Light vote anticipated in primary election Tuesday

2 nominees to local jobs

To select for Senate,
Assembly, county unit

Local political observers anticipate a light turnout in Springfield in the 1967 primary election on Tuesday. Neither party has a contest from a municipal nomination, and there are no Springfield candidates seeking office on a county level.

Republican candidates for the two seats at stake this year on the Township Committee are Mayor Arthur M. Falkin and Henry Bultman, GOP municipal chairman, and a veteran party worker.

Opposing them for the Democrats are former Mayor Vincent J. Bonadies and Alvin Leonard, who is an attorney and a newcomer to the local political scene.

Springfield voters will also express their preference for contenders for the party nominations for three seats in the State Senate, two seats in the Assembly from District 9C, one assemblyman at large from Union County and three seats on the Union County Board of Freeholders.

The general election will be on Tuesday, Nov. 7. Voters this week will also select party county committeemen and committeewomen from each of the township's 13 election districts.

The polls will be open from 7 a.m. to 8 p.m. Voters living in Districts 1 and 4 will vote Tuesday at the Presbyterian Parish House; Districts 2 and 3, American Legion Hall; Districts 5 and 6, James Caldwell School gymnasium; Districts 7 and 8, Florence Gaudineer School gymnasium; Districts 9 and 10, Raymond Chisholm School gymnasium; District 11, Thelma Sandmeter School gymnasium; and Districts 12 and 13, Edward Walton School gymnasium.

DEMOCRATIC VOTERS have a contest to decide in their choice of State Senate nominees, with four contenders for three nominations. They are Mildred Barry Hughes, James J. Kinneally Sr., and Lester Weiner, organization nominees; and Anthony J. Casone, running with a slogan of "Peace and Equal Opportunities."

The three Republican candidates are unopposed for nomination. They are Francis X. McBermet, Matthew J. Rinaldo and Nicholas S. LaCorte.

Pool to stay open 2 more weekends; Virginia Vogt wins teen queen contest

The Springfield Community Pool will remain open from noon to 6 p.m. both days this weekend and the weekend of Sept. 16-17.

Virginia Vogt won the Miss Springfield Pool contest which was finally held after weeks of being rained out. Gail Fingerhut was first runnerup; Janice Tanke, second runnerup, and Nancy Yeager, third runnerup.

Mayor Arthur Falkin presented the trophies, and Helen Martin, last year's winner, placed the queen's sash on Miss Vogt. Judges were Emile Priebichs, Mr. and Mrs. Donald Perkins and Marty Aronow.

The pool, in cooperation with the Springfield Chapter of the American Red Cross, has completed its junior and senior lifeguarding classes. Four boys and one girl passed the junior course, which had begun with 15 boys and girls. The five who passed were Gary Branning, Lisa Brown, Walter Galpa, Robert Gerardo and Ricky Wnek.

Four of the 11 persons who began the senior course passed it. They were Donald Cubberley, Dennis Lester, Marie Lowandowski and Jill Williams. The classes were conducted by Jack Roland who was assisted by instructors Linda Wofskiel, Martin Miktus, Gregory Albano and Gregory Wester.

In a RING TOSS game at the pool the boys defeated the girls. The winning team consisted of Ricky Greer, Mitch Slater, Frank Zalm, Ron Zalm, Ken Merser, Jeff Wenisch and David Goldstein. In a game between 11-15-year-olds, the team of Roberta Rossini, Gregg Oxford, Pat Sheehan, John Shadian, Diane Mastiello, Mike Rosenburg, Steve Coleman and Laurie Shultman won.

In a triathlon meet Carmen Bova won for the boys, taking the broad jump and shotput and tying in the 60-yard dash. Kim Harvey won for the girls, entering the broad jump and shotput.

School board reports details on newcomers

Twenty-one new teachers in the Springfield Public Schools were welcomed at an orientation program held last week in the Florence Gaudineer School. The board of Education released biographical information on the new teachers this week.

James J. Funcheon, health and physical education teacher in the Florence Gaudineer School, is a resident of Springfield. He holds a bachelor of science degree in education from Seton Hall University and did his practice teaching at the Gaudineer School in 1962.

Funcheon received a personal decoration for service in Vietnam and the Navy Commendation Medal, having served five years in the U.S. Marine Corps. He served one year in Vietnam, two years in Hawaii, a year in California, and was released with the rank of captain this August. He also received the Navy Unit Award, the National Defense Medal, the Vietnamese Service Medal, and the Vietnamese Campaign Medal.

Glen Brown, an elementary physical education teacher at the Thelma Sandmeter and Raymond Chisholm Schools, holds a bachelor of science degree from Springfield College in Springfield, Mass.

Ronald Brown, who is teaching English in the Florence Gaudineer School, is a graduate of Carnegie Technical Institute, where he holds a bachelor of fine arts degree in drama. He also has three years of teaching experience in the film and television industry, worked the professional theatre and traveled around the world with the USO.

MRS. BEVERLY DVORIN, school psychologist intern, holds a master's degree in education from Rutgers University. She was an intern in the Springfield schools during the 1965-66 school year and worked as the school psychologist in Kentworth last year. She has also held part-time employment with the West Orange Board of Education, on an internship with Essex County Guidance Center, and as a volunteer at the center as a psychologist trainee. She is presently enrolled in the doctoral program at Rutgers University as a candidate for the Ph.D. in psychology.

Paula K. Napol, a first grade teacher in the James Caldwell School, has just received a bachelor of arts degree from Newark State College.

Michael Paglia, who teaches elementary music, holds a bachelor of arts degree from Montclair State College. He has eight years of teaching experience.

Suzanne Marie Remmele, who is teaching fifth grade at the Caldwell School, holds a bachelor of arts degree from Caldwell College. She has two years' experience as a second grade teacher in the Newark public school system.

Mrs. Rosemary Schuh is a speech therapist and holds a bachelor of science degree from Newark State College. She has one year of experience as a second grade teacher in East Orange and is now working toward her master's degree at Newark State.

JACQUELINE M. SHARKEY, who will teach kindergarten at the Sandmeter School, studied at Sweet Briar College and George Washington University. She formerly taught at Toms River.

Mrs. Madeline Targonski is an alumna of Trenton State College and will teach first grade at the Caldwell School. She has taught in Bordentown and at the Walton School.

Mrs. Joan W. Schultz will be the new librarian at the Sandmeter School. She studied home economics and education at Douglass College and library science at Newark State College.

James E. Guines, who will teach a fifth grade at the Walton School, has a bachelor's degree from Newark State.

Dayton gridders scheduled on film

Jim Horner, head football coach at Jonathan Dayton Regional High School, Springfield, this week invited all parents of players and others who might be interested to attend a screening of early practice scrimmage films Wednesday at 8 p.m. in the boy's gym at the high school. The films will show this Saturday's scrimmage with Madison, to take place at Madison. The open house program will also feature a talk by Coach Horner on "How We Protect the Boy from Football Injuries." The Dayton variety will open its season with a game at Watchung Hills Regional on Sept. 26. The first home game will be against Scotch Plains on Oct. 21.

Full roster of fall activities is scheduled for Summit Y

A complete program of classes, clubs and activities for Fall was announced this week by the Summit YWCA. Most evening classes are open to both men and women, and babysitting is provided for children of mothers attending daytime activities. Since classes are necessarily limited in size, the YWCA has suggested that early registrations are advisable. Classes will begin in mid-September or early October.

Daytime class offerings include: antiques and art appreciation, which will review the historical background of antiques, identifying woods, furniture, silver, glass, and china; two bridge classes, for beginners and intermediates; two intensive study English classes for non-English-speaking adults; three French classes, beginning, intermediate, and advanced; three in Spanish for the same proficiency levels; three art classes: charcoal and pastels, water color, and oil painting; modern dance classes for women and for girls in the first through sixth grades; self-instruction for beginners as well as experienced players; lampshade construction, intermediate sewing, silhouettes, and tailoring.

Evening offerings will be: an art class in pastels, charcoals, water color and oils; graded classes in English for non-English-speaking men and women; two modern dance classes; the principles of photography and discussion series, with expert leadership, on religious feeling as it is expressed in contemporary music, art, and drama.

Among clubs and activities for women are a Wednesday morning Kaffeeklatsch, with a new program each week and concurrent activities for pre-schoolers; the Homemakers Club, teaching interior programs for the busy homemaker on the first and third Thursday evenings of each month; an International Club for young women from around the world who meet on the first and third Thursdays for outings, sports, films, and the Thoughtlets, an informative evening discussion group for young women under 30 that meets on the first and third Wednesday evenings.

Single young professional men and women meet new friends, enjoy stimulating programs, attend concerts, Broadway plays, on the first and third Saturday evenings of each month when the Jet Set gets together. Single young adults may also come with a date or alone to the Saturday night social dances on the second and fourth Saturday nights. The Mood-makers provide live music.

An extensive program is offered to senior high school girls involved in the YWCA's Tri-Epsilon clubs, which stress the three E's of Education, community effort, and social ease. The clubs meet weekly or semi-monthly during the school year and offer girls opportunities to develop leadership abilities, to engage in social service projects, and to have fun meeting new friends and enjoying common interests. Experienced volunteer and professional leaders work with the girls in their clubs.

Teen Time, for junior high girls, meets at the YWCA after school on Monday afternoons. Combining an informal coffee time with a series of interest groups, the program affords junior high schoolers a relaxing after-school period and a chance to develop a new skill such as bridge, crafts, portrait sketching, archery.

New this year is a program for ninth graders in the performing arts. Girls develop skills in interpretive dance, drama, music, puppetry, with the aim of working-up shows to be performed at hospitals, special children's events, convalescent homes.

Further information about the Summit YWCA's fall program may be had by telephoning the YWCA at 273-4242. A brochure describing the YWCA's activities will be mailed upon request.

CAROLE GROMEK

Diploma as nurse for Miss Gromek

Carole Gromek, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Anthony Gromek of 62 Henshaw ave., Springfield, will be one of the graduates receiving her diploma at commencement exercises to be held tomorrow for the Clara Maass Memorial Hospital School of Nursing, Belleville.

This ceremony, marking the completion of three years of intensive study for the 25 members of the Class of 1967 and their emergence as full-fledged graduate nurses, will be held at St. Luke's Episcopal Church, Montclair, New Jersey. The commencement address will be delivered by the Rev. Kenneth J. Stumpf, pastor of the Holy Cross Lutheran Church, Springfield.

This year the Clara Maass School of Nursing celebrates its 75th anniversary, making it one of the oldest nursing schools in the state of New Jersey. The hospital was named for Clara Louise Maass, a graduate of the school in 1895 and one of America's great nursing heroines who gave her life in the experiments to conquer yellow fever.

Rites today at 11:30 for W. L. Wenzel

Services will be held this morning at 11:30 in Holy Cross Lutheran Church, Springfield, for William L. Wenzel, 52, who died suddenly last Saturday. A resident of 21 Warwick circle, Springfield, Mr. Wenzel lived in Irvington for many years before moving to Springfield 15 years ago.

He was the owner of Wenzel's TV Service, Irvington, for 35 years before retiring four years ago. He was a member of Holy Cross Lutheran Church, past president of the Electronics Guild of New Jersey and a former member of the Irvington Rotary Club.

Survivors include his wife, Hazel; two daughters, Mrs. Mary Ann Mayberry of Morris Plains and Miss Beverly Jean Wenzel of Philadelphia; his mother, Mrs. Anna Wenzel Stupak of Union; a brother, Louis of Barrington, R.I., and two grandsons.

Science Topics

WASHDAY PROBLEMS aren't limited just to housewives. Georgia Tech textile engineers also are up to their elbows in suds trying to learn more about whiteness, brightness and cleanliness, in a research project being conducted for the Institute of Industrial Laundering and the Linen Supply Association of America. By using a little atomic soil and other materials, engineers can tell if a laundry is over- or under-washing, if it is using too much or too little bleach, if the water temperature is correct, if there is iron in the water, or if there is too much alkali.

A FRIGID PILL of super-cold liquid nitrogen can now be purchased at a truck stop near the Ohio Turnpike, Penn Ohio Plaza, north of Youngstown, has become the first liquid nitrogen filling station on the major truck route between Chicago and the East Coast. National Cylinder Gas, Chicago, says that the liquid nitrogen is used in truck refrigeration systems where it is sprayed into the cargo compartment or vaporized and passed through channels in the compartment's wall.

GO! THE SNIFFLES, watery eyes, an asthmatic whoopee? Don't blame Mother Nature for your July fever, says a government engineer meteorologist. The real blame should go to the subdivision bulldozer across town or the grain farmer in the next county. Prof. E. Wandell Hewson says that construction crews come to a site and scrape it bare, turning over earth and providing the perfect bed for raccoons to take root. In weeks the plants have matured and begun to spread pollen.

MEASLES cases are decreasing, according to the American Medical Association, seeing an indication of success for the anti-measles campaigns being conducted. There were fewer reported measles cases in the first half of this year than in any comparable period since U.S. record-keeping began in 1912.

PROFESSORS at Columbia University are being given the ability to "converse" with the University's centralized high-speed computers without leaving their desks or laboratories.

Girl Scouts to hold leadership course for township ladies

Washington-Rock-Girl-Scout-Council has scheduled a new type of leader training course for Springfield Girl Scout leaders this fall. A new approach to adult education has been developed for Girl Scouts of the U.S. by Dr. Malcolm Knowles of Boston University and Leadership Resources Inc.

Through a series of quizzes related to the Girl Scout program and personal relationships, the student diagnoses her own strengths and weaknesses and then selects the subject matter she wishes to learn.

Under the guidance of trained instructors, the student sets her own goals and pace. Resource material from some of the most advanced industrial training programs in the country will be used, the council added.

Mrs. James B. Duke, council president said, "We have great hopes for enthusiastic acceptance of these courses by our leaders. They have been successfully tested in pilot projects throughout the country."

"Our national organization" she added, "has received many inquiries about this advance in adult education from other youth organizations, government agencies, institutions of higher learning and church affiliated groups."

Springfield leaders will be trained at the First Congregational Church in Westfield, starting Oct. 4.

According to Mrs. Louis Quinton, chairman of Springfield Girl Scout Community Association, the course is open not only to the newly recruited leader but also to the experienced leader wishing to improve her troop's program.

Registration closes Sept. 21.

Springfield temple starts school soon

Religious school classes at Temple Sharey Shalom, Springfield, meet this Saturday and Sunday. New congregants who have not registered their children for the 1967-68 school term have been advised that members of the school committee and the financial secretary will be on hand at the temple today from 7:30 to 9 p.m. Congregants unable to register students at that time were urged to call the temple office as soon as possible.

Mrs. Florence Goll, principal of Temple Sharey Shalom's religious school, said she expects the largest enrollment in the temple's history this year. This term also marks the start of the pre-college institute, a two-year course designed for post-confirmation which includes a teacher-methodology sequence and general studies in literature, arts, philosophy and contemporary Jewish life.

Lions Club opens season tomorrow

Abel V. Del Vecchio, new president of the Springfield Lions Club, will preside over his first meeting tomorrow at the Mountainside Inn. Plans for an extension of club activities, which include youth, sight conservation and the blind, education, health and welfare, and Scouting will be discussed.

Other new officers are: first vice-president, August Caprio; second vice-president, Walter S. Hohn; secretary, Henry Grabarz; treasurer, Charles S. Quinzel; lion tamer, William Royal; tall twister, Stanley M. Kroeger.

Free adult courses in basic education at Columbia High

Free federally supported courses for adults with less than a ninth-grade education will be offered at Columbia High School, Maplewood, by the South Orange Maplewood Adult School. Free courses for foreign-born persons who need to learn to read, write, and speak English also will be offered. There is no residence requirement.

The classes will start Monday, Sept. 25, and meet on both Monday and Thursday evenings from 7:45 to 10:15. Students will be placed in a class suitable for their present educational level. The classes in English for foreign-born adults are limited to those who are beginners in English.

The Adult School's public registration night will be Tuesday, Sept. 19, 8:00-9:30 p.m., at Columbia High School, Maplewood. Information about courses may be obtained by calling 762-5600 between 3 and 4 p.m. daily.

The Adult School also offers a high school equivalency program, a tuition course. It is for adults 18 years of age and over who have not completed high school and would like to earn a high school equivalency certificate. Candidates for this program may register at Columbia High on Tuesday, Sept. 19, 8:00-9:30 p.m. The classes will start Monday, Oct. 2, and will convene on both Monday and Thursday evenings, 7:50-10:00.

Fourth year for school on theater

The Theatre School and Producing Company of Maplewood will begin its fourth year on Monday, Oct. 16, with classes for boys and girls, grades 2 through 12. Registration starts Sept. 16. A limited number of scholarships will be available.

In addition to a full program of training in acting techniques, musical theatre and dance for the theatre, the Theatre School will inaugurate a new program of performing while learning.

T.S.S. Productions, a division of The Theatre School, which in the past has used professional actors only, will now include in its productions students enrolled in The Theatre School.

Take your hand out of my pocket...

why should I pay for your strike?

Repeal the Strikers Benefits Law

Almost everybody's got his hand in your pocket these days. Another hand slides in January 1. That's when New Jersey's new law (S-400) provides unemployment checks to strikers. No joke. The law sneaked through by a one-vote margin last April, and only after a lot of political pressure.

This means the unemployment taxes taken out of your paycheck every week will be set aside to pay those on strike. It means more and longer strikes. It means fewer jobs and a weaker economy because companies already here are discouraged from expanding, and those outside the state won't come in. And it means that the hand in your pocket is going to take 20 per cent more in unemployment taxes.

Do we smile and say "well? Or do we say repeal that law-it's bad. The 9,000 (and growing) members of the PUB (Protect Unemployment Benefits) Committee say repeal it, just as it was repealed in 14 other states. If you're for repeal, join us. Every legislative seat in Trenton is up for election this year and all the candidates will be waiting to see how strong the resentment is against paying unemployment checks to strikers. We aim to tell them. You tell your legislative candidates. Fill in the form below, and send it to PUB headquarters. If you like, enclose a dollar or more. Then get your friends, neighbors and relatives to join also. Let's repeal the strikers benefits law.

ATTENTION-BOWLING LEAGUES

As the new season draws near, aficionados of America's number one participation sport, bowling, are feeling the butterflies and getting the urge to once again "go down to the lanes."

Bowlers who wish to have publicity about their league appear in this newspaper will have an easy job.

The sports department has prepared bowling publicity forms which are available at no charge. The coupon which appears below should be posted on a post card and mailed to the sports department so that arrangements can be made to accommodate your league.

This newspaper will try to offer complete coverage of area bowling. Two bowling columns are planned.

"As the Pins Drop" will contain standings of all area leagues that desire publicity. A second column, "Bowling Highlights," will contain top individual scores of the week's action, anecdotes, bowling interest places and bowling news of specific interest to area bowlers.

League secretaries may submit items for "Bowling Highlights" as well as their league's standings for "As the Pins Drop." Secretaries are requested to mail the coupon to the sports department as soon as possible so that forms may be returned by the beginning of the season. Only standings submitted on these forms will be accepted.

K of C is awarded Star Council prize by district deputy Grand Knight Joseph Fitzsimmons, head of Springfield's Knights of Columbus Chapter 5560, was presented with the Star Council award last week by District Deputy Dennis Burke.

The award was presented for increasing the membership of the group by 10 percent. The group has also surpassed the minimum requirements of programming in the fields of public relations, Catholic and council, fraternal and youth activities.

Some of the highlights of the year have included the assistance of veterans at Lyons Hospital for Sunday masses; weekend retreat; Williamsburg Pilgrimage for Peace; family Communion breakfast; spelling and essay contests; sponsoring of Little League baseball; Paper Mill theater party and the annual clothing drive.

Tips for Today's Homemaker

From Anne L. Shelton, Municipal County Home-Economist

TOMATOES IN YOUR MEALS

Use late summer vine-ripened tomatoes to best advantage in your menu plans.

The flavor and juicy goodness of tomatoes makes them most versatile for a variety of uses. Serve them "as is," baked, fried, broiled, grilled, pickled, marinated, or stuffed.

As well as adding a note of color and tempting flavor to your meals, tomatoes also add valuable Vitamin C, which is needed by the body each day, and of Vitamin A.

The following two recipes may have a place in your menu plans:

- 3 large tomatoes
 - 1 cup grated Cheddar cheese
 - 1 tablespoon milk
 - 1/2 teaspoon Tabasco
 - 1/2 teaspoon salt
 - 1/4 teaspoon dry basil leaves

Remove brown stem end and slice tomatoes in half. Combine cheese, milk, Tabasco, salt and basil in saucepan; heat until cheese is melted. Line broiler rack with foil. Place tomatoes on rack. Pour some of mixture over each tomato half. Place in broiler about three inches from source of heat for about five to seven minutes. YIELD: six servings.

STUFFED TOMATOES

- 4 large firm tomatoes
 - 1 can (12 ounces) corned beef, chilled
 - 1/4 cup mayonnaise
 - 1 tablespoon milk
 - 1/2 teaspoon Tabasco
 - 1/2 cup chopped celery
 - 1/4 cup chopped green pepper
 - 1/4 cup chopped cucumber
 - 5 pitted black olives, sliced
- Core tomatoes. Scoop out some of seeded middle. Cut tomatoes in quarters but do not cut through to bottom. Cut corned beef into small cubes. Combine mayonnaise, milk and Tabasco. Add celery, pepper, cucumber, toss. Add corned beef. Spoon into tomatoes. Decorate with olives slices. YIELD: four servings.

Authority to speak on drug addiction in suburban areas

A lecture on drug addiction, with emphasis on use of narcotics in the suburbs, will be held at Overlook Hospital on Tuesday, Sept. 19, at 8:15 p.m.

Open to the public, the program is jointly sponsored by the Mental Health Association of Union County and the medical education department of Overlook Hospital. The program will feature an authority on the subject: Donald E. Louria, M.D., president of the New York State Council on Drug Addiction and associate professor, Cornell Medical College.

Dr. Louria is the author of a recent article in the New York Times magazine section, among many other works, in which he dealt with little known aspects of drug addiction. He will explore special drug problems in the suburbs, detection of narcotic addiction, the social and emotional causes underlying addiction and methods of prevention, as well as treatment.

Dr. Louria will answer questions from the audience. His lecture is particularly designed for teachers, guidance counselors, police, social service workers, clergy, doctors, nurses, parents and others concerned with this serious problem.

FAMILY LIFE TODAY

OUR PERSONALITY - BASIC EMOTIONAL NEEDS

In our daily scheme of living we all have basic emotional needs which we attempt to satisfy. Some understanding of these basic needs and how we fulfill them will help each of us to work out our problems more effectively.

A list of our basic needs could include: physical, love, achievement, recognition and faith. The universality of our needs and how they can be satisfied differs greatly from individual and from family to family. Peace of mind comes from the degree to which we are able to satisfy our basic needs.

Problems and frustrations are common. Conflict arises when our methods of satisfaction are contrary to our social standards, customs, conscience, morals and/or laws. Personality tricks such as running away, fighting or comprising are often used unconsciously to try to solve our problems.

Rationalization: One way we try to justify our behavior is to make excuses for our actions. For example, to make the purchase of a new dress more acceptable in our own eyes and others we think up reasons why we really need it before buying it.

Projection is another personality trick. We blame others for our own shortcomings. An example of this is the cake left in the oven too long because someone telephoned us.

Repression by forgetting is common to all. We tend to bury unpleasant ideas or experiences. Sociologists, such as Menninger, emphasize the point that this burying of emotional energy, rather than releasing it into action, is always harmful.

Sublimation is still another trick. This is a very valuable and constructive trick to learn. Through it we substitute an attainable goal for one beyond reach. It helps us to direct our energies into constructive channels. One example of this is when the active ball-playing boy who breaks windows is encouraged by his parents to join a club where he is taught to play baseball. Another example of sublimation is encouraging a doting parent to participate in community or organization work. This will aid in redirecting an individual's talents into meaningful, satisfying channels. By becoming aware of each other's fundamental needs and their intensity, we can, thus, better understand ourselves and our families. This is the first step in helping each family member to satisfy his basic needs in a constructive manner.

ROTARY AIDS HOSPITAL - Overlook Hospital, Summit, shares in the proceeds of the Springfield Rotary Club's golf parking project at Baltusrol, with James A. Betts Jr., director of development center, accepting check from Max Weiss, former club president. Looking on at right is Harold Chasen, Rotary president. Over $4,500 was realized on the project in June and proceeds were divided among nearby hospitals and charities.

Squad president speaks to Rotary

Function of the Springfield First Aid Squad were outlined to members of the Rotary Club last week at its meeting at the Mountaineer Inn by Edward Street, squad president. Street was presented with a check from Max Weiss, as a portion of funds raised on a parking project at the Baltusrol Golf Club area in June.

Street explained that the volunteers on the First Aid Squad were indebted to local service clubs and others for their financial assistance, particularly due to the ever increasing needs of the squad.

The week before, a Rotary check was presented to the Children's Specialized Hospital, Mountaineer, accepted by Dr. Milton Staub, president, and the final in a series of five contributions was scheduled to go to the United Fund Campaign early this week.

Gene Lord, a new Rotary member, spoke briefly on his business career. He is manager of the local State Farm insurance office.

GOP contender in primaries stresses needs of taxpayers

Kenneth White, one of four GOP contenders for two state Assembly seats representing District 9C, including Springfield and Mountaintop, said this week the over-riding issue in next Tuesday's primary election is who, based on past public performance, "will work most effectively for the average taxpayer in the future."

White said he is the only candidate who has offered a "new direction toward confident and assertive Republican leadership on a year-round basis for District 9C, judging from voter reaction these past few weeks, many Republicans evidently are convinced that I have demonstrated this leadership."

White described his "new direction" as meaning a "more militant attitude in favor of budgetary responsibility. It also involves readiness to fight for control by local people of their own towns, schools and police forces."

The Assembly candidate, a resident of Plainfield, said he is the only one of the four contenders who has continuously stood on the public firing line in behalf of taxpayers over the past two years.

easy to do this in front of sympathetic Republican groups at election time. But a candidate also has to show he has been willing to risk criticism. He has to have taken a public stand against vocal pressure groups that promote inflated spending and increased state control over town councils and school boards.

White said his public performance as a Republican leader indicates continued efforts in the Assembly for Springfield taxpayers.

"On the record, I was the first 9C candidate to oppose the Democrats' billion-dollar state budget, and the stated intention to raise it to $2 billion by 1975. If voters want to avoid a state income tax in the near future, they will have to elect only those Republican Assemblymen who will fight hard to cut the fat out of future state appropriations."

White also mentioned that he was "the only 9C Assembly candidate to help build a commuters' organization which is suing in federal court to recover $88 million paid by New Jersey residents for New York State income taxes."

"From our district, I was the only one to testify before a state Senate committee hearing in Hackensack against a $600 million commission for the meadowlands that would have grabbed power away from many municipalities."

"LIP-SERVICE speeches in favor of low taxes, good schools or home rule government are not enough," White declared. "It is very

Wall Street Notebook

By ARTHUR POLLACK

Performance - today - appears to be the goal of too many investors. I believe it is time someone pointed out the perils of performance. This near obsession with "stocks that'll go up" is being reflected in the figures for total daily trading volume. Especially, the unprecedented volume on the American Stock Exchange.

It's not merely Amex trading volume, per se, the disturbing factor is what I believe to be an alarming increase in the ratio of volume on the Amex to that on the New York Stock Exchange. In recent sessions Amex volume has been as high as 60 percent of that on the Big Board. That's abnormal. And dangerous.

Why is it dangerous? Because it indicates a current tendency on the part of too many investors, to abandon quality - in the hope of making quick profits. Evidence? Check the list of most actively traded Amex issues in your daily paper. (In one such list recently, 80 percent of the issues were priced below $15 a share.)

Quick profits, on low priced securities, have become a legend in recent months. Especially on the Amex. Many stocks trading on this exchange have doubled (some have tripled) so far this year. And this "performance" has had a natural, predictable effect on many investors. It looks so easy. And everybody hears stories of enormous profits being made. What we don't hear, and never will, are the far more numerous stories of sustained losses. This is human nature. We are all inclined to talk about winning, not about losing. But history has proven that these wildly speculative binges, at some point, have resulted in huge losses, far more people than those who realized profits.

SPECULATIVE FEVER right now, is providing the principal momentum for the market. This is why daily trading volume has reached such high levels. In my opinion, this begs the question: Is today's obsession with performance really no more than a different name for excessive speculation? Speculation, on an informed basis, by those who know what they're doing and who recognize (and are financially able to assume) the obvious risks inherent in speculating, is one thing. That has been a factor in the market as long as the market has existed.

But speculation to the degree that is apparent today is something else. And it is precisely this excessive speculation about which I am concerned. I urge all investors to be on guard against this danger. To thoughtfully consider potential risks versus possible rewards, to avoid being booby-trapped in this super-speculative type issue. Quality should continue to be the principal investment guideline. With quality as the first investment consideration, I believe investors will recognize that the inherent risks in such "swinging" speculations far outweigh any possible reward.

Town bridge class still has vacancies for added bidders

There are still a few openings left for the class in contract bridge for beginners and those who have some knowledge of the game, which is being offered to the residents of Springfield, according to the Recreation Department.

The course will be given at the Recreation Center, 59 Caldwell pl., starting Thursday, Sept. 21, from 1 to 3 p.m., and will run for 10 weeks (no class will be held on Thursday, Oct. 5).

Hilde B. Steckler, certified master Goren teacher and member of the American Bridge Teachers' Association, will again conduct the course. The Goren point-count system will be explained in a step-by-step, scientific manner. Playing will begin with the third lesson, and sufficient time will be allocated to the playing of prepared hands each session. Mimeographed lessons will be provided so that the students will not have to take notes in class. A fee of $5 will be charged. For further information and registration, readers may call the Recreation Department at 376-5800.

Meeting date announced by Polish Alliance group

The Polish Alliance club will meet on Friday evening, Sept. 15, at the home of Mrs. Cecelia Pachlewski of 241 Hillside Ave., Springfield.

Officers for the 1967-68 year are Mrs. Waseley Lewandowski, president; Mrs. John Madura, vice-president; Mrs. Edmund Pachlewski, secretary-treasurer.

The group is planning its annual card party which will take place at the Mountaintop Elks Hall on Sept. 29. Prizes will be awarded and refreshments will be served. Mrs. Joseph Stojk is chairman, and Mrs. Madura is co-chairman.

Robbery in diner nets four $1,922; safe broken open

A total of $1,922 was stolen from Swingle's Diner on Route 22, near Hillside Ave., Springfield, early Tuesday morning by four men who tied two diner employees and broke open the safe. The money included $75 from a dishwasher's wallet, which had been placed in the safe.

Two employees, John Wians, night porter, and Jim Smith, short-order cook, were in the diner when the four men entered through a back door. Both employees were tied by the men, and Smith also was beaten on the head with a pipe. During their 30 to 40 minutes in the diner, the intruders managed to break off the door of the safe.

After the four men left the diner, Smith managed to get free and called Springfield police. Patrolmen Ralph Merucci and Andrew Calabrese were sent to the diner when the call was received at 2:40 a.m. The investigation is being continued by Detectives Howard Thompson and Samuel Calabrese.

Church to resume expanded schedule

The regular fall schedule of worship services and activities will resume this week for the Springfield Presbyterian Church. This evening, the first rehearsal of the Senior Choir will be held in the chapel under the direction of Ray Richards. Richards will direct the music program of the church for the coming year while John Bennett is on a year's leave of absence for graduate study. Mrs. Robert Diefenderfer will be the church organist.

On Sunday, double worship services will resume at 9:30 and 11 a.m. The Rev. Bruce W. Evans, pastor of the church, will preach at both services. Opening sessions of the Church School will be held at 9:30 a.m. All classes will be held in their previous locations with the exception of the nursery department for three-year-olds, which will move from the chapel to the second floor of the rear section of the Parish House. This department will be under the supervision of Mrs. Anton Campanella. Registration will be taken in all departments of the Church School.

B'nai B'rith ladies schedule meeting

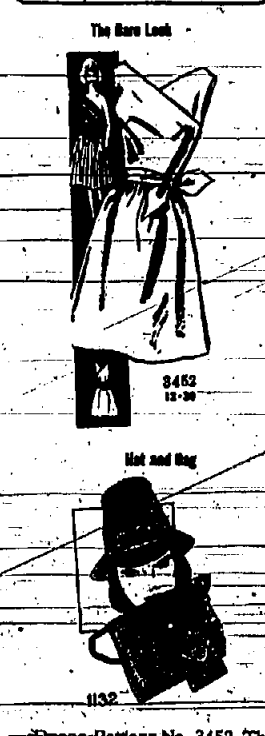

The first meeting of the season of the Springfield Chapter of B'nai B'rith Women will be held on Wednesday, Sept. 20, at 12:30 p.m., according to Mrs. Arthur Falkin, group president. The meeting, which will be held at Temple Shalom, will feature a fashion show. The fashion show will be presented by "Heather and Tweed" of Millburn, Cosmetics by Carlisma will be displayed through the cooperation of Beverly Woltchek, Dessert and coffee will be served. Mrs. Falkin said the meeting and fashion show are open to the public, and prospective members and friends are invited.

On Sept. 27, the group will sponsor a trip to Princeton. It will include a guided tour of the new art museum, the university campus and luncheon at the Princeton Inn. Mrs. Falkin said reservations may be made by calling Mrs. Mern Shafman at 376-2215 or Mrs. Martin Karp at 376-3901.

The Mail at Short Hills presents a Hi-Fi Show for women who don't know the first thing about components, and who couldn't care less.

Girls, we've done it. We've put together a Hi-Fi Show that doesn't require a degree in engineering to be understood and enjoyed. We've simplified everything. We've thrown out the double talk.

You don't have to know what anti-skating means, or which set of twin speakers goes with what receiver. (Who cares anyway, right?) All you have to know is what you like. What you like in style, what you like in sound. And we've got plenty of both. You'll see and hear some of the finest high fidelity equipment, as well as the kind of luxurious cabinetry that adds beauty to any decor. Result: a Hi-Fi Show you can enjoy.

Can you bring your husband? Of course, so long as he doesn't mind mingling with all you good-looking women.

Union College to open its 35th year with both a new name and new look

Union College, Cranford, formerly Union Junior College, will open its 35th academic year with a record enrollment of 1,500, a new name, a new $1 million Science Building, a new computer, a modernized business curriculum, and an expanded nursing program.

With the start of the new academic year, Dr. Kenneth C. MacKay will begin his 20th year as president, and Dr. Kenneth W. Iversen will begin his 10th year as dean. Despite the new programs and a continually increasing enrollment, the average tenure of the faculty is more than 11 years, Dr. MacKay said.

The new academic year will begin with registration tomorrow for all freshmen and other new Day Session students in the Campus Center from 9 a.m. to noon and 1 to 2 p.m. Day Session sophomores will register Monday, Sept. 18, to noon. Monday, Sept. 18, for the Evening Session students will be held Tuesday and Wednesday, from 6 to 8 p.m.

A two-day freshman orientation program will open Wednesday at 9:30 a.m. in the theater of the Campus Center.

Classes for the Day Session begin Friday, Sept. 15, and on Monday, Sept. 18, for the Evening Session.

DR. MAC KAY SAID an enrollment of 1,500 is expected in the Day and Evening Sessions, including about 450 freshmen in the Day Session and 130 student nurses on Elizabeth and Park-Army General Hospitals, Newark Beth Israel Hospital, and Somerset Hospital, Somerville.

Dr. MacKay said about 600 Day Session students, 130 student nurses, and about 600 Evening Session students are expected to enroll. He said the Day Session freshman class of 450 students was selected from more than 2,000 applications processed.

The nursing program will be expanded with the addition of Newark Beth Israel Hospital and Somerset Hospital.

Dr. MacKay pointed out that expansion of the nursing program was made possible with the opening of a new all air-conditioned, electrically-heated Science Building. The structure, which was partially financed with a federal grant of $907,000, contains five science laboratories, two classrooms, a computer center, student research center, science resource center, 14 faculty offices, and two large lecture halls.

In addition to an expanded nursing program, the Science Building will enable Union College to gradually increase its fulltime Day Session enrollment to about 1,000 students and its overall enrollment to about 2,000, including larger enrollments in the engineering, physics, chemistry and biology programs. The new facilities also will enable Union College to continue its policy of requiring all students to take at least one science or mathematics course, including liberal arts and business administration majors.

AN 1130 COMPUTING SYSTEM costing $106,000 has been ordered for the Computer Center in the Science Building. It is scheduled for delivery later this month. The IBM computer will be used in Union College's engineering, science, and mathematics programs, and for administrative uses in the areas of admissions and academic records.

A computing system will enable Union College to elevate its academic program in engineering by offering programs in computer science, Prof. Elmer Wolf, chairman of the Engineering Department, said. He said a modern engineering program must include a basic background in computer technology.

Dr. MacKay said the computer also will be available to faculty members for their own research projects and to staff and faculty members for institutional research.

With the opening of the William Miller Sperry Observatory last spring, a new course, "Introductory Astronomy," will be offered this semester. The observatory will be used as the laboratory for the new course, which will be taught by Anthony Paone of Westfield, observatory director.

The observatory also will house a project "Operational Astronomy: The Earth and Beyond," of the Cranford public schools system financed under Title III of the federal Elementary and Secondary School Act. The project calls for bringing school children to the observatory for in-service training courses for elementary and secondary school teachers, and for courses for adults.

The modernized business administration curriculum will emphasize more mathematics and greater flexibility in electives, Dr. Iversen said. The revisions are based on a survey of requirements of colleges which accepted Union College students over the past ten years.

Prof. Raymond Boly, chairman of the Business Administration Department, said all business students will be required to take a full year course in college mathematics, which will be able to elect more liberal arts courses.

Art exhibit, demonstration this weekend at Echo Lake

An exhibit for junior members and sketching and water color demonstration will be presented by Academic Artists, Inc. on Saturday and Sunday, at the Pavilion Building in Echo Lake Park, Mountainside. Visitors are cordially invited to attend at no charge.

The junior exhibit, in which 85 members ages 8 through 17 are eligible to participate, will be open both days from 1 to 5 p.m. Mrs. Adelaide Johnson of Summit, chairman, said that work on display will include oil and water color paintings, drawings and sculpture. Many of the entries will be work accomplished in art classes sponsored by Academic Artists during the summer.

Serving on the committee with Mrs. Johnson are Mr. and Mrs. Harry Conay and Mrs. Philip Soppas of Rahway, Mrs. Laurence C. Holland of Cranford, Mrs. M. Mine of Westfield, and Mrs. Harold Stewart of Summit.

At 2:30 p.m. Sunday, Stephen Pivasky of Cranford will give a sketching and watercolor demonstration on the lawn adjacent to the Pavilion Building. Potasky, a prominent water color artist, attended Glendale College in California and the Art Students League in New York City. He is art supervisor for International Telephone and Telegraph Co. in Newark, a professional member of Academic Artists, Inc., and also a member of the New Jersey Water Color Society and the Cranford Creative Art Group. Among his recent honors were awards at the Westfield Art Association State Show and the Plainfield Outdoor Festival of Art. One of his paintings is now on a tour of the country with an exhibition entitled "21 Paint with Polymers," sponsored by the M. Grumbacher Co. of New York.

UC to orient 450 fresh Wednesday

Robert P. Bitunno of Cranford, director of Admissions Services at Rutgers State University, New Brunswick, will be guest speaker at a freshman orientation program next Wednesday, for 450 Day Session freshmen at Union College, Cranford, formerly Union Junior College.

Bitunno will speak on "Completing the Degree Program at Union College."

Other speakers at the morning session will include Dr. Kenneth C. MacKay, president, who will discuss the history, purpose and educational programs of Union College; Dr. Kenneth W. Iversen, dean, who will speak on what is expected of students academically, and Prof. Hermann J. Bielefeld, chairman of the humanities Department, who will outline the function of the faculty Academic Evaluation Committee.

Edwin Durand, director of the Campus Center, will show the film, "I Wish I Had Known That Before I Went to College."

At the afternoon session, the speakers will include Mrs. Paul W. Selby, financial aid officer; George P. Lyles, admissions director, and Anatole A. Colbert, counseling director. They will outline the functions of their offices and services available to students.

Representatives of the Day Session Student Council and the Inter-Collegiate Council will discuss what student activities are available and how freshmen can participate.

A picnic will be held at noon on the campus with the college as host.

Male nurse in training at Elizabeth General

Donald Schaap, of 989 South Springfield ave., Springfield, is the only male student nurse to enter the school of nursing at Elizabeth General Hospital this year. Schaap, a graduate of Union High School, holds a bachelor of arts degree in Education from Newark State College.

Schaap, who has worked as a teacher and served in the Air Force for five years as a hospital technician, said he feels there are more opportunities for specializing in nursing than in teaching, hospital officials said.

Area chorale sets first rehearsal date

The 75 member Summit Chorale will hold its first rehearsal of the new season this Monday at 8 p.m. at the YMCA in Summit. Persons interested in joining the group should write to Box 265 Summit, according to Mrs. Lionel Mosing of Springfield.

Mrs. Mosing said Mark Orton, currently on the faculty of the New York State University, will be conducting as he did last year. Orton has chosen Poulenc's Mass and "Motets for the Time and Pentecost" as the major works of the season. They will be given in concert in January.

Four named instructors

The appointment of four instructors to Union College's fulltime faculty for the 1967-68 academic year was announced this week by Dr. Kenneth C. MacKay, president.

They are: George F. Cronk of Paterson, social sciences; William R. Garret of Madison, psychology; Thomas J. Kehoe of Plainfield, social sciences, and Barry P. Suttell of Clark, business.

With the addition of the new instructors, Union College will have a fulltime faculty of 37 members, including four full professors, eight associate professors, 14 assistant professors, and 11 instructors.

All of the new instructors previously were members of Union College's part-time faculty, Dr. MacKay pointed out.

Are good looks enough to sell a new phone?

We're not banking on it. That's why the Trimline® phone is packed with practical new ideas—like pushbuttons that come to you.

The lighted Touch-Tone® pushbuttons are right in the palm of your hand when you pick up the phone. And just beneath them, another new idea: the recall button that lets you make a second call without first reaching to "hang up. Just press the recall button and you've got a dial tone.

You can put a Trimline phone in handy new locations—on the side of a kitchen cabinet or under a counter—because you don't need to see the base to dial. The buttons are in the handset. A new Trimline phone costs just pennies a day—and there's no extra charge for color. It's available in wall and table models, with either a standard dial or the new Touch-Tone pushbuttons that let you "dial" twice as fast. And the additional Touch-Tone charge covers all phones on your line.

Just call your Telephone Business Office to order the new Trimline phone. It's the only telephone ever to be selected for the permanent design collection in New York's Museum of Modern Art. Looks alone might not sell a new phone. But they sure don't hurt.
