

State offers new grants to offset tuition increase

Neediest students attending Rutgers University, New Jersey Institute of Technology, or one of the eight state colleges will benefit from a new state program of financial aid this fall, aimed specifically at offsetting the tuition increases made necessary by the decreased operating appropriation for the 1976-77 academic year.

The N.J. Legislature has made $3.3 million available to assist students in meeting the increased tuition costs at the 10 institutions. The new Public Tuition Aid (PTA) program will reimburse the amount of the tuition increase to middle and lower-income students who qualify. It is anticipated that about 25,000 students will receive this assistance, including 12,000 students who now hold New Jersey State Scholarships or Educational Opportunity Fund (EOF) grants. To be eligible for the new aid, students in the 10 institutions must be full-time undergraduates who are residents of New Jersey.

Students who are currently being aided through the State Scholarship or EOF programs at the 10 institutions will automatically receive this additional aid in the form of increased grants and need not take any further action.

Students at the eight state colleges and NJIT who do not hold State Scholarships or EOF grants, and who want to be considered for the new PTA program, must have applied for a Federal Basic Educational Opportunity Grant (BEOG). Students who have already filed for the new PTA program will automatically receive consideration for PTA without further application. The University will notify those students who qualify.

The financial need standard for PTA qualification is more flexible than that used for the federal awards, so many students will be eligible for PTA grants even though they were not eligible for a BEOG award. It is estimated that students from families with incomes of about $16,000 and below will be eligible for the PTA grants.

All Rutgers students who have filed financial aid applications with the university or who have applied only for the federal BEOG grants will receive consideration for PTA. Eligibility will be based on the BEOG application alone.

It contains photographs and brief narrative descriptions of each site and a map showing their locations. It was prepared by the Staff of the Bicentennial Commission.

The sites are:

- The Great Falls of the Passaic; Paterson; Chestnut Neck Battle Monument; Fort Republic; Historic Village; Monmouth Battlefield; Freehold; Old Presbyterian Church, Newark; Somers Mansion, Somers Point; Fort Mercer, Red Bank, and Nassau Hall, Princeton.

The brochures are available without charge by writing to the State of Tourism, Box 300, Trenton, 08622, or the New Jersey Bicentennial Commission, 379 West State St., Trenton, 08625.

9 clients receive claims in attorney misconduct cases

Nine individuals received a total of $62,180.22 this month from the Clients' Security Fund of the Bar of New Jersey for losses caused by improper conduct of three attorneys.

An annual contribution by New Jersey lawyers finances the Clients' Security Fund. The fund was established in 1961 on a voluntary basis by the New Jersey State Bar Association as a sign of the profession's commitment to honest legal service. In 1969, lawyer participants in the fund were made mandatory by a rule of the Supreme Court of New Jersey.

Although the fund has approximately 17,000 attorneys on its rolls, claims over the years have been filed on account of only 33 lawyers. Of that number, claims have been paid against 23 attorneys.

An individual client can receive up to $15,000 in compensation and the fund will cover up to $500,000 of the cost of an individual lawyer (only victims of deliberately dishonest means of the Bar, acting either as attorneys or fiduciaries, are compensated by the fund. Cases involving legal malpractice, negligence and fee disputes are handled through county-level ethics committees established by the Supreme Court of New Jersey.

Fund rules require the attorney must have maintained a law office in New Jersey and have been a practicing member of the Bar at the time the improper conduct occurred. The attorney must have been suspended, disbarred, or resigned from the Bar, or have been convicted or pleaded guilty to embezzlement or other misappropriation of property. In cases where a lawyer is deceased or otherwise unable to appear for a hearing, fund trustees may determine that dishonest conduct occurred.

Foundation continuing grant to aid disadvantaged students

The Robert Wood Johnson Foundation has announced a continuation grant of $26,592 to the College of Medicine and Dentistry of New Jersey (CMDNJ) for a widely-touted program that introduces and orients college-student members of disadvantaged groups to careers in medicine and dentistry.

In some cases, the students are still in their undergraduate years. In others, they are college graduates who have been admitted to medical school. Parts of the total program, which features pre-professional indoctrination during the summer months, have served as a model for other medical schools across the country.

The Robert Wood Johnson Foundation is the world's largest philanthropy devoted exclusively to improving health care. It has supported the CMDNJ program in the past, but not to the extent of the new grant.

Dr. Stanley S. Bergen Jr., president of CMDNJ, said the continuation program is regarded as a keystone of the college's minority recruitment effort.

With Charles Veiver, Ph.D., executive vice president of the college, as project director, the grant will be apportioned among CMDNJ's New Jersey Medical School and CMDNJ-New Jersey Dental School, both in Newark, and CMDNJ-Judith Medical School, Piscataway.

for the students and a total of $99,992 for other program purposes. The stipend support represents one-third of the program need. The balance is federally funded.

Fund created to block Rt. 78 through park

WORK UNDER WAY—Bulldozer starts construction of interchange on the Highway River near Marion Square. The $60,000 project is designed to alleviate flooding in Springfield's worst remaining trouble spot. It has been learned the first step in Township Committee's top priority drainage improvement network. Plans continue for meeting other drainage needs, and the Army Corps of Engineers is still moving forward on $4 million project for permanent solution of Highway River problems. (Photo-Graphics)

Three units consolidate their efforts $10,000 required to contradict E.I.S.

The Impact 78 Committee of Springfield, Summit and Berkeley Heights will create a non-profit, tax-exempt corporation as a mechanism to fund their campaign against construction of the interstate highway through the Watchung Reservation.

The formation of the new organization temporarily called the Parkland Preservation Fund was announced at Tuesday night's meeting of the Springfield Route 78 Committee. The law firm of Winer, Neuberger and Sive is preparing the necessary papers to establish the Parkland Preservation Fund. The same firm represents the township in its campaign to prevent further construction of Rt. 78.

The Parkland Preservation Fund is expected to spend about $10,000 by Sept. 10 to pay for reports by experts contradicting some of the findings in the U.S. Department of Transportation's environmental impact statement released last May. Marcia Forman, chairman of the Springfield Environmental Commission, said the Parkland Preservation Fund is a member of the Impact 78 Committee. She indicated after Tuesday's meeting that the fund will be used to hire a consultant to prepare an alternative to the impact statement's alternatives to build the highway through the reservation, the Parkland Preservation Fund may decide to pursue the matter through the courts.

AT THE MEETING, cards were circulated requesting donations to the fund. To help finance the effort, the Impact 78 Committee is also seeking grants from national environmental organizations which have expressed interest in the local effort.

Both the state and federal transportation departments are accepting comments from the public on the environmental impact statement until Sept. 15. Through the use of comments written by experts in the field, the committee hopes to persuade either the state or federal government to adopt the no-build alternative outlined in the impact statement.

Forman said the written reports of the expert will be used to "knock enough holes in the environmental impact statement to get the Department of Transportation to either drop the project or accept any of the impact statement's alternatives to build the highway through the reservation, the Parkland Preservation Fund may decide to pursue the matter through the courts."

The Regional Board of Education will take bids for work at Gov. Livingston, David Brewster and Jonathan Dayton high schools and discuss the appointment of a director of facilities, engineering and transportation at an adjourned meeting to be continued Tuesday at 8 p.m. in the instructional media center at Dayton.

Bids are expected to be awarded for the following:

- Classroom partitions at Gov. Livingston.
- Stabilization of embankment at Gov. Livingston.
- Roofing work at Gov. Livingston, Dayton and Brewster.

The posts of director of facilities, engineering and transportation were consolidated by a board action earlier this year. Previously the functions were separated into two separate jobs—director of transportation and director of facilities.

The Jonathan Dayton Regional High School Key Club will hold its monthly meeting on Saturday at the Dayton front parking lot, from 8 a.m. to 2 p.m.

The Adult Egg Throw will also be featured on Sunday. The following Sunday, Aug. 28, there will be the Adult Treasure Hunt, the Mr. & Mrs. Greenhumb Contest and the Mr. or Mrs. Homemaker Contest. The Mr. Peanut Contest for boys ages ten through five has been rescheduled to Sunday, Sept. 5.

In the Volleyball Tournament for preteens held this past week the team of Michael MacIodde, Jane Austin, Michael Berliner and Billy Bogar just barely beat out the team of Neal Gaffrey, Terri Scello, Kenne Palazzi and Vicki Saracino for the championship.

First place sluggers in the Softball Hitting Contest were Kenny Palazzi, Billy O'Toole and Terri Scello. Second place batters were Levent Bayralli, Michael Berliner, Jane Austin, Vicki Saracino, Kevin Jelinek, Paul Calvetti and David Edzards. These in third place were Chip Haines, Theresa Saracino, Cheryl Pfltinger, Marianne Branco, Jay Stern, Jackie Vogel, Dan Klingler and Katarina Bayralli.

Andy Paskin captured first place in the Tennis Paddling Tournament. Mike Isaacs was the second place player.

In touch football action this past week good defensive performances were turned in by Jane Austin, Terri Scello, Robert Rizzo, Kevin Duffy and Billy Goff. Paul Calvetti recovered a fumble by one of his teammates and then ran for the winning touchdown. Quarterback Mike Parlovicchio and Zenon Christodoulou each ran for touchdowns, as well as having an excellent percentage of pass completions. Vicki Saracino's talents as a receiver were well appreciated by her team. Others who contributed touchdowns to their team efforts were Valeri LiCaust, Craig Moss, Ken Rau and Joey Ceiri.

Rewards offered in 2 murder cases

The Springfield Township Committee has offered rewards of $5,000 each "for information leading to the detection, apprehension and conviction of the murderer, or murderers" of two Springfield women.

In a public notice, the Township Committee offered the rewards in an effort to solve the May 14 slaying of Beverly Manoff of Treetop Drive and the Jan. 26, 1974, slaying of Mildred Irene Hearse of Warwick Circle.

The public notice, signed by Arthur H. Buchler, town clerk, stated that anyone having information on these two cases may call the Springfield Police Department at 376-2323.

Any information received will be held in the strictest confidence, he said. "No reward is available to any public employee whose duty it is to investigate or enforce the law."

Club date up-date sought by library for new listings

The Springfield Public Library this week requested the assistance of the public in compiling an up-to-date list of local organizations. A spokesman said in the course of a year the library often receives questions regarding various community groups, and since many of these groups elect new officers each year, it is difficult to keep abreast of the changes.

The library plans to record the mailing addresses and chief officers, usually presidents, of business and professional clubs, service organizations, cultural and recreational groups, civic clubs, PTAs, churches and temples, municipal and county public agencies, charitable organizations and those dedicated to health and welfare services.

Anyone wishing to have a group included in the list, may call Goodman at the library, 376-4938, with the necessary information.

IMPROMPTU CONCERT—Edward Shiley leads Cantabile Singers in a hymn at the base of a memorial in Westerplatte near Gdansk, Poland, site of Germany's first attack against that nation. The choral group, comprising 37 Mountaineers and Springfield students, returned from a three-week concert tour of Poland as members of a Friendship Ambassadors program.

Singers united in music Diary recalls Cantabile tour

The notebook covers the entire tour—from tearful good-byes at Echo Plaza to the singing of "God Bless America" as the return flight touched down at Kennedy airport. But there were three episodes which stand out.

The most moving is an account of the student tour of the Sztutowo concentration camp near Gdansk, where 85,000 of 125,000 prisoners died during the Nazi occupation.

"Our guide for the camp tour had spent five-and-a-half years there as a prisoner when he was in his 20s," Mrs. Muirhead said. "He led us on a walking tour of the entire compound, first showing us a film, then the despicable living quarters and operating rooms, and, finally, the crematorium.

"There were two furnaces, with metal stretchers inside. Our guide pulled one out and explained that after the people were killed by gas or bullets, 12 bodies at a time would be put on each stretcher. When he finished his talk, our kids, still standing before the furnaces, decided to sing a memorial—'their prayer song, 'May the Lord Bless and Keep You.' Tears were streaming down our faces, and the guide, too, was reduced to tears.

"When the song was over, he told us that on the day he was liberated from that camp, he vowed to himself that, because he had cried so

Inter-playground tourneys to climax summer's activities

As the 1976 playground season comes to a close this summer, a host of activities will take place enabling children to enjoy their summer in high spirits and look forward to future experiences at the parks.

Plans for the final week of playground activity include the inter-playground tournaments held Tuesday at Ruby Playground. Children representing their parks in these events participated in various board games and athletic skills such as checkers, flag football, washers, Nole-tickey and jacks.

The novelty events yesterday at the Springfield Pool allowed children to show off their coordination as well as their sense of humor in three-legged races, wheelbarrow races, and pie-eating contests. Prizes for the winners of these crazy feasts included basketball T-shirts and caps.

The culminating event of the season was the balloon blast yesterday at the pool. Post cards attached to helium balloons were distributed to participating children; winners of prizes will be chosen according to the distance the balloons travel and its ultimate return to the sender.

The park children crafted head people this week in arts and crafts. The Alvin Animals expressed thanks to directors Linda Platt and Mary Verbanter for coming to the park each week with delightful activities for all members.

The rainy weather resulting from the hurricane cut the week short at Chisholm, but once the sunny skies returned, playground attendance went up as usual. In arts and crafts last week, the children created popcorn jewelry. Bejeweled and satisfied popcorn eaters included Glenn, Monticello, Julie and Cindy Garhart, and Chris Clouse.

The past hurricane period provided the clearest weather. The children enjoyed the view needed to do an overhaul on the park's picnic table. The table was painted white, orange, and yellow. Know Your Government
From N.J. Taxpayers Association
Budgets for 1976 rose 6.1 percent to a total of $1.9 billion. The increase of $104.5 million over 1975 is almost wholly financed from the property tax, reports the New Jersey Taxpayers Association.

According to a comparison of budgeted revenues to finance municipal budgets, tabulated by NJTA, property tax levels to finance municipal budgets and debt service of Type I school districts comprise 42.1 percent of all municipally budgeted revenues. The tax rose 6.5 percent from 1975 to 1976, to $181.5 million total. All other revenues in the budget were estimated at $1.1 billion in the aggregate, only $1.3 million more than was budgeted in 1975.

Revenues which finance municipal budgets fall into four general categories: surplus income from property taxes, sales taxes and liens and current property taxes. The property tax is frequently described as a residual tax since it is used to produce all dollars needed to finance the budget after all other revenue sources are deducted from the projected spending total.

The largest revenue-producing category, "miscellaneous," accounted for 41 percent of total municipal revenues in 1976. Included are a wide variety of sources such as federal and state aid, state-administered locally-shared taxes, fines, fees and charges and payments in lieu of taxes. Budgeted miscellaneous revenues increased only $1.4 million from 1975 to 1976, to $111.1 million. State law prevents estimating miscellaneous revenues at a level higher than the actual yield of the previous year, points out NJTA.

Surplus revenue used in budget balancing is $192.5 million, a drop of $22.2 million or 10.3 percent from 1975. Surplus is a consequence of revenue collection in excess of estimates or reductions in authorized spending. This revenue category accounted for 10.2 percent of all budgeted municipal revenues in 1976.

Collected delinquent taxes and fines, 6.2 percent of total municipal revenues, were budgeted to reflect an 11.6 percent increase. A dollar hike of $12.4 million.

Despite the significant property tax increase, municipal budgets grew at less than half the rate they did from 1974 to 1976, and at the lowest rate in the past decade. Economic recovery stimulating revenue growth, combined with new statutory spending limitations on municipalities, could lead to further deceleration of the municipal budget growth rate and a decrease in reliance on the property tax as a revenue source for municipal budgets, predicts the New Jersey Taxpayers Association.

Electric knowledge needed to benefit a home's potential
By MARGUERITE WELDON
Home consultant Jersey Central Power and Light Co. Unless you have studied engineering, or paid attention to the intricacies of high school physics class, you may feel a bit at sea in the world of electricity. Amps, volts and circuits—what do they mean?

Start with the idea that electricity is movement around a circuit. Your home is equipped with several circuits, composed of insulated wires, attached to the supply of electricity provided by your electric utility. Within the wires are electrons—basic elements found in all matter. When electrical energy is applied to these electrons, they "dance" and move. The energy they produce can be drawn off to turn motors, produce heat or light lamps.

If your home is correctly and efficiently wired, the amount of electricity you can use is, for practical purposes, limitless. However, the wiring in your home has a limited capacity to prevent its being overloaded. It is protected by fuses or circuit breakers. And the appliances you use need only a fraction of the "big" capacity.

A typical home has service lines rated from 100 to 220 volts and from 22.5 to over 300 amperes. What does this mean? A volt is a measure of electric pressure. It's a way of stating the force which sets the electrons in motion. The more voltage applied, the more electricity there is available.

Amperage measures how many electrical units actually flow, taking into account the amount of resistance in the line—the laziness of these electrons. It can't be compared to the amount of distance a football player travels in a fast-rushing stream—a combination of amount and speed.

Wires and circuit breakers are rated in amps. Some fuses "blow" when current speed exceeds 15 amps, for instance, either that a fuse is defective. If a device is rated in amps, you obviously cannot plug it into a 15-amp line. (Amp never put in a fuse rated higher than the line—it will be responsible for the fire.)

Everyone should understand the electric potential of his dwelling. Try to live in an older apartment, and you would find that there isn't enough "juice" to support a new room air conditioner, or, probably, know what he's talking about and it may be necessary for you to wire with his permission.

In the same way, your living area is on a 15-amp circuit, there may not be sufficient current to power a new, large color television or to use an electric clothes dryer on the ceiling table.

Road the metal plates, hang tags and special sheets on a new appliance before you buy, especially if you're in an older building. And consider the benefits of rewiring. Your present situation doesn't live up to your needs today.

The artist and crafts person of the week was colored sand and yarn pictures. Artists included: Michael Mallozzi, Richard Wohand and Steve Nagar. As the arts and crafts project was completed, a Nole-tickey elimination tournament was held in order to determine the park's best player. Selected to go to the finals in the inter-playground competition was Douglas D'Amico.

ALVIN PLAYGROUND
Peggy Grusler and Joe Graziano Anticipating the hot weather of the hurricane, members of Alvin Park prepared for the storm by securing the benches to the ground and emptying out the contents of the storage bins. After the rains and winds subsided, a park clean-up took place before activities resumed. The cleanup was headed by Alvin to its former state were P. J. Martin, Ed Williams, Dawn Pohlman, Lori Pohlman, Laura Polcastro, Theresa DeFino, Billy (Toole) and leaders Peggy and Joe. An educational session took place after the storm as the younger members of the park learned to tell the ages of trees by counting the rings of the trees saved down by the workmen after the winds.

Battling racket took place on the drier park days with leader Joe acting as coach and pit-coach with players: Joe Graziano, Peter and Andy Ard, Peter Peck and Rich Polcastro.

The Alvin Animals' tree riot is almost complete. Many reports have been made of new floor is being added to the structure. The fort with its special "child-proof" construction has been the pet project of members Ken and Chuck Bell, Pat Piccolo, Dean Pashian and Joe DePaio.

Members of the Alvin Animal softball team are back in full swing since the summer school season is over. The Alvin Animals are scheduled to play the Springfield team on Saturday and Sunday. The team is coached by Peter Peck and Joe Graziano.

Carl's games provided entertainment for many children this rainy week. Games such as Old Maid, Kings in the Corner, Seal the Old Man's Pack and I Doubt I were the favorite activities of the Alvin Animals.

Foundation plans facility for elderly

Organized to serve the special needs of rural Ocean County's expanding population of elderly, the non-profit Crestwood Foundation has been granted a charter of incorporation by the state and tax-exempt status by the Internal Revenue Service.

The foundation will have its headquarters in Whiting, its address is Post Office Box 21, Whiting 08779. Telephone is 529-6777.

The foundation's major areas of interest are to pursue "religious, charitable, civic, cultural, scientific, literary, health or educational purposes," with special attention to the needs of senior citizens.

According to David A. Akman, president of the board, projects envisioned include a residential facility for the aging—including apartments with central dining room and other services available such as limited nursing care, nursing home facilities; special equipment for the projected medical center at Crestwood Village, and a facility for supervised exercise, recreation and health maintenance. Akman stated that because of its tax-exempt status, "contributions of any nature and size can now be accepted for the general fund of the foundation, and are deductible by the donor. Income tax returns to the full extent permitted by law.

Receipts and disbursements will be reported regularly to the IRS for its review. Commencing in the fall, the foundation is planning a series of open town meetings in Manchester Township, Ocean County, to explore the type of specific projects to be undertaken. All these meetings will be held on a regular basis. An informational brochure is in preparation for distribution, prior to the meetings, to amplify the objectives and to obtain the corporate charter.
