New BOE seated

The Springfield Board of Education swung in its three new members, recognized the service of old members, and re-elected board officers at its annual reorganization meeting April 23.

Following the swearing in of new members Myrna Wasserman, Ned Samburg and Ruth Brinen, Stuart Applebaum and Ken Faigbaum were unanimously elected to second terms as president and vice president, respectively.

Applebaum thanked the public for its interest in board business and his colleagues for "expressing confidence" in him. "I am confident that we will perform clearly and quietly in a very productive manner, and I am confident that we will not rush into change, but we will not hesitate to change when change is needed."

The firm of Fish, Field and Greenspoon was reappointed as legal attorney. According to Applebaum, the firm will bill at the same rate it charged for the period it represented the board in the preceding year. Greenspoon was appointed on a $3,300 annual retainer and at $120 per hour for legal services.

Other board appointments followed suit and were renamed.

The Springfield Leader, along with an Elizabeth-based daily newspaper, were designated the board's official newspapers.

The Springfield branch of the National State Bank and the Summit

Elizabeth Trust Co. were designated depositories.

F. David Stickle was appointed treasurer of School Monies at an annual retainer of $2,200.

Alman Fidler Co. was appointed board auditor at an annual retainer of $1,500.

The board's bylaws were approved with one exception, a change in meeting nights, although many ideas for policy additions were later suggested by board members. Effective May 1, the board unanimously agreed to hold conference meetings on the first Monday of the month and regular business meetings on the second. The third Monday of each month was reserved for optional meetings.

New member Wasserman, who abstained from voting on many of the appointments, suggested the board develop a policy to provide new members with background information on the proposed appointments. Although beginning a new term, Wasserman served on the board from 1980 to 1983. "These are very important decisions a board member has to make and I came to the meeting with no information. To my knowledge, there were no evaluations of the firms and individuals that were recommended to this board."

Applebaum responded that new members have time to do necessary research at the board office prior to the reorganization meeting. He added that Wasserman's idea would be recommended to the Policy Committee for consideration.

Pietro Peltino proposed another new policy. Peltino said he was "appalled" by the way former board member George Gomez was recognized, "or rather non-recognized."

Gomez was presented with a service plaque for his three years on the board by Dr. Leonard DiGiovanni, board secretary and business administrator. He was given the plaque behind the board members' seats and not recognized with words or applause.

Lou Monaco, former board member, was also presented with a service plaque, but was not present to receive it.

Peltino said a policy should be created for how to handle the traditional award or "disperse with it altogether." He also noted, "I'll tell you one thing, you're not going to do that to me next year."

Supporting Peltino's comment but added recognition for educational service should extend to the administration and faculty. "A person who gives service to the community deserves recognition and a chance to be heard."

Baruchin said he believes service awards would be "a good thing for the community, the district, and the personnel."

The board will meet for its first Monday conference meeting May 6.

Assault case may be retried

The Springfield Board of Education has decided for the time being to not initiate formal action to recover costs incurred for a court appearance of two teachers last week. A simple assault complaint signed by a sixth-grade student's mother against Joseph Blanda and Jo Ann Pappas, teachers in the Florence Gaudinier School, was dropped in Summit Municipal Court April 15 for lack of prosecutive value.

The complaint, signed by Sue DiVorschio, alleged Blanda and Pappas each assaulted a student.

Donald Rinaldo, who represented the plaintiff, did not appear in court reportedly because of a miscommunication between his office and the court clerk, according to Katherine Waidle, Rinaldo's secretary.

Board Attorney Yale Greenspoon advised the board it could impose the cost of a hearing for the day in addition to the cost of attorneys for the two teachers, and teachers who were scheduled to testify.

Although the case was "not prosecutive," Waidle said she "did not know" if the case could be retried.

The complaint, signed by Sue DiVorschio, alleged Blanda and Pappas each assaulted a student.

Donald Rinaldo, who represented the plaintiff, did not appear in court reportedly because of a miscommunication between his office and the court clerk, according to Katherine Waidle, Rinaldo's secretary.

Waidle explained on the trial day, "I didn't convey it would be going to court for the morning, she attempted to contact the Summit court clerk to request an adjournment. When she couldn't reach the clerk, she called the court clerk and was assured that his message was relayed to the court clerk who said the adjournment was granted. According to the court clerk, the only message he received was that Rinaldo would show up."

Waidle said a motion for reconsideration to have the case reinstated has been filed in Summit. The office is waiting to find out if the motion will be accepted or rejected.

School planner eyed

By VICTORIA VREELAND

The Springfield Board of Education was expected to appoint a master plan consultant, a summer school director, and discuss summer writing teams at last night's meeting.

Board Secretary and Business Administrator Dr. Leonard DiGiovanni said the firm of University Consultants would be recommended to the board to update the district's master plan at a cost of $250,000.

DiGiovanni said the plan, a compilation of figures on birth statistics, class sizes, staffing, and an analysis of the district's facilities and curriculum, is required by state law to be updated every five years.

The proposed update, which will consist of a five-year pupil projection, will take between 60 and 80 days to complete, DiGiovanni said.

For the past eight years, Superintendent Dr. Fred Baruchin said, the directorship of the summer school program has rotated between two applicants: Roosevelt Williams, who possesses administrative certification, was expected to have been recommended last night for this year's directorship.

The proposed writing teams are to be composed of staff members who will write new or revised course curriculum. One of last year's projects, which designed instructional materials for level computer courses, was successfully piloted this year, Baruchin said.

This year's writing teams will consist of staff members responsible for computer programs in grades six through eight, and reading education in the Florence Gaudinier School.

Baruchin reported the district had been notified by the state that it must file a plan for the next year's budget. The plan must include a number of objectives to be achieved by the end of the fiscal year.

According to Board President Stuart Applebaum, the damage done over a period of time, was "extensive." Police said the windows were shot out with a BB-gun.

The board was expected to select one of three proposals for the construction of a storage shed at the school site, which would be an addendum to its approved motion to award the contract for the $14,500 shed to P. DeFrenzo, of Clifton.

The board's original proposal for a storage shed was turned down by the Board of Review of the Springfield Planning Board for "aesthetic" reasons. Last night, the board was expected to select an alternative plan from options which included an appearance before the planning board to discuss its objection, constructing an all-brick shed which would blend with the school, or going for a brick veneer, which would cost approximately $2,650 more.

Board member Lee Elsen, former chairman of the Buildings and Grounds Committee, said the planning board's rejection was "quite a shock."

Special cop pay to rise

By VICTORIA VREELAND

An ordinance to upgrade the salary for special services by Springfield police officers was approved by the Springfield Township Committee Tuesday. The committee also accepted bids for municipal services and improvements.

The governing body expects to award bids for scavenger service, a pool apron and the planting of lands at a special meeting Monday at 7:30 p.m.

Mayor Edward Fanning said the increase in officers' pay for special services will bring the township in line with other municipalities. Compensation for the rate was increased from $7 to $8 to $11.815.

The committee will select between three bids, which offered up to three-year contracts, for scavenger service. The current contract with Arac Brothers, of East Orange, will expire Wednesday. It also has three bids to select from for a new concrete apron for the municipal swimming pool.

Committee Chairman Robert Gaudinier said he had initiated about three years ago a plan to award contracts to the lowest bidder and the township will be able to save money.

The township's bid for the pool apron was $1,200. The township's bid for the concrete apron was $1,200. The township's bid for the pool apron was $1,200.

Special meeting on Wednesday will also give members of the Municipal Advisory Board, composed of Union County mayors, an opportunity to comment on the proposed finances.

Paul O'Keefe, chairman of the board's fiscal affairs committee, said the additions are the result of increases in three areas.

O'Keefe said $500,000 more will be allocated to insurance premiums.

Union County College will receive another $300,000 for expanded programs, primarily to draw students from Elizabeth and Plainfield, he added.

The other $12 million, including $700,000 added to the salary adjustment account, for contracts yet to be negotiated, will go toward salaries, the fiscal affairs chairman said.

Although the budget is much higher than the one previously recommended by Coletti to conserve money, the freholders thought it best to minimize the number of layoffs. Said Freeholder Robert Coletti (D), "I don't think it's necessary to cut 100 positions in the township. It's not necessary to cut 100 positions in the township. It's not necessary to cut 100 positions in the township."

Freholder Robert Coletti (D) said he had supported the layoffs but the premises "to minimize a tax hike and control services as best as we could."

The new proposal calls for less than 10 layoffs exclusive of those which will occur at the John E. Rummels Hospital in Berkeley Heights, where laundry, pharmacy and laboratory services may be contracted to outside firms, said O'Keefe.

O'Keefe stated that other job eliminations are those of the director of public information, an assistant public information post and a secretary/clerk typist in that department. He said that the county would try to relocate those employees to other departments.

County introduces $122.5 M tab

By PHILIP HARTMAN

The Union County Board of Freeholders will attempt to adopt a $122.5 million dollar budget after a public hearing on May 9.

The budget, which is about $2.3 million more than the executive appropriations recommended in late March by Union County Manager Louis Coletti, imposes a 10.6 percent increase in the amount to be raised by taxes. Coletti's proposal translated into a 0.5 percent tax rate increase but also called for layoffs of about 100 county employees.

The tax rate from the county tab would increase from 53.4 cents per $100 of assessed valuation to 54.2 cents if the budget is adopted as proposed.

A special meeting on Wednesday will also give members of the Municipal Advisory Board, composed of Union County mayors, an opportunity to comment on the proposed finances.

Paul O'Keefe, chairman of the board's fiscal affairs committee, said the additions are the result of increases in three areas.

O'Keefe said $500,000 more will be allocated to insurance premiums.

Incumbents to bow out

Today is the last day for residents to file candidacy petitions for two three-year terms on the Springfield Township Committee. The entire list of candidates was not known at press time, but it was learned that two possible contenders "will not be in June's primary race."

Republicans Joanne Tedesco and Philip Feintuch, incumbent township committee members, will not seek re-election.

Feintuch's "deliberate decision" to not run for a second term was largely due to the "frustrations" of local government, the committee said.

According to Feintuch, he notified the Republican local committee of his decision about a week ago.

In an announcement of his decision, Feintuch accused the Democratic Party in power of not being open or "willing to investigate" making necessary changes in the town's structure.

Feintuch has said many times during his two years as committee member and one-year mayoral term, that no future planning is done for the township. In fact, he has gone as far as saying Springfield "runs itself." Feintuch making a drastic change in local government is needed, either by a strong mayoral form or a township administrator.

Tedesco said Tuesday she will also not seek a second term, but she declined to comment on her reasons. "I would like to reserve my comments for a later time," Tedesco said.

GOP, Dems trade jabs on jail

By KEITH A. DRUMBORE

Republican Union County Freeholder Chairman G. Richard Malgrán charged the freeholder board's Democratic members with "raising inaccurate points" and "politicizing" the issue of prisoners' alternatives to building a new $60 million county jail.

Malgrán's comments came April 17, 15 days after Democratic members circulated a letter among Union County municipal governments that attributed several of the proposed alternatives to Republican members of the board. The most notable of the alleged proposals was the placing of county prisoners in trailers that would be situated in 21 communities throughout the county.

Possible sites for the trailers included John E. Rummels Hospital in Berkeley Heights, the Linden Airport and county-owned land near the County Administration Building in Elizabeth.

The letter asked local governments not to support the proposed alternatives.

Republican members of the Union County Board of Chosen Freeholders include Malgrán, Vice Chairman Edward Slomkowski, Alan Augustine, Robert Gonor and Paul O'Keefe while Democratic members are Walter Boright, Michael Lapolla, Brian Fahey and Charlotte DiFilippo.

Malgrán pointed out what he saw as inaccuracies in the Democrats' criticisms.

At no time was it ever suggested that county prisoners be "sprinkled about the county," Malgrán said. Nor was it ever suggested that trailers be used for housing prisoners, he added.

"No one is contemplating the use of trailers for housing prisoners in any community, nor is anyone contemplating the placing of prisoners at Rummels Hospital," Malgrán said.

Malgrán said that the idea of placing prisoners at Rummels was first brought up in 1981 when the then-Democratic controlled board was examining alternatives to building the new jail. That board eventually voted to build the jail at an estimated cost of $18 million.

"Another alternative brought up at that time was to place prisoners on a ship in the Elizabethport harbor," Malgrán said. That proposal was finally decided to be infeasible, Malgrán said.

Malgrán added that the Democrats were only making the jail matter an "issue" because his DiFilippo's and Boright's terms expire this year.

"This was not intended to become a matter of derision," Malgrán said. "It is an unfortunate point that because of the upcoming elections that it has become politicized."

The recent flurry of freeholder criticisms and retorts has occurred in the wake of a 5-4 freeholder vote March 26 to establish a task force "to seek alternative methods of housing for minimum security inmates housed in the Union County Jail and other inmates incarcerated for less than 90 days."

The vote was strictly along party lines.

The Democrats then circulated their letter to the board.

In the letter, the Democrats specifically criticized the Republicans for proposing that inmates be housed in trailers, empty schools and vacant industrial buildings, in 21 communities throughout the county.

"The Democrats called the entire proposal 'ill-conceived' and 'irresponsible,'" Malgrán said. "They added that 'security measures would be lessened, community safety endangered and that 'no economies would be realized' in sprinkling prisoners throughout the county."

The Democrats also criticized Malgrán on the same issue in a written release April 17.

"The costs of shutting prisoners back and forth from all over the county to the court house to stand trial, for classification, for depositions, for medical treatment

Chipping away

In a decision that marks a continued chipping away of press freedom, early this month, a federal appeals court reinstated a jury verdict against The Washington Post for libeling William P. Tavoulares when he was president of the Mobil Oil Corp. In its decision, the appeals court relied heavily on the Post's reputation for "hard-hitting investigative stories" in reinstating the verdict. Should the ruling stand, the press, of course, will be hurt, but it is the public which will be hurt the most in the long run.

The Post had implied that Tavoulares had used his position to steer Mobil business to a company partly owned by his son, Peter. Three years ago, a jury found that Tavoulares had been libeled, but the federal judge who presided over the trial threw out that verdict saying that there was no evidence that the article contained "knowing lies or statements made in reckless disregard of the truth." Such a standard is the test established by the Supreme Court for a finding of libel.

Writing for the majority in the 2-1 decision which reinstated the libel judgment, Judge George E. McKinnon of the U.S. Court of Appeals said that The Post and its reporter had set out to get Tavoulares and had deliberately slanted, rejected and ignored evidence contrary to the false premise of the story. "The judge noted that Bob Woodward, who broke the Watergate story along with Carl Bernstein, was an editor of the Tavoulares story. The judge implied that Woodward's reputation — and the newspaper's — was that of muckraking journalism, and inferred that because of this reputation, the newspaper would be inclined to publish reckless falsehoods.

Should this verdict stand — The Post is filing an appeal — news organizations will be quite timid in reporting critical stories about public figures. In a sense, the reporter's job would be a lot easier — it is a lot less taxing to write a "puff piece" full of only "good news" than an investigative story. The real loser in all of this would be the reader. Newspapers full of "good news" don't serve a democracy or its citizens. With the protection of eased libel standards, public figures will be free to abuse their public trust. Without a vigorous press to report on these abuses, no one will ever be the wiser.

Letters to the editor

Candidate 'won attention'

I would like to express my thanks to the people of the 21st legislative district — Cranford, Garwood, Hillside, Kenilworth, Roselle, Roselle Park, Springfield, Union, and Westfield — who gave me their support in last month's special election for state assembly.

Although we did not win the election, I believe we have at least won the attention of those who would seek to represent you without addressing the urgent needs affecting our communities today and in the years to come.

I will continue to work for the things I hold dear: community service and involvement care for the elderly and handicapped, and public awareness of the problems and the blessings of our precious way of life.

Your support will not be forgotten. In fact, I will need it more than ever in the future.

Thank you everyone, and God bless you.

Legislature lauded for legislation

Members of the American Cancer Society's New Jersey Division commend the state Legislature for passing Assemblyman Herman's measures designed to control smoking in places of employment in some public places. In view of the deleterious effects of second-hand smoke, these measures doubtless will contribute to improved health and human welfare in our state.

By signing the legislation, Gov. Keane can only strengthen his record of serving the best interests of the people of New Jersey.

N.J. takes steps to protect 'defenseless'

By GOV. TOM KEANE

I think most of us would readily agree that New Jersey's most precious resource is her children. We have recently taken several significant steps to enhance the protection of our children and I think it's important that parents are aware of them.

Earlier this month, I signed legislation which will add more than 500 people to the staff who guard the interests of our most unfortunate children — those who are the victims of abuse by other members of their families. It is a sad commentary on our society that the number of child abuse and neglect cases more than doubled from 1982 to 1984, when nearly 45,000 such cases were investigated.

This is a disturbing and alarming trend in a critical social problem that must be attacked on many fronts. But our chief goal must be the protection of these defenseless children.

In my annual budget message to the Legislature, I called for substantial increases in the staff of the Division of Youth and Family Services, the agency charged with investigating allegations of child abuse and taking the necessary actions to protect the children who are victims of this crime.

I am happy to report that the Legislature responded quickly, and I was able to sign the necessary legislation to put 354 new case workers, 69 new supervisors and 84 additional clerical staff in the field where their services impact most directly. The bill will also allow us to increase funding for foster care services and the rate paid to foster parents, and will also help fund subsidized adoption, the cost of group residential home care and general social services for families.

Another important bill I recently signed will allow the state, for the first time, to establish a voluntary fingerprinting program for children in arrears of child support payments. The program will combine the resources of local school districts with county sheriff's departments to provide interested parents with a record of their child's fingerprints. Such a record can be invaluable to law enforcement authorities trying to locate a missing child.

The program, of course, is totally voluntary, and takes great pains to protect the privacy and rights of the children who participate. The law absolutely forbids the sheriff's department, local law enforcement authorities and the school to keep copies of the prints.

Schools will provide orientation programs for the children before the printing program begins. Certainly, we don't want to frighten our youngsters, but I believe that children can understand the idea behind such a program without creating fright, resentment or doubt.

If we can do anything to identify the missing — and to end the anguish of the people that by standardizing the idea, and using both education and law enforcement professionals to implement it — we can make this worthwhile program available to every interested parent in the state.

Finally, we have also set in place a program for detecting lead poisoning in young children, and authorized the Department of Health to establish a program to control lead poisoning.

Lead poisoning is an insidious risk which is most threatening to very young children who live in older housing where lead-based paints may still be present. The bill I recently signed presents an excellent opportunity for the Health Department to set up a meaningful and effective program to detect this danger.

The testing program will be administered by various agencies which serve children ages 1 through 5. It will include municipal and county health departments, hospitals, clinics, doctors, day care and pre-school centers and other special health programs.

The blood test, taken with a simple finger prick, will be analyzed for lead content. When lead is found, the Health Department, coordinating with appropriate local agencies and health care professionals, will be able to take remedial action.

The new program also directs the Commissioner of Health to devise a lead poisoning control program, and authorizes the department to make loans to local boards of health to assist in the abatement of lead poisoning sources.

Keeping pests from fruit trees

By STEPHEN MACHELDER

That gummy, jelly-like mass you find on the trunk of a fruit tree near the soil line is caused by a caterpillar-like insect called the peach tree borer. This is a common pest in New Jersey that attacks peach, cherry and plum trees and can kill trees if not controlled. Don't confuse the clear gum deposits caused by the borer with the sticky, reddish-brown larval droppings and sawdust caused by the borers.

For a space-saving, chlorobenzene moth crystals applied to the soil around the trunk will destroy borers, advise entomologists at the Cook College Cooperative Extension Station at Rutgers University.

It is recommended that you remove grass and weeds from the base of the tree for a distance of one foot. Distribute the crystals in a band one to two inches wide, at least two inches away from the tree trunk. Only the new bands are effective with four to six shovelfuls of crystals.

Stephen Machelder is a County Agricultural agent with the Union County Cooperative Extension Service.

35th anniversary gala to benefit ARC

The Association for Retarded Citizens, Union County, will celebrate its 35th anniversary Saturday with a gala at L'Afrance, Mountaintide.

Called the "1985 Candlelight Ball," the evening will feature fun and prizes, dining, and dancing to the music of the David Aaron Band.

The event is the Association for Retarded Citizens, Union County's (ARC) major fund-raising event of the year with proceeds being used to support the association's various programs.

A full-service agency, the ARC, Union County unit, offers a wide range of programs for children and adults, including an infant stimulation program, pre-school programs for youngsters 2 to 5 years of age, after-school and evening recreation programs for school-age children and adults, three adult activities centers (in Berkeley Heights, Roselle Park and Scotch Plains,) and five group homes. Adults learn retail skills at the ARC, Union County Unit's adult third-shop training center, and children explore the outdoors at Camp Star, the association's summer camp at Echo Lake Park, Mountaintide.

The event, which is open to the public, will honor the Knights of Columbus of New Jersey with the ARC, Union County's Humanitarian Award.

Others to be honored for their services to the unit are Lela Romano.

Rinaldo plans student art contest

A congressional arts competition for all high school students in the 7th congressional district is being sponsored by Rep. Matthew J. Rinaldo.

The winning entry will be displayed this summer, along with art from other congressional districts across the country, in the U.S. Capitol complex. The winners in each congressional district will be invited to Washington in June for a ceremony opening the national exhibition.

Rinaldo said the contest is part of "An Artistic Discovery," an annual competition sponsored by the Congressional Arts Caucus to promote the creative talents of young Americans. The competition is conducted at no cost to the government.

The local competition is being conducted in cooperation with secondary schools in the 7th congressional district, each of which will be invited to submit three entries. The art work will be exhibited at the Schering-Plough Corporation building in Kenilworth through mid-May when the winning entry will be announced at a public reception for the artists and their teachers.

Communities in the district include Kenilworth, Mountaintide, Roselle Park, Springfield and Union.

Rinaldo said the art work must be two dimensional and no larger than 30 by 30 inches (unframed). Eligible categories include paintings, drawings, collages and prints.

The competition is being coordinated at the local level by Arlene Schor, art supervisor for the Union Township Board of Education, assisted by Albert Tucker of Bridgewater-Raritan High School West; Edward Carew of Middlesex High School; Roberta Krasner of Solomon Schechter Day School, Cranford; Thomas Tyler of St. Patrick's High School, Elizabeth; Katherine Davitt of Bound Brook High School, and Joan Haggerty of Union.

High school art instructors and students are urged to contact Rinaldo's district office, 687-4235, for further information.

Stewart impressive at Rutgers Relays

Union's Tony Stewart made his presence felt at last week's Rutgers Relays in Piscataway. He was the only high jumper in New Jersey to place in the top five in the event, winning a medal for a 6-4 jump, good for a fourth place tie. Also, Eric Rieck placed fourth in the pole vault with his best vault this season, 12-6.

The Farmer tracksters placed fifth out of a 26-team field at the Morris Hills Relays with 15 points. The shuttle hurdles relay team of Stewart, Andre Bowers, Gary Mobley and Dan Waldron won the event in 1:53.6.

Bowers, Mobley and Waldron also teamed up to finish second in the intermediate hurdles relay in 2:58.7, while Stewart, Mobley and Todd Simonson finished third in the high jump relay at 17:22.

Fifth places went to the discus team of Phil Vigeant, Jeff Barber and Joe Jacevitch, and to the javelin team of Simonson, Vin Rosano and Sean Dillon.

Union's 4 x 800 meter relay set a school record of 8:42, with Bowers, Chris Kinnally, Joe DiNapoli and Chris DiGrasso competing.

In the lone dual meet last week, the Farmers took first place in all but four events in an 89-42 romp over Cranford. UHS is now 4-0 in dual meets.

Waldron won the 400 intermediate hurdles, Les Dixon the 100 and 110 high hurdles, Rob Trinker the 400, Steve Kraus the 2000, Barber the shot put, Price the discus, Dillon the javelin, Renkoff the pole vault, and the 1600 relay team of Rinaldi, DiGesu, Waldron and Eric Frenchman also came out on top.

The boys team met Linden last Tuesday and will meet Scotch Plains this Monday in dual meet, and in between is a trip to Philadelphia's Franklin Field for the prestigious Penn Relays tomorrow and Saturday.

The Union girls team also came up big last week, setting two school records. At last Saturday's Morris Hills Relays, a new record was set by the 4 x 800 relay team of Alicia Hennessy, Liz Sokalski, Julie Zilberberg and Tara Knighton in 11:36 (the old mark was 11:51).

Also falling was the record in the distance medley, when Union's team of Sokalski, Knighton, Zilberberg and Hennessy ran the event in 15:17 last Thursday's Rutgers Relays.

In the lone dual meet, Union lost a 75-23 decision to Cranford. Kinnally was the only place finisher for the Lady Farmers, winning the 100 meter hurdles. UHS now stands 3-1 in dual competition.

Union met Linden this past Tuesday and will compete at the Summit Relays this Saturday.

Another girls relay team did well last weekend. Roselle's intermediate hurdles relay team of Cheryl White, Altman's Rogers and Angela Williams captured first in 3:38.4 at the Highland Park Relays, while Dayton's girls finished eighth at Morris Hills, with the javelin team of Lorraine Macias placing first with a combined throw of 201.5.

Local runners shine at UCC mini marathon

It was a perfect day for running, and more than 300 persons took advantage of it as they participated in Union County College's first annual mini-marathon and fun run held recently at the Cranford Campus and Nantuxon Park.

The course proved to be a delight to all who ran, but Marianne Zaranka of Rahway liked them most of all.

The 25-year-old runner won the women's division of the one-mile "Fun Run" and placed second in the women's five-kilometer race, trailing 13-year-old Tracy Smith of Newark.

The 3.1 mile men's race was won by Carlos Martin of Newark, while Ronald Fritz of Roselle placed first in the "Fun Run."

Martin, the fastest runner in the 5k field, covered the course in 15:48 followed by Roger Price of Piscataway and Michael Ruggio of Princeton. The 13-year-old Smith, winner of the women's bracket, finished the course in 19:35.

The course was no stranger to the women's division third place finisher, Traci Karr of Springfield. Karr is a student at Union County College and member of the college's cross country championships in Twin Falls, Idaho, earlier this season.

Fritz, a senior at Abraham Clark High School, Roselle, headed the field in the one-mile event with a time of 4:12.

The race was the opening event in the week long Community College Week at Union County College.

EHS top seed in UCT baseball

With a strong offense and good pitching, there was little doubt that Elizabeth would receive the top seed for the upcoming Union County baseball tournament. And they did.

The Minutemen received the nod at Tuesday's seeding meeting, followed in order by New Providence, Johnson, Rahway, Westfield, Union, Cranford and Summit.

Preliminary round action begins this Saturday with St. Mary's playing at Linden and Brearley at Hillside, both at 1 p.m. On May 4, all local teams swing into action with the St. Mary's-Linden winner playing Elizabeth, the Brearley-Hillside winner playing New Providence, Roselle at Westfield, Dayton Regional at Union and Roselle Park at Cranford.

Action continues each Saturday until May 18, when the semifinals will be played at 5 and 8 p.m. at Union's Swanson Field and the finals will be May 25 at 7:30 at Memorial Field in Linden.

In last week's action: BREARLEY REGIONAL: Roselle Park's Gene Mirabella pitched a four-hitter, striking out eight Bears for the 8-1 win. Dennis McCaffery belted a three-run homer in the fifth inning to give the Panthers a 10-0 victory over the Bulldogs. Todd Richter cracked two hits for Dayton. On Monday, the Bulldogs lost to North Plainfield, 17-4. Last Tuesday, Dayton played a close one to one at Governor Livingston. Monday and Tuesday the Bulldogs play host to Madison and Roselle, respectively.

Paul Mirabella fanned eight and walked two to lead the Panthers past Brearley, 8-1. Dennis McCaffery hit a three-run homer in the fifth inning to pace the attack.

LINDEN: Bill Hasko singled in a run in the seventh inning to give the Tigers a 6-5 upset victory over Union. Zdzinski led off the game with a home run. Brian Trevlin also homered for Linden. Last Monday, the Tigers were shutout by Union Catholic, 2-0.

ROSELLE PARK: The Pink Panthers remained on a tear last week, winning all four of their games. 18-0 over St. Mary's, 2-0 over Hillside, 10-2 over Brearley and 9-0 over Johnson. Park has now won nine in a row since losing the opener to Cranford.

Against St. Mary's, sophomore Lisa Dragon fired the third no-hitter of her career, walking two and striking out four. Karen Antoscki, Paula Goldberg, Carolyn Hazlehurst and Cathy Finizio each drove in two runs.

Park hosted New Providence this past Tuesday, then will entertain Manville today and Bound Brook this Tuesday, all at 4 p.m.

LINDEN: After opening the season with a win over Plainfield, the Lady Tigers have struggled, losing six straight. IRVINGTON: Losses to Kearny (15-5) and Union (12-2) made last week a difficult one for the Lady Campers, who saw their record drop to 2-5.

UCT softball tourney begins Saturday

It's that time of year again for local softball followers. The Union County Tournament officially begins this Saturday with the preliminary round, and will continue every Saturday until the semifinals May 17 and the finals May 24, both under the lights at Linden's Memorial Field.

And the local teams expected to challenge for the top honors are Union, which won the tourney two years ago and is currently undefeated, Roselle Park, county champs, and Brearley, both of whom are likely to play this Saturday in the prelims. It should be another good tournament.

In last week's competition: UNION HIGH: The Lady Farmers upped their mark to 6-0 by winning three times last week in a row, competing over Linden last Wednesday, Dianne Lutz fired a three-hitter for the win. She had LHS hitless until the fifth. Andrea Peters led the Union attack with a single, double, triple and three RBI's.

Union also defeated Scotch Plains and then this past Monday, rolled to a 12-1 victory over Irvington. Peters fired a two-hitter, walked five and struck out eight. The Lady Farmers broke open a tight game in the seventh by scoring eight runs, three on Kim Miller's triple with the bases loaded.

After playing at New Providence today, Brearley will be at Johnson this Monday and then host Mid-dlesex this Tuesday at 4 p.m.

ROSELLE: The Lady Rams dropped both contests they played last week, 9-1 to Governor Livingston and 18-1 to Plainfield this past Monday. They met Catholic this past Tuesday and will end the month with three straight home games: today against Hillside, tomorrow against St. Mary's and this Tuesday against Dayton, all at 3-45.

Campaign opposes aid to Contras

The Springfield-based New Jersey Jobs with Peace Campaign has expressed strong opposition to President Reagan's avowed intention of continued funding of $14 million to support the Contras in Nicaragua.

The organization was supported by the N.J. Coalition for Peace Jobs and Justice at a recent press briefing in Elizabeth on the federal budget priorities. The Rev. David Burgess, former Foreign Service officer, cited prior knowledge of how the CIA operated. "The death, rape and mutilations of the civilian population by a bunch of brutal terrorists should not be funded by our tax dollars. As in Vietnam, civilians, including women and children, cannot be separated from their armed defenders. This is a tragic reminder of the futility of using military means to solve political problems."

"The specter of ever-expanding involvement of U.S. resources and armed services in funding elements in Nicaragua who violate human rights diverts our tax resources and the attention of the American public from the problems which threaten the real security of the nation — unemployment, industrial decline and cutbacks in education, health care and human services.

"We call on our government to take heed of these domestic priorities and in foreign policy to promptly adhere to international law and the principle of non-intervention in the internal affairs of other countries."

The Jobs with Peace Campaign offers the citizens of the state alternatives to create jobs by eliminating those funds now being used to fund intervention abroad as in Central and South America. As part of the "peace budget" for New Jersey, according to the campaign, more than $600,000 could be diverted from aid to repressive governments known to violate human rights into job-creating programs and services to help the elderly, poor and homeless who now number 10,000 to 20,000 in New Jersey.

"This would be part of a total of $3 billion as New Jersey's share of savings of a 20 percent cut in military spending (also eliminating fraud, waste and abuse and first strike nuclear weapons)," said Burgess.

"Furthermore, if deficit reduction were to be achieved through reduced military spending, we would have a more humane foreign and military policy and more money for people in the middle and lower end of the economic spectrum."

'Cable Kids' step out

National Dance Week, to be observed next week, has special meaning this year for 21 students at the Kathleen Louise School of Dance on Mountain Avenue, Springfield. "Kathy's Cable Kids" made their debut Tuesday on Suburban Cablevision's Channel 22 and will be seen every Tuesday at 7:05 p.m. for the next several weeks.

Kathleen Renna, owner of the studio, designed the instructional show, which includes dance exercise from fundamental through completed dances with a cast of 21 beginner to advanced students between the ages of seven and 17.

"Each show was filmed with an original concept directly from the dance studio in theatrical, entertaining style while still being educational," Renna said.

"For some it's a hobby and an after-school activity. Others aspire to be professional."

The TV series was taped at a Manhattan studio as well as at the Springfield studio, where the final segment of the series was taped April 16.

The dance students are featured in each show as performers as well as demonstrators for Renna's instruction. The purpose of the series, according to Renna, is not to encourage kids to become professional. She said her objective is to inspire children of all ages and economic backgrounds to gain "a positive and self-confident approach to other life endeavors."

"The shows inform, entertain and motivate," she said, adding that "belief in their achievements adds further dimension to a child's growth. The program encourages and motivates children to enjoy and participate by watching children just like them."

The project is sponsored by the Kathleen Louise School of Dance and the parents of Cable Kids under the direction of Renna's Theatrical Enterprises. Renna, the owner of Dancewear Unlimited on Stuyvesant Avenue, Union, plans to apply for a 1986 cultural grant from the National Endowment for the Arts.

Included in the TV series will be the three numbers from the play "Annie" which Kathy's Cable Kids performed in front of the Union Township Municipal Building during the Christmas holidays.

Kathy's Cable Kids are Springfield residents Holly Kechn; Tifane Visitation, Jodi Kloud and Tanya Levi; Elva-Marie Nugent and Patty and Paula Kukan of Mountsides; Pam Niebler of Union; Debbie and Nancy Forenchak of New Providence; Summit residents Jennifer Cohen, Lisa Halem, Blythe Hemwood, Jennifer Keating and Meghan McLynn; Shannon Meyers of Maplewood; Short Hills residents Dana Middlemark, Lyssa Lyles, Kristyn Naporano and Amanda Riedel, and Julie Vergamini of Westfield.

Dance Guild plans program

In celebration of National Dance Week, New Jersey Dance Theatre Guild, Inc. will present a program of various dances on Sunday at 2 p.m. at Union County College in Cranford. Tickets are $5 and may be obtained at the door or by calling the Guild Business Office at 750-0233.

New Jersey Dance Theatre Guild Ballet Company members, under the direction of E. Laura Hausmann, will present a variety of ballet pieces.

Hausmann is a soloist with the Kathryn Postin and Rod Rodgers Dance companies and is an assistant professor of classical ballet at New York University. She has performed in more than 18 countries throughout the Mid-East, Africa and Europe as a guest of the U.S. State Department of Cultural Exchange. Hausmann received a B.F.A. from the Boston Conservatory of Music and has performed principal roles with the Radio City Music Hall Ballet Company, Anna Sokolow Repertoire, the Boston Dance Theatre and currently dances with Linda Diamond and Co. She currently has more than 600 students in four states and is the recipient of the 1984 President's Award for teaching of the performing arts at New York University. Hausmann is working on the premiere concert of her own dance company to be presented in New York City.

Also on the program is the premiere performance of the newly-formed New Jersey Dance Theatre Guild Jazz Company, under the directorship of Sal Pernice. Pernice is a jazz teacher who is a graduate of the High School of Performing Arts in New York City. He has appeared in many Broadway shows with Joel Gray, Alvin Aida and Kaye Ballard as well as national touring companies. Pernice is artistic director of his own "All That Jazz Dance Company" in New York City.

The Sperry Observatory, located on the College's Cranford campus, will be open to the public during the afternoon and evening to welcome friends and guests, according to Barry Malpas of Warren, vice president and program director for AAI.

Members of Amateur Astronomers, Inc. who jointly operate the Observatory with the college, will be on hand to give brief talks on various celestial topics, answer questions and present slide shows on eclipses, comets and meteors.

A "Star Party" is planned at dusk if the evening is clear, for viewing through the 24-inch reflector and 10-inch refractor telescopes. There also will be "stargazing" through AAI members' telescopes set up on the observatory grounds as well as through the giant "scopes" in the observatory's twin domes. Qualified observers, who have completed intensive training on the equipment, will assist visitors with the telescopes and describe to them what they are viewing. Those who come are invited to bring their own telescopes and learn how to more fully using them.

In addition to star gazing, there will be a number of computer displays on view as well as exhibits of astrophotography, astro-art and new equipment. There will also be astronomy books, pamphlets and literature available for purchase.

Demonstrations will be conducted on mirror grinding and telescope making, astronomical arts, astrophotography, meteorites, computer astronomy, photometry, historical astronomy and Halley's Comet.

AAI's program is in keeping with the national observance which began in 1978 and was later expanded into an international observance.

Visitors will receive a printed program of events scheduled throughout the afternoon and evening. The program will include a sky chart of what to look for in the evening skies that night.

For further information on Astronomy Day '85, especially at the Sperry Observatory, call 276-STAR, the observatory's 24-hour "hot-line."

Astronomers plan 'to have their day'

Presidents have their "day," and so do patron saints. Astronomers will have theirs Saturday when International Astronomy Day will be observed by astronomers around the state, including members of Amateur Astronomers, Inc., at the Sperry Observatory at Union County College. Astronomy Day's purpose is to make the public more aware of astronomy and space science and to call attention to the observation facilities available in local areas.

In their 36th year of promoting interest in the science of astronomy, AAI invites all skywatchers—experts and budding astronomers alike—to join them at the observatory between 1 and 9 p.m., according to Frank Biribaer of Chester, president of the amateur group.

"It is a fine opportunity for you to learn about your local observatory, the only one in New Jersey that is open to the public on a regular basis," Biribaer said.

"Many people don't realize that daytime observations of the skies can be most memorable through our refractor telescope which is now fitted with the Daystar .75 Angstrom Solar Filter, and, come evening, there is a variety of planetary and deepsky objects available to all who wish to look through the reflector 'scope,' the AAI president pointed out.

The Sperry Observatory, located on the College's Cranford campus, will be open to the public during the afternoon and evening to welcome friends and guests, according to Barry Malpas of Warren, vice president and program director for AAI.

PTA Players slate yearly stage show

"It's All Relative," this year's original production by Union's PTA Players, will be presented May 3 and 4 at the Livingston School auditorium on Millard Boulevard beginning at 8:30 p.m.

Tickets, at $3.50 each, can be obtained at the door or by calling 687-8374 or 686-2419. All proceeds from the program are donated to the Union High School scholarship fund.

Members of the cast are amateur actors residing in Union and surrounding communities.

Contest slated for stray pets

A contest for stray pets, sponsored by People for Animals, Inc., will be held on May 5 at 3 p.m. at the Trumbull Museum in the Watchung Reservation. The contest and pet fair are being planned in conjunction with "Be Kind to Animals Week."

Only pets adopted from a shelter or pound and rescued strays are eligible to enter.

Registration forms are available by writing to People for Animals, 102 E. Elizabeth Ave., Linden, 07036, or by calling 374-1093. Deadline for entries is May 1. Registration is limited.

TONY PIEGARO, an experienced groomer, has joined the staff of Club-Pet Kennels, Roselle.

Piegaro was graduated in 1978 from the International School of Animal Arts, and since then has developed his skills as a groomer with a wide base of knowledge and experience of animal care services.

Because of Tony's wide experience, Club-Pet's grooming department now offers standard, custom, and show clipping of all breeds, together with large and extra-to-handle dogs. Cats are also welcome. Piegaro noted that "we never use tranquilizers, only lots of tender loving care, and understanding."

THE ERUPTION OF SPRING brings with it a cornucopia of puppies and kittens, a phenomenon which is the focus of two appeals from members of Friends of Animals, Inc., the national animal protection society.

PETiculars

Alice Herrington, president of the group, appealed to all those who have a female dog or cat to have it spayed to avoid producing unwanted animals. "There are not sufficient homes to house litter after litter of puppies and kittens. And in nine cases out of 10 the people who take a pet at the request of a friend abandon the animal in a few months," she said.

A survey conducted by Friends of Animals found that about 14 million abandoned dogs and cats are killed each year in dog pounds and shelters and an equal number die homeless on the streets, according to Herrington.

The second appeal was for the public to stop "impulse acquisition of pets." "The responsibility of pet care is expensive, time consuming, and 'troublesome,'" Herrington warned, "and all factors should be considered by the entire household prior to adopting or purchasing a pet."

The non-profit organization offers help with the cost of spaying and wants all prospective pet owners to read its pamphlet "So You Think You Want a Pet." It is available free-of-charge by telephoning toll-free 800-631-2212 or writing to Friends of Animals, Inc., One Pine St., Neptune, N.J. 07753.

TENDER LOVING CARE—Tony Piegaro of Club-Pet Kennels, Roselle, puts the finishing touches on the latest new wave hair style for one of the fussiest of canine customers, a French poodle. Piegaro says that the kennels provides 'tender loving care and understanding' in the handling of pets, without the use of tranquilizers.

Tips on writing from the pros

BY ALAN CARUBA

Who among us does not believe they have a great novel or nonfiction book within us? In truth, America is facing a growing crisis of literacy as many among us cannot write or read to effectively undertake any job requiring a basic understanding of writing instructions. I believe the number cited is as high as one in four. Still, for the rest of us, a host of books exist to aid us on our way to fame as authors.

"How To Write Like a Professional" ($12.95, Arrow) by my friend J.L. Barkas is a good place to start if you have aspirations of being published. It is a spiral, based on her own extensive experiences as well as interviews with many other professionals and can get you started in the right direction without making the typical start-up mistakes.

"The Hardest Parts: Techniques for Effective Non-Fiction" by Thomas French, a colleague of mine, ($15.95, Lander Moore Books, 13006 Sherbourne, Round Rock, TX 78729) is a bit steeply priced for a softcover, but it too will get you through the questions you'll have on essential elements of writing marketable articles and books. A good beginner's book for sure.

Or are as crazy "as two waltzing mice"? What fun!

On a serious level, more and more of us, not just writers, work from homes and the ultimate guide to this is now available. "Working From Home" by Paul and Sarah Edwards ($11.95, Tarcher/Houghton Mifflin) is truly an encyclopedia reference for both full and part-timers which covers all aspects of how to do this successfully. This book is a real treasure of information. This one gets four stars from me because I've worked from home for many years now.

An interesting biography of one of America's great authors is John P. Hayes' "James A. Michener" ($17.95, Bobbs-Merrill) who is too often dismissed as second-rate because of his great success with the American reading public. Hayes' biography provides rich insights and for fans of Michener will provide an even greater appreciation.

Three other short biographies are available and deserve mention. They are Jan Robbins' delightful story of actor Jimmy Stewart's life, "Everybody's man" ($14.95, Putnam), which is surely long overdue. Robbins shows how Stewart's character and integrity "flowed throughout his life and his work, lifting him to greatness. "Nat King Cole" ($16.95, Stein & Day) by James Haskins with Kathleen Benson is a wonderful tribute to this gifted singer who died all too soon at age 45 in 1965. Just as with his song: "Unforgettable. Cole's legacy remains with us to today."

Lovers of wine will enjoy Cyril Ray's biography of "Robert Mondavi of the Napa Valley" ($14.95, Prentice Press) which tells the story of this man's devotion to the vintner's art. Mondavi was recently featured on television and has clearly demonstrated that Americans can rival their European predecessors.

All writers are always looking for similes to describe things. "The Book of Similes" ($7.95, Routledge & Kegan, Paul) is a delightful compilation. Instead of saying "somebody's agile; why not say they 'make a conter ed look arthritic'?"

Reviews

Probably the best book on non-fiction writing is from Writer's Digest Books ($24.95), the encyclopedic "Complete Guide to Writing Non-Fiction" produced by the American Society of Journalists and Authors. As a contributor I may be a bit biased, but once you've passed the beginner stage, this would be the book to read. Of course, you'll also need your annual edition of "The Writer's Digest 'Writer's Market'" ($19.95) which lists all the many markets to which you can sell your work.

The subject on everyone's mind is always how to get published. Two softcovers cover this subject well. They are "Getting Published" by Gary S. Belkin ($14.95/8.95, John Wiley & Sons, hard and softcover) and the alternative method as covered in "The Self Publishing Manual" by Dan Poyner ($14.95, Para Publishing, POB 4222-57, Santa Barbara, CA 93105-2222).

If you're well along on your career as a writer, you're probably thinking about computerizing and "Magic Writing: A Writer's Guide To Word Processing" by John and Dorothy Stratton ($12.95, Plume/NAL) is surely worth reading before pouring two or three thousand into these infernal machines and their software. This is just a first class review of all the options and problems to be encountered and overcome.

All writers are always looking for similes to describe things. "The Book of Similes" ($7.95, Routledge & Kegan, Paul) is a delightful compilation. Instead of saying "somebody's agile; why not say they 'make a conter ed look arthritic'?"

ANTHONY AMALFE of Roselle has been named 'Man of the Year' by the 'Boys' Town of Italy, Inc., Committee of Union County and will be honored tomorrow evening at the group's fund-raising dinner-dance at the Town and Campus, Union. ## Shawls on exhibit

Twenty-five large, elegant, wool, silk and challis paisley shawls will be on exhibition at the Montclair Art Museum from Sunday to July 31. The shawls are a recent gift to the museum from Dr. Charles Marshall Robertson Jr. in honor of his parents, Charles Marshall and Anna Marie Robertson.

Between 1888 and 1870, Paisley, a small weaving center southwest of Glasgow, became the principal producer of the shawls. It was here that the finest and most costly of the Kashmir styles were manufactured and sold throughout Europe.

There are three types of shawls in the exhibition: those with a plain center, those with a small pattern of "pips" in the center, and the overall design with elongated multicolor patterns covering the whole shawl. Several of the shawls in the exhibition will be displayed on mannequins dressed in elaborate hoop skirts from the 1860s. In that period, the shawls were worn as outdoor garments, since they were ideal covering for the voluminous hoop skirts, as well as beautiful adornment. The mannequin display is being designed by Julia Berrall, consultant for the museum's costume collection.

Dr. Robertson is dean emeritus and professor of art education emeritus in the School of Art and Design at Pratt Institute, New York. He has been a collector of paisley shawls for many years, largely, he says, because his father and his ancestors lived near the town of Paisley. He has acquired his best shawls in shops in northern Scotland and London and in Hunterdon County, (N. J.), and Bucks County, Pa.

Now's the time for lawn care

Homeowners whose lawns were unsatisfactory last year and wish to improve it, this year, should start their care program now, according to Cooperative Extension specialists at Rutgers University's Cook College.

Bare or thin spots in the lawn can be seeded in early spring even if the soil is still frozen. This is commonly known as "frost seeding."

Sowing seed on top of the frozen ground will eliminate the necessity of raking to prepare a desirable seedbed. Mother Nature will do the job. The alternate freezing and thawing of the soil will work the seed into the soil.

As soon as the weather becomes warm, the seed will germinate, and the new grass seedlings will be off to an early start. They will have a better chance with an early start, when they will not be faced with as much competition as they would from later seeding.

Frost seeding is best used on thin lawns or bare spots or on lawns that were seeded in late fall and show need for improvement. It is essential that the bare soil be exposed. If a mat of dead grass covers the soil, it must be penetrated or removed for the frost seeding technique to succeed. Frost seeding is not designed for establishing a new lawn.

Shrub landscaping

Not everyone, however, has time available for maintaining the landscape and grounds around the home. To cut time spent on garden chores, the Extension Service recommends the use of freeze shrubs.

Shrubs can be planted in many areas around the home. The more you plant the less work that area of your property will need. Once they are established in the landscape only occasional pruning is necessary. Also, in contrast to annuals such as marigolds and geraniums, yearly replacement is not necessary. The average shrub will thrive in the home landscape for 20 to 30 years.

The following lists describe which shrubs do well in this area and the purposes and places in which they can be used.

Poorly drained areas—Rhodora azalea, swamp azalea, American cranberry bush, European cranberry bush, Red osier dogwood, Tartarian dogwood, Inkberry, Winterberry.

Easy care shrubs—For those who don't have green thumbs, Arborvitae, Barberry, Chokeberry, Red osier dogwood, Tartarian dogwood, Junipers, (several types), Mock orange, Common Flowering Quince, Privet, Spirea, Viburnum, Winged Euonymus, Yew.

Ground covers—Japanese barberry, Compact inkberry, Creeping Juniper, and Japanese White spirea.

Shade tolerant—Azaleas, Red osier dogwood, Tartarian dogwood, Euonymus, Holly, Hydrangea, Privet, Rhododendrons, and Yew.

Information on shrubs and landscaping is available by sending a stamped self-addressed business size envelope to Union County Cooperative Extension Service.

Now's the time for lawn care

Attention: James Nichandowicz, 300 North Avenue East, Westfield, N.J. 07090.

Other courses range from the cultivation of herbs to the natural beauty of the flora of the Pine Barrens, from the practical skills of pruning and use of herbicide to the delicacy of bonsai pruning and Japanese flower arranging.

An extended lunch period will allow time for tours of the gardens and grounds and examination and purchase of gardening books and the latest in gardening tools.

For a brochure detailing the course offerings and a required preregistration form call the Arboretum on Tuesday or Thursday mornings at 273-8787.

UCC exhibit makes a 'winning play'

"Diamonds," the musical revue about baseball that opened in December at the Circle in the Square Theater in New York, is making winning "plays" with the use of photographs, memorabilia and information from a Union County College exhibit on black baseball.

The college's program, entitled, "Before You Can Say Jackie Robinson: Black Baseball in New Jersey in The Era of the Color Line, 1885-1950," which ran at UCC's Cranford Campus for two weeks last September, was used as the basis for one of the segments of the new off-Broadway show, "Stay In Your Own Back Yard" includes a media show with material supplied by the college.

"In my biased way I think it's the piece that clearly holds up the best," Dr. Lawrence Hogan of Fanwood, director of UCC's black baseball project and member of the economics government/history department at the college, said.

The number "Stay In Your Own Back Yard" deals with the Negro leagues and the exclusionary line that existed before it was historically broken by Jackie Robinson in New Jersey's Roosevelt Stadium.

"The atmosphere created in the theater is very authentic," Dr. Hogan said. "The audience even sits on seats from Roosevelt Stadium," he said.

"Diamonds" includes 35 different segments that deal with baseball in a variety of ways. "There's everything from a piece about the idyllic, old-time America of the 1890's and the fascination of that world with baseball, to a Freudian examination of baseball jingo," Dr. Hogan said.

Builders say cast of state's housing spurs 'crisis'

H. Daniel Pincus, president of the New Jersey Builders Association described housing conditions in New Jersey as being in a state of crisis last month at the builders' convention in Atlantic City. He stated that it is the responsibility of all citizens of the state to convince government of the seriousness of this problem.

Condominium sold out

Douglas H. Doerr, vice president of Queen City Savings and Loan Association, has announced the complete sellout of Section 1 of Spring Ridge at Bernards, a condominium now under construction in Bernards Township.

According to Doerr, Section 1 consists of some 72 condominium homes priced from $89,000, all of which were sold before construction. "It happened practically overnight, considering that our pre-construction sales office was open less than three weeks," Doerr said.

Queen City Savings, with over $800 million in total assets, is lead lender for the 1,220-unit townhouse project which is being developed jointly by Land Corporation of Parsippany and Lawrence Zirinsky and Affiliates, New York-based real estate investors.

Spring Ridge, which will feature a collection of one and two-bedroom condominium homes in eight separate but architecturally complementary villages, is situated on a 328-acre parcel located on the northwest quadrant of I-78, approximately one mile north of exit 36.

Section 1 is scheduled for completion later this year. Construction has already begun on the next section. Non-binding reservations are being taken.

live there," he said. "I can tell you that people will not remain in this state if housing costs continue to escalate."

In the Rutgers University report, it is stated that over-regulation adds approximately 1 billion dollars a year in consumer spending. "When a builder is delayed and has to consult with many different agencies, for example to build around an area that has wetlands designation, this translates to additional costs for the homebuyer. These delays cost money and it is the consumer who suffers in the end."

The builders association has proposed to the Department of Environmental Protection, that allowance be made for the on-site burial of vegetative and inert construction debris. Pincus maintains that this proposal would serve a dual purpose - it would help to solve New Jersey's critical need for more landfill space, saving up to an estimated 2.5 million cubic yards per year; as well as saving homeowners and communities large sums of money. "Transporting and dumping these wastes to landfills is an expensive operation. We have estimated that the wasted space is costing the consumer over one million dollars per month," he said.

The association president stated that the responsibility of housing people in the state is not a "special interest" problem as builders are often described, but rather a problem that every citizen in the state should concern himself with.

Pincus plans to visit civic, community, church and other organizations throughout the year to discuss this problem and other housing-related issues. Any interested organizations may arrange for a speaker by contacting the New Jersey Builders Association at (201) 636-8100.
