Proclamation calls attention to daily health

Gov. Brendan Byrne this week issued a call for preventive medicine, proclaiming Wednesday as the third annual Health Education Day for New Jerseyans.

At his request, the College of Medicine and Dentistry of New Jersey (CMDNJ), will provide expertise and guidance to the statewide program, supplying resources and materials to institutions and groups who wish to sponsor local observances.

"There are few more valuable activities than inculcating good health habits in young and old alike," the governor said in his proclamation. "I urge that, on Health Education Day, we focus on the state's schools, libraries, hospitals, pharmacies, churches and other educational and health-related agencies. The theme for this year's activities is 'Keep a Healthy Balance,' underlining the need for good diet, proper rest and exercise, and regular checkups.

Thousands of copies of a poster displaying the theme and other Health-Education Day materials are now being distributed by CMDNJ with grant support from the Hunterdon Health Fund. The packet of materials is designed to serve as a basis for developing local programs with assistance from community agencies and professional groups.

Hospital group in favor of equitable health rates

Members of the New Jersey Hospital Association unanimously voted to support a call for equitable health rates.

Approximately 325 hospital representatives met at the association's annual meeting which was held April 20 at the Marriott in Saddle Brook to discuss, among other health issues, pending state legislation.

A bill (S-468) was proposed that would extend the commissioner of health's authority to cover all sources of hospital revenue.

Recently, Gov. Brendan T. Byrne announced that he would favor an amendment to the bill, which would establish a rate-setting commission. The NJHA heartily endorsed the idea but cautioned that the commission should be an independent commission—similar to the PUC—within the Department of Health. Also, that the amendment guarantee fiscal solvency for all approved hospitals, non-discriminatory rates for equal services, and provision for the inclusion of hospitals' full financial requirements with timely establishment of rates and an adequate appeals process.

According to Jack W. Owen, president of NJHA, "Association representatives have met with representatives of the governor's office and the Department of Health and told them it was vitally important that these areas be addressed in the proposed amendment. However, the final version of the bill failed to adequately deal with all these issues.

"Therefore, on behalf of all the hospitals of the state," said Owen, "we will seek either a favorable amendment of S-468 or propose new legislation."

He added, "Conscious efforts to reduce hospital costs in New Jersey have resulted in a rate of increase that is well below the national average. We are proud of that record. But," he said, "it is not enough."

Directory lists historical units

"Historical Organizations in New Jersey: A Directory" has been published by the New Jersey Historical Commission and the League of Historical Societies. It provides up-to-date information about 266 agencies, including historical societies, museums and government agencies.

The first edition of the directory, published in 1972, listed 152 organizations. In the past five years 72 new local historical societies have been added.

The 60-page directory is edited by the commission's associate director, Richard Waldron, and is illustrated with drawings by Joseph Collier. It is available for $2.50 from the New Jersey Historical Commission, 113 W. State St., Trenton 08620; check payable to Treasurer, State of New Jersey.

Other related events on May 10 will be demonstrations by Dorothea Connolly, star of NJPTV's "Frieda Kitchen" in the housewares department between 11 a.m. and 4 p.m., and an NJPTV booth on programming and UHF awareness in the radio and television department.

The Community Companion program is open to volunteers of all ages.

North African exhibit at Newark Museum

The many layers of the original Berber inhabitants are illustrated in Moroccan tent hangings, woven in both pile and flat weave fashion. Berber influences are also evident in a group of textiles, pottery and jewelry from the Kabylie region of Algeria.

A complete Bedouin tent will fill the museum's South Gallery, along with the stalls of cloth and copper merchants from an Algerian bazaar and the interior of a well-appointed Algerian home. Many of the artifacts from Egypt, Tunisia, Morocco and Algeria that will be seen in the show were collected by the museum's founder, John Cotton Dana, on two trips to North Africa in the 1920s.

One of Dana's major interests was in discovering how people lived at each stage of the objects of daily use. In Egypt, for example, he acquired the Bedouin tent with its interior furnishings for the museum's collection, as well as a velvet covered domy saddle and a water vendor's goatskin water bag and brass cups.

The rugs, metal work, pottery, leather, clothing and jewelry mirror the foreign influences—Arabian, Spanish, French, Turkish and Jewish—that were especially apparent in urban areas. Objects from rural areas, where these influences were less pronounced, retain the essentially geometric patterns of traditional designs. These designs of the 1920s are still seen in the objects of daily use.

The committee also granted a contract for swimming pool chemicals to Utility Chemical Co., Paterson. Utility's bid of $2,404.44 was not the lowest, but Township Clerk Arthur Puelver explained that of the two rival contractors, one submitted only a partial proposal and the other—whose bids were approximately $50 lower than Utility's—failed to include a bond in the proposal.

Connecticut man hired on 7-1 vote

By HELEN REYNOLDS

The Union County Regional High School District Board of Education chose a Connecticut applicant as head football coach for the Dayton campus Tuesday during a stormy meeting in which an unprecedented gag order was imposed on 90 Springfield-Mountainside residents who wanted another man for the job.

The board voted 7-1, with one abstention, to hire 27-year-old Angelo Senese from the Pawtucket-area of Connecticut, where he is assistant football coach at Stenington High School. The crowd obviously wanted another applicant: Don Carpenter of Springfield, assistant coach at New Providence High School for 15 years. Carpenter, who serves on the Springfield Recreation Commission, is a Dayton alumnus who starred in football and basketball and was "athlete of the year" in 1958.

The board's roll-call vote for Senese was barely audible above the roar of the crowd, reacting angrily after board president Charles E. Vitale Jr. had abruptly halted chair recognition of audience comments.

"In five years (as board president), I've never cut off the public... You're pushing me to that point for the first time. I'm very, very close to that point," Vitale warned, seconds before he acted.

TWO OF THE THREE speakers whom Vitale had formally recognized—Sandy Irene Mountainside and Mel Vargas of Springfield—were still on their feet. Vitale had twice gavelled Irene out of order, telling him to "address the chair," not to direct his questions to the staff or to board member Natalie Wald, senior representative from Springfield. Others were speaking without any recognition from the chair.

Vitale gavelled loudly and announced that the right to speak during the rest of the meeting was "closed to the public." Most of the audience continued to talk. "Are you going to throw at least 50 parents into jail?" shouted one man from the back of the room. "Is this democracy in action?" shouted Pietro M. Petino Sr. of Springfield, echoed by Anthony Lanzetta of Springfield. "Let them speak."

The commotion died during comments from board member Marilyn Hart, the Mountainside representative, before she cast the lone vote against hiring Senese. She repeated in public what she had told Charles Bauman, assistant superintendent in charge of personnel, during a closed executive session.

Bauman, I think you have stacked the deck," Dr. Hart said. "I think you have not given one of my applicants a chance."

Committee approves ordinance, awards contract for pool work

By DAVID LIEBERFARB

The Springfield Township Committee approved an ordinance and awarded the contract for the pool work to the Municipal swimming pool Tuesday night. The ordinance appropriates $15,000 for repairs to the pool, which was approximately $50 lower than the bid submitted by the pool. Shortly after its unanimous adoption, the committee entertained bids for the repairs. S. Rotondo & Son, Inc., of Summit submitted the lowest of three bids, $10,832, and was awarded the contract.

The committee also granted a contract for swimming pool chemicals to Utility Chemical Co., Paterson. Utility's bid of $2,404.44 was not the lowest, but Township Clerk Arthur Puelver explained that of the two rival contractors, one submitted only a partial proposal and the other—whose bids were approximately $50 lower than Utility's—failed to include a bond in the proposal.

Father Oehling to get citation from Unico

The Rev. Edward R. Oehling of St. James Church in Springfield will be named "Citizen of the Year" by the township's Unico Chapter at its annual dinner-dance May 20 at the Mountainside Inn, Rt. 22, Mountainside.

The ceremony is part of the organization's observance of "I Am an American" Day, proclaimed by President Carter.

Father Oehling, who was ordained in 1954 and has served at St. James for 22 years, has moderated its Holy Name Society and been involved with its Confraternity of Christian Doctrine, Ministers of the Eucharist and Lectors and the parish blood bank.

Born in Newark, Father Oehling served at Queen of Peace Church in North Arlington before being transferred to Springfield. He was graduated from St. Benedict's Prep School and Seton Hall University and received his religious training at the Immaculate Conception Seminary in Darlington.

In addition to his religious functions, Father Oehling is a member of the Springfield Clergy Group and the township's Juvenile Committee. The committee, which includes educators, clergy and police and public representatives, deals with young offenders guilty of minor crimes who need not be subjected to a court hearing. The clergy group strives to increase understanding between the various

Spared by Redcoats, house to be dedicated as national landmark

The Cannon Ball House, one of four homes that escaped the British burning of Springfield 158 years ago, will be formally dedicated Sunday, June 4, as a national historic site.

"It will be a major event for the town," said Madeline Lancaster, president of the Springfield Historical Society, which will coordinate the celebration.

The Cannon Ball House has been selected by the state historic preservation officer and designated by the National Park Service, U.S. Department of the Interior, for listing in the National Register of Historic Sites.

The house is about 237 years old. Mrs. Lancaster said, and is believed to have been spared by the British because they used it as a hospital after the Battle of Springfield. It was pierced by a cannon ball during the battle and thus got its popular name.

The Historical Society, organized two years earlier, acquired title to the house in 1955 as a bequest from C. Harry Casperson, subject to a $10,000 mortgage. The society refinanced the mortgage at $12,000 with 20-year financing through bonds bought by members. Mrs. Lancaster led the drive to retire the remaining bonds, $8,000 in 1976, and the society celebrated the mortgage-burning.

Restoration of the house has been continuing for a decade. Townspeople bought reproductions of old, oil-size window panes for installation in 1968 as memorials to friends and relatives. In 1970, teachers of Florence Gaudineer

Hearing is held on establishing flood authority

The Assembly Energy and Natural Resources Committee recently heard public testimony on legislation proposing the establishment of flood control authority for the Green Brook and Rahway River sub-basins. The hearing was held May 3 in the Scotch Plains Municipal Building.

As sponsor of the Green Brook Flood Control Authority Act being considered by the Legislature, Assemblyman Donald T. DiFrancesco expressed his concern that "a comprehensive system of flood control management" be established in New Jersey.

"We cannot afford further loss of life and property" from the continual flooding that occurs in this area," DiFrancesco said. "We have more than $2.7 billion worth of property in the Green Brook basin which is regularly threatened by flood waters, and the heavy concentration of population and investment make any flood a potential disaster."

Citizens and elected officials from the affected areas of Union, Middlesex and Somerset counties appeared before the panel to provide testimony on the flooding issue. DiFrancesco noted that the traditional approach to flood problems in this state has been "piecemeal and ineffective" one.

Players hatch a hit 'Cuckoo' cast soars high

BY AMY V. SCOTT
The Springfield Community Players, in their eighth year of existence, reached full maturity last weekend with a powerful production of "One Flew Over the Cuckoo's Nest."

Directed by Manfred Orbach, this compelling drama brought a capacity audience to its feet for the ovation after a searing climax.

In the starring role of Randle P. McMurphy, Mel Lazarowitz shows glowing intensity in his multi-faceted portrayal. Yvonne Allen's Nurse Ratched is unbelievable menacing and in complete control of every scene.

But the list of credits could be endless. Marshall Gitter as the Indian, Bromden, seems perfect in a part calling for strength and tenderness. James Melan as the intellectual and impotent Harding, gives a sensitive performance. Gary Charvin, as the stuttering and doomed Billy Bibbit, is the star of the show.

The set is stark and realistic, and the lighting is used with great effectiveness. Of course, the overall credit must go to the director, Orbach. His backstage presence is clearly evident in the professionalism of this unpaid troupe. Further performances are scheduled.

Parents and children may visit the Bookmobile Saturday from 9 to 11 a.m., Sunday from 9 a.m. to 1 p.m., and Monday from 2 to 4 p.m. Chairman of the fund-raising event is Mrs. Kathy Ehrhardt.

Corps goes untested; Dayton finishes 2nd

Ten competing teams and a standing-room crowd showed up at Gaudinier School recently for the first statewide color-guard competition held in Springfield. But the host—the color guard of the Springfield Fire and Drum Corps—literally wound up in a class all by itself.

The color guard of the Springfield corps, composed of seventh and eighth graders, found no challengers at its own level. So the youngsters ruled out a trophy for themselves, as hosts, and performed a no-contest exhibition.

At the high school level, Gov. Livingston Regional, Berkeley Heights, squeezed past Verona for the first-place trophy in the large-guard class. Summit took third place. Trophies in the small-guard class went to Hawthorne, first; Jonathan Dayton Regional, second; and Lakeland third.

Schools issue warnings about child molesters

The appearance of a potential molester can often be misleading," Dr. Fred Baruchin, superintendent of Iron schools, has warned in a printed message sent with every pupil from kindergarten through eighth grade.

Baruchin, working with Det. Lt. Sam Calabrese of the Springfield Police Department, elaborated seven points which, he believes, parents should review with schoolchildren: (1) the potential molester often looks respectable; (2) it isn't always strangers who bother children; (3) children should not approach people in parked or stopped cars; (4) children should avoid talking to people in cars; (5) unusual incidents should be reported to a parent or teacher; (6) children should avoid hitchhiking or walking themselves in lonely places.

Children "cannot live in an aura of fear," Baruchin said, "but they can learn to be perceptive, anticipatory and sensible in today's society."

He said the warning was prompted by two molestation attempts in a neighborhood in Summit. There have been "no reports of children being bothered by strangers in Springfield" recently, Baruchin added, but "some communication on the topic seems desirable."

Baruchin and the police department also renewed their year-round campaign on bicycle safety with advice for children to ride with traffic, never "ride double," carry identification and wear bicycles in good condition.

Rutherford-a statewide signal to sound a loud cancer alarm

By DR. HENRY BIRNE
Springfield health officer
The town of Rutherford has sensitized everyone to the reality that New Jersey has the highest cancer rate in the nation. There were 32 cases of leukemia and other blood-related malignancies in Rutherford within the past five years, and the cancer query was especially significant because of the age of victims. Six of the cases were in the 5 to 19-year-old group.

People became angry and frightened in a way they had not been before, particularly because of the children who were stricken.

The state epidemiologists came to Rutherford and told how blood malignancies, leukemias, generally attack the young and nobody knows why.

The concentration of cases in Rutherford was called a "cluster," a local confined spot. Sometimes, in various parts of the nation, disease clusters, or suspected clusters, are investigated.

Not every state is as cancer conscious as New Jersey. Other places are not as likely therefore to pick out clusters. The rate above the national average is 17 percent above the national average death rate from the disease. The state is also 50 percent over the national average for bladder and other urinary malignancies.

Locally, in the municipalities of Summit, New Providence, Berkeley Heights and Springfield, the overall cancer death rates appear to be consistent with what we may expect from the age distributions of residents. We expect localities with relatively elderly populations to have higher cancer death rates than places where people are young.

"During 1976 the all-ages cancer death rate for Summit, New Providence, Berkeley Heights and Springfield was less than the state rate as a whole. The overall rate within this health department area showed 159 people died of cancer per 100,000 (population adjusted), compared to Union County's 200.5 and the state-wide rate of 196.3 per 100,000 people."

Statewide statistics offered almost 1 1/2 percent more cancer deaths in 1976 than in 1975. Lung cancer increased in New Jersey by 3 percent and remained the most commonly afflicted organic site. Next in descending order were cancers of the large intestine, breast, pancreas, and stomach.

Recently a virus was isolated from the cells of a human patient with leukemia. The virus appeared similar to certain viruses which cause the same type of leukemia in primates. Scientists know about interactions between virus and environmental chemicals, and that many chemicals common in New Jersey air and water activate latent tumor viruses in animal cells. They know they are at least 100 known or suspected cancer causing agents in New Jersey's air and water. Research is being done to find whether certain vaccines can air up immunities to protect animals from cancer.

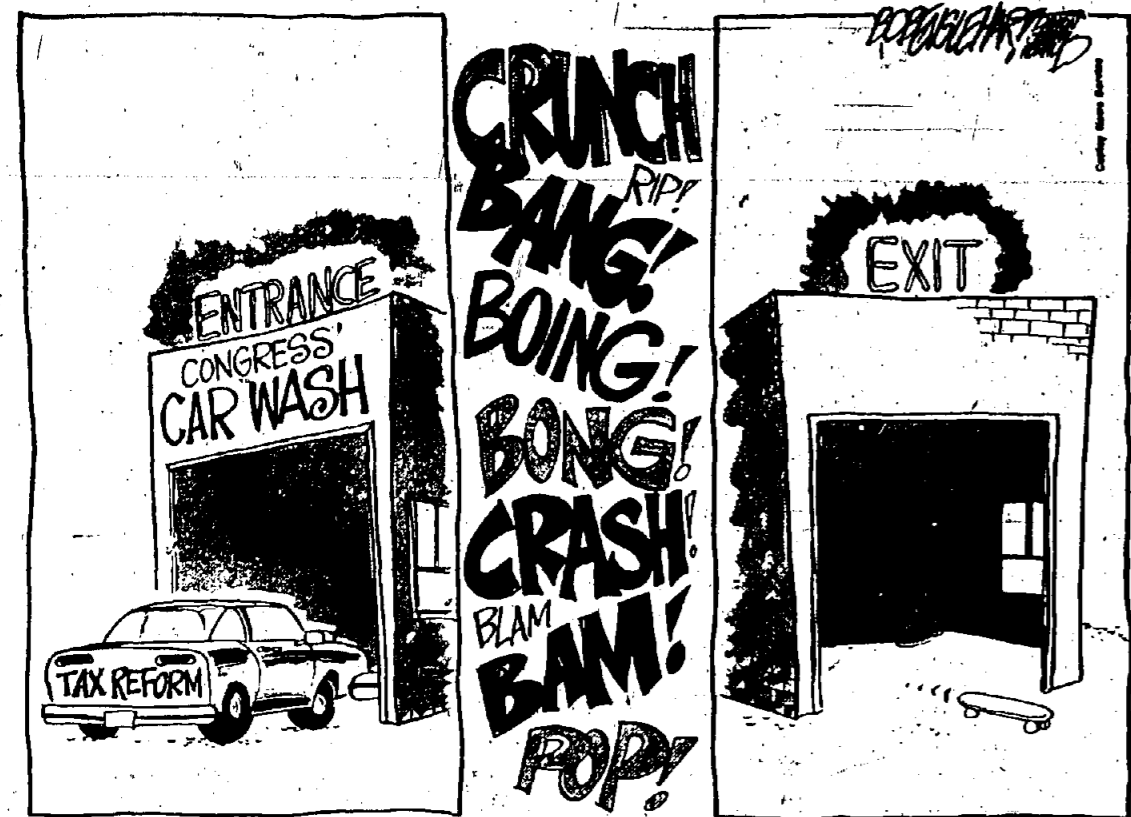

Induced immunity, vaccines, against cancer. It is realization because of problems with virus isolation and multiple cancer causes. And the state's positive action against polluting industries is even further away.

Until a year ago cancer-causing chemicals were dumped without control into areas leading to water courses. Even today it is practically impossible to have the State Department of Environmental Protection

Sen. Harrison Williams

We are fast becoming an energy conscious nation — not necessarily because we want to, and certainly not because it is easy — because rising fuel costs, energy shortages and the haze of pollution over our cities have forced us to acknowledge that two cars in every garage may not be the best thing for our pocketbooks or the environment.

The horde of private automobiles which pack our streets and highways demand a major cause of pollution. Congress has asked consumers to sacrifice — to cut down on their use of private transportation to alleviate the environmental and economic problems they help cause.

But if we ask consumers to make this sacrifice, we must have in place a practical and efficient alternative. Obviously, the only alternative is mass transit.

The Senate Banking, Housing and Urban Affairs Committee approved a mass transportation package recently which would spread this concept to existing transit services and energy savings.

The legislation, if passed by Congress, will guarantee continued funds for our mass transportation systems, and alleviate some of our environmental problems. By authorizing a $25 million increase in operating assistance for New Jersey, it should reduce the need for across-the-board fare increases. It would also assist small urban and rural areas across the country by providing construction capital and operating assistance so that they can meet their growing need for public transportation. Large, transit-intensive areas such

Before Vitale gave him down, Irene accused the administrators of making up the statistics on the basis of information supplied by Bauman. Speaking to Bauman, Irene charged:

"Mr. Carpenter applied for the job Feb. 10. You didn't even bother to follow up on his references until April 27, after Dr. Hart made you aware of the fact that you totally ignored this essential part of any reasonable screening process."

Irene accused Principal Romano and Superintendent Vitale of covering up the fact that Carpenter had been traditionally favored for the job, but a court order last year restrained the school district from charging parents with the cost of education for their children.

Building Inspector REUBEN H. MARSH reports permits were granted last month for three new houses in town to cost $1,100 to $1,800 apiece. The Township Committee petitions county freeholders to widen two bridges on Mountain Avenue, between Morris and Flomer avenues, to allow space for future construction of sidewalks in the area for children to walk to James Caldwell School. The Springfield Board of Health announces it will start enforcing a 12-year-old town ordinance making it illegal for owners to let their dogs roam free during the summer. residents, Ellen Teitelbaum and Rose Burger, spokeswoman for the design mothers who submitted two petitions to the governing body.

Mrs. Teitelbaum read a petition requesting immediate improvements to the golfing hole at the end of nearby Alvin Terrace, "Alvin Park," she said, "does not compare in any way with the other parks in Springfield. It offers our children one side and one set of broken and jagged monkey bars that are designed for the use of older children and three swings usually broken."

Councilman Nat Stokes, liaison to the Recreation Committee, promised steps would be taken right away.

Mrs. Burger said the crossing at South Maple and Morris avenues has become "very dangerous" since the turn on red. Cars are required to come to a full stop before turning, she explained, "but as we all know, many motorists do not. The group requested three changes: the installation of 'Pedestrian Crossing' signs, an effort by the governing body to urge the turn on red; and the installation of flashing lights at the intersection, and orange vests for crossing guards for clearer identification. Mayor William Clert said he would act on these requests as quickly as possible.

THE BOARD CAUCUSED in a closed personnel session for 30 minutes before opening the meeting to the public. Then Vitale recognized George Doty, president of the Dayton Booster Club, as the first speaker from the floor.

"We know Don Carpenter's history, and we know it's outstanding..." Doty said. "We've only had hearsay" on Sense.

Answering Doty, administrators went into detail about Sense's qualifications, taking up most of the 25 minutes allowed for audience participation.

After the board vote, Doty asked questions about the location of a circus "doublecrosser," and Irene to quiet down. But Doty said he agreed with them on the "basic issue that it was wrong to let this discussion go on if anyone was out of order, he should have been removed..." The other parents and young people should have been allowed to speak.

Doty said he expected the issue to be raised at a Booster Club meeting scheduled last night after press deadline.

IN OTHER ACTION at the Tuesday meeting, the board:

—Approved a "get-tough" approach toward students who cut classes.

—Delayed reconsideration of ranking procedures to be used for the graduating classes of 1979, 1980 and 1981.

The board indicated it will augment the current system with second one-for-these classes, but not the second one recommended by staff.

Stevens Institute of Technology in Hoboken has received a $22,000 grant from the National Science Foundation to design and develop audio, video and written instructional materials for use in teaching concepts and techniques in engineering experimentation.

Dr. Richard W. Cole of Springfield, associate professor of Mechanical Engineering and the project's director, said, "The intent of the program is to let the students and faculty maintain traditional 'tutorial' involvement with each other, but to use this interaction more effectively. This laboratory course serves more than 300 students a term in small groups, which calls for a lot of repetition. Repetitive instruction as to how to operate a particular instrument, for example, can be handled effectively using video or audio methods. This allows personal interactions between students and faculty to be concentrated on less routine, more fruitful learning efforts."

Dr. Cole, a licensed professional engineer, has taught and been involved in many research projects at Stevens since 1965. He will be helped in his development of the program by a graduate student assistant.

Dr. Cole earned a bachelor's degree in engineering from Cornell University in 1959, a master's degree in mechanical engineering from Stevens in 1961, a master's degree in aeronautical engineering from Princeton University in 1963 and a doctor of philosophy degree from Stevens in 1971.

5 names to be drawn for pre-kindergarten

The deadline is next Thursday, May 18, for applications from Springfield parents who want their normally hearing 3-year-old children to attend pre-kindergarten with deaf toddlers at the Thelma Sandmeier School next September.

The pre-kindergarten is part of the nationally publicized DYDEE (Deaf Youngsters Deserve Early Education) project. Springfield parents have been so eager to get their normally hearing children into DYDEE that a lottery is used to give all a chance, according to Sandmeier School Principal William Fallon.

Fallon said there will be five openings this fall for non-handicapped children, who will be age 3 on or before Dec. 1. He said each application should be made by letter including the child's name, birth date, address and telephone number. The letter must be received at Sandmeier School no later than 3 p.m. May 18, Fallon said, and parents should allow ample delivery time before that deadline. The public drawing will be held at 9:30 a.m. on Friday, May 19, at the school.

After their names are drawn, the five children will be professionally screened for pre-kindergarten readiness.

Senior citizens apply again for pharmacy card

Assemblyman William J. Maguire (R-23) this week reminded eligible senior citizens that they must reapply for participation in the state's pharmaceutical assistance program by June 30 or lose the benefits.

"Because a great many senior citizens were enrolled in the earlier drug assistance program, they were automatically enrolled in the new one," Maguire said. "However, that enrollment period will expire at the end of June."

The assemblyman said that re-application forms have been sent to

Young Dems support funding for abortions

A resolution supporting the right of women to obtain abortions was passed during a meeting of the Young Democratic Club of Union County in Linden.

The young Democrats said in the resolution that "the right of a woman to control her own body is a fundamental right that cannot and should not be abridged by any government or by those who seek to impose one religious viewpoint on all." The club also requested that Medicaid payments be restored to pay for abortions.

In 1973, the U.S. Supreme Court established a constitutional right for all women to obtain abortions. Last year, the Supreme Court ruled that Medicaid funds did not have to be used for abortions.

"As a result of this policy," the resolution continued, "the right to choose whether or not to bear a child is in serious jeopardy. The opponents of a woman's right to choose have attacked this issue in other ways, as well, and women are now in danger of losing a right that was guaranteed to them just five years ago."

The club gave its endorsement of Assembly Bill A-443 that would restore Medicaid funds for abortions. The members opposed two other bills: Senate Bill S-1110 and Assembly Bill A-1285—known as "informed consent" bills.

"In addition," the resolution noted, "the Union County Young Dems call upon the state of New Jersey to provide more money and more information for sex education and birth control. Furthermore, we feel that impartial and qualified counseling be provided to all women, especially minors, if they so desire."

The club, during its meeting, also requested that the state support a bill giving college tuition tax credits, as well as a bill in the Assembly to provide for the right of a college student to sit on the board of trustees of state colleges as a voting member.

Kanane backs Ulrich for post

Union County Surrogate Mary C. Kanane this week endorsed Union County Freeholder Walter E. Ulrich to succeed her. Ulrich is the Republican candidate for surrogate, Miss Kanane, a Union resident, has held the post since 1982. The surrogate is responsible for the probate of wills, the settlement of estates and the supervision of guardians.

"Freeholder Ulrich is versed in the law," Miss Kanane said. A graduate of the John Marshall School of Law with an L.L.B. degree, he has served as the supervisor of the area legal department of a major insurance company and as manager of a Newark law firm.

Ulrich is presently employed by the Union County Community Services as an immigration counselor.

200 luncheon will hear Kelly

Clarence Kelly, former director of the Federal Bureau of Investigation, will be the guest speaker at the annual Vator Awards luncheon of the 200 Club of Union County tomorrow at the Tower Steak House, Rt. 22, Mountaineer.

The non-profit club is concerned with the welfare of Union County children and families of Union County firefighters, policemen, state troopers and motor vehicle inspectors killed in the line of duty. During the past nine years, the 200-member club has also instituted a scholarship fund for deserving young people.

The luncheon, according to the National Cancer Institute, during the last few years, an estimated one out of three cancer patients has been or are being cured.

Weather was cooler, drier than the norm

Colder and drier than normal is the way Raymond J. Daly, director of the U.S. Cooperative Weather Station at Union College, Cranford, described the month of April in his monthly meteorological summary to the National Weather Service.

The mean temperature of 48.4 degrees, he reported, was 2.52 degrees below normal, and the 2.55 inches of precipitation was 1.06 inches less than average.

The highest temperature on record for April, 81 degrees, was recorded on April 14 and 15. The lowest, 25 degrees, was recorded on April 18.

County receives $60,000 grant for a study of waste disposal

Union County has received a matching grant of $60,000 from the state for a waste disposal study which recently got under way, County Manager George Abshire has announced.

Mandated by the state, the study is seeking options to the present system of landfill disposal.

Among the options being investigated are source separation of recyclable materials and a resource recovery center where trucks would dump waste materials for separation at a central location. Joseph Kazar of the Union County Planning Department, who has been assigned to the study on a full-time basis, said sites both outside and inside the county will be investigated.

M. Disko Associates of Union, the county's solid waste consultant, is working with the Planning Department on the project.

Seminar topic: small business

A one-day conference on managing a small business will be conducted at Union College from 9 a.m. to 4 p.m. Saturday, May 20.

Dr. Frank Dee, dean of special services and continuing education, said the conference will be co-sponsored by Union College SCORE (Service Corps of Retired Executives) and ACE (Active Corps of Executives) of the Small Business Administration.

Among the topics to be considered are merchandising, legal needs and problems, financing, accounting and tax assistance, advertising and marketing.

"The conference is open not only to owners and operators of small businesses, but also to those who are planning to start a business," Dr. Dee said. "Speakers will include experienced business and professional people."

Cost of the conference, $18 for a Union County resident and $23 for an out-of-county resident, includes lunch.

Director Barbara Brande said the project is funded by a grant from the Comprehensive Employment and Training Act and is available to all county residents on a non-sectarian basis. However, she noted that priority will be given to individuals not receiving service from other Union County agencies. Further information can be obtained from Georgetown Mercurio at 682 Rayway Ave., Elizabeth, or at 351-6064.

They'll never catch the Rabbit.

Let a Jersey Pro tell you why. We're flattered because everybody is copying our Rabbit. But, they're still a long way off. They can't catch the Rabbit's engine. Only the real Rabbit has the kind of passive-restraint seatbelt system that the U.S. Department of Transportation says every car will have to have by 1984. They can't match the Rabbit's reputation. You just can't copy experience. The others will always have to be a few years behind the real Rabbit in that. They can't copy the Rabbit's handling. But man does not live by mileage alone. There has to be a joy in driving. And the real Rabbit remembered that. It is by far the best handling car of them all. We've kept the sure, firm, European handling package intact. We believe you can love driving without getting mushy about it.

Let a Rabbit show you why. We're the Jersey Pro. We're in a league all our own. DOUGLAS MOTORS CORP. 430 Morris Avenue, Summit, New Jersey (601) 277-3300.

A different kind of used car from a different kind of dealer.

The used cars listed here aren't ordinary used cars. Because they don't come from an ordinary dealership. At Pace, a customer is respected as the owner of a fine automobile, not dismissed as a troublesome accessory to it. Because of our service, we're selling more and more new Buicks. And taking in more and more fine used cars as trade-ins. The cars listed here are the best of them. Before we put a used car up for sale, we inspect it inside and out. We fix what needs fixing—and if we can't we simply don't sell the car to you. Then, we protect every used car we sell with Buick's own double warranty: 3 months or 3,000 miles, whichever comes first, on the entire car plus 6 months/6,000 miles (whichever comes first) limited to the engine and drive train. Best of all, when you buy a used car from Pace, you receive the same attentive service that's winning us more and more new-car customers. So, if you're tired of looking at the same old kind of used cars, come to Pace. You'll find the kind of used car you can trust—because you can also trust the dealership they come from.

Jewish National Fund to begin drive for Pomerantz memorial

The Jewish National Fund (JNF) will launch a drive next week to memorialize William (Bill) Pomerantz of Springfield, an American flying ace of World War II who became a hero again during the Israeli struggle for independence.

David Gen of Millburn, coordinator of the drive, said a grove of trees will be planted in Pomerantz's memory in the American Veterans' Forest in Israel. Gen said trees may be purchased at $3 each. He said checks made out to the William Pomerantz Grove should be mailed to the JNF at 545 Cedar Lane, Newark, N.J. 07102.

Pomerantz died four months ago at the age of 56 in both Israel Medical Center in Newark. At the time, he had declined a government invitation five years ago to go to Israel for recognition during the nation's celebration of its 25th anniversary. Pomerantz had been an instructor for Ezer Weizman, now defense minister of Israel, and other Israeli pilots during the struggle for statehood.

The Pomerantz memorial drive will be started on Israel's 29th anniversary May 14, Gen noted.

Pomerantz was born in Chatham and grew up in Newark. Existing in the U.S. Air Force in 1942, he became a captain in the 318th Fighter Squadron and the 325th Fighter Group. Flying combat missions in the African and European campaigns, he received the Air Medal with two oak leaf clusters and the Distinguished Flying Cross with 10 oak leaf clusters. He led numerous raids inflicting major damage on the enemy. He was personally cited for shooting down four German airplanes.

After World War II, he was an instructor of American aviation cadets when recruited by Jews in Palestine for the dangerous mission of ferrying of trees, growing without fuss or ceremony, would be an appropriate tribute to his memory.

Jersey jobless on the upswing again in April

The seasonally adjusted unemployment rate for New Jersey was 7.4 percent in April, compared to 6.3 percent in March and 7.4 percent in February, it was reported by Herbert Bienstock, regional commissioner of the U.S. Department of Labor's Bureau of Labor Statistics. Bienstock indicated that the average rate for the first four months of 1978 was 7.0 percent, compared with 10.2 percent for the first four months of 1977.

Bienstock noted that there were 246,000 jobless New Jersey residents last month. The number of unemployed was down by nearly 100,000 over the year. The number of employed state residents was 3,093,000 in April, compared to 3,010,000 a year ago.

The statewide civilian labor force, comprised of persons aged 16 and over who are working or seeking work, totalled 3,338,000 in April. The labor force participation rate for New Jersey residents (the labor force as a percent of the civilian noninstitutional population) was 81.2 percent in April, compared to 81.1 percent a year ago.

Bienstock noted that these data are based on monthly responses from a panel of about 1,000 households in New Jersey which are included in the national Current Population Survey (CPS). New Jersey CPS estimates of labor force, employment, and unemployment were made available for the first time for January and are not strictly comparable with previously published monthly data.

High Point community adding more homes

Construction is soon to begin at HighPoint at Stanhope, the townhome community near Rt. 90 offering contemporary home design in a beautiful mountain-lake country setting.

According to Jeffrey Punia, the project's developer, the new construction follows the continuing sales success at HighPoint, particularly among young singles and couples who appreciate the community's affordable prices and financing, as well as the desirable attractiveness of these homes surrounded by high hills and green foliage. The construction is expected to commence later this month.

The new building, Punia pointed out, is reflective of the growing equity that HighPoint buyers can anticipate when they purchase any of the six one- and two-bedroom models priced from $31,690. And qualified buyers can take immediate occupancy with total cash requirements of as little as approximately $1,800.

Because the great majority of closing costs have been incorporated into the purchase price, qualified buyers need pay at closing only 5 percent down, plus interest, escrow and maintenance payments. The qualified HighPoint buyer can also take advantage of a low 6 1/2 percent mortgage.

Called "The Stanhope" by the region's high mountain feeling, HighPoint townhomes are architecturally bold and modern. The homes' natural wood exteriors look like the residences one would expect to see in western ski resorts. Five of the home models have private balconies, all have in-kitchens, two have balcony balconies and one has a large sunken living room.

The top-of-the-line model, the Ashland, includes two bedrooms and a sitting room, a 10-foot living room, a balcony dining room and a full bath.

Archdiocese unveils financial program

A new, professionally prepared financial plan for the Archdiocese of Newark was presented to 300 clergy and administrators at a meeting last week at Mother Seton High School in Newark.

Archbishop Peter J. Gerety presided at the two-hour session as the 45-page document was summarized by Mario J. Formichella, said the planning report would be used as the official guide for conducting the Archbishop's Annual Appeal, a yearly solicitation to defray current expenses, and Churchfund, the recently announced capital development program to eliminate long-term indebtedness.

The report, prepared by the planning council of the Archbishop's Committee of the Laity, a group of leading professionals recruited by Archbishop Gerety, is the most thorough fiscal analysis ever made in the Archdiocese's 125-year history. It identifies the principal causes of the present debt of more than $21 million and outlines financial controls to be used to help retire the existing debt and to avoid similar problems in the future.

The primary reasons for the present Archdiocesan debt, the report notes, were expenses incurred in connection with the building and operation of 13 Archdiocesan regional high schools and the numerous social service programs administered by the Archdiocese.

Brochure is issued

The Department of Environmental Protection has published a new color fold-out brochure describing New Jersey's many state-operated outdoor recreational facilities.

The glove-compartment size brochure gives at-a-glance information on state parks, forests and historic sites. It also lists day-use facilities for swimming and picnicking, marinas, camping and wildlife areas. In addition to 10 pages of descriptive text, the brochure contains easy-to-read charts and a map showing all of the state's recreation areas, some pictured in full color.

The brochure, titled "New Jersey Parks and Forests," is available by writing to DEP's Bureau of Parks, P.O. Box 1420, Trenton 08625.

The world's largest telescope, a 282 1/2 inch refractor, is located in Brasilia's Cabeceira das Montanhas. The telescope is so powerful it can detect a flickering candle from a distance of 15,000 miles.

Trackmen await league meet; defeat West Orange, Madison

BY KIRK KUBACH
Jonathan Dayton Regional's, undefeated varsity track team made its eighth straight victory over West Orange and Madison in the Suburban Conference action. The Bulldogs are looking forward to the annual conference meet Saturday at Millburn in honor of regaining the championship.

Leopards rip Panthers in battle of the undefeated

The Leopards are in sole possession of first place in the Senior Division of the Mountaineer Softball League with an unblemished 5-0 record. The Tigers and Panthers, both 3-1 on the season, are tied for second place.

The Leopards defeated the Panthers, 2-14. The Leopards were paced by the batting of Beth Burrows, Robin Zirkel, Donna Rinaldi, Denise Richter, Kent Seaman and Lisa McCarthy. Carol Bennett played a strong defensive game. Robin Gilman, Debbie Bane and Wendy Julian paced the Panther attack.

Deerfield nine shows promise despite losses

Mountaineer's Deerfield School baseball team lost its two opening games of the season, but coach Ed Sjonell thinks the games gave the team the experience it needs for the rest of its schedule.

"We lost the second game to Brewer, 13-7," Sjonell said. "But the first game of the season, a 9-8 loss to St. Agnes, showed some fine play by Mountaineer team members."

St. Agnes widened its lead to 9-2 in the top of the fifth.

With two outs, Andrew Grett and John Crilly singled to lead the bases again. A walk to Doug Forberg brought Mountaineer's eighth run across.

Tim Black pitched a strong game, Sjonell said. "His only problem was a little wildness in the second inning."

Netmen drop 2 of 3; doubles teams excel

The Jonathan Dayton varsity tennis team completed another tough week of competition. Playing all three games on the road, the Bulldogs lost in their first two outings against Madison and Clark and then bounced back against Verona.

Only the second doubles team of Mike Clarke and Alan Berliner was able to win all three matches, bringing their season standing to 6-3. First doubles team, Meisel at first singles lost 3-6, 2-6; Salmaan at second singles lost 1-6, 2-6; and Mickey Gottlieb, replacing Johns (who left the team) at third singles, was downed, 3-6, 1-6. First doubles Nestler and Dooley fought a tough first set, losing 6-7, and then were overpowered in the second set, 0-6.

At Verona, Dayton was victorious, but not without a tough fight. Meisel at first singles lost two hard sets by identical scores, 4-6. Salmaan at second singles vanquished his opponent in two sets by equal scores, 6-2. Now the burden of victory was on the second doubles team and they came thru. After barely nipping Caldwell in a tie-breaker in their first set 7-6, Clarke and Berliner took the second set, 6-3.

At Caldwell, the Bulldogs met stiffer opposition as the second doubles team of Clarke and Berliner was able to salvage the lone team victory, having to go through strenuous sets, 6-3, 4-6, 6-4. Dial 'N Pay bills by phone

That's right! With a simple phone call to Dial 'N Pay, toll-free from anywhere in New Jersey, you can pay utilities, department stores, credit cards, mortgages, loans and more—just by telling us who and how much to pay! You can even transfer funds between your Howard Scottfree Checking and Regular 5 1/4% Passbook Savings Accounts by phone!

Here's how it works

All you need is a Scottfree Checking Account and Regular Savings Account to sign up for Dial 'N Pay. You select who you want to pay and complete a simple form. We then send you your own individually coded list of those you can pay. Then, just call Dial 'N Pay and tell us which bills to pay and how much—we mail out your payments. Your monthly Scottfree Checking Statement shows these payments along with any checks you write. And the cost is only 10¢ for each transaction.

Dial 'N Pay the easy Howard powered way

Just think. Instead of all the nuisance of writing checks, finding envelopes, licking stamps or running to the bank, you can just talk to Dial 'N Pay. It's so easy, it makes paying bills almost fun!

Find out about all the conveniences Dial 'N Pay offers. It's America's fastest growing and most successful system for paying bills by phone and it's only at the Howard. Stop at any Howard office—or send in the coupon—or phone (201) 456-5900 for full details and a sign-up kit. No obligation, of course. Why put it off?

Just a few of the bills you can pay by phone

Public Service Electric & Gas, Bamberger's, VISA, Exxon, Sears, American Express, Stern's, Bloomingdale's, Shell, Hahne's, B. Altman's, Gulf, Sunoco, Mobil, J. C. Penney, Lord & Taylor, Texaco, Corvette's, Master Charge, plus hundreds of others.

Dial 'N Pay sounds great!
