$1 Million Project Is Voted Down By Zoning Board

Garden Apartments Had Been Proposed In Residential Zone

A $1,000,000, 76-unit garden apartment project in Mountain Ave. was voted down by the Zoning Board of Adjustment after a three-hour public hearing Tuesday night.

The board voted 4-0 to deny an application for a variance from the zoning ordinance which would permit the erection of five 2½-story apartment structures in a one-family home zone.

Board chairman Robert C. Miller, discussing the decision after the meeting, declared: "It was unreasonable for us to believe that the land could not be used for what it was zoned for."

The site here front lies between Heustess ave. and Shunpike rd. and backs on homes which face Warwick circle. It has been the site of a cut flower nursery, a use which existed before the zoning law was adopted.

The property is owned by J. Neil and James Franklin Jackson, who applied for the variance. If the variance had been approved, the land would have been sold to architect William C. Chirgolis, who planned to build the apartment development.

Chirgolis, who said he built or supervised many garden apartments in Springfield, stated that garden apartments are "a perfect buffer" between business and residential zones. The alternatives to garden apartments on the site, he stated, would be either "commercial or residential."

In one-family homes which would yield smaller tax rates than garden apartments.

Mrs. Arnold Hartley of 140 Shunpike rd. brought out that the variance sought was a variance which required the applicants to prove "practical difficulties or undue hardship."

Nick M. Montano Jr. of 40 Warwick circle presented a petition which he said contained the names of 17 objectors. He argued there was no "hardship" in the case.

Milton Zeman of 104 Warwick circle refuted Chirgolis' argument that business threatened to move down Mountain ave. "If there is a danger of encroachment," he told the zoning board members, "we look to you to stop it at this specific point—the boundary between the business and residential zones at the tract in question."

Library Appoints Desk Assistant

Miss Thelma Elise Bassett of Westfield was officially appointed as the Springfield Public Library Board of Trustees last week to replace Miss Helen Zeigler of Short Hills as circulation desk assistant.

She has been working in the library since Jan. 13. Her duties and hours are at the discretion of the library director, Mrs. Helen C. Francis.

Miss Isabel Eyer was engaged as a substitute for Mrs. Arthur Schumann, who is ill, to assist with the restoration of damaged books. Both are from Springfield.

State Suing Couple To Get Rt. 78 Land

State Highway Commissioner Dwight R. G. Palmer filed suit in Superior Court Monday in an attempt to obtain two parcels of Springfield property for construction of Rt. 78.

The owners of the parcels, located on Clarendon pl., are owned by Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Eric Palmer, asked the court to name a three-member condemnation commission to set prices for the property.

Revolutionary War Treasure Displayed Letter Handwritten By Gen. George Washington

The Springfield Historical Society has purchased five years ago by Howard Caschen, another former president of the group, an auction at the Park Record Galleries in New York City. The document is kept in a safe deposit vault, but a framed photostatic copy of it is displayed in the Cannon Ball House.

It was written to New York's Governor Clinton to protest a proposal by the state legislature that members of the militia serve under their own officers instead of with the continental battalions.

The document is labeled "Headquarters — Springfield June 18, 1780." It reads: "Dear Sir, I have received advice which appears to be direct that the legislature of this State has determined on a draft from the militia to serve for Campaign under their own officers instead of with the continental battalions."

"THIS MODE, if adopted, will be attended by many inconveniences, if followed by the states, in general will be so pernicious to all the prospects of the campaign that I cannot forbear taking the liberty to send Brigadier General Knox to represent on my part the ill consequences of the measure and the superior advantages of the plan recommended in preference. I entreat your Excellency to procure him the honor of a conference with the legislature in this purpose."

"The crisis is so delicate and important — the honor and interest of these states so essentially depend on a judicious and vigorous exertion of our resources at this juncture — that I cannot but manifest my anxiety when I see any measures in agitation that threaten the disappointment of our hopes and take every step in my power to prevent their being carried into execution."

In military questions the officers of the Army have a right to flatter themselves that their country will place some confidence in their experience and judgment and it is the policy of every wise man to do so. (Continued on Page 2)

LETTER

The father of two children, Caprio lives at 12 Berkeley rd. with his wife.

Mrs. Dorsky, who is in the last year of her first term on the Board, is a native New Jersey and a graduate of New York University School of Education. She has taught in Taft High School, The Bronx and in Grace Dodge Vocational High School, East Bronx, as well as in a center for cerebral palsied children. She is currently a substitute teacher in Jonathan Dayton Regional High School.

The wife of Lawrence Dorsky, manager of quality control Office Systems Division of Remington Rand, the couple has two sons, Robert, a pupil at Sandusky School and Steven, a Gaultier student. They live at 242 Milltown rd.

Mrs. Dorsky pointed out this week that the town is dependent in need of a referendum for an addition to Gaultier School. A constant battle in this area, the new vice president said, "community support is necessary part of the expansion program."

"The Board cannot function properly without community support," she said while emphasizing that the "need for expansion is a vital necessity."

AUGUST CAPRIO

Caprio was elected to his second term as president of the Springfield Board of Education at the organization meeting held Monday. Mrs. Sonya Dorsky was elected vice-president, taking over the post from John C. Caprio.

Caprio was elected to the Board in 1960 and won his second term in 1962. Born in Newark, the president is a graduate of Columbia College, holds a master's degree from Columbia University and 30 points beyond his master's from Seton Hall University where he concentrated on administration and supervision.

Coordinator of the foreign language departments of the three Regional High Schools, Caprio came to Dayton in 1947 from Newark, and was appointed coordinator in 1957. He is responsible for supervision of some 21 teachers of foreign languages within the Regional system.

Caprio has served the township as a member of the town ship committee. He is a member of the Springfield Lions Club and the Holy Name Society of St. James Church.

Caprio is a member of the Executive Committee of the New Jersey Modern Foreign Language Association, the New Jersey Secondary Teachers Association and is vice president of the County School Board.

Newswanger's Successor To Be Discussed Tuesday At Board Special Meeting

The Springfield Board of Education will hold a special meeting Tuesday to decide on a procedure for choosing a successor to Benjamin F. Newswanger, superintendent of schools whose retirement June 30 was accepted with regret at the Board's annual organization meeting Monday.

In a letter dated Feb. 14 Newswanger announced his decision to take advantage of benefits provided in New Jersey Senate Bill 16 and retire as of June 30, 1964.

"I wish to thank this Board and all members of Springfield Boards of Education," Newswanger said, "who during my 16 years of tenure as superintendent have assisted in building, maintaining and improving the educational facilities, programs and personnel of the schools for the children of Springfield."

Under Senate Bill 16, members of the Teachers' Pension and Annuity Fund, who will be 60 years of age by July 1, 1964, can avoid integration of their pensions with Social Security by retiring early.

Seven others in the Springfield schools are affected by this legislation, a centering in a spokesman for the School Board, but it has not been announced whether they will retire this year.

Board President August Caprio said that he will write a letter to Newswanger on behalf of the Board expressing its regrets and appreciation of his services.

Board member Richard E. Werner said that Newswanger is a "difficult man to replace" because he grew with the school system.

Board member Joseph Bender offered his services in organizing a testimonial dinner for Newswanger, according to Fire Chief Fred J. Hodgson, to teach seventh and eighth grade mathematics in the James Caldwell School in 1963.

There was no loss of life from fire during 1963, it was reported. A breakdown of figures of calls answered is as follows: residential, 75; non-residential, 11; manufacturing concerns, 1; storage type buildings, 2; public utilities, 2; miscellaneous, 3; brush, 125; vehicles, 33, and emergency first aid calls, 22.

In addition the department was called out on two false alarms and one "smoke scare," which is classified as an "honest mistake."

Adjustment of increments from the ninth to eleventh year of employment was given as a major reason for the increase.

According to a spokesman for the board, the new guide raises both minimum and maximum salaries on all levels, bringing the teacher with a B.S. degree to a $5,300 minimum. The spokesman said the center of the scale will be below some of the local school systems.

In other business, the board heard 28 new members for the 1964-65 school year.

Salaries of teachers in the regional school district were raised by the Regional Board of Education Tuesday night as it passed the new salary guide.

Service To Their Community: A Symbol

A new look at the so-called "status symbol" was presented by Township Committeeman Arthur M. Falkin at the presentation of a B'nai B'rith Citizenship Award to the Springfield First Aid Squad this week.

Speaking before members of the combined groups in Temple Beth Ahm on Sunday, the former mayor said:

"When Edith Cullen and Ray Kravetz extended me an invitation to take part in the annual citizenship award program, I wasn't quite sure whether it was based on my own civic endeavors, or the fact that my reputation for brevity had preceded me, but regardless of the underlying reasons, I will attempt to achieve both goals, namely a brief commentary on an award for citizenship."

"It has seldom to be very much the order of the day for various and sundry reasons for many experts in the field of human relations to contribute the bits of the world and more particularly the trials and tribulations of living in suburbia to the importance of the status symbol in our modern way of life."

"Just recently I noted a news release that details a conference held at Princeton University for the purpose of discussing the problems of changing communities. Dr. Dobson, of N. Y. U. charged that the only value that was established in suburbia were materialistic ones, or as he recounts, station wagons, power mowers and barbecues. The danger of modern suburban life," he continued, "is too much striving for conformity and social standing."

"Dr. Dobson appears to be a learned man, who has done exhaustive research on his topic, and generally speaking may be describing a good portion of our American way of life. However, I sincerely wish I had the opportunity to invite Dr. Dobson to be with us here this evening. I know there is no doubt in the minds of anyone here as to our purpose."

"WE ARE GATHERED here evening to recognize the efforts of the Springfield First Aid Squad. Dr. Dobson would certainly be pleased to know that their status symbol is a plain white, and often not too favored uniform and their station wagon, although probably one of the most valuable of their possessions."

"I would then imagine by comparison that their barbecue would be their dinner, cooked by their auxiliary or their prize possession, a private phone with a private signal that comes in the cold of night. We honor this evening a group of 31 people who have chosen as their status symbol service to their community and their status symbol is a status symbol."

"For it is not true that a status symbol denotes the attainment of something above what their neighbors possess. Could we not consider the tedious training, training exercises and the many drills, and the certification in their activities in going to work as a position in life to be emulated of all of us."

"Then, truly speaking, the status symbol that Dr. Dobson refers to, certainly do not apply for our purpose. It may be a status symbol."

"For it is not true that a status symbol denotes the attainment of something above what their neighbors possess. Could we not consider the tedious training, training exercises and the many drills, and the certification in their activities in going to work as a position in life to be emulated of all of us."

President Of Springfield Historical Society Made History Himself

MARIAN BROWN
The new president of the Springfield Historical Society is a man who has made a bit of history himself.

He is Lt. Commander Augustus W. Smith of Short Hills, and he was in on the development of air warfare in World War I and of rocket research in World War II.

He is also an example of America's image of itself—the man who rose to prominence without formal preparation, through native intelligence, a sense of timing and recognition of opportunity, and an optimistic willingness to learn.

When the United States involved itself in World Wars I and II, Smith was quick to volunteer for duty.

He says his family has been represented in every war this country has fought and he saw no reason to break the record.

As a matter of fact, one ancestor, Col. Benoni Hathaway, fought in the Battle of Springfield, which halted the British in their march on Merrittown. (This was a member of the Historical Society and was Springfieldite worthy of the name.)

He was out of the major battles of the Revolution, although some jealous historians from New England prefer to give skirmishes like those fought at Lexington and Concord more prominence.

Smith volunteered for them all, from cook to tylist. He just kept volunteering and learning until he wound up sergeant major of the 80th Aero Squadron of the 1st Army Division.

The group was sent to France, where they remained from November 1917 to February 1919, in the heat of battle, participating in such major battles as the 2nd Battle of the Marne and drive for St. Mihiel.

The group absorbed members of the famed Lafayette

Escadrille and included such well-known figures as author James Norman Hall and Theodore Roosevelt's son, Quentin.

DURING WORLD WAR II Smith got in on the ground floor of still another new area. This time it was rocket development. A friend, Navy Admiral Harry Brinson, asked him to supervise construction of destroyer escort propellers at Columbian Bronze Corp. in Presport, Long Island. He agreed, he said, because he was given Saturdays and Sundays off to continue what was by that time a thriving construction business in Short Hills. Soon he was named commanding officer in charge of rocket shells for bazooka action. Motors in Pompton Plains.

A Navy lieutenant (j.g.) Smith supervised construction of rocket shells for bazooka guns—planes—400—landing craft—and assisted with the development of a liquid fuel rocket motor that became the basis for the X-15, experimental hybrid airplane-rocket used for obtaining data relevant to future space travel.

He has write-ups from 1946 issues of a daily newspaper and Life magazine describing the new motor, which weighed 210 pounds and generated 5,000 horsepower at 400 m.p.h. He retired from the Navy's lieutenant commander in 1946.

As a representative of the Sons of the American Revolution, Smith is called upon to speak on the history of this area. His favorite topic is "New Jersey: The Cradle of Rocket Power."

So well did he make use of opportunities to learn the intricacies of rocket construction that the word got around in Washington that he was an expert in nuclear physics. A representative from the Bureau of Aeronautics asked where he received his scientific degree, and Smith answered that he got it from the school of experience.

Smith thinks the "learning by doing" principle will work more often than people realize. What is needed, he feels, is the opportunity to tackle a challenge.

He lives in Short Hills with his wife, the former Louise Smith of Millburn, and two children, Frederick and Elizabeth. They have two other children, Augustus, Jr., and Mrs. Judith Heas, who also live in Short Hills, and two grandchildren.

Smith operates his construction business from an office at 1 Short Hills ave. He builds custom homes in the Millburn-Short Hills area. His own home at 11 Claremont dr. is so attractive that a picture of it has appeared in a Saturday Evening Post insurance advertisement.

He has been a member of the Springfield Historical Society for about three years and is senior past commander of the Millburn American Legion Post.

Smith's ancestors were firmly entrenched in New Jersey and maintained a farm along the Whippany River. A grist mill, a saw mill and a forge were other family businesses.

ONE OF SEVEN children, Smith was born in Cranford in 1901 and lived in Springfield and Mountaintop before moving to Millburn in 1906.

World War I brought out a youthful sense of adventure, and in 1917, a lad just 16 years old, he enlisted in the Signal Corps of what was then the Army Air Service.

Air warfare was then a new concept, so inexperience was no handicap. (No one else knew anything either, he says.) He began to apply himself to a progressive type of self-education - learning by doing.

He chose the Signal Corps, he says, because he felt his Boy Scout training would be useful here. With this as a foundation, he began to build some real experiences.

At Kelly Air Field in Texas, where he was sent to train, there was a bulletin board for posting jobs that needed filling.

Milton Ties Conte For First Place Spot

By sweeping three from Colatone, Milton tied Conte for first place in the Springfield Sports Bowling League. While Milton was winning Conte was losing badly. They lost two games to Ehrhardt.

Those who bowled 200 or more were Dick Bednarick, 222; Don Galante, 220; Art Mutschler, 210; George Brenny, 210; Scott Donington, 208 and Robert Zelsler with a 200 game.

Springfield Man's Agency Wins Prize

The Richard E. Werner Agency in New Jersey has been named as winner of the "Agency of the Year" award in the Metropolitan Field Division, by the Manhattan Life Insurance Co. It was announced this week by Werner, who resides at 38 S. Maple ave., Springfield.

Werner, who is a member of the Springfield Board of Education, said the criteria used in judging for the award included: balanced agency activity, agency development, cooperation with the company, advancement of the agency as well as overall contribution to the company and life insurance in general.

He said his agency paid for $13 million of business in 1963 and ranked second nationally among the company's 110 agencies in paid premiums.

Werner joined Manhattan Life in 1952. He was founder of the Scholastic Press Association of New Jersey.

Married to the former Anne Sent of Newark, the couple have three children.

Library Planning Outside Stairway

Plans for an outside stairway from the children's room on the second floor of the Springfield Public Library, which would replace a ladder-type fire escape, are in the hands of Walter Kozub, township engineer. It was announced at last week's meeting of the Board of Trustees.

The plans are by Essex Ironworks of Newark, low-bidders on the proposed facility.

Kenneth Hefner, president of the board, has said that it was feared children might hesitate to descend the present fire escape in the event of an emergency. A stairway that would give youngsters a feeling of confidence is being sought by the board.

Finished Eight Weeks
Pvt. Herbert G. Springle, Jr., son of Mr. and Mrs. Herbert G. Springle of 580 S. Springfield ave., Springfield, has recently completed eight weeks of military police training at Ft. Gordon, Ga.

Problems In Race Relations Set To Be Discussed At Meeting

The meeting, according to Goodman, will be held at 8:15 p.m. at the Temple Beth Ahm auditorium, Baltimore way.

Goodman, a nationally known authority on the integration movement, appeared in discussion on the Channel 13 discussion program, "The City," in which the New York School situation was discussed. Following his talk Thursday, a question-and-answer, open-discussion period will be held. A short entertainment period, featuring the singing of Mrs. Carol Rutstein, will then follow the discussion session.

Mrs. Rutstein, a Wentz ave. resident, attended Julliard School of Music and has appeared with the bands of Fred Waring and Ted Lewis and at the Lambertville Music Circus.

The committee's general meetings will be held every two months, with the locations rotated among the local houses of worship. The committee was originally formed under the guidance of local religious leaders and held its first meeting at St. James Church hall.

D.A.R. Chapter Meets Tuesday

The Church and Cannon Chapter, Daughters of the American Revolution, will meet next Tuesday evening at the Cannon Hall House on Morris ave. Speakers will be Arch W. Caldwell, president of the Basking Ridge Historical Society, and Mrs. Carey.

Hostesses for the evening will be Mrs. William H. Baldwin of Peconic, Mrs. E. E. Lindauer of Wentz ave., Mrs. Dawn Winger of Whippany, and Mrs. Maurice Green of Great pt.

LEADER PROFILE

EUGENE F. DONNELLY

Court clerk Eugene F. Donnelly has two jobs because he tried retiring once and found it didn't agree with him.

EUGENE F. DONNELLY

So he spends his weeks shuttling between two desks — the court clerk's desk at Town Hall and the desk in his office at the Georgia McMullen real estate firm, 41 Mountain ave., where he is a member.

Actually he's an old hand-at-combining heavy jobs with other heavy jobs.

For instance, as a student at Central High School he combined starring on the football field and baseball diamond with achieving top academic honors.

He explained that, whereas the position is a legal appointment, it operates under the State Supreme Court and the State Department for the Administration of Courts sets the rules, receives reports and audits accounts.

Born in Newark in 1901, he had lost, by the time he was 13, both parents and his only brother. He was brought up by an aunt, who was then a supervisor of sewing classes in the Newark schools.

This kept him on his toes in school, he says, for she was right there to see how he was doing. Asked if he were a professional, he admitted that he was "a dilettante" of his high school graduation class.

"I preferred to think about my sports activities," he said, explaining that he played varsity football and baseball for three years. His greatest positions were center end and halfback, and for the baseball team he was catcher.

"I SAW A FRIEND of yours the other day," someone said to him recently. It turned out to be Charles Schneider, Donnelly's former football coach, who had just moved into the Garden Oval section of Springfield.

Another coincidence is that Donnelly used to play against Recreation Director Ed Ruby, when Ruby was a star fullback at Irvington High School.

Another honor awarded to Donnelly during his high school career was a medal for second place in a city-wide spelling bee in honor of Newark's 250th anniversary in 1916. He was a sophomore at the time, and he still remembers the word that tripped him up. It was "Emissure" and he says that's one word he'll never misspell now.

WHEN DONNELLY started working in the accounting department of Borden's, the firm was relatively small. He was controller by the time the company decided to become nationwide in 1929. They began buying ice cream, dry milk and small dairy companies until by 1932 they had acquired 200 companies.

Branch offices were set up, and Donnelly was made general controller in 1936. He had been in charge of income and economics affected by centralization.

It took him six years to graduate from Pace College, which he attended nights at the Hudson Terminal Building in New York City, where the institution was located at that time.

In 1928 he had married the former Helen White of East Orange. They lived in that city until 1949 when they moved to their present 260 Northview ter. home in Springfield.

In 1940 he began an electrical contracting business in Newark with his father-in-law, specializing in wartime contracts.

TWO YEARS LATER "Uncle Whiskers" took charge of his life and he was sent to the central Pacific theatre, where he remained until 1944.

A lieutenant commander in the U. S. Navy, he was executive officer in charge

'TERCENTENARY TALES' by John T. Cunningham

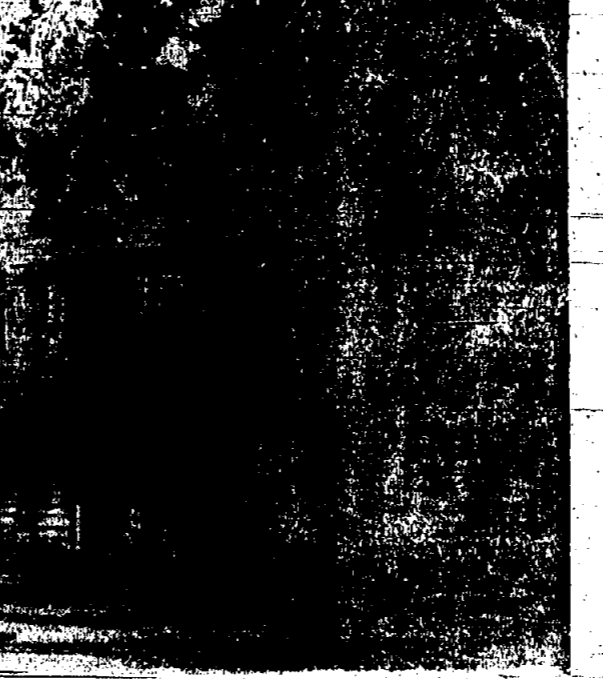

Winter Of 1778: Washington's Army Danced

Laughter and gaiety seldom came the way of General Washington during the Revolution, but one winter spent in the pleasant hills of Somerset County can be remembered as one time when the general laughed and danced and found surcease from the sadness of war.

Philadelphia had nearly finished the war, and the British had become friendly, prospects for a comfortable winter for the soldiers seemed assured. "Sensing that this winter would be vastly different from the Valley Forge nightmare of the previous year, wives of officers began to arrive in town before Christmas. Mrs. Washington arrived to set the Wallace House in order. Excitement buzzed throughout the hills; this would be a winter to remember.

Records of other parties are plentiful. On New Year's Day, General John Muhlenberg gave a supper and dance, "inviting many young ladies of the neighborhood." No one was permitted to retire before 3 a.m.

Washington's aides set up the Somerset encampment at Middlebrook in the fall of 1778. Although Quartermaster General Nathaniel Green complained that "our prospect of forage is very indifferent," lumber and bricks for soldier huts abounded. Officers, too, found comfortable quarters throughout the region from Pluckemin to Somersetville. Washington chose a set of Wedgewood queensware and his silver candlesticks from New Brunswick to enhance the fine rooms and furnishings of the Wallace House. They should have been fine, incidentally; Washington paid $10,000 for the use of the house.

WALLACE HOUSE, state-owned historical site where General and Mrs. Washington spent the winter of 1778-79.

The biggest party of the season occurred on Feb. 18, 1779, when a brilliant affair was held in Pluckemin to celebrate the first anniversary of the French Alliance. Everyone with the slightest pretense to social position was there for the piquant, the dining, the fireworks and the all-night dancing. General Knox wrote of the affair: "Everybody allows it to be the first of the kind ever exhibited in this state at least. We had a dinner, all of the first, too, in the State. We danced all night; between three and four hundred gentlemen."

Report From Trenton

by State Senator Nelson F. Siamler (R-U.N.)

Over the last few years there have been increasing violations of the law which prohibits automobile drivers from passing school buses. Despite all the precautions taken by bus companies — the yellow paint, the big signs, the flashing lights — too many drivers continue to ignore the law. To have a few minutes of time, they take the extraordinary risk of running into a child, and crippling or maiming a youngster for life — or even snuffing out his life entirely.

out of committee and recommended passage. It re-introduced the bill for 1964 last month, and this time it was promptly reported out of committee. On Feb. 3 it passed second reading in the Senate, and I expect the Senate will adopt it on final reading during the first legislative meeting in March.

I'm convinced that the best way to put an end to it is to take away licenses of offenders. This would make the penalty severe enough to reduce violations to an absolute minimum, and it would also make the highways safer by taking those thoughtless or reckless drivers off the roads.

This bill — S-117 — provides that any person found guilty of any traffic violation involving a school bus, or resulting in a personal injury to a child, will have his license revoked automatically, for a two-year period. Once the bill is passed by the Senate, it must go to the Assembly for passage there. Then it will be up to the Governor to be signed into law.

Unemployment Increase Tended To Be Seasonal

WASHINGTON, D. C. — Unemployment rose by 700,000 between December and January, about the usual increase for this time of year, the U. S. Department of Labor announced this week in releasing the Bureau of Labor Statistics summary figures on employment and unemployment. Employment fell 1.4 million over the month, slightly less than usual for January.

Jobs Announced By Civil Service

Examinations for appointments to positions of stenographer and typist in Essex and Union County offices of the Internal Revenue Service and other federal agencies were announced this week by the Board of the U. S. Civil Service Examinations.

The Two-Year Public College

While 41 other states have built systems of public two-year colleges, New Jersey has only one, Trenton Junior College. Operating costs are paid by students, tuition and tax funds from the city of Trenton and the State government.

Fight BIRTH DEFECTS

In 1950, a State survey recommended establishment of nine community colleges throughout the state. Nothing happened. In 1956, a State study found that the community college would provide the opening door to opportunity for many deserving but underprivileged youth.

MARCH OF DIMES!

In 1962, a bill based on the recommendations in this report became law. This act allows the State to pay half the costs of constructing a county college and one-third the operating costs up to $200 per student.

If Birds Navigate By The Stars, They Should Be Getting Lost

If you think you've got problems keeping track of one-way streets and various other man-made snares for the unwary traveler, pity the poor birds.

Dr. Sam L. Agron, professor of geology at Rutgers Newark College of Arts and Sciences, says that if birds inherit the ability to navigate by stars, they must adjust this "instinct" to continuously changing star patterns.

"Since star positions change constantly and birds migrate to the same regions as their ancestors did several thousand years ago, they must use different stars to navigate," reasons Dr. Agron. "The stars that guide modern birds on their migration south in the fall, guided their ancient forebears north in the spring as stars and seasons reverse themselves about every 13,000 years."

Dr. Agron, of Millburn, did not have to admit his earth-bound geologist's "instinct" for his study of birds and stars. He is an astronomer by avocation and is qualified to teach astronomy, which he does at Newark Rutgers.

Concerning his theory on bird navigation, Dr. Agron points out that the earth spins on a tilted axis. He explains that although the axis remains tilted at the same angle to the earth's orbit, its direction in space changes continuously "like a wobbling top."

This precession results from the moon's gravitational pull on the earth and causes stars associated with the seasons to shift slowly over the years. At the same time of night, stars positions shift eastward about half a degree (a distance the diameter of the moon) every 36 years, according to Dr. Agron. In 2,000 years there is a shift of 30 degrees. Over a period of 6,500 years, spring stars become winter stars and "fall" stars become "summer" stars.

In 13,000 years, the earth's axis will have revolved 180 degrees, he says. Then a bird viewing the night sky will be facing the opposite side of the sky pattern from a bird looking at the "night" stars today. In 23,800 years, the stars will have returned to their present relationship to seasons.

Another effect of the earth's axial wobbling is the change in the star positions north or south of the celestial equator.

"This slowly moves stars of the southern skies alternately into and out of view in the northern latitudes. Thus, 5,000 years ago, the Southern Cross could be seen north of Quebec, but now it can be seen only in extreme southern Florida and Texas," Agron said.

"Stars positions," the scienist continued, "also change due to slow movement of the stars themselves. Over long periods of time, changes in star patterns may be quite significant.

"In about 100,000 years, stars forming the big dipper will have rearranged themselves so the configuration will bear little resemblance to the present dipper.

"If birds in their migration are guided by stars, then understanding motions of the stars affords a time perspective as to the rate of change of so-called 'instinct.' This may contribute valuable insight into the problem of celestial bird migration," Dr. Agron said.

ADOLESCENCE NOT AN AILMENT

Even back in 400 B.C., Socrates was complaining about adolescents. Times change, but the idea that adolescence is an ailment seems constant.

The time-of-life-between-childhood-and-adulthood is called adolescence. This is a process of growth. The young person is no longer a child, but not yet an adult. This leads to behavior perplexing to both adult and adolescent.

Understanding that physical growth and maturity push children into adolescence will help persons realize that the adolescent is coping with things beyond his control. These physical changes are not an ailment, but a normal process of growth.

Some things are common to all adolescents. The central concern of adolescence is establishing his own identity as a person. The adolescent wonders what kind of an adult he will become and how he will know what he should do. He is no longer expected to act like a child, but he is not yet treated as an adult.

Parents can help their adolescents — and themselves — by trying to understand some of the grave concerns of adolescents. In addition to the identity need, his need to be accepted by others. Establishing good relationships with other adolescents is very different from playing with other children in the neighborhood.

The adolescent also is working to determine his own values and to establish independence which is a necessary part of adulthood. He needs to understand the rights and duties of good citizenship. Adults can help adolescents find themselves as persons rather than setting up road blocks in the path of growth.

Symposium Set At F.D.U. In May

High school seniors looking forward to careers in science will be given a chance to present their individual research papers at the 4th North Jersey Junior Science and Humanities Symposium scheduled for May 24-26 on the Florsham-Madison campus of Fairleigh Dickinson University.

Invitations have been extended to high schools in 10 counties, including Union and Essex. The Symposium is sponsored by the University in cooperation with Florsham Arsenal and the U.S. Army Research Office.

Fair's N.J. Pavilion Inspected By Group

Reports that the New Jersey Pavilion at the New York World's Fair will be in full readiness at the time of the fair's April 22 opening were substantiated this week from the Union County Ten Centenary Committee, which visited the pavilion recently.

The committee went there specifically to inspect the pavilion, with an eye toward staging events representative of the county in the months to come. Included in the group were Theodore L. Mayhew of 42 North ave., Union, and Mrs. John V. Donohue of 619 Drake ave., Union, who are in charge of public relations and secretary respectively.

These in charge of the pavilion told the group that they expect the pavilion will have been completed in time. Guided by Charles J. Gallagher of the Department of the Port of New York Authority, the group first went to the model room in the fair's administration for a briefing. Then they inspected the pavilion, which they report covers two acres just adjacent to the fair's theme center — the Unisphere.

The principal feature of the pavilion, according to the committee, is a 40-hour course in the first session is expected to be held by a Saturday and 32 hours on the following days.

These wishing to take part can contact the county organization at 43-45 Rahway ave., Elizabeth, the announcement said.

Approximately 150,000 copies of the directory will be delivered compared to 148,000 last year. There are 117,800 listings in the alphabetical section, an increase of 2,300 over 1963, an announcement said.

A full-color picture of the four flags, which have flown over New Jersey, decorates the cover of the directory in honor of the state's Tercentennial.

County CD Planning Management Course
A Shelter Management Course is being sponsored by the Union County Civil Defense and Disaster Control in cooperation with the State CD & DC Training Officer and Bureau Units. It was announced this week.

It will be a 40-hour course and the first session is expected to be held by a Saturday and 32 hours on the following days.

These wishing to take part can contact the county organization at 43-45 Rahway ave., Elizabeth, the announcement said.

Labor Leaders Launch Drive To Enroll Members In S.O.S.

Labor leaders launched a twin-pronged drive this week to enroll thousands of union members and their families in the Sabin Oral Polio Sunday campaign.

The Union County Council, AFL-CIO, distributed a detailed story for publication in the weekly and monthly magazines and newsletters put out by its 100 locals.

Sabin Oral Sundays Program

G.O.P. Members Of Legislature Endorse S.O.S.

Union County's Republican members of the State Legislature this week endorsed the Sabin Oral Polio Sunday program to be initiated by the Union County Medical Society on Sunday, March 1.

Senator William P. Stanley of Union, and Assemblyman Lester Collins of Summit, Nicholas St. John LaCorte of Cranford, Frank X. McDermott of Westfield, and Peter J. McDonough of Plainfield, whose families include 16 children, urged that the county's half-million residents take full advantage of this opportunity to immunize themselves against poliomyelitis, an announcement said.

"All of us in Union County," said Collins, "now can not only protect ourselves and our children from this dreaded disease, but we can also discharge our moral responsibility to protect our neighbor and his children. By taking all three doses of the Sabin oral vaccine, we become available on March 1, April 12, and May 24, we immunize ourselves and at the same time make it virtually impossible to transmit polio to others. By preventing ourselves from being carriers, we'll take a major step toward wiping out this disease in Union County."

Sane Policy Group Backs Williams' Bill

The Union County Committee for a Sane Nuclear Policy, alarmed by the recent lay-off of 1,200 top engineers at the Sperry Gyroscope Corp. on Long Island, has urged support of a U.S. Senate Bill co-sponsored by N.J. Senator Harrison A. Williams and S.D. Senator George S. McGovern that would set up a national economic conversion commission to study all factors related to economic conversion and anticipated effects on industry.

The group said Mrs. Dwyer such a planning commission should be established to cope with the economic impact of disarmament and shifts in military spending. It also decided to send individual letters to U.S. Senator Warren G. Magnuson of the State of Washington, chairman of the Senate Commerce Committee, to which the bill has been referred.

The proposed Senate bill would set up a nine-member commission that would include the Secretaries of Defense, Commerce, Labor, Agriculture and Interior, the chairman of the Atomic Energy Commission, the director of the Arms Control and Disarmament Agency, the head of the National Aeronautics and Space Administration and the chairman of the Council of Economic Advisors.

Florence Dwyer Announces Bid For Re-election

Rep. Florence P. Dwyer (R-6th Dist., N.J.) this week announced her candidacy for reelection to a fifth term in Congress.

Mrs. Dwyer is serving on the Banking and Currency committee and the Government Operations committee in the House and is ranking Republican member of two subcommittees, Consumer Affairs and Intergovernmental Relations.

Co-sponsor of the legislation which created the Advisory Commission on Intergovernmental Relations in 1959, she has been one of three members representing the House since the agency's inception.

Congresswoman Dwyer was first elected to the House in 1956 when she defeated the incumbent Congressman, now Senator, Harrison A. Williams Jr. Previously, she has represented Union County in the State Assembly for seven years.

Mrs. Dwyer's formal announcement that she would seek another term in Congress followed speculation that she might accept the Republican nomination for U.S. Senator against Sen. Williams. The Congresswoman denied the possibility, however.

"The people of Union County have been good to me," she declared in explaining the reasons she decided to run for the House instead of the Senate. "My constituents and I have developed a close working relationship which has enabled me to be increasingly helpful because of the growing seniority they have given me on important House committees."

On Saturday, Adolph Wapner of Westfield, will lead a hike in Echo Lake Park, Mountaintain and Westfield. The group will meet at the parking area at the Springfield ave. end of the Park at 9:30 a.m. and will return by noon.

Miss Fritz Zappe of East Orange, will lead a special hike on Sunday for the younger members and guests of the club. The group will hike through Morrisloven and visit the historic points in the area. The group will meet at the Administration Building of the Union County Park Commission, Warshaw Park, Elizabeth, at 8 a.m. for the Morrisloven Laekawanna Station at 8:45 a.m.

Also on Sunday, Fred Dinuly

Klepchick, Randall To Head Drive

George L. Randall of Plainfield and Andrew Klepchick of Linden have been named chairman and co-chairman, respectively, for the 1964 Crusade of the American Cancer Society.

"To Cure More-Give More," this year's theme, is hoped to bring the Union County Chapter over its goal of $137,750. Randall and Klepchick, who headed the Society's Crusade last year, were hopeful that they would surpass this year's goal. In 1963, under their leadership, the Crusade raised more money in Union County than ever before.

SMOKING OIL TRUCK

Firemen were called to Rosemont and Lansdowne avenues last Wednesday when an oil truck became shrouded in dense smoke and heavy fumes. Investigation revealed that there was no fire. The fumes were caused by oil leaking onto a hot manifold.

Sew Them Yourself Fashions To Be Shown

A comprehensive preview of new 1964-to-sew teenage fashions from the Simplicity School Catalog will be shown in Hahne & Company's Fashion Fabric department on the Street Floor of the Newark store. The show, entitled "The Case of the Young Individualist," will be on Thursday, Feb. 27 and Friday, Feb. 28 at 10:30 a.m. and 1 p.m., and Saturday, Feb. 29 at 12:30 and 2:30 p.m.

These fresh new ideas are slanted to the schoolgirl's point of view, and as expected, sportswear creates some of the biggest excitement. Bermuda shorts, fresh blouse and skirt ideas, and a pert suspender skirt highlight these leisure hour fashions.

The Spring and Summer dress story is headlined by several zephyr-fresh skimmer dresses, dating dresses and for the special evening, a long formal gown. Suits and coats are given new up-to-the-minute style treatments.

Miss Linda Burkett, Simplicity representative who will be present to answer all fashion and sewing questions, has indicated that the most meaningful new emphasis will be on the new fabrics and lush new colors. New trim ideas, too, will be showing hats, eyelets and buttons in new ways.

Special arrangements will be made to accommodate Home Economics groups of girls from New Jersey's junior and senior high schools in these shows.

MISS RHEBE GREENWALD

Rhebe Greenwald Betrothed To Mr. Goodman Of Union

Mr. and Mrs. Monroe J. Greenwald, of Coudert pl., South Orange, announce the engagement of their daughter Rhebe to Martin Robert Goodman, son of Mr. and Mrs. Jacob Goodman, of Leslie st., Union.

The bride-elect is a graduate of Columbia High School and attended American University. She is a teacher in the Newark School system and is completing her senior year at Newark State College.

Her fiance is a graduate of Union High School and is a senior at the University of Illinois. He will enter law school in the fall.

Faculty Fetes Principal

The faculty of Burnet Junior High School, Union, held a surprise party last Friday afternoon in honor of the wedding anniversary of the principal, Yuknus, said, to help home sewers with some knowledge of sewing who are having trouble with some particular technique.

New Tricks Turn Crab Meat Dishes Into Fare That Delights The Gourmet

For the office gal with a beau or the housewife with a family, Lent offers an opportunity to GEMME admirers with the kind of seafood dishes you usually find only in your favorite seafood restaurant. You don't have to be a culinary genius or spend long hours in the kitchen at it. You can produce a gourmet dish simply by using new tricks on everyday ingredients.

Nothing lends itself to tasty seafood dishes better — or more easily — than Alaska King crab. Cooked fresh from the sea, and frozen at the peak of fine flavor, it's ready to combine with sauces and other ingredients as soon as it is thawed and drained. The liquid left over after defrosting has excellent flavor and can be used in sauces, soups or chowders.

The three recipes that follow give you a wide range of quickly prepared crab dishes to serve as special seafood treats for company or for the family. You can readily add your own variations to make them your "secret" recipes. Use your handsomest cast-iron skillets for searing, and make use of the traditional garnishes such as parsley or watercress; sliced stuffed olives or black olives, radish roses and lemon wedges, for color contrast and the attractive finishing touch that gives any dish an appealing and professional appearance.

KING CRAB RISOTTO

1/4 cup olive oil
1 large onion, chopped
1 green pepper, chopped
1 cup sliced celery
1/2 lb. fresh mushrooms, chopped
1/2 cup chopped pimiento
2 cups rice, long grain
4 cups canned tomatoes
2 teaspoons salt
2 pkgs. (6 oz.) frozen Alaska King crab meat, defrosted and drained
1 pkg. (10 oz.) frozen green peas, defrosted
1/3 cup grated Parmesan cheese
Heat olive oil and saute onion, green pepper, celery, mushrooms and pimiento until tender. Add rice, tomatoes and salt. Cover saucepan and simmer mixture, stirring occasionally, until rice is tender. Add tomato

KING CRAB DIABLO

2 pkgs. (6 oz.) frozen Alaska King Crab Meat
2 cups Marinara sauce
1 tablespoon tarragon vinegar
1 teaspoon Worcestershire sauce
1 clove garlic
1 bay leaf
1/2 cup red wine
2 tablespoons butter or margarine
6 biscuits, split
Defrost king crab meat and drain well. Heat marinara sauce with vinegar, Worcestershire sauce, garlic, bay leaf and black pepper. Simmer for 5 minutes. Remove bay leaf and garlic. Add red wine and butter or margarine. Cook until butter is melted. Add drained king crab meat and heat for 2-3 minutes. When mixture is hot, spoon it over hot-split buttered biscuits.

KING CRAB SANDWICH WITH CHEESE SOUFFLE TOPPING

1 pkg. (6 oz.) frozen Alaska King Crab Meat
1/3 cup minced celery
1/4 cup chopped dill pickles
4 slices white bread
1/4 cup mayonnaise
1/4 cup grated sharp cheese
2 egg whites
Defrost frozen King crab meat and drain. Chop the drained crab meat and mix with celery and pickles. Place bread slices on a buttered cookie sheet. Spoon crab mixture over slices of bread. Blend mayonnaise with grated cheese. Beat egg whites until stiff. Fold egg whites into cheese mixture. Spoon mixture over king crab, covering bread completely. Bake sandwiches in a 325 degree F. oven for 25-30 minutes, or until topping is brown and puffy. (Serves 4).
Frozen Alaska King crab can be used for any recipe that calls

SUBURBAN ENTERS 3 EXHIBITS IN DISTRICT EVENT

The Suburban Woman's Club of Union had three exhibits in the Seventh District Achievement Day held Tuesday at the Montclair Woman's Club. The local club's display included the Christmas wreaths made by the art department for use in the lobby of the Memorial General Hospital, a jewel box made by the home department and picture designing created by the garden department.

Members will participate in play readings at the next meeting of the literature department. The meeting will be held at the home of Mrs. Ferdinand Autenreith, 1349 Winlow ave., Union, with Mrs. Anthony Vital acting as co-hostess.

"Color In Your Life" was the topic of the general membership meeting held last Friday at the Phoenix Hall, Chestnut st.

All Food Fair Stores Are Open For Business As Usual!

Fresh merchandise continues to pour into our stores. All stores are staffed to continue to serve your every food and household need. We DEEPLY APPRECIATE THE THOUSANDS OF OUR LOYAL, CUSTOMER-FRIENDS WHO SHOPPED (AND SAVED) WITH US OVER THE PAST WEEKEND.

WHY IS FOOD FAIR BEING PICKETED ILLEGALLY

No reason that makes sense!
There is no dispute between Food Fair and its supermarket employees.
These employees are covered by a contract with the Retail Clerks International Association. This contract does not expire until August 29th, 1965 and contains a "No-Strike" clause.
HERE ARE THE FACTS!
J. M. Fields, Inc. is a separately-operated subsidiary of Food Fair, engaged in a department store business. J. M. Fields has been negotiating in good faith with the Retail Clerks Union for its department store (non-food) employees in only four (4) stores.
J. M. Fields has offered higher wage rates and benefits than the Retail Clerks Union now has in its contract with competitive department stores. The union has rejected this better contract.
Now the union is resorting to pressure tactics by picketing Food Fair Supermarkets and compelling its clerk members to walk out, despite existing contracts, and thereby jeopardizing their earnings and welfare. This illegal work stoppage is a disservice to our customers as well as to our employees.

UJC Observatory To Contain Largest Telescope In State

The William Miller Sperry Memorial Observatory will be established on the Union Junior College campus, Cranford, with a gift of $100,000 from Mrs. Frederik W. Heinecke of New York City, and William S. Heinecke of Summit, it was announced today by Dr. Kenneth C. MacKay, UJC president, and Dr. Thomas Roy Johnson, chairman of the Board of Trustees.

The observatory — believed to be the first on a two-year college campus — will be operated by Union Junior College and Amateur Astronomers, Inc. It will contain the largest telescope in New Jersey and two of the largest along the northeast coast of the United States.

Two Burnet Students Attend Conference
Shelley Alexander and Reid Weingarten, Burnet Junior High School Student Council president and vice president respectively, recently attended a Safety Conference Preliminary Meeting at Milliside Ave. Junior High in Cranford. The purpose was to choose topics for discussion at the annual conference to be held on May 7, at that school.

and to complete construction of the observatory within a year. Architect Frederick A. Eliazar and Associates of Union are now preparing final plans and specifications.

According to Dr. MacKay, Union Junior College plans to establish courses in astronomy for undergraduates and to work with nearby universities in offering graduate programs in the field.

A joint policy committee of Union Junior College and Amateur Astronomers officials will be organized to outline specific uses and time allotments for the observatory, so that a coordinated program of education, research, and public viewing can be developed.

Amateur Astronomers expect to launch a campaign in the near future to acquire gifts of materials, labor, and funds for the two large telescopes. They expect the telescopes will take three to five years to build.

Until Amateur Astronomers complete the two large telescopes, they will use a 12-inch reflector telescope made and donated to the college by Roger Tutthill of Mountainside, vice president of A.A.I., and a three-inch refractor telescope presently owned by UJC.

The observatory, which will be located on the rear portion of the Union Junior College campus near the Westfield border, will contain 3,700 sq. ft.

In addition to the two telescope rooms, the building will include an activity room containing about 100 persons for meetings, lectures, and seminars, an optical workshop where the two telescopes will be built and where mirror grinding classes will be conducted by Amateur Astronomers, a small library and office, a dark room for photographic work, and a lobby and display area for astronomical exhibits. The activity room will be large enough so that it can be used as a classroom for astronomical and other courses.

A dome roof is planned for the refractor telescope, while a sliding roof is proposed for the reflector telescope. The room for the reflector telescope will be 20 ft. by 20 ft., while the refractor telescope room will be 15 ft. by 12 ft.

A long-time Cranford resident, the late William Miller Sperry was the father of Mrs. F. W. Heinecke and grand-nephew of William S. Heinecke, now president of the Sperry Company.

Contributors of S&H Green stamps: William M. Sperry, who purchased a half interest in the firm from Shelly H. Hutchinson shortly after the turn of the century, was also a president of S&H.

WILLIAM MILLER SPERRY OBSERVATORY—This is an artist's rendering of the William Miller Sperry Memorial Observatory to be built on the Union Junior College campus in Cranford — believed to be the first on a two-year college campus. Mrs. Frederik W. Heinecke of New York City and William S. Heinecke of Summit, have contributed $100,000 for the building as a memorial to their father and grandfather. The observatory will be operated by Union Junior College and Amateur Astronomers, Inc., and will contain the largest telescope in New Jersey.

Community Concert Unit Meets Tomorrow On '64-'65 Season

Board members of the Union Community Concerts Association will meet tomorrow evening at the home of Mrs. Gerald Schneider, 988 So. Park ter., to plan its 1964-1965 season.

Mrs. Luther Berry, president of the association, said work on the coming season has already begun, but that the campaign for new members will not begin officially until the week of March 3-7. Announcements concerning the campaign begin tonight, kick-off dinner and selection of artists will be made after tomorrow's meeting.

Mrs. Mike Sandberg, 1045 Bunker Ave., head the association's membership drive in Union. Mrs. Raymond Lieblich of 28 Cottage la., Springfield, and Mrs. Abe Benjamin of Hillside, will be responsible for the drive's success in their communities.

In announcing the selection of the three chairmen, Mrs. Berry said they would be assisted by nearly 100 workers in the three-town area. The workers will explain the concert plan to prospective members and invite them to join for the 1964-1965 season.

"During the 15 years that the Union Community Concerts Association has been offering the finest in music and dance to the citizens of Union," Mrs. Berry said. "We have presented such star attractions as Jerome Hines and Elena Nikolaidi of the Metropolitan Opera Company, the De Pair Infantry Chorus, the Rochester Symphony Orchestra, the Ballet Russe de Monte Carlo, the Beaux Arts Trio, the Grand Ballets Canadiens and many others."

This season—the association offered pianist Theodore Lettvin and the Zurich Chamber Orchestra. It will end its 1963-1964 activity March 14 when it presents the Revelers, an internationally famous male quartet. Members of the Association also attended from of charge 17 other community concerts in nearby towns which offered their remaining seats to member-groups within a prescribed area.

"The cost for hearing three top-notch artists in Union and many others in surrounding towns is only $2 for adults and $4 for students," Mrs. Berry added. "Seats are not sold for individual concerts, but under the association's plan all music lovers in Union and the surrounding area may join the group during the campaign week, or write now to the recording secretary, Mrs. Richard F. Harjien, 960 Park ter., Union."

Other officers and board members of the association are: Robert Horn, first vice president; Miss Estelle Segall, second vice president; Mrs. J. B. Fuko, corresponding secretary; Mrs. Julie A. Douglas, treasurer; Dr. William Brucker, Mrs. John Gould, Mrs. James Howell, Hans Lindner, Mrs. Julie Lobovick, Mrs. Michael Perinich, Leo Rindler, Mrs. Frank Sedlock Mrs. E. Symphony Reopens Membership Drive

The Suburban Symphony Orchestra of New Jersey recently opened membership for the winter and spring seasons. It was announced this week by Mrs. William H. Beckhuysen of Cranford, membership chairman.

"Charts are available in all sections except the woodwinds," Mrs. Beckhuysen reported.

The Suburban Symphony, under Peter Seale of Millburn, rehearses every Wednesday at 8 p. m. in the auditorium of the new Orange Avenue Junior High School.

Interested musicians may contact Mrs. Beckhuysen at BRidge 6-8066.

Jonathan Dayton Finishes Campaign With A Whimper

The Dayton Regional High School basketball team finished the regular season with a whimper. Dayton will get a post-season chance to repair some of the damage in the annual basketball tournament of the N. J. State Intercollegiate Athletic Association. According to a schedule released this week, Dayton will play on Wednesday, March 4 at the Fairwood High School gym in Scotch Plains. The game will begin at 8 p.m.

On Tuesday, the Bulldogs tried to thump South Plainfield High School from the undefeated ranks and failed. They lost 74-65, ending the regular season with a 10-10 record. But this loss couldn't be blamed on poor foul shooting. They made 13 of 13 free throws. But there were some legitimate reasons for the loss. Dayton's number two scorer, Frank Monticello, couldn't play. He had undergone oral surgery the previous day, and his doctor insisted that he sit the game out. And Bruce Ledig and Keith Neigel fouled out in the third quarter just after Dayton had forced ahead. That didn't help. With the loss, Dayton's record in the South Plainfield caught up to Dayton and ended the third quarter, ahead 34-45.

Despite being double- and triple-teamed, Bill Kretzer had one of his best nights. He scored 30 points, making six of six at the foul line and 20 percent of his shots from the field. Mike Kretzer scored 14 points and Ledig, eight. Coach Ray Venetus said if his boys do well on the foul line during the tournaments, "they may surprise a lot of people."

LEADER PROFILE

(Continued from Page 4) but in the hands of particularly adaptable to jungle snafu-time munging. This was a good challenge for Donnelly, who got a job after the war helping M. and M. set up a sales department geared to face the problems of reconstruction. This led to a job as sales manager for the Royal Crown Bottling Co. of Newark and ultimately to the spot of president of that company—a job he held from 1948 to 1950. And this was when he decided to retire—the only thing he ever tried that he didn't succeed in doing.

MEANWHILE he had been active in local politics, first as a member of the Republican County Committee, in 1932 and '33 as a member of the Board of Adjustment, and from 1934 to '39 as a member of the Township Committee.

Springfield was a community with a population of some 7,000 people in those days, and the township was growing rapidly. During this period the town's first addition was built on what is now the Fire House, the municipal garage and the library addition were built, the 1954 zoning regulations were drawn up by an outside engineering firm, and an outside group of appraisers re-evaluated the municipality in 1957.

THE TOWNSHIP committee used to meet on the annual budget on a Saturday morning with representatives from the local service clubs, he said.

The reason he enjoys politics, he says, is that the activity provides a tremendous education in human nature.

"How do you find time to do so much?" he was asked. "I haven't told you about my side activities yet," he answered. On the side he has served as chairman of the Red Cross blood collection (1953), of the Red Cross fund drive (1954), of the local Red Cross chapter (1955-1959), as a charter member, secretary, president and president of the Springfield Historical Society; president of the Springfield Republican Club (1956), president of the New Jersey Ballers and Carpenters Beverage organization (1956-1957) and president of the selection division of the Board of Realtors (1962).

He is past exalted ruler of the Newark Elks (1930) and helped set up the Springfield lodge. He belongs to the American Legion and the Italy Name Society of St. James Church.

He and Rupert Humer, now president of the Jonathan Dayton PTA, set up the Babe Ruth Baseball League here in town. The 12 to 15 year olds who played in this league are now included in the Springfield Junior Baseball set up under the supervision of the Recreation Department.

That's how it is with a man who refuses to retire.

Columbia Now Tops In Ivy League Play

The Light Blue of Columbia met the Big Red of Cornell last week in the game of the year in the Ivy League. Going into this game the two teams were deadlocked for first place, and with but three weeks remaining in the season, this was a "big" game. Columbia with a brilliant second-half surge won the game by the score of 22-11 in the first half it was all Cornell. The Big Red led after the first period by the score of 10-0. At halftime the score was Columbia 10, Columbia 7. Cornell scored but also points in the second half. Columbia pulled even in the third period, shot by Ralph Losano with one minute remaining. With six seconds left in the game Howard jump shot to put his team ahead to stay. Howard Spielman, Ralph Losano, and Kenny Braverman led the Columbia attack to pace this big win. Ted O'Connell and Kenny Langlois were the leading scorers for Cornell.

Candidates Asks Joint Cooperation

Henry S. Wright of 53-Corfax St., candidate for freholder, has called for "joint cooperation between the county and the state legislature and local municipalities in areas involving budgets, courts, welfare, personnel, and highway and industrial development."

Fuel Truck Struck

A fuel truck stopped at a railroad crossing was struck in the rear by a car on Sunday, police reported. There were no injuries but both vehicles were damaged. The truck was being driven by Ronald F. Tagliacani of Carteret. Driver of the car was identified as Joseph Devlin, 50, of Newark.

No Team Holds First Place Lead

No team in the Temple Beth Ami Bowling League holds undisputed first place. Hal Leibskind's team and Harry Stein's squad are tied for the number one spot in the standings. Leibskind's team slipped into first when they won three games in their last outing.

Fierce Competition In Temple Bowling

Fierce competition in last Sunday's action in the Sharay Shalom Bowling brought the first four teams within four Peterson points of each other. Bob Bornstein was the high man of the day with a torrid 250. And, Ivy Greenbaum came out scorching with a 243. Notable performances were also turned in by Art Glover. He bowled a 200 game. Chick Danziger rolled a respectable 211 and Jay Doros had a series of 587.

Basketball Tourney Planned For Edison

The seventh annual Gold Medal Basketball Tournament sponsored by the Edison Township Recreation Department will be held in the Thomas Jefferson and John Adams Junior High Schools and the Clara Barlow elementary school in Edison starting the week of March 2. Entries are being accepted in three divisions, men's, open, senior and junior.

Wrestlers From Dayton Face Powerful Plainfield In Match Tomorrow Night

By beating Gov. Livingston, 31 to 16, last Wednesday, Dayton's wrestling team capped the fifth of its last six matches and if the Bulldogs can beat a powerful Plainfield team tomorrow, Dayton will end the season with a 7-4 record.

Jets Remain On Top In Bowling League

The Jets remain in first place in the 80's Recreation Bowling League after another week of competition. The Jets, however, lost some ground last week when they split their series with the Eagles, while the scores placed numbers swept two games from the Hurricanes. The Jets met the Eagles in a crucial series last week and the two competitors split the two games. The Eagles won the first game by a 190 pin margin, however, the Jets won the second game by the score of 151-131. The Jets took the victory by nine pins. Paulie the Jets was Victor Santoni. He bowled a 245 series. The Bombers were able to pick up one game in their pursuit of the front-running Jets. The Bombers defeated the Hurricanes twice, the first by 30 pins behind the bowling of Jimmy Sackin and Eric Wasterman. The second contest, however, ended in a tie. The Bombers made it victory number two for the afternoon when they won this game in a two game rattle off. Rick Rowitz paced the Bombers in the overtime as he converted two strikes. Evan Wasserman's game of 118 was high in the situation panic. The second contest, however, ended in a tie. Four Strikes Lead Recreation Bowling

The Four Strikes continue to lead the Girl's Recreation Bowling League. However the Strikes are finding it increasingly difficult to pull away from the rest of the league.

Shooting Honors To Dan Baumann

Dan Baumann of Union had a perfect score of 25 in the shoot-off to defeat Alex Freeman of Mountaintop in the 23rd annual Union County 25 Straight Club trap tournament Sunday at Cranford. Both had scored 23 in the first round to force the trapshoot. Freeman hit 21 targets in the shoot-off.
