Census manager prods the 'tardy'

Mrs. Barbara Gleman, district manager of the 1970 Census of Population and Housing in this area, says her office is wading every incoming mail for census forms which should have been returned on April 1. If you're one of the missing, fill it out and mail it today. Don't make the Census Bureau come calling for your census form. Every person must be counted, the district manager said, whether by mail or by personal visit, and the cost of the census goes up with each household that must be visited. She pointed out that the success of the census depends on the cooperation of every household and every individual in filling out and returning the questionnaire. Helpful employees on the way to mark answers on the census form are given on the yellow instruction sheet furnished with the form. The brown mail-back envelope that came with your census form does not require a stamp.

Proposed expansion program a must for future - Dr. Davis

The high school students of tomorrow in the Union County Regional High School District will enjoy the benefits of what the Board of Education is proposing today, according to Dr. Warren M. Davis, superintendent of schools. "The high school students and parents now in the elementary grades would be assured of adequate space and continued quality education if the proposed expansion program is approved by the board in submitting to the voters in a special election on Tuesday, May 12," he said. "If we fail to expand now, students ready to move on to one of our four high schools will be faced with more severe overcrowding than exists now. The district cannot continue to build temporary classroom buildings, and it does not want to institute staggered school sessions, it's not fair to the students." Dr. Davis said that today's needs of the students in the high schools would not be met by the overcrowded facilities because the building program will be completed until the fall of 1972, those in the lower grades would. "This will be a major gymnasium, cafeteria will be built, and our library will be able to affect the situation more than that," he said. "We will be more operationally independent study. We will be able to get the students out of study halls and into classrooms where they belong. These are just a few of the advantages of expanded facilities," Dr. Davis said. "I think it's important that the parents, school and elementary grade youngsters know of the overcrowding and what we have in mind for the future. The building program is designed to meet our immediate needs and take care of the enrollment increase we expect in the next several years," Dr. Davis said. The Regional District, which comprises Elizabethtown, Clark, Garwood, Kenilworth, Mountainside and Springfield, has proposed to the voters a $6,975,000 bond issue to finance the expansion program. Public meetings will be held in each of the four high schools to explain the plan to the public. The high schools are Governor Livingston Regional, Dunwoody Heights, Arthur J. Johnson Regional, Clark, David Dineen Regional, Kenilworth and Jonathan Dayton Regional, Springfield.

Time to retire

This is the weekend for everyone to turn all clocks ahead an hour before going to bed Sunday night, in observance for the observance of Daylight Saving Time Sunday at 2 a.m. For those in doubt, the old adage still applies: Spring forward and fall back.

Cancer Crusade aides collecting contributions

Harold Liebeskind, Cancer Crusade chairman of Springfield, and Arthur Caprio, vice-chairman, have announced that all district chapters and block leaders have begun to collect contribution envelopes. They added, "The successful completion of this collection is more easily said than done. Unfortunately, during the past few years the township of Springfield has averaged cancer fund contributions that approximate 40 cents per family. This is extremely difficult to understand, particularly when monies collected are directed to such a worthwhile research and educational program."

Both chairmen expressed the belief that "this poor community participation is not related to the lack of interest and/or concern by the families of Springfield. We believe that this poor response was no doubt due to the inability of the Union County Cancer Society to personally approach many of the families in our community. This major problem has been eliminated during the 1970 cancer fund raising campaign."

"We now had the opportunity of obtaining the complete cooperation of more than 250 workers who are actively engaged in door-to-door collections and in distribution of Cancer Crusade educational literature. This wonderful display of the many men and women willing to help in Springfield has resulted in covering virtually every block in town by one or more Cancer Crusade workers."

The ultimate result of this Cancer Crusade fund drive is directly related to these volunteers, who are giving up their leisure time to collect the financial aid of each Springfield family.

"We cannot imagine that contributions of 40 cents per family will be repeated during this April fund drive. Some families may not have the ability to contribute but are pressing financial obligations. We are only asking that each family contribute in the best manner possible to each Springfield family."

"If a family is not able to contribute, we urge that the literature concerning the warning signs of cancer be read from an educational point of view. The Cancer Crusade is particularly directed to assist each family in any way which bears the burden of the contribution by using the self-addressed envelope included in the Cancer Crusade mailing."

"Letters outlining the purpose of the Cancer Crusade have been sent to all households in Springfield, requesting contributions. Any financial assistance from our commercial neighbors will be gratefully appreciated. Each business is requested to return its contribution by using the self-addressed envelope included in the Cancer Crusade mailing."

"We again urge you to contact the Cancer Crusade chairman and vice-chairman or your local district captain for further information."

A two-day conference will be held at the university in July for an evaluation of the teacher education which will be developed from the advisory committee's recommendations.

Rilling one building with so many different occupations, which are also quite separate, is important because they all have the same aim.

Doctors at the Clinical Center are giving their patients the best possible care and treatment, while also studying them intensively, trying to discover besides care and treatment, greater knowledge of the fundamental cause of their diseases.

This kind of discovery depends upon detailed scrutiny of the material of which men, blood, bone and muscle are made. It depends upon adequate understanding of the way these grow and function and upon a search for outside elements which can affect their growth or operation.

One person was injured last Wednesday afternoon when a car overturned on Rt. 22 East, according to Springfield police reports. Police said a car driven by Leonard J. Meyer of Linden was traveling east on Rt. 22 when it was cut off by a truck. The car hit a utility pole and turned over. The car sustained damage to the right front fender, hood, grill, bumper, roof and doors and was towed from the scene.

According to the police report, Albert Britt, 31, of Linden, a passenger in Meyer's car, was taken to Overlook Hospital, Summit, by the First Aid Squad where he was admitted to the intensive care unit with a fractured leg. Dabiel was not hurt, but, according to the police report, the collision caused a crack in the brick wall of the library which was moved back about three to four inches. A pane of glass was broken. Dabiel told police he was traveling south on Center street and released his foot from the gas and applied the brakes. His engine kept pulling the car forward and he had to push down harder on the brakes, causing the wheels to skid, he said. According to the report, he skidded 120 feet before striking the curb and continued another 25 feet before hitting the building.

George Sirkotte, 12, of 39 Shelley rd., Springfield, was injured Friday afternoon while riding his bicycle on Mountain Avenue, according to police. He was taken to Overlook Hospital by the First Aid Squad where he was treated for an injured left hip and released.

Joseph Yucias of Short Hill was driving south on Mountain Avenue. He told police there was a car in front of him which the boy hit and was reportedly pulled away from the scene.

Pfaltz will discuss parochial schools aid at GOP meeting

Leslie Rosenbaum, president of the Springfield Republican Club, announced that the club's next meeting will take place on Monday evening at 8:15 at the American Legion Hall in Springfield.

The guest speaker will be Assemblyman Hugo M. Pfaltz Jr. of District 90 (Union), Assemblyman Pfaltz will discuss the controversial subject of aid for parochial schools. The program will also include a brief discussion by Leonard Garret, president of the Springfield Board of Health.

Pfaltz, a Summit attorney, has been active in Republican circles for many years. In 1964, he served as a Union County delegate to the Constitutional Convention dedicated to "repealing" of the state legislature's open election to the legislature. Pfaltz served as vice-chairman of the committee on banking and insurance and was active in promoting legislation which removed restrictions on bank branching in the state.

Rosenbaum stated that all interested residents are invited and refreshments will follow the program.

IT'S WORTH REPEATING

By SOL NACKSON
This month we've been talking about the cold box storage of your precious fur coats, garments, and movies. All have proven most popular... and important... with our readers, so let's continue... starting off today's column with a movie quiz:

This concerns a famous father-son team, the father a famous stage and screen actor, the son, a famous director-actor. The father was born in Canada in 1884 and died in Hollywood in 1954. Before going to Hollywood, he starred in such famous stage plays as Eugene O'Neill's "Desire Under the Elms." His screen credits included "The Virginian," "The Lincoln Center," "The Sandlot," and "The Son of Sinbad." This movie brought an Academy Award into his family and if you don't know now who we're talking about, here's two more clues: the father is remembered for singing "Swanee Song" in the Broadway show, "Kluge-Hocher Holiday" and the son was cited by movie buffs for his direction of the films "Red Badge of Courage," and "The Maltese Falcon."

Did you name Walter Huston and his son John?
And did you name ECHO CLEANERS as the shop to leave your furs and garments when the finest is demanded? This is the service we provide... the best care here... and this is our convenient location: Edco Plaza Shopping Center, Rt. 22 and Mountain Ave., Springfield, Phone: 378-4499.

Some tips on minimizing loss from vanished credit cards

Last year nine million Americans experienced a panic-stricken feeling as they reached for their wallets in stores, restaurants, or entertainment places and found their credit cards missing. Nearly one million of these people later received bills for items they never purchased, unless they never took out services they never ordered.

In all, more than $150 million worth of goods and services were fraudulently charged on stolen or lost credit cards in 1969, reports the Insurance Information Institute.

Despite the demonstrated loss potential, credit cards are the wave of the future, experts say. Approximately 50 million Americans hold 3,000 various types of cards to purchase more than $50 billion worth of goods and services last year.

Mini-bike warning

The season for using mini-bikes, go-carts and similar motor-driven vehicles is at hand, according to Springfield police Chief William C. Schlander. He reminded local residents that it is illegal to operate these vehicles on public streets and property. The only place they can be legally operated is on private property.

According to Chief Schlander, people have been going into parking lots at local businesses. This is against insurance regulations, he said.

He concluded by saying that if anyone has a problem with these vehicles, he should report it to police and a juvenile complaint will be signed.

Quick shelter

When army ants bivouac at night, each ant clings to a neighbor to form a living rope with their tens of thousands of bodies. The mass of bodies, hanging from a vine or log to the ground, makes a snug, safe camp for the queen.

Sen. Williams says policemen need aid of private citizens

U. S. Senator Harrison A. Williams Jr. has urged increased commitment by both government and private citizens to the fight against crime.

"It is a job that starts right here and right now, with every one of us and every one of our neighbors," he said in remarks prepared for a meeting of Gloucester County police and civic officials.

"If we want to have a country in which you don't have to be afraid to walk city streets at night, a country in which crime is the exception rather than the rule, these conditions will have to change," Williams said.

The chairman of the Board of Education commended this week by Ralph E. Boveri, president of Jersey Central Power & Light Company and New Jersey Power & Light Company.

Referring to Earth Day held yesterday on college and high school campuses, Boveri said, "The protection of the environment is of vital importance not only to the citizens of today, but to future generations. It is through movements such as the Earth Day that today's youth, so often the target of criticism, prove their sense of responsibility to society, he added.

The movement for environmental protection, Boveri said, must be coupled with a sense of realism. For example, the automobile has been criticized for its contribution to air pollution, and yet no one can deny the importance of the automobile to our society.

The electric industry also has been criticized for emissions from the stacks of its generating stations, for the appearance of its transmission lines and for a host of other things, "and yet," Boveri said, "again we don't think anyone can question the need for electric power."

"If we are going to have that electric power," Boveri said, "we must be prepared to accept some effects on our environment." The utility president added that his company has embarked on a program to keep each side of a minimum acceptable limit. New Jersey Power & Light's conventional generating station is currently being converted, and the program scheduled for completion early next year.

The new group commander enlisted in the Army on July 26, 1942, and later attended Officer Candidate School, receiving his commission as second lieutenant on Feb. 10, 1943. From August, 1944, until May, 1946, Col. Tenkin served in the European Theater of Operations. Col. Tenkin graduated from Command General Staff College in Fort Leavenworth, Kansas, in 1957.

Col. Tenkin was promoted to his present rank on Feb. 3, 1965, at which time he assumed command of the 50th Armored Division, 102d Armor Group, receiving his commission as second lieutenant on Feb. 10, 1943. From August, 1944, until May, 1946, Col. Tenkin served in the European Theater of Operations. Church Chuckles by CARTWRIGHT

Modern medicine has helped many sportsmen "greatly" stay in the game. In 1969, Denny McLain was relieved of a torn ligament in his right knee by an injection of cortisone. This still enabled him to show like the great athlete he is. In 1968, the Philadelphia Phillies' pitcher Tom Seaver was relieved of a torn ligament in his right knee by an injection of cortisone. This still enabled him to show like the great athlete he is.

On a typical Monday night, the group — usually about 12 — gathers around a table at the clinic with two professional therapists, Mrs. Joe Indovina and Miss Nora Provanzano. They begin with a 10-minute review of laryngectomies. Many towns in the county are represented: Elizabeth, Roselle Park, Linden, Summit. Most are retired, some continue to work.

alumna feted

Elizabeth Bauer Kessler, an authority on architecture, was named Alumna of the Year at the annual luncheon meeting of the Vail-Deane Alumnae Association, which was held at the Elizabeth school on Saturday. The recipient was graduated in the Class of 1928.

After graduation from Vail-Deane in 1932, Mrs. Kessler served a short apprenticeship with Frank Lloyd Wright, after which she studied drafting in Switzerland and began organizing museum exhibits.

Upon her return to Princeton in 1937, Mrs. Kessler worked on a architectural exhibit and publications for the museum of Modern Art in New York. During World War II she served the museum as curator of architecture. In 1948, which she left in 1946 when she began writing "The Architecture of the 1920s," published three years later. Mrs. Kessler then spent more than a year at Wright's Taliesin West, in Scottsdale, Ariz., and made a contribution to the history of architecture at the University of California.

Medicare office explains extended care eligibility

"Medicare does not cover the care of every patient who is admitted to a hospital," said the Medicare office, which is located at the Elizabeth Social Security office, 208 N. Broad st., Elizabeth. The telephone number is 361-1200.

"It does cover relatively short term skilled care of a patient in an extended care facility," he said.

The beneficiary must have been hospitalized for at least three days, transferred to the extended care facility within 14 days of hospitalization, and require continuing skilled nursing service ordinarily available in a hospital, but not the ready availability of all the costly medical services and equipment provided by hospitals. Where the patient's condition requires less than this high level of care, it is not covered by Medicare even if it is furnished in an extended care facility," Jones added.

"Due to the newness of the extended care concept under Medicare, a number of developments became known to us," Jones said. "The first was that all too often beneficiaries (and even some physicians and extended care facility operators) were under the impression that Medicare paid for almost every case in which a hospitalized beneficiary was transferred to an extended care facility with the physician's approval."

"AFTER A HOSPITAL STAY, some people may just need help in bathing, eating, dressing, walking and taking medicine at the right time. Perhaps, now and then, they may need some skilled nursing care such as changing a surgical dressing, once or twice a week. Medicare cannot pay benefits when the only kind of care a person needs and is receiving in the extended facility, because it is not skilled nursing, care on a full-time basis and that is a specific requirement of the Medicare law. This is why benefits have to be stopped after only a few days."

"In an effort to achieve greater uniformity in decisions, the Social Security Administration issued more detailed guidelines resulting in closer examination of extended care stays."

"According to Jones, there has been an increase in the number of cases in which the level of care necessary to qualify for Medicare reimbursement have not been met. He pointed out that these decisions are made by Medicare intermediaries, such as the Blue Cross plans and insurance companies, who act as agents for the government.

"A better evaluation by the nursing home operator and more complete medical data will result in earlier identification of uncovered cases and minimize the problem of delayed unfavorable decisions," he said.

Jones urged beneficiaries and others on their behalf who have questions about every Medicare case they are receiving to discuss their cases with the people at the extended care facility. He also pointed out that when Medicare is denied, the beneficiary has a right to question the decision. Such assistance is available at the Elizabeth Social Security office, 208 N. The committee, consisting of Freeholders Ulrich, Arthur Munter and David Zuray, Sheriff Ralph Orscollo, first assistant prosecutor John Galligan, data processing director Neal Mangarella and Alfred Linden, planning board director, met, and with cooperation from the Union County Planning Board, secured the designation of George Albanese, senior planner, as the staff member of the committee and chairman.

"Albanese" will assist the committee in an immediate review of the availability of a law enforcement planning program grant. He will also assist in the efforts to establish a program for "crime fighting project activities."

"According to Ulrich, the committee expects to meet on a regular basis during the coming year and will seek the applicable action grant from the State."

Four natural history stamps will be issued in New York

Postmaster General Winston M. Blount has announced the design of four postage stamps in the natural history series. The six-cent stamps will be issued with first day ceremonies May 6 in New York City, where the American Museum of Natural History is currently observing its centennial year.

Three of the stamp themes are based on displays in the museum. The fourth is a detail from a mural at Yale University's Peabody Museum of Natural History. The four postage stamps will be printed on the same sheet and issued in pairs of 32.

In one of the most stamp printing assignments ever carried out by the Bureau of Engraving and Printing will apply eight ink colors to the stamps.

THE STAMPS DEPICT AN AMERICAN bald eagle, a herd of African elephants, prehistoric reptiles and a ceremonial canoe of the Haida, a Northwest Indian tribe. Eagle and elephant stamps appear twice on the top row of each pair. In that order, canoe and reptile stamps appear in similar fashion on the second row, and this pattern will be repeated throughout the pair.

The first three postage stamps will be offset lithography—two yellows, then red and blue and finally two greens. Two browns will be added by the offset process.

The Age of Reptiles stamp is a detail from one of the largest murals in the world—119 feet long, 16 feet high—which Rudolph Zallinger painted for Yale's Peabody Museum in a commission that required four and one-half years. Shows on the stamp are six creatures from the Jurassic geologic period, the more prominent being a brontosaurus, left, a stegosaurus, center, and an allosaurus, right.

PAUL RABUT, OF WESTPORT, Conn., designed the stamps.

ALL FOUR NATURAL HISTORY stamps were modeled by Robert J. Jones, of the Bureau of Engraving and Printing. Albert Savetta engraved the lettering of the four stamps. Vignettes were engraved by Edward R. Felver, Reginald J. Archer, Eagle; Joseph S. Creever, Jr., Canoe; and Arthur W. Dittman, Elephants.

The Post Office will honor requests for all positions or combinations on first day covers. The conventional policy on plate blocks will remain in effect.

Collectors desiring first day cancellations may send addressed envelopes, together with remittance, to cover the cost of the stamps, to be affixed, to the Postmaster, New York, New York 10001. Personal checks will not be accepted in payment. The outside envelope should be endorsed "First Day Covers Natural History Stamp."

Orders for covers must not include requests for cancelled stamps. Cover requests must be postmarked no later than May 6, 1970. Envelopes should be addressed to the bottom as possible to allow for the large size stamp.

Commager lecture set

Dr. Henry Steele Commager, professor of American history at Amherst College, will give the final lecture in the four-part series of "New Directions in American History." The lecture, "Uses of History," will be at 8 p.m., April 30, in S. W. Bowne Great Hall, Madison.

Pesticide Council asks Governor to set up commission

The New Jersey Pesticide Council has recommended to Governor William T. Cahill the establishment of a permanent pesticide commission in the Department of Environmental Protection with the authority to regulate and control the use of all pesticides in the State.

Among its recommendations, the council also urged immediate consideration by the proposed commission of regulation, registration and control of those pesticides which may be highly toxic to human life as well as those which may be highly persistent in the environment, and legislation to provide for the control of purchase and use of restricted pesticides.

In addition, it recommended an imaginative and aggressive information program to reach all users concerning the use and disposal of pesticides; and research leading to more complete understanding of the fate and hazards of pesticides in the environment.

More extensive research in biological control of pests, through such means as parasites, and support of one-way mass rearing and dissemination of biological control agents were also recommended.

The council called for adequate pesticide monitoring and surveillance; advance review by the commission of the more persistent compounds whenever possible.

Wide enrollment at Upsala College

Eight foreign nations, 18 states and the District of Columbia are represented among the student body of Upsala College, East Orange, according to an annual report of the registrar's office.

The report also shows that students from 70 of New Jersey's 21 counties are matriculating at the 70-year-old liberal arts college.

Foreign nations represented include Iran, Malaysia, Nigeria, Laos, Greece, India, Israel and Lebanon. Other states include California, Maryland, Pennsylvania, Maine, Connecticut, Massachusetts, Rhode Island, New York, Vermont, Michigan, North Carolina, Delaware, Virginia, Florida, Georgia, Minnesota and Illinois.

Among the students from New Jersey, Essex County has the largest representation with 668. Bergen is second largest with 186 followed by Union with 173. Morris and Passaic are fourth and fifth with 99 and 91 respectively. The only county not represented is Salem.

Outside of New Jersey, the state with the largest Upsala population is Connecticut with 113. New York State is second with 67, Massachusetts third with 57 and Pennsylvania fourth with 37. There are five students each from Virginia and Florida, four from Washington, D. C. and three from the state of California.

The figures include fall and part-time students in the day and evening sessions.

Labor Department questions and answers

The Age Discrimination in Employment Act is designed to protect persons between the ages of 40 and 65 from being denied employment opportunities because of age. It is a relatively new law which went into effect in June, 1967. As a result, many persons are unaware of the statute or are unfamiliar with its provisions. The following Question and Answer series is intended to inform both employers and employees about the Act and to stimulate compliance with its provisions.

Q. Can an employer retire a person before age 65 against the person's wishes?
A. He can but only if involuntary retirement is authorized by the firm's bona fide retirement or pension plan. However, he cannot retire an employee on the basis of age before the employee reaches age 65 if he is a participant in such benefit program.

Q. Are age limitations for entry into apprenticeship programs affected by the Act?
A. No. Bona fide apprenticeship programs which meet certain established standards were not intended to be covered under the Act when they were first established. Additionally, the Act does not apply to youth as an extension of their educational process to prepare them for skilled employment.

Q. Can an employer specify that he will hire only persons of a certain race?
A. No. Such a requirement is discriminatory and is prohibited by the law.

Q. Is it permissible for an employer to advertise for a "young woman" or for a "man under 40"?
A. It is unlawful for an employer, employment agency, or labor organization to use such printed or published notices or advertisements indicating any preference, limitation, specification, or discrimination based on age.

Q. Is it legal for an employment agency to require applicants to state their age on application forms?
A. This is permissible, provided an agency includes a reference to the statute in the Age Discrimination in Employment Act.

Q. Can an employer correct wage differentials based on age by reducing the wage of a higher-paid employee?
A. No. Such action is illegal.

Q. Are employment tests permitted?
A. Employment tests are permissible if they are (1) administered in good faith and (2) fair and reasonable. (3) administered in good faith and without discrimination on the basis of age; and (4) properly evaluated.

However, these tests are considered unlawful if they are administered by Wage-Hour Compliance Officers to assure they do not discriminate against persons.

Catfish: new by-product of the Nuclear Age Dixie delicacy may find water's fine in north, too

OKA RIDGE, Tenn., — Through the use of waste hot water from nuclear power plants, fresh catfish, once a southern delicacy, could become as common in the north as turkey is now.

New Jersey agricultural specialists predicted these developments.

The ready availability of this waste water, coupled with recently developed fish breeding techniques, could spawn a new industry — "catfish farming." — In the north with an annual crop approaching three million pounds by 1974, according to Alexander Gorbick of the Merck Sharp & Dohme Research Laboratories, Rahway.

Gorbick made these and other predictions before the Conference on Beneficial Uses of Waste Heat being held here at the Oak Ridge National Laboratory. The purpose of the conference, attended by scientists from industry, universities, and government, is to explore possible opportunities for utilizing heated water produced by atomic generating plants.

The heated water is a necessary but undesirable by-product (thermal pollution) of power generation and is normally discharged into cooling reservoirs before being returned to natural waterways.

ACCORDING TO GORBICK, catfish thrive in warm water — 85 degrees is ideal — thus fresh catfish can be produced for markets everywhere. In addition to providing potential for a substantial source of animal protein for a growing population, catfish farming, he noted, would provide new economic opportunities for some areas of the country.

He pointed out the demand for catfish is now greater than current production capacity. He attributed the shortage in part to excessive catches and pollution which have diminished natural catfish resources.

Through new fish breeding techniques, low-ever, scientists hope to not only increase growth rate, but also to produce meatier, sweeter and more tender "farm-raised" varieties of catfish.

GORBICK POINTED OUT that breeding techniques used over the years to increase quality and growth rate of poultry are now being applied in the growing industry of fish farming. Particular success has been achieved with rainbow trout at the University of Washington, he explained, where the researchers found that the genetically selected variety grew 15 times as fast to 18 months of age as the wild trout.

Practicality attempts at cross-breeding different types of catfish, he stated, have produced hybrids that grow faster to 95 per cent that far.

Gorbick admitted that there were some possible negative factors — dealing primarily with public and consumer acceptance — which could upset his predictions.

"The big question, he said, 'has to do with whether the fish are outside of the Mississippi Basin area would accept fresh catfish as a staple meat product.'

Gorbick felt that the answer to this will depend, in great part, on price. He explained that fresh catfish, where it is available through retail outlets, is now in the "luxury price category," and that acceptance will depend on whether "catfish farming" will reduce considerably to permit catfish to be competitive with other meats.

Back aid to Israel, Waldor tells VFW

State Senator Milton Waldor, speaking at JMW Post 34 installation of officers, assailed the administration for not totally supporting the state of Israel. He said Israel, the only democracy in the Middle East, must have our military aid if democracy in the world and at home is to survive. He urged Jews and non-Jews to write their congressmen and the President demanding, before it is too late, more military aid to Israel.

Senator Waldor, a Past National Commander of the JMW and former Commander of Post 34, installed were Ted Zwickel, commander; Jerry Kessel, senior vice-commander and Jerry Schwartz, junior vice-commander. Installing officer was Philip Kreitzer, commander, Department of New Jersey, Essex County Commander. Past National Commander of the County delegation.

Conservation unit publishes papers on the gypsy moth

With concern growing over the introduction of the gypsy moth in New Jersey, the North Jersey Conservation Foundation has assembled a series of five papers on the natural controls of this pest. The foundation feels that the facts, although providing no direct answer, will help citizens to make the sound judgment necessary to initiate control measures, if any are needed.

In one paper, Charles Hood, chief of insect pest control, Department of Natural Resources, Commonwealth of Massachusetts, author of the first paper, discusses the evolution of Massachusetts' policy of control of the gypsy moth. He describes the difference between the concept of eradication and that of natural control of the pest, and explains the guidelines his state has developed.

In the second paper, Richard Goodenough, executive director of the Upper Kautan Watershed Association, summarizes the need to move slowly in the area of mass spraying. This is not only because of the unknown ecological effects which might arise in the future, but for the serious question of its effectiveness as opposed to reliance on natural processes.

The third paper on this problem was written by Melvin J. Wells, superintendent, Morristown National Historical Park. He outlines the history of the gypsy moth in the Jersey "Narrow area" of Morris County and describes experiments with a bacterial insecticide and natural predators. A private researcher, Mrs. Douglas McIlroy of Bernardsville, has written a fourth paper. She explains in great detail the various natural controls effective in fighting the gypsy moth infestation.

David F. Moore, executive director of the North Jersey Conservation Foundation, has prepared the fifth paper. Moore summarizes all of the courses of action available in the control of the gypsy moth, discussing specific pesticides, insecticides and natural controls.

This study of the problems and controls of the gypsy moth is published by the North Jersey Conservation Foundation and is offered free of charge as a public service. The Foundation, a non-profit, tax-exempt membership group concerned with all phases of preserving New Jersey's natural heritage, is located at 300 Mendham rd., Morristown, 07960.

'Playing hokey' for culture Students 'cut class' to see play

THIS YEAR'S THEATER SEASON at NCE has been a success. The students' four performances, spread throughout the academic year, have been a success. The students, including one set for May, are by the NCE Drama Club. The others are done by invited players.

To make the logistics easier for the students, the Parappany-Troy Hills Board of Education allows the use of a school bus for transportation, again keeping the evening's cost low for the students.

The average cost of these theater trips is about three dollars, including tickets to the NCE shows, transportation and a post-show snack. "Elias estimates, "Why some of the boys even bring dates now!"

When the Parappany-Troy Hills youngsters came down to NCE for the "Zoo Story" performance in March, Elias asked theater director Dr. Will Grant if the drama group could perform again at the high school. Grant worked out the details and the NCE students visited early in April.

That's when the students cut class. "Now I even have co-sponsors asking when the next trip to NCE will be," Elias says. The reports he carries a full load in the school bus and even packs other youngsters into his car when the bus runs out of space.

Motorists unite to protect tolls. Motorists on both sides of the Hudson River are joining to protect the money they pay to cross it.

The Automobile Clubs of New Jersey and New York with a combined membership of more than one million car owning families began the latest effort Tuesday when they urged Governor William Cahill and Nelson Rockefeller to reject any plan that would divert toll money collected by the Port of New York Authority to mass transit.

In a joint letter to the two chief executives, the Rockefellers, chairman of the Automobile Club of New Jersey, and John M. Galvin, president of the New York State Automobile Association, urged that "mass transit is not the motorists' problem; but one of broad public responsibility."

They expressed concern that involving the Port Authority in mass transit might even lead to increased tolls and told the Governor that "it would be neither equitable nor sound to impose such a burden on one group of citizens."

NJBA says banks continue to invest in housing in state

New Jersey's banks have continued to make extensive investments in housing in the state during the last five years, a period characterized by inflation and consequent tight money, the New Jersey Bankers Association reported this week.

New Jersey's banks have $5.33 billion invested in real estate, according to last available statistics (1969). Of this total, $3.9 billion was in commercial banks. Of the total investment, the largest single share is $1.6 billion in four family residential housing.

Commercial bank deposits in the state increased by 38.8 percent over the past five years, investment by commercial banks in conventional residential mortgages over the same period increased by almost 65 percent. Also during this period, the ratio of conventional mortgages to total loans by commercial banks increased almost 12 percent.

New Jersey's commercial banks are placing $25.5 million a year in new residential mortgage loans. During the 1964-69 period, the account repayments re-invested in the housing field increased from about $15.1 million in 1964 to $24.1 million in 1969. In addition, a yearly average of $1.45 million in new money went into mortgage loans.

Commercial bank investment in FHA mortgage loans remained fairly stable during the past three years, showing a slight gain from $49.2 million in 1964 to $49.5 million in 1969.

TRAINING HELP. The Departments of Labor and Health, Education, and Welfare have approved nearly $670,000 to train 500 unemployed victims of Hurricane Camille for new jobs.

Ask Amy

I need someone's advice. My father smokes a lot, he wants to quit but he can't. He doesn't believe in commercial products advertised to help one quit.

My problem is that he wants to quit. I don't dare him without him heading to some dark road to park. Well I'm virtuous and that is something rare in our town for a girl of 16, but I've really considered giving it to him.

Dear Writter: I have your angry when you broach the subject of smoking but he really isn't. He is angry with himself because he lacks the will power to quit.

Dear In Love: It's not enough for a 16 year old girl to know what she likes and what she dislikes. More importantly, she has to have group therapy sessions to help smokers quit, but those who are hooked need help to quit. See that dad is bordering with reading material... and hope for the best.

Dear In Love: I've considered this but since I'll be going to college, I have to start something like this so young.

I hope you will make a wise decision!

Electrical failures lead auto miseries
WASHINGTON -- Battery, starter and ignition system failures were the cause of 14 million automobile breakdowns in 1969, placing electrical troubles on top of the list of annual "motorist" operating difficulties, according to the American Automobile Association reports.

Severe weather conditions of the past winter led to increased tolls and told the Government that "it would be neither equitable nor sound to impose such a burden on one group of citizens."

Union College selects aides to plan two urban campuses

Task force to plan new urban campuses in Elizabeth and Plainfield has been named by Union College, Cranford, it was reported today by Dr. Kenneth W. Iverson, president, Union College announced earlier this month plans to open the urban campuses in September, if adequate space can be found. Richard J. Salovey of Glen Ridge, director of community services, is heading the task force, and Paul E. Miller of Cranford, acting dean, is serving as an ex-officio member. Other members are: Annette K. Gilbert of Cranford, director of counseling; George P. Lynde of New York City, director of admissions; Prof. George P. Marks III, Elizabeth college librarian; J. Regional board debates expansion, again

Citizens ask pros, cons of Alexander's

Committeemen endorse Regional referendum

By JANECE ADLER
The coming of Alexander's Department Store and whether the town should stop it were key issues in the public session at the Springfield Township Committee meeting Tuesday at Town Hall.

The Township Committee endorsed the referendum for regional high school expansion to be presented on May 12.

Committeemen Arthur M. Falkin said that if the referendum does not go through, costs will increase and less will be gotten for the same cost a year from now. He said, "We are voting for the certain future of our community." Mayor Henry J. Bulman added that the Leagues of Women Voters in Berkeley Heights and Springfield have endorsed the referendum.

Committeemen Raymond W. Forbes offered a resolution to accept the retirement of Police Chief Wilbur C. Selander, effective tomorrow. Chief Selander spent 42 years of dedicated and distinguished service to the township, according to the resolution.

Falkin announced the resignation of township attorney James Cawley who has been appointed to the Union County District Court by Gov. William Cahill and said that Springfield's loss is Union County's gain.

Committeemen Robert C. Ploner nominated Steven Green to succeed Councilman Bruce as an attorney on the board of adjustment in Springfield. The committee approved the choice over the opposition of Nathan Seider, the lone Democrat.

Bulman questioned Green's appointment by stating that he had heard of the possible appointment only the night before and had not had an opportunity to discuss the matter. He also mentioned that Green's brother-in-law is Lester Robbins who is a builder in the area and is connected with the property on Rt. 22. He suggested there might be a conflict of interest.

Bulman announced the resignation of Albert Evans from the planning board. Bulman said another appointment will be made "in the near future."

Bulman announced that May will be John F. Kennedy School's final month. This year's recipient will be announced in May. He also asked for donations to the fund so that "an underprivileged student can benefit."

Proposal backed by Women Voters

Sharp differences of opinion over the Regional High School Board of Education's board meeting Tuesday night at the Doverfield School, Mountainville, as they have for the past several months, soon may be resolved.

The proposal will be presented to the voters of the district's six member towns in a referendum on May 12.

Strong support of the plan was expressed in statements read to the board Tuesday by the new State superintendent, Dr. Robert W. Johnson, and the Leagues of Women Voters.

Equally strong opposition was the keynote of a series of 25 questions on the proposal presented to the board by Frost Wilhelms, former mayor of Mountainville. Many borough residents have opposed the plan for its transfer of the Mountainville youngsters to Gov. Livingston Regional High School, Berkeley Heights, to Jonathan Dayton Regional High School, Springfield.

Mrs. HERBERT FORDMAN, Springfield LWW president, told the board: "In part, 'We of the Springfield League are particularly anxious with respect to the referendum plan which assigns the Mountainville students to the Jonathan Dayton High School. We have long held that educational opportunity requires schools with approximately equal student population.'

"We are certain that the favorable opinion of these students now attending Jonathan Dayton will be extended eventually to the entire student body from Mountainville, and that the renovation and expansion of this school for their accommodation will result in an educational facility equivalent to the three others in the district."

"Along with our concern for the older school in the district, we are well aware of the overcrowding which exists in the Johnson, Berkeley and Gov. Livingston schools. As League members, parents and citizens, we recognize that no problem within a school system can be viewed in isolation. What happens in Berkeley Heights affects our children, what happens in Clarks affects our children, and what happens in Kenilworth affects our children."

"We therefore offer our support and urge the support of the residents of this district for a referendum through which the needs of the entire high school district are recognized and met."

Students shoulder the litter problem

Dayton class cleans up Echo Lake Park

WHOOPEE—Pat Sheehan (center), shows how to fight it but she has to go back to her spelling class at Jonathan Dayton Regional High School to learn how to spell pollution. Carol Zicarelli (left), Karen Huro and Pat were among the 22 freshmen who helped clean up Echo Lake Park on Earth Day. They are carrying one of six large plastic bags of litter that they collected. The students hoped to set an example so that people will help preserve the beauty of natural areas by throwing litter where it belongs—in the trash can.

By ELLEN CROUTH
"You've got to blame on the other guy for our problems of pollution and litter. What are you doing to correct the problem?"

These comments were made during a discussion in Thomas Kappor's English class at Jonathan Dayton Regional High School, Springfield, and became the catalyst that soon 22 freshmen from Mountainville and Springfield to Echo Lake Park on Earth Day, April 22. The students went to do something about one problem that has become a national concern.

The class had read newspaper and magazine articles had in classroom discussions the problem only seemed to reemerge to concern each student.

Robin Reinhardt expressed the feelings held by many of her classmates. "What can we do? We're only kids and these things cost money. Besides, do you know how long it would take to do anything?"

No one could answer these questions satisfactorily. The class became curious and set to find some answers.

The class discovered answers which surprised them. Several students doubted that some pollution problems could be solved so easily. At the suggestion of Patty McDowell of Mountainville, the class went to Echo Lake Park for a demonstration.

Each student spent one hour collecting papers, cans and bottles lying around the park. The total time spent doing this added up to 22 working hours. There was no expense involved and the students still were able to do something about one of the most common and widespread problems—litter.

WHAT THEY DID accomplish was to collect enough litter to fill six large plastic bags and three park trash cans. Several larger objects, such as a tire, were placed where they could be easily collected.

When asked if the class felt it had accomplished something worthwhile, these were the responses: "Yes, because we've cleaned up the park and we've made a difference." "Yes, because we've made a difference." "Yes, because we've made a difference."

Ricky Turner added, "Maybe when people see what we have done they will think twice before they litter. Then they won't have that much newspaper or paper bag where it will make a mess."

Marlin Dennis summed up the project with the statement: "The flower symbolizes the hope that people will respect the beauty of Echo Lake Park by not littering the grounds with cans and paper, especially after 22 students spent 22 mini-hours cleaning up."

The others involved in this project were: Thomas Kappor (the English teacher), Richard

3 meetings listed on bond proposal

The Regional High School Board of Education's $6,975,000 expansion bond proposal, to be presented to the voters in a referendum on May 12, will be the subject of three meetings throughout the district during the coming week. The first of four meetings was held last night at Jonathan Dayton Regional High School, Springfield.

Additional meetings will be held at 8 p.m. Tuesday at St. John's Regional High School, Clark; Wednesday at Gov. Livingston Regional High School, Berkeley Heights; and next Thursday at Doverfield Regional High School, Mountainville, for more effective understanding.

The board under the continuing plan to include an arts center, where youngsters can concentrate on art, music or drama; and the need for expansion to attend one or more of these meetings."

Temple to conduct memorial service for the six million

Temple Shalom of Springfield will hold its annual Yom HaShoah (Holocaust Day) service at Sabbath evening worship tomorrow at 8:30 p.m. The service will be conducted by Rabbi Israel Dresner, cantor Irving Kramer and Norman Salater of 9 Craig Rd., Springfield, a survivor of the Nazi era in Europe.

A testimony in memory of Milton Penick, who died last year, will be dedicated at the service. Penick was one of the members who was responsible for erecting the temple building. The ceremony was designed by Mrs. Ina Golub. The service will memorialize the six million Jews who were killed by the Nazis during World War II.

Salater, 69, most of his family in the Holocaust—his father, mother and two brothers—were sent to the concentration camps and became members of the Jewish partisans in Galicia, the southern part of Poland, where they were active in the fight against the Nazis.

Rabbi Dresner said, "Anti-Semitism is one of the most virulent forms of racism in the history of Hitler. It led to the attempted liquidation of the Jewish people. Had Nazi Germany not been so successful, it would have meant the murder of not only six million, but all 10 1/2 million Jews then alive. We must see racism and war as the most terrible scourge of man and we must eliminate them for otherwise, as President Kennedy said, they will annihilate us."

In America we have seen the dark fruits of racism hatred—the horror inflicted on black men, brown men and red men because of their skin pigmentation. The Hebrew Bible commands us that the stranger that sojourned with you shall be unto you as the home born among you, and thou shalt love him as thyself, for ye were strangers in the land of Egypt, in the Lord.

"As Jews we can never forget in the struggle against bigotry and racism that we are all human and equal. The Jews of the State of Israel will not be exterminated by those in Cairo and Damascus who preach extermination."

The holocauster here at home who reacts and such things as keep them in their place. The stranger that sojourned with you shall be unto you as the home born among you, and thou shalt love him as thyself, for ye were strangers in the land of Egypt, in the Lord.

"As Jews we can never forget in the struggle against bigotry and racism that we are all human and equal. The Jews of the State of Israel will not be exterminated by those in Cairo and Damascus who preach extermination."

Fire Service Day scheduled May 9

Chief Robert E. Day of the Springfield Fire Department has invited all local residents to visit the firehouse on Fire Service Recognition Day, Saturday, May 9. The main purpose is to learn how the fire department operates and to get to know the equipment.

The International Fire Chiefs Association has designated May 9 as Fire Service Recognition Day throughout the world. Chief Day said, "On this day it is asked that the citizens take time to give praise, thought to their community firemen, and the most important job and community service they render."

SUMMER SCHOOL plans were outlined by John O. Berwick, superintendent of schools. Basic courses will be announced in strengthening the understanding of basic fundamentals of mathematics. An "Invitation to Write" unit on expression, and an "Invitation to Read" unit on expression, will be included for more effective understanding.

The board under the continuing plan to include an arts center, where youngsters can concentrate on art, music or drama; and the need for expansion to attend one or more of these meetings."

Special assembly to feature fashion show by sewing class

Miss, maids, jumpers, tunics, pants, dresses and collared blouses, created and worn by members of Mrs. Florence Varvack's clothing class at Jonathan Dayton Regional High School, Springfield, will be on display when the home economics department presents its annual fashion show, "A Dayton Happening," at 8:45 p.m. Monday, May 11, at the home of Mrs. Florence Varvack, 1000 W. Morris Ave., May 11.

Commentary and music for the fashion show will be furnished by seniors Alyse Cooper and

Board pledges it will act soon on lunch policy

Speedy completion of a new policy for the use of elementary school lunchrooms was pledged at the Springfield Board of Education meeting last week at the Florence Gaultner School.

Carlo Casale, board lunchroom chairman, told the 13 trustees at the meeting that the new policy would be adopted by the end of this year and would be put into effect by September.

"The final proposal will be very simple and will not require any special action on the part of the board," Casale said. "I hope that all parents will be very understanding and will support the board's decision."

In other business, the board adopted salary scales for the coming year for teachers, school nurses and all administrative staff members. Salaries for principals were reportedly still under discussion.

Pay for teachers with bachelor's degrees will start at $7,700 per year and rise to $18,400 in 15 annual increments. The scale for those with master's degrees starts at $8,800 and rises in 16 steps to $14,650. Teachers at the lowest level of graduate training will rise from $9,100 to $15,200 in 16 steps.

Nurses' salaries will run in 22 steps from $5,750 for those with no experience and no bachelor's degree to $10,000 for those at the six-year graduate level, with 12 years of experience.

Also adopted were salaries of $25,000 for the superintendent of schools, $20,000 for the assistant superintendent and $14,500 for the school secretary.

Additional meetings will be held at 8 p.m. Tuesday at St. John's Regional High School, Clark; Wednesday at Gov. Livingston Regional High School, Berkeley Heights; and next Thursday at Doverfield Regional High School, Mountainville, for more effective understanding.

The board under the continuing plan to include an arts center, where youngsters can concentrate on art, music or drama; and the need for expansion to attend one or more of these meetings."
