The Springfield group won 45 medals. The outstanding competitors were Paula Natello and Paul Fanaroff, who competed in the junior girls' and boys' divisions, for ages 12 and 13. Paula won the 50-yard dash and took the long jump with a leap of 15'-8 1/2". She also anchored the winning 440-yard relay team.

Youths help clean house for neighborhood center

A group of Springfield young people, in cooperation with the newly-organized Civic Coordinating Council, assisted members of Park United Methodist Church in Elizabeth in cleaning a house recently purchased by the congregation for a neighborhood center in the Jefferson Park Area.

The Rev. James Dewart, minister of Springfield Emanuel Methodist Church and chairman of the Civic Coordinating Council, expressed his gratitude for the "quick response of the Springfield youth to this project which will provide space for the Summer of Service in Union County's largest city."

Summer of Service, which is partly subsidized by funds from the Office of Economic Opportunity, will offer tutorial services every morning during the summer, a cultural enrichment program for children and teenagers in the afternoons, and teen activities in the evenings. Because of the limitation of financial aid from OEO, the Rev. Mr. Dewart stated that the SOS program needed contributions—from individuals and groups, and adult and teenage volunteers to share leadership.

All churches and community organizations in Springfield have received an appeal from the Civic Coordinating Council alerting them to the needs in Elizabeth. Response from Springfield residents may be directed through the organizations to which they belong, through the Rev. James Dewart (376-1695), or the Rev. Gary Culp, SOS, 476 Monroe Ave., Elizabeth.

Contributions of $50 would enable SOS to provide a bus trip to some place of interest outside Elizabeth, $25 within the city, and other gifts of smaller amounts would supply educational materials, and craft articles.

Mr. Dewart stated that he would be willing to provide additional information upon request.

Annual holiday observance set for Springfield

Final plans for the joint Springfield-Millburn Memorial Day parade and services have been announced by Vincent Pollicarpo, chairman for the annual observance. He said that Clarence Bucklew of 108 Tooker Ave., Springfield, a member of the Veterans of Foreign Wars, will be the parade marshal.

Millburn units this year will form the first section in the parade, which will get under way at 9 a.m. Springfield units will form at 8:30 a.m. on North Trivett Avenue in the following line-up:

Police Department, Harmony Band of Boonton, VFW, VFW Auxiliary, American Legion, Legion Auxiliary, Fire Department, Fire Department Reserve, First Aid Squad, First Aid Squad Auxiliary, Red Cross, Jonathan Dayton Regional High School Band, Elks Club, Lions Club, Springfield Twirlers, Girl Scouts, Brownies, Boy Scouts and Cub Scouts.

The parade will march from the Municipal Green to Morris Avenue, right to Springfield Avenue and left to Main Street and the Presbyterian Cemetery, where services will be held by the VFW with the first six units participating. The remaining organizations will attend services to be held at the Methodist Cemetery by the Legion.

Primary elections slated for Tuesday

Two Springfield residents are candidates in the primary elections to be conducted Tuesday from 7 a.m. to 8 p.m. David Zurav is seeking nomination as a Republican candidate for freeholder. Mrs. Lorrie Lewis is a candidate for selection as an alternate delegate to the Democratic presidential convention, supporting the candidacy of Sen. Eugene McCarthy.

Voters will name delegates to the Republican and Democratic national conventions and will nominate candidates for the following offices: member, house of Representatives; sheriff, surrogate, registrar of deeds and mortgages, three members of the Board of Freeholders and two members of the Township Committee.

Polling places for local elections will be as follows: Districts 1 and 4, Presbyterian Parish House; Districts 2 and 3, American Legion Hall; Districts 5 and 6, James Caldwell School; Districts 7 and 8, Florence Gaudineer School; Districts 9 and 10, Raymond Chisholm School; District 11, Thelma Sandmeier School; Districts 12 and 13, Edward Walton School.

Voter obligation in primary cited by McCarthy supporter

"The voters have a right to help choose the presidential candidates and they have an opportunity to make that choice June 4," Springfield, a candidate for alternate delegate to the Democratic national convention pledged to Sen. Eugene McCarthy.

"McCarthy represents the only true choice on the ballot next Tuesday," continued Mrs. Lewis. "Voters may either vote for a slate pledged to Sen. McCarthy, who represents a definite change, or for the regular Democratic organization, presently pledged to Gov. Hughes, who could vote for any candidate at the convention. The only way to make our voice definitely heard in the democratic process is to vote for Sen. McCarthy. Anyone who respects Sen. McCarthy and approves of how he tried to restore our nation's faith in the democratic process has an obligation to vote for the McCarthy delegates in the primary."

"The primary Tuesday is not a preferential primary, with the candidates running on their own names. The contest is for delegates to the convention. There are 20 positions to be filled: five at-large delegates, elected by the state as a whole, five delegates from the 12th Congressional District of which Springfield is a part, and 10 alternates for those positions. There will be two major slates: the McCarthy slate, pledged to the senator and his views, and a regular slate, which could vote for any candidate at the convention, if elected.

"ANYONE MAY VOTE in the Democratic primary, except people who voted in the Republican primary in either 1966 or 1967. A vote in the primary now does not commit the voter to that party or candidate any further.

"The purpose of the primary is to give a voice to the people in the selection of the presidential candidate. If the people do not exercise this choice, then this right is stripped away.

"My original reason for supporting McCarthy was for what he had done for the youth of this country. He has done more than anyone else to close the generation gap. He provides all people with a change, with truth, common sense, and high ideals. He has rekindled the faith of many people in the democratic process. McCarthy's candidacy on Tuesday gives voters in New Jersey an opportunity to show their approval of what he has done for this country.

"Does McCarthy have a chance to win at the polls on Tuesday? Absolutely. In our district, the 12th, the state organization itself admits the strong possibility of a McCarthy victory. Springfield is a key town in the district, and a sizeable victory here could be decisive.

"The 12th CD consists of all of Union County except for Elizabeth, Linden and Rahway, and including Millburn, Livingston, Ridgefield, the Caldwelles, Verons and Essex Falls."

VOLUNTEERS ARE NEEDED to aid in house-to-house canvassing for the campaign of Senator Eugene McCarthy in the New Jersey primary. It was announced last week by Bob Silverman, canvassing chairman of the Springfield Volunteers for McCarthy. College students are especially welcome to volunteer their services, he said.

"Canvassing is the important aspect of the campaign," stated Silverman. "It is essential for us to reach every house in Springfield in order to inform the voters of their opportunity to vote in the June 4 primary. At present we are short on personnel, and anyone who can devote a few hours time between now and Election Day will be making a valuable contribution to the McCarthy effort."

Interested readers were urged to contact either Silverman at 379-9447 or Herb Meisel at 376-7186 as soon as possible.

Library

your letter to the editor of the Springfield Leader, in the issue of May 16, entitled "Big Eyesore."
"First of all, may I say that no one can quarrel with your statement that the new library construction is an eyesore. But I am most anxious to dispel the impression you have that 'none of our elected officials seem to care.'
"Perhaps a little clarification of the relationship between your elected Township Committee and your library board of trustees would be in order.
"The library board of trustees is composed of five appointed members who serve for staggered five year terms. The present president of the board is Milton Kapstater.
"This board of trustees is, by state statute, autonomous of the local governing body, and acts basically similar to a local board of education, except that its annual operating budget and any capital improvement appropriation must be submitted to the local government for approval.
"In the case of the new library, the library board hired an architect, McDowell and Goldstein, to survey their existing facility, and to determine the desirability of either expanding the existing building or building a new facility elsewhere. This study showed that it would be more economical to change the existing building to other municipal uses and to build a new building on another site.
"The first proposal given to the local government by the library board approximated $1,000,000. Through joint meetings between the Township Committee, library board and architect, a redesign was accomplished, which would bring the cost down to about $550,000 on the site presently being built upon.
"At this point, it was our responsibility to implement the library board's proposal with a financial commitment, and the Township Committee introduced and adopted a bond ordinance in this amount in December, 1965.
"Once this bond issue was adopted, the Township Committee's prerogative ceased, it then became incumbent upon the library board to select a permanent architect, finalize its design, advertise for bids, award the contracts and supervise the construction of the new building.
"AS-YOU-MAY-KNOW, in public bidding all governmental bodies are obligated to award work to the lowest responsible bidder, Rocky Marciano Construction Co., was the lowest bidder for the general construction and there was no indication on the record that would disqualify him from obtaining the award of the contract.
"To protect the interests of the township, however, the library board and the township committee jointly insisted on, and obtained, a performance bond, and also hired a clerk-of-the-works to oversee the construction.
"From the outset, it became apparent that the contractor, while perhaps the lowest bidder, was not the most desirable contractor. He consistently undermanned the job, to the point that the project now is at least six months behind schedule.
"We, of the Township Committee, while not directly responsible, felt concerned about this lack-of-progress, and without consultation must have met jointly with the library board on at least 25 occasions in an attempt to resolve this impasse.
"The library board and the architect have advised the bonding company that the contractor has not lived up to his obligations. As of Wednesday, May 15, the library board has advised the bonding company that the contractor is in default. They next intend to re-advertise for new-bidders to complete the project, and unfortunately this whole project will probably wind up in litigation in the courts.
"Once a new contractor is chosen, we will then be able to complete the approximate five percent left to do, including the site work. This will allow us to re-spread the top soil piles which are such an eyesore, but which are so valuable monetarily.
"Perhaps you can now understand that we have been concerned, all of us; that we have been attempting to expedite this project; and why, because of the pending litigation, we have been avoiding any public statements which may prejudice our case."

Information about primaries offered by Springfield LWV

The following primary election information is offered as a public service by the League of Women Voters of Springfield. It has been compiled by the Union County Council of the League of Women Voters of New Jersey:

Primary Election: A primary election is a "party election" where party members elect party officers and nominate their candidates for the general election. Under our two-party system, the choice of individuals who run for public office is made almost exclusively by the two major political parties. The primaries offer you the opportunity to influence party policies, elect responsible party officials and help choose capable candidates for public office.

Explanation of Presidential Preference Primary: A preference primary is non-binding on the delegates chosen to the convention. A Presidential candidate's name can be placed on the ballot through a petition signed by at least 1,000 party members in the state. The candidate's consent is NOT necessary since he can withdraw his name by filing a declination; however, not to do so amounts to giving his consent to run.

Public Offices For Which We Are Nominating Candidates this year:
National: Member of House of Representatives

Local: Two Township Committeemen.
Party Officials To Be Elected: 1 County Committeeman and 1 County Committeewoman to represent your voting district for each party.

Requirements For Voting In A Primary Election: 1. You must be a registered voter now residing in the district in which you expect to vote. (Registration Deadline for General Election - Sept. 26; 2. You must declare your Party preference - Democrat or Republican - at the polls. You then vote the ballot of the party you have designated.

Does Voting In A Primary Mean You Must Vote the Party Ticket In The General Election?
No! Nothing can affect the secrecy of your ballot. You vote for whichever candidates you choose - regardless of party - in the General Election.

Can You Vote For Candidates Of The Other Parties In The Primaries? No! In the primary election, the vote is confined to a choice within your designated party. How Do You Change Your "Party Preference" and Vote In Which party qualifies for symbolic lemming?

The more we look at it, the question to decide for Primary Day on Tuesday is: Which set of losers do you want to vote for?

Or, to put it another way: Which of our two great parties will first succeed in trading in its animal symbol for the lemming?

Throughout the nation, however, and New Jersey is no exception, Democrats are busily engaged in letting the party's blood by means of tripartite guerrilla skirmishes -- with three candidates whose approach to almost all problems is basically the same.

All three fit comfortably within the liberal philosophy and social welfare approach characteristic of Democrats for more than 35 years.

Meeting in London recently, an international noise abatement group adopted a resolution urging governments to prohibit supersonic (faster than the speed of sound) flights over their territories.

This action reflects a growing concern in many nations about the commercial supersonic airplane and the thunderous, destructive sonic boom which will follow continuously in its wake.

Sweden, Switzerland and West Germany have taken, or are in the process of taking, steps to curb supersonic overflights of their countries. Other nations may take similar action.

If the SSTs are prohibited from flying over land areas or more than the speed of sound, what is left for them? The Federal Aviation Administration, chief developer of the SST in the United States, says the plane is being built with the assumption that it will fly supersonically over water routes only.

Clearly, the question as to where the sonic boom should be permitted, if at all, is one that is not easily answered. But an answer must be found before the commercial supersonic age, perhaps only three years away, comes crashing into our lives.

THE BILL is constructed to assure that the scientific investigation is based on the broadest possible criteria, with the health and welfare of our people and the quality of our environment given priority consideration.

boots when trying to escape from quicksand.

The Republicans, even with no real contests on the ballot, are concentrating most upon guaranteeing another decade of Democratic control of the governor's mansion.

With a few honorable exceptions, such as Union County's Sen. Matthew Rinaldo, most GOP legislators appear engaged in an effort to convince each other that the problems of the inner cities do not exist and that whatever is good for Atlantic County is good for the world.

As we have said before, and will continue to say until the final alarm sounds and we can no longer go back to sleep, the major problem confronting the country today is that of making first-class citizenship reality for all citizens.

Gov. Hughes appears well aware of the problem and has made proposals which, if inadequate, at least point the ship of state in the general direction of a safe harbor.

Unless the GOP leadership, however, gets off its reef and helps, the ship is headed for exceedingly stormy waters.

All of which has led us far astray -- since there is very little we can do about it on Primary Day, this Tuesday.

Anyhow, this is the time for all good men to stand up and be counted. Your candidates are counting on you, for whatever you wish to contribute in the way of primary votes.

Senator CLIFFORD P. CASE Reports

final reports to the Congress will be required.

Ordinarily the job of deciding whether to permit supersonic overflights would fall to the FAA, which apparently has sufficient authority to make such a decision.

Even were the FAA not in this awkward position, the issue of overland flights at supersonic speeds is too important to be left to a single appointed administrator or a single Federal bureau.

Indeed, with spectacular scientific advances becoming almost commonplace, Congress has a duty to see to it that they do not create more problems than they solve.

The possibility of the SST doing just that was pointed out recently by a Commerce Department study group in a little-noticed report. It stated: "...the supersonic transport plan, unless the sonic boom can be solved, will potentially provide benefits to a small percentage of the total population and earn profits for some firms, but at the expense of transferring to the general public heavy costs of further deterioration in environmental quality."

Response to the introduction of my bill indicates widespread concern on the part of the public. Legislation to curb aircraft noise, including the sonic boom, already has been reported to the House of Representatives.

PROFILE--Vincent Policarpio

Even if he didn't want to become involved in Memorial Day parade activities, Vincent Policarpio, chairman of this year's parade in Springfield, would find himself automatically engulfed in the goings on.

Policarpio, a Springfield volunteer fireman, and proprietor of his own mason contracting business, Policarpio Brothers, which he maintains at the Trivett Avenue address, explains that he has been chairman of the parade for two years.

Preparing for a large parade of this type seems to be second nature to the man. He appears to take it all in his stride as he explains that preparations begin as early as March.

"WE START SENDING OUT letters to various local organizations in March," he says. "We give them all the details of the programs, arrange to get the bands together, write letters to the fire department chaplains, the Rev. Bruce Evans. Nineteen local organizations will be participating this year--including auxiliaries."

"We have meetings with the Millburn Memorial Day committee, which also participates in the Springfield parade. They're the first line of march this year.

"In our section each year, we appoint a grand marshal. This year it will be Clarence Bucklew of the VFW, Millburn, his own people used to turn out."

"Usually, Policarpio says, 'I try to book a band for next year right after this year's parade. We have had, in fact, the Harmony Band from Bonton with us for about eight years. They march with us in the morning, then go on to Bonton for their own parade which takes place in the afternoon."

POLICARPIO explains that he also "sends letters to the Township Committee to arrange for memorial services right here at the side of the firehouse."

"This town," interrupts Mrs. Policarpio, "is a civic-minded town. One cannot help but get caught up in the mood of all of its activities. There is a close feeling here that we have not experienced anywhere else."

"Perhaps that's why we are anticipating a great turnout at the parade," admits Policarpio. "Provided," he grins, "it doesn't rain."

VINCENT POLICARPIO

in the European Theater. After his Army days, he went into the "building line and, ended up being a mason contractor."

He was married Feb. 27, 1949, to the former Marie D'Andrea of Millburn ("We were next door neighbors"). "My wife's a registered nurse and she does quite a bit for the Red Cross blood bank."

"The Policarpios, who have an 18-year-old son, Vincent, who is just graduating from Union Catholic High School for Boys," moved to Springfield 17 years ago.

"You know, by living just across the street from the firehouse, you get to know the people. Well, eight years ago," Policarpio says, "I got to talking to the boys in the firehouse, and they got me in the volunteers."

Policarpio has been involved in big and small fires, and he attends drills and meetings and says that he is "very much involved."

"This town," interrupts Mrs. Policarpio, "is a civic-minded town. One cannot help but get caught up in the mood of all of its activities. There is a close feeling here that we have not experienced anywhere else."

Church schedules discussion groups on 'Urban Crisis'

The 'Urban Crisis' will be the topic of special consideration for the First Presbyterian Church of Springfield on the next two Sunday evenings when discussion groups meet in the Parish House. These discussions have grown out of the critical emphasis placed by the recent 180th General Assembly of the United Presbyterian denomination, which said, 'Our plight is too desperate, our fear too volatile, our future too fragile to permit any ignoring of this crisis on our very doorstep.'

This Sunday the Rev. St. Paul Epps, a minister in the division of evangelism of the Board of National Missions will speak on the causes, conditions, and the cures for this crisis. Mr. Epps was pastor of the Presbyterian Church-in-the-Watts section of Los Angeles before assuming his present position of leadership in the national church organization. His experience in this field is one which he has described to congregations across the country. 'In many sensitive areas of conflict, his has been the calm voice which has restored order to explosive situations,' according to a local church spokesman.

On June 9, the Rev. Blaine Craig of the Roseville Presbyterian Church, of Newark, accompanied by the church's Crusaders' Boy's Choir and the 'Crusaders' Speaking Choir; will lead the congregation in a presentation of the 'Challenge of Christian Education in the Urban Crisis.' The Roseville church under the leadership of Mr. Craig, has developed a new relevance for faith and action in the inner city, 'the local spokesman added. Opportunity for discussion and participation will be afforded all attending these special meetings; which are designed 'not only to sharpen our sensitivity within this area but also to inform us on constructive solutions. The meetings have been planned through the session's committee on education, under Ann Cunningham, Viola Heerwagen, James Marshall, James Short, Thomas Creede and David Pierson.

Program observes sixth anniversary of Senior Citizens

The Springfield Senior Citizens group celebrated its sixth anniversary last week at the American Legion Hall. Speakers at the anniversary observance included Mayor Robert Hardgrove, Township Committee member Robert Pliner, Monsignor Francis X. Coyle, Rabbi Reuben Levine, the Rev. James Dewar and Vincent Pfalz, assistant recreation director. The original group of senior citizens has grown to an enrollment of 80. A second group, organized a year ago, now has 40 members. Frank Franzese played the mandolin in a sing-along period. Mrs. Elwood Carmichael, president of the organization, announced that the senior citizens' annual picnic will be held June 26 at the municipal pool.

Publicity chairmen are urged to observe the Friday deadline for other than spot news. Include your name, address and phone number.

Versatile Logan on 'Camelot' staff

Joshua Logan, stage and screen director, adds new distinction to his record in the entertainment media with "Camelot," which continues its run at the Bellevue Theater, Upper Montclair.

Logan's stage successes have included "South Pacific," "Mister Roberts" and "Picnic." His film hits include "Sayonara," "Fanny" and the screen versions of "South Pacific" and "Picnic."

The versatile director began his theatrical endeavors at Princeton University's Triangle Club and Theater Intimo. He left Princeton to study in Russia with Stanislavsky at the Moscow Art Theater. Logan began his Hollywood film work as dialogue director on "The Garden of Allah" in 1936. This was followed by a job as co-author and co-director in the film, "I Met My Love Again." Logan returned to Broadway and staged "Knickerbocker Holiday," "Charley's Aunt," "By Jupiter," "Annie Get Your Gun," "Happy Birthday," "John Loves Mary" and "The World of Suzie Wong" among others.

Concerts to be presented by Symphony Orchestra

The New Jersey Symphony Orchestra will make its outdoor debut this Friday in a "bring your own lawn chair" concert at the Mall at Short Hills. At the same time, Kenneth Schermerhorn, the Symphony's music director, will be making his farewell appearance with the symphony.

The concert, free to the public, begins at 8 p.m. It is to be the first of a series of three Friday evening concerts, co-sponsored by the CIBA Corporation, the Merchants Association of the Mall and the New Jersey State Council on the Arts. The other performances will be June 7 and 17.

Schermerhorn, who has been the symphony's director since 1962, is leaving to take over a similar post with the Milwaukee Symphony. The two remaining concerts in the series will be directed by Frank Spazozza, assistant conductor of the New Jersey Symphony.

Succeeding Schermerhorn in the permanent music director's post will be Henry Lewis. His bow is scheduled for June 24.

This Friday's program will include works by Dvořak, Mozart and Leonard Bernstein and solo selections sung by soprano Elizabeth Cole. The program will open with Dvořak's Carnival Overture, followed by "The Enchanted Lake" by Lisadov and lives' variations on Schumann's "America."

Miss Cole will sing "Ritorna Vinchitor" from Verdi's Opera, Aida, "The Jewel Song" from Gounod's Faust, and "Czardas" from the Johann Strauss Opera, Die Fledermaus.

The closing portion of the program will begin with the Mozart Symphony No. 32. The orchestra also will play "Solres Musicales" by Britten and selections from Bernstein's West Side Story.

On June 7 the program includes Mozart's brilliant "Hafner" Symphony (number 35), "Fantasy Overture," "Romeo and Juliet" by Tschalkowsky, the "Merry Men of Windsor" Overture by Nicolai and selections from the musical show, "My Fair Lady." Solist will be clarinetist William Shadel.

The June 14 program will offer the Blzet Symphony in C and Finlandia by Sibelius. Other works to be played that evening are "Die Fledermaus" Overture by Strauss, the "Overture to La Forza del Destino" by Verdi and selections from the show "Sound of Music." Soprano Linda Heimall will sing selections.

Now, 17 weeks later, people are still flocking to see Dustin Hoffman, Anne Bancroft and Katherine Ross on screen at the Millburn. The picture has broken box office records at the Millburn Cinema, and continues to do so more than four months later.

Crowds continue to see 'Graduate'

Seventeen weeks ago when "The Graduate" opened on the screen at the Millburn Cinema, Millburn, Fred Dressel, the manager of the movie theater had to turn away scores of people who flocked to see the film. Dressel and RKO Stanley-Warner added a late, late show to their Friday and Saturday night screenings to accommodate the crowds, but they found that they were still turning away hundreds of moviegoers.

Dividend is declared by U. S. Savings Bank

The board of managers of the United States Savings Bank of Newark, Orange and Roseland has declared a dividend to savings depositors for the quarterly period ending June 1. The dividend, in excess of $2,415,000, together with the previous three quarterly dividends, gives the depositors more than $9,285,000 for the year.

Concert set Saturday

The Masterwork Music and Art Foundation presents its first concert of this year's Masterwork Young Artists Series on Saturday. The concert will be held at 300 Mendham rd., Morristown, at 8:30 p.m. Four performers will participate, three pianists and a bass-baritone. The pianist are Hao Huang, Barry Salwen, and Frederick Elliott. The singer is Larry Small.

Howard reports record dividend

Depositors at the Howard Savings Institution will share June 1 in a record quarterly dividend of approximately $9 million, Howard President John W. Kress announced this week.

The 308th consecutive dividend to be paid by the institution will be almost $1 million more than the dividend paid for the same period a year ago. The last four quarterly dividends amounted to more than $34 million and cumulative dividends paid since the bank was founded 111 years ago will be almost $339 million.

The dividend will represent an increase in earnings for school savings accounts. Now in its 46th year, the program includes over 105,000 youngsters with deposits of almost $4 million. At present, the school savings program is operating in 152 schools with the cooperation of the boards of education in 10 municipalities.

RAYMOND W. BAUER

Bauer heads state bankers; says tight money detrimental

Raymond W. Bauer, president of the Union County Trust Co., Elizabeth, was elected president of the New Jersey Bankers Association at the organization's annual convention in Chalfonte-Haddon Hall, Atlantic City, Bauer, who had been vice-president, succeeds W. Robert Davis, president of the Camden Trust Co.

Following his election, Bauer addressed the group and said that "tight money conditions have not favored commercial banks." Quoting a research study for the American Bankers Association, begun in 1953, "the first full year of flexible monetary policy in the post-war period," he said the study "reached two conclusions: "First, that tight money is a restrictive force on banking and results in slower growth of banking assets than is true under easy money and, second, that tight money is detrimental to the return of banks on both invested capital and bank assets. The report showed that the return on capital averaged 8.2% in periods of tight money and 9.1% in periods of easy money," he said.

Bauer noted that "two bills, S. 731 and S. 732, currently before the New Jersey Senate, will, if they become law, authorize the state-supervisory authorities to establish a legal interest rate for loans to individuals between six percent and eight percent in order to be responsive to conditions in the money market." He said that "New Jersey needs this increase in order to bring bank earnings to a level to realize fully banking's growth."

opportunities and execute a responsibility to promote the forecasted expansion of the economy." He added that calendar year 1961 was the last operating period when the banking industry matched the yield of all U.S. corporations.

Bauer was also elected by New Jersey members of the American Bankers Association to serve as a member of the ABA nominating committee at the ABA convention in Chicago Sept. 29 to Oct. 2.

A Musing from the desk

A MINI-PROTEST
Our 10-year-old mini-skirted daughter pointed out to her father one day last week to announce that she had been part of a student protest at the public school site attends.
I immediately had visions of her fourth grade class holding the teacher hostage or possibly the students taking over the principal's office! After all, what could a group of youngsters that age protest about?
"They serve us on cracked trays in the cafeteria and they don't give us enough food," she said.
"How did you protest," I asked of this fair-skinned blue-eyed young rebel.
"We didn't buy lunch," she said, popping a wad of bubble gum in her mouth, being careful not to disturb the braces.
"You'll go hungry," I said.
"We didn't care. The trays are cracked and they don't put enough food on the trays," she said defiantly between blowing bubbles.
"Has your group taken this up with the principal," I asked.
She replied that some of the students did just that and the principal explained the state determines the portion of food served. As for the cracked trays, the principal told them the students were to blame and there were no replacements readily available.
"That appears to be a good enough explanation," I said. "I think you made your point to the principal and the protest should stop."
"I already dropped out of the protest. Today was my last day, and anyway, I was hungry."
I breathed a sigh of relief because I was beginning to have visions of a flying wedge of police smashing into these tots in the cafeteria and carting them away with the cries of "police brutality" ringing through the school halls.
I could just see my daughter being charged with refusing to buy her lunch.
Whatever happened to potty raids?

Boys and girls interested in the Summit Area YMCA's summer day camps were urged this week to register while there are still openings in all periods. Camp Annandus for boys accommodates 80 boys entering grades 2-7; Triangle Club accommodates 40 girls entering grades 3-6; for two-week period, Camp Annandus operates from July 1 through August 23; Triangle Club from July 1 through August 9. Curb that 'kindly impulse' Don't 'adopt' baby wild animals

New Jersey citizens were urged this week by Commissioner Robert A. Roe of the State Department of Conservation and Economic Development not to "adopt" young wild animals.

Frequently people walking through the woods during late spring will come across a deer fawn or other baby animal that appears to be deserted. The creature looks as if it would make a nice pet, especially to a youngster.

The best practice is to leave the animal completely alone, not even touching it. This is true from the standpoint of both the animal and the finder. Such "babes in the woods" are hardly ever actually deserted. The mother is almost surely nearby, having left her offspring either in search of food or in hope of distracting attention from the baby. Occasionally, traces of human scent will inhibit her from taking normal care of it.

YOUNG WILDLIFE RARELY thrives in captivity. If an animal is reared successfully, it is unlikely to re-adapt to wild conditions if later released.

The appeal of wild animals as pets diminishes as they grow. Deer, especially, become unruly and even dangerous outside their natural environment.

Mistaken kindness in picking up young wildlife is also illegal in New Jersey. Titles 23:4-1 and 23:4-43 of the Revised Statutes provide penalties of $20 for most species and $100 or more for deer illegally possessed.

The kindest thing is to leave a baby alone to grow under natural conditions. If a creature appears genuinely deserted, a Fish and Game Conservation Officer or Wildlife Manager should be notified, since these men are trained in the proper protection of New Jersey wildlife resources.

Ask Amy

By AMY ADAMS

Dear Amy!

I am eager to take driving lessons, but before going on the road with an instructor, I would like to get the feel of the car, so to speak, when there's no traffic about. I think this would be an asset in helping me over being nervous.

I'm middle aged and have never been required to drive until now. However, it is really necessary for me to take up driving. Could you help me find the right driving school in my area... perhaps one with a private driving ground for practice?

Anxious Female

Dear Amy:

Several of the national motoring clubs have excellent driving schools consisting of classroom lectures as well as behind-the-wheel practice. None that I know of have private driving grounds since the control of an auto should be second nature as determined by the flow of traffic around the driver. And this "second nature" can only come with learning in traffic.

Dear Amy:

I have to ask you a question. Is it right for a boy to touch places on a girl not usually seen? I must know this because I am a girl, 13 years old, I go out on a few dates and every boy I go with wants to do this. If I say no, they say I don't know anything and this is the way it's supposed to be.

So will you please tell me because I don't want to do anything wrong.

Confused

Dear Amy:

NO! NO! NO! Your friends would like it to be this way, but it's not. It's time you had a long talk with your Mom... and get yourself some new friends.

Dear Amy:

I feel your answer to the 25 year old man and the 16 year old girl who wanted to marry is wrong. I know a couple who have been married 33 years. The man was 15 years older, and even being married for this length of time, he still turns his pay check over to her. Their home is paid for and they have a sizable bank account. When they first were married, the fee for the Justice of the Peace left them broke. But their love has flourished and grown through the years so that today, they still love each other, care for each other, and keep each other young.

I know of two other happy marriages where there is a vast age difference between husband and wife. These marriages are still going strong.

So there is nothing wrong here, is there? If I remember my bible correctly, Ruth was 48; her husband 117!

E.J.M.

Dear Amy:

I've never written to you before, but when I read what you said about the 16 year old girl going with a 25 year old guy, I could have hit the ceiling.

When a girl reaches the age of 16, she has definitely got a mind of her own. If her parents have reared her properly they shouldn't worry about her. If it blows over, or even if it doesn't,

Motorists warned to drive safely

The New Jersey State Safety Council in its annual Memorial Day Traffic Safety Advisory this week reminded motorists that the purpose of Memorial Day is to honor the dead—not to drive to join them.

George G. Traver, executive vice president of the Council said that he is very apprehensive this year about the highway accident problem because of the state's soaring fatality figure which for the first five months of 1968 will exceed 480, representing an increase in excess of 21 percent over the same period last year, indicating that New Jersey is heading for a new record for death on the highways.

It is expected that during the 102-hour four-day holiday beginning 6 p.m. Wednesday, and ending midnight, Sunday, that some 2,734 accidents will place 2,168 people in hospitals and cause 21 deaths.

As a guide to safe driving over the holiday, the Council recommends:

1. Before starting on a holiday trip, have the vehicle thoroughly checked by a mechanic. Don't forget tires with worn spots or cracks are an invitation to an accident.
2. If you don't have seat belts or head supports—buy them—if you have them—use them.
3. Spend some time planning the trip using a recently issued map which indicates the most direct and safest routes—allow sufficient traveling time for emergencies. Remember arriving an hour late is better than not arriving at all.
4. Avoid drinking and driving. Be especially careful of mixing alcohol and medicine. Remember that alcohol is a factor in over 50% of all the fatal accidents which occur on New Jersey roads.

DISEASE
Prominent medical authorities believe that cigarette smoking and air pollution are direct or aiding causes of Emphysema, a chronic respiratory disease that took the lives of 20,000 Americans in 1967.

GARY'S CORNER

A REGULAR WEEKLY FEATURE

By GARY LESSING, Manager SOMERSET TIRE SERVICE

We upset one visitor to our tire shop last week with our movie quiz on the noted father-son team of Hollywood, Walter and John Huston. Our visitor thought we were directing the query to people who are really not movie buffs. In short, he thought it too easy.

Herewith, then, a few movie questions he asked us to include in today's column.

Almost three decades ago Hollywood produced some mighty fine films, among them "Grapes of Wrath," "Gone With the Wind," "Goodbye, Mr. Chips," and "Wuthering Heights."

In the latter movie starring Merle Oberon and Sir Lawrence Olivier, can you name Merle Oberon's sister-in-law? Can you name the man she married? Can you name the lady who narrated the story in the opening scenes related the story of Cathy and Heathcliff to the visitor in the night?

How about naming the man who directed the film? In "Grapes of Wrath," who was Henry Fonda's mother? Who wrote the original story? Who was the preacher in the film? Who was Mr. Chips? And what was the name of Vivian Leigh's cousin in "Gone With the Wind?"

All answers next week. Meantime, keep those letters coming in and when your Dad's car needs a new set of tires, don't forget the best available—PIRESTONE—is at SOMERSET TIRE SERVICE, Rt. 22 (Eastbound Lane) at Springfield, Union.

Open daily 9-9 Saturdays to 4, our phone number is MU 8-5620 and we have a trained staff of mechanics ready to service your auto. Stop in today.

Tips for Today's Homemaker

From Anne L. Sheelan, County Home Economist

Memorial Day traditionally opens the outdoor barbecue season.

For a summer of unique barbecues which will gain you the reputation of being a gourmet, feature tasty barbecue sauces, glazes, and marinades with the meats you prepare.

Barbecue sauces should enhance the meat flavor but not overpower it. Apply sauces during the last few minutes of the cooking time, rather than in the beginning. When applied at this time, you will be able to taste the meat and the sauce separately. The meat, therefore, retains its identity. Roasts and poultry, prepared on a barbecue spit, are ideal for such sauces.

Glazes add to the attractiveness of the meat as well as enhance its flavor. Barbecued hams with a pineapple glaze is a delightful combination.

Marinades not only add flavor but also serve as a tenderizer. They are suitable for steaks, chops, and meat cubes used for shish kebabs. The usual process is to cover the meat with the marinade and chill it in the refrigerator for several hours or overnight, turning it once or twice during the time. Before barbecuing, the meat should be drained and allowed to reach room temperature.

Perhaps you would like to try one of the following recipes to add a special touch to your next barbecue.

BASIC BARBECUE SAUCE

- 1/3 cup vinegar
- 1/3 cup fresh lemon juice
- 1/3 cup salad oil
- 1/2 teaspoon soy sauce
- Salt and pepper to taste

Combine ingredients and mix well. Makes 1 cup.

PINEAPPLE GLAZE

- 1 can (8 ounces) crushed pineapple
 - 1 cup firmly packed brown sugar
 - 1 tablespoon prepared mustard
 - 1 teaspoon dry mustard
 - Juice of 1 lemon
 - Dash of salt
- Drain syrup from pineapple and reserve. Combine drained pineapple and remaining ingredients in a blender; blend until smooth. Add as much of the reserved syrup as necessary to have the mixture of good spreading consistency. Brush over meat during the last few minutes of barbecuing. Makes about 1-1/2 cups.

MARINADE

- 1-1/2 cups salad oil
- 3/4 cup soy sauce
- 1/4 cup Worcestershire sauce
- 2 tablespoons dry mustard
- 2-1/4 teaspoons salt
- 1 tablespoon coarse, freshly ground black pepper
- 1/2 cup wine vinegar
- 1-1/2 teaspoons dried parsley flakes
- 2 crushed garlic cloves, if desired
- 1/3 cup fresh lemon juice

Combine all ingredients and mix well. Makes about 3-1/2 cups. Marinade can be drained from steaks or chops for a second use. Store in a tightly covered jar in freezer indefinitely, or in refrigerator for one week.

'Bananas' peel away mystery of laser

Scientists at Bell Telephone Laboratories have found a way to tune the color, or frequency, of a continuous light beam from a laser just as a radio might be tuned from station to station.

Normally, laser light is of a single, very pure color, composed primarily of one wavelength or frequency. Making use of a new crystal material in conjunction with a laser, the Bell Labs scientists have turned a coherent light beam over 45 trillion cycles—roughly about 45 million times that of a radio dial.

Engineers refer to this as bandwidth, and a bandwidth of this magnitude is equivalent to billions of telephone conversations. Lasers have such enormous capacity however, that they may not be needed in communications for many years.

A prime factor in the advance was the discovery of a new crystal at Bell Labs, the research and development unit of the Bell System. The crystal has special optical qualities and the unlikely nickname of "bananas." The name was coined by the Bell scientists because of the chemical composition of the crystal—barium, and sodium nitrate, or, in chemical symbols, Ba₂NbO₃.

INFORMATION CAN BE sent on light waves just as it can be sent on radio waves. In fact the first demonstration of voice transmission was in 1880 when Alexander Graham Bell used light waves from the sun to transmit his voice at a short distance on a device he called the Photophone. Unlike sunlight, the laser beam is coherent light—it travels in regular, nearly parallel waves of nearly one frequency. As a result of this regularity and high frequency it has potential for carrying large amounts of information and may be extremely useful for communications. The ability to tune a coherent light beam opens up many more frequencies for use.

Tuning the light from one wavelength to another is accomplished by heating, coherent green light through the "banana" crystal and adjusting the temperature of the crystal. The optical qualities of the crystal are such that it can convert energy from the green laser light into light of another wavelength.

At one temperature, only light of a certain wavelength will emerge from the crystal. Thus, by adjusting the temperature of the crystal, the wavelength of the light exiting the crystal can be adjusted or tuned.

In initial experiments the new device, known as a variable parameter oscillator, converted a bright green light into invisible infrared light which could be tuned over a wide range. When the device is fully developed it will change laser light from green to red so that the tuning can be observed with the unaided eye instead of being observed with electronic instruments.

For And About Teenagers

you have dates yet, it's pretty good evidence that they care for you. Some parents seldom know (or care, until some kind of trouble appears) what their children are up to when they are not at home.

If you have a teenage problem you want to discuss or an observation to make, address your letter to FOR AND ABOUT TEENAGERS, COMMUNITY AND SUBURBAN PRESS SERVICE, FRANKFORT, KY.

THE WEEK'S LETTER: "I am fifteen years of age and my parents think I'm too young to date. All of my girlfriends date boys. And, when they ask me who I'm going with, I have to say I am not going with anyone. I have to say that my parents won't let me. What can I do about this? Please give me a reply."

OUR REPLY: If you are asking if there is some way you can change your parents' attitude about your having dates, we have no answer for you. All parents — thank goodness — are not alike, any more than all teenagers are alike. What other teenagers do, and their relationships with their parents, has nothing to do with your problem. Nothing is "right" merely because everyone, or nearly everyone, does it. The best we can suggest to you is patience, and an effort to prove to your parents that you are sensible, know the meaning of responsibility, and the difference between right and wrong. Also, do not be ashamed to tell your friends that your parents will not let

Write-in for Nixon sought by backers

"New Jersey voters in the June 4 primary election will give the nation the last, visible sentiment of Presidential choice," according to the state chairman of the Nixon Now Citizens Committee.

State chairman Edward Bond of Union urged local voters to follow the lead of local GOP leaders by supporting Richard M. Nixon and writing in Nixon's name at the polls next Tuesday.

More than 50 Republican leaders throughout New Jersey have already expressed strong support for Nixon's candidacy, Bond said.

Seek instant licensing of driver grads

Two Union County Assemblymen, who say they are firmly convinced that education counts, will bring to the floor of the Assembly, on Monday, a bill providing that successful graduates of approved drivers' education courses may be issued their licenses immediately.

The bill will be brought to the floor by Assemblymen Herbert J. Heilmann of Union, and Herbert H. Klein, who initiated the legislation in response to complaints about lengthy waiting periods for driving tests.

The Heilmann-Klein measure, Assembly Bill 399, provides that certified instructors of approved drivers' education courses may issue their graduating students certificates of ability which would entitle them to receive their driver's license without taking the usual state examination — or waiting three months to take it.

By removing these youngsters from the ranks, the assemblymen hope, the waiting period might also be shortened slightly for other applicants.

"THE WHOLE BUSINESS got started with a telephone call from an angry father in our district," Heilmann explained. "He called my home one evening and complained bitterly that his son was unable to obtain a driving test unless he was willing to wait three to four months.

"The man explained that his son had successfully completed an approved driver's education course in his high school and had a chance for a part time job after school — if he could drive.

"The waiting period required by the State Motor Vehicle Division (they say because of too small a staff and too many applicants) would cost him the job, the man explained.

"Assemblyman Klein and I talked it over and decided something ought to be done. A very brief investigation turned up what we felt was a most interesting fact:

"Graduates of drivers' education courses are automatically granted up to 10 per cent reductions in their automobile insurance rates once they get their licenses.

"IT SEEMS TO us that if the insurance companies recognize these courses as producing safe and qualified drivers, the state ought to do no less.

"This came our bill," Assemblyman Klein pointed out the pending bill has drawn some favorable attention from other legislators. Some of them, he said, had suggested carrying the idea one step further. And so they did.

"The various professional driving schools also turn our fine drivers," Klein said, "and we see no reason why they should not be included in this legislation.

An amendment to that effect has been added to the bill, thereby providing their graduates with the same benefits, Klein said.

NSC to use book on Negro history

United States history classes at Newark State College, Union, will use a textbook on Negro history next year in addition to their regular text, Dr. Irving Luscumbe, chairman of the U.S. history teachers, announced this week.

The second text will be introduced in order to enlarge the amount of Negro history that is included in the course. Although supplementary books on Negro history are now required reading for the course, a book on this subject has never before been used as one of its basic texts, Dr. Luscumbe said.

The new text is "The Negro in the Making of America" by Benjamin Quarles. The standard text is "The National Experience" by Blaine Cotton, Vann Woodward, Stampp and others. "The Strange Career of Jim Crow" by Vann Woodward is among the supplementary books on Negro history that are used this year.

"Our aim is to point out the contributions of the Negro to the development of the United States as well as to trace this nation's influence upon the Negro," Dr. Luscumbe said.

McCarthy groups plan final pre-primary push

McCarthy groups throughout the 12th Congressional District are planning a final push this weekend on pre-primary electioneering. According to Dick Samuel, coordinator of the district coordinating committee, active committees in most of the 25 towns in Union and western Essex Counties which make up the 12th District will be out distributing election information, manning telephone squads and ringing doorbells on behalf of Senator Eugene McCarthy.

"We've found that there's a real ground swell of support for Senator McCarthy, and we expect an unprecedented turnout for the State Primary on Tuesday, June 4," Samuel said.

"When they realized that their votes could elect the delegation to the national political convention, and not some political machine, they became interested," Samuel said.

The New Jersey primary next week will determine the makeup of the delegations to the presidential convention this August. In the Democratic primary, the statewide McCarthy organization will be running a slate of delegates and alternates pledged to the senator. The delegation is made up of 82 delegates and 82 alternates. Voters throughout the state will elect all but two of these delegates, who are traditionally the State Committeewoman and Committeeman.

In the Union County communities which lie in the 12th Congressional District, "Mc-Carthy For President" delegates will appear on the last line of the ballot, Line 1, Samuel said. Voters will have the opportunity to vote for 10 at-large delegates and alternates and nine delegates and alternates from this district, he said. One alternate position remains unfilled.

The Line 1 slate pledged to McCarthy consists of at-large delegate candidates C. Willard Heckel, Dean of Rutgers Law School; Mrs. Jeanette Cascone, a Roselle teacher and lecturer on Afro-American History; Morton Stavits, an attorney from Newark; Rev. Homer Tucker, director of Urban Work for the New Jersey Baptist Convention, and Dr. George Yevick, Professor of Physics at Stevens Institute.

At-large alternate candidates are Rev. Ivan Backer, president of the Bergen County Chapter of the Episcopal Society for Culture and Racial Unity; Mrs. Milton LaFida, Short Hills Democratic committeewoman; Joseph Magliacano, business manager of Local 192, United Furniture Workers; Dr. Ashley Montagu, anthropologist and writer, and Emerson Darnell, a college professor from southern New Jersey.

Delegate candidates from the 12th District are Fames Elmer Sullivan, Roselle, David Rothschild, Millburn, David McCauley, Union, Rev. Jacob Trapp of Summit and Mrs. Barbara Granther of Millburn.

UC offers Non-credit courses

The non-credit courses are: introductory algebra (Mathematics A); trigonometry (Mathematics B); introductory chemistry (Chemistry A); basic physics (Physics A) and English review.

Prof. Swackhamer said the non-credit courses are available for high school students who need to make-up high school entrance credits in those areas prior to launching their college careers.

Union College's Summer Session will open on June 24 and will continue for six weeks through August 2. Classes will meet daily, Monday through Friday, in the morning and evening. Registration will be conducted on June 19 and 20 from 6 to 8 p.m. in the Campus Center.

Prof. Swackhamer said June 14 will be the deadline to file applications for the Summer Session.

In addition to the non-credit courses, forty freshman and sophomore college credit courses will be available in the areas of liberal arts, engineering, science, and business administration, Prof. Swackhamer said.

Roe notes growing role of Fish, Game Division

The importance of New Jersey fish and wildlife resources in the state's overall environmental renewal program was stressed by Commissioner Robert A. Roe of the State Department of Conservation and Economic Development at a meeting of indoor writers recently. The Informal session at the Italian-American Sportsmen's Club of Trenton was arranged by the State Fish and Game Council following their regular meeting. Roe noted that the Division of Fish and Game is being called upon to play an increasingly cooperative role in projects affecting the total environment of the state. He said that the burden of these efforts should not fall exclusively on hunters and anglers who pay substantial license fees to enjoy these outdoor recreational pursuits. He cited research efforts dealing with the ecology of estuaries and the effects of thermal discharges from nuclear generating plants. The importance of these projects to fish habitat demands Fish and Game participation, but their effects are much more far-reaching, Roe said.

Roe expressed the view that continued reliance on license fees alone to finance Fish and Game conservation efforts is unrealistic in light of the relationship of these resources to the total environment. He said that use of general state revenues would involve no risk to sportsmen's prerogatives to manage hunting and fishing. The structure of the Fish and Game Council could have been changed long since, if governmental leaders did not recognize the sportsmen's dedication to fish and wildlife resources. He stated his conviction that the state's organized sportsmen are capable of exerting great influence on behalf of sound conservation.

Dayton field, track record excellent with victories over Plains, Chatham

TAKING AIM — Bill Chisholm, star javelin thrower for the Jonathan Dayton Regional High School track team, sets his sights on a distant target.

By MYRON MEISEL
The Jonathan Dayton Regional High School track team continued its winning streak into the final week of the season. The Bulldogs' skinn of victories has now reached seven, and with only yesterday's meet with Edison Technical High School of Elizabeth excluded, the Dayton track-record stands at 9-3, far and away the finest showing in many seasons. Dayton nearly missed its perfect finish, squeaking out a slim 64-63 victory over top-ranked Scotch Plains-Fanwood High School. The Bulldogs then easily trounced Chatham Township High School, 88-38.

The discus, shotput and javelin made the critical difference against Scotch Plains. The Raiders outpointed Dayton on the track, 41-31, as well as in the pit, 15-12, but a stunning Dayton margin of 21-6 in the hurling competitions won the day.

The discus set the pace, as Mike Burns' throw of 139-10 captured first, and Charlie Foster and Gary Haydu took second and third to completely blank the Raiders. Foster won the shotput, and Bill Chisholm took second, setting Scotch Plains down another sevenpoints. The Raiders wore the javelin, but Chisholm and Bill Keller saved second and third.

Other firsts for Dayton included Derrall Brooks in the high hurdles, Bob Sasse in the 100-yard dash, Marty Josephs in the 800, Norman Reinhart in the two-mile and Foster in the high jump.

CHATHAM provided little challenge for the Bulldogs, who captured first place in all but three events.

Results of the Scotch Plains meet are (winning times are given first): Low hurdles: 20.1, Derrall Brooks, second; high hurdles: 14.8, Brooks, first, Larry Stewart, third; 100-yard: 10.6, Bob Sasse, first, Jim Robinson, second (tie); 220-yard: 23.6, Sasse, second, Mike Robinson, third; 440: 53, Gary Vostburg, third; 880: 2:02.6, Marty Josephs, first; one-mile: 4:49, Ken Shatton, third; two-mile: 10:20.5, Norman Reinhart, first; 3,000: 47-3.5, Charlie Foster, first; Bill Chisholm, second; javelin: 182-3, Chisholm, second, Bill Keller, third; discus: 139-10, Mike Burns, first, Foster, second, Gary Haydu, third; high jump: 5-8, Dennis Lester, third; long jump: 20-3, Foster, first, Vostburg, second; pole vault: 12-6, Ed Harback, second.

Results of the Chatham meet are: low hurdles: 14.8, Woody Young, second; high hurdles: 17.7, Young, first, Brad Smith, third; 100: 10.7, Sasse, first, M. Robinson, third; 220: 24.3, M. Robinson, second; Stuart Grossman, third; 440: 55.1, Smith, first; Lee Keonert, second; 880: 2:16.4, Dale Vasilis, second; Mike Pamp, third; one-mile: 4:50.4, Josephs, first; two-mile: 11:02, Mark George, first.

Shotput: 42-11, Burns, first, Ed Graessle, second; discus: 126, Foster, first, Brian Zabalski, third; javelin: 169-11, Keller, first, Chisholm, second; high jump: Vostburg, first, Stewart, second; J. Robinson, third; long jump: 18-5, J. Robinson, first, Young, second; pole vault: 9, Dave Peterson, first, Harback, second.

Bulldogs split, tie opponents as finish nears

IN PURSUIT — Fred Volke, catcher for the Jonathan Dayton-Regional High School baseball team, heads for a high foul ball.

By MYRON MEISEL
The Jonathan Dayton Regional High School baseball team split its three decisions last week three ways, defeating Governor Livingston Regional High School of Berkeley Heights, 5-3, and losing once and tying once with Rahway High School, 3-1 and 3-3.

The two final-Bulldog games of the season, against Cranford High School, are set for next week. Excluding those contests, the Dayton diamond record now stands at 7-8-3.

Dayton made more errors and collected fewer hits than the Highlanders of Berkeley Heights, but the Bulldogs won the game on the strength of a shining third inning. Down 2-0, Dayton scored two singles by Alan Fiedakis and relief pitcher Steve Jupa into five runs. Mitch Wolff, the starting pitcher, received the victory.

The first Rahway match, postponed because of rain at the opening of the season, was scoreless until the sixth. Two Indian batters walked and then scored on a long triple to left field by Rahway outfielder Jim Drukas. In the bottom half of the inning, Joel Millman walked, followed by Jupa. Both runners advanced on a fielder's choice on the next play, and Millman scored on a balk. Rahway sealed the victory in the seventh with another run.

In the rematch three days later, however, the Bulldogs got the Indians, clouting six hits to Rahway's two. Hits by Gary Kurtz and Rich Selkoff brought in two runs in the first inning, and Richie Campbell scored on a sacrifice by Gary Kurtz in the seventh. Rahway scored its three unearned runs, all in the sixth, on a sudden spurge of walks by the Dayton pitcher. The game was called after eight innings on account of rain.

Neibart's no-hitter helps Colantone smash Saks

Mike Neibart pitched Colantone-Shoes to a no-hit victory over Saks' Fifth Avenue, 15-1, in the American Youth Minor League.

Neibart struck out 14 men in five innings. He also went four for four at the plate to contribute to the victory. Steve Clarke and Barry Greenberg each had three hits for Colantone. Teddy Conklin was two for two at the plate, including a triple. He also made a running catch in right field to protect the no-hitter. Richard Schwerdt played well behind the plate for Saks and Mike Heckel threw a man out at the plate from center field for Saks.

Gary's Restaurant defeated Springfield Pharmacy, 5-2, to hold on to first place. Mitch Kotler belted a three-bagger for Gary's. Robert Fleiselman made several good plays in the field. Steve Lipschutz was credited with the victory, while Bruce Blumenfeld was charged with the loss.

In a hard-hitting game, Midtown Auto Body defeated Drexel Cleaners, 17-6. Both squads had nine hits. Joey Knowles and Stuart Anker had two apiece for Drexel. Midtown's Lee Davison had three hits, while Paul Dohin and Bruce Hoffman had two each. Bryan Deusch, the victorious moundsman, doubled and singled. Knowles was charged with the defeat.

Gary's strengthened its hold on first place by eking out a close one over Midtown, 6-5. Vince Mirabella received the pitching credit, while Bruce Hoffman was charged with the loss. Both squads were held to four hits. Hoffman, Lee Davison, Bob Roth and Bryan Deusch were leading batters for Midtown, while Mirabella had a double for Gary's and Steve Lipschutz hit two two-baggers.

Through the powerful hitting of Tom Moe, Mike Heckel and Scott Grayson, Saks Fifth smashed Reimets's, 17-12. For Reimets, Scott Andrus had three hits. Ronald Frank made the fielding play of the game at third base for the losing squad, while Billy Van Buskirk hit a triple and a double. Martin Fishman, Ricky DeGeorge, Stewart Brumer and Bruce Fish ripped out hits for the Saks victory. Grayson was credited with the triumph, while Frank was charged with the loss.

Elks win in Ruth, hand Carter Bell its first loss, 13-7

The Elks handed Carter Bell its first loss in Babe Ruth League play last week.

ELKS 13, CARTER BELL 7.

The Elks combined walks and timely hitting to beat Carter Bell. Phil Stokes and Bob Reihman, with two hits each, and Perry Koplik with one provided all the hits for the winners, while Phil Lambert picked up the victory with effective clutch pitching. Jay Silverman, with two hits, and Rick Williams, Bob Janukowicz, Lee Adler and Jeff Slater, with one each, did all the hitting for Carter Bell. Jay Silverman's wildness on the mound led to his defeat.

ELKS 7, MORRIS AVENUE MOTORS 5

Strong hitting and good defensive play won for the Elks. Scott Prussing, Phil Stokes and Joel Millman led the team in batting, while Prussing and Steve Zwillman turned in good performances in the field. Mark Hollander and Ed Graessle were outstanding for Morris Motors. Phil Lambert collected the triumph. Robert Blum, the loss.

MORRIS AVENUE MOTORS 8, CHANNEL LUMBER 3

Morris Motors beat Channel behind the steady pitching of Keith Prussing. Ed Cook was the big man at bat for Morris Motors when, in the first inning, with bases loaded, he tripled to drive in three runs. George Robbins, Steve Max and Bob Blum chalked up hits for Morris Motors. Billy Stefany, Kenny Baroff and Howie Alexander, played good defensive ball for the winners. Jimmy Schoch and Bruce Jeffery went two-for-three at bat for Channel, while Tommy Falcone, Danny Williams, Gil Gleim and Danny Silverman all had singles.

High scores mark St. James league action during week

On May 21, Raymond Sullivan got his first hit of the year, in the St. James Little League, a home run. He and Greg Johnson hit home runs as Holy Name won its sixth in a row, beating L & R Metals, 14 to 5. Pete De Marco, the winning pitcher, got three hits, two of which were triples, while she struck out nine. Don Schwerdt also got three hits. Frank Angell got two hits for L & R.

The only other home run that night was hit by John Dogman. It put John's Catering, ahead but not for long. Ted Cipolletti's pitching and an unassisted double play by Joe Nittello helped Unico turn back John's Catering, 7 to 2. James Plynski and Ed Federovitch both tripled for Unico.

Knights of Columbus beat Spring Enterprises, 14 to 2. Greg Lios struck out ten as the winning pitcher. Lios, Scott Searies and Garry Ragnese each got two hits and Carl Melroy got three hits.

Carl Buick beat First State Bank, 13 to 5. Bob Hannon struck out seven as the winning pitcher. Tony McGovern tripled to drive in three runs and also doubled. Rick Wnek doubled twice and tripled to drive in three runs. Ricky Hector and Charles Liss also hit doubles. Morris Motors beat Springfield High, 6 to 3, behind the fine pitching of Frank Frtore, who pitched four innings, and John Sullivan who relieved for the last two innings.

Wesley wins two to hold lead in National Youth League play

Wesley Jewellers is holding first place in the National Youth Minor League with two victories last week.

Legion and Rotary win two apiece in Youth Major play

Rotary and Legion won two games each in the Youth Major League. One of the Legion's victories was at the expense of Rotary. The Lions defeated the PBA.

ROTARY 11, LIONS 1

Rotary broke open a close, well-played game with nine runs in the bottom of the fourth to beat the Lions, 11 to 1. The leading hitters for Rotary were Ed Hochstein, Mark Weber and Don Peskin with two hits apiece. Larry Khalfold hit a triple for the Lions, and Bill Palazzi played well in the field. Ed Hochstein was the winning pitcher, and Bill Palazzi, the loser.

LIONS 6, PBA 5

The Lions scored six runs on two hits and loose infield play in the first inning and held on to their lead, although PBA narrowed the gap to 6 to 5. Winning pitcher Steve DiCenedeio struck out six and walked two, allowing four hits. Loser Tony Petrozello gave up three hits, and was followed on the mound by John Zurkoff, John Blair and Howie Tomenbaum.

AMERICAN LEGION 6, ROTARY 5

American Legion defeated Rotary in a well-played game. With Billy Nevius the winning pitcher and Tim Pimpinelli taking the loss. The Legion batters came alive with Tom Lowy's home run with two on. Sam Kaplan's three-bagger, Dan Kotovsky's double, and Billy Nevius' triple. For Rotary, Mark Weber's hot bat connected for a triple and two singles. Derek Nardone came through with two singles, and Tim Pimpinelli and Mark Roslyn with a single apiece.

AMERICAN LEGION 12, ELKAY 3

American Legion came up with 4 hits to swamp Elkay, 12 to 3. Joe Pepe went four for four at the plate, and came in to pitch at the top of the fourth to strike out five, allowing one hit and one walk. For the Legion, Dan Kotovsky smashed a home run, Billy Nevius a triple, and Joe Pepe four singles. Sam Kaplan had three singles and Tom Lowy two. Jeff Schneider, Wayne Rutz and Brian Oganowski all had singles for Elkay.

ROTARY 4, JAYNE TRUCKING 3

Tim Pimpinelli relieved Barry Fink in the second inning with Rotary trailing, and held off Jayne the rest of the way. Jayne managed only two hits, while Rotary had seven. Mark Weber sparked the Rotary team with two hits, and stole home in the fifth for the winning run. The game was not decided until the last pitch, when Pimpinelli fanned Stu Granwitz with the bases loaded for the final out. The defensive highlight of the game was supplied by Jayne's rookie catcher, Bill Daclor, who threw out five runners in four innings attempting to steal.

Years of 'idleness' pay off Self-educated, getting Ph.D.

If Rutgers University gave a Ph. D. degree in the joy of living, Endel Karmas would be at the head of the class. As it is, the dean of the Rutgers College of Agriculture and Environmental Science was scheduled to present him for a doctorate in food science Wednesday night at Rutgers' 202d anniversary commencement.

One of his recent accomplishments was earning a permanent place on the Food Science Department's research staff.

Dr. Karmas, a native of Estonia now living in Piscataway, was injured in a skiing accident when he was 15. Because it was during the early years of World War II, he did not receive the medical attention he otherwise would have had. The result was a joint disease which left both hips and one ankle stiff.

He spent years in bed. But this sports-minded teenager didn't waste time brooding over his plight. He studied his high school subjects without tutoring and received a high school diploma. He also taught himself to play the violin.

In 1946 he underwent surgery which enabled him to walk better. But this experience called for another couple of years in bed.

"I suppose my incapacity has caused me to think more about life," Dr. Karmas philosophizes. "And I have come to the conclusion that there are infinite numbers of solutions to all problems. There is no 'right' way."

Dr. Karmas came to this country in 1952 through a World Church Service Bond and entered the Illinois Institute of Technology. While there he became concert master of the college symphony orchestra, which his years of studying the violin in bed had enabled him to do.

He later received an M.S. degree in chemistry from the University of Chicago, earning his way as a bank clerk, aided by college scholarships. For about seven years he was director of research of Thompson Farms Co., a Chicago meat packing firm.

He also met an Estonian girl in Chicago and married her. They now have three sons.

"Education is worth more than all the treasures in the world," Dr. Karmas declares ardently. "The more education one has the broader one's horizons become and the more he can understand and enjoy life."

As an example of his philosophy, he recalls that he became interested in a theater group while in Chicago and became its stage director after studying for the job at the local library. In the Department of Food Science, Dr. Karmas concentrated on "The Interactions of Water with Amino Acids and Proteins as Determined by Differential Microcalorimetry." His thesis has a basic relationship to the nutritive value of the world food supply. As of last year he had authored 14 scientific publications.

For the fun of it, Dr. Karmas likes music, theater, photography, chess, nature and a lot of other things he might not have come to know had he not spent so many "idle" years.

His philosophy includes some concepts seldom heard these days—that this is a "wonderful country where anyone in good health can make a living" and that "every cloud can have a silver lining."

Hospital volunteers honored by Beth Israel's Auxiliary

Fifty-one women from 13 communities in Essex and Union Counties, who together gave more than 11,200 hours of unpaid services to the hospital's Women's Auxiliary at a luncheon, it was announced by Lester M. Bornstein, acting executive director of the institution.

The luncheon, at which Dr. Lewis E. Savel, president of the Newark Beth Israel Hospital medical staff and chief of obstetrics and gynecology, was the principal speaker, was the tenth annual awards ceremony sponsored by the Women's Auxiliary.

Participating in the awards ceremony were: Mrs. Myron Rutkin of Maplewood, the Auxiliary's chairman of volunteer services, who presided; Mrs. Samuel Einhorn of Short Hills, president of the Women's Auxiliary; Mrs. Milton Gordon of Maplewood, director of volunteer services at the hospital; and Mrs. Victor Cabot of West Orange, a past president of the Auxiliary and founder of the volunteer services, who gave the invocation. Lester M. Bornstein, acting executive director of Newark Beth Israel Hospital, presented the awards.

Newark had the largest awards representation at the luncheon, with 17; Irvington followed with 10; Hillside had 7; Springfield

PERSISTENCE PRODUCES PH. D. — Endel Karmas, 44, studies chemical changes taking place in a good sample in a differential scanning calorimeter. The Estonia-born Karmas spent years in bed as the result of a skiing accident at 15, came to this country in 1952, and has held a variety of jobs.

Conferees agree: Quiet!

At the Rutgers College of Agriculture and Environmental Science they've taken a quiet step toward ridding our environment of yet another pollutant—noise.

Water purity has been the subject of research and teaching at the College for many years, long before it added "Environmental Science" to its name. More recently scientists there have launched new research toward cleaning the air we breathe.

And now they're recognizing noise as a pollutant that lends itself to systematic attack. As a starter the College invited interested persons to a conference recently, and more than 100 health authorities, municipal officials and others showed a lively interest.

They learned from speakers that noise is "getting worse" both in the number of sources and the power of those sources.

The authority for this statement was Lewis S. Goodfriend of Cedar Knolls, a consultant on noise problems and editor of the magazine, "Sound and Vibration."

Making his point about the world getting noisier, Goodfriend offered these specifics:

- Trucks are becoming more powerful and can haul heavier loads at higher speeds.
- Aircraft, even at many of the smaller airports, now include business jets that are noisier than piston engine-powered aircraft.
- As the daily life of each of us becomes more successful we find the noises of others less tolerable.
- Our tolerance of any noise is greatly reduced, by our knowledge that it is either unnecessary or that it need not be quite as loud and in our ears not quite as annoying.
- Said Goodfriend: "It is time for our senators and congressmen, the legislators in various states, and each municipal government to realize that the emotional stress of noise does indeed have a dollar value as well as a moral and sociological value. And suitable laws in the public interest must be enacted."

ROYAL TYPEWRITER COMPANY, INC. A DIVISION OF LITTON INDUSTRIES

The new Ultronic by Royal has an electric carriage return never before available at a price this low. It also has an electric tabulator, electric backspace, a repeat space bar and a motor twice as powerful as any comparable electric. It has four electric repeat characters: underlines, hyphens, period, and crossout. It's a fully electric typewriter in every way. Except price. In the past, the power-aided fully electric typewriter cost $250. And even then it didn't have such Ultronic features as Magic Margin, Magic Meter scale, electric-ribbon feed, vertical hole spacing, and a detachable cord. Yet Ultronic is a great typewriter at any price. At $179.50 it's in a class all its own.

U.S. Congresswoman FLORENCE P. DWYER

Reports

TIME TO ACT
The one-sided margin by which the Senate on Thursday, May 23, approved the Safe Streets and Crime Control Bill — the vote was 72 to 4 — demonstrates more convincingly than ever that Congress is fully aware of the growing menace of time and violence;

Congress is prepared to act determinedly and effectively in response to the swelling demand that we "do something."

That vote, and the sentiment I detect in the House — which will now be called upon either to approve the Senate version of the legislation or send the bill to a House-Senate Conference Committee to resolve the major differences between the two versions — strongly suggest that concern about crime and violence and determination to preserve law and order are no longer partisan considerations. Neither are they ideological. Democrats and Republicans, liberals and conservatives are now united in a commitment to resist lawlessness and to safeguard our people.

In terms of these objectives, there is little doubt that the Safe Streets and Crime Control Bill represents the most wide-ranging and hard-hitting attack on crime of all kinds that the country has seen in recent history. It started out as a program of Federal grants to improve local law enforcement. The House last year adopted amendments emphasizing the control of organized crime and riots and shifting responsibility for the program from the Justice Department to the States. And now the Senate has expanded and toughened the measure with these changes: (1) an increase in grants to $100 million the first year, $300 million the second year, and a goal of a billion dollars annually; (2) the reversal of recent Supreme Court decisions which limited the use of confessions and identification procedures; (3) authority for Federal, State and local law enforcement agencies, under court supervision, to employ wiretapping and electronic surveillance devices; and (4) the prohibition of mail-order sales of hand guns and also the sale of such weapons to minors and to out-of-State residents.

THERE MAY BE efforts made to temper provisions overturning Supreme Court decisions, to limit wiretapping and to strengthen the gun control features of the bill. But I do not foresee much general opposition to the bill. Neither do I consider it likely that the legislation will be stalled in a conference committee (assuming it gets there in the first place) or vetoed by the President. Public support and Congressional resolution seem too strong.

But Congress has also been engaged on other fronts in the battle against crime and violence. We have improved training, management and communications in State and local law enforcement agencies; modernized the rehabilitation of narcotics addicts; made it a crime to obstruct Federal criminal investigations; protected informants, as well as witnesses, in Federal criminal trials; strengthened the administration of Federal courts; authorized more Federal judges; provided criminal penalties for travelling in or using the facilities of interstate commerce to incite a riot; and made it a crime to manufacture or teach the use of firearms or explosives for use in a civil disorder.

Just this week (May 22), we sent to the President a Truth-in-Lending bill which cracks down on loan-sharking, a form of vicious extortion which has been a mainstay of organized crime (I was one conferee who fought to keep these provisions in the bill). We have acted to deny Federal employment and benefits to persons convicted of looting and arson. And we have passed legislation, again from my own Banking and Currency Committee, to require financial institutions to install protective devices to cut down the wave of bank robberies.

IN ADDITION, a House subcommittee has favorably reported a bill — which I was the first to introduce — to stiffen penalties and strengthen enforcement against illegal use or distribution of LSD and the dangerous drugs; and another committee is actively considering legislation to toughen anti-gambling laws in a further effort to control organized crime.

Much more can and should be done, of course — especially by the States, which have primary responsibility for law enforcement. People are rightly fed up with crime and violence. They are sick of the fear and danger and insecurity which have become part and parcel of everyday living. They are demanding action and they will get it.

The action we take will not be repression; the Constitutional rights of all will be protected. The motives behind it will not be a form of "backlash"; indeed, we seek only the protection of fundamental civil rights which belong to all people, whatever their color or economic level. Out of this concern and this action can come the renewal of a sense of domestic security for all Americans, a lessening of fear and tension, and the easing of hostilities which spring from fear. In such an atmosphere, we can concentrate more effectively on the task that belongs to all of us: making ours a truly just society, with equal rights, equal opportunity, and equal respect for all.

CONGRESSIONAL JUNKETING. Though it doesn't qualify as a crime, the needless, useless, costly overseas tour at public expense should certainly be controlled. And the House on Thursday last week came closer than usual to doing it. A switch of seven votes would have defeated a resolution to authorize eight members of our Banking and Currency Committee and two staff members to spend $100,000 in a survey of credit practices at U.S. military bases around the world. If similar trips hadn't been taken in the past, if we hadn't just this week passed strong legislation designed to deal with credit abuses, if it weren't necessary to cut Federal spending in other, higher priority areas, and if eight men weren't asked to do the work of three, I might have been reconciled to this trip. As it was, I considered it wholly unjustifiable and voted against it.

The Poor People's Campaign. For entirely different reasons, this is another trip that would better have been cancelled. I do not question the needs of the poor, their motives in seeking help, or their right to petition Congress. I do question their methods. I can see no good coming from a campaign which subjects its people to unnecessary hardship, which threatens to disrupt the Nation's Capital, which promises to engender more ill will than good. Congress — regrettably or otherwise — is not in a mood to react favorably. Ours may be a peculiar institution, but we are more impressed by effective efforts at organization and influence in a single Congressional District than by storming Capitol Hill. We believe the political process, in representative government, is the key to freedom and responsible change. This, I suggest, should be the Poor People's objective.

Hunger and the Dept. of Agriculture. When I joined the other day with 70 of my House colleagues of both parties to stimulate emergency action in solving problems of hunger and malnutrition among an estimated 10 million Americans, I noted that the Agriculture Department had admitted it resorted to the Treasury $220 million which Congress authorized and appropriated specifically to feed the hungry.

What this fact showed about the inefficiency and ineffectiveness of the Department has been confirmed in the hearings now underway on my proposal and by the actions of Secretary Freeman himself. Under pressure from our group, from the Poor People's Campaign, and from disclosures that the Department had never made a good faith effort to get food distribution programs into the poorest counties and for the neediest people in cases where local officials wouldn't act, the Secretary has now agreed to initiate such programs in the lowest-income counties and to speed up the process by two months — despite the fact that last year he was insisting he didn't have the authority. In the face of demonstrated need, and with adequate funds available, it is a sad commentary that a responsible Cabinet Officer had to be pressured into doing his job, a job so basic to considerations of decency and humanity that it should have had top priority from the very beginning. If Secretary Freeman would devote the attention to feeding the hungry that he does to subsidizing millionaire farm operators, we'd all be better off.

TEENAGE PRESSURES

Every adolescent is an individual and varies in the amount of stress they can bear. Blanket recommendations for parents to urge to help their teenager take pressures in their stride are, therefore, useless.

Some teenagers demand too much of themselves and need to be persuaded to ease up. For others, a little pressure from parents and teachers may be necessary and healthy. Still others take varying amounts of pressure in their stride.

You must know your youngster. Do not set your expectations and demands beyond what your boy or girl has the capacity to achieve. Below are a few questions for you as parents to try to answer honestly:

Are you trying to make your child into something that you pretend to have been, to

2. at NSC assume association posts

Two staff members at Newark State College's Child Study Center have recently assumed key posts in professional associations.

Dr. Nellie D. Stone, director of the center's Evaluation Clinic, has been installed as a vice-president of the American Association on Mental Deficiency. She will serve as chief executive officer for the association's social worker members.

Dr. Irwin A. Hyman, chief psychologist of the Evaluation Clinic, has been named president-elect of the New Jersey Association of School Psychologists. He begins service now as a member of the association's executive board and takes office as president next May.

Will attend math institute

Mrs. Dorothy Goldberg, a member of the mathematics faculty at Newark State College, Union, has received an award by the National Science Foundation to attend the Summer Institute in Mathematics at San Jose State College, San Jose, California. The institute will be held June 24 through Aug. 25. Statistics and linear algebra will be discussed.

your children, at least?

Do you want your child to go to college even though he or she doesn't want to, has not been a good student and believes he will never make it?

Mastering the developmental tasks of adolescence has always been a painful, difficult business. However, today's teenagers are being helped by the increased number of adults who are aware of the problems and are trying to help.

Schools are gradually providing more counseling and work experience programs to help teenagers choose and prepare for vocation. College scholarships and loans are easing the economic load. Communities and states are building junior and senior and community colleges to ease the competition for college entrance. The Economic Opportunity Act is also starting to aid in helping youths become good citizens.

To help increase your understanding of adolescents and their developmental tasks and to establish more effective counseling and preparation for vocations, parent and family life workshops and study groups have been established in many schools. Check to see if any are being planned for your teenager's school.

National PTA publications: The "PTA" magazine and "Children's Emotional Health" are two resources which should be available at your local public library. These magazines evidence parents' concern for emotional problems and helping young people develop a set of values and a philosophy of life — an important responsibility.

As a parent it is up to you to convince yourself and your children that "It's a good time to be young."

Class Night program at UC tomorrow night

The annual Class Night program at Union College will be held tomorrow at 8:15 p.m. in the theatre of the Campus Center, Cranford.

Highlighting the program will be the presentation of academic and student activity prizes, the announcement of those who attain the President's List and Dean's List for the spring semester, and a series of skits by the Union College Drama Club.

'The Restless Sea' topic of Sunday film

"The Restless Sea," a color sound film which will be shown at the Union County Park Commission's Trailside Nature and Science Center, in the Watchung Reservation on Sunday at 2:00 p.m.

The film, a brief study of the science of oceanography, depicts the exciting exploration of the "inner space" world, the mysterious sea. One-half hour nature talks for children will be conducted at Trailside on Monday, Tuesday, Wednesday and Thursday, June 6, 7, 8, 9 p.m. each day. The topic to be discussed during the four days by Donald W. Mayer, director of Trailside, and Miss Irma H. Heymer, educational assistant at Trailside, is "Summer Stars." The talks will be illustrated with color slides and admission is free.

Flag retirement slated by Legion

The 37th annual convention of the Union County Organization and Auxiliary of the American Legion will be held next Thursday.

The convention will begin with a flag retirement ceremony, in which old and unusable American flags are destroyed in the prescribed manner. In the municipal parking lot on Chestnut street, Roselle Park, at 7:30 p.m. This program is open to the general public and residents of Union County are urged to bring flags that can no longer be used to any American Legion Post or to their local Police Station. Guests will include Mayor Henry Decker of Roselle Park, Post Dept. Commander Al Moeller who will conduct the Flag Retirement Service; County Commander Fred Rutz and American Legion Auxiliary President Mrs. P. Collicchio.

Dutch, Falls to be visited by 'Y' teens

Registration is still available for participation in Teen Caravan, the major travel program of the Eastern Union County Y-M-YWHA, for boys and girls in grades 9 and 10.

The camp program will run Mondays through Thursdays from July 1 to Aug. 16. The three-day trip to the Pennsylvania Dutch country includes visits to Lancaster and Hershey, and tours of the area.

Also included is a four-day trip to Niagara Falls and the Buffalo area where the itinerary includes a ride on the Maid of the Mist boat under the falls, and sightseeing to other scenic spots. A social with other teens from "Y" groups also is scheduled. Rabbi Joseph Lichtman will serve as camp director. Additional information and registration procedures are available at the "Y," 289-8112.

TURN SIGNALS
Get in the habit of always using your turn signals, for right and left turns, for changing lanes, or for leaving curb parking spaces, advises Don Costa, safety director of the Allstate Motor Club. Use the signals to inform others what you plan to do well in advance of your movement. This safe driving signal should be automatic for all such maneuvers, not just when you think others are present. That unseen or "ghost driver" can pop up suddenly to involve you in a traffic crash.
