Traffic Problems Dominate Meeting

Skate Board Use Termed Perilous

By ARNER GOLD
Traffic and transportation problems were the major items of discussion at the Township Committee meeting Tuesday night at Town Hall, as well as the threat to FAIR QUESTION — Will he or won't he win a goldfish at the annual spring fair to be held by the PTA of the Edward Walton School Saturday from noon to 5 p.m. on the school grounds. David G. Learner is among the children of all ages who will pay their money and take their chances for prizes at a variety of booths. Other features will include rides, a show in the auditorium and food specialties.

Mayor William F. Koonz announced that the committee's decision on the variance application for an addition in Evergreen Lodge, which had been expected this week, would be delayed until the next meeting, on May 25. He explained that only two transcripts of the Board of Adjustment hearings had been provided and that all committee members had not yet had an opportunity to study and analyze the material. Committee member Robert G. Pliner reported that he had received a number of complaints about his earlier appeal to parents to limit use of skate boards by their children. The complaints, he said, had accused him of wanting to take recreational opportunities away from youngsters.

Skate boards are somewhat like miniature surfboards, mounted on roller skate wheels. Safety experts have declared that users can develop considerable speed, particularly going downhill, with very little control. A number of serious injuries have been reported in other communities. "Being something that is taking something away from our younger people," Pliner declared, "we are really doing something for them by saving them from broken bones." He read a letter opposing to use of skate boards, written by the Union County Safety Council.

Pliner strongly urged all parents to become aware of the hazards involved in use of the skate boards. He added, "We don't want to go so far as to ban their use, as is being proposed elsewhere, but that would have to be the next step if we feel that the danger continues." Enley R. Bennett, municipal traffic consultant, disclosed that the problem is being studied by traffic experts in Trenton. He commented that a common danger is created by youngsters darting out of driveways into the path of traffic, with very little control of their movements. Bennett added that, under present ordinances, skate board users are not pedestrians, nor are they considered operators of vehicles—and that this aspect of the problem, too, was being studied.

A later suggestion by Irv Ruten during the public discussion period, urged that several "dead-end-and-similar streets be set aside for skate board users drew official disapproval. Bennett stated, besides encouraging a dangerous practice in this instance, "play streets are not possible under present laws. Action by parents in the matter is the only logical solution."

TOWN MEETING

May 28 Target To Open Bridge

A May 28 target date has been set for the opening of the new Milltown rd bridge over the Rahway River at the Union-Springfield line. Mayor F. Edward Biertumpel of Union said this week that Freeholder Edward Tiller, chairman of the county board's roads and bridges committee, had been receptive to a suggestion that an opening ceremony be held May 28.

Construction crews in Union and Springfield and on the bridge are working to complete the project, which also involves a widened, straightened Milltown rd. The improvement will replace a narrow twisting road and a constricted span that reduced traffic to a snail's pace. The county appropriated $220,000 to build the bridge, while Union contributed more than $100,000 to purchase right-of-way property and construct a new road.

SEMINAR SERIES ON MASTER PLAN IN THIRD SESSION

The third in a series of informal "seminar" discussions of the proposed new Master Plan for Springfield will take place tonight at 8:30 at the Municipal Building. The Planning Board will hold the fourth and final session next Thursday evening. The Master Plan will receive its formal public hearing the evening of May 27 at the Florence Gaudineer School. A Planning Board spokesman said that the first two seminars provided primarily "constructive criticism" by township residents, as well as comment by individuals for whom the Master Plan posed specific problems.

New Library Unit Calls For Change In Proposed Plan

The Springfield New Library Committee declared this week that it has been assured by members of the Springfield Planning Board that every suggestion made at the public hearing on the Master Plan on May 27 at the Florence Gaudineer School will be carefully considered by them before final adoption of the plan. Under the law, the complete Master Plan need not be adopted at one time. "Parts of the Master Plan may be adopted independently of other parts," the New Library group's statement added. "Therefore, there is strong objection to any portion of the Master Plan, it is possible that the Planning Board will not adopt those portions which are sufficiently challenged by citizens."

The SNLC strongly urges Springfield's residents to read and digest the specific proposals for the Public Library as set forth in the Master Plan; particularly pages 50, 70 and 71. Copies of the Master Plan are available at the library. Mrs. Bernard Schwartz, co-chairman of the New Library group, stated, "The Springfield New Library Committee agrees with the Master Plan that the present library building is inadequate, but does not agree with its reasons for keeping the library on its present site."

"Many factors substantiating the SNLC position are in other portions of the Master Plan itself," she declared. "For example, the Master Plan states (page 40), 'Heavily traveled and often congested, Morris ave. has and will continue to be one of the major traffic arteries in Springfield—Although Interstate Route 78 will relieve some of the through traffic presently using Morris ave., it is anticipated (Continued on Page 4)

Legion Announces Youthful Delegates

Auxiliary Selects Juniors At Dayton

Cheryl Boyle and Leila Moore will serve as the 1965 Girls' State delegates representing Springfield's Continental Unit of the American Legion Auxiliary. They will leave on June 20 for a week's stay on the campus of Douglas College in New Brunswick, where they will join 400 similar delegates from all parts of New Jersey. Special lectures regarding government on all levels will be given by experts in their fields. Active participation by the young ladies in mock elections will take place, complete with campaigns of the "Nationalist" and "Federalist" parties incorporating the use of voting machines. The candidates will run for all municipal, county and state offices, including the "governorship."

The elected governor will join other Girls' State governors for a Girls' Nation meeting in Washington, D. C., in August. The entire program is under the sponsorship of the New Jersey Department of the American Legion Auxiliary. Miss Boyle is a member of the junior class at Jonathan Dayton Regional High School. (Continued on Page 28)

Post Names Hartz, Bender To Attend

Steven Hartz and James Bender will represent Springfield Continental Post, American Legion, at the N. J. Boys' State sessions June 27 to July 3 at Rutgers University. It was announced by William Weber, post commander, and Joseph Madello, Boys' State representative.

Boys' State is sponsored by the Legion each year to instruct the participants in the workings and problems of the state government. Boys are elected to serve as "governors," "members" of the state cabinet and legislature and in other similar posts.

Delegates attend from all parts of the state. Both Hartz and Bender were selected to participate by faculty members at Jonathan Dayton Regional High School, where both are students. Robert Moreines and Ira Rutkow were selected as alternates.

Hartz has been a member of the Dayton varsity football, basketball and baseball teams. He is member of the Varsity Club and of the Kiwanis Key Club. Hartz is also on the executive board of his class. He is the son of Mr. and Mrs. William Hartz. (Continued on Page 4)

Crossing Guard For Library; 1964 Circulation Tops 100,000

The Springfield Public Library this week announced that a crossing guard will be on duty at Morris ave. and Main st. every weekday afternoon from 3 to 5 to assist children going to and from the school grounds. Arrangements were made with the help of Police Chief Wilbur Selander.

The library had a total circulation of 102,824 books, magazines and pamphlets during 1964, according to the annual report made public this week. This is approximately 200 books for each Springfield resident. With an annual budget of $78,715, the library completed the year with a book collection of 49,353 volumes after discarding 763 worn out or obsolete books. Some 3,605 books were purchased.

The Springfield Library instituted the Gaylord Charging System last year, issuing new cards to 4,877 adult and juvenile borrowers. With others who have not yet picked up their new cards, the library now has 6,646 registrants. The new cards are effective for five years, rather than the former three-year period.

Days of Service Open 53 hours a week, the library last year provided 289 1/2 days of service to the community. Books were available for periods of seven, 14 and 28 days.

and pamphlets and magazines for one-week periods. Six classes visited the library from the local schools, and 88 book talks were given at the schools in connection with the summer reading club. The club enrolled a total of 450 youngsters, the report added.

There were 50 sessions of the story hour for four-year-olds, with a total attendance of more than 600 pre-schoolers. The great books discussion unit developed into an adult book discussion group, with 12 meetings during the year. This group has expanded its scope to include contemporary books and authors.

The library subscribed to six newspapers and 132 magazines. Microfilms were purchased of the New York Times for the Civil War years and for 1955, 1956 and 1964. Now available for students are 350 college catalogs and 650 career monographs.

Another new service instituted in 1964 was provided by the purchase of a dry photocopier. This permits reproductions of printed material and pictures. (Continued on Page 2)

POST OFFICE UNIT NEEDS NEW SPOT IN BUSINESS AREA

Springfield Postmaster A. V. Del Vecchio this week announced that he is again seeking bids for the conduct of Contract Station No. One of the Springfield post office. Joseph Perillo, present clerk in charge of this postal unit, has advised the postmaster that pressure of his taxi business prevents his proper conduct of the post office. Del Vecchio said the contract station will discontinue operation at its present location on Tuesday.

The postmaster stated the desired location of the contract station is in the business section in the vicinity of Morris and Mountain avenues. The contractor will have to provide approximately 150 square feet of space in his own business establishment.

Aid Unit Reviews Service Record: 6,600 Calls Made

The Springfield First Aid Squad has answered more than 6,600 calls since it was organized in 1949. A brief summary of the squad's activities over the past 16 years was issued this week, in conjunction with the current membership drive. When it began its operations in 1949, the First Aid Squad was given a $6,000 ambulance, which had been purchased by the township to be operated by the Police Department.

Of the 6,600 calls made since then, some 4,000 were emergency cases. The remainder were largely transportation assignments, which would have been impossible without the help of the First Aid Squad. In the first three months of this year, the report continued, the First Aid Squad has responded to 148 calls, of which 70 were emergencies. Before the squad was organized, the police ambulances functioned primarily to transport to Quaker Hospital, Summit, victims of traffic and other accidents within the township.

Now, the support by the people of Springfield has enabled the squad not only to answer calls in a wide variety of categories, but also to be a contributing member of the N. J. State First Aid Council.

With headquarters on N. 11th st., across from the Municipal Building, the squad operates two Cadillac ambulances. One is a 1964 model. The other, purchased in 1960, is scheduled to be replaced soon by a 1965 model.

Both rigs, the First Aid Squad statement added, "are supplied and equipped with the most modern equipment available. All new rescue devices come on the market and are proven effective, they soon appear in Springfield's ambulances." There were 11 charter members. (Continued on Page 2)

Gleitsmann To Head Committee On Methodists' Building Needs

At the annual meeting and quarterly conference last week of the Springfield Emmanuel Methodist Church, Main St. at Academy St., Springfield, Joseph Gleitsmann was elected chairman of a 19-member building committee.

It will study the worship facilities and fellowship facilities of the congregation, and secure the services of an architect to draw plans for an addition to the present structure.

The committee will consist of Emanuel Methodist Church, the nine church trustees who were elected at the annual meeting plus Gleitsmann, Audrey Young, John Brunny, Howard Masou, Mrs. Grandia Rose, Emanuel Schreiner, Mrs. Eleanor Keller and a representative of the Young Adult Fellowship.

Presiding at the annual meeting was the Rev. Harry W. Goswami, superintendent of the Southern District of the Methodist Church.

Elected as trustees of the congregation, which is the result of a merger between the Springfield Methodist Church and the Emanuel Methodist Church, were 1964 Alfred Bowman Sr., Waldemar Larsen and 1965 Emanuel Schreiner, 1967, Engle Young, John Brunny, Howard Masou, Mrs. Grandia Rose, Emanuel Schreiner, Mrs. Eleanor Keller, Friedrich Kleine.

Building Survey

As part of its planning for the future, the library board engaged Viola R. Maehl, library consultant and director of the Linden Public Library, to prepare a survey of the adequacy of the present building and the suitability of its location.

Gifts to the library last year included six subscriptions to periodicals, two book selections for the children's room and a contribution to the special gift fund. The annual contribution of the Springfield Women's Club added the purchase of the 1962 New York Times on microfilm, and there were a number of anonymous gifts of books and magazines.

Board members at Robert W. Halsey, president; Milton Kappeler, a vice-president; Mrs. Winifred D. Yuckman, secretary; Mrs. Anita M. Epstein, treasurer; George W. Glenn; Mayor William F. Koontz; John A. Berwick, superintendent of schools; and Donald B. Palmer, curator.

Mrs. Helen C. Francis, director, heads a staff of 15 professional and clerical workers.

LEADER PROFILE

BEN DENMAN

Ben Denman has walked nearly 200,000 miles in Springfield, and he still hasn't gotten out of town. Actually, Denman now lives in Mountainside, at 1247 Poplar ave., but only because state highway men from Trenton took his home at 75 Bryant ave. for Rt. 78.

He is still doing all his walking in Springfield, however. The first letter carrier assigned to duty in the township when the Post Office began home delivery on May 1, 1940, Denman is still bringing letters to many of the same families, in the same neighborhood.

Figuring on a basis of 25 miles a day, 250 days a year, for 25 years, Denman has covered 193,550 miles, up one side of the street and back down the other, up steps and down, with no more than four or five days out because of bad weather.

He comments that he uses three or four pairs of shoes a year. The big difference is that shoes now cost him some $15 a pair. A quarter-century ago, the price was $5 a pair. On the other hand, Denman adds, he now gets a yearly clothing allowance of $100, which is exactly $100 more than mailmen got in 1940.

DENMAN HAS two more years to go until he will have completed 30 years with the postal service and will be eligible to retire. By then, he should be well over the 200,000-mile mark, but the final miles will roll by easily as the first ones did.

"I really do love the work," the dean of Springfield deliverers stresses. "This is one job that is never monotonous. I know just about everyone on my route, but I don't see the same people every day. There is always someone else to talk to."

When he first shouldered his bag, Denman served some 600 stops, from the main business area east to the Union line along Morris ave. With a heavier volume of mail, Denman now has only 348 deliveries, but still in the same basic area.

He covers the business zone and then east to Colonial ter., on the south side of Morris ave., including Melzel, Linden and S. Maple avenues.

Of his 348 stops, Denman estimates, perhaps 160 are families whose letters he has brought for all 25 years. "There are grown men and women," he says, "who tell me that I'm the only mailman they have ever known."

"SOME OF THEM I first knew as babies. I watched them grow up, and now they have children of their own."

The reduction in the number of stops, he explains, is largely due to the great volume of "junk mail" now delivered. "When my first route was assigned," Denman recalls, "it was figured on a basis of 85 percent stops each day. Now I hardly ever skip anyone, with the circulars and advertising mail. Much of it is addressed simply to 'occupant,' and not even by name."

He goes on to say that the "greatest thing the Post Office ever did for the mailmen" was the introduction of carts to hold the mail several years ago.

"I think this change added 10 years to my life," Denman comments. "Now I can take 75 or 80 pounds at a time without any trouble, and all the weight is on the sidewalk."

"I used to carry about 40 pounds, and it was all on my back. It felt a great deal heavier, too, when I delivered on a street like S. Maple — up the steps to the front door and then down the steps again, over and over."

WITH THE CART, he can now handle his route with five loads a day. Denman leaves the Post Office with a full cart each morning, and a truck drops off additional mail at four relay stops along the way.

"There is a total of at least 150 pounds to deliver on the average day," the veteran letter carrier estimated. "If I had to carry it on my back, I would certainly need more relay stations. This way, we have been able to eliminate the old porch relays, where we had to leave bundles on someone's front stoop to be picked up."

Denman states that he enjoys the outdoors, and that he rarely minds the weather. "I try to choose," he adds, "a guess I prefer the summer time. I'm a warm weather sort of guy. But I don't mind the winter, either. The only difference is that there are so many more clothes to take off at the end of the day. One other thing is that it gets dark so much earlier in the winter."

His experience qualifies Denman as an expert on the reading habits of people in his part of Springfield. "My biggest single item," he discloses, "is the Reader's Digest. Once a month, I have 130 Digests to deliver."

"ANOTHER POPULAR item is the Springfield Leader. Each week, I have a

Somerest Bus
Mayor Koonz read a letter from a spokesman for Somerest Bus Lines, disclosing an application to reduce service on the 141 line from Springfield to Newark.

Somerest plans to reduce service on Sundays and all evenings from buses every 30 minutes to buses once an hour, according to the letter, from F. Thomas Masson of Newark Transportation consultant. He said the change was made necessary by increased labor costs. The five Township Committees voted unanimously to oppose the application and to transmit their opposition to the state Public Utility Commission, Washington Ave.

Jack Berko of Washington ave. in a letter and in person, expressed objections to traffic hazards and noises created by cars coming out of Washington ave. and cutting into the stream of rapid traffic going east on Morris ave.

He urged that Washington ave. be made a one way street, running south from Morris ave. In this way, drivers intending to turn right in Morris ave. would have to use Battle Hill ave. where there is a traffic light.

Bennett stated that this problem was worsened when the Battle Hill light was installed several years ago, but that it was believed to be the least of many evils. He noted that there has been only one accident at the corner this year, and that involved a car turning left from Morris ave. into Washington.

"If we make Washington ave. one way," Bennett said, "many residents would have to go out to Morris ave. to get to their homes on Washington ave. While I have no objections to doing whatever the residents want, any plan to increase traffic on Morris ave. will create additional problems."

To Meet Residents
Planner, as Police Commissioner, said he will meet to discuss the problem with all interested residents of Washington ave. on May 25, before the Township Committee meeting that evening. He said that all residents will be notified, and that Police Chief Wilbur C. Selander will be instructed to get a traffic count on the area under discussion.

In another comment on traffic problems, Henry S. Wright asked what could be done about hazards at the juncture of Morris and Millburn aves. Bennett agreed that the area was a major trouble spot, "with a thick file in my records dealing with just this one problem."

He added, "No real solution to the problem is possible under present conditions. There is just too much traffic coming in from too many directions."

Another comment from the floor came from Irving Rothenberg of 130 Irish St. He complained about golfers endangering children and property by driving golf balls on Irwin Playground, adjoining his home. He also questioned the use of "hard baseballs" away from the regular diamond on the playground, as well as the practice of letting dogs run loose on the playground.

Action Promised
Mayor Koonz assured him that the police and Recreation Department would act to reduce the dangers. He particularly thanked Rothenberg for taking the trouble to bring the problems to the attention of the Township Committee.

In other business, the committee adopted an amendment to the ordinance on control of air conditioners: It extends the ordinance to cover air cooled units, as well as the older water cooled devices, and controls the placement of air conditioners to avoid excessive noises. The measure applies to units larger than two tons.

Planner read a letter from Police Chief Selander commending the work of Detective Sgt. Leslie Bell, Det. Thomas Kennedy and Sgt. Delno Tompkins in solving a series of 14 burglaries and other acts committed by a group of juveniles, and in apprehending a suspect for the hold-up of the 7-11 Market on Morris ave.

TAX COLLECTOR
I must reply to some of the insinuations in the Leader Profile dated May 6 of Mrs. (John) Marie Smith, Democratic candidate for tax collector.

In order for Mrs. Smith to be acceptable for the office of tax collector, she would have to return to school for many years, and also take courses in banking, finance and mortgages which I have had in the past. Or does Mrs. Smith intend to go to school after she may take office and then learn about the job?

Never in the 27 years I have lived in Springfield has there been a student tax collector, and I hope there never will be one and this also applies to my Republican opponent, John Grifo, as well. If Mrs. Smith thinks she can perpetrate this scheme on the voters of Springfield, then she is greatly mistaken.

Her statement that she is the only one working the book-keeping machine is at it should be kept in mind. Mrs. Smith is not the only one getting paid for, and so far qualified to do and not much else, so far as the tax collector's job is concerned.

Some of the other work she performs is under my instruction and not by any initiative of her own. Granted, I do not type, but again this is part of her job, not mine. Mrs. Smith is still a general office worker, but happens to be doing this work in the tax collector's office.

I wish further to state that

Urge Change

that nature traffic volume will continue to be high.

"Also, the Master Plan states on Page 51, the Morris ave.-Main St. intersection was one of the three intersections which accounted for 49 per cent of all accidents on Morris ave. in 1962.

"The traffic hazard is but one of the objections to the Springfield New Library Committee has to the present library site. Further and more thorough examination of the Master Plan will corroborate the SNLC position in asking for a new library site."

"Attendance at the May 27 hearing is important to all residents interested in a well planned community. An alert and interested citizenry can supervise and promote a final plan Springfield can be proud of."

Company Names Superintendent

The Jersey Central Power and Light Company, New Jersey Power and Light Company, Morristown, this week announced the promotion of Gordon P. Mundrango, Jr. to the post of superintendent of operations.

In the mid-west, Mundrango will be responsible for transmission and distribution, construction and operation, right-of-way acquisition and meters and stores equipment.

A native of Rahway, Mundrango is an engineering graduate of the University of Kentucky. He has been with the power and light firm since 1947.

Vecchio reported on a study of ordinances in other communities to reduce the burning of leaves and other materials as adding to air pollution and increasing discomfort for people with asthma and allergy problems. The committee directed the township attorney to draw up an ordinance of this type for Springfield.

Mrs. Smith is definitely not capable of handling the complex operations of a tax office. Most of her responsibilities in operating the Burroughs machine and taking tax payments, as I am also required to do. Her statement that she performs all the duties of a tax collector now is absolutely untrue.

Mention is made by her that other tax offices have some woman tax collectors. This is so, but let me point out that these women have superior backgrounds, education and training and a great deal more experience.

Mrs. Smith has had no part in the present system of effective tax collections which I installed in 1962 and which has resulted in my collecting over several hundred thousand dollars in delinquent taxes since that time. This is a record I am proud of.

This whole situation brings to mind something which Jimmy Durante once said: "Everybody wants to get into the act."

BALLOT SLOGANS
After approximately eight letters and 10 days from April 24 to May 3, the Springfield Township Committee Republican candidate slogans are finally set to go for the June 1 primary election sample ballot mailing.

Three different versions were fought for after "Regular Republican" was abandoned in favor of "Regular Organized Candidates."

I was forced into using "Republican Regular" by my opponents. When they played "switch" in a secret way over the weekend, I asked for "Republican Organization Candidates," the same as the "freemasons," to be consistent. When the letter followed from the township April 28 informing me I could not have it because "this are our candidates who have already requested the use of this slogan," I was forced into using "investigate Springfield's so-called Republican rouser clique" because of the legal technicalities used against me, again by the town attorney.

When I found there had been a mistake and that "Republican Organization Candidates" was actually not in use, I applied to Mrs. Worthington on May 3 and got it continued by her letter.

A Garland of roses to Mrs. Worthington for saving the taxpayers more legal expense by handling the May 3 affair on her own. And thanks to Catherine Pearson in the county clerk's office in Elizabeth and County Prosecutor Leo Kaplowitz for telling me where to go and exactly how to handle this very complex sequence of events.

View From The State House

By GOV. RICHARD J. HUGHES

I am sure that the people of New Jersey shared my great disappointment on learning recently that the Assembly Excise Committee of the New York Legislature had voted unanimously to shelve legislation to raise the minimum drinking age to 21.

Immediately upon hearing of this action, I reminded the Democratic leadership of the New York Legislature of its solemn platform pledge to raise the drinking age "as part of our recognition of community responsibility toward youth." I also informed the legislative leaders that I will continue to fight to affect the change for the safety of our citizens.

It has been most encouraging to receive an overwhelming number of letters in support of my position with regard to this problem. In all honesty, however, I must admit that there have been some citizens — a number of them from New York State — who have criticized this stand. Most of their arguments have been to the effect that this is really none of my business and such matters as teen-drinking are to be resolved in the home.

Let me make it clear at this point that my sole concern at this time is the public safety of our citizens; and this, indeed, is my business. I have stated time and again that the paramount question here is not the cultural, social or psychological aspects of teenage drinking but the safety factors of teenage drinking as they affect the people of our State.

In personal presentation before the New York Legislature and the Governor himself I have repeated time and again these statistics which prove that young people under 21 too often drive to New York to purchase alcoholic beverages and far too often are involved in fatal accidents on our highways as they return home. These tragedies, involving

Mrs. Hardgrove Leads Campaign

Mrs. Robert D. Hardgrove of 125 Salter st., Springfield, has been named Springfield coordinator for the campaign of Mrs. Barbara E. Claman of Westfield, for election to the Republican State Committee in the June 1 primary election. Mrs. Claman is the choice of the GOE screening committee to represent Union County as state committeewoman.

Mrs. Claman, former municipal chairman of the Westfield Town Republican Committee and current delegate, is seeking her first term as a member of the Republican State Committee.

Motorist Admits Careless Driving

Raymond O'Connor, 34, of Middletown was fined a total of $65 in Springfield Municipal Court Monday night after pleading guilty before Magistrate Max Sherman to charges of failure to have his vehicle inspected and careless driving. The charges against O'Connor arose out of an accident April 22 in which John Brown, 42, of Newark was struck as he crossed the westbound lane of Rt. 23, near Stern ave., Springfield. Brown, who sustained fractures of both legs and lacerations of both arms, is recovering in Overlook Hospital, Summit.

Report From Trenton

By State Senator Nelson F. Stusler (R-N.J.)

Now that the Joint Appropriations Committee has completed its labors and the Legislature is working toward adjournment, money, taxes and cost of government are still the biggest issues in our state.

While the Committee did everything in its power to control the rising cost of government in New Jersey, its failure to have professional assistance in the examination of the budget still is a glaring deficiency. As far as all the suggested tax bases are concerned, the obvious answer to the fiscal problem is still a tax convention which would be the only common sense way to draw revenue producing programs consistent with actual needs.

We have to give New Jersey its first long-range fiscal plan in 300 years of history and the convention would clean the air of all present tax and bond proposals based on partisan politics. The easiest answer is to say we don't need any more money but, whether or not it is done by taxes or by bond issues, we do need more money. The convention which I have suggested time and time again could examine the full tax structure of our state, analyze the operations and services of the legally constituted state departments and agencies, and study all of the state's operating costs. The convention delegates could also examine long-range capital programs. Ultimately, the convention would make recommendations to the Legislature on tax levies, if any are necessary, and the delegates would also be expected to justify their recommendations with schedules of the state's future financial needs.

That our population in the next ten years will grow at a fantastic rate is without question and these needs must take into consideration the population. The recommendations of a tax convention would put an end to crazy quilt, patch-quilt tax and bond schemes.

All the sales taxes, income taxes and bond issues, being mentioned today, miserably to take into consideration any long-range planning. At best they would only patch up the financial holes of today while tomorrow, when more holes appear, the only possible solution would be more and bigger patches, and eventually we would need patches for the patches.

A tax convention, truly non-partisan, would have the advance support of the people of this state and would be able to weave a strong financial fabric that would give New Jersey taxpayers years of steady and durable service and cure the anxiety of the individual and corporate taxpayers as to their state.

Walton PTA Fair To Offer Games, Chamber Music

The fifth annual spring fair sponsored by the Edward Walton Parent-Teacher Association will be held on Saturday from 11:30 a.m. to 4 p.m. on the school grounds, 601 Mountain ave.

Mrs. Alan Ravin, finance chairman, has announced that preparations have been completed to make this "one of the gayest events of the school season."

'THEN EVERYTHING ALL WENT BLACK'

With the Walton PTA Fair scheduled for Saturday at the Edward Walton School, the sad story is recalled of a brief indisposition at the fair several years ago.

When revived, she declared, "I had cotton candy, two bags of popcorn, four hot dogs and five bottles of soda — and then everything all went black."

Teenagers Given Top Grades In Practical Knowledge

By BEA SMITH

Who says teenagers are lazy gamblers, self-centered...

Better bite your tongue and think twice before approaching Mrs. William Lorimer with this accusation.

Mrs. Lorimer is only the president of Springfield Y.E.S. (Youth Employment Service), as if anyone should know the attitudes and aptitudes of high school and college teenagers, she's the one.

Just ask her... and she'll tell you, as she told this reporter the other day in her second-floor office in Town Hall, that teenagers are anything but lazy.

"And YES gives them every opportunity, and more than 99 percent have proved that we haven't been wrong.

"THERE ARE KIDS—whose families are in dire need of money, and by getting part-time jobs after school and on Saturdays, the kids manage to...

help provide some of the support.

"We have one boy who is deaf and one who is slightly mentally retarded. We got them jobs, and they're doing very well.

Mrs. Lorimer explained that the YES office has had about a half-dozen "borderline" cases. But the lady with the friendly smile and soft voice refused to acknowledge their...

"They were pretty sad sacks when they came to me," Mrs. Lorimer muses. "I spent two hours with each of these kids...

"I REMEMBER one Sunday morning at eight, I got a call for an immediate baby sitter. Seems the folks wanted to go to church. They got their baby sitter."

Mrs. Lorimer explains that "we try to accommodate employers as much as possible."

The YES office is so efficiently categorized and so smoothly run — from posting book-to-log book, to job numbers, to card files, to employers' card files, boys' card files, and girls' card files, lists of possible jobs (a real variety) — that there can be no misjudgment on the part of employers or employees.

"We interview each kid separately. We give them a list, and they usually select a job from it. Sometimes, when they can't make up their minds, we find out what their hobbies are.

"For example we had one girl who was crazy about dogs. So one day we received a call from a woman who had a poodle and who was going on vacation for three weeks. The girl took the poodle home.

Mrs. Lorimer explains that "there's been a big boom in BUSINESSES" and even with the expert help of Mrs. Audrey Garner, who is in charge of volunteers (she sets up class for all new volunteers, goes through the whole routine, assigning new girls with the older girls, explaining applications, interviews, showing them the log, the to-date file, teaching them how questions are to be answered), my eyes are still crossed from cross-files, master-files, files, files, files.

YES, which opened its office at the beginning of the year, has had immediate success. "I took me a week to break the town down to pieces," Mrs. Lorimer says. "What I mean is that a lot of the kids signed up for snow-shoveling jobs, and I placed these kids' names down by sections, no matter what part of Springfield was involved, we had the kids out in five minutes. That's what we called 'instant shoveling'."

"I REMEMBER one Sunday morning at eight, I got a call for an immediate baby sitter. Seems the folks wanted to go to church. They got their baby sitter."

Mrs. Lorimer explains that "we try to accommodate employers as much as possible."

for that period of time — and the dog had a real vacation for himself. When his owner took him back home, he refused to eat. The girl had to come over once or twice during that first week to coax him."

Mrs. Lorimer points out that she has separate files for high school and college students. "If the kids are under 18, they have to have a special card filled out and signed by their parents."

"OUR COLLEGE GIRLS do clerical work, counseling at the swim pool, tutor in English and Spanish, baby-sit, among dozens of other jobs. Our college boys are lab assistants, gas station helpers, plumbers' helpers, woodworkers' helpers all terrific!

"We have high school kids who can type (one girl has had several awards for her typing), another girl does medical typing, she's going to be a medical secretary, one kid is a prize baby-sitter. Oh, by the way, we have had no complaints on baby-sitters."

"One woman had an eight-year-old boy, who was getting Fs in math throughout the entire term. We sent one of our boys out, tutored the 'eight-year-old' for two weeks, and the boy got an A on his next math test. (P.S. Our boy lost his job). Some of the boys play guitars and give music lessons."

"Among the other jobs our boys have filled," Mrs. Lorimer says, "were those for baby-sitters, carpenters, cashiers, car washes, companions, dental assistants, draftsmen, musical entertainers, factory and farm workers, florist helpers, furniture finishers, lab assistants, landscaping and yard work, hand-letterers, mechanics, movers, painters, photographers, print shop assistants, restaurant helpers, sports tutors (tennis, swimming, etc.), window washers and miscellaneous."

"And the girls — animal care, art, beautician helpers, camp counselors, cooking, sewing, ironing, hospital work, mothers' helpers, party organizers, receptionists, all sorts of secretarial work, tutoring... I guess we can go on and on."

Mrs. Lorimer explained that there will be a number of full-time summer jobs. "We've already placed five kids in these jobs. And there'll be plenty more to come. In fact, we've gotten some winter full-time jobs for drop-outs, and then we encouraged them to return to school."

busy schedule. On Tuesday, delegates, headed by Mrs. Hazel Hardgrove, attended the New Jersey Welfare Federation of Youth Employment Services, "state-wide" at the Vocational School in Elizabeth, where Vice-President Humphrey was scheduled to be guest speaker.

And on Saturday, Mrs. Lorimer, Mrs. Hardgrove, Claire Falkin, volunteer chairman; Paul Roman, co-chairman; Jack Paul, board of directors member and member of the fund-raising committee; and Del Tompkins, guidance committee, are all going to a special conference at Union Junior College, to participate in six workshops and to "show off."

YES plans include "a big benefit in the fall, so that we can be self-sustaining," Mrs. Lorimer says enthusiastically.

"We're going to use our own talented kids... and we have many. I'm going to sit down with these kids and have them answer such questions as 'What, as far as entertainment, are you interested in?' 'What kind of entertainment do you think will appeal to both teenagers and adults?' Then the kids will set up their own program. Actually, this will be their show. We'll supervise, but they'll run the whole benefit."

"This," Mrs. Lorimer says, "is what we consider youth participation in YES."

The YES office takes pride in its success with more than 350 kids, particularly since the office has such a limited staff. "The office is open daily from 2:30 to 4:30 p.m.," Mrs. Lorimer says.

Hospital Gives Cap To Springfield Girl

Miss Carole Gromek, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Anthony Gromek of 62 Henshaw ave., Springfield, was among the members of the Freshman Class at the Clara Maass Memorial Hospital—School of Nursing, Belleville, N. J., who were honored at the capping services this week.

The hospital's School of Nursing currently has 93 students who, upon graduation, will have completed three years of study in the fundamentals of modern nursing.

The capping ceremonies were held at St. Luke's Episcopal Church, Montclair, Friday, Miss Evelyn H. Hamilton, Director of the School of Nursing, presented caps to 32 students.

"Denman has been able to avoid at least one traditional letter carrier's problem for many years. 'I was bitten by dogs once a year for the first five years on the job,' he recalls. 'Since then, however, I have never had any trouble. I know all the dogs on the route, and they know me — and we never have any trouble.'"

In the same neighborhood for so long, Denman knows all his people by heart. He states, "In this job, you have to know everybody. A clerk who handles outgoing mail looks only at the bottom line of an address, to see what town is listed."

"A clerk working on incoming mail looks only at the second line, to see what route it goes to. A letter carrier, if he knows his job, looks at the first line, the name. Street numbers are very often wrong, and then you have to go by the name."

"In the Towne-House apartments, for example, we have two families with the same last name. In this case, I have to know every member of each family, so the right one gets the right letters."

A NATIVE of Millburn, Denman is a graduate of Millburn High School. He was a half-back for the high school football team and that, he feels, gave him a great advantage as a letter carrier. "I have never had any trouble with my feet or legs in 25 years," he explains. "Anyone with foot trouble should never deliver mail. I've been lucky."

He worked as a carpenter from 1926 to 1931, "when the Depression made it just about impossible to make a living doing carpentry." Denman started as a substitute clerk in the Short Hills Post Office in 1931, at a salary of 65 cents per hour.

He came to work in Springfield in 1937, as a substitute in the old Post Office at 273 Morris ave., which was torn down for Rt. 78. Then, just 25 years ago, he was one of the first two letter carriers in the township.

"We served just the part of town along Morris ave.," Denman recalls. The southern and western end of town got mail through RFD, from the Westfield Post Office. All the other people had to pick up their mail at the Post Office."

THE OTHER letter carrier who started with Denman was Jimmy Abel. He went in in training, some of your young grandmothers who have recently stepped out of retirement.

"We're also planning something else that we think will appeal to our volunteers and our teenagers. Even though it'll be slower in the summer in our office — some of our college kids have obtained jobs for pool and town work — we're thinking of giving our girls here a break — and still not let the town down. We're thinking of setting up an office in August at the pool."

"Most of our kids belong to the pool anyway. It should work out nicely."

FIRST COUNTY TO BENEFIT

Students At UJC Will Get College Tuition Aid In Fall

Union County will be the first county in New Jersey to benefit from the County College legislation adopted in May, 1962, it was reported this week by former Assemblyman

James M. McGowan and former Assistant Prosecutor
Richard P. Muscatello, co-chairman of the Union County College Opportunity Committee.

This results from the adoption of a resolution on April 29 by the Union County Board of Chosen Freeholders, appropriating $50,000 for a tuition aid plan for Union County students attending Union Junior College in Cranford on a fulltime basis, they said.

"This action by the Union County freeholders is a milstone in the higher educational history of New Jersey. It marks the start of a community college system for our state like those already underway in 30 other states throughout the nation. It's also significant that New Jersey has chosen to develop an integrated community college plan, involving both existing, accredited, non-denominational two-year colleges and new public colleges in areas which do not have junior "colleges" McGowan said.

New Room Slated At Palsy Center For Recreation

The Women's Society for Cerebral Palsy of Union County is holding its dedication of an additional therapy and recreation room on May 17 at the Union County Cerebral Palsy Center, 216 Holly St., Cranford. The society has been in existence only 18 months. In that time it has had two card parties, a variety show, several theater parties and published an ad journal.

These and other activities were instituted to raise the $5,000 needed to complete the room, which is the first major project. Palsy league officers invited to attend the dedication are: Julius R. Pollatschek, president; Dr. Leon C. Grossman, first vice-president; Mrs. Jerome Miller, second vice-president; Edgar F. Gray, recording secretary; Robert F. Obrock, corresponding secretary; and Robert P. Ostertag, treasurer.

Commentary on a recent National Editorial Association Study Mission Around South America

By TRUDINA HOWARD

11th of a Series

THE TOURISTS PARAGUAY The Paraguayan Navy may only have two torpedoes to its name...

Poor isolated Paraguay is land-locked by Brazil, Bolivia and Argentina and the closest it comes to the ocean is about 350 miles...

Paraguay itself is situated in about the center of the long, narrow part of South America. It is divided from north to south by the Paraguay River...

It was hoped for a while that oil would make up for the gracefulness of the Chaco and give it some economic charm...

The Chaco has one redeeming feature however. It has forests of quebracho wood. This is a wood that is so durable and so indestructible...

we lived, were consequently refreshingly welcome, but the rambling Hotel Grand where we went to eat one evening...

GOING THROUGH customs in Paraguay, however, was a pure joy. Being a large group we were always somewhat "spoken for"...

The secret was that the passports and papers were collected Accelerated classes in insurance practice will begin May 25...

SCENES OF PARAGUAY, "The land-of-lace and legend," with center photograph showing the native lace, called manduti. The legend has it that a young girl, spinning her prospective bridegroom dead in the forest...

and the officials did them while we weren't there. Or was it all so smooth because the U.S. Ambassador, William E. Snow, was at the plane to greet us...

We saw it all first hand, but not our cameras. One afternoon there was a briefing at the embassy...

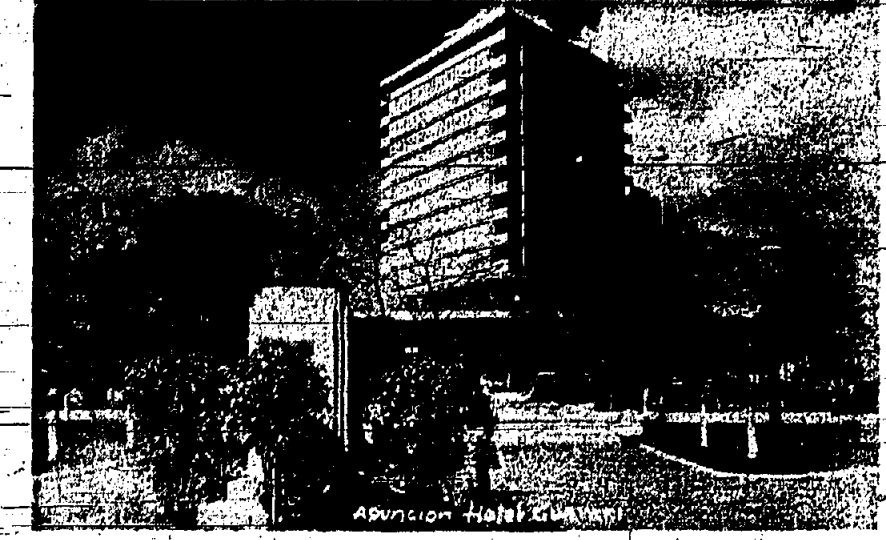

SHOPPING IS a friendly thing in Asuncion, even if you do not know what you are saying. The Spanish language is comparatively easy to pick up...

Paraguay is known as the "land of lace and legend" and while I know little of the legends, the lace is hand-made and exquisite...

THE PIE-SHAPED HOTEL GUARANI, the most modern and the tallest building in Asuncion, the capital of Paraguay. Built by the government, it has a swimming pool on the second floor...

President Of Good Deal Stores Named State's Grocer Of Year

Frank Pagano, president of the New Jersey Food Merchants Association, this week announced the award to Sam Aidekman, as the "Grocer of the Year..."

later he owned two stores, the second in Union, with sales of about $2,000,000 yearly. And, the following year he opened his first large, modern supermarket...

Aidekman was one of the founders of Wakefern Corp. and Shop-Rite Supermarkets. He is now a member of the executive committee of Staff Supermarket Associates...

BIG BARGAIN

how much IS a bargain?

SAM AIDEKMAN (Good Deal's President) Says:

A bargain means different things to many people. So called "free" give-aways, trading stamps, games, gimmicks, and other "come-ons" seem like bargains on the surface, but we all know who pays for them... YOU, the shopper. The truth of the bargains is in the savings, and it's the TOTAL you save that counts! You won't find any games, gimmicks, or trading stamps at GOOD DEAL, but you will find SUPER DISCOUNT SAVINGS... savings on everything you buy. Shop ANY day... Save EVERY day! Doesn't it pay to lower your TOTAL food costs by shopping at MONEY-SAVING GOOD DEAL?

Save $2 to $10 every time you shop at Good Deal!

BLONDE TODAY—REDHEAD TOMORROW

M.V. Won't Ask Hair Color

Hairstyling identification is disappearing from New Jersey drivers' licenses. Motorists will be asked to answer the question, does she or doesn't she? According to Miss June Strelecki, New Jersey's first woman Motor Vehicle Director, women change their haircoloring too often for the color designation to be on the driver's licenses.

New Jersey is the sixth state to drop the question of haircoloring from drivers' license forms, recognizing that today's brunette is tomorrow's redhead—and possibly next month's blonde. A haircoloring and cosmetics firm has been waging a national campaign to eliminate the requirement that "color of hair" be listed on drivers' licenses.

This is done in view of the fact that almost half of American women now color their hair. A spokesman for one State Motor Vehicle Department declared, "so many women now color their hair it would be unreasonable to have them notify the department every time." In another state, a department spokesman said, "if we had to record the changes of haircoloring of all the women in our state, we couldn't keep up with the paper work."

Citation Awarded To Public Service

Public Service Electric and Gas Co. was presented the "Industrial Professional Development Award" last week at the annual awards dinner of the New Jersey Society of Professional Engineers at the Deauville Hotel, Atlantic City.

Edwin H. Snyder, vice-president in charge of electric operation, accepted the citation on behalf of the company. It was presented by Herbert A. Niedhammer, president of the society. The award was given Public Service Electric and Gas Co. "in recognition of their advancement and improvements in the field of public utilities through the utilization of professional engineers and their encouragement of education and registration in accordance with established professional standards," said a spokesman.

Knights To Attend State Convention

Grand Knight Paul Stier of Irvington, and Grand Knight William Lawrence of Union will represent Bishop Wiegner Council 1856 of Irvington and Maplewood at the annual convention of the New Jersey State Council, Knights of Columbus, this weekend at the Traymore Hotel, Atlantic City.

The two alternates are Past Grand Knight John Fairacre and Deputy Grand Knight Joseph Schelek, both of Irvington.

Employment Unit Sets Conference

The second annual spring workshop conference of the New Jersey Association of Youth Employment Services, Inc., will be held Saturday from 9:30 a.m. to 3 p.m. at Union Junior College, Crapford.

Among the 34 groups represented at the conference will be units from Roselle and Roselle Park. The first Y.E.S. unit in New Jersey was organized in Princeton in 1961. The morning session of the conference will be devoted to various workshop discussions. Following this session, there will be a luncheon and business meeting, during which new officers will be elected. The afternoon session will include a summary of workshop findings.

Work Done For The Trade

For the Birds

By FARRIS S. SWACKHAMER
Instructor, Union Junior College Institute, Cranford, N. J.

Near the headwaters of the Flambeau River in northern Wisconsin stood a tall pine holding in its topmost branches, a helter-skelter mass of sticks put together by a pair of eagles many years before. In the spring of 1801, Chief Sky, a Chippewa Indian, glanced up as he passed by and spotted a fledgling. Not wishing to risk its parents' wrath, he decided not to climb up for a closer look. But the possibility of making a few dollars by selling the young one persisted in his mind and he decided to cut the tree down. His strategy succeeded and he became the owner of one immature, irritable bird full of bitter protest.

After several weeks of putting up with the irascible captive, he took it to the town of Eagle River when he went for supplies. Here it was sold to Daniel McCann for a bushel of corn. McCann had no use for the bird and sold it to a local merchant in Chippewa Falls for $2.50 who in turn disposed of it to the men of Company C in the 8th Wisconsin.

The soldiers immediately adopted the eagle as their mascot and named him Old Abe. This bird came closer to being the true symbol of the nation than any other before or since. His life was legendary. He was present at 42 battles and skirmishes of the Civil War. Describing an engagement on May 16, 1863 during the encirclement of Vicksburg, a reporter for the Chicago Journal wrote: "At Champion Hills — a terrible struggle — the gallant regiment was sorely pressed. The Eagle took wing. Up-up-up he soared above the smoke of battle, his screaming piercing the roar of the strife and nerve each loyal arm with new strength."

A T-shaped perch was built under the crossbar and clusters of golden arrows at each end. Carrying Old Abe on parade was a chore since by now the bird was rather heavy. One man was formally assigned to the job with no other duties.

Old Abe's fame spread even to the Confederate ranks. There he was referred to as the "Yankee Buzzard." It was said that at the battle for Corinth, Mississippi, in October, 1862, General Price of the Confederate Army, realizing the morale value of the eagle, ordered it taken or killed. He is said to have added that he would rather get that bird than his whole brigade.

No less a historian than Bruce Catton chronicled the eagle's life. He relates that the regiment had another mascot, a small dog named Frank. The two became such good friends that Frank caught rabbits and squirrels for the bird to eat. During his enlistment, Old Abe grew tame and the tother that formerly held him was discarded. He got into everything, tipping over pails of water, robbing the men's rations and stealing chickens from the larder.

In the summer of 1864, the three-year hitch of most of the regiment was up and Old Abe went along with those who were sent back home. By this time he was full grown and sported the white feathers that give him the name of bald eagle. At Madison, Wisconsin, he was presented to the governor of the state and given quarters in the state house. No soldier's reunion was complete without him and he attended the Republican convention which nominated Grant for the Presidency.

His end came in 1881 when he inhaled too much smoke in a fire in the state house. However, he is still very much alive in the official annals of the State of Wisconsin.

Bank Gives Check To Assist Union Girl

A check for $25 from the First State Bank of Union was among contributions received this week for the Theresa Gargalowitz Fund, according to Phil Portnoy, chairman of the fund to aid the parents of the 20-year-old accident victim who has been in a coma for over a year.

"The bank has handled the bookkeeping details for the fund without charge since its inception over a year ago," Portnoy said. "The service has been invaluable."

Theresa is the Fairleigh Dickinson coed from Union who was critically injured when the car she was driving skidded on since-removed trolley tracks in Morris ave., Springfield, and struck an oncoming bus. The fund established to help her parents with medical expenses has now reached a total of about $12,600.

A Grocery Bingo to benefit the fund will be held at 7:30 p.m. Monday at the Flausch, Rt. 22, Union, by the Ladies Auxiliary of the Michael A. Kelly Post, Veterans of Foreign Wars.

Short Hills Mall Hosts Art Show

More than 300 works of art are expected to be exhibited next month at an art show sponsored by the Milburn-Short Hills Arts Center and held at the Short Hills Mall. The show, scheduled for June 5, with a rain date of June 12, is expected to draw entries from artists and sculptors throughout New Jersey. Brochures have been sent to about 4,000 New Jersey artists detailing the terms of the exhibition.

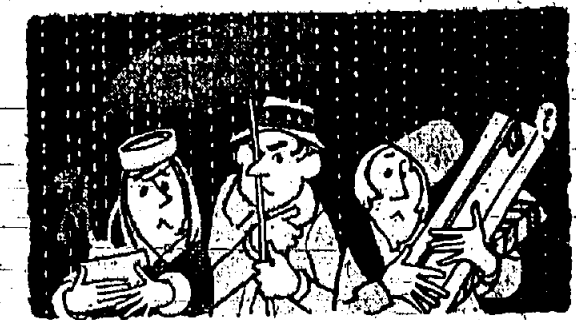

Award-winning paintings and sculptures will be displayed in the Exhibition Room at the Mall for one week.

Further information may be obtained by phoning the show's general chairman, Mrs. George Keown, at DR-9-3214.

Injured In Collision

George W. Lancaster, 64, of 28 Alvin ter., Springfield, suffered a laceration of the head last Wednesday when his car was involved in a three-car collision at Morris and Rahway aves., Union. Police reported this week. Police said Lancaster was transported to Overlook Hospital, Summit, for treatment.

Evening Group Planning Summer Fashion Show

The annual fashion show of the Ladies' Evening Group of the First Presbyterian Church, Springfield, will be held at 8:15 p.m. Wednesday in the Parish Hall, 37 Main st. Members of the group will model the latest in summer fashions from the Babs Shop, Summit.

Mrs. Warren Spelcher, manager of the shop, will narrate the show. Mrs. Raymond Pierson provides background piano music. Models will include Mrs. June DeFino, Mrs. Joan Harms, Mrs. Irene Johnson, Mrs. Ann Jones and Mrs. Virginia Moore. Clothes for teenagers will be shown by Barbara Hausmann and Gretchen Purkisher.

Desert will be served before the show. Spectators will be presented with "hobo bags" filled with surprise novelties, according to Mrs. James Stewart, general chairman of the event. A mystery model will also be on hand, and an award will be presented to the two persons who most nearly estimate the cost of clothing worn by the model, Mrs. Stewart said.

Tickets may be purchased from any member of the group or at the church office, or by calling 379-4320. "Fashions Under the Big Top" is the theme of the show. Proceeds will go towards church work, Mrs. Stewart said.

Members of the committee assisting Mrs. Stewart are: Alice Rieg, tickets; Mrs. Arthur Buehner, program; Mrs. Rawlins

Charge For Pictures

Because this newspaper does not maintain its own engraving plant, there is a charge to cover the cost of engravings of photographs submitted with wedding or engagement stories. There is no charge for the article, which will be published with or without a picture. An engagement engraving, always one column in width, costs $2. Wedding engravements cost $3 for one column or $5 for two columns.

SILVER TEA SET FOR BENEFIT OF INDIAN SCHOOL

A "Silver Tea," for the benefit of the building fund of the Cook Christian Training School will be held next Friday at the home of Mrs. Frank Hugg of Westfield. The affair, sponsored by the United Church Women of Westfield and vicinity, will open at 2 p.m. and run until 4:30.

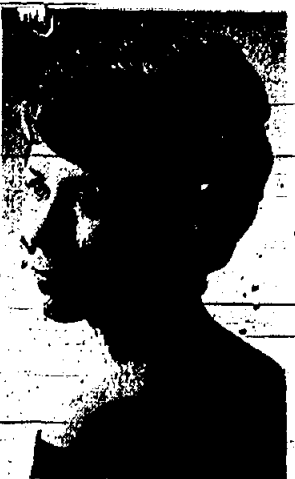

Twice during the afternoon a short filmstrip, depicting the work of the Cook School in educating and training American Indians, will be shown. Articles made by the students will be on display and available for purchase. All interested people are invited to attend.

One of the year's projects of the United Church Women of New Jersey is an attempt to raise sufficient funds to donate one building unit to the Cook fund. The tea at Mrs. Hugg's is part of that effort.

BARITONE HEADS CLUB'S PROGRAM

Felix Pierotic, an operatic baritone, will head the entertainment at the annual installation of the Mountside Women's Club. The affair is scheduled next Wednesday at Pedelfous, Watchung.

Pierotic studied in Vienna and Germany and made his operatic debut in Yugoslavia. A former member of the Vienna Opera House, he gave a recital in Carnegie Hall and has toured throughout the United States, Europe and South America. The program was arranged by Mrs. Joseph Bizzio. The club's garden department will hold its installation luncheon June 15 at the Governor Morris Hotel in Morristown.

Mr. and Mrs. Clifford S. Conner of Kings rd., Chatham, have announced the engagement of their daughter, Judith Lillian, to V. James Cinquina Jr., son of Mr. and Mrs. V. James Cinquina of Park lane, Springfield. Miss Conner is a graduate of Trenton State College, an English teacher in Morristown High School. Mr. Cinquina, a graduate of Worcester Polytechnic Institute, Worcester, Mass., is studying for a master's degree at Newark College of Engineering. He is an engineer with the New York Telephone Co., New York City.

JEWISH WOMEN INDUCE OFFICERS AT LUNCH AFFAIR

Three Springfield women have been installed as officers of the Greater Westfield Section, National Council-of-Jewish-Women. They are: Mrs. Irwin Genzer, administration vice-president; Mrs. Joseph Indick, services vice-president; and Mrs. Irving Leventhal, treasurer.

Mrs. William Gutman, Mountainside, outgoing president, announced the appointment of Mrs. Sidney Reiter of Mountainside to the newly created post of honorary vice-president. Mrs. Leon Salz, Mountainside, has been elected secretary of the New Jersey Region.

The new officers were installed by Mrs. Ira Y. Cohen, Newark, president of the New Jersey Region. Mrs. Saul Brazier, Mountainside, was co-chairman of the luncheon.

MRS. SCHULMAN HEADS OFFICERS OF ORT CHAPTER

The Springfield Chapter of Women's American ORT will install officers tonight at 7:30 at Temple Beth Ahm. Mrs. Leslie Rosenbaum will install Mrs. Herbert Schulman, president.

Other new officers are: Mrs. Harry Anzic, Mrs. Jack Weisman and Mrs. Mandell Weiss, vice-presidents; Mrs. Seymour Margolies, treasurer; Mrs. Philip Pedinoff, financial secretary; Mrs. Martin Grabarth, corresponding secretary; Mrs. Irving Kalst, recording secretary; Mrs. David Blumkrantz, Mrs. Allen Haberman, Mrs. Morton Kaye, and Mrs. Leslie Rosenbaum, trustees and Mrs. Bertram Cooperman, parliamentarian.

Manny Weiss will prepare a smorgasbord supper. The Islington Community Players, 139 members, will entertain with comedy skits, singing and dancing. Vic Allen is president and director and Ted Stoepel is pianist.

Mrs. Seymour Stoenbach will be chairman for the evening.

NURSERY SCHOOL REGISTRATION ENDS WEDNESDAY

Registration for the Nursery School of the Community Presbyterian Church of Mountainside must be made or before Wednesday of next week. To qualify for acceptance at the school, children must be four years old or before Dec. 1965. For further information about enrollment call Mrs. H. M. Weeks, AD 2-0330.

PRESIDENCY GOES TO MRS. ROTWEIN IN SANDMEIER PTA

Mrs. Donald Rotwein will be installed as president of the Sandmeier School PTA, Springfield, at 1:45 p.m. Monday. Mrs. Paul Weisman, past president, is the installing officer. Mrs. Martin Roth and Harold Liebskind will take office as vice-presidents.

Other officers to be installed are Mrs. Robert Cohen, corresponding secretary, Sam Filreis, treasurer and Mrs. Antoinette Gawlik, recording secretary. Mrs. Marvin Fluh is outgoing president, and William Fallois, school principal, will be advisor to the group.

MISSION SOCIETY INSTALLS SLATE

The Women's Mission Society of the First Baptist Church of Westfield will meet next Thursday at the church. Luncheon will be served at 12:30 p.m. by Circle 4. Installation of officers will be conducted by Mrs. Ernest Elkins, director of Christian Education. Mrs. Albert Ayer, president, will preside. The Women's Mission Society will hold a dessert meeting June 10 at 4 p.m. at the church. Planning for Circle activities for 1965-66 will take place.

THEATER PARTY PLANNED BY UNIT

The Roar of the Grass-plant with Anthony Newby and Cyril Richard, described as a "thoroughly delightful musical," is the play scheduled for the luncheon-theater party of the B'nai B'rith Women of Springfield on June 2. Luncheon will be served at the Tavern on the Green, Central Park, a spokesman for the group said. Reservations for 75 women are available. Reservations may be made by calling Pearl Marder, 376-2305; Bea Devinsky, 376-3357, or Dot Ostroff, 376-5824.

Grant-Tolle Nuptials Held At Presbyterian Church

MRS. RODNEY R. TOLLE

The First Presbyterian Church of Springfield was the setting for the wedding Saturday of Miss Gwendolyn Grant, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Robert E. Grant, of Brook st., Springfield to Rodney Ray Tolle, son of Mr. and Mrs. Dwight S. Tolle, of Salina, Kan. The Rev. Bruce Evans performed the ceremony. A reception followed at Wally's on the Mountain, Watchung.

Mrs. Charles Chokas was master of honor. Raymond Levontis served as best man, and ushering were Steven Spear and George Burger.

The bride, a graduate of Jonathan Dayton Regional High School, Springfield, was employed with Chubb and Son Inc. Short Hills. The groom, a graduate of Salina High School, Salina, Kan., attended Kansas State College and is now stationed in Germany with the United States Army.

After a honeymoon trip to Austria, Italy and Switzerland, the couple will reside in Glessen, Germany.

Out-of-state guests attending the wedding were Mr. and Mrs. Dwight S. Tolle, parents of the groom; Mr. and Mrs. A. T. Pearson, aunt and uncle of the groom from Overland Park, Kan., and Mrs. Lyle D. Guthrie, of San Diego, Calif., aunt-of-the-bride.

WOMEN'S GROUP HEARS SPEAKER ON WEDNESDAY

Mrs. Alicia Davison, daughter of Dr. Abraham Vereides, founder of the International Christian Leadership Organization, will speak next Wednesday at a luncheon meeting of the Summit-area Christian Women's Club. The session is scheduled to open at 11:30 a.m. in the Hotel Suburban, Summit.

Mary Gordon, travel advisor for TWA Airlines, will speak on "Round The World Shopping." Mrs. Grace Abrahamson will sing several selections.

Reservations for the meeting, which will close at 2 p.m., may be made by contacting Mrs. David Ewing, 880-1823. Care will be available for children aged three to five.

Mrs. Louis Jubanowsky of 810 Indian trail, Mountainside, is club advisor. Mrs. Melville Besaman of 1333 Hidden circle, Mountainside, is hostess chairman.

Girls Tell Of Service Work At Mother-Daughter Event

A mother and daughter evening will be held next Tuesday evening at Community Presbyterian Church. The event, sponsored by the Women's Association, will open at 7:30 when dinner will be served by Mrs. Williams Graham's Circle.

Devotions will be led by Miss Lenore Langhans and Miss Betty Noroda. The daughters will tell of their experiences in various forms of their own volunteer work including serving as Candy Strippers at Overlook Hospital and the Children's Specialized Home, their work with Y.E.S. and their service as tutors to the Spanish-speaking children of Greyhound Presbyterian Church, Elizabeth.

Girls participating in the program will include Lynn Van Voorhies, Ginger Souder, Linda Ross, Jane Boardman, Susan Fulshaw, Andrea Hyde and Lynn Fitch.

Women and girls of all ages are invited to attend. They need not be accompanied by a mother or daughter.

LUTTGENS HOST DUPLICATE CLUB

Mr. and Mrs. M. C. Luttgens of Mountainside were host and hostess last Friday evening at a meeting of the Mountainside Copies Duplicate Bridge Group.

Borough winners at the meeting, held in the Westfield YMCA, were: Mr. and Mrs. Paul Kravtsov, Mr. and Mrs. Nicholas Sylvan, Mr. and Mrs. Robert J. Carlson, Mr. and Mrs. Duncan McPhee and Mr. and Mrs. Raymond Herrgott.

Tips for Today's Homemaker

From MARY ARMSTRONG, County Home Economist

Eggs headline the U. S. Department of Agriculture's plentiful foods list for this week. Eggs are usually in good supply in the spring. This is generally known, but do you know that the way you prefer your eggs is claimed to offer a clue to your personality? And do you know how you can have hard cooked eggs without peeling shells? Or how to save money by making pickled eggs at home? If hard-cooked eggs are your forte, a certain character analysis holds, then you are a person of dynamic and sturdy will. Soft-cooked eggs are most to your liking if you're gentle, patient and kind. Medium-cooked eggs indicate a calm, cool and collected composure. The speedy, peppy and intelligent prefer poached eggs. If you're artistic, nervous and passionate, scrambled eggs are for you. Turned-over eggs are for the versatile, magnetic and dominant. The happy, helathy and wise select sunny-side-up eggs. Shredded eggs ap-

THREE-WAY FETE FOR KROH FAMILY

Mr. and Mrs. Fred Kroh of 28 Crane st., Irvington, will have a family dinner party Saturday in honor of the First Holy Communion of their grandson, Donald Novak, of 1809 Quaker way, Union, son of Mr. and Mrs. Allan Novak. Their daughter Lynn will accompany them. Mrs. Novak was the former Marjorie Kroh.

It will also be Mr. Kroh's birthday and Mr. and Mrs. Kroh's 33rd wedding anniversary.

Their son Carl and his wife, the former Lois Gudson, and their two children, Kathleen and Carol Lee, of Cherry Hill, will make the party complete.

Whether or not the shoe fits, this is a good time to indulge your egg preferences.

Hard-Cooked Eggs

Here's a quick and easy way to prepare a batch of hard-cooked eggs for salads and sandwiches. Grease a large casserole and break in eggs (do not more than 2 inches in depth). Cover and set casserole in larger pan containing boiling water. Bake in preheated 400 degree oven for 40 minutes or until eggs are done. Remove from oven and serve eggs. They'll come out dead and ready to use. No mess, no fuss. This method is especially suited for quantity cooking — for church suppers, parties, picnics, and the like. It saves work and eliminates difficulty often encountered in peeling fresh eggs.

Pickled eggs, when you buy them at the store, are expensive. A four-egg package may cost as much as 50 cents. Yet it costs very little to pickle eggs at home.

Pickled eggs make excellent canapés. They are good in salads at picnics or a snack with crackers and cheese. This easy recipe makes colorful and tasty eggs.

Pickled Eggs — Place whole, peeled hard-cooked eggs in a glass jar. Cover with a mixture of equal parts beet juice and vinegar. Add a little chopped onion and a few whole cloves. Cover the container and hold under refrigeration 3 or 4 days before using. Some pickled egg recipes call for spices; avoid using mustard; it will discolor the eggs.

Paper-Mill Slates Musical Comedy

The long-run New York musical hit, "A Funny Thing Happened on the Way to the Forum," will open at the Paper Mill Playhouse in Millburn for a four-week run on May 25, with Don DeLuise and Jack Gilford heading a cast of many of the original Broadway performers. Under the direction of George Abbott, the musical ran 28 months (nearly 1000 performances), on Broadway. Gilford, who will recreate his original Broadway role of "Hysterium," has been chosen by the producers to direct the Mill production as well.

DeLuise, who was seen this last season as one of the stars of television's "The Entertainers," has been placed in Zero Mostel's original part of Pseudolus, the slave-in-a-toga, who creates an uproar as he tries to gain his freedom by catering to the whims of his master.

Eight Events Slated In Stock Car Races

NASCAR stock car races at the 4-cornered Flemington Fairgrounds will be resumed Saturday with the staging of an 8-event, double-feature program starting at 7 p.m. — More than 60 title contenders strutted their stuff last Saturday as a new, all-time record cash purse of $2,800 was posted. Al Tamady and Joe Csolak each won two races, splitting the spoils with Bob Wissemeyer. Jimmy Beavers, Jack Rilly, and Joe Kay in preliminary qualifying battles. All are due for repeat bids, along with Bob Kolana, defending track king Les Farley, Don Stumpf, the father-son duo of Billy Mason, Sr. and Jr., and others.

Ask Amy

BY AMY ADAMS

Independent but Anxious
Dear Independent: It depends on the guy — and the gal. When an eligible lawyer takes you to meet his married friends, it's a sure bet he's interested in you more than just casually. You could have suffered through the behavior of the small fry (or corrected them) to land the big game.

Being a good looking, intelligent, financially independent writer doesn't take the place of love, companionship, a home and a husband as you well know. Think it over — and write your own ticket!

Dear Amy:
My best friend invites me to go places with her. My problem is that my mother won't let me go any place unless she goes, too. So I don't go. What should I do?

Dear Amy:
I received a Baby Shower invitation from a former co-worker whom I haven't seen in nine years. I had quit work and moved away. All these years passed and all of a sudden the invitation to her daughter's baby shower arrived. In fact, I didn't even know she was married. I called several of my friends (former co-workers) but most of them are not going or sending gifts. Two of them, however, are going.

Dear Amy:
I was told all the guests are former co-workers and friends of the mother of the mother-to-be. I always believed that only the best of friends are invited to a shower, whether it be a baby or bridal, or am I wrong?

Dear Amy:
I received a Baby Shower invitation from a former co-worker whom I haven't seen in nine years. I had quit work and

Dear Helen: You are right, of course! I think until people stop making a "business" out of invitation, you have every right to decline with a polite excuse.

Leukemia Group Discusses Plans

Plans for several future projects were discussed at a meeting held last week by the Union County Leukemia Society at the Y Center at Five Points, Union. Mrs. Rose Mercurio presided.

Among the projects discussed were a Chinese Auction and a blood bank for leukemia patients. Mrs. June Garling of Kenilworth led the discussion about the blood collection.

Mrs. Marian Sharkey of Linden reported on the white elephant and rummage sale held recently. She said that the sale was a financial success.

'Circus' Fashions Set In Springfield

In an aura of circus atmosphere the Ladies' Evening Group of the First Presbyterian Church of Springfield, will present their annual fashion show, Wednesday at 8:15 p.m. in the Parish House, 37 Main st.

The latest in summer fashion to be shown from the Babe Shop in Summit, will be modeled by members of the group. Mrs. Warren (Dora) Speicher, manager of the shop will narrate to the background of piano selections by Mrs. Raymond Pieroni. A special selection of teenage styles will also be previewed.

Dessert will be served before the show at decorated bridge tables and souvenirs of Hobo bags filled with surprise novelties for each place. Plans call for a "mystery model".

Tickets may be purchased through members of the group of church office (370-4350). Proceeds will benefit church work.

UNION OPTI-MRS. TOURS HOSPITAL; SETS ACTIVITIES

The Union Opti-Mrs. Club members will tour Memorial General Hospital in Union today.

Haitian Workers Talk To Baptists
Dr. and Mrs. Harold Henese, president and faculty member, respectively of the American Baptist seminary in Limbe, Haiti, will discuss their work at a family night program scheduled tomorrow night at the First Baptist Church of Westfield. The program, which will open with supper at 6:30, will have as its theme "The Relationship of the Christian Family in the World Today."

The Heneses have served in Haiti since 1947. Soon after their arrival there they helped establish a small clinic at the seminary which has since developed into the Good Samaritan Hospital. In addition to teaching in the seminary and translating Christian literature into French and Creole, Mrs. Henese works closely with the director of the seminary-sponsored day school which has approximately 700 children enrolled.

The Rev. Dr. G. Pitt Beers, who has served as interim pastor at First Baptist, will preach on "Look Who Is Criticizing Whom" at the 9 and 11 a.m. Services this Sunday.

Little League Drive Described As 'Successful,' Foothills Thanked
A fund drive conducted last Saturday by the Mountaineer Little League was "very successful," a league spokesman reported Tuesday. Those not at home last Saturday who would like to contribute are asked to mail their donations to Little League, c/o Ronald Farrell, 208 Timberline rd., Mountaineer.

The League apologized this week for the omission of the Foothill Club on the "thank you page" of the booklets distributed last week.

A league spokesman pointed out that the Foothill Club's generous donation helped build the new dugouts and field house on the League field. The Foothill Club also sponsors the Girls Softball League.

Post Offices Face Beauty Campaign Indoors, Outside
Postmaster General John A. Gronowski has announced a post office "spruce up" campaign as part of President Johnson's natural beauty program, it was disclosed by Springfield Postmaster A. V. Del Vecchio.

Postmasters who have shown exceptional initiative, imagination and aggressiveness in setting an example for the community and in mobilizing local action to increase the president's "beauty" program will be presented with a Postmaster's commendation.

Gronowski urged the nation's 34,000 postmasters to seek the cooperation of garden club members of commerce and other civic groups in their communities in enhancing the grounds around the post office.

"Many of our postmasters have been doing a good job of post office maintenance and have attempted to make the surroundings more pleasant," Gronowski said. "But now we expect that all postmasters will have a new incentive to provide both the little and large touches that make a building and its grounds a more inviting place to visit and to work."

Recommendations for the selection will be made by regional post office officials who, during a visit to a post office on other business, determine that the exterior and grounds present an appearance of which the community may be proud.

Who Pays How Much To The UN?—U.S. Pays One Third

So many people ask, "How much does the United States pay to the United Nations in dues?" And very few know, even at the United Nations. Most often people answer themselves with the resentful statement, "I guess we are paying everything."

Some others say, as a French woman at the United Nations was reported to have said with great authority, "Whatever you may think, the United States does not pay the highest dues." But they are both wrong. The United States DOES pay the highest dues but it does not pay for everything. According to figures obtained at the United Nations, the 1964 budget for the organization, (not counting the Peace Keeping budget which is a separate matter) was $101,327,000. This figure will be used for the 1965 budget since the 16th General Assembly did not vote a new budget in its skimpily meetings so far this year and will not meet again until September. The 114 member-countries of the United Nations are assessed, in proportion to their ability to pay, a percentage of this total for their annual dues.

The United States assessment was the highest standing at 32.02 per cent or $32,445,097.52. The USSR was slightly less than half that amount at 14.97 per cent and the United Kingdom was next with half that amount again at 7.58 per cent. France was next with 5.87 per cent, then China at 4.57 per cent, Canada $3.22 per cent, Japan 2.27 per cent, Italy 2.24 per cent, India 2.03 per cent, and so on down.

The lowest general rate is 0.04 per cent with 39 countries being assessed at that. The lowest special-rate, however, belongs to Kenya and Zanzibar, assessed before it was united with Tanganyika, and in the year (1963) of its admittance to the United Nations, had a rate of one-ninth of 0.04 per cent. The same was true of Kenya which also joined in 1963.

A NEW SCALE of assessments has been recommended by the Committee on Contributions for 1965, 66 and 67, and surprisingly, it lowers the United States figure to 31.81 per cent. The USSR was also slightly lowered to 14.92 per cent but France was raised to 6.09 per cent. Of the others in the "top ten" the United Kingdom, China, India and the Ukraine have been lowered and Canada, Japan and Italy, raised. Countries on the 0.04 per cent rate now number 43 instead of 39.

Also surprising is that Russia is not in arrears with her regular dues, although she owes about $2 million on Peace-Keeping assessments. Countries which were in arrears for the working capital fund and budget as of an October, 1964 report of the Committee on Contributions, were Bolivia, Hungary, Paraguay and Yemen, but all have made substantial payments on the sums since then.

Countries which are not members of the United Nations but which have Observer Offices or participate in certain of its activities, are assessed for 1965, 66 and 67 as follows: Liechtenstein, Monaco and San Marino, 0.04 per cent; Republic of Viet-Nam (South), 0.13 per cent; Switzerland, Republic of Germany, 7.41 per cent, and the Federal Cent. These countries also contribute where applicable, to the International Court of Justice, The International Control of Narcotic Drugs, The International Bureau of Declarations of Death and Missing Persons, The Economic Commission for Asia and the Far East and the Economic Commission for Europe.

An interesting sidelight is that payments for these dues may be made only in certain currencies other than U.S. dollars and it varies in given years. A report of Secretary-General U Thant on the arrangements made for payment of part of the 1963 contributions indicated that "13 member-states availed themselves of the option to pay in one or other of the non-United States currencies in which payment was acceptable to the Statute of Liberty mines coal in southern Illinois. THE Golden Years

CAN YOU RETIRE AT AGE 60? TRY THIS PACKAGE FOR SIZE

The fun has gone out of the career. I have followed for 32 years. New faces and new ways of doing things seem to be coming in from every side now. Just to keep up, I worry more and struggle harder than I ever have. My health apparently is all right, and I am not one who thinks that stress will kill you. But I am 50 now and I feel that if I could escape from the burdens of my work I would certainly be more fit to cope with the decline in health that comes in the later years.

In brief I want to retire in this year, at age 60. I want to know if I can afford to. At age 60 I could get a pension of $180 a month. Two years after that, at 62, my wife and I could start collecting Social Security totaling $125 a month. We own our home worth maybe $15,000. We have $7,800 in savings. . . .

This man can afford to retire at age 60. So can many others who find themselves in similar situations around that age. . . . A man and his wife, owning their home, can get by on $180 a month. But it's rough. . . . and get much fun. They can get by handsomely on $300 a month, which they can have in two years when Social Security of $125 starts. They should be very careful, however, in checking with Social Security to make sure the benefit will be $125 a month despite the fact the man has stopped work two years before the benefits start.

If the figure is correct, the couple can start drawing $125 a month from their $7,800 savings at the time they retire. This will eat up $3,000 before Social Security starts, leaving savings of about $4,800. This, invested at 4 per cent, will produce $16 a month, meaning they can set out on retirement at 60 with an overall income of $321 a month. The $3,000 in savings spent to tide the couple over to Social Security would cut income from the savings only $10 a month. . . . not a serious factor if you have $321 left.

There are other ways to work this: The couple could sell their home, invest the $15,000 along with the $7,800, and get a return of $76 a month. This, plus the pension, would total $256. Many retired people without a home are living happily on less.

There are certain factors, apart from monthly income, that a couple should consider before retiring at 60: They should, by all means, have some sort of disaster health insurance so an illness couldn't wipe them out; They should carefully size up their home to make sure it will not be demanding expensive repairs in a few years. If it will they would be wise to sell it and move into a trailer, or into a smaller, newer home that won't need a furnace, gutters, roofing, foundation, or paint.

They should convert their life insurance into paid-up policies and thus stop premium payments, providing an annuity for the wife if the husband dies—and if she won't continue getting part of that pension—or possibly into annuity payments that can start at retirement and boost the monthly income. They should eat hamburger during this last year on the job and thus squeeze the salary to buy and pay for all the capital items they will be needing for a long time: refrigerator, range, sofa, mattress, TV set, and car.

Springfield will give the invocation and Mrs. Alvin Schneider of Springfield will install the officers.

The new officers are: Mrs. Robert Feld of Springfield, president; Mrs. Ted Straus of Springfield, Mrs. Robert Hamus, Mrs. Paul Denenberg and Mrs. William Barsany, vice-presidents; Mrs. Charles Swartz of Springfield, treasurer; Mrs. Samuel Denenberg, Mrs. Ira Rose, Mrs. Lawrence Gutting and Mrs. Jack Newark and Mrs. Ira Cohen, both of Springfield, secretaries.

Also, Mrs. Robert Shotkin, Mrs. Roy Roberts, Mrs. Stanley Hillson and Mrs. Sherwin Goodman, Mrs. Morton Goldberg and Mrs. Joseph Zemel, all of Springfield; Mrs. Leo Sender and Mrs. Berle Muse, trustees. Members will present an "old fashion" show with models displaying authentic costumes of other ages.

NEW PTA SLATE TO BE INSTALLED AT TUESDAY FETE

Installation of new officers of the Edward V. Walton School PTA will be held Tuesday at 9:15 a. m. in the school building, 601 Mountain ave., Springfield. This will be the last meeting of the year.

The installing officer will be Mrs. Seymour Margulies, president of the Springfield PTA Council. New officers are: Mrs. Paul Miller, president; Mrs. Alan Rabin, Mrs. Andrew Morrison, vice-presidents; Mrs. Melvin Zeller, corresponding secretary; Mrs. Calvin Ackerman, recording secretary; and Mervin Seymour, treasurer.

William Fallon, principal, announced that the kindergarten, first and second grade children will present a skit, "Circus Time," following the meeting. Also, the fourth and fifth grade choir will sing.

Schoffman Tours Aluminum Works

Ed Schoffman of Investment Castings of Springfield was one of 85 representatives of aluminum fabricating plants who recently toured a Kaiser Aluminum plant at Ravenswood, W. Va.

Schoffman was a guest of the Charles Batchelder Co. of Newton, Conn., and the Kaiser firm. Batchelder distributes alloy ingot.

The representatives of firms in the northeast flew to Parkersburg, W. Va., on a chartered flight from Kennedy International Airport in New York. The purpose of the visit was to familiarize the dealers with all aspects of aluminum production.

15,606 LAST YEAR

State Is 10th In Degrees Given

New Jersey's colleges and universities conferred 15,606 degrees last year, placing the state 10th in the nation in this category, the State Department of Education, Trenton, announced this week.

This represents an increase of more than 17 percent over the 13,283 degrees awarded in 1962-63. Nationally, the increases averaged 15.7 percent during that time.

New Jersey, which is eighth in the nation in population, ranked behind two states—Indiana and Massachusetts—with less population, the department said. All others in the top-10, the department added, have more residents than New Jersey.

Slightly over 12,000 of the degrees were at the bachelor's level. The remainder were master's degrees and doctorates.

The state's public colleges awarded 7,895 degrees—about 51 percent of the total. The rest were granted by private institutions.

Rutgers, The State University, conferred 3,560 degrees; the six State colleges 3,876, and Newark College of Engineering 659.

The national comparisons were released to the state by the U.S. Department of Health, Education and Welfare.

Know Your Government

From N. J. Taxpayers Association

GOVERNMENT GALORE

Like the nursery rhyme woman—who-lived-in-a-shoe-and-had-so-many-children, she didn't know what to do, the traditional pattern of local, county and state governments is being troubled—and costs increased—by the addition of myriad special districts, authorities and commissions to perform public functions.

The problem of multiplying special governmental units is treated in a report of the Advisory Commission on Intergovernmental Relations, points out the New Jersey Taxpayers Association. The Commission was created by Congress in 1959 to study means of smooth relationships between local, state and Federal governments as they expand.

Noting proliferation of the new units, especially at the local level of government, the Commission defined the special district as "a legal government entity with authority to obtain money (through taxation, assessment or fees) whose budget does not have to be approved by a unit of local government."

While recognizing that they "have a positive role to play in the structure and operation of American government," the Commission called for legislation and policies "to insure that special districts can best perform their role without creating more problems than they solve."

mission recommended that officials of regular government be permitted to receive the need for new special units within their areas. It suggested that activities of the units be coordinated with those of general government—that their budgets and accounts be subject to uniform procedures and audit and their changes and fees be subject to review. It also was proposed that simple procedures be established to permit assumption of their special functions by general units of government. The Commission urged each state to ascertain the number, types, functions and financing of special governmental districts authorized under state law.

Jewish Agencies To Protest Suppression

The Metropolitan Conference of Jewish Agencies and representing one-half million Jews in New Jersey and New York, will hold a mass meeting on June 3 at 7 p.m. at Madison Square Garden to protest the suppression of religious and cultural freedom of Soviet Jewry.

At the meeting, a drive will be initiated to amass one million signatures on petitions urging President Johnson to use his influence upon Soviet leadership to extend Soviet Jewry their right to pursue religious and cultural expression granted other Soviet minorities, the spokesman explained.

Coordinator of the rally in New Jersey is Sam Brown, regional director of the American Jewish Congress, 17 William St., Newark.

WEEDER'S DIGEST

NON-ROSEY YOUR ROSE?

A rose is a rose is a rose and all that.

But some roses have more rosin because they bear the bloom of health.

As you may suspect, this un-poetical message comes to you from a plant doctor who'd like to help you worry about the condition of your rose bushes.

Dr. Spencer H. Davis, plant disease specialist at Rutgers, suggests that when you buy roses or transplant old ones, look closely at the root about an inch below the base of the stem.

If you find something like a walnut growing there, the bush has bacterial crown gall disease and never can bear any prize winning blooms.

You can look for canker disease, too. Black or brown stem cankers, small now, will grow bigger and kill the cane later.

OUNCE OF PREVENTION

So operate. Cut out all canes that have canker, the alternative Dr. Davis suggests. About two inches below the canker.

Less drastic than surgery but all-important preventive medicine is the use of a general purpose rose dust or spray. He favors one that contains shalitan if you hope to prevent black spot and powdery mildew disease.

Start now and continue at 10-day intervals all summer.

The rose season is still young enough—for you to profit from reading a compact and complete rose booklet, "Roses for the Home."

You can get it free from your county agricultural agent or by sending a card to Garden Reporter, College of Agriculture, Rutgers University, New Brunswick, N. J.

Just say "Roses."

THE PUBLIC COLLEGE CRUSH — 2

Surge Of Applicants Foreseen, But State Failed To Act

EDITOR'S NOTE: New Jersey's public colleges have sent 25,000 letters of rejection to qualified high school seniors admission in September. This seeking admission in September. This six-part series from the New Jersey Education Association discusses the space crisis at the public colleges.

The big surge of high school graduates now swamping New Jersey's public colleges was not unexpected. Many educators and college leaders have long been urging expansion, but the Legislature has never put up the necessary money.

In 1961, the Governor and the State Legislature ordered a study of the problems and needs of the public colleges during the decade of the 1960s. The study produced the Strayer Report, which found that the State had to appropriate $27 million a year for five years—beginning in 1962—to expand them so that classrooms would be ready as the number of qualified applicants rose.

The recommended $27 million appropriation was not made in 1962, nor was it made in 1963. Instead, in that year, a $750 million bond issue was proposed to finance badly needed State facilities and services. This bond issue would have provided $125 million for expanding the public colleges. Voters defeated the proposal, and construction at the colleges was delayed for another year.

In November of 1964, the Legislature approved a $40 million bond issue designed to add 10,000 places at the public colleges. All of these funds are already committed for top-priority construction. But the money came too late to provide any college places for this year's high school seniors, or for next year's.

"Unfortunately," observes Bernard Reed, director of admissions at Trenton State College, "we do not have instant buildings."

If the Legislature had acted in 1962 as recommended in the Strayer Report, new classrooms would be opening each September and the public colleges would be able to admit progressively larger numbers of incoming freshmen.

At that time — on the eve of the graduation of the first war babies from high school — the presidents of New Jersey's six State Colleges were urging immediate expansion of their colleges. The only pending appropriation for college construction is $1 million to start the new medical school at Rutgers University.

Dr. Warren Hill, president of Trenton State College, is among those incensed that his school could accept only one of every six applicants this year. "Two many letters are going out saying 'We can't accept your children,'" he protests. "It doesn't make sense. This is a time when we especially need an educated citizenry."

"If you meet these young people, you'll find they are qualified and could attend college and be tremendously successful there."

The next article in this series tells where rejects from the public colleges get their higher education — if anywhere.

But there are no spaces for them. Students at Trenton State already are rubbing up against each other for room.

"New Jersey is financially responsible in higher education, if you take a look at the needs of the State. Either New Jersey should make the State Colleges bigger or build more colleges. What we need in New Jersey doesn't exist today."

The next article in this series tells where rejects from the public colleges get their higher education — if anywhere.

Regional Schools Set Math Contest At Dayton May 22

The second annual Union County Regional High School District Mathematics Day will be held at the Jonathan Dayton Regional High School in Springfield on Saturday morning, May 22. Students with one, two, or three years of mathematics study from the Jonathan Dayton, Arden, L. Johnson and Governor Livingston schools will participate.

There will be three levels of competition, one for each of the three years of mathematics study. Fourth year mathematics students will not be involved, as they are engaged in a national mathematics competition each year.

The purpose of these competitions, which will be in the form of contests, is to further stimulate an interest in mathematics and to recognize outstanding students through the presentation of awards and through publicity, a Regional District spokesman stated.

These contestants, from each of the three sister schools, attaining the three highest scores in each of the levels of the competition, will receive awards.

Gold, silver, and bronze medals will be awarded to the first place contestants. All winners will receive certificates in addition to mathematical publications. In some cases, honorable mention awards will be presented.

Overlook Honors Volunteers; Husband, Wife Team Featured

A special program to honor the 1,200 volunteers at Overlook Hospital, Summit, was held recently. They received certificates of appreciation for the 86,862 hours given to the hospital during the past year.

Chosen for a special salute was the volunteer husband and wife team, Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Sweeney of Summit, who have been working in the admissions department on Sundays for more than five years.

"We like to keep busy and we like to feel we're helping others," explains Mrs. Sweeney. She and her husband, who have three children and seven grandchildren, usually check in for work at 11 a.m. and often remain until 5 p.m.

A veteran at volunteer hospital work, Sweeney began as a movie projectionist at East Orange Veterans Hospital. He is vice-president of Trans World Display Corporation in New York City. Mrs. Sweeney continues psychiatric unit being planned for the hospital's new wing. Members of Team '64 of Summit served as hosts.

Featured speaker at the program honoring the volunteers was Mrs. James B. Burke of Summit, an Overlook trustee, who spoke on the new short-term psychiatric unit being planned for the hospital's new wing. Members of Team '64 of Summit served as hosts.

JURY WILL SIFT ASSAULT CHARGE AGAINST 2 MEN

John Delia, 22, of Berkeley Heights, and Richard Woodward, 22, of New Providence, were held for the grand jury Monday night on charges of assaulting off-duty Millburn Patrolman John Goddard.

The pair is alleged to have struck Goddard April 18 at the White Diamond on Morris ave. in Springfield. Woodward is also charged with assaulting Darfus A. McGabed, manager of the White Diamond.

The charges are said to have arisen out of a disturbance allegedly created by Delia, Woodward and three companions after they were asked to leave the Morris ave. eating place.

Delia and Woodward appeared before Magistrate Max Sherman during regular sessions of Springfield Municipal Court.

She is now serving as faith chairman of the Westminster Fellowship and youth representative of the Christian education committee of the First Presbyterian Church of Springfield. Cheryl enjoys knitting, sewing, reading and piano playing. She plans to attend college and would like to pursue a career as a mathematics teacher. Her home is at 12 Essex road.

Prudential Aides To Attend Parley

Henry A. Bodoff of 78-B Forest, dr. and Ered Weiser of 530 Ashwood rd., both in Springfield, Prudential Insurance Co. representatives of the Chatham district office, will attend the firm's regional business conference in Hollywood, Fla., for three days starting Sunday.

Executives of the home office in Newark will conduct classes in specialized insurance subjects for agents and managers from offices in New Jersey and New York.

Folk Music Unit Announces Plans

The newly-organized New Jersey Folk Music Society which includes 27 members from Union, Berle, Roselle Park and several other Union and Essex County communities will hold its next meeting May 21 at 8 p.m. at the recreation hall in Taylor Park, Millburn.

At a recent meeting held at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Milton Shumsky of Union, the group decided upon Taylor Park as a regular meeting place, set a specific cost for dues and passed resolutions regarding the membership age requirement for members. Mrs. Hector Garcia of Roselle is a member of the executive committee.

Phillip Dagnett of Union demonstrated the use of the four-string banjo at the last gathering of the society. He also presented a group of pictures showing string bands and string instruments. The program for the next meeting will feature a talk and demonstration on "Blue Grass and Country Music" by Mrs. Sandra Behrend of Kendall Park.

Chorus To Perform At Church Saturday

The male chorus of the Church of God in Christ, New-Springfield Emmanuel Methodist Church will hold its 40th anniversary concert this Saturday at the church, Main St. and Academy green. The concert, scheduled for 4 p.m., had been originally scheduled for Jan. 17.

The chorus consists of 30 men from the local church, all of whom will participate in Saturday's concert. Lending their voices will be 12 to 15 men from the Girard Avenue Methodist Church, Philadelphia, Pa.

The male chorus was organized by William Bornhueter of Maplewood in 1924 at the Emmanuel Church, Newark. It reached its peak membership in 1938 with 34 men participating. Several of the charter members of the group are still active, according to Bornhueter, who is current president.

Ernst Wittenshagen, original conductor of the chorus is unable to direct because of illness. He will be replaced by Emanuel Schuring, assistant director. Mrs. Lydia Schneider is the accompanist.

The concert will include several solos by Theophil Beuhauer of Philadelphia and anthems by the choir of the Bethesda Church, Newark.

Springfield Student Assists Drama Club

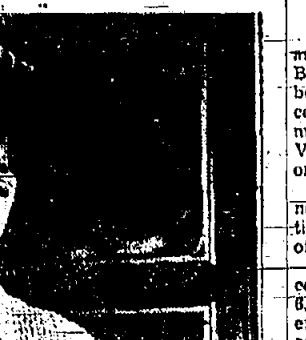

Dorothea A. Sammond of 12 Mapes ave., Springfield, was among the 77 Union High School students who served behind the scenes during the L.L.C. Drama Club's production of "B" which was presented Friday and Saturday at the theater of the Campus Center, Cranford.

Miss Sammond, who served on the make-up committee, is a graduate of Jonathan Dayton Regional High School, Springfield. She is a liberal arts major in the school's day session, and the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Francis E. Sammond.

Auto Hits Manhole, Passenger Injured

Robert Pote, 33, of West New York was treated at Overlook Hospital, Summit, for a laceration of the forehead sustained in an auto mishap Saturday afternoon on Henshaw ave. in Springfield.

According to police, he was a passenger in a car driven by Donald C. Pote, 32, of Mountside. Police said the elder Pote was injured when his head struck the windshield of the car after the auto struck a manhole in the center of the roadway. Henshaw ave. is under construction.

BROKER OF THE WEEK Most Important Criterion Of Success? 'A Knowledge Of One's Community'

"A knowledge of one's community is perhaps the most important criterion of success in the real estate business," a buyer or expecter to deal with a well-informed person, commented Charles A. Remlinger of Springfield.

Along with knowledge, Remlinger lists "basic honesty" as being of prime importance to the real estate business. The broker strongly believes that it is the obligation of the real estate office to give the seller an honest and fair opinion of the market value of the property before it is listed.

Remlinger is a charter member and past president of the Springfield Rotary Club, trustee and past president of the Republican Club, and has served as Springfield Chairman for the Overlook Hospital Drive. Mr. and Mrs. Remlinger live with their children, Gary, 19, and Sharon, 16.

Remlinger was elected to the Springfield Township Committee in 1952 and also served as Committee representative on the Planning Board and Board of Health. Of his political career he probably got the most satisfaction from the passage of the zoning ordinance, which, with modifications, exists today. A new zoning ordinance had been a long time in the making and he saw the day when it was finally passed.

Remlinger is a charter member and past president of the Springfield Rotary Club, trustee and past president of the Republican Club, and has served as Springfield Chairman for the Overlook Hospital Drive. Mr. and Mrs. Remlinger live with their children, Gary, 19, and Sharon, 16.

Talk On Fluorescent Minerals Slated Today By Trailside Club

The Trailside Mineral Club will hold its regular monthly meeting at the Union County Park Commission's Trailside Nature and Science Center, Mountainside, in the Watchung Reservation today at 8 p.m. Edwin Skidmore of Mountainside, a nationally-recognized authority on mineralogy, will present the story of "Fluorescent Minerals," complete with demonstrations. Skidmore is a vice-president of the Trailside Museum Association, chairman of the annual Gem and Mineral Show, held at Trailside. He recently conducted a class on the hobby and art of collecting minerals at the Westfield Adult School, and has lectured before many organizations. His mineral collection has been exhibited throughout the United States at various mineral shows.

Skidmore's interest in mineralogy began in 1928. While touring across the Arizona desert in a model "T" Ford, he picked up a piece of petrified wood in the Petrified Forest and from this modest beginning his collection has grown to about 75 tons of minerals and gems, ranging from microscopic samples to a 249-pound sample from Franklin. His collection includes samples of about 1,700 kinds of minerals, nearly half the number known to be in existence.

Summer Reading Clinic Is Planned By Newark State To Help Children

Children with reading problems will have professional help available to them at Newark State College's Summer Reading Clinic this summer. The clinic will provide help for approximately 20 children, aged eight to 15.

They will attend clinic sessions twice a week, on Tuesdays and Thursdays, from 11 a.m. to 12:20 p.m. Children will meet with graduate assistants for individual testing, which will continue for most of the sessions.

As an outcome of these intensive tests, recommendations will be made for remediation. Clinic minerals which present a beautiful spectrum of colors and can only be seen when exposed to an ultra-violet light.

At this meeting the members of the Club will complete their plans for a field trip to French Creek, Pennsylvania, and to mineral localities in Connecticut. The public is invited to attend this meeting, a spokesman said.

courses in remedial reading, as well as in diagnosis, will be resumed in the fall. Interested parents should send a letter with information about the child to: Professor Samuel Lourie, Director, The Reading Clinic, Newark State College, Union. The final selection of registrants will be made by May 25. The summer fee for each child is $25.
