the second quarter of last week's contest. They were aided by one of the three interceptions they picked up during the afternoon. After the first interception by George Milburn, 2nd, George Kessler, 2nd, George Altamirano, 2nd, Frank DiStasio, 2nd and Barney Greenstein, 2nd.

FRANK MONTICELLO: Springfield's tailback displays the type of broken field running which carried him over the goal line Saturday against Scotch Plains. Monticello scored Springfield's lone TD and extra point as the Bulldogs lost, 13-7.

Springfield's Booters Play Cranford Home Tomorrow

By LEW FRIDMAN

"We just are not capitalizing on the other team's mistakes," said John Palf, Springfield soccer coach, after watching his team drop a 2-1 verdict to Westfield last week.

"We played even with Westfield most of the game. They did not dominate play by any means. It is just a matter of the boys recognizing an opening and taking advantage of it—the general mentor continuing."

Dayton which now sports a record of 1-1-2 in the past had trouble bringing the ball downfield. But the coach claims that the boys have overcome this inability to move the ball, and "it is about time for them to break loose."

They might have the opportunity tomorrow against a Cranford team which has not been too strong. The game will be played in front of the Dayton school at 3:45 p.m.

Palf said that the team is just being out hustled. "They play excellently in practice, but it seems like they might be let down when they face other competition," he said.

Palf will begin using his junior and sophomores a lot more in succeeding contests.

Palf lauds the playing of goalie Keith Neffel. He claims the youngster, who is playing his first full season at the goal, would definitely make Alf County if only he had a little support up front.

The string of losses can largely be ascribed to the fact that teams to begin the season. Palf we played some real power clubs. "The psychological factor is an important one. If we had won two or at least one of those four opening contests, the boys would have had a lot more confidence and it would be a different story altogether. As it is losing takes a lot of heart out of a team," Palf said.

"A few times in the Westfield game, we could have scored. Their goalie cut out of the nets to go for the ball, but we did not have the positioning. Soccer is such a fast game, that when the opposition does make a mistake you have to use it to your advantage."

But even at that the score of the game is not actually the story. Their last goal did not come until the final 30 seconds of play.

Asked if there would be any change, Palf simply said he likes what he sees when he uses boys like Bob Mirins, and Val Telavich, a freshman. "I am going to begin to use them more, and at this point in the season it can only help us."

Westfield picked up one goal in the first quarter and two more in the final session, while the Bulldogs scored in the fourth quarter. Richie Mayer booted the ball into the nets.

Cranford should not be too tough, and with a speedier team and a little better defense the Bulldogs could begin to pull out of this losing spree tomorrow. One win the coach says will make an awful lot of difference.

Union's Juniors Play Tied Match In Table Tennis

The second week of play in the New Jersey State Table Tennis League was completed last week at Edison Lanes in Edison. Paced by Harvey Gutman of the Union Juniors with three victories, the Juniors fought to a 5-5 tie with Red Bank. Princeton sealed the first place status as left Swales led them with three victories to a 5-5 tie with a strong Clifton team.

John Kilpatrick won three matches over Newark. Despite these triumphs, however, Newark was able to slip by Jersey City, 8-4. This week the Union Juniors are scheduled to play Clifton and the Union Seniors, who drew a bye last week, will play Easton town.

Three-Way Tie Results In Girls Bowling League

The Four Wanders, a team composed of Barbara Palmer, Alice Cooper, Diane LaMorgese and Heidi Cooper, defeated the previously unbeaten Four Strikes last week, forcing the Girls Recreation into a three-way tie.

The Tin Breakers, turned back the Lucky Stars in two games to move into a tie for first place. Pacing the Pin Breakers was Diane Siger, who rolled the high games of the day, posting scores of 100 and 101.

The Wild Bowlers and the Pros faced in the remaining match of the afternoon and they split their two games. Gail Poznanski lead the Pros to their victory, while Karen Labor was the leading bowler for the Wild Bowlers.

In the individual statistics department Diane Siger moved from fourth to first. On the wings of her effort last week, Diane rolled her average to 86.

Alice Cooper continued in the second spot with an average of 87. Gail Poznanski continued to lead with an 88 and Mary Louie Young, who averaged 88 in the first two games, had an average of 89. Heidi Cooper, previous leader, dropped to 88, posting an average of 79. The remaining girls in the top ten of the Girls Recreation Bowling League are: Virginia Vogt 78, Diane LaMorgese 72, Nancy Morillo 72, Linda Norwalk 70 and Karen Labor 65.

MARY LOUISE YOUNG "Speculators bring!"

Kessler Squad Takes Over First

Sandy Kessler's team took two games last week to replace the Stan Brothers as the top team in the Temple Beth Aham Bowling League at Hy Way Bowl.

George Widom again led the scoring parade, hitting games of 22-201. Laurie Cole rolled 209-202. Sid Dorfman 224, Beaudie Shapiro 227, Bill Prokhorner 215, George Milburn 209, Sandy Kessler 205, George Altamirano 212, Frank DiStasio 205 and Barney Greenstein 200.

Boys Bowling Loop Set In Springfield

The Springfield Recreation Commission will begin a boys' bowling league, beginning at the beginning of the "the boys' league" which will follow the same pattern of the girls program already established, with bowlers from 10-14.

Scott Donington, assistant director of recreation, announced that he already has enough applicants to activate a six team league. But new applications will also be accepted.

A start period of instruction will precede the actual boys competition. Mario Latella and Donington will instruct the young bowlers.

Tie In Temple League

The Newmans and the Horsteins are in a deadlock for first place in the Sharyn Shalom Brotherhood Bowling League at Hy Way Bowl. Both sport identical records of 15 wins, six losses and 20 Peterson Points. Leading the individual scoring parade were Art Glover with 212, Jay Doros 211; Sid Altin, 203; and Denny Parks 202.

Shreve Rolls 659 For League High

The Center Singair team swept three from the VFW squad last week to take over first place in the Springfield Sports League at Springfield Bowl. The Singair bowlers have racked up 16 victories in 24 games, while Milton's Legends has won 15 in the same number of contests.

Bob Shreve of the Colonones led the individual scoring as he rolled 216-235-204-659, league high this season.

Dick Bedarrak of Mitons led 230-203-402; Dick Weber 202; Al Jacoby 212; Mark Conte 203; Stan Cornfield 202; Steve Eley 202; and Sam Gasterovska 201.

Political Profiles Vincent J. Bonadies, Candidate For Assembly

But most important, Bonadies said, the Township Committee master-planned the industrial tract now located on the south side of Rt. 22. "I must take personal credit for that," Bonadies said, explaining that he introduced the proposal for subdivision of the 120-acre tract into lots for high level manufacturing concerns. "The area is 25 percent built up," he said, "and will bring in one-third of the taxes in Springfield some day."

They also began the $225,000 sanitary sewer, Bonadies said, and finished it at a cost to the community of only $24,000. "The remainder of the cost was paid through an $80,000 federal grant and contributions from private developers."

Asked what programs he would push if he is elected to the Assembly, he said that he would work for an overhaul of the state tax structure. "Property taxes are too high," he said, "and Republican legislators have elected a pledge to work against a sales or income tax. We have to find another way. We might investigate the possibility of levying a tax on the history or we might adjust our highway tolls, since ours is a corridor state and the majority of our using our roads are from out of state. Also there are inequities in our corporate, motor vehicle and tobacco taxes."

He didn't originally intend to enter politics," he said. "I was a nice old fellow, Fred Kane, who taught me what it means to be a citizen." He joined the Springfield Democratic party, and he kept following it around, saying it would be wonderful if I were to become active in politics. I went to my first meeting of the Democratic Club to keep him happy."

It was 1952, and that night Bonadies was made president of the club, city chairman and candidate for township committee. "The Democratic party was badly disorganized," he said. "It was a divided camp run by about six men. The independents were putting up candidates."

He ran that year with Leo Moran, on the Independent ticket, were Thomas Arrigisi, now Springfield magistrate, and Francis Keane, now on the Planning Board. Republican candidates Albert Binder, who later became mayor, and Eugene D'Annunzio, court clerk, won with 57 percent of the votes.

"The next year, when the slug bug and the five-man committee was up for grabs, Bonadies defeated former Mayor Robert Marshall by 301 votes. He has served on the Township Committee ever since, as mayor in 1959, 1960 and 1961. "I was the township's first Democratic mayor," he said, "and the only Democrat to win three consecutive elections."

In 1959 he drew $5 per cent of the vote, outpolling Republicans by 4,500 of a total of 7,000 votes. His victory would have gone to the Republicans, had he thought that Republican Nixon, Dwyer and Case would null the election the other way. This was the largest poll either party has drawn in Springfield, he said.

"This was a straight election, because the Democrats had held the balance of power on the Township Committee by three to two for one year. If Bonadies had lost control would have gone to the Republicans."

"I had, however, been a banner year," Bonadies said. "Everything went our way."

"In the first place," he said, "the school budget went down, among other things, and we were able to decrease the tax rate by 42 points. They expanded the Police and Fire Departments and acquired a one-acre plot on Hillside ave. for a future fire house."

Election

Township name recreation lands that are not being used for their intended purpose. In addition, he has urged speeding the needs of township municipalities in the area of parking. As a member of the Township Committee, Blackman said, he would push for better parking facilities to keep Springfield a "dynamic community."

No Blocking

Blackman, who says he will act as "loyal opposition" on the Republican dominated committee, has said he will not block any constructive legislation and, although a member of the minority party on the governing body, will represent all the people of Springfield.

Koza, a sales manager with Doggett Pison Co., Springfield, has pointed to his business training and experience as a valuable asset. A graduate of Soton Hall University with a degree in business administration, Koza led week for a seven point program which he believes will serve the township if he is elected.

Koza has said he will represent all the people in their town government by being responsive to their desires; utilize his business experience to maintain a sound fiscal program for the town, and attempt to upgrade all recreational and playground areas.

He has also said he will attempt to institute a long-range highway river flood control program; plan for local street improvements; continue to attract new retailers in industrial areas to minimize the tax burdens; and provide evening recreational facilities for teenagers.
