Future Path For Rt. 278 Continues To Puzzle Town's Official Family

Full Speed Ahead For Safer Rt. 22

Leaders of the Essex-Union-Somerset Traffic Safety Council met with Henry P. Wester of Mountainside, council president, last week at Newark Police Headquarters to plan for renewed efforts to reduce the death and injury toll on Rt. 22.

Springfield Township Committee member Robert G. Planer was named to the Safety Council's board of directors. He will serve on the enforcement and safety development committee.

Committee member James C. Conlon of Union, also a board member, will serve on the education and publications committee. Both Conlon and Planer are police commissioners in their towns.

The Springfield official will work with Newark Police Director Domick Spina on plans to present the annual safety award this spring to "the outstanding public servant" who has made major contributions to safety in the state.

The Safety Council this year will put continued pressure on the State Highway Department, Wester said, for applying a rule to require trucks to keep to the right on Rt. 22. He also called for stepping up of State Police supervision of the highway, which has been successfully administered in 1964.

Noting that repaving is scheduled for this year for the stretch from Hillside through North Plainfield to correct "hazardous surface deterioration," Wester called on Highway Commissioner Dwight R. G. Palmer to improve the design and increase the height of Rt. 22 center dividers.

He noted that repaving in Hillside had lowered the height of the dividers by four inches, making it easier for vehicles to cross into the path of oncoming traffic.

Stronger measures are contemplated, Wester said, in criticizing Palmer and the Highway Department in general for their apathy to major problems, and their brushing off of minor ones to obscure corners of the department, without result.

He added that a special committee will be named to "take this long-standing problem to our legislators."

4 Boys Gain Way Beyond Padlock, Take Insecticide

Police nab vandals, prevent casualties from lethal poison.

Praising the work of Springfield police in preventing any injury after bottles of a highly poisonous insecticide were stolen from the Andrew Wilson Inc. plant at 180 Baltusway way this weekend, Andrew W. Morrison, company president, stressed that the local concern makes other chemicals in Springfield.

Police Chief Wilbur Selander on Monday announced the arrest of four boys, aged 11 and 12, who admitted having broken into the plant on Saturday. They had smashed a number of the bottles against a freight car, two trucks and nearby buildings, but had escaped contamination.

The boys, none of whom had a prior arrest record, were released in custody of their parents pending disposition of the case by juvenile authorities.

Earlier warnings had emphasized the virulent nature of the insecticide, an organic phosphate compound called Ortho Vaportone X, produced by the California Spray Chemical Company for use by commercial growers.

Chief Selander noted that the police had launched an intensive questioning of juveniles in a wide area surrounding the plant. The search was led by Sgt. Del Tompkins, juvenile officer. Information received from one youngster led to the identification of the four who had broken into the plant.

Morrison, president of the company, said that all doors are kept securely locked, and that entrance was secured by prying off a padlock with a screwdriver or other implement. He added that all buildings are checked frequently when the plant is closed.

Two doors and eight windows were smashed, Morrison added, and many bags of peat moss and crabgrass killer were slashed open.

Emphasizing again that no hazardous chemicals are produced at the local plant, Morrison said that the company merely serves as a wholesaler for already packaged products of this sort, which are manufactured by other concerns.

On an earlier occasion, the plant was entered on Feb. 15. Two doors and a window were smashed at that time, the buildings were vandalized and there was damage to equipment and merchandise.

Area To Present Combined Effort To Shift Highway

Elizabeth River Seen As Alternate Path To Link Bridge, Rt. 78

By ARNER GOLD

Relations between members of Springfield's official family and their unapproachable in-laws in Trenton—the State Highway Department—held the spotlight at a brief, sparsely attended meeting of the Township Committee Tuesday evening at Town Hall.

The role of a traditional mother-in-law was played at least by inference, to Highway Commissioner Dwight R. G. Palmer. He was termed mite and also on prospects for Rt. 278 in Springfield and elsewhere, but quite ready to chat about the work still to be done on the Morris ave. repaving project. Fewer than 20 persons attended the meeting.

Mayor William Koontz read a letter from Roselle Mayor Warren Staddon, agreeing with a Springfield proposal for a meeting of mayors and municipal engineers of the communities threatened by the Rt. 278 bulldozers. Plans will be discussed, hopefully, for joint action to divert this latest superhighway, running from Guethals Bridge to Rt. 78.

Seek Alternative

"We will gather our forces," Koontz said, "and work for acceptance of an alternative route along Elizabeth River."

Committee member Jay B. Bloom noted that two official letters from Springfield to the highway czar, asking for information on the status of plans for Rt. 278, had received no answer.

Palmer, a "militant" reminder, Bloom proposed, that the line Democrat on the governing body, Bloom all evening continued to work harmoniously with his Republican colleague.

Committee member Robert G. Palmer announced that he had represented Koontz at a recent meeting with Rep. Florence Dwyer, and that the Congressman plans to meet with Palmer to add the weight of his office to the proposed roadblock.

At the same time, however, Koontz said he had been in amicable communication with Palmer about clearing up the minor but hazardous trouble spots left unfinished along Morris ave. He said he would meet shortly with top Highway Department officials to review the list of unfinished business compiled by Walter Koontz, township engineer.

Young Marchers Hit Anti-Semitism By Soviet Rulers

Some 100 Springfield teenagers, youth group members from Temple Sharey Shalom and Temple Beth Ahm, took part in a protest against Soviet anti-Semitism staged Monday in New York, at the Sutton Place Jewish Center and at the United Nations Plaza.

They were joined, in the two buildings which went from Springfield, by young people from the First Baptist Church of Yonkers, whose spiritual leader is the Rev. Elmer Williams.

Leaders of the group were Rabbi Reuben R. Levine of Beth Ahm and Rabbi Israel S. Dresner of Sharey Shalom, who was chairman for the protest demonstration conducted by young men and women from all parts of the state.

A total of 700 teenagers marched, carried placards, sang and joined in prayer as a demonstration of their protest against policies behind the Iron Curtain aimed at wiping out Judaism in Soviet lands.

Speakers included Michael Kraemer of Springfield, president of the N. J. Federation of Temple Youth Groups; Benjamin Epstein, principal of Newark's Weequahic High School and state president of the American Jewish Congress; Theodore Bikel, television and (Continued on Page 18)

Chayat To Lecture On Ritual Art Work

Maxwell Chayat, jeweler, artist and metal craftsman, from Springfield, will give a lecture on ritual art work at the Summit APT Center, 17 Cedar Street, on Sunday, March 12, at 4 p.m.

The lecture is free and open to the public.

Since a great deal of work is concerned with the fashioning of religious ritual objects, Chayat has discussed contemporary ritual art and the artist's approach to it.

A number of Chayat's works are now on display at the Center. These pieces include Ezeretz, a ritual vessel for services; a bronze Bimah cover and minaret; a ritual vessel in an executed manner; and a ritual vessel in silver, bronze, aluminum, and copper and gold.

Chayat started his career as a jeweler's apprentice. Later he went on to gain a B.S. and an M.A. and studied for a Ph.D. in fine arts at Columbia University.

From 1952 to 1957 he was a member of the faculty of the New Mexico State Teachers College as an instructor and eventually became school art department head.

Five years ago, Chayat was asked by Rabbi Reuben R. Levine of Temple Beth Shalom, Springfield, to make some religious ritual art for the new contemporary temple being planned at that time in Springfield. This was started a successful career of designing and executing religious articles for contemporary synagogues.

In the near future he will hold a number of combined Jewish-Christian shows of religious art in New Jersey and in other states. From March 21 to May 2 he will exhibit such a show at Seton Hall University, South Orange.

Worship Through Music will be the theme of the special service to be held in the First Presbyterian Church, Springfield, this Sunday evening, when the Bloomfield College Choir will lead the worship service, beginning at 7:30 p.m.

Under the direction of Clyde Hold, the 15-member choir has toured extensively throughout New Jersey and surrounding states presenting the message of Bloomfield through the spoken and sung word. Bloomfield College has been a Presbyterian school since 1868.

Included in the program will be traditional and modern anthems, spirituals and favorite hymns of the church. It is with great pride and pleasure that these young people are welcomed to the Springfield church.

A special invitation is extended to the community to join in this service which will be held in the Sanctuary, and by the social room which will be open in the Chapel. Refreshments will be served by the Ladies' Evening

'Most Favorable' Reaction Seen To Changed Services

By BEA SMITH
On March 7, in all Catholic churches, the reading of the Scriptures will take place away from the altar proper. The priest will not go to the altar of sacrifice until the time of the offering of gifts, which is commonly referred to as the offertory.

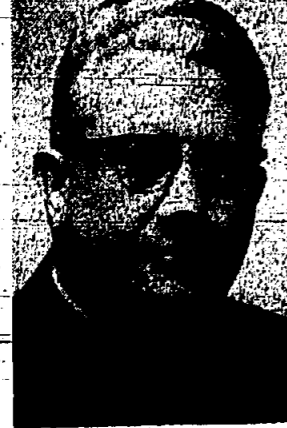

This will be the third change in Catholic services since Sept. 14, 1964. And according to Monsignor Francis X. Coyle of St. James Church in Springfield, the general reaction to the other two changes has been "most favorable."

The first change, Msgr. Coyle indicated, which was effective Sept. 14, 1964, was the transition to English in most of the sacraments.

"The administration of the sacraments is the most noticeable, particularly on the part of the people in the sacraments of matrimony. The use of English in pronouncing words of absolution in confession and also in the sacraments of baptism, has been readily accepted.

"THE SECOND CHANGE," he said, "was in the saying of Mass. This was effective on Nov. 29—the first Sunday of Advent. Actually it is all in the transitional stage, right now. The changes are not completed yet. The major changes are in the liturgical use in English in many areas of the Mass."

Msgr. Coyle continued to explain the change in the use of the vernacular. "In France, for example," he said, "they use French in saying the Mass. Into whatever tongue of the people is most common, that part of the Mass is translated. It's effective in other parts of the liturgy, too."

"On March 7, the first Sunday of Lent, the third major change will be more in the structure of the Mass. From what we have thus far received, we know there will be a shortening of the prayers at the beginning of the Mass."

Noting his silver-gray hair, his eyes twinkling with approval and enthusiasm; the pastor of the local church declared, "By vernacularizing, we're able to do this — on the part of the priest — it makes the people able to participate actively in the response."

"The plan now is to eliminate some of the 'non-essentials' that have crept in over the centuries."

"Actually, the present plans," he said, "call for very little change, from what we have currently, until toward the end of the Mass when the salutation is pronounced, followed by the blessing. This, so many Catholics, will appear to be a very abrupt ending."

"NO LONGER WILL the Gospel of St. John or the last gospel" he said. In fact, the gospel will be eliminated also the "Leonic" after the Mass will be eliminated.

"These prayers," explained Msgr. Coyle, "had been inserted at the end of Mass at the directive of Pope Leo XIII.

Pope Leo XIII — when he inserted these prayers."

How do the church members feel about these changes? "Frankly, I think we approached the changes with a great deal of trepidation," Msgr. Coyle admitted. "But once the initial impact of the change itself and the novelty of it wore off, and this is my expressed opinion, I think by far the overwhelming reaction has been very favorable."

"Naturally," he agreed, "the first shock would be a little on the startling side. But active participation makes people feel much more a part of their liturgy."

"I think their use of the vernacular in the sacraments and the sacramentals makes them much more aware of what is going on than in the Latin."

gining of the Mass up to the Offertory will be the most notable change.

"Most of my congregation rather like the changes. Recently, at a burial service, when we had prayers at the grave, one of the parties involved remarked on how striking the prayers were in English — how effective from the standpoint of consolation."

"Other people," the Monsignor said, "many, many people have remarked to me how at first they didn't cotton to the idea of change. But they now find it quite likeable."

"It's a fact, you know, that even before the changes went into effect," Msgr. Coyle declared, "about 50 percent of the missals were in use during church services. (The missals are Biblical texts containing the Latin prayers and their English translations.)" who were not eager for changes and who were strongly in favor of continuing the services in Latin as before.

Msgr. Coyle pondered for a moment. There was a brief pause as he remembered a minority of instances.

"In a few more or less isolated cases," he said, "people were given to their own private recitations, the saying of the Rosary, for example. They were at first distracted. But once they realized their part in this modern, closely-knit change, they agreed to a 'joint' sacrifice."

The Monsignor was queried about members of his church

MRS. OLIVER O. DEANE JR.

The doorbell rang at 2525 Short Hills ave. In Springfield, and seconds later, a jovey of children could be heard bounding down the steps inside the house, flinging the door open to welcome a visiting reporter.

The visitor took one step and immediately whipped back-out again. A large female dog of questionable origin, uttering an ear-splitting bark and a low menacing growl, blocked the passage way.

"Muggy!" a soft-drawling voice called from somewhere upstairs, "don't be so naughty."

"Do come in," the friendly voice continued to drawl, "I'll be right down."

"Don't you dare," Muggy seemed to say in a low growl. Patricia and Kathy Deane, aged 7 1/2 and 6, respectively, stationed themselves on both ends of the animal, lugged and pulled and panted, until the dog moved into the living room. Kenneth, 2 1/2, tottered after the animal.

MRS. OLIVER O. DEANE JR.

MRS. OLIVER O. DEANE JR., who is chairman of volunteers for the Red Cross Chapter in Springfield, pointed a reproving forefinger at the disenchanted Muggy and invited her guest into the living room for a chat about the Red Cross fund drive which is coming up in March, and local Red Cross activities, advantages and general requirements.

Outside of two interruptions — one by one of the children who wanted to play house and couldn't find her toy dishes (Mommy offered several useful suggestions) and an ultimate examination and approval by Muggy, who planted dozens of souvenirs of her wild coat of fur on the visitor's skirt, the interview went along smoothly.

"At the moment," Mrs. Deane, who hails from San Antonio, Tex., explained, "we need trained volunteers for all aspects of hospital work in East Orange Veterans Hospital and in Rumlins. We need volunteers who are able to operate efficiently. The volunteers must take a Red Cross training course given by the hospital."

"But we also need volunteers for letter writing, for clerical positions, for folding bandages, for our bloodmobile activities and so on."

"Did you know," Mrs. Deane asked, "that the Red Cross was one of the first organizations to recognize the value of volunteers?"

"WE HAVE FIRST AID courses taught by instructors who are volunteers. We pay the expenses, which include the teaching equipment, books and materials. We also have professional nurses who volunteer to serve in our bloodmobile driver. We are able to operate efficiently on $2.25 a pint of blood. This blood would cost much more if we didn't have the volunteers."

"We need hospital volunteers who will serve as an extension of nurses' hands. In the recreation department, for example," she said, "we need them for arranging parties for patients. A couple of hours once a month isn't really too much to ask."

"It's a very rewarding experience for a volunteer to see the happiness derived from celebrating a patient's birthday in a ward. It becomes a very special day for everybody in the ward to have a cake and a party where they can play checkers, cards, bridge. We try to get the patients to keep occupied, rather than stare at the TV set all day."

Mrs. Deane explained that there are two new volunteers in Springfield, who belong to the local PTA. "I'll have to interview them," she said, "and then the hospital will interview them to make sure they know what they're getting in for and find out what they need."

"We always need a motor corps. We need a canteen. Oh, yes, we have a very active canteen for our bloodmobile drives, but no all-year-round canteen."

"ALL WE REALLY NEED, when you get right down to it, is organization. We need proper training, because you never know when you'll be needed. We must be prepared to take over. Unless the Red Cross volunteers are properly trained and ready to take over at a moment's notice, there can be terrible chaos."

The PTAs, Mrs. Deane indicated, recently sent out a flyer for the Red Cross's general campaign for volunteer work for the March drive. "Unfortunately," Mrs. Deane sighed, "we don't have open headquarters. We do have a lovely meeting place, thanks to the Cannon Ball House here in Springfield, which has been very accommodating."

The volunteers, who come to sign up as a result of the campaign, will be queried on the types of things they are interested in doing, their qualifications, their experience, and what kind of time they have available.

"Then," Mrs. Deane said, "we find out what they like and what they can do."

Employment Rate Drops For Month Of January

In New Jersey showed its usual sharp seasonal drop in January, as colder weather slowed outdoor activities and workers hired temporarily for the Christmas rush in stores and post offices were laid off. According to the U. S. Department of Labor and Industry, an estimated 2048,800 persons were on the payrolls of nonagricultural establishments in January, a drop of 87,200 from December but 30,800 more than in January, 1964. These estimates exclude self-employed persons, domestic workers, and farm workers.

Employment in wholesale and retail trade establishments declined by 25,200 in January, after increasing sharply during December's holiday shopping season. Jobholding in contract construction dropped by 9,900 and there was a decline of 5,200 in services. The dock strike caused a 5,300 dip in employment in the transportation and public utilities segment.

Factory employment was off somewhat more than seasonally in January, falling by 9,000 from December's level. Half of the drop was in miscellaneous manufacturing, where there were large post-season layoffs by toy manufacturers. There also were substantial seasonal layoffs in the textiles and garment industries, as well as a temporary shutdown in exporting by a major firm in the transportation equipment industry.

The average factory production worker in New Jersey worked 40.9 hours and earned $111.35 during the mid-January survey week. Weekly earnings were down fractionally from December's record average of $111.88 because of a moderate seasonal reduction in the length of the workweek.

As a member of the Springfield Continental American Legion Post 228, I am writing in defense of flying the "One Nation Under God" pennant on our pole at our post home.

A fundamental distinction needs to be made: this is private property, not public or taxpayer-supported domain like the Town Hall across Third St. The Legion or any other private individual is not involved with the separation of church and state issues, per se.

If they paid for the flag pole, what they fly on it is their business, as long as it conforms with the code of laws in America.

Now, then, if you object to Springfield municipal, freeholder, county, state or federal governments or agencies flying that pennant, I think you are on solid ground and I would agree it shouldn't be flown in violation of separation of church and state.

The same goes for public schools and hospitals where public funds from taxpayers are used as the means of support. I think it is commendable that our two school systems in Springfield fly the New Jersey State flag under the American flag and it is proper that the pole at our Town Green fly Old Glory alone in all its natural spiritual splendor.

HENRY S. WRIGHT

HITS 'CONSPIRACY'

Congratulations to the Springfield American Legion for flying the "One Nation Under God" pennant. This fine patriotic organization has raised its voice against communist-conspiracy to try to remove God from our lives and schools.

Our founding fathers realized the need for God and made Him part of the foundation of our American life, and now the Supreme Court gives a pro-communist decision to ban God from our schools.

City Federal Shows Peace Corps Data

Jerome Krueger of 112 Harvard rd., Linden, announced this week that a new Peace Corps display unit, supplying information on the 7,000 different opportunities for today's youth in the Peace Corps, will be on display for one week at each of the 10 offices of the City Federal Savings and Loan Association.

Krueger, who is Peace Corps chairman for Union County, said the display unit was constructed for the Corps by City Federal. It features a map of the world showing all areas served by the Peace Corps and portrays the various activities undertaken by Corps volunteers.

The unit is supplemented by descriptive booklets and application forms which are placed at all teller windows.

The display unit will be at the City Federal Linden office, N. Wood ave. and Elm st., today through next Thursday.

Krueger said in order to apply for the Peace Corps a questionnaire, obtainable at any City Federal office of any Post Office, must first be filled out. He said further information on the Peace Corps may be obtained by writing to the Peace Corps, Washington, D.C. 20525.

Rutgers Closes Doors To 5,600 Qualified Applicants

The State University will deny admission this year to some 5,600 qualified applicants, a number greater than that of its entire undergraduate enrollment 10 years ago.

Dr. George A. Kramer, Rutgers admissions director, reported the handling of record numbers of applicants this week when he announced the closing of applications at Rutgers College and Douglass College in New Brunswick.

He said the university's two non-residence divisions, the Newark College and the College of South Jersey in Camden, still are accepting applications, however.

Based on applications thus far processed by his office, these are Dr. Kramer's predictions:

1. The State University will have received 16,500 applications for undergraduate admission, 1,500 more than last year, by the time deadlines are reached in all divisions.

2. Qualified applicants will number 12,500, some 1,300 more than last year.

3. The university will admit 6,900 freshmen based on the expectation that about 50 per cent of those admitted will not enroll.

4. It will enroll 3,380 freshmen in its four day college divisions, about the same as last year. No increase in the freshmen class is anticipated, because of space limitations, until the fall of 1967 when a class of about 500 will be enrolled at a new campus on the site of Camp Kilmer.

5. The university will be forced to reject about 5,600 qualified applicants, 1,100 more than were denied admission in the fall of 1964.

The State University freshman class next fall will include 1,750 students (for the third consecutive year) at Rutgers College, 800 at Douglass College, 750 at the College of Arts and Sciences and the College of Nursing in Newark, and 300 at Camden.

Douglass, which last year enrolled 825 freshmen, accounts for a reduction of 25 in the total enrollment. The women's college has housing available for only about 550 first-year students next fall. About 250 of the 800 Douglass freshmen will be admitted on the condition that they will be able to commute.

Dr. Kramer does not see any easing up on admissions pressure in the near future.

"Although it is hoped we will be able to increase our freshman class in 1967, with the opening of a new campus, it is also practically assured," Dr. Kramer said, "that the number we cannot accommodate also will be increased over the next few years."

He pointed out that the State Department of Education has predicted that the numbers of New Jersey high school students, set at 65,798 in 1965, will reach 90,000 in 1970. He also said that as the numbers of candidates for admission increase, it becomes more obvious that the percentage of unqualified applicants is being reduced through more effective guidance and screening in the high schools.

Dr. Kramer said he was certain that almost all of the 5,600 well qualified students who will be denied admission to the State University will be able to continue their education next fall.

He pointed out, however, that "for reasons such as economic, the nature of course offerings at various colleges and the desire of many of these New Jersey high school graduates to be identified with their State University," many of them would do so "at considerable sacrifice."

"Our concern is not that these qualified young men and women will be denied a place in college, what is happening, however, is that through our inability to take them, they are filling up places once taken by qualified, but less well prepared students, they are, in effect, making it increasingly more difficult for the average student to find a place in college."

He said that the university is "making every effort" to reach decisions as early as possible for the convenience of all candidates. More than 6,000 decision letters have already been mailed, and by mid-April all candidates for Rutgers College and Douglass will have been notified.

Staff Writer Is Cast In New York Drama

Allen Goorwitz, staff writer for this newspaper, will leave tomorrow to devote full time to acting activities with two theater companies in New York City.

Goorwitz, who has studied acting since 1963 in Manhattan at the Anthony Mannino Studio, was notified this week that he has been cast in three featured roles of the Equity Library Theatre production of "Lorenzaccio," the 18th Century tragedy by Alfred de Musset.

He goes into rehearsal starting Wednesday and will be seen in the roles of a Bourgeois, an Exile and Soldier No. 5. The five-act play will have a limited-engagement run, March 12-21, at the Equity Library Theatre, Riverside Drive and W. 103rd St., New York City.

In addition, Goorwitz will be working as press representative for Theatre Thirteen, the production company of Metropolitan-Duane Methodist Church, W. 13th St. and Seventh Ave., New York City.

He also is one of three male understudies for the company's production of "The Lower Depths," a four-act drama by Maxim Gorky, which opens tonight at 8:30 at the church. The play will run tomorrow, Saturday and Sunday nights, and next Thursday, Friday and Saturday, March 4-6.

Goorwitz began work for the Suburban Publishing Corporation, group of weekly newspapers in the fall of 1961. He worked in its editorial and advertising departments before leaving in January, 1963, to assume an editorial staff position with the Linden Leader. When that newspaper was purchased last July by the Suburban Publishing Corp., he returned as an editorial staff member.

A January, 1967, graduate of Woodstock High School, Newark, he also attended "Upsala College," East Orange, and studied playwriting at the Seven Arts Center, New York City.

Last December, he toured in the cast of "Emil And The Detectives," a children's theater production of the Pocket Play-off-New York City.

He performed last summer with the cast of a topical humor revue, "The Third Ear," in New York and is co-author of "Look-Who's-Talking," a book of satire of current affairs published in 1963.

The actor-writer, 25, is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Philip Goorwitz of Newark. He is a veteran of the U.S. Army.

Activity Is Urged For Chiropodists

Chiropodists will be urged to participate in community life in a talk on the topic, "The Doctor and Public Affairs," by Dr. David M. Tanner of Somerville before the Eastern Division of the New Jersey Chiropodists Society Tuesday night. The division will meet in the White Laboratories in Galloping Hill rd., Kenilworth.

Dr. Donald A. Fisher of Roselle will be in charge of the program, and Dr. Ben Markowitz of Newark will be division chairman. The division included chiropodists in Essex and Union counties.

The health field, Dr. Tanner advises, offers the chiropodist the widest opportunity to use his talents. He can be useful in such areas as the prevention and control of cancer, diabetes, cerebral palsy or muscular dystrophy.

Publish Book On News Laws

"Newspaper Publication Laws of New Jersey," the first volume of its kind to be published in 25 years, is being offered by the New Jersey Press Association.

Compiled by Morgan R. Seiffert, New Brunswick lawyer and authority on newspaper laws, the 236-page volume provides a handy reference to all New Jersey Statutes which refer to every phase of printing, publishing, advertising, editing, copying and all other branches of newspaper activity.

The volume is in loose-leaf form and is the intent of the New Jersey Press Association to provide subscribers with amendments and new laws enacted during subsequent years. Fully and completely indexed, the contents are up-to-date as of January, 1965. The contents include answers to questions pertaining to libel, prohibited publication, privilege, proof of publication, requirements for publication of legal notices, etc.

Most of the statutes are printed in complete form, just as they appear in the Revised Statutes of New Jersey. In some instances part of the language not directly concerned with publication has been deleted. Reference for all publication laws are listed in the index.

FROM TORTILLAS TO COMPOTES

Peace Corps Offers Latin American Culinary Cruise Of Recipes

"Parents are people who bear infants, bore teenagers and board newly-weds."

A Peace Corps culinary cruise of Latin American recipes has been described and noted by the more than 7,000 Americans who have served in 46 countries of Latin America, Asia and Africa, since the Corps' inception in 1963.

Among the specialties of the cruise are Guacamole found in Guatemala. Guacamole is an avocado spread which makes a delectable hors-d'oeuvre when used on Tortillas from Costa Rica.

To serve eight persons. Guacamole:

- 2 large ripe avocados
- 1 medium-sized onion, grated
- 1 clove garlic
- 1 heaping tablespoon mayonnaise
- 1 tablespoon lemon juice

Few drops Worcestershire sauce

Few drops Tobacco sauce

Peel the avocados, remove the seeds and mash. Add lemon juice, mashed garlic cloves, mayonnaise, Worcestershire sauce, tobacco and salt to taste. Mix together all the ingredients and chill.

To serve eight persons Tortillas:

- 2 cups corn meal
- 2 cups boiling water
- 2 teaspoons salt
- 4 tablespoons cooking oil
- Mix corn meal and water together, stirring vigorously. Add salt and oil and cook mixture over low flame until well-thickened.

Form small balls of two tablespoons each of the mixture. Flatten the balls with a rolling pin. Then cook the tortillas over a low flame in a frying pan and turn them when they are light brown in color.

For an unusual appetizer, Volunteers in Uruguay recommend meat-filled pastries called Empanadas.

To serve eight persons Empanadas: (Freeze leftovers for another festive night).

Dough:

- 5 cups flour
- 1 1/2 teaspoons paprika
- 1/2 teaspoon salt
- 1/2 cup soft butter

Put flour mixed with paprika and salt on a board and make a well in the center. Put the butter in the well and add enough water to knead a fairly stiff dough. Knead it for a few minutes and let it stand while you prepare the filling.

Filling:

- 1/4 cup butter
- 1 large onion, finely chopped
- 1 small tomato, finely chopped
- 1/2 teaspoon paprika
- 1 pound ground lean meat
- 1 1/2 teaspoon flour
- 1/2 cup beef stock
- 1/2 teaspoon ground cumin
- 1/2 teaspoon chili pepper
- 1 hard-boiled egg, chopped
- 1/2 cup seedless raisins
- salt to taste

Melt butter in frying pan. Add onions and saute until golden brown. Add paprika, tomato, meat, flour, stock, cumin, chili pepper and salt. Cook over medium heat for five minutes.

Make dough balls the size of an egg and roll them out thin in the form of a circle. In the center of each round place one tablespoon of the filling, a teaspoon of the chopped egg, one-half teaspoon of green olives and a few raisins. Moisten the edges of the rounds and fold over the mixture, pressing firmly. Make a design along the edges as for pastry. This part of the recipe can be prepared ahead of time. When you are ready to serve, merely bake the Empanadas in a hot oven (400 degrees F) for 15 minutes or fry in deep fat and drain on paper.

For the main course, we move on to Bolivia where Peace Corps volunteers enjoy the creative dish Arroz con Pollo. Spanish in origin, Arroz con Pollo is defined as chicken with rice — with any favorite ingredients that you may wish to add.

To serve eight persons Arroz con Pollo:

- 2 chickens, 4 pounds each, cut into parts
- 6 carrots, cut into cubes
- 6 stalks of celery, cut into cubes
- 3 large onions, cut into small wedges
- 3 cloves garlic, skinned, seeded and cubed
- 2 green peppers, sliced
- 1/2 pound large fresh mushrooms, sliced
- 6 hard-boiled eggs, cut into quarters
- 1/2 cup parsley sprigs
- 4 tablespoons capers
- 2 pimientos, cut into thin strips

20 black olives, sliced

1 cup shredded coconut

1/2 cup sliced almonds

1/2 cup white wine

3 cups raw rice

salt and pepper to taste

cooking oil

Place the chicken, carrots, celery, onions, garlic, tomatoes and green peppers into a large pot with enough water to cover. Heat to boiling point and cook until tender (approximately 90 minutes).

During the last half hour, prepare the rice by placing it in a large skillet over a medium flame. Moisten it with cooking oil to prevent sticking, and stir frequently. Add the mushrooms. The rice and mushrooms are finished when they color a warm brown.

After the chicken is done, allow it to cool. Then remove the meat from the bones and dice it into large pieces. Add the chicken, a cup of its stock, the vegetables with which the chicken was cooked, the white wine, the black olives and salt and pepper to the rice and heat over a low flame.

Then transfer the Arroz con Pollo to a serving platter. To garnish, attractively arrange the pimientos, capers, almonds and coconut on the top of the mixture. Form a border around the dish with sprigs of parsley and hard-boiled egg wedges, sprinkled gently with vinegar.

Accompany this main course with a salad of romaine, Boston and endive lettuce with simple dressing of wine vinegar and olive oil. This arrangement will provide appropriate contrast in taste to the appetite-delight of Arroz con Pollo.

Catholics Plan Dance

The Catholic Club of Union County will hold its regular monthly dance Sunday at 8 p.m. at the Kingston Restaurant, Morris Ave., Union. Music will be by Ray Masters' Orchestra. Single Catholics 21 years of age and older are welcome.

For a cooling finish to our Latin American feast, Peace Corps Volunteers in Jamaica suggest a chilled fresh-fruit compote of bananas, pineapples, strawberries and kumquats marinated in your favorite liqueur and garnished with whipped cream and vanilla wafers.

Brighten up your mid-winter days; serve carrots on your menu!

David BURRI
1688 Springfield Ave.
Irvington Center
Open Mon. & Fri. Evenings

More than 1.5 billion pounds of fresh carrots are grown commercially in the United States each year. Each pound yields about 48,000 I.U. of carotene or pro-vitamin A. A mathematically minded person has figured out that last year's carrot crop was big enough to supply everyone in America with the equivalent of an adult allowance of vitamin A every day for three months. It also provides some of many other nutrients.

All in all, the carrot is a wonderful vegetable; certainly it should be rated among "convenience foods." The sweet and tender, well-scrubbed carrots which reach our produce counters all year around do not actually need scrubbing or scraping—wash them, brushing well with a vegetable brush, cut off the top and bottom and slice. Chill and eat raw if you want the very last unit of vitamin A, or cook until just crisp—tender in no more boiling water than is needed to keep them from wilting. A scant teaspoon of sugar, along with salt, butter or margarine, enhances the flavor of carrots. Also onions, celery leaves, chives, parsley, green peppers, grated orange peel and spices such as nutmeg, ginger, cloves, sweet basil and white pepper are good flavorings.

Do you ever bake carrots? They are delicious arranged in a casserole with two tablespoons of water and one of butter, sprinkled with salt and pepper, covered tightly and baked for 35-40 minutes at 350 degrees. You may also mash well cooked carrots and flavor with grated orange rind and fresh orange juice.

Carrot bread and carrot pie are other unusual carrot recipes. Carrot bread spread with cream cheese is delicious. But even the everyday use of carrots as a vegetable offers endless possibilities: Slice carrot pennies or quarters lengthwise and halve the sticks. Season them with grated cheese. Combine chives or parsley or sprinkle cubed cooked carrots with peas or with several vegetables. And always keep them on hand to give color and flavor to soups and stews.

Vegetable Carrot Bread
1/2 cup butter or margarine
1 cup sugar
2 large eggs
1 1/4 cups sifted all-purpose flour
2 teaspoons double-acting baking powder
1 teaspoon ground cinnamon
1/4 teaspoon salt
1 cup finely grated carrots
1 cup seedless raisins
1/2 cup chopped nuts

Place butter or margarine in mixing bowl. Gradually blend in sugar. Beat in eggs. Sift together flour, baking powder, cinnamon and salt and gradually add to the mixture. Mix carrots, raisins and nuts and stir into batter. Turn into well-greased, lightly floured 8x8x2-inch loaf pan. Bake in preheated moderate oven (350 degrees F.) one hour. Cool in pan 10 minutes. Turn out onto wire rack to finish cooling. Make the bread the day before it is to be served. Store in tightly closed box. YIELD one loaf cake.

Ask Amy BY AMY ADAMS

Dear Amy:
I have been bedridden for two years. I have two lovely children, ages five and six. During my illness my mother-in-law has been taking care of the children. Also, during this period, my mother-in-law has encouraged my children to come to her with their problems and even to call her mother.

Dear Ex-mother:
There is not enough gratitude or money in the world to repay your mother-in-law for her unselfish devotion to you and your family. Treat her kindly! But tell her that you are ready to take over now and that she can finally go home and live her own life. A woman as wonderful as she can't help but understand and she will probably thank God. You haven't lost the love of your children. As time goes by, you shall see.

Dear Amy:
How should a girl treat a boy? Like a friend and call him stupid? Like a mother and be polite to him? Like a brother and hit him? Like an idol and be shy to him? Or be forward and get up to him?
—And it is impossible to be natural to a boy so how should I act?

Dear Help:
Until you can act normally

AUTHORITY AND TEENAGERS
To the adolescent, authority appears to be a barrier to independence. To parents, the authority they exert is a shield to protect the young person during his "growing up" process. Youth tries to exert independence in matters of playing out late, dating, and using the car, while parents look for signs of responsibility about household tasks, thrift, and sensible clothing. Each is wary of the other—youth pouting on privileges; parents withholding in the hope of fostering desirable traits of maturity.

When no one can get to work... an amazing number of telephone operators do.

They'll walk for miles when nothing on wheels can move.

Why do they do it?

Because they know they're needed. They know the whole community is depending on them for telephone service. Especially in times of emergency.

At the phone company, we call their attitude the "spirit of service." Maybe it sounds old-fashioned. But it's real. And we're proud of it. Just as we're proud of all the operators who help make your telephone service something that you can always rely on.

Town Meeting

Falkin introduced the 1965 salary ordinance for township employees. He noted that the final hearing is set for March 9, but that action must await approval of the municipal budget, scheduled for the same evening.

'Courtesy' Hearing
Falkin stated that an informal "courtesy" hearing budget will be held at 10 a.m. Saturday, March 6. Township Committee members and other officials will be present to discuss the budget as long as anyone has any questions. He added, "The official public hearing, as mentioned, will take place March 9."

The budget was printed last week in the Springfield Leader, Falkin said, and copies are available on request at the office of Mrs. Eleanor Worthington, township clerk.

The committee voted final approval of a new sewer ordinance. It gives the Rahway Valley Sewage Commission authority to investigate and control use of the sewer system, particularly by industry.

Former Mayor Robert D. Hardgrove, speaking from the audience, stressed that the unfinished work along Morris ave was "not an oversight" but had been expected when the township requested construction be halted to avoid blocking the street during the Christmas shopping season.

He added, and the committee man agreed, that the state had expected and was prepared to finish the job properly.

The committee accepted with regret the resignation of Francis H. Shumaker as a member of the insurance committee and of Police Lt. Otto Stumm. Shumaker has been elected to the Board of Education. Stumm is moving to a warmer climate. It was noted, after 23 years keeping the municipal peace.

An agreement was authorized with Morris Ave. Motors to repair and maintain the three police cars for 12 months, at a cost of $500 per car. This was tentatively a substantial reduction from the present cost of maintaining the cars one repair bill at a time.

Yoon opened the meeting by welcoming members of the Civics Club of St. James School. He later proclaimed March 7-13 as Girl Scout Week in Springfield.

Double Overtime, Upsets Keep State Basketball League Lively

Last Saturday's play in the Springfield Recreation Department's State Basketball League at the Gaullier Gymnasium produced thrills and upsets. A double-overtime victory by California over Florida, and Iowa's upset victory over league-leading Oklahoma sparked the action.

The opening game saw a surprising Idaho move up in league play by downing Ohio, 14-9. Alan LeBeoff, who has sparked his Idaho team of late, once again paced their attack as he scored 10 points. Alan also hit big in rebounding as he consistently swept the boards. Bob Karlsberg with four points paced the Ohio team.

The second game was by far the most thrilling contest of the season as California went into sudden death overtime to defeat Florida, 28-26.

Patrick Burns led the California scorers with 10 points. Pat also hit the basket in the second overtime to win the game.

Lee Adler was also effective for California as he tallied seven points. Sal Mucario of California hit for five points. Steve Dorsey with 14 points was high scorer and led the Florida team. Mike Herman hit a basket for Florida in the first overtime to force the sudden-death period.

Kansas sent Utah down to its sixth loss of the season, 15-8. Seven players hit the scoring column for Kansas, as the team scored in each period. Chris and Jamie Gacos both played a fine floor game for the victors. Bob Sasse with four points was the top man for Utah.

Texas, one of the league's finest teams in the past few weeks, rolled past Wyoming, 17-5.

Jay Silverman was the big scorer for Texas with 11 points.

Robert Meisel was also effective in scoring four points and setting up some big plays. Dave Miniman, Larry Sternbach and Bruce Zabalski divided the scoring for Wyoming.

Iowa withstood a final period up-set first place Oklahoma, 17-15. Iowa moved into a first place tie with Oklahoma. High scoring Phil Stokes once again paced the Iowa team as he tallied eight points. Paul Doves and Ray Danziger each scored three points for Iowa and each played a fine floor game. Alan Schlanger led Oklahoma with nine points. Alan also led the Oklahoma rally in the final period which fell two points short of tying up the game. Alan hit for seven points in the final period.

Freshman Team Finishes Season With 7-9 Record

The Dayton Regional High School basketball team closed its 1965 season this month with a record of 7-9. Thanks to the guidance of Coach Michael Jannelli, this freshman team seems ready to triumph for Dayton in future years.

The team was co-captained by Cliff York and Rich Campbell. York, at 6-2 was the star shooter, often saving games by his keen eye. Campbell was a fine shot, but it was his good passing and light defense that proved invaluable.

The ball-handling of Gary Kutz and the rebounding of Ken Braverman were essential, as were the talents of Tony Geronzi, who could be counted on in light-situation-to rally the team.

These five boys were, at the close of the freshman season, moved up to the junior varsity team, although they did not have much of a chance to play there.

However, Coach Jannella was quick to state that though these boys had achieved much, their success depended on the other players, the spirit and spirit of Coach Jannella and Allen Tabor, as well as the assistance of Howard Tish, Howard Spielman, Willis Stutz, John Schoch, Alan Suverston and Brian Marder.

Jannelli, in his first year as the freshman coach, said that he enjoyed the work and found it quite rewarding. He is enthusiastically awaiting next year's group of boys as well as now to see how this year's team will do.

Summing up the season and smiling, he said, "The spirit fluctuated, but for the most part the boys were always eager and worked hard. We did have bad moments, low spots, but they never quit. They always managed to come back with a little more."

The team had a promising start against Kaweah Junior High of Union County. Working well together, the boys trounced Kaweah 51-30.

Two defeats followed. McManus squeaked out a victory by scoring twice in the last minute for a final tally of 62-58. Next, a strong Scotch Plains steamroller Dayton, 73-46.

However, the fresh came back and crushed Clark, 80-34, only to be defeated again by Scotch Plains 68-57.

The next game, against Cranford, was one of those unhappy stories. Dayton, in the lead by two with only a few seconds remaining, took the basketball of bounds under the Cranford basket. A fast-moving Cranford player stole the ball and tied the score just as the clock ran out. Crawford went on to win in a double overtime, 70-65.

After again taking Cranford, the boys showed that they had learned from their mistakes. Ahead by three with one minute left, they successfully froze-out the clock, triumphing, 45-42.

Pitted against Rahway, the team played its finest game of the season. Although faced with Rahway's superior height and strength, Dayton's accurate shooting, quick passing and, the biggest asset, dogged defense, carried the day for a well-earned victory, 52-51.

Other games include victories over Hillside and McManus Kawahneeh, a loss to Burnet, and two defeats at the hands of Berkeley Heights and Soehl.

Princeton; Harvard Lead In Basketball

The Princeton and Harvard basketball squads, tied for the lead in the Springfield Recreation Department's Ivy League, continued their battle for first place as both won Saturday in games at the Dayton Regional High School.

Harvard beat Dartmouth, 27-4. Dennis Lester, paced Harvard with 11 points. Steve Jupe, an outstanding player for Harvard of late, scored eight points. Dave Margulies, captain, tallied all of Dartmouth's points.

Princeton rolled to an overwhelming 41-18 victory over Columbia. League leader, Ralph Lozano, hit the league's highest single output, 33 points for Princeton.

Ralph has now tallied 143 points in the Ivy League season.

Rich Deutch was also effective for Princeton as he hit for six points and set up many baskets. Mike Pomp played his best game of the season for Columbia as he tallied eight points and played a brilliant floor game.

Cornell stayed in league contention by defeating a determined and scrappy Yale team, 41-30. Joel Schwartz led Cornell with 17 points. Gary Ginsberg and Andrea with seven points were also effective for Cornell.

Tommy Carroll was the high man for Yale with 14 points. Tom was also effective rebounding, as he swept both boards. Lee Kronert with six points also played well for Yale.

Then we set them up in a training course as soon as possible. They will then be taken on a hospital tour, and if agreeable, will be assigned hours.

ate work at Michigan State University. "I also did some interdenominational religious work on the campus. I served for two years at Michigan State as associate director of Christian Students Foundation, which was part of the interfaith program."

One summer, Mrs. Deane said, while she was working at a girl's camp as a counselor, she met Oliver Deane, who was serving as a director of a private boys' camp. Deane is originally from South Orange.

"We were married in Texas, came to Plainfield for two years, then to Springfield, where we have resided for the past eight years. My husband teaches eighth grade arithmetic for the Mountbush School system. He also has taught adult school and has worked with modern math."

In addition to serving five-and-a-half years on committees for the Red Cross, Mrs. Deane has been busy in other capacities. She taught Sunday School in the junior high department of the First Presbyterian Church for several years. She served as adult student group leader for two years at the church.

"That was great fun. I thoroughly enjoyed it. And," she added, "I hope to pick it up again some time in the future. She belongs to the Northern New Jersey Alumnae of Chi Omega, served as its president for two years, and for the past two years, she has been alumni correspondent, communicating with the group's national publication."

She has been very active for a number of years with PTA activities. "That's just the kind of stuff," she said, "that doesn't count."

"You know," she said with a twinkle in her eye, "we can't put gas in a motor to run the motor unless we don't have the funds."

"The town has grown so much that if we want to continue the school, we should have our larger areas. We need new manpower and more - because the areas are bigger. Really, it's worth keeping up. We have to see anybody who needs it denied the services of our local Red Cross."

Mrs. Deane, who was born in San Antonio, Texas, was graduated from the University of Texas with a B.A. degree.

Now are her children affected by her volatility of haphazard hours, she was queried.

"The children are very good. They are dependable, play well together, and I think," she mused, "that they are secretly pleased that mommy's not around so much to nag. Of course, I do get an adult baby sitter. I used to have one from eight in the morning until six at night. I used to pay her about $8 a day just for me to wander in and out of store windows, to put up posters informing the public on what the Red Cross does."

"No," she sighed, "my children really don't mind, having a mother not at all. And they really keep themselves quite occupied. You know, they make all their presents - even if the presents look like they were made by four-year-old hands, they're darling. They've made earrings, paper weights out of stones, and my six-year-old makes very beautiful aprons. They're all sort of artistically inclined."

"But they're not neglected. Despite a heavy schedule, my husband and I find plenty of time for them. We take them camping in the summer and skiing in the winter. We bought a little farm house in Vermont with my cousins."

"The children," she said ruefully, "are, in fact, better skiers than their Texas mother."

Cranford Trounces Dayton To End Basketball Season

The Dayton Regional High School basketball team reached the second round of play in the Union County Tournament by defeating Clark last week, but fell to Cranford High in the semi-final round last Friday night. The 83-44 loss ended the 1964-65 basketball season and gave the Bulldogs a 5-21 record for the season. This was, however, the first time in nine years that Dayton did reach the second round in the UCT.

Coach Ray Yanchus of Dayton felt that a major factor in the Bulldogs' defeat on Friday was the unusual size of the crowd and the extreme pressure on the boys. "We played a forced game," he said. "We tried to pass it to Mike Kretzer but he was double-teamed and the passes couldn't get out of that pattern, though."

Yanchus also was disappointed at the fact that the game was lost in the forecourt for Dayton rather than the backcourt. Cranford was known to depend on a light backcourt press. "It was twice as disappointing," Yanchus said, "because we avoided Cranford's press but lost the game in the forecourt with bad passing."

Cranford jumped off to an early lead on two shots by St. Mary's. Middleton in the first period. Scoring often on the fast break, the Cougars took a commanding, 23-8, lead at the end of the period. By half-time this lead was extended to 44-17. Cranford's fast and patterned offense seemed too much for the Dayton athletes. Dayton's big scorer, Kretzer, was too well covered to get off many shots.

As the second half opened, the Cougars receded out 18 straight points to put the game out of reach for the Bulldogs, with a score of 60-17. Near the end of the third quarter, Cranford substitutes came in to finish the game.

In the final period, the Bulldogs were able to outscore Cranford, 23-16, but could not possibly overcome their 40-point deficit. The game ended in an 83-44 victory for the Cougars.

The 1965 basketball season was a disappointing one to many Dayton fans. A bad start in their first four matches hurt morale throughout the season. Coach Yanchus of Dayton felt that the close miss in the Dec. 16 loss to Caldwell was a key factor in destroying morale.

A series of victories, beginning with the annual "annual" game on Dec. 23, raised some hopes, but then one week of matches with league leaders Westfield, Linden and Scotch Plains hurt the team.

The team was plagued with injuries in the last half of the season. No less than six ankle injuries caused boys to miss games. Nevertheless, despite the loss of Mike Kretzer for several games and then Keith Neigel, the end of the season saw some close games against Scotch Plains and Cranford.

Coach Yanchus felt that this major difficulty this year was lack of balance on the team. "We had only two scorers on the team," he said, referring to Kretzer and Neigel. "I think we were too dependent on them," he added.

Yanchus hopes for next season to be brighter, however. Although varsity men Mike Kretzer, Bob Ries, Dave Droppich, Alan Greenberg, and Keith Neigel will be lost to graduation, Al Lobatto and Bob Belliveau will be returning with varsity experience.

Yanchus also looks forward to the return of Steve Hirschorn, who was brought up from the Junior Varsity midway in the season.

"This year's JV's," said Yanchus, "did not have an impressive record, but played many close games. They have some bigger kids but we'll be getting next year: Mike Lester, Brian Sheehan, Jim Belliveau. In an overall sense, I think we should have much better balance next year."

Matches Divided By Girl Bowlers, Standings Same

Standings stayed the same last week as the six teams in the Springfield Recreation Department Girl's Bowling League divided matches at the Springfield Bowl.

Lisa Brown led the league-leading Bluebirds to a win over the second place Four Strikes with a 222 series. In the second match the Four Strikes struck back behind the 243 series rolled by Nancy Morlino.

Michelle Widom and Dawn Zarrelli each had a 180 series as the Bowlettes posted a victory over the Wildcats. Anita Demeris came back with a 181 series to lead the Wildcats to their win.

Susan Silverstein rolled a 205 series in the Luckey Charis' win over the Knockouts. Bonnie Raskin totaled 225 and Alyse Cooper hit 217 in the Knockouts victory.

bowling of Ricky Williams and Sal Mucario. Rick topped the Rocket bowlers for the afternoon as he rolled a 267 series for two games.

The Bullets took second place by defeating the Jets in two games. Robert Shinder paced the Bullets' sweep as he rolled a 313 series. Mark Hollander with a 272 series was also effective for the Bullets. Danny Weiss was the high scorer for the Jets as he rolled a 233 series.

The Atoms and the Bombers split a two-game match. Jay Silverman topped all bowlers for the Atoms as he rolled a 281 series. Eric Wasserman, Evan Wasserman and Jimmy Brocklin all rolled well for the Bombers as each hit a better-than-240 two-game series.

The final match of the day between the Pirates and the Hurricane also resulted in a two-game series.

Standings stayed the same last week as the six teams in the Springfield Recreation Department Girl's Bowling League divided matches at the Springfield Bowl.

Lisa Brown led the league-leading Bluebirds to a win over the second place Four Strikes with a 222 series. In the second match the Four Strikes struck back behind the 243 series rolled by Nancy Morlino.

Michelle Widom and Dawn Zarrelli each had a 180 series as the Bowlettes posted a victory over the Wildcats. Anita Demeris came back with a 181 series to lead the Wildcats to their win.

Susan Silverstein rolled a 205 series in the Luckey Charis' win over the Knockouts. Bonnie Raskin totaled 225 and Alyse Cooper hit 217 in the Knockouts victory.

Rockets Hold Lead At Springfield Bowl

The Rockets held their one game lead over the Bullets last Friday in the Springfield Bowl Bowling League by splitting two matches with the third place Raiders in action at the Springfield Bowl.

League top bowler, Dave Epstein, paced the Raiders to their opening game victory as he rolled a high 310 series for the afternoon. This was the third successive week that he has topped 300 for a two game series.

The Rockets rebounded to take the second game behind the bowling of Ricky Williams and Sal Mucario. Rick topped the Rocket bowlers for the afternoon as he rolled a 267 series for two games.

The Bullets took second place by defeating the Jets in two games. Robert Shinder paced the Bullets' sweep as he rolled a 313 series. Mark Hollander with a 272 series was also effective for the Bullets. Danny Weiss was the high scorer for the Jets as he rolled a 233 series.

The Atoms and the Bombers split a two-game match. Jay Silverman topped all bowlers for the Atoms as he rolled a 281 series. Eric Wasserman, Evan Wasserman and Jimmy Brocklin all rolled well for the Bombers as each hit a better-than-240 two-game series.

The final match of the day between the Pirates and the Hurricane also resulted in a two-game series.

Problems Of Health Mar Record Of JVs

The 1964-65 junior varsity basketball team of Jonathan Dayton Regional High School played its final game last week against Linden in the opening round of the Union County Tournament. The 59-43 loss eliminated Dayton from the tournament and gave the Bulldogs pups a final 5-19 season record.

The JVs were hampered this season by an unusual amount of injury and sickness. After winning five of their first seven encounters, beating Clark, Rahway, Caldwell, Berkeley Heights, and Hillside, the Bulldogs could not win again.

Each member of the starting five was out at one time or another. In addition, high-scoring Joe Bucel missed several games with an injured ankle.

The leading scorer and playmaker for the JVs in the first half of the season was little Steve Hirschorn. Hirschorn's play was so outstanding, however, that he was brought up to the varsity about mid-way in the season. This change undoubtedly affected the JV record.

Dayton's JV basketball coach, Tom Santaguida felt that he had a strong team this year despite the unfavorable record. "The scoring on the team was extremely well balanced, with all boys hitting frequently. The man-to-man defense was also effective and well executed," Coach Santaguida said. "When the boys wanted to play and we were at full strength, there was no problem at all."

Dayton's early season victories came on the strength of big second periods. In each of the first three games against Clark, Rahway and Caldwell, the Bulldogs pulled away in the second quarter. Hirschorn scored 15 points in the first two games and 13 in the third.

The worst losses later in the season came at the hands of strong teams from Linden and Cranford. In the Jan. 12 match with Linden, the Bulldogs lost, 77-50, despite a 21-point scoring effort by Mike Lester.

Perhaps the most exciting game of the season was the Feb. 9 game at Scotch Plains. As the final buzzer neared, Dayton caught up to Scotch Plains to tie the score at 44-41. In the three-minute overtime period, the Plainmen outscored the Bulldogs, 8-4, to win the game.

The starting five of the JV basketball team consisted of Mike Lester, a high scorer and rebounder, Jim Belliveau, Joe Bucel, Brian Sheehan and Billy Murphy, who did a good job of replacing the promoted Hirschorn. Others who saw much action were Bob Garland and Fred Tille.

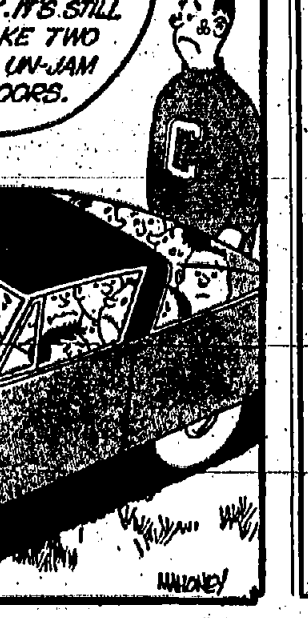

Coach Santaguida feels that this year's JV's will be a great asset to the 1965-66 varsity Bulldogs. "There is a strong feeling," he said, "that many JVs will be playing on the varsity next year."

Pacifico Top Man With Game Of 259

Dom Pacifico starred with 259-610 to lead first place Poli-Carpio Atlantic in a sweep over Cardinal Garden Center in the Springfield Municipal Bowling League last week at Springfield Bowl. Atlantic delivered in the second place, dropped a pair to Springfield Market.

Other top scorers were Ken Baldwin, 231; Tom Kennedy, 224; Jerry Colombino, 210; Robert Jones, 211; Ed Weiss, 211; Dave Benhoff, 210; Adam Wans, 204; Robert Nock, 202; Walt Schramm, 202; Robert Bevans, 200.

Gargalowitz Fund Increased To $9,500

Contributions to the Theresa Gargalowitz Fund—this week bring the fund's total to some $9,500, according to Phil Portnoy of Union, chairman of the fund.

Contributions include $200 from the Townley Woman's Club and $30 in honor of Sister Mildred Schempf of St. James Church, Union, from Marie and Lillian Arnold.

Theresa Gargalowitz is the 20-year-old Union college sophomore who was critically injured last April when the automobile she was driving skidded on trolley tracks in Morris ave. in Springfield and struck a bus. She has been in a coma at Overlook Hospital since the accident.

Theresa is entering her eleventh month in a coma, and all this time at the Summit hospital. According to a report last week, she has been moved from the intensive care section of the hospital to another area.

The fund was established to help her parents with hospital expenses. Contributions can be sent to: The Theresa Gargalowitz Fund, Box 4, Union.

Senior Girl Scouts Lead Talks During Recent Camping Trip

Two senior girl scouts, Nancy Armstrong and Barbara Baxter, both of Union, led a group of junior girl scouts from Springfield in a discussion of the girl scout promise at a recent weekend camping trip at Camp Lou Henry Hoover, Swartzwood Lake. They used guitar, ukulele and songs to highlight the session.

The two seniors have been selected to participate in the Idaho Girl Scout Roundup this summer, where they will meet with other girl scouts from all over the world. They will share experiences in discussing the promise with younger scouts and report back to the junior troops in the fall.

Junior scouts who participated in the event were Date Ames, Lisa Taleberger and Joan Derjowicz, patrol leaders, Jo Amies, Jody Cohen, Laurie Davis, Susan Denner, Rachel Gold, Randi Meyerson, Cynthia Patino, Barbara Salman, Carol Stahl and Nancy Weiss. Leaders are Mrs. Robert Cohen and Mrs. Arthur Weiss.

The girls divided into patrols to do their own shopping, packing, cooking, meal cleanup and cabin chores. They completed receipts, franchise and real estate requirements for health aide badges and presented plays and pantomimes for a Saturday night campfire. They will demonstrate bandaging skills learned at the outing at a "village fair"
