LIBRARY Within the labyrinth

By ROSE F. SIMON The Springfield Public Library lists the following titles among the recently received books.

AND AMERICA'S FUTURE "I wish for Victory" by John Morton Blum. Although it is not a history of the American people during World War II, this book helps to explain how the "winning" presence of Americans, nurtured in their culture and expressed in their politics, shaped American history.

The November candidates

Walter G. Halpin Alfred R. Liotta

Walter G. Halpin, Republican incumbent seeking his third five-year term as Union County clerk, states a number of innovations he has initiated during his service: a new records system, preparation of court calendars, printing of voter registration lists, addition of a passport office in Westfield, "personalization" of naturalization procedures, keeping records of votes during elections and the addition of a computer to store official records and select voters.

In April 1967, on my recommendation, the Board of Freeholders' capital improvement program provided that in an instant the first completely automated system for the retention and retrieval of public records in the United States. This was because of the growth of records and the lack of necessary storage space in my office," Halpin noted.

In 1968, the Board of Freeholders negotiated to purchase property in Westfield for county extension services. Because of the steady increase of passport applications in Union County, I needed approval from the Board of Freeholders to open a one-clerk annex in Westfield to serve people in the western end of the county who are in the habit of driving to Elizabeth. This has justified itself to the extent that we do more passport business in Westfield than we do in Elizabeth, the first and only county clerk in New Jersey to open such an office in the state.

Practicing as a director of the United States Passport Office, came to Elizabeth and presented Halpin with the first award for excellence in passport service ever given by the United States Department of State, which monitors United States passports. Dismissing the new citizenship ceremonies, Halpin changed the naturalization court procedure because it was a "cold and impersonal hearing, but one which meant so much to the applicant."

OUTLINING THE DUTIES for which the county clerk is responsible, Halpin noted, "Everything the clerk does is in accordance with federal law. It is an executive, judicial, legislative and administrative position, which is kept of the records (including all court records dating to 1827, when Union County separated from Essex County). His sworn duty is to serve the citizens of the county in all administrative affairs as economically as possible."

A clerk of the county courts, both civil and criminal. He is deputy clerk of the Superior Court of New Jersey, both civil and criminal, and is also deputy clerk of the Superior Court of the United States District Court in Newark. Halpin is also deputy clerk of the county courts, both civil and criminal. He is deputy clerk of the Superior Court of New Jersey, both civil and criminal, and is also deputy clerk of the Superior Court of the United States District Court in Newark.

Time To Spare

PHYSICAL SAVINGS

The following suggestions may help you develop a savings program that is right for you—one that takes into account your personal preferences, goals, values, financial situation and life-style.

Start now. Once you've made the decision to save, act on it.

Plan to have a realistic amount, one that won't leave you constantly strapped for cash or with unpaid bills.

Save where it's convenient.

Be consistent, regular.

Try to develop the habit of saving the same amount, the same time each month.

Keep your savings goal in mind. It'll help confirm your choice to save. When you save money, you don't give up your right to spend it, you merely defer spending until a future time.

Save in a savings account. Your account earns interest, is safe and insured, can't be stolen or burned and can be readily available when needed.

Carry with you only the amount of cash you need each day. With less cash available for "impulse buying," you may find more available for savings.
