Library Museum fund drive reports 'fine initial response'

Jack H. Siftelman, chairman of the Springfield Library Museum fund committee, this week reported, "I am pleased at the initial response to our first mailing on Sept. 2. We received 11 pledges within two days after the mailing. However, despite the final initial response we still have a long way to go."

TO GET NEW TENANT — Wilkinson Sword, Inc., has leased this 15,000 square-foot building at 1121 Bristol rd., Mountainside, to the Corbis Corp. of Miami, Fla., through the Garibaldi Realty Corp., Springfield. The facility will serve as the first distribution center in the northeastern market area for Corbis, manufacturer of cardiac pacemakers and artificial kidneys. The firm has more than 1,000 employees in Miami and annual sales in excess of $20 million.

Editorial comment THE LINES ARE DRAWN

With the local political campaign getting under way, the voters of Springfield will have to choose between Norman Banner and William Jones, the Republican incumbents on the Township Committee, and Edward Fanning and Stanley Bruder, the Democratic challengers.

As far ahead as we can see at this early date, the campaign will probably hinge on which candidates can do a better job of dealing with problems that can be solved only outside of the township.

From this viewpoint, Springfield has enjoyed efficient and generally responsive municipal government for the past 15 years, first under the Democrats and then under the Republicans.

The best leadership within our memory was that provided by Del Vecchio through most of the 1960s, for efficiency, dedication and soundness in dealing with complicated problems.

One major reason, we believe, was that while the GOP kept winning during those years, the individuals who were elected were not in charge of the government but were in charge of the campaign.

Now, however, whoever takes over Town Hall in New Jersey they will have to deal with two major and perhaps related problems, which can be solved only in Washington and Trenton.

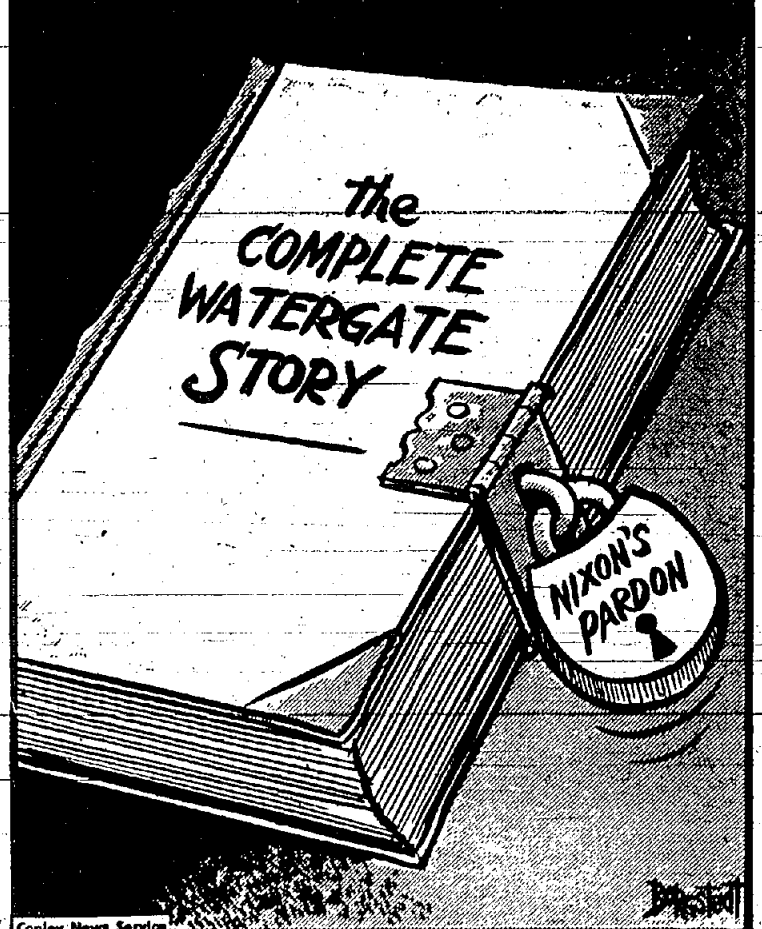

The first, of course, is flooding. Perhaps a third of Springfield is subject to inundation every time it rains, and some neighborhoods live in the face of constant disaster.

The second is highway construction. The town has been split in half by Rt. 78, which has yet to be replaced.

Another problem is that of traffic control. The light at Hillside and Mountain avenues is still only a dream, despite at least two fatalities and 15 years of increasingly desperate plea to Trenton.

The monstrous intersection at S. Springfield avenue, Shunpike road and Milltown road continues to threaten the safety of hundreds of schoolchildren. Any action here depends on Union County traffic engineers — and their prime concern continues to be the speed of the vehicular flow rather than the safety of the people of Springfield.

We have no way, at this moment, of telling which party or which candidates will do better in coping with all these matters.

LIBRARY A Hesse compendium

The Springfield Public Library lists the following titles among the recently received books:

By ROSE SIMON: A comprehensive, discursive and lists of people and places associated with the American West.

PATTERN FOURTH AMERICAN: "American Odyssey," by Robert Coit, in narrating the development of a large city—Detroit—Coit tells the story of urban America: the political, social and economic forces which have brought such tremendous problems to the city.

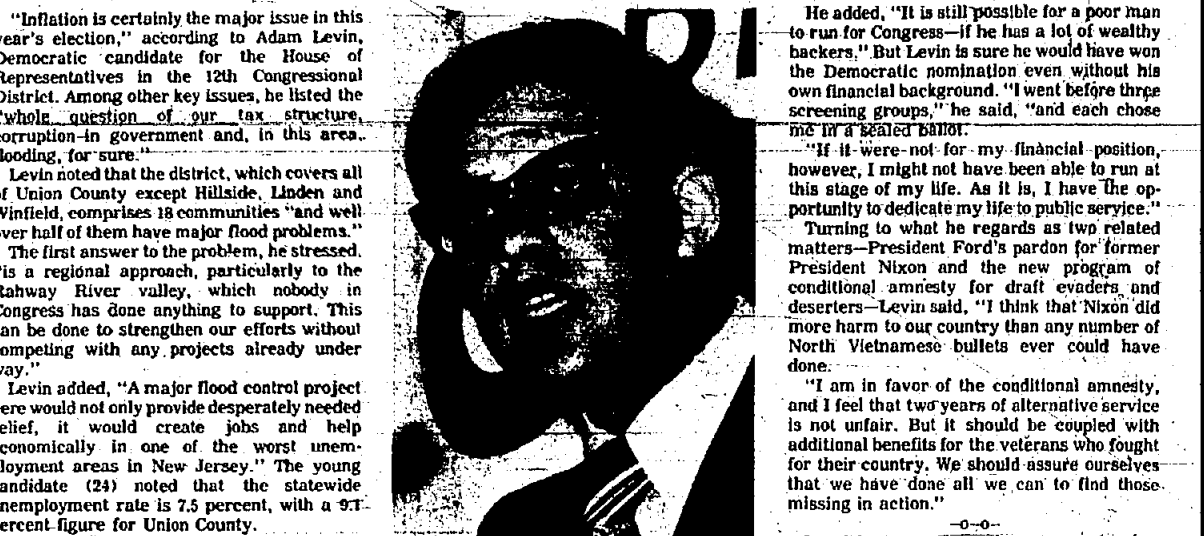

LEVIN TONK NOTICE: President Ford's recent speech placing emphasis on automobiles is a profile of the automobile industry in America. It is unrealistic to expect America to abandon autos for basic transportation.

By MARGALOT CHURCHIST: "The Musical Consist—Len Bias" by Brad Decker and Dan Evans. This is a definitive biography of the musical consist—Len Bias.

THE NOVEMBER CANDIDATES Profile - Adam Levin

Levin is certainly the major issue in this year's election," according to Adam Levin, Democratic House Representative in the 12th Congressional District.

Levin added, "It is still possible for a poor man to run for Congress, but he has a lot of wealthy backers." But Levin is sure he would have won the Democratic nomination even without his own financial background.

Levin added, "I am in favor of the conditional amnesty, and I feel that two years of alternative service is not unfair. But it should be coupled with additional benefits for the veterans who fought for their country. We should assure ourselves that we have done all we can to find these missing in action."

Levin has proposed a comprehensive program to provide temporary and long-range relief to the nation's natural gas shortage, which he described as a "potentially lethal threat to New Jersey's already ailing economy."

PAST TENSE Assemblywoman Wilson

Perhaps the single most important activity of the State Legislature is voting on the annual appropriations bill, the state budget. In passing this bill, we are setting priorities and allocating money for public purposes.

Under our present system, the proposed budget is reviewed by the Governor's Office and the Assembly's Committee on Institutions, Health and Welfare.

This system has worked efficiently in many respects. However, it tends to foster an uncertainty of continuity for existing programs and creates confusion whenever new programs are proposed.

Local property owners meet at Town Hall to discuss the proposed paying of Ballantyne way, which would be done with the cooperation of county and state road departments.

Proposed law Foreign policy review on campaigns lacking: Levin

Democratic Congressional candidate Adam Levin said this week that real campaign reform cannot be achieved until incumbent franking (mailing) privileges are curtailed during elections and full disclosure of a candidate's personal and campaign finances is required.

Congress is now preparing to approve a new campaign reform bill (The Federal Election Act Amendments of 1974) that would substantially revise the 1971 law now governing federal campaigns.

Levin said in a policy statement on campaign reform, "But, even though the act would provide some much-needed reforms in our electoral process, it is just as conspicuous for what it lacks and should not be accepted as the final word on campaign reform."

Levin said the most glaring omission in the reform act is the failure to require candidates to make a complete disclosure of personal finances as well as campaign contributions and expenditures.

"One of the most important elements in personal and campaign finance," he said, "is the best way to inform voters of any interests or obligations which a candidate might have, and it is the only way to convince the general public that federal officials pay their fair share of the taxes."

"Last May, I became the first Congressional candidate in Union County's history to make a voluntary disclosure of my personal income, net worth and income taxes. Since then, I have made periodic disclosures of my campaign contributions and expenditures. I feel our citizens deserve this kind of openness from those who would serve them, and I intend to sponsor legislation requiring full disclosure, if I am elected to Congress."

The 12th District, Union County, candidate said another problem inherent in the proposal is that it comes dangerously close to being little more than a "security blanket" for incumbents.

It is estimated that incumbents, no matter what their voting record or leadership qualifications, start a campaign with a tremendous $75,000 advantage over their challengers in terms of media availability, name recognition, franking privileges and other benefits.

Levin continued, "This type of financial advantage is the primary reason why House incumbents won 1,350 out of 1,551 races between 1965 and 1972 - an incredible 86 percent success rate."

"Many are concerned, and I agree, that spending ceilings may be so restrictive that relatively unknown candidates running against incumbents will be denied a fair chance to get their names and views known to the voters. Since the cost of media time and other forms of exposure are so expensive," Levin noted, "if that case, an incumbent, with his ready name recognition and mailing privileges (the average member spends $2,000 of free mail a year) would enjoy an unfair advantage."

"To partially offset this financial advantage without eliminating spending limits, I am proposing that an incumbent's franking (mailing) privileges be restricted following the primary, and that legislative 'credits' be provided to prohibit incumbent Congressmen from using members of their staff, still on the government payroll, strictly as campaign workers."

UC grant will aid Spanish-speaking

Union College has been awarded a $12,072 community services grant by the New Jersey Department of Higher Education to augment its special services to the Spanish-speaking community of Union County, it was announced this week by Dr. Saul Orkin, president of the college.

"The grant funds will be used," Dr. Orkin said, "to further the college's efforts to acquaint members of the Spanish-speaking community with the educational opportunities available to them and to provide the testing and counseling that will permit them to make the best use of these opportunities."

Union College currently offers an extensive program of courses in English for speakers of other languages, college-level courses taught in Spanish, counseling and testing services staffed by Spanish-speaking counselors, a federally-funded special services project for disadvantaged Spanish-speaking students, and GED testing in Spanish for adults who want to earn a high school equivalency diploma.

Under the Community Services grant, according to Dr. Orkin, the college will add an additional bilingual counselor to the staff; whose primary responsibility will be to work directly with the Spanish-speaking community to assure that educational needs are met.

UC alumni plan Pennsylvania trip

The Union College Alumni Association will tour a pretzel factory during a visit to the Bethlehem-Berks area of Pennsylvania on Saturday, Oct. 19. The bus trip will be the first program of the year for the organization.

The bus will leave Union College's Cranford campus at 8 a.m. and return at about 7 p.m. Stops will include visits to a shoe and apparel plant, a pretzel factory, and a glass factory.

The first event on the association's 1974-75 calendar of events to open to its graduates, former students and their guests. The trip is sponsored by Mrs. Doris Wolf of Cranford, coordinator, and Mrs. Jacqueline Seeland of Union, her assistant in organizing the trip, said checks should be made payable to the Union College Alumni Association and sent to the association at 103 Springfield Ave., Cranford, N.J.

The association meets the second Monday of each month at 8 p.m. in the Nonheggon Building on the Cranford campus, according to Jack Ward, association president.

Clark Players to open with 'Charlie Brown'

The Clark Players will open the 1974-1975 season with "A Charlie Brown Christmas" on the scenic strip "Parade" by Charles M. Schulz.

"Charlie Brown" will be presented Oct. 19-19 and 20-21 at 8:30 p.m. at the Frank K. Healy School, Baritan road, Clark. General admission is $3, students tickets $2. Readers may call Tel. Long 30-31 for tickets.

Dedication of facility for retarded

The Union County Unit of the New Jersey Association for Retarded Children will dedicate "First Step Home," a small, residential training facility on the grounds of John E. Hummel's Hospital, Plainfield avenue, Berkeley Heights, on Sunday, Oct. 6.

The program is open to the public.

"First Step Home" is the only facility in Union County geared to the residential training needs of the severely retarded adult, and one of the few in the state. Small group homes such as this provide the "first step" toward alternative to institutional care for the retarded.

The dedication ceremony will begin at 2:30 p.m. with county Freeholder Walter Ulrich as the keynote speaker, along with the other members of the Board of Chosen Freeholders, and the Hummel's head of managers, Ulrich has been instrumental in securing the "First Step" building for residential use.

UC to offer CLEP help

Two additional CLEP preparation courses will be offered by Union College this fall at its Union Educational Centers in Elizabethtown and Plainfield.

The offerings are general to assist adults planning to take the CLEP (College Level Examination Program) exams, according to Miss Maurine Dooly, coordinator of community services.

CLEP is a national program that awards credit in lieu of college credits in five general areas - humanities, mathematics, natural sciences, English and social studies - and in 31 specific subject areas.

Dems oppose purchase of Pingry in any event

The Democratic candidates for the Union County Board of Freeholders this week announced opposition to the purchase of the Pingry School in Hillside by the county if the state fails to purchase the property for the county, handicapped.

"Our position on the Pingry controversy has been consistent since the Pingry question first arose," said candidate John D. Molloy of Roselle Park, Walter R. Bright of Scotch Plains and William J. McCloud of Plainfield.

The offerings are general to assist adults planning to take the CLEP (College Level Examination Program) exams, according to Miss Maurine Dooly, coordinator of community services.

CLEP is a national program that awards credit in lieu of college credits in five general areas - humanities, mathematics, natural sciences, English and social studies - and in 31 specific subject areas.

Crafters plan two-day show

The Pleasant Mountain Crafters of New Jersey will present its 14th annual craft exhibition and sale at Keon College Union, on Tues. 7 and 8. The exhibition, "Craft Evolution '74," will run from 10 a.m. to 6 p.m. on Tues. 7 and from noon to 5 p.m. on Wed. 8.

According to Mrs. Pat Galley, exhibition chairman, plans are still in the formative stage, but it is expected that most of the crafters more than 100 members will display works ranging from the simple to the highly personalized hand wrought jewelry, leather, batik, ceramics, embroidery, silk screening, wood working, lapidary, tie-dye, weaving, spinning and macramé.

Wide variety of activities set this autumn at Green Lane Y

The Health and Physical Education Department of the Eastern Union County YM-YWCA, Green Lane, Union, is offering a wide variety of activities this fall for all age groups.

The activities will include basketball leagues, co-ed paddleball, gymnastics, men's and women's swim-and-trim exercises, swimming, swimming lessons and instruction in lifesaving.

The bidibasketball program is for boys 9-14. There is also a junior varsity for boys 14 and 15 and a varsity for 16-18 year olds. There is also a girls' basketball league and a men's house league.

Girls will be able to participate in a gymnastics program to develop skills on the mats, rings and trampolines. They can also try out for the cheerleading squad.

One of the Y's newest activities is a universal gym which enables males and females to stay in shape.

Other activities available in the gym will be co-ed volleyball, karate and tennis.

The aquatic program will include the continued development of a swim team and a water polo program.

Chamber notes drawbacks in bond issue spending plans

The Eastern Union County Chamber of Commerce this week announced the organization's opposition to the proposed $20 million state transportation bond issue. In a letter to the Union County Executive Committee, Clifford M. Peaker, president, said, "The Traffic and Transportation Committee of the Eastern Union County Chamber of Commerce respectfully opposes Governor Brendan T. Byrne's proposed $20 million transportation bond issue in its present form."

"We find it impossible to support a statewide program which would provide only $1.5 million, or less than 1 percent of the total, to Union County, one of the most populated counties in the state. Furthermore, the large percentage of the proposed expenditures would be spent on two bridges in Philadelphia which in quality are for flood control and not necessarily a highway improvement. While we are certainly in favor of all possible flood control measures, we believe the use of transportation bond issue moneys for this purpose.

"We point out that this proposed program completely disregards long-recommended needed improvements to the Bayway traffic circle on Rts. 1 and 9, the Westfield traffic circle, the Park Avenue intersection with Rt. 22 in Scotch Plains and other programs suggested by the Master Transportation Plan for Union County.

"We are alarmed that no provision is made for the Department of Transportation's joint participation with the New Jersey Turnpike Authority and the Port of New York and New Jersey for the construction of Interchange 15A on the New Jersey Turnpike, which would provide for the continued economic growth of the Port of Elizabeth by the elimination of a very serious traffic bottleneck.

"The more than $60 million spent for transportation improvements in this area over the past several years could be seriously hampered by the continued neglect of this important investment."

Secretaries will hear specialist on shorthand

Mrs. Betty MacKerzie, a certified shorthand reporter, will be the speaker Tuesday at the season's initial meeting of the Union County Legal Secretaries Association.

The dinner meeting will begin at 6:15 p.m. at Trevelia's Restaurant in Union Legal Secretaries in Union County may make reservations with Myrna Westerman at 922-0244.

Dayton football team ready for Roselle opener Saturday

By MICHAEL MESKIN
With the opening game drawing ever closer to the Jonathan Dayton football squad, Coach Dave Oliver remains confident that his players will be in top mental and physical condition for Roselle Saturday. He is pleased with the overall team attitude and of optimism; the players are hitting hard in practice and adjusting to the new offensive and defensive systems very rapidly.

The opening game will be played at Mehel Field. The Bears have a big, strong team and throw the ball frequently. Oliver expects this to generate a strong offensive attack "to keep the ball away" from the opposition. Roselle will be seeking revenge for Dayton's 14-7 victory in last year's opener.

Offensively, the Bulldogs have been sporadic. Oliver was pleased with the execution against Roselle Park when the offense moved the ball well; against Columbia High School, however, the offense could not sustain an attack. This may have been due to the absence of guard Rich Consoles and tailback Bruce Heide because of minor injuries.

On the negative side, the offense lacks a true breakout threat in the backfield. A major setback is the loss for the season of tackle Glen Arnold due to a knee injury. Arnold was the team's best lineman.

The starting offensive line will center Jerry Hagosue, guards Mitch Kurzer and Consoles (opponent Joe Hagosue if Consoles is in) and tackles Gary Pressfank and Junior Bob Potomski.

The backfield will include quarterback Carmen Scipetotano, junior fullback Mike Flood or sophomore Bradie Gumbek (who is doing "a fine job," according to Oliver), tailback-Brace Heide and wingback Derek Deane. Deane has been looking sharp and doing a fine job in the scrimmages. The defense could be the key to a successful season for the Bulldogs.

The probable defensive lineup includes ends Wayne Schwarte and Greg Johnson or George Strigalis, junior tackles Jim Hite and Potomski, and sophomore nose guard Kevin Mitchell. Handling the linebacking chores will be Hagosue and Mercer, who are being pushed by junior Frank Hladis. Nardone, who might see action as a deep defensive back, or Joe Flood will play the center field. A player defending will be junior Joe Kirtin, Andy Nash, Jack Flood and sophomore Steve McElroy.

The team is strong in the special area. Mike Flood will do the place kicking; Heide handles the punting.

Playing well for the middle of the season, Francis, who is still nursing a bruised ankle. Shutting back and forth in the other side were centers John McCarthy and Mark Szabo, who is being counted on heavily but is limited by a bruised foot, and junior Steve Hechtle.

Krupp was "rather pleased" with the defensive unit, although it was guilty of communication lapses. Krupp notes that the team is being counted on heavily but is limited by a bruised foot, and junior Steve Hechtle.

Dayton football team ready for Roselle opener Saturday

By MICHAEL MESKIN
With the opening game drawing ever closer to the Jonathan Dayton football squad, Coach Dave Oliver remains confident that his players will be in top mental and physical condition for Roselle Saturday. He is pleased with the overall team attitude and of optimism; the players are hitting hard in practice and adjusting to the new offensive and defensive systems very rapidly.

The opening game will be played at Mehel Field. The Bears have a big, strong team and throw the ball frequently. Oliver expects this to generate a strong offensive attack "to keep the ball away" from the opposition. Roselle will be seeking revenge for Dayton's 14-7 victory in last year's opener.

Offensively, the Bulldogs have been sporadic. Oliver was pleased with the execution against Roselle Park when the offense moved the ball well; against Columbia High School, however, the offense could not sustain an attack. This may have been due to the absence of guard Rich Consoles and tailback Bruce Heide because of minor injuries.

On the negative side, the offense lacks a true breakout threat in the backfield. A major setback is the loss for the season of tackle Glen Arnold due to a knee injury. Arnold was the team's best lineman.

The starting offensive line will center Jerry Hagosue, guards Mitch Kurzer and Consoles (opponent Joe Hagosue if Consoles is in) and tackles Gary Pressfank and Junior Bob Potomski.

The backfield will include quarterback Carmen Scipetotano, junior fullback Mike Flood or sophomore Bradie Gumbek (who is doing "a fine job," according to Oliver), tailback-Brace Heide and wingback Derek Deane. Deane has been looking sharp and doing a fine job in the scrimmages. The defense could be the key to a successful season for the Bulldogs.

The probable defensive lineup includes ends Wayne Schwarte and Greg Johnson or George Strigalis, junior tackles Jim Hite and Potomski, and sophomore nose guard Kevin Mitchell. Handling the linebacking chores will be Hagosue and Mercer, who are being pushed by junior Frank Hladis. Nardone, who might see action as a deep defensive back, or Joe Flood will play the center field. A player defending will be junior Joe Kirtin, Andy Nash, Jack Flood and sophomore Steve McElroy.

The team is strong in the special area. Mike Flood will do the place kicking; Heide handles the punting.

Playing well for the middle of the season, Francis, who is still nursing a bruised ankle. Shutting back and forth in the other side were centers John McCarthy and Mark Szabo, who is being counted on heavily but is limited by a bruised foot, and junior Steve Hechtle.

Public Service reduces budget in construction

Public Service Electric and Gas Company announced this week that it will cut construction expenditures by $68 million over the next five years. Work will proceed, however, on nuclear power units already under construction in order that more lower-priced nuclear power can be made available to consumers.

The overall construction budget will be reduced from $2.6 billion to $1.9 billion for the years 1974 through 1978. The utility's new construction schedule was reviewed and approved by the Board of Public Utility Commissioners Sept. 18.

No major nuclear construction projects have been cancelled, according to Robert I. Smith, president. Two projects in Salem County—Salem Generating Station and Hope Creek Generating Station—will provide thousands of jobs for New Jersey. Smith pointed out. More than 4,000 workers will be on the job for a five year period, 1975 to 1979, reaching a peak of nearly 5,000 in 1978.

This should have a beneficial effect on the economy of the state, Smith said. Peach Bottom Generating Station, which PSE&G has a 42 percent share, is scheduled to begin full operation before the year's end. The first large nuclear unit completed at this southeastern Pennsylvania power station began operating earlier this year, giving PSE&G 42 megawatts. The economic impact of this cheap nuclear power lowered consumer bills slightly in July and August. A second unit, which will supply PSE&G with 422 megawatts more by December, stands have a similar effect.

HEW to keep eye on nursing homes
NEW YORK: The establishment of a new unit to enforce federal standards for nursing homes was announced here this week by Mrs. Bernice I. Bernstein, HEW regional director. The standards apply to more than 12,000 long-term care facilities serving about 112,000 Medicare and Medicaid patients in New York, New Jersey and Puerto Rico.

Alan J. Superstein, a health official from the Social Security Administration, was named director for long term care standards enforcement and will head the new unit. Mrs. Bernstein said, "Long term care facilities have become a vital element in the nation's health care industry. In this country, the nursing home operators can afford a level of care in these facilities that is less than safe, pleasant and beneficial to the patient."

Bell's new copper alloy called cheaper, stronger

A new family of metal alloys which makes more efficient use of copper, made of our most rapidly used and rapidly depleted natural resources, has been developed at Bell Laboratories. The Bell System uses about 25 million pounds of copper alloys annually in manufacturing relays and connectors for switching offices, and for making springs, such as those behind the buttons in Touch-Tone telephones.

Dear Pat and Marilyn: I am 38 years old and not bad looking. I am still trim and young enough to wear youthful styles, but, unfortunately, my daughter is 17 and she has a wonderful figure. Clothes look great on her but she spoils the entire effect by not wearing a bra. Many of her friends ask me how and if it ruins the appearance of her outfit. I cannot understand why she does this. Am I obsolete at 38? Is my idea of good taste crazy? My father says I should live with the dinosaurs. Aside from the obvious, this braless exercise routine is unhealthy. What would you do?

Board will restudy policies on ranking, music unit trips

Members of the Regional High School District Board of Education indicated Tuesday night that they would reconsider two recently adopted policies—one limiting the number of major trips undertaken by musical groups and the other establishing a system of class ranking, starting with this year's freshmen.

The policy on musical groups states that each group may go on a trip of exchange concert more than 400 miles from home only once every three years. Students and parents affiliated with the school district music programs argued that the policy may be fair to bandmen, who often participate for four years, but unfair to chorists, who move up to the top groups only in their junior and senior years.
