The National Shakespeare Company's production of "Shakespeare's World," billed as the "most exciting, hilarious and poignant scenes" from the dramatist's most famous plays, will be staged today for all students at Jonathan Regional High School, Springfield.

The 4,800 local students are among the theatre-goers who will see the company's production in the current tour of more than 80 cities throughout the country.

The Dayton assembly program was arranged by Joseph Trilly, who is also executive director of the dramatic club.

Based on the thought that "Shakespeare's popularity throughout the centuries is due to his ability to describe a world which is familiar to all men," Shakespeare's World focuses upon some of the most famous and exciting material in his works, the playbill declares.

It adds, "From 'Romeo and Juliet' and 'The Taming of the Shrew,' romance both tender and raucous are contrasted. 'From 'Hamlet,' 'Henry V,' 'Julius Caesar' and many of his other works, the worlds of inspection, heroism and demagoguery are sharply drawn and dramatically presented. New Mayor Urges Citizens To Control Tongues, Tempers

By ABNER GOLD

A pledge by newly installed Mayor William F. Kozub to "maintain decorum in this chamber" highlighted the year's first meeting of the Township Committee Tuesday evening at Town Hall.

The meeting itself, and particularly the public discussion period, was the most harmonious in several months, perhaps in reflection of the mayor's appeal to "keep all our discussions on a gentlemanly plane." In an apparent reference to recent heated exchanges during public discussion sessions, Kozub urged, "Let's all keep our tempers."

The four Republican Committee members, Kozub, Philip Del Vecchio, Arthur M. Falkin, and Robert C. Planer, joined their new Democratic colleague, Jay B. Bloom, in a detailed discussion of methods to improve conditions along the partly-paved Morris ave. business section.

To Survey Repaving

They agreed to have the township engineer, Walter Kozib, survey the area in detail to determine all specific danger spots. These will then be listed in a letter to the state highway department, putting Springfield on record as calling for mitigation when the sun waxes warmer.

In other business, the Committee approved a club liquor license for the new home of the Springfield Lodge of Elks at 80 Springfield ave. approved a list of school buses and special officers for 1965, and received annual reports from the building inspector and welfare department, as well as a monthly report from the police department.

Public Discussion

The harmony remained on key during the public discussion period as three of the administration's most faithful critics all produced, bonnets instead of bricks.

Irv Rosh expressed thanks to Kozub, the township engineer, and his "wonderful crew" for a "tremendous job" in clearing the streets after last week's ice storm and the snow this week-end.

Ed Rall urged stricter enforcement of no parking rules on the north side of Morris ave. during the evening rush hour, commenting that the construction barricade in the middle of the street, combined with parked cars, created an increased likelihood of major accidents.

Committee members noted that the new, state-imposed parking rules will not take effect until work is completed later in the year. They added that present rules have not been enforced rigidly because the construction caused the removal of all signs, but that enforcement is starting all over again.

'HOW ABOUT MY LICENSE?' Man's best friend feels left out as he looks at this graphic evidence that cars are sure to get licenses year after year, while all too many dogs will become unwitting delinquents when the Feb. 1 deadline for new dog licenses arrives. It shouldn't happen to any dog, at all, let alone one with such a sweet smile.

Township's Canine Population Nearing Der-Tag For Dog Tags

More than 1,000 authorized canine residents were notified last week that they must obtain their 1965 dog licenses by Feb. 1. The tags, priced at $3.25 per dog, are on sale each week-day from 9 a.m. to 4 p.m. in the office of Mrs. Eleanor Worthington, township clerk, at Town Hall.

Mrs. Worthington added that in-person visits, by owners and pets, are not required. The tags can be obtained by mail. Applications should include, besides the $3.25, the name and address of the owner and the dog's name, sex, breed (if discernible), age, type of hair (long or short), color and markings.

All dogs six months of age or older must obtain and wear their tags. Mrs. Worthington explained, and all pups, litter or illicit, must not be permitted to run loose. The township holds a free rabies clinic each May, with veterinarians on hand to needle the pets.

With the canine population passing the 1,000 mark last year for the first time, the figures are expected to rise even higher for 1965.

Mrs. Worthington reported 127 licenses given in the first three days since the notices were sent out last week. She added that three or four dogs accompanied their owners to Town Hall each day last week, even though the tags are not required to be applied in person.

"They have come here in all shapes and sizes, from Chihuahuas to large poodles," she reported. "We don't mind. We are used to a lot of variety at Town Hall."

EVERGREEN CASE: LODGE TO REPEAT ZONING HEARINGS

A new round of hearings on the application of Evergreen Lodge for permission to construct an outdoor swimming shell on its grounds on Evergreen ave. opposite Christy lane will get under way before the Zoning Board of Adjustment Tuesday at 8 p.m. at Town Hall.

A previous hotly contested variance, granted by the township by the courts for more thorough consideration. Since only one member of the Board of Adjustment, Chairman Robert C. Miller, remains who had heard the previous testimony, the hearings, in effect, are starting all over again.

B'nai B'rith Cites Firemen's Group For 'Citizenship'

The Springfield Volunteer Fire Department has been named to receive the B'nai B'rith annual citizenship award for 1964. A plaque will be presented to Warren Ryan, president, at a ceremony at 8 p.m. Sunday, Feb. 14, at Temple Beth Ahm.

The ceremony will be followed by a musical program and a reception in honor of the volunteer firemen. The public is invited to attend. Mrs. Arthur M. Falkin and Jay B. Bloom are co-chairmen of the presentation.

Both officers were substantial above those reported for 1964. The total for that year was $2,772,965, some $185,000 below the figure for the past year. December receipts in 1963 were $2,587,000, with an increase of $12,000 in the following year.

The total of property tax collections during 1964 was $3,571,500, or $141,000 more than the $3,430,500 reported for the year before. Braun also reported an increase of $16,000 in delinquent taxes, collected during the year. The amount increased from $72,700 in 1963 to $88,700 in 1964.

Other major items listed by the tax collector for December and for the entire year of 1964, included: total delinquent taxes, $2,257,000; $10,000 in receipts tax, $30,565 and $130,734; franchise tax, $30,000 and $36,495. These helped the township to achieve monthly and yearly totals of $105,946 and $3,943,980 for total current collections.

In addition, the municipality was paid $2,266 in severance payments for 12 months and $20,000 for the past year, and $20,000 for the month and $1,600 for the full year.

Action Is Postponed On Master Plan Date

Announcement of a public hearing on Springfield's new and similar vehicles. Master Plan to guide future municipal development was deferred at a meeting of the Planning Board last Thursday at Town Hall.

A lengthy executive session followed the public meeting. The board was not expected to act on the plan until later in the year. They added that present rules have not been enforced rigidly because the construction caused the removal of all signs, but that enforcement is starting all over again.

Committee members noted that the new, state-imposed parking rules will not take effect until work is completed later in the year. They added that present rules have not been enforced rigidly because the construction caused the removal of all signs, but that enforcement is starting all over again.

Teen Job Roster Nears 200 Mark

Nearly 200 applicants have now been interviewed for jobs in the Springfield Youth Employment Service temporary headquarters at the Municipal Building, according to Mrs. William Lerner, chairman.

Interviews for clerical jobs will continue through the end of the year and will continue from 10 a.m. to 4:30 p.m. every Wednesday.

Lerner expressed her appreciation to the township and the response, Mrs. Lerner stated, has been excellent. Individual residents may also employ the youngsters for household jobs, she added.

This far, jobs have been listed for baby-sitters, office workers, dishwashers, typists, secretaries, beginning guitar teacher, landscape and maintenance workers, mother's helper after school, car-washer and pet caretaker for a vacationer.

A complete listing of suggested types of employment is available at the YES office. Potential employers may call by 10 a.m. to 4:30 p.m.

YES GROUP NEEDS 2 TYPEWRITERS

The Springfield Youth Employment Service this week needs two typewriters to replace the borrowed ones now being used. The YES unit also called for other gifts of cash or office supplies.

Details may be obtained from Mrs. William Lerner, chairman, at DR 6-3800 from 10 a.m. to 4:30 p.m. weekdays, or at DR 6-7893.

Education Budget Listed As Subject Of Public Hearing

Approval of a 1965-66 school tax levy of $1,294,129 will be decided by Springfield voters Feb. 9 in the annual school board election. The sum is the portion of the proposed $1,748,175 school budget for next year that would have to be raised through local taxes.

A public hearing on the proposed budget will be held at the Board of Education meeting Tuesday at 8 p.m. in Caldwell School. The budget exceeds last year's by $155,000. Largest portion of the increase is a $120,000 rise in salary appropriations. According to next year's proposed budget, $1,069,920 would be expended on salaries of school employees.

August Caprio, president of the Board of Education, said the projected salary hikes would be "to increase the minimums and maximums and to maintain a competitive position with other leading school systems in the area." No details on the new school budget.

Tax Total For 1964 Is Nearly $4 Million

Total tax receipts of $3,957,900 for 1964 were reported this week by Fred L. Braun, Springfield tax collector. His figure included $108,857 received during December, he stated.

Both figures were substantial above those reported for 1964. The total for that year was $2,772,965, some $185,000 below the figure for the past year. December receipts in 1963 were $2,587,000, with an increase of $12,000 in the following year.

MRS. ARNOLD HARLEM, MRS. BERNARD SCHWARTZ

Chairmen To Head March By Mothers

When we heard there were 250,000 babies born in the United States each year with serious birth defects, we decided to get into the fight to eliminate this tragic waste of human life," Mrs. Bernard Schwartz and Mrs. Arnold Harlem of Springfield said this week as they accepted the chairmanship of the 1965 Mothers' March for the March of Dimes, to take place Jan. 28.

"We can't very well perform surgery or give the treatment which can help these youngsters to walk and play. And we can't conduct research which will find answers to these tragic conditions," they declared.

"But with the help of other mothers in Springfield, we can raise the money to make a brighter future possible for these handicapped children."

They underscored the need for concentration on the "birth defect" problem by quoting the director of one of the 44 March of Dimes-financed centers where improved treatment is being provided for victims of birth defects.

"We had never realized until the start of our center how the general awareness there was of the size of the problem and of the need for specific training—not only within the hospital but in the community," said this prominent physician.

The local chairmen also noted that March of Dimes funds support 25 treatment centers for the benefit of arthritis victims.

In addition, they said, funds are required for other March of Dimes programs including research aimed at the prevention of birth defects and arthritis; and continued assistance to long-term polio patients.

"Won't you become a Mothers' March volunteer?" asked Mrs. Schwartz and Harlem. "The hour you give may mean a lifetime to a child."

Methodists Plan Emanuel Church Lenten Devotions

A format for Lenten devotions proposed by the Rev. James Dewart, pastor of Springfield Emanuel Methodist Church, was approved unanimously by the official board of the church in its January meeting.

Under the format, lay members of the congregation would take charge of the opening worship service which would emphasize hymns of the cross. This would be followed by a study of the Gospel of Mark under the direction of the pastor. The devotions would conclude with a question period and fellowship.

The first devotion will be on Ash Wednesday, March 3.

Mrs. Marjorie Bash, financial secretary, reported that for the third month in a row, financial receipts were in excess of $3,000. She noted a record Christmas offering.

Pastor Dewart's monthly review of his activities showed that 10 new members were received into the church, four persons, including one adult, were baptized, and 100 pastoral calls were made.

Theodore Remlinger announced that organizations and individuals have given a total of $500 toward the gift for "German paragon families" living in the eastern sector of Germany.

Mrs. Oranda Rose, president of the Women's Society of Christian Service, and Mrs. Patricia Kreizer, president of the Wesleyan Service Guild, announced that their groups had jointly purchased an electric folding machine for the church office. The machine will aid in the increased amount of work involved in mailing the monthly church bulletin.

Frederick Klein, co-president of the board of trustees, announced that the incorporation procedure necessary for Springfield Emanuel Methodist Church will be completed within two weeks. The official board will meet again Feb. 2.

Candidates Seeking School Board Posts

FRANCIS H. SHIMSCHOCK

Statements of their backgrounds and reasons for running for election to the Springfield Board of Education were issued this week by Alvin Jay and Francis H. Shimschock. Both seek three-year terms in the election to be held Feb. 9.

Other candidates for the three-year terms are Mrs. Sonya G. Dorsky (incumbent), Carlo A. Casale, Howard S. Levin and Harold H. Liebeskind. Running for the one-year unexpired term are Mrs. Ruth Weisman and Joseph R. Affitt.

Information on all these candidates has appeared previously.

Shimschock
Shimschock, who lives at 184 Elm St., has been a Springfield resident for 11 years. He is a member of the municipal insurance committee.

Chairman of the high school department in the Presbyterian Church school, he also coaches in the Springfield youth football program. Shimschock has served in past years as scoutmaster of Troop 86 and as a coach in the township youth basketball and baseball programs.

He holds an A.B. degree from the School of Education, Penn State University and is also a graduate of the University of Pittsburgh School of Law. Shimschock is assistant superintendent of the home office claims department of the Continental Insurance Companies, formerly the America Fore and Loyalty Groups.

Explaining the motives for his candidacy for the school board, he stated, "As a resident, I want to know more about our schools and to contribute my experience to others, since the field of education has always been of vital interest to me."

"It's true but true that the future of all of our realizations rests on the education of our youth. Educational teachers, interested lay people, parents and students must all be joined together to achieve the goals that are so important to all."

JAY, also an 11-year resident, lives at 17 Lynn dr., with his wife, Molly, a Newark teacher, and four sons, Gary, 14; Lawrence, 12; Jeffrey, 9, and Robert 7.

He holds a B.S. degree in business administration from the former University of Newark, now part of Rutgers University, and is a Newark accountant. As an Army sergeant in World War II, he collaborated in the writing of the "History of the U. S. Armed Forces" for the War Department Archives.

"As a taxpayer," Jay declared, "I have been keenly interested in where and how our tax dollars are spent. As a college graduate and trained public accountant, I feel fully qualified to evaluate what has and what has not been done educationally in our town."

"There have been great changes in education in the past few years. Laboratory sciences, visual aids, new types of mathematics, foreign languages and reading services are only a few of the many changes. It is my desire to have a hand in this exciting time of educational change."

"My platform is: A high quality program in education for our children in well-maintained physical plants; the economic factor of a fair living wage for our children, since we need an experienced and continuing faculty to gain the best education for our children, and to see that full value is received for every educational dollar spent."

Legion Post Is Cited On Youth Programs

The Springfield Continental Post, American Legion, has been cited by the national organization of the Legion for service to children and youth. Post Commander William Weber announced this week "Programs for which the award was made included the local Little League, John Rungels Hospital and assistance to depressed areas in the Appalachian region."

Weber gave much of the credit for the national award to Robert Bennett, child welfare chairman.

Each of the more than 16,000 American Legion posts is asked to submit an annual report of its programs and activities. In behalf of children and youth, the local post was awarded the national citation for service during the 12-month period ending last May.

Child welfare is one of the American Legion's basic programs," Weber explained, "and we are proud that our efforts have been rewarded with this citation."

JERRY SACHSEL

There never seemed to be any doubt to what design would determine the pattern of Jerry Sachsel's life. It just seemed to be the most natural thing in the world that he would be state wrestling champion and then a wrestling coach in his high school.

Every sign, every influence led to this destined career — just as surely as if it were written on tablets of stone. Jerry Sachsel is a successful wrestling coach at Jonathan Dayton Regional High School in Springfield.

His brother, Lt. Col. Arthur J. Sachsel, a dentist in the U. S. Air Force, had wrestled for Dayton, and became a state champion wrestler during his high school years.

Another brother, Richard Sachsel, who was lost in World War II, also had been a state champion in wrestling.

And Jerry Sachsel, who hails from Garwood, wrestled at Jonathan Dayton Regional High School when he was a student, and held the title of state champion at 106 pounds during his last two years at the school.

"MY COACH here at Regional also was a history teacher," explained the 26-year-old wrestling coach and history teacher. "I guess I emulated him to some extent."

When Sachsel attended the University of Notre Dame, his main interest in sports was wrestling. "I concentrated pretty much on that."

Sachsel, slightly built and a little below average height, seemed to indicate, during a chat at Jonathan Dayton High the other afternoon (although he didn't exactly say so) that because of his physical appearance he was too short for basketball and too light for football.

"Just as soon as I was graduated from Notre Dame," he recalled, "I came to Springfield and began my teaching here."

It didn't seem too difficult for the young man to make the transition from student to teacher at Jonathan Dayton Regional, and to come up to the level of addressing and conversing with the school faculty on the even basis of faculty member to faculty member. There were — and seemingly still are — some members who allegedly regard the youthful Sachsel as their perpetual student. And Sachsel, just as amusedly, disregards the acknowledgment with a fine sense of humor.

GETTING BACK to the subject of wrestling, Sachsel explained that he and his assistant, Gerald Vinella, train some 65 boys. "We have 12 men on our varsity team. It's a matter of starting from scratch. We have to teach and develop our boys in a four year period. And it isn't always easy."

The age categories are from 18-year-old to 11 and under. We have an extremely young squad. There are only 10 seniors.

"All the same, we're all so enthusiastic about the sport of wrestling. Actually, it is one sport in high school where there isn't a tiny weight handicap for small boys. Our lightest boy weighs 91 pounds; our heaviest, over 170. And all can compete equally. Every boy has a chance to participate."

"As I said, Sachsel repeated, "we have a very nice squad this year — 1 to 1 as the season stands right now. That's because it's primarily a young squad, and they don't have a great deal of experience. "Our practice season starts Nov. 15," Sachsel explained, "and we run through to March 1."

"WE BEGIN our practice at 3:30 in the afternoon, and we finish at 5:15. We start with calisthenics, exercises and, from about 4:00 to 4:20, we go over holds, with scrimmages."

"I work them hard," Sachsel admitted, "in our wrestling room. Part of it is the losing of weight, since we keep the room temperature up in the high 80's. The weight comes off the boys quite easily. We are really so limited in our facilities — and we do not have a room large enough to hold the boys we have."

There are 12 matches. We entered a Christmas tournament in Mountainside, and we finished sixth out of 15 teams. We have had two of our 12 matches. On Jan. 2, we wrestled Westfield, and the outcome was a loss by a score of 25-21. I was very much pleased. All 12 of my boys did an extremely nice job against a strong squad. "We also met Jefferson High of Elizabeth and won 34-16. Again, I was pleased with that. I hope that's some indication of some of the matches to follow."

The question of injury came up, and Sachsel promptly replied, "We have some injuries, naturally. Mostly they're muscle pulls. But we haven't had a major injury in five years, and I hope that continues."

"BEFORE COMING to us," he said, "the boys go through a complete physical" (Continued on Page 21)

School Budget

Salary guide were revealed. Salaries for operating were increased by $13,000 over the current budget to a total of $80,350. A need for additional manpower, especially in the new Gaudineer School wing was cited as the reason for the increase. A $2,500 increase in expenditures to other school districts was attributed to tuition, for emotionally and socially-motivated children.

In the proposed budget for 1965-66, the capital-outlay appropriations have increased $15,000 to a total of $32,150. The sum is still less than half the $74,340 appropriated for last year's budget. The increase is attributed mainly to the acquisition of new equipment, mostly for science classes.

The $1,515,975 sum proposed for tax levies exceeds that raised through taxes in the current budget by $115,915. In addition to the amount to be raised in local taxes, there is an appropriations balance of $85,555. State aid will total $143,644, and federal aid, $2,000. The budget, if approved, would go into effect July 1.

Town Meeting

Steps will be taken promptly to remedy the situation.

Crime Reports

Henry S. Wright called for increased publicity or burglaries and other crimes in the townships. He noted that there had been seven unexplained burglaries in the Short Hills Village Apartments in the past two months, and suggested that publicity could alert residents to the need for increased vigilance.

After the meeting, Committee man Plamer, with jurisdiction of local officials, the Committee authorized him to study the situation further, with the aim of formulating a local code.

School Guards

Approved as school guards for 1965 were John Mayan, John Buckley, Henry Back, Daniel Stelack, Stanley Roll, Edward Galvin, Jennie Kent, Ben-Mosconi, Henry Saeger, Sam Wilson, Margaret McClain, David Bollock, Steve Kwapiszewski and Melvin Eden.

Named as special officers were Ernest Kallens, Alex White, Russell Stewart, Herbert Quinon, Ernest Decker, Fred Paganini, Werner Penard, William Pfeiffer, Joseph Morris, John Casullo, Leroy Roberts, Bernard Moore, Joseph Gelfond, Arthur Sanders, Sam Clark, Howard Vannum, Frank Franzese, Calvin Ackerman, Arthur Bjorsted, Howard Liebskind and Robert Sushere.

Building Statistics

The building inspector, Otto Fessler, reported that 300 permits were handled in 1964. The total value of $1,042,462. He also stated that a total of 256 building permits were issued, as well as 181 certificates of occupancy. The new structures included 37 one-family homes, one motel addition, six commercial and industrial buildings, 11 swimming pools, 80 alterations, 23 signs, 83 burners and 28 demolitions.

Mrs. Daisy C. Howarth, welfare director, reported that 45 cases, involving 170 persons, came under township jurisdiction in 1964. Both statistics include substantial duplication in month-by-month totals. The total amount expended for welfare for the year was $4,587.

A report by Police Chief Wilbur C. Selander covered the month of December. The department answered 453 regular calls and 15 emergency calls.

Traffic summonses included 20 for moving violations, 12 for non-moving violations and four for parking. There were 40 reportable accidents and two non-reportable, with 10 people injured in nine accidents.

Crimes included eight of breaking and entering, one assault and battery on a police officer, one simple assault, eight of larceny over $50, seven of larceny under $50, one case of possession of a dangerous weapon and one dog at large.

ICY COMMENT

On Page 18 of the Jan. 7 Springfield Leader, Police Chief Wilbur C. Selander was quoted as reminding "property owners" of their responsibility to remove or cover (with sand all snow or ice on their sidewalks, within 12 daylight hours after the snow stops falling.

It snowed on Saturday, Jan. 2, and I was at the Municipal Building that Monday. The sidewalks were solid ice. With the next snow, perhaps our police chief can start reminding a little closer to home.

8th Grade Painter Wins Best-Of-Show

"Apple Harvest," an oil painting by Ellen Weir, 13, of 7 Southgate, Springfield, has been judged best-of-show in the annual statewide school-age art competition staged in conjunction with the New Jersey Apple Harvest Festival.

The painting and all the other winners in the six categories have been on display at Orange Savings Bank, Main St. and Day, which co-sponsors the festival with the New Jersey Apple Industry Council of the State Department of Agriculture.

Miss Weir's entry had already been awarded first prize in the grades 8-8 category and the E. M. Gaudineer School art display was awarded a $50 U. S. Savings Bond by the bank. She now will receive $50 worth of art supplies as a result of her own honors.

Judging the contest, which was open to all N. J. students through the high school level, were Henry Gasser, artist and director of the Prudential Insurance Company; Mrs. Doris Young, artist and staff member of the Newark Museum; and Donald Malafroite, art critic and columnist of the Sunday Star-Ledger.

Firemen

Byans of the First Presbyterian Church. Recipients are chosen for "outstanding service" to the community.

The local B'nai B'rith award is made through the combined efforts of the B'nai B'rith Lodge, led by Otto Gradick, president, and the Women's Chapter, headed by Mrs. Willard Slesky.

B'nai B'rith, the oldest and largest Jewish service organization in the world, is beginning its 121st year.

Organized in 1779, the Volunteer Fire Department was organized in 1906. Its members abide by regulations laid down by the state and five chapters. These attend drills twice a month, become familiar with fire-fighting equipment and are expected to help fight as many fires as possible.

The volunteers' complement Springfield's squad of 18 paid firemen. Volunteers are compensated by a small allowance provided in the township budget. A total of $1,500 is provided for distribution among the group's 27 members and is divided according to points earned by attendance at training sessions, drills and fires. The Fire Department budget would be considerably larger if it had to rely entirely on paid members to fill its ranks, the B'nai B'rith statement noted.

Volunteers also require members are summoned to a fire by a radio device called a siren, which they carry with them at all times. The instrument receives instructions from the headquarters informing them of the location and extent of the fire.

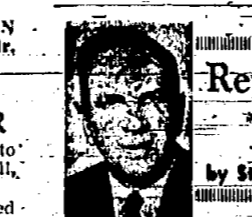

YWCA-Kaffeeklatsch

Yuboslavia will be the subject of a talk with color slides by Barbara Berch Jamison at the Summit YWCA's Kaffeeklatsch Wednesday from 10 to 11:30 a.m. Mrs. Jamison is a freelance writer for the New York Times magazine, the Christian Science Monitor, This Week magazine, The Ladies Home Journal and other publications.

Senator Case Reports

Education is getting harder all the time. Any youngster, or any parent helping with a youngster's homework, can attest to this. The things we learned in school are simple nursery rhymes compared with the complex and intricate courses which we now expect our boys and girls to master in school. We live in a world of change, of constant challenge, and our educational curriculums have to step rapidly to prepare today's youngsters for today's world.

Report From Trenton

by State Senator Nelson P. Stangler (R-N.J.)

The demands for increased knowledge in order to teach properly have become tremendous. Recent reports by Dr. James Conant and others have emphasized the need for improving the competence of teachers in subject matters. Now concepts in mathematics and science, to name a few, have made it impossible for the teacher whose training was limited to the pre-atlomic age to pass on the new learning.

Clearly, it is in the national interest to help teachers in the elementary and secondary schools, the foundation of our educational system, to become better equipped through advanced training.

It has been estimated that less than a fourth of our nation's teachers in elementary and secondary schools hold a master's, or higher, degree. Most teachers recognize the need for additional training. But the only way many can obtain it is to deprive their families of the normal amenities of living or work nights and weekends. Some can't do it at all.

I am planning to introduce legislation to provide a system of one and two year fellowships for men and women teachers in public and private schools who are interested in obtaining a master's degree.

This program would parallel the present provision of the National Defense Education Act under which men and women who are preparing to become college teachers are given assistance by the Federal Government in working toward a doctorate degree. These advanced students are given grants of between two thousand and

Under this program, we have managed to overcome a substantial part of the shortage in college teachers as well as to improve the quality of those who enter this field. A similar program to assist elementary and secondary school teachers should be equally worthwhile.

If one works full-time for a master's degree, it usually takes two years. Presently, many teachers are trying to improve themselves by taking such training piecemeal in summer school sessions or evenings. This is most laudable, but it takes many years and the result is not nearly as satisfactory either for themselves or for their students.

This program should provide better qualified teachers. It should serve to make the teaching profession a more attractive and interesting career. The process of selecting the teachers for these fellowships, according to them the recognition which now is so sparsely given should elevate the prestige of the entire profession. It will be one further contribution to attracting the best people to work in the classrooms of our country. Our schools can be only as good as our teachers.

The spiritual demands of "Sacrament" will be brought out in the communion service to be held this Sunday at all Christian Science branch churches and societies.

Bible verses to be considered include the "new commitment" given by Jesus: "as I have loved you, that ye also love one another" (John 13).

Related passages from the Christian Science textbook will speak of Jesus' complete obedience to God's will: "This is the new understanding of spiritual Love. It gives all for Christ, or Truth. It blesses its enemies, heals the sick, casts out error, raises the dead from trespasses and sins, and preaches the gospel to the poor, the meek, the lowly in heart" (Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures by Mary Baker Eddy, p. 33).

10 Weathermen Wind-Up Term At Rutgers Agricultural School

Ten experienced weathermen, including one of the nation's top forecasters, are winding up an advanced course in agricultural meteorology at the Rutgers College of Agriculture, New Brunswick, the administration announced this week. The course ends late this month.

The full semester of training includes courses in micro-meteorology—the weather down near the soil level where plants grow—physical climatology; statistics, and soil physics.

According to A. Vaughn Havens, chairman of Rutgers' Department of Meteorology, the U. S. Weather Bureau prescribed the special training for the hand-picked group as a means of strengthening its agricultural advisory service.

The students range in age from the late 20's to about 50. Some will return to their former stations, while others will have new assignments after they receive certificates the end of this month.

Course work also includes a seminar conducted by Dr. Lawrence C. Fairbridge, Rutgers' such an advisory service in New Jersey under a cooperative arrangement between the weather bureau and the college of agriculture.

One of the 10 weathermen, Donald T. Rowland of the weather bureau station in Fort Arthur, Tex., won special distinction among his colleagues in 1963 by placing first in the eastern, mid-western and western zones in the bureau's own practice forecast program. He also made the highest score on record.

Chairman Havens said that the practice forecast activity is part of the weather bureau's internal system to check the accuracy of its men.

Those teaching the course at Rutgers also have six graduate and approximately 300 undergraduate students under their wing. Weather courses at the college of agriculture attract about half of the undergraduates, Rutgers reported.

A WEATHERMAN'S WEATHERMAN — Donald T. Rowland, (standing) of Fort Arthur, Tex., made the record score in the U. S. Weather Bureau's Practice Forecast Program, examining a weather map and microbarograph chart with A. Vaughn Havens of Edison, chairman of the Department of Meteorology at the State University.

"Civil Rights Programs with Purpose" is the title of the discussion program to be held at 8:30 p.m. at the Mountaintide Inn on Rt. 22. It will be sponsored by the Westfield-Mountaintide B'nai B'rith unit.

"Since our meetings are open to the public, I cordially invite everyone who is concerned about civil rights to attend," Herbert Ross, unit president, said.

The various representatives will discuss their respective groups' approaches to intergroup relations.

Representing the Urban League will be James Pawley, executive director, and Robert Kohler, New Jersey director of the Anti-Defamation League, will appear on the panel.

Ernest L. Daman will speak on behalf of the Westfield Committee of Human Rights, and David Ludlow, secretary of the American Friends Service Committee, will explain Quaker activities in the field of civil rights. Representatives from CORE and the NAACP also will appear.

Robert Lipson, president of the County Mental Health Honors

The second annual citation for outstanding leadership in the field of Mental Health will be awarded to Dr. V. Terrell Davis, director of the Division of Mental Health and Hospitals in the State of New Jersey, by the Union County Association for Mental Health. It was announced today by Thomas P. Prout Jr., president of the Association.

This award will be made at the annual dinner meeting of the

In making the announcement, Prout stated that the citation is in recognition of the achievements of Dr. Davis in the field of psychiatry and public health. "The award carries with it the grateful appreciation of the citizens of Union County for the work being done by Dr. Davis in his present capacity as the head

He came to the State of New Jersey from Madison, Wisconsin, where he was Clinical Director of the Wisconsin Diagnostic Center. Previous to this assignment, Dr. Davis was Chief of Psychiatric Services for the U. S. Public Health Services in New York.

40th Anniversary Concert Set By Methodists' Male Chorus

The Male Chorus of the Springfield Emanuel Methodist Church will commemorate its 40th anniversary with a concert Sunday afternoon at the church, Academy Green and Main st.

William Barnum, who organized the group in 1924 and is still its president, said that the original chorus started with 12 voices in the former Emanuel Methodist Church, Hadden ter and Clinton ave., Newark, and reached its peak membership of 44 in 1938. Four or five of the men who were with the group at its inception are still members.

The present group comprises

30 members of the church, to be augmented by an additional 12 for 15 men from the Good-Ave. Methodist Church of Philadelphia for Sunday's concert.

Ernest Wiltshagen, the original director, will direct the anniversary concert. Emanuel Schwing is the assistant director, and Mrs. Lydia Schneider, widow of the Rev. Leopold Schneider, who was the pastor of Emanuel Methodist Church for 25 years, will be the accompanist.

The concert will include several songs by Theophil Neuhäuser of Philadelphia.

The choir of Bethesda Church of God in Christ of Newark will also take part in the concert and present two sacred numbers. The congregation purchased the former Emanuel Methodist Church, after the Newark Methodist church merged with the Springfield church last June.

Among the concert selections will be Schubert's "Sanctus," Maletta's "Lord's Prayer" and "Sonntagsevangelium" by Wengert.

The Rev. James Dewart, pastor of Springfield Emanuel Methodist Church, invites the public to share in this "unique program of song."

Dietitian Instructs Girl Scouts

Female Touch For 4-Son Household

LORRAINE REITZ

COLLEGE STUDENTS AT NEWARK STATE ARE AFFIANCED

Mr. and Mrs. George A. Reitz of Ashwood rd., Springfield, announce the engagement of their daughter, Lorraine Ellen, to Jan D. Struthers, son of Mrs. John Struthers of Colfax rd., Springfield, and the late Mr. Struthers.

Miss Reitz was graduated from Jonathan Dayton Regional High School and is a junior at Newark State College, Union, where she is majoring in fine arts. Mr. Struthers is an alumnus of the Pingry School and is a mathematics major in his senior year at Newark State College. He is a member of Kappa Delta Phi honor society.

The bride is Janet Jane, Springfield, one of the four Meisel boys, recently took on a feminine atmosphere when their mother, Mrs. Philip Meisel, was educated as a dietitian, shared her culinary talent with Girl Scout Troop 772.

Mrs. Meisel outnumbered by the masculine sex in her household by a five-to-one ratio and her husband, who insisted the fact her advanced education in home economics was not being passed on.

"That's not until Troop 772 came along."

Her involvement with the girls was explained by Mrs. Meisel in an interview with the Leader. She said she had four sons, but always lamented, her home-making skills were going to waste. "This is my field," she would tell us. "She has been talking about this for years. When a star, telling us how lucky we were, so we finally planned her down. She was offered the chance to help some of the girls earn their cook badge.

"Mrs. Meisel's response?" "She was delighted," the scout leader reported.

The Meisel home was opened to four fourth graders, who are members of the troop. During three visits, the girls learned to whip up a whole meal, bake and frost a cake, and plan menus. They were also instructed in cooking terms and, at the end of the course, compiled a cooking booklet containing a summary of what they had learned.

The scouts taken under Mrs. Meisel's wing were Rebecca Goodman of 170 Hillside ave., Diane Mazicka of 19 Smithfield dr., Virginia Harback of 51 Evergreen ave., and Debbie Ironson of 14 No. Derby rd. They will receive their cook badge at the troop's Court of Awards ceremony some time in February.

The Meisel dwelling is usually the supreme domain of Myron, Lee, Robert and Neil, ages 14, 12, 10 and four, respectively. Their father, a chemist, is also assistant drill sergeant.

'Progress And Growth' Reported By Crestmont Savings And Loan

A year of progress and growth was experienced by Crestmont Savings and Loan Association in 1964, according to the institution's annual report.

Loren F. Gardiner, president and board chairman, said that asset growth of $4,026,747.51 during 1964, represented an 8.2 percent increase over total assets held one year ago, and that assets at the end of 1964 stood at $53,577,963.89. He said that the growth reflected a combination of increases of mortgage loan and savings balances outstanding.

Net savings gains at Crestmont in 1964 totaled $3,385,853.91, bringing total savings held by the institution at year end to $37,031,415.69. This is a 7.8 per cent increase over the 1963 total.

The savings and loan institution also reported record annual dividend payments during 1964, totaling $1,713,564.08.

New mortgage loans made by the association during 1964 amounted to $4,026,747.51, and the total mortgage loans outstanding at the end of the year climbed to $48,908,567.49, an increase of 8.7 percent over the previous year.

In announcing the year-end figures, Gardiner commented: "Although business competition has been considerably more severe this past year, we are most pleased with the continued progress of our institution and its expanded services to this community."

Report to the People

From Your Congresswoman

FLORENCE P. DWYER (6th District N.J.)

A NEW CONGRESS—BOTH NEW AND OLD PROBLEMS

"When an election is over it is altogether fitting and proper that we should be remembered as those who have brought to a close the long and arduous task of the American people... that until the next election they should be one people."

Lincoln's words... better than any I have seen... point the way ahead for responsible public officials and private persons alike, especially here in the legislative branch of government, as we begin a new Congress, the 89th, and inaugurate a new President, Lyndon B. Johnson.

The Civil War President's appeal for unity... "one people" is a basic part of the American political tradition ever since that tragic time when the American people allowed their sectional, economic and ideological differences to transcend the things that united them... and to end in the bloodiest war of our history.

The hundred years that have followed have proven the wisdom of Lincoln's words. Free and honest elections have been the way we settle our differences and regardless of disappointments our people have accepted the results as loyal citizens and worked together in the best interests of the nation.

Unity, Not Conformity... Our theory and practice of unity, nevertheless, should not be mistaken for colorless conformity or an empty neutralism. The principle of "one people" was never intended to obscure diversity or prevent disagreement or stifled debate.

Lincoln's words, therefore, mean just as much in 1965 as they did in 1865. As I interpret them, they are an appeal to put the country first and politics second, to consider legislative proposals on their merits rather than in terms of political gain, to seek ways of bringing people together instead of dividing them.

As I write this report, the first week of the new Congress is drawing to a close. In these first few days, we have heard the President evaluate the state of the union as he sees it and outline the direction he intends to follow.

FINANCIAL FORECAST

Union, 8 Other Counties In Rutgers Study

Predictions on the financial future of municipalities in a nine-county area of New Jersey are made by the Rutgers Bureau of Government Research, New Brunswick, in a study published recently by the state.

The study measured three main aspects of community finance: How much taxable property per capita exists in the community; what is the current property tax burden per $1,000 equalized valuation; and what is the community debt?

It divided the communities into five population categories, ranging from central cities like Newark, Jersey City, Elizabeth and Paterson to outer ring areas such as Cranbury, West Milford, Mahwah and Boonton.

The central cities were found to have the lowest amount of taxable property per capita. On the average, they have only about $3,500 taxable property per inhabitant. Outer ring areas have about $8,400 in taxable property per resident.

Property tax levies were found to be much higher in the central cities than in any of the other areas. The central cities averaged a tax of $47 per $1,000 real value, compared to only $21 in the outer ring communities.

The study suggested that cities in the classification "Core R" — places immediately outside the main central cities, such as Lyndhurst, Belleville, Montclair, Highland Park and Red Bank — seem to be in advantageous financial positions.

These communities have built most of their needed public facilities and it is unlikely that they will undergo any great population increase. As a result, they have relatively stable tax levies and low debts, and they can expect a favorable financial future, according to the report.

A large selection of the study covered the development of a number of measuring devices by which municipalities can predict their own future fiscal capabilities.

The study was Technical Report No. 2 prepared as part of the Northeastern New Jersey Regional Urban Renewal Survey. However, it was actually the first of the technical reports which has been made available in printed form.

It was published by the New Jersey Department of Conservation and Economic Development. Copies may be obtained through that department.

The study was written by Dr. Ernest Reock, bureau director; Dr. Harris I. Effross, assistant research specialist; and four former staff members, John K. Meyer, J.V. Research Associates, and Benjamin I. Palumbo, research assistant.

Mayors Support County College Opportunity Unit

The mayors of Union, Springfield, Linden, Roselle, Roselle Park, Kenilworth and Mountainside are among the 18 Union County mayors who have joined the Union County College Opportunity Committee, it was announced this week.

Their acceptance of invitations to join the new group which is working for the establishment of a county-financed scholarship plan for all full-time county residents who gain admission to Union Junior College, Cranford, was announced this week by former Assemblyman James M. McGowan and Richard P. Muscatello, former assistant prosecutor, both of Elizabeth.

Kooz of Springfield, Alexander Wright of Linden, Frederick Williams Jr. of Mountainside and William J. Ahearn of Kenilworth.

"In my discussions with many of our mayors, I learned that they were most impressed by the economy and efficiency of this plan to assist Union County students attending Union Junior College," McGowan said. "They realize that the choice facing Union County now is to really build a new community college costing millions of dollars to establish and operate."

"They realize that this coming September we will face the greatest crisis in higher education in the history of New Jersey and they have indicated their willingness to do their part to meet this challenge," he said.

Tips for TODAY'S HOMEMAKER

From MARY ARMSTRONG, County Home Economist

PORK, A HEARTY WINTER MEAT

Pork is usually a good meat choice. It's second in popularity to beef and usually somewhat lower in price. While pork marketings increase seasonally in the late fall and winter, the low prices of last year are not expected this season. However, a fairly new pork product seems to be gaining in volume offerings.

More and more smoked pork loin is available at retail food stores. Usually sold as chops or roasts, these pork loins have undergone a curing process which is similar to that used for ham, and the flavor is comparable. Though cooked partially during processing, the product requires cooking at home for safety and to develop best flavor and texture. Curing methods may differ among companies, thus, some products may differ in flavor.

As with other processed pork products, the retail price of smoked pork loin does not fluctuate to the same extent as the price of fresh pork. The curing process makes the product less perishable than its fresh counterpart, thus lengthening its market period. Smoked loins must meet the same New York State or Federal regulations for safety and water content as other cured meat products.

Pork is a wholesome and nutritious food if properly cooked. Because of cases of trichinosis reported in New Jersey in 1961, the New Jersey State Department of Health issued a bulletin, "Cook Pork Thoroughly - Prevent Trichinosis!"

To kill trichina, the internal temperature of pork must reach 137 degrees Fahrenheit. Roasting at an oven temperature of 350 degrees Fahrenheit for 90 minutes per pound is a dependable guide for home cooking.

Use of a Roast Meat Thermometer is recommended, particularly for institutions. Insert the point of the thermometer into the center of the thickest part of the meat, not touching bone. At the meat roasts, the thermometer will indicate the internal temperature of the meat.

Although only a small percentage of pork sold is infested with trichina, such pork cannot be recognized by sight. Thorough cooking provides the only safe means of prevention.

There's nothing much better than a hot, crispy, tender loin pork chop or slice from a roast. But cold pork is good alone and in combination dishes. This American Pork Chop Suet is recommended:

American Pork Chop Suet
 1 pound pork (lean), cut in 2-inch strips
 1 1/3 tablespoons fat or oil
 1 1/2 cups celery, cut in 1-inch
 1/2 cup onions, sliced
 1/2 cup bean sprouts
 1 teaspoon salt
 Dash of pepper
 2 teaspoons sugar
 1/4 cup cornstarch
 2 tablespoons cold water
 2 1/2 tablespoons soy sauce

Brown pork in fat or oil. Add water and liquid from bean sprouts and simmer for 30 minutes. Add celery, onions, bean sprouts, salt, pepper, and sugar. Blend cornstarch with cold water and stir into the mixture. Simmer for 30 minutes, stirring frequently. Add the soy sauce. Serve over rice and with crisp chinese noodles. Makes eight full 1/4 cup servings.

GROWING INDEPENDENCE

Independence is not, as some people think, freedom to do what you please. It is freedom to assume responsibility for your conduct.

This involves, at the same time, freedom to make decisions. It means you do not depend entirely on somebody "telling you what to do." It also means you have a "mind of your own" and are able to reason out things using previous experience as a guide.

The child who has had little experience is not ready for independence. People have to grow into independence. Growing up is much more than acquiring skills and knowing how to do things. It involves feelings about yourself and other people. These feelings often make growing up complicated and a real struggle.

Babies are completely dependent. But with growth comes the desire for independence.

This is shown in the early stages when the baby wants to feed and dress himself, and says "No" to everything. As he grows he needs increasing opportunities to learn independence and responsibility.

Developing independence is necessary for maturity, but it is a gradual process. Parents can help by understanding and welcoming the growth of independence as well as by providing experiences to encourage the development of independence.

REPORT FROM INTERNAL REVENUE

Data Processing For 1964 Tax Returns

(This is one of a continuing series of releases from the Newark District Office of the Internal Revenue Service.)

BY FRANK R. TURBETT JR., Newark District Director, Internal Revenue Service. All 1964 individual income tax returns filed in New Jersey will be transcribed to punched cards and processed by automatic data processing computers. An individual's Social Security number is an essential part of his completed tax return and it must be entered in the proper blank on the return.

The law provides for a penalty of $5 for each failure to include this number on a tax return.

The Social Security numbers of both husband and wife should be included on a joint return even though one of them had no income.

Any 1964 income tax return which calls for a refund to be issued but which does not include a Social Security number will be returned to the taxpayer for correction and inclusion of the number.

If a taxpayer does not have a Social Security number, he should secure one immediately so that he will have it when he prepares his Federal income tax return.

Complete Income Questionnaires Or VA Pensions Can Be Cancelled

Approximately 31,465 disabled veterans and dependents of some 20,226 deceased veterans in New Jersey who receive monthly pension payments were reminded this week to report their annual income promptly to the Veterans Administration to avoid having their payments stopped.

P. M. Nugent, manager of the VA regional office at Newark, N. J., said that the VA has mailed to all pension recipients a punched card upon which the income report must be made. Pensions cease under the law if the income of a pension recipient rises above an established amount.

Dependent parents who receive dependency and indemnity

RESEARCH TOOL
Rutgers' $3.5 million tandem Van de Graaff accelerator, used for atomic research, was put in operation in October, 1964.

An application for a Social Security Account Number (Form SS-5) may be secured from any Social Security or Internal Revenue office. Applications may be also obtained from most post offices.

Concert Group Plans Season For Children

The Colonial-Little Symphony will begin its new season of children's concerts entitled "Music Festival for Young People" on Feb. 22. An entertainment and information program on various musical sounds has been planned by conductor Henry Bloch and Mrs. William Koefoer, children's concert chairman, and her committee.

The first of the three-part concert series will be held in Madison Junior High School, Madison, Saturday, Feb. 27. Subsequent concerts will be given Sunday, March 14, and Saturday, April 3.

Small Business Tax Guide
The 1965 edition of Tax Guide for Small Business is now available at all Internal Revenue Service offices in New Jersey. First GI Loan Guaranty Deadline Nears For Korean War Veterans

Korean conflict veterans face their first GI loan guaranty deadline the end of this month, P. M. Nugent, Manager of the Veterans Administration Regional Office in Newark, cautioned this week.

On Jan. 31, 1965, eligibility for the GI loans begins to expire for those with shorter periods of service.

Nugent pointed out that a veteran's loan cannot be guaranteed unless the loan application is received by the VA before the veteran's eligibility expires.

An application for a Certificate of Eligibility is not a loan application, Nugent warned.

Except for those veterans discharged for service-connected disabilities, individual dead-line dates for Korean Conflict veterans are determined by the length of their service and the date of discharge.

Since only the VA can make the determination of this date, veterans should contact the VA Regional Office at 20 Washington pl., Newark, New Jersey to find out when their own deadline occurs if they wish to take advantage of GI loan benefits.

You won't get rich overnight buying U.S. Savings Bonds. But for the long run, they make an excellent investment.

You get a guaranteed rate of interest—3 3/4% when held to maturity—so there's no ups and downs to worry about.

You also get certain tax advantages since Savings Bonds aren't subject to state or local income taxes, and the federal tax can be deferred until the Bonds are cashed.

But probably most important is that Bonds pay off in more than dollars. When you get your Bond investment back you know it has helped Uncle Sam strengthen the cause of freedom (your cause) all around this troubled world of ours.

Buy U. S. Savings Bonds and own a share of America. It's a good outfit to do business with.

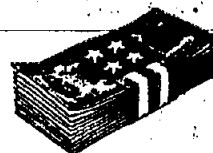

Quick facts about Series E Savings Bonds

CALDWELL COURT SCENE OF ACTION BY SMALL STARS

On Saturday at the James Caldwell School gym in Springfield, the opening "Small Fry" basketball game the Knicks defeated the Nationals, Goyde Flechman had a hot hand, collecting 13 points to make him the individual high man for the day's play.

In the second game, the Billkens defeated the Celtics. Little John Gooze was the high scorer for the Billkens.

The Bullies had a real tussle in defeating the Aggies. Phil Neutak turned in a good game in the second half. He was assisted by Arnold Blumenfeld.

In the final game, the Pistons, playing a light defensive game, took on the Lakers. Led by the all-around fine play of Jim Schoch and the shooting of Will Stefany and Joe Pepe, the Pistons were able to overcome the Lakers and win a close match.

Playing all the games was a little ragged, as was to be expected at this early date. It is hoped that, with practice and good coaching, the teams will develop into smoothly playing units.

Minutemen Play Irvington Squad In Junior Game

Boys From Newark Swamp Springfield; Bridgewater Beaten

The Springfield Minutemen, eighth grade all-stars, played their second basketball game of the 1965 season last Saturday evening at the Florence Gaudinier School. The Minutemen played host to a team from the New Recreation Department and were overwhelmed by the score of 72 to 43.

In last Saturday's contest, Springfield met the finest team ever to take the floor against a Springfield Minutemen team. This Newark squad excelled at all phases of the game of basketball. The hometown forces were out-shot, out-rebounded, and completely out-played throughout.

The third quarter of this game completely told the story. During this period Newark called 40 points through the hoop, while holding Springfield to but 10 markers. Springfield had its finest hour in the fourth period when the Minutemen out scored the Newark forces.

The Newark team had four men hit double figures, George Whitehead, Phil Hickson, Henry Morrell, and Edw. Green. Green was the top scorer as he hit 27 points.

For Springfield, only Ralph Losanno and Joel Schwartz were able to hit with any consistency. Losanno scored 17 points, while Schwartz hit for 12 points.

Springfield's next contest will be this Saturday evening. At this time the team will meet a team from the Irvington P.A.L. Game time is 7:30 p.m. at the Gaudinier School. In their opening last Tuesday, the Minutemen edged Bridgewater, 43-42 in overtime.

Earlier in the Springfield Minutemen won their opening game of the 1965 season last Tuesday evening at the Gaudinier School. Springfield defeated the Hillsdale School of Bridgewater Township in an overtime battle by the score of 43 to 42.

The ball game was an exciting, see-saw contest throughout. The score was 17 to 17 at the end of the first quarter, and was also knotted, 37-37, at the end of regulation time.

Ted O'Connell paced the Springfield scorers with 15 points. Ted scored five of these points in the overtime session to pull the game out for Springfield.

Springfield was trailing by the score of 41 to 38 with but 55 seconds remaining in the ball game. A pressing defense then resulted in five quick markers by O'Connell to provide the margin of victory.

Joel Schwartz played an outstanding game for Springfield, as did Ralph Losanno, who was a tower of strength off the backboard. Ralph also chipped in with 12 points.

Bobby Catapano, who was a member of the Springfield Minutemen team last season, paced the Bridgewater squad. Bobby was also game high scorer as he dropped in 16 points. Bobby gave his old teammates a rough night with his sharp shooting and timely rebounding.

The remaining Franklin Township points resulted from an Ernest Tintor (120) pin on Ed Korecky and decisions by Ron Sansone (87) and Joe Siglie (140) over Stu Cohen and Bill Marino.

Danville's six winners included Jeff Karlin (87), Richie Basta (126) and Mark Mutter (122) as they copied their third straight matches of the season by defeating Roy Glickman (pin), Rich Bonhall (decision), and Bill Sansone (64-4 decision).

Paul Serrone posted his second straight win without a loss by pinning William Coleman in 1-13. Cary Furze, (135) defeated Craig Dunn, 12-4, and Mike Goughen pinned Harold Scherrod in 2-40.

The Bulldogs will be ending the toughest seven days of their schedule tomorrow. They will have played Westfield, Linden, and Scotch Plains in one week.

The Bowling Bluebirds in the Springfield Girls' Bowling League last week at Springfield Bowl lost by four pins to the Four Strikes, thus ending an 18-game winning streak for the Bluebirds.

In a second match, however, the Bluebirds were victorious and thereby maintained their first place lead in league competition by five full games over the second place Four Strikes.

Virginia Vogt with a 124 game paced the Four Strikes to victory in the first match, and Lisa Brown led the Bluebirds in the rematch with 130; Nancy Morline, Jeanine Spender rolled a 208 series for the Bluebirds, and Sharon Gagnon rolled a 198 series for the Four Strikes.

Nancy Morline continues to pace all bowlers in the league with the season's high average of 100. Alice Compas remains in second place with a 105 average, and Miss Gagnon, third place with 100. Miss Brown is in fourth place with 97, and Michelle Widom, fifth place with 90.

Icy Roadway Causes Two-Vehicle Smash

Bessie Williamson, 56, of Plainfield suffered an injury to her shoulder Sunday in a two-car collision in the westbound lanes of Rt. 22 in front of the Dutch Maid Motel, Springfield police reported. She said she would see her own doctor.

According to police, westbound car driven by Rita Smith, 42, of Newark, spun around on the icy roadway and struck the vehicle driven by Joseph Williamson, 29, of Scotch Plains. The injured woman was a passenger in the latter vehicle.

Princeton Sparked By Losanno, Lewis

Play in the Springfield Recreation Department's League basketball program progressed to the second week of competition at the Regional High School Gym last Saturday afternoon. When play was completed for the day, only one team remained undefeated: Princeton defeated Harvard by the score of 31 to 21. Princeton thereby became the only undefeated team in league play.

The Princeton-Harvard game was a close contest for three quarters with Princeton pulling away to victory in the final period of play. Ralph Losanno and Hal Lewis paced the scorers of the winning Princeton team. Losanno hit for 12 markers, while Lewis scored nine points. Dennis Lester, with nine points, was the high man for Harvard. The second game of the day saw a Yale team pull away to an early 13 to 4 lead over Dartmouth. Then they fell to an easy 26 to 111 defeat. Earl Buck paced the Yale scorers as he hit for 11 points. Jimmy Knecht scored seven points for Yale. Only Dave Mangulis and Keith Brownie were able to score for Dartmouth. Dave scored six points, and Brownie scored five markers.

The final game of the day pitted together Columbia and a much improved Cornell team. Cornell was victorious in a 35 to 24 game.
