New zoning bill goes to Township Committee

Change part of ordinance from 1st plan

Apartment zone stays beside S. Derby road

By ABNER GOLD
Springfield's new proposed zoning ordinance reached the hands of the Township Committee at its meeting Tuesday night at Town Hall. The proposed ordinance, a recodification of all local laws on the subject, is the result of more than a year of work by the Planning Board, highlighted by a tumultuous public hearing last spring when residents objected to several portions of the measure.

Two of the three major changes in the ordinance, as now proposed, represent concessions to the objections expressed by residents of Baltusrol Top and the Lakeland and Albert court areas. One other hotly debated portion, providing for a garden apartment zone, between S. Derby road and the highway commercial zone along Rt. 22, remains unchanged.

Mayor Arthur M. Falkin commented that the Township Committee should need approximately a month to study the ordinance before it is formally introduced. He acknowledged that this would postpone action on the measure until after election day, Nov. 7.

He stressed, however, that both he and Committee member Philip Del Vecchio are members of the Planning Board, which had recommended the new measure unanimously.

"Our actions in this matter represent no effort to hide anything," Mayor Falkin emphasized. "This action tonight opens the proposed ordinance to public view. We have never made any effort to conceal any actions of this administration."

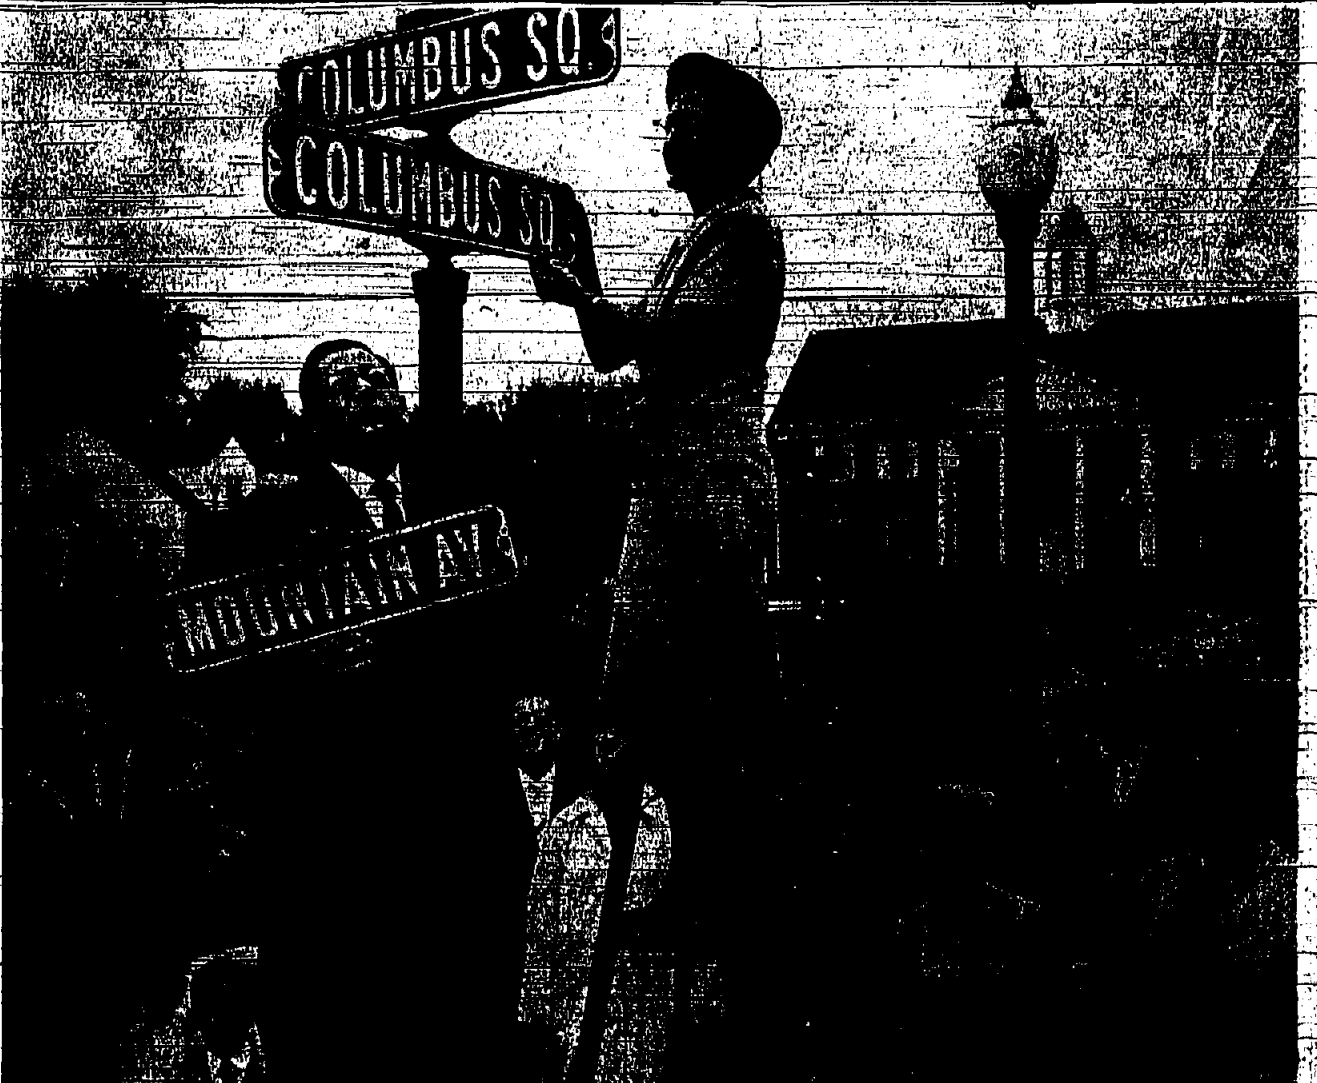

HE ADDED that copies of the ordinance, as revised since last spring, will be available for public perusal at the office of the township engineer in Town Hall, beginning on Monday. Falkin noted that details were not yet complete on how the copies will be made available.

Saying that there are 100 copies of the proposed measure, he suggested that citizens might be permitted to borrow them for no more than two weeks, so that all who are interested will have an opportunity to study the ordinance.

Two of the three major changes in the ordinance are directly related to protests voiced at the public meeting last spring.

The Houdell Quarry property, between Baltusrol Top and Stimples road, will remain in an S-120 residential zone (homes with 120-foot frontage), as in the present zoning map. The new ordinance had proposed an industrial zone.

MAX WEISS

Pick Vail, Weiss to lead divisions of United Fund

Jack Stifelman, general chairman of the 1967 Springfield United Fund drive, this week named Arthur Vail and Max Weiss as two of four division chairmen in charge of solicitation organization for the forthcoming campaign to raise $37,500 in support of 14 participating charitable and religious organizations serving local residents and families.

The four major divisions include industrial and employees, retail-commercial, advanced "Golden Gifts" and residential. All prospects will be assigned to one of the major campaign sections, Stifelman reported that the drive will be conducted during October and November. Each division will have approximately three weeks to organize and complete its assignments. Each division will kick off its phase of responsibility on a separate date. The United Fund campaign headquarters is located on the second floor of the National State Bank building at 237 Morris Ave.

Division chairmen named this week are Max Weiss, president of Lu-Max Manufacturing Company, 44 Brown Ave., as chairman of the industrial employees division, and Arthur Vail, assistant vice-president, National State Bank, Springfield, as chairman of the retail-commercial division.

Weiss is the immediate past president of the Springfield Rotary Club and is active in the Chamber of Commerce and in the First Presbyterian Church.

Weiss reported, "Plans are under way to make it possible for employees of local industry and business to support the United Fund through a payroll deduction. Many employees have given an hour's pay each month."

GOP statement reviews efforts on flood control

Mayor Arthur M. Falkin, Republican candidate for reelection to the Township Committee, which has long been active in seeking to bring flood control and relief to Springfield, this week called for the "election of my running mate, Henry J. Bultman, because of his special qualifications as an engineer, to assist in this program of flood control."

Mayor Falkin, who has been active in the battle to have the Rahway River dredged and widened by the U.S. Corps of Engineers so that its capacity to handle peak water levels would be increased, stated, "Federal action and our joint action with the surrounding municipalities would be needed to provide flood relief."

"We have succeeded in having the Highway Department widen the Rahway River north of Morris Avenue and re-check the banks of all streams running off Routes 78 and 24 in order to prevent overflow on adjoining lands during periods of peak flooding. We have also succeeded in having retention basins constructed in our town so that flooding would be diminished."

Mayor Falkin further stated, "I have also succeeded, through the good offices of our Congresswoman, Florence E. Dwyer, in applying for Federal assistance through HUD, for Federal funds which will allow us to perform an aerial topographic survey of the entire Springfield watershed area, as the first step in the solution of Springfield's perennial flood problems."

Democrats criticize tactics of opponents in local election

Both the tempo and the tone of the Township Committee campaign changed this week, according to the Democratic candidate, former Mayor Vincent J. Bonadies, and attorney Alvin K. Leonard, as they accused their Republican opponents of conducting a campaign of "deception and day-dreams."

"A certain amount of deceit and exaggeration is always expected of the Springfield Republican Committee," Bonadies stated, "and quite often they have demonstrated their tendency to lose contact with reality. However, in this election they have reached new heights, or depths, depending upon how one feels about ethical campaigning."

"The space provided here does not allow us to denounce and disprove every false claim of accomplishment our opponents have made," Leonard added. "However, a few simple facts will demonstrate clearly how they operate. As everyone knows, they consistently take credit for the creation of the Municipal Pool. It is a matter of record, and they know it, that the pool was conceived under the administration of Mayor Bonadies."

"They also would like the voters to believe that they are the champions of public safety. They fail to tell you that it was Mayor Bonadies who fought for and got the modern fire-fighting equipment, now in use. Prior to his administration, the safety of the citizens was in jeopardy. Thanks to his foresight, we now have one of the finest fire departments in the county. In their desperate attempt to 'cover up' the failures of the current administration, they have resorted to the oldest and lowest form of political deception—taking credit for the accomplishments of others," Leonard said.

"There is only one weapon we can use to combat such tactics," Bonadies declared, "and fortunately we have that weapon—the truth. Starting this week, we will distribute a series of 'White Papers' on every important issue of this campaign. In these papers, we will present facts, simply, clearly and concisely. We will also present our views on each issue in no-nonsense terms."

"Admittedly, we are forwarding our opponents of our campaign strategy. In essence, we are defying them to continue their deceptive practices in the light of the truth. We are certain that on election day, Nov. 7, the truth shall prevail," Bonadies concluded.

ERIC KRUEGER

Township student to speak Saturday on televised forum

Eric Krueger of 227 Lakeland Ave., Springfield, will be one of three students who will participate in a discussion of the topic "Democrat or Republican - Does it Matter?" on the World Youth Forum to be televised Saturday at 2:05 p.m. on Channel 2, WCBS.

Krueger competed with 24 students from the metropolitan area for the selection to take part. The program will consist of two segments. On the first, Krueger will speak for two minutes on the topic of the day, and then the other two contestants will question him on his remarks for two additional minutes. He will then be given four minutes to speak to the topic; the order of appearance will be chosen by lot at the time of the program.

During the second part of the show, Krueger will speak for two minutes on a question which will be put to all three contestants, and which will tell something of his personal interests, ideas and background. In this way, the judges and the audience will hear his ideas on the topic and will also learn something about him as a person.

Judging will be done by forum faculty advisors from a part of the metropolitan area.

Lutheran Church plans Reformation anniversary rites

Music and a movie will be featured this Sunday at Holy Cross Lutheran Church, Springfield, as part of the congregation's month-long commemoration of the 450th anniversary of the Reformation.

Both the 8:15 and 10:45 a.m. services will emphasize musical compositions from the Reformation era and the role of the congregation in hymn singing. The congregational hymns will be "Come, Holy Ghost, God and Lord," "We All Believe in One True God," a setting of the Nicene Creed, "Lord, Keep Us Steadfast in Thy Word," and "A Mighty Fortress Is Our God." Martin Luther wrote all four of these hymns.

The choir, under the direction of Mrs. James Dunleavy, will sing "Thy Kingdom Come, O God," "Jesus, Who Hast Ever Led Me," both by the Lutheran composer, Johann Sebastian Bach, and "I, Lord, Keep Us Steadfast in Thy Word," another composition of Luther. The sermon theme will be "We Sing as We Believe" and the sermon itself will have three divisions with each part explaining the message of two anthems and one hymn before each is sung.

At 5:30 p.m. in the congregation's fellowship hall, there will be a public showing of the feature-length motion picture, "Martin Luther." This is the same picture shown in theatres several years ago. In the year of its production, it received several Academy Award nominations, including one for best design. Admission to the showing at Holy Cross is free, and refreshments will follow.

Judge finds man in contempt after commotion in courtroom

Frank Wallace of 277 Mountain ave. was found in contempt of court by Judge Max Sherman following a commotion in Springfield Municipal Court on Monday night. The judge sentenced Wallace to 30 days in jail for contempt, but suspended all but one day.

Wallace also paid a $25 fine and posted a $100-60-day peace bond. The commotion reportedly began in the hall outside the courtroom while Wallace was awaiting a hearing on an assault and battery charge brought against him by his wife.

Wallace continued to make a disturbance after he entered the courtroom, the report continued, and Judge Sherman had him removed from the room. Springfield police then took Wallace to Overlook Hospital, where he was examined and reportedly given a sedative.

When he returned to court, Wallace continued to interrupt the judge and to make loud and lengthy speeches, according to court officials. Judge Sherman then imposed the contempt of court penalties. Wallace still faces the assault and battery charge.

GIs give holiday gift hints

"Something personal" from the loved ones at home topped the list of Christmas gifts preferred by servicemen overseas, according to a survey just completed by American Red Cross.

Russell Neide selected as dog show chairman

Russell W. Neide of Maplewood has been selected to be chairman of the all-breed show and obedience trial of the Sussex Hills Kennel Club on Saturday, Nov. 18, in the Morristown Armory, Jockey Hollow rd., Morristown.

Neide, an employee of the Irvington school system, has had more than 13 years' experience with pure-breed dogs and his "Edien" standard schnauzers have become well-known at shows.

He is a founder and past president of the Knickerbocker Standard Schnauzer Club, past president of the Standard Schnauzer Club, past president of the Sussex Hills Kennel Club, and member of the board of governors of the Sussex Hills group. Mrs. Neide will be hospitably chairman for the show.

workers serving with U.S. forces around the world.

Family snapshots and portraits, voice tapes, hometown newspapers, and many more letters were the most frequent gift suggestions made by servicemen in Europe, Korea, Japan, Vietnam, and at other military posts overseas.

Another timely tip for the folks back home, according to the Red Cross, was to use hometown newspapers as packing in holiday parcels to give the serviceman additional enjoyment as he catches up on the latest news from home.

Almost important as the gifts themselves is the need to mail them in sufficient time for delivery before Christmas Day, the Red Cross said. U. S. Post Office deadlines for overseas mailings are November 10, if by surface, or December 10, if by airmail. Many families mail their gifts a week or two in advance of these dates, it was pointed out.

Other gifts right on the list of preferred items included paperback books, magazines, small puzzles and tabletop games, stationery with self-sealing envelopes, brand name articles known as the serviceman's preference, and even extra money for leaves or purchase of small items from foreign countries.

Home-baked foods such as cake or cookies are always welcome, but such perishable gifts are usually not practical gifts for a serviceman in distant tropical areas like Southeast Asia. Individually wrapped hard-candy and cookies in metal containers may arrive unspilled, but even this is not certain; the Red Cross noted.

The Red Cross discovered that the average serviceman likes gifts with a touch of home because they are more personal and meaningful than luxury items which they can often buy themselves for less money in military post exchanges.

Family gifts should vary according to a man's military location. Depending on climate, socks, sweaters, and other articles of clothing will be welcome if the serviceman is in an area where he can wear civilian clothes when off duty.

The Red Cross followed closely the expressed wishes of American servicemen in its "Shop Early" program. Chapters and organizations throughout the United States have packed special gift bags with useful personal gifts and shipped them to Vietnam for Christmas holiday season delivery. More than $25,000 worth prepared enough for each serviceman in that country to receive an individual bag. Of these, 2,000 were specially filled with feminine articles for women serving in the armed forces there. Included in the gifts were many and varied popular items such as playing cards, ball-point pens, paperback books, writing paper, tapes for recorded messages, assorted games, and toilet articles.

New library gets priority as Union College project

A library building will probably be Union College's next major project on its 30-acre Cranford campus, it was reported this week by Dr. Kenneth C. Mackay, president.

"We are quickly running out of space for books in the Dr. Arthur L. Johnson Memorial Library and we long ago ran out of sufficient space for students," Dr. Mackay said. "We must have new library facilities in the near future if we are to maintain a quality level of instruction."

Dr. Mackay said the lack of library space will be temporarily relieved with the opening of a Science Resource Center in the new Science Building, which will be dedicated on Sunday. "Books and periodicals of a scientific and technical nature will be placed in the Science Resource Center," Prof. George P. Marks,

Ill. of Roselle Park, said. "Hopefully many of our engineering and science majors will make use of this area for research and study."

Prof. Marks heads a special faculty committee, which is now studying the need for additional library facilities. Serving on the committee with him are: Dr. Mackay, Dr. Kenneth W. Iversen, dean; Dr. Marcia Meyers of West Orange, a member of the Biology Department; and Prof. Mary Ann Rodas of Cranford, a member of the English Department.

"It is our intention to move quickly to determine what our long-range library needs are, so we can take advantage of federal assistance for a project of this magnitude," Dr. Mackay said. "A library of the size and scope we will need in the future will cost between one and two million dollars."

The Johnson Memorial Library is a part of Union College's original building opened in 1908. It contains about 30,000 volumes.

Epstein hits 'levity' about county annex building problems

Jerome Epstein, Republican candidate for Freeholder, this week "likened the incumbent Democrats' treatment of the county annex building to that of the U. S. Congress's recent attitude toward a rat control program."

"In both instances, Epstein said, "a serious matter affecting the public interest was treated with wise-cracking and levity at the most inopportune time."

Epstein remarked, "Mr. Cuchie, our Freeholder director, has distributed a ruler with the suggestion that it be used to measure the cracks in the walls of the annex building." "It may be a very witty and clever joke to some politicians," said Epstein, "but to the taxpayers of Union County who have millions of dollars invested in the structure, it is hardly funny."

"It might remind the citizens of our country that more than two years have passed since these faults were discovered and that $50,000 in consultation services have been expended by the Democratic-controlled board to rectify them with, as of yet, no result."

"While Mr. Cuchie sits and thinks of cute little campaign gimmicks to enhance his chances in re-election, the county annex building sits as a silent tribute to inept handling of public monies," Epstein charged.

Gridders will play at Gov. Livingston; Bulldogs defeated by Hillside eleven

By MYRON MEISEL

The Jonathan Dayton Regional High School football team will travel to Governor Livingston Regional High School of Berkeley Heights tomorrow afternoon at 2 with an 0-3 record, following a 19-13 loss to Hillside High School last Saturday.

"Berkeley Heights is a very strong ball club, especially on defense," commented head Bulldog grid coach Jim Horner. "They have a very good running back in Paul Goldstein, but they are also missing their regular quarterback, Tom Babrick, who is out with an injury."

"I don't want to make any predictions, but if we show any kind of effort, particularly like the second half of the Hillside game, it will be a close game," Berkeley is now 2-0-1, having defeated Scotch Plains, 6-0, and Hillside, 8-7, and tying Westfield, 7-7. Dayton played its best game yet against Hillside in the second half, following a weak opening half. The Bulldogs very nearly came back to win in the fourth quarter with fine offense and tight defense. Two serious defense let-downs, one with 10-seconds to go in the first-half, the other on a punt return, gave the game to the Comets.

"We have yet to play two halves of good football," commented Horner. "But we did very well in the second against Hillside. They did nothing offensively during that half, and we really were able to move the ball, using short passes and runs. We changed our game plan at half-time from a predominantly passing offense, and we were very successful."

"KEVIN KELLER played another great game, this time making 23 tackles. Back Steve Jupa was fine on both offense and defense. Nate Edelstein played well both ways, offensively as a split end for the first time, and defensively he did his job well. Ralph Losanno also did well at full-back on offense."

Dayton started out very sluggishly. For the third time this season, the Bulldogs lost the toss, and their opponents carried all the way on a touchdown. Hillside opened on its own 45 and went immediately for the first down. The Comets drove steadily for three more firsts to the Dayton 17, where star halfback Steve Alibrando ran around the left end to the Bulldog 3. The other Comet halfback leaped over the center for the score.

At the start of the second quarter the Comets again had the ball, this time on their own 35. Running both of their speedy halfbacks, the Comets roared to the Dayton 30, only to fumble. Ralph Losanno of the Bulldogs recovered.

Hillside regained possession on its own 17 and in 10 plays moved to the Dayton 27. Then the Bulldog defense toughened, punting, causing its blockers, cranked through the Comet line to throw back the quarter-

Shatten first in trouncing of Westfield Harriers face Summit, then New Providence

By MYRON MEISEL

The Jonathan Dayton Regional High School cross-country team scored a stunning victory last Wednesday afternoon over the traditional Watching Conference champions, Westfield High School, 19-36. The Bulldogs also defeated Roselle Park High School, 23-32, on Monday to bring their record to 4-0.

Dayton coached by Marcy Taglienti, will travel to Summit High School tomorrow and to New Providence High School on Tuesday. All meets start at 4.

The team captain, Ken Shatten, took over lead almost from the beginning against Westfield and swept to a first place time of 18:18. Senior Gary Vosburgh ran a strong second and the big surprise was the third place showing of freshman Norm Reinhardt. Sophomore Mark George and senior Alan Torres finished fifth and eighth, respectively, to sound off the Bulldogs' showing.

Shatten finished on top for his fourth successive first place against Roselle Park, and Vosburgh once again finished second. Reinhardt scored a fourth. Ken Hall, the other freshman on the squad, ran seventh, and Marcy Joseph, back after a two-week absence, finished ninth.

Westfield, which has been Watching Conference champion for the last three years, since before cross-country was even a varsity sport at Dayton, may well look to its laurels this season.
