2 newcomers, 1 incumbent win board seats

1985-86 school budget wins approval

SMILES OF VICTORY—The three successful candidates for election to the Springfield Board of Education, from left, Ruth Brinen, Ned Sambur and Myrna Wasserman, were all smiles Tuesday night at the board offices at Florence M. Gaudineer School as the votes were counted. The trio will take their seats when the board holds its organizational meeting April 17. (Photos by Vicki Vreeland)

By VICTORIA VREELAND
The voter turnout wasn't as dramatic as last year, but township voters still topped the state average when they elected Myrna Wasserman, Ned Sambur and Ruth Brinen to three-year terms on the Springfield Board of Education Tuesday.

Voters also approved the district's school budget by almost 2-1 and the capital outlay budget, as well as a referendum to place the proceeds from the sale of school-owned property into that account.

Wasserman, who served on the board from 1980 to 83, was the top vote-getter with 950 votes, followed by Sambur, 865, and Brinen, 859.

A large spread separated the three winners from the four other candidates: incumbent Lou Monaco, who attempted to seek a second term, received 514 votes; Cynthia Matta, 490; Joanne Filippone, 395, and John Westerfield, 213.

Board Secretary and Business Administrator Dr. Leonard

DiGiovanni said approximately 20 percent of the registered voter population turned out. DiGiovanni said the state average is between 8 and 10 percent.

In last year's school board election, approximately 66 percent of Springfield voters cast ballots.

The $4,066,571 school budget was approved 716 to 445. The $90,900 capital outlay budget was approved 687 to 439. The total capital outlay account for the year will be $165,900, but that total will be decreased by $75,000 as a result of the public ballot question.

The victorious candidates appeared happy, but tired, as the election results poured in. Wasserman, a former board president, commented that the candidates conducted a commendable campaign.

"I want to congratulate all the candidates for running a good campaign. I look forward to a very positive year working with the board and the newly elected members," Wasserman said.

She added that the election was the close race she anticipated it to be.

Sambur, who was appointed by the board in July to fill an unexpired term, said he was "very happy" for his elected seat. "I think it was a victory for the town. Hopefully, it is a start of positive things to come for the board. The campaign was a campaign of issues rather than personalities," Sambur said.

He offered his congratulations to all the candidates, and singled out Monaco, "who taught me a great deal about the board." Sambur also expressed thanks for endorsements he received from this newspaper and the Springfield Education Association (S.E.A.).

Brinen, who was chairman of the Level II Monitoring Committee, which was partly responsible for the district regaining its state cer-tification, described her first campaign as "honest and decided on the issues; the way board business should be." Brinen also said she was grateful to the S.E.A. for their endorsement, which she believed had a "positive" impact on her campaign bid.

Matta also extended thanks to the voters who supported her.

Board President Stuart Applebaum, who said he was pleased by the results, commented, "I feel that all the winners are qualified. I believe they all have the district and the children first in mind, and that every decision they make will come from that direction."

Board member Leo Eisen, who was also present at the board offices Tuesday, said, "The board now has a new direction, though I believe it is a continuation of a prior direction we established toward excellence in education and cooperation among board members."

The board will hold its annual organizational meeting April 17 in the Florence M. Gaudineer School.

Springfield voters also approved the $24.1 million Union County Regional High School district budget by a 745 to 405 margin and voted 682 to 429 for the capital outlay.

Overall, the six towns that make up the regional district approved the budget 2,776 to 2,392 and supported the capital outlay portion, 2,577 to 2,392.

In unopposed elections, incumbents David M. Hart of Mountainside and Evelyn Waldt of Springfield were re-elected to the board, while newcomer Melvin D. Altman was elected in Clark. Former board member John E. Coblin was elected in Garwood, where no one had filed for candidacy, by accumulating 107 write-in votes.

Easter message

The promise of Christ's resurrection

By THE REV. JOHN M. GOLDING
St. James Church
Springfield

An Easter theme — The cornerstone of Christianity is faith in the resurrection of Christ. This faith is of paramount importance in Christ's own life and in the life of Christians of every age.

To see the importance in His own resurrection we must study His attitude toward His suffering and crucifixion in the light of human psychology. Christ believed that He had to suffer and die in order to accomplish God's plan of salvation. No human being is psychologically capable of accepting the kind of suffering and humiliation that Roman crucifixion implied unless something good will come out of it in the future. Christ could not have accepted Calvary without belief in the resurrection and ultimate participation which would vindicate Him and His message.

The problem Good Friday presented to future audiences was a crucified God. Who could possibly believe in a God who was destroyed by human hands and humiliated by death on the cross as a common criminal? The followers of Christ must present to the world the resurrection as something plausible and convincing. They, in the early Christian community, believed and taught the resurrection with solid, reasonable and unhesitating faith.

Faith in the Resurrection of Christ is very important in the life of the Christian today. Faith in the resurrection of Christ is the only thing that can make faith in our own resurrection at the time credible. This faith in our own resurrection is the only solid reason for taking up our Cross daily in the footsteps of Christ. It is the only motivation for pain, suffering, persecution and the ultimate witness to Christ: martyrdom.

This Easter let us gratefully celebrate in a stronger way the cornerstone of Christianity — Christ's Resurrection in preparation for our own resurrection.

Dayton High mourns car crash victim

The American flag at Jonathan Dayton Regional High School was flown at half mast this week in homage to student Kipp Levinson of Mountainside, who was killed early Sunday when his car skidded off a curve and crashed into a tree on Wood Valley Road.

An estimated total of some 500 to 750 mourners, including family members, students and friends, turned out at Temple Emanuel in Westfield Monday to pay their respects in funeral services held for Levinson, a star athlete and one of the top ranked students at Dayton. Following the service, reported to have been attended by most of the senior class, Levinson was buried at B'nai Abraham Memorial Park, Union.

"He will be sadly missed," said Dayton Principal Anne Romano. "He was an unusually talented young man who was loved and respected by his fellow students and athletes."

The 18-year-old honor student of Foothill Way, Mountainside, died early Sunday in Overlook Hospital, Summit, as a result of injuries sustained in the crash.

Levinson was co-editor-in-chief of the high school newspaper, "The Dayton Journal" and an athlete who excelled in cross country and tennis.

Police said Levinson was fatally injured after he lost control of his car when the vehicle he was driving skidded off a curve and careened off the road and hit a tree.

Levinson was travelling east on Wood Valley Road and was just two blocks from his home when the 1979 Jeep Wagoneer he was driving skidded off the road at high speed, according to police.

Mountainside Police Chief William Alder said Monday that the patrolman who responded to the scene of the accident reported that Levinson may have been drinking and was believed to have attended a

Assault case to be heard April 15

Assault complaints filed against two teachers in the Florence Gaudineer School, Springfield, will be heard in Summit Municipal Court April 15. The case, which was originally scheduled for trial April 1, was transferred to Summit after Springfield Municipal Judge Robert Welschek disqualified himself.

Complaints were signed by the parent of a Florence Gaudineer sixth-grade student after the boy was allegedly assaulted by Jo Ann Pieper and Joseph Blanda on Feb. 5.

A Board of Education member who declined to be named, said the boy was first allegedly "grabbed" by the arm and hair by Pieper on the playground at lunchtime after the boy fell on ice.

Later, inside the building, according to accounts, Blanda allegedly picked the boy up against a wall and shook him by the neck.

Yale Greenspoon, board attorney, said he has received statements from student witnesses. Greenspoon said he promised "confidentiality" to the students who gave statements and their parents, and he "will stand by that." Greenspoon said the information will only be provided to board members.

Paper has new look

Walter Worrall, publisher, has announced that a new format has been adopted for this newspaper. While retaining local community news for each of the nine individual communities served, other news elements — regional, social and sports news — will now be offered on a combined basis.

"The new format is the result of six months of research, study and planning which uncovered a strong relationship between residents of all our communities in the area of sports and social activity," said Worrall. "We are attempting to give readers more news by retaining the (volume) amount of individual community news and expanding the regional coverage," he said.

Coinciding with the announcement of a new editorial format, the trade name for this group of eight weekly newspapers, formerly known as Suburban Publishing Corp., will now be known as County Leader Newspapers. The corporate name will remain Suburban Publishing Corp.

"The County Leader name is a much more positive name for us because we serve the dominant towns in Union County, as well as Irvington and Vailsburg in Essex County," said Worrall. "The County Leader name also puts us in tune with our Focus on Union County name and perhaps suggests a direction for our newspapers as we look to the future."

receiving the award in the category of weekly newspapers with circulation of 4,500 and under, for a series of stories which exposed alleged administrative mishandling of the Newark Teachers' Supplemental Fringe Benefit Fund.

The series appeared over an eight-month period in the Vailsburg Leader, including articles published on Jan. 26, March 8, July 19, Aug. 23 and Sept. 6, 1984.

Teacher says rights violated

By VICTORIA VREELAND
A teacher in the Springfield school system claims her rights have been violated under both the Civil Rights Act and a state law prohibiting discrimination.

In court papers, Dorothy Stallworth, a music teacher in the district for more than 20 years, made numerous allegations against the Springfield Board of Education, the school board, and Superintendent Dr. Fred Baruchin.

Stallworth's suit, filed in United States District Court several months ago, charges that because of "discriminatory and unreasonable treatment," she has sustained "irreparable physical injury," to an existing physical illness.

According to Stallworth, she was diagnosed as having leukemia in 1978.

The teacher, who is black, claims to be a victim of "various types of harassment," which she believes "is certainly differential treatment."

A number of allegations of discriminatory treatment were made in the court papers. Stallworth claims she has been denied a classroom while one is provided "to other white teachers." She claims she has been the recipient of racial slurs and epithets, and has been denied a classroom while one is provided "to other white teachers."

Stallworth also claims she has been denied a classroom while one is provided "to other white teachers."

and asked to have a doctor's note for being out sick a day while white teachers were allowed five sick days before requiring a doctor's note.

In 1978, Stallworth filed a complaint with the Equal Opportunities Commission which she claims was settled two years later in her favor. She claims, however, she was told by an unidentified party that the records of her complaint have been destroyed.

After the settlement, for a while, Stallworth said conditions at work were "harmonious." According to the music teacher, problems again surfaced after she was diagnosed with the disease. She decided then to sue the district.

Stallworth, who is certified in vocal and instrumental music, believes her "work is good." She described the children in the district and their parents as "beautiful."

She said her complaints are exclusively with the teaching staff and the administration.

Yale Greenspoon, attorney for the Board of Education, believes Stallworth's complaint is baseless. "To the best of my knowledge, there is absolutely no truth in the scurrilous allegations about the Board of Education or any member thereof, and certainly there is nothing in the complaint to show that the board of education or any member thereof has ever denied or said anything wrong to the complainant."

"It's unfortunate that at this point, I, and the board members, are constrained from making any further comment about the merits of the case, first, because the litigation is pending and second, because it is improper to try a case through a newspaper and I certainly hope that the plaintiff's attorney feels that way."

"I am fully confident that the board of education will come through this completely unscathed because it has done nothing wrong," Greenspoon concluded.

Stallworth's attorney, Louis Childress of Newark, described the damages sought in his client's suit as a "high six-figure case."

Childress said the alleged incidents in Stallworth's complaint occurred within the last two years and that the teacher has witnesses to support her case.

Stallworth's position as a music teacher requires her to rotate between the three schools. Childress said his client understands that her teaching facilities are different from those of other teachers, but added, "She doesn't understand why she is required to do janitorial services herself, like move pianos around."

Dr. Baruchin declined to comment on the case while it is in litigation.

Stallworth recently gave a five-hour deposition and is preparing for another. She does not know when her case will be tried.

Newsroom attempts to reach Baruchin's attorney, Marvin Gladstone of Hackensack, were unsuccessful.

Congratulations

The votes have been counted and the victorious candidates will soon take their seats on the Board of Education. The 1985 election is history. The winners are to be congratulated, but they cannot bask in the light of victory too long. The real work lies ahead. Decisions will have to be made which will directly affect the quality of education for the community's children.

Although one of the thorniest problems facing the Springfield school district has passed — regaining state certification — there is much remaining to be done.

At the top of the agenda is improved communication between the central administration and the board. When the members of the new school board take their seats later this month, we hope this issue is addressed head on. The board should assert itself, but be sensitive to the danger of encroaching upon the administration's responsibilities. The administration must take steps to make information available to the board and the public and follow board directives and policy, but should not be subservient to the board's every whim.

Other important issues facing the board in the coming months include the expansion of the gifted and talented program, with emphasis on the talented component, and the recruitment of more minority staff members.

Other issues will surely crop up. But that is another one of the challenges facing the new board — the ability to deal with issues that are unique to this school district in a timely and thorough manner. Our best wishes go to the new board, with the great hope that the confidence of Tuesday's voters had not been misplaced.

Candidate is grateful

I would like to publicly thank all those who assisted me in my recent campaign as a candidate for the Springfield Board of Education, as well as the people who voted for me on Tuesday.

Seeks out religious leaders

Here we go again — taxes are up again. The senior citizens can either cut, leave or move. As for the public schools — it is totally unbelievable that the decent people in Springfield allow our schools to teach humanism and atheism.

The results are apparent — drugs, alcohol, etc. When God is expelled, as in our town, we should rise up and say "enough."

Doesn't anyone care that our kids are going down the tube? Where are our religious leaders? They should stand up and be counted.

Assemblyman-elect expresses thanks

I am pleased to express my sincere appreciation to the voters in the 21st legislative district who supported me during my bid to represent them in the New Jersey State General Assembly.

During the past few weeks of my legislative campaign, I have had the unique opportunity of meeting many of the citizens from the various communities within the legislative district. In addition to becoming fully aware of their individual needs and concerns, it was encouraging to have been greeted with respect and enthusiasm.

I pledge that I will do everything in my power to fulfill the confidence which all of you have placed in me. I will be assuming my office on approximately April 15, and it will be my policy to maintain an open door and an open mind with all of my constituents.

At this time, I must take this opportunity to clarify a misunderstanding between a Suburban Publishing Corporation staff correspondent and myself relative to my official position on the Union Township Committee, and how it relates to my new capacity as state assemblyman.

I did not indicate to Suburban Publishing as they reported on March 28 in several of their community newspapers that I would step down from my local governing body position if I was re-elected to the state Assembly this November. I did say, however, that some consideration would be given to my resignation from the Union Township Committee after my victory in November. I certainly will be in a better position after November to make this determination once I have served both bodies simultaneously.

Editor's Note: We stand by the story as it originally appeared.

Call for April Actions support

I was privileged to speak in favor of a resolution before the Union Freeholders in support of the April Actions (four days, April 19 to 22) for Jobs, Peace and Justice offered by Freeholder Walter Boright and supported by Freeholder Charlotte DeFilippo.

We, of the N.J. SANE, for Jobs with Peace Campaign and Elizabeth community groups, were responding to the budget cuts in essential human services — education, mass transit, social welfare, health, affirmative action, housing and economic development — by staging a protest March 14. The protest on the misplaced use of our tax dollars to support the MX missile, while so many of our local needs remain unmet, was very timely.

The MX will be coming up for several votes and it is important that the entire N.J. congressional delegation join with our senators, Frank Lautenberg and Bill Bradley, in opposing it.

The MX does not contribute to security. It is a destabilizing first-strike weapon. Its cancellation would not weaken the U.S. militarily. It would enable us to pursue an arms control treaty at Geneva which would eliminate the need to deploy any new ICBMs, thus saving the $15.3 billion ($600 million for New Jersey in scarce tax dollars) for job creating programs in the civilian economy.

One MX missile could make a difference in rescuing under-funded domestic programs. A single MX costs $75 million. This money could provide one month of average unemployment benefits for 214,000 unemployed, or six months of average food-stamp benefits for 286,000 Americans. (Center on Budget and Policy Priorities, Washington, D.C.)

The April Actions from April 19 to 22, with emphasis on Saturday as a large demonstration, will emphasize our resolve in this regard.

Prime time 85 and over population fastest growing in U.S.

By CYRIL F. BRICKFIELD
All of us recognize that Americans are living longer, but probably many of us do not realize that the number of persons age 85 and older is growing at a faster rate than any other age group in our society.

Today we have approximately 2.6 million Americans in the 85-plus age category. According to a projection of the United States Census Bureau, the number of Americans in this group will nearly double to 5.1 million by the end of this century. And by the year 2050, the Census Bureau expects us to have an amazing 16 million Americans over 85. If that happens as predicted, our oldest Americans would comprise 5 percent of our total population.

Until recently, very little research was devoted to studying the economic status, living patterns, and health care problems of people over 85. This is partly due to the fact that the burgeoning of our oldest population segment is a fairly recent phenomenon. The 1900 census, for example, recorded only 1.5 million Americans who had reached or passed the age of 85.

Now for the first time, researchers are finally focusing more attention on the oldest of our old. Dr. T. Franklin Williams, director of the National Institute of Aging, reports that NIA is now spending $600,000 a year on studies of our over-85 population, and he expects the funds devoted to this research to be doubled next year.

Our oldest Americans are being studied partly to understand more clearly their needs and attitudes, partly to provide clues to aging that may benefit younger generations.

The title is beyond description and the most active and vital members of the population, and he expects the funds devoted to this research to be doubled next year.

Only 1 percent of the income of the oldest of the old comes from earnings. Although it is estimated that approximately one-third of them have assets such as savings and property, the great majority of very old rely on Social Security benefits as their chief source of income. Hence any curtailment of these benefits can be particularly painful to them.

The principal causes of death among the very old, according to the Times article, are heart disease and stroke, with pneumonia and Alzheimer's disease being significant contributing factors.

Although nearly one-fourth live in institutions, principally nursing homes, it is encouraging to note that more than half (54.6 percent) are still living in their own homes as independent householders. It should be mentioned, however, that they frequently have children or other relatives who live nearby and provide various kinds of support. And that 11 percent of the over-85 population lives with their children.

It's not so surprising that many of these 85 and older are poor. In 1983, the most recent year for which figures are available, 21.3 percent had incomes below the official poverty level.

Only 1 percent of the income of the oldest of the old comes from earnings. Although it is estimated that approximately one-third of them have assets such as savings and property, the great majority of very old rely on Social Security benefits as their chief source of income. Hence any curtailment of these benefits can be particularly painful to them.

My final sweep through the basement confirmed two facts: I do have a green thumb after all. The Swedish Ivy stuffed into a container that I had plunked into the washbasin cabinet, plunked on top of two weeks ago, was thriving. Maybe I should move all my plants to the cellar.

And I discovered that my two sons are more resourceful than I thought they were. We hardly ever use our fireplaces, but I thought I should check the receptacle built into the cellar wall where the ashes drop down from the fireplace upstairs. There were no ashes, but what a great collection of girls' magazines.

So you think I'm a slob and my husband says every drawer in my house is a junk drawer. But I bet I could pass a "black glove test" with flying colors.

Removing bread from the oven (defrosting white bread, not homemade), I had to move a pair of sneakers that were drying over the pilot light.

When I reached the first floor, I discovered the kitchen curtain has slipped down the rod, maybe from the weight of the dust. In the dining room cabinet, plunked on top of a favorite Williamsburg plate, was a metal toy hand grenade and wads of bubble gum wrappers. Nancy had found a hiding place where she knew I never looked.

At least this time I didn't find any blood worms or sand worms frozen to the side of the freezer as I did last year when my husband couldn't find his bait.

Planning tip: CPAs say this rule has a double edge. The shortened holding period can work against you on a losing investment because it now takes half the time to be saddled with a long-term loss. You can only deduct 50 cents for every dollar of long-term losses. However, if you use a long-term loss to offset a short-term gain with long-term losses, the deduction is 100 percent. Previously, the rule was more lax, requiring only adequate records for corroborating evidence of those expenses. The log must show the date of the business travel, the business reason for the trip and the expenses. On a farm visit return, you may be required to say "I got a log." (Recently, the IRS has relaxed the record-keeping requirements on farm vehicles, which use all day for business and by sales and service workers who drive frequently. ## Waste issues are topic

Representatives of Union County business and government will gather Wednesday to discuss waste issues facing the county and the state.

The Solid and Hazardous Waste Seminar, sponsored by the Union County Chamber of Commerce in cooperation with the Union County Solid Waste Office and the Suburban and Union Township Chambers of Commerce, will be held at the Ramada Inn, Clark, Garden State Parkway exit 135.

Clifford M. Peake, president of the Union County Chamber of Commerce, noted "Waste management is perhaps the largest single issue facing the business community. Hazardous waste is a particularly vexing problem and management of other commercial waste is also becoming a major issue in terms of the environment and disposal costs."

The one-day seminar will bring experts on waste management from industry and from the state, local and county governments. Guest speakers include Dr. Marwan M. Sadek, P.E., Waste Management Director, New Jersey Department of Environmental Protection; Mary T. Shell, Recycling administrator, New Jersey Department of Environmental Protection; Joseph E. Kazar, Union County Solid Waste planner; Garland C. Boothe Jr., Westfield councilman and chairman, Union County Solid Waste Advisory Council; Joseph M. Hartnett, administrator, City of Rahway; Edward M. Cornell Jr., executive director, Waste Management Association, Inc.; and State Sen. Raymond J. Lesniak, D-20.

The seminar is from 8:30 a.m. to 2 p.m. and includes lunch and a special appearance of Mr. R.E. Cycle, the working symbol of the New Jersey Department of Energy, Office of Recycling, who will demonstrate "The Magic Is... Recycling Pays."

The registration fee is $25. Attendance is limited. Information is available from the Union County Chamber of Commerce, 332-0900.

'Who's Who' lists students

Thirty-eight students from Kean College of New Jersey, including several local residents, will be listed in the 1984-85 edition of "Who's Who Among Students in American Universities and Colleges."

Those selected include Thomas Bagstrom of Irvington, Elizabeth Cifrodella of Newark, Lisa Ann Cybulski of Linden, Joseph Guajardo of Newark, Joan Koerber of Newark, Joan McCann of Union, Michelle McSweeney of Roselle, Frank Munders of Union, Frank Zablosky of Springfield and Helen Zipper of Union.

Janice Murray, associate dean of students, said, "Each of the students selected have demonstrated excellence and achievement in several aspects of their lives. This is a real honor for them and they are greatly excited about it."

Murray said a committee at Kean used four criteria for nominating the students: participation and leadership in academics and extracurricular activities, citizenship and service to the college community, scholarship ability and the potential for future achievement.

"The faculty, staff, and students who nominate the recipients see them as award as an honor deserved by those who are truly outstanding," Murray said.

State subpoenas local car dealerships

Consumers should be aware of the possibility these cars were not imported through regular channels and may not meet American performance, safety and emissions standards, the state subpoenas.

The division has issued subpoenas to the 11 dealerships where cars without Monroey sticker were found, demanding copies of all invoices, purchase agreements, certificates of origin, import and receiving documents pertaining to the receipts and sale of new vehicles by the firms for the period of Jan. 20 to March 20.

"We are trying to determine the origin of these cars, whether they carry the full manufacturer's warranties, and whether consumer fraud violations are involved in the sale of these cars," said James J. Barry Jr., director of the division.

Kosher regs enforced for holiday

James J. Barry Jr., director of the New Jersey Division of Consumer Affairs, has announced that state regulations concerning the labeling and advertising of kosher foods will be enforced for the Passover season.

Under a state law signed last year by Gov. Thomas H. Kean, the Division of Consumer Affairs is inspecting stores and restaurants that advertise the availability of kosher foods to ensure compliance with requirements regarding the methods by which kosher food or food products must be kept prepared for sale, displayed, and sold.

"The state regulations make it an unlawful consumer practice for anyone to sell, offer to sell, expose for sale, serve or have in his possession with intent to sell in any restaurant, hotel, store, catering facility or other place, any food or food product which is falsely represented to be kosher, kosher for Passover or as having been prepared according to Orthodox Jewish religious requirements."

Violations of these regulations are punishable under the state Consumer Fraud Act, which provides for penalties of up to $2,000 per violation for a first offense and up to $5,000 per violation for any subsequent offense.

Updated education vital at Baris, Inc.

"In today's demanding real estate field, seasoned associates as well as newcomers must be continually educated and updated to keep abreast of their profession. The public we serve deserves the finest professional services the Realtor can provide."

Jordan Baris, president of Jordan Baris, Inc. Realtors, offered that observation in announcing two recent professional education courses in which the Essex County-based real estate firm participated.

Management staff and company executives recently participated in a special Communications Seminar conducted by Dr. Gary L. Krebs, Ph.D., a professor at the Rutgers University School of Communications. Sponsored by the Baris company, the series of four seminars focused on management areas such as perspectives on organizational communications, leadership functions and strategies, motivation and communication, and conflict management and organizational development.

Incoming associates to Jordan Baris, Inc. attend seminars conducted by experts in real estate law and mortgage financing. The seminars are part of an intensive program of orientation provided for all new associates of the company.

Real estate attorney Aaron Stier from Union County explained the legal complexities involved in the transfer of real estate, including the role of the attorney, the responsibilities of the Realtor, and how both attorney and Realtor can work together to smooth the process of buying and selling real estate for buyers and sellers. The complexities of dealing with various classes in a real estate contract also were reviewed.

Addressing the subject of financing was a team from County Mortgage, Verona, led by Robert Jordan. The mortgage bankers explored the many types of financing available, qualifications for approval, and how to determine what method of financing is most appropriate for a particular sale.

According to Baris, seminars conducted by such authorities in their fields are "invaluable in equipping our new people with the knowledge necessary to become successful professionals."

The Baris training program for new associates involves a progressive course that covers three modes of learning. The program uses a variety of teaching formats, including seminars, workshops, role-playing, and other techniques.

Said Baris, "Part of the purpose of such a rigorous training program is to instill confidence as well as book knowledge. Role-playing, for example, in which new associates are confronted with actual situations simulating what he or she will be dealing with as a real estate professional, offers a particularly effective way of helping the new associate to sharpen his interpersonal skills and feel better prepared."

Jordan Baris, Inc., which has served the real estate needs of the Essex County area for more than 30 years, is a full service real estate organization with offices in Livingston, South Orange and Livingston. The firm is now recruiting new sales associates to respond to the high volume of market activity throughout the area.

RESP, a program for adults with chronic lung disease known as Respiratory Evaluation and Support Program, begins Monday at Alexian Brothers Hospital, Elizabeth. The program is cosponsored by the American Lung Association of Central New Jersey. Pictured are JoEllen Farrell, coordinator of RESP, and Leah Kasner, who is enrolled in the current program at the hospital. Registration information is available by calling Farrell at 351-9000, Ext. 462.

New Japanese 'Super Pill' Insures Rapid Weight-Loss

No Dieting — Eat All You Want, Pill Does All The Work

BEVERLY HILLS, CA An exciting new "all natural" weight-loss "Super" Pill developed by the JMA (Japanese Medical Association) has just been approved for distribution in the United States. Reportedly, it can guarantee that you will lose more than a pound a day without dieting, from the very first day until you reach your ideal weight and figure. News of this "Super Pill" is literally sweeping the country. It's called Amiol and there has never been anything quite like it before.

"Flushes Calories Right Out Of Your Body"

What makes Amiol so thrilling and unique is its reported ability to flush calories right out of your body. Amiol is completely safe, it contains no drugs whatsoever. Its ingredients are derived solely from the Konjac root which grows primarily in Northern Japan.

Why the Konjac root? It has been used in Japan for over 1600 years to produce rapid and natural weight-loss.

Japanese studies verify that Konjac root actually prevents fat producing calories from being absorbed into your system. They say it does this by surrounding much of the fat, proteins and carbohydrates you have eaten with a protective viscous coating which is then gently flushed out of your system. And according to Japanese research this produces absolutely amazing results.

And who can disagree! Amiol (although brand new to this country) is already being called by many people "the most exciting weight-loss breakthrough of the century." In fact, everywhere there are reports of easy and fast weight-loss from formerly overweight people (in all walks of life) who are now slim, trim, and attractively again.

Company Guarantee

You now can purchase Amiol direct from the North American distributors, and it comes with an extraordinary guarantee.

If you place your order now and then follow the simple instructions for a period of 30 days, you must be completely satisfied with the dramatic visible results or just return the empty container and Dyna Labs will immediately send back your entire purchase price. This guarantee applies regardless of your age or current weight level. What could be better than that! It's just that simple. If you've tried to lose weight before and failed you no longer have an excuse. Amiol is available, it's easy and it works without dieting!

$19.95 - 30 day supply, or $35.95 60 day supply. Order immediately by sending a check or money order to: DYNALABS, 270 No. Canon Dr., Ste. 1215 (Opp. U.S.) Beverly Hills, CA 90210. (Enclose your return address). Credit card holders can return by simply dialing toll free: (1-800-367-2400) 24 hrs a day, 7 days a week. Either way your order will be promptly filled. Please don't wait. You really do deserve to be thin.

By ROSE P. SIMON
This six-year study of a Revolutionary small town could not have been realized without the cooperation of many people and innumerable old documents and photographs. It was published for the bicentennial celebration of Chatham, of which it depicts the everyday lives of average men and women during the early days of our history. Town meetings, elections, taxes, inflation, Revolutionaries and Loyalists, churches and newspapers, court cases, marriages and deaths, are all contained in the history of Chatham and similar surrounding villages of the area.

Baseball previews

After having a great season last year, winning 23 of 33 games as well as the North Jersey Section II, Group IV title, the Union High baseball team is expecting to have another fine season in 1985. Coach Gordon LeMaty has a senior-dominated squad this spring.

Roselle Rams

After coming close to the 500 mark the last two seasons, the Roselle baseball team finally hopes to reach that coveted plateau in 1985. But it will be with a young team. "We're inexperienced," said coach Joe Kelly. "Our problem this year looks to be hitting. Pitching and defense will win games for us."

Last season was the most memorable in Roselle Park baseball history: a 19-5 record, the Valley Division title in the Mountain Valley Conference and the North Jersey Section II, Group I title, missing the state finals by just one game.

Brearley Bears

Irvington baseball preview

With only one starter returning, 1985 could be a tough year for the Irvington High Campers and coach Karl Gordon.

Senior Solley Sellers, who played first base last year and will be in the outfield this season, is the lone returnee. After him, IHS will be predominantly a sophomore group, although junior Terrence Warren will see plenty of action at virtually every position except catcher. He hits well and has a fine arm.

There is a lot of hope with sophomores Pete Estrada, Mike Dixon, Harold Padilla, Randy Gessen and Troy Bowers seeing plenty of action. Estrada will be the shortstop, Dixon will handle second base when not pitching. Padilla will be in left field, Jefferson behind the plate and Bowers at third.

Bill Griffith is another player with promise, and he had two hits in three trips to the plate Monday's opening 7-4 loss to Newark Barringer. He had a double and a triple, but it was not enough to overcome the City League foe.

Cherry Blossom run scheduled

Entrants to this year's fifth annual Cherry Blossom Run will receive a possible edge in winning the popular 10-kilometer race if they take advantage of unique aerobic regimen offered free by the Essex County Department of Parks, Recreation and Cultural Affairs, the race's sponsor.

The increasingly popular 6.2-mile run will be held on April 28 at 10 a.m. in exquisite Branch Brook Park under a canopy of white and pink cherry blossoms. Beginning at 9 a.m. however, Jyoti Christal will lead those runners who want in an energetic series of aerobic exercises called "Voguerobics." Voguerobics uses stretching techniques, calisthenics and aerobic movements to increase cardiovascular endurance, physical strength and flexibility.

The entry fee for the County's Cherry Blossom Run is $5 for Essex residents and $7 for out-of-county residents. A total of 40 prizes will be distributed to the top three men and women overall and the top three men and women finishing in each of seven age categories. The first 1,500 entrants receive free tee shirts. For an application to the 1985 Cherry Blossom Run, call the Parks Department at 482-6400.

Softball previews

Union High

Last season was a memorable one for the Union High girls softball team: a 24-2 record, the North Jersey, Section II, Group IV championship and a second place finish in the state last year. Losing a heartbreaking 1-0 game to Cherokee in the final at Mercer County Park in West Windsor.

But that was last year. What about this year's Lady Farmers, who opened the season yesterday at Kearny?

"This is a rebuilding year," said coach George Hopkins. "Only three girls with varsity experience return and a lot of the girls are playing new positions this year. If we get good pitching, I'm hoping for a pleasant surprise. The girls are working hard and we should improve as the season goes on."

But it will be difficult replacing the loss of a pitcher like Lisa Revere and the catching of Rene Freeman, both of whom have graduated.

Taking Revere's spot will be senior co-captain Andrea Peters, moving to the mound from right field.

The backup hurler will be another senior, Lisa Morelli, who has good control and impressed in the scrimmages.

Another returning veteran is junior Sue Zymroz, who moves to catcher from third base. Hopkins feels she can be one of the better catchers in the area.

Also playing a new position is sophomore Kim Miller, who moves from third base at Burnet to first with UHS. Kathy Steffels, a junior, will be at second, with Nancy Pilzger, another junior, set to be the backup.

The other returning veteran is shortstop Julie Brzezinski, the other senior co-captain. She had a solid season last spring and is looking towards another good campaign.

Replacing Zymroz at third will be junior Chantay Strickland, who swings a good bat and has a fine arm.

"Overall, our infield is not bad," said Hopkins. "Our question marks...

Roselle High

According to coach Frank Howlett, the softball season in Roselle could be a long one. But it could be better, if the Lady Rams stay away from injuries.

"It looks to be a lean year for us," said Howlett. "But we have looked good in scrimmages against Crawford and Scotch Plains, so there is hope."

Roselle, which opened the season this past Tuesday at Hillside, looks to be strong at spots in the infield, but are weak in the outfield. But pitching looks to be solid.

Senior JoAnn Malla, who threw a no-hitter last season, is the top hurler, with junior Denise Duralek also set to see plenty of action.

"JoAnn has decent speed and good control, while Denise is just learning the position, but she'll be okay," said Howlett. When one is pitching, the other will be playing shortstop. And Duralek is a three-year starter there.

Catcher Michelle Glassman, a senior who is a good hitter and fielder, is the starter, while at first base, the position is being contested for juniors Juliana Jones and Adrienne Williams.

Another good hitter, junior Maria Barrequeiro, is the second baseman and sophomore Jody Adams, who was a varsity backup but saw little playing time a year ago, will be at third.

The outfield spots will be filled by junior Jennifer Burns and seniors...

Brearley

If hard work and dedication lead to success, then this season's girls softball team at Brearley should have a very good season.

On the mound for the Lady Bears will be junior Barbara Legg, who is going to be the team number one pitcher. Sophomore Mary Anne DiStefano will be the other starting pitcher for Brearley.

Doing the bulk of the catching will be junior Dohi McGoldrick, who Ruggiero said, "Has improved quite a bit from last season."

At first base will be junior Mary Anne Drono who has worked hard to improve her all-around game. The second baseman will be Alicia Petrocca, a junior who knows her way around the bag and is working with junior shortstop Kelly Shields on improving the double play.

Sophomore Tracy Schmidt will also see action at short for the Lady Bears. Playing third will be senior Lynda Kubik who has developed into a fine all-around player. Junior Sandy Vitale will also see opening time at third.

The outfield for Brearley will be comprised of all juniors. Playing in left will be Lori Bertolotti in center will be Kathy Carrea, a fine defensive player with Kim Shields and Sandy Stickle sharing right field. Lori Koenig will sub for all three.

Dayton Regional
The 1985 season for the Dayton girls softball team promises to be very successful, coming off of a 17-4 mark a year ago. The Bulldogs have seven starters returning from last season's team, which was also finished second to Westfield in the Union County Tournament.

Head coach Howard Cushman said, "Spring workouts have gone well and the team is shaping up."

On the mound for the Bulldogs will be first team All-State selection Sharon Kutsop. Cushman said, "We will rely heavily on Kutsop again this year and I feel that she can only get better."

Also on the mound for Dayton will be sophomore Colleen Delaney, who pitched the Dayton and Middlesex next Thursday.

Roselle Park

After winning 22 of 25 games a year ago, winning the Valley Division title in the Mountain Valley Conference and coming within two games of the state Group 1 final, the Roselle Park girls' softball team do for an encore?

Better, hopes coach John Wagner. The 1985 season got off to a rough start this past Monday when RP dropped a tough 2-1 decision to Crawford. In that game, Park had nine girls in scoring position, but got only one of them home.

"We just didn't hit the ball at all, and we're not the type of team that can crush the ball," said Wagner. "But we have to start hitting, especially with this tough opening stretch."

Roselle Park, after opening with Crawford, played at Manville this past Tuesday, travels to Bound Brook for a 4 p.m. game today and plays at Westfield this Saturday at 11 a.m.

Sophomore Lisa Dragon will again be the number one pitcher this year, with senior Merry Daly in left, senior Robyn Pervette in center and senior Kelli Schaefer in right. Coming off the bench to lend help will be senior Sharon Stevens, junior Kelly Murray, and sophomores Carolyn Hazlehurst and Jennifer Bebert.

The opening week concludes with home games against North Plainfield this Tuesday and Middlesex next Thursday.

Irvington High

For first year head coach Ed Rysavage, the season couldn't have started any better for the Irvington High Lady Campers than it did this past Monday, as they pounded out 22 hits and walloped Clifford Scott, 20-0.

Irvington's team this spring will include four members of the girls state championship basketball team: Cathy Scott, Tammy Hammond, Donna Wilson and Nadine Comper. Rysavage is hoping that their winning attitude will rub off on the other Lady Campers.

Scott, who is a junior, will be the starting catcher and "is a fine defensive catcher and pretty good hitter," said Rysavage. A first base will be Kristina Quinn, a junior who the coach said, "is the best hitter on the team." Comper will be the second baseman and is a fine all-around athlete.

Playing shortstop for Irvington is Luz Zambrano, a terrific fielder and one of the best hitters on the team. Zambrano is a senior. He also is a member of the IHS girls tennis team. Cassandra Smith, a junior will be at third for the Lady Campers, and has a real gun for an arm," said Rysavage.

Hammond, who will be the regular center fielder, uses her speed to cover a great deal of ground and is also an excellent hitter. Flanking Hammond will be seniors Rebecca Nios, Lynessa Robinson and Tracy Bell.

The top pitcher for Irvington will be Cordell Tyndall, a junior right-hander who has fine control and pitches well under pressure.

WIZARDS VISIT ROSELLE PARK—The Harlem Wizards defeated the Union County All-Stars, 89-64, recently in a basketball exhibition game at Roselle Park High School, with proceeds going to the school band. Tex Barnewell shows his ballhandling skills to the kids while Westfield chief of detectives Barney Tracy and Rob Rubilla, owner of Discount Dell Delights in Park, who played on the UC team, look on.

'All thumbs' can be 'green thumbs'

By RAE HUTTON

Longer days and milder temperatures are sure signs that spring has arrived. And while the brunt of the gardening chores are still a few weeks away, now's the time to put away the snow shovels and get out the garden tools.

According to James Nichnadowicz, program associate in agriculture for the Union County Extension Service, spring time is the prime time to lay the foundation for blooming gardens and healthy lawns.

In order to insure a fruitful season, Nichnadowicz has a few tips for the area's "green thumbs."

It's time to lime

Nichnadowicz reminds gardeners that now's the time to lime the lawn if it wasn't done in the fall. "Also, the lawn should be fertilized during the first two weeks of April with fertilizer with a 10-4 ratio," he said.

For crabgrass control, if this was a problem last year, the Extension Service recommends applying Preemergence Control to the lawn once the forsythia flowers fall off.

Vegetable gardens

Around April 15, pea, carrot, radish, lettuce and beet seeds can be sown outdoors. "Regular inspection of plantings for problems is the key to successful vegetable growing," Nichnadowicz said.

Tomatoes, peppers and eggplants shouldn't be put out before the last week of May as cool weather can damage them, he added.

Trees need care too

April is the time to prune trees as cutting is easier without all the leaves in the way.

Apple trees should be sprayed with Dorman oil in early April. Before buds break, peach trees should be sprayed with Ferbam, 75 percent, to control the disease, Peach tree cur.

Nichnadowicz also had some hints about flowering crabapples which are prone to a serious disease, crabapple scab. "Last year, this disease defoliated many crabapples in Union County prematurely," Nichnadowicz said. "If repeated infestations of this disease are not prevented, the trees will die."

Nichnadowicz suggests that anyone worried about the disease try to recall whether the leaves had olive drab spots of 1/2 inch in diameter last spring and if the tree dropped any of its leaves prematurely in July or August. If so, the trees should be sprayed this year for control, he said.

Captan, dodine, benomyl, chlorothalonil or mancozeb should be sprayed at budbreak and then every 10 days until two weeks after the flower petals fall from the tree.

For this program to be effective, he added, the fungicide must be applied before the drab olive spots appear.

Plant potpourri

Spring is also the time to take care of rose bushes, according to Nichnadowicz, who recommends removing dead wood and using a fertilizer with a 5-10-5 ratio, about one heaping tablespoon per plant.

Nichnadowicz also has a warning about houseplants: beware of overwatering. "Only water when the soil a half inch deep in the pot feels dry, then apply enough so

PLANT SEASON—James Nichnadowicz, program associate in agriculture for the Union County Extension Service, looks over some of the plants being grown at the county offices in Westfield. The Service is promoting gardening as a hobby, and Nichnadowicz had some spring gardening tips for area residents. See accompanying article. (Photo by John Boutsikaris)

"It comes out the drainage hole," he said.

From the way the county agent's phone has been ringing, many area gardeners are getting spring fever.

"We're always available to answer questions," said Nichnadowicz, "but spring is our busiest time." The best time for calling is between 9 a.m. and noon, he said. The agriculture hotline number is 233-8586.

Union County has unique problems because it is a highly industrialized location. One problem is that there is not enough sunny land and many people reside in apartments.

As an alternative, the service is promoting "community gardens" where several people can get involved in gardening together.

About the service

The Extension Service is a branch of the Cooperative

Extension Service at Cook College of Rutgers University, New Brunswick. In each county in the state, professionally trained Extension specialists in four major areas — home economics, 4-H youth development, agriculture and natural resource management — bring educational programs for better living to people of all ages.

Each county has at least one county agent in agriculture and program associates like Nichnadowicz who actually deal with the residents of the county. Union County's agent is Steven Bachelder.

"Green thumbs turn that color from pulling a lot of weeds."

Specialists in all areas are at the Extension Service's home base at Cook College. Research is also done at Cook. If there's a problem the county agents can't solve, they are referred to the Cook College specialists.

According to Nichnadowicz, who holds a degree in environmental science from Cook and is studying for a master's in horticulture, people are not aware of the services available to them.

Among those services is soil testing. For a $5 fee, the county agent will test a homeowner's soil to determine how much fertilizer or lime should be used on the soil. The Extension Service also has hundreds of brochures, many for free, on gardening.

The county agent is currently working on municipal leaf composting which will not only aid the gardener, but could save on dumping fees. Under the plan, the town would collect leaves for a compost and then give them back to homeowners.

The service also helps communities and homeowners in selecting trees, identifies bugs and plant diseases and consults with professional landscapers, exterminators and tree surgeons who may run into problems.

Programs offered

Upcoming programs offered by the Extension Service this spring are "Control of Insects, Diseases, and Weeds in the yard and garden," Tuesday, 7:30 to 9:30 p.m., Extension auditorium, Westfield; "Bushfruit and Strawberry Growing," April 13, Trallide Museum auditorium, 10 a.m. to noon; "Gardening in Containers and Small Places," April 20, 7:30 to 9:30 p.m., Extension auditorium; "Annuals and Perennials," May 4, 10 a.m. to noon, Miele's Greenhouse, Lake Avenue, Clark.

At their headquarters in Westfield, the county agents grow different herbs and spices and provide plants for displays at area libraries.

"This is to motivate people to garden," Nichnadowicz said. "Gardening is healthy. It's good exercise and a good hobby."

His final bit of advice for budding gardeners: green thumbs turn that color from pulling a lot of weeds.

Gardening blossoms as a favorite leisure activity

Eight out of 10 or 83 percent of all American households were involved in at least one form of indoor or outdoor gardening in 1984, according to a poll conducted by the Gallup Organization of Princeton.

Gardening ranked as the number one outdoor leisure activity of U.S. households, more popular than golf, jogging, biking, tennis and swimming.

The most popular gardening activities were flower gardening with 40 million (47 percent) of all households involved, vegetable gardening with 34 million (40 percent) participating, indoor houseplants with 39 million households (46 percent) and lawns at 54 million (63 percent) of households involved. This data is based on results of a nationwide poll sponsored by Gardens for All, The National Association for Gardening, a 250,000 member supported non-profit organization, based in Burlington, Vermont. The national survey is conducted annually by The Gallup Organization.

Garden spots

According to the 1984-85 survey, vegetable gardening in America's backyards and community gardens saw a slight decline in 1984 — down one million households from 1983 to 24 million (40 percent of households). The incidence of households growing a small amount of vegetables and fruits in containers, border plantings, on roof tops, and patios increased to 10 million households in 1984.

Gardens for All's president, Charles Scott, analyzed the new data saying, "Gardening has clearly become part of the values of American life and is reflected in the numbers of households involved in some form of the activity year round. We are talking about a significant portion of the American population whose lives are enriched through a garden in the backyard — over 90 million Americans are actively benefitting from home or community vegetable and fruit gardening." Scott believes that "Food gardening took a slight dip in 1984 showing that those who did garden as a fad or only for economic reasons seemed to have dropped out. Those 34 million American households into food gardening are doing so for fresh vegetables, better tasting quality food, and better nutrition and health," he said. "Gardening can be easy, it's healthy, it's tangible, and it's enjoyable — these are some of the reasons why many American households have established gardening as part of our way of life."

Those who would like to work directly with and learn about growing roses in this area are asked to bring their own trowel, gardening gloves, a hand cultivator if possible and a knee-pad if desired.

Parks department gets grant for handicapped

The Union County Department of Parks and Recreation recently received a $2,500 Handicapped Persons Recreational Opportunities Grant from the New Jersey Department of Community Affairs to operate special events in the arts for the handicapped.

The grant, which the Parks Department has received for the third consecutive year, will be put toward a Special Arts Festival for the mentally and physically handicapped, emotionally disturbed and socially maladjusted, ages 10 to adult.

According to Elaine F. Stemmler, recreation supervisor of handicapped programs, the festival will consist of a series of day programs featuring several different art forms including music, theater and various types of arts and crafts. Each session will begin with a demonstration of a specific art form by a consultant who is knowledgeable and experienced in that medium of expression.

Participants will have an opportunity to apply their newly-gained knowledge in "hands-on" sessions. Each activity will conclude with an opportunity for those present to socialize and enjoy light refreshments.

Upcoming sessions are:
 April (date to be announced) — Theater.
 May 11 — Woodwork.
 June 8 — Nature Crafts.
 Sept. 14 — Dance/Aerobics.
 Oct. 19 — Needlecrafts.
 Nov. 16 — Sculpture/Ceramics.

Locations and times for the various programs will be announced at a later date. Anyone interested in receiving program announcements should call Elaine Stemmler at 527-4912.

TWIN IMAGE—Jeanette and Claudette Russ, identical twins, recently recorded "Mirror" for Capitol Records.

By MILT HAMMER
Pick of The LPs, "Mirror," by Jeanette and Claudette Russ, identical twins, comprise the recording duo Twin Image. Their current LP marks the debut of this harmoniously light-knit twosome, whose voices meld with a grace and ease beyond compare.

Jeanette and Claudette grew up in a suburban area of San Diego, Calif. Like many of the popular artists of today, they were first discovered as part of their church choir, where, incidentally, they can still be found on any given Sunday morning.

Evolving from a musically-inclined family, who sings throughout Southern California, Twin Image developed their vocal skills both at home and at church. In fact, the twins were discovered by Capitol Records while performing at a Los Angeles church.

The girls originally were inclined toward the field of paramedics, but when Capitol Records was so impressed with their talents that they offered them an immediate contract, the girls decided to accept the musical challenge and signed on the dotted line. According to the girls, "We wanted to help people. We wanted to bring some happiness to the people around us and we thought that by entering the para-medical field, we would be able to do just that. Now, we can bring happiness through our music."

"Mirror" was produced by Todd Cochran and Siggi, who co-wrote the stylish "My Baby Loves Me (Do Do)" for the LP. Housed in this delectable platter are tunes ranging from the dance-oriented to the balladic. The premier single, "Kiss And Make It Better," written by Jerry Knight, is an upbeat R&B gem which showcases the girls' instinctive harmonic ability at its best. Other cuts include the riveting ballad, "Undivided Love," the energetic "Turn The World Around," and the cookey, "Love Lesson," whose funk-flavored rhythms are suggestive of the girls' R&B roots.

Though barely out of their teens, Jeanette and Claudette boast a highly developed musical expertise. The fact that they are twins and have been singing together since childhood accounts for their uncanny ability to sing as a single voice.
