The Springfield PTA Council this week reported it had received a letter of thanks from Robert E. Heinlein, president and director of Overlook Hospital, Summit, in recognition for a donation of funds collected by local children on Halloween.

Mrs. Pat Zavadny, PTA Council president, commented: "We wish to extend our thanks to the citizens of Springfield for their support of this project, and also to the United Counties Trust Company for their help in counting the money that was collected."

In his letter to Mrs. Zavadny, Heinlein declared: "We receive many contributions at this hospital for various pieces of equipment but the contribution of $268 from the children of Springfield for an IVAC infusion pump on the pediatric floor is the most heartwarming demonstration of concern that has come along in many years."

"Halloween presents many thoughts to children. We think you have very remarkable young persons to come up with this noble effort that will mean so much to youngsters trying to regain their health at Overlook."

"Please express our warm feelings for this most thoughtful gift. We hope the good thoughts the children will have from knowing they will be assisting each day someone of their age during a traumatic episode of life will compensate them for their tiring door-to-door march."

Dr. Rohde, in GM research, develops tire traction model

Dr. Steve Rohde, son of Mr. and Mrs. Henry Rohde of Northview terrace, Springfield, has joined with his associates at the General Motors Research Laboratories in Michigan to develop a mathematical model which allows deeper analysis of the motion of a tire rolling on wet pavement.

The model, according to Dr. Rohde, should help investigators optimize tire tread patterns and road designs for wet traction.

"With the model," Dr. Rohde explained, "two effects present in the motion of a tire tread element on wet pavement can be elevated together: the effect of a deformable tread element and the effect of a pavement microtexture."

His model is believed to be the first in which both of these effects have been treated together. Previous models have considered the tire tread elements to be rigid and the pavement to be smooth.

Although future application should aid in optimizing tire and road designs, the GM research mathematician noted that other factors must be considered. Among them are dry traction, tire wear, noise and power loss. He said other members of the GM Research Laboratories are exploring these areas.

Park commission reveals $33.5 million expansion plan

An ambitious $33.5 million expansion of park facilities was unveiled by the Union County Park Commission last week. The six-year plan, subject to approval of a budget-conscious Board of Freeholders, includes the construction of a 500-seat arena for exhibitions and sports events and an aquatic center with indoor and outdoor pools. The federal and state governments would provide about $10 million for the projects, with the county paying for the rest, probably through bonds.

The capital improvement plan is simply a proposal," said George Albanese, county manager. "I will take the entire package, review it and make my recommendations to the Board of Freeholders."

The board and the park commission are currently engaged in a court battle over the commission's future. Under the county's administrative code, adopted last year after the county's new charter went into effect, the park commission is to be abolished. The commission is protesting the action and until a final decision is reached by the courts the agency will remain semi-autonomous.

In seeking the $3 million aquatic center, the park board proposes to lease its existing pool at Wheeler Park in Linden. That plan has already drawn strong protests from the Linden City Council and its recreation superintendent, Al Volpe. Last year the county closed its pool in Railway Park. Under the park commission's capital budget plan, the aquatic center—an indoor pool with spectator seating and an outdoor pool with a wave-making machine—would be built in 1981.

The proposed $6 million sports complex would include an indoor ice skating rink, a 5,000-seat exhibition hall (which could also be used for sports events) and administrative offices for the park commission. George Cron, superintendent and general secretary of the commission, said seven municipalities have expressed an interest in locating the center within their boundaries. The municipalities are Summit, New Providence, Berkeley Heights, Plainfield, Scotch Plains and Mountaineers. The capital expenditure program would begin in 1977 with the acquisition of 6.3 acres adjacent to Cedar Brook Park in Plainfield. Also scheduled for that year is the development of Lenox Park in Springfield (adding a police and public gun range) and improvements at Mattano Park in Elizabeth.

Under the proposal the commission would acquire portions of Prince's Farm in Springfield, one of the county's last remaining farms. Other projects for that year are improvements at Ash Brook Park in Scotch Plains, Lenox Park and Mattano Park, Elizabeth-Roselle.

For 1979 the park agency wants to purchase 35 acres along rivers in the county to alleviate flooding problems. Also scheduled for 1979 is the construction of 19 additional tennis courts at various locations.

In 1980 the park commission wants to buy 200 acres in Springfield's Baltard Top section which would be used to expand the Walchug Reservation and Hidden Valley Park. The park agency is also seeking $1 million for 1982 to finish the development of Lenox Park. Additional funds are being sought to rebuild stables at Walchug Reservation which would be demolished if it is constructed through the park commission preserve.

700 given help by cancer group Skills Center is opened by UC to aid test-takers

The Union County unit of the American Cancer Society has provided services to some 700 local cancer patients so far this year at a cost of $22,000, according to Dr. Roy T. Forberg, Westfield, chairman of the unit's patient service committee.

Cancer patients in Union County receive assistance through the society's uniform service program. The object of the program is to provide assistance to cancer patients and their families by minimizing the financial burdens incurred by treatment for and assisting in the rehabilitation of the cancer patient.

Forberg noted that cancer patients receive information and counseling and post-operative therapy. Laryngeal cancer, for example, receives speech therapy at Elizabeth General Hospital's Green Clinic, free of charge. The society also assists the medically indigent cancer patients through partial payment for radiation therapy and diagnostic treatment procedures.

Skills Center is opened by UC to aid test-takers
Adults preparing for Armed Forces, Civil Service (CLEP) (College Level Examination Program), GED (General Educational Development) and other examinations or those wishing to sharpen their basic skills to meet vocational or personal objectives will have a new resource in Plainfield.

Union College will open a Skills Center at its Plainfield Urban Educational Center, 211 East Front St., on Jan. 17.

The Skills Center will enroll students for five-week periods and will operate Monday through Friday from 9 a.m. to noon.

"Students may continue in the program for as long as is required to meet their specific goals whether it be to prepare for a Civil Service examination or for further skills training for immediate employment," Miss Mairone Dooly, director of the Plainfield Urban Educational Center, said.

The Skills Center, Miss Dooly explained, will provide individualized and intensive instruction in reading, composition and arithmetic.

"Each student's program will be tailored to his specific needs and goals and no student will be required to repeat material that has already been mastered or to start instructions at a level for which he or she is not adequately prepared," Miss Dooly said.

Placement tests will be given to all participants to determine their current achievement levels and proper instructional levels according to the Plainfield instructor. Tuition for the Skills Center will be $60 for each five-week period. Miss Dooly said financial aid is available for financially disadvantaged students.

In addition to the Skills Center, Union College will offer college credit courses over the noon hour, evenings and Saturday mornings, and a number of noncredit continuing education and community service offerings throughout the spring semester.

3 courses dealing with mind among 21 in UC session UC will schedule 2 credit courses at Jefferson High

Three courses dealing with the mind will be offered in Union College's winter session, a special offering of noncredit courses beginning Monday, Jan. 17.

Transactional Analysis for Self-Awareness and Personal Growth, Mind Dynamics for Self-Improvement, and Psychology of Personal Adjustment are among 21 courses that will be offered in the eight-week session, according to Dr. Frank Dec, dean of special services and continuing education.

Transactional Analysis is based on the premise that an individual can become more aware of who he or she is, better understand why one acts in a particular way, improve interpersonal communications and set plans for personal growth by using T.A. as a motivational tool. The course, which includes both theory and exercises for practical application, will be offered on six consecutive Mondays from 7:00-9:30 p.m., beginning Jan. 17. Howard Hoffman of the International Transactional Analysis Association is the instructor. Tuition is $35 for Union County residents and $45 for all others.

Mind Dynamics for Self-Improvement is intended to help participants to develop better ways to relax, to communicate, to improve their concentration and health and to achieve greater peace of mind. Barbara Sachs, founder and director of Mind Dynamics of New Jersey and course instructor, adds that the more dynamic use of power potential will enable an individual to open up areas of intuition, ESP (extra-sensory perception) and inspiration.

The six-week course will be conducted on consecutive Tuesdays from 7:30 to 9:30 p.m., beginning Jan. 18. Tuition is $25 for Union County residents and $39 for all others.

Coping with Frustrations and Tensions will be the major thrust in Psychology of Personal Adjustment. The eight-session course will also deal with such questions as "Who am I?" "Why do certain things bother me?" and "How can I relate better than I do?" Dr. Ace L. Talbot, professional marriage and family counselor, will instruct the classes, which will meet on Wednesdays from 7:00-9:30 p.m., beginning Jan. 19. Tuition is $35 for Union County residents and $45 for all others.

For Teenagers About

THIS WEEK'S LETTER: I am in a situation where I need some good advice—I have known this guy for four years and have been seeing him for the last two years; I am 18 and he is 16. I haven't seen him for almost five months and I won't date anyone else, because I love him. I used to constantly write him letters, which he never answered. He's called me once since he's had my number, which was a long time ago. I want to date other guys but I want to find out why I am being "strung out" into the air. Can you help me?

OUR REPLY: The truth is, you can help yourself. Take responsibility for the status of your relationship. Communicate with the young man you're so involved with. Make certain he's clear on what you want and to let him know your feelings with him. From what you've written, it appears your friend has lost interest. At your age, there's really nothing to worry about. If you really like him, you can try to let him know your feelings for him. It's up to you.

HOLIDAY HOME - This new model is typical of the homes offered at Holiday City, Berkeley Township, where nine designs are starting at $25,900.

Holiday City sales jump attributed to new models

Holiday City at Berkeley, the adult community in Berkeley Township, Ocean County, broke all its records as more than 125 units were purchased during a six-week period in October-November. Bill McCleery, sales manager at the community on Rt. 37 (Just off Exit 82 of the Garden State Parkway), said new model homes, which made their debut approximately a month and a half ago, "have captured the imagination of the public and their investment as well."

'Livability' emphasized in decor of model homes

How will a home look when the buyer-family is living in it? That is the main concern of interior decor at the model homes of Fawn Lakes, the Mancini Company's 45-unit, over-condominium community in Manalapan, which offers pre-retirement as well as retirement living in a lake location less than 10 miles from Long Beach Island.

$51,500 starting price listed by Chateau condos

Harvey Cosden, president of H. Cosden Construction Co., Inc., of Wayne, has announced that their "Sunset Chateau" Townhouse Condominiums, located on Bloomfield Avenue in West Caldwell, are already more than one-third sold out. According to Cosden, buyers were attracted to the condominium while they were in the construction stages because of their location, appearance, designed-for-living layout, and "extremely reasonable" price structure.

Beekman condos feature Tudor, colonial designs

Beekman Village's recent previews to homebuyers "exceeded all expectations," as 10 units were sold rapidly. Bob McConnell, president of McConnell & Company, Lakewood, the exclusive sales agent.

Greenbriar tops 2,000-mark in buyer move-ins

With over 100 people moving into Greenbriar in Brick Town during the past three months, the distinction of topping the 2,000 move-in mark at the U.S. Home adult community goes to Herman and Marjorie Schrier, formerly of New Rochelle, N.Y. Long-time visitors to Marjorie's cousin in the community, the couple is well acquainted with the cultural and recreation activities at Greenbriar.

Where to write Seniors co-op

Though programs to benefit the aged were one of eight "priority" spending categories for which federal revenue-sharing was originally intended, only one-half of one percent of the money actually went for that purpose.

Advertisement for Greenwood Park Condominiums, featuring a large '8' graphic and listing prices from $10,990 to $22,990.

CHEESEQUAKE VILLAGE offers persons 52 years of age and over enough 'elbow room' to enjoy numerous activities. Among the services available are private bus transportation for shopping, trips to the race track, theaters, Radio City Music Hall and state fairs; fishing trips, ball games, participation in recreational activities, physical fitness programs and swimming in the private pool.

Royalty Estates invites buyers to comparison shop

Bob Giovine, developer of Royalty Estates, a custom-home community on Bay Avenue in Toms River, has announced the sale of seven homes within a month "as a direct result of check-list comparison shopping."

Tar/Taste Theory Exploded.

Taste-science breakthrough gives low tar MERIT the flavor of cigarettes having 60% more tar.

By locating certain flavor-rich ingredients in cigarette smoke, ingredients that deliver taste way out of proportion to tar, researchers at Philip Morris have disproven the theory that cigarette flavor depends on the amount of tar that goes with it.

Tests Verify Taste. In taste tests involving thousands of cigarette smokers like yourself, MERIT was reported to deliver as much—or more—taste than current low tar leaders.

Warning: The Surgeon General Has Determined That Cigarette Smoking Is Dangerous to Your Health. MERIT and MERIT MENTHOL.

Varsity athletes to induct 4 alumni into Hall of Fame

By GARY SHERMAN
The Jonathan Dayton Regional High School Varsity Club will hold its annual Alumni Night next Thursday at 8 in the boys' gym.
The featured basketball game between the Dayton varsity and the alumni will begin at approximately 7:15 p.m. During half-time the Varsity Club will induct four members into their Hall of Fame.
Recipients this year include William Glowacki (1938), William Dietrich (1948), Joseph Schaffernoth (1958) and Michael Lester (1958).
Glowacki participated in football, basketball and track while in high school. Besides earning three varsity letters in football, he was selected in his senior year to the All-State football team. In addition to being captain of the Bulldogs, he won the 1939 New Jersey place kicking championship sponsored by the Newark Bears.
On the basketball court, Glowacki was a three-time letter winner. In his senior year he was picked to be on the All-Union County team. In 1938 and 1940 he scored the winning baskets in both Union County championship games. As a member of the track squad for one season, Glowacki displayed his talents in throwing the javelin.
Directly following high school, he attended Temple University on a football scholarship and played until World War II, when he went overseas with the 15th Army Air Corps for two and one-half years. Glowacki is now a sales representative for Allied Van Lines out of Westfield.
Dietrich participated in football and basketball while attending Jonathan Dayton. Lettering three times in football, Dietrich says his most "thrilling experience" was when the Bulldogs defeated rival Rahway for the first time during his senior year. As a basketball player, he lettered twice and was selected to the All-Union County and All-State teams in his senior year.
Following his 1945 graduation from high school, Dietrich attended Central Connecticut State College, where he played four years of football, basketball and baseball. He won the Gladstone Award, the student-athlete award, the highest award of its kind at the college.
He coached high school basketball for five years: one year at Middletown, Conn.; three years at Litchfield, Conn.; and one year at Irvington.

Missed foul shots hurt Dayton girls in opening game

By MIKE MEIXNER
The Jonathan Dayton Regional High School girls' varsity basketball team opened its season with a 58-40 loss to Johnson Regional of Clark last Friday at home. The Dayton quintet will play home games against Union Catholic tomorrow afternoon and Gov. Livingston next Thursday evening, Dec. 23.
Coach Ruth Townsend said the team had played quite well, despite the loss. She noted that the Dayton athletes had missed 10 foul shots, which had a vital effect on the outcome.
The first half was a seesaw contest, with neither team able to open up a lead. In the later stages, however, the Clark women were able to use their height advantage, taking most of the rebounds to preserve their lead.
Sophomore Liz (Crickle) Franklin led the Dayton team with 15 points, and Sue Teofsky had 14.
Mary King, a sophomore center, rebounded well and scored nine points. Ellen Slieve, third sophomore in the starting lineup, poured through five points in her initial varsity contest. Kathy Gennadi had four points, and Sharon McNary had two.
Other members of the varsity squad are Barbara Martino, Michelle Gan, Cheryl Ransen and Meryl Manders, who has been slowed by an early-season illness.
Leading action on the junior varsity level are Linda Cleveland, Mary Jo Soudert, Linda Smith, Tina Segall, Debbie Welmbach and Joanne Ruocco.

Dayton nips Johnson Regional, 53-51; squad plays in Parsippany tomorrow

By MIKE MEIXNER
The Jonathan Dayton Regional High School basketball team opened the season with a 53-51 victory over Arthur Johnson Regional of Clark. The squad will travel to Parsippany tomorrow with hopes of improving its record.
Dayton made a sensational comeback after Billy Smorol, who scored 15 points, had directed Clark to a 31-26 halftime lead. With a hometown crowd cheering them on, however, the Bulldogs rallied back to tie the game near the end of the third period.
Wille Wilburn, a junior, got his first taste of varsity action. Although playing only a short time, Wilburn gathered valuable experience. Pete Jacques, a co-captain of the team, also sparked an offense.
Kevin Doty led a first-period outburst that sank both to clinch the victory. A late Clark basket provided the final score of 53-51.
Dayton had an extremely balanced attack, led by Kroner's 12 markers. John also directed the attack, using the shot effectively in the waning moments.
Junior Kevin Walker proved he could play on the varsity level, rebounding well and scoring 11 points. He put in the points that put Dayton ahead near the end of the third period.
Wille Wilburn, a junior, got his first taste of varsity action. Although playing only a short time, Wilburn gathered valuable experience. Pete Jacques was also inserted for defensive purposes.
The team, coached by Richard Iacono, is stocked with eight sophomores, six juniors and three senior starters. Coach Iacono says he expects the team to do well this year.
"We are very young this year. But our balance will help us do well. The dual meets in the tournaments we may have a problem due to our lack of experience... Yet we still look good."
In practice meets the team has stood up extremely well and seem to be in excellent shape.

Juniors top two opponents with defense

By CRAIG CLICKENGER

The Springfield Juniors Minutemen, under the direction of Fred March, took their second and third victories of the season from Florham Park and Livingston.

The local seventh graders' defense was most impressive as they held Florham Park to just 28 points winning by a score of 39-28. Robert Stein led the team with 14 points. He also pulled down a career-high total of 20 rebounds. Larry Maier kept Florham Park on their toes by compiling five steals to lead all players in that category. Larry added six points and also led the team with four assists. Another promising Minutemen, John Sivola, was strong off the bench as he recorded 16 points, second only to Stein. John added a pair of buckets to help the offense.

Peter Ard and Danny (Zip) Cirelli were the other starters for the Juniors. Both boys exhibited many talents at their backcourt positions in shooting and playmaking. Zip shot for eight points while Peter netted four. They had three and two assists, respectively. Zip Cirelli demonstrated his ability to make things happen as he totaled four assists and three steals.

Other scorers for Springfield were: Runny Fusco (seven); Tomny Ard (five); Marlon Jackson (four); Robert Henswood (four); and Kyle Huggins (two). David Johnson and John Udini also saw action for the Minutemen.

The Juniors made their record 3-0 last Saturday as they defeated Livingston, 57-30. Peter Ard, who led all scorers with 13 points, was outstanding in the victory. Ard's aggressiveness both on offense and defense spared his teammates their third victory in the last quarter with Roy Zitomer and Jerry Blabill hitting key baskets and it ended in a heart-stopping, two-point victory for the Juniors.

Roy Zitomer led all players with 18 points, which came in the crucial fourth quarter. Zitomer's quick thinking and sharp ball-handling played an important role in the Minutemen's comeback. Jerry Blabill, who finished with 10 points, exhibited some very timely shooting in the victory. Blabill was also very alert on defense as he led his team with six steals.

Controlling the boards for the Minutemen were Billy Chesley with 15 rebounds and rebounds. Billy Chesley led all players in that category, grabbing 13 rebounds. Bill also netted six points.

Seniors top Florham Park, 53-51, but then fail to Livingston unit, 66-63

By CRAIG CLICKENGER

The Springfield Senior Minutemen split their second and third games of the basketball season, squeaking by Florham Park last Wednesday, 53-51, and then losing to a fine Livingston team Saturday 66-63.

On Saturday, the Springfield seniors were neck-and-neck throughout the first two quarters of the contest with Springfield leading by only a basket at halftime. Then, late in the third quarter, Florham Park started to pull away. Springfield came back strong in the last quarter with Roy Zitomer and Jerry Blabill hitting key baskets and it ended in a heart-stopping, two-point victory for the Juniors.

Roy Zitomer led all players with 18 points, which came in the crucial fourth quarter. Zitomer's quick thinking and sharp ball-handling played an important role in the Minutemen's comeback. March dates set for annual flower and garden show

The 11th annual New Jersey Flower & Garden Show, with a theme of "Gardening Colors Your Life," will be held March 5-14 at the Morristown Armory.

"Color is an essential yet often neglected ingredient of the successful garden," said I.K. Christensen of Wood-Ridge, president of the show, in announcing this year's theme. "When you add color to home plantings, you add vitality, warmth and excitement. This show will illustrate how the amateur enthusiasts and even professionals can most effectively achieve this. And because the show is held in March, the home gardeners can get an early jump on the season, sort out his ideas and plans before it's actually time to start digging in."

Because of the high attendance at the show last year, additional parking facilities and free shuttle bus service will be provided at the Armory during weekends.

The non-profit show has been sponsored since its inception by the state's leading horticultural organizations: The N.J. State Florists' Association; the New Jersey Association of Nurserymen, Inc.; the Metropolitan Chapter of the Association of Nurserymen, Inc.; and the N.J. Plant & Flower Growers Association.

In addition to Christensen, other officers elected at the annual board of trustees meeting are James Corradi of Summit, vice-president, and William E. Snyder of North Brunswick, secretary-treasurer.

Board members include S. Lawrence Benzec of Hightstown, N.J. Association of Nurserymen; Duke Bremmen of Union, N.J. Plant & Flower Growers Association; Corradi, Metropolitan Chapter of the N.J. Association of Nurserymen; Frans Paragies of Bensenville, N.J. Association of Nurserymen; Fred Herrmann of Middlesex, N.J. Plant & Flower Growers Association; Lowell Kemmick of Wyckoff, Metropolitan Chapter, N.J. Association of Nurserymen; Lester Pyle of Gilette, N.J. State Florists' Association, and Charles Walkover of Bound Brook, N.J. State Florists' Association.

Ten Crucial Days of culture in N. J. Festival to run the gamut of performing arts

The New Jersey Bicentennial Commission's Festival of the Ten Crucial Days will provide an unprecedented showcase for many of the state's major cultural institutions.

A series of performances featuring symphony, opera, ballet, theater and choral music will highlight the festival, which will begin on Christmas Day and run through Jan. 3.

Some of the performances will feature original works specially commissioned for the festival. The premier will be held in Trenton's War Memorial Auditorium, but performances also will be scheduled for other parts of the state.

Gov. Brendan Byrne said, this week, "The festival will give New Jersey the opportunity to display the excellent cultural resources of this state, which have for too long been overlooked."

Former Gov. Robert Meyner said the festival will climax an "exciting year in New Jersey's Bicentennial celebration, which has produced an outpouring of grassroots excitement and activity far beyond anything that was anticipated."

"The festival will offer probably the most significant package of New Jersey's own artistic talents in the state's history," said Alvin F. Genshon, chairman of the State Council on the Arts and a member of the Bicentennial Commission.

The festival will commemorate the 200th anniversary of Washington's Crossing of the Delaware, the two Battles of Trenton and the Battle of Princeton—the historic events which helped turn the tide of the Revolution in favor of the Americans.

THE PERFORMING GROUPS which will participate include the New Jersey State Opera, The New Jersey Ballet, The Newark Boys' Chorus, The Greater Trenton Symphony, The George Street Playhouse of New Brunswick, The Pro Arte Choral, the Princeton Ballet Company, the Cherry Hill Wind Symphony and the Masterwork Chorus.

In addition, there will be an American Film Festival and a continuing series of daytime cultural programs designed specially for school children. Those schedules will be announced soon.

The schedule of major evening cultural performances follows:

Sunday, Dec. 26—The Greater Trenton Symphony Orchestra will give a concert at 8 p.m. in the War Memorial Auditorium. They will perform the Battle of Trenton Symphony composed by James Hewitt in 1792 and McConkey's Ferry composed by George Antheil, a Trenton-born composer.

Monday, Dec. 27—The nationally acclaimed Newark Boys Chorus at 8 p.m. in the War Memorial Auditorium will give a special choral

Cost-of-living clauses

More than six million workers were covered by cost-of-living escalator clauses in 1975, according to "U.S. Workers and Their Jobs: The Changing Picture," a Labor Department publication. Years of high rates of inflation have spurred union efforts to obtain cost-of-living escalator clauses in collective bargaining agreements, which provide for periodic automatic adjustment of wage rates based on changes in prices.

Board decides not to close any school for 1977-1978

The Springfield Board of Education voted Monday night not to close an elementary school new September as a response to a continuing decline in enrollment. The vote will keep the present school alignment at least through the 1977-78 year.

The proposal to close one elementary school was defeated last spring. Board members acknowledged the issue will remain under consideration as long as student population continues to decline, and that they could well decide to close a school within the next several years.

Total enrollment in the district's four schools stands at 1,322, down from more than 2,000 a decade ago. The James Caldwell School, serving the northern half of the town, has 321 youngsters from kindergarten to the fourth grade.

Serving the southern part of Springfield, the Thelma Sandmeier School has 313 children from kindergarten to third grade. The Edward Walton School, covering the same area, has 186 pupils in grades four and five. The Florence Gaddis School, serving the entire town, has 512 students in grades six to eight. Local teenagers attend Jonathan Dayton Regional High School, which is not a responsibility of the local school board.

Monday's vote, before some 20 citizens at the Lyndon Childen School, was five to three to maintain the status quo. Voting yes were Gregory Clarke, Gloria Starr, Doris Gittes, Charles Chih and Philip Feinlich.

Opposed were James Adams, George Day and August Caprio, board president. Laura Rosenbaum, who was not present, sent a letter declaring herself in favor of the status quo. The debate preceding the vote centered on whether any fiscal savings to be achieved through a school closing would outweigh possible damage to the education provided local youngsters. The board had studied proposals to close either the Walton or the Caldwell School, but the vote to maintain the status quo removed any need to choose between the two.

Savings were outlined as follows: status quo, $32,600, through the loss of two teachers; close

Jersey moves school voting to March 29

Local Board of Education elections, originally scheduled in February, will now be postponed until March 29 after the New Jersey State Senate last week approved the delay because of continuing legislative uncertainty on the amount of state aid which will be available to schools.

Feb. 1—Deadline for school districts to prepare itemized budget to be submitted to the county superintendent of schools for approval.

Feb. 25—Voter registration deadline for school election, either at the Union County Board of Elections, Elizabeth, or at the office of the municipal clerk.

Feb. 17—Deadline for filing of candidates' nominating petitions with the secretary of the local Board of Education (4 p.m.).

Feb. 18—Drawing for position on the ballot.

Feb. 25—Last date for a candidate to withdraw his name.

March 1—Earliest date to hold a public hearing on the budget.

March 17—Last day to adopt a budget.

March 24—Last day for candidates to file appointment challenges and objections with the secretary of the Board of Education.

March 29—Elections.

April 4—Election results will be announced.

Weltchek charges bias by DOT on Rt. 78 path

Mayor Robert Weltchek charged Tuesday that there is a built-in bias in favor of the original Rt. 78 path through the Watchung Reservation, contained in the draft Environment Impact Statement (EIS) issued last spring by the N.J. Department of Transportation.

The mayor spoke at a press conference he held at Springfield Town Hall in conjunction with David Sives, environmental specialist hired as special counsel by the Township of Springfield.

"The original proposal to construct the superhighway segments ending in Springfield and in Berkeley Heights," Weltchek said, "was never forced to study alternative alignments in greater depth than in the previous EIS. The new report will appear biased if the
