combined regional district. We regret that the proposed plan of the Union County Regional High School Board of Education to provide the urgently needed expansion and modernization of the region's educational plants projects fatal defects that, in our view, demand rejection of the program.

"We oppose the referendum both from the viewpoint of the local interests of the Springfield community and the broader interests of the regional high school system. As residents of Springfield, we believe it is wrong to make the long-deferred and long-overdue renovations to the Jonathan Dayton plant dependent upon the passage of a $4,000,000 bond issue, and we oppose this approach to the Springfield problem.

"We want expansion within the regional system to further equalize the goals of quality education. We believe that each of our regional communities has the right to expect—and the regional board has the duty to provide—an equal educational opportunity for its children in the schools to which they are assigned within the district. The proposed referendum defeats this expectation. Let us examine it:

"While it proposes long overdue remodeling and renovation for Jonathan Dayton, with which we agree, its accompanying condition involves addition of the freshman class from Mountaineer during this period of construction. The present seventh grade class at Gaudineer, one of the largest in the school's history, will also be entering the freshman class at Dayton at the same time. Results of our League study at Dayton reveal inadequate space and facilities for present school populations. The transfer of Mountaineer students to Dayton during this proposed construction can only add to present difficult problems.

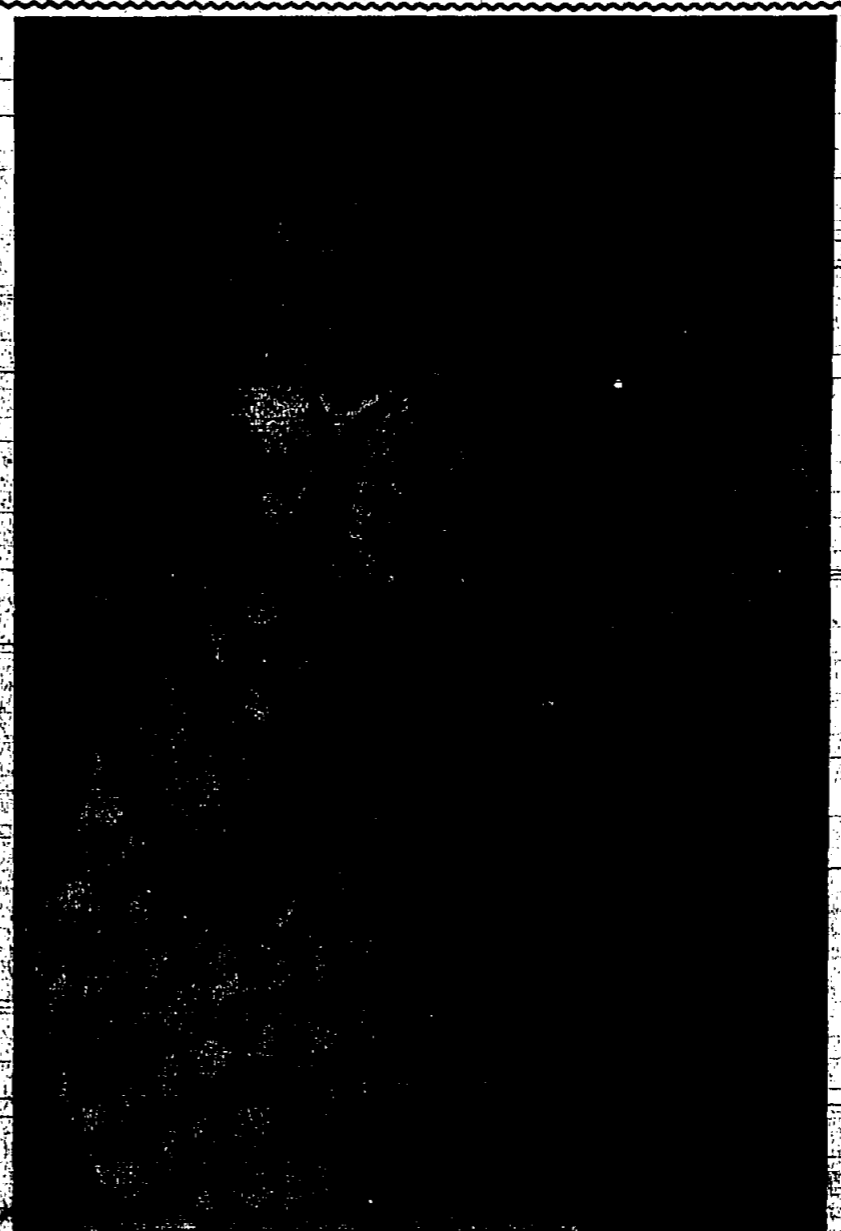

"We therefore believe that the most suitable place for these Mountaineer freshmen is at David Brearley (Kenilworth), the newest and least crowded of the schools in the system. We fail to understand why the Regional Board of Education is reluctant to bus Mountaineer students (who must be bused to David Brearley, while they find no difficulty in busing handicapped students from the entire district to the same school, in fact, they are justifiably proud of the program there.

Approve site on top of hill near quarry

Final action deferred on raising speed limits

By ANNER GOLD
The Township Committee on Tuesday night unanimously approved a variance for a 228-unit garden-apartment development on abandoned quarry property along Rt. 78, between Stampike road and Troy Village apartments. There was no opposition from the less than a dozen spectators.

Committeeman Philip Del Vecchio, who presided at the meeting in Town Hall, reported that Mayor Robert D. Hardgrove was scheduled to return home yesterday after a two-week stay in Overlook Hospital for a kidney ailment.

In other business, the governing body deferred action on an ordinance setting new, higher speed limits and authorizing flashing lights in front of schools on the town's main north-south roads.

An ordinance was introduced setting salaries for municipal employees for the coming year, with a final hearing scheduled for March 13. The garden apartment variance applies to a hilltop tract across Stampike road from Houdaille Quarry. Several abandoned quarry pits on the land, described as making the property unsuitable for any other use, will be utilized as recreation areas for the apartment development. The land had been zoned for limited business use.

The variance specified that the property be used for 144 one-bedroom apartments, 72 two-bedroom apartments and 12 three-bedroom units. Committeeman noted that the plans had been approved by the Board of Education as not putting an undue strain on the local school system. The variance was granted to Segal Realty Co., owned by Nicholas Angleton, developer of Troy Village.

THE SPEED LIMIT ordinance was forced to wait for final passage after Committeeman Robert G. Ploner noted that "various groups in Trenton had not yet issued the promised formal approval for the flashing lights in front of schools on the expressway. The ordinance, which would raise the speed limits from 25 to 35 miles per hour on Mountain, S. Springfield and Metcal avenues, with a 30-mile limit on Metcal avenue from East 4th to Riverside drive.

Ploner recalled that the increase in speed limits was a compromise with the state highway officials, desired for a 35-mile limit. The measure had been carried over for a year, with Trenton giving permission for a deal, with Trenton giving permission for a deal, with Trenton giving permission for a deal.

Offer answers to businessmen on YES work

As a forerunner to Youth Employment Service Commemorative Week, which will take place in April, The Springfield YES this week reported the following "most-asked questions" and the answers that will help local businessmen and business people to get to know what YES is:

"What is Youth Employment Service? The Youth Employment Service has been established to fill the needs of two groups in our community: employes, whether home-owner, businessman or plant manager, who can use part-time or temporary help (or full-time during the summer); and young people who are able, interested and qualified, and who currently want income and job experience.

"Is Youth Employment Service a non-profit organization? YES is an independent, non-profit organization. It is governed by the school boards, business, labor and other organizations in the area. All representatives and judges of the N.J. Department of Labor and Industry.

"What types of jobs can the students registered with YES fill? In offices — to type, file, run errands, help with the mail, answer the telephone, fill in during busy periods of vacations. At home — for yard work, baby-

Poems are stored in library's stacks, with plants to help the readers relax

The Springfield Public Library this week reported that it now has on display at the circulation desk an "attractive arrangement of indoor plants." Providing the library with flowers or plants is a special service made possible by the Springfield Women's Club.

This month's arrangement by Mrs. Edward Rackowski features popular household plants. Attached to the container is a card that gives the botanical name of each living plant. There are the small-leaved cordatum philodendron, sansevieria or snake plant, nephytis (arrow head), spike grass and crassula arborescens or jade plant. Scratching among the plants is a small life-like finch.

The library anticlimax added, "With so much cold weather lately and bare trees outdoors, the planter is a welcome sight at the circulation desk where books are returned or charged out.

"Community interest and participation in the library by groups or public spirited individuals is more than welcome at the Springfield Public Library."

Miss Feller wins $1,000 Elks grant to finance studies

Henry A. Cumberley, scholarship chairman for Springfield Elks Lodge 2004, has announced that Patricia Feller of Denver, formerly of Springfield, has been awarded a $1,000 Elks National Foundation grant to help finance her studies in the treatment of cerebral palsy at the University of Pennsylvania School of Allied Medical Professions, Philadelphia.

Miss Feller, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John Feller, is a student at Maryville College, Maryville, Tenn. Her father is a member of Springfield Lodge 2004. Miss Feller is a 1964 graduate of Jonathan Dayton Regional High School.

Springfield Lodge, sponsor of Miss Feller's application, was notified of the award by the foundation executive director, Nelson E.W. Stuart of Chicago.

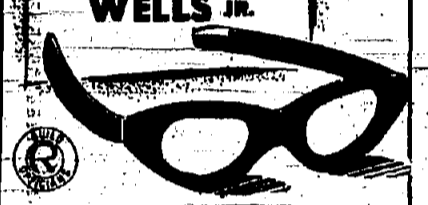

The Elks National Foundation has current resources totalling more than $17,000,000. The income of nearly $600,000 yearly is used to finance a wide range of education and benevolent activities, including grants to doctors, therapists, technicians, nurses and teachers for study of advance techniques in the treatment and rehabilitation of cerebral palsy children.

More than 1,700 persons have benefited from this program and approximately 150 grants are made each year.

Cumberley and his committee are now working on applications from Jonathan Dayton Regional High School for the Elks National Foundation "Most Valuable Student" scholarship awards. After the committee selects the winners from the applications turned in, the two top choices will go on to the Northwest District, then to the state, and the winners from the state will go to the national organization. Springfield has had one boy win in the state and another boy in the national in past years.

Plans were made for a future meeting to refine ways in which those present might better serve the community.

At the same time, the group endorsed and supported the coming combined PTA meeting at the Edward Walton School on Monday evening, March 18, entitled "Truth or Consequences," a communications topic to be discussed by members of the local Juvenile Conference Committee.

Oehling, both of the St. James Church; the Rev. James Dewart, Springfield Emmanuel Methodist Church, Rabbi Reuben Levine, Temple Beth Ahm, the Rev. Kenneth Stumpf, Holy Cross Lutheran Church; the Rev. Warren West, Evangelical Baptist Church; the Rev. Bruce W. Evans, and the Rev. Joseph T. Houran, both of the First Presbyterian Church. ### Pirates take crown for regular season in Sandmeier play

The Pirates, with Coach Dave Brown at the helm, took the regular season basketball crown in the Sandmeier Small-Fry League. The regular season schedule was concluded with play at the Thelma Sandmeier School last Saturday afternoon. The Pirates won the league crown in grand style as they crushed the Jets by a 21 to 6 score. The Pirates will now attempt a grand slam, as the league playoffs start this Saturday at the Sandmeier gymnasium.

The Pirates made their championship game a true team effort, as six boys participated in the scoring. Mitch Kuzner, with six points, led the scoring. Russ Gabay scored five points, while Marc Bloom hit four points. Mark Pesuro, Dave Steinhilber, and Scott Meyerson all added single buckets to the Pirate attack. Billy Bohrod was the top scorer in the Jet attack, as he tallied four points. Bobby Pith hit a final-period bucket for the Jets.

The Rockets moved into a second-place tie with the Raiders as they topped the Raiders, 12 to 6. Bob Barry, Wayne Dostal and Joe Nello all took an equal hand in the Rocket victory. Each boy contributed four points on a pair of field goals. Mike Tabakin was the big gun in the Raiders' attack. Mike tallied five points with two from the field and a free throw. Larry Klarfeld hit a foul shot for the Raiders.

The Chargers made it a three-way tie for second place, as they dumped the Tigers, 15 to 8. Guy Warman played one of his finest games of the season in leading the Chargers to victory. Guy tallied 11 points, as he hit five times from the field and once from the foul line. Andy Cohen and Ron Frank hit single buckets for the winners. The Tigers distributed their scoring among four boys. Billy Nevius, Mike Nalbert and Ricky Nelfield each hit from the field, while Leon Rawitz added a pair of free throws.

The final game of the regular season saw the Comets win their second game of the season as they trounced the Chiefs, 11 to 2. Andy Kaplan and Jan Rockoff, each with four points on a pair of goals led the winning attack. Soggy Adams hit a bucket and Dave Shulman scored on a free throw to conclude the scoring for the Comets. Joe Watkins gave the Chiefs their only points with a final-period basket.

Station Breaks

A musical trip across the United States featuring Herb Alpert & the Tijuana Brass. The heat of the Brass will be demonstrated as indigenous to the life, rhythms, pulse and pastimes of the country. From deserted Ellis Island, historic entrance point for millions of refugees, to Mardi Gras in New Orleans, complete with a musical trip on a riverboat, to the beat of the Brass playing counterpoint with the Spring training practice of the Chicago Cubs, the show will demonstrate visually as well as musically the universal application and appeal of the Brass in this country.

Add to this a musical visit to a Children's Zoo, a raucous, upbeat version of a real American rodeo as well as two or three other surprises, and the night of April 22 will find every segment of this country swinging to the beat of the Brass on the CBS-TV network.

Your Garden This Week

By Your Rutgers Garden Reporter

Here's a real success story about bird feeding.

The item that appeared here a couple of weeks ago about the Rutgers Bulletin, "Attracting Winter Birds," prompted a woman near Hightstown to take time out from her bird-watching to write a note about her project.

She's a real pro, compared to some of us who feel pretty well rewarded if chickadees or two and an occasional cardinal show up on a window feeder.

Not so Mrs. W. She gets a flock of 50 pheasants in her two acres of woods at a time. When the snow is deep, there's a fence post, a plastic bottle with holes in a fence post. When Mrs. W. writes that she is an "avid" bird watcher and feeder, she means it.

ANOTHER WOMAN near Hackettstown seems more concerned about providing tree lodging than bird food.

She writes that she manages to keep tenants in her dozen birdhouses every year. A few times we took them down, cleaned them, painted them and while we were setting them in place the birds were already waiting with bits in their mouths for new nests. Would like very much to do the right thing.

The question is, should she do their house-cleaning for them? Should she clean out the houses and when?

I put the question to Dr. Jim Westman, wildlife specialist. He says he feels it's best to clean out his houses before the new nesting season -- and it's quite a job to make things tidy in the apartment-house dwellings that purple martins must have.

However, he's found that wrens aren't fussy at all. They'll just move in and rearrange the old furnishings to suit.

As the new gardening season gets closer, do you have any questions about gardening or home grounds care? You can ask your county agricultural agent, but if you don't know him, write to Garden Reporter, College of Agriculture, Rutgers University, New Brunswick 08903. I'll get the answer for you.

Angler's Catch

Striped bass fishing in New Jersey will re-open tomorrow, according to Commissioner Robert A. Roe of the State Department of Conservation and Economic Development.

Action this weekend may be limited because of cold water conditions. Striped bass do not become active until water temperatures rise above 40 degrees.

Close surveillance of coastal rivers and bays will be maintained by the Coastal Patrol and Land-based Conservation Officers of the Conservation Department's Division of Fish and Game. This patrol is aimed at preventing any instances of foul-hooking, dorming, bass, as well as enforcing size and creel limits.

The only legal methods for catching stripers within the three-mile limit of State jurisdiction are angling with hook and line and the specialized sport of goggle fishing. Goggle fishing, limited to the Atlantic Ocean, is defined as taking fish by use of a hand-propelled spear while the angler is completely submerged; this is primarily a summer pastime because of water temperatures.

An 18-inch size minimum and 10 fish creel limit prevail in all State waters except Delaware River and Bay. The 18-inch limit applies to any striped bass caught, offered for sale or possessed for sale in the State, regardless of where they were caught.

In Delaware Bay, the river and tidal tributaries between New Jersey and Delaware, the minimum size is 20 inches, with a maximum size of 20 pounds. In the Delaware between New Jersey and Pennsylvania, a 12-inch minimum prevails.

As a new warmer, has become more active, and additional stripers move into Garden State waters on their northbound migration, providing top sport for both trollers and surf anglers. Catches in the 50-pound class are not uncommon during the spring and fall migrations, with good fishing in the Sandy Hook area through the summer. Some of the best spots are also Island Beach and Sandy Hook State Parks and the bridges over the Navesink and Shrewsbury rivers. Last summer's catch of a 63-pound striper, once short of the state record, in the surf at Sandy Hook is ample evidence of the quality of New Jersey striped bass fishing.

Bloodmobile

Canada, Puerto Rico or the Virgin Islands. In addition to securing credits for whole blood donors, group members are entitled to free blood derivatives upon presentation of a doctor's prescription. Such derivatives include gamma globulin for measles and hepatitis prevention.

Prospective donors must be between the ages of 18 and 59, healthy and weigh over 110 lbs. Persons between 18 and 21 not married or their parents or guardians to donate. Women who have been pregnant within the past 12 months must postpone donations.

"The procedure for giving blood is simple and painless, requiring one hour. Donors do not fast, although very rich, heavy food prior to donation is to be avoided. Persons having late afternoon appointments are urged to have an afternoon coffee break. Donors are medically screened according to standards established by the National Institute of Health. Temperature, pulse, blood-pressure and hemoglobin are checked. In case of doubt, a donor is seen by the physician, who is on the scene at all times. One pint of blood is drawn by a highly skilled nurse, and afterwards the donor is served light refreshment and is ready to leave.

"Transportation will be available throughout the day for those requiring it. Please notify the Red Cross chapter at 376-1676, or Mrs. Daniel Kalem at 376-0582 if a ride is needed.

"The goal for the forthcoming Bloodmobile visit is 100 pints of blood."

AN ENTIRELY NEW CONCEPT IN CENTRAL AIR CONDITIONING

"FEDDERS DUOFLEX"

Offers Advantages Found In No Other Central System!

- 1.) Fedders Duoflex system is a better system simply because it's so logical. Look at it this way. Most summer days are quite hot, but not unusually hot. On average summer days, one of the two systems operates & keeps you refreshed with spring-like, dehumidified air. And if a hot spell occurs, or the heat rises on a typical summer day, the second system cuts in automatically and works together with the first. Whatever the outside temperature, you're always cool and comfortable with the Duoflex system.
- 2.) Lower Operating Costs. It's more economical to operate than a conventional single system with equivalent cooling capacity. A single system, with large horsepower motor, will cycle on and off more frequently than the steady running Duoflex, with lower horsepower motor. And, since motor start-up is the big consumer of electricity, and since Duoflex runs on one system most of the time with lower horsepower motor, it consumes less current. This of course means savings for you.
- 3.) Better Dehumidification, Too.. Humidity works hand in hand with heat to make you uncomfortable. But not with Duoflex performing and wringing moisture from the air.
- 4.) Designed with Extra Care... Once your Duoflex system is installed, you'll experience a totally new type of summer. Mom can cook those favorite hot dishes, even when the temperature soars to 90 and more outside. Dad will want to hurry home to his air-conditioned haven. The whole family will feel more relaxed, and disposition have a way of staying cheerful in crisp, Duoflex conditioned air. It makes good sense to invest in Duoflex. It's a better system, and an investment in better living.

 elected president of Quality Weeklies

Robert M. Sullivan, business manager of the Caldwell Progress, was elected president of Quality Weeklies of New Jersey at the annual meeting at the Hotel Suburban, East Orange. He succeeds W. Kenneth Moss, advertising director of the News-Record of Maplewood and South Orange, who remains as a member of the executive committee.

Quality Weeklies is the national advertising representative for 45 newspapers in 12 northern New Jersey counties, including this newspaper. Eve Forbes, publisher of the Summit Herald, the Dispatch of New Providence and Berkeley Heights, and the Chatham Press, was elected vice president. Donald L. Millard, associate publisher of the Montclair Times and executive vice president of the Verona-Cedar Grove Times, was re-elected secretary. William M. Livany, general manager of the Bloomfield Independent Press and the Glen Ridge Paper, remains as treasurer.

Pat Faella, who manages Quality Weeklies, reported 2,262,339 page lines of advertising were placed with member newspapers during 1967.

Sullivan attended Mount St. Mary's College at Emmitsburg, Maryland, where he was an English major. He is president of the Caldwell Chamber of Commerce and a member of the Knights of Columbus and the Caldwell-West Essex Kiwanis Club. He is active with the New Jersey Press Association advertising conference committees. He and his wife Moira live in North Caldwell.

Sullivan's paper is a charter member of Quality Weeklies, which was founded 25 years ago. His father, John A. Sullivan Jr., now publisher of The Progress, headed Quality Weeklies in 1961.

TIRE BLOW-OUT

If a tire-blow-out occurs on a bridge or overpass, or along a guide railing which makes it impossible for a driver to pull his automobile onto a wide shoulder, he should take a chance on running the tire by driving along a safe turn-off, than to take a chance with his own life and those of passengers; the American Automobile Association urges.

Ask Amy

By
AMY ADAMS

Dear Amy:

I need help! My husband and I were married about 6 months ago and for both of us it was our second marriage. He has a son who is 6 years old and I have a 3 month old daughter. Before I married my husband, I was his housekeeper; his 3rd in two years. So his son has already been exposed to this situation before.

Well, my problem is the boy. He doesn't talk to me and pays no attention to anything I say to him even though he knows I'm his mother now. He won't listen to anyone but his father. He goes into the kitchen and changes everything around, and when I ask him what he is looking for, he says he wants to see what I have. He also has a habit of touching me bodily—a habit I can't break him out of. When I get angry, he just laughs.

Amy, help! Am I wrong or what? I'm at the edge of a nervous breakdown.

A New Mrs.

Dear New Mrs.: You shouldn't be expected to have to deal alone with this child. His father should be brought into the picture and perhaps the two of you, in harmony, through discipline and love, and make this child more of what's expected of him and what a real family is all about.

Dear Amy:

Read your article concerning children using first names instead of Mr. or Mrs. I agree. We hear too much of first name calling. Children should be taught as soon as they can by their parents to use Mrs. or Mr.

I have 3 daughters, 4 and 1 year old. They are taught to use Mr. or Mrs. and also aunt and uncle. Many times people say, "Oh, let them call me by my first name. I don't mind." Of course I insist otherwise. I believe children should be taught this. It takes so little and means so much.

Well, at home, also use the other seldom heard words, such as "May I," "Please," "Thank you" and "I'm sorry." Grace is said together as our meals. Our 1-year-old cannot say the words yet, but she folds her little hands together in prayer.

We too often hear the bad and the gossip first. We seldom hear the good. It is around, but not on our streets getting into trouble!

Mrs. J. F. (Cleveland, O.)

Dear Mrs. J. F.: Your letter was a joy to read. You are certainly raising your daughters to be lovely young ladies.

There is a saying, "As we sow, so shall we reap." You will reap much happiness from them as they grow older with the good training you are giving them now.

Happiness always!

Dear Amy:

People say I look much older than I am and that I'm quite mature for my age. I am now in my freshman year at high school and I just love it. I've met so many nice people and I would like very much to associate with them, but the problem is that I can't go out.

I'm not trying to say I want to go dating, but just to attend an occasional school dance. My mother says I have to mind my little sister who is 10—even though one of my parents may be home at the time.

Don't they understand that it's hard when all your friends are going out and you have to say you can't?

My parents aren't really very old. They are both 32, yet they act like old-fashioned, overly protective parents. Amy, how old must I be to go to a dance? What happens if I'm always stuck minding my little sister? Am I asking too much?

Sick of Apron Strings

Dear Sick: I see nothing wrong with going to school dances. Even at 14! This is the part of your schooling that should teach you the social graces and how to conduct yourself properly in the company of the opposite sex.

Mother and dad should visit the school counselor and get a better insight into what a young girl needs as she grows up.

Hearings planned
 on state's needs

Public hearings to help find New Jersey's prime capital needs for the next 10 years will be held in Newark early in March.

George E. Connett, executive director of Governor Richard J. Hughes' Commission to Evaluate the Capital Needs of New Jersey, said hearings are set for the weeks of March 11 and 18 for citizens groups to present their views of priority state needs.

Connett, an executive general manager with Prudential Insurance Co., said testimony will be taken at the hearings from "spokesmen for interested organizations concerned with such vital needs as conservation, pollution control, transportation, education, health, and urban redevelopment."

Commission members already have spoken with citizen groups throughout the state and have written to others, the director said. He emphasized that the commission encourages groups with an interest in the state's future and written statements to the commission.

As many of those organizations as possible will be heard. Written statements of position are invited so more hearing time can be devoted to questions to each group.

Ruins of temple found in Turkey

The remains of a temple dating from the reign of Croesus (6th century B.C.) have been unearthed on the ancient site of Sardes, near Izmir, in western Turkey, by an archaeological team from the American universities of Cornell and Harvard. According to the scholars the altar was dedicated to the goddess Cybele and was later used by the Persians, after the defeat of Croesus, for sacrifices to the fire god.

The archaeologists also discovered three cemetaries and a bronze-age village about six miles further north. They

Tips for Today's Homemaker

From Anne L. Sheelan, County Home Economist

POTATOES ABUNDANT! Serve potatoes in a variety of ways; they are now plentiful and have great potential in your menu plans.

The United States Department of Agriculture reports that the nation's storage bins are bursting with record stocks of fall potatoes and the winter crop is available for the market.

Potatoes contain a wide variety of vitamins and minerals. They make an important contribution to the diet by supplying iron, thiamine and ascorbic acid. They are also highly digestible.

To Publicity Chairmen:

Would you like some help in preparing newspaper releases? Write to this newspaper and ask for our "Tips on Submitting News Releases."

We're delighted to have it that way. However, I mustn't let my enthusiasm run away with me. Care must be taken for everybody. The way they shed fur can bother anyone with hay fever or asthma. They occasionally bring home half-dead field mice. They persuade birds to nest elsewhere.

Outlines attributes for school boards

"Breadth of vision and a defined philosophy of educational attributes for today's school board members," says Mrs. Ruth H. Page, executive director of the State Federation of District Boards of Education.

Commenting on qualifications for membership on a board of education, Mrs. Page said that because the moral and sociological issues confronting the schools today are so vast, it is urgent that board members be carefully chosen.

State reports increase in student loan program

An increase of 61.7 percent in the number of loans to New Jersey students attending colleges was reported this week by the State Department of Higher Education.

The report covered the first half of this fiscal year, the period from July 1 through Dec. 31.

The number of loans was 20,169, an increase of 7,702 over the first half of the previous fiscal year. They totaled $20,491,245, an increase of $7,936,240.

The average loan increased from $1,005.45 to $1,015.98.

Both state-guaranteed and federally-insured loans were counted in the totals.

State-guaranteed loans numbered 15,587, an increase of 3,120 or 25 per cent. They amounted to $16,150,894, up $3,615,889 or 28.8 per cent.

IN ADDITION, THERE were 4,582 federally-insured loans totalling $4,340,351. The federal program was initiated in October 1967 because state reserve funds were fully committed.

The entire program is administered by the Student Loan Office of the Department of Higher Education.

The loans, to help pay college costs, are at the rate of six per cent simple interest a year. The Federal Government pays the interest while the student is in college and one-half the interest after college provided the borrower's adjusted family income is under $15,000 at the time the loan is made.

Students borrow from private lending institutions in amounts up to $1,500 a year. Repayment can be spread up to 10 years after graduation. In case of default, repayment is guaranteed by the State Higher Education Assistance Authority or the Federal Government.

Eligible lending institutions include commercial and savings banks, savings and loan associations, credit unions, and insurance companies. Application for a loan should be made two months prior to the date when funds will be needed.

Since the start of its program in 1960, the state has guaranteed 50,276 loans totalling $46,664,443, with a reserve investment of $5.1 million.

This was the status of the program, as of December 31: Loans outstanding, 46,786 in the amount of $43,984,570; loans paid in full, 2,269 in the amount of $1,634,938; and loans cancelled, 713 in the amount of $625,868.

There were defaults by 323 students, in 24 of those cases, default was a result of the death of the borrower. Twenty-two of the others have made repayments to the state, and 180 are currently making repayments, income from the Higher Education Assistance Fund has been more than sufficient to cover the amount the state has had to pay to lenders because of defaults.

Last year, 12 1/2 percent of all New Jersey residents attending colleges, both in state and out, were being assisted under the Loan Program. Eighty-five percent were full-time undergraduates. The rest were full-time graduate students.

Lower than usual post-Christmas employment drop

Nonfarm wage and salary employment in New Jersey declined less than seasonally by 54,500 from December to January, after rising counter to the usual seasonal pattern a month earlier. According to estimates prepared by the New Jersey Department of Labor and Industry, mid-January employment was 2,380,200 (excluding farm, domestic, self-employed and unpaid family workers). This was 23,300, or slightly more than one per cent higher than a year earlier.

Manufacturing employment was down seasonally by 11,230. Post-Christmas layoffs in the toy industry were responsible for more than half of a 5,200 decline in the durable goods sector. In addition, a fire in a plant of a major manufacturer of furniture and fixtures was the main reason for the layoff of 1,300 workers in that industry. In nondurable goods, employment was down 6,000, with seasonal layoffs of 2,000 in apparel, 1,300 in food and 1,000 in textiles responsible for most of the decline.

Employment in non-manufacturing was down by 43,300, a drop less than seasonally expected. Major over-the-month changes included seasonal declines of 25,300 in trade, 11,800 in contract construction, 3,300 in services, and 2,800 in government, mainly because of layoffs of temporary postal workers.

The average factory workweek was down seasonally by six-tenths of an hour to 40.7 hours during mid-January. Average hourly earnings of factory production workers reached another record at $3.03, but average weekly earnings, reflecting the shorter workweek, dropped one dollar to $123.

COLD CAN CRACK

Adding cold water to a car's radiator when the engine is over-heated may crack or damage the cylinder head or engine block. When the engine has cooled off, water should be added slowly with the engine running at slightly faster than idling speed, advises the American Automobile Association.

Bell chemist blames rubber for discoloration in plastics

A chemist at the Bell Telephone Laboratories in Murray Hill has an answer to complaints about discoloration and brittleness in telephones, luggage, auto parts, and outdoor plastic products.

The trouble is not with the plastic, but with the rubber that is mixed with it to increase flexibility and toughness, Donald J. Boyle told the American Chemical Society's Middle Atlantic regional meeting in Philadelphia. The answer is for plastics manufacturers to use a "saturated" rubber instead of the "unsaturated polybutadiene rubber" used at present, he suggested.

Boyle has been studying a family of plastics called acrylonitrile butadiene styrene, or ABS polyblends for short, which are mixtures of plastic ingredients. These blends are used in telephones, suitcases, machine parts, auto interiors, golf clubs, and housings for outboard motors.

The process responsible for the complaints is oxidation. Actually, two types of oxidation were studied: one in which the rubber, exposed to sunlight and weather, combined normally with oxygen from the atmosphere, and the other in which it was oxidized while heated in an oven at 71 degrees centigrade.

After 12 months the normal oxidation had produced a completely yellow surface, Boyle reported. After 24 months, yellowing was still going on in the oven-treated plastic, while thermal oxidation involved the entire plastic. The experiments show quite conclusively that the early color change in ABS-type polyblends is caused by the polybutadiene, or rubber ingredient, he stated.

IN ANOTHER REPORT at the meeting, Dr. K.R. Bhaskar of the New York Medical College, Plover and Fifth Avenue Hospitals, New York, said that experiments now indicate that cholesterol molecules may deposit out on artery walls because they have clumped together or combined with fat molecules to form large particles. This observation suggests that increased fat in the diet may also mean increased hydrogen atom of one cholesterol molecule is attracted to the oxygen atom of another. By such a bonding of hydrogen to oxygen, blood cholesterol molecules may clump together, or with fat, and precipitate out of the blood onto arterial walls.

Thursday, February 29, 1968

The ability of cholesterol to bond to fat, raises the question of whether increased fat intake also means increased cholesterol in the blood. Cholesterol is known to inhibit its own synthesis in the body through a "feedback" mechanism.

The symposium will be held from 9 a.m. to 12:15 p.m. in the college's Tollill Auditorium.

Co-sponsored by the Glassboro State College Club for Exceptional Children and the Gloucester County Unit of the New Jersey Association for Retarded Children, the symposium will feature a panel of experts from the eastern seaboard.

Platform speakers will be Dr. Charles Jochem, superintendent, Katzenbach State School for the Deaf; David Rosen, superintendent, Woodbridge State School; Herbert Russett, visiting lecturer, Teachers College, Columbia University; and Dr. Boyd Nelson, director of the New Jersey Education Department special education services. Dr. Willie Kate Baldwin, professor of education, is coordinating the symposium.

MORE IN SCHOOL: Between 1957 and 1965, the number of children in primary school in Afghanistan rose from 129,000 to 458,000, and the number at secondary school from 6,500 to 34,000. (UNESCO FEATURES)

Small planet to near earth

A small planet, Icarus, will approach close to the earth during 1968, and is likely to miss it by only 3,750,000 miles according to the latest calculations of the international center for calculating the orbits of celestial bodies in Leningrad.

Icarus, whose orbit crosses that of the earth once every 19 years, will come closest to our planet in mid-June, according to a handbook, "Ephemerides of Small Planets for 1968," which the Leningrad center has sent to all the world's observatories. It is likely to be first spotted on April 9, and remain visible until Aug. 27. Another small planet, the recently discovered asteroid Geographos, will pass close to the earth in 1969.

The possibility of one of the thousands of known small planets colliding with the earth does exist in theory, but in fact a collision is highly improbable. In any case, the Soviet astronomer Gleb Chebotaryov believes that "the successes of rocketry and nuclear physics give us grounds for hoping that mankind will be able to avert this threat," should it exist.

Extinct form of life studied

An American scientist has developed an ingenious new bio-chemical technique for calculating the body temperature of prehistoric animals that died as long ago as the late-Pleistocene period. The new technique may well provide valuable information about extinct forms of animal life as well as climatic conditions in the distant past.

The technique is based upon the fact that the proportion of the amino-acid hydroxyproline in samples of the protein collagen taken from the bones of fish has been found to vary, depending on the temperature of the water in which they live. Fish from warm waters have a noticeably higher proportion of hydroxyproline in their bone collagen than fish from cold water.

Dr. Tong-Yun Ho of the University of Arizona decided that the composition of bone collagen in warm-blooded animals might vary with the body temperature and he was able to confirm his hypothesis by means of a series of experiments. He eventually devised a formula for calculating body temperature from an analysis of collagen.

Dr. Ho's next step was to proceed with an analysis of collagen samples taken from the remains of a number of fossil animals from the Rancho La Brea area and to calculate their body temperature from the resultant data. The accuracy of his calculations was confirmed by the close relationship between these temperatures and the body temperatures of the existing related species. His calculated figures for the browsing ground sloth, for instance, gave a body temperature of 35.5 to 35.7 degrees C which is quite close to the 34.5-degree of the present-day two-toed sloth. An aspect of the work at the University of Arizona is the conclusion that prehistoric animals do not appear to have had a high body temperature to compensate for the extremely high Ice Age conditions. Thus the idea that climatic changes led to their extinction seems rather unlikely. (UNESCO FEATURES).

Bell fire cause still not known; building razed

The owner of the Bell Appliance and Home Furnishing Center was undecided about the cause of the business Tuesday, the day after a spectacular wind-erupt fire razed the building on the corner of Island or Rt. 22, destroyed all its contents, blocked the highway during the rush hour and caused massive damage to the Union and Springfield. One fireman and a policeman were injured during the blaze and another firefighter narrowly escaped certain death. My Belinski of Linden, who has operated the business for the past 15 years, said he had not yet had time to decide on future plans. He said that no estimate of damage was yet available. The blaze broke out late Monday afternoon, about at the start of the normal Rt. 22 rush hour, in the open area between the ceiling and the roof. The cause is still undetermined, a fireman said.

Senator CLIFFORD P. CASE Reports

The Administration has attempted to deal with what a Presidential Commission has called one of the basic inequities in the selective service system by ending draft deferments for graduate students.

Last year the National Advisory Commission on Selective Service, chaired by former Assistant Attorney General Burke Marshall, agreed that student deferments tend to become de facto exemptions. The Commission pointed out that while 70 per cent of college graduates and 74 per cent of high school graduates served in the armed forces during the same period only 27 per cent of those completing graduate school served.

Because defending our country is an obligation to be shared equally by all citizens, our draft system should not be permitted to discriminate against any one group in favor of any other.

It is unfortunate, however, that the President's decision to end most graduate student deferments tackles only part of the problem. It may, in fact, result in a kind of reverse discrimination against the students who are now subject to reclassification. In addition, it is likely to have a substantial impact on the nation's graduate schools and, consequently, disrupt the orderly flow of trained personnel into teaching and other professions.

NEARLY EVERY RECENT study of the selective service system has recommended, in addition to changes in deferment policy, that the order of call be reversed from oldest to youngest, with provisions to insure that no group is treated unfairly during the transition phase.

President Johnson, in his message to the Congress on the draft a year ago, announced his intention to issue an Executive Order to do this and Congress generally agreed that such a change would shorten greatly the period of uncertainty for draft registrants.

That order was never issued and General Hershey stated recently that the President has decided to continue the present policy of calling the oldest first. Retention of this policy may very well mean that some draft boards will have so many college graduates on the rolls this summer that the entire draft burden may fall on them.

Reversing the order of call would not of itself, on the other hand, solve the problem. The question remains one of how to select in the most equitable manner those who are to serve, since our armed forces are likely to need only one-third to one-half of the nearly two-million men reaching draft age each year. As the Marshall Commission put it, "Who serves when not all serve?"

Aerial photography new weapon in war on water pollution

"Aerial photography is now pressing forward as a useful tool in detecting water pollution. If used properly it can help provide a most effective monitoring system in pollution control."

This is what James P. Scherz, associate professor of civil engineering at the University of Wisconsin, told the American Society of Agricultural Engineers at its 1967 winter meeting in Detroit.

Scherz described how paper-mill waste discharging into a river was photographed from a single-engine airplane flying at an altitude of about 1,000 feet. Thirty-five millimeter cameras were used, with special filters, using a camera setting of 1/500 second at F 4.5 aperture.

He said that "although our eyes are sensitive only to energy from 4 to 7 microns, photographic films can be used that are sensitive to the region from 3 to 12 microns. Thus photographs can 'see' parts of the spectrum that cannot be seen by the human eye."

The photograph that detected the paper-mill wastes covered wave lengths from about 0.5 to 0.9 microns.

BIOLOGISTS AT the University of California-Irvine, are using computers to demonstrate in a matter of minutes the effects of a thousand years of evolution.

A large class of beginning biology students uses a data-base link with an IBM 7094 computer at the University to study genetic effects of natural selection on 100 generations of a hypothetical animal—through 3,500 years of make-believe history.

The computers are also used by a smaller class of students to consider the long-range effects of population change on human genetics. In addition, time is telescoped again on the UCI's own-IBM 1140 computer system in a program of individually conducted experiments

Some pointers on how to beat shopping center traffic jams

A Safety Council spokesman this week spotlighted the fact that large, modern shopping centers have grown into miniature downtown areas, each with its own island of traffic congestion.

"In many of them this congestion is similar to that in downtown shopping districts," remarked George G. Traver, executive vice president of the New Jersey State Safety Council.

In ecology, how population is affected by the availability of resources and by predators is simulated by students who provide specific biological information to the computers.

DAIRY SCIENTISTS at the Pennsylvania State University have found that ground-up newspapers—mixed with molasses—constitute a nutritious feed for cattle.

A report on this novel food which appears in a recent issue of Journal of Dairy Science explains that a group of heifers fed on the newspaper-molasses mixture gained weight and appeared as healthy as another group of control heifers that ate a standard, high quality feed supplement.

Throughout a 56-day trial, the test heifers ate about two and a half pounds of newspaper daily. They seemed able to digest the newspaper-molasses ration as well as their sisters digested the more traditional feed. The heifers showed no partiality between daily newspapers and slick magazines.

Dr. Rael M. Kessler, one of the authors of the report, estimates the dry newspaper-molasses mixture could be made to sell for about $35 a ton. This would represent a substantial saving over regular feed supplements.

It is believed that use of the newspaper-molasses mixture for cattle could help alleviate the expected food deficit that threatens the world. It would make a cheap and nutritious cattle feed available for cattle without using food that could be used by man.

CHANGING ROLES OF GRANDPARENTS
Have you taken a close look lately at the role of grandparents? If you haven't, here are a few notes to read as check-points for the three generations.

When your Jimmy talks about "my family" who does he include? Mom and Dad? Sister Jane and brother Joe? Do family associations end there or is there "Grandma and Grandpa" or perhaps "Granny" and "Gramps"?

The grandparents' role is important. In view of our cultural changes, tremendous responsibilities are placed upon parents to be all and do all that is required for the growth and maturing of youngsters. Of course, it is of first importance that your little children learn to think of "mother" and "father" as their strongest supports. On the other hand, to be able to include "my grandmother" and "my grandfather" in family associations builds a stronger picture of "my family" in the eyes of these youngsters. Confidence and security is logically strengthened when Jimmy knows his "special people" he can trust and who belong to him.

Remember, grandparents' roles are primarily supportive. Grandparents can help parents carry out their plans for Jimmy. When questions arise as to whose direction the children should follow, grandparents can help reinforce the parents' rules.

Bestowing of love upon grandchildren is still another major role of grandparents. There are times when the most important role grandparents can fill is just to enjoy listening to grandchildren, to be interested in them and love them. Children need this type of love and can never have too much.

Volkswagen introduces the automatic stick shift.

After 10 these many years our humble little bug has gone automatic. Gone is the clutch. Gone is the wifely whine, "It's cute, but I can't drive it." Gone is an era of Volkswagenism. Sniff. And in its place? A Volkswagen you can drive all over town without shuffling. Only on the highway do you shift. Once, this is an economy move. Which, after all, is still the name of the game. But you do have a choice in the matter you can drive it the easy way described above. Or you can start out in low and take it through the gears like a regular stick shift.

The automatic stick shift is an option you pay a little more for. But you do a little less.

THE SEVEN-EIGHTHS YOU DON'T SEE

A modern water system is like an iceberg. Seven-eighths of an iceberg is under water. Seven-eighths, or more, of a water system is buried underground. There are several reasons for this: Water lines above ground would be hazardous and unsightly, and they must be laid below the frost line to protect them against freezing in cold weather. The cost of installing, maintaining, and operating these hidden facilities is one of the major items involved in delivering water to you.

Volkswagen's automatic stick shift. It's easier to use than it is to say.

It's quite a mouthful, isn't it? But once you get by the name, the rest is easy. There isn't a clutch pedal to contend with. And for all practical purposes, you can drive everywhere without shifting.

On the highway, you shift once. (It's like an overdrive; you go faster, your engine goes slower, and your automatic bug won't turn into an automatic hog.)

And when the going gets rough (like up a ridiculously steep hill), you can shift into low. What could be simpler?

One thing: the automatic stick shift is an option. So you'll have to pay a little more. But compared to other automatics, it's a bargain. Because with every automatic stick shift, we include a remarkable money-saving device: A Volkswagen.

Unionite to be conductor at music award dinner

Edward J. Napiewocki of Union will conduct a chamber ensemble of Bloomfield Symphony Orchestra members in a prize-winning composition by Gerald Warfield at an award dinner to be held by the New Jersey Chapter of the National Society of Arts and Letters next Wednesday at the Canoe Brook Country Club in Summit.

The chapter's annual career award will be presented to Warfield by Jerome Hines, Metropolitan Opera star and a member of the National Advisory Council of NSAL. Warfield's composition will become eligible for a $1,000 cash award at the NSAL national competition in Hawaii this spring.

Warfield, a candidate for a Ph.D. at Princeton University, has had works performed in his native Texas and at Princeton. He has written electronic and computer music and works for the theater and dance.

Soprano soloist in the performance Wednesday night will be Mrs. Carleton Winslow, a graduate of Westminster Choir College, violist for 18 years with the New Jersey Symphony and managing editor of the magazine "Urban Life." The conductor, Napiewocki, is an instrumental music teacher at Montclair

High School and president of the New Jersey Orchestra Association.

F. Whitney Landou of West Orange, formerly vice-president and secretary of AT&T and now chairman of the board of the New Jersey Symphony, will be the principal speaker. He has served as president and treasurer of the Victoria Foundation, a forerunner of the Headstart Program, and is a trustee of the Turcull Fund for underprivileged children.

Mrs. William A. Borrie of Bernardsville, scholarship chairman, announced that the compositions of Allen Hoffman of Glen Ridge and Paul Reale of Collingswood will receive the second and third place awards, respectively. Hoffman studied at Hartt College of Music, Hartford, Conn., where he received the 1967 award of the National Foundation on the Arts and Humanities, and Reale is working for his Ph. D. at Columbia University, where he received his master's degree.

Judges for the contest were Nicholas Harsanyi, conductor of the Princeton Chamber Orchestra; Dr. Thomas Richner, concert pianist and organist, and Dr. Louis Gordon, chairman of the Fine Arts Department at Fairfield Dickinson University.

Consumer course offered by county extension unit

Consumer education will be the emphasis of a special dual feature program sponsored by the Union County Home Economics Extension Service.

The topic "You The Consumer" will be presented in two ways—open meetings and a correspondence course.

Seven open meetings on this topic are scheduled. The first will be held on Wednesday, March 13, in the Clark Public Library, 303 Bedford Ave., Clark, from 1:15 to 2:45 p.m. The remaining sessions will be held every other Wednesday at the same place.

Seven lesson correspondence course, containing the same information as the open meetings, will begin March 11. Union County residents who cannot attend the open meetings because of young children at home or employment outside of the home, are eligible for the correspondence course. An assignment sheet will be included with each lesson of the course by mail, which must be returned in order to remain enrolled in the project, a spokesman said.

An overview of the information to be part of this dual project includes: fraud and regulating organizations; choosing where to shop; facts about credit; and shopping hints for food, clothing, home furnishings, and household equipment.

For further information or registration for the open meetings or the correspondence course, write to the Union County Home Economics Extension Service, 1106 Elizabeth Ave., Elizabeth or call 353-5000 by March 6. Both programs are free of charge.

Pupils have a TV studio

The pupils of Holmesdale County Primary School at Relgate in southern England now have their own television studio. Built with the help of parents, friends and local firms, the studio is housed in what used to be a playground shelter. Equipment consists at present of two small television cameras with zoom lenses, an amplifier and a five-way mixer.

The studio is used for the children's own programs, as well as for lessons. For instance, they are helping to plan and produce a regular magazine program which includes such items as a performance by the school's resident magician (aged 10), a critical discussion of two new books by a boy and a girl with a children's librarian in the chair, and so on.

The staff, all of whom are involved in one way or another, benefit from the studio as well: its use for lessons transmitted to the various classrooms gives them much greater flexibility as well as a powerful new teaching aid.

Heart fund extends drive to March 10

The Union County Heart Association fund drive has been extended through March 10. It was announced this week by State Senator Matthew J. Rinaldo, chairman of the county-wide effort. Sen. Rinaldo noted that on Heart Sunday, Feb. 25, volunteers collecting for the association found only about 25 percent of the people at home.

"Since Sunday was such a pleasant day, many people no doubt took advantage of the unseasonably mild weather and went out," Rinaldo said. "We are certain that most of them would like to do their share in combating heart disease. We have extended the drive to afford them this opportunity."

The chairman also pointed out that envelopes were left at the homes of most people who were out on Sunday. He urged county residents to place their contributions in the envelopes and mail them to the Heart Association.

MRS. DORIS S. MANN

Mrs. Mann named executive director of Visiting Nurses

The Visiting Nurse and Health Services of Elizabeth and Westfield this week announced the appointment of Mrs. Doris S. Mann as its new executive director to succeed the late Miss Eleanor P. Duffy.

Mrs. Mann was assistant professor and chairman of the department of public health nursing at Rutgers University before accepting the position last July of associate director with the Visiting Nurse Association of Eastern Union County. That agency merged in January with the District Nursing Association of Westfield to form the Visiting Nurse and Health Services. This newly organized nursing service is now the third largest in the State of New Jersey.

Mrs. Mann has also been nursing director of the East Orange Health Department, assistant director of the Monmouth County Organization for Social Services and assistant professor of public health nursing at St. John College in Cleveland. Her professional career has taken her to five states in various positions as public health nurse, supervisor, educator and administrator.

She brings a varied background of experience to the diverse task of running an agency which provides Medicare services, visiting nurse services, and in many cases public health services to 12 communities: Elizabeth, Westfield, Clark, Hillside, Linden, Mountainside, Rahway, Roselle, Roselle Park, Springfield, Union and Winfield. There are also contracts with the State Department of Health for expensive follow-up of crippled children and patients released from Marlboro.

Movie to be shown at Science Center

"Discover America," a color, sound movie will be shown at the Union County Park Commission's Trillside Nature and Science Center in the Watchung Reservation, on Sunday at 2 p.m.

The film takes the viewer on an airplane trip across the United States from the Atlantic Ocean to the Pacific Ocean.

On Monday, Tuesday, Wednesday and next Thursday, Donald W. Mayer, director of Trillside, and Miss Irma H. Heyer, educational assistant at Trillside, will present one-half hour nature talks for children. The topic to be discussed during the four days is "The Moon." The lectures will be illustrated with color slides.

The Trillside Nature and Science Center is open to the public each weekday, except Friday, from 3 to 5 p.m., and on Saturdays, Sundays and holidays from 1 to 5 p.m. The public is invited to visit the Nature Center, view the thousands of indoor exhibits and participate in the scheduled programs.

"When nature made the bluebird she wished to propitiate both the sky and the earth, so she gave him the color of the one on his back and the hue of the other on his breast." This word picture of the visitors from over the rainbow was painted by John Burroughs. They must have been one of his favorite birds, for he wrote much about them. Early settlers of the Plymouth Colony were greeted by bluebirds and named them "blue robins" after England's robin redbreast.

When my grandmother lived on a farm where Manhattan's 75th Street is today, bluebirds were a familiar sight. They bred in woodlots and orchards, nesting in natural cavities in old trees and abandoned woodpecker's homes.

Soon, however, the city spread north, south, east, west, across rivers, through forests. Old trees were pruned or cut down. Most cavities ended up on the woodpile. Then homeowners put up birdhouses and bluebirds quickly adapted to them.

House sparrows were imported from Europe in 1852 and released at the Narrows and in the tower of Brooklyn's Greenwood Cemetery Chapel. Old world starlings were let loose in Central Park in 1890. Both immigrants radiated rapidly to all of urban and suburban North America. Both are aggressive users of cavities and birdhouses. They drove the bluebirds out. Today, bluebirds are rare breeders in metropolitan areas and are seldom spotted there during spring migration. Only a few pay a visit during their southern journey at summer's end.

AFTER WINTERING IN southern and middle United States, bluebirds return north with the red-winged blackbirds and early robins. Occasionally they arrive before the waterfowl. One story tells of a pair that visited a feeder on a wintry March 28th.

Township all-stars beat PAL five from Irvington

The Springfield Minutemen split a pair of home games last week and now have a season record of three and 10 over their first 13 games. More important, however, is that the team is now clicking and has three victories in its last five games and has not been out of eight of the losses. The Springfield boys tripped Irvington PAL team last Wednesday by a 53 to 37 score. Last Saturday they dropped a close contest to Huff's Sport Shop/Union by a 60 to 57 count.

The Minutemen played their top game of the season last Wednesday against the Irvington PAL as they rolled to victory on the strength of a torrid third-period rally. The Minutemen, paced by Bobby Meisel's hot hand in the third quarter tallied 26 points, while holding Irvington to six. Meisel scored on five consecutive shots from the field during the third period and had 15 points for the game. This was his best performance of the season. George Robbins played an overpowering game for the Minutemen. George tallied 20 points and grabbed 22 rebounds. George hit eight points in the first period to keep the Minutemen close in the early going, and then hit an equal number of points during the third period rally.

Eddie Cook played well for Springfield, as he scored seven points. Bobby Zucker tallied three points for the Minutemen and contributed many timely assists. Vince Davis came off the bench to give the Minutemen some valuable help. Vince hit three points and grabbed six rebounds. Kenny Baroff played a strong defensive game for the home force, as did Barry Pomp and Al Willbourn.

The Minutemen had their highest scoring output last Saturday against Huff's of Union. The Springfield boys fell, however, before a 30-point performance by John Crosta of Union. Crosta was just tremendous in this game, as he hit on nine field goals and 12 of 16 from the free throw line.

George Robbins played another strong game for Springfield. George hit over 20 for the second consecutive game. George scored 22 in this contest on six goals and 10 free throws. George also topped the rebounders, as he grabbed 16 off the boards. Bobby Zucker gave another top performance for the Minutemen. Bobby had his highest scoring output of the season, as he poured in 15 points. Barry Pomp scored eight points for the Minutemen on four long jumpers.

Springfield roared back in the third period of this game after falling behind in the early going. Springfield's pressing defense led to many turnovers. Jerry Jones and Mike Sanders led the Springfield force. Mike also added five points for his best contribution of the season. Johnny Lowry also did well in the Springfield press, while Eddie Cook rebounded well with 12 board grabs and chipped in with four points.

The Minutemen will be in Nutley this Saturday evening for a first-round game of the Nutley tournament. The Springfield team opens the defense of its championship against Mr. Vernon, N.Y. Sunday afternoon they will be in Florham Park to defend a championship won last season. A busy week is coming.

Billikens complete undefeated season in Caldwell league

The Billikens proved themselves to be the class of the Caldwell Small-Fry League, as they completed the regular basketball season undefeated and are wearing the championship crown. The Billikens will now ready themselves for the all-important play-off competition, which will start this Saturday.

In finishing unbeaten, the Billikens completely mastered the Pistons in their long-awaited battle. The Billikens were victorious by a 22 to 4 verdict. In dumping the second-place Pistons, the stubborn Billiken defense did not allow the Pistons a score from the field. While the defense was holding the Pistons, Mitch Buffington and Ken Mercer were pumping the Pistons through with regularity for the Billikens. Mitch led the attack with five field goals for 10 points. Kenny hit for eight points. Mitch Kozler and Jim Capapano each hit a bucket for the Billikens in this game. Teddy Johnson with two free throws led the Pistons. Joe DelMuro and Gregg Prussing each hit a single foul shot for the Pistons.

The Billikens evened their season record by taking a high-scoring 26 to 18 game from the Celtics. The Billikens opened up the game in the second period, as Jess Greenstein and Joey Knowles took over the attack. Jess hit 10 points in this period and finished with a game-high of 12 points. Joey was good for four points in the second stanza, and had six points in the game, together with some fine floor work. Dave Misko hit five points for the Billikens, while Tom Ehrhardt scored a bucket and Jim Lopez, Tom Ehrhardt and Marc Cooper and Bruce Blumenfeld were the entire attack for the Celtics. Marc Cooper and Bruce Blumenfeld were the entire attack for the Celtics. Marc led with 10 points, while Bruce scored eight points. All the points came from the field on two-pointers.

The Aggies took a 6 to 3 defensive battle from the Lakers last Saturday. The victory enabled the Aggies to even their record for the season. Pat Prete and Bobby Eliaschman led the Aggie attack with a bucket each. Joe Farenshtal hit a bucket for the Lakers, and Jerry Kaehllein added a foul shot. The Knicks also finished the season with an even record. The Knicks took the final regular season game by an 11 to 5 score over the Nationals. Dave Garneau started for the Knicks in this game, as he netted nine points. Bill Phillips scored an opening-period bucket for the Knicks. Brian Deutch was the top scorer in the Nationals' attack. Brian hit four points. A free throw by Dennis Doros concluded the scoring.

Play-off action will start this Saturday at the James Caldwell School. First-round games will have the Nationals facing the Celtics, the Aggies meeting the Pistons, the Lakers facing the Billikens and the Billikens taking on the Knicks.

Arizona, Kansas hold leads in divisions of State League

Arizona continued undefeated in Western Division play last week, while Kansas stubbornly held onto its slim one-game lead in Eastern Division play. The two divisions make up the expanded State League basketball program. The 12-team league meets each Saturday afternoon at the Florence Gaudineer School. The games this Saturday will bear some extra importance, as the team places after play will determine the play-off positions.

Arizona kept its season record unblemished last week with a third-period rally that led to a 23 to 25 triumph over Wyoming. Charles Adickman took over for Arizona in the second half

Dartmouth, Cornell tied for top spot in Ivy action

Dartmouth and Cornell are standing alone at the top of the Ivy League. The two teams both were victorious in basketball action last Saturday at Jonathan Dayton Regional High School, while Princeton, which had been in first place, was knocked off by Yale. Cornell will meet Dartmouth in a game this Saturday which will in all probability settle the regular season championship. The Dartmouth-Cornell battle is scheduled to tip off at 1:15 p.m. this Saturday at the high school gym.

Dartmouth built up an early lead last Saturday against Harvard and then held on to win a close contest. The final score was Dartmouth, 24 - Harvard, 20. A torrid second period by Dartmouth spelled the difference in the final outcome. Al Willbourn and Ken Baroff both played strong games for Dartmouth. Both boys hit seven points on two buckets and three foul shots. Ken played a top back-court game, while Al was tough off both boards. Bobby Zucker was also outstanding in the back-court for the Big Green. Bobby set up Dartmouth's attack and chipped in with six points. Tom Lowy and Paul Eneroff were the other Dartmouth point-makers. Vince Davis, who is rounding into a fine basketball player, led Harvard and was high man in the game with 13 points. Vin scored six times from the field and netted one free throw. Vin also rebounded well throughout the game. Bobby Nardone scored three points for Harvard, while Art James hit a jumper.

YALE DEALT PRINCETON a mighty blow against its championship hopes, as it topped the Princeton team, 24 to 17. Princeton, which has lost the services of its outstanding player, Jim Schoch, could not stop the evenly balanced Yale attack. Warren Schieppner led Yale's attack with eight points. Warren has been hitting with much consistency for the Yale team over the past few weeks, and he is contributing punch to their attack. Mike Sanders gave another strong performance for Yale. Mike was good for six points. Both Jeff Sarkin and Perry Koplik hit four points for the winners. Jeff scored twice from the field, while Perry was good on four for four from the free throw line.

Steve Harris led the Princeton attack with eight points. Steve hit on three goals and two foul shots. Arnie Blumenfeld scored four points for the losers, while Mark Weber tallied three points. A high point in this game came as the buzzer sounded to end the first period. Mike Klarfeld of Princeton fired a one-handed, 25-foot shot through the air and saw the ball swish through the nets for a two-pointer. This was the longest shot anyone can remember in Ivy League play, and certainly the most spectacular.

The final game of the afternoon saw Cornell hold on to its position of first place by nipping Columbia, 26 to 24. Cornell, which is making a habit out of winning one and two-point decisions, engineered a second-half rally to steal the game away from Columbia. Ed Cook and Bobby Meisel both tallied nine points in the second half to lead the rally. Ed had a game-high of 12 points, while Bob's game total was his second highest game total. Cornell's Johnny Zuckoff both hit two-pointers for Cornell, while Joe Pepe hit a free throw. Jerry Jones played his usual top defensive game for Cornell.

Kenny Meiser came into his own in this game for Columbia. Kenny, who moved up from State League play during the middle of the season, tallied nine points for Columbia and played a strong over-all game. Kenny had three goals and was good the same number of times from the free throw line. George Robbins also hit nine points for Columbia, while Billy Stefany hit a bucket.

With two games remaining on the schedule, Eddie Cook continues to pace the league's scoring. Eddie has pumped in 69 points. Vince Davis of Harvard has been moving ahead steadily in the scoring race. Vin now has 62 points. Third place belongs to Kenny Baroff of Dartmouth with 55 points, while George Robbins of Columbia is fourth with 52 points. Fifth place belongs to Jim Schoch, the Princeton star, who is out for the season with a knee injury. Jim has 49 season points. The remaining five boys among the league's top 10 scorers are: Bob Meisel (Cornell), 45 points; Barry Pomp (Columbia), 45 points; Bobby Zucker (Dartmouth), 43 points; Arnie Blumenfeld (Princeton), 37 points, and Al Willbourn (Dartmouth), 30 points.

In addition to the big battle set between Cornell and Dartmouth this week, Columbia will meet Yale and Princeton will play Harvard.

Strikers open lead to 6-game margin in bowling for girls

The Strikers increased their league lead in the Tuesday Afternoon Girls' Bowling League to a commanding six games, following their sweep of two games last week. The Strikers swept their two-game match with the Charms, while the Stars and Danera remained tied for second by splitting their match. The league is sponsored by the Recreation Department, and all bowling is at the Springfield Bowl. Barbara Owens, who is experiencing a truly remarkable season, once again paced the league's leaders. Barbara rolled a 325 series by posting games of 163 and 162. Barbara is currently sporting a 158 season average, which is most outstanding for a 14-year-old grammar school girl. Ann Marie Calmus also rolled well for the Strikers, as did Sue Murphy and Cindy Zarelli. Ann Marie topped the century mark twice in rolling a 115 series. Sue posted a 199 series, while Cindy's 172 series was her best of the season.

Janice LaMotta, who has been coming along in the past few weeks, was again the top performer for the Charms. Janice rolled a 200 series last week. Eorecia Shute with a 171 series was also effective for the Charms. Carol Kisch, rolling in a substitute role for the Stars, was the outstanding bowler in the Stars - Danera match. Carol rolled games of 141 and 121 for a 262 series total. Carol Roemer, who has been the leading bowler for the Stars all season, had another good afternoon, as she rolled a 213 series. Nina Kahn with a 205 series was the top bowler for the Danera. Nina was particularly impressive in the second game, as she rolled for a 132 score. Danera's Buckert and Pabbie Kuskin also rolled well, for the Danera. Darlene posted a 187 series, while Debbie had a 177 two-game total.

Barbara Owens' 158 season-average puts her far away in first place among the league's top average bowlers. Barbara's 158 average leads all the Recreation Department youth bowling leagues. Carol Roemer has a 109 average in the second place in the Tuesday Afternoon Girls' League. Debbie Kuskin has a 98 average for third place. Darlene Pecker's 92 average is good for fourth place, while Ann Marie Calmus is fifth with a 90 average. The remaining five girls among the league's 10 best are: Sue Murphy, 84; Joann McGrady, 84; Nina Kahn, 82; Diane Lutzer, 76; and Liz Simpson, 75.

Think small. Feed one hungry person Don't be overwhelmed by the statistics of world hunger. The figures are only a multiplication of individual people. Think in terms of feeding at least one person. Your contribution, joined with others, adds up to millions fed through CARE's Food Crusade. Every dollar sends a food package your personal gift to war and famine victims in Asia, refugees in the Middle East, hungry children and adults from Latin America to Africa. CARE uses your money for packing and delivery, and to buy other supplies. You save lives, help the hungry immediately feed themselves. Roughly, $1 serves a child a daily meal for 3 months. $10 is 8 months "pay" in family packages, while a man builds village schools and roads. $100 sends over a ton of food. Give as big as you can.

Rutgers will get electron microscope 50 times stronger than conventional equipment

Engineers at the Rutgers University College of Engineering are awaiting the installation of the most powerful electron microscope on any university campus in the country. What they, and others who'll soon be peering into similar microscopes, find may well affect the lives of all of us some day -- from the very food we eat to the homes we live in to the way we will travel in space.

The Japanese-manufactured electron microscope (known as the Jem 200KV) now being installed in a research laboratory in the sprawling Engineering Center on University Heights Campus has an electron beam which operates at 200,000 volts. Its importance in the exploration of the unknown lies in its vastly superior powers of magnification compared with that of the ordinary light wave microscope.

Dr. John A. Sauer, chairman of the Department of Mechanics and Materials Science, said that this new machine will magnify up to 150,000 times. Ordinary microscopes using light waves can not show the viewer anything smaller than the length-of-a-light-wave, which is about two one-hundred thousandths of an inch.

That might seem quite sufficient to most of us, but Dr. Sauer, a resident of East Brunswick, points out that the molecular crystals of polymers (plastics) which this microscope will be used to examine have a thickness which is only about one fiftieth of the wave length of light.

THE MICROSCOPE WILL be used to study the crystal geometry and structure, and therefore the properties, of polymers and metals. Using it will be Dr. Sigmund Welsman of Metuchen, director of the Materials Research Laboratory, Dr. Darrell R. Morrow of Old Bridge, associate professor of mechanics, and Dr. Ernest Levine of New Brunswick, assistant research professor of materials engineering.

They will be carrying out investigations in connection with at least a dozen research projects, one of which, under the direction of Dr. Morrow, involves the study of the effects of radiation on the qualities and characteristics of plastics.

It is known that radiation, such as they received in the electron microscope, does markedly affect the properties of a plastic, Dr. Morrow said.

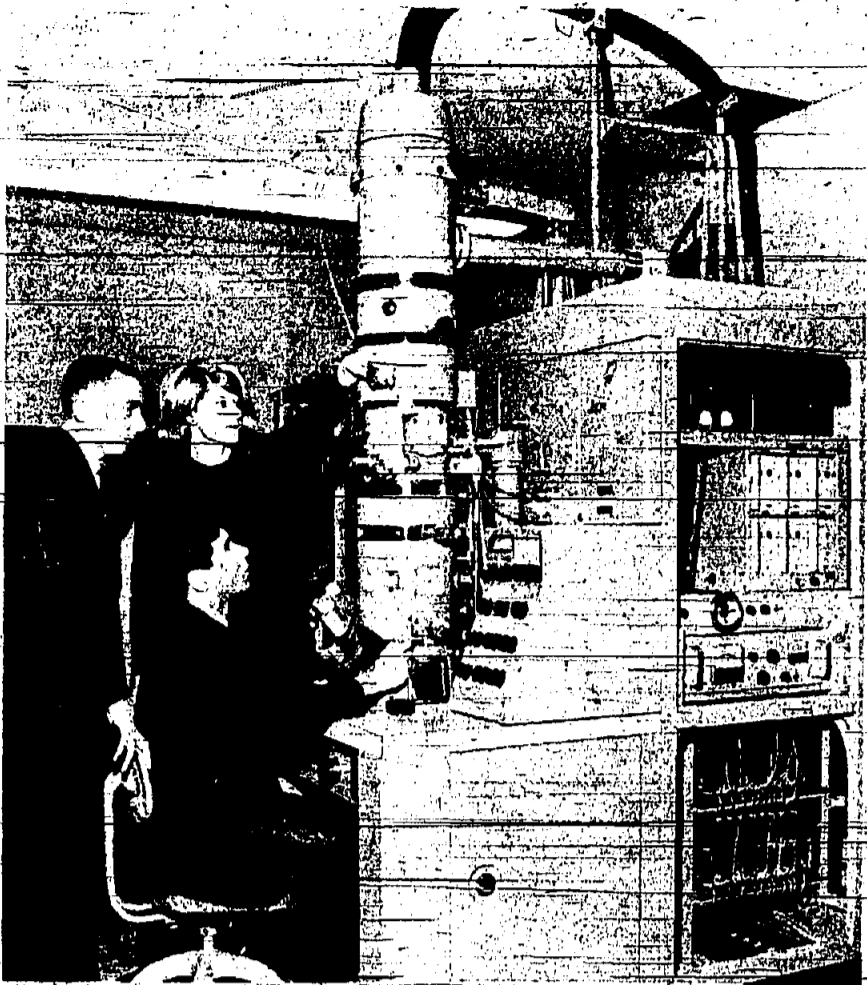

The question is, just exactly how and in what ways does radiation affect the structure and properties of plastics and, in turn, the plastic packaging and the food it contains? The answers to these questions could lead to modifications and improvements in the materials used.

AMONG THE HALF-DOZEN or so projects of the Materials Research Laboratory is one involving the rare and potentially extremely useful space age metal, beryllium. Dr. Levine said this metal had many possible uses in space age hardware where a metal that is both very strong and very light is needed. He is studying its structure, magnified about 100,000 times, in the electron microscope in an attempt to discover just what it is about beryllium that makes it so brittle and how this might be changed by altering its atomic structure so that it will be able to take sudden shocks without shattering.

And so it may be someday that Drs. Morrow and Levine, and other engineers and scientists working on similar problems, discover with their microscopes may have quite a lot to do with that package of carrots you buy in the supermarket, or that trip in a spaceship you can hardly wait to take. Far fetched? Not really. They are doing the kind of exciting research that is expected to have a practical application, sooner or later. And by and large, that is what engineering is all about.

Publicity chairmen are urged to observe the Friday deadline for other than spot news. Include your name, address and phone number.

GREAT EXPECTATIONS - Three staff members at the Rutgers University College of Engineering examine fondly what will be the most powerful electron microscope in operation at any American university when installation is completed soon on University Heights Campus. Dr. Darrell R. Morrow (left), an associate professor of mechanics, Miss Jutta Schofield, senior laboratory technician and Dr. Ernest Levine, assistant research professor of materials engineering, will be using exceptionally powerful microscope on at least a dozen research projects.

Issue pamphlet about Ethiopia

A collection of reading materials on Ethiopia has been issued by Unesco for use by authors and publishers of educational books for school-children aged 12 to 15. It is also suitable for use in its present form as a teaching aid in the study of foreign cultures. The pamphlet, prepared under the auspices of the Ethiopian National Commission for Unesco by Bekele Getahun, includes sections on Ethiopian geography, history, culture, education, the church and the government and administration. The pamphlet was partly financed by the Unesco Major Project on the mutual appreciation of Eastern and Western cultural values, which ended recently. Copies and information on reproduction rights may be obtained from Unesco (DE), Place de Fontenay, Paris (75).

U.S. Congresswoman FLORENCE P. DWYER Reports

Following is the text of the regular bi-weekly Radio Report of Rep. Florence P. Dwyer. If the present pace continues, it looks now as though some of the first major pieces of legislation to be enacted into law this year will be strengthened controls over the distribution and possession of dangerous drugs and narcotics.

Hearings on the first bill have already begun before the Interstate and Foreign Commerce Committee just days after the Administration proposals were introduced. And my own Government Operations Committee, I feel confident, will consider very shortly the reorganization plan creating the unified Bureau of Narcotics and Dangerous Drugs.

Waiting list at 146 for psychiatric help

The waiting list stands at 101 children and 45 adults at the Union County Psychiatric Clinic, according to the last monthly report issued this week by Executive Director Benjamin H. Haddock of Fanwood.

The largest waiting list was reported in Union where the figures were 19 children and 13 adults. In Linden there were 12 children and five adults awaiting treatment.

The waiting list figures for other towns follow: Berkeley Heights, 2 children and 2 adults; Clark, 2 adults; Cranford, none; Fanwood, 2 children; Garwood, none; Hillsdale, four children and two adults; Kenton, 4 children; Monticello, 3 children; New Providence, 6 children and 1 adult.

ministration bill to tighten controls and stiffen penalties for distribution and possession of dangerous drugs is, in every respect, identical to the bill I introduced last November following a subcommittee investigation which I initiated.

THE PRESENT PROPOSALS for changes in drug and narcotics laws are also a good illustration of the fact that enactment of a bill into law does not conclude the legislative process or end the role of Congress.

The immediate background of the present situation goes back to 1965 when the Congress, actively participated, finally passed the Drug Abuse Control Act which imposed strong controls over the manufacture and distribution of the dangerous drugs, commonly known as "good balls," "pep pills," "LSD" and "Speed."

Last fall, following the controversy set off by Dr. Goddard, head of the Food and Drug Administration, when he very unwisely seemed to be minimizing the dangers of smoking marijuana, I persuaded one of my subcommittee to investigate. But I also felt it was necessary to go beyond Dr. Goddard's views on marijuana and consider the whole field of drug abuse, including the adequacy of existing law, the question of enforcement, and the problems created by two different agencies working essentially the same field.

We found, as a result, that a great deal needed to be done, especially in view of the rapidly spreading menace of drug abuse in suburban areas, on college campuses, and even among high school students. For instance, we found that the Bureau of Narcotics and the Bureau of Drug Abuse Control have sharply conflicting ideas about enforcement, that there are inconsistent regulations as between narcotics and dangerous drugs, and that there are serious gaps as well as duplication of effort in present enforcement activities.

In the last analysis, however, legislation can't do the whole job. The parents of America are the key to success. Only with more parental responsibility, closer supervision of their children's activities, and personal concern for their welfare can the murderous impact of drug abuse be brought under control. It is up to all of us.
