Regional board changes redistricting plan

60-day deadline for code of ethics

By ADNER GOLD
In a decision which evoked substantial approval from several hundred Mountainside parents in attendance, and no audible dissent from anyone else, the Regional High School District Board of Education Monday evening revised its plan of the previous month which would have transferred next year's Mountainside freshmen from Gov. Livingston Regional High School, Berkeley Heights, to Jonathan Dayton Regional in Springfield. The board met at Dayton Regional.

Like its short-lived predecessor, the plan unveiled Monday was designed to relieve overcrowding at Gov. Livingston and A. L. Jolinson high schools, while there are empty seats at Dayton and David Brearley Regional. At a meeting last month, some 600 Mountainside parents had appealed to the board not to uproot their children, who had been prepared "academically and psychologically" to attend Gov. Livingston. Speakers at an earlier protest meeting in Mountainside had called for an investigation of "moral, social and academic" conditions at Dayton.

The two other major portions of the plan adopted Monday were also part of the proposal presented during April. Next year's freshmen from the Baltusrol Top section of Springfield will attend Dayton, rather than Gov. Livingston. Upper-classmen from Baltusrol Top may transfer, if they wish.

All students from Garwood, starting with next year's freshmen, will attend their "nearest permanent home school" at David Brearley, the board declared. Older brothers and sisters of the new Brearley students will have an option to transfer.

THE BOARD RESOLUTION went on to state: "By greater utilization of all facilities, so as not to eliminate any of the curriculum at the Gov. Livingston Regional High School, no change is made in assignments of (Mountainside) students to the Gov. Livingston Regional High School."

"The administration is requested to develop a summer school program expanded to provide offerings appropriate to the present situation, and to continue its studies in cooperation with the architect, so as to recommend, at the earliest time possible, a program providing the facilities needed to meet the anticipated growth and needed modernization of our Regional High School system."

Board members at the earlier meeting had spoken at some length about reduced efficiency of education at Gov. Livingston because of overcrowding if the Mountainside students are not transferred. This topic was not discussed at the Monday session when the new policy was adopted.

A source within the school system commented after the meeting, however, "The school will be more than full. This seemed to be the strong desire of most of the people present at the meetings."

"WE WILL DO the best we can. Many other schools in nearby communities are operating under more overcrowded conditions, but they have no alternative."

One remedy which had been suggested at the earlier meeting was construction of temporary, (Continued on page 2)

ALL IS WELL -- Despite earlier threats of violence and demonstrations, there were no pickets present Monday when Bayard Rustin, veteran civil rights leader, spoke in the third session of the current lecture series at Temple Shalom. His topic was "The Negro and the Quest for Justice." Rabbi Shai Shucknat of Wayne will close the series next Wednesday with a talk on "The Jew and the Quest for Brotherhood." ### Rustin outlines recent major changes in work, goals of civil rights movement

BY FRAN DE CRISTOPHER
"I do not come to you as a civil rights leader, for that is passé. I might as well come to you as a druid," Bayard Rustin emphasized the change in the civil rights movement at the third in a series of lectures at Temple Shalom Monday night.

The concluding lecture will be given Wednesday, at 8:30 p.m., by Rabbi Shai Shucknat of Temple Beth Tikvah in Wayne, who will speak on "The Jew and the Quest for Brotherhood." Rabbi Shucknat, who was involved in the Board of Education dispute in Wayne last winter, is chaplain of the Wayne PBA and vice-president of the N.J. Association of Reform Rabbis.

No pickets turned out to protest Rustin's views, as had been threatened. "I don't know why they didn't show up," he quipped. "It always helps to bring out more people."

Rustin centered most of his remarks on what he termed his "analysis" of the status of civil rights today in comparison with the movement between 1955, or the Montgomery bus incident, and 1965 and the passage of Federal legislation.

An advisor to Dr. Martin Luther King for years and head of the A. Phillip Randolph Institute, Rustin has been working on civil rights problems for nearly a lifetime. Rabbi Israel Dresner pointed out that Rustin was a freedom rider in 1946, when freedom riders

Delegates to represent town at convention of Girls' State

The town's 1967 New Jersey Girls' State delegates will be Susan Anderson and Janice Hardgrove. It was announced this week. They will represent Springfield's Continental Unit of the American Legion Auxiliary. The alternate delegates will be Sandra Blackman and Judith Scallera. All are members of the junior class at Jonathan Dayton Regional High School.

The delegates will spend a week, June 30-30, on the Douglass College campus in New Brunswick hearing lectures about citizenship and government on municipal, county and state levels. They will also campaign and participate in mock elections, complete with the use of electronic voting machines. The winning candidates, from "Girl Governor" to the lesser offices on the ballot, will then preside in their respective positions. A total of 448 girls from all parts of New Jersey will be in attendance.

Miss Anderson is a member of the Pep Club, Girls' Athletic Association, and the School Choir. She has appeared in two musical plays presented by the high school. She also helps in the School's attendance office.

Susan attends the First Presbyterian Church of Springfield, where she is a member of the Senior Choir and recreation chairman for the Westminster Fellowship. Part of her work as a page at the Springfield Public Library includes art work on the bulletin boards and elsewhere in the building. Her other interests include swimming, water skiing, surfing, tennis, softball, basketball and piano.

She plans to go to college and is now considering majoring in biology.

MISS HARDGROVE is a member of the National Honor Society, French Club, Girls' Athletic Association, American Field Service, High School Chorale and High School Band. She is treasurer of the Dramatics Club and the National Theatrical Society.

She is a member of the Girls' Choir and Westminster Fellowship of the First Presbyterian Church. She also belongs to the Sub-Junior Women's Club of Springfield.

Janice appeared in the high school productions of "Damn Yankees" and "Brigadoon" and played the ingenue role of Hope Harcourt in this year's musical comedy, "Anything Goes." She also plays the piano, oboe and trumpet.

Among her interests are drawing and art work, music, drama, and economics, particularly in reference to the stock exchange. Her trip to France, England, and Spain last summer gave her a "better understanding of other peoples" and added a gourmet's touch to her hobby of cooking. She also enjoys swimming. ### Spring concert set by Symphony unit at Dayton Regional

The Springfield Symphony Orchestra, under the direction of Ira Kraemer, will present its spring concert at the Jonathan Dayton Regional High School auditorium on Saturday evening, May 20, at 8:30. The program, consisting of light classics and modern works, includes Mozart's Fine Kleine Nachtmusic in addition to Richard Strauss' Waltzes from "Der Rosenkavalier."

Featured soloist for the evening will be Marjorie Slavin, in a concerto for violoncello and orchestra by Luigi Boccherini. "The modern sounds of Albert Roussel's 'Sinfonietta' for String Orchestra promise to be a pleasant balancing contrast to the baroque melodies of Francesco Durante's Concerto No. 1," according to a Symphony spokesman.

Mayor Arthur M. Falkin, while looking in at a recent rehearsal commented, "This program of delightful music for a spring evening in Springfield should lure every resident to the concert as proof that the best things in town are free."

These programs are made possible through the combined efforts of the Union County Regional adult classes, the Springfield Recreation Department, the Springfield Association of Creative Arts and the Springfield Symphony.

Regional high schools to participate in Fourth Annual Mathematics Day

The Fourth Annual Union County Regional High School District Number One Mathematics Day will be held in Jonathan Dayton Regional High School, Springfield, on Saturday morning, May 20. Students with one, two or three years of mathematics study from the David Brearley, Jonathan Dayton, Arthur L. Johnson and Governor Livingston schools will participate.

There will be three levels of competition, one for each of the three years of mathematics study. Fourth-year mathematics students will not be involved as they are engaged in a national mathematics competition each year. The purpose of these competitions, which will be in the form of contests, is to further stimulate an interest in mathematics and to recognize outstanding students through the presentation of awards and through publicity.

Those contestants, from each of the four sister schools, attaining the three highest scores in each of the levels of competitions will receive awards. Gold, silver and bronze medals will be awarded to the first-place contestants.

All winners will receive certificates in addition to mathematic publications, a spokesman for the county regional school system said.

Baltusrol chooses colors for uniforms at national tourney

Baltusrol Golf Club, Springfield, has chosen gold and green as its official colors for the 1967 U.S. Open Championship to be played over its Lower Course June 12-18.

Members of the steering committee will wear gold jackets with the tournament insignia on the breast pocket, and green slacks. Their matching gold hats will have a stitched brim and the tournament emblem on the front.

Over 400 marshals, drawn from 18 neighborhood clubs as well as from Baltusrol, will wear light green knit shirts with their dark green slacks. The marshals' helmets will be bright yellow to stand out vividly in the crowd.

The 300 women helping with the scoring, driving, communications, information, registration and hospitality will be attired in green A-line skirts of the same material as the men's slacks, topped by a Dacron/cotton hatisse blouse in water green. The women's ensemble will be completed by a gold alpaca sweater and dark green stitched brim hat.

Shoes are being furnished in sagebrush for the men and loden for the women. The women will also receive low cut stretch nylon golf socks with yellow pom-poms.

Caddies will stand out on color TV in gold crew neck knit shirts and red slacks. Each will wear the name of his contestant on his back. Boy standard bearers and messengers will be attired in pale blue shirts and blazer blue shorts.

In all, over 1,200 men and women will be clad in made-to-measure uniforms during tournament week, a huge undertaking which originated in 1966 and has taken a full year to negotiate, implement and distribute.

Rotary Club to help detectives with grant for special study

In a joint effort between the Springfield Rotary Club and the Springfield Police Department, Max Weiss, Rotary president, and Police Chief Wilbur Selander have selected Detective Samuel Calabrese as the recipient of a new training grant. The grant, the first of its kind with the Police Department, was established through the cooperation of the Rotary Club and its president. The grants will be used to further the training and education of the department's members.

Calabrese will attend the Federal Bureau of Narcotics Training School in Washington for a period of two weeks in July. Calabrese has been assigned to narcotic investigations since joining the detective bureau.

After serving four years in the U.S. Navy, seeing duty on both submarines and destroyers, he joined the force in December, 1951. He is a graduate of the Union County Basic Training Academy and State Police Training Academy, is a qualified drunkometer operator and has attended a number of narcotic seminars.

The Rotary Club, in establishing the grant stated that it realizes the many new problems facing law enforcement today. In view of a growing and changing community, court decisions in recent years, and the demands placed on a police department during these changing times, the Rotary Club has shown an interest in community problems and a desire to assist in finding solutions to these problems.

The Federal Narcotic Training School was organized in 1956 and since that time has trained more than 1,500 officers from nearly every state in the union, as well as many from foreign countries.

Town meeting

"portable" classrooms, housed in trailers, to provide added facilities at Gov. Livingston. Avery Ward of Kenilworth, board president, stated that no such project has been adopted.

Ward told the audience that the board could run into trouble if it went ahead with plans to enlarge Gov. Livingston and A. L. Johnson Regional to relieve overcrowding under present districting regulations. He stressed that the State Department of Education would not approve plans for capital expansion at one school while room is available at another school within the district.

Although most of the speakers at the meeting were Mountaineer residents, there were some comments from Dr. Benjamin H. Josephson, a former member of the Springfield Board of Education.

He commended the people of Mountaineer for "wanting to stay away from the school here at Dayton. This building is 30 years old. We have been told that improvements were coming, but there is still much to do here."

Dr. Josephson went on to say, "We in Springfield had a battle four months ago for quality education in our school. The other towns within the region were not with us, and we are still looking for improvement."

"WHEN EXPANSION COMES, I want it here first. We need it. Perhaps the regional system is antiquated. Perhaps we need a separate high school for each town."

Another critic of the administration was John Janukowicz of Springfield, who commented that the town "is truly an orphan when it comes to athletic facilities. We have no home athletic field. We alone in the region must use county park facilities. Either we have a regional system or we don't."

The new districting plan was approved by the board by a vote of eight to one. The lone dissenter was Alfred Battaglia of Berkeley Heights. He commented that he agreed in principle but was opposed to some details, about which he declined to elaborate.

The board also held a brief business meeting following its vote on the districting plan and before going into executive session.

Ward commented on the new state law which will require school systems to provide free bus service for students attending parochial or private school within 20 miles of their homes. He noted that the regional system could be using youngsters to some 50 schools, and he estimated the cost as $185,000 per year. Lewis Fredericks, board secretary, reported that he had received a number of requests for bus service, including four on Monday alone.

the committee chambers and to provide ashtrays for those interested.

The suggestion was advanced by Del Vecchio, who noted that the room is now the only one in Town Hall off limits to smokers. He met prompt and vociferous opposition from Planer and Falkin, who cited reasons of health, as well as risks of fire. Both are non-smokers.

Del Vecchio received strong support from Committeeman Robert D. Hargrove, who flourished an ashtray ready for use, and Committeeman Jay B. Bloom, believed to be a recidivist.

Falkin, without pausing for the technicality of a vote, tabled the matter for study by the Board of Health.

Del Vecchio, however, had the last word on the topic: "There is nothing worse than a reformed drunkard or a non-smoker."

Presbyterian units plan dinner dance

Following a catered buffet dinner, the guests will be entertained by the Rhythmaires, an eight-piece orchestra led by Lloyd Baker of Frenchtown. #### Requirements to qualify for maternity licenses

On Sunday, Americans all over America will pause for a moment from contemplation of their personal difficulties to pay tribute to the person without whom they would not be where they are—their Mom.

Mother's Day is a time for homage to the mothers who are responsible for this nation's great men, for its failures and for all the rest of us in between. All would agree that motherhood is indeed a serious responsibility, yet no one has even been able to enforce a set of minimum qualifications.

Brides in New Jersey must at least pass a blood test and, besides, they have to be asked. Before being accepted for mothers' licenses, we feel, applicants should be required to meet basic standards.

They should pass the Marine Corps physical fitness test, for one thing. Taking care of small children can be tiring. We want no slackers.

A brief examination on the laws of the state and nation should also be mandatory. Mothers are constantly called on to resolve legal disputes within the family, and the legal problems become ever more complex as the youthful litigants become more articulate.

Absolutely vital, we must add, is a commercial chauffeur's license. Cultural historians of the next century will refer to the present day as the era of the car pool. Who would want to entrust the safety of his children to someone who can't even install a new carburetor?

Several years of training in the basic principles of bookkeeping can also be of great value. After all, a man engaged in the responsibilities of fatherhood is entitled to a little time off for golf or bowling. While he's gone, a good mother should be able to keep the family finances in order.

Mothers are also required to help their offspring with homework and other practice for a wide range of activities, both curricular and extra-curricular. To qualify for maternity, the applicant should manifest at least a superficial knowledge of U.S. history, the new mathematics, English grammar, baseball, modern dance, chemistry, nuclear physics and lacrosse. Latin and Greek are optional.

The modern mother should help her children to aim at high but realistic goals. She should be qualified in intelligence testing, motivational research and techniques for keeping noses to grindstones. Thorough training in first aid is also highly recommended.

With the baffling variety of knowledge and skill needed to do the job, the amazing thing is that so many mothers have done such a good job with so many of us, and are continuing to do so with our children.

Mom, we salute you. Almost all of you.

M is for the many, many things

PROFILE--Richard Stockinger

By B.L.A. SMITH
Richard Stockinger of 268 Baltusrol way, Springfield, a real estate representative, who recently was appointed Springfield township treasurer, explains that he feels "highly honored to be recognized. I sincerely mean that."

RICHARD STOCKINGER

A man of average height and a genuine smile, Stockinger has a slight German accent. "I was born in a small town in Germany," he says, "and received my education there. In Stuttgart, I served my apprenticeship in bookkeeping and office work. I had to apprentice for three years before I could become a full-fledged office clerk and bookkeeper. And I worked for a large firm in Germany before I came to the United States in 1924."

Stockinger lived in Newark and Irvington, before moving to Springfield 15 years ago. He had worked for Metropolitan Life Insurance Co. as a life insurance salesman and debit agent. Eighteen years ago, he joined the real estate staff of Leonard J. Zehnbauer, Inc., Union, and has been employed by the firm ever since. He is in charge of sales and management.

"I HAD BEEN ACTIVE in Republican events in Irvington for many years," Stockinger says, "and have been a member of the Newark Turn Verein in Newark for many years."

"I became active in the Republican Party here in Springfield seven years ago," he explains, "and served as district leader in the Seventh District. From there, I went on to become a member of the Assessment Improvement Commission. I served as chairman for the past six years."

Stockinger, who was appointed township treasurer ("a part-time job") as of May 1, says that "what pleased me most was that the Springfield Township Committee, which is composed of four Republicans and one Democrat, appointed me unanimously."

"I am taking the late Leonard Heller's place. He was township treasurer for a year and a half."

As treasurer, Stockinger will have charge of all the township accounts. He will be responsible for the final payment of all bills. He will see to it that there is money in the correct accounts (there are nine or 10), and will be responsible for balancing the checking accounts. In all, he will be responsible for all financial affairs of the town.

Norman Thomas, elder statesman of American liberalism, held an audience of some 500 people at Temple Shalom, Springfield, spellbound for two hours last Wednesday, applying a barbed wit and a vigorously youthful outlook to problems facing the world today.

Rabbi Israel Dresner introduced the guest speaker, who was six times the Socialist Party candidate for the U. S. Presidency. He compared Thomas, now 83, to Moses, who was 80 when he led the Israelites out of Egypt and 120 when he died within sight of the Promised Land.

Accepting the comparison, with qualifications, Thomas responded, "Moses was able to have all Ten Commandments approved. I have some that I'm still working on."

His talk for the evening, entitled "Dissent and the Quest for Liberty," dealt with the ways in which he felt that America still falls short of his dreams of freedom.

Stressing his opposition to U. S. involvement in Vietnam, Thomas cited the moral value of dissent "in a world which has such an old tradition of war."

Letters to Editor

Letters to the editor must be submitted no later than Monday of the week they are to appear. They should not exceed 250 words in length and should be typed with double spacing (not all in capital letters, please). All letters must be signed. Writer's name will not be withheld if the letter is of political nature. This newspaper reserves the right to edit or reject any letter.

THE AGONY AND THE ECSTASY
Our little league and major league baseball season is here again and, as a spectator, I would just like to express the agony I feel for the boy on the team who doesn't get to play the game.

At this age, no one boy plays any better than the others; therefore, why not give all the boys a chance to show their stuff, good or bad. If the child didn't want to play ball, he would not have joined the league in the first place, so how could you let a child sit on the bench for the entire game and think you are doing him a favor just to let him wear the uniform?

Last year at the all-star game, a little boy was so keyed up and so anxious to play and he waited and waited but his turn never came and he burst into tears. Oh, the humiliation. Now if he was good enough to be picked for the all-stars, he certainly was good enough to play in at least some part of the game.

At last night's game, one boy on the team did not get to play, and the hurt in his eyes was evidenced by most everyone, including his own friends. This is not big league ball. These are not grown men, who can accept this type of treatment. These are 9-10-11-year-olds, and their feelings should not be jeopardized for the sake of glory for the manager.

Every child who shows up for a game should be allowed to play some part of it. A benchwarmer will never make a good ball player. Let every boy have his moment of ecstasy too, not only the agony.

I might add that I have no children of my own involved. To me, every boy is a star. Make it a fun game for everyone, not only a chosen few.

NAME WITHHELD BY REQUEST
(Ed. note: Rules of the Springfield Junior Baseball Leagues state that every boy must be given an opportunity to play a specified number of innings, with a specified number of times at bat, during the season. The feeling has been that requiring every boy to play in every game would unduly limit a manager's functions. Complaints about continued refusal to let a boy play may be directed to any official of the leagues. Managers who fail to use all their players, game after game, will be removed.)

Springfield Public Library reports on newest books for local readers

The Springfield Public Library lists the following among the new books now available with comments by the library staff.

BIOGRAPHICAL HISTORY
"The Post-True Stories of Courage and Survival," selected by the editors of the Saturday Evening Post. This anthology of true stories of courage and the will to endure makes dramatic reading. They portray gripping accounts of man's survival against the greatest odds created by man and nature.

"Sourdough Sagas," by Herbert L. Heller. The pioneers in Alaska, America's last frontier, tell their stories of struggle, disappointment and endurance, and dominating it all are the awesome splendor and magnificence of the country itself. Many interesting old photographs are included.

ADOPTION
"How to Adopt a Child," by Robert A. Farmer. This is a new title in the "Know Your Law" series and explains every phase of adoption procedures, including adoption agencies and laws in the 50 states.

COSMETICS
"Cosmetics: Trick or Treat?" by Toni Stabile. The author has devoted seven years to the research and documentation of the material in this book. She points out that although thousands of women have suffered burns and other injuries to eyes, skin and hair, Americans spend more than seven billion dollars annually on grooming aids, many of which are marketed with deceptive labeling.

JUVENILES
"Helicopter Rescues," by Col. Carroll V. Gimes Jr. Fantastic but true stories of the heroic crews of helicopters who fly where no one else can go. Many photographs of actual rescues.

"Helen Keller's Teacher," by Mickie Davidson. The wonderful, beautiful story of Annie Sullivan who, at 20, took charge of six-year-old Helen, a child hopelessly trapped in a dark and silent world. A well-known story, but one that bears repeating.

"Chimney Farm Bedtime Stories" told by Henry Boston and Elizabeth Coatsworth. These amusing stories were originally told to Boston's children and have since been written down so that other children may share in their delight.

Elder statesman of U.S. liberalism stresses necessity of right to dissent

In every field, in science as much as in politics or religion.

"There are powerful factors which hinder the way of the dissenter, primarily the genuine need for a measure of conformity in an organized civilization. Some facts can be proven, as in science, but others cannot... and this is where there is so much freedom of dissent."

"Freedom to dissent is also necessary to personal integrity. This is where I quarrel with the Communists, who want government to dictate personal beliefs on art, on music, in all areas where there must be freedom of thought."

"Big government, he continued, is necessary to control uses of property for the common welfare, but never to deny civil liberties, never to demand support of a war -- when the President has not even asked Congress to declare a state of war."

"The veteran of a half-century's struggle to maintain and extend individual freedom went on to say, 'I oppose the right of a government to maintain mass conscription, especially of young men to fight in wars, I have the precious right to decide what I will do, especially when it comes to killing other men.'"

Thomas expressed support for required service in some such organization as the Peace Corps, but stressed that men should be drafted for military duty only if there is a threat to the entire nation that overrides all individual freedoms."

LOOKING BACK over his career, Thomas noted that he was one of a number of speakers who have been arrested in the cause of civil liberties and civil rights.

"I have been in jail twice in New Jersey," he commented, "I hope that by now you have improved your jails."

He added, "I have been called the conscience of America. Maybe that is the reason I was never elected."

"But freedom of dissent is not a laughing matter. Except when faced with a real threat of violence to the nation, we must protect the right to dissent, even if we disagree with the government. The only proper answer to wrong dissent is truth."

New headmaster is named to serve at St. Benedict's

Rev. Laurence Grassman, O.S.B., chairman of the science department at St. Benedict's Preparatory School, Newark, and a holder of numerous science fellowships, will be the school's new headmaster. It was announced this week by Rt. Rev. Abbot Martin J. Burne, O.S.B., president of St. Benedict's.

REV. L. GRASSMAN

Father Laurence will take up his duties as headmaster on June 20. The Newark-born clergyman has been with St. Benedict's for 25 years, having served in addition to his present duties as science chairman as assistant headmaster and at one time dean of studies. Father Laurence was graduated from St. Benedict's Prep in 1933 and received his bachelor's degree from St. Vincent's College in Latrobe, Pa., in 1938.

He holds a master's degree and his doctorate in education, both from Columbia University. Among the honors he has won are a Westinghouse Science Fellowship in 1950 for study at Massachusetts Institute of Technology and a General Electric Science Fellowship for study at Union College in Schenectady, N.Y.

While at Columbia working for his doctorate, he received a Science Manpower Fellowship and also has held three National Science Fellowships through the years 1961 to 1963 during which he performed advanced study at Fordham University and Newark College of Engineering. He is a senior member of the American Chemical Society, is a member of the National Education Association and in Kappa Delta, Psi, a national science fraternity.

$14.2 million lent to college students by N.J. since July

Since July, 1966, New Jersey college students received more than $14.2 million in guaranteed student loans, according to a report issued this week by William C. Nester, director of the Student Loan Program, State Department of Education.

The report showed that some 15,340 students applied for loans between July, 1966 and April, 1967, of which 14,509 were approved for a guaranteed loan total of $14,288,534. Since the start of the Student Loan Program in 1960, more than 30,500 students have received financial aid for college study. The cumulative total of loans outstanding as of March 31 was $27.1 million.

"The Education Department merely administers the loan program," Nester said. "The loans are made by private lending institutions, commercial and savings banks, savings and loan associations and federal credit unions; and all are guaranteed by funds appropriated by the State Legislature," he added. Students wishing to apply for loans may contact the Student Loan Office, State Department of Education, West State St., Trenton, Nester said.

AAA Clubs warn state fund dwindles

The AAA Auto Clubs of New Jersey warned this week that the state is running out of funds to pay damages caused by uninsured motorists, Frank J. Quinn, chairman of the AAA Public Affairs Council, said that the state will probably exhaust its funds by next March.

Quinn expressed hope that the Legislature, before it recesses for the summer, would authorize a study of the fund. He said that, until such a study, Gov. Hughes should consider appointing an executive task force to study the basic problem of reducing the number of uninsured or financially irresponsible motorists still on our highways.

Quinn emphasized that the AAA clubs in New Jersey oppose any plan to increase automobile registration fees to meet deficits in the fund. He noted that this method was used when the fund was created 12 years ago.

According to Quinn, Sal E. Capozzi, manager of the fund, has estimated that an extra $300,000 a year is necessary to keep the fund solvent.

Tips for Today's Homemaker

From Anne L. Sheelon, County Home Economist

Now that beef is plentiful on the market, this meat will undoubtedly appear more frequently in your menu plans. When it is your turn at the meat counter, be familiar with the grades that will help you to be a wise beef shopper.

Choose beef according to the Federal grade. Look for the purple, shield-shaped United States Department of Agriculture grade mark. This means that the meat has been examined and graded for quality by trained federal graders. It is a guide to the tenderness, juiciness, and flavor in the beef you buy.

The USDA grade most commonly found in retail markets is USDA Choice-USDA Prime, the highest quality beef, is available in some stores but the majority is sold to restaurants. USDA Good, a popular grade with thrifty shoppers, lacks some of the juiciness and flavor of the higher grades, but it is just as nutritious and may even be preferred by some.

Choose beef also by the cut. Cuts vary in tenderness. Some cuts, whether USDA Prime, Choice, or Good, are tender enough to be roasted, broiled or pan fried. Other cuts, regardless of grade, are less tender and must be cooked with moist heat, such as braising or pot roasting.

Steaks which are tender cuts include porterhouse, T-bone, club, sirloin, rib and top round. Tender roasts include rib roasts, sirloin, and eye of round. Less tender cuts include parts of the chuck, shoulder arm, bottom round, flank and brisket.

The appearance of meat is also a guide. Marbling, an intermingling of fat with lean, contributes to the tenderness and juiciness of beef.

FAMILY LIFE TODAY

By Mabel G. Stolte, County Home Economist

"Can we go see grandma and grandpa today?" asks Jane, eight, and Johnnie, ten years old. "Yes, I hope they'll be home today," says mother.

Older people have long cherished their privacy as much as their younger counterparts. But only relatively recently, however, have they been able to secure it for themselves. In the past, housing shortages and the economic realities of age often forced the elderly to live under the same roof with the young. Different viewpoints, experiences and needs made it often an unhappy arrangement for all concerned.

Today, it is usually a matter of choice if the three generations live together. Reports from the Institute of Life Insurance have disclosed the fact that nearly four-out-of-five of the nation's 18 million elders keep their own apartment or house.

These older citizens have been found to be on the move more than ever before. They travel more and pay weekly or daily visits to their married children.

An indication of the government's recognition of the needs of the older citizenry is specialty designed housing is also evident. F.I.A. mortgage loans provide special consideration for senior citizens. In addition, some 13,155 low-rent homes for older people were completed by local public housing groups in 1966. For further information inquire at your local bank or public housing office.

U.S. agency urges safety

WASHINGTON (UPI)—About 1,000 Americans are killed by accidental electric shock each year. To help combat this toll, the U.S. Public Health Service's Injury Control Program has developed an electric shock prevention demonstration to educate the consumer-public about the safe use of electricity.

Dr. Richard E. Marland, chief of the Injury Control Program, part of the newly organized National Center for Urban and Industrial Health, said the number of electrical shock accidents is on the increase. He sees a need to expand consumer education programs and for manufacturers to design safer appliances.

SUNDAY'S SERMON

ATTITUDE

You'll find the world to be a much better place if you begin each day with a smile. Try it. When you brush your hair or straighten your teeth, smile at the image in the mirror — and observe the smile that you can see.

Carry this smile with you as you go about the business of the day. You will be greeted by more smiles than came your way yesterday.

There is no magic about it. It is really a simple thing. The world reacts to you. You, attitude, the air that you have about you, the way that you meet the world; here is influence, here is force, positive or negative, that causes the world to react in kind.

Carry a smile with you wherever you go. A smile may — or may not — open up new doors for you. But one thing is certain. It will make the world a happier place, wherever you happen to be.

FAMILY POT LUCK

One-half cup of cottage cheese supplies as much high-quality protein as one serving of meat. It makes delicious main dishes, whole meal salads and desserts.

For a whiter meringue that cuts well and is flavorful, add lemon juice before beating. Mashed onions — splits, doubles of bottlenecks — are not a good buy. There's too much waste.

According to USDA marketing specialists, a smart shopper will look for oranges with greenish or russet skins and grapefruit with rust-colored spots — often offered at reduced prices. These fruits will taste as good as "perfects," and save money at the same time.

Heisen's Favorite: Vegetables, Goldenrod. (Serves 6)

- 1-1/2 pounds fresh vegetables, cooked
- tablespoons butter
- tablespoons flour
- 1/2 teaspoon salt
- 3/4 cup milk
- hard-cooked eggs, 3 cups
- 3/4 cup mayonnaise

Melt butter, blend in flour and salt. Add milk, stirring constantly, and cook until

Jobs, education, housing demands to see big rise

National Plan Association alerted the New York Metropolitan Area to disproportionately large increases in three population groups over the next generation which will strain office demand for jobs, university places, one-family houses and apartments in the suburbs.

The projections by the 36-year-old citizen research organization were announced this week by C. McKim Norton, Regional Plan president. They will be published later in the month in a 144-page study, "The Region's Growth," one of a series of background studies for a transportation and land-use plan the Association is now completing.

"The number of 18-24 year olds will increase more than 50 percent between 1965 and 1980, a rise of 900,000," Norton reported.

"Most of them will be looking for jobs, continuing the pressure on the job market to absorb large numbers of additional applicants. The pressure started in 1960 after two decades in which 18-24 year olds had decreased.

"Post-high school educational institutions also will be pressed to take in many more young people. Increasing percentages of these increasing numbers of 18-24 year olds will be applying to universities; by the end of the century, applicants for higher education can be expected to quadruple," Norton added.

The effective date of the merger of the Bank of Nutley into First National State Bank of New Jersey has been scheduled for Monday.

Hope to get mothers off welfare lists

Congressman Joseph G. Minish of the 11th District will head a group of public officials Saturday previewing a unique War on Poverty program designed to take 200 higher-income mothers off the welfare rolls.

The group will visit the Regent School of Business, 26 Essex St., Millburn. The school has been selected by the Essex County Youth and Economic Rehabilitation Commission as the delegate agency to carry out a training program. Joseph P. Buckley is dean and school director.

The program, Vocational Operation in Clerical Education (V.O.I.C.E.), is sponsored by the Commission, the county's anti-poverty agency. In March, the Commission submitted an application for federal approval, and the program is being reviewed by Office of Economic Opportunity officials.

V.O.I.C.E. will train 200 mothers, ages 21 to 35, who are either divorced, widowed, separated from their husbands, or unwed. The training will be in a variety of clerical occupations in which skilled employees are in short supply.

Each of the women admitted to the program will have an IQ of 110 or higher. The application points out that 18 percent of the nation's population are in this intelligence group.

Another aspect of the program will be the recruitment of 100 senior citizens, also receiving public assistance, who will be employed to care for the children of the enrollees while their mothers are receiving training. In the application, the total cost of the program is estimated at $657,445, with $325,945 to be supplied by the federal government and $331,500 as the county's share, most of it in-kind services by the Regent School and by the counselors.

Jersey Mortgage lists record figure

Jersey Mortgage Company of Elizabeth has reached a new high of over $300,000,000 in mortgage servicing volume.

Carlton S. Stallard, president, said the record figure "ties" in with Jersey Mortgage's ranking as first in mortgage servicing volume in New Jersey of 1966, according to a nationwide survey conducted by "American Banker." The company was also first in mortgage servicing volume in the state in 1965 and 1964. The company is now servicing 18,132 accounts, Stallard reported.

He said Jersey Mortgage's activities range over a wide field including mortgage financing for residential, industrial and commercial properties, nursing homes, medical and professional buildings and community and service facilities. The company is presently actively operating in 16 Jersey counties and it services mortgages in every county. Approximately 98 percent of its business is concentrated in this state.

Jersey Mortgage is mortgage loan correspondent for 53 institutional investors including the Metropolitan Life Insurance Company, The Mutual Benefit Life Insurance Company, The National Life Insurance Company of Vermont; Savings and Commercial Banks, Savings and Loan Associations and Pension Funds.

A FEMININE LOOK

At Africa 1967

(Commentary on a National Newspaper Association Study Mission to eight African countries south of the Sahara.)

By TRUDINA HOWARD

Fifth Of A Series
EATING THROUGH AFRICA
A fellow traveler on this African trip said to me, "One thing that impresses me about Africa is the soup. It is always good and it is always HOT."

He is Maurice Aice of Flemington and he laughs when he tells it for he immediately admits that there are many more important things to remember. But the soup is a nice memory. It is good and it is served hot and Mr. Aice is right.

Most of the time, the soup served in Africa is a cream soup of a bean or vegetable type, but in the big hotels there is always a consommé to be had as well. Beef is readily available, to tourists at least, and lamb. Many of the countries raise cattle with a great deal of Brahman strain in it, and some of the beef also is imported, Argentina being a chief supplier. Chicken is abundant but considerably "skinny" than the U.S. version.

SOUP WAS NOT THE THING that impressed me however. It was pineapple. African pineapple is succulent and sweet when properly ripened and it is used profusely. It is generally served sliced at the table from a peeled fruit with the leaves still topping it, or sliced down the middle with the two halves and leaves lying side by side and then served in silver. Bananas too are plentiful but they are offered green and if you like them that way, all is well. But do not desire a good ripe flecked one. You will not find it. Oranges are big but often not very sweet.

In Senegal the big thing of course is ground nuts. When the Senegalese sell it to the U.S. and make it, they call it "ground nut paste," and that is "peanut butter" to us. Peanuts, which are Senegal's main crop, comprise the main flavor item for the dish par excellence of West Africa called "ground nut stew." This special - occasion dish is made with chicken and is to be eaten at a wedding or to celebrate a birthday or the birth of a son. Some lucky few have it much more often, but the saying goes that once you have tasted it, you will never be addicted to it.

A favorite dish in South Africa is "sosaties" which is the South African equivalent of fish kebabs; and "bobotie" or meat timbale. The policies in the Republic of South Africa may sponsor Apartheid or separatism, but the cooking goes for mixing. It is a mixture of almost everything, but mainly it is French, Dutch, Malay (from the early slave) and also, around 1820, a little English and also a little touch of African. It is usually highly spiced and tasty. Yellow rice, also a South African specialty and always served with the bobotie, is a mixture of coffee rice cooked with brown sugar, tumeric and raisins.

FOOD FOR THE TOURISTS In Africa generally is typical continental European style with American steak and martini overtones. There is the "continental breakfast" which consists of strong, good coffee with hot milk and rolls and breads. Eggs and orange juice, fresh sometimes and canned sometimes, come only on request but are quite available. There is lunch which is quite heavy, usually consisting of a soup course, a fish-and-potato course, a main course and dessert. The main course includes a meat, (veal and chicken are most often used) and sometimes goat or lamb or beef) potatoes, vegetables and a salad, bread-always looking salads too that the tour director always warns you not to eat and which you can hardly bear to do. Dessert almost always offers choices of cakes, pastries, cheeses and fresh fruits.

And all that is only lunch. Then comes dinner with the same thing all over again, only more so. If it is a buffet at a party, then of course it is fancy-ish, dainty-ish and smorgasbord-ish. This year a favorite canapé of cokes, pastries, cheeses and fresh fruits.

WHILE SENEGAL'S BIG CROP is ground nuts or peanuts, Ghana is big in coconuts and Ivory Coast in coffee, yet coconuts as a beverage is seldom seen on a menu. If you want coconuts you have to ask for it. Coffee on the other hand, is always on the menu but it is sometimes difficult to get even after asking for it. Coffee at meals other than breakfast, usually is the espresso type and is rarely served at the table with dessert as is the case in a good part of the world. It confounds the water-so-and-when-Americans sit there letting the dessert get soggy waiting for the coffee. It confounds the Americans all places but waiting. Then they later request that the coffee be brought in with the dessert. But this completely unnerves the waiter. He goes to get it eventually, but it is brought in sort of begrudgingly. Many times coffee is served in another room, particularly the bar or the lobby sitting room.

Wine always is available for every meal and generally is French or local wine. Beer comes in a home-made brand every time.

You can get imports also but there is hardly a country that doesn't have its own brewery. In fact, in Angola the last time we were quite startled to see a barrel full of bottles marked "No-Cal Beer," "Well!" we thought, "it sure was about time someone thought of that one and how brilliant the Portuguese were to achieve it!" But then we found out it was a trade name and the no-cal letters were initials of a beer company in Portuguese, NOTING for "no calories."

Water in Africa is surprisingly drinkable and safe more times than not, but bottled water for the delicate tourists, martinis for the brave ones, whiskies for the strong ones, and Cokes for the strongest, are also available. The waiter who serves all this may arrive in a dingy jacket, and be slower than you are used to in the states, and you may have to give him ONE order at a time or he won't bring anything at all and you may have to repeat it twice - but he will be considerably more congenial than the ones you are used to in the states, and that is kind of wonderful at that.

Merrick appointed head of Five Points Y Branch

HOWARD MERRICK

Howard Merrick, youth director of the Summit YMCA for the past six years, has been appointed executive director of the Five Points Y Branch of Eastern Union County to succeed George W. Hoffman, who has been named general secretary of the Hunterdon County Y.

Marco DiGiovanni, chairman of the Board of Managers of the Five Points Y in Union, which serves Union, Kentworth and Roselle Park, said Merrick will begin his new duties Monday.

While Merrick was youth director in Summit, the Indian Guide Club program for fathers and sons grew from 12 to 25 tribes. He was responsible for a volunteer staff of 90 men working in youth activities in Summit and directed the Summit Day Camp.

Among the programs he introduced in Summit were family tent and trailer camping, four-day camping trips for junior high age boys called "Tent Trampers" and Triangle Club for girls in grade school. He also promoted registration for Camp Wawayanda.

Merrick has served on the Central Atlantic Area of YMCA's layman training and day camp workshop committees and the Camp Wawayanda Committee and is a member of the YMCA Youth Work Secretaries Association. He is co-author with Clarence Moser of a series of programs for elementary boys club groups published in 1963.

A graduate of the University of Vermont, he served in the Army for two years. He was associated with the Ridgewood YMCA before going to Summit. Married and the father of two sons, he has purchased a home in Union.

Poll shows MDs smoke less Take cigarette hazard to heart

To paraphrase an old slogan: among those who "know" diseases best, only 22.5 percent smoke cigarettes.

This is the key figure in a recent poll taken by "Modern Medicine," a professional medical journal. More than 60,000 physicians, nearly a third of those actively practicing in the United States, responded to the questionnaire.

Equally significant, the Union County Heart Association notes, is the fact that 95 percent said they were certain that cigarette smoking constitutes a major health hazard. Even among that 22.5 percent who said they were still smoking cigarettes, 89 percent admitted it was against their better judgment.

More than half (52 percent) do not smoke at all; the remainder have switched to pipes or cigars.

Growing evidence that cigarettes are strongly implicated in heart disease, lung cancer and other causes of illness and death is reflected in the fact that more and more doctors are changing their smoking habits every day.

For instance, a poll taken among physicians in 1954 showed that 51 percent of those questioned smoked cigarettes. By 1959 the figure had dropped to 38.5 percent. Now, less than one in four doctors smokes cigarettes.

Obviously, the Union County Heart Association notes, there is a lesson here for the layman. Just as one would hesitate to buy a brand of automobile shunned by expert mechanics, one should give at least equal weight to the consensus of the medical profession on a practice affecting health.

Largely on the basis of medical advice, organizations like the Union County Heart Association have joined actively in the campaign against cigarettes. In many areas they are members of Interagency Councils on Smoking and Health. Other members include the American Cancer Society, Medical Associations, State Departments of Education, State Departments of Public Health, and Tuberculosis and Health Associations.

Two summonses issued to motorist

A Springfield man was given two summonses on May 3 following an accident that occurred in front of Connecticut Farms Rectory at 892 Stuyvesant ave., Union police said.

Robert W. White received a summons for careless driving and another for driving an unsafe vehicle.

The accident was reported to Union police by a resident who called at approximately 11 p.m. Wednesday night stating that a car had damaged property at Connecticut Farms, police reported.

When police arrived they found that a car apparently had failed to negotiate the turn on Stuyvesant ave., mounted the curb, hit a heavy rock on the property of Connecticut Farms and pushed it about 30 feet, they said. About 30 feet of turf had been turned up on the land, they reported.

According to Ptl. M.F. McMahon, the car continued along Stuyvesant ave, after it ran up the property and then returned about 10 minutes later to the gasoline station across the street.

Clergy asked to assist benefit for Viet children

Union County clergymen have been asked to inform their congregations of a benefit to be held by the Friends of the Committee of Responsibility to Save War-Burned and War-Injured Vietnamese Children at Summit Senior High School May 13.

Mrs. Robert De Vido, chairman of the Friends of COR, announced that Community Presbyterian Church of Mountaintop is among the "many churches and synagogues" which have offered to cooperate.

Announce deadline for UJC program

Prof. Gunars Salins, director, announced this week that June 15 will be the deadline to file applications for Union Junior College's four-week College Readiness Program designed to help prospective college freshmen adjust to college.

The program will open on June 29 and will continue through July 26. Classes will meet daily, Monday through Friday, from 8:30 to 11:40 a.m. Prof. Salins said the College Readiness Program carries no college credit, and enrollment is limited to high school graduates who are college bound.

Prof. Salins said the program features an orientation to college life, including tips on how to study, how to take examinations, how to use the college library, how to take notes, and how to budget time. He added that the program also provides a quick review of the basic skills

Berry reminds WW II vets

Charles V. Berry, president of the Eastern Union County Board of Realtors, this week reminded World War II veterans that July 25 is the deadline for using their eligibility to buy a home under the Veterans Administration program.

After that date, they will not be able to take advantage of the no-down payment, VA-guaranteed financing, he said.

"Now is a good time for veterans and non-veterans alike to buy a home," Berry said. He said the National Association of Real Estate Boards, with which the Eastern Union County Board is affiliated, has received reports from all parts of the country indicating an easing of the mortgage money situation which existed last year.

"While interest rates are declining a bit from their record highs of last year," Berry stated, "it would probably be unwise for most potential home buyers to wait for them to come down further. They simply are not dropping fast enough to compensate for the steady increasing costs of building new dwellings. And as new house costs go up, so do existing home prices."

Berry said that in order to use the GI bill provisions for home loan guarantees, veterans must have a certificate of eligibility "which requires some time to obtain." Since the deadline for World War II veterans is drawing near, he urged those contemplating using the GI bill to "get their certificates and make a decision on a home as soon as possible."

Berry added that the expiration date for Korean War veterans is 1975 and the deadline for veterans who served after 1954 is 10 years after discharge plus one year for each three months of active duty, but not in excess of 20 years from date of discharge.

Burnet honor unit holds 2nd meeting

Burnet Junior High School's National Junior Honor Society held its second meeting of the year last week. Robert Ellanport, president of the Senior Honor Society and graduating class from Union High School, was the guest speaker. He discussed the requirements that a person must meet to be eligible for the society at the high school.

Mrs. Norma Sherman administered the pledge to the new members. They are: Joel Fivis, president of Burnet's student council, Deborah Joya, Richard Shear, and Loreita Wycliff. These four members closed the membership for this year.

Two committees were formed, the first regarding a possible field trip for the society with Vice-President Cindy Wainstein as chairman, and another to investigate how the society could help Burnet.

TELEPHONE CALLS

What to do about obscene or harassing phone calls

1. Hang up

2. Don't keep talking to the caller—what he really wants is an audience. Don't be that audience.

3. Call us at your Telephone Business Office if the calls persist. We have representatives who are trained to investigate, identify, and help the police in the apprehension of these callers. By keeping these hints in mind, you can usually discourage someone from continuing to call you.

This ad first ran 19 months ago. Since then, police have made 199 arrests. There have been 152 convictions. Fines have run as high as $550.

We are very concerned about these calls. And we are glad that progress is being made.

But should you receive any such calls, the following guidelines provide a very effective way for you to stop them:

New Jersey Bell

NOTE: New Jersey laws provide up to ONE YEAR in PRISON AND/OR a $1000 FINE to anyone making obscene, lewd, lascivious, indecent, or disgusting remarks on the telephone, or who repeatedly telephoned a person for the purpose of molesting or annoying the person.

Slightly convertible.

Some people can't ride in a regular convertible without trying to convert it: "Put the top down, Daddy." "Leave it up, Harry." You can't make a compromise. (Try driving a regular convertible with the top half way up.) But you can buy one.

The Volkswagen Sunroof Sedan.

The Sunroof is a cross between a VW Sedan and a VW Convertible. It has a hcle in the roof, with a steel cover that cranks open to give you 360 square inches of sky. Or 359 1/2 square inches of sky. Or 1/4 square inch. Or whatever's comfortable.

And if no opening's comfortable, you can have that, too. Just crank the cover closed until it pops against its sealing gasket. This makes our Sunroof as airtight and watertight as our Sedan.

The cover is padded and lined like the rest of the roof, so you can hardly see it. Some people can hardly see paying an extra $90* for it, either. (Until they take our Sunroof out on the road. And open her up.)

Ask Amy

By AMY ADAMS

Dear Amy:
I am happily married to a splendid man, or I would be happily married if it were not for my jealousy of his first wife. I'm obsessed by the feeling that perhaps he does not love me as much as he loved her. He talks about her seldom, but when he does, I get so green-eyed that I am fairly crazy and sometimes refused to talk to him for days.

Do you think I'm foolish in being jealous over her? She's deceased.

Just Plain Jealous

Dear Jealous:
Very foolish! It's the LIVE ones you have to worry about!

Dear Amy:
Recently while dining in a restaurant, my husband and I couldn't help overhearing a man berate his wife. My husband said some men feel big when they "mouth off" to their wives, but in the eyes of most, they are really very ignorant. His philosophy gave me an idea. One always reads articles on "How to keep your husband happy," but how about "How to keep your wife happy." After all, where can a man find a baby sitter, a maid, a cook, a seamstress, a nurse, a companion, and further, someone to make excuses for them when they want "out." All this adds up to a WIFE... and she should be kept happy.

Here are my rules, and surprisingly, my husband agrees:

1. Talk to your wife. You'd be surprised that she CAN hold a conversation.
2. Act like a man, not a braggart.
3. Don't act like you are doing her a favor when you take her out. Probably some of the chicks you've been seen with couldn't hold a candle to your wife.
4. When you see someone you know, you don't have to table-hop and leave your wife. It's poor manners. Besides, you're not so popular or they would be over at your table... including your wife in their conversation.
5. Last of all, the "Booby Prize" goes to the Don Juan who hops around to see if he can pick anything up at a later date... and makes it so obvious.

Gallery of Homes planned by realtors

William A. Boyle, Jr., president of The Boyle Company, Elizabeth and Union realtors, has announced his firm's appointment as the exclusive franchised agent for "The Gallery of Homes" for Eastern Union County and Eastern Morris County territories.

The Gallery of Homes, a picture gallery of illuminated three-dimensional photographs, is being shown by leading realtors in major cities and towns throughout the country and in Canada. Each office contains a gallery of homes with a living room atmosphere which affords the homebuyer the opportunity of selecting suitable homes before inspection, therefore saving valuable time. The galleries also permit personalized referral of transfers to other galleries where the brokers are personally known to each other. In addition, they will be of service to builders because of the additional display of their homes.

Boyle is presently having alterations made in his Chatham and Elizabeth offices and he expects to start a sales seminar at the In-Town Motor Lodge, in Elizabeth, for the purpose of hiring additional personnel for his expanded sales staff.

The two galleries, one in Elizabeth and the other in Chatham, are expected to be formally opened in late spring or early summer.

Motorcycle show to open Saturday

A booth will be set up at the show by the International Services Plan, a motorcycle insurance company. The American Motorcycling Association will be represented and a booth will be set up for information on forming or joining Honda Motorcycle Clubs.

This boy has just graduated from high school... and he's looking for a job to "help out" the family. He'll never make college... even though his father and mother had saved for it. Why? Because his kid sister needed a costly operation a couple of years ago... and it wiped out the college money. His parents had figured this could never happen to them (although 1 out of 3 families face a doctor/hospital bill every year)... and so they didn't have protection like New Jersey Blue Cross and Blue Shield. They "saved" annual premiums every year... until all at once the kid sister needed the operation. That's how they gambled away their son's education. When he raises a family, chances are high he'll invest in Blue Cross and Blue Shield. His boy will go to college... Will yours?

High school varsity baseball squad to visit Westfield Saturday afternoon

GARY KURTZ

By MYRON MEISEL

The Jonathan Dayton Regional High School baseball team will meet Westfield High School this Saturday afternoon at 2 on the Blue Devils' field. The Bulldogs are now 1-6, following a 6-1 loss to Arthur L. Johnson Regional High School of Clark.

Dayton managed to hold down the number of errors in the Clark contest to three, although they all occurred in the first inning. The fatal weakness of the Bulldogs in this game was a complete absence of power at the plate. Only third baseman Gary Kurtz connected, for a key double.

Kurtz' hit came in the fourth inning, and he advanced to second base on Ron Azarewicz's walk. Both men stole the next base, and with Kurtz in scoring position, catcher Bob Carlson's sacrifice fly sent him in to score. Dayton then led, 1-0.

The three Bulldog errors in the first brought one Crusader runner in towards home, but quick fielding caught the runner out at the plate. Clark put runners on in every inning only to have Dayton check their advance. In the fourth, pitcher Steve Jupa, in his first start since opening game, picked one Crusader off first.

But in the fifth the Crusaders smashed four hits for four runs, and in the sixth collected two more on two walks, a single and a sacrifice. Dayton, meanwhile, could not gather enough offensive steam to come back.

STARTING FOR DAYTON were: Gary Kurtz, shortstop, Richie Campbell, second; Ron Azarewicz, left field; Bob Garland, catcher; Steve Jupa, pitcher (4-2/3 innings); and right field; Ralph Cosano, first; Tom Brownlie, center field; Fred Volherst, right field; and Jon Schoch, third. Dave Hollander came on in relief in the fifth inning.

Saturday's game will be the second encounter of the Bulldogs and the Blue Devils. Dayton came very close to victory the last time around, but lost the contest, 3-2. Gary Kurtz led the hitting, going two-for-four, and he was joined by Azarewicz, playing right; Don Buehrer, the left fielder, and catcher Volherst.

Dayton jumped quickly to a 2-0 lead in the first inning, as Kurtz and Azarewicz scored, aided by Campbell's sacrifice bunt. Westfield collected only three hits to the Bulldog's six, but the errors that plagued the Dayton defense that early in the season gave up the winning runs one at a time. The Bulldogs did not score again, although the team came close in the fourth when both Kurtz and Volherst singled.

Westfield and Springfield finished first and second, respectively, last season in the Watchung Conference.

Track team will oppose Brearley High, Pingry

The Jonathan Dayton Regional High School track team will entertain David Brearley Regional High School of Kentworth in the last home meet of the season this afternoon and will also travel to the Pingry School in Elizabeth on Tuesday. The Bulldog cindermen now have a record of 1-5-1, following a stalemate with Arthur L. Johnson Regional High School of Clark, 6-5-3, and a loss to top-rated Westfield High School, 94-32.

Although Dayton edged Clark out in the running events, the Crusaders led the Bulldogs in the field by the same margin. Dayton had two strong points: the distance races and the weight events. Gary Vosburgh took first place in the 440, and Dayton swept both first and second in the 880, mile and two-mile. Junior Greg Jones and freshman Marty Josephs far outdistanced Clark competition in the 880, and Dale Yadosky beat Ken Shatten to the wire by one second in the mile. Billy Aggar and freshman Mark George completed the Dayton sweep in the two-mile.

The powerful trio of Greg Baskin, Bill Chisholm, and Gary Haydu accounted for 22 Bulldog points. Baskin scored first in both the 800 and the mile, Chisholm won the javelin and placed second behind Baskin in the shot, while Haydu took second in the discus and third in the javelin.

Westfield proved too great a challenge for Dayton, and the potential state champion Blue Devils beat the Bulldogs handily. Baskin, however, still provided a bright spot, taking two firsts, and Chisholm also won his event, in addition to placing second in the shotput.

D'Andrea fires no-hit game for freshman team

Danny D'Andrea, a six-foot, 165-pound freshman at Jonathan Dayton Regional High School, pitched and batted his way to a no-hit, 1-0 victory over a tough Roselle Park freshman team at Ruby Field last Friday. The game was well played with Roselle Park pitcher Pete Agolla allowing only three hits.

Two of these hits came in the fourth inning as shortstop Fred Gold opened with a long double to center field. Willie Benkus moved him to third with a fly ball caught deep in right center. D'Andrea then connected with a line single to score Gold from third with the only run of the game. Benkus got the third hit in the last inning when he lined a single to center.

The game was highlighted by an over-the-shoulder catch by second baseman Eric Wasserman of a Texas League drive off the bat of cleanup batter Joe Palmeski in the fourth inning. The fielding of Joel Millman, Fred Gold, Eric Wasserman, Robert Strohmeier, Bill Stokes, Evan Wasserman and catcher Willie Benkus was superb according to coach John Swedfish.

D'Andrea struck out eight men in the seven-inning game but also issued seven walks, which caused some concern. Benkus threw out two of those walkers, who attempted to steal second, to ease the situation.

The freshman team also upset Gov. Livingston's team last week with a come-from-behind 5-3 victory at Berkeley Heights which was highlighted by the fine pitching of Glenn Wilson, who allowed three runs on four hits and the no-hit pitching of Evan Wasserman in four innings of relief for Wilson. The three-run uprising in the last inning of this game featured a walk by Fred Gold, a single by Dan D'Andrea, who plays left field when not pitching, and base hits by Willie Benkus and Eric Wasserman.

Coach Swedfish's club, which now sports a 3-2 record, also posted a 6-6 tie with rival Rahway, scoring three runs in the final inning to tie, Orange Junior High of Cranford earlier in the month shut out the Dayton club on a 1-0 no-hitter by Cranford pitcher Tom Cuck. Glenn Wilson allowed only two hits for the Dayton side. The freshman play Burner Junior High at Ruby Field tomorrow.

Tennis team faces Johnson Regional in match at home

The Jonathan Dayton Regional High School tennis team will entertain Arthur L. Johnson Regional High School of Clark tomorrow afternoon at Irwin and Sandmeier courts. The Bulldogs' netters are now 2-4—following two defeats by Hillsdale and Scotch Plains-Fairwood High Schools, 5-0—and excluding the match with Gov. Livingston Regional High School of Berkeley Heights on Tuesday.

At Hillsdale the Bulldog squad consisted of Lenny Burstein, Steve Piller and David Bass in the singles and the doubles pairs of Dennis Insley-Hank Dobin and Barry Fishman-Warren Danziger. Dobin, Burstein, and Piller competed in the singles against Scotch Plains, while the doubles' squads were Fishman-Insley and Bass-Mike Chotiner.

The Clark match will mark the second time the Crusaders and Bulldogs have met on the court. The first time the Dayton netters swept, 5-0. Both teams are in their first season of play. Dayton squad is under the direction of Norman Pollack.

Town boys begin competition in 'World Series of Bowling'

The first round of the Recreation Department's first annual "World Series of Bowling" was rolled last Friday at the Springfield Bowl on Center street. These bowling play-offs feature the top-four teams from each of the Recreation Department's two grammar-school leagues. The Hurricanes, Rockets, Rangers and Tigers advanced into the semi-final round with victories in their matches last week.

The match between the Hurricanes and the Jets proved to be the most exciting of the day. The hurricanes took the first game, only to see the Jets rally to score a victory in the second encounter. The Hurricanes, however, held on to win the match by virtue of a higher pin count. The Hurricanes topped 1,145 pins in the two games, while the Jets had 1,133 pins in their credit. The Hurricanes had finished first in the Thursday League during regular season play, while the Jets were fourth-place finishers in the same league.

The Rockets tallied a grand total of 1,373 pins in the match to 1,185 for the Atoms.

THE RANGERS, who captured the crown in the Friday League, had to put on a late rally to move past the Warriors in another opening-round game. The Warriors took the opening game behind the bowling of Perry Koplik. The Rangers, however, rallied their forces and took the second contest going away. The Rangers won the match on superior pin fall by a score of 1,746 to 1,189. Scott Prussing with games of 152 and 159 for a two-game total of 311, paced the Rangers and led all bowlers in the match. Perry Koplik was high for the Warriors with a 263 series. Other Ranger bowlers, who helped pace the second-game rally, were Mike Denner, Dave Dubin and Brian Ogonyowski.

THE FINAL two-game match of the day saw the Tigers move into the semi-final by virtue of a triumph over the Falcons. The Tigers had placed third in the Friday League, while the Falcons were third place finishers in the same league. The final pin fall count for the two games was Tigers, 1,249 - Falcons, 1,161. Steve Harris of the Tigers was on top of his game in this match, as he paced all bowlers with a 321 series total. Steve rolled games of 154 and 167, in hitting his impressive total. Howie and Mike Levine also rolled well for the Tigers. Howie scored a 242 series, while his younger brother tallied 241 pins for the match. Stuart Liebeskind was the top scorer for the Falcons. Sam rolled identical games of 137 for a 274 two-game total.

The Hurricanes and the Rockets finished one and two, respectively, in the Thursday League, while the Rangers and the Tigers finished in the same order on Friday. The games get underway at 3:30 p.m. at the Springfield Bowl on Center street.

A pair of clutch victories on the final day of the season vaulted the Charms into the 1967 championship of the girls' Tuesday Afternoon Bowling League. The other two members of the 1967 championship team are Barbara Owens and Mary Jane Littlefair.

This bowling league for grammar school girls is sponsored by the Springfield Recreation Department. All games throughout the 24-week, 48-game season were rolled at the Springfield Bowl on Center st.

Y still taking reservations for two-day camp sessions

Reservations are still being accepted for the Summit YWCA's day camp for young children for two-week sessions running from July 10 to July 21 and from July 24 to Aug. 4. One session for girls and boys through first grade, running from July 10 to July 21, has already been filled.

Slots open for children at day camp

Boys and girls interested in the Summer Area YWCA's summer day camps were urged this week to register while there are still openings. There are also a few counselor positions open for Camp Canamundus boys' camp and junior counselor positions for the Triangle-Club girls' day camp, a spokesman said.

The camps accommodate 80 boys, grades 1-7, and 40 girls, grades 2-6, per two-week period. Camp Canamundus operates from June 26 through Aug. 18. Triangle Club operates from July 10 through Aug. 18. Sessions are conducted Monday through Friday from 9 a.m. to 3:30 p.m. Boys who have completed first grade may enroll in the Adventurers section of Camp Canamundus, which meets from 9 a.m. to noon daily, for one-week periods.

Groups are organized by grade level and school area with a qualified college student or high-school-graduate acting as counselor for each group, assisted by junior counselors. Activities include instructional and recreational swimming, hiking, nature study, canoe trips, sports, skills training, crafts, cookouts, campouts and field trips. Thomas J. Newell of North Plainfield, a teacher at Roberts School in New Providence, and Marilyn Hasselbauer of Summit, a teacher at Lincoln School, are directors of the camps. Brochures and information are available at the YWCA, 273-3330.

Finishes course at Marine base

CAMP PENDELTON, CALIF. -- Marine Private First Class Benjamin L. Thomas, son of Mr. and Mrs. Benjamin Thomas of 68 Lyons pl., Springfield, N.J., has completed a 15-day refresher training and processing cycle with the Staffing Battalion at the Marine Corps Base, Camp Pendleton.

Swim clinic slated by Y

Registration for the Summit Area YWCA's summer competitive swimming clinic is now open to all boys and girls 16 years and under. of the Summit area with non-Y members welcome. The course, directed by Y Swim Coach Henry Bunting, is designed to teach the starts, turns and stroke techniques of the crawl, backstroke, breaststroke and butterfly. Boys and girls interested in competitive swimming for summer swim clubs and in the YWCA teams next fall will be able to get individual help since classes are limited to 20.

Sessions I and II, running daily for four consecutive weeks, will begin on Thursday, June 29 from 7-8 a.m., and from 8-9 a.m., through July 29. Sessions III and IV will run the same times from Monday, July 31 through Aug. 25. Early morning classes will accommodate those who are on summer swim teams. Further information may be obtained by calling the Y physical director, Louis J. Choquette, 273-3330. A fee will be charged for this program.
