Acts By Officials Given As Basis For Valco Reversal

Ruling On Valco Topic At Meeting

Demands for the resignation of municipal officials whose actions led to reversal of the special-exception-use which had been granted to Valco, Inc., for a convalescent home, were issued at the meeting of the Springfield Township Committee Tuesday night at Town Hall.

A more harmonious note was achieved earlier in the evening when Dr. Bert Kaswimer, president of the Springfield Optimist Club, introduced a group of teenagers who were named "officials" for the evening.

Lance Kraemer of the Senior Youth Group of Temple Shalom served as "mayor." The "Township Committeemen" were Ed Andrew of the Methodist Youth Fellowship, Richard Moore of the Westminster Fellowship of the Presbyterian Church, Bill Rankin of Explorer Post 170 and William Loeffler of the St. James Catholic Youth Organization.

Others honored were James T. Kunc of Boy Scout Troop 70, township clerk; Willis Rutz of the Sons of the American Legion, township attorney; Richard Falkin of Boy Scout Troop 62, township engineer and Dale Yablonsky of Boy Scout Troop 73, traffic consultant. They all received trophies.

They were welcomed by Mayor Robert D. Hardgrove as outstanding young men. He expressed the hope that "we can extend this feeling beyond these four walls, and all do a little more for youth throughout the township."

Valco Decision
Following the regular business portion of the meeting, James Cawley, township attorney, read the complete text of the 11-page court decision voiding the special exception use which had been approved for Valco, Inc., for a convalescent home on the Fadum Farm property at Mountain ave. and Shunpike rd. (See article elsewhere on Page 1.)

Following the reading, Irwin Gross called for the resignation of those criticized in the decision. His demand was supported by Henry S. Wright.

Nicholas Montanino, who was one of the plaintiffs in the suit, declared, "I am not presumptuous enough to ask for the resignation of these men. The people involved should do so of their own accord."

Irving Rosen asked for details at the next meeting on how much the township spent on legal fees in connection with the Valco case and the Evergreen Lodge zoning case, in which a local decision was also reversed earlier this year.

Mrs. Ruth Hillard asked (Continued on Page 10)

Girl Scouts Begin Drive For Funds To Support Work

The Springfield Girl Scout drive got under way this week with Brownie, Junior and Cadette troops starting their delivery of letters.

Mrs. Philip Del Vecchio, chairman, and Mrs. G. Randolph Frost, residential co-chairman, announced that Arthur Vail of the Springfield branch of the First National Bank of Elizabeth is serving as treasurer.

Mrs. Milan Urban and Mrs. Dexter Force are in charge of publicity. The following Girl Scout mothers and leaders will serve as district captains:

District 1, Mrs. Michael Vecchiarello; District 2, Mrs. George Laist; District 3, Mrs. Nicholas Zarvelli; District 4, Mrs. Louis Soos; District 5, Mrs. Harold Soos; District 6, Mrs. William Dolshun; District 7, Mrs. Thomas Geddes.

District 8, Mrs. Eeben Rasmussen; District 9, Mrs. Henry J. Bullman; District 10, Mrs. Stanley Maritzky; District 11, Mrs. Robert Peters; District 12, Mrs. Robert Zeigler; District 13, Mrs. Fred Solla and Mrs. Charles Janjlikian; out-of-town captain, Mrs. Joseph-Carroll of Union.

FINAL VERDICT — Lewis W. Pratt, Union County supervisor of voting machines, looks over voting machines which will be reopened Monday for a recount of the Springfield municipal vote called by Mayor Robert D. Hardgrove. Hardgrove was defeated by Democrat Jay Bloom by a 15-vote margin last Tuesday. Superior Court Judge Walter L. Hoffeld III last week issued an order to reopen the machines, which are in the county warehouse in Scotch Plains. (Photo by Bob Baxter)

Political Leaders Look Ahead To Coming Year In Springfield

By ABNER GOLD

Springfield's political parties this week settled into an uneasy truce, looking ahead to a year which will see the present all-Republican Township Committee altered to make room for a Democratic member.

Jay Bloom, whose victory over Mayor Robert D. Hardgrove by a 15-vote margin last week makes him a Committeeman-elect, appears to be the new key man for the Democrats.

With an eye on a long year during which his solo renditions will have to compete with a GOP quartet, Bloom commented, "A constructive and sensible series of proposals was made by the Democrats during the campaign."

He added, "If anticipate that in a spirit of cooperation, the four incumbent Republicans will work with me toward these and all other goals that will benefit the community."

Committeeman Philip Del Vecchio, Republican municipal chairman, declared, without hearing of Bloom's statement, "If Mr. Bloom is truly interested in bipartisanship, he will work with us for the benefit of the town."

"If he is interested in making political hay, he can be a very good politician."

Zoning Decision By Town Voided

Judge John F. Barger of the N. J. Superior Court last Friday voided the special exception use permission which the Springfield Township Committee granted to Valco, Inc., last Jan. 14, to construct a convalescent home on the Fadum Farm property at the corner of Mountain ave. and Shunpike rd.

Noting that the plaintiffs had charged conflict of interest on the part of several municipal officials in handling of the application, Judge Barger declared in his decision:

"The whole atmosphere surrounding this application and its consideration appears to be so infected and contaminated by the conflict of interest described, with only token disqualification, so as to make it impossible for the court to say that at any level of local government this application was considered on its merits in the public interest and for the public welfare."

"The court concludes that the proceedings below are void because of such atmosphere."

A Judge Barger's decision discussed the activities in the case of Township Committeeman Arthur M. Falkin, who was mayor and a member of the Planning Board during 1963 when the bulk of the deliberations took place; Donald S. Rotwein, chairman of the Planning Board, and Stanley Green, attorney for the Board of Adjustment.

Irwin Weinberg, counsel for the plaintiffs in the taxpayers' suit, said that he was "very gratified" at the court decision. He added that it was "unfortunate that a group of taxpayers had to pay for high sides of the litigation, directly to bring the suit and indirectly to pay for the defense by the township."

James M. Cawley, township attorney, represented the Township Committee in the case. Murray G. Simon of Newark was counsel for Valco. The case was heard on Aug. 3. Construction was delayed, pending the court decision.

In his decision, the judge declared, "The action challenges the legality of the recommended and granted special exception use." He later commented, "This use falls within the accepted public use as defined herein."

'Escort Service' For Fair Housing To Be Discussed

Representatives of fair housing groups in neighboring communities will take part in a panel discussion on a planned escort service to aid Negroes and members of other minority groups seeking homes in Springfield. The discussion will highlight a meeting of the Springfield Fair Housing Committee next Thursday. Location of the meeting will be announced in the near future.

William Bender, a staff member of the N. J. Division of Civil Rights, and a former Springfield resident, will also take part. Mrs. Jan Morris will represent the Open Housing Committee of Summit-New Providence-Berkley Heights.

Mrs. Mary Ellen Callahan will speak for the Westfield Area Committee for Human Rights.

The discussion arises from the local group's decision last month to initiate an escort service. In this project, members will show home-seekers various parts of Springfield where homes are for sale and introduce them to realtors serving the community.

Officers of the local group have invited all residents to attend next Thursday's meeting and to take part in the discussion. The program was arranged by Lawrence Armour, education chairman. Irving Samuels is chairman of the Fair Housing Committee.

Brush Fire Danger Described As Acute

This area faces a particularly acute threat of brush fires this year because of the unusually dry weather, Deputy Fire Chief Robert E. Day this week warned Springfield residents.

Day has been serving as acting chief while Chief Ormond Meskor has been out of town.

In his statement, he warned: "This has been a very dry year, and consequently our wooded areas are very susceptible to the least amount of spark from a match or a carelessly discarded cigarette."

"During the week of Oct. 28 to Nov. 2, this department responded to 22 alarms of brush fires. Fourteen of these fires were in the same area; some of these were rekindled from previous fires, but some were deliberately set. Others were caused by nothing more than carelessness on the part of adults as well as children."

"The amount of effort and material used on these fires is minor compared to the time consumed and equipment out of service, possibly for another more serious alarm. If we are engaged in a brush fire and a building (residential or commercial) fire occurs, the delay in responding with equipment and manpower could result in the loss of the particular building, or even a life."

"The accident hazard to life apparatus, along with responding volunteer firemen, is greatly heightened at the time of an alarm in most cases where there are accidents involving fire apparatus; the alarms have either been false alarms or of a minor nature. The accidents themselves are more often than not more serious than the alarm."

Holiday Deadline
The Thanksgiving issue of this newspaper will be published two days early because of the holiday. Strict adherence to the Friday noon deadline for the issue, which will be dated Nov. 26, will be necessary to insure publication of stories or photographs.

Annual Dance Set By Booster Club On Thanksgiving

The Jonathan Dayton Regional High School Booster Club will sponsor its annual Thanksgiving dance Thursday evening, Nov. 19, in the high school gymnasium. Dayton students and alumni will dance to music by "Mike and the Startfires."

Girls at the dance will compete for selection as "queen" for the evening. The winner will be crowned by Carl Varas, recently named as "Mr. Regional." She will also receive a gold watch and numbers-up will receive corsages.

The Booster Club, comprised of parents of students and friends of the school, raises funds throughout the year. Proceeds are used for scholarships, dinners, trophies and gifts to the athletic department to increase athletic participation by all students.

Tickets for the dance are available from all cheerleaders at Dayton, and they will also be sold at the door. Mrs. Felix Gold is dance chairman, assisted by Mrs. Harold Hansen, Mrs. Jack Appar, Mrs. Frank Bucek and Mrs. Frank Haydu Jr.

GLRHS Students Receive Awards

Three students at Governor Livingston Regional High School, Berkeley Heights, received recognition awards recently from the Lincoln Center for the Performing Arts for academic excellence, qualities of leadership and creative interest in the performing arts. The students are Betty Neroda, Joseph Carr and Douglas Uhlig.

The award consisted of complimentary tickets to four concerts at Philharmonic Hall, a repertory theater performance and other functions.

John Pasteczniak and Steven Wood will exhibit their award-winning science projects at the New Jersey Educational Association convention tomorrow in Atlantic City.

Students Attend Science Seminar

Steven J. Freeman of 24 Kew-Forest, and Allan Katz of 28 Richmond-Dr., Springfield, seniors at Jonathan Dayton Regional High School, are among 223 students from 38 secondary schools from Union, Essex, Middlesex, Morris, and Somerset counties who are enrolled in the Union Junior College-Rutgers University Science Seminar for academically talented high school students.

This is the fourth year that Union Junior College and Rutgers University have sponsored the Science Seminar under a grant from the National Science Foundation.

The seminar is designed to challenge high school students of superior ability in the fields of science and mathematics, and to attract them to these fields. Dr. Kenneth W. Iversen, UJC dean and seminar director, said:

HOWARD CASSELMAN

JOSEPH BENDER

Casselman, Bender Aid Overlook Drive

Major committee appointments in Springfield for the $5,500,000 "Progress Program" for Overlook Hospital are those of Howard Casselman of 57 Park lane, an Overlook trustee, and Joseph Bender of 21 Ann pl., who will serve as co-chairmen of special gifts.

"Nearly 1,000 Springfield residents were Overlook patients last year—almost a 300 percent increase for 1950. Overlook is Springfield's hospital—one out of every 16 of our neighbors turned to the hospital for medical care. We are lucky to have this fine medical facility close by. We owe it our full support," the co-chairmen said in a joint statement.

Pointing out that Springfield is "fortunate not having to bear the expense of building and maintaining a hospital of its own," Casselman and Bender emphasized that Springfield in the past "has done its fair share in supporting Overlook."

"Overlook is expanding to meet Springfield's increasing needs, as well as those of other outlying towns. It is time we showed our support and appreciation for the fine hospital facility that has been provided for us. It is certainly reassuring to feel that we have the highest caliber of medical service available, practically at our doorstep," they pointed out.

The special gifts program officially got under way this week with special orientation meetings for volunteer solicitors at the hospital and a special meeting for Springfield solicitors at Bender's home on Sunday.

Overlook's "Progress Program" is based on the theme, "Broadening concepts of medical science and service." Plans call for a seven-story wing, with a new main entrance on Beauvoir ave., now at the rear of the hospital. Ninety-four new beds will increase capacity to 425 beds, serving an added 3,700 in-patients a year.

Equally important will be new emergency, out-patient, laboratory and X-ray facilities to handle the sharply increasing caseload in these areas.

Overlook will enter into an entirely new concept of service with a new short-term psychiatric unit. Modern psychiatric theory advocates care for short-term patients in the normal environment of the community hospital—there is less shock and adjustment compared to a remote "mental" institution and continuity of care and follow-up therapy are readily available.

A new intensive care unit will offer highly skilled, 24-hour nursing care to critically ill patients, all emergency equipment immediately at hand. This will replace Overlook's temporary intensive care unit in the oldest wing of the hospital.

An isolation unit will completely separate patients with infectious or contagious conditions from other areas of the hospital and enable more efficient practice of isolation techniques. Many hospitals have isolation patients scattered all through the hospital, but concentration in one area is recommended to prevent cross-infection.

Boy Scout Workers Will Ring Doorbells

Springfield Township Committee member Arthur M. Falkin, chairman of the Boy Scout residential fund drive, has requested all residents to welcome into their homes volunteer Boy Scout fund drive workers.

He expressed thanks in particular to the Optimist Club for coordinating the drive and Boy Scout officials assisting Arthur Vail, its community chairman.

Falkin said the campaign slogan should be "Lend a Helping Hand." He listed benefits the boys will receive as follows:

- "We are reaching a little better than one out of every four boys of Scouting age in the area, but there are still thousands of boys who would like to join the program. If we but had the financial backing necessary to carry out a dynamic expansion program."
 - "Camp Winnebago is operated and maintained by the Union Council. Last year 995 boys camped for a total of 1687 camper weeks. Not all the boys who wished to attend the camp last year could do so. Additional facilities are needed, if we are to make camping available to the increasing number of boys desiring to attend camp."
 - "Camp Winnebago is used on a year-round basis. It is filled to capacity nearly every weekend of the year. More tents are needed, if again, we had but the facilities."
- Assisting Falkin are James M. Cawley, assistant chairman; Ed Schwartz, Marvin Strauss, Richard Colandrea, Ed Otto, Jack Quinn, Daniel Gerber, William Jayne, William Kooz, Lee Kofner, Joseph Seidel, William Lynch, Daniel Greenfield, Mrs. Mary Dean, Joseph Bamburg, Henry Trevino, Robert Klein, Frank Rebel, Frank Laurence, Robert G. Township Offers Classes In Ballet

The Springfield Recreation Department will offer a course in classical ballet this coming winter. The Recreation Department this week announced that it will conduct the ballet program at the Raymond Chisholm School on Thursday afternoons, beginning Dec. 3. This will be a 10-week course offered to the children of Springfield at a cost of $5.00 for the entire program.

Instruction will be given by Mrs. Doris Garrity, a member of the Royal Academy of Dancing. The Royal Academy, as a dance group, was organized in England under the queen.

The Recreation Department will have these ballet and education classes for 8 and 7-year-olds and will offer additional classes for 8, 9 and 10-year olds. Additional information concerning this ballet and education program can be gained by phoning the Recreation Department at the Town Hall, DR 6-5800.

DO YOU TAKE VITAMINS AND STILL FEEL TIRED?

If you take vitamins and still feel tired, your trouble may be due to iron-poor blood. Vitamin alone can't build up iron-poor blood. But GERITOL can! Because just two GERITOL tablets, or two tablespoons of liquid GERITOL, contain 7 vitamins plus twice the iron in 1-lb. of calves' liver.

In only one day GERITOL-iron is in your bloodstream beginning to carry strength and energy to every part of your body. Check with your doctor and if you've been feeling tired because of iron-poor blood, take GERITOL. Liquid or tablets, every day. You'll feel stronger fast in just 7 days of money back from GERITOL.

Mrs. Ethel Moore, an attractive young woman from Springfield, took a reprieve from her busy agenda four years ago to have a baby. After the baby, Debra, was born (Mr. and Mrs. Richard H. Moore have two other children, Sherry, now 13, and Robert 10), Mrs. Moore's household duties were coming to seem commonplace and her children's minor problems, projects and homework were becoming magnified for the need of heavier concentration for the of proportion. She was beginning to feel mind.

MRS. RICHARD MOORE

So, when Debra turned three, Mrs. Moore became head of the Union County League of Women Voters. (From 1956 to 1959, she had served as president of the Springfield League of Women Voters — "but more about that later.")

For the first year, she didn't have much to do, except prepare sheets that had Congressional candidates names on them, and aspirants for the state senate and Union County Board freholders. "Each local league prepares its own sheet."

THIS YEAR, however, being Election Year, she found that her league duties required more of her time and energy, and she utilized both during a "very successful Candidates' Night" on Oct. 14 at Union Junior College in Cranford.

"More than 350 people attended," Mrs. Moore said during a recent chat. "It was indeed an extremely successful meeting. The candidates answered all of our questions. They all were allowed to speak on subjects of their own choosing."

"I've always found that candidates are very cooperative. The rules are set far in advance; they know how we're going to run the meeting. The moderator is very experienced at this sort of thing. He or she, as the case may be, will try to avoid partisan questions — questions that are not within the realm of the candidates."

"At our recent meeting, although we had no incident, Mrs. Florence Dwyer was in an unfortunate position in a sense. She wanted us to make an announcement that she didn't want to be questioned on national personalities."

"We didn't make a specific announcement, but we assured her that we would say that she doesn't care to reply to questions of that nature. Everyone is entitled to conduct a campaign as she sees fit."

"MRS. DWYER ran strictly on her own merits. She was very cooperative, and we tried to do what we felt was the right thing in this case."

"Occasionally," Mrs. Moore said, "a similar type of thing would come up in any candidates' meeting. We have the right to judge whether or not it's unfair. And in this case, we felt we had the best possible moderator in Mrs. Donald Van Dyke."

"Even with outside moderators," Mrs. Moore continued, "there is always some criticism. If there's an issue, we will send clippings or material pertinent to the issue to the moderator."

"Sometimes the questions are irrelevant to major issues. We feel there are other questions to ask to get an insight as to what the candidates ask and what they represent. After that, you draw your own conclusions."

The only trouble with candidates' nights, she declared, is that "we feel we do not usually get enough people out — people who truly have given very little thought to their candidates and what they represent."

"THEN WE GET some with definite views who turn out to be hecklers. But we have found recently, that they are much more in order than they used to be years ago."

Mrs. Moore, who was born Ethel Polonsky in Newark, was graduated from Weequahic High School, Newark, and the Berkeley Secretarial School. Her parents now live in East Orange. She was married to Richard Moore in Newark in 1949, and three years later, they moved to Springfield.

Moore is an automobile salesman with Alrooled Automotive Corp., a Volkswagen firm in South Orange. He and his wife also conduct an insurance business in their home at 89 Remer ave.

How did Mrs. Moore become interested in the League of Women Voters? "I was an innocent bystander," she grinned. "And the League of Women Voters in Springfield was having some difficulty because their first two presidents had moved out of the state. I was interested in the league, and joined. Then I learned what it stood for."

"I was a comparatively new member when I became president in 1956. In fact, at the time they formed the league, I was not only new to the organization, but generally new to the town."

"MY HUSBAND AND I, however," (Continued on Page 28)

Rule Book Needed In Political Football

Now that the elections are over and the populace has expressed its heartfelt feelings as to who is right, the time has come for all good men to come to the aid of the township. On the local level, the first concern of all citizens should be the welfare of the community.

This can best be achieved through cooperation for maximum efficiency of the township government. It can be harmed most easily by constant elbowing for partisan advantage. No matter who has the sharpest elbows, the body politic would bear the bruises.

One suggestion came to light in a hectic editorial room last week, as all energies were concentrated on trying for instant analysis of the election returns.

America has two national autumn pastimes, politics and football. The very purpose of football is, openly and frankly, violence. The winner is usually the team which hits first, lowest and hardest — but the proceedings seldom get out of control.

An impartial referee hovers over each play, blowing his whistle at each infraction and then pacing off the assigned penalty.

It might appear that a major problem in the sport of politics, both more genteel and more savage, is that there is no one to blow the whistle on the candidates. Besides, there is no book of rules with penalties assigned for particular offenses.

A football player detected off-sides incur a five-yard penalty for his team. His political counterpart would be the candidate who quotes material out of context. On the municipal level, a 50-vote penalty might be the proper deterrent.

Several other political faux pas could fall into the same category, the equivalent of a backfield illegally in motion: taking credit for the other team's achievements, claiming promises as facts, blaming opponents for events not their responsibility and weighing nonpartisan groups with partisans.

Other violations designed to run up a political score deserve heavier penalties, comparable to those assessed for clipping or roughing the kicker.

Candidates, and their coaching staffs, could be penalized 150 votes for remaining silent during a period of decision, then attacking the decision as unsound or even venal. The technical term for this infraction is party-line mouse-trapping.

Comparable is imputation of guilt by association, with people or activities, by means of hints and insinuations. This is known, sportswise, as holding in an offensive manner.

Finally, a football player found guilty of unsportsmanlike conduct can be ejected from the game. No further comment on this rule should be necessary.

Let the game begin. Both teams are ready, well-coached and at the peak of condition. There is, however, one major difference. In politics, each citizen is a qualified referee, and he carries his own whistle, right into the voting booth.

Local Post Office To Use ZIP Code For Parcel Post

Postmaster A. V. Del Vecchio announced this week that the Springfield post office has been included in the ZIP-coded parcel post speed-up program initiated by Postmaster General John A. Gronouski. This program is designed to improve the parcel post service of the Post Office Department.

Parcels leaving the Springfield post office will be sorted by ZIP code numbers instead of by city and state. Under the ZIP code speed-up method, the parcels will be distributed to sectional center facilities located throughout the country. Such distribution is possible only by use of the ZIP code numbers and permits the bypassing of those rehandling points which had been necessary under the city-state method of distribution.

Postmaster Del Vecchio stated that considerable time was lost at each of these points of rehandling and accordingly parcel post became the slowest moving of all mail. Depending upon the distance of the point of destination, it may be possible to speed-up parcel post deliveries by one to three days.

Postmaster Del Vecchio urged that all postal patrons cooperate with the Post Office Department to insure the success of this program. Tests of this method of distribution at selected post offices have proven the effectiveness of the ZIP Code method of distribution of parcel post.

The postmaster asked that all patrons, regardless of the number of parcels being mailed, include the local ZIP number in the return address and to include the ZIP number in the address of destination. Large parcel post matters are being contacted personally by a representative of the local post office.

Look Ahead

vocal obstructionist. "It is up to him to make his choice."

Del Vecchio prefaced his remarks by saying that nothing can be definite about the future until the "redunt" scheduled for Monday, which will confirm or reverse, finally and officially, Bloom's election to the Township Committee.

Meanwhile, back at the starting post, Henry Wright, who garnered 35 votes as a write-in candidate for the Township Committee last week, pledged a renewed effort to gain official recognition.

He stated, "I plan to run in the Republican primary for a seat on the Township Committee and hope to be joined by another good Republican running mate."

Noting that "several districts are already lined up for replacement of both male and female representatives for primary election," Wright mentioned a recent comment by Michigan Gov. George Romney, who stated, "You don't broaden the party by kicking people out."

Wright stressed a need for "new blood on the key committee positions to maintain a real, hard-working Republican unit in town."

"This resolution, it is clearly indicated from the depositions was never adopted by the Board. In fact, certain members of the Board first read about it in the public press. It was prepared by the attorney, signed by its chairman and without any action on the part of the Board forwarded to the Township Committee."

Plaintiffs in the suit were Nicholas Monlanino Jr., Milton A. Zisman, Frank W. Wehrle, Irvin Gershen, Frances B. Cooperman, Stanley H. Shur, Frank Williams, John Kallies, Alex Campbell, Goldie Doppelt, Milton Friedman, Robert Hershkowitz, Edith Permutter, Barbara Kamp, Seymour B. Sternbach, Mervin Melkin and Sylvia Silverman.

The judge added, "The court is satisfied from the depositions that this decision of Mr. Falkin was based on a conscious present personal belief that he might become one of the subcontractors in the construction of the project since he was in the plumbing-contracting business."

"The decision also stated, 'He felt that there was at least a possibility that he might secure this work, and this was apparently sufficient cause for caution in acting officially—and he sought the municipal attorney's advice at the time of the executive meeting to determine whether he should abstain from voting. It apparently not occurring to him or the attorney that he should not be present or take part in the discussion.'

"He was advised to abstain. However, if this interest was sufficient to warrant his abstention from voting, it was also sufficient to completely disqualify him from taking any part in the executive session, and particularly from discussing the subject, indicating his favorable position or in any way lending his presence or prestige to it."

Judge Barger also stated, "His personal interest is adequately indicated. Refraining from voting is not a total disqualification. A total disqualification requires—a total absence of any form of participation."

He went on to declare, "Presence may at times speak louder than words because of the prestige an authority flowing from or inherent in an official position. In moral philosophy, next to importance to the duty of an officer to render a righteous judgment is the doing of it in such a manner as will beget no suspicion as to motive and integrity."

Judge Barger also commented, "The personal or private interest which disqualifies may be stated generally of one which is in conflict with that which the public officer owes as a duty to members of the public."

Actions By Cawley
In another aspect of the case, Judge Barger noted that, after Gruen had removed himself as attorney for the Board of Adjustment, Cawley, the township attorney, had taken on the task of advising the Board.

The judge added, "Thereupon another conflict arose between the duties of Mr. Cawley as township attorney and as attorney for the Board."

Judge Barger also noted the plaintiffs' contention that the resolution drawn up by Gruen for the Board of Adjustment "was drawn several days after the Board of Adjustment meeting which by motion recommended approval and that it contains findings not found by the board."

township, indicates a personal conflict of interest with his official duties which necessitated his complete disqualification.

Judge Barger added, "He should have removed himself completely from any association with the project, actively or inactively, and to totally abstain from taking any part in the consideration of the application at all levels."

"His removal should have been total in character and effect, as there cannot be any division of loyalty in public service, and the doctrine of incompatibility is intended to assure official performance of that quality."

"It is not a question of intent or integrity on the part of the person concerned; it is one of the facts of public life assumed in the taking of the oath of public office."

Board Attorney Gruen, the judge noted, as attorney for the Board of Adjustment, informed the Board chairman that he was also the attorney for the owner of the land involved and should not advise or represent the board in regard to the application.

"It appears," Judge Barger commented, that "at the time of the hearing by the Board and another occasion when the Board was having an executive session on this application, he was present in the building in which the hearing and executive session were held. This presence is not fully explained."

"Although he disqualified himself initially, he later re-entered the proceedings and drew the resolution requested by the chairman of the Board recommending the special exception use."

The decision added, "Consequently, there was also on his part, in spite of a personal conflict, not a total disqualification."

Role of Falkin
Judge Barger stated that Falkin had taken part in earlier deliberations on the application, but that at an executive session of the Township Committee on Jan. 14, the night the permit was approved, he "indicated his favorable attitude toward the application, and also that he would abstain from voting at the roll call in the public meeting because of a possible future personal benefit."

The judge added, "The court is satisfied from the depositions that this decision of Mr. Falkin was based on a conscious present personal belief that he might become one of the subcontractors in the construction of the project since he was in the plumbing-contracting business."

"The decision also stated, 'He felt that there was at least a possibility that he might secure this work, and this was apparently sufficient cause for caution in acting officially—and he sought the municipal attorney's advice at the time of the executive meeting to determine whether he should abstain from voting. It apparently not occurring to him or the attorney that he should not be present or take part in the discussion.'

"He was advised to abstain. However, if this interest was sufficient to warrant his abstention from voting, it was also sufficient to completely disqualify him from taking any part in the executive session, and particularly from discussing the subject, indicating his favorable position or in any way lending his presence or prestige to it."

Judge Barger also stated, "His personal interest is adequately indicated. Refraining from voting is not a total disqualification. A total disqualification requires—a total absence of any form of participation."

Marijuana Charge Dismissed; Police Search Termed Illegal

Legal disqualification of evidence by a Union County court last week led to dismissal of a charge in Springfield against a Newark man who had been arrested for possession of marijuana.

Cleared of the charge was Louis R. Garcia, 27, who was illegally arrested by Springfield police last July, according to a ruling by Judge Ervin S. Fulop. He ordered suppression of the evidence seized by the officers.

The defendant was at first taken into custody as a disorderly person. Police said they found the marijuana later and charged him with possessing it.

The arrest resulted from an argument Garcia had July 10 with his employer at a restaurant in Springfield. It was reported that Garcia stepped outside the restaurant but returned at his employer's request to await police.

Police ordered Garcia to get inside the police car. They said that during the ride to Police Headquarters, he threw a package out of a window. It was later recovered and found to contain marijuana, they said. They also said that a marijuana cigarette was found when they searched him at police headquarters.

'Unlawful Search'

Robert Sussman of Elizabeth, Garcia's attorney, moved to dismiss the subsequent indictment by a county grand jury. He argued that his client was illegally arrested and subjected to unlawful search and seizure.

Judge Fulop ruled that an arresting officer cannot arrest a person without a warrant, unless the officer actually sees the person committing a crime. He stressed, however, that this law applies only in cases where the crime is punishable by less than one year in state prison.

The judge cited two state Supreme Court decisions made in connection with the subject, which ruled that "a peace officer may arrest without a warrant, if he has a reasonable basis for believing that the person to be arrested is committing or has committed a crime punishable by imprisonment for more than a year in state prison."

The judge also answered the question of whether Garcia was under arrest at the time he was said to have tossed the marijuana from the car or later when searched at police headquarters. Judge Fulop said that "the act of the police officer in ordering (Garcia) to enter the police car to take him to police headquarters was clearly an arrest."

Supreme Court Decision

He cited a Supreme Court decision which held that "... the restraint of the persons ... and the restriction of their liberty of movement by the police officer ... constituted an arrest."

"There is no indication that the police had probable cause to believe that (Garcia) was committed or had committed a crime (at the restaurant) for which a penalty in a state prison may be imposed," he said.

"All of the items mentioned will be suppressed," he added, "and it seems likely that the prosecutor will apply to the assignment judge for dismissal of the indictment."

On his promise to appear in court, if required, Garcia was released in the custody of the county's chief probation officer.

Township Lists 2nd Road Death: Livingston Man

Funeral services will be held in Livingston this evening for Donald E. Collins, 31, of that township, who succumbed early Tuesday from injuries suffered in Springfield early Saturday when his car hit a tree.

Springfield police, who listed the road death as the second in that community this year, said the Livingston man was driving a rented car late model sports car on Baltusrol rd. northbound. He failed to negotiate a curve and crashed head-on into the tree, they said.

Mr. Collins was taken to Overlook Hospital, Summit, with a broken leg, deep cuts of the head and possible bone fractures, police said at the time. He was under intensive care during his stay at the hospital.

Born in East Orange, Mr. Collins lived in Bloomfield until his family moved to Livingston in 1943. He leaves a wife, both parents, three brothers and a sister.

Temple Teen Unit Will Visit Groups At St. Theresa's

Teenagers from the Senior Youth Group of Temple Shalom, Springfield, will visit St. Theresa's Church, Kenilworth, on Dec. 6 in the second session of an unusual joint study project conducted by young people of the two houses of worship. The Rev. Salvatore Citarella will explain Catholic religion and ritual and lead a discussion session.

Rabbi Israel S. Dresner was in charge of the program when the teenagers from St. Theresa visited the synagogue this past Sunday evening.

He was assisted by Lance Kromer, president of the Senior Youth Group at the temple. Assisting Father Citarella with the project are Elizabeth Kremp and Bernard Dubroski, presidents of the church youth groups.

Local Scouts Set Winter Weekend

A weekend at Scout Acres in Boonton has been planned for Dec. 11 and 12 by Springfield Scout Troop 70. The program is part of the troop's year 'round scouting activities.

The troop earned 51 points last month at the Northern District Fall Camporee at Lake Surprise to qualify as one of the four first place winners among the 12 troops participating.

Socialmaster Murray Hurwitz and Assistant Scoutmasters Dan Gerber and Dan Olash announced that this year's pumpkin sale was a success. They thanked all those who contributed their services and made purchases for helping the troop continue its full scouting program for the coming year.

Breakfast Slated At Sharey Shalom

The Brotherhood of Temple Sharey Shalom of Springfield will hold informal breakfast meeting at the temple Sunday, when Rabbi Israel S. Dresner will speak and answer questions. Members may supply questions in the four categories, as follows:

1. Will the Christian Ecumenic movement have any effect on our lives as Jews?
2. In view of the recent Look magazine article, are Jews really a vanishing breed?
3. What is the bond that ties American Jews to Israel?
4. Will the three branches of Judaism ever unite?

Facility In Newark Sold By Methodists

At a recent special meeting of the officials and congregation of the Springfield Emanuel Methodist Church, the sale of the former Emanuel Methodist Church, Newark, for $125,000 to Bethesda Church of God in Christ was officially ratified. The sale price included both the church and parsonage and the contents. The congregation of Emanuel Methodist Church merged with the former Springfield Methodist Church last June 14 to form the Springfield Emanuel Methodist Church, and at the same time the Rev. James Dewart assumed the pastorate of the merged congregation. Services are being conducted in German at 9:30 a.m. each Sunday, followed by an English service at 10:45 a.m. The combined membership of the two churches is 601, with the main concentration in Irvington, Springfield, Union and Maplewood. The board of trustees, headed by Alfred Bowman and Fritz Kleine, has begun an investigation of expansion and improvement of the present church facilities in Springfield. By congregational action, the money from the sale of the Newark property must be used for a "major project in the Springfield area."

Guest Stars Help Temple To Mark 13th Anniversary

A turnout of 400 people for the "Bar Mitzvah Ball" Saturday evening, Nov. 28, at Temple Beth Ahm, was predicted this week by Raymond Kravetz, chairman of the synagogue's 13th anniversary celebration. Featured entertainers will be the Barry Sisters, Claire and Merna, who have appeared many times on the Ed Sullivan TV show and are nationally known as recording artists. Music will be by Cy Greene and his orchestra. "The celebration will begin at the Sabbath services the preceding evening, Harry Golden, author and lecturer, will take part in the Oneg Shabbat discussion program following the services. A special "Bar Mitzvah Album" is being prepared, to feature pictures of all young people who have taken part in Bar-Mitzvah and Bat Mitzvah ceremonies at the temple. Meyer Blideman is congregation president.

Special offer from your Springfield newspaper route dealer

Two months home delivery of The New York Times for the price of one!

If you live in Springfield... and don't have The New York Times delivered at your home now... you're in for a double treat.

Simply call in your order and the fun begins.

Treat #1 (From us)

We'll start delivery of The New York Times every morning before breakfast. Weekdays by 7, Sundays by 8:30.

You'll receive it for two months, every day, rain or shine. You'll have The Times to read over breakfast, before the rush of your day begins. And on lazy weekends or holiday mornings, you won't have to make a special trip to the newsstand.

At the end of the second month, we'll send you a bill—for only one month of papers at the regular home delivery rate your neighbors are paying. (That's our treat.)

Besides the convenience, you'll actually be getting two months of The Times delivered for less than it costs you to pick it up at your newsstand.

Treat #2 (From The Times)

When you wake up to The Times at your home, you're treated to a world of good reading.

The latest sports results. Perceptive reviews of theater and movie openings, tv, books, art, music. Reports on what the political candidates are saying and doing. Ideas on food, fashions, furnishings.

And, of course, there's The Times unequalled international coverage... key business news... distinguished columnists.

They say you can tell the adults by the paper they read. So let us start The New York Times coming to your home right away. This offer is good for a limited time only... and only to new customers.

To place your order, call DR 6-4000. Or simply paste this coupon on a postcard.

The Case May Rest, But Municipal Court Personnel Seldom Do

By BEA SMITH
The Springfield municipal prosecutor stood, meticulously dressed, his youthful face, attempted a smile, revealing tired lines just forming around the chin and the eyes, and prepared to present his case.

His case, in this instance, was Joseph Seidel, municipal prosecutor, versus the public's ignorance of how much effort and time and how many people are involved in a municipal court.

As municipal prosecutor, a post created in 1967, and which Seidel has occupied since then, the 30-year-old "special police officer" indicated the necessity to acquaint the public with the story behind the story that appears in the newspapers, stating that, for example, a Mr. Jones was fined a certain amount of money for a traffic violation.

"Such a story does not indicate much, if anything, about the people involved: The magistrate, the court clerk, the police officers, even those who have been summoned to court — each one who shows up in a warm, living person — a person, who undoubtedly has all sorts of problems," Seidel said.

"Sometimes," he went on, "it takes two and a half, three, four hours to try a case; sometimes, the case is continued to Saturday, Sunday.

"ON MONDAY NIGHTS, court is supposed to open at 7:30. On a good night, we get out about 11.

"We usually get to the courtroom about seven, but often, early, as much as an hour earlier, perhaps to hold an informal hearing involving a neighborhood dispute or a matrimonial case where an attempt is made toward a reconciliation. We do this so that those people involved aren't caused any embarrassment by having to appear before the public.

"Three weeks ago Monday, we finished at 2:30 a.m. Two weeks ago, we finished at 1:15.

"Present are the magistrate, the court clerk, myself and usually police officers who are waiting to be heard. It's pertinent to point out," Seidel explained, "that the police officers are not paid anything extra or overtime for their court appearances. They just happen to be working a shift. They don't have to, put in their own time.

"But sometimes they'll come in on their days off or following a full day's work. There is a lot of time and effort expended by the police department, and it's all done very unselfishly, too.

"APART FROM Monday

night, when we're involved with very serious infractions, we'll set up court sessions on other days. Recently, we had a drunk-driving case, which started at 10 a.m., went on through 2:30 in the afternoon. We came back the following Saturday and the case continued from nine in the morning through four in the afternoon.

"After completing the case," Seidel said, "we were required to submit a memorandum of law for the court's consideration. And that took the better part of Sunday.

"Incidentally," he added, "the man was found guilty."

During the drunk-driving case, Seidel explained, the court made a record of the proceedings. If the man makes an appeal, we won't have to send the police on the case or the police surgeon down to Union County Court to start all over again.

"Union County Court is a repository for appeals all over the county. I feel," said Seidel, "that less attention is given there to all these cases, and that being so, more detail is given at the Springfield Municipal Court.

"Another thing," he declared, "I don't know how many municipalities would fake the trouble to hire stenographic reporters. The township has been very cooperative in supporting us with decisions. He keeps the court clear of every outside pressure."

Seidel mentioned his further duties. "Usually, one day a week I spend at Police Headquarters conferring with the detective bureau and with various officers to prepare for matters coming up.

"We review proposed testimony; we examine applicable law matters, and we decide which witnesses we need and when to notify them to appear.

"Also, all contested matters are handled by me on behalf of the state of New Jersey."

"Often," he said, "the detective bureau or the chief will call upon me to give an opinion as to the legality of a certain action contemplated by any department, or an opinion, or ask under what statute the complaint should be made. I am called at the office or at home. There's a little more time that goes into this job than is generally realized."

HOW DID SEIDEL prepare himself for the job of Springfield municipal prosecutor?

Seidel, who was born in Elizabeth and educated by Elizabeth schools and Thomas Jefferson High School, explained that he received a scholarship to Rutgers, in New Brunswick, where he received an A.B. degree in political science. He attended evening classes at Rutgers Law School, and received his L.L.B. from Rutgers in January, 1956.

"After that, I took a post-graduate course at Rutgers' evening session, and a couple of post-graduate courses at New York University Law School, evening division.

"During that time," Seidel declared, "I worked at all sorts of unromantic jobs at my father-in-law's restaurant in Newark. I was a sandwich-maker, a fountain-man, a cashier and," he grinned, "euphemistically, an assistant manager."

"For 10 months, I would finish my work at the restaurant and clerk to get in my six hours a day. It was a very hectic 10 months," he said.

SEIDEL PASSED the bar the first time around, then went to work for the same firm where he had served his clerkship. "It was Harnoch, Weinstein, Myers and Stern in Newark. Now I'm a partner in the successor firm, Harnoch, Weisman, Myers, Stern and Besser, Newark.

He was commissioned in 1950 in the Air Force, and upon his discharge in 1954, he became active in the reserve. He came out as a captain in 1961.

Seidel, who was married in 1948 to Lorraine Stewart ("We call her Larry") of Maplewood, moved to Springfield in 1954. The Seidels have two boys, Scott, 10, and Mitchell, 7 1/2.

"Some friends talked me into joining the police reserve — it was really an outlet from my military inclinations — and I served until 1962 in various ranks. For the last three years of that time, I was captain of the reserve. Basically, the police reserve is a civilian defense auxiliary organization, with a police training school run-by-county authorities.

"We were required to maintain first aid certificates from the Springfield Rescue Squad, and as special police officers, were permitted to ride with the regular officers under their supervision. We donated more than 1500 hours a year to the township.

"WE WOULD CHECK doors of stores after hours, we chased stolen cars, applied oxygen, and once I even shot a stray possum that was annoying some people in their back yard.

"Technically, today I am still a special police officer, reapportioned from year to year in my function as prosecutor. And I still direct traffic when they're short of help.

"It's hard work though," he said. "A policeman's lot is not a happy one. It can be boring, tedious, tough. But it can also be rewarding. I feel very strongly about the police department and very proud that I'm associated with them," he stated. "They're a good bunch of men to work with."

Card Party, Fashion Show Tuesday At Deerfield By Mountainside Women

The Mountainside Woman's Club will hold its annual charity card party and fashion show next Tuesday at 8 p.m. in Deerfield School, Mountaintop. Mrs. Michael Sgarro, first vice-president, is general chairman.

The Alice King Shoppe of Westfield will present the fashion show. Mrs. Raymond Mrocek, coordinator of models, will be assisted by Mrs. E. Royal Zettler. Mrs. King will act as commentator. Mrs. Thomas Carey will be the pianist.

The general membership will meet next Wednesday at 12:30 p.m. in the Mountaintop Inn. The program, which will be focused on the Centenary of New Jersey, will include a film, "Know Your State," presented by a representative of the Bell Telephone Co. and a song and dance act in which members of the club's music department will participate. The program was planned by Mrs. Joseph Riggo.

SLATE CAKE SALE TO BENEFIT PTA

The Parent-Teacher Association of the James Caldwell School is sponsoring a cake sale to be held in the auditorium of the school Wednesday from 9 a.m. to 3:30 p.m. All kinds of homemade baked goods will be sold during the day for the benefit of the PTA.

Models will include: Mrs. John Angelman, Mrs. Harry Branin, Mrs. Clarence Hall, Mrs. Harry Knaut, Mrs. Thomas Lynch, Mrs. Fred Messina, Mrs. Gladys Munnich, Mrs. Peter Niemiec, Mrs. Edwin Oels, Mrs. William Price, Mrs. Joseph Riggo, Mrs. Charles Shomo, Mrs. Arthur Silva, and Mrs. Lewis Strohmeyer.

Headed by the various committees are: Mrs. William Sawyer, hostesses; Mrs. Henry Holloway and Mrs. Henry Bayer, tickets; Mrs. Sgarro, table prizes; Mrs. James Deblle and Mrs. Fred Messina, door prizes and donations; Mrs. Fred Young, posters. Anyone interested in attending may call Mrs. Michael Sgarro, of 283 Garrett rd., AD 2-1150.

Mrs. Douglas Mattice, president of the PTA, named Mrs. Joseph Knowles as chairman of the fund raising project. Persons desiring to donate baked goods or help on the day of the sale can reach Mrs. Knowles at DR 6-8354.

CONCERT PIANIST SPEAKS AT LUNCH FOR AREA WOMEN

Mrs. Darlene Swanson, a concert pianist from Flower Hill, N.Y., will be the guest speaker next Wednesday at the luncheon meeting of the Summit Area Christian Women's Club. Mrs. Swanson will also play a few selections at the affair which is scheduled to open at 11:30 a.m. in the Suburban Hotel, Summit. A fashion show will be presented.

Joyce Munnich Married, Honeymooning in Europe

At a ceremony held Sunday afternoon in Community Presbyterian Church, Mountaintop, Miss Joyce Joan Munnich, daughter of Mrs. John Munnich of 305 Indian trail, Mountaintop, became the bride of Army Lt. John Phillip Perkins.

The bride is a graduate of Gettysburg College, Gettysburg, Pa., where she was a member of Sigma Kappa Sorority. She is employed by Bell Telephone Laboratories in Holmdel. Lt. Perkins, the son of Mr. and Mrs. Drew White Perkins of Reading, Pa., received a degree in chemical engineering from Northeastern University, Boston, Mass. He is a member of Nu Epsilon Zeta Fraternity.

The newlyweds will honeymoon in Switzerland and Austria. They will reside in Shark River Mills.

Lutheran Ladies' Group To Hold Harvest Festival

Members of the Ladies' Guild of Holy Cross Lutheran Church, Springfield, have been busy putting the final touches on items they will sell at their annual Harvest Fair to be held this Saturday, from 10 a.m. to 3 p.m. in the Fellowship Hall of the church.

Plants, planters, seeds, dried flower arrangements and pictures will be available.

The Waltham Leaguers, members of the youth group of the church, will provide shopping fun for children. A grab-bag, toys and inexpensive gifts will be featured. Consistors of candles will also be offered for sale by the Waltham Leaguers.

Mrs. Erwin Schwartz, 200 Glen rd., Mountaintop, is chairman and Mrs. Robert Fredricks, 234 Apple Tree lane, Mountaintop, is co-chairman of the event. The proceeds will help support the charitable work done by the organization throughout the year.

The snack bar, with Mrs. Edith Holmberg, 61 Kipling ave., Springfield, in charge, will provide sandwiches and home-baked desserts throughout the day.

A babysitting service will be provided in the nursery adjacent to the Fellowship Hall during the day while parents are shopping.

Mrs. Frederick Gross of Mountaintop will be present throughout the day to draw and then cut silhouettes, an inexpensive solution to the problem of that "special" gift, the chairman noted.

Home-made pies, breads and cakes will be offered at the bakery booth with Mrs. Egon Stark, 238 Baltusrol way, Springfield, chairman. Mrs. O. J. Theobald of Warren Township, and Mrs. Walter Colombo, 133-A Morris ave., Springfield, will be in charge of all hand-made items such as aprons, toys, animals, dolls, and household items.

Mrs. Herbert Haase, 238 Old Tota rd., Mountaintop, is chairman of the Christmas Corner, presenting items for gifts, decorations and entertaining.

Mrs. Richey received a B. A. degree in economics from Randolph-Macon Woman's College, Lynchburg, Va., where she was a member of Pi Beta Phi Sorority. She is currently employed by the National Reinsurance Corp.

The public interest extends to far more than the construction of buildings. The Bobby Baker case is a prime example. Here again, the Senate has been forced to reopen the inquiry despite strenuous efforts to bring it to a close.

GOOD MANNERS

When we think about manners do we consider them as superficial, as smart and pretty affectations? Or do we probe further and understand that good manners are really a means whereby we may meet, with ease and competence, various situations and people?

worth and dignity of others? Empty good form cannot make a really courteous person, but forms have their useful purpose when the attitude behind them is sound. Good manners are not rigid — they are naturally spontaneous.

One very good reason parents should provide their children with an opportunity to practice good manners is that children then become skilled and have no feeling of awkwardness in many kinds of situations. Others with less fortunate backgrounds might be ill at ease.

Changes to use good manners are important. A suggestion might be a special family dinner each week using the best silver, china, linen, etc. Let each family member help. He will enjoy it. Opportunities to greet guests, serve tea, join the conversation are of value.

CPA Scholarship Exam Set Nov. 21

The New Jersey Society of Certified Public Accountants has scheduled its 6th Annual $1,000 Scholarship Award examination for Nov. 21 at 10 a.m. It was announced this week.

The 50-minute examination for the scholarship, which represents $250 a year for four years, will be given at Fairleigh Dickinson University's Teaneck campus and at Seton Hall University in South Orange. Registration forms have been sent to all guidance coordinators of senior high schools in New Jersey.

Students who qualify must plan to major in accounting at a college or university which is approved by the New Jersey State Board of Public Accountants.

Ask Amy

BY AMY ADAMS

Dear Amy:

I am writing for the benefit of all hayfever victims and in reply to the school teacher from Parma, Ohio. A sneeze is something to release — not to prevent. After sneezing seven times in a row, one does not feel up to concealing the first sneeze. A sneeze is a way for the body to clear the lungs and nasal passages, and you'd do a fine job of breaking your eardrums if you stuff too many tissues. A sneeze is not an instrument of attention because I get no proud feeling of walking around with my eyes watery and my nose as red as a stoplight and constantly pulling out a tissue.

For a child who says "God bless you," he has at least begun the road to being polite. In our society a "God bless you" is just as expected as a "Thank you" or "Please." Our life is not based on such trivial matters as the philosophy of a sneeze. Let's fix some of the major problems first!

A Cicero Hay Fever Victim

Dear Amy:

I have a question that could not get answered to the other evening. We were serving guests dinner and asked them to please pass the food to their left. They said it was improper to pass to the left, it should go to the right. I was always under the impression it should be to your left.

Just Wondering

Dear Wondering: When food is brought to the table, it is set down at the guest's left and removed from the guest's right. When passing food around the table, the

BEGINNING READERS

10 Schools In Study Of Reaction To New Alphabet

Ten elementary schools ranging from Trenton to Schenectady, New York, are cooperating with Newark State College, Union, in a study to determine reactions of beginning readers to a new alphabet.

Under scrutiny is the "Initial Teaching Alphabet," known as "I.T.A." for short, a 44-character alphabet invented to help children start reading more successfully. The alphabet was devised a few years ago by Sir James Pitman, member of the British Parliament and grandson of Sir Isaac Pitman, inventor of shorthand.

search is under the direction of Dr. Robert Chasnoff, professor of education at the college. "The fact that we are doing this study in no way implies endorsement of the Initial Teaching Alphabet by this college," Dr. Eugene G. Wilkins, president of the college, declared. "However, reading is so basic an educational tool that we would be remiss in our duty if we did not thoroughly examine any instrument which might give us additional help in the teaching of reading."

Benefit Auction For New Church Slated Saturday

An auction sale will be held for the benefit of the Union County Greek Orthodox Community Saturday from 10 a.m. to 5:30 p.m. at the old Davega store on Rt. 22, Springfield.

The new church, the first Greek Orthodox Church to be built in Union County, will be located on Gallows Hill rd., Westfield.

Mrs. Frank Angleton of Springfield, chairman of the event, said George Sakel, a professional auctioneer, will conduct the sales. Mrs. Richard Frigenio of Springfield is co-chairman of the auction.

New items donated by Union County merchants and nearby towns will be auctioned. Goods include new furniture, gifts, original paintings and toys. The opportunity of buying home-made Greek pastries at the Bake Sale; Baklava, a confection made of butter, nuts, honey, a crisp pastry and Kouzambieh, a buttery cookie covered with powdered sugar.

Browsers may find something different, such as avant-garde Christmas wrappings, creative playthings, holiday candies, unique handicraft or costume jewelry.

A group of teenagers under the direction of Mrs. Charles Honecker of Mountside will conduct baby sitting facilities; Mrs. John Gacos of Springfield will be in charge of the grab-bag; Mrs. Costas Hiotis of Mountside has been named chairman of the refreshment committee; Mrs. George Toulounis of Kenilworth will conduct the costume jewelry sale, and Mrs. Frigenio will take charge of the Avant-garde Christmas sale.

Teaching Alphabet by this college," Dr. Eugene G. Wilkins, president of the college, declared. "However, reading is so basic an educational tool that we would be remiss in our duty if we did not thoroughly examine any instrument which might give us additional help in the teaching of reading."

"We are not trying to determine if the Initial Teaching Alphabet is good for all children," Dr. Chasnoff explains. "We simply wish to find out how children of different backgrounds and abilities respond to both I. T. A. and the traditional alphabet."

Researchers are examining matched classes, one exposed to I. T. A. and one to the traditional alphabet, in the operating schools in an effort to control many of the variables ordinarily affecting reading success. Language tests and interviews with children are used to uncover responses.

The participating schools in New Jersey are scattered throughout Mercer, Monmouth, Sussex, and Union Counties. Names of the schools are not being revealed at this time because researchers felt, via the interested overviews could bias the data.

"The experimental alphabet has been used widely in England, where it has been found in such tests as to mark-also success" and "the first revolutionary idea in reading in this century." In this country, the public schools of Bethlehem, Pennsylvania, have utilized the new alphabet extensively.

The alphabet includes all conventional letters, except "Q" and "X," omitted because they do not have their own sound values. There also are 14 "phonograms" or familiar letters joined together to represent certain sounds. The remaining six characters are new shapes.

Although I. T. A. is longer than the conventional alphabet, its proponents point out that it avoids the confusion that arises when the latter 26 letters are combined in more than 2,000 ways to represent approximately 40 basic sounds in the English language.

OUT-IN SOCIETY WILL GIVE NAMES OF ITS MEMBERS

The New Jersey branch of the Santa Fe Society, composed of hundreds of invalids and handicapped people, will furnish names and addresses of members to those interested in sending cards or small gifts.

Persons who remember Santa Fe already are advised to send for a new up-to-date list.

Mrs. W. E. Muller, 1630 Liberty ave., Union, chairman of the appeal, will supply names of shut-ins to those who write for them, specifying the number of shut-ins they wish to remember. Persons requesting names are asked not to telephone.

Publicity chairman and individuals are urged to observe the Friday deadline of this newspaper for other than spot news—Thursday is even better. Include your name, address and phone number.

A narration and demonstration entitled "Fluorescent Minerals" will be conducted by Edwin Skidmore of Mountside Sunday at 2 p.m. at the Union County Park Commission's Trailside Nature and Science Center in the Watchung Reservation, Mountside.

Skidmore also has a permanent display of fluorescent minerals in the main display room of the Nature and Science Center. Monday, November 16, Tuesday, November 17, and Thursday, November 19, at 4 p.m. Dr. Harold N. Moldenke, director of Trailside, will present one-half hour nature talks for children in the auditorium of the Nature and Science Center. The topic selected for the three days is "Camouflage in Nature." The talks will be supplemented with color slides.

Careless Driving Fine Alma Holmes, 40, of 2-Maron pl., Vauxhall, was fined $30 by Magistrate Max Sherman in Springfield Municipal Court Monday night for careless driving resulting in an accident, and $6 for failure to have registration in possession.

Publicity chairman and individuals are urged to observe the Friday deadline of this newspaper for other than spot news—Thursday is even better. Include your name, address and phone number.

Jews In Russia

Dr. Rita Fincher will speak at "The Plight of the Jew in Russia Today" before the Springfield Chapter of B'nai B'rith Women Wednesday at 8:30 p.m. at Temple Shalom. Mrs. Wilbur Satesky is chapter president and Mrs. Milton Karp is program chairman.

Sandmeier PTA To Hold Class Visitation Meeting

The Parent Teacher Association of the Tappan L. Sandmeier School will hold its class visitation meeting on Monday evening. In order to facilitate parking, and enable parents to visit more than one classroom, there will be a double schedule. Those parents with children in kindergarten, first and second grade will meet from 7:45 to 8:15. The third, fourth and fifth grade parents are scheduled to meet from 8:30 to 9.

At these meetings, the teachers will speak to the parents collectively, explaining the course of study involved. Parents are requested to come a few minutes earlier to see their children's work and to be introduced to the teachers. All class mothers will serve as hostesses. At this particular meeting no business will be discussed. Mrs. Marvin Fish is president.

As part of the current observance of American Education Week, the Sandmeier PTA is conducting a drive for subscriptions to the national PTA Magazine. The magazine features articles by noted experts on such topics as physical fitness, child rearing problems and means of providing community services needed by children.

DEBORAH LEADER PRESENTS $8,000 FOR HOSPITAL AID

Mrs. Howard Siegel, president of Suburban Deborah, presented a check for $8,000 to Mrs. Clara Franks, regional director of Deborah Hospital, at the National Donor last week at Grosinger's Hotel.

The check brought the total amount raised by the chapter this year to $10,000. Fund-raising projects included tag week, rummage sales, mystery raffles and theatre parties, tribute cards and special sales.

Deborah Hospital is a non-sectarian hospital specializing in heart surgery, operable lung cancer, tuberculosis, rheumatoid fever and other chest diseases.

MRS. DENNIS KOSOWICZ

Miss Marguerite Blanda Marries Dennis Kosowicz

Miss Marguerite Blanda, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John Blanda, 271 Hawthorne ave., Springfield, and the late Michael Blanda was married Oct. 31 to Dennis Kosowicz, son of Mrs. Juel Kosowicz of No. 1 Western pkwy., Irvington.

The ceremony was officiated at the St. Leo's Church, Irvington, a reception followed at the Hotel Suburban, East Orange. Miss Joyce Field was maid of honor. Bridesmaids were Mrs. Angela Blanda, sister-in-law of the bride, Miss Linda Trappan, cousin of the bride, and Miss Claire Schoner.

Harry McCann served as best man. Ushering were Joseph Blanda, brother of the bride, Al Bossey and Robert Stefan. The bride, a graduate of Jonathan Dayton Regional High School, Springfield, is employed as a secretary at Bundy Electronics Corp., Springfield. The groom was graduated from Rutgers University, Newark and is a chemist with the Sherwin Williams Co., Newark.

Town Meeting

(Continued from page 1) whether Edward Schwartz, new appointee to the Board of Adjustment, had any business connections with Valco. All the Committee members said they did not believe so and this was immediately disputed by Montano.

Cawley said that the Valco decision, if upheld, would lead to resignations by architects, lawyers and other professional men from government bodies throughout the state, "and especially in Springfield." He said the ruling could bar many professional men from engaging in projects in their own municipalities.

His comment was questioned after the meeting by Irwin Weinberg, who was attorney for the plaintiffs in the Valco suit. Weinberg stated, "This decision does not change the law. This was a ruling on a specific case in a specific town."

Earlier, Willard Cupit, chairman of the Union County "Resolutions" Committee, presented a plaque to the township in recognition of its participation in the recent county anniversary ceremonies.

Committee member Robert G. Planer noted that a meeting has been scheduled for Dec. 1 to plan for a local Youth Employment Service. He said there will be a permanent office, with a staff, set up to assist teenagers who wish to obtain part-time jobs.

On-Tape Recorder
Vincent J. Bonadies, former mayor under a Democratic administration, engaged in a heated exchange with Mayor Hargrove over the recent announcement that there is a $10 per hour charge to persons who want to listen to tape recordings of Committee meetings.

GALLERY SHOWS ILLUSTRATIONS BY LOCAL ARTIST

A group of paintings by Helen Frank of 445 Meisel ave., illustrating each of the 18 lines of the Navy Hymn, a favorite of the late President John F. Kennedy, is on display at the Highgate Gallery in Upper Montclair. The memorial tribute will continue through Monday.

The paintings were commissioned by Helion, Inc. of Springfield, audio-visual producers, for a film strip to be shown with a sound track of the hymn as an accompaniment to group singing. It has been shown at the National PTA convention; the Boy Scout Jamboree, and the Mystic Seaport Museum in Connecticut. It recently won the Chris Award for a fine arts presentation at the Columbus Film Festival.

Miss Mary Errico, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Pat Errico of Cedar Grove, was married Nov. 1 to Thomas De Cillis, son of Mr. and Mrs. Nicholas De Cillis of Union. Rev. Charles McDonald conducted the ceremony in St. Catherine of Siena Church, Cedar Grove. A reception followed at the Friar Tuck Inn, Cedar Grove.

The bride was escorted by her father, Miss Louise Errico of Cedar Grove, serves as maid of honor for her sister. Bridesmaids were Mrs. Carmen Errico of Chatham, sister-in-law of the bride; Mrs. Frank DeGillis of Elizabeth, sister-in-law of the groom; and Miss Gloria Errico of Short Hills, sister of the bride.

Frank De Cillis of Elizabeth served his brother as best man. Ushers were John J. Hnath of Jersey City, Mario Rubnelli of East Orange and Arthur P. Haeckel of Cedar Grove. Nicky DeCillis, of Elizabeth, nephew of the groom, was ring-bearer.

Mrs. De Cillis, who was graduated from Barringer High School, attended Seton Hall University. She is a bookkeeper at the Clarion Restaurant, Cedar Grove.

Her husband, an alumnus of Union High School, is employed by E. J. Korvette and heads Ramo Enterprises.

Following a wedding trip to the Pocono Mountains, Pa., the couple will reside in Bloomfield.

The World of Beauty

By Mr. Fredric
I've never heard of a woman over 50, only over 21. The woman over 50, however, can look years younger by remembering the following simple rules about hair styles.
1. Short hair makes your face look younger than long hair.
2. A long bob tends to pull down every facial line.
3. If a style you've been wearing brings out your best features, stay with it. In other words,
4. Let the rule "what's best for you" be your guide, not "what's fashionable."
5. With each fashion change, you can make adaptations that are most suitable for you.
6. Hair color is vitally important. As hair fades or greys, toned tresses are most becoming.
7. Consult with your hair stylist.
Also of interest for the over-50 group is that contrary to popular belief, women should use lighter shades of lipstick and light make-up. Since the pigmentation coloration of lips tend to darken with age, dark lipstick shades over accentuate the mouth.
One of the most important items in fall make-up is eye-liner. It is just as essential to know how to apply it properly as it is to find your best "eye shades." Eye-liner now transcends the classification of a model's cosmetic and is in general use by most women today. To apply liner properly, be sure to cover the lid first with liquid foundation. Place index finger at outer edge of lid and pull lid taut. Stroke the liner on in one straight line. Do not make a dark, heavy crayon line. A soft, blurry one is far more effective.
Do you know that there are approximately 120,000 hairs on your head and you should bless every one of them? When you think of it, hair has a sort of magical quality. You can wash it over and over and it doesn't shrink. If you don't like the color you came with, you can change it without damaging the original product. You can pull it, curl it, straighten it out. You can braid it and twist it and it still keeps growing. In fact, it's so agreeable that it goes on growing at least three-eighths of an inch every thirty days.
Your hair is a wonderful gift... take care of it... or better yet, let us take care of it.

Veterans Administration Gives Aid
For Reopening GI Insurance Plans

Veterans wishing to know how to re-open their GI insurance (National Service Life Insurance) can obtain printed information at the Veterans Administration Regional Office at 20 Washington Pl., Newark, N. J.
M. Nugent, VA regional manager, said today.
Nugent urged all veterans who think they are eligible to pick up the printed material at the regional office between the hours of 8:15 a.m. and 4:45 p.m., Monday through Friday. Veterans unable to come to the office in person may telephone or write to have the information sheet mailed to them, he said. The number to call is 645-2150.
Actual application for reopening of the insurance cannot be made until May 1, 1965, Nugent reminded, but added that he is anxious for all veterans to understand the full picture since their time to apply after that date is limited.

Veterans are eligible if they were originally eligible for NSLI between Oct. 8, 1940 and
Jan. 1, 1957; if they have no
GI insurance or less than $10,000 worth; they have service-connected disabilities and meet the standards of good health or are prevented by their service-connected disabilities from meeting standards of good health; or they had on or before Oct. 13, 1964, non-service-connected disabilities which are sufficient to prevent them from buying commercial insurance at the highest rates.
They can get National Service Life Insurance (NSLI) on one of several permanent non-participating plans, up to $10,000 including any GI insurance they now hold.

Commentary on a recent National Editorial Association
Round the World Newspaper Study Mission

By TRUDINA HOWARD

31st of a Series
PAKISTAN REVIEWED
Kabul, Afghanistan, our National Editorial Association Study Mission was in Pakistan — and it was a package of pleasure.
Just getting to Pakistan and going through the Khyber Pass wasn't too tough, but there was also the shining Shikah Mahal to see, the bustling shops to visit, the jinnah caps to buy (Cossack type hats of camel hair), and pleasant people to be with, etc., etc. I only speak of two cities, at that. We were only in Lahore and Peshawar and through the Khyber Pass in West Pakistan with an airplane stop at the newly designated capital, Rawalpindi; but that was it. We did not even see East Pakistan, and yet, we had so much.

INDIA HAS ITS Taj Mahal
and Pakistan has its Shikah
Mahal, but they are not alike.
The first means Crown Palace and the second, Mirror Palace, and they are as different as the names. The Shikah Mahal is not a glorious building of its own, as the Taj is, but a palace within the walls of a fort in Lahore that once was the living quarters of shahs and emperors. Its fame lies in the fact that some walls and some rooms were entirely lined with small pieces of mirror-one circular, windowless room has been perfectly restored and all visitors are ushered into it for a demonstration. The guide takes you in, closes the door and then shines colored lights from a flashlight onto the walls and ceiling. It's like being in a crowded Milky Way in technicolor and quite spectacular.

THE SHOPS are quite a show
too. Talk about the tempting Beirut shops, or Paris shops or Spanish shops — the Pakistan ones are just as disturbing, only there aren't as many tourists working on them.
Our first stop was Lahore and in mid-town the stores were elegant and "native" both. Furniture, rug and gift item stores were generally elegant; wearing apparel such as hats, shirts, shoes were generally beyond rug-hung doors. I pushed one of those rug-hung doors aside and went in and found myself in a bevy of fur hats. So I bought one. It was a blonde caravel — the most expensive color they sold — and it was 23
rupees, 75 paisa or five dollars!
So I bought two more.
But I really weakened and bought a rug.

You should see how they show you rugs. They not only do the most elaborate job of showing them to you, but invite you home for dinner too. It's wonderful.
So it was in Pakistan that we had dinner in the home of a native and it was one of the most hospitable, heart-warming, stomach-warming dinners of all.
It was also in Pakistan that we went to a reception at the home of the American Consul only to find out he was from Fair Lawn,
New Jersey. And it was in Pakistan that we had our only plane trouble.
That in itself doesn't sound pleasurable, but even it turned out that way. It's so nice, for one thing, to be on the ground when you have plane trouble.
We were rolling down the runway at Lahore Airport ready to take off for Peshawar, when the pilot — put on the brakes and rolled back to the passenger terminal and asked us disem-bark. "Mechanical trouble" I think, "he said, too happy to oblige if he only suspected as much. When it turned out to be very true, we were only too happy to stay put. The only trouble was that Pakistan International Airlines, our extra-careful airline, did have an extra Friendship plane parked at the airport and we had to wait four hours for another one to come from another city. But the passenger lounge at Lahore was modern and comfortable and we were treated to tea and cake and a good amount of pamper-ing, so we were extra cozy even at that.

THE LONG WAIT also had a long-range effect. It made us about five hours late arriving in Peshawar, which in turn made us late for a reception at the American Consul's home, which is not the thing to do. But everyone rose to the occasion, and somehow it was even better than usual. I think it was really due to the very nice consul and his beautiful family. If really was a beautiful family. His wife was a blonde with much grace and she had three small adorable children. His name is your U.S. Savings Bond won't lose its value...or even stop growing

What hasn't happened to U.S. Savings Bonds?

They've been stolen and thrown into a river. Mistakenly left in an oven and baked at 400°. Hidden in a cookie jar and eaten full of holes by hungry beetles. Forgotten in a pair of work pants and washed, bleached and spin dried. Cut into tiny pieces by an irate wife. Gnawed by mice, and gobbled up by goats.

Yet, in spite of all these misfortunes, these Bonds weren't lost to their owners. They didn't even stop growing in value.

The Treasury Department keeps a record on microfilm of every Savings Bond sold. So every bond that's lost, destroyed or stolen can be replaced. The service is free.

The safety is just one of the many reasons why U.S. Savings Bonds are the most widely held securities in the world. Another good reason why you should invest in Bonds is the important job they can do right now in making America safer from the enemies of freedom.

Buy Bonds and see if you don't feel pretty good about it.

Bond Issues' Passage Doesn't Mean End Of State Problems

The State League of Women Voters this week cautioned New Jersey's citizens and legislators not to be lulled into a false sense of security about having provided for the needs of the State now that the bond issues for college and institution buildings have been passed.

"The expanded services that this $90 million will pay for is only 13 percent of the $714 million in total construction projects needed by 1970 as outlined by Governor Richard Hughes. It will not give us one cent of help in bolstering our bogged-down highway program, or in providing more state aid to local school districts, or in relieving the tax burden of the local property owner in any way," Mary Louise Nuelson, state president of the nonpartisan organization, pointed out.

She stated that such needs as school aid and property tax relief cannot be solved by "bond issues, piece-meal taxes, lotteries or other such devices," but can be satisfied only by a "reliable, continuous source of increased income to the State, such as would be provided by a broad-based tax."

The league president also expressed hope that the leaders of both political parties will place the needs of New Jersey and its residents above partisan considerations.

"Already newspaper articles are saying that the passage of the bond issues may enable the Legislature to put off consideration of a broad-based tax until 1966, after next year's gubernatorial election," Miss Nuelson noted. She stated:

"We sincerely hope that this picture of legislators who are indifferent to the pressing problems of their State proves to be an inaccurate one. The people of New Jersey want and deserve more responsible representation in Trenton."

Drake Official Named School Group Prexy

Peter H. Newman, Secretary-Comptroller and administrator of the six Drake Colleges of Business in northern New Jersey was elected president recently of the New Jersey Association of Schools of Business.

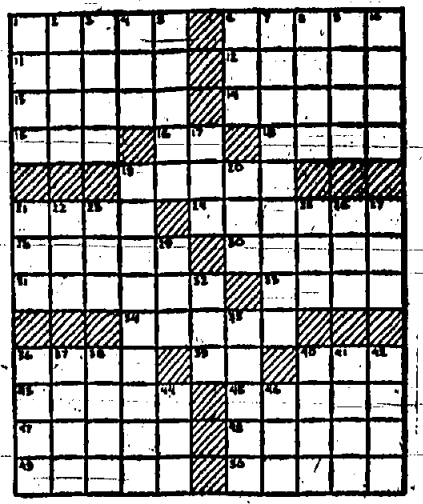

Newman, a graduate of Rider College, Trenton, lives in Bound Brook. He has served the New Jersey Association of Schools of Business for many years in the capacity of director, vice-president and secretary. He succeeds Joseph P. Buckley of Short Hills.

WEEDER'S DIGEST

GARDEN REPORTER

Wait To Mulch
Don't be in a hurry to mulch your perennials.

Late November or early December will be soon enough. Waiting will give the soil time to cool down and then you can apply your mulch to try to keep it that way.

A soil that's mulched is less likely to freeze and thaw, with all the soil movement that goes with that process, and so tiny roots are less likely to be broken, explains Don Lacey, extension home horticulture specialist at the Rutgers College of Agriculture.

If you're looking for a way to keep busy now, cut back the tops of your perennials, especially those that have had troubles this year from dry weather, diseases or insects. Destroy the tops as part of the clean-up job.

Salt Hay, Oak Leaves
Lacey favors salt hay as a winter mulch. It stays put fairly well and it's durable. You can gather it up next spring and use it again.

Why not use peat moss as a mulch all year? Because it holds and it's durable. You can gather up next spring, and use it again.

Why not use peat moss as a mulch all year? Because it holds moisture, the specialist says. That's what you want it to do in summer, but soggy peat around some of your perennials will encourage them to rot.

Oak and beech leaves make pretty good winter mulch, too, because they are crinkly and don't make a solid mat. Maple and other leaves mat down, though, so don't take a chance with those.

A few sticks, four or five inches long, poked into the perennial bed help hold mulch in place. You can leave stubs of mums plants to get the same result.

Also, don't be too tidy about cleaning the leaves out of our patchy areas and such will be somewhat mulched, too.

Disease-Free Land Of Hunza To Be Lecture Topic Thursday

"Hunza, Land of Paradise" will be the theme of an illustrated lecture by John H. Tobe, explorer, traveler and raconteur, at The Coronet in Irvington next Thursday night at 8 o'clock. Tobe will speak under the auspices of the New Jersey Chapter of the American Natural Hygiene Society.

Hunza is notably free of such diseases as cancer, heart ailments, diabetes, arthritis and other illnesses. A small country sandwiched in between India, Russia, Afghanistan and Pakistan, it is in a valley of a mountain chain close to and higher than the famed Himalayas.

Tobe is a friend of the Mir or Rajah of Hunza and hence has been able to make three visits to the country. Born in Toronto, Canada, he now lives at Niagara-on-the-Lake, near the shores of Lake Ontario. He is the head of Tobe Seed Ltd. and also is editor of a magazine known as "Growing Flowers". He also writes a column on "Organic Gardening and Farming" and is the author of the book, "Hunza-Adventures In A Land of Paradise", which will form the theme of his lecture in Irvington.

Michael Blas, president of the Irvington Town Council, will deliver a welcoming address, as will also Joseph Brenner, of South Orange, former national president of the Hygiene Society.

Irvington members of the New Jersey Chapter, who are serving on the committee, include Mrs. Maurice Urdan, David Averb, Harry Good, Mrs. Ida Friedman, Mrs. Charles Kibrick, Mrs. Sylvia Landy and Mrs. Shirley Schwartz and Edward Smalla.

Harry Gross and Samuel Baum, both of Union, also are on the committee.

Folk-Singers From 8 Colleges In Hootenanny

Ten groups of folk singers, representing eight North Jersey colleges, will take part in the second annual Inter-Collegiate Hootenanny Saturday night at Upsala's Viking Hall sponsored by the North Newark Jaycees.

Judges will select a winner among the groups and the singing contest promotes much enthusiasm in the audience that is usually made up of large representations from the various participating colleges.

Taking part will be Bloomfield College, Fairleigh-Dickenson, Monmouth College, Newark College of Engineering, Newark State, Seton Hall, Trenton State and Upsala. Time is 8 p.m.

The first N.J. Inter-Collegiate Hootenanny staged in November 1962 at Upsala was a huge success with the "Riverside Trio" from Fairleigh-Dickenson taking first place. Proceeds of the affair go to charity and youth projects of the North Newark Junior Chamber of Commerce.

Tickets to the Nov. 14 Hootenanny are available through many college student centers, the North-Newark Jaycees, 422 Broadway, Newark or on the night of the performance at Upsala's Viking Hall.

55-BIRTHDAYS TO BE CELEBRATED BY MOOSE LODGE

Fifty-Five members of Irvington Moose Lodge and Women's Chapter, who celebrate birthdays during November, will be honored at a combined party Saturday night at 8:30 in the Grill Room of the Moose Home.

Gifts will be presented to all celebrants and music, entertainment, and refreshments will will round out the program. Chairman of the affair is Fred Schwab.

The Lodge meets Tuesday night. A class of new candidates will be enrolled with the local lodge dues team, composed of William Wheaton, Nicholas Conlardo, Anthony Finaldi, Fred Schwab, Charles Holder and Stephen Kozma performing the ritual.

REDUCED SLOWLY
The annual numbers of TB cases reported, which diminished sharply during the 1950's, have been reduced only slowly in the past three years. Thus reported a group of experts to the U. S. Surgeon General. Your Christmas Seal Association needs support in the hard battle still ahead to control TB and other Respiratory Diseases.

Tips for TODAY'S HOMEMAKER

From MARY ARMSTRONG, County Home Economist

PUMPKIN PIE ALL-AMERICAN
Pumpkin pie lustily boasts its American heritage. Pumpkins and squashes are among the few food plants considered to be natives of America, say Extension Specialists. The Indians grew both squash and pumpkin long before Columbus arrived in the New World. The early settlers used both widely and some New Englanders today extol the virtues of squash pie.

Actually, pumpkin and hard-shell yellow squash are interchangeable or use either as a vegetable or as pie filling. Much so-called canned pumpkin today is combined with squash to give more body to the product. The proportions are likely to be one-third pumpkin and two-thirds squash.

We used to speak of summer squash, and winter squash, but this is hardly an accurate classification today when many corn marketing brings fresh squash to market all year round. More descriptive, in addition to the color, is the hardness of the shell or maturity of the squash.

Soft shell, immature squash include the common green Hubbard types and the yellow that are generally seen on our markets year around. The rind of these squashes is soft, making them quite perishable. Hard shell squashes come to market after the fruits are fully mature, typically during fall and winter. These squashes have a hard rind and store well for months in a moderately cool, dry place.

Acorn, Butternut, and Buttercup are among the popular varieties of hard shell squash at our markets. Formerly, large green or golden Hubbard squash with hard, warty rinds were more frequently available. All have a deep yellow-orange flesh that is good to eat as well as good for you since it is rich in vitamin A value.

Pumpkin or squash pie is a traditional favorite at Thanksgiving time. Many homemakers find that canned pumpkin is economical as well as more convenient than the home prepared fresh pumpkin. Count on one cup of mashed squash or pumpkin from a pound of fresh. With a good recipe there is little difference in the flavor of the final product. The pumpkin pie recipe given was a prize winner in an Ohio pumpkin show. For a festive meal the top may be garnished with dollops of whipped cream topped with silvered candied ginger or decorated with cheese acorns and leaves. Directions are given below.

Brotherhood Award To Orange Publisher
Charles E. Moreau, publisher of Moreau Publications in Orange, is one of 25 individuals who will be recognized Wednesday with Brotherhood Awards at the annual meeting of the New Jersey Region, National Conference of Christians and Jews.

The luncheon meeting will be held at the New Jersey Bell Telephone Company's Vail Hall, 540 Broad St., Newark. The occasion has been designated by the executive committee as "Howard J. Devaney Day" in recognition of Devaney's 10 years of service as executive director of the New Jersey Region.

1964 Christmas Seal Letters Going Into Mails This Weekend

Scheduled delivery of Christmas Seal letters to the Post Office today signals the approach of the 1964 campaign of the Union County Tuberculosis and Health League.

The annual Christmas Seal campaign will open Monday, when postmen will deliver letters to nearly 60,000 homes in Union County, according to Newton J. Rodgers, chairman of the league's Christmas Seal Committee.

Medical experts say that TB can eventually be eradicated, and respiratory diseases can be hoped-for rate for several years. Other respiratory diseases continue to loom larger in the pattern of public health menaces.

Design of the 1964 Christmas Seal is Gaetano di Palma, a native of Palermo, now a scientific illustrator for the Museum of Natural History in New York. This year's Christmas Seal is a pair, one showing a little boy looking with wonder at a huge stocking filled with toys, and the other picturing a little girl whispering to Santa Claus.

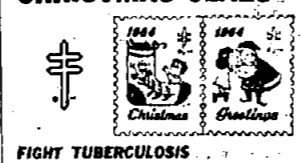

Holiday Deadline

The Thanksgiving issue of this newspaper will be published two days early because of the holiday. Strict adherence to the Friday noon deadline for the issue, which will be dated Nov. 26, will be necessary to insure publication of articles or photographs.

PARTY NOT DEAD

Professor Predicts '68 GOP Comeback

"The Republican Party is not dead and will not die, and I predict it will be back as strong as ever in 1968," Prof. Saul Orkin of Plainfield, political science instructor at Union Junior College, Cranford, told his government students last Wednesday in a post-mortem of the 1964 presidential election.

The result of this election was a general endorsement of the domestic and foreign policies of the past 18 years. Welfare policies were approved and accommodation with Russia was endorsed, according to the UJC political scientist.

Sen. Kenneth Keating in New York, Charles H. Percy in Illinois, and Rep. Robert Taft Jr. in Ohio. The rules of availability were flouted by the GOP. They did not choose a candidate from a large, doubtful state, but instead selected one from a small not so doubtful one," he explained.

Prof. Orkin said he doesn't believe another conservative will be selected by either party "for a generation at least."

Bulldogs Seek To Regain Bite Against West Orange

Dayton Defeated At Westfield High

The gridiron of Dayton Regional High School was a scene of a hard-fought battle as the Bulldogs sought to regain their lead over West Orange in the conference championship game. Dayton, receiving the boot on its 23-yard line, was unable to move. Westfield took the ball after a punt at midfield. In eleven running plays, through and around the Dayton line, the home team marched for a touchdown.

The Westfield line, which Coach Palmer later said "simply outtharged our forwards," opened up huge holes for backs Rudy Brown and Ron Hall. Green converted the extra point after Brown had scored from the one-foot line.

In the second quarter, the Dayton defense finally stiffened to stop a Westfield drive on the 40-yard line. On the first play from scrimmage, however, quarterback Bob Ries' pass was intercepted by Westfield back Jerry Henderson, who raced it to the 10-yard line. A pass from quarterback Stotler to Rudy Brown scored the touchdown. After the conversion attempt failed, the score stood 13-0, in favor of Westfield, as the half ended.

The third quarter again was dominated by Westfield in two long drives. The first, after the kick-off, was stopped by Dan Glinter's interception of a Stotler pass. The second ended in a field goal attempt from the Dayton 20 which fell barely short.

As the fourth quarter began, Coach Palmer put in JV quarterback Steve Hariz for Ries. Hariz, who had played before in the final quarter of Dayton victories, moved the team for two first downs before Ries was put back in.

After fullback Mark Anthony had gained five yards, Ries punted to the Westfield 27, where the Blue Devils deep man lost the ball, giving Dayton its first break. Joe Jupa recovered for Dayton, but the team was unable to cash this check and lost the ball on downs.

Another break came four plays later, when Westfield fullback Hall fumbled and Al Lobatto recovered for Dayton. This time, after six running plays had brought the ball to the five-yard line in the end zone.

Diving Catch
Blythe made a spectacular diving catch of the throw for Dayton's score. Halfback Carl Yaras, the county's leading scorer, carried for the extra point.

After Glinter kicked off with less than a minute to go, Dayton tried desperately to make Westfield fumble the ball. Fullback Ron Hall held tightly to it, however, and the game ended as five Dayton tacklers pulled him down.

Coach Palmer of Dayton, obviously disappointed with his team's performance, said afterwards that Westfield had done exactly what he had expected. "We were able to stop their passing," he said, "but they ran inside our tackles and beat us."

Offensively, the Dayton pass receivers were always well covered, and on the ground, lack of blocking hurt Dayton runners. hp added.

Palmer indicated that there would be some changes in the Dayton team after Saturday's defeat. He said, "I will be scrambling this week. Those that survive will play at West Orange."

Westfield Scores
Both Westfield scores came in the first half of the game. The Blue Devils' ace kicker, John Green, kicked off to start the game.

Lady Athletes Get Volleyball All Set To Tan Over Net

The first meeting of the Springfield Recreation Department women's volleyball program was a huge success as 40 women turned out to take part. As a result of the large turnout, it has been determined to increase the program. The new hours for the program will be from 7:30 to 10 each Thursday evening at the Thomas Sandmeier School on South Springfield ave.

The Recreation Department also announced that Mrs. Anita Payne has been added to its regular staff to instruct in volleyball skills at each session. Those who wish instruction in volleyball skills should arrive at 7:30. Regular volleyball will commence at 8 and continue until 10 Mrs. Payne will supervise all aspects of the program.

Increased efforts are being made to form a men's volleyball league in Springfield. Springfield will have volleyball night for adult men every Tuesday at the Sandmeier School. The men's activity will be from 7 to 9:30. Any Springfield man who desires to join in this volleyball league should report to the Sandmeier School on Tuesday evenings or contact the Recreation Office in Town Hall, DR 6-5800.

Chisholm PTA
The Raymond Chisholm PTA will hold its annual "open house" session Monday evening at 8 at the school. There will be a brief business meeting, followed by visits to classrooms.

Booters Defeated On Single Goal In Last Moments

Last Friday afternoon, the soccer team of Dayton Regional High met the booters of Westfield High on the Dayton home field in the regular season finale. In the second encounter of these two teams this season, Westfield repeated its 1-0 victory of two weeks earlier. The game went scoreless until the final minutes, when Westfield finally scored on one of its few attacks of the day.

The first half saw Dayton dominate the play. Coach John Palli of Dayton seemed to get more action out of his team by alternating some of the forwards each quarter. Dayton halfbacks Dave Dropkin, Dave McMinn and Ron Smolinski played an excellent game. They rarely permitted the Westfield linemen to move the ball past mid-field. Several shots were set up by the outside right Mark Miller, but each was blocked by a back. Only excellent coverage of each man by Westfield prevented a score.

In the third quarter, the Springfield press continued. The teamwork of forward Mike Henke drew cheers from the onlookers. Shots, however, by center Fred Heu and inside right Ken Max, were missed.

In the fourth quarter, with the score still tied 0-0 the game broke open as each side strove desperately for a score. The ball crossed up and down the field with long boots. With less than two minutes remaining, three Westfield forwards attacked the Dayton goal.

In a dangerous, tight crowd, goalie Keith Naigel gave up and cleared it downfield. One minute later the attack was back. With 30 seconds left of the game, the Westfield outside left sliced the ball into the center, and the inside right headed it into the goal.

Mertz Rolls 223 To Lead Bowlers
High scorers in the Church Bowling League last week at Springfield Bowl were Ed Mertz, 223; Albert Moreland, 212-203; Carl Musio, 212; Robert Grimsby, 203; Robert Struble, 200.

Rockets Blasting Opposing Teams In Boys' League

The Rockets remain as the lone undefeated bowling team in the Boys' Recreation Bowling League. The Rockets team is composed of Sal Mucario, Mickey Hawitz, Ricky Falcone, Mike Rubinfeld and Ricky Williams.

Last week the Rockets rolled to two easy victories against the Hurricanes. Rick Williams, with a 146 game paced the first victory. Rick Falcone, at 125, and Sal Mucario and Mike Rubinfeld, at 126 apiece, paced the second victory. Williams' series of 257 was high for the afternoon on the Rockets. Bill Harlow, with a series of 245 was high man on the Hurricanes.

The defending champion Bombers, with four consecutive victories after dropping their opening two games, have managed back into strong league pace this team. A week before Eric set a new league high series mark as he rolled a 305 series. Evan Wasserman, with a 231 series also added his team last week. The losing Pirates were paced by Steve Gray's good series of 233.

The Jets took two games from the Raiders. Danny Weiss, with a series of 281, led the Jets to these victories. Mitch Wolff, with a 141 game, also added to the victory. Steve Harris was high for the Raiders.

The Atomz and the Bulls divided two games. Robert Shindler, with games of 144 and 147, paced the Bulls. Mark Hollander, with a series of 240, also rolled well for the Bulls. The Atomz gained their victory in the second game when Robert Blum turned in a high 154 game. With his high series of last week, Robert Shindler regained top spot in the individual averages. Robert has an early season average of 136. Eric Wasserman at 133 is second. David Epstein at 126, Steve Gray at 125, and Mike Rubinfeld at 122 round out the top five in averages.

Regional Soccer Season Ends In Tourney Opener

The 1964 soccer season at Dayton Regional High School ended this week with two contradictory games. The Dayton team, which at one time had a record of four victories, no defeats and six ties, soundly defeated Little School Monday by the score of 4-0.

Then, on Tuesday, the team traveled to Burnet Junior High School in Union to meet the soccer players of Union High in the first round of the state tournament. The Dayton players were defeated by a 3-0 score. Dayton, on Monday, had a 4-0 record as they faced a weak Little School team. The Dayton team, which at one time had a record of four victories, no defeats and six ties, soundly defeated Little School Monday by the score of 4-0.

Mrs. Moore explained that she was very interested in Springfield. And joining the league, I believe, was a way to learn something about the town. So when they needed a president in the middle of a term, and had nobody who would accept the office, I thought it would prove challenging.

"It was a very rewarding experience for me," she said. "The more I learned, the more I enjoyed the idea of educating myself on national state and local material. It was very enlightening. Actually," she smiled, "it makes you feel that you're a real person."

"The way they explore one subject gives you a very self-assured feeling. They dig into the depths of a subject, leave nothing out, and by that time, you're so familiar with it, you can discuss the subject with anyone - including certain 'smart' men, who are always the first to react negatively to certain things they really don't know enough about to form a very definite opinion."

Mrs. Moore stated thoughtfully, "One of my most intense desires, after careful consideration, is to see our state do something about the tax situation in a positive manner. This is a rather unpopular subject with the politicians. I think they've been evading it with the bond issues."

"THE HOMEOWNER," she continued, "doesn't seem to understand that he's paying the tax and footing all the bills in New Jersey. Therefore, he doesn't want to raise taxes. This is the sad part of the story. He just feels they're going to add additional expenses on him with the additional tax. The homeowner seems to feel he has nothing to look forward to except an increase every year."

"What he just doesn't realize is through a new tax, the state could increase its budget to increase educational facilities each year."

Another pet subject of Mrs. Moore's is the Springfield League's organization of a Citizens' Committee for Charter Study. "The committee was instrumental in this project. After a year's study, a council management form of government was proposed to the people, which was defeated with a very small vote.

"It really was a tremendous undertaking," she said, "and we'd still like to see a more modern form of government. An executive head is a prime requisite."

During these past few months, Mrs. Moore and her group had been extremely busy, not only helping to put out a candidates' sheet and conduct a Candidate's Night, but in securing the aid in a Voteable drive of the Humble Oil Co.

"THE COMPANY," she said, "supplied the trucks. We rode through Springfield and Elizabeth with loud-speakers going. It was very gratifying to work with the company, and we shared their feeling of citizenship."

"Although Mrs. Moore was 'sort of idle' during the first two years of her new daughter's life, she still managed to get the job of local agenda chairman. She crusaded for schools, working toward the improvement of schools.

"During the Gaudinier School referendum, I was chairman for the effort which would support expansion of Springfield schools. It was defeated the first two times, but we were finally successful in getting the needed expansion for the schools."

Mrs. Moore said that she spends some of her "spare" time as a Club Scout on Monday. "I am also a past president of the Springfield School PTA. My son, Walter, and my daughter, Debra, will be starting next year. My daughter, Sherry, attends Gaudinier."

Mrs. Moore explained that she's also a teacher at Sunday School in Temple Beth El in Elizabeth. "I'm currently taking courses at the Hebrew Union College in New York, one night a week. There's also an extension course in Temple Beth El in Jerusalem in South Orange.

"Since my jobs are periodic, I have a vague notion in the back of my mind that I'm going to go to college some day - when the children are all grown up," she concluded.

Bowlettes Leading In Bowling League

After three weeks of bowling in the Springfield Girls Recreation Bowling League the Bowlettes have stolen off to a two-game lead in the team standings. They are Robin Ries, Barbara Crump, Jennie Palmeri and Ann Demaries.

Last week the Bowlettes defeated the league's defending champions, the Four Strikes, in two games to climb into first place. Jennie Palmeri, with a series of 98 and 103, was top bowler for the Four Strikes.

The Wildcats defeated the Knock-outs in two games. Karen Luber with a high 224 series paced the victors. Sheri Goldman was the high girl for the losers.

The Bluebirds bowled very well and defeated the Lucky Charms in both games. Jennie Spangler, with a 124 game, paced the Bluebirds to their initial victory, while Lisa Brown rolled a 115 game to lead the winners to their second triumph. Donna Petruzzello and Eileen Francis were high bowlers for the Lucky Charms.

Sharon Gagon remains as the league's average leader. Sharon is maintaining a league high average of 114. Alyse Cooper is second with an average of 108. Nancy Morlino at 105 is third, while Donna Petruzzello at 103 is fourth. Fifth high average, at 91 is Eileen Francis.

Policarpio's Atlantic swept three games last week to retain the lead in the Springfield Municipal bowling league. Baldwin's Shell was able to hold on to second place.

In games rolled at the Springfield Bowl, the team from D'Andrea Driveways took over third place with the aid of a 205-203-602 rolled by Bob Jones and a 223-604 pinned by Matt D'Andrea.

Ten other bowlers rolled games better than 200. They were: Adam Wais, 223; Tony Graziano, 215; Dave Benhoff, 212; Richard Schwerdt, 211; Don Pacifico, 210; Bob Anderson, 206; Don Pierson, 205; Ted Hatus, 203; William Smith, 202; and Walter Schramm, 202.
