The year 1986

By MARK YABLONSKY
In a year that saw the opening of an interstate highway system and the resignation of a police chief, 1986 will be remembered as the year of major impact on Springfield residents.

With townspeople still adapting to the official opening of 1-78 in August, word of possible use of the former Houdaille Quarry as either a solid waste landfill or an amphibious sports area has caused concern, while the effects of the town's recent tax revolt have caused some residential home owners to pay as much as a third more in property taxes.

The first six months of 1986 are summarized as follows:

JANUARY
 -Republicans Jeffrey Katz and Jo-Ann Pieper are sworn in for respective three-year terms to the Township Committee, maintaining a GOP minority on a 3-2 Democrat-controlled governing body. Katz and Pieper replace outgoing GOP incumbents Philip Feintuch and Joanne Tedesco, neither of whom sought re-election earlier.
 -Heather Lynn Hunt, who was born on Jan. 6 at 11:56 a.m. to Pamela and Chester Hunt of Washington Avenue, becomes the first Springfield baby to be born in the new year. Her proud parents receive a list of prizes from local merchants in conjunction with the Springfield Leader, which sponsored the 1986 "Diaper Derby."
 -Ronald Brown, 50, a music teacher in the Springfield school system, is charged by the Union County Prosecutor's Office with aggravated sexual assault against a 18-year-old male student at the Florence M. Gaudineer school. Brown, whose case currently is said to be considered "inactive" until at least February of 1987, is later suspended without pay by the Springfield Board of Education, which also certifies tenure charges against the teacher with the state Commissioner of Higher Education. Brown is later indicted by a county grand jury.

FEBRUARY
 -The township reaches agreement with its municipal employees union that gives township employees a seven percent salary increase retroactive to February of 1985, and a seven percent increase for all of 1986. The agreement between the two sides was arrived at with the help of a mediator.
 -In a long-awaited decision, Union County Superior Court Judge Milton A. Feller rules that the controversial 1986 sale of the Walton School and its surrounding property to Greenwings Estates was "valid, legal and proper," but also upholds the 1989 restrictive covenant limiting the property to public and recreational use.

-A long-avoided decision, Union County Superior Court Judge Milton A. Feller rules that the controversial 1986 sale of the Walton School and its surrounding property to Greenwings Estates was "valid, legal and proper," but also upholds the 1989 restrictive covenant limiting the property to public and recreational use.
 -The Township Committee approves, by a 4-1 margin, a revised zoning ordinance that includes provisions for a planned unit development on a 32-acre tract of land at the southeastern tip of Springfield. One township commissioner expresses his unhappiness with the revision, but says he supports it because without it, the township would probably have been sued.

-The Springfield Board of Education moves to eliminate the Dy/Doo program for handicapped children because of a reported lack of students within the district who meet program requirements.

MARCH
 -Gary Friedland of Long Valley is chosen as the new superintendent of schools by the Board of Education in a 7-2 margin. The principal of the Harrison Grammar School in Livingston and a former principal in Vermont, Friedland, as of June 1, replaces a retiring principal, Dr. Leonard DiGiovanni, the current board secretary who filled the post after the resignation of former superintendent Fred Baruchin.
 -The Board of Education gives final approval to its upcoming 1987 budget of $5,049,398, which represents a 4.4 percent increase from the previous budget of $4,835,862. In a 7-2 margin, the board sends the budget to the public, which is asked to approve $4,864,869 of the package in taxes.
 -The Township Committee revises its municipal pool ordinance in order to allow 200 out-of-town families to become pool members under the sponsorship of local families. The committee does this in an effort to offset any further potential revenue losses — without raising the dues — due to declining membership over the past several years. In a similar move, the governing body approves a fee increase for the township's summer day camp program, which also includes enrollment for out-of-town children. An ordinance delineating the duties of the recreation director's position more clearly is also approved.

APRIL
 -Mark R. Silance of North Plainfield, who is certified as both a state of New Jersey Recreation supervisor and a Recreation and Parks Association professional, is named as the township's new recreation director by the Township Committee. Silance replaces acting director Theresa Herkalo, the recreation secretary who filled the post after the resignation of former director Joseph Rapuano five months earlier.
 -Albert R. Sellinger, a former U.S. Olympic bicycle racing champion in the 1936 summer games in Berlin, Germany, dies. Sellinger, who won the bronze medal in sprint bicycle racing, was remembered by his family as a "proud athlete and an avid admirer of strong athletic competition." The former champion had lived in Springfield 28 years.

-In one of the lowest voter turnout in years, newcomers M. Donald Davidson and Jeffrey Rauchbach, and incumbent Pietro Petino receive three-year terms on the Board of Education. The 1986-87 budget of $5,049,398 is passed by a slim 203-204 count, which is acknowledged to be the smallest victory margin for a budget in many years. Springfield voters also give town resident Margaret D. Hough another term on the Union County Regional Board of Education, and approve the regional current expense budget of over $20 million.

-In a "surprise" to some people, Township Committee member William Cleri and Stanley Kaish, the mayor and deputy mayor, respectively, and three-term incumbents, decide not to seek re-election in the fall campaign. Filing in time for the April 10 deadline are Republicans Stanley Fink and Howard Massler, and Democrats William Cleri and William M. Welsh, all of whom enter elective politics for the first time.
 -The Board of Education chooses Kenneth Falgenbaum to serve as president and Lee Eiseh as vice-president at the board's annual reorganization meeting, as new board members M. Donald Davidson and Jeffrey Rauchbach, and incumbent Pietro Petino receive the oath of office.

-In a 5-3 vote, the Township Committee adopts a resolution amending the capital budget to authorize a debt of $1,140,000 for the planned upgrading of the Municipal Building. An accompanying 5-0 vote also approves an introduction of a bond ordinance for a project money itself. The governing body also supports a proclamation in honor of National Secretaries' Week.
 -Springfield Police Chief George E. Parsell is criticized in an 11-page Union County Prosecutor's Office report for not addressing more problems within the department and for not exercising proper authority. The report also blames Parsell and other town officials for not addressing numerous "hazards and violations" cited in a 1980 Division of Criminal Justice Police Training Commission survey and in a 1983 report from the federal Occupational Safety Hazard Administration.

MAY
 -Three Springfield teachers receive awards as part of the first annual Governor's Teacher Recognition Program. The honor goes to one teacher from each school statewide and is accorded on the basis of dedication to the students and relations with the community. Lynn O'Connor, Annette Lacioppa and William Hannah are the honorees.
 -Mayor William Cleri is interviewed on a live, half-hour forum on cable channel TV-36 and discusses several topics in regard to the town's future. Cleri calls a proposed State Assembly bill calling for the creation of county planning boards "destructive." The mayor also chides a "major career change" as the reason why he chose not to seek re-election.

-A $1,200,000 bond ordinance that would fund the proposed upgrading of the Municipal Building goes down to defeat by a single vote. While approved by a 3-2 margin, the approval is halted since bond ordinances need a passage margin of at least 4-1. The committee's two GOP minority members, Jeffrey Katz and Jo-Ann Pieper, vote against passage after worrying that the addition of "wings" to both sides of the building could possibly contradict the town's own zoning ordinance in regard to "sideline requirements" and a sight line of vision. Committee member Edward Fanning charges his two colleagues with "stalling" the issue.

-Springfield receives an unexpected visit from a black bear, who was estimated to be nearly six feet tall and approximately 250 pounds in weight. After appearing in Baltusrol Golf Course early in the morning, the bear is later seen in the vicinity of the James Caldwell School, before police divert it back to the Shunpike Road area, at which point it soon disappears. "The animal was not considered dangerous and was believed to be wandering during its mating season."

FESTIVE MOOD—These children from the St. James School await the start of the Christmas Tree-lighting ceremony in the school's church. Many parents were also on hand.

Holiday celebrations

By JENNIFER BERSCH

Around this time of the year, people are busy decorating their homes for the upcoming holidays. Christmas lights and trees as well as menorahs can be seen all over town, adding a festive spirit to all neighborhoods.

During this time, Jewish families celebrate the holiday of Hanukkah, which is the Hebrew word for renewal or dedication. The holiday is also referred to as the Festival of Lights, and lasts eight days, each of which is commemorated by the lighting of a candle on the menorah or candelabra, as special prayers and festive songs are chanted.

The origin of Hanukkah

The origin of the holiday can be found by going back to the year 165 B.C.E. when the Jews, under the leadership of the Maccabean family successfully revolted against their Hellenist dominators who surpassed the Jews in both strength and number.

This revolt is considered to be the first fight for religious freedom. When the Hellenists invaded, they forcibly took possession of the Jewish Temple in Jerusalem. In addition, the Jews were not permitted to practice their religion, which believes in only one God who reigns over the universe. Such a belief, commonly known as monotheism, was a unique concept in the ancient world where most other nations believed in polytheism which worshipped many gods.

Since their beliefs often put them at odds with surrounding nations, the Jews were forbidden to observe their Sabbath and study their laws. Rather, they were forced to adapt to the religion of their conquerors which practiced polytheism. The Maccabees, therefore, viewed their victory as one of triumph of spirit over brute force of the belief in god over paganism.

Following the victory, the Maccabees reclaimed their Holy Temple, cleansed it and rededicated it to their God. In doing so, however, they found only enough undefiled oil to light the Temple lamps for one night. By a miracle, this small amount of oil kept the lamps burning not for one night, but for eight nights, until new oil fit for use in the Temple was prepared.

It is for this reason that Jewish families all over the world light the Hanukkah candles for eight nights. These candles reveal the wonderful story of God's salvation of the Jews from ruin and destruction.

What is Christmas?

The word Christmas means the Feast of Christ and commemorates his birthday.

In tradition of Christmas, the events that led to the birth of Christ, begins when Caesar Augustus, the emperor of Rome, ordered a census to be taken. The census called for people to return to the lands where their families originated. It was for this reason that the Virgin Mary and Joseph made the journey to Bethlehem. Upon arrival, Mary gave birth to Jesus in a stable or cave.

On the same night, an angel appeared to shepherds in their fields and proclaimed Christ's birth to them. Upon hearing the news, the shepherds visited the manger to pay him homage.

Twelve days later, three wisemen from the East arrived to honor Jesus. Scripture says the wisemen were led by a star of great magnitude to the place where Jesus lay. They offered Jesus gifts of gold, frankincense, and myrror—all of which were gifts befitting a king. The wisemen would become known as the "Magi" and the feast of their visit would be called "Epiphany," which means revelation.

Although the actual date of Christ's birth is unknown, Dec. 25 was chosen by the early Christians, because while the Christians were still under pagan Roman rule, they were forbidden to celebrate Christ's birth. Therefore, they chose a Roman holiday, Dec. 25, the feast of the sun god. By selecting a Roman feast to coincide with their Christmas celebration, the Christians could remember the birth of Christ while their Roman persecutors would think they were celebrating the pagan holiday.

Many celebrate Christmas by having a tree in their homes. The custom slowly spread through Europe and then to North America. German people who came to live in the New World set up candlelit trees as a part of their Christmas celebration. Settlers who had come from other countries adopted the idea. In those early days people often trimmed the trees with bits of cotton and strings of popcorn, and cranberries.

For many, the Christmas tree has become a symbol of Christ's presence in the home during the holiday. The evergreen tree, was chosen because it is green all year round and reinforces the constant presence of Christ.

The Christmas holiday is also celebrated by the giving of presents. Christians feel that the first Christmas gift was God's sending Jesus to be born in Bethlehem. We also remember that the wisemen brought precious gifts to the baby Jesus. Today, people in many parts of the world remember others with gifts at Christmas time.

Holiday essays

The following are holiday essays written by third grade students at the James Caldwell School in Springfield.

A long time ago the king came and wrecked the temple. The Maccabees found a little bit of oil, and they thought it would only last one day, but it lasted 8 days.

That's why we light the Menorah every night on Hanukkah.

By LORI WEISS

On each day of Hanukkah my family lights the candles while my sister says the prayer. Then after we eat Hanukkah latkes my sister and I open a present. Every night we get a present. The next day we go to my grandpa's. The last night is the last night to light the last candle. After that day Hanukkah is over.

By LAURASCHACHMAN

The Jewish holiday Hanukkah started in 173 B.C. when Judah Maccabee and all the Jews defeated the Syrian Greeks. There were many more Syrian Greeks than Jews, but the Jews won. The Jews only had one drop of oil left. It lasted eight days. That's why we have eight days of Hanukkah. On each day we light a candle. We get a present each day.

By STEPHEN HORWITZ

At the Christian holiday of Christmas we celebrate Jesus' birthday. In the morning I run down the stairs and open up my presents. It's the season of happiness and giving. The star on top of the tree stands for the one that shone in the sky when Jesus was born.

By ANGELA APICELLA

At Christmas we open presents in the morning. We put Christmas lights on our homes because we celebrate Christmas. It is a happy season because we welcome Jesus.

Christmas message

By REV. RAYMOND P. WALDRON
St. James Roman Catholic Church

Joy to the World. Christmas celebrates the goodness of God the Creator to man, His creature. A goodness that has been shown throughout the history of the world since its beginning. A goodness that has brought mankind both bleak and thin, war and pestilence, good times and bad times, all the while teaching man the way to fulfill his destiny.

There is joy in the human heart because it has learned to reflect the love of God and share it with all men of good will. The joy of redemption makes man aware that he is no longer a slave to sin.

There is joy in the home as the family makes itself more aware of Christmas as a time of sharing — with God the blessings of the Gift of His Son — with each other the blessings of His love which gives real meaning and purpose to or being here — with the Church that directs our destiny back to Him.

Let us always remember the joy this Holy Season generates and keep it alive in our daily lives, because if we do, then Christmas is celebrated throughout the year, and as God's servants we make of ourselves a joy-filled people.

In the spirit of this holy time of year it gives me great delight to extend to all the people of the Township of Springfield my prayerful good wish that all will have "the truth of Christmas which is faith—the joy of Christmas which is hope—the heart of Christmas which is love," and the blessings of peace for many years to come.

16 districts join Consortium

The Morris-Union Consortium, including Springfield and Mount Pleasant, with administrative offices located in New Providence, has announced that effective Jan. 1 its membership will expand to 16 school districts. The Livingston Board of Education was officially approved by the existing member school districts during October.

The Consortium originally provided programs and services in the area of special education. However, during the past four years, additional programs and services in areas related to professional and staff development, research and evaluation, gifted and talented education, cooperative purchasing, and insurance pooling have been added as offerings initiated and coordinated through the Morris-Union Consortium. Persons wishing additional information regarding Consortium programs and services are asked to contact 464-7625.

The Consortium was formally established in 1978 and consisted of three school districts: Summit, New Providence and Berkeley Heights. Since that time, in addition to Union county, school districts from Morris, Essex, and Somerset have also joined the Consortium.

Schering settles on fee issue

Schering Corporation of Kenilworth today announced that Pennex Products Company Inc., of Verona, Pa., and its executive vice president, Morton Rezak, have agreed to the entry of an order of Civil Contempt and Judgment, which provides for Pennex to pay Schering $100,000 in damages and attorneys' fees, and for a fine of $50,000 for every future violation of the injunction committed by Pennex or its officers.

The order of Civil Contempt and Judgment was entered in the United States District Court for the District of New Jersey in Newark.

On June 12, 1985, Pennex consented to the entry of a permanent injunction prohibiting it from manufacturing and selling pharmaceutical products that simulate the trade dress of Schering's "Afrin" nasal spray and "Chlor-Trimeton" allergy labels.

The contempt order to which Pennex and Rezak consented admitted numerous violations of many of the provisions of the 1985 injunction issued by the court. During the contempt proceedings, the presiding judge, the Honorable Dickins R. DeBevoise, advised the defendants that he would refer to the U.S. Attorney's Office, for possible criminal prosecution, all violations of the 1985 injunction occurring after the contempt motion was brought. No information is available, however, as to whether such reference will be made.

Schering Corporation, which presently has five suits pending for label simulation and trademark infringement, has obtained numerous judgments over the past two years prohibiting such acts. In most cases, Schering has also obtained substantial damages and attorneys' fees.

Schering stated that it will continue to pursue all manufacturers who infringe its trademarks or simulate its packaging, and will in all cases insist upon damages of at least three times any profits that the manufacturers obtained from their illegal acts.

A spokesman for Schering said that it is the company's hope that, as time passes, it will be less and less necessary to file such actions as more and more manufacturers become aware that infringing on Schering's rights will be costly.

Schering Corporation of Kenilworth is a wholly owned subsidiary of Schering-Plough Corporation of Madison.

Schlenker joins Band

Ruth A. Schlenker, United States Ambassador to Ireland, conceived the idea of a Marine Band performance there. A long-time fan of "The President's Own," Heckler arranged for the black-tie gala in cooperation with the Irish Ministry of State which was host to the Band.

This was the Marine Band's first appearance in Ireland, and only its second performance overseas. In November 1985, the Marine Band gave two concerts in Rotterdam, Holland.

Marine Band Director Col. John R. Bourgeois and the Marine musicians presented American and Irish musical classics to the capacity audience following a festive reception given by Dublin's Lord Mayor, Bertie Ahern, at Mansion House, his official residence. Distinguished members of the audience included Irish President Patrick J. Hillary, Commandant of the U.S. Marine Corps, Gen. P.X. Kelley and his wife.

Schlenker is a graduate of Brearley Regional High School, Ithaca College and the New England Conservatory of Music. She joined the Marine Band in 1965.

Editorial Tradition

Tradition is never so much on our minds as it is during the holiday season. There's Thanksgiving turkey, Christmas carols and New Year's Resolutions.

One of our most treasured holiday traditions, Santa Claus, was nearly shattered this year when a priest in Colonia reportedly told a group of school children that Santa Claus was dead. While we don't support the allegation, the incident provides us with some food for thought during this special, and festive season.

For example, consider the following "traditions" we are passing on to our children:

- * A holiday shopping season that begins with the emergence of the Sears "Wish-Book" in August.
- * Santa Claus of every size and shape in every store in town.
- * Aluminum Christmas trees in every color of the rainbow.
- * Iranian hostages.
- * The holiday "blues."
- * War toys.
- * Mothers battling over ugly looking dolls.
- * Forty-eight televised holiday programs that have the nerve to call themselves "special."
- * Gridlock alerts.
- * Dolls with bad breath.
- * Letters to Santa that are written like shopping lists on the home computer.

It makes us wonder if the Christmas spirit, if not Santa, is dead.

Look again and you'll find:

- * Children still sing Christmas carols - very often in hospitals and nursing homes.
- * There are hundreds of people who volunteer their time during the year and especially during the holiday season to provide meals for the elderly and shut-ins.
- * Rockefeller Center is still Christmas headquarters for people all over the world and a trip to the city to see the tree is at the top of the tour.
- * The holidays aren't complete without seeing the Rockettes and the annual Radio City Christmas show.
- * Chestnuts are still roasting on open fires on street corners.
- * Children still wish for a white Christmas.
- * Mothers still bake cookies and send them to school, where teachers supervise the making of crooked Christmas trees and Santa faces with cotton beads.
- * Christmas bulbs still burn out at the last minute, sending Dad to the store on Christmas eve.
- * "Miracle on 34th Street" and "It's a Wonderful Life" still make us cry.
- * Fathers and sons spend hours trying to get the toy trains to stay on track.
- * "The Christmas Carol," "Nutmacker" and "The Messiah" are still holiday classics.
- * Families have outings to tree farms and chop down their own Christmas trees.
- * And even though "Grandma Got Run Over By a Reindeer" is being heard more and more often on the radio, it'll never replace Bing Crosby's rendition of the Irving Berlin classic, "White Christmas."

In the midst of the hustle and bustle of the season, we often can't "see the forest for the trees." The spirit of the season may sometimes need reviving, but it's still living.

We wish our readers a Merry Christmas, Happy Hanukkah and a safe and healthy Happy New Year.

Acceleration defect common

By ROBERT J. AXELROD
Recently a 74-year-old New Jersey woman was pinned against a car in a parking lot as a result of an Audi 5000S, equipped with automatic transmission, suddenly accelerating from its parked position. Despite the contention of the manufacturer, Volkswagen of America, that driver error caused this occurrence which resulted in the pedestrian's partial paralysis, the episode is not novel. According to the Center for Auto Safety in Washington, D.C., one out of every 400 Audi 5000S automobiles manufactured between 1978 and 1986 has already experienced a sudden acceleration accident. In one case, a woman was pulled out of a garage when her newly purchased vehicle inadvertently propelled out of the driveway, fatally injuring her six-year-old son. The incidents have been so overwhelming that the Audi Victim Network has been formed to address concerns regarding defects in the vehicles. The consistent occurrence, as well as the eight-year recall history of Audi 5000S, suggests that these unfortunate accidents are caused by a defect in the product rather than the alleged "driver error."

Innocent people continue to be victimized by the Audi 5000S when the vehicle randomly and suddenly accelerates to full speed without any warning. Not only are the drivers of the allegedly defective vehicle at risk, but pedestrians, car and motorcycle drivers, and anyone within range of the automobile can and have been injured. As a result of the high incidence of runaway Audis, some parking garages in New York City have printed warnings to employees on their parking tickets. Also, dealers in many cases have suffered damage to their showrooms, cars and employees because of the Audi 5000S' sudden acceleration. The broad range of incidents, alarming number of resulting injuries and similarly in the drivers' accounts of sudden acceleration accidents. The nature of the occurrences, however, illustrate the correlation between runaway vehicles and a defect in their design and manufacture.

Regardless of the manufacturer's theory that the sudden acceleration is due to "human error," their gratuitous compensation of victims appears contrary to that position. In many cases, Audi has replaced damaged vehicles with new cars, and voluntarily released owners from legal agreements. While Audi claims that these reparations are a "gesture of goodwill," such actions are consistent with their responsibility for the damages to those innocent victims. Furthermore, the recall of 1986 vehicles for a new gear-shifting mechanism aimed at preventing sudden acceleration and the redesign of 1987 Audi 5000S's constitute evidence confirming the existence of a defect in the Audi 5000S' equipped with automatic transmissions.

Spokesmen for Audi have incessantly denied responsibility for sudden acceleration accidents. The nature of the occurrences, however, in both severity and scope, along with the compensatory stand Audi takes in compensating the victims, suggests otherwise. Moreover, Audi is not the only automobile manufacturer to have produced vehicles manifesting the sudden acceleration problem. For example, there have been approximately two hundred lawsuits filed against General Motors between the years 1981 and 1985 alleging defects analogous to the sudden acceleration syndrome.

Should owners suspect that they have experienced a problem relating to unintended acceleration, or any other auto defect, current manufacturers' recall information may be obtained by contacting the Department of Transportation's toll free hotline at 1-800-424-9393. If no recalls have been advised, further investigatory information may be obtained by sending a stamped (29 cents), self-addressed envelope, including all pertinent details, to Center for Auto Safety, 2001 S. Street, North West, Washington, D.C. 20009.

Letter to the editor

Has a lot to say about Schaible Oil

I must say something about Schaible Oil Company located on Mountain Avenue in Springfield.

I have lived adjacent to it on Tooker Avenue for 27 years and I am supposed to be living in a residential area. But, I don't - not really - not with Schaible Oil Company growing and expanding its facilities as it has been over the years. Severe safety hazards threaten our neighborhood, such as too many flammable trucks, 40 polluting the air and emitting too much noise, offending our ears, in addition to the foul language used by some of the workers on the grounds.

Trucks are left running and unattended for hours in the parking area - seven days a week - emitting heavy, poisonous exhaust throughout the neighborhood. The bottom line is that the business operation has gotten too large for its present site and has created a dangerous environment for the residents of this neighborhood.

Something must be done to correct this intolerable situation for the residents/taxpayers of this area.

Professor authors thoughtful anecdotes

By Renee P. Simon
SEARCH FOR MEANING
"Taking the World in for Repairs," by Richard Selzer

Professor of Surgery at Yale Medical School and teacher of writing at Yale, Selzer has written these unusual thoughtful anecdotes which testify to his sensitivity, compassion, and his scientific search for efficiency and meaning.

The first (and longest) essay is a report of his month-long visit to a monastery on the Isola di San Giorgio near Venice. Instead of registering at a hotel, he goes to the tiny island, rings the bell, asks for shelter, and is unhesitatingly accepted as a guest. Selzer, an atheist, records his reactions: "the deadly silence, the shadowy monks, the abominable food, and his inability to sympathize with the dreariness and sterility of the dedicated lives. He spends his mornings writing letters to help are rejected, and on some days he escapes to Venice, returning with candy, strudel, etc., which he shares with his appreciative guestmaster, Dom Pietro."

While the Padre Abate is absent

(in Rome), one of the monks - Dom Sebastian - becomes gravely ill. Pietro decides that Sebastian is possessed by demons and proposes exorcism, contrary to the opinion of the author, whose diagnosis is hyperthyroidism, for which he administers pills. The condition improves. However, when the Padre returns, he reprimands Selzer for overstepping authority, and orders him to leave.

On the point of his departure, the doctor is abruptly summoned to the Padre's bedside. Immediate surgery is indicated (abcess) and under the most primitive circumstances, the painful ordeal is over. Now, grateful, the Padre permits Selzer to "socialize" with the rest of the monks. Before leaving, the surgeon indulges them with brandy, cigarettes, and chocolate creams. He leaves them without having found the faith he sought. "I can only find happiness in human love."

Another story describes the dark passion of an elderly widow who falls in love with a young man. "How To Build a Balcony" is a charming essay revealing the author's fund of wisdom and imagination ("A balcony is a bay window with its shorts off.") Selzer's tales can often shock the lay reader with their quick, incisive (like his scalpel) wit.

Housing options for disabled are scant

As the result of a $67,000 grant from the New Jersey Developmental Disabilities Council United Cerebral Palsy Associations of New Jersey recently released a report on the findings of its Housing Prototype Project. These findings indicated that there is a great need for more housing options for people who are physically disabled.

The report found that, of the individuals interviewed for the study, over 70 percent were in need of immediate housing that is accessible to a person in a wheelchair. The findings of the project urge state administrators and private service agencies to develop more housing options for people with physical disabilities.

The lack of Realtor services for people with disabilities was another of the findings of the project; a survey of 59 Realtors in central New Jersey revealed that none of them provided listings of accessible homes, apartments, or condominiums. Further, it was found that most of the accessible apartments currently existing in New Jersey have waiting lists of at least two years with some as long as 10 years.

The report is entitled "Housing for Persons with Physical Disabilities in New Jersey: A Report on the Issues" and was written by staff of UCPANJ who conducted the research; 30 individuals from across the state were also involved in providing direction for the project through three committees which examined the issues involved and provided guidance on possible solutions based on the individual members' expertise.

Those issues included funding options, issues related to the building codes in New Jersey, support services needed to assist a person to live in an apartment or home, and providing information to the disabled community on the availability of housing.

Both publications provide a view of the need for housing for people with disabilities in this state and recommendations as to how those needs can be met. They are part of UCPANJ's goal of providing the state with an accurate portrayal of the problem and practical ideas on how it can be resolved.

Most parents caution against leaving sharp, spiky, breakable bones where hungry animals can sniff, pull and swallow until they're in a position for internal punctures. But just meat strings from roasts or fowl, lusciously attractive to cruising cats and dogs, can be swallowed and cause constriction and death.

"We put out these warnings each year," says Mouras, "and I believe that many families have learned.

Season besets pets

The holidays, beginning now and continuing through New Year's, are fraught with hazards for pets, because it conflicts with what the Animal Protection Institute, easily preventable by the watchful owner. There are hazards that linger, there are will make a sensation under the tree.

In case you didn't know that mistletoe is a killer, it is - for cats. Even though you may be hanging the mistletoe high, for kissing under, you should recognize that many a cat is exploratory and many a piece of mistletoe is carelessly thrown down where a pet can easily get at it. To the feline system, it's poisonous.

"The way to keep your cat from suffering any consequences," says Belton P. Mouras, president and founder of API, "is not to mix mistletoe and a house with cats in it."

Most families are aware that kittens will bat playfully at the bubbles on a tree or a dog may barge into the tree full-blown while having fun with the family. It's a good idea to keep all pets as far from the special decorations as possible.

Even if the tree doesn't come slamming down on an investigating pet, some of the bangles may smash. Veterinarians are often visited by those whose pets have ingested the shattered fragments. Artificial snow becomes a temptation for many creatures. They will try licking it. It can mean a trip direct to the emergency ward for pets mugged by the holiday hazard.

Parents who are overly anxious to pair up the very young child and a pet at Christmas time must manage the adoption carefully. They should involve the child so gradually that it doesn't become a destructive experience for any of the small creatures involved. Another thing: You will be spreading the most good cheer if you don't forget that those orphaned animals at the shelter may be the ones most in need of your help. They can make terrific pets when introduced into the home with care and caution.

Small business backs balanced budget

The elections are over; the new Congress is poised for action, and now is the time to look again at the looming federal deficit.

Excessive spending by the federal government has been blamed on a lot of things. Some put the blame squarely on President Reagan's tax cuts and defense build-up. Others blame it on congress or succumbing to spending pressure from special interest groups. After all, no member of Congress wants to vote against the pet project of his district. Still others trace the problem back much further than the current administration and cite a spiraling "tax-and-spend" pattern resulting in mounting inflation and reduced economic growth.

A growing consensus among states is that the only way to reduce the deficit is to pass a constitutional amendment requiring a balanced federal budget.

New Jersey's small-business community agrees, and is rallying behind the balanced budget amendment resolution, ACR-54, sponsored by Assemblyman Richard Zimmer, R-Hunterdon County.

If passed, the bill will make New Jersey the 33rd state to endorse a federal balanced budget amendment. Approval by just one more state would put the measure over the top and make the amendment binding on Congress.

The National Federation of Independent Business New Jersey, the state's largest small-business organization, reports a dramatic surge of support for passage among its membership.

Small-business owners from every line of work and every county are alarmed about the $2 trillion debt ceiling and $200 billion deficit.

The budget has been balanced only once in the last 20 years. Federal spending has increased rapidly. Between 1965 and 1980, the federal budget grew 400 percent, while the private-sector economy grew only 270 percent. Federal spending took close to 25 percent of the gross national product in 1985, compared to 18 percent in 1965.

Currently, it takes more than $1 of every $8 in the federal budget just to pay the interest on the national debt. At the rate the debt's been growing, it could double in just 10 years.

Conventional legislative approaches to the problem have failed. Even new approaches to budgeting haven't worked. The only thing strong enough to do the job — to provide the necessary fiscal discipline — is a constitutional amendment.

Bringing the deficit under control would mean reduced inflation, lower interest rates, and more money available for private investment and job growth.

"Small-business owners are acutely aware of this, since their sector has the most new-jobs potential. It's time the rest of us rallied behind the effort to mandate a balanced federal budget," says William J. Cleary, director, National Federation of Independent Business New Jersey.

Seeks support for grass-roots push to draft balanced budget bill

In an effort to provide grass-roots support for the nation-wide drive to enact a balanced budget amendment to the Constitution, Lance Lamberton, a local activist and former deputy director of the White House Office of Policy Information under President Reagan, announces the formation of New Jerseyans for A Balanced Budget.

"Our main purpose," says Lamberton, "is to put grass-roots pressure on the New Jersey legislature to enact Assemblyman Richard Zimmer's Assembly Concurrent Resolution 54 (ACR-54) which calls for a limited constitutional convention to draft a balanced budget amendment to the Constitution."

Lamberton says: "Unless we come to grips with ever-mounting federal deficits — that grow by more than $200 billion each year on top of a total national debt of $2 trillion — then we are facing severe, irreversible economic consequences in the years to come."

Lamberton, who is president of the new organization, says: "The time has long passed when we can count on Congress to put its own financial house in order. Despite protestations and cries of concern by politicians of every hue of the political spectrum, deficits continue to mount to the point where fully 25 percent of federal revenues go just to finance the national debt. If current trends continue, we can expect a doubling of the national debt in just 10 years. A deficit of that magnitude, by consuming such a large portion of our gross national product, would destroy the economic prosperity most Americans have come to enjoy."

Currently, there are 32 out of a necessary 34 states which have called for a constitutional convention. If New Jersey adds its name to the convention call, only one more state will be needed for the convention to be convened.

For years motorists have been issued tickets for driving on the wrong side of the road and for years municipal court judges have been fining them for that offense. But now a Superior Court Judge in Burlington County has held that the statute in question permits a motor vehicle being driven on a roadway with two or more lanes running in the same direction to pass on the right as long as the driver can do so safely and the vehicle remains on the paved portion of the highway. The ruling is binding on all municipal courts.

Everly's 20 paces Dayton win

By MARK YABLONSKY

There are times when some clubs start a game slowly, before finding their way as the evening wears on. For the Jonathan Dayton Regional High School basketball team Friday night, it was simply a case of finding the hoop more frequently and with better accuracy from the outside. Once that happened, everything turned out just fine for the Bulldogs, who defeated Brearley Regional, 64-48, in the opening contest of the 1986-87 season for both teams.

After a poor first quarter, in which the club at first seemed unimpressive and incapable of generating consistent offense, the Bulldogs began settling down and started to take charge over a Brearley club that lost its early four-point lead and found itself being outmatched at both ends of the court from the second quarter on.

Led by senior forward Kevin Everly, who came up with a solid 20-point effort, Dayton proved to be unkind hosts to one of their neighboring sister schools, outscoring them by a 25-26 pace in the 15-35 left half to solidify a six-point halftime lead into a commanding margin of victory. Everly, a 6-5 swingman who is one of "The Seven Seniors" on his club, showed everyone in attendance why he is referred to by his coach, Ray Yanchus, as "the shooter."

In the final 5:20 of the first half, Everly accounted for nine of this team's final 14 points in that span. After connecting on a 25-foot outside swisher to give his club a 16-12 lead, the lanky senior sunk an eight-footer just over 21 minutes left to erase an 18-16 Brearley lead, the last time, in fact, the Bears would be ahead. Then just 57 seconds later, after Brearley had pulled to within 21-20 on a layup by Scott Miller, Everly countered with a layup of his own to give his team a three-point edge.

After an eye-catching outside bomb by forward Joe Capizzano cut Dayton's lead to 23-22 with 1:35 left in the half, Everly found the mark again for another field goal, 18 seconds later. He then added a free throw shortly afterward to give his club a 28-22 halftime lead. Everly started the third quarter with two more field goals to give Dayton a 32-23 lead, before letting his teammates, who by now had awakened from their early slumber, do the rest. Aided by 14 points each from Dwayne Chavick and Greg Kahn, the Bulldogs pulled further away from their Kenilworth foes and added 21 fourth quarter points to smash any hopes of a Brearley comeback.

Indeed, after Miller, who was the game-high scorer with 21 points, brought his team to within 33-31 with 3:51 to play in the third quarter, the Bears never came any closer the rest of the way and found themselves hopelessly out of it when a field goal and follow-up free throw by Kahn — "the other shooter" — made it a 53-33 lead with an even four minutes left in the game.

Four minutes left in the game, Dayton, which made 23 of 49 field goal attempts for a shooting percentage of .469, it wasn't a slow start to start off a new year. A slow start notwithstanding, the Bulldogs seemed to give a good account of themselves.

"In the second half," said Yanchus, whose "senior-dominated team" grabbed a total of 24 rebounds. "Our shooting was what we expected it to be. In the first half, it wasn't very good. If we had made our foul shots it would have been better, but it was only the first team's final 14 points in that span. I thought we did some good things on defense."

"We got our scoring from the people we thought would score," he added. I thought Mark Williams did a good job coming off the bench defensively. But I think that Kenilworth's going to be OK going down the line."

"The point is I'm very encouraged because these kids have only been practicing for a week," explained Bear skipper Bill Berger, whose team, including Miller and Capizzano, have several players who recently led the school in its second straight North Jersey Group I. Section 2 football title. "We feel this is probably one of the toughest one or two teams on our schedule. I'm encouraged. I feel that this team can only get better. So I'm not totally discouraged. We got 20 more games to go."

After having played at Middlesex on Saturday, the Bulldogs are slated to return to action in the Livingston Christmas Tournament on Dec. 29-30, while Brearley will play its first home game on Dec. 29 against Spotswood.

"I'm happy," concluded Yanchus. "I'll eat my pizza tonight with a smile."

Deerfield goes 9-0

It was a season worth remembering for the Deerfield School Boys' soccer team in Mountaintop, which registered a 9-0 record in becoming the school's only soccer team ever to go undefeated and untied.

Overall, it was the fourth team under the direction of Kit Carson in the last 24 years to go undefeated. Coach Oberhauser led the club in scoring with 10 goals, while Brian Asch finished second with six. Brian Carson and Jimmy Boyd registered three goals each, while goalie Craig Hauelsen recorded six shutouts.

The Hansons just bought a great new house. Here's how.

Finding their dream house was easy. But the Hansons were afraid getting a mortgage would be a nightmare. Until they came to the Howard and sat with their Howard banker. First they explored all of the mortgage loan options the Howard has available. • Fixed-rate mortgages with terms from 15 to 30 years for maximum stability. • One and three-year Adjustable Rate Mortgages that take full advantage of current market rates.

• Bi-weekly mortgages that can save over 40% in interest payments over the life of the loan. Then, with the help of their Howard banker, they selected the plan that made the most sense for them. Like the Hansons, you can count on the Howard to be your bank for life. Because we understand the needs and concerns of home buyers today, and the hopes and desires that will come tomorrow.

2 charged in theft

Two Newark juveniles who were arrested last week and charged with theft from a person and "joyriding," in accordance with a state statute. One of the youths was later turned over to the Essex County Youth Home in Newark after his parents refused to accept custody of him, police said.

According to police, the suspects were reportedly involved in a series of purse snatchings in Union and Essex counties throughout the past two weeks, and were arrested and turned over to Livingston police Wednesday evening after their vehicle had been spotted earlier by West Orange authorities.

Police said two youths driving a vehicle reportedly assaulted someone in the parking lot of a Route 22 supermarket in Union on Tuesday afternoon at about 4:45 p.m., before fleeing with the victim's purse. Shortly afterward, police said, the suspects dropped the stolen vehicle off on the grounds of the U.S. Defense Building on Route 22 West in Springfield, at which point the pair allegedly stole a vehicle.

A third youth, identified by Livingston police as an 18-year-old who evaded capture, is presently being sought for his alleged role in the incidents as well.

A smorgasbord of holiday treats

By DEE DANIELS
The holiday season has always brought to me a sense of roots and nostalgia as I prepare to share many happy hours with family and friends dining and wining at home. American ingenuity, native cuisine and regional ingredients dominate our favorite heritage.

Mary's Delectable Shrimp Mold
1 cup mayonnaise
1 can tomato soup
1 can tomato soup
2 pkg. unflavored gelatin
1/2 cup chopped onion
1 cup chopped celery
Heat gelatin and soup until gelatin dissolves. Mix with remaining ingredients. When ready to serve, mound on a bed of lettuce and garnish.

12 slices bacon, crisply fried and crumbled
1 cup shredded Swiss cheese
1/2 cup minced onion
4 eggs
2 eggs whipping cream or light cream
3/4 T. salt
1/4 T. sugar
1/8 T. cayenne pepper
Dash of nitrite

Heat oven to 425 degrees. Prepare pastry. Sprinkle bacon, cheese and onion in pastry-lined pan. With rotary beater, blend remaining ingredients; pour over bacon mixture. Bake 15 min. Reduce temperatures to 350 degrees. Bake 30 minutes longer or until knife inserted 1 inch from edge comes out clean. Let stand 10 min. before cutting. (Can be frozen)
You may use food processor for blending ingredients.

3 tsp. flour
1 1/4 c. warm milk)
Shells (12)
In saucepan prepare white cream sauce. Add Sherry. Drain and de-velop crabmeat and add to cream mixture. Cook over medium-heat until thickened, stirring constantly. Spoon mixture into shells. Sprinkle parmesan cheese and bread crumbs on top. Dot with butter. Brown under broiler for five minutes until golden brown.

Pour into 15 or more cupcake tins paper lined. Bake 25 min. at 350 degrees. Remove from oven. Let cool. Make topping and beat. Pour one spoonful over each cake and return to oven until dissolved.

Avoid deadly fires

"The Christmas season is a time of joy, but it can also be a time of tragedy due to deadly fires," says Commissioner Leonard S. Coleman Jr., of the state Department of Community Affairs.
"Unfortunately, thousands of families will mark the holiday season as a time of tragedy because of fires," he says, "but Louis Laiblich, chief of the Bureau of Fire Safety in our department, has developed a list of fire safety tips I would like to pass on to the readers of this newspaper."
"Make sure live Christmas trees are fresh. They will be deep green in color and have a strong pine scent. If the needles fall off when the tree is thumped on the ground, it has already begun to dry. Be sure to check the tree for water each day. Place the tree in a corner of the room, where it would not fall and block an exit should a fire occur."
"Artificial trees should be flame resistant."
"Electric lights should not be used on a metal tree."
"The Trailside Nature and Science Center, a facility of Union County Department of Parks and Recreation, has announced that it has "the perfect stocking stuffers" for the holiday season. A wide assortment of fun-science stuffers such as fossils, minerals, magic rocks, 1/2 micro-probe kit, microscopes, science kits, pen bracelets, magnifying glasses, dinosaur model kits and duck pencil sharpeners are available, priced from $1 to $5.

Holiday happenings

Never use lighted candles on a tree or near decorations.
Check tree lights for worn insulation, broken plugs and loose bulb sockets. Use only lights with Underwriter's Laboratories (UL) or Factory Mutual Laboratories (FM) labels.
Turn off all indoor tree and decorative lights before leaving the house or going to bed.
All decorations should be non-combustible.
Make sure fireplace fires are carefully tended. Use a screen or a glass door to keep sparks from flying into the room. Keep combustible material three feet away from the fireplace. Never burn gift wrappings or other paper material in a fireplace.
Never use flammable liquids such as gasoline to start or rekindle a fire. Never burn plastic, charcoal or styrofoam because they can produce deadly quantities of carbon monoxide and other toxic gases.
Plan a holiday home fire drill by

Enjoy the holidays in the Big Apple

The New York theater scene, consisting of about 40 Broadway theaters, more than 300 off-Broadway houses, Lincoln Center, Carnegie Hall, Radio City Music Hall and concert and dance theaters, is one of The Big Apple's strongest tourist magnets, according to the New York Convention and Visitors Bureau. Last year, 17,100,000 visitors arrived in the big city and for many of them a matinee or evening in the theater was a highlight of their visit. Here are a few of the shows that have settled in for long runs.

BROADWAY MUSICALS
"Big River." A charming, brilliant musical based on Mark Twain's "Huckleberry Finn." Roger Miller did the music and lyrics and now stars as Pap. Winner of seven Tony Awards.
"La Cage Aux Folles." Winner of six 1984 Tony Awards, this blockbuster musical comedy conceived by Jerry Herman, music by Harvey Fierstein, book, and Arthur Laurents, directed Steve Arlen and Walter Charles, are brilliant as the unconventional couple whose son plans a very conventional marriage. Often sold out, but last-minute seats and $10 balcony tickets are usually available.
"Cats." Another blockbuster musical, "Cats" is a London import by the same composer, Andrew Lloyd Webber, who gave us "Evita." Technically, "Cats" is also sold out months in advance, but don't be discouraged; cancellations and spare seats are often available at the box office. Make the effort... "Cats" is a sly charmer.
"A Chorus Line." One of the most exciting musicals ever created, and as of Sept. 25, 1983, the longest-running show in Broadway history. A show to see and savor again and again. Donna McKechnie is back in her Tony Award-winning performance.
"Broadway." Joe Papp's latest gift to the holiday season, "The Mystery of Edwin Drood," this enchanting musical — based on the 1847, and incomplete, novel of Charles Dickens — first played free of charge in Central Park during the summer of 1985. George Rose, Donna Murphy, Patti Colouner and Howard McGillin head a superb cast. It's a comedy-mystery and because it is left hanging, you, the audience, decide... Who Done It? Winner of the 1986 Tony Award for best musical.

"42nd Street." Tap dancing feet... from curtain rise to curtain fall. A joyous, exhilarating musical based on the 1933 film classic. At no time does the story get in the way of the spectacular numbers created by the late Gower Champion.
"Flamenco Puro." The real stuff. You'll think you're back in Seville, complete with enthusiastic audience reaction from the Hispanic members of the audience.
"A Little Like Magic." A perfect show for kids of all ages. Puppets of all sizes are animated in black light. The effects are spooky and schillingling!
"Me and My Girl." The least of London is now the toast of Broadway in the theater district's newest and most spectacular house. The Marquis is located in the Marriott Marquis.
"Oh, Calcutta!" This naughty musical came over on the Mayflower and has settled down to stay. The writers of its sketches include Jules Feiffer, John Lennon, Dan Greenburg and Sam Shepard.
"Oh, Coward!" Noel the Great has returned to The Great White Way. This anthology of The master's songs, sayings and sass is just what the sophisticated theatergoer ordered.
"Smile." That time-honored American tradition, the beauty pageant, is the subject of this new musical by Howard Ashman, whose "Little Shop of Horrors" is a long-running hit off-Broadway. Music by Marvin Hamlisch, whose classic, "A Chorus Line," is still going strong.
"Sweet Charity." Ann Reinking plays the hooker with the heart of gold in this first-class revival of the Bob Fosse musical by Neil Simon, book; Cole Maner, music; and Dorothy Fields, lyrics. Choreography by Fosse, naturally. Winner of four Tony Awards.

HIT PLAYS
"Arsenic and Old Lace." A quintet of top talent, Jean Stapleton, Polly Holliday, Tony Roberts, William Hickey and Abe Vigoda, star in this superb revival of the comedy horror classic. Tip: Don't leave before the curtain call.
"The Front Page." The Ben Hecht/Charles MacArthur comedy classic about freewheeling newspaper reporters in Roaring Twenties Chicago is being given a spirited revival at Lincoln Center's Vivian Beaumont Theater. Richard Thomas, John Lithgow, Julie Hagerty and Jeff Weiss head the cast.

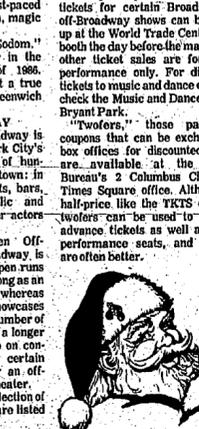

"The House of Blue Leaves." John Gure's 1971 eccentric comedy is being given a sterling revival. John Mahoney, Christine Baranski, Danny Aiello, Faye Grant and the amazing Swizzle Kurtz are among the fine cast. Winner of four Tonys.
"I'm Not Rappaport." Hal Linden and Ossie Davis are flawless in Herb Gardner's funny, keenly observed play about two very special survivors who take arms against a sea of troubles — and win! An exhilarating evening. Tony Award winner for best play of 1986.
"Social Security." Just when we need it most... drawing room comedy is back. This time with a nice urban bite and a hearty laugh every five seconds—Cliff Gorman is superb as the harassed art dealer, Olympia Dukakis is memorable as his late-blooming mother-in-law, and Joanna Gleason, always a delight, turns in another gem of a performance as the prudish sister-in-law. This irrepressible nonsense is directed by that old master Mike Nichols.
"You Never Can Tell." What a surprise. A comedy George Bernard Shaw never really cared for turns out to be a sparkling delight. Victor Garber, Philip Bosco, Lisa Hillhold and Stephen McHattie are superlative in a cast that includes Uta Hagen and Amanda Plummer.

HITS OFF-BROADWAY
"Angry Housewives." A lively, fast-moving, fun-for-everyone musical about a quartet of bored housewives who form a punk-rock band — much to the dismay of the men in their lives. Presented in the new, attractive and most comfortable Minetta Lane Theatre in Greenwich Village.
"Beethoven." The Village Gate is packing them in with this riotous musical revue that spoofs the pop stars of the 1950s and 1960s.
"Chicago City Limits." Witty and wonderful are the words for this improvisational theater/musical revue.
"The Common Pursuit." Simon Gray's dazzling new comedy/drama about six Cambridge students and their progress from the groves of academe to the jungles of business and social life in London. A litrate, moving, and stunningly acted production by the author of "Burley" and "Quartermaine's Terms."
"Groucho: A Life in Revue." The incomparable Marx Brothers humor, plus the pathos in their private lives, captured in a delightful musical by Arthur Marx, Groucho's son, and Robert Fisher.

"Forbidden Broadway." One of the funniest and most devastating parodies ever written. All the sacred names of Broadway, Barbara, Bernadette, Chita, Kevin, Patti and Andrew Lloyd, to name a few, are given "the treatment."
"Lady Day at Emerson's Bar & Grill." Lonette McKee is superb in this haunting evocation of the last days and high art of America's greatest jazz singer, Billie Holiday.
"Little Shop of Horrors." A one-of-a-kind musical. A Lower East Side florist's assistant nurtures a man-eating plant. The results are hilarious, the special effects spectacular.
"Mama, I Want to Sings." A rousing gospel musical about a young church choir girl who would like to become a pop star. At the Hecksher Theatre, Fifth Avenue at 104th Street.
"Nunsense." Five nuns from the musical "Little Sisters of Hoboken" stage a "fundraising talent show" to support their order. Their efforts are side-splitting!
"Olympus on My Mind." Charm personified. Plus libretto lyrics, an intelligent script, and a delightful cast. Zeus would be pleased.
"Penn & Teller." Impossible to describe but completely irresistible! Two manic guys in a fast-paced evening of laughs, levitation, magic and mystery.
"Vampire Lesbians of Sodom." Charles Busch & Co. star in the hilarious camp classic of 1986. Perfect for those who want true Bohemian evening in Greenwich Village.

OFF-OFF-BROADWAY
The world of off-off Broadway is the largest part of New York City's theater scene, consisting of hundreds of theaters all over town: in lofts, basements, storefronts, bars, churches, converted public and private buildings... wherever actors can find space.
The difference between Off-Broadway and off-off-Broadway is that Off-Broadway offers open runs — the show keeps going as long as an audience keeps coming — whereas off-off-Broadway stages showcases that run for only a limited number of performances. If they want a longer run, then they have to "go on contract," pay the actors a certain scale, and move to either an off-Broadway or a Broadway theater.
Broadway shows and a selection of off-Broadway productions are listed in the Visitors Bureau's quarterly calendar. Study the descriptions, pick something that appeals to you, remember that you're having an adventure, and enjoy the experience.

Some of the most dependable Off and off-off-Broadway productions are staged by theater companies. You can count on top quality productions and performances with such groups as American Place Theater, Circle Repertory, Equity Library Theater, Ensemble Studio Theater, Hudson Guild, Jean Cocteau Repertory, La Mama, Manhattan Fringe Line, Manhattan Theater Club, The Mirror Repertory Co., Negro Ensemble Co., Pan Asian Repertory... Performing Garage, Perry Street Theater Co., Playwrights Horizon, The Public Theater, Quigley Theater (free at lunch time), Roundabout Theater Co., Repertorio Espanol, Puerto Rico Traveling Theatre, Second Stage and the theaters of Theatre Row. For details of current performances, call (212) 302-4412.
Theatergoers on a budget should try the half-price tickets booths (TKTS), uptown at 47th and Broadway (open at noon for matinee tickets, 3:00 for evening sales) and downtown at No. 2 World Trade Center, 11 a.m. to 5:30, Monday to Saturday. A tip: matinee half-price tickets for certain Broadway and off-Broadway shows can be picked up at the World Trade Center TKTS booth the day before the matinee. All other ticket sales are for day-of-performance only. For discounted tickets to music and dance offerings, check the Music and Dance booth in Bryant Park.
"Twofers," these pastboard coupons that can be exchanged at box offices for discounted tickets, are available at the Visitors Bureau's 2 Columbus Circle and Times Square office. Although not half-price like the TKTS offerings, "twofers" can be used to purchase advance tickets as well as day-of-performance seats, and locations are often better.

Holiday customs

Santa on horseback

When Santa Claus first appeared in the United States, he drove an ordinary wagon pulled by horses, not reindeer. But according to International Wildlife magazine, the romantic sleigh and reindeer soon became an enduring fixture of the Santa Claus story. International Wildlife is a bimonthly publication of the National Wildlife Federation.

The modern Santa Claus sprang from the imagination of writer Washington Irving, who also gave us the headless horseman of Sleepy Hollow and Rip Van Winkle. Working from earlier legends, Irving invented the character in his 1809 book, "Knickerbocker's History," and his Santa rode in a horse-drawn wagon.

Irving's Santa was forever changed in 1822, however, when Columbia University President W. Clement Moore wrote "A Visit From St. Nicholas." The verse that begins, "Twas the night before Christmas..." put Santa firmly in the driver's seat of a sleigh behind eight reindeer: Dasher, Dancer, Prancer, Vixen, Comet, Cupid, Donner, and Blitzen.

For years, Moore tried to conceal his lionship of the enormously popular poem, which he had intended only to be recited to his children at Christmas. But eventually the truth got out, and Moore's immortal now recites with that piece of verse.

Rudolph is another story. In 1939 a New York advertising executive named Robert May was assigned to write an annual verse for a large mail-order house. May, who had spent a rather unhappy youth because he was short, patterned "Rudolph, the Red-Nosed Reindeer" after the genre of the ugly duckling who is rejected by his peers but makes good in the end.

Over the years, Rudolph has done even better for some of his promoters than he did for Santa that foggy Christmas Eve. Songwriter Johnny Marks' catchy Christmas tune about Rudolph, originally recorded by former cowboy star, Gene Autry, is one of the best-selling ditties of all time. Books about Rudolph, TV shows, and assorted

Legend of the Christmas tree

Until the middle of the 19th Century, any family that wanted a Christmas tree either cut the tree themselves or ordered one from a farmer. The custom was practiced mostly by German-Americans, although Americans of other stock were beginning to hear about the tradition.

All that changed in 1851, when a New Yorker named Mark Carr started that city's first Christmas tree business, according to National Wildlife magazine. National Wildlife is a bimonthly publication of the National Wildlife Federation.

Carr lived in the Catskills 80 miles north of New York City, where he knew many German families lived. In mid-December of 1851, Carr filled two ox-sleds with young fir and spruces, loaded them on a steamboat, and sold them for a handsome profit at New York's Washington Market.

By 1850 a voracious forest of 200,000 trees was moving to Washington Market from all over the Northeast. They came on boats, by trains, and in big horse-drawn farm wagons. Although cedar trees were popular in the 1860s, by 1880 the fashion had switched to evergreens that shed more slowly, creating less of a fire hazard when decorated with lighted candles. Many early photographs show homelocks, but they too had disadvantages, since their branches are too lacy and frail to support many ornaments.

Up in Maine, balsam fir had always been considered a nuisance, because they grew like weeds. But in 1802 a steam yacht returning to a small town on Maine's Penobscot Bay, the yacht's owner loaded 500 young balsam trees and sold them in Boston's Christmas market at Faneuil Hall. Within a few years, balsam became New England's favorite tree, and the Christmas trade sparked an economic boom for Maine.

In the Midwest, Christmas trees for cities like Chicago came largely by boat from the forests of Michigan. As early as 1887, two brothers named Schuenemann sailed from Michigan in their fishing schooner with a load of trees hauled to the deck. They died up beside Michigan's Clark Street bridge and began selling their trees. Although both brothers were later lost in Lake Michigan storms, the younger brother's widow took over the business. In 1913, and the Schuenemann Christmas tree ships became part of Chicago history.

By 1920 Christmas tree cultivation had become a profitable business in many parts of the country. Farmers were pleased to find a crop suitable for growing on rocky upland pastures and other unproductive pieces of land. In the 1930s Franklin D. Roosevelt was the country's best-known Christmas tree farmer. Roosevelt helped popularize the concept by growing Christmas trees on his estate at Hyde Park, N.Y.

This year, 32 million Christmas trees will be sold in the United States—big business by any standard. The most popular tree is the Scotch pine, a European import popularized in the 1930s by a Pennsylvania car salesman and entrepreneur named Fred Musser. But no matter how many trees are cut and sold, the fundamentals of the business haven't changed much since Mark Carr's time. The challenge, still, is how to ship fir trees to eager families in time for the Christmas holidays.

Dressy birds

The old adage "Clothes make the man" apparently applies to birds' plumage as well, reports National Wildlife magazine. Research on chickadees and several species of sparrows has shown that the width of colored bands on the birds' heads and chests determine their social rank within the flock.
