Rules given as guideline for officials

Hearing date delayed to permit close study

By ABNER GOLD
Springfield's long-awaited code of ethics for municipal employees was introduced with a minimum of fanfare and a total absence of discussion at the Township Committee meeting Tuesday night at Town Hall. Final action on the measure is planned for Monday evening, Sept. 11, rather than at the next meeting on Aug. 22, to provide interested citizens with additional time to study and discuss its proposals in detail. The complete text of the code of ethics will appear in this newspaper as a public notice next week. It sets up a municipal Board of Ethics, to be composed of five citizens, including the mayor. The other four members would be named by the mayor, subject to approval by the Township Committee. The board would have two major functions, it would provide advisory opinions at the request of township officials or employees. Its other function is outlined by the code as follows: "Upon the sworn complaint of any person alleging facts which, if true, would constitute improper conduct under the provisions of this code, the board shall conduct an investigation and hold a public hearing in accordance with all of the requirements of the process of law, and in written findings of fact and conclusions based thereon, make a determination concerning the propriety of the conduct of the official, employee or appointee complained of. If a member of the Township Committee is the subject matter of a complaint, the mayor shall disqualify himself from participating in the deliberation and voting."

Democrats select slate, pick Bonadies, Leonard

ALVIN R. LEONARD

At a meeting last week of the Springfield Democratic Committee, former Mayor Vincent J. Bonadies and Alvin R. Leonard were selected as the Democratic candidates for Township Committee for the elections in November. They will oppose Mayor Arthur M. Falkin and Henry Bultman. Bonadies resides at 44 Tree Top dr. with his wife, Cozestance, and daughter, Celia, 15. He has been a resident of Springfield for over 20 years and has been active in all political levels. He was elected to the Springfield Township Committee in 1954, 1956 and 1958 and served as mayor of Springfield from 1958 through 1960. In 1962, Bonadies was a Democratic candidate for the New Jersey State Assembly. During his tenure as mayor, the plans for the present township municipal pool were instituted, and he was also responsible for initiating laws prohibiting possession of alcohol by minors on both local and state levels. Bonadies is president of Vincent J. Bonadies Construction Company and Cellar Raktity Associates. For the past 13 years he has also been the local agent for the N.J. State Division of Motor Vehicles, having been appointed by Gov. Robert Meyner.

He is a graduate of South Side High School in Newark and received a bachelor of science degree in electrical engineering from Newark College of Engineering. He is a founder of the local chapter of Unico and a former national officer. He is a member of St. James Parish, where he has been active for many years in all phases of church activity. He is a member of the Springfield Kiwanis Club. Bonadies has been involved in numerous local, state and national charitable and philanthropic organizations. He has been active in the program for retarded children, having been Union County chairman and a member of the national committee with respect to audio and visual treatment of retarded children. He is a member of the Union County Committee of the Boy Scouts of America and is a vice-president and director of the N. J. Travelers Aid Society.

Police remind public on rules on canvassers

Springfield Police Chief Wilbur C. Selander, this week reminded all residents of the local ordinance controlling activities of door-to-door salesmen, who must obtain permits to work in the township. "Many of the residents of Springfield are unaware that the township has a canvassing ordinance regulating the days and times that door-to-door salesmen may work within the township. Like a number of towns and cities in this area we were set upon by an ever-growing stream of door-to-door salesmen. These salesmen were in town for only a day or two and then would be gone again. When reaching the point of about a dozen complaints a month, we felt the time had come to begin some sort of control over the salesmen that were abusing the residents. A plan was worked out and presented to the Township Committee. In March of 1961, the ordinance was passed into law, requiring all salesmen to register with the Police Department. After a few days required to obtain clearance, the salesman is issued a card that he must show to the police officer on the permit card simply shows that the salesman is registered with the Police Department, and in no way is it a recommendation as to the honesty of the salesman. The acceptance by the public and the salesmen has been overwhelming. Since the start of the program, we have registered hundreds of salesmen. They cover many different types of businesses from many walks of life. The ordinance in no way is intended to discredit the salesman, but is to protect the salesman as well as our residents. It also gives the Police Department a starting point if something does happen. Since the start of the program in March of 1961, we have had a few complaints against

Appeal on ragweed

Noting that the hay fever season is now underway, Irv Rosen of 4 Mapes ave. on Tuesday appealed to the Township Committee for help in destroying all growths of ragweed and goldenrod in Springfield. He stressed that the summer rains had caused particularly heavy growth of the allergy-provoking weeds throughout the area. Rosen also called for the cooperation of all residents.

Lightning bolt hits town Fire House, burns control unit

Fire Chief Ormond W. Mesker reported that Springfield was comparatively lucky during the heavy electrical storm here Saturday night. There was only one bolt of lightning that did any damage—but that one hit the Fire House.

He said that the lightning first hit a nearby tree, then apparently jumped to the antenna on top of the Fire House and burned out the control panel for the fire horn. Chief Mesker said that damage to the control panel was extensive, and the small control room was filled with smoke. He noted that the Fire Department was without its horn to signal fires until repairs were completed Monday afternoon.

He added that lightning had struck the Fire House once before—some six or seven years ago. The chief said that a heavy lightning arresting wire will be installed and grounded in the immediate future.

Police nab nocturnal bathers in swim pool at Troy Village

Springfield police paid two unscheduled night visits to the Troy Village apartments this week, and both resulted in arrests of youthful law-breakers, according to police records. One trip, Tuesday at 3:34 a.m., netted four young men from Irvington who were charged by Patrolman Daniel Halsey with disturbing the peace. The four, accused of swimming in the apartment development's private pool without an invitation, were Michael Niedzwetz, 19; Michael O'Brien, 19; Bruce Lucchese, 19, and William Lockamy Jr., 18.

They face a hearing in Municipal Court on Aug. 21. The report did not specify the type of bathing attributed by the alleged nocturnal bathers.

Last Friday at 11:24 p.m., Patrolmen Robert Roescher and Dominic Olivio, later joined by Patrolman Harold Searles, responded to a call stating that two unidentified men had been seen in the parking lot at the rear of 70 Troy Ave. The officers apprehended two teenagers from Kenilworth. One was allegedly standing guard outside an open garage door. The other was said to be inside the garage, siphoning gasoline from an automobile through a rubber hose into a plastic pail. Both were held for a hearing by juvenile authorities.

Says new street ready next month

Construction of Mount View road, linking Baltusrol Top to Shunpike road, has been delayed by State Highway Department construction work along Shunpike road, Committeeman Philip Del Vecchio stated Tuesday following the Township Committee meeting. He noted that Shunpike road is being raised in this area, where it approaches the Rt. 78 overpass. Del Vecchio declared that Mount View road will be fully paved and in operation "by the middle of September."

He strongly denied any rumors that the delays in paving had any connection with the Planning Board's delay in rezoning the Houdaille Quarry property, adjoining Baltusrol Top, in its new zoning ordinance.

Headed by Del Vecchio, the Mount View road at its own expense, at no cost to the township. The new zoning code, which had proposed a new industrial and mining category for the quarry property, had been strongly challenged by many residents. The Planning Board is now studying legal precedents to determine if quarry operations can be forced to end or can be limited in any way.

"No official, employee or appointee shall engage in private employment with, or render services for, any private person who has business transactions with any public body of the municipality unless he shall first make full disclosure of the nature and extent of such employment or services."

"No official, employee or appointee shall appear on behalf of any private person, other than himself, before any public body in the municipality."

"No official, employee or appointee shall accept from any person any gift, favor or service having value which is offered to him with intent to influence him in the performance of his public duties and responsibilities."

"No official, employee or appointee shall, without prior formal authorization of the public body having jurisdiction, disclose any confidential information concerning any other official, employee or appointee, or any other person, or any property or governmental affairs of the municipality."

"Whether or not it shall involve disclosure, no official, employee or appointee shall use or permit the use of any such confidential information to advance the financial or personal interest of himself or any other person."

"No official, employee or appointee of the municipality shall have any direct or indirect interest in—furnishing any goods, materials, supplies or property of any kind whatsoever to or for the use of the municipality or at the municipality's expense."

"No official, employee or appointee shall be directly or indirectly concerned in any agreement or contract for the construction of any improvement to be constructed or made for the municipality or at the municipality's expense."

IN OTHER BUSINESS, the governing body introduced a $149,000 bond ordinance primarily for the purchase of additional land to expand Municipal Parking Lot No. 1 along Congress street and Morris avenue.

Some $41,000 of the total will go for the purchase of the gas station property at the corner of Morris avenue and Main street. In addition to use for cars, a portion of this property may be converted into a small park to beautify the business area, according to Committeeman Philip Del Vecchio, who is in charge of public works.

The introduction was approved by a vote of four to one, with Committeeman Jay B. Bloom opposed. Bloom had in the past objected to any plans for extending Parking Lot No. 1 without providing frontage on Morris avenue. The new measure does not provide for Morris avenue frontage.

The committee approved a resolution to extend the season of the municipal swimming pool for six additional weekends, Sept. 2 and 10 and Sept. 16 and 17, to compensate pool members in some degree for time lost in the bad weather this summer.

A contract for resurfacing Briar Hills circle was awarded to Della Pello Contracting Co. of Union, low bidder at $5,914. Other bids were submitted by Berman Contracting Co. of Briar Hills for $6,760, and D. & L. Contracting Co., Rahway, with an incomplete bid of $6,125.

Break-entry case: 2 young men held to face grand jury

Springfield Magistrate Max Sherman on Monday night ordered two young men held for action by the Union County Grand Jury on a charge of breaking and entering at the Gen Shoe Store on Rt. 22 on July 20.

Two youthful motorists paid fines for reckless driving. Both were charged with speeding well above 60 miles per hour on Morris avenue, with passengers on their cycles, and with weaving in and out of traffic. Henry W. Tobey of Newark paid $40 and has his driver's license revoked for 60 days.

Sound of music for '67 Blues in the night at Regional

Monday night, between 9 and 12 o'clock, something very wonderful and unusual happened in Springfield.

Sprawled on blankets, seated on chairs, just sitting down on the grass, 500 people, or more, were taken and shaken by the sound of the blues. Primitive, lustful, angry, ecstatic, despairing, soul-open, lyrical—and there was music. Sometimes simple and tender, or violent, or passionate, sometimes as complex in the interplay as a Bach fugue, but there, man, always there.

The Nullis Pretti Blues Band gave a concert. There was Tom Ellwanger, high on the drum stand, keeping that rhythm going, and down below, three living guitars: Bob Norman, lead (he must be heard, he must), David Garshen,

Selfo among students at orientation program

NORTHAMPTON, Mass. — Among the 70 incoming freshmen who attended an orientation session at Northampton Commercial College with family and friends recently was Leonard J. Selfo, who took part in activities with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Selfo of 18 Garden oval, Springfield, N.J.

rhythm (and singing and playing and with it all the way to Cleveland), Bruce Gerstein, bass (sound sound sound); All that beautiful sound from a study of under-reaction. And then, there was Doug Serot—mean, man—mean. Busy haired, tall and skinny, he sang and he moved and he played that harp till there was nothing before you or behind you or beside you but music and rhythm, pulsating, intoxicating, compelling, rhythm. If you missed it, we're sorry. This particular concert won't happen again. But there will be others. Most of the audience was teen-agers, 15 to 25, or so, some younger, some older. There could have been more. There should have been more. Adult Springfield, for the most part, missed an extraordinary evening. Don't let it happen to you again. Be there! By T.D.S.

Marsh appointed aide to secretary at Union company

JULIAN A. MARSH

Red Devil Inc., Union, manufacturer of painters' and glaziers' tools, announced this week the appointment of Julian A. Marsh of Springfield as assistant secretary of the company. Marsh has also been named to fill four additional posts with Red Devil subsidiary companies: director of Red Devil Realty; secretary of Glaziers' Tools, and secretary of Shell Chemicals, Inc.

Marsh joined Red Devil in 1950 as office manager and subsequently became controller, a position he continued to hold. Prior to his affiliation with Red Devil, Inc., Marsh was assistant treasurer with Arlita Industries, Inc., Newark.

He is enrolled to practice before the Internal Revenue Service, is assistant treasurer of the United Fund, Township of Union, and a member of the National Association of Accountants.

Initials aren't everything--UJC or UC

UJC is going the way of NRA, WEA, and OPA. UJC stands for Union Junior College and has been a favorite abbreviation of headline writers and students since 1936. UJC is disappearing because the "two-year college of the academic disciplines" is changing its name on Sept. 1 to Union College.

"We'll have to get used to the new abbreviation of UC, which is much less descriptive," Dr. Kenneth C. Mackay, UJC president said. "At least we're in good company with UC with institutions like the University of California, the University of Colorado and the University of Connecticut."

Union Junior College's original abbreviation was UJC, which stood for Union County Junior College. In 1935, federal funds were withdrawn, and the college became an independent institution, changing its name to Union Junior College.

Over the years the UJC abbreviation has often come out UJA for United Jewish Appeal and NJC, which stood for New Jersey College for Women, which is now Douglass College of Rutgers the State University, New Brunswick. Dr. Mackay said the name change has been approved by the State Education Department. A formal name-change notice will be filed in the near future with Secretary of State Robert Burchard in Trenton by George S. Sauer of Cranford, college attorney.

Elizabethtown Gas Co. awards agency account

Elizabethtown Gas Co., Elizabeth, has announced the appointment of Arsten, Dierman, Glaubinger, Inc., Newark, for advertising and sales promotion.

According to Stanley Korke, advertising manager, the ADG Agency will implement programs for all Elizabethtown divisions. Included are residential, commercial, industrial and architect-builder campaigns, as well as related marketing and promotional projects.

STILL WORKING
Just 65 and still working? You are still eligible to receive social security medicare insurance. Get in touch with your social security office if you haven't already signed up.

Union Junior College was founded in the depths of the depression to provide employment for out-of-work college professors, and to provide an education for recent high school graduates who could not afford to go away to college. Classes were held evenings in Abraham Clark High School, Roselle. This was the first of six such institutions established in New Jersey, and made UJC the first college in the nation to receive funds directly from the federal government. Other federal funds were distributed through the state governments.

In 1942, the college moved into an old elementary school building, Grant School, in Cranford and added a day session. Following difficult times during World War II and the Korean Conflict, the college in 1959 moved to its present 30-acre campus on the outskirts of suburban Cranford. It has since added a Campus Center, a Science Building, and the Speary Observatory to its facilities.

Union Junior College has 1,500 fulltime and parttime students about evenly divided between the Day and Evening Sessions. Majors are offered in liberal arts, engineering, science, and business administration. UJC is authorized to award the Associate in Arts degree, and transfers about 85 percent of its graduates to more than 300 four-year colleges and universities throughout the nation—one of the highest transfer records in the United States.

Playground handcraft work on exhibit

Handcraft articles, made by the children at various playgrounds throughout Union County, will be displayed at the Annual Arts and Crafts Exhibit to be held at the Union County Park Center, in the Watchung Reservation, on Sunday from 1 to 5 p.m.

Woodcraft, clay sculpture, metal work, cork projects, paper mache, painting, plastic mold painting, and newspaper costumes will be featured at the display.

The playgrounds to be represented at the exhibition are located in the Union County Parks: Cranford, Roselle Park, Kentwoods, and Hillside.

The public is invited to attend the exhibit and to encourage the children in their handcraft activities.

On Monday, Tuesday, Wednesday and Thursday, Aug. 17 at 4 p.m. each day, Donald W. Mayer, director of Trailside, and Miss Irma Heyer, educational assistant at Trailside, will present one-half hour nature talks for children. The topic to be discussed during the four days is "Local Reptiles and Amphibians." The talks will be illustrated with color slides and programs on Wednesday and Thursday will be followed by a one-half hour walk on the nature trails in the Watchung Reservation.

The Trailside Nature and Science Center is open to the public every day, except Friday, from 1 to 5 p.m. The public is invited to visit the Nature Center, tour the live-animal area, view thousands of indoor exhibits, and participate in the scheduled programs.

FAMILY LIFE TODAY

FAMILY ON THE MOVE

By: Mabel G. Stolte, County Home Economist

Moving from one city or state to another is a common yearly occurrence for many families in Union County. Your concern for your children's adjustment both to the neighborhood and school are important considerations.

Each child adjusts at his own speed and in his own way and every child has individual needs. However, two ground rules may help your child's adjustment to his new surroundings:

1. Treat each new experience as an adventure — from the planning to move through the time of getting settled in your new home. Make sure you don't act as if the move has been a tremendous hardship!

2. Compensate for the feelings of ruthlessness and insecurity your children are bound to experience. Attempt to maintain a family climate in which your children can be sure to find love and security within the home in spite of your daily problems.

When you pack for the move to another

Appoint Westfield man to direct observatory

The appointment of Anthony Paone of Westfield, as director of the William Miller Speary Observatory on the Union Junior College campus here was announced this week by Dr. Kenneth C. Mackay, UJC president. Paone, who retired recently as an engineer with American Telephone and Telegraph Company, New York City, is president of Amateur Astronomers, Inc.

home make up a basket or suitcase of odds and ends containing your children's favorite toys and reading books for those lonesome moments.

If you have been located in a neighborhood for several weeks and your children still seem unable to find playmates, here is one parent's suggestion: With your child or children in tow, go around the neighborhood and ring door-bells. Ask the person answering the bell if they have any children. If they do, invite them to an afternoon taffy-pull or some other activity. It may seem like a crazy idea until you try it. Experience has proven the latter suggestion to be an excellent way to get both parents and children acquainted. Chances are you will have more fun than you've experienced in ages.

THE ANIMALS HAVE FAVORITE dishes too. Here Charles Fourie, owner-manager of a game park near Johannesburg, feeds a favorite to a favorite? He is giving a goodie, consisting of molasses and a grain, to believe it or not, "Pretty Girl," his pet rhinoceros. And if SHE bites the hand that feeds her, Charles's going to be in trouble. Antelope are not usually behind wires or in cages in the game parks; but here Mr. Fourie has kept "Pretty Girl" and two others to train as pets.

A FEMININE LOOK

At Africa 1967

(Commentary on a National Newspaper Association Study Mission to eight African countries south of the Sahara.)

By TRUDINA HOWARD

An "Extra" in a Series FOOD-SPECIAL Meat is expensive in Africa and is not often eaten by the natives. In fact, a young African couple in Dakar, Senegal, told us that the price of meat was about twice as much as that at home. Everything was, they said, except bread. For ten cents they could buy a huge and delicious French bread, but not much else. For us as tourists we found the prices generally high in hotels throughout Africa and on a par with U.S. prices, but meat was always available at a price. I speak now of meats such as lamb, beef, veal, chicken, not hippopotamus which, reportedly, is a favorite with Africans in the interior. Someone said rhinoceros is also eaten, but I tend to doubt it. Nothing could get through that hide to get to meat. One thing I would have doubted if I could, but the evidence was right before me, and I have no choice but to believe it, is the thing about caterpillars. A choice delicacy, at least in Ivory Coast, where I saw them in the market at a market is -- roasted caterpillars. No, roasted peanuts for the Ivorians! Only roasted caterpillars. Ugh. They look no better than they sound.

One half cup palm oil (or peanut oil, or corn oil.) Half cup crushed groundnuts (peanuts). (Peanut butter can be substituted.) One and one-half cup coconut milk. (One cup boiling water poured over four tablespoons of canned shredded coconut, and then half cup milk added, can be substituted here.) Salt to season. Two teaspoons sugar. Pepper, both black and red; at least half a teaspoon each, and more, if a hotter dish is desired. One chicken cut into parts. Sauté the onions and tomatoes in the oil. When the mixture is golden, add the groundnuts and then the coconut milk. Season the sauce with salt, sugar and pepper, and then add the chicken. Partially cover and stew slowly for at least three hours. If the sauce gets too thin, cook without the cover. If more liquid is needed, add minute quantities of water. When ready to serve, the sauce should be almost absorbed in the chicken. Serve it with just about anything. Green-peppers or shredded coconut make excellent garnishes. Rice is more frequently served with it, and pineapples, bananas, onions or tomatoes either fresh, fried or broiled, make wonderful additions to it.

ON THE MENU AT THE WONDERFUL new Casino Hotel at Victoria Falls in Rhodesia, this item caught everyone's eye: "monkey gland steak." We were all agog, and that was just what the mischievous young hotel manager wanted. None of us doubted that it could be so for we had just come from an island in the Zambezi River swarming with monkeys, but we didn't necessarily cherish the thought of eating one of them. Then the manager confessed with a twinkle that it was really regular beef steak cut in long strips. We tried it then. It tasted like very good regular beef steak. But on second thought, who knew what monkey gland steak was like? That picnic hotel manager did laugh with extra relish, and we had no recipe for that one, to prove things one way or the other.

ON THE MENU FOR SOME AFRICANS on the western side of the continent is a special occasion chicken dish called "Ground Nut Stew," and in South Africa a favorite is "Bobotie." Because of the interest following the article on food in Africa (May 11 Feminine Look) a recipe for the two follows: GROUND NUT STEW Four or five tomatoes quartered and preferably skinned. Three large onions finely chopped.

S. AFRICAN BOBOTIE 1 medium onion, chopped 2 tablespoons butter 1 slice white bread 1 cup milk 2 eggs, well-beaten 1 pound ground meat 1 tablespoon curry powder 1/2 cup raisins 1/4 cup chopped almonds 1/4 cup chutney 3 dried apricots, soaked and chopped salt and pepper to taste 2 bay leaves, broken in pieces Sauté onions in butter or margarine until golden brown. Soak bread in milk, remove, squeeze dry. Add beaten eggs to milk. Mix the meat with the bread, onions, curry, lemon juice, almonds, apricots, chutney, salt and pepper. Add half of egg mixture and blend well. Place in a greased, shallow baking dish, and hollow center slightly to allow for rising. Stick pieces of bay leaves on top. Bake in moderate oven (350) for 20 minutes. Remove leaves and pour rest of egg mixture on top. Return to oven and continue baking until custard sets, about 25 minutes. Serve with yellow rice. Serves approximately six.

Ask Amy
By AMY ADAMS
Dear Amy:
I've got a problem concerning a girl I'm going with. She is 17 and a Junior in a different school. I love this girl and I've found out that there have been some people telling her parents that she and I have been getting into trouble (if you know what I mean) which we haven't. But her parents don't believe her. I would like to know what I could do to give them confidence in me and permit their daughter to go out with me. I just don't know what to do. 'Get in good' with her parents and I don't want to break up with her.
You obviously have "rubbed" her parents the wrong way. Explain your position in your own words to them. Pay them a visit. Be truthful, put your cards on the table and hope for the best. Ultimately, it is their decision, and you must abide by it, whether you like it or not.
Dear Amy:
Recently while dining in a restaurant, my husband and I couldn't help over hearing a man berate his wife. My husband said "some men feel big when they "mouth off" to their wives but in the eyes of most, they are really very ignorant. His philosophy gave me an idea. One ALWAYS treats a ladies as "How to keep your husband happy." But how about "How to keep your wife happy." After all, where can a man find a baby-sitter, a maid, a cook, a seamstress, a nurse, a companion, and further, someone to make excuses for them when they want out." All this adds up to a WIFE and she should be kept happy. Here are my rules, and you should try my husband agrees:
1. Talk to your wife. You'd be surprised that she CAN hold a conversation.
2. Act like a man, not a braggart.
3. Don't act like you are doing her a favor when

Why more and more new phone lines are going underground
There are several reasons. For one thing, buried cable doesn't clutter up the landscape, neighborhoods will look neater. Also, of course, buried cable isn't affected by storms, falling limbs, or roadway autos. And finally, the development of new materials and cable-laying techniques has made buried cable easier to install, and more economical than in the past. As telephone service expands, more and more lines will go underground. But it still costs money. So we're making haste slowly on this project, to keep the cost of your telephone service as low as possible.

Arts, crafts featured as playground season nears finale

Activities at the Township's 10 summer playgrounds continue in high gear even though the playground season is drawing to a close. Playground leaders will be on hand to guide and supervise the recreation program at the neighborhood playgrounds through next Friday, Aug. 18.

Arts and crafts projects proved to be of special interest this past week as the children made coasters and wove baskets and bird cages. Among the contests held at the various playgrounds were balloon blowing, bubble blowing and a talent show. Three Al Jolson brought down the house in this contest.

The Sandmeter "Unbeatable" have expanded their softball challenge to include any all-star combination of boys from any of the Springfield playgrounds. How about it? Are they really "unbeatable"?

HENSHAW PLAYGROUND: Toby Kaplan, Connie Solaz.

The week at Henshaw began with one of the favorite pastimes, a kickball game. Barry Gerst was captain of the winning team, which consisted of: Michael Whitmore, Beth Krumboltz, Mary Ann Solaz, Steven Zdzieniewicz and Greg Pruvance. Another winning team was made up of Barry Gerst, Linda Kozub, Diane Wendlandt, Ellen Treason, Frank Zahn and Steven Zdzieniewicz, captained by Dino DeCoco.

The highlight of the week was a "Decorate Your Thumb" contest. The winners were: Susan Krumholz, "The Most Creative," Mary Ann Solaz, "The Prettiest," Ed Drummond, "The Cutest," Sally Standler, "The Mouse."

Games of "Trouble" and "Nok-Hockey" were once again popular.

ALVIN PARK: Barbara Cannon, Letta Moore.

A week of exciting activities at Alvin Park resulted in high attendance and enthusiastic participation in the playground activities. The Alvin T-shirts arrived on Monday and the children have proudly sported them all week. Everyone was on hand to cheer on the team in a softball game against Regional Playground. The players were Tom and Frank Russo, Paul and Phil Puleo, Barb Brown, Stef Laird, Anthony Piccuto, John Garding, Nancy Kaplan and Andy Herkalo. Helpers were Louie Herkalo, Steven Cassese, Kathy and Joe DePino, Pat Piccuto and Richard Laird.

A hobby show brought many entries representing a wide variety of interests. The winners were Carol Roesser for the most memorable collection (a World-Fair scrap book), John Garding and Joey DePino for the largest collection (baseball cards and bottle caps), Kathy DePino for the prettiest collection of shells and Paul and Phil Puleo for the

REGIONAL PLAYGROUND: playground leader: Margot Penard.

One of the highlights of last week's activities was a softball game with Alvin Playground. The first game brought a victory to the Regional boys, winning 15-3. Those playing for Regional's team were Gary Burt, Jerry Spiesbach, Eddie Shalkowski, Bob Malczak, Eddie Federovitch, Jeff Wensich, Tony Apicella, Mike Palmer, Don Babo and Rich Storchlo.

In a paper airplane contest, Jeff Wensich was the most creative and also flew the farthest. Arthur Strauss was sent on the craziest flight.

Also last week, a balloon blowing contest was held. The object was to blow up the balloon until it broke. Winners were Gary Burt, first; Patti Lalak, second; and Jeff Wensich, third.

Jerry Spiesbach managed to remain undefeated and retain his championship in chess. Jerry also holds first place in tetherball among the older boys. Edward Federovitch has been champ in tetherball for the younger age group and Barbara Roof holds the title among the girls.

An Op Art contest was won by Bob Maleczer, with Jerry Spiesbach and Arthur Strauss taking a close second and third.

In arts and crafts last week, Randy Diefert, Arthur Strauss and Edward Federovitch produced some fine "God's Eyes" made from sticks and wool. They really deserve credit for their fine works of art.

RIVERSIDE PLAYGROUND: Barbara Damiano, Glenn Friedman.

Although the playgrounds will close soon, activities still continue at Riverside Playground.

Last week in arts and crafts, the children tried their hand at basket weaving. They used their imagination in making baskets of different shapes. Joe Ragucci and Tommy Merkloch decided to make bird cages, while George Ganska, Carl Melroy, David Melroy, Kirk Libby and Craig Brezning made baskets.

For a change of pace, a balloon blowing contest was held. Prizes were awarded to the persons who could blow up the biggest balloon without having them burst. Winners included Jimmy Ragucci, Teddy Johnson and Joe Ragucci for the boys and Joanne and Marilyn Misuk for the girls.

The main activity for the week was a hat decorating contest. A variety of colorful and ### unusual hats were entered.

Marilyn Misuk well deserved first place for the prettiest and most colorful hat. Susan Aquilino's hat, which was decorated with real flowers, came in second.

Joanne Misuk's hat, which took much time and imagination to create, appropriately won first place for the most creative. David Melroy's hat, which was decorated with butterflies and light bulbs, won second place for the most creative. Craig Brezning, who looked like an Arab when he put on his hat, won for the funniest. Joe Ragucci's hat won for the smallest and Steve Merkloch's army hat won for the most rugged. Francis Aquilino's hat, which was decorated with artificial fruit, received first place for the cutest. Carl Melroy and George Ganska tied for second place in the cutest hat category.

IRWIN PLAYGROUND: Lucy Lamoreaux, Martha Worswick, Nancy Young, Joyce Parrillo, George Franklin, Mike Lester.

Last Friday, Irwin Playground was the site of a hat decorating contest. Two unbiased judges were chosen to judge the many wondrous hats and chose winners in three categories. The prize for the most original hat was won by Johnny Lambert with a hat that had a pretzel cut-out with a hot hat. The prettiest was a flower hat by Mary Ellen LoFredo. The funniest hat in the contest was a Noah's Ark cut-out hat created by Nancy LaMotte.

Monday morning the children had arts and crafts and everyone struggled through at least two pot-holders. Cries of "Are there any more greens?" "The pink ones are too tight." "Hey, who took all the yellow ones?" "These are too loose!" were not uncommon. Pat Sheehan, Patty and Kathy Brennan, David Casillas and Ron Tull were among the many successful pot holder makers.

Wednesday morning a spelling bee was held after a long round of eliminations. Frank LaMotte, Ron Tull and Patty Sheehan were the first, second and third place winners.

Last week the boys and girls at the Irwin Playground were also on a puzzle-making kick. Now everyone is quite adept at putting together even the most difficult puzzle. Among the puzzle makers were Valerie and Jayne Gurrera, Don Casillas, Pat Sheehan, Kathy Worswick and Patrick Quinn.

A baseball game between the leaders and children was played and, of course, the prowess of the leaders enabled them to win with the help of a double by George Franklin and switch hitting by Mike Lester.

EDWARD J. RUBY-PARK: Jane Adams, Judith Anderson.

A tropical atmosphere prevailed one day last week at the Ruby Playground, with a picnic being the big event. Hawaiian leis were made by Patty and Carol Murphy, Robin Slovek, Carol Barberio, Karen Rieger and Paula Ross. The hula dance was performed by Elizabeth Quinzel, Paula Ross, Carol Barberio and Karen Rieger. Others who participated in the tropical picnic were Cindy Zarrelli, Nancy Rieck, Lori and Debbie Weinbuch and Madeline Montesano.

In the afternoon, balloon races were held, with Paula Ross winning the most stars.

A doll parade was held Friday, and some participants were Paula Ross, Carol and Patty Murphy, Karen Rieger and Cindy Zarrelli.

Monday was clean-up day for all the children at the park. The most avid helpers were Jo Ann and Jeane Glassen, Jody Turer, Paula Ross, Elizabeth Quinzel, Joseph Sangregorio,

Carol Barberio and Dennis Schwertli.

Patriotic flag makers last week were Doreen Shea, John Smith, Paul Ross, Karen Rieger, Joseph Sangregorio, Jody Turer, and Jeane Glassen. The winning kickball team of the day was Sue Murphy's. Her teammates were Joe Pepe, Paula Ross, Brian Mercer, John Smith and Carol Barberio. Karen Rieger refreshed everyone with lemonade, after which the cups were turned into flowers by the creative drinkers. Games enjoyed were Huckle, Buckle, Animal Twister and checkers plus numerous card games.

Many children enjoyed the arts and crafts program last week. The most enthusiastic children were Jody Turer, Anthony and Joseph Sangregorio, Doreen Shea, JoAnn and Jeane Glassen, Amy Pedersen, Carol Barberio, Brian Mercer, Paula Ross, Carol and Sue Murphy and Juana Kroege. Their animal and flower creations were made from egg cartons and pipe cleaners.

On Wednesday, a "Decorate Your Thumb" contest was held. JoAnn Glassen's creation was a girl jumping rope. Jeane Glassen's was a hamster house. Amy Pedersen's was an Indian girl. Nancy Melroed's was a witch and a girl. Paula Ross' thumb became a wicked witch of the west and hula dancer. Karen Rieger's was a pirate. Joe Pepe's was a beauty; John Smith's thumb was a rocket and "Pirate Pete"; Jody Turer's was a rocket; Doreen Shea's was a witch; Joseph Sangregorio's was a rocket and Anthony Sangregorio's thumb became a lamp. Prizes were awarded.

SMITHFIELD PLAYGROUND: Joan Harbeck.

A toy contest was held last week. Although all types of toys were to be included, almost everyone brought stuffed animals. Debra Keselha's green monster was chosen as the scariest. Johnny Fingerhut's collection of toys was chosen as the most unusual. He brought four tigers of different sizes. Randi Kessler had the biggest toy. Her toy camel was almost five feet tall. Steven Kessler's dog and Steven Kessler's poodle were judged to be the best.

Joseph Montesano's tiger and Lori Weinbuch's lion were chosen as the loudest stuffed toys. Karyl Wildman's green turtle was the loudest. Madeline Montesano and Harvey Kalsh had the loudest toys. Madeline brought a pink poodle and Harvey brought a white poodle.

Andy Wolfe's skunk was judged to be the "stinkiest." Ilene Ogintz had the funniest toy. She brought a stuffed mouse. Barbara Wolf's rabbit was judged to be the cutest toy. Debbie Weinbuch's dog had fluffy ears and a fluffy tail, so it was chosen as the softest toy. Scott Shulman's pop-up toy was the smallest. Kenny Shulman's tiny puppy was chosen as the cutest toy.

In arts and crafts, pot holders were made. Very colorful and diversified pot holders were made by Michael Lemmerman, Robby and Jimmy Crowley, Joan Taraballa, Virginia Harbeck, Lori and Debbie Weinbuch and Madeline Montesano.

Drew Shulman is the champion in the game of washers. His close contender for the championship is Kenny Fingerhut.

A mystery box contest proved to be very intriguing. Those who successfully guessed the contents of the mystery box were Lori and Debbie Weinbuch, Scott and Drew Shulman, Barbara Wolf, Lori Shulman, Kenny Fingerhut, Michele Gan, Joseph Montesano and Michael Lemmerman.

SANDMEIER PLAYGROUND: Arthur Buehrer, Bruce Smith.

Last week the favorite game at Sandmeier Playground was basketball. The boys played "Six" and "5-3-1". Among the best players in these games were Vincent Davis and Vincent Burns. Others who played frequently were Jerry Jones, Arthur James, Derek Gofford, Gideon Jones, Larry Stewart and Michael Burns.

Tetherball was also played frequently. The winner in the past week's competition was Billy Nevius. Others who competed were Antoinette and Anna Names, Teddy and Tyrone Parker, Kevin Mitchell and Kevin Stewart.

The boys and girls at the Sandmeier Playground were pleased to have as a guest Dino Gregory, who is staying with Michael Vincent and Eric Davis.

Pitching horseshoes commanded a great deal of attention among the younger children this week. Playing were Renee Nevius, Teddy, Tyrone and Tony Parker, Lawrence James and Kevin Schwartz. The distance between the pegs was shortened to help these younger children play.

When the arts and crafts instructor came to the playground on Monday afternoon, the children swarmed to the park. Last week they made coasters. Many different designs and colors were woven together to complete the coasters. Each person was allowed to make three. Among the better coasters were the ones designed and made by Mark Seymour, Kevin Mitchell, Kevin Stewart and Teddy, Tyrone and Tony Parker.

The Sandmeier Playground is willing to challenge any combination of baseball players to an all-star softball game.

The Sandmeier Playground is willing to challenge any combination of baseball players to an all-star softball game. The Sandmeier nine will play any nine players from the other parks combined, wherever and whenever they want.

The citizenship award last week again went to Vincent Burns for showing adult qualities. Best wishes for a happy trip went to Eric Davis, who left for two weeks in California to visit relatives.

WOODSIDE PLAYGROUND: Sigrid Patterson, Sharon Remlinger.

Last week many of the children participated in the craft of basket weaving. Sandra Blaufox made an exceptionally nice one, and some of the younger children showed their skill also.

The feature events of the week were the hobby show and the bubble blowing contest. Many interesting hobbies were displayed. Among them were Robert Forsky's rock collection, David Snyder's stamp collection, Leon Rawitz's stamp collection and book of presidents, Robert Lee's coins, John Katz's coins, Steven Weinman's shells, Michael Corey's license plates, baseball cards, and pennies, and Franco Corey's dolls. In the bubble blowing contest, Nick Martin had both the largest bubble and the loudest one. Runners up for the largest bubble were Julie and Sandra Blaufox, and for the loudest pop, Russell Blaufox, Mark Pezzuto and Julie Blaufox.

The bounce volleyball games were won by Mark Pezzuto's team, consisting of Julie Blaufox, Robert Laurencelle, Sandra Blaufox, Joel Allen, Nick Martin, Mitchell Cooper, Alan Snyder and Mark Cooper, and a team captained by Rosa Wyglendowski. Members of Rosa's team were David Baranek, Julie Blaufox, Nicky Martin, Robert Laurencelle and Michael Givertman.

Mark Shipman has taken the lead in the horseshoe tournament. Leon Rawitz remains checker champ, Scott Herman, chess champ, and Megan Malovany, girl's tennis champ. Karen Zwillman, Donald Thibierge and Leon Rawitz showed their skill in avoiding bombardment by winning last week's dodgeball ### games. Nicky Cohn and Leon Rawitz held the highest record of number of times in the scoring box at four squares this week.

Chad was won by Joanne Schwartz, Leon Rawitz, Michael Fine and Mardi Cooper. These four had to guess such things as, "How much is that doggie in the window?" and "Windy?" Another bottle cap hunt was held, with differing point allotments assigned to each cap. High scorers were Julie Blaufox, Scott Meyer, son and David Snyder. The low-high game went to the smallest or best contortionist, namely Rosa Wyglendowski, Scott Meyer, son, Nathl Meyerson and David Klein.

DENHAM PLAYGROUND: Janie Wachal, playground leader.

In arts and crafts last week, the children made all sorts of weird looking bugs out of egg cartons. Patricia and Michael Carroll, Mary Ellen Rhoad, Peter and Diane Jacquet, Kevin Doty, Carl Finkeldey, Tom Wisniewski and Tommy Galpa were the most enthusiastic crafters. Some of the children made silly goggles and false teeth to disgust themselves.

Tommy Jacques and Beverly Stewart were the kickball captains of teams consisting of Peter and Diane Jacquet, Billy Bjorstad, Tommy Wisniewski, Alvin Haavits, Sherry Stewart, Carl Finkeldey and Brian Holmes. The kickball games were fun for the competitors as well as the spectators.

"Trouble" winners (who never get trouble) were Tommy Wisniewski, Michael Monaco, Joel Campanella, Peter Jacques, Robin Scappicchio, Carl Finkeldey and Beverly Stewart.

On Wednesday there was a drawing and coloring contest. The winners were Tommy Wisniewski and Patricia Carroll. Entries were also submitted by Mary Ellen Flood, Beverly and Sherry Stewart, Barbara Smith and Nick Scappicchio.

The week produced six tetherball champions. Michael Monaco, Tommy Wisniewski, Tommy and Peter Jacques, Terry Ellen Flood and Patricia Carroll were tops in this strenuous sport.

If practice makes perfect, Denham Playground will have a fine softball team one of these days.

Carl Finkeldey, Brian Holmes, Steve Kulish, Tommy Wisniewski, Peter Jacques, Billy Bjorstad and Tommy Jacques spent many hours practicing slugging the softball.

Everyone was glad to see that the Campanella's, Joel, Bruce and Brian, have recovered and are back at the playground.

Wet weather raises ragweed crop

The end of the drought may be a boon for farmers and a joy for gardeners, but for hay fever sufferers it may be the worst season in years.

This painful warning was issued this week by Dr. William I. Weiss, Chief of Allergy at Saint Barnabas Medical Center, Livingston, who is going to cause higher pollen counts than we have experienced in about eight years," Dr. Weiss made three suggestions to hay fever sufferers:

Hospital gets new 'circus'

A "Circus Wagon" was opened last week in the playroom of the Pediatrics Department of St. Elizabeth's Hospital in Elizabeth.

Sister Ellen Patricia, administrator, who turned on the lights in the wagon for its official opening, reported that it is decorated with colored lights and toy animals.

Patented after a three-ring circus, it has a backdrop showing pictures of acrobats on swings, lions riding unicycles on the high wire, a brass band, clowns, a variety of animals and crowds of spectators.

The 12 by three foot wagon was the idea of Cornelius MacMahon, the hospital's executive engineer. It was designed by Charles Kingston of the engineering department and constructed by maintenance personnel.

EARLY COPY. Publicity chairman are urged to observe the Friday deadline for other than name, address and phone number.

1. Urge their local municipalities to undertake an aggressive program of ragweed elimination. He cited the present Livingston Health Department program as a model for other communities, adding that the bulk of ragweed pollen falls within 100 feet of the plant and an elimination program will significantly reduce the amount of pollen exposure from local sources.

2. Hay fever sufferers should try to spend as much time as possible in air-conditioned surroundings. "If a hay fever victim installs an air conditioning unit in his bedroom and automobile, he will have considerable relief," Dr. Weiss explained.

3. The hay fever victim should consult his personal physician who can recommend other measures to relieve suffering caused by pollen.

LAFF OF THE WEEK

Mrs. Dwyer sponsors bill urging weapons investigation

Rep. Florence P. Dwyer (R-12th District) this week joined in sponsoring a House resolution calling on the Armed Services Committee to investigate the cause of accidents and malfunctions in the use of sophisticated weapons and military material.

Referring to "the tragic accident aboard the aircraft carrier Forrester," Mrs. Dwyer said the latest casualty count by the Navy stood at 131 dead, 62 injured, and 3 missing. "The Forrester tragedy," she said, "strongly suggests that the development of complex military equipment has not been matched by the development of precautionary measures and control procedures which could prevent or minimize failures in the use of those weapons."

Congresswoman Dwyer noted that the Forrester accident "is only one in a lengthy series of such incidents which have cost our country hundreds of lives and millions of dollars."

She added, "It is time for Congress and the military services to devote concentrated attention to the need to develop adequate safeguards to accompany the tremendous advances we have experienced in military technology."

"The lives of our men in uniform, and the welfare of their families, make it imperative that the same kind of technological genius which has gone into the development of weapons be employed in assuring that their use will be made as safe and more secure as possible."

Mrs. Dwyer said that she, in common with other Members of Congress, was led to introduce the resolution as a result of the concern they shared with families of the men aboard the Forrester who called seeking information.

Corral holds 'subdivision'

EPHRAIM, UTAH (UPI) — Glen E. Nielson has a corral full of horses — not horses, but ideas.

Nielson plans to move the houses about three blocks and develop an "instant subdivision."

A cattleman and builder, Nielson helped build the homes in 1948 and bought them from Kaiser Steel at Sunnyvale, Utah, last fall.

He plans to spruce up the six homes, turn them loose on a three-acre plot and landscape the yards. "I think we'll call it 'instant suburb,'" Nielson said.

Nielson grinned and added: "I guess all us livestockmen are really horse — or, maybe, house traders, at heart."

SUGGESTIONS FOR SUMMERTIME HOSPITALITY

Serve Empanadas, a party treat featuring a South American delicacy. Empanadas are tangy meat-filled pies made in bite size pieces. Their unique flavor and size make them most suitable for entertaining, either as an appetizer or as a feature at a buffet.

To make the Empanadas, tender flaky pastry is cut in a circle on which a small amount of the meat mixture is placed. The meat mixture includes chopped beef, green pepper, onion, hard-cooked egg, olives, raisins, and tomato sauce. The rounds are then folded in half, the edges are secured, and they are baked.

EMSPANADAS

- 1/4 cup minced onion
2 tablespoons minced green pepper
1 tablespoon soft-type margarine
1/2 pound lean ground beef
1/4 teaspoon salt
2 hard-cooked eggs, chopped
1/4 cup chopped stuffed olives
1/4 cup seedless raisins

Paint job for room not difficult work — if done right way

By CAROLYN F. YUKNUS
SENIOR COUNTY HOME ECONOMIST
Painting a room can be either a man's or woman's job today especially with new paints on the market.

A new paint job is not hard physical work if you do about it in the right way. Water base paints have good hiding qualities and dry quickly, but if a second coat of paint is necessary, it can be applied within a few hours.

There are several types of water-base paints. Perhaps the most common are called latex or vinyl. Others are poly-vinyl acetate, acrylic, and a combination vinyl and acrylic. Most water-base paints provide a "flat" finish and are most suitable for the walls in living, sleeping and dining areas. And if good quality paint is used, it will hold up reasonably well and withstand occasional washing.

The poly-vinyl acetate or acrylic water-base paints are likely to be more expensive than the ordinary latex paint. However, they offer greater advantages of durability and resistance to staining and fading. Alkyd paints are generally oil-solvent base paints. They provide a glossier surface that will withstand scrubbing and hard wear better than water-base paints. Alkyd paints are particularly usable in kitchens and bathrooms.

In most instances it takes more time to prepare for painting than it does for actual painting. Remove small items from the room and protect the furniture and floors with coverings.

If woodwork is to be painted, it will take less time if the hardware is removed rather than paint around it and clean it later. Dusting the walls and woodwork may be all that is necessary if the paint is in good condition. If the paint is peeling or chipped, the old surface should be sanded.

If walls are particularly dirty or greasy, such as in a kitchen, then the surfaces will need to be washed with water and household detergent. Holes and cracks should be filled with a ready-mixed vinyl spackling compound for a smoother surface.

Why do we advertise nationally to attract new business and industry to New Jersey? Because when a firm moves into our state, more jobs immediately become available.

Dr. Smith named to head County Anti-Poverty unit

Dr. Myra Smith-Kearse of Union Township has assumed the post of executive director of the Union County Anti-Poverty Council, succeeding James Wilson, who will go to the Winston-Salem North Carolina Community Action Program. The UGAPC Board of Directors made the appointment on July 26 at a general membership meeting.

At the same meeting Karl Selb was chosen to assume the newly created post of assistant director in the areas of program development and fiscal affairs. Selb currently holds the title of UGAPC's assistant director. His new title is the result of administrative reorganization which will allow for a slightly larger staff under increased federal funds.

Dr. Smith has been affiliated with UGAPC (pro tem) since its inception in May, 1965. At that time she served as its chairman. More recently Dr. Smith served as vice-chairman of both UGAPC's Board of Directors and its Executive Committee. In addition to this, Dr. Smith has been honored by church, civic and professional organizations for years of service both in and out of Union Township. Dr. Smith has been active in the fields of health, human relations and Negro culture. She was also a member of a citizen's committee which secured the commitment of the Union Township officials for the establishment of a "Multi-Service Center" in Vauxhall.

At the meeting Dr. Smith stated that she would give top priority to increasing the participation of the "hard core poverty population" in the agency's policy determination and activities. Health centers and treatment for drug addicts and alcoholics were also cited by Dr. Smith as matters for the agency's immediate concern.

Rinaldo wants state to give aid to cities for police salaries

Republican State Senatorial candidate Matthew J. Rinaldo has called for state subsidization of local police salaries. Speaking to a Young-Republican group in Union last night, Rinaldo said the "patently poor results of recruitment efforts in this state under scores of cities for higher police salaries" is "obvious that police salaries are not competitive with those available in private industry for high school or college graduates. If our communities are to attract skilled, intelligent and able law enforcement officers, there must be a sharp improvement in pay scales."

Rinaldo, whose GOP running mates are Assemblyman Frank X. McDermott and former Elizabeth Mayor Nicholas S. LaCorte, noted that local communities have been "squeezed dry by ever rising property taxes. Most of them can't afford to pay much more in the form of salaries. If higher pay for policemen comes about, the state must help foot the bill. Certainly some part of the unexpectedly high $200,000,000 return from the state sales tax during its first-year of operation could be applied to this subsidization."

"In one Union County community," he continued, "only 10 men took a recent Civil Service test for police positions. Unfortunately, only one man passed. This is proof that the men of the calibre we should be seeking are not thinking in terms of law enforcement as a career."

"The unfortunate events of the past few weeks have dramatized the importance of our local police," he went on. "We now must realize even if we have never done so before that the local policeman truly risks his life to maintain law and order."

"Therefore," Rinaldo concluded, "the policeman must be adequately compensated for his life-saving work. If the state must subsidize his salary—and it appears that it must—I favor such financial support."

ACCOUNTING CAPER
LEICESTER, ENGLAND (UPI) — Fraud detectives weren't really too surprised when they were asked to investigate the "doctoring" of some pay books here. It was at Leicester Prison, whose inmates handle the accounting of a system under which money earned at prison chores may be spent in the prison store.

CAMPAIGN AIDES—Edward Tiller, left, and Harry Osborne, Union County Freeholders, Frank Charles J. Irwin of Mount Airy, GOP candidate for Assemblyman at Large, Tiller, Osborne, and Freeholder Walter Ulrich have agreed to serve jointly as Irwin's campaign coordinating and advisory committee.

The Springfield swim team bowed to an exceedingly strong Cedar Grove squad at an excitingly strong Cedar Grove swim meet Tuesday by a score of 149-34.

Cedar Grove dominated the individual events, capturing 15 first places to seven for Springfield. Their greater depth showed up as they were able to score both first and second in nine events.

Vice President cites newspaper for aiding youth

This newspaper has received a certificate of recognition and a letter of thanks from Vice President Hubert H. Humphrey for its participation in the 1967 Youth Opportunity Campaign. As its contribution to the campaign, this paper and the seven other published by Suburban Publishing Co. printed free classified ads for high school and college students seeking summer jobs. In his letter to Robert H. Brumell, advertising director, Vice President Humphrey said: "I am grateful for your support of the President's 1967 Youth Opportunity Campaign and the support received from thousands of others. You have opened new opportunities to these young Americans which, I am sure, will help to prepare them for a brighter future. The Nation is stronger for your contribution. I know I speak for the President when I say that you have our deep appreciation." Accompanying the letter was a certificate from the President's Council on Youth Opportunity "awarded in grateful recognition to Suburban Publishing Corp. whose participation in the 1967 Youth Opportunity Campaign advanced the welfare of the Nation by helping young Americans help themselves." The certificate carried the signatures of President Johnson and Vice President Humphrey.
