

Holy Cross Lutheran Church, Springfield, marking its 20th anniversary

Anniversary to be observed by Lutheran Church Sunday

Holy Cross Lutheran Church, Springfield, will celebrate the 20th anniversary of its founding this Sunday in both the 8:30 and 10:45 a.m. services.

Guest speaker for the services will be the Rev. Lester Messersmith, who served the congregation as pastor from 1957 to 1965. He is presently at St. Luke's Church, De Hills, N.J., where the congregation he went to upon leaving Springfield. The Rev. Messersmith, current pastor of Holy Cross, will conduct the liturgy and celebrate Holy Communion in the first service.

Other anniversary festivities will include a "coffee hour" at noon, a display on the congregation's history by the parish workers circle, and a special recognition in the 10:45 a.m. service of charter members who are still at Holy Cross. These members are Mr. and Mrs. Walter Gaster, Mr. and Mrs. Billy Hadley, Mr. and Mrs. John Hasselman Sr., Mr. and Mrs. Paul Lisoy Sr., Hermann Koop, Mr. and Mrs. John Lisoy Sr., Mr. and Mrs. Robert Wildan and Mrs. Charles Wilmer.

All activities and planning for the anniversary are under the direction of the fellowship committee with Robert Mueller as chairman and Mrs. Miller, Mr. and Mrs. Fred Comber, and Mr. and Mrs. Mel Nuchterlein, members.

Highlights of the church's history began with the first Lutheran service conducted in Springfield in May, 1951, at the Raymond Chalmers School by the Rev. Henry von Spreckels of Union, N.J., in July of that year the Rev. Eric Rickor arrived as a missionary at the Lutheran Church Synod in order to serve as a full-time pastor to the yet unorganized group of Springfield Lutherans. By April of the following year, however, the group was ready to become an official congregation with 60 charter members.

Pastor Rickor remained with Holy Cross until 1956, when he accepted a call to New York. During his tenure the congregation established its first house of worship with the renovation of a garage on its present property.

In 1963 brought the building and dedication of a new sanctuary and fellowship hall now in use by the congregation. The former sanctuary became the nursery school building.

Finally in 1969 a 50-foot outdoor cross which had been in the original architectural plans for the new building, was erected on the church lawn.

Today Holy Cross Congregation numbers approximately 350 baptized members with families in 20 nearby communities, although the majority of the membership resides in Springfield and Mountaineer, some 100 children and young people are enrolled in its Sunday School, and 48 children are engaged in its weekly nursery school program.

LWV answers Springfield questions about effect of school bond referendum

The League of Women Voters of Springfield this week encourages all Springfield voters to consider these important facts before voting on Tuesday for the Regional School Board of Education bond referendum.

"What is the Regional Board proposal?"

"Each of the four regional high schools will be expanded, based on the present enrollment in 1976. The funds ($4,700,000) will be apportioned among the four schools: Arthur L. Johnson Regional in Clark — $4,643,000; David Brestley Regional in Keokukville — $508,000; Livingston Regional in Berkeley Heights — $590,000; and Jonathan Dayton Regional in Springfield — $4,907,000. This proposal is $2,245,000 less than the one voted on last year because the calculations are based on 30 pupils per classroom rather than the 25 recommended by the State Department of Education.

"Why should the students in both Springfield and Mountaineer attend Jonathan Dayton?"

"The combined Springfield-Mountaineer enrollment at Dayton would be 1,315. At the present time the appropriate size of the other school in the regional system, thereby making it possible to provide equal educational opportunity for all students in the district. Estimated school size in 1976: Jonathan Dayton (Springfield and Mountaineer) 1,315; Arthur L. Johnson (Clark) 1,544; Gov. Livingston (Berkeley Heights) 1,544; Gov. Livingston (Keokukville and Garwood) 293.

"How will the referendum improve the educational quality of Springfield?"

"First of all, the children who are attending and will attend Dayton in the future will benefit from the expansion of Dayton. Those families without high school age children will discover that their real estate values are closely connected with the quality of the school system. Responsible citizens are more likely to be attracted to a community which provides quality education.

"Secondly, we must also strongly assert that we are making progress. We are moving ahead against many of the problems that we are facing. We are making the overall burden of mental illness, our most difficult to come by, more manageable. There are no staggering signs of vast epidemics of mental illness, as there were in the past. Most certainly, we can point out that there are considerable and, quite noticeable, gains being made on a most important front.

"This is the reduction of the residential population of mental hospitals throughout the Nation.

"In our area, there was a decline of 9.5 percent in the number of patients resident in these hospitals. This is the reduction of the residential population of mental hospitals throughout the Nation.

Birds, bugs and things Students visit education center

USING THEIR SENSES — Fifth graders of the Thelma Sanhammer School, Springfield, sniff the bugs on a spice bush from which the youngsters made spice tea on their visit to the Union County Outdoor Education Center, Berkeley Heights, Monday.

Robert Beland, Jill Craner, Kinna Felt, Joanne Gold, Nancy Grossbart, James Halper, Harvey Kahn, Marc Kesselman, Neil Mosh, Debra Oros, Steven Shindler, John Sommers, Mona Urdin, Jeff Wines and Arnie Zuckerman.

The fifth grade students of the Thelma Sanhammer School, Springfield, went on a field trip last week. The trip was to the Union County Outdoor Education Center, Berkeley Heights.

"They went to learn about good conservation habits of the outdoors."

At the Center Arthur Ryan talked on ecology. James Halper was called on to tell what the town of Springfield has been doing about pollution. Kenneth Fold and John Priest told Mr. Ryan that they were writing to the President concerning the problem.

One group studied ornithology with Oscar Norloff. The group first learned how to use binoculars. Then they went in the back of the field and practiced by looking at birds on the ground and trees.

The way to spot a particular bird is to know the special features of it. For instance, if you want to see a black-capped chickadee, you look for a bird that has black on its head. The participants saw the most variety of birds that any group has seen in years.

The insect study group went to an open field to look for flying insects. Jeffrey Trinkle was fortunate enough to find a wolf spider on a rock. Arthur Salmar also caught a wolf spider.

James Halper found a click beetle, Gregg Malone caught a mayfly, and Jeff Weiss caught a cockroach. The spiders he caught had six legs and a spider he caught had eight legs. Also, a spider catches his food by paralyzing his prey.

THE GROUP STUDYING how to live off the land went with Mrs. Alma Mikhail. She walked on a trail through the woods pointing out edible plants such as skunk-cabbage, spice bush, trout lilies, and a variety of other things.

Then the group went to a "house" and made different kinds of tea and nut butter.

Marc Kesselman showed black walnuts. The outer side of the walnut which is soft, is called the husk. The next part is called the shell and is extremely hard. Then there is the most inside of the black walnut which most people do not eat.

Hane Orlitz, Lisa Hirsch, Mona Urdin and Pamela Perini made nut butter out of the nuts, sugar, and salt. John Sommer and Jeffrey Trinkle dyed cloth the old-fashioned way by using black walnut shells and black walnut leaves. They dipped the cloth into the "dye" water and found the colors different on each piece.

Everyone enjoyed the trip because they discovered about the natural world of the outdoors. Reservations were made by each person. Many hope to return soon and wander down other exciting trails.

Town Cancer Crusade head stresses total participation

Springfield's Cancer Crusade chairman, Arthur Caprio, this week stressed the importance of total community participation during the April fund drive. Caprio stated, "The assistance and cooperation by our district captains and block workers is outstanding. Through their efforts and the generosity of all residents, the Cancer Crusade will be able to significantly contribute to the needs of the cancer research and educational program."

Caprio went on to say, "How often have we heard the expression 'why me?' concerning various community fund drives or related activities? Unhappily, many of us do not realize the significance or benefits of these community functions until we have the misfortune of being personally affected by a tragic experience.

"Continued research and new product development is the only effective disease development. Unless this research is successfully completed, over 50 million Americans, now alive and healthy will develop this disease. This statistic is not intended to be a scare tactic or threat, it is plain fact.

"Why Me? — Cancer shows no preference to race, color, creed or religion. It is therefore a disease which may touch each of us and our families.

"Why Me? — Funds and workers to be part of this Cancer Crusade can only be obtained from our community. This is our obligation and each one of us must recognize that our participation — no matter how small — is absolutely necessary. In effect, our command — to go out and raise money for the Cancer Crusade is to support a recognized and worthwhile campaign.

"Why Me? — Each of us, in our hearts and desires have expressed our daily convictions the need to defend ourselves against the potential danger of cancer. The anti-cancer campaign has stimulated our thoughts and comments on this subject.

"Why Me? — Well, maybe you still feel that the Cancer Crusade is not for you. So let's testate it — You may not need the Cancer Crusade but the Crusade needs YOU. We urge and plead that you participate — through your contributions and field work — in this program."

"Please forward your donations to me or to the attention of your neighborhood crusade workers."

Brave teen goes out on a limb Lion-hearted rescue saves cat

Ronald Frank, a 13-year-old Springfield resident, came to the rescue of Zephyra, a pedigreed Burmese cat owned by Helen and John Petri of 3 Craig road, one afternoon last week.

Ronald, who resides next door to the Petris, responded to the anguished cries for help from Mrs. Petri and youth from Zephyra, who was perched precariously on the tip of the limb of a tall tree in the Petri's back yard.

But when he sneaked out door to the Petri's property to the tree at the rear of the yard which he climbed without moment's hesitation and then could not figure out how to get back down.

Finally, an eighth grader at the Florence Gaudinier School and a member of Boy Scout Troop 30 in Springfield, heard the cries for aid. He climbed up in the tree near where the cat was perched, but found that Zephyra was just beyond his reach.

Luckily there was a loose board about three feet long on the ground. Mrs. Petri handed it to Ronald, and he extended the board to the frightened animal.

After much coaxing and pleading by Mrs. Petri and Ronald, the cat gingerly climbed onto the board, holding on for dear life. Ronald was then able to grab hold of the trembling pet and land him down to his grateful and much relieved owner.

Progressive education Jersey had it a century ago

This is one of a series of articles written by the New Jersey Education Association to commemorate the 100th anniversary of the State's first public schools.

Schools throughout New Jersey are almost completely ungraded, serving a public that has grown to be based on the study of English grammar. Sound like the realistic English grammar? Not so. Actually it's the way things were in 1871.

Wrote State Superintendent of Public Instruction Ellis A. Apper in his 1874 annual report: "In nine-tenths of the districts of the state, the schools are ungraded or mixed, and in each one children of all ages and attainments are crowded together in one classroom."

That may sound like plans for non-graded education today as the way of the future. But Apper was describing the one-room school house that was almost universal in New Jersey 100 years ago.

Within the room, the teacher made one grade division among the students. The young pupils were put in the "primary" department, the older ones in the "intermediate," reports the New Jersey Education Association.

Only a few 1871 systems had schools containing separate grades of children. Although state law allowed rural districts to join together to form a graded school, most of these graded schools were in the big cities, N.J.E.A. reports.

Other current educational theory holds that counterparts in New Jersey's schools of 1871. Many educators today consider the teaching of grammar inappropriate to the goal it is intended to achieve: increasing the child's ability to write and speak effectively.

The man in the street 100 years ago agreed—just as in Hunterdon County, where Cornelia S. Conkling, county superintendent of schools there, "Recently a teacher informed me that she was unable to find a single student who could read the primer, and assigned as the reason the unwillingness of the parents to permit the waste of time on the primer."

Approximately 150 non-lawyer citizens leaders are to be selected for the administration of justice today and tomorrow at Cherry Hill today and tomorrow.

A night in Old Vienna

Plans are underway to transform Symphony Hall, Newark, into a Vienna Opera House for the Promenade Ball—the New Jersey Symphony's eighth annual fund raising event, on Saturday evening, May 27.

The decoration committee for the ball, which is made up of members of the women's committee for the symphony, has revealed some of the plans that will create the illusion of an authentic Vienna Opera Ball.

The royal "Austrian" red and white curtains will outline the room and enormous floral arrangements will "frame" the main theater area, which will be arched in gold.

A wooden platform for dining and dancing will be constructed over the orchestra with seating extending out at stage level. Stage lighting will lead up to the ballroom platform, which will be decorated with palms and flowers.

The grand entrance hall will become an art gallery with portraits of members of the "royalty" lining the walls. Live Kendra palms and flowers will bank the hall, and a red carpet will lead patrons and guests to a foyer where the formal evening's proceedings will begin with champagne reception.

The foyer will be paneled in dark damask to dramatize the existing traditional architecture, and a water fountain under the gold dome will be electrically lit and circled by fresh flowers and ferns. Palms and eight-foot standards of red and white curtains will outline the room and enormous floral arrangements will "frame" the main theater area, which will be arched in gold.

Young Republicans pick Fulcomer as chief again

James J. Fulcomer of Rahway was re-elected chairman of the Young Republicans of Union County, Inc., at the group's annual convention on Saturday at the Polish National Home, Linden.

In a platform adopted at the convention the Young Republicans called on national and state government to wage a "war against environmental pollution as our first domestic priority."

CHAIRMAN THAT "pollution threatens the survival of mankind," the Young Republicans urged the federal government to eliminate lead from all gasoline, sold to private and commercial vehicles by 1972, requires absolute liability in most cases of oil spillage, require the testing of all vessels in 12 waters for absolute liability for oil spills, outlaw immediately the dumping of toxic waste into the continental shelf, outlaw all dumping of sludge and solid wastes into the ocean by 1972; levy a 50-cent surcharge on the importation of the total assets of the polluter; require holding tanks on all boats with the potential of spilling oil in federal waters, and to issue permits to pollute, and levy anti-pollution taxes on non-recycling tires, phosphate content in detergents, and environmentally damaging insecticides.

The group urged the establishment of a National Gateway Park to include Sandy Hook, Ellis Island, the undeveloped coast of Staten

Premium up in Medicare

Beginning July 1, older persons will pay 30 cents per month more for their Medicare bill insurance under Medicare Part B.

Both Social Security District managers said this week, The voluntary medical insurance premium will be increased from $5.30 to $5.60 per month.

The increase, Jones said, amounts to a 6 percent rise per year from $4 to $5.30.

This was required because the rate in the previous year had been kept at a $4 rate which proved insufficient to finance the program. Furthermore, this inadequate rate depleted the trust fund making it necessary to provide a higher payment for emergency.

"This year, however," Jones said, "it will not be necessary to provide for a similar margin due to growth of the trust fund. A variety of administrative actions also helped hold down the cost of the program in the past year."

Dayton with students and improve Mountainide. Livingston said that the school would not be sold for another 75 years.

DR. JONES, as he had in the past, stressed the disparity between the 19-acre site at Dayton and the 40-acre site at Gov. Livingston. He added, "I would not be opposed if we could sell Dayton and build a new school on Ballou on a 30-acre tract for Springfield and Mountainide."

Dr. Fred Hagood, board president, noted that Dayton has had the use of extensive adjoining Union County Park Commission property since that school was opened in 1957. He cited commitments from the Park Commission for future use of its facilities.

Dr. Jones also expressed objections to the wording of signs he had seen in Springfield, declaring, "Let's keep the money in Springfield." He stressed that all expenditures were for the benefit of the district as a whole.

On the bus safety issue, a Berkeley Heights woman said that she had examined Mountainide Avenue in Springfield, noting that there were traffic lights, policemen and school crossing guards. She said there were none of those safeguards on the badly winding, sidewalkless streets leading to Gov. Livingston.

DISCUSSING THE FUTURE of the girl club, Mrs. Harry Elstein, chairman of the Springfield Area Committee for Education (SPACE), said the meeting that a representative of her

Board meets

Approval was granted for two groups of five Gov. Livingston students to accompany younger Mountainide children on two-day trips to the N.J. Environmental Nature Center in Browns Mills.

The expansion referendum was also referred to the public discussion period when Charles A. McKay of Mountainide questioned plans for expansion of most facilities at Gov. Livingston.

He said that the Berkeley Heights "program" is being developed to permit increased instruction and that there would be "two" buildings and stingers at Gov. Livingston in the future, especially if Mountainide students are transferred.

Both Hagood and Little said that any decision on the Berkeley Heights program should be a joint decision of both boards. An announced timetable will require the State government to decide whether it can work out a peaceful solution. The program in Vietnam is essentially a Vietnamese one and a final settlement will have to be reached between the two countries.

The meeting began with a discussion of the mathematics and computer programming activities in the district presented to the board by Joseph Scott, math coordinator, and Thomas Baker, math teacher at Dayton and central figure in computer training throughout the district.

Mayor Neil Stokes agreed with a proposal by Prager for an ordinance to require that the time limit, which would be 10 days, be extended to 30 days. The ordinance would be passed as soon as possible, he added.

Stokes said the committee should have a force ordinance. He said this should apply to residential, as well as commercial, property. He said that the ordinance should make them and bill the property owner.

Dryness-blamed for brush fires

The Springfield Fire Department approved nine alarms last week, of which seven were brush fires, according to Chief Robert D. Day. He said that the dry conditions are a fire hazard and warned residents that brush fires are not allowed in the township. He asks of parents to warn their youngsters to be careful when they are in the woods and for the parents to be careful when they are in the woods.

The department answered two brush fire alarms Saturday, one was at 9:25 a.m. behind the Edward Wilson School. The other was at 10:34 a.m. behind 206 S. Springfield Avenue.

On Friday there were two brush fire alarms. The first came at 4:39 p.m. when brush and uncut utility poles that were down burned on the forest range in the park. The other alarm was at 5:25 p.m. for a blaze behind Beverly road.

The Summit Fire Department assisted the local department last Wednesday when a brush fire, Old Coach road burned. The alarm was given at 5:25 p.m.

There were four alarms on Monday, April 19, according to Chief Day. The first alarm was given at 10:30 a.m. when a fire started at 5:25 p.m. for a blaze behind Beverly road. The next alarm came 15 minutes later when a car had a ruptured gas tank in front of 750 S. Springfield Avenue.

The last two alarms were for brush fires. The first alarm came at 4:19 p.m. for a fire behind Gregory road. The last one came at 5:33 p.m. for a blaze at Ballouway and Troy road.

VOTE NO!

DEFEAT THE REGIONAL REFERENDUM ON TUESDAY, MAY 4, 1971.

THE REFERENDUM IS NOT GOOD FOR SPRINGFIELD BECAUSE

- PROVIDING SPACE FOR MOUNTAINSIDE IN DAYTON WILL OVERCROWD THE SITE WITH NO EDUCATIONAL ADVANTAGE.
- NEW PARKING LOTS IN FRONT OF DAYTON WILL MAKE IT LOOK LIKE ANOTHER SUPERMARKET.
- TRAFFIC CONGESTION WILL BE WORSENER.
- DOUBLE SESSION THREAT IS A FARCE. IN 1975 WE WILL HAVE FEWER STUDENTS THAN WE HAVE THIS YEAR.
- THERE ARE CHEAPER AND BETTER ALTERNATIVES.

Park Commission will offer family membership pool plan

A "family membership plan" for $25 per season will again be offered residents of Union County this summer at the swimming pools operated by the Union County Park Commission and located in John Russell Wheeler Park, Linden, and Railway River Park, Railway.

A family may apply for the special rate of $25, plus a $1 fee for each individual identification card, for the entire swimming season which will entitle parents and all children, 18 years of age and under, to swim in the pools without additional charge during the season.

Professor will speak

Dr. George T. Burt, chairman of the Philosophy Department at Newark State College, Union, will address the Educational Culture Society of Maplewood on Sunday, May 16. His topic will be "Utopian Thinking." His wife will entertain the group with a short program of folk songs complementing the subject of his address.

Applications are available at the administration building of the Union County Park Commission, Warinanco Park, Elizabeth. Requests for applications will also be accepted by mail or by telephone. The completed applications will be accepted by the park commission by mail, and the necessary identification cards will be forwarded to the family. The identification cards may also be used at the Warinanco Park Tennis Courts.

The pools, sand beaches and refreshment stands will open for the season at noon on Memorial Day, Saturday, May 29, and will close on Labor Day, Sept. 6. The programs at the pools this season will include swimming and life-saving classes, and New Jersey and Union County AAU Championships.

Only qualified life guards, certified by the American Red Cross, are employed to safeguard and supervise pool patrons. Supervised recreational activities will also be offered at both pools.

School gets equipment

Students enrolled in the radio-TV program at Union County Vocational Center, Scotch Plains, will have the opportunity to gain first-hand experiences in electrical and mechanical repair work through a gift by Concord Electronics Corp., Avenel.

Concord Electronics has donated $14,000 worth of new equipment with slight defects to the Vocational Center for educational purposes. The students will repair the products and then sell the equipment to the public to establish a scholarship fund for the school.

Among items donated were 56 stereo tape recorders, 25 intercom systems, 25 stereo receivers with chargers, cassette decks and AM/FM radios.

W. C. Taylor, eastern operations manager for Concord, made the presentation of the equipment to the school.

Some of the equipment will be on display at the May 13 Open House of Union County Technical and Vocational Center.

The idea behind the Volkswagen Squareback Sedan

Twenty-three years ago, we had an idea for a small economy car.

And it came out looking like a bug.

Twenty years ago, we had an idea for a giant station wagon.

And it came out looking like a box.

Then we had an idea for a sedan that combined all the economy of our bug with a lot of the capacity of our box.

So you'd expect it to come out looking half bug, half box, right?

Wrong.

But by squaring off its back and adding a trunk in front, our little sedan can give you over twice as much carrying space as the biggest domestic sedan.

Years ago, we learned the important thing isn't the way a car looks on the outside, but how it works on the inside.

And so it's just as true today as it was then: a car is judged a Volkswagen by its power.
