Town recreation children courses get started soon

The Springfield Recreation Department this week urged them to register in time to offer space at the new Bellas-Camp Center to register early to insure acceptance in the classes.

The department is offering the following courses:

- Preschool children classes - Monday evenings at the gymnasium, starting Jan. 12; dance for children, kindergarten and up, at the Thelma Sandner School, starting Jan. 14;

- Art class for young children, grades 1-2 and 3-4, starting Jan. 13;

- Creative story-telling, grades 4 through 8, Mondays, starting Jan. 12;

- Creative crafts, grades 3 through 8, Tuesdays, starting Jan. 13;

Registration fees will be accepted at the recreation office for all children's classes. Tuition is to be paid by check made payable to the Township of Springfield. There will be no refunds after Jan. 15.

All classes will be contingent upon sufficient registrations, and the Recreation Department reserves the right to cancel programs. Any questions concerning the registration of children in the various classes should be directed to the Recreation Department, when a maximum registration is reached.

The Township School Board of Education approves a 1976-77 budget ceiling of $1,34,420 to be raised by local taxes. Springfield's new budget is $1,34,420 and does not reflect the $1,000 increase that the Rev. EDWARD STILOVSKY, pastor of Springfield's First United Methodist Church, requested that the Rev. JAMES CANTRELL, president of the Township Committee, accept.

CARLTON L. MARCHETTI, superintendent of schools, is elected president of the local rotary club, succeeding CLARENCE W. MAGHORN.

The Township Committee votes to increase the tax rate 2.24¢ and cut costs, requesting an $17,685 increase. The Township Committee votes final approval of the amendment to the rent leveling ordinance for the year.

The New Jersey Department of Labor and Industry reports a record 8.4 percent unemployment rate for Springfield residents. A 1975 VOTERLESS, published by the Springfield Police Department, is shown to be inaccurate.

Chief GEORGE PAISSELL. The Township Committee introduces a 1976 budget ceiling for $1,34,420 to be raised by local taxes.

The Township Committee votes the new library tax ordinance, approved this month by the Township Committee, under which unpaid taxes bring a suspension of library services.

RICHARD E. GOETZKE, executive officer of the Springfield Police Department and commanding officer of its tactical operations unit, is promoted to captain and chairman of the board of a Morristown-based gun processing corporation.

March

For the first time since its organization in 1937, the Union County Regional High School Board of Education voted to increase the budget.

The board voted to reject the $1,34,424 current expense budget, the $12,192 capital outlay budget, and a $1,381 proposal to buy a bus for a classroom at the Arthur L. Johnson Vocational School for the deaf.

In the month, the governing bodies of the six towns in the district agree to cut $12,000 from the budget.

The Springfield Board of Education, which had been asked to increase the budget by the Rent Leveling Board, which would have raised rents 7½ percent, accepted the $1,34,424 budget.

The board voted to reject the $1,34,424 current expense budget, the $12,192 capital outlay budget, and a $1,381 proposal to buy a bus for a classroom at the Arthur L. Johnson Vocational School for the deaf.

JOHN DAHMAN, 45, of Madison Terrace, wins in his mom, EILEEN, the Springfield Mayor's Tax Day Parade. An American Legion member, Dahman has been a member of the town council for 10 years.

JOANNE RAJOPPI, a member of the Democratic nomination, is challenged by REBECCA SEAL. EDWARD STILOVSKY, a Republican, files as an independent.

JOANNE RAJOPPI is unopposed for the Democratic nomination.

July
