Township Committee Turns Thoughts To Culture

Vandals To Face Action By Police

The Springfield Recreation Department, assisted by the police, has begun a crackdown on "noise, vandalism, misconduct and disregard for rights, property, and laws at its playgrounds and swimming pool," according to Edward Ruby, director of the recreation department.

He said that recent letters of complaint from neighbors of the Lewis Playground about the conduct of juveniles at that facility, and careless handling of pool badges which permitted boys and girls to swim who do not legally belong to the pool, have brought about this crackdown.

Ruby listed his campaign to include seven "C's":
"Cooperation: The recreation facilities are the property of Springfield residents and are maintained by their tax dollars for their recreation, relaxation and amusement. No person has the privilege of abusing, defacing, or destroying these facilities."
"It is the responsibility of Springfield residents to take pride in and care of these facilities. Anyone witnessing any action which is detrimental to the facility or to the property should call DR 6-5800 immediately."
"Police action and juvenile court action will be taken if necessary. Many youngsters who have witnessed these acts of vandalism have refused to sign a statement because they are afraid of the bullying and threats of these vandals who promise to get them if they report them."
"Parents of those reporting vandalism will be kept confidential. Parents are reminded that they are responsible for the behavior of their youngsters."

Rats Are Seeking Homes As Result Of Highway Work

The number of rats in the downtown business area has increased substantially as a result of highway construction, and they are breeding in buildings which have been abandoned in the path of Rt. 78, Arthur L. Marshall, Springfield sanitation, warned this week.

He commented that he has been in communication with Dwight R. G. Palmer, state highway commissioner, to ensure that exterminators go through the abandoned buildings on Main St., before they are torn down for Rt. 78.

Marshall also said that many of the rats were displaced by the bridge construction on Morris ave. in the past year and are seeking new homes wherever they can find food. "Rats will eat anything people eat," he said, "as well as many things people will not eat."

The sanitation noted that the Sips and Sup Restaurant, Columbia Lumber Co. and Creamery Savings and Loan Association had called in exterminators to clear their buildings and grounds of the rats.

He advised residents, particularly those on the fringes of the business area and in neighborhoods where Rt. 78 will disrupt conditions, to call him immediately if they notice an infestation of rats.

Field Rats
The rats in question are ordinary field rats, Marshall said, and not the larger barn rats. They measure about seven inches in length, excluding their tails. The creatures breed very rapidly and are extremely wary and intelligent. He added that traps and baits must be changed frequently.

Marshall said that cats and many dogs are of great help in killing rats. In past years, he

RATS SEEK

"WHAT DO YOU THINK happened next?" Mrs. Helen S. Keller, children's librarian at the Springfield Public Library, makes the world of books come to life for those fascinated youngsters at one of the library's regular story hours. Other summer programs include a story hour conducted by Mrs. Marguerite De Cease for older children and book reviews presented by more than 80 junior literary critics.

APPEAL IS ISSUED FOR SUBSTITUTES IN TOWN SCHOOLS

The Springfield school system is seeking substitute teachers for the coming year. It was disclosed this week by John O. Berwick, superintendent.

A bachelor's degree is required, he stated, but actual teaching experience is not necessary. Further details and application forms are available at the superintendent's office at the James Caldwell School.

Zoning Board Meets Tuesday For New Testimony On Motel

New hearings on the application by Sips and Sup Realty, Inc. for a special use permit to construct a motel at 174 Morris ave. are scheduled for a special meeting of the Springfield Zoning Board of Adjustment Tuesday at 8 p.m. at Town Hall.

The hearing had been scheduled for last week's regular Board of Adjustment session but was postponed. A previous decision by the board was recently remanded by Superior Court Judge Milton A. Keller for new testimony to provide additional information.

New hearings were initiated last week on the variance application by United Singers of Newark to construct a singing shell at Evergreen Lodge. They were adjourned, however, until the September board meeting.

Future Life-Savers Work Hard To Learn How

By BEA SMITH
In a few weeks Springfield may produce 27 skilled life-savers, armed, ready and waiting to plunge into the deep blue waters to save a life.

VALUABLE TRAINING—Future junior and senior life-savers of Springfield study techniques of "saving a drowning person" as Tommy Lieto and Kerry Tompkins demonstrate life-saving techniques they have learned in the Monday and Wednesday classes at the Springfield Municipal Pool. Instructors are Fred Brown, Debbie Power and Rick Soriente.

two weeks), but as things stand right now, 27 young people are getting some rather rigorous lifesaving instruction and exercise, Monday and Wednesday mornings, 9 to 11, at the Springfield Municipal Pool. Many of them seem quite efficient. . . all of them are enthusiastic.

A visit to the Municipal Pool the other blazing morning (a reporter avoided a too intensive stare at the inviting pool water which seemed to sparkle, wink and entice under a hot sun), revealed the methods of the junior and senior life-saving classes. Stanley Wnek, the pool director, directed this reporter to a corner of the poolside to meet Deborah Powers, one of the two water safety instructors.

Rick Soriente, a husky, stern-voiced instructor, was barking out orders, sharp and clear and loud, to pairs of earnest young men and women of tomorrow.

"GET IN! Take your glasses off first when I yell, you struggle. STRUGGLE!" Two junior members were splashing about in the pool, one simulating a drowning victim, the other holding him and trying to avoid wet flailing arms and legs.

"Don't get around his waist," the instructor shouted. "Realize his feet can go right around you. Don't fight with him until I tell you. They were struggling. Don't stop until I tell you to stop. Snapped his fingers, dismissed the breathless students, and shouted: "Any struggling victims? You And you."

Two boys cut into the water smoothly—one simulating a drowning victim, the other, a life saver. "The life saver" seemed to be having trouble, however, and the harsh instructions boomed over the pool.

"ALL WRONG! You didn't do one thing right! Go under the water. . . away from him. . . all the way down. . . put your elbow in his back. . . reach around. . . around! He wants to get air in his mouth—not fingers! Keep his head above water!"

The instructor then had the "life-saver" attempt to save the instructor. "Show me where your arms are out. . . wrong arm. . . you hit my thumb. . . The boy, surfacing, shook water out of his hair and said confusedly, "What happened?" "Drowning!" Soriente said. "You forgot me!"

There were other youngsters who received congratulatory slaps on shoulders for "doing a good job. Good!" from the smiling instructor, and all in all, the group seemed to be doing very well.

To Show Works By Local Artists

Culture, rather than such more commonly discussed civic concerns as zoning or traffic hazards, set the keynote for discussion at the Springfield Township Committee meeting Tuesday evening at the Municipal Building.

The governing body approved a suggestion by Committeeman Philip Del Vecchio to establish a "local arts committee which would encourage our many talented painters and sculptors."

Del Vecchio proposed that an exhibit be set up in Town Hall to display the work of township artists, adding that a permanent exhibition hall might be set aside in the future. He asked that all local artists or people interested in the graphic arts speak to him or the other committeemen about serving on a planning committee.

Later in the evening, the committeemen also discussed possibilities of having the Union County Park Commission arrange Springfield performances this summer by several of the groups it sponsors.

Specifically mentioned were a dramatic troupe, which has been presenting Shakespeare's "Much Ado about Nothing" throughout the county, and a concert band.

Both groups perform outdoors, with no charge for admission.

In other business, the committee voted to rezone a tract of land along Mountain ave., 507th of Caldwell pl. The zone was changed from residential, with 60-foot frontage for homes, to general business. The site is opposite Jonathan Dayton Regional High School.

The committeemen also approved the installation of four new fire hydrants in the Baturul Top area, as urged by Fire Chief Ormond W. Meskor, to provide protection for new houses in the Lions Club's recent annual election the following members were selected for their offices: Rupert Harmon, first vice president, Abel DelVecchio, second vice president, Henry Grabarz, secretary, Charles Quinzel, treasurer, William Koonz, hon.orary member, Richard Colandrea, tall

TOWN MEETING

FALKIN DISPLAYS NOOSE FOR NEWS

Committeeman Arthur M. Falkin had a "powerful suggestion, combining art and politics, at Tuesday night's Township Committee meeting. Suggesting a proposal to exhibit paintings by local artists in Town Hall, he said this was much better than hanging portraits of former mayors, as is being done in Waterbury.

Falkin hastened to add, however, that "hanging former mayors, including myself," is an idea which has considerable merit.

Couple Hospitalized After Rt. 22 Mishap

Mr. and Mrs. John Danko of St. Cloud, Minn., were both taken to the Good Samaritan Hospital by the Springfield Fire and Aid Squad Saturday afternoon after their car hurtled off Rt. 22, according to a Police Department report.

Witnesses told police that Danko, 52, was driving east in the left-hand lane of the highway at a "moderate" speed at 5:20 p. m., when the car suddenly veered to the right off the highway, struck a fire hydrant and jolted across a small brook. The car suffered very heavy damage, the report added.

The witnesses were three men, who stopped to assist in treating the victims. The Good Samaritan were Dr. Harvey Shaver of New York, Dr. Larry Vachman of Elizabeth and Dr. George Barman of Brooklyn.

Both Danko and his wife, Mary, 31, were listed by Quinzel as being in fairly good condition. He received a broken left arm and multiple bruises and lacerations.

Mrs. Danko was suffering from bruises and lacerations as well as a possible concussion, according to the hospital report. With the car well off the highway, the flow of weekend traffic was not impeded, the police report stated. Patrolmen Robert Roessner and Charles Ganley responded to the call.

Legion Post Lists Paper Collection

Springfield Continental Post of the American Legion will hold its monthly paper collection drive on Sunday. It was announced this week. The drive will be conducted no matter what the weather might be, post officers announced.

They asked all residents to file old newspapers and cardboard into neat bundles and to place the bundles at the curb in front of their homes by 10 a.m. on Sunday.

Regionnaires take part in the monthly collections, with proceeds going to aid various projects supported by the post.

Safety Council Lists Increase In State Bike, Auto Death Toll

Seventeen lives were lost in collisions of bicycles and motor vehicles in New Jersey last year, an increase of eight more than recorded in the 12 months of 1963. To date this year in bicycle and motor vehicle collisions 10 deaths were recorded compared to eight in the corresponding six and one-half months of last year, the New Jersey State Safety Council reported this week. The continued upward trend, according to the Council, "deserves the serious attention of parents, enforcement officers and also of all motor vehicle drivers. While some of the blame for the increasingly high rates of both deaths and injuries may have rested on drivers," the Council points out, "yet parents have the responsibility of furnishing youngsters with the fundamental principals of safe riding and also of insistence of observance of regulations."

Twelve of the 17 persons killed last year in bicycle-motor vehicle collisions, the Council reports, were under 15 years of age. Five were in the 5-9 years age group and seven ranged in ages 10-14 years. In the total of 1,994 persons injured, 733 ranged in ages from 5-9 years and in the 10-14 years age group 647 suffered injuries. In 1963 of the nine killed, eight were under 15 years of age and of the 1478 persons injured, 1,386 were under 15 years of age.

Close to 70 percent of the bicycle riders injured or killed in collisions with motor vehicles, according to the Council, were violating some safety practice or regulation when the accident happened, and that in about 25 percent defective bicycles were a factor. Lack of headlights or rear lights are cited as the most frequent cause of night accidents and other common daylight violations responsible for accidents are failure to signal when turning, weaving, carrying an extra rider, and collisions with open auto doors, according to the Council.

Family Here Adopts Little Girl Through Foster Parents' Plan

Mr. and Mrs. Norman Spector, 75 Franklin ter., Springfield, have financially "adopted" Rosario Sanabria, an 8-year-old Colombian girl, through Foster Parents' Plan, Inc., 352 Park avenue south, New York.

The foster parents have already received a photograph and case history of the child. Through an exchange of monthly letters (original and translation are transmitted by the plan) they have learned to know and love one another. Foster parents often send photographs of themselves and their families and descriptions of life in this country.

Many a foster parent who has visited his foster child finds that his letters are tailored from reading and rereading. In turn the foster child writes about the "near-miracle" that his foster parents have wrought. . . . the cash grant of $8 a month. . . . new clothing. . . . household equipment. . . . medical care. . . . and education.

All this is in addition to good used clothing for the foster child's entire family, guidance and counseling from caseworkers supervised by an American director in each of the seven countries where Foster Parents' Plan works — Greece, Hong Kong, Korea, the Philippines, Viet Nam, Colombia and Ecuador.

The key word for "adoption" is "responsible." Every foster child must go to school. Once a child is enrolled he is given many benefits until he graduates from school or achieves financial independence.

Plan strives always to keep the family together. To this end a vocational training school for older brothers and sisters of foster children has been established in Korea, with a job awaiting each graduate.

In the Philippines, plan families living in towns have been relocated as a group in a healthier suburb. College industries have been organized so that the families can earn without having to move back into the industrialized sections of Manila.

Child's Background
The Spector's foster daughter, Rosario, is one of the thousands of unfortunate children of Colombia who live in bitter poverty, suffering endless privations and hardships. She lives with her parents, sister, Janet (7), and brothers Ricardo (6) and Orlando (3).

Her father works as a mason's helper and earns $32.40 a month. The mother also tries to help provide for her family by ironing clothing. She earns about $21.60 a month. They live in a slum area on the outskirts of the northwestern part of Bogota.

This family lives in a barracks and occupies one room. Their room has wooden walls, wooden floor, carton ceiling and tile roof. It is furnished with

'65 Fall Fashions To Be Previewed At Pool Showing

The '65 look for fall will preview at a detailed fashion show on Aug. 16 in the recreation pavilion at the Springfield municipal swimming pool.

The intelligent look is "in" for the coming season. The smooth-line bluster dress with mesh stockings is the fashion world's costume for the carefree casual pool and off-campus, fashion experts on the recreation staff announced.

Springfield pool members are invited to attend the fall fashion show for a well thought through back-to-school wardrobe.

Reinette's of Springfield will sponsor the fashion show.

She is quite active and has a pleasant disposition. Janet also attends school, and the family makes many sacrifices so that the children will be a proper education.

Pool Has Tourneys In Many Categories

The air last week at the Springfield Municipal Pool was filled with the sound of swishing rackets sliding down the pavement of the shuffleboard courts, as some 20 boys of all ages turned out for the seasonal tournament.

Robert Silverman defeated all comers in the two-day competition. He beat Lee Meisel in the finals by a score of 45-24. Robert Goodman and Howard Al- expanded. . . .

Another feature at the pool was a table tennis tournament. Top honors went to Gary Kurtz. The week ended in a splash on Sunday with a variety of races and contests.

For adults: "Games People Play: The Psychology of Human Relationships" by Eric Berne, M.D. "Addressing himself to the intelligent layman. The games are the patterns of response a person employs in his relationship to other people."

College crowd: "Letters From Mississippi" "Last summer, nearly a thousand young men and women went to Mississippi to live and work with Negro families. This collection of letters written to families and friends back home tells of the volunteers' work in registering Negroes as well as their terrified reactions to what they saw." Edited by Elizabeth Sutherland.

Literary biography: "C. P. Snow" by Jerome Kramar. "The latest study of the British novelist, discussed in detail the novels in the 'Strangers and Brothers' sequence."

Nature lovers: "The Loon in My Bathub" by Ronald Road. "About everything from hatching wild duck eggs in an electric frying pan to hibernating frogs in the refrigerator."

Small fry: "George" by Agnes Sligh Turnbull. "A large brown rabbit wears glasses. One day he just hopped through the back door and settled down in the Weaver household. How would you like to have a talking rabbit for a friend?"

"Wonders of An Oceanarium" is the story of marine life in captivity, written and illustrated with photographs by Lou Jacobs, Jr. Seals, dolphins, whales, narwhals and even sea horses are fed, treated for diseases and trained to perform. Fascinating pictures.

ANTHONY VERLANGIERI

The Springfield Municipal Pool this year has so many new and lively activities that it is beginning to simulate a vacation-resort-spot-away-from-home-right-at-home.

In fact, Anthony Verlangieri, who heads a recreation staff of six at the pool this summer, stopped by the other morning to offer an invitational run down on the new (and continuing) recreational activities, programs and facilities available to Springfield members "six years old and up."

Verlangieri, a husky, robust athlete, sporting a healthy-looking, outdoor tan (He is direct or of industrial arts in the Orange school system), explained that he applied for the job of recreation director early this year, was approved by the township and received his assignment last April.

He said that he is determined to have an exceptionally successful summer this year and that all sorts of activities are operating for all-age groups.

"My job is to provide recreational activities for all members, ages six and up. And we have an extremely capable staff to supervise and participate in the activities.

"IT'S A NEW organizational setup of three boys and three girls. We have Ron Puorro, Fred Puorro and Tom Marino, Toni Minette and Janet Gerardo. We had a third girl, but she had to quit because of illness. We are in the process of getting another.

"For the youngsters," Verlangieri explained, "we have such supervised activities as arts and crafts, and a variety of games, supervised by Toni Minette and Janet Gerardo.

"For the teen-agers, we have a softball league for boys, conducted on our new regulation softball field, which is equipped with lights for night games although we do not play at night. We use the field up to 6 p.m., then the Men's League takes over.

"The teen-age teams, for boys 13 to 15 years old, play on Tuesdays and Thursdays at 1:45 p.m., weather permitting," he noted. "On the other days, incidentally, boys 10 to 12 years old play softball. Girls are welcome to participate in their own games, that is.

"And additionally," he smiled, "we have a juke-box set-up on the patio by the filter house, for diversified entertainment. Rock 'n' roll," he added.

"FOR THE WOMEN," Verlangieri explained, "we have a slimnastics class every day, which is very popular. The classes seem to get bigger as the days go by," and he indicated, the women get smaller... that is, slimmer.

Verlangieri named Ron Puorro as supervisor of the slimnastics course. "Then there is the women's volleyball, scheduled three days a week... a supplementary activity aimed toward slimming," he indicated.

"For the men, the biggest interest right now is paddleball. And of course," Verlangieri said, "the men really take advantage of the new softball field on weekends.

"In fact," he said, "the ball field has been very well initiated already. The Springfield Firemen played the Springfield Policemen recently. It was a pretty close game.

"For senior citizens," he added, "we make spot announcements as to the availability of facilities—such as checkers, shuffle-board, horse shoes, scrabble—games that aren't too taxing.

"ALL THE FACILITIES, by the way, are made available through reservation. In this way, we avoid all kinds of fights and disagreements."

The general atmosphere at the pool, he commented, is a calm, relaxing one. "A lot of the adults come mainly to lounge, play cards, read... and just relax. The pool is in use mainly by the children.

"And sometimes, it's hard to get the teen-agers interested in participating in our organized recreational activities. They seem to be having too much fun in the pool.

"But," he added whimsically, "we have some especially enticing plans for the future. We're planning to bring in guest bands for poolside, a fashion show, a talent show and various competition-tournaments to stimulate interest."

Verlangieri, who was born in Orange, and educated in the Orange school system, was graduated from New York State College with a B. S. degree. He has done graduate work at Rutgers and Monclair St. He is presently taking subjects at Montclair State toward a master's degree.

"I taught industrial arts in high and elementary schools, worked at Brookside Swim Club for eight years, and, for 21 years, served as supervisor of arts and

Could The Minutemen Save Springfield In '65?

The exploits of the Minutemen and the small but significant part they played in defeating the British provide a proud moment in the history of Springfield, as well as an undying footnote in the story of this nation's origins. There are, however, some lingering doubts as to whether their heroism could be matched by the present-day citizenry. This is what it might sound like today: "Where are you going this time, Dear?" "Didn't you hear the report on the John Gambling program? The British are coming!" "Oh, no. With the schools closed tomorrow, what am I going to do with those children all day? But how does that give you another excuse to get out of the house tonight?" "Come on. You know all about it. I'm a Minuteman." "Not when it comes to cleaning out the cellar, you're not. You've been starting that job for six months. The only thing you show any regard at is getting out of the house." "I can't imagine what you mean." "Last week it was the committee to discuss the executive committee to the Little League. Then it was the draft committee to find volunteer firemen. And then it was auditions for the snoker — I mean to burn the mortgage for the lodge headquarters. And then it was the philanthropic committee to sus-tain victims of overexertion in the bowling league. Don't you ever want to spend any time with your family?" "Don't point your finger at me. How about you? With the PTA Subcommittee on creative finger painting. And the League of Women Subjects of His Royal Majesty. And the Mothers of the American Revolution. And the Springfield Yuletide and Noel Society, with all those foreign French Christmas carols. It's a good thing that you mother is here to take care of the children." "You leave my mother out of this." "I wish I could. You invited her here nine years ago." "Keep to the subject, Dear. Just what do you thing you're going to do with that musket and that old uniform. You've put on so much weight I don't see Parson Caldwell..." "Well, I got this note from how you expect to button it." "You should be ashamed, the whole lot of you, to take advantage of that innocent parson.

Just stop that, and tell me where you're going." "Well..." "Just take off that ridiculous costume. You're too big for trick-or-treating. And besides, leaked the Wilsons over for the evening. They're bringing some home movies they made last summer when they toured 11 of the 13 colonies. Did you know they have the latest model carriage, with a sun-roof and see-through windows? And she gets all her clothes direct by schooner from Paris!" "I'm sorry, honey. I just have to go. It's my patriotic duty." "You mean that they're starting to deal the cards already. You don't care what happens to your family. All you care about is those awful cigars and that moonshine from the still in Short Hills... What are you looking out the window like that for?" "It's too late. There go the Redcoats. All the way to Morristown. Now we'll never have a republic. And Mr. Palmer will never get finished with Rt. 78."

Senator Case Reports

In the days just ahead, millions of elderly Americans will begin to be a little less dependent and a little more self-reliant. The reason will be enactment of the "Medicare" bill — more formally known as medical care for the aged under Social Security. After three unsuccessful efforts in the last five years, the Congress has finally approved such a bill. And before the summer is much older, the President will sign it into law.

I was happy to vote for passage of this bill when it recently came before the Senate; just as I was glad to support similar legislation in 1960, in 1958 and again last year. This program is long overdue and much needed. It will permit all Americans to face the future with less fear of the heavy financial burdens which illness can create.

The second part is an optional health insurance program which will cover doctor bills and many other health costs, such as x-rays, laboratory tests and oxygen tents. This additional coverage would cost participants $3 a month.

While the "Medicare" program doesn't answer all the health care problems of our older citizens, it does provide for pressing needs.

right in providing a facility for the adults which is bringing many hours of enjoyment to township residents. The measurable hours of study and planning by these men is indicative of a sincere and an inexorable desire to meet any needs which makes our town one of the finest in which to reside.

ADULT SOFTBALL
As a member of the Springfield Adult Softball League, speaking for the league participants, I would like to take this opportunity to extend a special note of thanks and congratulations to the governing body of our town.

Since it is difficult for a project of this magnitude to be handled solely by three already extremely busy men, the efforts of Edward Ruby, director of recreation; John S. Donington, assistant director of recreation; and Edward Hoffer, league director, were not unnoticed. Their knowledge of the necessary technical requirements and tireless checking during each phase of the field and fixture installation were vital.

The installation of outdoor lighting for the softball field adjoining the municipal pool was an example of the kind of forward thinking, resident-interested government for which Springfield is noted.

Legally, a most sincere thank you to David Katz, William Savarin and Samuel Calabrese, with whom I worked and participated in numerous meetings in order to bring the need for this new successful asset to the attention of Mayor Koonz, whose enthusiastic reception and practical judgment saw its fulfillment.

Mayor William Koonz, Arthur Falkin and Robert Pfaher are to be commended for their fore-thoughtful reception and practical judgment saw its fulfillment.

Nobody ever thinks about a water heater... until it runs out.

Quick recovery electric water heaters never get thought about.

They just work away unnoticed, unsung, producing hot water that goes on and on and on and on. If you owned one, you wouldn't even know it was there. As you use the hot water, it heats up more in a big hurry. And it works without flame, needs no vents or flues, never makes a sound, or even a speck of mess, and can be installed anywhere in the house. If you don't own one, it might be worth a little thought.

Playground Attendance Totals Rise; Children Model Space Helmets

With one-half of the summer playground season now gone, attendance on the Springfield playgrounds is still very high. Registration at all of the 10 supervised play areas in Springfield continues to grow. At the half-way mark of the 1965 playground season, more than 1,200 children have registered for play on the Springfield playgrounds.

Last week on the playgrounds, the children stepped into the spirit of space adventure as each playground featured a space helmet contest. Lucille Hardgrove was the most original creation. Joey Delmauro's helmet won the most ready for a moon landing, while Jerry Harvey's creation was all set for the Mars invasion.

Donnie Schwerdt won the award for being the most like a man from outer space. Joe Pepe finished first in a washer toss contest, while Richard Schwerdt was second in this contest. Joey Pepe successfully defended his washer championship the following day, with Joe Visotski placing second in the competition.

Children who enjoy games on the swings include Donnie Schwerdt and Debbie Schwerdt. Bonnie Wengert is a sand-box castle maker, while Cynthia and Nancy Kistner are tops in arts and crafts activities.

DENHAM PLAYGROUND

The Denham play area, located at the end of Denham rd. near Colfax rd., continues to attract a large number of children. Last week, Joanne Jacques and Johnny Bellevue won a tetherball contest, while Tom Jacques and Marty and Matty Flynn were tops in fort building.

Peter Jacques and Billy Bjorstad won the sand castle contest. Peter and Billy erected the largest sand castle of the day. Chris Gacos was most helpful in the playground's clean-up campaign following the week end.

The space helmet contest took place last Wednesday at the playground. John Wachel, Karen Leile, Karen Wright and Pat Carroll were the winners of this event of the week. Arts and crafts are very popular at the Denham area. The top participants last week were Joan Jacques and Karen Wright. Lisa Roman won a game of "Tammy."

Last Friday, the children held an election at their playground. Elected as president were Timmy Wilson, Chris and Jamie Gacos. The children also took a trip to the tirehouse on this day, and all enjoyed this adventure. Refreshments were served when the children returned to the playground.

HENSHAW PLAYGROUND

A game of Spud was played last Tuesday at the playground. The participants included: Kathy Yeager, Barbara Yeager, Nancy Yeager, Donna Heady, Barbara Heady, Kathy Hoffman, Janet Hoffman and Toni and Anita Ragucci.

Riverside held its parade last Wednesday afternoon. The prettiest and most original hat was worn by Nancy Yeager. Kirk Libby entered the most unusual hat. Toni and Anita Ragucci had the funniest hats. The prize for the most artistic hats was awarded to Doris, Janop, and Kathy Hoffman. Skipper Johnson, Teddy Johnson and Barbara Ferrary were the most colorful hats.

In a softball game between the girls and the boys, the top players were: Peter Cook, Jimmy Schoch, Ed Cook, Kirk Libby, Nancy Yeager, Kathy Yeager, Barbara Heady, Kathy Hoffman, Janet Hoffman and Toni and Anita Ragucci.

IRWIN PLAYGROUND

Monday was an exciting day as most of the children took part in the long-planned playground picnic. Among those who worked hard to make this picnic successful were: Warren Schleppner, Charles Adickman, Pat Gelwarg, Hal Wasserman, Danny Marjanino, Paul DeVita, Steve Herman, Cindy Mariniano, Lisa Cole, Cindy Patino, Julie Blaufox, Sandra Blaufox and Todd Herman.

On Tuesday a long game of "Guess What's in the Bag" took place. After many hours of questioning and guessing, the winner proved to be Todd Herman. Charles Adickman won a game of bombardment.

Nell Elliot and Cindy Patino proved to be the playground's best in woodworking, which was also held on Tuesday afternoon. Sandra and Julie Blaufox won a sand-box contest, along with Gail Wilson. Hal Wasserman was the winner in a game of possum tag. Mary Jane and Kathy McGowan won a contest of "Guess the Bread".

The space-helmet contest at Woodside was a big success, as there was a large number of entrants. Honi Kewut and Gail Wilson were judged to have the funniest creations, while the most different belonged to Lisa Cole. Danny Marjanino, Warren Schleppner, and B.J. Weinberger were judged to be the best. The cutest helmets were worn by Cynthia Patino, Donald Thibierge and Chuck Freedman.

WOODSIDE PLAYGROUND

Arts and crafts, always a big attraction at Woodside Playground, took on added adventure last week as the children made name pins. Those participating included: Lucille and Robert Hardgrove, Kathleen McGuire, Joe Visotski, Gary Street, Danny Halsey and Joey Delmauro.

The playground was decorated indeed when Jimmy Scallion sent a picture post-card while he was vacationing in Seaside Heights.

Wednesday was the space helmet contest. Lucille Hardgrove won the prize for the most original creation. Joey Delmauro's helmet won the most ready for a moon landing, while Jerry Harvey's creation was all set for the Mars invasion.

REGIONAL PLAYGROUND

Activities began at Regional Playground last week with a big scavenger hunt. Arthur Strauss finished first in this event, while Jim Fitzgerald placed second. Others in the hunt included: Jeff Krikzen, Henry Trevino, Wendy, Jackie Bobby and Jill Szpara Peggy and Michael Palmer and Darion Dileo.

Jim Fitzgerald finished first in a playground horseshoe tournament. Others placing in the event were: Jeff Krikzen, Jimmy Spiesbach, and Alan, Phillip, and Steve Krikzen.

The winner of a horseshoe tournament was Gail Lawrence. Others were: Jamie Helchman

"Right now, however, as things stand, we have a pretty exciting summer planned for our members. So far the reactions have been most favorable. And really it isn't difficult to become a part of these programs as a member of the Springfield Municipal Pool."

"All you have to do is to be a citizen of Springfield. And leave the rest up to us."

Verlangieri, who has been a Springfield resident for 15 years, runs the gamut. "I played tennis at college (my wife also played tennis) and I played some baseball on and off — and I like to watch all the 'football' games." He says he also likes to putter around the house doing odds and ends.

Verlangieri is a member of the New Jersey Educational Association, EPT Fraternity (an industrial arts fraternity), the Orange Teachers Association and the Secondary Teachers Association.

"I'd like to make an appeal to the people of Springfield who are members of the municipal pool to take advantage of what we're offering at the pool this summer. The facility is there — and we'd like to use it. We will welcome any criticisms and suggestions, particularly if they aid us toward making a better program."

Life-Savers Learn In Courses At Pool

In fact, Deb, who is in her third year at the pool, is a senior life-saver. In her first year as an instructor, she explained that she was surprised to note that "the junior life savers are really good."

Deb, who plans to be an elementary school teacher when she is graduated, discussed her own interests in swimming and life-saving. "I had always been a good swimmer," she said. "I went to summer camp, then received an instructor certificate at Muskegon College."

"YOU SEE," she said, "to become an instructor, you have to have both senior life-saving and water safety instructor certificates."

Deb smiled at the strict commands and harsh instruction of her assistant. Although she was not as strict with the girl students, she seemed to learn quickly well.

"Our junior life-savers are 12 years old to 16 and our senior life-savers, 16 and up. We study from this Red Cross life-saving book," she indicated. "The senior life-savers are marked according to a life-saving worksheet."

Under self-rescue, the seniors are marked for adjustment to the water, resting in floating position, swimming in place, treading water, release of cramp, dislodging items under elementary forms of rescue: reaching assists, wading assists, throwing ring buoy or line, use of free floating supports, reaching a wading subject with extensions and boat.

Under approach, seniors are marked for shallow arm pull, arm pull and kick, swim on back — legs alone, surface dives, use of pole hook, locating submerged victims, recover object from bottom, riddle reverse and taking off from shore.

Town Meeting Has Culture As Subject

The governing body rejected an application to construct a new 6,000-gallon storage tank at the Shell gasoline station at the corner of Mountain ave. and S. Springfield ave.

Since the gas station had been the subject of a special-exception use permit in 1951 and a variance in 1956, it was explained, another variance would be required to extend a non-conforming use.

The applicant was advised to bring the matter to the Zoning Board of Adjustment, Committee Chairman Jay Bloom noted that several conditions in the previous variance had not been met.

The committee expressed its thanks to Ben Yarrow of 17 S. Springfield ave. for bringing the legal problem to its attention.

A letter promising help in widening Shumpke rd. at Mountain ave. to facilitate the flow of traffic at this trouble spot, was acknowledged from the Union Road Department. James C. Tomassulo, county superintendent of roads, wrote that if the township provided curbing at the intersection, the county would pave the roadway.

Street Improvement

Asking approval for street improvement in the coming year, Del Vecchio noted that work being completed on Beverly rd. is the final item on the improvement list for 1964.

The committee approved his recalled Springfield contained large numbers of owls and blackbirds, which ate up to four or five rats a day and kept the vermin under control. Both the owls and snakes have since vanished.

When the highway department bulldozers arrive in force, Marshall warned, the rats will spread out in all directions, burrowing and seeking shelter, food and water. The situation should improve once the construction is completed, but until then, he added, all residents should remain alert to the possibility of uninvited rodents.

The sanitation said that the concentration of rats is virtually nonexistent in this area, but that the rats do spread dirt. He added that cats and dogs could eat rats which have been poisoned, and thus become poisoned themselves.

Course To Cover Frauds, Phonies, Genuine Antiques

Practical methods to distinguish genuine articles from reproductions and "fakes," the examination of examples of china, glass and silver and a thorough and detailed study of woods and refinishing processes will be taken up in a new Union County Regional Adult School course, entitled "Adventures in Antiques."

According to school officials, the new course, which includes a survey of historical background and appreciation of antiques, is being added because of the demand and interest among Union County residents in the study of antiques.

The three adult schools are located at Governor Livingston Regional High School, Berkeley Heights; Jonathan Dayton, Springfield; and Arthur L. Johnson, Clark.

Adult School officials announced that Robert W. Staloff of Trenton, a consultant for museums, an authorized appraiser for insurance companies and an active auctioneer, has been chosen as course instructor.

Staloff often lectures with his father, Lester M. Staloff. The Staloff family has three generations of experience in antiques.

During the Union County Regional Adult School course, the characteristic work of master craftsmen will be discussed, through the furniture styles of Queen Ann, Thomas Chippendale, George Hepplewhite, Thomas Sheraton, the Adam Brothers and the Empire and Victorian periods, as well as American and European glass, china and silver.

School officials said that class members also will have an opportunity to examine and discuss many examples of china, glass and silver from Staloff's own collection. These items were chosen to impart an "abundance of applicable and useful information" to the adult school.

Among the other new courses to be offered at the regional adult schools are: "Numbers Can Be Fun," "Electronics," "Planning for College," "The Role of the Substitute Teacher," "Politics in Action," "Cooking, Plain and Fancy," "Education, Today and Tomorrow" and "Opening College Doors."

Each year about 3,000 adults attend classes offered at the three schools.

Witnesses Absent; Case Is Dismissed

Dismissal of a malicious damage charge against Anthony Passarelli, 20 of Millburn, highlighted an unusually brief session of the Springfield Municipal Court Monday evening at Town-Hall.

Thomas A. Argyle, former magistrate, presided. Magistrate Max Sherman is on vacation. With few cases to hear, court adjourned by 8:30.

The charge against Passarelli was dismissed by the magistrate because the complaining witness failed to appear. They were Mr. and Mrs. Bruce Durann of Hillside.

Passarelli is service manager at the Islander Corp., Rt. 22 auto dealers. Durann had charged last week that Passarelli had repeatedly slammed the door of Durann's car, during an argument over repairs, and that the slamming had broken the outside mirror on the car.

Neither Durann nor his wife, however, appeared Monday to

THE Golden Years

PRIVATE MESSAGE TO WIVES ON KEEPING HUSBANDS ALIVE

The best way for a normal wife to have financial security in her retirement years—even if she doesn't like the fellow very well—is to get her husband and keep him breathing.

Retirement money, in our times, is set up for the breadwinner in the family, which usually is the husband, and when he goes, most of the grocery money goes with him.

All of which could make a pretty good argument that present retirement thinking seems to suppose that a wife should go out and throw herself when her husband dies. But that gets into deep water. The purpose of today's column is to point out the case of a wife who has some face-to-face with the problem.

"My husband retires at the end of this year," she says. "He will have pension and Social Security of $470 a month, and since we own our home he intends that we start living it up with travel and fun. Which I think we can do to some extent."

"But let him die... and do you know how much income I'll have per month? Exactly $71, which will be my share of his Social Security. His pension will die with him. So will his own Social Security. And I will suddenly be demoted from a well-to-do retired wife to a poverty-class widow."

"This is a fairly typical set of facts. Most husbands still do not provide that their pensions be split so their widows also can get a pension for life. And they can't do anything about Social Security."

"But this is not the whole story," the wife continues. "My husband gets hospitalization insurance for us as one of his retirement benefits. He dies and it dies. My husband does most of the upkeep on our house. He dies and I start paying somebody $27 to fix a gutter. And there's one other thing—my husband has a well of good-will where his job has been and could go back for a helping hand in time of crisis. As his widow I just wouldn't matter."

This wife, while spelling things out about as they are, does not face quite the crisis she thinks she does. Their home, worth probably $16,000, is a two-story affair with three large bedrooms. Their savings, drawing 4% per cent in a savings & loan association, total $11,000. The husband has a life insurance policy of $10,000 that will be paid up this year.

This wife, and others who might now take a new look at this problem, could give some of their more serious thinking to avoiding the whole thing by keeping their husbands alive. Certain positive steps toward this end might be considered:

—Make your husband go to a doctor for a thorough physical examination around the time he retires.

—Write down what the doctor recommends, come home and be very disagreeable until your husband does all the doctor said.

—Stop nagging the fellow. Except in matters of his health.

Justin P. Walder, president of the Suburban Chapter of The City of Hope, announced this week that a Celebrity Golf Exhibition and Golf Clinic will be held to raise funds for The City of Hope Pilot Medical Center. The event will take place on Friday, Sept. 3 at 1 p.m., at the Braidburn Country Club in Florham Park.

Featured celebrities will be Jack Nicklaus, Wes Ellis, Lester Ward and Basil Amorosano. Tickets will be a donation of $5 with all proceeds going to The City of Hope.

$269,000 Donated By Health Service

Research and training grants totaling more than $269,000 have been received recently by New Jersey College of Medicine and Dentistry from the U. S. Public Health Service, according to Dr. James E. McCormack, president of the Jersey City professional school.

More than $200,000 of the federal support is earmarked for medical-dental training projects. These include a program in dentistry for children, neurology, pharmacology and surgery projects.

Research grants support experimental work in muscular dystrophy, white blood cell regeneration, sensory pathways from dental structures to the brain and a study of Eastern Encephalitis in New Jersey.

Although a state institution, New Jersey College of Medicine and Dentistry can and does receive financial and other support from private and public agencies. In the year ending June 30 an estimated $3,350,000 in grants and gifts was turned over to the college, Dr. McCormack reported.

For And About Teens

Running Away From Home No Answer

THE WEEK'S LETTER: "I am interested, if you can tell me, about the law. I would like to know how old a person must be before they can get married or leave home without their parents' consent. In some states, I know, it is 21. In others, I think it is 18. What is the case in Kentucky?"

OUR REPLY: In Kentucky, consent of parents is required for marriage until the age of 21. This writer has no knowledge of what the requirements are in other states.

parents will come to mean more to you, and you will come to understand them more and more as years go by.

HEALTH HINTS

From N. J. Medical Society

A vacation is, literally, a period that is "emptied" of all demands on our time and action. It is a period of freedom from the schedules and assignments that we regularly labor under during the working year. You are not having a vacation unless you can feel that there is nothing that has to be done, and that whatever you decide to do you can do in your own good time. For the reason-frenzied programs of travel or sports activities or social indulgences are all incompatible with a true vacation. Unless there is real freedom from obligation and from time, there is no real vacation.

Recreation is another abused term. It means an interval or circumstance which makes you feel "created again," which rests and relaxes you, and restores you to full vigor and vitality and enjoyment of life. It's absurd to wear yourself out trying to become refreshed. Recreation should never leave you more debilitated than when you began.

So, make this a vacation, and not a hectic and exhausting rat race in the mistaken pursuit of pleasures which you are too worn out to enjoy. Then you will return to the life of schedules and demands refreshed and renewed. That's what vacations are for.

MTANEST THIEF

WATER for BETTER LIVING

Whether she be 18 or 81, no red-blooded American girl could imagine life without beauty shops. Which may have something to do with the existence of more than 80,000 such shops in the United States. Speaking for the opposite sex, we're delighted. As water-system men (and women) we're delighted for another reason. Beauty shops are good water customers. We like being part of a beautiful business.

Call For Car Inspection Wait

Recorded telephone announcements on the length of waiting lines have helped even out the crowds among the 13 state motor vehicle inspection stations in Union, Hudson, Essex and Middlesex counties.

The announcement service, set up by State Division of Motor Vehicles and the New Jersey Bell Telephone Company in late June, has been averaging about 200 calls a day, according to the telephone company. Special public numbers are used.

Miss June Stroleck, state motor vehicle director, said the service has helped make inspection station operations more efficient in at least two ways.

"If a motorist calls and finds out the waiting time is 15 minutes at one station and 30 minutes at another," she points out, "he'll choose the place with the shorter wait."

"Our reports indicate that there has been a noticeable leveling out of the load at our stations since the announcement service was set up."

There are two numbers for motorists to call. In Hudson and Essex counties they can dial 622-8022 to get information about stations in Jersey City, Secaucus, Newark, East Orange, Montclair and Livingston.

In Union and Middlesex, the number is 382-5151 for information about inspection locations in Rahway, Westfield, Union, Plainfield, Perth Amboy, North Brunswick and Highland Park.

CHILDREN DAWDLE

"Hurry up Johnny! Stop fooling around and eat those tomatoes." Does this sound familiar? Many a mother may sound even more exasperated about her youngster's dawdling than Johnny's mother does.

A young child's dawdling can be very irritating at all times, but especially so at mealtime when the whole family gathers.

Youngsters who dawdle at meals are often better off eating alone. There are so many distractions when a youngster eats with the family that he may become much more interested in what is going on around him than in eating. Until a child is four years old, he can only do one thing at a time. He may like to talk to everybody more than he wants to eat. After four, he can talk and eat too (probably with his mouth full).

Overheard

By EFFIE

Mrs. W.'s little girl had had quite a party to celebrate her fourth birthday. During the night her mother was awakened by a slight sound of something falling. Thinking nothing of it, she went back to sleep only to be startled a few minutes later by a series of thumps. It seemed to come from the child's bedroom. Even though she hadn't cried or called out, Mrs. W. thought it wise to investigate. When she turned on the light she found that little Irene had piled as many of her birthday gifts as possible on top of the pillow, and a great many more at the side and foot of the bed. Each time she turned a bit one or more toy thumped to the floor. Raising up on one elbow and half opening one eye she murmured, "I had a lovely party, didn't I? I love these nice presents so much I took 'em ALL to bed with me!"

Believe it or not, Fair attractions have to be excellent to make good!

The teacher sent a note home saying six-year old Johnny had been fighting with a boy. His father questioned him. "Well," said Johnny, "there were a lot of kids around me in the school yard and I told 'em to go away. But Danny didn't go — he stayed, so I hit him!"

"But why did you want them all to go away?" queried his Dad.

"Because," said Johnny, "I heard you and Mommy say this morning that my kids Grandpa was very sick. I wanted to be alone so I could pray for Gramp to get well!"

County Reports Cancer Increase

There were 117 more cancer deaths in New Jersey in 1964 than in 1963, the New Jersey Division of the American Cancer Society said this week. The total in 1964 was 11,801 compared to 11,624 in 1963. In reporting the figures the Society said they were compiled from records recently released by the Vital Statistics and Registration Section of the New Jersey Department of Health.

Union County recorded an increase of seven deaths. The figures in 1963 were 965 deaths compared to 972 in 1964.

In reporting the increase in cancer deaths, the Society estimates that there will be 22,000 new cancer cases in the State during 1965. In 1964 an estimated 200,000 Americans died of cancer, and in 1963 it was 280,000. About 183,000 Americans will be saved from cancer this year. About 92,000 cancer patients will probably die in 1965 who might have been saved by earlier and better treatment.

The Division noted that one of the most effective ways of reducing the number of cancer deaths is for everyone to heed the Seven Danger Signals and to visit his doctor for a yearly health examination.

Newark Bears Invade Tennessee Saturday

Darrell Cox will be playing on almost familiar territory when he blogs his playing position with the Newark Bears against the Charleston, W. Va. Rockets in an inter-division Continental Football League game at Kingsport, Tenn. Saturday night.

The team will enter a two-week stay at their Spartan Lodge training camp here early Saturday morning and fly to Kingsport.

Cox, who lives in Miami, Fla. but made his football reputation at Kentucky University, is a 5-9, 170 pound bundle of dynamite who electrified 4,500 fans while the Bears were winning their first exhibition game of the season, 10-12, over Fort Wayne in Parma last week.

Senator Williams Reports

WASHINGTON—The Senate Special Committee on Aging recently held a hearing in Newark aimed at finding imaginative and effective ways to focus the War on Poverty on the problems of our Senior Citizens.

I chaired the hearing, and I said before it started that I was confident that New Jersey would produce a bonanza of original thinking on this subject.

My prediction was more than fulfilled. This was one of the most productive hearings I have attended during 10 years in Congress.

Governor Richard J. Hughes defined the problem when he stated "poverty among the aged is one of the bitterest kinds of poverty, they continue to suffer not just from physical deprivation, but also from what Michael Harrington calls a 'structure of misery and loneliness'."

John Bullitt, head of New Jersey's War on Poverty suggested that the U. S. Office of Economic Opportunity assign research funds to determine precisely who the older poor are. And he proposed two broad categories of programs: to provide services for the older poor who are in need of care in the community and programs to mobilize the eagerness and capacity of the older poor for productive work.

A number of witnesses described programs which already are operating successfully, but on a very limited scale because of lack of funds and trained personnel.

James Rothschild, executive director of SAGE (Summit Area Association for Gerontological Endeavor), told of some of the programs that group has developed over the last decade.

These included a visiting homemaker service and a workshop in which older men can repair furniture and do similar work either for themselves or for pay. Mr. Rothschild also told of an employment service called OWL (Older Workers Lifeline). This is free and it has helped senior citizens find employment in many categories, including placing an executive director for a senior citizens camp, a typist for a novelist and an electrician for a museum.

Edward Emmons of Asbury Park describes a service operated in that community for senior citizens who are blind. Books are transcribed into braille and also dictated onto phonograph records or tape recorders.

William Henry, representing Presbyterian Hospital Unit of the Newark Volunteers of United Hospitals, described how more than 100 senior citizen volunteers provide many kinds of services to the hospital, including visitation and messenger work.

There were a number of highly imaginative and exciting proposals from witnesses across the state who obviously have given a lot of thought to the problems of the elderly but who have had no opportunity, yet, to translate their thoughts into action.

Representatives of Monmouth Community Action Program, Inc., estimated that an effective program of geriatric services, to supplement existing community services, especially in homemaking and nursing care, could cut in half the number of older persons admitted to mental hospitals.

Miss Doris Hanson, administrative assistant at Roosevelt Hospital in Edison, also outlined a plan for homemaker services in the community which would eliminate many admissions of older persons to general hospitals.

She pointed out that not only are elderly persons much happier in their home community, but not duplicate, the community betterment efforts of the Jersey wastes on older persons, who generally require only custodial care.

Deputy Mayor Paul Reilly of Newark, described a plan now being prepared for submission to the OEO by the Newark Senior Citizens Commission.

Essentially, the plan is to mobilize older persons into one or more Neighborhood Rehabilitation Corps, which would parallel, but not duplicate, the community betterment efforts of the Neighborhood Youth Corps.

The Senior Citizens would work with very young children and would use the knowledge of a lifetime of community living to help their neighbors improve their daily lives, their homes and their surroundings.

The hearing which I chaired in Newark is one of a series which are to be held around the country, seeking ways to mobilize the War on Poverty for a drive on the problems — and the potential — of the elderly.

Sargent Shriver, head of the OEO, suggested at the first hearing, in Washington, that if our study uncovered the imagination and the drive to make a broad program for the elderly work, a new section of the OEO legislation might be written.

If the New Jersey hearing is representative of what we will find elsewhere in the nation, I am certain we are well on our way toward that goal.

Pleasant Living Space, Working Area Found In Successfully Planned Kitchen

Unlike the old saying about accidents, successful kitchens "don't just happen." They are the result of meticulous planning down to the last detail so the finished room will combine pleasant surroundings and functional work space.

According to Ralph Sherwin, chief designer of Libbey-Owens-Ford Glass Company, the kitchen is one of the most used rooms in the house, and as such it is well worth all the effort that goes into it.

"Besides being a place for preparing meals, it doubles as dining space, family gathering center and even the laundry," he adds, "because today's informal way of living often means guests in the kitchen, it must be attractive as well."

In addition, Sherwin points out that the kitchen is the most expensive room in the house. Aside from the bare walls there is the possibility of several thousand dollars being put into cabinets, appliances, floor covering, wiring and lighting. With this kind of an investment, it just isn't economically sound to give any kitchen, new or remodeled, anything less than the best in planning.

The designer said that good kitchens follow basic design rules which have been tried and proven by architects and builders. Since homemakers will share in the responsibility of planning a kitchen, he advises that they become familiar with some of the simple guidelines as an aid in visualizing their own facilities.

For example, stick to the basic "triangle" design in the placement of the refrigerator, stove and sink so food can be prepared with a minimum of movement. Plan on ample counter space flanking all three utilities, and try to avoid corner counters. They create hard-to-reach work areas and make storage shelves below almost impossible to get at unless special doors or revolving shelves are installed.

To keep the kitchen cheerful and avoid having it become shut off from activities going on around it, Sherwin advises allowing for a large window, preferably over the most frequently used work area. Not only will it let in plenty of natural light, but the view will have a psychological advantage in taking much of the drudgery out of everyday chores. When there are young children in the family, the window makes it possible to supervise their outdoor play while working.

Glazed with Thermopane insulating glass, the window will offer added resistance to fogging in the high humidity frequently present in kitchens, as well as protecting against excessive heat transfer. Consider sliding windows when the kitchen adjoins a patio. This way a "pass through" when serving outdoor meals.

Typewriter Is Stolen

A rented typewriter, valued at $300, was stolen from the premises of Hoffman Royal Beverage Co., 735 Rahway ave., Union, early Monday morning, according to police. There were no signs of forced entry, police said.

Remember that they spend a great percentage of their day in the kitchen, homemakers should make it an attractive as well as a practical place to work. This means careful blending of colors in walls, cupboards, appliances and floor covering. Keep maintenance in mind however, and choose colors which are not likely to show dirt too readily and make daily cleaning necessary.

Since a great many families enjoy informal meals, if space permits, Sherwin suggests including a dining area as part of the kitchen. This arrangement places the table close to the cooking facilities and minimizes serving and cleanup time.

Outdoor 'Garden Rooms' Add Versatility To Homes

Garden rooms, those versatile outdoor living areas which are designed for fun as well as function, are adding generously to the warm-weather enjoyment of modern homes.

According to Otto F. Wenzler, architectural consultant of Libbey-Owens-Ford Glass Company, a "garden room" is basically what the name implies—a part of the landscape which has been arranged to give privacy and provide a setting for tables and chairs in much the same manner as a conventional room.

Located adjacent to the house, it becomes a convenient spot for family meals, informal entertaining or a restful hideaway for just relaxing during a busy day.

Noting that garden rooms are gaining in popularity, Wenzler commented that "people in general" are becoming more landscape conscious, prompted to a great extent by the open design of today's homes.

"Sliding doors of Thermopane insulating glass have made it practical to open up entire walls of modern homes, even those in sections of the country which experience severe winters. As a result, indoor and outdoor areas are virtually joined into a continuous unit and it becomes natural to treat the garden somewhat like an extension of the house and take advantage of the extra outdoor space which is available much of the year," he said.

When the sliding glass doors are open in warm weather, people should be able to circulate freely back-and-forth between the lawn and the house, the architect pointed out. For this reason he advised that steps, beds and shrubbery be clear of the main traffic lanes. Planting also should be arranged to allow both things as lounge chairs, tables and even the barbecue grill to be conveniently placed—since the garden will form the "back porch" of the adjacent house, it is advisable to make sure that it is attractive from the street.

The matter of privacy is important. Although a garden room need not be completely isolated from its surroundings, a certain degree of seclusion from neighboring property is always desirable.

"With the house itself shielding one side, the perfect solution is to surround the remaining three sides with a wall of bushy shrubs or enclose it with a fence," Wenzler said. "It's a good idea to use some evergreens here and there as they will add 'life' to the scene during the indoor months."

The job of laying out a garden usually falls to the lady of the house, and most find it a good idea to consult a nurseryman or landscape architect for advice on the varieties of trees and shrubs to choose for best results.

"A Garden Room does not have to be large and elaborate to be effective, and home gardeners should not plan beyond what they are able to comfortably care for," he said. "Good landscape design should be undertaken as much in terms of upkeep as it is in beauty."

Rearranging furniture is one indoor activity that isn't likely to stop with the coming of warm weather. In fact, homemakers frequently step up their efforts, changing the location of tables and chairs to take advantage of the extra livability offered by the pleasant summer days.

Furnishings which were arranged to create a setting of warmth and intimacy during indoor months are being repositioned to allow for the natural summertime change in living habits.

"It is used to that homemakers would change furniture mostly because of the seasonal life it gave them to make a room look different," observes Margaret Pilliod, interior decorator of Libbey-Owens-Ford Glass Company. "Furniture, however, with Thermopane sliding glass doors making the indoors and outdoors into a single living unit during the nice weather, women are taking a more practical approach and are altering winter-time furniture arrangements primarily to gain greater comfort and convenience."

This doesn't mean that every time the seasons change the furniture must be moved around just to make the room livable. If it's done properly in the first place, only a few basic rules, only a few minor changes will do the job.

To begin with, Miss Pilliod points out that traffic flow within the room and to and from the outdoors are essential points to consider when laying out furnishings in a glass walled room, regardless of the time of year.

Bacteria Grow In Heat; Many Types Attack Food

By Mary W. Armstrong, Ed.D. Senior County Home Economist

Those who handle foods, from producer to consumer, have a real responsibility for preventing illness from foods. Extra caution is needed in warm weather.

Although many digestive upsets are unfairly blamed by lay people on "food poisoning," much difficulty can be caused by bacteria of one sort or another. Food handled in large quantities can easily present a problem—a large mass of food, such as prepared for a group, for example, offers a medium in which bacteria can grow happily. A large quantity of food with a high viscosity cools off after cooking. And when refrigerated, the time required to lower the internal temperature will be more considerable. Even thoroughly chilled potato salad should not be exposed to warm summer temperatures for long as the heat might be at a group picnic, or if the food is transported a considerable distance.

Uncooked chicken, fish and cooked egg or custard fillings are also particularly susceptible to harmful bacteria.

Certain bacteria communicated from the persons of food handlers, or spilled clothing, or near clean preparation tables or equipment, are responsible for a large percent of all cases of food poisonings. This type of bacteria causes a toxin in the food which is not destroyed by boiling; nor is its presence easily detected by sight or smell. Foods of this type are particularly susceptible to bacterial attack. For instance, chicken picked from the frame for use in creamed dishes, eggs, tuna fish, and ham chopped for salads and spreads, custard filled pastries and creamed egg dishes are likely of contamination, but if standards of cleanliness and sanitation are not carefully observed.

Such foods as poultry dressings, sausages, beef croquettes, coconut cream pies and certain cheeses may harbor another bacteria causing an infection type of food poisoning.

Meat, poultry, fish, milk and eggs may become contaminated by the bacteria known as salmonella. Public attention was attracted to this recently in connection with the possible contamination of cracked eggs. However, this organism is easily destroyed by thorough cooking. In the case of an egg, to a point where the white is no longer semi-liquid.

Fortunately, the most dangerous type of food poisoning often causing death, is increasing in frequency in the United States. Most outbreaks in this century have been traced to foods improperly canned at home. High temperatures, possible only in a steam pressure cooker, are required to kill the spores of the organism. Open kettle and cold pack methods do not supply these temperatures and, therefore, are not recommended for foods susceptible to botulinus infection. Among these foods are nonacid vegetables (such as green beans, corn, beets, spinach); pork products and seafood.

If food in the home is suspect because of appearance, odor, off flavor or knowledge of improper care, discretion suggests discarding it rather than endangering the health and comfort of family members. But proper care in advance will make this choice unnecessary.

"I REMEMBER"

From Wallace S. Murray, Allentown, Pa.: I remember earlier days in Philadelphia. My dad was a journeyman carpenter and I still possess a book in which he kept a complete record of his employment and earnings from per day for 10 hours. In those days you could take a trolley ride from 6th and Poyter in S. Philadelphia to the end of the line at Fox Chase in the Northeastern part of the city, with free transfers at intersecting cross-town lines, all for 5c per ride or 8 sides for 25c. In the summer, we rode open trolleys with running boards on the sides. We kids would take a penny to store where we received for it a large amount of broken molasses candy, peanut brittle, etc. You could also buy a nice box of solid chocolate candy, about three inches long, one inch wide and close to a quarter of an inch thick, called "Sixteen to One", for one cent. You could purchase a nice looking, fair quality man's suit-coat, vest, trousers for $7. My first job after grammar school, at 15, was in a carpet factory, at a starting salary of $5 for a week of 85 hours. I remember the 3c and 5c loaves of bread. I also well remember the "Hurdy Gurdy" (giggle piano) which hopped here and there to play delightful music, while the hat was passed for donations, anything from a penny to a quarter.

AMONG THE GUESTS at the Flemington Fur Co.'s annual fashion show and luncheon Thursday was Trudis Howland, writer of 'The Flemington Fur Co.' on the right. Her guest is Miss Margaret O'Neill, well-known actress, who is presently one of the stars of The Acting Company of Clinton. Mrs. O'Neill is modeling a chinchilla cosack coat and Mrs. Howland is modeling a natural Brazilian jaguar.

Chinchilla Outstrips Fast Running Jaguar

The jaguar may out-run the chinchilla in the open field, but in the fashion field, the chinchilla still outstrips them all.

So expensive that most people generally are caplets or jackets, Flemington Fur Co. of Flemington, let itself go and showed a Chinchilla cosack-styled coat that not only was full length — but extra long.

Shown to fashion editors and leaders at a fashion show and luncheon Thursday at the Playhouse Inn, New Hope, Pa., the coat is priced at $6,900.

The natural Brazilian jaguar is the one that tops the chinchilla in the fashion field, which was quoted as being 'priceless' and it is. It is about $14,000.

Flemington Fur Co., International stage, screen and television star, presented the new fur, 38 in all at the show, which were created by Raoul-Carlier of Paris especially for Flemington Fur Co. and by Flemington Fur Co. own award-winning designers. Some coats were on July 28-29. There was also a pink mink at about $6,000.

Martha Deane, well-known interviewer of WOR radio, New York, was among the special guests.

S. Rodgers Benjamin, president of Flemington Fur, now claiming to be the largest quality fur concern in the East, announced plans for an extensive expansion of the factory and showrooms at 8 Spring St., Flemington. 45 On Camping Trip To Western Ranch

Forty-five older, Boy Scouts, Explorers, and adult leaders left from Union Saturday, by chartered bus for a rugged camping experience at the Philmont Scout Ranch in New Mexico.

The Philmont Ranch, which celebrates its 27th anniversary this year, according to John E. Mahon, chairman of the Philmont promotion committee of the Union Council, Boy Scouts of America, is a national camping area for the Scout movement. It comprises 137,000 acres of rugged western country on the slopes of the Sangre de Cristo Range of the great Rocky Mountain Chain.

Edward Democovitz of Linden, is the leader of the contingent. Joe Andrade of Cranford, Sidney Simpson of Union and William J. D. Bolan, District Scout Executive as Professional Advisor.

The other members of the contingent include: Charles Joseph, Dennis Dziamba, Robert F. Pirozak Jr., Daniel C. Mroz, Kevin A. Wrigley, Philip A. Kleibasa, Bruce E. Davis, Phillip Democovitz, Stanley Bork and Gerard Lorenzetti of Linden; James Wellen, Dale Yadosky, Michael W. Groenhouer, Donald Gross, and John Litzbauer of Springfield, and William Meyer and Wayne Alexander of Union.

The Philmont Scout Ranch was the gift in 1938 and 1941 of Walter Phillips. The grant included land, a residence, ranch buildings, livestock, and operating ranch equipment. To help develop and maintain the Philmont Ranch he also presented to the Boy Scouts of America as an endowment, the Philtower Building, a 23-story modern office building in Tulsa, Oklahoma.

Philmont Ranch is rich in wild game. It has deer, elk, coyote, antelope, mountain lion, buffalo, wild turkey and bear. Its hills and canyons teem with bird life. Its rushing streams abound with game fish. There is a wilderness of trees, flowers, grasses, and the timeless record of the rocks is a lesson in geology.

This summer about 15,000 Boy Scouts and Explorers will test their camping skills on 12-day expeditions. They will camp out on the trail, carrying their own equipment and cooking their own food. Horseback riding, burro packing, and wilderness survival are combined into these expeditions.

Explores from all parts of the nation participate in pioneering treks, mountain climbing, fishing, horseback riding, geological explorations, field sports, and many other activities.

The local group which also include visits to: Miami Children's Home, Maunee, O.; Iowa State University, Mitchell S. D.; Ellsworth A. F. B. S. Minutemen Defeat Verona, 7-1, Lose To Summit On 3 Errors

Last week—the Springfield Minutemen divided two games to bring their record to four victories against two losses in Suburban Recreation Baseball League play. Springfield tripped Verona, 7-1, at the Verona home field, while dropping a 6-4 decision to Summit at the Sandmeier Field in Springfield.

Springfield will meet Verona at home this evening and will travel to Summit Monday. Springfield combined a top-notch pitching effort from Ron Azarewicz and Gary Kurtz together with hefty hitting from Brian Finnerty and Ernie Reig. They crush Verona, 7-1, in Verona last Monday.

The Minutemen tallied three runs early in this game as Kurtz lined a double to right and scored on Finnerty's single. Finnerty advanced on Brian Sheehan's single, and both boys crossed when Ernie Reig tripled deep over the center fielder's head.

Three more Springfield runs scored in the fifth inning. A walk and steal by Kurtz and a long double by Finnerty were the highlights of the big inning. Springfield scored its final tally in the seventh innings when Mitch Weiner drew a walk, advanced on an error and scored when Frankie Bued lined a single to right.

Azarewicz, on the mound for Springfield, held Verona in check until the sixth inning. Kurtz relieved Azarewicz in the sixth inning and closed the door on Verona.

Last Thursday evening Springfield played host to Summit. The visitors upset Springfield 6-4, to post their initial victory of the 1965 season. Kurtz limited Summit to four hits. The Springfield defense, however, allowed Summit to score four unearned runs and that spelled the ball game.

Springfield tallied runs in the first two frames. Finnerty drove home Johnny Schoch, with the game's first run, while Ralph Losanno scored on error for Springfield in the second inning. Summit then tallied five runs in the third inning when the Springfield infield booted three ground balls.

The Minutemen ended their scoring for the day in the bottom of the third inning when they tallied two runs. Rich Campbell and Kurtz singled to open the innings, and both boys scored.

Mets Top Squads In Softball Game At Municipal Pool

The Mets pounded out a 14-13 victory last week over the Sarks in the Springfield Municipal Pool Softball League. The Mets came from behind in the fourth inning and blasted the Sarks for eight runs. It was the undefeated Mets' fifth triumph.

Don Buchner and Hugh Deane singled to lead-off the fourth for the Mets who were trailing, 13-8. Kid Camari was walked to load the bases and then Ryan Hagemann lashed a grand slam home run to deep left field. Martin Joseph, Frank Bucca and Keith Prussing started for the Sarks.

In the second game, the second-place Tigers scored three runs in the sixth and won in the seventh to defeat the last place Comets, 8-1. Rich Campbell, Fred Volberst and Cliff York started for the Tigers.

Scorekeepers Keeping Busy In Men's Softball League Play

With only several make-up games to be played which would complete the first half of the Adult Softball League schedule, the league features a close race. A. Earl Phinney holds a one-game lead on the pack, with Conte's in the runner-up spot, threatening to overtake the league leaders should the drugstore factor. Several other clubs could forge into contention, especially the heavy-hitting Frank Millman Distributors' and the Springfield PBA, with the Community Sweet Shoppe rounding into form.

Heavy rains over the weekend left the very swim pool dimmed in unplayable condition at the start of last week, forcing additional postponements on Monday and Tuesday evenings. The following games were played last week: Frank Millman, trimmed Spring Equinox, 12-6; Conte's, Dell wallowed Somerset Bus 24; Community won 8-2, over A. R. Meeker; TBA ran up a 25-6 margin over Somerset Bus, and Conte's showed unusual strength in winning, 8-1, over a good Millman nine.

Artie Drucks and Bob Rossy sparked Millman's 12-6 victory over Spring Equinox, each posting three safeties to ignite the winners. Lenny Atkins and Bill Brenner also helped with two hits each.

Conte's won so easily over Somerset Bus, 24-6, with Gary Faucher and Bob Norby getting four hits apiece and John Mitchell, Augie Caprio, and John Piscavage three each, as the winners batted around twice in two innings.

Wednesday night, Community Sweet Shoppe won, 8-2, over A. R. Meeker as Dominick Castorovich gained the nod over Roger Crans. The Community slugger came up with 13 hits, with the losing Meeker team getting but five safeties.

Bill San Giacomo, Denny Kosowicz, Stan Weiznewski and Joe Blandia were the standout hitters for the winners, with no Meeker player getting more than one hit for the losers.

LISTS DO'S AND DON'TS

Civil Defense Director Gives Suggestions On Hurricanes

Hurricanes and tropical storms hold some threat for the northeastern part of the country, particularly New Jersey, beginning in August. Annually, at this time State Civil Defense Director Thomas S. Dignan issues several hurricane do's and don'ts.

Dignan suggests that this list be clipped out and posted for ready reference until all hurricane threats have passed.

RIGHT NOW BEFORE THE HURRICANE SEASON ARRIVES YOU SHOULD:

Check your home for loose shingles and shutters, shaky chimneys, your yard for dead or dying tree limbs.

Have handy a flashlight, candles and matches (in protected container). Also a battery powered radio should be available. Power lines are usually among the first victims of a hurricane.

Learn the locations of water supply pipeline valves, master electrical switches and gas cutoff valves.

Residents of exposed areas should store a supply of food to haul over windows. A source of canned heat and an emergency food supply should be stored in the least vulnerable spot in the home.

WHEN A HURRICANE:

Check to see if you have stored needed dishes, silverware, food and water, medical kit, candles matches fire fighting equipment.

WHEN HURRICANE IS IMMINENT AND HURRICANE ALERT IS DECLARED YOU SHOULD:

Sterilize bathtubs, jugs, bottles and cooking utensils and fill them with drinking water.

If you live in an area susceptible to flooding, move every thing possible to the second floor.

See that your car's gas tank is filled. Gas pumps can't be operated while power is off.

Differences between extreme low pressure in a hurricane and high pressure inside a building often causes large picture and show windows to be blown out. Criss-crossed masking tape on these windows will help prevent this.

Pay no attention to rumors.

IF YOUR AREA IS ORDERED EVACUATED, YOU SHOULD:

Shut off gas and electric power. Then leave immediately. Don't risk being marooned.

Obey Civil Defense instructions and go to evacuation points indicated. Remain there until informed you may leave. Keep calm.

DURING THE HURRICANE YOU SHOULD:

Stay indoors. Be sure that a window or door can be opened on the lee side of the house — the side opposite the one facing the wind. If the "eye" of the storm passes directly over, there will be a period of calm lasting up to a half hour but the wind will return suddenly from the opposite direction, frequently with even greater violence. Again, keep calm.

AFTER THE HURRICANE PASSES YOU SHOULD:

Not touch loose or dangling wire. Report damage to police or light and power company. If live wire falls on your car while you are driving, stay inside and wait for aid.

Guard against spoiled food in refrigerators.

If house is flooded or dam-

Jail Term Meted In Citizen Arrest

Robert Croteau, 35, of Elizabeth, was found guilty Tuesday of larceny from an automobile, and he was fined $100 by Union Magistrate George Lombardi.

In default of the fine, he was sentenced to serve one day in the Union County Jail for four days already spent in jail.

Croteau was charged by La Vester Byrd, of 339 Mountain ave., Springfield, with larceny of a black suit-coat from Byrd's car, which was parked in the lot at Tucker's Tavern, 1653 Morris ave., last Thursday.

Croteau was nabbed in a citizen-arrest by Byrd in Morris ave., near the Two Guys entrance, police said. Police arrived at the scene after a call from Sayrebrook Essex in Morris ave., reporting that a motorist was chasing a man and attempting a citizen arrest, according to police reports.

Fewer Mosquitoes But Be Alert For More

Now is the time for all homeowners in Union County to inspect their own back yards carefully for signs of Mosquito breeding, says the Union County Mosquito Extermination Commission.

Mosquito counts at this time are very good, said Robert W. Helm, commission superintendent.

"We hope that they will remain low. However, in view of some of the very heavy recent rains, we can probably expect some flood-water mosquito breeding and some increase in back-yard mosquito breeding.

"This should show up before or during the first week of August. Let us hope that we can continue to enjoy the balance of the summer in mosquito-free comfort."

The mosquito control index showed a "light" reading for Union, Kenilworth, Mountain Side, Roselle, Roselle Park and Springfield and a "medium" reading for the Linden-Elizabeth area.

Union Trust President Outlines Capitol Debentures Sale Effects

Raymond W. Bauer, president of Union County Trust Co. of Union, this week advised the bank's stockholders of the sale of $3.5 million capital debentures in accordance with the resolution overwhelmingly approved by stockholders at a special meeting held June 25, 1965.

Influenced by this long term financing, capital accounts now total approximately $14 million exclusive of a reserve for loans in excess of $3.3 million.

The combined total of capital funds and reserves of over $17 million represents 11 per cent of deposits and reveals the extent to which the bank is in a position to promote further deposit growth and the opportunity to expand its loan portfolio.

Referring to the bank's statement of condition as of June 30, 1965, Bauer stated that it showed deposit growth of approximately $8.5 million, an increase in loans serviced of nearly $10 million, and a further increase in the reserve for loans in an amount in excess of $800,000, to a total of $3,317,484.

The bank also experienced its best operating earnings for the first six months of any year, up approximately 8 per cent from the first of 1964.

The president indicated that new highs were established in all operating areas and it is confidently expected now that the year 1965 will record satisfactory growth and earnings for the bank.

$1,000 Softball Profits Given To Theresa Gargalowicz Fund

About $1,000, proceeds from the Springfield-Union Police and Fire Department softball double-header last Sunday at Blertumpfe Park, is expected to be turned over to the Theresa Gargalowicz Fund, Union police said this week.

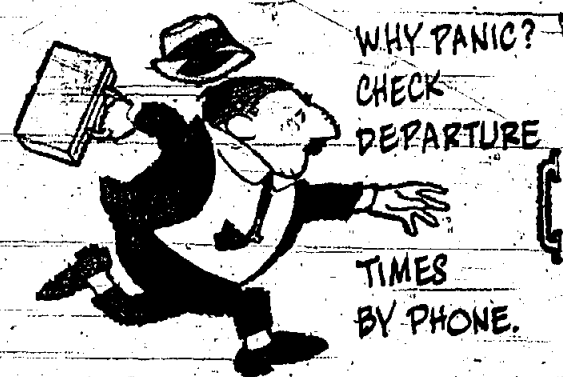

The exact amount realized from the sale of tickets has not yet been determined, it was explained.

Union teams won both games. The Union Police Department racked up a score of 19 to 1, and the Union Fire Department won by 25 to 2. About 300 spectators attended the event.

The proceeds are expected to shoot the Theresa Gargalowicz Fund contributions to date up to $15,000. Theresa is the Fairleigh Dickinson University coed from Union who has remained in a coma at Overlook Hospital for over a year, following an automobile accident in Morris Ave., Springfield.

She was critically injured when her car skidded on trolley tracks, since removed, and struck an oncoming bus. A fund was established by friends and sympathetic residents to help her family with its staggering medical expenses. Philip Portnoy is fund chairman.

Contributions can be sent to The Theresa Gargalowicz Fund, Box 4, Union.
