Jaycees Polled 400 Residents In Community Attitudes Study

content and 18 percent counting the category in the "poor-excellent" class.

Other areas in which "poor-fair" registered higher were restaurants, job opportunities within the township for all age groups and the local newspaper.

At that time a new newspaper had been introduced, and the newspaper management ... received higher positive than negative ratings.

Not everyone is as aware of what is taking place in the township, as we sometimes think, he said.

Other suggestions were for an improved shopping center, better recreational facilities, lower taxes, an open movie, removal of the trolley tracks, additional park and picnic areas, more industry, greater cultural opportunities, correction of the traffic situation and better school facilities.

While six percent of those interviewed suggested better school facilities were needed, the residents were busy defining two referendums for school facility expansion, and at the same time in the specific question portion of the poll, 57 percent rated the Board of Education in the "good-excellent" category, with 11 percent registering the lower rating.

The municipal government drew a positive of 56 percent, and a "poor-fair" of 37 percent. None of the percentages reached 100 percent, as the poll provided for the area of "no opinion."

The "Springfield-Public Library" gained a "good-excellent" rating of 58 percent, as opposed to 18 percent for "poor-fair."

With the survey indicating that 55 percent of the families interviewed had at least one teenager living at home, the library was approved for content, service and location.

Forty percent were in opposition to Rt. 78 feeling that it would hurt the community because it would divide the township, remove variables, ruin the appearance of neighborhoods, create traffic problems and force relocation.

Some 20 percent said they felt that Rt. 78 would help because it would improve the traffic situation, bring in business and provide greater accessibility to and from the township.

Rating of existing services in the order of "poor-fair," "good-excellent" follow:

Water, 18 percent, 70 percent average; electrical, 18 percent, 60 percent average; telephone, 21 percent, 61 percent; gas, 21 percent, 61 percent; electrically, 21 percent, 61 percent; television, 21 percent, 61 percent; postal service, 21 percent, 61 percent; fire protection, 21 percent, 61 percent; law enforcement, 21 percent, 61 percent.

Also, traffic regulations, 31 percent, 64 percent; sidewalks, conditions and availability, 37 percent, 53 percent; recreational facilities for children, 23 percent, 52 percent.

Rate Schools
Ratings of the public school system as determined by the poll, in the order of "poor-fair" to "good-excellent" are as follows:

Elementary: staff, seven percent, 40 percent; educational program, six percent, 47 percent; buildings and equipment, eight percent, 63 percent.

Junior High School: staff, four percent, 53 percent; educational program, four percent, 62 percent; buildings and equipment, five percent, 58 percent.

High School: staff, seven percent, 44 percent; educational program, six percent, 47 percent; buildings and equipment, seven percent, 47 percent.

Residents gave a 78 percent "good-excellent" rating to the general appearance of the township. Twenty percent indicated negative feelings. Positive percentages were returned regarding shopping facilities, hotels, motels, etc. and service and repair facilities.

Job opportunities in the township for all age groups were not considered good by majority percentage. This, Farrington said, might indicate that Springfield is considered to be mainly a residential community.

Overall, registered "specific likes" about the community included: the small-town atmosphere, access to other areas, nice neighborhoods and nice people, the school system, the well kept appearance and a good place to raise children.

Dislikes registered included high taxes, condition of the roads and traffic congestion, recreational facilities, the form of government, the level of education, campaigns, the town ordinance, police department and shopping facilities.

The survey indicated that 17 percent of those interviewed were non-high school graduates; 27 percent had graduated from high school; 21 percent had some college education and 34 percent had a college degree.

CHIEF JAMES LESNICK, 11-year-old honorary chief of the New Brunswick Fire Department will show his collection of fire department articles from all over the world, to members of the Springfield Fire Department's "Star" Club, at a meeting to be held at the James Caldwell School this Saturday at 11 a.m. The club, composed of grade school youngsters, is dedicated to fire prevention.

AS A SESSION ENDS... Comments On The 18th General Assembly of the UN

The 18th regular session of the General Assembly of the United Nations began, as all regular sessions do, in September, and is due to end, as most regular sessions do, in December. This year the expected day for closing is next Tuesday, and President Lyndon Johnson is expected to be there to speak.

Working at feverish pitch, the Assembly organizations are meeting two or three times daily in order to finish by that date. If there is a delay (which is not expected), the adjournment would be a few days later. It is extremely unlikely that it would be postponed until after the Christmas holidays and continue on into January.

Besides a "regular" assembly there can also be a "special" assembly or an "emergency special" assembly, and these can be called during the year to handle special situations or problems. There have been four of each of these "specials" during 17 1/2 years.

THIS 18TH REGULAR session began, not as all regular sessions do, with a sense of great excitement and flurry. Head of governments of many large nations were expected to attend and there was a feeling in the air that it would be fraught with energy, heated arguments and unexpected crises.

Instead, it settled down, not as most sessions do, to such politeness that many people didn't believe what they were hearing. The meeting seemed to go more quietly, with more understanding, with more cooperation, and with more good-will than usual. The expected flying lid did not come flying off. It was too good to be true. Some heads of state never did show up — like Khrushchev. And some heads of state did — like President Kennedy. And then, in the very middle of it all, tragedy struck.

Perhaps for many it will always be remembered as the session during which the President of the U. S. was killed, and that's all, for it was so quiet and the tragedy was so shocking.

However, the records will show that it was also the session during which positive steps were taken against apartheid in South Africa, in which steps were taken "to compel" Portugal to free her African territories, in which the matter of Oman and its particular colonial problem, were handled, in which a budget schedule was passed to allow for the expansion and refurbishing of the UN headquarters in New York and in which plans were made for the expansion of the Security Council from 11 to 15 members and the Economic and Social Council from 18 to 24.

Some will remember it mainly for its work on legal principles governing exploration and peaceful uses of outer space, for the world campaign against hunger, disease and ignorance, for the setting up of international law pertaining to friendly relations between countries, for the work done to bring about a new UN International School for the furthering work on colonial problems, refugee problems, economic problems and in the field of human rights all over the world.

ONLY LAST MONDAY a meeting of the General Assembly was held at the UN to commemorate the 25th anniversary of the adoption of the Universal Declaration of Human Rights and a Human Rights Day Concert was held Tuesday night.

The Human Rights Declaration encourages the rights of children, women and youth from marriage problems to work problems, etc. Mrs. Eleanor Roosevelt was the original chairman. Thirty new countries have this declaration directly in their constitution.

At the meeting, 12 speakers from various countries of the world made statements, among them Dr. Carlos Soza Rodriguez of Venezuela, president of the 18th General Assembly. In his speech President Soza Rodriguez had this to say in part:

"Progress in the world of today, improvement of communications and above all the active international life which is being developed and participated by the United Nations, have now made it possible to bring hope to the most out-of-the-way village, the most benighted hamlet and the most ignorant and primitive man the knowledge that as a human being he possesses rights and owes duties, and that those rights must be safeguarded by the domestic law of States and the constant vigilance of the international community.

"In the face of the pressing needs of economic and social development and of the progress which all peoples imperatively demand, we have to apply our experience and the knowledge forged down the centuries so as to put an end once and for all to hunger, ignorance and disease. The prejudices and hatreds of some ill-adjusted groups must not be allowed to hold up our urgent task.

I fervently hope that those small isolated groups which refuse to accept the realities of the contemporary world will heed the voice of this Assembly; that individuals who are sunk deep in the slough of indifference and who defend cruel acts of injustice toward their fellow-men will see the light; that racial discrimination, persecution on religious or ideological grounds, the harassment of minorities, the denial of rights, designed to prevent access to education, work or any other exercise of free will no longer have any place in today's world.

"In conclusion, I wish to offer my congratulations to representatives here present for the Declaration on the Elimination of all Forms of Racial Discrimination which this Assembly approved recently to the Commission on Human Rights and the Sub-Commission on Prevention of Discrimination and Protection of Minorities; and to the Commission on the Status of Women and the Third Committee for their perseverance in drafting the Covenants which are to complement and give full practical effect to the Universal Declaration.

THE THIRD COMMITTEE is only one of six committees working for the General Assembly along with a seventh "special" Committee. The First Committee is the Political and Security Committee and at this writing was concerned with the outer space principles; the Special Committee is the Special Political Committee and aids the First.

The Second Committee is the Economic and Financial Committee presently concerned with the world campaign against hunger, disease and ignorance. This committee works on economic problems throughout the world and not on economic problems of the housekeeping of the UN which is the headache of the Fifth.

The Third Committee is the Social, Humanitarian and Cultural Committee, and is working on implementing human rights covenants.

The Fourth Committee or

Trusteeship and Non-Self-Governing Territories Committee is the one responsible for work on trust territories and is currently involved with Oman, Oman, or the Sultanate of Muscat and Oman. It is an independent British-protected sultanate in the southern part of Saudi Arabia. The current problem seems to be a question of how much the United Kingdom is involved in the area. There is agreement that Oman is a very delicate situation in that the classical elements of colonialism are "shrouded behind the veil" of a "so-called" independent sultanate. Defining colonialism as the domination of one country by another, the United Kingdom has been accused of dominating Muscat (the capital city of Oman), and, as a result, the whole of Oman. Therefore, there is this consideration of the question of Oman before this committee.

The Fifth Committee or Administrative and Budgetary Committee, is generally concerned with the staff and building and costs of maintaining the UN as well as the cost of peace-keeping forces overseas such as in the Congo and Gaza. It estimates the yearly budget and assessments and this year requested funds for an additional beautiful UN building. At the writing it had just approved appropriations for the United Nations International School. Plans are for a new building for the school approximately 40 blocks from the UN site to bring the school up to date. It would house about 1,000 children of delegates and personnel of the countries represented at the UN.

The Sixth Committee is the Legal Committee and is currently debating principles of international law pertinent to friendly relations between states (countries).

OTHER MEMBERS of the UN family in New York besides the General Assembly and its committees are, of course, the Security Council, the Trusteeship Council, the Economic and Social Council, the Secretariat, the specialized agencies (like UNICEF, UNESCO, etc.) and various other specialized committees and commissions.

The Security Council has a permanent membership of five members and five non-permanent members. At the writing it had just approved appropriations for the United Nations International School. # Chanukah, Christmas Displays Dominate Library Tots' Room

The seasons of Chanukah and Christmas again, dominates the Children's room at the Springfield Public Library, a library spokesman announced this week.

There is a display of books honoring Chanukah, which is the Festival of Lights. This part of the room has a display which features the traditional light blue, the Star of David and the Menorah.

Some of the most popular books on display, the library said, include: "Happy Chanukah" by Jane Bearman; "The Hanukkah Story" by Morrison Hall; "Chanuka, the Festival of Lights" by Sophia Cederbaum; "The Complete Book of Hanukkah" by Kinneret Chiel; "Ludiah, and the Brave Maccabees," by Edith Teitelbaum; and three books by Lillian Freehof, "The Carrot Candle," "The Lost Menorah," and "The Littlest Chime."

Rudolph, the Red-Nose Reindeer commands the center of the stage in the major Christmas book display, wearing the holly wreath, clothed in silver and crowned by golden antlers. Rudolph, the library said, "stands out against a brilliant red background of velvet framed by golden stars and angels."

Some of the books accompanying this exhibit are: "Tell Me About Christmas" by Mary Louisa; "The Christmas Tree" by Hertha Pauli; "Hercy's Christmas" by Tasha Tudor.

Also, "The Year of the Christmas Dogon" by Ruth Sawyer, and "Petunia's Christmas" by Roger Duvoisin. Each year new books are added to the collection. One is "Daddy, the Deer Horse" by Stan Humphreys. Another is the story by Donald Welch, "of a tiny angel, who is more of a helper than a help in doing daily tasks in heaven, so she runs away to a small town on earth where she finds a very special task for her to do."

Frosty, the Snow Man, greets you with a HI as you enter the room, and a gently trimmed Christmas tree completes the atmosphere. Both the displays of Chanukah and Christmas books lend a friendly, warm excitement to these seasons celebrated by children all over the world, said a library spokesman.

HOLIDAY NOTE

Though many holidays are celebrated throughout the nation, they are actually no national holidays in the United States, according to the "Book of Knowledge." There are only legal holidays. Each state determines its own legal holidays by legislative vote or by gubernatorial proclamation. The President and Congress officially designate legal holidays only for Federal employees and residents of the District of Columbia.

CHRISTMAS IN PUERTO RICO

Christmas customs in Puerto Rico are similar to those in Spain. According to the Book of Knowledge, Three Kings Day, on January 6th, is the traditional time for gift-giving and folk celebrations in most rural areas. Only in the cities have the celebrations been shifted to Christmas Day.

LEONARD GREENBERG, of 96 Evergreen ave., Springfield, has been reelected president of the Junior American Legion Auxiliary, Inc. Greenberg, president of Custom Cast Co., Newark, was reelected at the annual convention of the association held in Atlantic City recently.

Dropping Handball

An ordinance to rescind an ordinance setting aside the sum of $2,000 for construction of a handball court at the Municipal Swimming Pool was introduced by the Township Committee Tuesday night.

It was explained that the matter was being dropped because bids for the work had been too costly. The ordinance was originally adopted in July. Money will revert to the swim pool utility general account.

For And About Teenagers:

Popular Girl Can't Catch A 'Steady'

THE WEEK'S LETTER: "There are always a good many boys around me at the dance, yet I seem to be unable to keep one of them for my 'steady.' What can I do? Also there is one boy who told me he loved me, but I wrote him a letter and some days later found that he hadn't even bothered to read it. What should I do?"
OUR REPLY: You should consider yourself very fortunate. Take a look around the dance floor next time you are surrounded by boys and see how many girls are all alone. Consider also the fact that you are a popular girl because you don't have a jealous boyfriend making asks at every boy who wants to ask you for a dance. Being "steady" is not Ungreat. Despite the fact teens who go steady will not agree. Going steady is a fine solution for the girl or boy who has a problem getting a date. No questions about having someone to go with, at any time. The popular girl or boy who begins automatically begins to lose popularity. We have heard teenagers use an interesting phrase to describe a popular girl who decided to go steady with one boy and began refusing other dates. "She's put herself on the shelf," they said — meaning "she is out there" — nothing wrong with going steady when a boy or girl reaches marrying age. No one should marry a stranger. There's nothing wrong with having a "favorite" where the early teen is concerned. In this writer's opinion, going steady at too early an age is downright foolish. There's nothing wrong with

ALL ABOUT BABIES...

A Public Service of the National Baby Care Council

BABY AND SLEEP

By ALICE H. AUERWACH, Director, Parent Group Education, Child Study Assn. of America

Most children fuss about going to bed at one time or another. They know when they are hungry, but rarely know when they are tired, especially when they are very young.

Even when they are obviously exhausted many small children do not yet recognize that sleep will make them feel better. To them going to bed means being separated from the grownups and their fun.

They will call your back, or ask for "another drink of water," just to keep your company.

Before your child's bedtime, let a grown-up play quietly with him for a while, giving him all your attention. You might read or tell him a favorite story or look at a picture book together.

Let your child have a few minutes of quiet time before going to bed. Most of all, let him know that you expect him to go to sleep.

This is a time when you should be a branch of his or her palm which the whole family felt obliged to send. But, in time, the gift became more elaborate and costly — to win the Emperor's favor.

Later, the Romans began giving each other presents and sending special greetings to friends and relatives. From the Romans, the custom spread to Europe.

1.5 Billion Gifts Will Be Given In America On Christmas Day

Exchanging gifts on Christmas Day is basically an American tradition.

Many Europeans exchange gifts on New Year's Day instead. Christmas is strictly a religious day in most parts of Europe and is not celebrated with gifts, visiting and attending.

Started by Romans — The gift-giving custom dates back to the time of the Roman Emperors from about 27 B.C. to 385 A.D. It was customary to send a gift to the Emperor at the start of the New Year to wish him good fortune.

Today — Christmas is the biggest gift-giving occasion of the year in the United States, amounting for 41 percent of the gifts an average family buys each year.

This year, according to Rust-Clear's Christmas Cards, the average American family will buy 30 gifts averaging $4.00 each, or a total of $147.

The ancient Chinese also celebrated the New Year by exchanging gifts, and they are responsible for introducing two customs — gift wrapping and paper money.

The Chinese liked to incorporate a special symbolism into their wrapped packages. Most gifts were wrapped in red and decorated with golden seals. The seal might represent the Fu-Dou meaning "protection," the Ji tree, signifying "long life," or the bamboo tree, which means "virtue, long life and many children."

OLD ITALIAN CUSTOM

Italy celebrates the holiday season from the novena that begins eight days before Christmas and ends on Christmas Day, until Twelfth Night on January 6. According to the Book of Knowledge, a legendary female figure named "La Befana," takes the place of Santa Claus. She brings the children's presents on Epiphany Eve, January 6th.

Ask Amy
BY AMY ADAMS

Dear Amy: I have a lovely wife and four wonderful children whom I love. I have a good job and I have been working on the right shift for a couple of years now.

To get to the point, my wife seems to get bored and impatient with me because I don't make as much money as some members of her family do. It's true that I haven't been able to work real steady all the time due to layoffs, and sometimes faults of my own. But I try to live as best I can, and I am being as I can every when I can help it.

and make her quit nagging me all the time without hurting her feelings.
Sincerely Bewildered
Dear Bewildered:
You're inclined to think her money is only a state of mind sometimes induced by a relative's new car. Don't be too concerned by the Chairman of the Board! A woman who is always kicking seldom has a leg to stand on!

Dear Amy:
Recently my boyfriend and his parents asked me to spend a week-end with them in Philadelphia and then tour the city. I would like to know if it would be proper to wear a housecoat in the breakfast table each morning, or come dressed in the attire I plan to wear for that day.

in his house. Why inflict more hurt upon him? He's hurt enough!
Dear Amy:
I would like to know if it is proper for a grandmother to give her granddaughter a shower and would it be all right to specify a "grocery and canned goods" shower as she has so much of everything else.
Hubba

Dear Wandering:
A housecoat would not be proper. Dress in the attire you plan to wear for the day.
Dear Amy:
I have a daughter-in-law who forbids her son to see me. He has three children and he cannot let me see them either. But on Mother's Day, he sent a bouquet to my daughter's house and I refused to take it home with me. I feel if I can't see him, I don't need his gifts. On Christmas, either, he's sent me money and I've sent it right back to him.

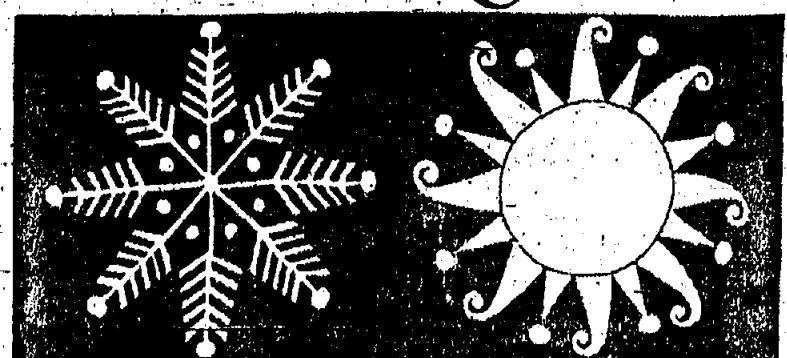

Dear Mrs. E. M.:
Yes! Accept every overture and gift that your son make to you. It shows, in spite of his wife, he loves you still. He is not to blame entirely for the situation he finds himself in. His wife is obviously cruel and bigoted, but he must live with her. . . her way if he keep peace

Am I right in doing this? I am 60 years old and I feel that time is growing short for me and I am hurt to think that he is not allowed to come and see me. I am married for the second time and very happy. I have three other married children and they all like my husband. But my son's wife does not have time for me or his family as we are Catholics and she is a Lutheran. Apparently we do not live up to her standards of life. Maybe you can give me the answer. Should I have accepted these gifts?
Mrs. E. M.

WHAT COLOR IS SHARK FIVE? When we speak of the unusual colorings in Hammonton Park's new Shork Five suit, we really mean two things. First, this sport is the most colorful version of pure wool shirtings we've ever encountered. Second, the variety of different colors offered is rather dazzling. You can practically run through the spectrum — especially on the light cheerful side. It's a pleasure just to look at them!

County Technical Institute Receives Praise From State Highway Dept.

The New Jersey State Highway Department is so satisfied with the progress in its advanced technical institute program that it has authorized the department to make a special four-year evening program designed to give them the equivalent of 60 college credits in their civil service standing.

Eugene Beckner, personnel supervisor of the department, this week formally requested that the county-run school open enrollment in the course—the only one of its kind in New Jersey—so that more state employees can begin studying for the degree of highway technician. The program includes courses in mathematics, physics and drafting, as well as practical work in surveying of state road bridge construction sites.

Baxel said that, if a second class was begun, he would like to include local municipal, road department and construction workers who are anxious to upgrade their job status.

"Certainly with all the Federal funds to criss-cross the state with highway programs providing now and bigger arteries, the highway technician's position is becoming increasingly vital," Baxel said.

"Although we created our course in response to state needs," he added, "perhaps, it could mark the beginning of a continuing program in highway technology open to everybody."

March Of Dimes 'Kick-Off' Dinner Set For Monday

A "kick-off" dinner at the outset of the March of Dimes drive will be held by the National Foundation Monday evening at the Elizabeth-Carleton Hotel, Elizabeth.

The annual luncheon of the executive committee will be held at the Suburban Golf Club, Union, next Wednesday.

Edward L. Whelan, committee chairman, reported plans are near completion for the drive, and he reminded board members at a recent meeting that the foundation's program now encompasses birth defect problems.

Of 10,322 babies to be born in Union County next year, he said, 720 will be born with birth defects. "These figures and the tragedy inherent in them should have been a motivation to this board. Funds are needed to help support scientists working to prevent these accidents of nature."

Whelan also reported that in the past six months the foundation has spent $4,009.02 on direct patient aid, in addition to grants amounting to $14,800 to support two clinics — one for birth defects at Babies Hospital, Newark, and one for adults at Seton Hall Medical School, Jersey City.

Two Boys Caught In Theft Of Tires

A 20-year-old Kenton youth was fined $25 for larceny at a special Union Municipal Court session Friday morning, after a police officer caught him and a 17-year-old Union boy in the act of stealing tires from the Union Tire Shop on Morris ave.

The youth, John Rjportl of 732 Wexua ave., Kenilworth, also paid a $15 fine for failure to have registration on possession. A juvenile complaint was filed against the Union boy.

Patrolman Alvin Jones apprehended the pair early last Thursday morning in the rear of the tire shop. They admitted taking tires from a pile there.

Roselle Park Driver Injured In Collision
Frank A. Orlando, 55, of 151 Warren ave., Roselle Park, received a back injury in a two-car collision last Thursday morning at North ave. and Lyman way, Union, police reported.

According to police, a northbound car on North ave. driven by Robert Seiders, 30, of Westfield, struck the rear of one driven by Orlando, who was taken to Memorial General Hospital in Union.

League Asks Reply To Yule Seal Letter

Sunday has been designated as "Do-It-Yourself" for answering the Christmas Seal Letter, according to Robert M. Crane of Cranford, treasurer of the Union County Yuletide League and its headquarters. He appealed to all residents of the county who have not yet contributed for the League to do so on that day.

The annual Christmas time campaign by mail must provide money for the League's work for the entire coming year, Crane explained.

Many contributors enclose notes of interest and good wishes for the League and its humanitarian work, he said.

A Cranford man wrote: "Enclosed find check. I do hope you pick out all right this year. One of the first contributions sent to the League in November was from a man who said: 'Do the things I can give more I do with all my wishes'."

One letter said: "I have a limited income. However, I know of the good work you people do. Therefore, I am sending you all I can afford for the Christmas Seals you sent me. I hope that those who are more fortunate than I am will give more to help carry on your job."

Union Driver Hurt In 3-Car Accident

Mrs. Margaret J. Lackowitz, 46, of 634 Evergreen pkwy., Union, complained to police of pain in the neck and left arm as a result of a three-car collision last Friday on Stuyvesant ave. near Newanna ave. in Union.

Her car was in collision with vehicles driven by William H. Harrison, 35, of 41 Ruby st., Springfield, and by Edward J. Rutigan, 61, of Sayreville. She said she would see her own doctor.

According to police, all three cars were southbound. The Rutigan car ran into the rear of the Lackowitz car, pushing it into the Harrison car, police said.

N.J. Symphony Schedules Pop Concert

HYMAN BRESS

The New Jersey Symphony Orchestra will present its second Newark Pop Concert on Saturday evening, Dec. 20, at the Municipal Theatre in Newark.

The program will feature the violinist Hyman Bress as guest soloist and an all-Newark high school chorus. It was announced this week.

Bress, who is a Canadian by birth, and an "acclaimed violinist of international repute," Bress made his debut at the age of nine with the Capetown Municipal Orchestra and six years later won a scholarship to the Curtis Institute in Philadelphia where he studied with Ivan Galamian.

Winner of the Concert Artists Guild Award in 1950 and the Heifetz Prize in 1957 at Tanglewood, Bress has played throughout Canada and in Paris and has performed in Vienna, Berlin, and New York, where he was "acclaimed for his warm and attractive tone, and quality of rhythmic pattern not often found in the playing of young artists." He has appeared in Boston at Town Hall, with the Philadelphia Orchestra, under the direction of Leonard Bernstein; the Royal Philharmonic Hall in London under Sir Adrian Boult, and throughout Europe.

Bress will play Haydn's Violin Concerto No. 1 and Preludio and Allegro by Kreisler with the Newark Pops. The orchestra will be conducted by Frank Scocozza, concert-master of the New Jersey Symphony Orchestra.

The chorus for the Pop program is being selected from Newark's eight senior high school choirs. They will number 225 and sing Handel's Heiligh-

John Church from the "Messiah" and Christmas Carols, marking the Christmas holiday weekend, the announcement said.

Tickets can be obtained at the Music, Hamburger's, Yacht Registry, and the New Jersey Symphony office, Orange st., N.J.

Deans and faculty members accompanied by 40 students from six New Jersey colleges and universities were guests and heard an address by Clifford V. Heimbuher, president of the

Young Dems Hear US Sen. Williams

U. S. Senator Harrison A. Williams Jr. was scheduled to be the key speaker at the 14th Biennial National Convention of the Young Democrats of America currently being held in Las Vegas, according to Vincent J. Doloff of Hillside, first vice-president of the N. J. Young Democrats and President of the Union County organization.

Doloff said the Young Democrats will elect new national officers, adopt ways to increase national membership "and most of all to pay tribute to the late John F. Kennedy."

Doloff also said that Edwin Kruse, executive secretary of the state organization is making his bid for National Secretary at the convention. New Jersey's Young Democrats sent a 32-man delegation to the convention, he said. The convention ends Saturday.

Appoint Women To Direct Dimes Mother's March

Plans for the January March of Dimes campaign this week as Campaign Director Jay B. Bloom announced the appointment of Mrs. Henry Whitney and Mrs. Earl Law as joint chairwomen of the Mother's March. He said that the new appointments would direct the efforts of hundreds of volunteers who will seek support in their home communities for the March of Dimes fight against crippling birth defects and arthritis.

Bloom pointed out that "great strides have already been made in the five short years since the March of Dimes first directed its attention against these two major health problems, following the victory over polio."

"Techniques being developed at these centers will ultimately benefit not only the children receiving treatment there, but will help all children similarly stricken. More than 200,000 American babies are born each year, with significant birth defects and some 40,000 children suffer from rheumatic arthritis."

"I know that all of us in Springfield want our children to be born healthy and live happily," Bloom said. "You can help to assure this by joining with us in giving generously to the March of Dimes in January."

MARCH 1 DEADLINE—Charter members of the Springfield Municipal-Park have until March 1 to file for membership for the 1964 season. The original deadline of Jan. 1 was changed by the Township Committee Tuesday night.

The jolly old gentleman will arrive in town via Morris ave. at 3:30 p.m. and will be located at General Greene from 3:30 to 8 p.m. on that date. His arrival is co-sponsored by the Springfield Chamber of Commerce and Grand Union Supermarkets.

Yule Mail May Hit Record High

Postmaster A. V. Del Vecchio said this week, "This certainly looks like a record breaking year for Christmas mail. Last year between Dec. 1 and 25 we handled a total of 14 million pieces of mail. So far this year the flow of letter mails is running about the same as last year, but the mailing of Christmas parcels is lagging." Del Vecchio suggested that all gift parcels to distant points be sent by Air Mail from now on.

Speaking of Christmas gift parcels, the Postmaster said, "I cannot stress too strongly the need for packing and wrapping your Christmas gifts securely. Pack all your gifts in sturdy cartons, wrap them with heavy paper and tie them securely with strong cord. It is sometimes hard to understand why people will be so careless about putting valuable gifts into the mails in flimsy boxes and loosely wrapped packages. Many of these poorly wrapped gifts simply cannot stand the necessary handling."

The Postmaster further suggests that it is best to print the recipients name and street address, city and ZIP Code number and state on all mailing labels, making sure to include an extra label inside the parcel. Postmaster Del Vecchio expressed his thanks for the "fine public cooperation to date" and said, "If you'll just follow these simple requirements, it is sure to be a merrier Christmas for everybody."

TOYS FOR FUN
Toys are for fun. When selecting a toy for a present, it's difficult to know what to choose—all of the toys are so bright and attractive. The best guide is the child's age; also, all toys should be sturdy and durable. Babies like to grasp things and hold them, so soft, wooly animals or dolls are fun. Rattles and noisemakers that are both loud and enjoyed. When the baby is sitting up, large blocks with pictures—blocks that rattle are delightful. As the youngster begins to walk, the things that are most enjoyed are the push and pull toys—wagons, roller toys and animals on wheels. Young children try to pull toys apart and put them in their mouth. Therefore, large toys that won't come apart are apt to be most popular. Toddlers are active and like toys with which they can run around. A tricycle is wonderful, as are sturdy wagons, doll strollers, things to climb and balls. For-sized household articles are great fun. Paints, chalk, crayons and nests of blocks or cones bring delight. Books are always good for the older child. Hobby toys are enjoyed—simple ones for the younger child, more complicated ones as the youngster is older. Mechanical sets and science sets are usually appreciated. Following the child's interests is an advantage, but often a toy that is challenging stimulates the youngster's interest.

At Christmas time be particularly watchful of small children and elderly persons — they rank high in fire fatalities, says the National Board of Fire Underwriters.
The highest death rate by fire is among persons 65 years

If you have elderly people or small children in your household, make sure that a responsible adult is always present who would know how to get them out of the house if fire should occur.

Furry, Purry Christmas Gifts

Kindness Kennels' Merchandise - - Pure Or Chance-Bred - - Sells Itself

By BARBARA GIBBONS. "Kindness Kennels" is getting ready to fill Santa's bag with poodles, pups and pussy cats. Christmas presents that purr or wag their tails are perennial favorites, among Santa's correspondents, maintains Mrs. Gloria Kochera, vice-president of the Union County SECA and director of the non-profit "Kindness Kennels" animal shelter in Rahway.

"We have a Christmas rush, too," explains Mrs. Kochera. From now until Christmas, parents will be visiting the kennels to pick out pets for their children as holiday surprises.

Most of the kennel's pets have been turned over to their owners who can no longer keep them. In addition to full grown cats and dogs, many puppies and kittens are available for adoption through the kennel. Most of the homeless pets are mixed breeds (or what the kennel likes to call "All-American") but a large number are high-bred purebreds. "We've had just about every variety of pedigree come to us," recalls Mrs. Kochera, "including some very rare breeds. The kennel has found homes for beagles, basset hounds, cocker spaniels, great Danes, German shepherds, poodles, Poles, St. Bernards, Dachshunds and Dalmatians. Earlier this year a family turned over to the kennel a Rhodesian ridgeback, a very rare breed of dog which is very hard to find and often costs several hundred dollars if ordered from a breeder.

PUPPIES ARE EASIEST to place, and kittens are more appealing than full grown dogs. Adult cats, especially mother cats, are hardest to find homes for. Mrs. Kochera feels that kennel customers sometimes overlook the advantages of these other pets. "Of course puppies are darling," she says "but people forget how pesky they are. A full-grown or half-grown dog is much less trouble. His personality is already developed. A potential owner can tell if the prospective pet's temperament suits the home." She reports that many of the kennel's homeless pets are victims of "mis-matching" — "watchdogs" who turned out to be good-natured slob, "playmates" who are kid-hating patrol-dogs at heart, fuzzy little pups who grow into dinner-snatching monsters of pony-sized proportions, and "magnificent beasts" who turned out to be midgets. A creature that disappoints one owner is bound to be just what another one wants.

A CAT or a kitten is the ideal pet for the family which is dubious about pet-owning. "Cats practically take care of themselves," says Mrs. Kochera. "Who ever heard of taking a cat for a walk, or giving it a bath? Cats don't bark, they don't chew up slippers or bite the mailman. They don't pester you to play with them when you're trying to read the newspaper. And the average cat is infinitely easier to housebreak than even the brightest pup."

Kindness Kennels is operated primarily to serve Union County, but any New Jersey resident who is interested can adopt a pet. "We rarely refuse a pet," says Mrs. Kochera, "but we do try to talk people into adopting an animal that's suitable for their special situation.

You can't "buy" a pet from Kindness Kennels, but the agency does ask for a donation to cover its costs. Standard charges for adopting a mixed breed "All-American" is five dollars; for a purebred, $15, and for a pedigree purebred with American Kennel Club papers, $20. A donation of one dollar is sufficient to adopt a cat or kitten.

WOULD-BE PET OWNERS may phone Mrs. Kochera for information at FUJION 2-0015. Located on St. Georges Ave. in Rahway, the SECA-sponsored animal shelter is open to visitors seven afternoons a week from 1 to 4:30.

Anyone is welcome to visit, explains Mrs. Kochera, "even if he's not seriously looking for a pet."

"We regard such visits as 'browsing,'" relates the SECA official. "Our 'merchandise' sells itself!"

November Was Warmer, Wetter

November was considerably warmer and much wetter than a year ago, Harold Duffloc, meteorologist at the Union Junior College Meteorological Station in Cranford, reported in his monthly report to the U.S. Weather Bureau.

Duffloc said precipitation totaled 7.12 inches compared with 4.13 inches last year. November's average temperature was 49.5 degrees, while the average temperature in 1962 was 42.1 degrees.

This was the warmest and wettest November on record since the UJC Meteorological Station was opened on Jan. 1, 1960, the meteorologist reported.

Temperature during November ranged from a maximum of 73 degrees to a minimum of 24 degrees. The average maximum temperature was 58.1 degrees, while the average minimum temperature was 40.3 degrees.

During the month, 465 degree days in weather bureau terminology, were recorded to bring the total for the heating season, which began Sept. 1, to 777. This is the smallest total for this period in the four-year history of the UJC Meteorological Station. The total last year on Nov. 30 was 1,119 degree days. A year ago 600 degree days were recorded in November.

Despite the heavy rainfall in November, the total precipitation for the first 11 months of 1963

Tips for TODAY'S HOMEMAKER

From MARY ARMSTRONG, County Home Agent

"SWEETS FOR THE SWEET"

ALL TYPES IN HOLIDAY GOODIES

Many people are said to have a "sweet tooth," but almost everyone does to some extent. "Sweets" and "goodies" and "cookies" and confections are all associated with entertaining; in short, with making people happy. The word "sugar" was, in the past, used as a term of endearment for one individual by another. But generally it suggests sweetening or sweets. Traditionally the culinary masterpieces of homemakers are associated with holiday hospitality and holiday celebrations. And since many of these "sweets," more sugar will be used during the next few weeks than normally.

Sugar is a staple item that one buys regardless of price. But the world situation with regard to supply does affect prices and sugar prices are higher than a few years ago. There was some concern for awhile by housewives and others that scarcities might develop. But the U. S. Department of Agriculture has acted to increase domestic supplies of sugar by increasing imports and also upping domestic production. As a result, the U. S. Department of Agriculture states that supplies exceed consumption by a considerable margin.

Prices for products in which sugar is an important ingredient have risen from year ago prices, although much less than sugar. Although prices for manufactured and processed foods change in price more slowly and moderately than for raw materials, of which they are made, the sweets customary for the holiday season are likely to be priced somewhat higher than last year.

Five types of sugar as such are commonly found in the market and each serves its own purpose. Tablets cost more per pound, and so do brown sugar and confectioner's sugar, than granulated.

Storage needs are the same for white and brown sugar but for different reasons. Store white sugar in airtight containers in a cool, dry place.

For inexperienced homemakers the following information may be helpful:

Granulated sugar: This white sugar finds all purpose use in most cooking and at the table. Superfine, vegetable, or fancy sugar: This specially screened, refined and processed sugar dissolves quickly.

Confectioner's sugar: This sugar usually contains a small amount of cornstarch to prevent caking. It is granulated sugar, crushed and screened to the fineness desired for uncooked frostings.

Brown sugar: This product contains varying quantities of molasses, which impart the characteristic color and flavor. Light brown sugar is mild in flavor. Dark brown sugar has more intense flavor and color.

Sugar tablets or cubes. Tablets or cubes are premeasured and ready to use in hot beverages.

A recipe may call for a certain type of sweetening, but if this is not available, another type can be substituted but in correct proportions. When substituting sugar in a recipe calling for corn syrup or honey, these are the proportions:

1 cup corn syrup—1 cup sugar plus 1/4 cup liquid when used to replace one-half of the sugar.

1 cup honey—1 to 1 1/4 cups sugar plus 1/4 cup liquid.

All "sweets" need not be rich. Even young children can enjoy cereal candy.

CEREAL CANDY BALLS

1/2 cup light corn syrup
1/4 cup light molasses
1/4 teaspoon salt
1 teaspoon vinegar
2 tablespoons butter
6 cups puffed rice

Combine syrup, molasses, salt and vinegar in saucepan and cook until mixture reaches a temperature of 265 degrees F, or until a little of the cooked mixture dropped in cold water forms a hard ball. Stir carefully

Many Of Today's Christmas Customs Got Their Beginnings From Early Saints

Decorating an evergreen tree, carolling through the streets on Christmas Eve, hanging stockings on the fireplace mantel. How did these and other old Christmas customs get started?

Christmas Tree Idea
 The Christmas tree dates back to the 16th century and Saint Winifred who was traveling around Northern Germany, preaching Christianity. He came upon a group of people gathered around a huge oak tree to offer human sacrifices to their pagan gods.

According to legend, Saint Winifred hewed down the oak, and a tall fir appeared in its place. The miracle was hailed far and wide and from that day on, it became the custom for the German families to gather about a tall evergreen on Christmas Eve.

Martin Luther decorated the first tree in the 16th century. He placed candles on a small evergreen to symbolize the stars.

Italy Started Carolling
 Carolling started in 13th century Italy. St. Francis of Assisi encouraged villages to display the nativity scene and act out the Christmas story in passion plays. Later carols were composed to go along with the plays and the custom of carolling through the streets got started.

One of the most beautiful customs involving carolling is still observed in Austria every Christmas Eve. Beginning with the family home, the farthest from the village church, carolling parties form a procession through the village. At each house, the procession is joined by all the inhabitants. Eventually the entire village joins in the singing.

The Dutch may have introduced the custom of carolling with them, but somewhere it got transplanted into the United States.

Christmas Eve, the night before Christmas, is the best of all nights in Germany. Later a German colony led by William Penn settled in Pennsylvania, and with Dutch influence, the night before Christmas brought the settlers to the custom of carolling with them, but somewhere it got transplanted into the United States.

Christmas customs is sending Christmas greetings each year. In a little over a century — they first got started in England in 1843 — this relatively new custom has become well established.

In that year, Sir Henry Cole commissioned an artist named John Horsley to design a message to be sent to his friends at Christmas.

Since then, the sending of Christmas cards has become almost universal, although in some countries, greetings are sent for the New Year, instead of Christmas.

This year, more than 3 1/2 billion Christmas cards will be mailed in the United States, alone, says Rust Craft Greeting Cards. This is an average of approximately 18 cards per person.

"Beat it, kid—it's live o'clock... 'Gimme time is over for today."

Know Your Government

HOW MUCH IS TOO MUCH? Proposals before Congress for higher social security tax rates to provide for a program of compulsory national health insurance again have raised the question of how deeply government can bite into America's payroll without causing permanent damage to the economy.

When the social security system first was established, the tax rate on employees and employer was one per cent, applicable to the first $3,000 of annual earnings. Seven increases have been made since that time and the taxable wage base extended to $4,800. Additional rate increases scheduled by law for 1966 and 1968 will bring the social security tax rate on employer and employee to 4-5/8 per cent each — or a combined rate of 9 1/4 per cent. The latter does not include another upward adjustment proposed in Congress to strengthen reserve funds for the proposed additional increases for health insurance. The "medicare" legislation before Congress (HR. 3920) would raise the social security tax on employer and employee by one-quarter of one per cent, each, and extend the taxable wage base to $5,400.

Where will it end? Former Secretary of Health, Education and Welfare Abraham Ribicoff, now a U. S. Senator from Connecticut, was quoted last year as saying "you've about hit the top. I don't think the people will go for more than 10 per cent."

Speaking for organized taxpayers, Edward Staples, executive director of the Missouri Public Expenditure Survey and chairman of the National Taxpayers Conference, has recently raised the issue before the Ways and Means Committee of the House of Representatives considering the compulsory health insurance proposal. He warned that "the social security tax is becoming an increasingly burdensome tax for a growing number of persons. For the low income wage earners, such increases in the social security tax might wipe out — or more than wipe out — any benefit he would derive from the pending tax reduction bill."

The question of how much is too much is not a new one. Repeated stop-ups in social security tax impositions, previously brought forth the observation from the New Jersey Taxpayers Association that "if we are going to socialize services, we must at the same time be ready to socialize our pay checks." The medicare legislation now under consideration, it contends, "would move the Federal Government further into a field in which American business has demonstrated its ability to meet individual needs," and "would thus constitute a further step toward socialization, unnecessarily large or government and the erosion of private opportunity, while increasing already mounting costs of the social security system."

Sitters Fire Guide For Holiday

Baby sitters who know what to do in case of fire or other emergency can make your Christmas a merrier one.

The possibility of a Christmas tree fire always adds to the responsibilities of a baby sitter and should be of special concern at this time of year.

When she comes into your home at any time of year, you can give her a hand by providing her with phone numbers she might have to use quickly. Place a card beside the phone with the phone numbers of (1) the fire department, (2) the police department, (3) the family doctor, (4) the number of the phone where the parents may be reached, and (5) the phone number of a nearby neighbor.

The National Board of Fire Underwriters gives these other suggestions:

1. Employ a sitter you know. Be sure she knows her job, is responsible, and likes children.
2. Employ a sitter your children will enjoy being with, and let her get acquainted with them before you leave. If you have rights to use in case of power failure.

3. Make sure the sitter clearly understands that in case of fire she should get the children out of the house quickly.
4. Show the sitter two alternate routes of escape from the house so that if one is blocked by fire, she and the children can use the other one.
5. Supply the sitter with flashlight.

6. When you leave, tell the sitter when you are planning to return home. Telephone her if you are delayed.

7. Always make arrangements for seeing the sitter home.

Dayton Opens Basketball Season Tomorrow At Clark

Dayton's Football Talent Sought By Many Colleges

At least six of the seniors on this year's Dayton Regional High School football team plan to be slugging into blocking dummies on some college field next September. They plan to continue playing football not only because they want to, but because colleges are trying to get them. Perhaps the most sought after Dayton gridiron warrior is All-District and All-State center

Richard Billie. Football coach Herb Palmer says at least four football powers are vying for Billie's football skills — the University of Maryland, Indiana University, Tennessee Tech and the University of New Mexico.

Billie's high school career has been approached by Colby College, Rutgers, Colgate and Cornell Universities. But Coach Palmer says Drow has his heart set on playing for one of the major military academies.

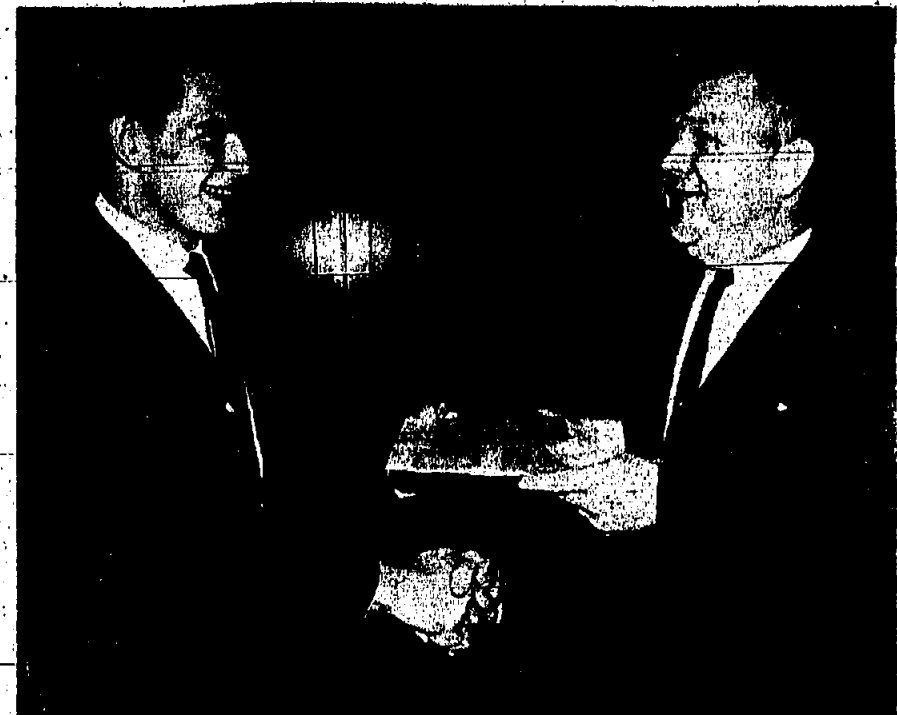

However, neither West Point nor Annapolis has committed themselves. Back Frank Monticello is being pursued by the University of Pennsylvania and Colgate University.

Montclair State College would like lineman Mike Landon to continue his football career on its campus.

Tom Baker, who won the "Most Improved Back" award this year, is thinking of joining former Dayton footballer Tommy Venice at Missouri Valley College.

Charles Roll, the "Most Improved Lineman" of the year, is the only senior who has actually signed a scholarship. Coach Palmer says Roll, who's an honor student, is going to Cornell University.

Palmer feels the other five sought after Dayton footballers should be signed up this Spring.

THIS THIRD YEAR — Dayton Regional High School's head football coach Herb Palmer hands Dayton's all county and district football letter at the dinner honoring the year's football team. ## Yanchus Expects Tough Opposition Tomorrow's "D" day for the 1963-64 Dayton Regional High School basketball team and there's still much uncertainty as to whether the team will be a winner.

The team's opener which is away from home is against a highly improved Clark High School squad that still has the services of its last year's star Henry Blund. The first home game is against Caldwell on Dec. 20.

Dayton's new basketball coach, Ray Yanchus is expecting a tough battle tomorrow, because he knows Clark's coach Bobby Fulton. Yanchus scrimmaged against him when he played college ball at Kings College and knows Fulton has the facility of inspiring his boys to put out 100 per cent.

As for his own squad, Yanchus is still deeply concerned about the team's efforts on defense. "They just don't seem to take any pride in playing defense," the coach said disappointedly.

But Yanchus is determined to change his team's thinking.

Dayton's last scrimmage showed the coach that the Bulldogs five could be strong on offense. Big Billy Kretzer, who's making the switch from corner man to center, displayed a lot of power in driving toward the basket and a great deal of strength in clearing the boards.

Billy's brother Mike, who's a backcourt man, stood out on defense and displayed great skill as a passer and feeder. And considering Frank Monticello just recently hung up his football cleats, he looked good during the scrimmage. His hustle and drive impressed Yanchus.

Gary Faucher, also a footballer and who saw lots of action on last year's basketball team, showed up a bit ragged during the scrimmage but the coach is confident that Gary will work out the gridiron kinks and will be an asset to the club.

Little Jimmy Liles (he's five-nine) showed great speed and adroitness as a ball handler.

Another problem facing coach Yanchus is getting his men positioned for the fast break. A number of times during the scrimmage the team's forwards were found leading the fast break. This responsibility belongs to the guards.

So the two major problems facing Yanchus are getting his men positioned for the fast break. The latter problem can be ironed out a lot easier than the former.

Lots of practice can do the trick, but sharpening the squad's defense is another matter. Sometimes it takes a master psychologist to change the attitudes of players who have never put much credence in keeping the other team from scoring.

ST. LUCA'S DAY

In some parts of Switzerland, Christmas festivities begin on St. Lucia's Day, December 13. According to the Book of Knowledge, Lucia comes from the Latin word for "light."

A number of countries celebrate St. Lucia's Day as a feast of lights.

Boosters Fete Football Team; Baker, Roll 'Most Improved'

The 1963 Dayton Regional high school football team got together for the last time as a unit last week at the Kingston Restaurant in Union where the team was honored by the Dayton Regional Boosters Club.

After the speeches the awards were handed out, but no one received a "most valuable player" award. Dayton's athletic director Herb Palmer is opposed to giving out such an award because he feels it is valuable.

Palmer prefers to give awards to the most improved back and lineman of the season.

This year the most improved lineman award went to Charles Roll of Berkeley Heights. Tom Baker, senior, most improved award as a back.

Awards were also given to Gary Faucher for recovering the most fumbles — three. Frank Hoytko got an award for most interceptions. He snared three enemy passes. Drew Wuesterman, who scored 42 points, got an award for being the highest scorer on the club. And Allen Greenberg received an award for making the most tackles. Greenberg doled out 67 opposing team ball carriers.

After holding a big meal, Dayton's high school warriors bought a number of speeches of which Frank Chiswell was the highlight. The head football coach of Ellensburg, Thomas Jefferson High School, underscored the character building value in football participation.

Chiswell said a young man who plays football with the proper attitude can develop the virtues of "loyalty, steady, enthusiasm, spirit, and the will to achieve."

Chiswell said a balanced and successful adult possesses: The Jefferson High School

ALUMNI, VARSITY GIRL FOR EVENT SLATED DEC. 27

Dayton Regional High School Athletic Director Herb Palmer announced this week that on the evening of Dec. 27 the Varsity Club will sponsor the annual alumni- varsity wrestling matches and basketball games.

The events, which have been played regularly for the past ten years, will take place at Dayton's gym.

The wrestling match is scheduled to start at 7 p.m. and will be followed by the basketball game.

And for those concerned about the danger of "heavily conditioned" alumni participating in the forthcoming events, the wrestling match will be scheduled to start at 7 p.m. and will be followed by the basketball game.

Struck's Strikes Pace Miller Five In Clean Sweep

The Mills held on to their commanding lead in the Saturday Morning Boy's Bowling League by crushing the Dodgers in three games last week. Leading the Mills in victory was Fred Struck, who compiled a 400 series. Also contributing heavily to the Miller cause was Ray Haines with a 408, Kurt Kuntle and Ken Hall were the leading bowlers for the Dodgers in their losing cause.

The Mills' opponent — four games of the pace by winning three games from the Yanks. Denny Condon had a 432 series to lead the Giants to victory. Ray Leacraft and Steve Tasher also contributed heavily to the Giant sweep. The Giants were particularly effective in the first game of the morning when they turned back the Yanks by 135 points. Tom Harrison, Bruce Mosier and Ron Siskin, all had good single games for the Yanks, but they failed to put any of them together.

In the final match of the morning, the third-place Cards took two games from the Mels. The league leading bowler Dave Rich led the Cards to victory in the two games. Howard Spelman aided Rich in the first victory, while Allan Torres was of considerable assistance in the second victory. The Mels were victorious in the middle game behind Bob Jackson and Martin Palmer. Ted O'Connell was the leading bowler for the Mels on the day.

Rich continues to lead the league with a 130 average. Trailog Dave by five pins is Fred Struck. In third spot at 120 is Ray Haines.

Youngsters Learning Wrestling 'Basics'

The youngsters participating in the Kenilworth Recreation Commission's wrestling program will be testing their "grunt and grunt" skills with youngsters of other communities, starting early next year, according to the Commission's director, Herb Palmer. "All home competition will take place at the Harding School gymnasium," Palmer said. About 45 boys in the sixth through eighth grades are taking part in the wrestling program. They have been working out on Wednesday nights since September.

Palmer says the young wrestlers will not only be competing with teams in Union County. There are plans for them to "grapple" with teams as far away as Flemington.

But wrestling isn't the only sport being featured by the Kenilworth Recreation Commission. About 40 boys are participating in a basketball program which places emphasis on instruction of basketball fundamentals.

The young hoopers like the young wrestlers are sixth, seventh and eighth graders and also practice on Wednesday nights.

Bombers, Jets Divide 2 Games In-Boys' Bowling

The Bombers met the Jets last week in a battle for first place in the Boys' Recreation League. The two teams split their games while the Raiders took two games from the Hurricanes to move into a first place tie.

The Bombers have been in first place all season and the Jets had won their last six in a row. The first game saw the Bombers lead the Jets to victory in this game were Vic Sarokin and Mark Hollander. The second contest saw the Bombers rebound to win and remain in first place. Jimmy Sarokin led the Bombers in this "must" victory as he turned in a 130 game. Eric Wasserman also turned in a good game to contribute to the victory. Vic Sarokin was again the leading bowler for the Bombers.

Close Matches Mark Action In Girls' Recreation League

For the third consecutive week there is a three way tie for first place in the Girls' Recreation Bowling League. The three teams are the Wild Bowlers, Four Strikers, and Pin Breakers. The top match of last week was the meeting of the Four Strikers and the Pin Breakers. Either team had the opportunity of winning two games and going into first place alone. The teams divided their two games however. The first contest saw the Pin Breakers squeeze out a five-pin victory over the Wild Bowlers. The second game saw Alyse Cooper and Patty Kaublein of the Four Strikers combine to defeat the Pin Breakers by 80 pins. Alyse, by bowling games of 105 and 125, established a new individual high series for the year. The Four Strikers were undefeated in the Wild Bowlers last week. A good second game effort for the winners. The Pros bowled well to take over the position of first place. The Wild Bowlers and remain in a losing cause. Diane Slater continues as the league's high average bowler as she combines to defeat an almost equally good effort by the Strikers. Leading the Four Strikers in this losing cause were Sharon Gagnon and Libby Chapman. The second game saw the Four Strikers rebound to victory behind the good bowling efforts of Nancy Modino and Libby Chapman.

The final match of the day pitted the Lucky Stars against the Pros. The Lucky Stars, the up and down team of the league, was up last week and turned back the Pros twice. Leading the Lucky Stars with fine series were Marlene Mettrione and Jean Francis. Bonnie Raskin had Pros

The State League met at Gaudineer School and registered 70 boys. The State League is for boys ages 11 and 12 and is under the direction of Joseph Swedlin and Robert Johnson. Swedlin is a teacher at Gaudineer School. Johnson is with the Newark Board of Education. Last Saturday the State League developed the 10 teams which will play beginning the first of January. The league is made up from returning State League players and new boys up from the Small Fry League.

The 1st League met at Regional High School and registered 30 boys. This is only half the amount expected by league officials and "they are hoping for a larger registration by next week." This league is for boys 13 and above, who are not yet in high school. The league is under the direction of Joseph Donington and Carson Catapano. Donington is the Assistant Director of Recreation in Springfield and Catapano is a Township Committee member and in charge of recreation. This league is the "Big League" of the program, and it is from this league that the Springfield Minuteman team is staffed. It is hoped that six teams can be made from the boys in this league and three games will be played every Saturday afternoon at the Regional High School gymnasium. Donington said. Following this league games an hour will be devoted to fundamental procedures of basketball and advanced techniques.

"The department feels that it has provided a well rounded basketball program available to every boy in Springfield of grammar school age," a spokesman said. "Any boy joining the program will be unformed, instructed and will play in actual game conditions. The Recreation Department urges all those boys who have not yet signed up for this to do so next week. Don't miss out on this opportunity to learn and play basketball this winter," a spokesman said.

Thompson Fires 296

Springfield Police Sgt. Howard Thompson shot a 296 to spark the Union County all stars to second place in the annual all star police pistol shoot Saturday at Irvington. The four-man Union County squad shot 1,182 but was bested by Essex County.

The Raiders moved into a first place tie with two victories over the Hurricanes. The first game was a 100-pin victory for the Raiders as Dave Epstein set a high game with a "big" 180 game. Larry Devinsky led the Hurricanes. The second contest was much closer as the Hurricanes received good bowling efforts from Reid Hovest and Rich Faldin. The Raiders, however, won the game behind the concentrated efforts of Dave Epstein, Robert Shindler and Bruce Gerstein.

The final match of the day was the Eagles against the Rockets. The Eagles managed to hold their very close game before they won their second game of the season. The first game saw Rocket bowlers, Sal Mucario, Mike Rubinfeld and Rick Williams turn in solid marks in the final frame to nip the Eagles by three pins. Robert Kaublein bowled well for the Eagles. Ted Rosenkrantz and George Keppeler turned in good games in the Eagles cause and it brought victory in the second game. Mike Rubinfeld and Rick Williams lead the attack for the Rockets.

The individual statistics department saw Dave Epstein raise his league leading average to 131. This represents a top pin lead over second place Bruce Gerstein. Third place is held by Robert Shindler at 115 average. Vic Sarokin is in fourth place at 114, while Jim Sarokin remains in fifth spot at 112. The remaining boys in the top ten are: Mitch Wolff, 111; Mike Rubinfeld, 101; Steve Max, 100; Mark Hollander, 100, and Eric Wasserman 99.

Suburban Nights Set By Yankees

In an effort to provide the fan who has some distance to travel for games at Yankee Stadium, the New York Yankees next summer will institute a "Suburban Nights" series of games at 11 p.m. on Thursdays.

This idea, conceived by Chairman Dan Topping, was announced to leave the Stadium around 10:30 after a night game and get home with their families at an early hour. The 11 p.m. starting time for these games also is expected to prove attractive to many Metropolitan fans who would like to attend week night games and get home at an early hour.

The six "Suburban Nights" are scheduled as follows: Boston, June 18; Kansas City, July 2; Baltimore, July 16; Washington, July 23; Chicago, Aug. 13; St. Louis, Aug. 27.

"I curl my little finger under"

Off-Style Bowling

By DON CARTER
Brunswick Advisory Star

The oddest thing about my bowling is the way I crook my right arm on the delivery, but that has nothing to do with the way I roll the ball.

I started that when I began to bowl at 14. The ball was heavy for me and, since I had to use house balls, the finger holes usually were too big. This made me afraid the ball would overpower me and I would lose it if I started scooping it toward the lane to give me smooth delivery. I never got out of the habit.

My "real odd-ball" is that I curl my little finger under in the grip, instead of straightening it out. This keeps that finger out of the way so it cannot inadvertently impart a twist to the ball.

The curled little finger also acts as a cushion, to relieve strain on the other fingers.

Licenses Dealers Get Fishing Regulations

Compendiums of 1964 fishing regulations have been distributed to fishing license dealers by the Division of Fish and Game in the Department of Conservation and Economic Development.

The 24-page booklet is crisscrossed with vital information for New Jersey anglers from the cover picture of fishing essentials, rod, reel, line, fly-tying outfit and the object of the sport — a nice trout — to the slogan on the back cover urging citizens to immediately report water pollution to the Division of Fish and Game.
