Three Announce Candidacies For Town Committee

Schechter, Mattice Get Dem Backing; Bloom Running Too

Solomon Schechter and Douglas Mattice were endorsed this week by the Springfield Democratic Committee as candidates for the Township Committee, and Jay Bloom announced that he, too, is a candidate for the Democratic nomination.

Democratic Committee Chairman Alex Blackman, who lost to Republican William Koopz, in a race for a Township Committee seat last November, announced this week that the official Democratic nod had gone to Schechter and Mattice.

Jay Bloom, one of seven other potential candidates who were screened by the committee, made his own announcement of his intention to enter the April 21 primary.

At stake are the seats of Republican Mayor Robert Hardgrove and Township Committee members Arthur Falkin, who both answered emphatically in the affirmative this week when asked if they intend to seek re-election.

Schechter, an attorney with a law office in Newark, has a B.S. degree in business administration and a law degree from Rutgers University. He also attended Rutgers School of Arts and Science.

He was admitted to the bar of Washington D.C. and the New Jersey bar in 1955 and is a member of the Essex County Bar Association, the Essex County Board of Education, the Essex County Board of Health, the Essex County Board of Public Safety, the Essex County Board of Social Work, the Essex County Board of Vocational Education, the Essex County Board of Welfare, the Essex County Board of Youth Services, the Essex County Board of Senior Citizens, the Essex County Board of Mental Health, the Essex County Board of Child Welfare, the Essex County Board of Probation and Parole, the Essex County Board of Corrections, the Essex County Board of Juvenile Delinquency, the Essex County Board of Adult Parole, the Essex County Board of Adult Probation, the Essex County Board of Adult Correction, the Essex County Board of Adult Prison, the Essex County Board of Adult Reformatory, the Essex County Board of Adult Penitentiary, the Essex County Board of Adult Prisoner, the Essex County Board of Adult Inmate, the Essex County Board of Adult Prisoner, the Essex County Board of Adult Inmate, the Essex County Board of Adult Prisoner, the Essex County Board of Adult Inmate.

Town Committee Named In Action By Homeowners

Seek To 'Protect Residential Area' From Construction

Officers of the Shunpike Association to block construction of a convalescent home on the corner of Mountain ave. and Shunpike rd. culminated in legal action this week, according to Nathan Weinberg, spokesman for the group.

A suit asking that approval of a special exception use permit for construction of the facility on Fudum Farm property be set aside and that Building Inspector Otto Fessler be restrained from issuing a building permit was filed Monday in Superior Court in Trenton by Irvin Weinberg, attorney for the group.

Seventeen complaints were filed in the suit. Defendants in the suit, the Springfield Township Committee and Building Inspector Otto Fessler, were expected to be served yesterday. Weinberg called Fessler a "technical defendant," explaining that he was named in order to prevent him from issuing a building permit.

Record Shows According to Superior Court records, the prayer of complaint on the eight-page document asks that approval of the special exception use permit be set aside and that approval of the government agencies is therefore "illegal and of no effect."

It contends alleged participation by other government officials in the application so influenced government agencies that approval amounts to a fraud upon the public.

It asks that 7-C of the Zoning Ordinance, providing that a general medical or surgical hospital is a "special exception use," be set aside, declaring the provision "unconstitutional and illegal."

First SOS Clinic Set This Sunday At Regional High

The first of three temporary clinics to immunize residents against poliomyelitis with Sabin oral vaccine will be held at Regional High School this Sunday from 11 a.m. to 4 p.m. in the Jonathan Dayton Regional High School boys gymnasium.

Civil Defense Director Saul Freeman stressed the importance of participation in the program, saying the operation is capable of immunizing completely.

The Springfield operation is one of 30 temporary clinics scheduled for three separate Sundays by the Union County Medical Society.

Some 50 people, including registration clerks and nurses, will be on hand to assist with the program. Traffic will be handled by municipal and Civil Defense police, including members of the First Aid Squad, Red Cross and Civil Defense.

Freeman expressed appreciation for the efforts of the Springfield Girl Scouts, who are distributing registration forms to all township houses.

J.F.K. Memorial Scholarship Established At Regional High

To aid college-bound graduates, the Scholarship Committee of the Jonathan Dayton Regional High School this week established the John F. Kennedy Memorial Scholarship Fund.

Approximately 70 per cent of the graduates require financial assistance, an order to pursue higher education, and awards will not be confined solely to top-notch students.

The fund appeal will be made through the school, fraternal groups in Springfield and Kenilworth, a very essential part of the appeal.

Members of the committee include Mayor Robert D. Hardgrove, Arthur Falkin, Rupert Hummer, Thomas Passero, Peter S. Patuto, Sol Rekon, Lloyd Roslin, John Sman, William Smith, Natalie Waldt.

Honorary Advisors: Mayor William J. Allen of Kenilworth and Mayor Robert D. Hardgrove of Springfield.

The committee urges that every member of the Springfield and Kenilworth communities contribute to the fund. Such contributions, plus those received from local business and social organizations can achieve the goal.

SET PRELIMINARY BUDGET HEARING

Mayor Robert Hardgrove Invited Residents To Attend

Teachers Salaries Upped By Regional

The Regional High School teachers' salary schedule for 1964-65, adopted by the District Board of Education last week, shows $200 raises for teachers with bachelors' and masters' degrees, $300 raises for teachers with six years of college, and $400 raises for teachers with a doctorate, according to School Board figures.

Annual starting salary for a teacher with a bachelor's degree will be $5,800 in 15 steps. A teacher on the sixth year salary level will have a $5,600 minimum — up from $5,300 and a $9,900 maximum in 19 years — up from $9,100 in 18 years.

The new guide for teachers with doctorate degrees is $5,800 minimum and $10,200 maximum in 19 years.

Tax Pie Sliced In Five Ways - Taxpayers Swallow Big Bites

The Township Committee is scheduled to hold a public hearing at 8 p.m. March 10 on the township's $1,418,882.96 municipal purpose spending for 1964. Also up for approval will be a $40,000 item ticketed to pay the township's share of running the county government for the coming year.

Another ingredient in the 1964 tax pie is the expense of running the local school system, $1,361,581.58, and also the township's share of running the regional school district, which totals $873,605.

A total of $3,045,127.28 would be raised by taxation under the proposed budget. Local municipal purposes comprise $848,281.06 of that amount.

Physicist Talks To Kiwanians At Regular Meeting

Bernard Stevens, physicist, explained the operation of the satellite in the Millburn-Springfield Kiwanis luncheon meeting last Thursday. Stevens accompanied his talk with slides. Originally each telephone conversation required two separate wires, he said. The development of coaxial cables then increased the number of calls able to be carried on only one wire to about 30. However, with the great increase in international calls being placed daily, it was necessary to find some new way to transmit still more messages at one time.

The supper will be followed by religious services honoring the 80 men in the sanctuary at 8:45 p.m. An award for outstanding service will be presented to one of the 80 men, whose name will be announced at a later date.

The possibility of acquiring urban renewal funds for business property on the north side of Morris Ave. is being investigated by a special committee. The Springfield Township Board of Chosen Freeholders is studying the possibility of acquiring urban renewal funds for business property on the north side of Morris Ave. A letter from Saul Freeman, secretary of the Chamber to the Township Board, reported that "discussions with property owners on the north side of Morris Ave. concerning the possibility of an extended parking area adjoining business property there had broken down."

Kenya Student's Idealism Has Sparked Local Lad's Interest

By MARIAN BROWN

Michael Walamulwa, 19½-year-old youth from Nairobi, Kenya, has not selected his future university; but Springfield's Donald Lewis, 17, with whom Michael has just spent three weeks, is intrigued by the possibility of attending the University of East Africa.

Michael's idealism and his sense of excitement over the emerging development of that continent have infected Donald, so that he wants to see for himself.

Both boys feel that their own development has progressed as the result of Michael's stay as the house guest of Mr. and Mrs. Philip Lewis, 385 Milltown rd., Donald and younger brother, Hal, 12.

Donald is an idealist in his own right, although he claims that American youth has become cynical through a series of setbacks.

"Michael, whose father is a senator with the Kenya Parliament, plans to become a diplomat and hopes to serve his country as a representative to the United Nations. Donald, whose father is a senior partner in a consulting firm, in Newark wants to teach philosophy in university."

"MICHAEL'S VISIT" HAS made apparent to me that this is an international world, Donald said in the living room of his home last week, when he sat with Michael, Mr. Lewis, Hal, and two of his school friends, Barbara Myberg and Joan Rawitz.

The teenagers had interrupted a game of ping pong with a visiting reporter.

Michael said: "I've picked up so many ideas here in the United States that I'm not considered a revolutionary when I get home."

He said that he admires the involvement of American youth in social matters, and that he is particularly active in the African women equally involved.

"In my country women have about 15 children," he said, adding that family planning would enable them to extend their horizons into community service.

His own mother, a teacher and community development officer, he involved in the life of her country, but she is, in usual, he said.

He would like to see Africa attain the standard of living he observes in the United States and to see African parents take a more active part in their schools, as parents do here," he says.

"I would like universal free education in Kenya and great freedom of expression in the classrooms. He says that the freedom with which American students discuss and question is a great aid to learning.

Michael is one of 37 delegates to the 18th annual New York Herald Tribune Youth Forum involving student cultural exchange and participation in Saturday afternoon television panel shows.

Last week the Lewises accompanied Michael to New York to tape the first of two shows in which Michael will appear. "Ethnic Problems and Independence," the show will be seen March 7 at 2 p.m. on Channel 47. Michael's best one on the show, 15-year-old Hal says proudly.

Michael's second appearance will involve a discussion of

The youth is a prize-winning artist in his native Kenya. The date for this show has not been announced.

Delegates to the Herald Tribune Forum come from all over the world. During Michael's stay in Springfield the Lewises entertained young delegates from Mexico, Norway, Trinidad and Japan.

They appear before numerous high school student assemblies for panel discussions and to answer questions regarding their respective countries. Although they speak primarily to high school groups, Michael last week spoke to junior students at the Florence Gaudineer School. He was introduced by Donald, who explained his absence from his own high school classes with the remark, "I never let school interfere with my education."

"The Florence Gaudineer students asked very intelligent questions," Michael said, explaining that they wanted to know about the schools in Kenya and teen age social life there.

"I told them the Beatles are favorites in Kenya also and that there is a Beatles Fan Club there," he said.

The two boys have had an extremely busy schedule during Michael's stay in Springfield. They heard Dr. Martin Luther King speak at Drew University and both were highly impressed with the well-known civil rights leader.

They attended a Springfield Township Committee meeting where Michael was introduced to Mayor Robert Hardegrove, and they visited Princeton University and historic spots in Philadelphia.

They saw a New York stage show, "The American Dream," and then they spent time on the way to the Forum, ate in a Chinese restaurant, visited the Ugandan embassy, where Michael has friends, and attended a meeting of the United Nations Security Council, where they heard a representative from Cyprus plead his country's case.

Michael has been a guest of the youth group at Temple Shalom, Shalom, where he has friends, and visited numerous Springfield families, including the Joseph Benders, the Irving Samuels, the Seymour Wortzels and the Irvin Gershtens.

TALKING IT OVER — Michael Walamulwa of Nairobi, Kenya, and Donald Lewis of Springfield discuss the rewards of friendship gleaned during the three-week period that Michael has been Donald's house-guest. Township Schools To Expand Instrumental Music Program

The instrumental music program in the Springfield schools will be expanded and an additional instrumental music teacher, assigned primarily to the Florence Gaudineer School, will be hired, it was announced at a meeting of the Board of Education last week.

After a discussion of whether program expansion should originate with the Board or from within the schools a motion by Joseph Bender that the administration be directed to expand the instrumental music program was passed by a 7-2 vote.

Frank Haydu and Robert Southward voted against the measure. In casting his vote Haydu said the Board was "going above its powers."

Bender said that expansion of the program would enable a larger number of youngsters to participate.

In other business the Board moved to study possible means of eliminating classroom study in the cafeteria of the Florence Gaudineer School and questioned the propriety of a 25 cent charge collected by the Recreation Department for roller skating program in the Florence Gaudineer School gymnasium.

Board member Dr. Benjamin Josephson offered a motion to seek a means of relocating cafeteria classrooms next year but withdrew it when Bender asked that it be tabled.

Board President August Caprio said that the school administration should be consulted in the feasibility of relocation. He thanked John Gacos for a report of "chronic relief" when Gacos asked whether anyone had considered an addition to the Gaudineer School as a solution to the problem of overcrowding there. Proposed additions to that school have been defeated by two referendums.

The Board voted to have proposals for relocating the cafeteria classes ready for consideration by its next regular meeting.

Haydu asked whether the 25 cent charge for roller skating put the program into the "profit making" category. He was told by Bender that the money was collected in order to build a fund for equipment.

John Gacos said that if the Board took this line of thinking the summer enrichment program could also be classified as "profit making" because it was self-sustaining and not sponsored by the Board.

In response to a statement by Haydu that he would prefer to see the summer program made a function of the Board of Education, August Cunningham, finance committee chairman, pointed out that such a policy would eliminate that program this year because funds were not provided for a summer program in the budget.

Assistant Superintendent of Schools Daniel Murray reported that an in-service workshop at the Gaudineer School last week was attended by about 175 teachers, administrators and guests.

The Board approved advancement of the salary guide for Mrs. Lillian Gushin, fourth grade teacher at the Sandeley School, who has completed requirements of an M.A. degree in elementary education at Newark State College.

Mrs. Adrienne Collock Schilling, 310 Aldene rd., and Mrs. Louis Appels, 33 Bryant ave., were placed on the official list of teacher substitutes.

The drive is being launched to bring to area residents a year of musical activity for a subscription cost of $8 for adults.

Calls For Economies To Curb County Costs

At a meeting of the Board of Chosen Freeholders last week Mrs. Stacey Mrs. Lieblich candidate for that board, called for economies to curb the "upward spiral" of county expenditures.

He pointed to what he termed a need to cut down on "rentals of county motor vehicles" and "elimination of stacks telephones" by county employees.

New Cancer Society Program To Be Led By Mrs. Pachtman

Mrs. Elliot Pachtman of Union Township has been named chairman of the American Cancer Society's new "Tell Your Neighbor" public education program. The appointment was made by Dr. Eugene Wilkins, president of Newark State College, who serves as the Union County Chapter public education chairman.

MRS. ELLIOT PACHTMAN

Mrs. Pachtman, the wife of a prominent business executive, has been a volunteer with the American Cancer Society since 1937. She has served as chapter public relations chairman, as well as co-chairman of the residential Crusade against cancer.

A graduate of N. Y. U., Mrs. Pachtman is presently enrolled at Newark State College in Union where she is studying for her master's degree in speech education. Mrs. Pachtman's duties involve organizing and coordinating the work of approximately 200 volunteer workers from every community in the county in an all-out effort to strengthen the educational impact of the American Cancer Society's April Crusade. This year through the "Tell Your Neighbor" organization, the Society's 10,000 residential Crusaders in Union County will receive special educational training before they call on their neighbors.

When asked how all of this was going to be accomplished, Mrs. Pachtman replied, "Our objective is to hold training sessions at every level of the Crusade organization. We have always attempted to have well-informed volunteers, but this year we believe we have an instrument that will assure us of doing an effective educational campaign. We have packaged pertinent cancer information in the form of a film-strip and a plastic record. These materials will be used as the basis of our training sessions for the volunteer workers. Because so many people are involved it would be impractical to attempt to show the film-strip at every session. However, we can play the record anywhere there is a phonograph available, for example, in a residential Crusader's home. We will have better-trained Crusaders who will be much more effective when telling their neighbors about cancer."

"In the early 1960's," Mrs. Pachtman said, "few cancer patients had any hope of being cured. In 1937, fewer than one out of five were saved. Today almost one out of three cancer patients go on to lead productive lives. With the tools we now have on hand and a keen public awareness of the symptoms of cancer and the importance of an annual cancer check-up, it is possible that one out of every two cancer patients can be saved. With more informed volunteers we hope to bring to every home in Union County the importance of early diagnosis and treatment and the answers to the five questions contained in this year's pamphlet that will be distributed by the residential Crusader. If our "Tell Your Neighbor" program is as successful as we anticipate, we will undoubtedly have made a significant contribution to the reduction of needless deaths in Union County," Mrs. Pachtman concluded.

State CAP Awards Presented To Three

Three members of the Springfield Civil Air Patrol Squadron received state CAP awards last night, and Mayor Robert Harbridge was awarded an honorary membership in the Springfield CAP. The ceremony took place at the Florence Community School, where CAP holds regular sessions.

Members of the local squadron and their parents were on hand to observe the presentation of awards by S. J. Wing, Commander Col. Naudie Shears. Each will receive special training and travel this summer but the awards remained in Springfield until last night's ceremony.

Cadet MSgt Robert Edmundson of Springfield, information and supply officer of the Springfield group, will be sent to a flight school somewhere in the United States.

Second Lt. Gerard Dehner of Elmworth, assistant cadet commander, will participate in a foreign exchange program.

John Janikowski of Springfield cadet adjutant, was named alternate recipient of a space program award.

The three are seniors at Jonathan Dayton Regional High School, and all have been accepted by colleges of their choice.

The awards were made through a point system after interviews with Col. Shears at Newark headquarters. A qualification for the awards was a certificate of proficiency indicating satisfactory completion of two of three phases of CAP instruction and a week of summer campment.

The boys were congratulated by honorary member Mayor Harbridge.

Nixon Has Lead In College Poll

Former Vice President Richard M. Nixon is the leading candidate for the Republican presidential nomination among students at Union Junior College, an announcement this week said.

In a poll conducted by the Political Science Department, Nixon led Sen. Barry Goldwater (R-Ariz.) by a nearly 2-1 margin and Gov. Nelson Rockefeller of New York by a nearly 2-1 margin. Trailing them were Gov. William Scranton of Pennsylvania, and Gov. George Romney of Michigan. The poll, the only one conducted by the college, was announced by former Minnesota Gov. Harold Stassen, received only one vote.

The poll indicates that the name of Kennedy is still a major one in politics. Attorney General Robert Kennedy is easily the favorite candidate for vice president on the Democratic ticket among Union Junior College students. Kennedy received more support than all the other potential aspirants combined.

New Vice President Of Realtors Board

West Orange realtor Peter Deenan has been elected vice president of the Board of Realtors of the Oranges and Maplewood, Livingston, Millburn, Short Hills and Springfield to fill a vacancy in that post. This was announced this week by Henry J. Lamsu of Millburn, president of the local board.

Harold F. Hudson of Maplewood was elected secretary of the board and George J. Deenan of Springfield was elected before becoming vice president. Lionel Hartford of Maplewood was also appointed a trustee to serve an unexpired term.

The Union Community Concerts Association will present the Hungarian Ballets "Bihari" as one of its three concert programs during the 1964-1965 season. It was announced this week by Mrs. Nils Sandberg, 1015 Burnett ave., campaign chairman for the association.

The music group's board of trustees, at its meeting last Friday, voted to engage the Hungarian Ballets from 10 a.m. to 2 p.m. to entertain at other attractions at the close of the membership drive.

The campaign for new members in the Union-Hillside-Springfield area, she said.

Mrs. Sandberg said that membership in the association is $8 for adults and $4 for students. All members will be able to attend the Hungarian Ballets "Bihari", two additional concerts in Union and several others in nearby towns, all for the low price. No memberships will be sold after March 7 and no seats will be available for individual concerts. "New members joining the association may attend the last of the 1963-1964 concerts as a bonus," Mrs. Sandberg said.

"We will present The Revolvers, a nationally known music quartet; their concert will be in Connecticut Farms School at 8:30 p.m. on March 14."

The Union-Community Concerts Association Campaign will begin officially with a "Kefauver Dinner" next Monday night at the Union Methodist-Gloucester Church, 422 Stratford rd., president of the Association, said that the dinner to honor the workers will be served by the Women's Society of Christian Service, Miss John Gould, 346 Plymouth rd., chairman for the dinner. She said that the New York representative of Community Concerts, Miss Camellia Campbell, will be a guest at the dinner and will be at campaign headquarters next week to assist the association with its drive.

Mrs. Berry, Mrs. Sandberg and Mrs. Gould, on behalf of the board of trustees, have invited all music lovers to join the Union Community Concerts Association and to make the 1964-1965 season the most popular in the association's fifteen-year history.

late. Union, to head for Africa have sent the following letter from their teaching posts in a mission school in Southern Rhodesia. The Stockards were commissioned for their mission duties at ceremonies held in the fall of 1962 in the Union Methodist Church, sent Union Methodist Church.

It is now a little more than a year since we left Union to go as associate missionary teachers to Southern Rhodesia in Africa. We have frequently thought of writing you and you may print whatever part of this letter you wish as our greeting to our friends for the New Year.

One of our strongest impressions is that we have come to a land of great contrasts. The plains versus rolling hills and mountains. Great beauty versus barren dry wastes, modern cities versus primitive villages of thatched grass huts and advanced agriculture versus subsistence living with primitive gardens and a few scrawny goats and cattle. We find hostility and kindness, humor and deadly seriousness and a great eagerness for education and modern progress among the people battling with an understandable desire to retain certain elements of their own culture. There is both ambition and lethargy, poverty and abundance, peacefulness and violence.

Political views are as wide apart as the seas and there are so many political elements in these countries that we have visited. In addition, these countries are all influenced by the goings-on in other African countries, as well as in the rest of the world.

Don't think their eyes are not on the United States and race riots and the assassination of a president did not help!

In the Rhodesias, all European (white) schools have been under federal government supervision while much of the educational and medical work for Africans is carried on by religious groups, both Catholic and Protestant. Salaries of teachers are usually paid by the government but much money for other phases of the work comes from churches, parishes, and many secular organizations. It boasts of having no slums.

From churches and private donations in the United States and Europe.

In South Africa, which we recently visited, all education is under direct government supervision therefore mission schools for Africans are no longer in operation there. The mission boards do some work in the field of religious education however.

We visited near Johannesburg, South Africa, and found a conference for native church workers and Sunday School teachers in progress. It was very interesting.

South Africa's seat of government, and found it very interesting. At Jo'burg, we visited gold mines but were not allowed to go down into the valleys to the outcrops and care for many more. In addition to surgery and child-birth, the chief perils of the area involve tuberculosis, malaria, dystertery and Bilharzia, a liver disease which comes from drinking contaminated water or from bathing or washing clothes in stagnant streams or pools as many native families do.

We are directly concerned, of course, with the educational work in the Rhodesias. We have had the rare privilege of working with the people at Mt. Salinda and Chikore in the beautiful eastern highlands of Southern Rhodesia.

Our work from January ('63) through August was in the secondary school at Chikore where Eleanor taught English and the Bible and Paul, in addition to being the only science teacher, carried a heavy teaching load.

Unfortunately Paul's eyes have given him some trouble so his work pressure was relieved by shifting him to the post of supervisor of water purification on the station, work on improvement of telephones of staff and other practical projects. Eleanor was transferred to the Interfacial school where children under 12 years, including children of staff members, are taught. She found this work most interesting and enjoyable.

Many of you may be interested in the work of the hospitals, churches and Sunday Schools in our area. The small hospital at Chikore and the larger one at Mt. Salinda, 25 miles away, form the center for the care of thousands of patients every week. Doctors and orderlies also go down into the valleys to the outcrops and care for many more. In addition to surgery and child-birth, the chief perils of the area involve tuberculosis, malaria, dystertery and Bilharzia, a liver disease which comes from drinking contaminated water or from bathing or washing clothes in stagnant streams or pools as many native families do.

They also have cases of tropical skin diseases and snake bites. We have actually seen only two of the latter on our station. One of these, a little girl, had to have her leg amputated and she now runs and skips rope with her light-weight wooden leg.

The different churches work well together here. We have visited mission stations of the Methodist, Anglican, Dutch Reformed and Evangelical as well as our own American Board (Congregational) field. Much of the local church work and the missionary organization work is carried on by the Africans themselves.

At our church about half the sermons are given by white missionaries or visiting ministers, either doing their own translating into the native tongue or by having an African interpreter. The others are by native pastors, usually with English translations. We wish you could hear these people sing! It comes to them naturally and without accompaniment. It often sounds like a great pipe-organ. They sometimes, although not always, use drums in the service. Believe me, though, from very recent experience, it is striking!

Our Chikore church has an exterior picture, painted by an African artist, of a dark-skinned Christ teaching his disciples and corresponding pictures of the Parables of the Good Shepherd and the Sower. We have helped with Sunday School work also. There are three Sunday Schools on the station with a total of about 400 children and young people in attendance.

With the beginning of the new year, we were transferred to Northern Rhodesia to our all-girl school about 60 miles north of Lusaka. There will be several advantages for us in this move. Though still in secondary school science, Paul's work should be easier since there are other science teachers here. Better lighting of buildings is another factor which should be helpful to him. In spite of the fact that you may have read of political riots in Northern Rhodesia, it is our understanding that political tensions are less acute here than in Southern Rhodesia. We had a wonderful trip on our way north to look into the nature of our assignment. From Salisbury, the capital of Southern Rhodesia, we drove northwest across the Zambezi Valley through country that reminded us of parts of Colorado—beautiful animal country and water valleys and elephants' warnings are frequent along the highways. (The elephants can't see the warnings are for the people.) We saw only one elephant, a big fellow only a few hundred yards away which was enough to convince us elephants are really there. We saw several groups of baboons, ten or 15 in a group. These fellows are quite bold and didn't bother us. The large animal skins are quite expensive and difficult to export but we have procured a few quite pretty small ones, especially the spotted genet skins.

We found Northern Rhodesia, between the Zambezi River and Lusaka, more fertile and prosperous than most of the parts of Southern Rhodesia which we visited. However, both Northern and Southern Rhodesia have productive areas, if they can get water.

The Kariba Dam across the Zambezi River and Lake Kariba is quite spectacular. We have not yet seen Victoria Falls, one of the great sights of Africa but expect to do so soon. We also plan to visit the city of Livingstone and other memorials to David Livingstone, the great explorer and missionary.

Northern Rhodesia is the highest in the Federation in production of copper, chrome and uranium—in addition to having considerable tin and some gold. We will not be far from the copper belt. These minerals promise much for the future of Africa.

If our account of experiences in Africa sounds glowing, do not think it means that everything has been easy or always pleasant. There have been frustrating situations and discouraging times. When we see the great need, we realize how very little, really, our small contribution is. We miss our friends and debt ones back home. We hope to remain for a while longer in Africa but none-the-less will be happy to return home.

Our wish for all of you is for the very best in the New Year of 1964 and may God bless you all.

Seton Hall Sets Summer Institute

Seton Hall University is accepting applications for its Summer Language Institute for secondary and elementary school teachers of Chinese.

The Institute has been established by a $43,000 grant through the U. S. Office of Education's language development program under terms of the National Defense Education Act of 1958. The only other such program in the country is conducted by San Francisco State College.

The Institute will be conducted on the South Orange campus each day from 8 a.m. to 7 p.m. for seven weeks from June 29 to Aug. 14. The program will consist of Chinese language instruction, language laboratory techniques and drill, teaching methods, public lectures and field trips to Chinese cultural centers.

Participants must be teaching Chinese or plan to teach the language after the Institute is completed. Each applicant must have at least one year of background in the Chinese language.

Traffic Lines Set For Repainting In Northern, Southern State Areas

The New Jersey State Highway Department this week received bids on contracts for repainting traffic lines on portions of the highway system throughout the state, including Essex and Union Counties.

A low-bid of $42,619 was received from Lombard Stripping Co., Berkeley Heights, on a contract for two-painting lines for two-painting lines totaling nearly 300 miles of white center lines and lane lines.

Another low bid of $57,180.70 was received from Traffic Control Co. of Waterbury, Conn., on a contract for painting lines in northern areas of the State.

The two separate contracts for the northern and southern areas would call for painting lines four inches wide along the outer edges of the highways using "white paint" and "gray reflecting beads. The Highway Department said the combination greatly increases visibility at night and during fog periods. They said the reflective lines also reduce the accident factor by keeping vehicles within the driving lanes.

Highway Dept. Tells Land Buying Woes

New Jersey is in the middle of the greatest highway construction program in its history. Any plan of this magnitude presents many problems, according to the State Highway Department, not the least of which is financial. The money angle is difficult enough, but the job that, at times, seems insurmountable, is that of acquiring the right of way lands.

Industry Spent $9 Million For Control Of Pollution, Chamber Report Asserts

In a 10-year period Union County industry has spent over $9,000,000 in its efforts to control air pollution, according to a survey completed by the Chamber of Commerce of Eastern Union County's Air Sanitation and Industrial Waste Committee. The survey showed that 27 companies took steps in air pollution control either through new equipment, purchases, operations changes, or research during the last 10 years. Many maintain continuous programs for this purpose.

The most complex and expensive aspect of control is elimination of vapors, gases and odors, as evidenced by equipment investments of $1,317,000 and $1,425,750 in the two periods. The addition of equipment has increased annual operating costs from $119,000 to $412,000. Research and development in the field of air pollution control has cost $4,172,000 in the area. Research and development in the field of air pollution control has cost $4,172,000 in the area.

A number of firms have sought other methods to avoid air pollution, including elimination of an incinerator, use of a scavenger to remove burnable wastes, purchase of electric power in lieu of own generation of electricity in peak periods and purchase of premium fuel to reduce smoke. These items are costing about $36,000 a year, and are recent changes for the most part, the report said.

Rinaldo Pledges 'Vigorous' Drive For Freeholder

FREEHOLDER RINALDO

Freeholder Matthew J. Rinaldo of Union this week pledged a "vigorous campaign which will bring home to Union County voters the Republican Party's program of progress through fiscal responsibility."

Rinaldo has been selected as one of the organization candidates for a three-year term on the Board of Freeholders. He was chosen by the Union County Republican Policy Committee along with Freeholders George J. Forrester of Elizabeth and Henry P. Wester of Mountaintop. The screening committee also picked Irving Velinsky of Elizabeth to seek a one-year term.

Rinaldo termed the organization slate a "well-balanced ticket which can help the Republican Party keep sound, responsible government on the county level. I am proud to be a member of this well-qualified team. I am seeking a new term on the board of freeholders because of my belief that I can be of service to the people of Union County," Rinaldo added. "Since becoming a freeholder I feel I have demonstrated my desire to help the Republican Party serve the county in a fair, efficient and economical manner."

In addition to serving as chairman of the freeholders' public-affairs committee and as a member of the administration and revenue and finance committees, Rinaldo has been active on a special freeholder committee studying the narcotics problem.

Doctor Calls For All In County To Join March SOS Program

Dr. Bernard Ehrenberg said today "Union County has a serious polio outbreak 15 years ago and it can happen again." Dr. Ehrenberg, Medical Examiner and head of the Union County Medical Society's Sabin Oral Sundays campaign, added, "In 1948, we had 157 polio cases in this county including 14 fatal ones. In Elizabeth alone, there were 52 polio cases of which four were fatal.

"The only way to prevent another outbreak is by immunizing the whole population — every man, woman and child — with the Sabin Oral Vaccine.

"Anyone who passes up the opportunity to take the Sabin and leaves no after-effects. All three doses must be taken to guard against three types of polio. Those who have received the Salk Vaccine should also take the Sabin drops for lasting immunity and to avoid becoming carriers, Dr. Ehrenberg said.

A donation of 25 cents per dose will be asked from those who can afford to pay. Others will be given the vaccine free.

Some 300 million persons throughout the world have been immunized by the Salk vaccine. Sabin Oral Sundays are now in progress in several New Jersey counties.

Over 400 paralytic polio cases were reported in the United States last year including serious outbreaks in Philadelphia and the Jacksonville, Florida area. There were 55 cases in Philadelphia and 21 in the Jacksonville area where three died.

Dr. Ehrenberg noted that after the Jacksonville outbreak 420,000 of Duval County's 470,000 residents took the Sabin Oral Vaccine.

"Wouldn't it have been wonderful if the immunization program was held a year earlier in Duval?" Dr. Ehrenberg asked. "Think of the shattered lives and broken hearts that could have been avoided."

"Union County has a chance to benefit from the experiences of other communities. The nearer to 100 per cent attendance we get at our 51 temporary clinics, the better our chances to prevent this dreaded disease."

ANNUAL ICE CARNIVAL

Will Name 'Queen Of The Ice'

The annual "Ice Carnival" will be conducted by the Union County Park Commission at the Warinanco Park Ice Skating Center, Roselle, on Saturday, beginning at 1 p.m. It was announced.

The program will open with the presentation of colors by various girl scout groups who carried Ice Skating badges at the Ice Center this season. NUCLEAR RADIATION SPEEDING RIFLE RIFLE

A RIFLE WULLEY rocketing down a barrel at 3,000 feet per second can be tracked in half a second by a new nuclear radiation test system developed at the University of Michigan. Several sources of gamma radiation are placed along the barrel with detectors on the opposite side of the barrel to pick up rays passing through interruptions in each gamma beam caused by the speeding bullet as it travels. The time interval between the first and last interruptions is being studied by a team of scientists at the University of Michigan Research Institute, under direction of Dr. Robert Serber.

Young GOP To Hear N.Y. Congressman

Rep. Steve B. Derouin, assistant Republican Congressman from Roslyn-Estates, New York, will deliver the feature address at the sixth annual Union County Young Republican convention to be held at the Hotel Suburban in Summit on March 1.

Derouin will be introduced by the convention chairman, John C. Cullerton, of Roselle Park who is seeking the post of treasurer, and Ronald Morsback of Roselle Park, who wants to be an alternate delegate to the state organization.

Information regarding the convention, or tickets to the reception and the dinner may be obtained from Union Young Republican leader Donald Keim of 506-C Chestnut st., Union, from any other Young Republican official in Union County.

Representative Derouin is the only member of the House to have been born in what is presently an "iron country" nation. Born in Silesia, he was brought to the United States in 1921 to escape religious persecution by the Turks. Derouin worked his way through New York University, graduating in 1933, and later through Fordham Law School, where he received his law degree in 1942. He first entered public life in 1947, when then Gov. Hemp-

HEALTH HINTS

From N. J. Medical Society

Such a situation makes impossible the development of the understanding and warmth of feeling between doctor and patient. It also accounts for the fact that in emergency needs some people have trouble getting a doctor because they have no doctor of their own to call. They must try to find one when their need is critical and time is at a premium.

Scientific knowledge of the patient's total health is required by slow degrees, and never under better circumstances — or more completely — than by the physician who has observed and successfully dealt with the particular patient. The perception of subtle changes in body function or in personality — so vital for the discovery of illness in its incipency — simply is not possible for the physician who is seeing the patient for the first time.

Therefore, for your sake as a patient and for your doctor's sake as a physician and friend, choose your doctor. Then, with confidence born of mutual knowledge, make him responsible for your health.

Michael S. McJohn, M.D.
