The Springfield Fife and Drum Corps, whose members are seventh and eighth graders from the Florence Gaudineer School, placed third of 22 junior high schools in parade competition at the National-International Music Festival in Wildwood this month.

Aid for patients speaker's topic

The Summit Area Chapter of Make Today Count will meet on Tuesday at 7:30 p.m. in the fellowship room of Central Presbyterian Church, 70 Maple St., Summit. A social worker will discuss the problems that cancer patients have in obtaining assistance from governmental agencies.

"We'll aim for a higher place again in 1979," he said, "but I'm still very proud of them. The first- and second-place winners were from junior high schools that have ninth grades, which we don't have. That extra year of experience by part of a corps can give an edge that's tough to beat."

Future meetings will take place on the second and fourth Tuesdays of each month. Further information is available from Charlotte Gelfond at 379-9465.

Junior group to be formed

Several young women of Springfield this week announced they are in the process of creating a Junior Woman's Club, at the library on Montrossia avenue. Anyone interested in joining may attend. Membership is open to all young women up to age 27.

Ferreira gets nursing degree

Barbara Ferreira of Colonial terrace, Springfield, is among 97 candidates for the associate in science degree at Union College for the three-year cooperative program in professional nursing conducted by the college and the schools of nursing of Elizabeth General Hospital and Muhlenberg Hospital, Plainfield.

The three-year program permits students to earn an Associate degree from Union College and a nursing diploma from the schools of nursing. Graduates are eligible to sit for state licensing examinations for registered nurses and to transfer to four-year institutions to complete the requirements for a baccalaureate degree.

Mountainside truck driver gets sentence for false fire report

A Mountainside truck driver, John P. Ukunis, 20, this week was given a suspended jail sentence and was placed on probation for making a false fire report March 18 in Springfield.

Springfield Municipal Court Judge Malcolm Bohrod suspended the jail term Monday after receiving a presentencing report on Ukunis from the county probation department. The young truck driver surrendered voluntarily and pleaded guilty after firemen traced his voice through a tape recording of his telephone call.

Fred Natoli of Waverly avenue, 810 for letting his collar room in violation of town leash law.

In criminal cases, the judge: —Ordered Heywood Harris Jr. of East Orange held for possible county prosecution for possessing burglary tools and "stripping" a Cadillac at Dodgeford.

—Conditionally dismissed a charge that Howard Lockley of Plainfield illegally possessed less than 25 grams of marijuana. The conditional dismissal came under state law allowing youthful first offenders to clear their records if they are not re-arrested for six months.

—Fined John Gall of Irvington $150 for ducking out on a $118 bill at Howard Johnson's Motor Lodge on Rt. 22. Gall said he still doesn't have any money, and the judge ordered the fine paid in weekly installments starting July 5.

—Fred C. Austin of Plainfield, 6105 for driving without insurance and failing to have his license and registration with him. His license was revoked for six months.

—Thomas J. Stromberg of Belford, 335 for doing 49 miles per hour, and Anthony Russo of Summit, 330 for 46 mph, both in a 25-mile zone at Shunpike road on Rt. 24 West.

—Raymond Terry of Belleville, 335 for doing 77 mph, and Stephen Peller of Union, 325 for doing 68 mph, both in a 55-mile zone on Rt. 24 West.

—Jose M. Medeiros of Highland avenue, Springfield, 335 for driving 45 mph per hour; Robert M. Boscoe of Orange, 335 for doing 40 mph per hour; and Mark A. Mulhall, 410 for 50 mph, all in 25-mile zones on Milltown road.

—Anthony Fazio of Union and Bobbie A. Scarborough of Newark, 365 each for driving without insurance. Their licenses also were revoked for six months for careless driving that caused an accident.

—Chit M. Ellis of Summit, 335 for failing to get the right side on Rt. 24 East.

Spring camp for Y families

More than 35 families have registered for the Summit Area YMCA's annual spring family camping this weekend at Frost Valley, N.Y.

Families will be lodged in cabins, lodge or the "castle" with meals provided in the main dining hall. Members of the Camp Wawayanda staff will be present to provide leadership and supervision for archery, riflery and crafts, and families may elect activities such as boating, kayaking, canoeing, sports, hiking and hikes, according to their own interests. A Saturday night feature will be a campfire program with a sing-along and entertainment.

The YMCA sponsors fall and spring weekends each year at Camp Wawayanda located on the 2200 acre Frost Valley property in the heart of the Catskill Mountains. Ronald R. Coleman directs the activities in addition to other YMCA father-child and family programs throughout the year. The Y can provide further information at 273-3330.

Learning to swim

The Summit Area YMCA is accepting registrations for its annual concentrated "Learn to Swim" course for boys and girls in grades 1 to 12.

All children (non-swimmers), both Y members and non-members, from Summit and neighboring communities are invited to participate.

The 12-session course is held afternoons after school for three weeks beginning June 5 with advance registration required, and a moderate course fee charged.

According to Marjorie M. Murphy, aquatic director, classes are peer-grouped with a high teacher-to-student ratio. All instructors and aides are YMCA certified and use the national YMCA updated swim instruction techniques which stress basic water safety, personal survival, basic rescues and correct stroke techniques. Participants will be issued certificates upon successful completion of the course.

WHAT TO DO IF YOU SMELL GAS.

Because natural gas is odorless a chemical odorant is added. Even the smallest gas leak can be detected long before it could cause any harm because of its easily recognizable odor. If you smell small gas droplets or outdoors here's what you should do:

Indoors

- If the odor is faint, chances are it's only the pilot light that's out, or a burner valve is partially turned on. Check them. If the odor is strong, leave the house immediately and call PSE&G.
- If the pilot light or burner valve is not the cause of the leak, open windows and doors to dilute the gas. Then call PSE&G immediately.
- Never light a gas appliance if a strong odor of gas is present. Never use matches to look for gas leaks. Also avoid operating any electric equipment—moving electric switches (switches create sparks), thermostats, etc.
- If the odor is extremely strong, leave the building immediately and call PSE&G from a neighbor's home.
- If you smell gas, call PSE&G even if you do not have a gas meter or gas pipe to the house.

Outdoors

- If you smell gas, call PSE&G immediately. If you do not have a gas meter or gas pipe to your house.
- If the odor is extremely strong, stay away from the area until a PSE&G serviceman arrives and makes the necessary repairs.

Call PSE&G in an emergency... anytime.

If you smell gas inside or outside your premises, call PSE&G at once—even in the middle of the night or on a holiday. Emergency personnel are always on duty to respond to your request, and there is never a charge for such emergency service. Don't concern yourself that it may be a "false alarm." Remember, it is better to be safe than sorry. Our emergency telephone number is on your bill. Or check your local telephone directory.

119210006 Public meetings LIBRARY A choreographer's past

BY ROSEF SIMON
The Springfield Public Library lists the following titles among the recently received books:

"Where the Wings Grow"
by Agnes DeMille.
This is another poignant memoir by the innovative choreographer of ballet and the recipient of New York's highest achievement in the arts, the Handel Medalion. It is about growing up in a fairly affluent, conservative family in the Delaware Water Gap—a veritable summer haven for aunts, uncles and cousins.
DeMille recalls her beautiful mother and handsome, successful father, a playwright, and being in love. She looks back on their well-earned tennis court, the lake for swimming, the well-bred delicacies quietly chatting and stinging embroidery, home-made ice cream, picking berries and the warm companionship of Cousin Elizabeth.
There are portraits of people, lush forests, primitive country living and the distinguished friends and relatives. There was grandfather Henry DeMille, who married a British-Jewish economist, John C. Holt, a Hollywood producer and John Erskine of the Julius and Ethel Trust. But most prominent was Dr. Takamine, a Japanese chemist, who married Aunt Caroline. In 1914 DeMille's world of innocent happiness began to fall apart. She writes wistfully of disillusion and change, altered relationships, departure from home, divorce and death.

HEALTH—WORLD VIEW
by Erik Reichman.
The United Nations Environment Program and the World Health Institute are concerned with world health trends. This book deals comprehensively with many of the environmental factors which influence health which the author divides into physical, mental and social well-being. To achieve this goal we should be informed about health hazards, he says, and must support measures which will avoid dangers.
In the very poor as well as in the affluent societies of the world average life expectancy is 58, but in developed areas the life average is only 40. Some of the determinants to good health are malnutrition, vitamin and mineral deficiencies, ignorance of good nutrition, insufficient money to purchase proper nutrients, filth, lack of potable water and sanitary sewage systems, infectious disease, absence of family planning and inadequate medical care.
So-called enlightened nations have special problems. We are plagued with air pollution (sulphurous compounds, carbon monoxide), industrial chemicals (lead, asbestos), water pollution (industrial wastes), occupational diseases (blacklung, silicosis), obesity, hypertension and insecticides. He promotes a regimen for healthy living and urges us "to watch for signs of life-threatening changes in oceans, rocks, air, plants and animals."

THE MESS OF DRUGS
"Mind Control,"
by Peter Schrag.
It is a fact that about 35 million Americans use regular users of psychoactive prescription drugs, and that an estimated 15 million others use over-the-counter medication. Many of these minor tranquilizers are prescribed by internists, gynecologists, pediatricians and other non-psychiatric practitioners to medicate and thus legitimize mood and behavior control. They have become used to cope with the job stress and fatigue, especially in such industries as "retailing," "tourism," "service" and the clerical and sales fields. "The trouble is that there is no assurance that there will be no serious

THE EAGLETON POLL Candidates unknown

With less than three weeks to go until the June 6 Senatorial primary election the candidates remain largely unknown to the voters. The latest Eagleton Poll, conducted between May 7 and May 16, found that the overwhelming majority of New Jersey residents could not name any of the primary candidates.
When asked if they could "recall the names of any candidates for the Democratic nomination in the race for Senate," 12 percent of those polled named Bill Bradley, seven percent named Dick Leone, four percent mentioned Alex Menza and one percent named Wes Bell. Those who said they had previously voted in a Democratic primary election did somewhat better. Twenty percent of this group named Bradley, 12 percent Leone, and six percent mentioned Menza.
On the Republican side, where incumbent Senator Clifford Case is running against Jeffrey Bell, the Rutgers based poll found that 18 percent named Case as a Republican candidate in the primary, only three percent mentioned Bell. Thirty percent of those who have a history of voting in Republican primaries were able to name Case while six percent mentioned Bell.
Eagleton also asked a second type of question to gauge the public's familiarity with each of the candidates. Stephen Salmore, director of the Poll explained, "A second set of questions was asked to get at 'recognition' of the candidates. Respondents were read a list of names and asked if they had heard anything about them. This is an easier question, as people may not be able to recall a candidate's name but they may have some familiarity with him when reminded." Salmore further explained, "Those who recognized a candidate were also asked if they knew anything about the candidate and responses were classified as being either 'political' or 'non-political' in nature."
While 50 percent of those polled recognized Bill Bradley's name, only 25 percent knew of him as a political candidate. The other 25 percent who recognized Bradley's name, did not think of him in political terms. Former state treasurer Richard Leone was recognized by 60 percent with 10 percent identifying him as a political figure. Sixteen percent recognized former state treasurer Anthony Russo. Mezza's name with 8 percent linking him to politics. Recognition of these three Democratic candidates was higher among those who said they had previously voted in Democratic primaries. Sixty percent of this group recognized Bradley while about half recognized Leone and 40 percent recognized Mezza.
Clifford Case, a New Jersey Senator for almost a quarter of a century, is representing us in Washington.

YOU AND YOUR MONEY Seminars conducted at resort in Colorado

BY JUDITH G. RHODES
Q. Although this may not be exactly in your field, I was wondering if you know of any resorts that might offer seminars or programs for college credit for men and women?—D.W., Spokane, Wash.
A. Yes, as a matter of fact, I do. Center Mountain, Colo., features superb alpine and cross-country skiing during "white" months.
From May through early November, the resort, located 140 just 80 miles west of Denver, offers a full panoply of summer activities under the Colorado sun. This season, students can enjoy "Tennis: Play, instruction and tournaments, including the Radd Pyles Celebrity Classic" at the Copper Mountain Racquet Club.
Golf: The first nine holes of the executive-length course will be open for play.
Hiking: Rentals are available. Trails are marked over Vail Pass and through Ten-Mile Canyon.
River rafting and white-water kayaking: Guided day trips on the Colorado River, challenging runs on the Blue and Arkansas rivers.
Wilderness camping: Solitude in the adjacent Arapahoe National Forest. It is a paradise for fishermen, rock hounds and bird watchers.
Special seminars under direction of the Copper Mountain Institute will offer programs for college credit. These include: The Emerging Woman, who she is and where she's going; Orvis Fly Fishing School, all about fly fishing; and Quilting and Sewing, expert instruction and advice.
In addition there is riding, boating, croquet, antique shows and visits to historic Colorado sites. For further information, I would suggest you contact Mari Gold, vice president of the adjacent Arapahoe National Forest, 11 Stevens, Inc., 645 Madison Ave., New York, N.Y. 10022. She would be pleased to supply additional details on programs and to answer any questions you may have.

Retire? No such word—not where 81-year-old Mrs. Lura Williams of Watertown, N.Y., is concerned. She'd rather work overtime than retire.
After his retirement, Mrs. Williams, who was 88 at the time, took a job as a former partner of Dr. Houghlin's.
Taking a few minutes out of her 9 1/2 schedule, Mrs. Williams reminisced about her years as a hygienist.
"You know that I've treated two generations of teeth?" she said with a laugh. "I'm treating the children of patients I first worked on years ago. Some of them are surprised to see that I'm still here. I'm not going anywhere for a while yet."
Mrs. Williams doesn't think there's any secret to her good health and active life.
"I think working at a job I like has a lot to do with it and maybe eating properly and taking vitamins," she said. Then with a sly look she added, "Of course, I do enjoy a shot of whiskey every now and then."
OLDEN PEOPLE: In 1966 in the writing and the result in their best-selling book, "We Were Children Then."
The volume comprises 66 glimpses of the past, compiled from the 1974 and 1975 "Years of Yesterday" columns sponsored by the University of Wisconsin Extension Division and the Wisconsin Regional Writers Association.
Dealing with a sort of "distant past" is the eye of a young woman whose education was interrupted by war work. She is Mrs. Williams' daughter, Dr. W. G. Houghlin, to be published by Harper & Row.

LETTERS
SENIOR CITIZENS
Happy anniversary, Senior Citizens Group Three Senior Citizens of Springfield met last week at the Sarah Bailey House and celebrated the 16th anniversary of Senior Citizens in Springfield.
Mrs. Ellen Carmichael, our former coordinator and one of the founders, spoke to the group and told them how the Senior Citizens started. She also explained how they grew and grew and finally a third group—our group—came into being. Her speech was very interesting and informative.
Jonas Rinaldo read a resolution honoring the firehousers in honor of our 16th anniversary. A copy of the resolution was then presented to us by Mrs. Lucy Markosian gave us a brief talk on her experiences as a mother. This was part of our Mother's Day program.
Refreshments were served and we all enjoyed our 16th anniversary party, and look forward to many more happy years together.

'Renew' seeks to restore faith in the Church

RENEW—a program aimed at developing vibrant faith communities and establishing just formation and action through teaching and witnessing to the word of God—was held at St. James Catholic Church in Springfield.
The Rev. Edward R. Oehling, moderator of the RENEW program at St. James, has called the early response by the community "exuberant and encouraging."
Committee meetings are being held on a weekly basis at St. James and committee chairpersons have reported excellent cooperation with the contacts, made to assist in the parish effort.
The various committee heads will be in touch with more than 1000 Catholics in the parish within the next few weeks, said Rev. Oehling, and he has asked for continued support in an effort to "bring the people back to the Church."
RENEW is an Archdiocese program, with actual kickoff set for early fall. Meanwhile, the committee will be organizing their individual efforts to prepare for sign-up Sunday, Sept. 17. Any parishioners of St. James, interested in joining a committee, should contact the rectory at 376-2444. "There is much work to be done," explained Rev. Oehling, "and we will need the full support of our parishioners."

Unit appoints Bobko to relations board

Gary Bobko, assistant to the superintendent for public information of the Union County Regional High School District, was recently appointed to the advisory board of the Northern New Jersey Chapter of the National School Public Relations Association. The chapter includes 150 members and encompasses 13 committees, should contact the rectory at 376-2444. "There is much work to be done," explained Rev. Oehling, "and we will need the full support of our parishioners."

Officers chase driver on way to his own fire

A Springfield man, Anthony Francis, was going to a fire, but didn't know it, when he allegedly drove through a red light and continued at high speeds, according to Millburn policeman Tom Lombardi.

Lombardi said he and his partner, Officer Brian Tighe, were coming from another direction in their patrol car when they spotted Francis allegedly running the red light in Millburn near the Springfield border early Friday morning. Lombardi said Francis was driving into Springfield "at speeds up to 80 miles per hour" on Short Hills avenue.

The patrol car had to turn around before starting pursuit, and the officers caught up with the allegedly speeding car in Springfield—"just in time to put out the fire," Lombardi said.

The Francis auto crashed into a building at 583 Morris ave., next to Stammers Cove restaurant; burst into flames and skidded about 36 feet to the junction of Morris and Ballistol way, according to Springfield police.

The Millburn officers said they cut the fire and radioed for Springfield police and an ambulance after the accident at about 12:40 a.m. Friday.

Francis was hospitalized at Overlook Hospital until Sunday.

YOUR WEEK AHEAD By DAMIS
Forecast Period May 28 - June 7

ARIES Mar. 21-Apr. 19
Thoughts of a job change—into more lucrative employment—are worth investigating.

TAURUS Apr. 20-May 20
High energy gets your week off to a flying start. You can handle most situations very deftly. Be patient with one who is a little slower.

GEMINI May 21-June 20
Interest deepens in mediative disciplines. Impatience is stimulated as are your intuitive faculties.

MOONCHILD June 21-July 22
Your sympathetic listening results in a valued new friendship. Involvement in organizational activities arouses your humanitarian nature.

LEO July 23-Aug. 22
Communication with an official, or one of status, is quite likely. Exercise care in handling out job responsibilities.

VIRGO Aug. 23-Sept. 22
There is likely to be news from a far off relative or friend who would like you to come for a visit.

LIBRA Sept. 23-Oct. 22
An important piece of information, quite possibly an intuitive revelation, comes to you. Use wisdom in sharing it.

SCORPIO Oct. 23-Nov. 21
It would be well to consider a healthful diet, as well as matters of dress and personal appearance.

SAGITTARIUS Nov. 22-Dec. 21
You inspire faith and trust in others with your clarity of expression, and can be an inspiration to a loved one.

CAPRICORN Dec. 22-Jan. 19
Household problems are of major concern. Take it slowly one thing at a time, and you'll find the problems rather trivial.

AQUARIUS Jan. 20-Feb. 18
Commitment in love easily. You are very repressive. Put it on paper—such as a poem or short story.

PISCES Feb. 19-Mar. 20
Money habits actually develop quite early in life and today's youth should be aware of where they're "coming from" as far as finances are concerned.

Teen Talk
You learn initially about money from those around you at home and habits picked up there could linger for a lifetime.

More importantly, strike a balance between wise spending, sharing and saving. Saving means setting aside to spend later and not spending all your money, as soon as you get it.

Weekend trip? Safety Council has some hints

If you're planning a trip over Memorial Day weekend, the New Jersey Department of Consumer Affairs says you should consider these suggestions.

Observe the 55 mph speed limit. It's a big saver in gasoline, injuries and lives.

Have a mechanic inspect lights, brakes and steering to be sure they work properly; don't forget tires, look for worn tread, cracks and bulges.

Allow plenty of time for driving; if you start out late - plan to arrive late.

Before leaving home, have all passengers buckle their safety belts. If that is impossible, place the person who can't wear a belt in the back seat - it is the least dangerous spot in the event of a collision. The council says that consumers have been documented and that if all motorists on the nation's highways were to wear belts this year, at least 75 lives could be saved and thousands of injuries prevented.

The council has also proposed a novel way to avoid tailgating mishaps. Basically, all you have to do is allow yourself two-second worth of space by following these steps:

1. Watch to see when the car ahead of you passes a handy landmark such as a utility pole, expansion joint in the pavement, roadside sign or other marker.
2. As the car ahead passes, the marker, start counting "One-thousand and one, one-thousand and two."
3. If your car reaches the marker before you've finished counting off the two seconds, you're too close to the car ahead. Lengthen the cushion of space between you and the vehicle you are following.

Public support is urged for meat packaging bill

New Jersey consumers were urged this week to speak out in support of a United States Department of Agriculture (USDA) proposed regulation that would require the net weight labels of pre-packaged meat and other products to accurately reflect the contents of the package.

Adam K. Levin, director of the New Jersey Division of Consumer Affairs, said the net weight standard being considered by the USDA is "essential if the states are to be allowed to enforce rules designed to assure that consumers actually get the amount of meat which labels indicate packages contain."

The USDA proposed rule would require the packages actually contain the represented net weight at the time they are sold to the consumer. Currently, federal regulations allow the retail sale of pre-packaged food which has net weight labels that were accurate when the food was packed. Pre-packaged meat products and other pre-packaged food generally lose weight between the time they are packaged and the time they are sold at retail; due primarily to moisture loss.

The U.S. Supreme Court ruled last year that state regulations concerning net weight at retail sale were preempted by the federal standards.

In the wake of that decision, agriculture officials, state attorneys general, weights and measures officials and consumer officials of more than 40 states submitted a petition to California asking the USDA for a regulation with a strict net weight standard.

Levin noted that the USDA proposed such a standard and that the period for accepting public comment on the regulation ends June 2.

They'll never catch the Rabbit.

Let a Jersey Pro tell you why. We're flattered because everybody is copying our Rabbit. But, they're still a long way off.

They can't catch the Rabbit's engine. Only the real Rabbit uses regular gasoline. Because only the real Rabbit has fuel injection! It's a system Volkswagen pioneered and improved to deliver economy and performance. And they can't match the most economical car engine in America, because they haven't been able to copy the Rabbit's Diesel engine that delivers 53 mpg highway, 40 mpg city.

They can't catch the Rabbit's handling. But man does not live by mileage alone. There has to be a joy in driving. And the real Rabbit remembered that. It is by far the best handling car of them all. We've kept the sure, firm, European handling package intact. We believe you can love driving without getting mushy about it.

They can't catch the Rabbit's safety. Only the real Rabbit has the kind of passive-restraint seatbelt system that the U.S. Department of Transportation says every car will have to have by 1984. Just another of the important touches that make the Rabbit a big improvement over the others.

They can't match the Rabbit's reputation. You just can't copy experience. The others will always have to be a few years behind the real Rabbit that they can't imitate Volkswagen's reputation of reliability, durability and economy that comes from decades of building cars with quality and integrity—not from building cars to fit a price tag.

Let a Rabbit show you why.

See your Jersey Pro today for a test drive. He can give you what no one else can. A real deal on the real Rabbit.

A different kind of used car from a different kind of dealer.

The used cars listed here aren't ordinary used cars. Because they don't come from an ordinary dealership.

At Pace, a customer is respected as the owner of a fine automobile, not dismissed as a troublesome accessory to it.

Because of our service, we're selling more and more new Buicks. And taking in more and more fine used cars as trade-ins. The cars listed here are the best of them.

Before we put a used car up for sale, we inspect it inside and out. We fix what needs fixing—and if we can't we simply don't sell the car to you.

Then, we protect every used car we sell with Pace Buick's own double warranty: 3 months or 3,000 miles, whichever comes first, on the entire car plus 6 months/6,000 miles (whichever comes first) limited to the engine and drive train.

Best of all, when you buy a used car from Pace, you receive the same attentive service that's winning us more and more new-car customers.

So, if you're tired of looking at the same old kind of used cars, come to Pace. You'll find the kind of used car you can trust—because you can also trust the dealership they come from.

Kennedy offers card for mortgage deals

Thomas Martin, president of Kennedy Mortgage Co., one of New Jersey's largest mortgage organizations, has announced the introduction of the "AnyHome Card." The unique mortgage pre-qualification program, "The AnyHome Card," is a qualification card for prospective homebuyers in which they are pre-screened and assured that the house they will select is comfortably within their financial means.

The procedure for this program requires several minutes' time and the card can usually be issued within 24 to 48 hours. Kennedy president Martin said, "The AnyHome program removes one of the greatest resistance factors for home buying, that being the apprehension that a homebuyer's mortgage application will be rejected. With the AnyHome card, both buyer and seller know that the buyer is qualified for a certain mortgage amount within his means. We expect in the not-distant future the majority of home purchases will be made using a prequalification system such as Kennedy's innovative 'AnyHome Card.'"

There is no additional cost to the mortgage applicant for the "AnyHome Card." Service and applications are available through selected real estate brokers or directly through Kennedy Mortgage. Application can be made in person or even by telephone to Kennedy Mortgage.

The AnyHome Card is issued, not as a mortgage commitment but rather as an expression of Kennedy Mortgage's confidence of the commitment the applicant would warrant. Upon taking of a confirming application, written verification of information on the aplicant, verification of the applicant's previous credit history and an acceptable appraisal of the home to be purchased, Kennedy then processes the loan request through FHA-VA or a conventional loan source and upon that approval issues a firm commitment.

Kingston sales up

Kingston Court, a 36-home subdivision reported brisk sales in the past three weeks with 10 sales reported during that period.

The Kingston Court is located on Central and Van Buren avenues off Route 9 in Lakewood in the finest section of town. The builder said the construction has been hastened to meet September deliveries and some homes are available for immediate occupancy.

The Barton Ranch is a four-bedroom model with eat-in kitchen and a formal dining room. A traditional colonial, the Canterbury, is priced at $39,990 with 5 percent down payment available to qualified purchasers. It has three bedrooms, a large kitchen and den and features oil fired heat and a one-car garage. The largest home is the four-bedroom den Brittany hi-level, with two car garage and 1 1/2 baths. All lots at Kingston Court are a minimum one-third acre and are an out-of-the-way streets with all underground utilities.

and has made the first mortgage under the program in several cities throughout the state. Martin concluded, "The AnyHome Card program is another step for Kennedy exemplifying our innovative record of service in the mortgage marketplace."

Give the world a little gift today. Blood.

The American Red Cross is the Good Neighbor.

If you've been dreaming of ocean front homes on the Jersey Shore, here comes your rude awakening.

They're almost all gone. And there probably won't be any more for a long time.

Got your attention? Here's the problem: When New Jersey passed an environmental law to protect its coastlines, they made the law so tough it effectively prohibited the kind of beach development everyone's been building. So the building stopped. So what you see now is all you're going to get.

Now here's the opportunity: Right now, at an established community called the Towers of Monmouth Beach, we've got the only ocean-front luxury highrise condominiums on the entire North Jersey Shore you can move in tomorrow.

One last golden opportunity

But there's a catch. We now have less than 50 homes available. On April 1 we had over 90. And we expect to be completely sold out by Memorial Day. So you don't have time to dream any longer. If you're going to buy, you're going to have to get in line today.

Worth every penny.

Fortunately, the last homes you can buy are also just about the best. Because if the Towers is a true luxury community.

For example, right on the ocean we've built the only private boardwalk north of Atlantic City. It encloses a huge sundeck and plaza, the outdoor pool, the shuffle board courts and the cabanas. Just off the deck is the indoor pool, the health spa, the coffee-shop, the card room, the game room, and the atrium lobby. Where you'll find nice little touches like 24-hour reception/answering service, valet garage parking and uniformed doormen. As well as a resident manager and service staff. There's even a private putting green and lighted outdoor tennis court.

Just over an hour from Manhattan.

What amazes most people is that they can live this kind of lifestyle only an hour's drive from Manhattan. But what's even nicer is the commuter service: a daily seaplane shuttle between Monmouth Beach and Wall Street. Ah, the good life.

By the way, if you've never been to Monmouth Beach, you're in for a treat. It's one of those genteel, turn-of-the-century seaside resorts everyone loves, with old Victorian homes, yachting clubs, and charming restaurants.

Realistically priced.

Because we offer extensive customizing, our prices vary greatly. Generally, however, the range is from the low $50's to the upper $180's. If you're already familiar with today's oceanfront prices, you'll be pleasantly surprised.

But remember, these homes are just about the last of their kind. So we strongly suggest you drive out and see them today. Because people are already buying them like there's no tomorrow.

Luxury rooms spur Florida condo sales

FORT LAUDERDALE — Condominium design has come a long way in recent years in South Florida. New concepts in both recreation and living units have made the phrase "condominium living" synonymous with a lifestyle in itself.

In Sunrise Lakes Phase III Condominiums, an apartment community with fully developed recreational facilities located just west of Fort Lauderdale, Fla., new emphasis on luxury has spurred sales success.

Two new luxury apartment buildings were recently completed and a dollar volume in sales that month of over $3.5-million is due largely to these units. W. B. Homes Inc., a Development Corporation of America subsidiary and builder of Sunrise Lakes, has announced the addition of Florida rooms to the well-received luxury apartments.

"We are getting away from the regular living room-dining room area, kitchen, bath and bedroom apartment," said Phyllis Chernoff, sales director at Sunrise Lakes. "Because our emphasis on trying to create the homelized condominium, we have asked our architects to draw up an extra room for the entire family."

While architects F. Louis Wolff Associates has recently completed the plans for the first of these units, building of the Florida room apartments is scheduled to begin start at $22,900, while the short-term units will range from $42,400. All of the units of Phase III overlook either one of the golf courses which sprawl throughout the community. The complex has a country atmosphere also provides many activities. Swimming pools, tennis, shuffleboard and racquetball courts and clubhouses are spaced throughout the community. The focal point of Phase III is the new, multi-million dollar clubhouse designed by Oscar Vagi of F. Louis Wolff Associates. The facility won an award for design excellence from the Broward Chapter of the American Institute of Architects.

The clubhouse has a central lobby leading off on one side into a theater-auditorium in which entertainment by nationally known stars and weekly dances take place. A talk show with celebrities is hosted by Jack Elgan every Tuesday afternoon. The other half of the recreation center houses rooms for parties, billiards, hobbies, card playing and exercise in addition to an indoor pool, saunas and a golf pro shop. Academic, art and crafts and recreation courses take place daily in the facility. An outdoor pool and patio area with barbecue pit overlooks in early 1979, the time will be just right for buyers to move in.

"Many buyers are from the North and will be leaving bitter winters behind them. The warmth of the sun and the colorful foliage added to Florida rooms overlooking either lake or golf course should give the resident the maximum pleasure in his new home," she remarked.

Two buildings, a two-bedroom, two-bath luxury unit with Florida room, and the "El Dorado" luxury one-bedroom, 1½ bath model with Florida room are scheduled to be built for delivery in 1979. The El Dorado units will start at $22,900, while the short-term units will range from $42,400. All of the units of Phase III overlook either one of the golf courses which sprawl throughout the community. The complex has a country atmosphere also provides many activities. Swimming pools, tennis, shuffleboard and racquetball courts and clubhouses are spaced throughout the community. The focal point of Phase III is the new, multi-million dollar clubhouse designed by Oscar Vagi of F. Louis Wolff Associates. The facility won an award for design excellence from the Broward Chapter of the American Institute of Architects.

Security is discreet at adult community

Security at prestigious Shadow Lake Village is so discreet that only the residents know of its existence. It is a 24-hour security system which is manned 24 hours a day. Visitors get just a glimpse of how privacy is maintained here—the tip of the iceberg, so to speak, when they arrive at the entrance to the adult community off Dwight road in Middletown.

Visitors are stopped at a charming gatehouse which is manned 24 hours a day. They are asked the license number of their car is noted; the license number is noted; the license number is noted. "Very few people resent this," Hovnanian adds.

"Usually they congratulate us on our system."

Shadow Lake Village has become one of the most successful adult communities in the East not simply because of security. The property—once the private estate of a multimillionaire—is located in one of New Jersey's most beautiful natural environments and itself is surrounded by a wooded countryside of lakes and streams. Yet it is only minutes from the Garden State Parkway and within easy access of beaches, two racetracks.

Model homes may be viewed from 9 a.m. to 5 p.m. daily. To reach Shadow Lake Village, take the Garden State Parkway to Exit 114, turn left on Red Hill road for two-tenths of a mile, then right onto Dwight road for approximately three miles to the entrance.

Auto Service Tips

Timing is all-important to efficient operation of your automobile engine. The distributor (shown at lower right in drawing) regulates firing of spark plug in each cylinder. The distributor can be adjusted to advance or retard timing of each spark at precisely the right moment.

Parkway chief: 'Check your car before traveling'

New Jersey motorists should practice preventive maintenance on their vehicles before traveling on the Garden State Parkway during the Memorial Day weekend, it was advised by the New Jersey Department of Transportation.

William F. Smith said that motorists should check the fan belts, hoses, battery, oil and water. Smith said that motorists should also check the tires, brakes, steering and suspension. He said that motorists should also check the engine oil and the coolant level. He said that motorists should also check the air filter and the spark plugs.

Mental Health

From HEW

WHAT IS DEPRESSION? Friends and family members can do a great deal to relieve sufferers of this moderate form of depression.

Keeping the depressed person busy and active outdoors and pleasurable activities to fill the day can help. Another aid, especially for the severely depressed, is a change of scene—a vacation away from home helps. Many depressed persons get away from a situation that may be getting him/her down.

If friendly interest and efforts to take his or her mind off troubles don't seem to comfort the depressed person, it is wise for him or her to see a doctor. Just talking with the doctor may help, or the doctor may prescribe a mild antidepressant or recommend further psychiatric help.

The handling of depression through a physician is relatively mild, this does not by any means exclude the possibility of a suicide attempt. Sometimes seemingly mild depression has much deeper roots. If depressed feelings linger and what seems reasonable and normal, and if there seems no apparent reason for a persistent feeling of unhappiness and gloom, professional help should be sought.

Not to be true, as many people believe, that a person who talks about suicide will not attempt it. This is a very important fact. Even when there is little or no danger of suicide, a physician should be consulted when depressive illness is persistent.

Everyone has suffered an unpleasant bout with the blues, but this is a very minor indication of the kind of mental pain serious depression can inflict. Much can be done to relieve the happiness and well-being of the depressed person and to relieve his or her family, friends and coworkers of the terrible burden imposed by depressive illness. But it is important to discover depressive illness as early in its onset as possible. Modern medicine can help, but early identification plays a large part in the effectiveness of treatment and the speed of recovery.

DOT will computerize traffic control system

A computerized traffic guidance system — to alert motorists to accidents and other incidents that impede travel and to suggest alternate routes — is being developed for the eight northeast counties of New Jersey. The Department of Transportation has announced.

Work also is continuing on a similar type of sophisticated traffic control and surveillance system for the Newark Airport Interchange, one of the most complex highway interchanges in the world. A building to house the electronic equipment for both traffic guidance and control systems is to be constructed at the Airport Interchange.

"When the Route Guidance System, described as the ultimate in traffic system management, is in operation motorists will be advised to use alternate routes in the event of congestion on a particular route," explained D. W. Gwyn, chief engineer of Transportation Operations and Local Affairs.

It is also a good idea in bringing along an extra container of water for the radiator. Overheating is a particular problem during the summer months, and motorists should guard against it by stopping at the nearest service station to top up the radiator by turning off the engine.

"The Memorial Day traffic jam is usually one of the worst of the year, and which would also help in the conservation of energy," he continued.

"In the event of a breakdown, motorists are cautioned to remain in their vehicles until help arrives. They may signal for help by flashing their headlights or by raising their hands out of the window. If a breakdown occurs, it is important to get out of the vehicle as quickly as possible. If a fire starts, get out of the vehicle as quickly as possible. If a fire starts, get out of the vehicle as quickly as possible. If a fire starts, get out of the vehicle as quickly as possible.

Signoret is superb as 'Madame Rosa'

Once in a great while, a very rare, very special kind of film, is bestowed upon the public. Such a film is "Madame Rosa." The fact that it won the Oscar for Best Foreign Picture of 1977 doesn't even do justice. It has an aura of magic that is difficult to explain and offers a rare screen experience to viewers. Currently, it is being offered to moviegoers at the Strand Theater, Summit.

What makes "Madame Rosa" so special? Well, perhaps it is because the extraordinarily gifted Simone Signoret plays with such realism the role that it was written and directed by Moshe Mizrahi, or that it comes from the book by Emile Ajar, winner of the Prix Goncourt of 1975. Perhaps it is a combination of all the above accoutrements.

That's our tribute to Simone Signoret.

Douglas in 'Fury'

"The Fury," starring Kirk Douglas and John Cassavetes, and "Suspiria" with Jessica Harper, Joan Bennett and Alida Valli, opened yesterday on a double bill at the Sanford Theater, Irvington.

"The Fury" is a story about a secret government agency that manipulates a young man and woman with psychic powers, also has Carrie Snodgrass, Amy Irving and Andrew Stevens in stellar roles. It was directed by Brian DePalma.

'Graffiti' on screens

"American Graffiti" will open tomorrow in three local theaters: the Old Rahway in Rahway, the Five Points Cinema in Union and the Maplewood in Maplewood.

The film, which takes a nostalgic dip into the youth of the early 1960s, the drag races, the music and the restlessness, stars Richard Dreyfuss, George Lucas directed the film, which was photographed in color.

"The Betsy" will end its run tonight at the Old Rahway. "That Obscure Object of Desire" at the Five Points Cinema, Union, and "House Calls" at the Maplewood.

MOVIES THE THEATER OTHER ENTERTAINMENT

"Coma," a hospital horror story about patients, who become comatose following surgery, and a young woman doctor, who investigates and endangers her life in the process, came to the Elmora Theater, Elizabeth yesterday, on a double bill with "Demon Seed."

"Demon Seed" concerns a computer that meets a girl and impregnates the girl, who gives birth to a baby computer. Fritz Weaver and Julie Christie co-star. Donald Cammell directed the movie.

GODSPELL—Joe Frailes, left, stars as Jesus Christ in the Cranford Dramatic Club production of "Godspell" at Winans avenue in Cranford. The play opens tomorrow and will continue for three consecutive weekends. Other performers are left to right, Debbie Arcidiacono of Springfield, Ed Levinson of Matuchen and Debbie Churchill of Elizabeth.
