TRUMPHANT TROOPER... Jim Kunc of Springfield... caught the marlin... on a vacation trip to Hawaii. The giant fish was nine feet long and weighed in at 177 pounds.

Hawaiian Traveler Has Real Fish Story

Eagle Scout Jim Kunc of Springfield recently returned from a vacation in Hawaii with evidence that at least one big one didn't get away. Jim caught a 177-lb., nine-foot long Pacific blue marlin that measured 40" around, off the Kona coast of the island of Hawaii. Capt. Jack Ross, out of Kailua, Kona, clocked the fighting time, to reel in the 1,800 feet of line the fish ran off, at 27 minutes. Jim, who celebrated his 15th birthday 10 days ago after he caught the marlin, is junior assistant scoutmaster of Troop 70, sponsored by the Men's Club of the Springfield Presbyterian Church, and is a member of Scout Explorer Post 176, Springfield.

Carpenters' Unit Purchases Land, Old Pizza Parlor

Springfield's most frequently-objectioned-to eyesore, the abandoned pizza parlor at Mountain ave. and Caldwell pl., was sold last week to the N.J. Carpenters Pension Fund, which plans to tear down the building. The sale was arranged for Edward Mulligan by Mrs. Vera Anderson of the Georgia McMullen Corp. Representing the carpenters' group were Paul Erienza and Robert Ohlweiler, trustees of the pension fund. The former pizza parlor, across Mountain ave. from Jonathan Dayton Regional High School, has attracted criticism for some years for its unsightly appearance and dilapidated condition. A spokesman for the Carpenters Pension Fund said that the exact use of the newly acquired property had not yet been determined. The Pension Fund has its offices at 150 Mountain ave., adjoining the newly purchased plot. The office building now in use there may be enlarged, or a separate building may be erected on the newly purchased lot. The property was sold for $30,000. It measured approximately 1,000 square feet with a 100-foot frontage on Mountain ave. The lot has a frontage of some 70 feet on Caldwell pl.

YMCA In Summit To Close Season Of Day Campers

Camp Cannondus, the Summit YMCA's summer day camp, reaches the end of its season tomorrow. The eight weeks of camp served 360 different boys, grades 1-6, with an average weekly enrollment of 105. The camp has operated as an integral part of the YMCA program for more than 30 years.

College students on the staff as counselors were: Bruce A. Johnson, Dave Harrington, Robert Pinkney, Summit; William Lichedz, Union; Ian Struthers, Springfield; Dwight Russel, David Groul, Chatham, and Douglas Uhlig, Mountainside.

A varied program is the aim of Cannondus — balancing physical activities in the "Y" gym and campcraft or working on a project in arts and crafts.

Weekly trips added variety to the camp program and included visits to Statue of Liberty, Turtle Back Zoo, Museum of Natural History, Sandy Hook State Park, Boy Scouts National Museum, and the Newark Museum.

Friday mornings spent at Bowcraft on Route 22 introduced some campers to archery and allowed experienced ones to perfect their skills, all under strict supervision.

The "Y" pool came in for much use, including recreational and instructional swimming. This year a new water sport for Camp Cannondus was introduced to the campers by Aquatic Director Henry Deetering; water basketball. Swim instruction was given on all levels of the YMCA aquatic program.

Tonight at the YMCA, the second parents' night program of the season will be held. Campers' parents will be shown and explained by Trevor Harris, camp director, and Richard Vilzthum, assistant director.

Minister To Lead Delegation Of Local Jehovah's Witnesses

Members of the Springfield congregation of Jehovah's Witnesses are leaving early next week to represent the area at a series of 10 conventions held in the United States this summer by the Witnesses.

Purpose of the "Word of Truth" assemblies, according to Mr. Episcopo, is to strengthen faith in the Bible. "The keynote address, which will be presented on Tuesday at 2 p.m., is titled "God's Word Keeps Your Faith Alive," he said.

"We will review some of the fundamental Bible doctrines, of course, but of special interest will be the instruction on how the Bible can guide us in our everyday living, helping us make important decisions regarding correct living."

Highlights of the convention include a mass baptism at Orchard Beach, Long Island on Friday Aug. 27 and a special public Bible discourse Sunday Aug. 29 at 3 p.m., at which time Nathan H. Knorr, president of the Watchtower Society, will speak on the subject "World Government on the Shoulder of the prince of peace." Knorr has just returned from Europe, where he spoke at 10 different "Word of Truth" conventions.

The area delegates will take along their entire families, since the Witnesses believe in training children right along with them.

Mr. Episcopo said all meetings of the local congregation will be suspended through the convention week. According to the minister, more than 50,000 persons are expected to attend the six-day Yankee Stadium gathering, which is the last in a series of 10 conventions held in the United States this summer by the Witnesses.

Mr. Episcopo, presiding minister of the Springfield congregation, will lead the delegation, it was announced.

Mr. Episcopo said all meetings of the local congregation will be suspended through the convention week. According to side the adults, the minister said. Many of the young people will be volunteered workers in operating the large gathering.

"Officials for the convention estimate that 10,000 volunteers will be needed to staff the 20 or more departments of operation," Episcopo said. "Many of us have written in, volunteering to work, and some have already received assignments. Whatever it is, we're pleased to help out."

Locally, the Witnesses meet three times a week at their Kingdom Hall, 501 S. Springfield ave., Springfield. "Our meetings are free, just as will be all the sessions of our convention. Everyone is welcome to attend," Mr. Episcopo concluded.

5 Auto Violations From 1964 Bring 80-Day Jail Term

Springfield Magistrate Max Sherman levied fines totaling $400, the most in his tenure on the bench, against Billy Godwin, 25, of Orange, Monday night in Municipal Court.

Godwin entered a plea of guilty to five motor vehicle charges dating from April 24, 1964. Unable to pay the fines, he is serving 80 days in the Union County Jail, less five days already served.

The summonses issued against Godwin 16 months ago had been for driving an unregistered vehicle, driving while on the license plates, having license plates hung on the car by wire, and not bolted on, and having improper tail lights.

The Police Department had impounded his car at that time. Godwin allegedly came back the following day and removed the car from the police parking lot, with another set of keys.

A criminal charge, which had been filed for that action, was withdrawn Monday night on the motion of Joseph Seidel, municipal prosecutor.

When Godwin first failed to appear for hearings on the charges, an investigation showed that he was confined, at various times in the past 16 months, in the Essex County Jail, Union Township Jail and Union County Jail, and then released on parole to Union County's chief probation officer, according to court records.

When a warrant was finally served, Godwin then failed to appear at a hearing June 21. He was arrested Aug. 12 and held in default of bail until the court session Monday. His total fine of $400 included fines for the five motor vehicle offenses, as well as $50 for contempt of court.

3 Auto Accidents Reported In Rain Last Friday Night

Springfield police reported that three auto accidents took place during the rain last Friday night and early Saturday morning.

John R. Williams, 22, of Orange, had stopped in traffic in the southbound lane of Springfield ave. near the Union line at 5:35 p.m. Friday. John Morgenthau, 34, of Cliffwood Beach, was unable to stop in time on the wet pavement, the report added, and his car hit the first one in the rear.

The Williams vehicle was towed away. The driver's brother, complaining of back and neck injuries, said he would see his own doctor.

At 8 p.m. on Friday, William J. Harder, 44, of Millburn, halted at the stop sign on Caldwell pl., entering Mountain ave. He was struck from the rear by a car driven by Ronald M. Puoro, 20, of 88 Irwin st., Springfield. Both vehicles were damaged, according to police.

At 12:05 Saturday morning, Richard H. Arends, 20, of 33 Bryant ave., Springfield, was turning left from the westbound lane of Morris ave. into Salter st. The report stated that Congelia Del Monte, 47, of New Providence, was driving west on Salter line in an attempt to pass him. The two cars collided, and both were damaged.

Tips for TODAY'S HOMEMAKER

From MARY ARMSTRONG, County Home Economist

The hurricane season is upon us. August, September and October are the months when tropical storms and hurricanes are most likely to occur. Much good material is available about what to do in the event a hurricane strikes but some of the housekeeping procedures concerning food and water especially can bear extra emphasis in regard to a variety of emergency situations.

"DID YOU HEAR?"
"MURDOCH WALKER IS OPENING HIS NEW KITCHEN CABINET DEPARTMENT SOON!"

water shortage—so acute in some areas, this procedure has increased value. Water, as well as food, is vital to normal living. Impure water, as well as lack of water, can cause critical difficulties. Boiling water before drinking is a good procedure when there is reason for doubt as to purity, whether the water is of unknown quality on a back-to-nature camping trip or if the normal supply is suspected of pollution due to flooding.

Be sure you have sufficient food on hand that does not need refrigeration or cooking. When reporting the recent Alaskan earthquake, an Anchorage resident said, "Thank goodness we had finished cooking dinner; we could eat it by the light of our Coleman lantern; and later, listening to the radio outside, we learned how severe the quake had been downtown." Both comments related to lack of electric house power for cooking, for light, and for regular house radio reception.

Without a supply of either of the usual fuels for cooking, reasonably adequate meals can be prepared and served for a day or two, if advance planning has been done.

Some of the foods which can be eaten without cooking include canned borsani and vioshysals. Crackers, croissants or breadsticks keep in shelf storage with the canned soups—your own or commercially prepared. Canned tomato juice is another appetizer normally served cold. Canned luncheon meat, corned beef, ham, tuna fish or salmon require no heating for palatability. A canned whole chicken serves well for the mainstay of a cold family meal.

Those with freezers need not fear to eat any food from the freezer when the current has been off no more than two days, or when the production has not completely thawed. Some uncooked meat and fish is safe for consumption without further cooking. Cheese is another satisfying protein item most often served cold. Raw eggs can be enjoyed by most people in a nog type of drink. Even when only canned or evaporated milk is available, an acceptable egg nog can be made if nutmeg, orange or lemon, or other fruit seasoning is used.

Citrus are enjoyed more raw than cooked by many people, especially children. Cauliflower and spinach, too, as well as cabbage, lettuce and celery can be enjoyed raw in seasoned salad mixtures.

Although most fresh fruits, other than apples and oranges, have limited shelf life, a wide variety of canned fruits are usually consumed directly from the can.

A selection of these items kept stored on an emergency shelf could relieve you of much worry and help to maintain family morale in the face of many types of emergencies.

Dumont Hits Hughes On His Tax Proposal

State Senator Wayne Dumont, Republican candidate for Governor, this week ends almost three weeks of active duty at the New Jersey National Guard's camp at Sea Girt and returns to the campaign trail with a "promise to tell the public the facts—about Governor Hughes' $200,000,000 'blank check' state income tax."

Dumont, a major of the 50th Armored Division, said the Governor Hughes has never specified how money raised by his income tax would be spent. "Governor Hughes' income tax proposal," Dumont said, "is nothing more than another 'blank check' of spending power like his $750 million bond issue was. It must be rejected along with the Governor in the interest of the public welfare."

The Republican candidate noted that Governor Hughes' income tax proposal contains no assurance that money raised would be used to relieve property taxes, increase aid to school districts, aid higher education or otherwise benefit New Jersey residents.

"In contrast with Governor Hughes' income tax," Dumont said, "my program will bring about lower property taxes. My program not only guarantees tax relief for property owners, but also guarantees an $82 million yearly increase in per pupil aid, and an $11.4 million increase in school building aid to local school districts. It also guarantees an additional $25 million every year in additional aid to higher education and a yearly increase of $30 million in aid to municipalities for road and bridge building.

"As a result of increased State aid, county and municipal governments will be able to lower the amount they must raise from already over-burdened property owners."

MEDICINE CHEST TIP

If the label on your prescription medicine is on the outside of the bottle or vial, coat it with clear nail polish or transparent tape. The coating will keep the description and dosage from smudging. And remember—you should periodically clean out the medicine chest and dispose of old prescription drugs. They could be dangerous.

Vehicles Collide Near Rt. 22 Ramp

A driver who was unable to make up his mind ended up with a damaged car last Friday, according to a Springfield police report. It stated that Max Harbl, 82, of Westfield, at 11:30 a.m. Friday, started to make a left turn from S. Springfield ave. southbound into the Rt. 22 ramp opposite Schaffernoth pl.

He then changed his mind, according to police, swung to the right and struck a car driven by Ray W. Bromez, 47, of Alexandria, Va. Both autos were damaged, but still drivable.

Most of last week was taken up with the preparation for the playground championships. Irwin is very proud that it won the crown for the third consecutive year. Children who won their events from Irwin were: Linda Barrett, girl's tetherball; Pat Howarth, girl's foul shooting; Joanne Rosene, boy's foul shooting. Other Irwin players placed in nearly every event. The playground victory was a true team effort.

One of the big events of last week was a boys vs. girls' kickball game. The boys were victorious. Playing for the boys' team were: Michael Chotiner, Ray, Danziger, David Casilla, Kathy Flokhar, Ed Gerstein, Michael Rossler, Tommy Roster, Eugene Shule, and Bob Quinn. She stressed, "Taxes are important to the people who pay them, and the town that gets them. They are the life-blood "Personal services" and "other expenses" take almost equal shares of the aggregate operating budgets of New Jersey's 21 counties this year.

Providing salaries, wages and pension costs as well as other forms of compensation and "fringe benefits" for county employees—the "personal services" appropriations in the budgets of all counties total $126,545,736. This is a 7.4 percent increase over actual 1964 expenditures of $117,842,910 for the same purpose.

Appropriations for materials, supplies, repairs, maintenance, contracted services and other recurring expenditures listed in the "other expenses" category of the 21 county operating budgets total more than $125 million ($126,292,719). This represents a 7.2 percent increase over 1964 actual outlays of $117,708,886 for "other expenses."

Although the overall increase in 1965 appropriations over last year's spending for both personal services and other expenses averaged 7.3 percent for the 21 counties, there were wide variations in the percentage increases among the individual counties. Only a slight drop in the personal service appropriation in Ocean County.

In Union County, the 1965 appropriations for "personal services" total $9,400,724, an increase of 10.3 percent compared with the $8,520,859 actually spent in 1964. The "other expenses" side of Union County's 1965 operating budget provides $7,832,780 in appropriations this year. This is 13.2 percent more than the $6,919,889 spent last year. Essex County's percentage increases were 6.8 for personal service and 8.2 for other expenses. The 1965 personal service appropriation was $31,107,245 compared with $28,190,889. The "other expenses" figures are $19,644,583 and $18,773,338.

The totals are among tabulations being compiled by the New Jersey Taxpayers Association for inclusion in its forthcoming annual reference booklet, "Financial Statistics of New Jersey Local Government", providing fiscal data on each county, municipality and school district in the State.

Unidentified Motorist Blamed For Accident

An unidentified motorist was described as the cause of an auto accident on Rt. 22 Saturday at 12:25 p.m. It was reported by Springfield police. Louis Butar, 87, of Newark, was driving east on the highway, when the unknown motorist cut in front of him from the turn-around at the Furniture Craft store.

Trying to stop, Butar had his auto spin around. It then collided with one driven by Thomas Elkan, 23, of Rahway. Both cars were reported damaged, and the Elkan vehicle had to be towed away.

LEADER PROFILE

 He was very active in sports at Montclair State. "I participated in both wrestling and soccer for four years there, and for two of those years, I served as captain of the wrestling and soccer teams."

When he was graduated with a B.A. degree in physical education, Hector was able to realize a life-time dream — his goal in life. "It was all I ever wanted to be—a physical education teacher. And from college, I went straight to Connecticut Farms School in Union, where I taught physical ed for three years."

"From there, I joined the teaching staff at Columbia High School in Maplewood-South Orange."

IN ADDITION to being a physical education teacher at Columbia, Hector teaches driver education and doubles and triplex as a sports coach.

"From two physical education 55-minute classes a day, I'm behind the driver-training wheel twice a day—and, he grinned, "I get two periods free a day because I'm head coach of two sports programs. During seasons, especially the wrestling season, I don't get home before 7 p.m."

Hector explained that his driving courses run for six weeks in six cycles. "I have new students every six weeks—and with three students in a car, I end up with 36 students a year."

"To tell you the truth," he declared, "the school's driver training instruction program is a much better system than the kind I got from my father. Perhaps I tried his patience a little, but I'll tell you," he laughed, "I didn't learn very much about parallel parking, K-turns and the safety factor that is currently stressed in my classes—by me."

Hector, who is a member of the N.E.A. (National Education Association), A.A.H.P.E.R. (American Association of Health, Physical Education and Recreation), the Wrestling Coaches' Association, the N.J.E.A. (New Jersey Education Association) and the S.O.M.E.A. (South Orange-Maplewood Education Association), appears to have very little time for anything else.

The "very little spare time" he has, Hector asserts, is spent at Rutgers University. "I'm working toward a master's degree in physical education," of

Township Artist To Design Decor For Beauty Show

To carry out the theme of "Beauty and a Rose," this year's Miss High School of America pageant will feature crepe paper roses mounted specifically on the carousel on stage and fresh red roses in the hands of contestants as they parade down the runway seeking the title of Miss High School of America Beauty Queen at Convention Hall, Ashbury Park, New Jersey, on Friday evening, Aug. 27.

A talent queen sharing equal honors with the beauty queen will be selected next Thursday. For the second consecutive year, Margie Hides of 83 Morris ave., Springfield will design and supervise erection of stage decorations for the pageant. The basic framework for the carousel, stored in Margie's attic since last year's pageant, has been brought out, dusted, painted and given a fresh new look with crepe paper roses in the hands of the angels mounted on the poles and a rose-studded roof.

A giant picture frame through which pageant beauties will step as they present themselves to their audience will be topped with a scarlet and gold cardboard heart.

Report to the People
From Your Congresswoman
FLORENCE P. DWYER
(6th District N. J.)

Whether a real trend has set in or whether it's simply an interesting coincidence, we don't know. But several of my colleagues here in the House have lately remarked that they, too, have noticed a growing intolerance among some people in connection with legislation which they support or oppose.

In such cases -- and, fortunately, they are still only a few -- the person writing or calling expresses his position as a Member, assumes that his is the only legitimate position or dismisses the other side of the issue as unworthy of consideration, and expresses indignation if his representative fails to indicate immediate agreement. Should the representative have the temerity to vote the other way, the writer is outraged and is quick to charge that his representative has "sold out" or "yielded to pressure" or is not a "true Republican" or a "true Democrat."

It is this readiness to question the motives -- as distinct from the wisdom or judgment -- of those who vote the "wrong" way that seems so objectionable. It reflects a closed mind, an insistence that all issues are either black or white, a refusal to recognize the complexities of legislation and to see that most important bills are a composite of "good" and "bad," requiring a careful weighing of the pros and cons in terms of their effect on the national and local interest.

Obviously, no Congressman can please all his constituents with every vote he casts -- nor should he try to. In our highly diverse society, many interests and many points of view must be considered, and differences and disagreements must be expected. Many of us, through our newsletters and questionnaires, invite discussion and debate of controversial issues as a way of learning what the people we represent are thinking. Such differences can serve a useful purpose in reaching decisions about what is good for the country, not only as long as each respects the integrity of the other and is willing to concede that all truth and wisdom do not belong exclusively to any one person or position.

Speaking of differences, two major bills are moving toward House action under conditions guaranteed to divide Congress sharply. They are the Public Works and Economic Development Act of 1965 and the farm bill. I shall vote against both, unless they are drastically amended on the House floor before the final votes are cast.

These are two of the most difficult areas in which to legislate and, despite the worthy objectives behind each, the two inadequate and inconsistent bills stand as convincing evidence that Congress has not yet found the right formula.

The Public Works bill, for instance, is little more than a composite of the old area redevelopment (or "distressed area") program and the accelerated public works program, both of them designed to channel Federal financial assistance into areas of high and continuing unemployment. Both programs have been in effect for several years and the two-way tie-in together when public dissatisfaction with the meager results and Congressional reluctance to expand them individually threatened to bring each program to an early death.

Putting the two together, the theory goes, should assure that the bill will contain something for almost everyone, and that a majority of members will be persuaded to forget their objections to the bill as a whole as a small price for the promise of Federal millions. Two years ago, I had a hand in defeating the administration's attempt to enlarge and expand the area redevelopment program; if we did it once, there may be reason to hope we can do it again.

Because it should be defeated -- for a number of sound reasons -- neither of the programs has demonstrated that it has improved the economies of backward regions or put substantial numbers of the unemployed to work. On the contrary, Administration of the program has been frankly political. Employment figures have been grossly inflated. Government subsidies have enabled some companies to obtain unfair competitive advantages over others. Substantial government funds have gone to communities which do not qualify as distressed and have aided projects like new motels and hotels which result in little if any increased employment.

If members of Congress will read the 17 reports of the Comptroller General -- Congress' own watchdog -- criticizing the administration of the area redevelopment program, they will find all the reasons they need to justify voting against this $3 billion-plus bad mistake. And they will find further support in a recent Labor Department report halting the decline of unemployment to the lowest level since October, 1957 -- an accomplishment which owes little or nothing to the programs in question.

While Federal bureaucrats have been searching for new ways to spend new billions to help the poor, the elderly and the unemployed have been finding new and higher price tags on many of the things they need to buy, especially food. Recently, for example, I looked at some of these price tags very closely and here is what I found:

Extra large now sells for 48 cents for two heads, as opposed to 29 cents a year ago. The price of whole chicken fryers is 46 cents a pound today; a year ago it was 35 cents a pound. Pork chops have soared from 89 cents a pound to $1.20; eggs have climbed to 61 cents a dozen today from 46 a dozen a year ago, and become up from 66 cents a pound to $1.05.

Overall, according to Labor Department figures, the food price index for consumers has reached 110.0, a new and uncomfortable peak. This is nearly 4 percent above a year ago and more than 8 percent higher than five years ago.

The reasons for inflation -- and that is what it is -- in the price of food are many, but unquestionably one of the most significant is the administration's refusal to admit that its farm policy hasn't worked. We are subsidizing food production at an annual rate of 3.5 billion; retail and wholesale food prices are rising; the number of farms and farmers are decreasing; yet, net farm income last year was no more than it was in 1958.

To suggest that something is wrong, I think, would be neither partisan nor rash. Nevertheless, the administration's farm bill proposes to cure the ill by giving more of the same medicine. Among the dosages they prescribed is a big boost in last year's "bread tax" -- so big, in fact, that it's likely to add 2 cents to the price of every loaf of bread, not to mention flour and other bakery products on which poorer families especially depend.

Unless Congress rallies to stop this bill, much of the good accomplished by excise tax reduction, the poverty program, and increases in social security benefits will be slowly and steadily undermined by creeping inflation in the marketplace.

Red Cross Cites Job Offerings

The current buildup of U. S. military strength presents an opportunity for career jobs with the American Red Cross to young men with college backgrounds. It was announced this week by Wesley C. Eick, Eastern Union County Chapter chairman.

"Red Cross service to the armed forces, of which service at military installations is a major part, is the largest of all Red Cross activities," Eick said. "The duties of an assistant field director involve counselling services for men and women with family problems, many of which are created or accentuated by separation.

They also help with transportation arrangements in emergencies, assist with communications between servicemen and their families and work with local Red Cross chapters in providing services for military dependents at home. On installations, they arrange for health and recreation programs and coordinate volunteer activities.

Applicants should be in good health, free to travel anywhere and be interested in working with people. College level study in the social sciences is an asset, as is actual experience in group leadership and social work, Eick said. Interested persons may contact Eastern Union County headquarters, 203 W. Jersey st., Elizabeth, and make an appointment for an inter-

FREEDOM AND RESPONSIBILITY
How much freedom should children have? This is a question parents ask over and over again. All youngsters need freedom and will fight to get it. But whether they use it well, foolishly or dangerously depends upon their developing sense of responsibility.

How much freedom the parents should give is in direct proportion to the youngsters' experience in assuming responsibility. A child should begin developing responsibility early. It is difficult for parents to realize their child is ready to do things for himself. But a child's eagerness needs to be fostered. When the pre-school child wants to dress himself, that is the time he should begin to put on his own clothes. By learning to do it himself, he acquires a real sense of achievement and is developing responsibility. Children need freedom to grow and opportunities provided to develop their own critical judgment. Keeping a child dependent stifles his normal development. At adolescence, young people want a large measure of freedom. For a satisfying adulthood, the young people need freedom, but also need to learn to accept the responsibility for their actions.

Which one? This one? Or this one?

Take your pick — but make sure the gas water heater you install is large enough to meet the needs and demands of every member of the family. Most modern families need at least a 40-gallon gas water heater but if your family is larger than most you better specify a larger size. Ask your plumbing contractor. He will help you decide. Just make sure — for efficiency and economy — that it's GAS!

Plain Wash Cloth Fails To Dampen Enthusiasm Of Union 'Beatlemaniacs'

By ERWIN FALKENHEIM (Special Youth Staff)
 "I never had so much excitement," sighed Edward Bauer, 172 Locust dr., Union, as he recounted his Trans World Airlines flight, his share.

But the thrill of collecting autographed pictures from such dignitaries as Eddie Cantor, Al Jolson and Mrs. Eleanor Roosevelt, will probably never surpass what happened to him this week as he found himself caught in the middle of what has been described as "Beatlemania."

Bauer, pursuer on the TWA flight that brought the shaggy-haired Beatles to this country from England, was the hero of his neighborhood when he returned to Union this week. Some 30 to 40 youngsters (mostly girls) were on hand to greet Bauer and receive some mementoes of the flight he had stuffed into his overnight bag for them.

ONE OF THE most valuable bits of paraphernalia (to a Beatle fan that is) went to eight-year-old Joseph Milliano of 175 Locust dr. The names of the kids were dropped into a hat and lucky Joseph went home clutching—right this—the wash cloth drummer Ringo Starr used to wipe his face during the flight. "I had mentioned to one of the stewardesses that I was collecting souvenirs for the kids and she threw this damp wash cloth into my bag," Bauer chuckled, about the noise of the youngsters in his backyard who were eagerly waiting for some autographed pictures of the British singing group.

DRIVE SAFELY

For the Birds
 By FARRIS S. SWACKHAMER
 Instructor, Union Junior College Institute, Cranford, N. J.

It has been said of a book by Niko Tinbergen of the herring gull that once you read it you can fathom the bird's mind. Recently he has turned his attention to the black-headed gull, a European resident that sometimes migrates down the Atlantic Coast of North America instead of Europe.

A chick about to hatch cracks the shell near the blunt or large end of the egg. Rhythmic stretching movements complete the job of opening a hole and then the tiny bird-half-crawls-half-rolls out of its foster home. The scheme of ornithological life includes a special muscle in the chick which accomplishes this and then degenerates.

Ducks ignore the broken shell. They wait for the babies to dry off and then lead them to the nearest water. Hawks are reported to eat the empty shells. Grebes, whose nests are generally built on a floating mass of reeds or at least close to the water, take the shell, remains in their beak and drown them some distance from the nest. Most songbirds take the shell well away from the nest and drop it. Black-headed gulls do the latter.

It's hard to imagine the more ritual behavioral response. It takes, at most, little more than 30 seconds of the gull's year. But a study of the habit led to some interesting discoveries.

Equal numbers of white eggs and spotted khaki eggs were put out where marauding crows and gulls patrolled and then the servers retired to their blind. Forty-three white ones were taken and only 13 natural eggs were touched. Next camouflaged eggs were put out, some with an empty shell nearby. Predators found 85 percent of the eggs near a shell and only 22 percent single eggs. Other interesting facts were uncovered during the work.

New York World's Fair Recipe Of The Week

This is the third in a series of weekly recipes prepared and served at the World's Fair Restaurants.

This tasty and easily prepared recipe is from the kitchen of the Pakistan Pavilion. Palak Gosht is a staple menu in Pakistan homes and its origin is lost in antiquity, according to A. K. Durani, manager of the restaurant in that pavilion. Palak Gosht (Spinach and Meat)

1 pound chopped frozen spinach
1 pound cubed boneless beef or veal (shoulder)
1 teaspoon red pepper
1 teaspoon ground coriander
1 stick (1/4 lb.) of butter
1 teaspoon meat tenderizer
4 cloves garlic, crushed
1/2 teaspoon powdered ginger or a 2 inch piece of fresh ginger root
1 large onion, chopped
1 teaspoon salt
1/2 cup shortening
1 cup milk

Brown chopped onion in shortening and meat, with chopped garlic and ginger. Stir for three minutes, then add other spices and cook for 10 minutes. Add chopped spinach and cook for 10 minutes. Add milk and cook for another 15 minutes.

Cover pot tightly and place in oven preheated to 400 degrees for 10 to 15 minutes, depending upon the meat. When meat is tender, remove and add butter, stirring frequently for 10 minutes over medium fire.

GOOD FURNITURE IS EASILY NOTED BY QUALITY SIGNS

August furniture sales invite consumers to buy new furnishings.

Construction techniques in case goods tell the story of value for the money. Knowing what to look for when shopping helps to make the decision of selection easier, notes Carolyn F. Yukus, county-home economist.

Most of the construction techniques are easily visible in chests or buffets, but some of the same principles carry-over to chairs and tables.

Drawers in quality pieces will be constructed with well-cut and well-fitted, dovetail joints. The sides of drawers should be smooth and waxed or have some finish on the inside portions.

Look for glue blocks in the corners underneath the drawer bottoms. These blocks prevent the drawer bottoms from falling out as the wood expands and contracts with temperature change.

Poor quality construction will have fewer cut and fitted dovetail joints. The sides and the insides of the drawers will not be finished. In some budget construction the joints of drawers are rabbeted and stapled. The sides have been run through a joiner and are not smooth.

The backs of chests or buffets tell whether the piece is quality or budget construction. The backs should be screwed to the frame along the sides and across the bottom. The back sections should be well sanded and stained. In poorer quality pieces, the back sections are not sanded or stained and are only nailed in place.

Quality furniture has suction free center drawer glides and dust proof panels between the drawers. The interior of cabinets is not as finished as the exterior but it is smooth, nails are covered and some finish has been applied.

The outside finish is important too. Quality pieces will usually be labeled as to the type of finish applied and how to care for it. A good finish is smooth and shiny to the touch.

Finishes that are quite shiny and glass like will be easily marked and may chip off if hit sharply.

Elementary Grade Students Now Learn More, Faster

The rate at which today's elementary school children are learning their lessons appears to be accelerating sharply. Similarly their capacity for absorbing basic understanding of subjects once considered too advanced for them, is being demonstrated in schools throughout the land.

Their interest in learning to read well, especially, is being considerably stimulated despite distraction of television at home, and sometimes with its help.

TEXTS TAX PUBLISHERS

Text book publishers are reported hard put to keep abreast of the mounting demand for more teaching material, not alone by the increasing enrollment and the coming federal aid for schools in this area. The demand for variety in textbooks and supplementary reading matter to meet the rapidly changing needs of a swim-moving civilization and its modern teaching methods, also is involved.

Progress in the elementary schools is being credited to the new advances in teaching methods and the resourcefulness of educators in adapting electronic devices to help good teachers expand their effectiveness and their ability to give more pupils more personal attention.

More classrooms than ever before promise to be more fascinating places for the young this fall, offering more learning in the exciting terms of this modern age of which even the youngsters themselves are so aware.

A GOOD EXAMPLE

A graphic example of how elementary schools are meeting the problems of educating more young people despite teacher shortages, come from the Fountain Valley School District in Orange County, Cal., currently called "America's fastest growing school district." At the beginning of the 1962-63 term there were 234 children enrolled in the district's one school.

This fall Superintendent Dr. Edward Beubler says the district will enroll more than 6,000 elementary school pupils in ten schools, all built in the past three years. And in the modern terminology, they are "all wired for sound instruction," and no pun intended.

The schools bristle with electronic teaching aids: tape recorders for every room, film and slide projectors for every two to six rooms; microphones, electric typewriters, and headset earphones, almost everywhere.

EXPERTS SURPRISED

Experts checking the use of equipment in the district schools expressed themselves as being surprised and delighted with the teaching uses to which their tape recorders had been put here.

"It's like having another teacher in the classroom," says Claudia Brakebill, one of the teachers. But the other teacher is Miss Brakebill herself, or more accurately, her own voice on tape-telling stories, giving pre-tests in spelling, even arithmetic lessons.

"Our teachers," reports Principal Dan Dolan of Lamb School, "have set the multiplication tables to rhythm and put them on tape. The kids listen (even dance) to these syncopated tapes, learning their tables in three or four days. It used to take weeks."

Teachers take their tape recorders home or stay after school, to prepare new lessons.

Next day, while one group in the room may be at the blackboard working directly with teacher, another is at a table elsewhere in the room listening over headphones to teacher's warm, familiar voice, in preparation for their turn.

NOTES FROM SCREEN

Or they may be having a lesson in reading over the headphones while following the text in a book. Still another group may be at another table making notes on an illustrated lesson being projected to them on a small private screen.

Children have learned to operate the audio visual aids themselves and delight in this especially when they are called upon to record their own reports or stories on tape for replaying to the entire class.

Yes, they love to hear their own voices and have others hear them doing their best.

MANY CLASSES IN ELEMENTARY SCHOOLS, LIKE ALL GAUL, may now be divided into parts, without denying any of the pupils the personal attention of teacher. This scene from the Fountain Valley School district of California, has four parts: the girls studying in the foreground; another group, left, before a visual aid; teacher at the blackboard with yet others; and finally, upper right, the group with earphones concentrating on teacher's voice coming through a tape recorder.

Nation's Junior Colleges Expanding; Meet Budget-Minded Student Needs

With 452 public junior colleges now operating across the country — and more to come — there is something in the nature of a big lift for the budget-burdened student who wishes to get started on his higher education without delay.

Added to the fact that average per-year tuition is $200 to $250, according to the American Association of Junior Colleges, one campus — The U.S. Office of Education has estimated that half a billion dollars have been spent for new junior college facilities in the past five years.

Junior colleges, also frequently referred to as community colleges, have three basic purposes:

- 1—To provide two years of the regular four year college course, preparing students for transfer.
- 2—To provide occupational education leading students to well-paying technical and semi-professional jobs.
- 3—To provide evening programs for adults who wish to retain or upgrade themselves.

In addition to the opportunity to elect courses, most of the junior colleges will require full time students to take courses in English, history and a science.

A million and a half students are expected to enroll in these two year colleges which have come into their own in a big way as states and local communities recognize the need for expanding educational opportunities beyond high schools.

Students going to junior colleges this year will find, in a majority of instances, bright new buildings, even whole new

A HANDY SHOPPING GUIDE FOR BOTH PARENTS AND STUDENTS

High Schools Are Widening Perspectives

There are two sides to the high school picture that stand out in high relief as the new term approaches—this year, challenging the educational system to provide a wider diversity of instruction and guidance for the sharply increasing number of students.

On the one hand is the mounting pressure on preparation of teen agers for admission to college which is sending approximately one half of this year's high school graduates to campuses this fall.

That both the high schools and the ambitious, serious minded teen agers have been doing a good job at this level is indicated by the fact that many institutions of higher learning, hard pressed to make place for all the freshmen, are stepping up their admission requirements to cope with the situation.

Vocational Emphasized

On the other hand with vocational training the key to plenty of good job opportunities awaiting teen agers who are not headed for college, measures to provide the necessary training for them must be and are being emphasized.

In fact, some educators feel that the time has come when more thoughtful counsel for students, plus the necessary amplification of facilities for vocational treatment, would work more fruitfully in their interest and that of the nation as well.

In many instances business and industry are coming to the aid of high schools as well as colleges, in this area of specialized and technical training.

Of great significance here—as well as to elementary education—are the provisions for financial assistance in the historic education bill passed by Congress and signed by the President.

Increasing attention to this phase of high school education is considered important to solving the "drop out" problem. The potentials of more than 700,000 teen agers a year, it is estimated, are lost because they leave high school for lack of interest, or for financial reasons.

Programs including part time on-the-job training, put in effect with cooperation of business, have proven very effective here.

Meanwhile, as in all other areas of education, the secondary schools are best by a shortage of qualified teachers and also by a shortage of class rooms.

More Electronics

Spreading use of electric devices such as closed circuit television, educational TV, movies, projectors and tape recorders will no doubt be noticeable everywhere in high schools as devices for carrying the skills of master teachers to more students.

Many more high school students may find themselves being introduced to the "new smath" this year.

Courses in "new" economics, designed to strip the subject of its mysteries for high school students also are being added.

Traffic Safety For Youths Involving New Dimensions

New dimensions have been added to the problem of assuring elementary, high school and college students a high measure of safety in traffic.

The record has been best among the elementary grade school children whose safety has been given the careful attention of educational and police authorities over the years with much success.

The newer dimensions involve the automobile driver himself — or herself — somewhat more than they do the youngsters who walk back and forth to classes.

YOUTH SINGLED OUT

Singled out for special attention this year is the growing number of youthful automobile drivers.

And counted among them are the many still in high school, who have managed to get cars of their own and licenses permitting them to drive.

In addition there are the somewhat older students going to college, who operate automobiles of their own to get them to and from the institutions they are attending, and the many who enroll in Community Colleges, frequently referred to as "Commuter Colleges."

Traffic safety record of those embraced by this age group is not the best, though it is good among the youthful drivers who have taken courses in safe driving, now available at many high schools.

The other "new dimension" involves the increasing numbers of very young children of pre-school age — the four-year-olds and even the three-year-olds who will be invited into the growing number of kindergarten and nursery schools this year.

Most of these, more than likely, will be taken to their classes in cars.

The new dimensions require urgent attention to the mechanical condition of the car — before the great flood of back to school and college traffic of this year gets started.

Parents of all students who are permitted to drive are being urged to make sure youthful drivers have their cars checked and serviced for safety, just as civil engineers always do, comes the opening of a new school season.

A major factor in traffic safety for children of all ages who are going back to school, and especially those in the teen age brackets, is the condition of the car.

Will it respond promptly to the driver's reactions to a sudden hazard?

Brakes, engine, tires, lights for visibility after dark, windshield wipers for bad weather driving, should be checked, and serviced now, in preparation for the "back to school and college season."

MUSIC COURSES ON ALL LEVELS OFFERED AT IORIO

The Iorio School of Music, owned and operated by Gabriel Iorio, announced this week that the school will offer courses for musical students of all ages, including those on a professional level.

Sanitized by the American Accordion Association and the Accordion Teachers' Association of New Jersey, the Iorio School of Music's curriculum includes accordion, guitar and all band instrument lessons.

Students participate regularly in band recitals and as solo performers in concerts. Instrumentalists in both classical and popular music. The Iorio School of Music at 19 East Elizabeth Ave., Linden, has an instrument rental plan available for students.

Fads Are Not The Image Setting The Village Beat

A potter in the field of ceramics who has had his work exhibited in the Cooper-Hewitt Museum, Contemporary Crafts Museum in New York and the Smithsonian Institute in Washington, D. C., has used his talents to make two stores, of which he is the owner, known throughout the area for its beautiful and unique window displays.

Behind the showcases, dressed in themes to fit with various phases of the merchandise, are the Carousel Children's Shop and the Young Village at 140 Elmora Ave., Elizabeth, and the man behind the scenes who created the reputation for uniqueness is Albert Green.

Seventeen years ago he and his wife opened the Carousel. Fourteen years later, the Young Village, for the "smart and bright" look based on the needs of the young female, was opened. According to Green, "The need was there. As children outgrow the clothing from the Carousel, they can now be serviced by the Young Village, where there are complete size ranges in pre-teen, juniors and junior petite."

"New fads are not the most important criteria at the Young Village," said Mrs. Green. "Good taste in clothing that is becoming to a girl, that fits her personality and makes her look attractive, is the image of the Village."

IT'S ALL YOURS, SIS — AND THE NEW TYPEWRITER, TOO! says Brother, who, now on his way to college, takes along his own portable typewriter but turns over the "expandable" home study area to Sister. Study space that grows to meet growing homework needs is easy to achieve, and easy to add to, with flexible shelf and desk units like those shown here. There's flexibility, too, in the new typewriter that Mom and Dad have just given Sis. A "changeable type" feature permits her to type in foreign language, mathematical or other specialized symbols.

Hensler-Westin Opens Registration

The Hensler-Westin Conservatory of Music now is accepting registrants for the fall term. It is located at 129 Chestnut St., Roselle Park.

The Conservatory will feature courses designed to accommodate musical students from beginner to professional. It is under the direction of Dr. Karl Otto Westin, who has announced the availability of specially prepared diploma courses leading to a certificate. Special attention has been given to students who wish to prepare for music degrees at college level.

A faculty of ten teachers will be available for instruction in piano, organ, drums, trumpet, clarinet, guitar, voice, accordion, trombone, harmony, arranging and conducting. Rental instruments will be available.

For adults who wish to learn or improve their musical skill, evening classes or private instruction may be chosen.

Dr. Westin, Swedish-born, but now a New Yorker by choice, is noted as a composer, conductor and pianist. His music for the new ballet, "Duet," and his opera, "Estimango," are to be premiered in the near future. Many of his students have gone on to the professional stage, theatre and television.

A HANDY SHOPPING GUIDE FOR BOTH PARENTS AND STUDENTS

Efficient Facilities Is 'Help With Homework'

Back to school used to mean shopping for new clothes, shoes, books and school supplies. It still does. But another category is gaining increasing importance on the shopping and planning list. Efficient aids to home study, their location and arrangement in the home—the entire question of a proper home study set-up comes in for more attention these days. It's a simple case of cause and effect. From the youngest grade schooler on up, children are bringing home more homework nowadays. Parents, concerned about what they can do to help youngsters meet the challenges of modern education are trying to "help with homework" in the most practical way—by providing home surroundings that furnish the right facilities for study and that are conducive to learning. The increasing pressures of homework and parents' concern with better home study areas are directly related to today's steadily accelerating demand for higher education.

As opportunity for the inadequately educated dwindles, the importance of a college education mounts. Yet, to be successful in securing admission to the college of his choice, the student must start early. In one sense, preparation might be said to begin with the child's earliest school days, since his approach to learning and the very first study habits he forms will help shape his destiny at college.

Small wonder, then, that the atmosphere in the home now assumes study great importance in back to school plans. To get the most from school, students need—and parents want them to have—ample home study space, conveniently and comfortably arranged.

THEY'RE EXPANDABLE. When plans for the study area are being made, today's educational challenges often influence parents to look ahead. Study in the home starts early and continues at least through high school—longer for the student attending a local college. Consequently, parents realize that study space which grows with the student is essential.

Modern furniture and furnishings make it easy to achieve "expandable" study surroundings. For instance, several manufacturers now offer adjustable wall shelves, including desk and cabinet units, that can be arranged in almost any combination for the convenience of the student—and added to as need arises. Another type of expandable study area might be planned around a corner desk in the children's bedroom, with matching storage pieces lined up along adjoining walls.

BASIC LOOK for back-to-school boys highlights grown-up fashion, reports the American Institute of Men's and Boy's Wear.

Here, traditional blazer, check vest, flannel slacks. Chest and cabinets can provide extra work space. QUIET AND PRIVACY COUNT. Convenience and comfort, quiet and privacy in the study area contribute to the speed and accuracy with which homework is done. What's more, the student who works in a quiet atmosphere, free from the distractions of family activities, is certain to get more out of homework—a major consideration, since the purpose is not just to get the work done, but to contribute to learning.

Finding a quiet, private place for the homework area is not always easy, but it can be done. The student's own bedroom is one logical location. A special area might also be created in attic or basement. Another solution is to set aside certain hours when the family room, or recreation room, can be used for homework only. Correct height and placement of the desk or other working surface, correct position of the student's chair, proper lighting, "spill over" work space, adjacent to the desk, shelves for handy placement of dictionaries and other reference works and storage space for supplies are basic.

ADULT EDUCATION SETS NEW RECORD

Wise adults too — 28,000,000 of them on the basis of conservative estimates — are planning going back to school this year. These folks, most conscious of the wisdom of improving their skills, learning new ones, or making their lives more interesting by acquiring more culture, will be heading for Adult Education classes now available in almost every school district in the land. They are in addition to the 63,000,000 students who will enroll in regular elementary, high school and college classes this fall, thus bringing the anticipated total enrollment to beyond 90,000,000.

A HANDY SHOPPING GUIDE FOR BOTH PARENTS AND STUDENTS

One-Fourth Of Nation's Population Will Attend School This September

The monumental task of preparing schools and colleges to receive the largest crop of students in the history of the nation has moved into high gear at home and everywhere across this broad land. In elementary and secondary schools, preparations go forward more hopefully than ever in the light of the $1.3 billion financial assistance offered by the Education Act of 1965 as proposed by President Johnson and passed by Congress. It appears, however, that much is yet to be done before this aid becomes available everywhere.

It is now for the parents of all the younger pupils going back to elementary grades and junior high schools, and also for the huge crop of increasingly self-reliant teen agers who will be going back to senior high schools to step up their own personal preparations for the new term of learning.

tem seeks now to bring even four-year-olds into classrooms. That they have the capacity and need the attention for learning in preparation for regular grade school, is now generally acknowledged. HAPPENINGS AT HOME Enrollment increases at all levels are felt sharply here at home. Educational authorities can cite figures to show increases almost proportionately as great as those across the nation.

College bound students also would do well to select their luggage now and such fittings as they will need for their campus rooms.

and high school children will need — also can be most advantageously acquired now. They know what these are.

SYMBOLIC OF THE MORE DETERMINED teen agers of these times who are bent on pursuing learning in the trim neatness with which they are dressing as compared with Sloppy Joe styles of yesteryear. Sweater combinations frequently become almost uniforms. Some girls knit their own.

ONE-FOURTH OF POPULATION
Estimated total national enrollment in school and college this fall exceeds a total of 53,800,000. This is approximately one-fourth of the nation's current population. In addition, more than 2,000,000 teachers will go back to work — constituting the nation's No. 1 career classification. Biggest percentage increase is in the colleges and universities, accounted for primarily by the coming of age of more post-war babies. It will continue for some years to come. Another factor here is the heavy emphasis on the importance of a higher education which is stimulating more and more high school graduates to seek admission to colleges. This in turn is again intensifying the high school students' worries as college admission standards increase, while the number of places are taxed by the demand. At the bottom level of the age groups, the school sys-

TRANSITIONAL CASUAL — To go with late summer cottons and football tweeds is this T-strap design with comfortable heel. The textured leather comes in autumn shades — burnished red, soft brown and brownish gray. This Penajo casual is featured at Wuensch East Orange.

First on the list of preparatory steps is the annual health examination and especially the eye-sight check-ups. Better to be able to take necessary preventive measures than to have learning interrupted by physical problems that could have been anticipated. Parents of teen agers and especially of those going to college, will have to assume responsibility here — just as they do for the younger children. Now is the time for building up the back to school wardrobe on a planned basis, while selections from fresh and fashionable merchandise are available. To defer may play havoc not only with time but with the budget also.

SHOPPING AT HOME
Shopping at home, before leaving for the campus, can prove important to those going to college. Again budgetary matters are important here.

Furthermore, dealing with a familiar store where personal is informed on collegiate trends, can be a lot more satisfactory than waiting to deal with the unfamiliar merchants in the college town. That can come later.

HOME STUDY NEEDS
Similarly, parents of all youngsters who remain at home should check up on the study facilities in the home. There is more homework to be done these days. Needs of children here can be anticipated. Finally the school supplies — the book bags, and all the little accessories grade school

FOOT FASHIONS HAS 'NEW LOOK' FOR FALL SEASON

The new fall fashions with short hems and flip skirts puts the spotlight on pretty legs and trim ankles and the shoe designers have accepted the challenge. The "new look" in fall footwear for the back-to-school and college crowd can now be seen in the shoe collections at Wuensch, East Orange. This year the child-look-in-shoes is the leader with adult styles featuring the "little girl" look—Buckie-ties, ties, straps, lacing, buttons and bows, and a sporty trim of colors are fashion "ins" for daytime and evening. Heels in a variety of heights are designed to complement the new rounded look in toes. The new look in shoes is either straight, very low and curvy, tape and buckle, or flat. The narrow look is fast disappearing, and the high spike heels are definitely "out." The charm and grace in this fall's footwear promises the greatest excitement in years for elementary, high school and college bound students.

Anthony's Has The Look For The Traditional Set

Today's college men dress to create a favorable impression on men and women his own age. He prefers to shop in stores catering to young men; he relies on many different sources for information on how to dress; he has developed almost rigidly traditional dressing habits. Peter Anthony of Peter Anthony Ltd., 1073 Springfield Ave., agreed with conclusions drawn from the American Institute of Men's and Boy's Wear resulting from testing and research. The outlines of a basic traditional wardrobe that most students agree on and that can be found in Anthony's are these basic items: The natural color poplin raincoat or the black and olive-tan in full or split regulation styling. The three-button traditional natural shoulder suit is basic, in medium and dark tones such as charcoal, gray and brown-olive polyester worsted, gabardine and hopsacking. With suits and sport coats, the long-point button-down collar shirts are important in blue, white or yellow or stripes. The favorite sport coat is still the single-breasted navy blazer, of the camel, burgundy, medium blue and dark brown. Wool and hopsacking are fabric favorites in tweedy herringbone jackets in the traditional al plain-front gray flannels with belt loops lead brown-olive and dark blue. Surotection and corduroy are the important fabrics in sport outerwear. In the sport shirt category dark solids and traditional madras are favorites among the college set and sweater preferences feature high V-necks, full-fashion raglan and saddle binders.

Drake Renovating Orange Quarters

Students will enjoy a plush environment when they start their secretarial and accounting courses on Sept. 13 at Drake College of Business, 308 Main St., Orange. The final touches are now being added to an extensive renovation and modernization of the school's quarters, on the fourth floor of the Second National Bank building, the largest business building in Orange. "We are very proud of our graduates and we want them to be proud of the physical facilities of Drake as they have been of the education they have received since 1883," said Peter H. 'Little Sheba' Comes Back-- Even Better 15 Years Later

WILLIAM M. BRUCKER
"Come Back, Little Sheba" may very well take its place in the front ranks of social dramas of the last century. This early William Inge play, which has just begun a two-week run at the Paper Mill Playhouse, seems even sturdier today than it was in a prior viewing in 1950. Even though new social problems give us more concern today, its problem of alcoholism has not become trite or mundane.

Inge's vision are total. He goes beyond cause and effect to solution, both active and passive. Hal Skelly peddled through the ineffectiveness of a pre-social worker "Burdette." Clifford Odels never came to a head in his veiling lating play "The Country Girl." Inge, in his touching little play here, does come to grips with the staggering question and creates a mood of monotony, frustration and mounting tension that drags the playgoer into its very vortex. The static electricity it engenders brings the crackling and violent climax and the quiet thereafter.

George Keithley follows his steamy direction of "The Glass Menagerie" with an equally brilliant play, "Come Back, Little Sheba." The set and lighting by Robert T. Williams is not necessarily mid-western but by all means just the proper housing.

Ask Amy

BY AMY ADAMS

Dear Amy: I have spent 11 days in the hospital and received a number of cards, flowers and gifts. I have mailed "Thank You" notes to people whose gifts were sent in. Would I still have to send "Thank You" cards to friends I have thanked personally, and how do I acknowledge the other "Get Well" cards?

Mrs. A. L.: It isn't necessary to send "Thank You" cards to friends you have thanked personally. Your acknowledgments by telephoning these well-wishers when you are fully recovered and up to it. Best wishes and good health!

Dear Amy: Now that school is over and we girls get to spend a lot of time together, one of the girls has developed a nasty habit of trying to boss the rest of us. I try to be nice to her to the point that one day we sat down and had a long talk, and I told her what she does wrong. But it was no use. She just did it again. What am I to do now?

Dear Troubled: If you still desire to include this "bossy" girl in your circle of friends, continue your constructive criticism whenever she becomes overbearing. If this doesn't cure her, you will have to cross her off your "friendship" list. I hope this won't be necessary, because, in my opinion, you are her very best friend when you try to help her with this social problem.

Dear Amy: I have been dating a certain boy for three months. We are both college seniors. We get along very well as our backgrounds and religions are similar. My only complaint is that he never calls during the week to ask me out. He will call the night before and sometimes even the same day he wants to go out. On our first few dates, he did call early. All of my other boyfriends have always called and asked me out earlier.

This bothers me. I like him and always have a good time when I do go out. Am I just being silly?

Dear Arlene: Yes! The gal who complains that her fellow calls at the wrong time usually ends up wishing he'd call ANY time!

Case To Set Test For Aspirants To Service Schools

Senator Clifford P. Case announced plans this week to hold a Civil Service examination early in November to assist him in selecting his nominees for the United States Air Force, Naval, Military (West Point) and Merchant Marine Academies, for the classes entering the summer of 1966.

This examination is open to legal residents of New Jersey. All persons desiring to take the examination should write to Senator Case at Room 463, Senate Office Building, Washington 25, D. C., no later than Sept. 15, 1965.

Candidates for the U. S. Service Academies should be at least 17 years of age and must not have reached their 22nd birthday by July 1 of the calendar year in which they will enter one of the academies.

There will be one vacancy to be filled in the class entering the U. S. Air Force Academy in 1966. Senator Case plans to use the "Congressional Competitive" method; that is, six candidates will be designated for this vacancy. The six candidates will then compete for the vacancy, with the order of merit being determined by the Academic Board of the Air Force Academy. There will be one vacancy to be filled in the class entering the U. S. Naval Academy in 1966. The same method will be used in filling this vacancy — six candidates will be nominated,

Olympic Park's 60th Baby Parade Will Attract Hundreds Saturday

Olympic Park's 60th annual baby parade will get under way at 3 p.m. Saturday, culminating in the award of trophies and savings bonds to at least a dozen of New Jersey's handiest children. The Irvington-Man-wood amusement park's competition is one of the oldest such contests in the world and annually attracts hundreds of entries.

Blonde, brunet, and redheaded children, through 6, will vie separately in each category. In addition, there will be three winners in the division for decorated floats, which often are manned by more than one child.

A temporary grandstand will be erected for the public at the end of the parade route, Basile's Olympic Park Band and the semifinals in the park's bathing beauty competition will also participate in the march. A new circus will arrive Monday, featuring the Great Veno, world's premiere wire walker. Veno-Borsini's feats include the ascent and descent of a wire angled at 45 degrees. The Cyclonians, unicycle duo, and Angela-Witnow's Braves, a trained collic troupe, round out the new bill.

Minutemen Defeat Summit, Close Season In 2nd Place

The Springfield Minutemen pulled down second place in the Suburban Recreation Baseball League last week as they ended the season with a 4-1 victory over Summit.

Livingston captured the pennant with a 9 and 3 record. Summit finished third and Verona, fourth.

Springfield's top player for the season was the team captain, Brian Finniery. He caught and batted .84, high for the team. Finniery also paced the squad in R B I's with 11.

Gary Kurtz batted .324, played short stop and paced the team in runs scored and stolen bases, 8.

Kurtz also performed well on the mound as he turned in 10 2/3 innings, 10 strikeouts and a 1.00 ERA.

Brian Sheehan, with a .298 batting average also played well for Springfield, as did Roby Campbell, who batted .280. Campbell was the star third baseman on the Minutemen. Campbell's magic glove saved many games for Springfield. Roby stole eight bases to tie for the team lead in that department.

Another top player for Springfield this season was Ernie Roig. Ernie patrolled center field for the Minutemen. Roig batted only .207, but had the team's highest slugging percentage. Ernie hit two home runs and batted in six runs.

The final encounter of the season began as a scoreless duel for three innings as Joe Buccil for Springfield, and Tom Glantz, for Summit, retired the first nine batters to face them.

Springfield then exploded for three runs in the fourth and that was the ball game.

In the fourth inning Denny Murnane started things with a single to left. Murnane was forced at second by Gary Kurtz. Kurtz then stole second and advanced to third when Brian Finniery reached on an error.

Brian Sheehan then singled sharply to center, scoring Kurtz with the first run. Both runners advanced on a passed ball and scored when Ernie Roig singled to left. Springfield added a single run in the sixth inning as Roig hit a tremendous home run to left field. Roig drove in three of the four Springfield runs.

Summit tallied an unearned run in the top of the final ining to spell Joe Buccil's bid for a shutout. Buccil chalked up his third victory for Springfield this season. He allowed Summit only three hits while striking out seven.

The tournament is open to all men residents of Union County who are over 40 years of age or will reach their 40th birthday in 1965.

Entries will close at 5 p.m. Tuesday, Aug. 31, with Cron-Union County Park Commission, Box 275, Elizabeth. Applications are now available at the Wernicke Park Tennis Courts.

Frank Millman, Distributors checked the A. Best Pharmacy pennant drive last week in the Springfield Recreation Adult Softball race, posting a neat 2-1 victory over the pennant possessor which tightened the flag race.

Monday night, Conte's Dell and Community Shoppe played three innings, with Community holding a commanding 10-4 advantage. This lead went down the drain as a heavy storm soaked the field, preventing completion of the game.

Meeker kept going on Wednesday night to surprise a good Conte nine, 15-9.

Fred Scott and Bob Zawacki had two hits each, to pace the winners. Augie Caprio and Gary Fucche were the top hitters for Conte's Dell. The feature of this contest was a grand slam home run by Bob Zawacki in the third.

Thursday night it was all Millman Distributors as they easily beat Somerset Bus, 14-8. Heath Cohen and Andy Longhetti sparked the victory with a pair of safeties. Top batters for Somerset Bus were Bob Tinton, Fat Kenney and Ben Marazzano, each getting two hits.

Theresa's Condition Improves; To Omit Special Nursing Shift

Philip Portnoy, chairman of the Theresa Gargalowitz Fund, this week announced that the 20-year old Fairleigh Dickinson-coded is now able to go one eight-hour shift a day without a private nurse.

Theresa has been in Overlook Hospital for 10 months in a coma. She was critically injured in an automobile accident on Morris Ave., Springfield, in April, 1964.

More than $1,000 had been paid out of the fund in recent weeks for special around-the-clock nursing care required during the girl's most recent bout with pneumonia. Last week, she had been removed from an oxygen tent and the pneumonia had been arrested, but Portnoy said her condition remained "critical-poor." The fund chairman said Monday that her condition was "slightly improved."

The Theresa Gargalowitz Fund was enhanced this week by $50 donated by the Optimists Club of Union.

Fifteen dollars was donated by Susan and Jay Perlestein, Lois Samer, Meryl Corover, Nancy Callaghan and Steven Diamond. The money was collected at a

Mrs. Rich said that she had been cut off by Mrs. Lewin. The left side and door of the Lewin car were damaged and the right front fender and door of the Rich car were damaged.
