School board to change meeting date - next September

YES plans fund drive, 'tag week' Service adopts slogan to stimulate awareness

The Springfield Youth Employment Service will combine its annual fund-raising drive this year with a "tag week" and a YES commemorative week, from Monday, April 15, through Saturday, April 20.

The plans were discussed and formulated at a combined board of directors' and volunteers' meeting which took place this week with Mrs. Saul Black, YES chairman, presiding. Other officers and members of YES who participated at the meeting were Mrs. Max Fruchter, secretary; Mrs. Felix Gold, publicity chairman; Mrs. Robert Hardgrove; Mrs. Henry Haberberg; Mrs. Joseph Klein, volunteer chairman; Mrs. Clifford Schwartz, supervisor; Mrs. Merril Shafman and Mrs. Lou Spigel.

In an effort to stimulate the township's awareness of the YES program, Mrs. Black announced that the organization will adopt, as its slogan for the week-long fund drive, "Get to Know What YES Is."

The series of activities that is being planned will be offered in an attempt to focus the attention of local business people, youth and parents on the cooperation that is vital to an organization such as this one, she added.

As has been done, since the inception of the Youth Employment Service in Springfield, the annual fund-raising drive will be made to Springfield businesses, industries and service groups. In addition, Mrs. Schwartz, tag week chairman, has announced that students who are registered with YES will be stationed with canvassers in local stores. The money the students collect, in addition to the contributions in response to solicitations, will aid YES in meeting its yearly operating expenses.

It was also announced that Mrs. Klein will serve as volunteer chairman. She urged that any adult interested in volunteering his or her services to the YES program call her at 379-3485. She said that there are openings for full-time workers or alternates.

The volunteers who are on a full-time basis work in the YES office in the Municipal Building one afternoon a week, or once every other week, for two-and-a-half hours. It is often possible to choose the day one wishes to be of service in the office. The workers who are on an alternate basis are requested to volunteer their time when a regular volunteer cannot go to the office.

The Youth Employment Service office is open Monday through Friday, from 2 to 4:30 p.m., and volunteers are there to accept student registrations and calls from prospective employers. The telephone number is 379-2567. There will be no office hours today, (Washington's Birthday).

Mrs. Black concluded, "remember—get to know what YES is!"

Bloodmobile slated to visit Springfield; urge appointments

The Springfield Chapter of the American Red Cross will hold its next semi-annual bloodmobile visit on Thursday, March 21, at Temple Shalom, between the hours of 1 and 6:30 p.m. The chairman of the participating donor groups have been contacted, and members were urged to make appointments through their donor groups and chairman including Joint PTA's, Mrs. Harry Kaye, St. James Church; Mrs. Edward Kaye, Presbyterian Church; Mrs. Tom Goddes, Temple Shalom; Mrs. Charles Danziger, and Temple Beth Ahim, Wilkes-Cullen.

Credits accumulated at the March 1967 Bloodmobile have been exhausted, and must be replenished in order to continue meeting the needs of the groups, according to a Red Cross spokesman.

Individual persons not members of any of the groups may donate to the Springfield Community Group. This will assure them and their families of blood credits in case of need for blood, according to Mrs. Daniel Kalen, chairman. By donating into this group, they will also help to assure blood-credits for those other persons in the township who are not affiliated with donor groups and who have no family members who can donate blood for them, Mrs. Kalen said.

Those wishing to make an appointment, or any organization interested in forming a new donor group may obtain information by calling the local Red Cross Chapter at 376-1676, or the blood program chairman at 376-0582.

Legion to hold dinner

Continental Post 228, American Legion, will hold its second annual spaghetti dinner at the Springfield Post Home from 4 to 7 p.m. Sunday.

Canvass of homes Sunday to climax Heart Fund drive

The month-long 1968 Heart Fund campaign will reach its high point Sunday, when Heart Sunday volunteers commence a canvass of residences in Springfield. It was announced this week by Scott Donington, chairman. It is anticipated that all residential visits will be completed and that kits will be turned in not later than Feb. 29.

The residential canvass will augment the total already collected in the February campaign, which is being conducted to support and expand research, education and community service programs of the Union County Heart Association. It is part of the American Heart Association, the only national voluntary health agency devoted exclusively to combating diseases of the heart and bloodvessels.

During the past year these diseases were responsible for 2,136 of the deaths in Union County, while in the nation they account for approximately 54 percent of all deaths each year.

Each heart volunteer will call at the homes of 50 to 100 neighbors, distributing helpful information about heart diseases and requesting contributions for the Heart Fund, said Donington.

Emphasizing the uniqueness of the cause, Donington pointed out that Heart Fund contributions go to fight a vast complex of diseases, among them heart attack, stroke, hardening of the arteries, high blood pressure, rheumatic fever and inborn heart defects.

He urged Springfield residents to be generous when the Heart Sunday volunteer calls.

In case of inclement weather, the Heart Sunday canvass will be postponed until the following Sunday.

Church unity set as topic for panel

A dialogue on church unity will be featured at the meeting of the Westminster Fellowship of the Springfield Presbyterian Church on Sunday evening, at 7:30 in the Presbyterian Parish House.

The Rev. Richard M. Nardone of St. James Roman Catholic Church, the Rev. James Dewart of Springfield Emanuel Methodist Church, the Rev. Kenneth J. Stumpf of Holy Cross Lutheran Church and the Rev. Bruce W. Evans of the Presbyterian Church will serve as a panel to discuss "Church Unity—Whether It Is Fact or Fantasy." The Rev. Joseph T. Hourani, assistant minister of the Presbyterian Church, will serve as moderator of the panel.

An invitation has been extended to all the youth groups of the participating churches to attend this meeting and take part in the question and answer period which will follow the panel discussion. Refreshments and an informal social hour will follow the program.

Dispute arises on voting over Anderson contract

By ABNER GOLD

The Springfield Board of Education, at its annual organization meeting Monday at the James Caldwell School, voted to change its regular meeting night from the third Tuesday of the month to the third Monday — but not to put the change into effect until September. The latter part of the meeting featured a heated discussion between Robert T. Southward, who was reelected as board president, and Mrs. Sonya Dorsky, over the approval voted by the board for a contract for next year with Joseph Anderson, assistant superintendent of schools.

Mrs. Dorsky, who was reelected to the board last week, had discussed her opposition to the reappointment of Anderson in her remarks at the Candidates' Night program before the election. The motion to employ Anderson for another year was suggested by Southward on Monday after Mrs. Dorsky had left the meeting on a personal matter.

Seymour Margulies and Mrs. Ruth Weisman urged a delay on the motion. They cited Mrs. Dorsky's opposition and urged that a vote be delayed until she could take part.

John O. Berwick, superintendent of schools, stated that the matter had been discussed extensively in committee. He added, "In all fairness, we should notify staff members before March 1," so they can make plans for next year.

Southward commented that the decision "could be postponed indefinitely."

Margulies said that Mrs. Dorsky should have been told the matter would come up for a vote, before she left the meeting.

Before taking the vote, Southward said, "I regret very much that Mrs. Dorsky found it necessary to leave."

The vote to hire Anderson for another year — a step which gives him tenure in the job — came by a margin of five to two, in favor of Southward, Robert Johnson, John Gacos, Carlo Casale and August Caprio. Margulies and Mrs. Weisman were opposed. James Adams, participating in his first meeting as a board member, abstained.

WHEN MRS. DORSKY returned to the meeting, some 30 minutes later, she immediately attacked the vote on several grounds.

She said that a motion on employment of a senior administrator should have come from her, as chairman of the school government committee. Since it did not, she stated, the vote was out of order.

Mrs. Dorsky also read from the school board's by-laws to support her contention that voting on administrators' contracts is scheduled for the March meeting, not for February, and was out of order for that reason, also.

Southward said that he would refer the problem to the board attorney, Howard P. Casselman, for a ruling.

Continuing the discussion, Mrs. Dorsky declared, "This was not a motion, but a railroad." She recalled the "tremendous disapproval by certain members of the board" of Anderson's performance in his job.

"She said that she suspected the action was 'hostile taken' after her departure. 'I fear I would have the opportunity to express my opinions,' she also stated. 'I have a list at home of 20 questions to bring up on the Anderson contract. I will read them at the next board meeting.'"

Caprio favored the discussion to object to several of Mrs. Dorsky's comments. He stated, "We should respect our superintendent, who has recommended a new contract. We hire the superintendent to run the school system."

Mrs. Dorsky replied, "The board's function is to evaluate top administrators. I have listened to committee reports from this gentleman's office. I would be a fool not to question."

THE MOTION TO CHANGE the meeting date, but not until September was offered by Caprio, who termed it a compromise between divergent views on the board. A change had been requested by the Springfield PTA Council and others in the community to end the present conflict in meetings between those of the local school board and the regional high school board.

The major obstacle had been statements by at least one board member that he had arranged his business schedule to conform to Tuesday meeting nights, and that a change would cause a hardship for him.

Caprio said that delaying the change until

Methodist Church returns 2 trustees, elects Gleitsmann

Springfield Emanuel Methodist Church, in annual meeting last Thursday, re-elected Friedrich Klein and William Rossett as trustees for a three-year term and elected Joseph Gleitsmann to his first term in the class of 1971.

Re-elected to commission chairmanships were William Rossett, membership and evangelism; Joseph Barnett, mission; Norman Banner, stewardship and finance, and the Pastor James Dewart, worship.

Pastor Dewart expressed appreciation in his report for the "singular achievements of 1967" and for all those persons who gave willingly of their time and abilities to make the advancements possible, including the purchase of the new parsonage for Christian education.

The Rev. George Watt Jr., superintendent of the Southern District of the Northern New Jersey Annual Conference of the Methodist Church, presided at the session, which was concluded with a social hour hosted by the Women's Society of Christian Service.

Realtors form company to effect home trade-ins

"Why can't we trade in our house just as we trade in our car?" Homeowners who have long asked themselves this question will be glad to know that such an arrangement is now possible, local realtors report.

A homeowner can now trade in his present home on a newer, larger or smaller one just as he is accustomed to doing with his automobile, according to Peter J. Degan, president of the newly-formed Residential Trade-

In Corporation. The corporation has been formed, after "well over a year" in planning, by a group of members of the Board of Realtors of the Oranges and Maplewood, including Livingston, Millburn, Short Hills and Springfield.

"The concept is the same as in the automobile business," says Degan. "The home trade-in gives a home buyer the same security, relieving him of any anxiety as to whether or not he will be able to sell his old house in time to close title on his new home, plus the added advantage that he will have the opportunity to have his home sold at the highest possible price the market will buy," he said.

In the event the home is not sold in a stipulated time, the corporation will buy it at an agreed price. The risk of owning two homes at the same time is thus eliminated and the necessary cash for the newly purchased home readily available.

While a few individual real estate firms have initiated such plans of their own, the newly-formed group believes theirs to be the first extensive trade-in plan in the Metropolitan area. Members of the Board of Realtors of the Oranges and Maplewood have been given information on the plan, Degan added. Eventually it will be offered to builders and brokers outside the area.

The plan, according to Degan works like this: "1) When buying a new home, the buyer will sign the usual agreement containing an additional provision that the sale is subject to a satisfactory trade-in agreement on his present home.

"2) The present house is appraised by qualified appraisers.

"3) A trade-in price is offered based on a fair market value less reasonable deduction for costs assumed by the corporation in holding and re-selling the property. A fee is charged at this time for the agreement.

"4) The owner lists his home for sale with a local realtor.

"5) If it is not sold in 90 days, the corporation takes title at the agreed price."

The course is designed for beginners to build a firm foundation in the fundamentals—point-count bidding, defensive bidding and play-hands according to the Goren system.

Social dancing instruction, including all of the basic steps and rhythms of ballroom dancing, and some modern dances of today, will be offered on Thursdays at 8 p.m.

Guitar, taught by Arthur Silver on Friday evenings, 8-9 p.m., will be a basic course emphasizing chords and their relationship to each other and to the melody, designed to teach the student to accompany starting with the first lesson.

Physical skill courses include slimgic for women, which offers individual exercises set to music and group recreation to improve posture, relax nerves, and tone up the body. Y staff member Pat Reed conducts the Wednesday evening class, 7:30-8:30 p.m.

Adult learn-to-swim class will be conducted by John Bennett, Y aquatic director, on Thursdays 8:30-9:30 p.m. Golf instruction by Jimmy Farrell, professional at Warrenbrook Country Club, will be offered on Fridays, 9-10 p.m. Tennis will be taught in a five-week session on Fridays, 7-9 p.m., by Ann Leach of the Mimisick Club in Chatham. Fencing for beginners and advanced students will be conducted by William Kauer on Thursdays, 8-9 p.m.

Taking part in campaign

J. Norwood Van Ness and Arthur L. Wells Jr., prescription opticians of 248 Morris Ave., Springfield, are participating in an educational program of the Guild of Prescription Opticians of America to "impress upon the public the benefits of corrective lenses."

The need for this program is substantiated by the number of preventable eye injuries suffered annually by men, women and children at home, work, school and play. Van Ness said, "These injuries are often due to the lack of adequate eye protection."

Almost 500,000 people suffer eye injuries each year with over 40 percent of them occurring in the home. Of this number, 161,500 occur to children of school age. Another 1,000 eye accidents occur each working day in American industry, and it is estimated that 90 percent of all these eye injuries could be prevented.

How to make the scene a little better at Dayton

Plans for renovation of Jonathan Dayton Regional High School, soon to be presented to the voters, are all right as far as they go, but we could suggest several additions.

For example, the home economics department should include a smoking lounge, so the young ladies could learn to conduct pot luck parties.

This department should also offer more instruction specifically geared to modern socio-economic conditions. Our girls should learn more about domestic management, such as techniques for having their husbands get up to cook the family breakfast.

Another valuable skill is knowing just how, and when, to forget to remove a $49.98 price tag from the inside of a $10.98 jacket.

Our gym facilities, we might point out, should undoubtedly include a steam room, since this is the way all too many of our young gentlemen will get their exercise after graduation.

All classrooms, we feel, should be equipped with phonographs. They don't have to be particularly good in quality—just loud. After all, this is how the coming generation generates its study habits.

Foreign languages, according to the latest research, should have facilities for teaching percentages in the vernacular. In other words, why learn French if we can't figure out the Great Society's taxable share of every subjective clause.

The mathematics department must, without question, have its own computer. In an era when one loses social status for adding two numbers with pencil and paper, our young scholars would do better to learn how to repair a digital computer with chewing gum and paper clips.

Facilities for chemistry and physics should include a room with a pentagram on the floor and a crystal ball on the table.

This way, students will learn to insure that their laboratory results are always correct, thus saving a great deal of trouble and reducing the risk of really learning anything.

Each English room should certainly be provided with a large, unabridged thesaurus of Anglo-Saxon monosyllables, a pre-requisite to any understanding of modern literature.

All English rooms, we might add, could well be located in the basement, to help students grasp the essence of underground writings.

All history rooms must, of course, include a large slate and an ample supply of chalk for each student. With the state of the world as it is, anything more permanent would be impractical for the social sciences.

Absolutely vital for the modern secondary school is a hyperbaric rest room for the faculty. Here, teachers can refresh themselves in the high oxygen content of the atmosphere, before returning to deal with students who are often blessed with a surplus of nitrogen, which is an inert gas.

Turning for a moment from the serious world of education to the occasionally incongruous realm of school boards and referenda, we tend to agree that the new expansion program is necessary to any improvement of educational opportunities on the local scene.

The problem, as any modern literary sophisticate can point out, is not how to make the scene, but how to make the scene a little better.

Straight From the Heart

U.S. Congresswoman FLORENCE P. DWYER Reports

The character and quality not only of the national government, including Congress, but of life for all of us in these United States may well be determined by what is done on two fronts during 1968:

First, in reevaluating our position in Asia as a result (a) of the devastating communist offensive in the cities of South Vietnam and the approaching massive confrontation at the key frontier post of Kienam and (b) of the growing crisis in Korea following the capture of the intelligence ship, USS Pueblo, and

Second, in deciding how far to go in the effort to make the Federal establishment, with its bureaucratic nightmare of inter-agency overlapping, program red tape, and inter-governmental conflict, function more effectively and efficiently — that is, produce greater results at lower cost.

The two are more closely related than one might at first suppose. The most immediate link is money — (1) the money ($25 billion or so) which the war in Vietnam is costing each year, (2) the money which we don't have as a result of the Vietnam drain on our resources but which is badly needed to finance at adequate levels those key programs aimed at restoring peace and hope to deteriorating cities and new opportunity to the poor and disadvantaged, and (3) the money which we do have and which we must stretch through a concentrated "More For Your Money Program" to cover more of our needs in housing, education, jobs, and the like. Between these two fronts, we have the major issues of this second session of the 90th Congress: Taxes, balance of payments, budget deficits, and spending. For at every turn, we are squeezed between legitimate demands for more funds and the critical need to restrain spending.

DEEP DIVISIONS
But Vietnam and governmental efficiency are related on other levels, too, the most basic of which involves the respect and loyalty of individual citizens toward their government — the human cement that holds our system together.

Our failures at home and abroad and the violence these failures have wrought on city streets and foreign battlefields have divided our people deeply. This crisis of confidence can only be prolonged at the gravest risk to all we cherish. While there is plenty of blame to go around, there is not time left to distribute it. Only by mobilizing the energies, imagination, and sense of public responsibility of all concerned can we reverse the present trend. And Congress leadership is especially important in this regard.

Though congressional jurisdiction in foreign policy is limited, this fact lends even greater importance to the things Congress can do. At the very least, we should, first, insist on better information and straighter answers from the Administration on the setback in Vietnam and the danger in Korea and, second, undertake our own reassessment of where we stand in Asia along the lines of a resolution several of us introduced last September. The Risk-McNamara-Goldberg contradictions on Korea illustrate the need.

As just one concerned citizen in Congress and without access to the intelligence gathered by the Administration — it seems to me essential that Congress explore in depth such questions as these:

(1) How widely can we spread our military power around the world without either (a) diluting it so thinly as to be ineffective, or (b) straining our economy so severely as to invite collapse?

PROFILE -- Lt. Robert Taaffe

By BEA SMITH
Lt. Robert Taaffe, head of the Springfield detective bureau, located at Townfall, started out as an embalmer for a funeral home and ended up as a police officer.

The amiable, serious-faced Taaffe, explains that after high school graduation and several miscellaneous jobs, he had decided to go into embalming, and worked for a time as an ambulance driver then as an apprentice embalmer for Smith and Smith Funeral Home.

"But then I found it all kind of depressing," he says, "so I got out of it."

Born in Brooklyn, Taaffe came to Newark when he was in his teens. He was graduated from Barringer Evening High School and worked for various firms including an insurance company.

"Then on May 15, 1952, I decided to become a policeman. I had thought about this type of work quite seriously, and saw advancement and security in it. So, I started in 1952 as a patrolman. I was a patrolman until January of 1959, when I was appointed as a detective to the bureau. This was when the bureau was actually started. I remained here until I became lieutenant in October of last year. Then I took over the operation of the bureau."

LT. ROBERT TAAFFE

AMONG HIS DUTIES, Lt. Taaffe says, are making assignments of work to the men, taking charge of the administrative work and taking part in the activities. "I conduct investigations, go on them myself frequently."

Lt. Taaffe explains that he has two excellent men in his bureau who work under his direction. They are Detective Samuel Calabrese and Plainclothesman Howard Thompson. "I find that I am helped a great deal by these two excellent men. I like to consider them my partners. I really appreciate their help."

"The work load is increasing all of the time," says Taaffe. "We are very busy. In fact, it has quickly reached a point where we'll be needing a working shift for weekends, and we will need at least another man to do that."

The most frequent crimes in Springfield, indicates the lieutenant, are "break and entry and larceny. Also assault and battery and violent crimes have increased."

Lt. Taaffe says he believes that the increase comes not from Springfield itself, but from the town due in part at least to people from outside of town. They use the parkway and Rt. 22 to come in and to get away.

"Actually," he says, "we've been very fortunate here in Springfield regarding our youngsters. There has been very little juvenile delinquency for the size of the town. We are very fortunate to have such a good group of youngsters in Springfield."

"WE DO HAVE some narcotic situations in town, but they're mostly confined to marijuana among the young people. We are trying to eliminate these situations by working with DARE, a rehabilitation center, and through them and the State Narcotic Association, some program will be worked up to educate the kids. Education will be our biggest weapon against narcotics in the future."

Taaffe, who is married to the former Jacqueline Burke of Newark, lives with his family in Springfield. "My wife is a nurse."

We were engaged here in the United States, and later met overseas during our service years and got married there.

The Taaffes have three daughters, Lynne Schade, who is married and lives in Springfield with her husband and their two children; Jane, "a working girl" and Marie, who attends the Florence Gaudineer School. "Jane and Marie live at home with us."

How does Mrs. Taaffe feel about her husband's position as a police officer?

"Well," he chuckles, "over the years she's gotten used to my being a policeman. She accepts it with grace. She's been very cooperative and goes along with the various situations and odd hours. She's been a big help to me in doing the work I have to do. What I mean is, there have been many inconveniences to her because of my work, and she has always been very cooperative. She is very willing to cope with the situations; she goes along with me in every way she can."

The lieutenant, who has graduated from such schools as photography and fingerprinting school, investigation school, Federal Bureau of Narcotics School and drunkometer and breathalyzer schools, says, "He doesn't have much time to belong to social organizations. I am a member of St. James Church, here, and I used to belong to its organizations, but because I've been working nights, I was prevented from attending meetings. So I had to drop out of the church club."

He is a member of the P.E.A. and one of his hobbies ("when I can find time") is photography. "I also like to paint pictures," he grins. "The easy way, of course—the paint-by-number sort of thing. When you take the time with them, some of those pictures really come out great. It's a time-consuming hobby."

Springfield Public Library reports on newest books for local readers

By EVA P. BROWN
The Springfield Public Library includes the following titles on their list of new books:

LAW AND THE LAYMAN
"How to Collect on Personal Injuries," by Robert Allen Farmer. One of the "Know Your Law" series which covers personal injuries and the automobile, personal injuries and the consumer, the employee, the home and the government. In fact, what everyone should know about the law of liability.

"Rights of the Mentally Ill," by Robert Allen Farmer. Another title in the "Know Your Law" series, concerning mental illness and mental retardation. Hospitalization, incompetency, business, family and property effects are some of the subjects covered in this layman's guide to the legal rights of the patients and their families.

PSYCHOANALYTIC THEORY
"The Mind," by Lucy Freeman. This book is subtitled, "12 Studies in the Unconscious." These are original case histories, by pioneers in psychoanalytic theory, which have been carefully selected by the author. Each one offers some particular contribution to psychoanalytic knowledge with a lucid explanatory comment.

ARTS AND CRAFTS
"Sculpture from Junk," by Henry Roarum and Art Crane. A book which inspires the creative imagination of children and adults. Junk sculpture provides self-expression with a minimum of tools and an almost limitless supply of free materials. This book covers the subjects of whittling, mosaics, jewelry, collage, mobiles and many more. Its many pages of illustrations include the work of students, professionals and celebrated masters.

"Violence Calls: Make-In-Yourself Boutique," Here are step-by-step, clearly illustrated instructions for dresses, skirts, suits and coats that you can cut, so the book claims, without a pattern and sew in no time at all even if you have never sewn a stitch in your life. Fifteen basic styles are shown, and a glossary explains every term in the instructions.

JUVENILE
"The Great Brain," by John D. Fitzgerald. The author has created a moving, even hilarious, story of very real people, set against the background of Mormon Utah, some 70 years ago. Two brothers are the young protagonists who think up ingenious schemes and find themselves in unlikely situations. The pen-and-ink drawings by Mercer Mayer are both artistic and unusual.

"The Covered Bridge," by Anteo Surany. A touching story of children's love for an old bridge and of their attempt to save it from being replaced by steel and concrete. Clever illustrations in black and white.

"The Lollipop Princess," by Eleanor Estes. A play for paper dolls in one act that should bring a breath of fresh air to the world of children. Written by the author of "The Story of the White House," is a play, both at home and abroad.

Wall Street Notebook

By ARTHUR POLLACK
What about the investor whose principal concern is with income, rather than capital gains prospects?

First let's consider the question in the light of what Walter Auch (Faine Webber's partner in charge of our Marketing Division) refers to as "keepin' money." By keepin' money, Auch means after-tax money.

There is a strong likelihood that federal income taxes this year will be higher. (The House Ways and Means Committee recommended on Jan. 22 to reconsider the President's request for a 10 percent income tax surcharge.)

In addition, state income taxes—generally on an upward, Governor Rockefeller of New York has proposed a 20 percent surcharge on New York State income taxes, and New York's Mayor Lindsay has spoken of the increasing gap between city revenues and city expenditures. Thus, higher New York City income taxes are also a likely prospect.

In view of all of this—I believe it is time for more income-oriented investors to consider the distinct advantages of taxfree securities. Specifically, of course, I'm talking about municipal bonds.

Interest paid to holders of municipal obligations is exempt from federal income taxes. For an investor in the 50 percent income bracket, a four percent municipal obligation yields an effective rate of eight percent. Hence the obvious attractiveness of municipal obligations to income-oriented investors (especially those in higher tax brackets).

Henry Arbeny (national manager of Faine Webber's municipal bond department) suggests—as an example of currently attractive "munis"—the scheduled sale on January 24 of $14-million New York City general obligation bonds. These bonds are rated Baa by Moody's. Yields available on the larger serial bonds should approach five percent.

KNOW YOUR GOVERNMENT

From N.J. Taxpayers Association
Reorganization and realignment of Bergen County government to gear it to modern day needs and better serve the 70 municipalities and 900,000 people of the area are among objectives outlined in a report to the Bergen County Charter Study Committee following a study by a professional consulting firm. Problems discussed reflect in some degree those of county government throughout the state, points out the New Jersey Taxpayers Association.

Among organizational changes, the report proposed the Board of Freeholders drop administrative functions and become a true legislative body with full responsibility for all aspects of county government. Day-to-day administrative operations would be the responsibility of a greatly strengthened county administrator appointed by the freeholders.

Pointing to a "present jumbled pattern of operations" involving 40 county agencies, the report describes this as "the normal consequence of a process of accretion in growth over many decades without rational planning" and declares: "It is clear that Bergen County's present organization is neither geared to standards of effectiveness, nor prepared to cope with the broader and more insistent problems of urbanization."

The study recommends 13 departments to replace the 40 county agencies. This would permit realignment and consolidation of some now widely divorced functions into such channels as education, judicial services, social services, county development and finance.

The professional study has been summarized and released for public discussion prior to preparation of the advisory report of the Bergen County Charter Study Committee for submission to the Board of Freeholders. Any special county charter proposal by the Board would require approval by the State Legislature before it could be submitted to the people of Bergen County in referendum.

YOUNG RATS that enjoy an "intellectually enriched" environment grow bigger and better brains, a University of California researcher reports. He said "convincing differences were found between rats raised in isolated, barren cages and those provided 'the best, most expensive education available to any young rat at the pre-Reagan University of California.'" While both groups received identical care, the psychologically enriched rats lived together in a large cage provided with tunnels, ladders and levers. All rats were sacrificed after about three months and those in the privileged group were found to have a heavier cortex, better blood supply, larger brain cells and more active brain enzymes.

ARGON PRODUCTION is rising rapidly, reports Chemtron Corporation, Chicago. Last year the U.S. produced about 1.9 billion cubic feet of the gas, and by 1975 the total will reach 3.5 billion cubic feet, the company said. The welding industry, which uses it as a shielding gas, is the largest consumer of the gas, accounting for about 75 percent of all sales. Other applications of argon as a protective atmosphere account for about 10 percent; the electronics industry uses about 15 percent of the argon marketed.

GLUBI! The world's seas would rise about 250 feet if all the ice located in Antarctica melted.

Dayton moves to leave Watchung Conference

Rival schools have larger enrollments to compose squads

A request for Jonathan Dayton Regional High School, Springfield, to withdraw its athletic teams from participation in the Watchung Conference was presented by Dr. Warren M. Davis, regional superintendent of schools, to the Regional Board of Education at its meeting Tuesday night at Dayton.

He noted that the request came from Robert La Vantage, principal at Dayton, with the support of Herbert Palmer, athletic director. Dr. Davis added: "The athletic department foresees no difficulty in scheduling games as an independent unit until such time as it is able to enter a conference of schools of similar size."

Dayton has been a member of the Watchung Conference for some five of the 11 years the conference has been in operation. Particularly since Kenilworth students were transferred from Dayton at the start of last year with the opening of David Brainerd Regional High School in Kenilworth, the local school has been by far the smallest in the conference.

Dayton this year has approximately 270 students, boys and girls, in the senior class. Approximate figures for the number of seniors in each of the other member schools are: Gov. Livingston Regional, Berkeley Heights, 400; A. L. Johnson Regional, Clark, 370; Cranford, 474; Hillsdale, 374; Rahway, 412; Scotch Plains, 432; and Westfield, 599.

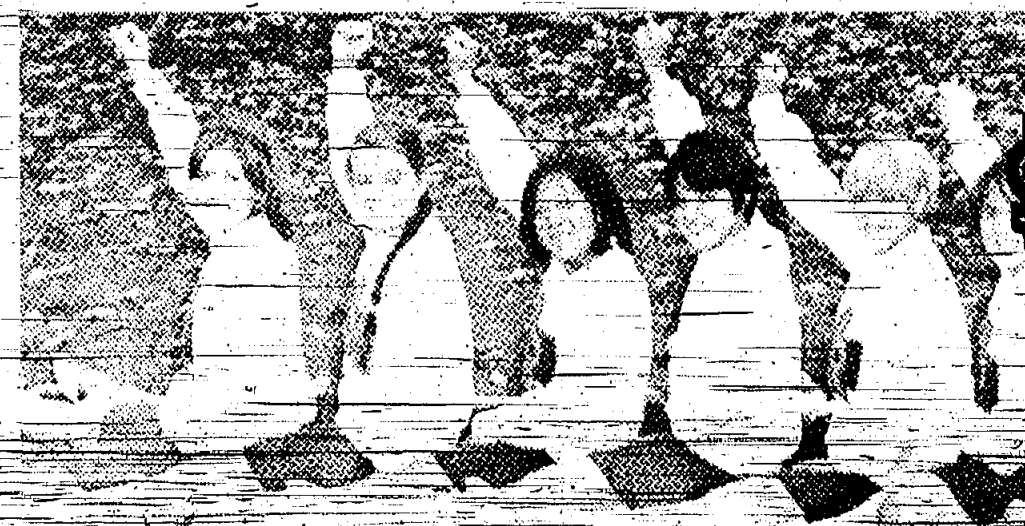

TWO OTHER SCHOOLS have previously withdrawn from the conference because they felt that they lacked in numbers to compete with the larger schools, particularly in football where as many as 30 players are needed for a successful team.

They are Roselle Park High School and Abraham Clark High School of Roselle, both now members in the Garden State Conference, composed of schools that approximate the size of Dayton, ranging geographically from Cliffside Park in East Orange to several in Monmouth County.

Following approval by the regional board, Dr. Davis commented, the Dayton resignation must be accepted by conference officials. There will be no visible effect next year, he added, since the school has scheduling commitments which must be met. Dr. Davis predicted that Dayton will need at least two to four years to work out all its commitments.

Another factor in the Union County athletic alignment, now under study by a group headed by Dr. William West, county superintendent of schools, has been a desire for a county large-school conference.

The five largest schools in the county are

Springfield youngsters raised a record total of $1,725 for UNICEF with their "Tuck or Treat" campaign on Wednesday, according to figures released this week by the local UNICEF committee.

Mrs. Silver declared, "The UNICEF committee would like to express its most sincere gratitude to all adults who gave so

Overlook planning for diseases of lung

The young mother who learns that her new baby is a "blue baby" can take heart today, thanks to delicate new techniques of the cardiopulmonary laboratory, according to reports released this week by the local UNICEF committee.

With intricate instruments made possible by modern technology, the baby's blood oxygen content can be monitored, the seriousness of its condition evaluated, congenital defects determined, and, if necessary, corrected by heart surgery at a carefully determined stage in the child's development.

Or the college boy, ailing from a difficult lung-related condition, can find relief with a new cardiopulmonary laboratory at Overlook Hospital -- one of the major goals of the Overlook Hospital 1967 campaign, which was launched this week with a community-wide mailing to residents in towns served by the hospital.

Hours for holiday

The Springfield Youth Employment Service office in Town Hall will be closed on Thanksgiving Day and also on Friday, it was announced this week. The YES office will resume its regular schedule on Monday.

Meeting set for Dec. 14 to give data

Mountainside freshmen to spend year at Dayton

The Regional High School Board of Education will hold a public meeting on Thursday, Dec. 14, at 8 p.m. at Jonathan Dayton Regional High School, Springfield, to "announce our distribution of students and our long-range expansion plan," Avery Ward of Kenilworth, board president, disclosed at the regular board meeting Tuesday night at Dayton.

"Basically," he added, "Mountainside freshmen attending in 1968, 1969, and 1970 will attend at Jonathan Dayton. They will spend their first three years at Gov. Livingston Regional High School in Kenilworth. In other words, they will be at Dayton for one year and at Gov. Livingston for their last three years."

Ward declined to give any details of just how the physical plant of the regional schools will be distributed, but commented, "The whole program will be undertaken by the architect and announced on Dec. 15."

Ward's plan included an addition to the facilities at Gov. Livingston, he replied, "You can draw that inference, if you like, I can't say any more." Ward did note that board members were unanimous in their support for the new expansion plan.

The plan also surprises the Kenilworth school board. Mountainside, he noted, has been a problem for the past year-and-a-half, since the opening of David Brainerd Regional High School in Kenilworth, has been that enrollment has exceeded listed capacity at Gov. Livingston and at A. L. Johnson Regional in Clark. "If there have been any changes in Clark, they have been in the direction of increasing capacity," he noted. "A storm of protest from Mountainside parents, however, influenced the board to drop one part of the proposal. This would have sent this year's Mountainside freshmen to Dayton, rather than Gov. Livingston. The group, some 150 youngsters, would have remained at Dayton for the full four years, if that part of the plan had been put into effect."

Two other changes proposed at that time are now in effect. This year's freshmen from Garwood are at Brainerd, rather than at Johnson. Older students from Garwood have a choice of whether to attend Brainerd or remain at Johnson. Garwood parents have been assured by the board that all Garwood students will enroll at Brainerd for the foreseeable future.

Freshmen from the Balastron Top section of Springfield now attend Dayton, although they would have studied at Gov. Livingston in past years. Older boys and girls from this area were given a choice of schools, whether to remain at Gov. Livingston or transfer to Dayton, when plans were announced last spring. Officials expressed some concern over approval of any expansion plans by the State Department of Education. Even though overcrowded, they said, Trenton might hesitate to endorse any plan while space remains in the schools. No reference was made to a meeting on how the problems had been resolved.

Miss Owens has 3rd 200 game in girls' bowling

Barbara Owens regained her touch last week in the Tuesday Afternoon Girls' Bowling League. Barbara rolled her third 200 game of the season as she paced the first-place Strikers into a commanding five-game lead in the team standings. Barbara hit 200 on the nose in her second of two games rolled in league play last week. The league is sponsored by the Recreation Department as part of its youth-bowling program. All bowling is at the Springfield Bowl.

Miss Owens' second-game effort of 200 enabled her team to gain a split of two games with the Dancers. Barbara had posted a first-game effort of 134 to give her a 334 series. Ann Marie Calmus, Sue Murphy and Liz Simpson also rolled well for the league leaders. Ann Marie rolled a respectable 190 series, while Sue posted a two-game total of 177 and Liz rolled a 167 series. Debbie Kuskin paced the Dancers, as she had her best afternoon of the season. Debbie rolled a 246 series with games of 112 and 134. Loretta Losano, with a 169 two-game series, also rolled well in this match for the Dancers.

The Charms continued their top-notch bowling of the past few weeks as they swept two games from the Stars in a mild upset. The double loss pushed the Stars further from first place, while the Charms continued their climb in the won-and-lost column. Janice LaMotta was once again the brightest light in the Charms' attack; Janice has completely reversed her early season form and is rolling in top fashion. Janice paced her team with a 191 series last Tuesday.

Holly Quinlan, a new addition to the Charms' five-girl team, continues to impress. Last week Holly posted a 188 series to play a large role in the twin victories. Diane Lunzer also rolled well for the Charms with a 165 two-game effort. Carol Roessner was the top bowler in the Stars' line-up. Carol rolled a 232 series, as she gave another steady performance. Peggy Grassie rolled well for the Stars with a 164 series. Joann McGrady had one of her better performances of the year in a losing cause for the Stars; Joann rolled a 201 series with a first-game effort of 121.

Barbara Owens with her high scoring last week has started her season average on the rise again. Barbara is rolling at a 158 pace this season, and holds a substantial lead over all the bowlers in league competition. Carol Roessner with a very fine 109 average is in second place. Debbie Kuskin in third place with a 99 average is on the threshold of breaking into the century class. Darlene Panckerl is fourth at 92, and Ann Marie Calmus is fifth with an 89 average. The remaining five girls in the top 10 are: Joann McGrady, 85; Sue Murphy, 83; Nina Katin, 80; Diane Lunzer, 77, and Liz Simpson, 76.

Kansas, Arizona top squads in State League competition

Kansas held on to its slim lead in the Eastern Division of the State League, while Arizona moved far out in front in Western Division play. Arizona remains at the lone undefeated squad in the expanded 12-team league. The State League meets each Saturday at the Florence Gaudineer School as part of the Recreation Department's youth basketball program.

Kansas nipped Indiana last week by a 15 to 12 score to hold on to its slim one-game lead in the Eastern Division. Sam Murphy was again high point man for the powerful Kansas team. Sam, who operates at center, canned 11 points for the winning Kansas team. Alan Geist hit a field goal for Kansas, while Eric Diamond and Lou Klein each hit from the free throw line. Kansas needed a big final-period rally to pull this game from the clutches of Indiana. The green-shirted Kansas rolled up seven third-period points, while holding Indiana to a single foul shot. Justin Schelder, with four points, led all Indiana scorers. Johnny Belliveau and Joel Silverman each hit three points for the losers.

North Carolina, after dropping some early season decisions, has moved into a contending position in the Eastern Division. Last Saturday, North Carolina knocked off an improving West Virginia team by a 20 to 14 score. Dino DiCocco and Alan-Lipton led the scoring parade for North Carolina. Dino hit eight points, while Al canned seven points. Bobby Hodeck played another outstanding game for the winners. Bobby hit four points and played a top floor game. West Virginia, which won its first game last week, gave another good performance in a losing cause. Billy Huntley and Larry Koldort led the West Virginia attack with four points each. Other West Virginia scorers with a bucket each were Brian Mullen, Jeff Colandrea and Mark Dostal.

Iowa tripped Florida last week to move into a second-place tie with North Carolina. The final count in Iowa's favor was 22 to 15. John Segal led the Iowa attack with nine points. John hit three times from the floor and an equal number from the foul line. Art Froom scored five points for the Iowans, while Rich Feldman was good for four points. Mike Harrison and Stu Sherman hit single buckets for Iowa. Stu Garwitz was again the big punch for Florida. Stu rammed in nine points for Florida. Barry Rose scored four points for Florida; while Danny Epijsco knocked in a field goal.

ARIZONA, WHICH IS unbeaten in league play this season and which has made a habit out of winning close games, had an easy time last week as it topped Texas in Western Division play by a 31 to 22 score. Arizona took a first-half lead in the game and then played Texas over the rest of the way to gain the easy victory. Bruce Cohen and Glen Cooper were the top point getters in a balanced Arizona attack. Bruce and Glen scored eight points each on four goals. Charles Adickman and Pete Gelwarg hit six points apiece for Arizona, while Ed Gerstein canned four points. Utah, which is improving with each week of play in the State League, rolled past Wyoming on Saturday by a 33 to 17 count. Last week, the Utes put Arizona to the test and lost a high-scoring game to the league leaders. Utah scored 16 points in the final period against Wyoming this week to turn the game into a rout. Mark Tashler led the booming Utah offense with 13 points. Howard Forman scored nine points for Utah, while Mike Marder dropped in seven points. Joe Goldberg and Gilior Lieberman each tallied a bucket for the Utes. Roger Frank played a good game for Utah with bustling work in the back court. Barry Gerst led the Wyoming team, as he tallied eight points. Dick Fjstbeln and Dave Mollen each scored four points for Wyoming, while Johnny Bahr scored on a foul shot.

California moved past Oklahoma this week in a defensive battle. The final score was 14 to 9. Johnny Gacos, Dave Mitchell and Bob Day led the California attack as each boy tallied twice from the field for four points. Neil Anderson scored a single bucket for the winners. Billy Palazzi with three points was high for Oklahoma, while single buckets were added by Bobby Lee, Mike Levine and Bruce Hoffman.

Action this Saturday in State League play will feature the following Eastern Division games: Iowa vs. West Virginia, Kansas vs. North Carolina and Florida vs. Indiana. Western Division games will include Arizona vs. Wyoming, California vs. Utah and Texas vs. Oklahoma.

fall would permit the board member (identified by members, but not during the meeting, as Gacos) to change his schedule in the new fiscal year.
Those objecting to the delay said that they had anticipated a vote for an immediate change at Monday's meeting. The motion was adopted by a vote of five to four. Those in favor were Johnson, Gacos, Casale, Caprio and Southward. Opposed were Mrs. Dorasky, Mrs. Weisman, Margulies and Adams.

IN OTHER BUSINESS, the board elected Casale as its new vice-president, to succeed Mrs. Weisman. Southward noted that present committee assignments will continue until he can announce the new line-up.

The board formally approved its new salary guide for teachers. Faculty members with bachelor's degrees will start at $6,400 per year and rise in 15 annual steps to $11,275. Those with master's degrees will rise from $6,800 to $12,000 in 16 steps. Teachers with an extra year of graduate study will rise from $7,200 to $12,400 in 16 steps, with two more steps to $13,050 for those with doctor's degrees.

Another motion approved participation by four teachers in a six-week workshop on the underachieving and perceptually handicapped child. They are Mrs. Doris Grzymalski, Judith Gustafson, Mrs. Eunice Sauer and Joan Meyer.

Guest preacher set at 1st Presbyterian

DR. JOHN MEISTER
The Lenten season, a period of preparation for Easter observed in Christian churches, will be opened on Ash Wednesday next week with services in the sanctuary of the First Presbyterian Church at 8 p.m. Dr. John W. Meister will be the guest preacher, and special music will be presented by the Senior Choir of the church.

This year a six-week series is being planned by the Springfield Presbyterian Church and the Wyoming Presbyterian Church of Millburn, both about the theme, "Emerging Ministries of the Church," and featuring outstanding guest speakers. Areas as diverse as the college campus, the inner city, the hospital and jazz musicians will be discussed by specialist leaders in these fields.

Dr. Meister is the executive secretary of the Council on Theological Education of the United Presbyterian Church. He recently assumed that position after serving as pastor of the First Presbyterian Church of Ft. Wayne, Ind., a congregation of 4,000 members. He is a graduate of Ohio University and Princeton Theological Seminary. Dr. Meister, in addition to his pastoral duties, has served as a trustee of Eastern Seminary and on the long range planning committee of the denomination's General Council and the church-wide committee which drafted the "Confession of 1967." He also has written extensively, having edited William Law's "Serious Call to a Devout and Holy Life."

Second county session on drug abuse Tuesday

The second in a series of meetings to help parents and organizations learn more about how drug abuse is affecting the lives of Union County residents will be held next Tuesday in the Clark Public Library meeting room at 303 Westfield ave., Clark.

This second meeting will provide an opportunity to ask questions of experts in the field. The meeting will be held from 11:15 to 2:30 p.m. Registration will be from 1 to 1:15 p.m.

Sponsors are Mable Stolte, home economist with the Union County Home Economics Extension Service; the Union County PTA Parent and Family Life Education Chairman, Mrs. Leonard Tandul Lindlen, and Michael Bowen Jr., director of the Union County Narcotics Clinic in Elizabeth.

Panel members at Tuesday meeting will include John N. Surmay, president, Union County Pharmaceutical Society; Det. Sgt. John McGuire, Elizabeth narcotics squad; Dr. Hans Freymouth, New Jersey Neuro-Psychiatric Institute and Miss Filomena Amendola, chief psychologist at Bergen Plains County Hospital Paramus.

The panel will discuss the long term effects of drugs, from aspirin to LSD.

A spokesman said resource listings for leaders of schools, churches and other public and private organizations will be provided. Books, pamphlets, films and tapes that are available through various libraries or on loan from other sources will be included.

Mrs. Stolte pointed out that 95 percent of the 14 and 15 year olds in Union County who use drugs are known as "chippers." "They use drugs only on weekends and when life is boring," Mrs. Stolte said.

22 new TB cases reported in county

The TB-Respiratory Disease Association of Central New Jersey—sponsors of the local Christmas Seal campaign to stamp out tuberculosis and other respiratory diseases—reported that 22 new cases of tuberculosis were discovered in Union County during the last quarter of 1967.

According to a report compiled by the John E. Runnels Hospital for Chest Diseases, which operates the Union County Tuberculosis Case Register and Contact File, there are 921 county residents under medical supervision for the disease, 48 of whom are hospitalized. In addition to the people being treated, 741 contacts (close associates) of persons with tuberculosis are also under medical supervision.

The regular examination of the contacts is a major source of tuberculosis detection and control. For example, during the last quarter of the year examination of 301 contacts revealed four new cases of tuberculosis.

Presently, there are 1,662 Union County residents (patients and contacts) under medical supervision for tuberculosis.

Annual art exhibit at Union College

The Westfield Art Association and Union College, Cranford, will join forces for the fifth consecutive year to offer the association's seventh annual state-wide show from March 17 to March 24 in the gymnasium of the college's Campus Center.

Open to all New Jersey artists, the show has become a popular event with artists and viewers alike. A brochure has been sent to 1,200 artists throughout the state.

The association between the Westfield Art Association and Union College began five years ago when the state-wide show was held in the Student Lounge of the Campus Center. Since then the show has grown and is now held in the gymnasium. It is open to the public free of charge from 2 to 5 and 7 to 9 p.m. The association is of mutual benefit as it gives the association a place to exhibit and adds a cultural event to the college's calendar.

Artists interested in entering the show may obtain information from Mrs. Eileen Sheehan, 801 North Broad st., Elizabeth.

Minimum 13% hike in Social Security benefits next month

"If you are receiving a monthly social security benefit, the amount you receive will be increased by at least 13 percent beginning with the check due early in March," Ralph W. Jones, district manager, of the Elizabeth Social Security District Office, said this week.

"You do not have to do anything to get this increase," Jones said.

The minimum monthly benefit for a worker who retired at age 65 will be increased from $44 to $55 and maximum from $135.90 to $153.60.

The maximum payment to a family now on the rolls, $368 a month, will be increased to $395.60.

He added that for many working people, the 1967 amendments will increase future cash benefits even more. This will result from the increase in the amount of earnings in 1968. The resulting ultimate maximum benefit will be $218, based on average monthly earnings of $650.

These higher maximum retirement payments will be payable to workers who are now young and who consequently will be paying contributions on these higher amounts of earnings over a considerable period of time before they retire. But even those in their middle years will benefit, he noted. For example, a man age 50 in 1968 who earns $7,800 a year until he is 65 will get a benefit of $189.80 at age 65—21.8 percent higher than he could get under the old law.

Plan 2 hikes for weekend

Two hikes are scheduled this weekend for members and guests of the Union County Hiking Club.

On Saturday, Arthur Kritel of East Orange will lead an 11-mile hike along the Batons Trail in Wharton Tract and southern Jersey. The hike will meet at the Lebanon State Forest Headquarters on Rt. 72, about 15 miles southwest of Lakehurst at 10 a.m.

On Sunday, Fred Dlouhy of Union will lead an eight-mile hike along the Nine Hills Trail in New York starting at Rockland Lake. This group will meet at the administration building of the Union County Park Commission, Warmanco-East, Elizabeth, at 8:30 a.m.

Ralph Nader scheduled to talk at Newark State

Ralph Nader, controversial critic of the automobile industry, will speak at Newark State College, Union, on Tuesday, starting at 1 p.m. in the Theatre for the Performing Arts.

Nader will speak on "Corporate Responsibility and Consumer Protection." The talk is open to the public.

Author of the best-selling book "Unsafe at Any Speed," Nader is considered by his supporters as instrumental in bringing about changes in the automobile industry designed to produce safer cars and reduce highway death. A lawyer, he has worked on legal problems and policies of highway safety and automobile design and has served as a consultant and contributor on the subject to legal publications.

Nader is "appalled at the tolerance of slaughter and maiming of hundreds of thousands of people annually on our highways." For decades, he points out, "we have had the technological potential and economic capability to build safer cars."

"The special payments made to people age 72 and older, who did not work long enough to qualify for regular benefits, are also increased under the amendments," Jones said. Single persons now receiving $35 will receive $40 per month and a couple now receiving $52.50 will receive $60 a month effective with the checks received early in March.

Jones again pointed out that these increases are automatic and people do not have to go to their social security district office to take any action.

ability to build safer cars." He sees unsafe autos as posing a profound moral challenge to members of the legal, medical, and engineering professions who, he says, should work to minimize the unsafe auto itself, "not just apply their skills to alleviate the painful results."

Nader received his A.B. from Princeton University in 1955 and an L.L.B. in 1958 from Harvard Law School. He served as a research assistant at Harvard Law School in 1958-59 and, following Army service, began the practice of law. His articles have appeared in such periodicals as "Atlantic Monthly," "The Nation," "New Republic," and "Christian Science Monitor."

"Nader's lecture is sponsored by the M. Ernest Townsend Memorial Lecture Series Committee, now in its 10th year of bringing to the campus eminent persons in such areas as politics and government, the humanities, the arts, and science.

The committee, named in honor of the late Dr. Townsend, president of the college from 1929 to 1939, is composed of students appointed by the Student Council. They are: Jeffery (64) Crabree '68 of Somerset, Cynthia Galate '69 of West Orange; John Stojka '71 of Cartaret, Elizabeth Ward '68 of Cranford, and Robert Wieman of Cartaret. Dr. Jean N. Richardson, associate professor of elementary education is faculty advisor.

Food irradiation ready for use in the war on hunger.

A scientific development of the 1950's is now ready for use in the war on hunger; a U.S. Army chemist reports to the American Chemical Society.

The sterilization of food by irradiation has finally passed laboratory tests, scored "excellent." In its first large-scale feeding trial, and is now being evaluated in special test facilities, reports Dr. Edward S. Josephson, Associate Director for Food Radiation at the U.S. Army Natick Laboratories, Natick, Mass. The final step, he says, is commercialization by industry.

Irradiation—can mean, less starvation in the world, since food does not spoil as long as it is sterile, Dr. Josephson explains. It also means fewer food-shipping problems since it lengthens storage life without refrigeration. By helping to control disease organisms, it can encourage countries to remove quarantine barriers against livestock imports, thereby stimulating international trade.

Laboratory tests show that irradiation can delay the ripening of bananas and tomatoes; extend the shelf-life of clams, chicken and fresh-water fish; reduce the spoilage of oranges, strawberries, and nectarines; and sterilize pork, beef, hamburgers, frankfurters, turkey, and luncheon meats.

In the world's first large-scale production test of irradiated meat, U.S. Army and Air Force personnel ate 15 tons of bacon, and judged it excellent, Dr. Josephson states.

The U.S. Department of Agriculture began operating a pilot plant to treat wheat in Savannah, Ga., last year. A radiation facility has been built for processing tropical fruits and cereal products, and a Department of the Interior plant in Massachusetts is engaged in preserving fish for consumption inland.

The two chief sources of the radiation used are radioactive cobalt and the electron linear accelerator (LINAC). The cobalt produces highly penetrating gamma rays, while LINAC produces penetrating electrons.

To insure that no radioactivity is produced in the food, that no dangerous organisms survive, and that nutrition is not adversely affected, the irradiated foods are fed to animals which are then tested for cancer, longevity, fertility, and signs of illness. The results of irradiated foods have been found to be "adequate and nutritionally adequate."

Today the chief problem is to compile the amassed evidence and get final approval from the Food and Drug Administration and the Department of Agriculture, Dr. Josephson asserted. In the near future, health officials will require the irradiation of foods such as poultry, eggs, pork, beef, and shellfish to insure freedom from disease-producing organisms, he predicted.

Gary Burton four to perform Sunday

The Gary Burton Quartet will perform at the Florham-Madison Campus of Fairleigh Dickinson University on Sunday, at 8:30 p.m. in Twombly Hall Lounge. The group is sponsored by the Music Association.

Featured in the quartet are Larry Coryell, guitar; Steve Swallow, bass; Bob Moses, drums; and Gary Burton, vibraphone.

Gary Burton began his career playing country music when he was six years old. He has been a sideman with the George Shearing Quintet and a member of the Stan Getz Quartet. He has appeared on numerous recordings as a featured soloist and arranger-composer for Stan Getz. His own group now appears in concert and on television. Only 24 years old, Gary-Burton has consistently ranked high in polls in "Down Beat" and "Playboy."

The concert will be open to the public.

FAMILY LIFE TODAY

Mabel G. Stolte, County Home Economist

TEEN-AGER ALLOWANCES

Teenagers need money as every parent knows. But, do your children need as much as "the other kids on the block" get? What seems to be most important, according to some college-students, is that they are "in on the know" on what and how their parents plan to spend the money. Whether or not they will feel they have enough money to spend or not is debatable, but they will more likely be satisfied with the family's financial arrangements if they are included in making the plans.

Families have various methods of making choices as to how large teenagers' allowances should be. Before making final plans, consider the following points with them:

1. The kind of community you live in. The cost of clothes, meals, entertainment and busfare will be determined by this. (This will also affect what the other kids do for entertainment, etc.)
2. Does your teenager have a job -- and how much does he earn?
3. How much responsibility will he (or she) take for buying and caring for his own clothes, his school supplies and other needs?
4. The total amount of the family's income and the needs of the rest of the family. Remember, you aren't alone with this problem. Other parents find it just as difficult to know what's enough money. Talking it over in a family council is the best way to solve this problem and set reasonable standards in your community.

TURNTABLE TREATS (good listening) - Two happy type albums on the DUNHILL RECORDS label: MICKIE FINN'S - AMERICA'S NO. 1 SPEAKEASY (D-50009) and SATURDAY NIGHT AT MICKIE FINN'S (D-50013). Here in these two LP's is the same kind of crazy-dazzle kaleidoscope of hits that The Finn's, banjo playing Mickie of the long blonde hair and Fred of the flying fingers, and their wild ensemble of musicians played on their popular summer TV show awhile back - from the Gay Nineties and the Roaring Twenties right through the Sizzling Sixties. Included in the first LP are number hits: "It's A Sin To Tell A Lie," "Let Me Call You Sweetheart," "Bye Bye, Blackbird," "The Beer Barrel Polka," "King Of The Road," and eight more. Selections included in the second one: "Battle Hymn Of The Republic," "Ain't She Sweet," "Mama!" and 17 more goodies.

"THE LOOK OF LOVE" by Dusty Springfield. Dusty presents her interpretations of standards and all her hit records in this her newest PHILIPS album (PHS 600-256), "The Look Of Love" (title song), "Give Me Time," "The Long To Be Close To You," "If You Go Away," "Gonna Be," "Come Back To Me," "When It Comes To Me," "I'll Be Home For Christmas," "Small Town Girl," "Take Me For A Little," and "Chained To A Memory." Also on the PHILIPS label, FABULOUS GUITAR by Sigfried Schwab. For your listening pleasure there's: "Courante In D Major," "Prelude," "Sonata In C Major," "Larghetto-Rondo," "Bossa Nova," "Canto Minore," "Alleluia In A Major," "Fugue In D Minor," "Capriccio," "Coro E Banquete" and "Gavotte." (PHS 600-259). Mr. Schwab, as a 27-year-old musician, has already been praised by an ever-growing number of fans in Europe. Three of the pieces in this album are original compositions, while the others bear the mark of his mind. Be sure and hear these four LP's on your next record buying trip. SMALL WORLD

The world may appear small to the astronaut gliding through space in his orbit around the earth; yet it is not so small to the motorist whose car stalls in the middle of a barren desert on a seldom-traveled road.

Transportation and communication have not made our world smaller; it is as large as it was on the day of creation. The world is big enough for men to dwell in righteousness; in love and brotherhood; if they will only learn to love God and their fellow man.

For many of us, the world is relatively small. We are confined by virtue of occupation and responsibilities to a specific area - let's call it this small area that our interests lie in; it is within this small area that we can do the most to promote brotherhood among men and to build a world of happiness.

Begin today. See if you can build a better life for yourself and for those around you. Practice Christianity in all its concepts. Do this, and you will influence the lives of all those with whom you come in contact. They in turn may influence others and who knows where such a movement for good may end?

'Walk-in' exam

A "walk-in" federal service entrance examination will be given at the Florham-Madison Campus of Fairleigh Dickinson University Saturday at 8 a.m. The examination will take place in Room S-11 in the Science Building. As this is a "walk-in" examination, the usual pre-registration requirement is waived.

ODDLES OF POODLES

According to the American Kennel Club, there were 235,536 poodles in the United States during 1966 to make it the most popular registered breed in the country. In the same year there were 796 Newfoundland and only 6 Curly Coated Retrievers.

PIKE MILEAGE

Milage travelled on the New Jersey Turnpike in 1967 totalled 2,030,844,201, up 85,892,328 from 1966.

Tips for Today's Homemaker

From Anne L. Shaelen, County Home Economist

Tradition relates the story that when the Father of Our Country was a child, he cut down a cherry tree and then confessed the act to his father. As a result, food suggestions which feature cherries have become a vital part of the festivities that pay tribute to this great man.

The cherry pudding recipe given below offers a change of pace from the typical cherry pie usually served on this day. The use of chopped nuts and brown sugar, as well as cherries, in the pudding results in both a unique flavor and texture. Once you have prepared this dessert, you will probably be serving it often throughout the year.

GEORGE'S CHERRY PUDDING

- 1/2 stick (1/4 cup) margarine
  - 1/2 cup granulated sugar
  - 1 teaspoon vanilla
  - 1-1/2 tablespoons baking powder
  - 1/2 cup milk
  - 1/2 cup chopped nuts
  - 2 cups tart pie cherries, drained (reserve liquid)
  - 1/4 cup packed brown sugar
  - 1/4 cup granulated sugar
  - 1/4 teaspoon salt
  - 1-1/2 tablespoons cornstarch
  - 2 drops red food coloring
  - Whipped cream (optional)
- Cream margarine. Add 1/2 cup granulated sugar and continue creaming until light and fluffy. Beat in vanilla. Sift together flour and baking powder. Add alternately with milk to creamed mixture. Blend in nuts. Spread cherries over bottom of 8 by 8 by 2 inch pan. Pour batter over cherries. Add water to cherry juice to equal 1-1/4 cups. Bring to a boil. Combine brown sugar, 1/4 cup granulated sugar, salt, and cornstarch in a bowl. Stir in boiling juice. Pour over batter in pan. Bake in moderate oven (350 degrees F.) 45 minutes. Cool to lukewarm. Serve with cherries over cake. Top with whipped cream. Nine servings.

Breslin, Rusher listed on conference program

William Rusher, publisher of "National Review" magazine, and Jimmy Breslin, the syndicated newspaper columnist, will speak Saturday at the Florham-Madison Campus of Fairleigh Dickinson University.

They will address the intercollegiate conference on "Mass Communications: The Fifth Dimension?" Rusher will speak on "How Much Academic Freedom?" Breslin will speak on "Newspapers and Unions."

FAMILY POT LUCK

BY HELEN HALE

A cake takes less time to cook perfectly if cooked in a dark metal or enameled pan, rather than a dull finished aluminum pan.

Roquefort cheese is an important cheese in the world's counterpane, made from cow's milk. It is known as Blue cheese in the United States, as Stilton cheese in England and as Gorgonzola in Italy.

One cup of uncooked rice makes about three cups cooked rice, enough for six servings.

Butter white bread on both sides and place a slice of American cheese on one piece. Place sardines over cheese. Top with other piece of bread. Toast in electric grill oven until golden brown for a tasty luncheon treat.

Brown pork chops on both sides and place in a casserole with cored, sliced unpeeled apples, brown sugar and butter. Bake until done.

HELEN'S FAVORITE ICE CREAM FLOAT

(Makes 1 serving)

- 1 cup cold milk

Can you find the one thing we haven't changed?

It's not our engine. We've changed our engine 4 times since we introduced the bug in 1949.

And each time we've made it stronger. So today you can drive the bug 78 mph all day. And not harm the engine.

It's not our transmission. In '61, we synchronized all 4 forward gears for smoother shifting.

And just this year, we introduced a new optional transmission: the automatic stick shift.

Like most automatics, it has a Low, a Drive, and naturally, no clutch. But unlike most automatics, it has both a stick shift and an extra gear.

Once you're cruising above 55 mph, you simply shift our stick into our extra gear. And save extra gas.

This year alone, we've made 36 changes in the bug.

For instance, we've moved our bumpers up. And strengthened them. We've enlarged our windshield wiper blades.

Installed a telescoping steering column. Included star bolts for all seats. And added extra padding all around.

Who's the one thing we haven't changed since 1949? The basic idea behind the bug.

Even with all our changes, it's still the honest, sensible, economy car it started out to be 19 years ago.

For instance, it still costs less to buy than most other cars. And it still costs less to run than most other cars.

In fact, not changing the basic idea behind our car is probably the best thing we've ever done.

Because in 1949, we sold only 2 cars.

But since then, we've sold almost 3 million.

19.5 N.J. freeway miles completed during 1967

Thirteen interstate highway construction projects covering 19.5 miles were completed in 1967 at a cost of $44.8 million, Transportation Commissioner David J. Goldberg announced this week.

"During the same 12-month period, he said, 14 additional interstate contracts aggregating $88.9 million and covering 32.7 miles were awarded to contractors, and work on them has begun.

Meanwhile, Commissioner Goldberg pointed out, construction progressed on another 12 interstate projects involving 36.7 miles for which contracts totaling $61.9 million had been let prior to 1967.

At year's end, he said, 169.8 miles of New Jersey's 381.4-mile interstate network were open to traffic, 69.4 miles were under construction, 95 miles were being designed, 9.4 miles were under study and 31.5 miles of alignment had been recommended to the U.S. Bureau of Public Roads for approval.

If the proposed Central Jersey Expressway is granted Federal approval as an interstate freeway, as Commissioner Goldberg has recommended, 27.5 miles will be added to the state's interstate system.

THE CONSTRUCTION FIGURES are exclusive of money expended for preliminary engineering, right of way acquisition and demolition, Commissioner Goldberg said.

On interstate highways, the Federal Government pays 90 percent and the State 10 percent of the cost.

"While the progress made in 1967 was satisfactory," Commissioner Goldberg said, "the Department of Transportation had planned a vastly accelerated interstate construction program in 1968. Unfortunately, the limitation which has been placed on the amount of Federal funds that may be obligated this year has forced a drastic revision in projected new interstate construction for the year."

"The 'freeze' on allocation of federal funds has cut the amount New Jersey may obligate to $107.6 million, five percent less than last year, whereas Commissioner Goldberg had hoped to commit approximately $200 million, $86 million more than in 1967, during the current calendar year. While there has been no reduction in New Jersey's share of Federal funds, the ceiling on the amount that may be allocated will force a delay of as much as a year in the completion of the interstate system.

OF THE PROJECTS completed in 1967, five were on Interstate Rt. 280 and totaled $17,926,131.96. Three were on I-76 at a cost of $14,665,304; one was on I-287, $1,228,779.20; one was in connection with I-287, $49,356.50; another was on I-80, $3,279,391.36; and two were on I-295 totaling $6,312,945.20.

Of those contracts let in 1967, three were on I-76 representing a total cost of $28,621,684.98, and three were on I-80, aggregating $15,664,264.90. Two were on I-95, $7,678,208.82; one was on I-278, $7,385,871.33; two were on I-280, $16,018,869.37; two were on I-287, $7,055,374.48; and one was on I-295, $6,496,561.97.

Contracts let prior to 1967 which were not completed by year's end included six on I-76 totaling $1,960,107; one on I-76, $3,107,510.69; two on I-80, $14,799,057.78; one on I-278, $2,371,810.30; one on I-287, $5,888,249.13; and one on I-295, $3,771,568.05.

Dungan, Huntley to address Jersey bankers' convention

The problems facing colleges and universities in New Jersey, the need for merchandising banking services effectively, the state's business outlook, and a discussion of world affairs will be among the subjects covered by leaders in the fields of education, finance, business, and television who will address the New Jersey Bankers' Association's 65th annual convention at Atlantic City, May 22-24.

Ralph A. Dungan, who became New Jersey's first Chancellor of Higher Education last August, will outline long range plans for public and private higher education in New Jersey to the banker-delegates. Ira M. Hayes, advertising manager, National Cash Register Co., Dayton, Ohio, will talk about marketing bank services. Both are scheduled at the general session of the convention on Thursday, May 23.

New Jersey business conditions and their effects on the economic growth of the state will be covered on Friday, May 24, by Dr. Salomon J. Filnik, chairman of the Department of Economics of the Rutgers Graduate School of Business Administration, Newark. The highlight of the Friday session will be an address by NBC-Television news commentator Chet Huntley.

THE NJBA CONVENTION will be held at the Chatham-Holiday Hall, Atlantic City, with NJBA President W. Robert Davis, president of Camden Trust Co., presiding. Opening day activities on Wednesday, May 22, include the annual NJBA golf tournament at Seewee Country Club, Absecon, and a dinner meeting of the NJBA Half-Century Club. Club membership is restricted to bankers who have served the industry more than 50 years. More than a dozen new members, each of whom will have completed 50 years' service in 1968, will be inducted at the dinner. The Federal Reserve Banks of New York and Philadelphia will sponsor a luncheon on May 23 at which Karl R. Bopp, president, Federal Reserve Bank of Philadelphia, will be the featured speaker.

New microscope able to separate, identify single atom

An extremely powerful new microscope that for the first time can focus on a single atom, separate it from thousands of surrounding atoms, and then identify it, has been developed by Professor Erwin Mueller and his associates at the Pennsylvania State University.

The new instrument—called the atom-probe field-ion microscope—should be extremely useful for the atom-by-atom study and analysis of metals, alloys, and the impurities they contain. The microscope is described in the current issue of "The Review of Scientific Instruments," a publication of the American Institute of Physics.

The lensless microscope is a major refinement and modification of the field ion microscope (FIM) invented by Prof. Mueller in 1956. In order to identify atoms with the new instrument, the operator forms an image of the metal sample on the screen. The upper portion of the instrument is then rotated until the atom he is interested in falls on a tiny "probe hole" in the viewing screen. The chosen atom is then evaporated or "desorbed" from the whiskerlike tip of the sample in the form of an ion and travels through the hole into a "time-of-flight" spectrometer.

Heavy ions travel slower than light ones, so by measuring the time it takes for the ion to drift through the yard-long spectrometer, they can be identified.

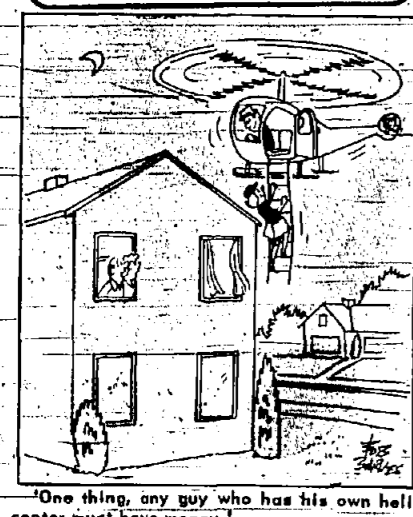

The atom-probe FIM, in addition to being the most powerful microscope known, is the only one that can identify a single atom among thousands of surrounding atoms. The most powerful electron microscope now in use needs at least 100,000 atoms to make an analysis.

Turnpike safety earns high rating

The New Jersey Turnpike attained high marks for safety among the 10 toll roads in the nation which had the greatest number of vehicle miles traveled in 1967.

The New Jersey Turnpike's total of more than 2 billion vehicle miles was exceeded only by the longer New York Thruway and Pennsylvania Turnpike, but among the 10 express highways with the most miles traveled, its all-accident rating of 93.0 was third best. Ahead of it was the Oklahoma Turnpike, with 64.9, and the Massachusetts Turnpike, with 91.5. The combined vehicle mileage of these two toll roads in 1967 was 1,540,200,000 or 497.9 million miles less than the New Jersey Turnpike's 1967 mileage of 2,038,100,000.

LAFF OF THE WEEK

"One thing, any guy who has his own helicopter must have money."

Volkswagen introduces the automatic stick shift.

After 10 these many years our humble little bug has gone automatic. Gone is the clutch. Gone is the whiffy whine. "It's cute, but I can't drive it."

Gone is opera of Volkswagendom. Sniff. And in its place?

A Volkswagen you can drive all over town without shifting.

Only on the highway do you shift.

Once. (This is an economy move. Which, after all, is still the name of the game.)

You do have a choice in the matter. You can drive it the easy way I described above. Or you can start out in low and take it through the gears like a regular stick shift.

The automatic stick shift is an option. You pay a little more.

But you do a little less.

All-day symposium planned by Medical Society

"Rescue," an all-day safety symposium for police, first-aid, and rescue squads from throughout the State will be held by the Essex County Medical Society April 20 at North Junior High School in Bloomfield.

Frank Galloto, MD, chairman of the First Aid Advisory Committee and coordinator of the affair, said the symposium will present topics and demonstrations on emergency childbirth procedures, cardio-pulmonary emergencies, control of bleeding, fractures, diving injuries and scuba safety, and emergency equipment and use. For the first time in this area a special program on the use of respirators will also be presented.

The purpose of the symposium, said Dr. Galloto, is to present the latest in medical methods to rescue and first-aid squad members. "These men," according to the doctor, "are the first to come into contact with the victim following an accident or other trauma.

"It's vital," said Dr. Galloto, "that they be kept as current as possible on the latest procedures for application from the time they arrive at the scene until the victim is seen by a physician at a hospital."

Since the squad members do not administer any sort of medication, the doctors added, "their skill in care and handling is a significant factor in any emergency operation where the victim must be removed and transported."

More than 500 men are expected from Essex, Morris and Passaic Counties which form the Sixth NJ First Aid District. An open invitation has also been extended to other squads throughout the state.

The symposium starts at 8:30 a.m. with registration followed by a series of lectures. The afternoon sessions will concentrate on demonstrations. Registration forms and details are available from the Essex County Medical Society office, 144 South Harrison st., East Orange.

Instruction directory

The concept of "programmed instruction" is barely ten years old. Yet the international expression of interest in the subject has been explosive. Research and training in programmed instruction is carried out in many countries—sometimes under Unesco sponsorship—and now Unesco has sponsored the publication of a much-needed directory of who is doing what in the various countries in this field.

The directory, compiled under the direction of Seth Spaulding of the University of Pittsburgh, lists information received from 65 countries on research centers, professional organizations, conferences and publications. A list of 25 expressions commonly used in programmed instruction literature is given in 20 different languages at the end of the book.

THE NEW ROYAL ULTRONIC $17950

is the world's first fully electric typewriter at a half-way reasonable price.

ROYAL

The new Ultronic by Royal has an electric carriage return never before available at a price this low. It also has an electric tabulator, electric backspace, a repeat space bar and motor twice as powerful as any comparable electric. It has four electric repeat characters: underscore, hyphen, period, and crossout.

It's a fully electric typewriter in every way. Except price. In the past, the power-typiced fully-electric typewriter cost $250. And even then it didn't have such Ultronic features as Magic Margin, Magic Meter scale, electric-ribbon-feed, vertical half spacing, and a detachable cord. The Ultronic is a great typewriter at any price. At $179.50 it's in a class by itself.

Westfield Day Care Center to hold annual board meeting

Mrs. Donald Peterson, president of the interim board of directors of the Westfield day care center, announced this week that the annual meeting of the board will be held March 19 at the Bethel Baptist Church, Westfield. Hostesses for the evening will be the Women's Missionary Society of Bethel Baptist. A permanent board of directors will be elected. "It is so heartwarming," Mrs. Peterson stated, "to find so many people who really wish to help themselves. Our contributions from individuals are still coming in. They range all the way from $1.00 to $500. On behalf of the interim board of directors of the center," she continued, "I would like these people to know how very much their gifts are appreciated, from the smallest to the largest. Because of their generosity, we have passed the $10,000 mark, and have been able to begin the necessary renovation to the Madison Avenue Chapel."

Mrs. Peterson added, "If those who received letters in our second mailing are as concerned as those who have been previously contacted, we should be able to reach our goal of $12,000 shortly, and be able to open the doors of the Westfield Day Care Center to 15 children on schedule. At the moment," she stated, "we are in need of a typewriter, an adding machine, and fencing for the playground. If these items are donated, it means that the monies saved will go toward the next step in our plan, to open at full capacity, accommodating 35 children. Because we are generally considered to be an affluent area, people many times fail to realize that there are people here who need help. There are families who desperately need the services of the Day Care Center."

Organizations which have made recent contributions include Bethel Baptist Church, Men's Club of the First Methodist Church, Women's Association of the First Presbyterian Church, Rosary Society of Holy Trinity, all of Westfield, and the Junior League of Plainfield. All contributions may be sent to Westfield Day Care Center, Inc., c/o Mrs. Bernard Robins, 1009 Tice pl., Westfield, 07090.

The course for volunteer helpers at the Westfield Day Care Center has been set for three successive Wednesday mornings—March 13, 20, and 27. Sponsored by the Greater Westfield Section of the National Council of Jewish Women, it will include lectures by prominent local experts on physical and emotional growth, nursery school programming, and art, drama music, and books for the pre-school child. It will also include a visit to the Madison Avenue Chapel site of the center. Mrs. Joseph Wilson, teacher-director of the center, will be advisor.

Up to 25 women may take this course. Those wishing to inquire further may call Mrs. Joseph Indick, 232-2348. All board members are being encouraged to participate. Volunteer help at the Day Care Center is especially needed during the lunch hour, and playtime activities. It is estimated that at the beginning of operations, there will be a need for three part-time volunteers per school day.

Womanly art of self-defense Newcomers set demonstration

A demonstration of Judo, Aikido and Karate by Allen Good highlighted the meeting of the Mountside Newcomers, held at the Mountside Inn recently.

Good, director of the International Institute of Self-Defense, who was introduced by Mrs. Lester Newell, program chairman, explained that Judo, a sport with explicit rules, differs from Aikido and Karate, in that Aikido is a method of self defense, while the purpose of Karate is to hurt or maim an adversary. Good also explained that all of these arts were dependent upon balance, timing and leverage for their effectiveness.

Study recommends plan for Raritan Valley water

The preliminary engineering study and feasibility report on the Raritan Valley Project that will determine the economic well-being of metropolitan New Jersey was issued this week by the North Jersey District Water-Supply Commission.

The study was performed for the commission and 11 northeastern New Jersey communities by the engineering firm of Gilbert Associates, Inc., of Reading, Pa. The communities have subscribed to 60,925 million gallons of water daily (mgd) from a new supply at the Raritan River utilizing the State's Round Valley and Spruce Run reservoirs.

After considering four alternate plans - two for 70 mgd and two for 90 mgd - Gilbert recommended a 70 mgd project - with expansion capability to 90 mgd - over a 26.6-mile route. This would be three miles shorter and $9 to $12 million less costly than a more northerly route which had been proposed earlier, the engineers found.

Under the new design, Raritan River water would be fed into a 72-inch raw-water main from the point of intake near Round Brook and transmitted to a treatment plant near Martinsville in the Washington Valley. After complete treatment (coagulation, sedimentation and filtration), the water would be pumped through a 72-inch force main eastward through the Washington Valley to a balancing reservoir (balancing the system when pumps are overtaxed) in the vicinity of Scotch Plains.

The water would then flow by gravity through an 84-inch main to interconnect with Newark's 60-inch pipeline near the Newark-Elizabeth boundary in Newark.

CONSTRUCTION COST for the recommended project was estimated by Gilbert at $51,226,182. Depending upon the interest rate and including operation and maintenance expenses plus the state's charges of water diverted from the Raritan River, the cost to participating communities under the recommended 70 mgd plan would range between $217.25 and $251.10 per million gallons, Gilbert estimated. For a 90 mgd program, should additional subscribers enroll, the cost range would be from $190.87 to $218.69.

If the partners agree to proceed with little delay, the project could be in operation by early 1972, according to the engineers. Meanwhile, interim financing, detailed engineering and land surveys and acquisition can proceed by mid-1968, and the North Jersey District Water Supply Commission could be ready for bidding by the end of 1969. Construction contracts would be awarded and final financing arranged in early 1970.

"This project is needed, and needed now," Gilbert concluded. "It is hoped that the participants will not be lulled into a false sense of security by the past year's above-normal precipitation. The danger of drought is always with us and cannot be ignored. Nor can we ignore the fact that the economic well-being of the northeast area as a whole hinges on the availability of adequate water supplies and intelligent management of available water resources."

An extended delay "will only complicate and make the water supply situation worse" in view of over-rising costs, Gilbert cautioned.

The five members of the NJDWSC - Chairman Joseph R. Brumalo, of Paterson; and Commissioners H. Kermit Green, Newark; Milton Schumach, Paterson; Maxwell E. Kaps, Jersey City; and Frank A. Orechilo, Nutley - will review the Gilbert findings in detail with all participants before proceeding.

Subscribers and their water commitments are: Bayonne, 12 mgd; Bloomfield, 6; Cedar Grove, 2.5; Elizabeth, 12; Glen Ridge, 6; Kearny, 5; Newark, 15; Nutley, 3; South Orange,

Ask Amy

Dear Amy: I am on the "sucker" list. Please can you tell me what to do? I have given donations to several church groups and now some pastor me by coming to my home each week. Others send letters from all over, even Europe. I also receive articles from different organizations which I never sent for, each one asking for a donation. I wrote to them to cross my name off their list but it has done no good. I send the articles back "Refused", but they keep on sending.

There must be some way to stop them. H.L.M.

Dear H.L.M.: Door to door solicitation of donations can be discouraged with a curt "No" and the refusal to discuss the matter further. Unsolicited mail can just be dumped into the nearest waste paper basket... or returned "Refused", as you have done. But, in most instances, "junk" mail does not enjoy a "return-to-sender" privilege so that the sender is never aware that you have refused his letter.

I'm sure that many of my readers are plagued by unsolicited mail and I would like to hear how they handle the problem.

Dear Amy: My son is a man, 25 years old, and he is going steady with a girl a little past 16. My husband and I think she is too young for him. As parents, we tried to instill some sense into him, but he won't listen.

What's wrong with her parents? Don't they see the difference in their ages?

Do you think I should "step up" the girl's mother and tell her how heartless his dad and I are about this?

Please Help

Dear Help: I certainly would call the aid of this girl's mother. I cannot conceive a mother permitting her daughter of 16 seeing a man 9 years her senior - seriously or otherwise. And she will be able to exert more influence on her child than you have been able to exert on your "man".

Dear Amy: When I was 8 years old I started getting an allowance every three weeks. It has been that way for six years. Now I'm 14 and my father says I'm too old to get an allowance. What should I do?

Junior

Dear Junior: Ask your father what you can do to EARN an allowance!

Dear Amy: The trend to wear short skirts or mini-skirts for the females, and the aerobic, tight trousers and the long hair on the heads of the young males is a God-send. Because, in both cases, the custom not only plainly distinguishes all those who are of a sub-cultural nature, but it also gives an opportunity for these young individuals who are eccentric or have some type of mental derangement to bring to the surface and to display on the countenances and on their heads their ghastly childish innermost thoughts and beliefs. In turn, this ugly display automatically produces a hatred, dislike in those who have higher intellect and forewarns their conscience to discriminate against these who practice in being the laughing stock of our great nation.

Perhaps it would be justice for most of us if we could have these sub-characters dropped by helicopter in the enemy territory of Viet Nam and forsaken there, because in the very end, idiots can only begot other idiots and eventually put our country to ruin.

Andrew S. Kushner (Lakewood, O.)

Dear Mr. Kushner: You did not elucidate as to what "super-culture" YOU might belong to, nor as to YOUR "super-intelligence". In short, what makes you think YOU are omniscient?

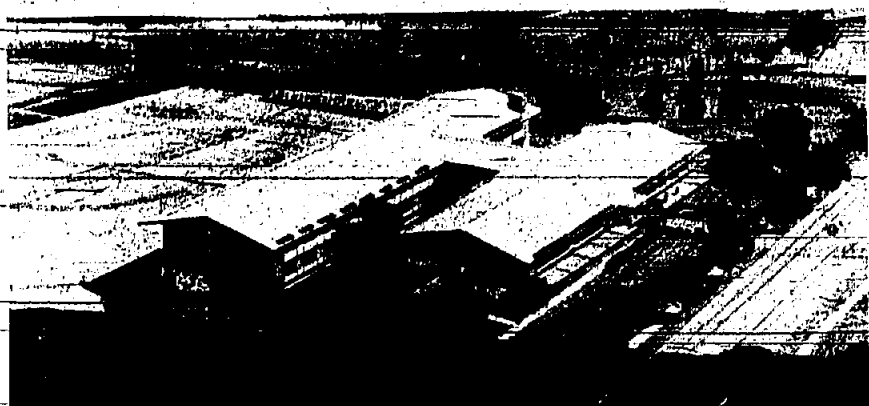

PERSONAL TO Wonder (Cleveland): Don't let your imagination play tricks on you. What you describe is normal. Your husband had no "cute tricks" up his sleeve! And from one damo to another, this comes straight from the shoulder.

Address all letters to: AMY ADAMS c/o THIS NEWSPAPER For a personal reply enclose a stamped, self-addressed envelope.

costs were estimated at $52,828,524 and the rate for delivered water would be between $188.95 and $216.29 per million gallons.

The final alternate, also for 90 mgd capacity, provided for a 72-inch raw water main to the balancing reservoir, and an 84-inch gravity main to the terminus with room in the pipeline for future expansion beyond 90 mgd. Pumping and treatment facilities would allow for 90 mgd to start, and the larger balancing reservoir would be required. Construction cost was placed at $53,919,762, while the water rate was set between $190.87 and $218.69 per million gallons.

Construction costs in each of the four alternatives do not take into account such added charges as property acquisition, various engineering, legal and bonding fees; certain operational expenses; interest during construction and bond discounts. The interest rate is the prime tangible.

Red Cross issues warning on deaths caused by choking

Adults who wear dentures and parents of children under five need to be especially alert to the dangers of choking accidents, the American Red Cross noted this week.

Last year at least 1,200 persons died of choking, Howard C. Camp, Jr., area director of Safety Services for the Red Cross Eastern Area, said this week. "Seven hundred fifty of them were children under five; another 410 persons, from the age of 45 on - many of them wearers of dentures - also choked to death."

Medical authorities believe that a number of other deaths were the result of choking but went unidentified because autopsies were not performed, he pointed out.

Through its first aid courses, the Red Cross gives special attention to the prevention of choking accidents.

Among young children, Camp said, the danger arises to a great extent from the fact that infants do not get all their baby teeth until they are two years old, and the chewing habit is not firmly established until age four.

"As any mother knows, small children will put virtually anything into their mouths. They have a tendency to swallow automatically; therefore, they will try to swallow an inedible object instead of expectorating it, as an adult would."

"SINCE AN INFANT cannot talk, a foreign object may go unrecognized until serious complications or death result.

"Also, children frequently inhale foreign objects into the air passages. These must be promptly removed before they cause respiratory problems or even death."

Orchestra to give concert March 3 with piano soloist

On Sunday, March 3, at 3 p.m., the Bloomfield Symphony Orchestra will present another concert at Bloomfield High School under the direction of its conductor Edward Napiewocki of Union. Guest artist will be Ernest Goldman, of Bloomfield, pianist.

Goldman was born and educated in Vienna, starting his study of piano at the age of six. It is to Mark Goldin, his instructor in Vienna that Goldman feels he owes much in the way of musical inspiration, technique and the feeling for the piano. His lessons of four and five hour duration included concentrated work on the major piano sonatas and concerto. With Goldin at his side, young Goldman performed publicly in Vienna as soloist and in chamber music groups.

He is especially well known for his interpretation of the five "greats" - Bach, Beethoven, Brahms, Mozart and Schubert.

Publications sent in reply to appeal

Following an appeal by the International Association of University Professors and Lecturers (IAUPL), over a hundred specialized books and publications have been sent to the University of Florence to replace copies lost in the 1966 flood. They came from 22 universities and institutes in seven different countries after a list of nearly 700 lost or damaged volumes, drawn up by the Rector of Florence University, had been circulated to IAUPL's member associations.

The International Association has also collected a total of $700 in six different countries for Unesco's International Campaign for Florence and Venice. (UNESCO FEATURES)

Union College increases annual tuition to $1,000

Union College, Crifford, will increase its tuition for full-time students from $880 to $1,000 annually. It was announced this week by Dr. Kenneth C. MacKay, president.

Dr. MacKay said the credit hour tuition charges for part-time students will be increased from $22 to $25. The increases are effective with the start of the summer session in July, Dr. MacKay reported.

This is the first tuition increase at Union College in three years and only the second increase in the past eight years, Dr. MacKay said. The tuition increase is made necessary by "greatly increased operating costs," the Union College president explained.

Drive held by unit assisting retarded

A February community wide drive to enlarge the membership of the Union County Unit, New Jersey Association for Retarded Children was announced this week by Mrs. Carl Boxer, president.

The drive is under the direction of Mrs. Emory Stokes, Berkeley Heights, membership drive chairman. "We hope to reach every citizen of Union County with our message of hope to the retarded," said Mrs. Stokes.

The organization operates a variety of programs to assist retarded persons and their families. It provides nursery classes, day care, vocational training, year-round recreational programs, summer day and residential camps and parent counseling. In addition it helps other community agencies to develop programs that serve the retarded.

Those interested in learning more about the Union County Unit, N.J.A.R.C., may call the unit office in Kentworth, 276-6992.

of Freeholders has agreed to increase grants under the Tuition Aid Plan from $240 to $300 a semester for all Union County residents who are full-time students in the day session. The Tuition Aid Plan was adopted three years ago by the Union County Board of Freeholders and Union College. It is financed with funds provided by the county and the state on a matching basis.

Dr. MacKay commended the Union County Board of Freeholders for absorbing the tuition increase for Union County residents attending Union College as full-time students in the day session.

"WE GREATLY APPRECIATE this precedent-setting program established in cooperation with our Board of Freeholders," Dr. MacKay said. "Hundreds of Union County young people have already benefited from this program, and many, many more will benefit in the future. This program is making a college education a reality for many of our qualified young people."

Dr. MacKay said it has been Union College's policy for the past three decades to keep tuition as low as possible to provide an opportunity for qualified young people to launch their college education at a near-home institution.

"We will make every effort to maintain this policy and hold off tuition increases as long as possible," Dr. MacKay said.

All students accepted for the upcoming summer and fall semesters will be notified of the increased tuition charges, Dr. MacKay said.

"As much as we would prefer not to increase our tuition charges, we have no choice if we are to meet our responsibilities to provide adequate salaries and to pay for the rising cost of nearly everything we need to operate efficiently," Dr. MacKay said. "This step was postponed as long as possible, as we feel a responsibility to provide a quality program as inexpensively as possible."

Collins to discuss 'hitting' at Shore clinic on Saturday

West Long Branch—Two former New York Yankee baseball stars will be featured speakers at the second annual Monmouth College Baseball Clinic which will be held at the College gym on Saturday, starting at 9:30 a.m.

Slugging first baseman Joe Collins and mound ace Bill Kunkel will headline a workshop for Shore Area baseball coaches, players and fans.

Collins is presently an executive with one of the largest trucking firms in the East and resides in Union. He will give his talk and demonstration on "Hitting." The left-handed slugger played with the Yankees for 10 years. The teams on which he played included seven pennant winners and five world champions. He still maintains close contact with all his former teammates and appears annually in the Oldtimers Day Game at the Stadium.

Kunkel, who will speak on "Pitching" is an official in the N.B.A. and is expected to become a regular umpire in the American Baseball League this year. Kunkel, who spoke at last year's clinic on the "fundamentals of pitching" was very enthusiastically received and is back by popular demand.

Last year, over 100 baseball buffs attended the clinic and it will be open again to all coaches, players and fans.

20 Golden Gloves battles tomorrow

Amateur boxing fans will get their money's worth in the semifinals of the New Jersey Golden Gloves tournament tomorrow night when 20 bouts are held in the Elizabeth Elks auditorium.

There will be 12 in the novice division and eight in the open division for more experienced fighters, with action starting at 8:30 p.m.

Four of last year's Golden Gloves champions and a former titleholder will see action. These include the two heavyweight titleholders of 1967—James Kirk of New Shrewsbury and Bob Challice of Paterson.

Kirk won the open championship last February, while Challice took the novice title. They'll be battling for final-round berths tomorrow, along with Bill Rorko of Summit and Al August of the Elizabeth Recreation Club.

Simeon Veles of Perth Amboy, winner of the 112-pound novice title last year, competes in the open semifinals, while Levon Session of Paterson, 147-pound open champ last year and a finalist in 1966, aims for his third consecutive final-round berth.

Harrison's Ralph Castner, a finalist the last five years, hopes to make it six straight in the 165-pound open class. The hard-hitting Castner won Golden Gloves titles in 1963 and 1965, but had to settle for runner-up honors in 1964, 1966 and 1967. He lost to Mike Palardy of West Orange in last year's finals.

Whooping cranes delay gas field

A petroleum company has delayed development of a newly discovered gas field until next May in order to avoid disturbing the world's last flock of whooping cranes.

Oil Facts reports that the discovery well is three miles off the Texas coast, near the wildlife refuge to which the sensitive birds return after spending their summers in Canada. Another oil company won a citation from the National Audubon Society a few years ago for helping to protect the whooping cranes. With the assistance of wildlife conservation authorities, the size of the flock has increased from 14 to 49 in the past decades.

For And About Teenagers

THE WEEK'S LETTER: "I have been reading your article for some time now. I have a problem which I cannot seem to solve. Maybe you can help. My boyfriend and I have been going together for three months now. Lately, he's been sort of avoiding me, or I should say insulting me. I recently gave him a picture of myself and I found out he said I looked like a dud! This is only one example of what he says behind my back. What shall I do? Like him? Too much to break-up-with him?"

OUR REPLY: First, be certain that the people who tell you that he said this or that are reliable. They may be having a bit of fun at your expense. If you believe them, ask the boyfriend if he did say you look like a "dud." And, don't take anything for granted. If he begins to avoid you, if he says unkind things about you to others, the affair is somewhat one-sided and the sooner you break up with him the better off you will be.

If you have a teen-age problem you want to discuss or an observation to make, address your letter to FOR AND ABOUT TEEN-AGERS, COMMUNITY AND SUBURBAN PRESS SERVICE, FRANKFORT, KY.

Launching legal problems in space Down to earth liability in the universe

The legal problems of outer space are as vast as the universe and, in some cases, just as unambiguous. Professor L.F.E. Goldie, a visiting professor of law at the Rutgers School of Law in Newark, will voice for that. Such problems are the focus of his research.

In several papers delivered to groups such as the International Astronautical Congress and the British Institute of International and Comparative Law, he has cited the problems of liability arising from launching objects into outer space. And he also has assessed the sophisticated legal points—the loopholes in other words—which make the international agreements on space complicated documents.

"I can use a hypothetical case to demonstrate just one of the complications," Goldie said. "A group of American astronauts has landed on the moon—sort of an expeditionary force—and one day discovers a new mineral. The group gathers all the mineral available and piles it into one small heap. The men take four or five samples and return to earth.

THEN AFTER THE Americans leave, a group of French astronauts arrives, finds the heap of the mineral, establishes a base camp and proclaims France's sovereignty over the area of the camp. The heap of minerals is within the proclaimed area.

"When they are ready to return to earth, the French take several samples and leave the rest of the pile.

"Shortly thereafter," Goldie continued, "the Americans return. Tests have shown the mineral to be extremely valuable. Therefore, they pick up all the samples and take them back to earth.

"Now it's time for the American astronauts to take a holiday in Paris. As soon as they land in France, they are arrested by the French for grand theft."

Goldie said there would be little to stop the French in doing this even though it is not what is meant by the agreement.

He views the prospect of men being arrested on earth for their actions on what essentially is international territory as somewhat frightening. But he says it is the kind of thing lawyers may run into once the Space Age takes off for exploration of the moon and the planets beyond.

Outside the area of the international conflict of criminal laws, Professor Goldie has done a great deal of research into the area of civil liability for damage resulting from space activities. One of his early articles, "Extra-Territorial Privileges, Immunities and Exemptions," which appeared in the Southern California Law Review in 1963, discusses the danger which may arise from disputes of the lack of concrete definitions.

IN LATER ARTICLES, Goldie, extends his work and considers the types of liability which may be used for damage cases arising from space programs.

"Stray rockets have landed in the jungles of Brazil," Goldie said, "and a Russian vehicle fell in the Dakotas, but no damage was caused. Not as yet."

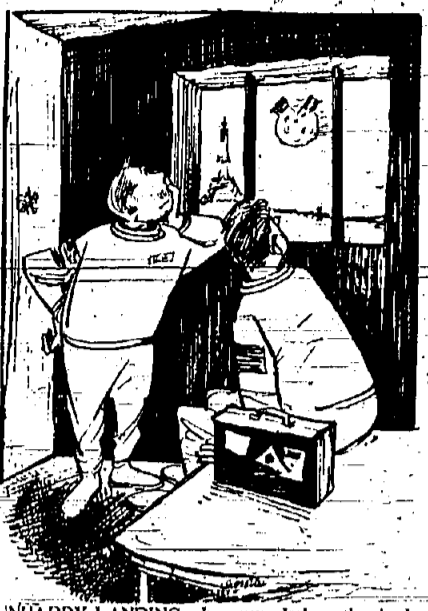

"But what," he asks, "would be the settlement, for instance, if a space vehicle launched from Cape Kennedy went astray and wiped out a city in Brazil? Although this is rather a far-out illustration—it does have an answer. The principle of 'absolute' liability should be applied.

Absolute liability, as it is explained by Prof. Goldie, is the setting of a claim without the establishment of anybody's fault. No one is held blameworthy because of the limited knowledge of the action of the space vehicle after it was launched. But the city would remain in ruins—and damages would have to be paid by the launching country up to an economically feasible maximum liability.

This form of liability is easily applicable to the inherent dangers of launching rockets. So far, however, lawyers have not had a chance to test their theories in the courts.

All vehicles launched are registered with the United Nations, Goldie said, making it possible to determine whose vehicle went astray.

Prof. Goldie, who was born in London and educated in Australia, has done graduate work at the Harvard Law School and taken diplomas from The Hague Academy of International Law. He has taught at the Australian National University and, on a part-time basis, at the Royal Military College, Duntroon, Australia, and is now a professor of law at the Loyola School of Law in Los Angeles.

UNHAPPY LANDING—In a purely hypothetical case, conjured up by an authority on legal problems of outer space, two American astronauts, who were on a holiday in Paris, wind up in jail charged with grand theft for having removed mineral samples from a part of the moon claimed by both countries. Prof. L.F.E. Goldie, a visiting professor of law at the Rutgers School of Law in Newark is investigating problems of liability arising from launching objects into outer space.

A FEMININE LOOK

Last year in January Trudina Howard visited Rhodesia during a National Newspaper Association Study Mission to Africa. The following is a reply to a series of subsequent Feminine Look articles about Rhodesia sent to a new friend in that country.

"Dear Trudina, "Thank you very much for sending the batch of excellent articles. It's so refreshing to read impartial yet factual material—the usual trend is to twist and turn everything in order to satisfy the god of sensationalism.

"I am most gratified to learn that your Rhodesian stories were printed in each of eight papers—some coverage! We can only hope that Congressman Peter H. E. Frelinghuysen read them, 'You' will recall that he supported sanctions in Congress of the 35 members of the Congressional Committee on Foreign Affairs 14 support sanctions (including P.H.B.F. of New Jersey) 11 condemn sanctions and ten are uncommitted. We hope to convince a number of the uncommitted that sanctions are morally wrong.

"It would be foolish to say that sanctions have not affected certain sections of the economy, particularly the tobacco farmers. Also petrol continues to be rationed, although everyone obtains enough to meet day to day requirements with a special allocation for vacations. Of necessity Rhodesia has had to diversify its economy—cotton is gradually replacing tobacco and many of the consumer goods which were formerly imported are now being produced locally at comparative quality and cost.

"For the first ten months of 1967 the index of industrial production which covers electricity, mining and manufacturing production shows a 6.5 percent increase over the 1966 index.

Some 450 new projects have been approved

In the last two years, covering all sectors of manufacturing and involving investment of $23 million and an annual turnover of nearly $68 million, as not all of these have commenced production yet, we anticipate a much higher level of manufacturing production in 1968.

"In the last year rich nickel deposits were discovered a few miles to the North of Salisbury in which many millions have been invested for capital development. The retail trade is 10 percent on 1966 and in general consumer prices have remained stable. The Caucasian consumer price index for the first 10 months of 1967 was only 2.1 percent over that for the same period in 1966 and the African cost of living index even less, being a 1.1 percent increase. Tourism showed a 9 percent increase over 1966, thereby increasing our earnings of foreign exchange.

"Almost 10,000 people immigrated into Rhodesia in 1967 which, although less than 1965, is higher than any other year since 1959. At the same time approximately only 5,000 departed in 1967, being less than the figures for both 1965 and 1966, and less than half the 1964 figure.

"Building plans passed in the first 9 months of 1967 were 57 percent higher than in the same period in 1966. Even higher levels are expected in 1968.

"As you can see, Trudina, we have successfully weathered the economic storms and look forward to greater successes in the years ahead.

"We certainly have experienced a spate of American opinion-formers during the last few weeks. Barry Goldwater was the biggest name of course, then Dr. Billy James Hargis, Howard E. Kershner, Frank Wright, Colonel Bunker, Karl Hess and a host of others. We welcome these visits by your fellow Americans who, on their return home, do their utmost to rectify the distorted news, pushed out by certain elements of the Press.

"Please drop me a line when you have a spare moment—from your eight newspapers! "D. Garner, for Secretary, Ministry of Information, Immigration and Tourism."

Report from Trenton

By State Senator Matthew J. Rinaldo

Union County motorists, upon whom the New Jersey Highway Authority hopes to impose the burden of tolls for travel on the Garden State Parkway, have watched with growing dismay the travesty in progress at Telegraph Hill. I speak of the cultural center whose costs already have reached $6.5 million -- far more than the $1.5 million price originally projected. And it could very well hit the $10 million mark. I have long maintained that this is an unwarranted abuse of prerogative by a public authority. On the one hand, the Authority seeks to extract money for riding on a highway that was built with public funds; on the other hand, it goes off on a wide tangent to build a cultural center, something far beyond its purview. It is not my purpose to be pessimistic. I have a deep and abiding interest in the promotion of cultural activities. It is just that I do not think the construction of a cultural center is a fitting and proper activity of a public authority that was created to build and operate a highway. The New Jersey Highway Authority was created by the legislature in 1952. At the time, it was charged with the responsibility for constructing and maintaining the Garden State Parkway. It also was authorized to build "such adjoining park or recreational areas and facilities as the Authority, with the concurrence of the Department of Conservation and Economic Development, shall find to be necessary and desirable to promote the public health and welfare."

Investors course at Elizabeth 'Y'

Part II of a course on securities and investing will be presented by the Information Program of the Elizabeth YWCA starting next Wednesday. The course, a part of the New York Stock Exchange program, will be held from 8 to 10 p.m. on four consecutive Wednesdays. Sidney Cooper of Burnham & Co., New York, State Senate on March 11, the bill would amend the 1952 act to restrict the Authority's construction of recreational and cultural facilities to those "directly related to the use" of highways. It would also specifically prohibit the Authority from engaging in the construction or operation of any facility or activity "not directly related to the use of a highway project except as may be specifically authorized by law." My bill would not, of course, affect the cultural center now underway, but it would bar the door to similar projects in the future.

will conduct the opening class on "Spending, Credit and Investors." Paul Epstein of Reynolds & Co., Newark, will conduct succeeding classes on "Economic Indicators," "Selection of Securities" and "Investing Theories and Techniques."

All lectures are free to YWCA members and associates. A registration fee of $1.50 is required from all others. Advance registration may be made by telephone, (355-1500) mail or in person.
