Take a breather

The American Cancer Society's 11th Great American Smokeout is today, but the annual event is rapidly becoming a thing of the past. That's because the cigarette smoking rate in the United States has reached the lowest level ever reported, with less than 27 percent of all adults still lighting up.

The goal of the 1987 Great American Smokeout is to get at least one in every five smokers to give up cigarettes from midnight to midnight today.

Last year, the Smokeout set an all-time record for participation with nearly 24 million of the nation's 54 million smokers trying to kick the habit for the day.

As the Great American Smokeout enters its second decade, smokers are urged to "Take a Breather." In addition to the familiar, programs, college, corporate and hospital quit-smoking clinics, there is a new Smokeout logo and a novel "I'm a Born Non-smoker" baby T-shirt.

In just one decade, the idea of taking a day off from smoking has spread to other countries such as Canada, Great Britain, Ireland, France, Australia, South Africa, Norway, Finland and Sweden. Although names and dates vary in other countries, there are increasing signs that non-smoking efforts are growing throughout the world. The World Health Organization recently announced an increase in its budget for anti-smoking efforts in Third World nations, and governments in countries like Cuba are backing non-smoking education programs.

The Cancer Society has these hints for Smokeout Day: Throw out all cigarettes by breaking them in half and wetting them down. Clean out all ashtrays in your home, office or car and put them away. Discard matches, lighters or give them away.

When the urge to smoke hits, take a deep breath. Hold it a second, then release it very, very slowly. Taking deep, rhythmic breaths is similar to smoking, only you'll inhale clean air, not poisonous gases.

Exercise to help relieve tension. Climb stairs rather than take the elevator, park the car a block or two from your destination and walk the rest of the way. At home, practice touching your toes, jog in place or do jumping jacks.

When tempted to reach for a cigarette, think of a negative image about smoking. Select your worst memory connected with the habit — the time you burned a hole in your suit or when you were left completely breathless running for a bus that pulled away. Imagine this experience for 15 seconds whenever the urge occurs.

Reward yourself with oral substitutes in the same way you may have used cigarettes. Good examples: sugarless gum, lemon drops, pumpkin or sunflower seeds, apple slices, carrot sticks, unbuttered popcorn and stick cinnamon.

Eat three or more small meals. This maintains constant blood sugar levels, thus helping to prevent urges to smoke. Avoid sugar-laden foods and spicy items that can trigger a desire for cigarettes.

Scramble up your day and change habits connected with smoking. Drive a different route to work; eat lunch in a new place; leave the "scene of an event." At home, avoid your "smoking chair" after dinner, reach for gum rather than a cigarette when answering the phone.

Cleanse your body of nicotine. Drink liquids — lots of them. About 6-8 glasses of water a day, herbal teas, fruit juices and caffeine-free soft drinks all fit the bill. Pass up coffee, caffeinated soft drinks and alcohol, as they can increase your urge to smoke.

Keep your hands — and mind — busy. Work on a crossword puzzle, knit a sweater, balance your checkbook, fix something around the house, or shampoo the dog.

Where's Gonor?

Throughout the recent campaign, Freeholder Robert Gonor of Linden was conspicuous by his absence. In fact, he has been absent from Board of Freeholder meetings more than half the time during the past year.

Yet, he continues to collect his $17,999.33 salary from the county.

During the past campaign, we judged Freeholder Brian Fahey's attendance at meetings as "poor." He had missed approximately 18 percent of the freeholder meetings during his tenure on the board.

If that's a poor attendance record, what would Gonor be considered?

According to the clerk of the Freeholder Board, as of Oct. 22, he had missed 12 of 22 regular meetings and 21 of 41 agenda sessions during 1987.

Seems as though Gonor, who unsuccessfully ran for mayor of Linden last year, has lost interest. We think he should lose some of his salary.

Forest fires can be ravenous in this state

By HELEN C. FENKLE
From comfortable living rooms, many New Jersey citizens learned through television or newspapers of the forest fires that swept through California and other parts of the West. Nothing to worry about in New Jersey, a state of asphalt and buildings, they think.

But, more than half of New Jersey is covered with trees. In New Jersey, especially in the Pinelands, forest fires can be particularly ravenous. Only California is more notorious for its fires, and generally, that notoriety stems from the amount of damage that fires do to the expensive homes nestled in the California woods.

A series of fires during one weekend in April 1983 destroyed over 100,000 acres of New Jersey woodland. The possibility for destruction of more acres and more structures is more likely now than ever before, and will increase as people continue to move toward the Pinelands.

Our insurance against forest fires, however, is the New Jersey Division of Forest Fire Management, which, during times of fire, combats fires and, other times, works to prevent forest fires, educating the public, maintaining fire breaks, or removing brush or other overgrowth that may be a forest fire hazard. Sometimes, like this year, when 30 members of the state's forest fire service headed to the West, our forest fire fighters will travel to another state to help to extinguish a major blaze.

Determining when to leave a child alone

By JULIA WESTERVELT
Leaving children home alone is potentially harmful. The issue of safety for children at home poses a serious one for working parents.

There are several factors parents should examine when considering self-care. Most important is the child's readiness. Some pre-teens, age 11 or 12, may seem emotionally mature and responsible enough to be on their own in the house for a short period of time. Yet, like anyone facing an emergency situation, a youngster is likely to forget what to do. If a child is to be home alone, even for a short time, it's helpful to have some adult, possibly a neighbor, for the child to check in with. An hour can seem much longer to a child alone.

No child should be left alone unless ready to handle situations he or she might have to face, such as a power failure, strangers coming to the door, or discovering an open door or broken window when coming home from school. Since resources under stress are different, it is vital for parents to take time to rehearse different scenarios with their children and to have important information like telephone numbers for the police and fire departments written down.

It is best never to leave children unsupervised. But if it is unavoidable, telephone numbers and safety measures parents should make sure their children understand. Children who carry house keys should know to keep the keys out of sight and in a safe place. If keys are lost, an extra set should be available somewhere, perhaps at the home of a neighbor.

Children should always have enough change for a phone call to parents in case of an emergency. Children should know how to use a telephone. Children may walk, ride a bike, take a bus or be driven to school in a car pool. Whatever your child commutes, the route should be familiar and safe. Don't allow children to take short cuts. If a ride is missed, there should be an alternative means of commuting planned in advance.

If your child comes home from school and the house looks different, will he or she know what to do? What if your child thinks someone is following him or her? Children should know not to enter a house that looks broken into, or to go into an empty house if they are being followed. In these situations children should be instructed to go to a store or to a neighbor's house and call police and parent.

While parents don't want to scare their children, children have to be taught how to protect themselves from potentially harmful situations and people. Children should know not to talk to strangers, even if the stranger calls them by name, and not to accept rides or presents from strange adults.

When children are home alone, they should know how to make an emergency telephone call, have lists of important telephone numbers and know how to handle obscene calls or calls from strangers. Children should be warned not to tell callers they are home alone. In the event of a fire, power failure, storm, or overflowing toilet, children should know what to do and what not to do. Adults can role-play and practice with their children the steps to take in these emergencies.

The rules of the house should be clearly understood and obeyed. Children should know if friends may or may not visit when parents are not home. If an older child is looking after a younger one, discipline should be left up to parents, not the older child.

Guns are not toys. Children need to understand the danger of guns. Firearms should always be kept out of the sight and reach of children.

Minor cuts, injuries or animal bites can be treated by first aid. Children need to be taught the basics of first aid for themselves, their friends and pets.

There are a variety of after-school programs offered through schools, church groups and other organizations like the YMCA or Scouts. Parents should make time to evaluate these programs as an alternative to their child being home alone after school.

Mental health professionals can help with parent/child concerns, including their child's readiness for self-care. For information call the UMDNJ-Community Mental Health Center at Piscataway, 403-4420.

After the crash: What to do next

By JOEL J. SPITZ
After pages and pages of reports recounting "The Crash of '87" and "Black Monday," the question that remains in the forefront of many investors' minds is what to do now. Investing in "safe harbors" may be the answer for some. For others a careful selection of stocks may be appropriate.

The following investment recommendations may help answer your questions and reveal sound investment opportunities for you.

UTILITY STOCKS—Utilities offer many of the characteristics safety-minded equity investors are currently seeking. The traditional attractions of utility stocks are still there — high current income, low volatility and a wide choice of issues. But, in addition, certain utility stocks now offer unusual potential for capital appreciation.

The outlook for utilities has been enhanced by the movement of the industry toward consolidation. We believe utility companies with the cheapest source of power and widest accessibility to transmission lines will take over their weaker neighbors. As a result, we are recommending a select group of utility stocks we believe will benefit from the expected industry consolidation.

MUNICIPAL BONDS—Municipal bonds provide safety, tax-free income and, currently, very high yields. By "laddering" maturities, selecting bonds with different maturities — along attractive portions of the yield curve, investors are able to invest in short-term securities and therefore have the advantage of reinvesting their principal in a short time frame if interest rates go up; and take advantage of "big" yields available in longer term bonds, and benefit from possible declines in yields over time.

CERTIFICATES OF DEPOSIT—Certificates of deposit offer safety and preservation of capital. They're available in a wide range of maturities, usually from 30 days to five years, and are provided by banks and savings and loans insured by the FDIC or FSLIC. Once a CD is purchased, the rate is guaranteed over the life of the CD. Investors can enjoy monthly, semi-annual or annual payments. The double tax advantage of U.S. TREASURIES — Short and intermediate term treasuries can offer attractive yields and limit market risk. Market levels suggest that the place to be in the four-to-seven-year maturity range; where you can capture between 80 to 95 percent of the yield on the 30-year Treasury. Should the market deteriorate, these maturities will perform better than longer maturities.

FIXED SINGLE PREMIUM INSURANCE/ANNUITIES—There are two basic, fixed single-premium investments: single premium life and single premium deferred annuities. Both are tax-advantaged, and in both cases your principal is guaranteed by the issuing company. Single premium life insurance can provide tax-free growth, along with tax-advantaged life insurance protection. Single premium life works for the investor in two ways. First, the build up of earnings on the initial investment is free from taxes. Second, the income distribution of estate benefits to beneficiaries is also tax-free. The double tax advantage of single premium life insurance continues as long as the policy remains in effect.

Guidance office a has wealth of resources

By KEN MALIS
Dickinson College News Service
Until recently, high school students had to flip through thousands of pages in guidebooks and college catalogues in order to determine which college best fit their individual needs. Today, there are facilities that make the process almost a game.

The technological advances in computers and video equipment have made researching colleges truly enjoyable.

Many guidance offices now have a computer terminal that allows you to type in which features are important to you in a college — things such as academic programs, cost, size, location and it pumps out a list of colleges and universities that meet your criteria.

By typing in the code for a specific institution, the computer can give you more detailed information on the school, such as the average scores of accepted students on standardized tests like the SAT, ACT, or ACT; cost and financial aid; academic majors; fraternities and sororities; etc.

If you are unsure what you would like to do with your life, some computers have an added feature known as "Interest Inventory" programs that can offer advice on which areas you should explore. The inventory programs have a series of questions aimed at determining what your strengths are and what fields of interest you might consider pursuing.

Some computers have scholarship information programs. You answer questions on your interests, activities, GPA, etc. The computer then processes this information and gives you a listing of the local, state, and national scholarships for which you are qualified to apply.

If your school's computer does not have this service, your counselor should be able to supply you with a card to fill out with the same statistical information and send away to a central computer. From there a listing of scholarship opportunities will be sent back to you.

Some colleges now use laser disc or other video equipment to let you "visit" a college by viewing a tape that is approximately 30 minutes long. Rather than looking at still photos in college catalogues, the video tapes let you see the campus with people moving about and interacting with one another.

Overlook to hold career day

Overlook Hospital's schools of radiologic technology will present their annual Radiology Career Day on Dec. 1, from 9:30 a.m. to 12:30 p.m., in the hospital's Wallace Auditorium. Radiology Career Day is co-sponsored by the Overlook Hospital Auxiliary. The School of Radiology is a two-year, full-time program that prepares students for a career in radiologic technology. Radiologic technologists operate x-ray diagnostic machines such as digital radiography, mammography, and CAT units.

Home-heating bill fight is seen

A senior member of the House Energy and Commerce Committee, Rep. Matthew J. Rinaldo, is leading a drive to block Senate legislation that would sharply reduce federal funding for the home-heating assistance program for the poor. The Senate voted to cut fiscal year 1988 funding for the Low Income Home Energy Assistance Program by 22 percent, from $1.523 billion to $1.187 billion. Because the House voted to freeze funding for the program at last year's level, the difference will have to be reconciled by a House and Senate conference committee. Rinaldo has been joined by more than 150 members of the House in a letter to Rep. William Natcher, the

David Brearley presents 'The Miracle Worker'

The students of the David Brearley Regional High School in Kenilworth will present "The Miracle Worker" as their annual fall play, tomorrow and Saturday at 8 p.m. in the school's auditorium. "The Miracle Worker," an internationally acclaimed drama written by William Gibson, tells the story of how a determined Irish girl named Annie Sullivan unlocked the mind and soul of a child, deaf and blind from infancy, who grew up to be a notable world figure, Helen Keller. Also featured in the Brearley regional play are James Sheehan and Solina Manchio as Captain and Mrs. Keller, Helen's parents; and Ray Murphy and Lisa Moore as Helen's step-brother and aunt, Debbie Donahue, Diane Forhan, Stacey Leibowitz, Tamara Hemingway, Danielle Callina, Robbie Lynn Eul, Vicki Lyons, Mary Petracea, Roseanne Sileo and Dawn Walck complete the cast of "The Miracle Worker."

Art auction to be held

The Springfield Rotary Club will sponsor an art auction at the Parish House, 33 Church Mall, Springfield Center, Saturday at 7:30 p.m., as a part of its participation in the International PolioPlus Campaign. Dr. Lee Kaswiler, chairman of the local club's PolioPlus Committee, said the event will have two purposes — to tell the community about the PolioPlus program and to enlist community support for it. The art auction will be run by David Gary Limited of Millburn. Bargain prices are guaranteed with works of art valued from $20 to thousands available. Artists will include Chagall, Dalí, and Picasso. The festivities begin at 7:30 p.m. at the Parish House, with a wine and chess preview. The auction begins at 8:30 p.m. Door prizes will be given away. The cost for entry is $2. Profits gained by the Springfield Rotary Club will be donated to PolioPlus. Further information can be obtained by calling 487-9240 or 378-3870.

HAPPY VETS DAY — The sixth-grade class at Florence M. Gaudineer School, Springfield, recently wrote cards to some of the veterans at the Veterans Medical Center in East Orange. The cards were distributed on Veterans Day to those patients who receive little or no correspondence. Students will receive a copy of the list of patients who received the cards. The students will each choose a patient to correspond with throughout the year.

County EDC's chief steers positive course

By MARIE DUTTER

The petite, soft-spoken Maureen Tinen, president of the Union County Economic Development Corporation, makes up for her lack of physical stature with her thorough enthusiasm for her job.

Seated in her office in the EDC office on Westfield Avenue in Elizabeth, Tinen warms to her topic of what the EDC has done and what it can do to stimulate the economic base of Union County, most especially in the area of small businesses. The office, too, is indicative of the reuse of existing property, being smartly housed in a remodeled older one-family home.

Tinen, who joined the EDC in September, is presently commuting from her home in Trenton where she previously had been director of the Division of Economic Development for the city of Trenton. But not for long. Tinen says she expects to move soon into a house she and her husband have purchased in Elizabeth, vintage 1908.

"It's the place I most wanted to live — it's great to be able to go down and eat in a half dozen different ethnic restaurants... to be 30 minutes by ferry from the South Street Seaport... and near all major roads and transportation."

"The EDC is the county's designated economic development arm. We carry out that function on their behalf. We are a private entity, although the county manager sits on our board as a voting member, and there is also a freeholder on the board who is non-voting."

Tinen says the EDC receives funds from several sources, "including some generated by ourselves," as well as from the Community Development Block Grant Funds, and also through the Urban Development Act Grant.

The latter source, "UDAGs," says Tinen, results in another important source of income for her corporation. Under that format, the federal funding source gives the money to the EDC on behalf of a qualified applicant. The EDC, in turn, lends it to the applicant who pays principal and interest back to the EDC.

Another important resource for the EDC is from corporate contributions. Not always in the form of cash, however. In this age of the computer, Tinen's office has been trying to get along without one. In the near future, a bank will be contributing one — "No one had asked for one before!" Tinen's next goal will be to find some company which will be willing to provide computer training.

Tinen lists the services which the EDC provides — "whether to one person or to a large concern, but our goal is to lend below market rates. Applicants must service or employ or create new jobs — 51 percent of new jobs must be for low or moderate income levels." Tinen says that the income level is scaled to the number of family members — starting at $20,300 for a family of one.

"The purpose of the organization is to stimulate new jobs and create and maintain new tax bases," says Tinen. The Union County EDC has an all-volunteer board which number of projects annually, exclusively limited to industrial development."

Tinen says that although businesses which provide services are the fastest growing, the federal government is giving first priority to industrial development.

How about housing needs? Tinen says she "believes housing will follow jobs. People need to be employed in order to have them buy a home, rehabilitate a home, and better maintain their homes."

Tinen says the EDC's maximum loan is $100,000, "but it is usually for $50,000 or less." She notes that most applicants come with another source of income, and seek co-financing.

How To Take The Right Steps In Choosing A Health Plan.

The best way to evaluate a health plan is to experience it. So the Rutgers Community Health Plan—RCHP—invites you to follow these simple steps:

1. Call RCHP. Arrange for a guided tour of the nearest of our seven Health Centers located throughout Central and Northern New Jersey.
2. Take the tour. See why our locally-managed group model HMO can give you better, more complete coverage—with no claim forms, little or no copayments and no deductibles.
3. Check out our modern medical facilities—with labs, x-ray facilities and most of the primary care services you and your family will ever need—all under one roof. Meet our professional staff and get a first-hand feeling for the quality of personal care our multi-specialty group practice provides, from internal medicine and pediatrics to orthopedics.

Hear how RCHP cares for you when you're well with routine exams and eye care, and with wellness programs like Weight-Away™ and Smoking Cessation. And how we tie in with other specialty physician groups and the area's finest hospitals—The Medical Center at Princeton, Robert Wood Johnson University Hospital, St. Peter's Medical Center and the Overlook Hospital—to complement our own excellent care.

You'll find out what makes RCHP different. And better.

3. Make up your own mind. Take the first step today. Take a walk through our health plan. Call 1-800-233-RCHP.

There are RCHP Health Centers in New Brunswick, Somerset, Edison, Princeton, Lawrenceville, Union and Mountaintops.

Chamber elects new president

Harry Busch, immediate past chairman of the Union County Chamber of Commerce, passed the gavel to John W. Fox, incoming chairman, at the Chamber's 76th annual meeting held Oct. 28 at the Garden Hotel in Mountaintop.

Busch, president and chief executive officer of All-state Legal Supply Co. in Cranford, is also a member of the New Jersey state Chamber of Commerce board of directors. Fox is a partner in the Linden Investment Company.

Incoming Chairman Fox, a dedicated Rotarian, challenged the membership to treat their employees, co-workers and family members as they themselves would like to be treated. Alluding to the value of each individual citizen and company employee, he said, "It makes no difference whether someone is a vice president or secretary or whatever. At all times, in all dealings, we should consider whether our actions are fair."

Divorced dads start national crusade

FAIR, the national father's organization, has launched a national campaign to have the issues of divorced fathers addressed by the media.

Following a national study conducted in 48 states, which interviewed over 2,000 divorced fathers, it was estimated that the public's perception of divorced fathers does not resemble the data collected. FAIR, a non-profit organization dedicated to responsible and involved fatherhood, has been providing a full-range of professional services to callers to its national toll-free hotline 1-800-722-FAIR.

The national study, which was conducted by professional social workers, revealed that the majority of fathers were not able to even "visit" with their children, even though they were making child support payments. The study found that mothers were able to deny court-ordered visitation and engage in a variety of activities which estranged fathers from children. Perhaps the most significant finding was that the amount of money that divorced fathers expend in legal fees, to fight for visitation, is related to their ability to pay child support.

J. Annette Vanni, one of the researchers and FAIR's service director, explains, "While the public perception is that mothers are passive economic and social victims after divorce, our study, the largest of its kind, shows them to be engaged in activities that not only harm the children but also themselves."

The study also found that among mothers seeking to cut off the relationship between the father and the children, one out of 10 made a false allegation of child abuse. Currently, the states of Massachusetts and Utah have bills introduced to address this problem. FAIR researchers have been conducting provide legislative and court testimony regarding this national problem.

According to FAIR's program director, Edward Nichols, the public has been misinformed as a result of national media campaigns wrongly labeled as "women's rights" issues. "We're all in favor of equal rights for women," says Nichols, "but we all know that it's not a woman's right to harm children by cutting their father out of their lives."

FAIR has documented thousands of cases in which divorced fathers who support their children have been denied court ordered access to their children, been maliciously accused of child abuse, and have been - ruined - socially - and economically by vindictive ex-wives.

FAIR, which has been organizing fathers nationally for five years, is able to help divorced fathers by providing legal and social work services to callers to its national toll-free hotline. National headquarters, located in Camden, Del., conducts research and is determined to tell the father's side of the story and document the harm that is coming to children as a result of what service director J. Annette Vanni calls "feminist excesses." She explains, "We have broad-based national support, and as a professional woman and mother, I'm very proud of the fact that one in five of our supporters is a woman, equally disillusioned with the feminist agenda."

Offers small business help

Union County College's Workforce Development Program will sponsor a conference for women and minority small business owners entitled, "The New Jersey Set-Aside Procurement Workshop," on Dec. 2 from 8:30 a.m. to 1 p.m. in Room 445 of the Health Building, Scotch Plains campus.

The conference will emphasize how women and minority small business owners can bid on government contracts in such areas as building, sales and printing. Small business owners will be shown the basics of how to fill out contract bidding forms to actually presenting the bid to government officials.

By law, a certain amount of government contracts have to be awarded to women and minority small business owners annually. The conference will prepare these minority businesses for future advancement in the business world.

Registration forms may be obtained by calling the Workforce Development Program at 898-4100, Ext. 644.

A trip to the Lenape exhibit

On Oct. 2, 1987, my class went to the Monmouth Museum and saw the Lenape exhibit. It was a long ride on the bus, but we got there. When we arrived, we were 45 minutes early, so we went to the college cafeteria.

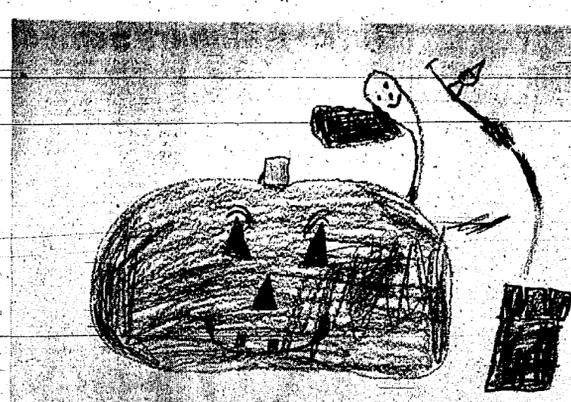

Then when it was time to go to the exhibit, we walked there. The first part was on the second floor. We learned about how the Indians hunted. The other room had a deer skin in it. We learned how they made clothes and leather. The third room was fun. It had a big slide in it that led into a room. We learned what kind of weapons they used and how they cut down trees.

They had a dugout canoe in the rooms too. In the other room they had a big wigwam and we got to go in it. It had a hole in the top of the roof for the fire.

After that we had some time in the gift shop, then we had lunch. After lunch, we went back on the bus and traveled back to school. We got back to school at 2:45 p.m. and talked about the trip. After that it was time to go home.

I had a great time and learned a lot and hope to go back again.

A change in season

Autumn brings cool breezes
The wind chasing the leaves
Turning colors light red and brown
As they fall to the ground
All over the town

As the autumn air
Carries the smells by.
Autumn is leaving.
Oh I'm so sad.
But it will come next year.
And I'll be glad.

What the Constitution Means to Me

To me the Constitution means freedom and liberty. The Constitution is the laws and regulations we live by.

Some laws of the Constitution are, freedom of religion, press, speech. With this law, the country can write things about the president in the newspaper and not get punished for it or get fined.

Another right is the right to bear arms. It means we are allowed to hold a gun in our homes to protect ourselves from people who want to hurt us and our loved ones.

We have a right not to have the law search our homes. It means that we have a right to stop people from coming into our homes and searching in our personal belongings.

We have a right to assemble and to petition Congress. This means a group of people can get together and make a list or law that they would like to see Congress make or change. In this country you would not get punished for doing this.

As you see without these amendments this would not be a great country as it is now. Don't think the Constitution is just another piece of paper. They are the words we live by.

Autumn has arrived

I love this new season...
You don't need a reason.
The leaves start to twirl.
They swirl and whirl.
As they slowly fall to the ground.
There are great holidays
And such fun days.
First comes the Jewish New Year.
And many holidays are near.

On Halloween the candy weighs a ton.

But trick-or-treating is lots of fun.
Thanksgiving... What a feast!
There's enough food to fill a beast.
Apples are good in the fall,
And it's time to play ball.
Now it's time to say, "Good-bye!"
Until next year...
Have a real good year!

A Tribute to Autumn

Autumn leaves, autumn leaves
Feel the wind's cool breeze.
I can taste the pumpkin pie
As I watch the leaves fly.

I feel active; I feel great!
I taste Thanksgiving dinner on a plate.
See multi-colored leaves
Drifting with the cool breeze.

Leaves are a sign of fall

When fall is here
The leaves fall to the ground
As I step in the leaves
I hear a crunchy sound
Just like rice krispies.
Many animals hibernate
And I feel so lonely without them.

My friends and I watch the colorful leaves
As they rustle to the ground.
As the sun fades at nightfall
I feel as though my treasures have left me.

If I Were in Charge of the World

If I were in charge of the world:
I would buy Toys R Us,
There would be no school,
I wouldn't have to eat broccoli,
I'd go to parties every day.

If I were in charge of the world:
There would be no grown-ups,
Ice cream would be served at breakfast, lunch,
and dinner.
I'd go on carnival rides every day,
There would be no boys.

If I were in charge of the world:
There would be no girls,
Money would grow on trees,
I'd own 99 cats,
I would do whatever I wanted!

Our Constitution

The Constitution is the framework which all laws of the land must follow. It took many years in the making of the Constitution. The acceptance of the Constitution started in 1787 and was completed in 1788.

I believe the most important amendments are: Freedom of Religion, Press, Speech, Assembly, and Petition, 14 Limitations on the States, and 19 Voting Rights for Women.

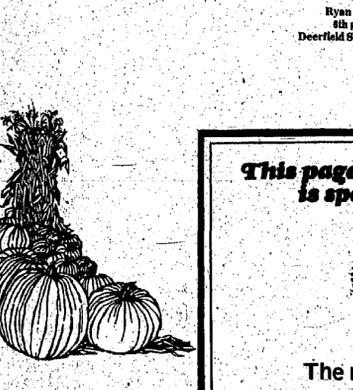

The 1st Amendment is important, to me because I can choose my own religion, say and print what I think, meet with other people, and go to the government with my complaints. I get protection against having these four human rights taken away by the federal government. If I lived in a foreign country I might not have these rights.

The 14th Amendment is important to me because I get assurance that I will have citizenship of the U.S. and it cannot be taken away, and if any state takes away any of my important rights the federal government will always stand behind me.

The 19th Amendment is important to me as a woman to make sure I get the right to vote when I am 18. It assures me that I am not denied the right to vote because of sex.

As a U.S. citizen the most important thing to me about the Constitution is that it assures me freedom.

Brearley's family man at home on gridiron

By MARK YABLONSKY

Since Kentworth has a reputation for being a family man, it is hardly surprising that his pride and joy, the Brearley Regional High football team, operates on the same foundation. From head coach Bob Taylor on down to up-and-coming substitute players, everyone is part of the clan. But while everyone is important to the unit, there are certainly a few favorite sons who would rank high on many an opposing coach's adoption list.

One of those sons is none other than star running back Joe Capizzano, who, along with his starting backfield — "brothers" Mike Chalenski, Mike Chalenski, gives the two-time defending North Jersey, Group 1, Section 2 champions a most capable and feared running attack.

"It's just a family atmosphere, a family unit," explained the 6-foot-10-inch, 185-pound senior Capizzano, who is Brearley's second-leading rusher thus far. "We just go to camp and we just work, and we keep progressing as a family. That's the whole emphasis in this program — to be a family. If we were not a family, I don't think we would have won two straight championships."

Indeed, togetherness is a lot of what makes Brearley tick. But Capizzano's role during the past three years cannot, in any way, be overlooked. For openers, he is devastating on kick returns, having run back punts for 20 and more yards several times this year to give the Bears solid field position. At other times, his ability to catch passes has helped prolong numerous Brearley drives. As a result, Capizzano is one of the few players in the regular season, having caught a total of nine throws for 119 yards and a touchdown.

On even more occasions, his quick, slashing running style has been just as detrimental to opposing defenses as Chalenski's booming, crunching line assaults have been, which reveals what is perhaps Cap's most valuable asset to the team.

"Mike can hammer you to death, and Joe just eats your throat," explained Taylor, who has been the head of the Brearley family since 1974. "So we've always got a way to get you, one way or the other."

"He's a natural for our offense," continued Taylor in reference to Brearley's famed veer attack, which makes both runs, as well as quarterback Gary Faucher, quite lethal. "He's the key to us winning the state again. For some reason, everybody comes into our ballpark wanting to be beaten by Mike Chalenski. It's very difficult to stop two players of that caliber. Joe is a versatile player — he does kickoffs, punts, and he's got a real knack for catching the ball. I think he's proven that in any situation or any spot on the field, he can go the distance. He's broken games open for us."

That he has, in the season-opener on Sept. 25 against Governor Livingston Regional, touchdown runs of 26 yards from the line of scrimmage — not to mention key plays by Mike Ramos and Gary Faucher — helped seal a 47-7 win. Three weeks later, in a game under the lights at Heron Shaw Field in Roselle Park, Capizzano took a handoff and raced down the right sideline for a 35-yard, first-quarter touchdown run that helped propel the Bears on to a 28-7 victory over their feisty arch-rivals.

But that was nothing compared to what happened up in New Providence one week later. With his club trailing by a 25-14 margin, Capizzano scored two touchdowns in the final 4:26 of play to pull the Bears past the Pioneers, 27-26, in a game that enabled Brearley to get an advantage over the team that many feel is the largest obstacle to a third straight North Jersey, Group 1, Section 2 title for the Bears. On that sunny, pleasant late October afternoon, Cap ended up with 102 yards and three touchdowns, as well as the honor and glory of scoring the game-tying points with 38 seconds showing on the clock, culminating a last-ditch 45-yard drive that was also aided greatly by a 25-yard run from Ramos.

Placekicker Mike Vergara delivered the "pressure kick" for the one-point victory.

In terms of statistics, Capizzano had actually been the team's leading rusher going into last Saturday's showdown with Arthur Johnson Regional at Clark. But after picking up a lone yard in just one carry on an early first-quarter drive, Capizzano had to leave the game when he twisted his leg trying to get proper footing on another running play. After hobbling through the remainder of the half as a defensive back only, the fleet-footed receiver was forced to sit out the rest of the contest, thus depriving his club of one of its top guns.

In a game that captured a noticeable play-type atmosphere, the Bears went down fighting, 17-10, to a team that had to win in order to qualify for the North Jersey, Group 2, Section 2 playoffs as compared to that of Chalenski's, and the exciting two-way player will agree wholeheartedly.

"It's very true," said Capizzano, "because they've got to worry about Mike, so that frees up me and Gary Faucher. It helps a lot. He's a big help, and with his blocking, too. They're still watching him."

And while he has received no scholarship offers as of yet, Cap has been watched — or at least written up — by several respected schools, including East Carolina University in Greenville, N.C., Carolina, and Springfield College in Springfield, Mass. Right now, Capizzano says he is thinking about a career in physical education, and possibly, a coaching career as well.

But whatever field he chooses when it comes to study, he may try to embark on two different playing fields when it comes to athletics. For Capizzano, you see, is also a rabid baseball lover — so much so, that the game of summer is admittedly his "first love."

Considering that his father, Mike, once starred for Irvington High School before an injury cost him a chance to be drafted by the Cleveland Indians, Capizzano's love for baseball is to be expected. For sure, Brearley diamond skipper Ralph LaConte will welcome back his starting second baseman with open arms next spring, when with Cap's .325 batting average this past season for a team that reached the state playoffs for the first time in five years.

And Taylor couldn't be happier — regardless of whatever sport Cap chooses in college.

"Playing sports all year 'round is a big part of our philosophy," said Taylor, emphasizing that participation in big contests in more than one sport can only help give a player more experience for whatever big games may lay ahead.

"He's one of the great players we've seen in our sport. We see the kind of player you want on your team."

And without doubt, he may be as pleasant-mannered as he may be, Brearley is a pleasure to his Brearley Regional teammates, and a terror on opposing defenses, who must contend with his darting, slashing runs, both on offense and on special teams as well.

RAMBLIN' MAN — From family man to ramblin' man, Joe Capizzano is a pleasure to his Brearley Regional teammates, and a terror on opposing defenses, who must contend with his darting, slashing runs, both on offense and on special teams as well.

to save our victory over New Providence. But we're gonna be back. That's a guarantee."

The payoff got us healthy, but with back-to-back games and tired legs," acknowledged Farmer coach Jim Jeske, who has just completed his 27th year in charge of the Union High soccer program.

"But Columbia was very good. It was their type of day, no matter what kind of conditions."

Dayton's second-year coach, Frank Ortiz, also admitted that a three-day wait can "psych down" a team that is looking forward to competing in a big game.

The winner of this game, which will begin on Saturday at noon in Lancaster, Pa., will advance to meet the winner of the Northern region in what will amount to an inaugural ECAC title game. No team from the region has ever appeared in any kind of post-season tournament until now.

For the first time since 1976, Kean not only enjoyed a winning season, but managed to rewrite the Union-based school's football record books as well, with a first-ever New Jersey Athletic Conference title topping a long list of achievements, the likes of which haven't been seen since an 8-2 mark was registered in 1974.

And after a 9-4 record in 1976, the Kean gridiron program hit the skids and never even came close to any kind of championship, since no Kean team was able to finish at even the 300 level — until this fall.

Under the tutelage of first-year coach, Glenn Hodden, Kean is presently on a six-game winning streak, and has made the weekly Division 3 and Sportschannel polls, too.

"We are riding high with a six-game streak, a conference title and a playoff berth in one year," said Hodden, who came to Kean after having spent 11 seasons as an assistant coach at Montclair State College, as did two of his colleagues, Drew Gibbs and Frank Bender, who went with Hodden as well.

"We are in a new season and must approach it with the same sensibility as the winner of the past 10 games."

"It is a unique situation to have a staff that has been involved with post-season play," continued Hodden in reference to Gibbs and Bender. ## Kean tops WCU, 30-14, makes ECAC playoffs

The Kean College football team made history last week when it defeated Western Connecticut University, 30-14, in Danbury, Conn. The win secured the 91 Congers a first-ever berth in the Eastern Collegiate Athletic Conference South game, with Franklin and Marshall College of Pa. being the first-round opponent.

The winner of this game, which will begin on Saturday at noon in Lancaster, Pa., will advance to meet the winner of the Northern region in what will amount to an inaugural ECAC title game. No team from the region has ever appeared in any kind of post-season tournament until now.

Early winter blast puts chill in soccer

By MARK YABLONSKY

As it turned out, last week's unexpected winter preview that brought us an early snowfall played no small role when it came time to winding down the 1987 season for the Brearley and Dayton Regional, and Union High boys' soccer teams, all of whom were affected by the inclement weather.

With rain falling last Tuesday, then sleet and snow blanketing the ground the following day, and then the drying process taking effect on Thursday, all three teams found themselves in the unenviable position of having to play first a semifinal round game on Friday, and then a final round game the next day. If all went well, And for two of the teams it did.

After receiving a number three seed out of an unusually small four-team field in North Jersey, Group 1, Section 2 play, Brearley waited for three days before traveling up to New Providence, where the Bears eliminated the second-seeded Pioneers with a 1-0 victory.

A goal by sophomore winger Chris Jordan midway through the third quarter sent 18-7 Brearley on to the finals the following morning against 19-0 Chatham Township, the current Morris County champion and the same school that had eliminated Brearley from its last final round appearance back in 1977, by a 3-0 margin. Ironically, the Bears fell by the same identical score this time around as well.

For Union, it was much the same story. After blanking Montclair in the Group 4, Section 2 semifinals on Friday by a 2-0 count, the 18-2 Farmers were saddled with facing mighty Columbus of South Orange-Metropolitan the following day. The result was a 5-0 defeat to a well-balanced 18-1 club.

Against Montclair, Robby Ennoble and Glenn Van Deventer came through with tallies to help give winning goals Mike Shaw a well-earned shutout. Union's last trip to the Group 4, Section 2 finals had been in 1984, when Westfield came away with a 1-0 shootout victory.

For Dayton, a team that had recorded 10 shutouts this year, had come away with a dramatic 2-1 shootout victory over Governor Livingston in the Group 2, Section 2 quarterfinals a full week earlier. The final loss came one day sooner. With Mike Hogan scoring both of his team's goals, third-seeded Millburn ousted the second-seeded Bulldogs, 2-0, from their state tournament play in Springfield on Friday afternoon.

While holding a 7-5 advantage in shots on goal, the talented 12-1 Dayton squad was kept quiet for much of the afternoon by the Millers, who turned around to beat Arthur L. Johnson Regional the following day to win the Group 2, Section 2 crown.

All three head coaches involved, who were taking nothing away from the teams that eliminated them, did indicate the unforeseen change in scheduling did little to help their causes.

"It's very difficult to play two days in a row," said Brearley skipper Allan Czaya, whose team was back in action some 18 hours after defeating the Pioneers. "It was kind of crazy, being pushed back three days. We didn't have a chance

The payoff got us healthy, but with back-to-back games and tired legs," acknowledged Farmer coach Jim Jeske, who has just completed his 27th year in charge of the Union High soccer program.

Giants runner to be 'roasted'

"An Evening Among Giants" featuring a roast of Joe Morris, the star running back of the New York/New Jersey Giants will be held on Mon., Dec. 7, at Loew's Glenpointe Hotel in Teaneck, in order to benefit New Jersey Special Olympics.

The celebrity roast will feature three renowned comedians tackling Joe Morris, as well as an appearance by his friends, including members of the defending Super Bowl champions. The roastmaster will be Freddie Roman, the entertainment director of the Friars Club in New York, with performance by Vic Arnell and Dick Capri.

As part of the fund raising event, an array of Giants jerseys, team sweaters — including a replica of one Coach Parcells wore at the Super Bowl — autographed equipment and books, tickets to games, a ballroom ride with champagne dinner and much more, will be auctioned off during the evening.

The Evening Among Giants offers a variety of sponsorships. Further information on reservations may be obtained by calling the Development Office of New Jersey Special Olympics in Piscataway at 562-1500.

WIBC to hold 'Kaleidoscope'

WIBC, the world's largest women's sports organization, has announced a three-hour multi-media presentation entitled "Kaleidoscope-Leadership in a Changing World." Three segments of the program are a videotape, including "Reach for the Stars."

The purpose of "Kaleidoscope" is two-fold: to introduce WIBC's workings and services to members, and to encourage association leaders to incorporate change at the local level.

'Hangover run' set for Jan. 1

Applications are being accepted for the sixth annual Central Jersey Road Runner's Hangover Run. The 3.1-mile run will take place on Friday, Jan. 1, New Year's Day, beginning at noon in Tamuque Park in Westfield.

N.J. Race Day registration and packet pickup will be between 10:30 to 11:30 a.m. in the park. Because the race is limited to 250 entrants, all those interested in participating are encouraged to pre-register before the December 28 pre-entry deadline.

All entrants will receive a specially designed T-shirt, as well as hot chocolate and bagels after the race. Awards will go to the first three male and female overall finishers.

Brearley loses a heartbreaker to ALJ, 17-10

By MARK YABLONSKY

Quite possibly, if not probably, upcoming state playoff action for both David Brearley and Arthur L. Johnson Regional High will be just as exciting as last Saturday's game between the two Mountain Valley Conference foes in Clark was. But as many would have to agree, even upcoming playoff action — barring overtime, that is — can't be any more dramatic than what took place at Nolan Field.

In an unmitigated play-type atmosphere, the Crusaders, behind a three-yard touchdown run from quarterback Jim Bodner with just 54 seconds left to play, scored a dramatic 17-10 win that brought 7-1 Johnson a North Jersey, Group 2, Section 2 playoff berth for the first time in 10 years, and dropped 6-1 Brearley into a number four seeding for upcoming Group 1 action this winter.

Johnson, which has lost only to Immaculata this year, has drawn fourth seed in an unusual six-team field that will see the Crusaders host Hackensack this Saturday, while the Bears, who would have gotten the top seed with a win, will take to the road for a 1 p.m. start in Mountain Lakes, which got the number one spot in the playoffs.

So electrifying is this game that anyone who didn't know it was the eighth game of regular season play, could well have mistaken it for a final-round championship game. Instead, from start to finish, it was a game to be remembered.

Just about from the start, the Bears were forced to do without the offensive services of Joe Capizzano, who sustained a knee injury on the seventh play of an early drive that eventually forced him to the sidelines for the entire second half. The senior, running back, whose 10 touchdowns in tops on the team, did return later in the opening quarter and managed to hobble through the rest of the half as a defensive back only.

On another sour note, Johnson sustained an injury of his own when receiver Steve Gomick, after taking an accidental knee under his rib cage from Gary Faucher, had to be removed from the field by the Clark. First Aid Squad early in the third quarter. The two-way senior player later underwent surgery for a ruptured spleen, but was close to being sent home from the hospital as of press time.

By the time the second half had rolled around, it was clear that Brearley, even without Capizzano, had established a solid ground game, while Johnson, behind the number one spot in the playoffs, such as Eric Paprocki and Brian Power, dominated the air lanes. The strength of a 10-3 ALJ halftime lead came on Bodner's 31-yard touchdown pass to Paprocki, who made a splendid diving catch to complete the play with 2:16 remaining in the opening quarter. Bodner, who came on to add the extra point, later led a 10-0 lead, before Mike Vergara connected on a 31-yarder to bring the Bears within seven points at 17-10.

Then, in the third quarter, Brearley, which had come away empty-handed from that early 14-play drive when Vergara's 19-yard field goal attempt struck the left crossbar, launched another 14-play advance after Pat Olenick fell on a fumbled handoff between Bodner and Steve Gomick. Johnson, who was largely behind the strength of Mike Chalenski and his younger brother, Brian, who replaced Capizzano in the starting backfield, the Bears scored a 10-3 lead, and weight over 200 pounds.

Finally faced with a fourth-and-three situation at the ALJ five, the Bears opted for the first down after having originally sent out their field-goal unit just before a three-and-out. The younger Chalenski got the three necessary yards, Faucher gave the ball to Little Chee once again, with the result being a game-tying two-yard TD plunge that made it a 10-10 contest, along with Vergara's extra point 59 seconds before the end of the third period.

Then, on his first play from scrimmage, following the ensuing kick, Johnson committed the fourth and last of his turnovers, when Mike Ramos picked off one of Bodner's passes for an interception that gave Brearley possession at the ALJ 20. After being held to a net gain of seven yards in four plays, the Bears missed out on what would be their final opportunity to take the lead when Vergara's 31-yarder goal attempt was short and wide to the left with 10:28 left to play.

From then on, the clock started winding down in what began to look like a second successive tie for the Bears, which would have been fatal to Johnson's playoff hopes. But with 3:26 left, Faucher and Big Chee failed to connect properly on a punt that was blocked by Johnson on the ball at the Brearley 48.

Bodner, who ended up completing 14 of 32 passes for 235 yards, proceeded to mix up the plays, twice handing off to Power, once running the ball himself, and twice more throwing, with the second such attempt being complete to Paprocki, who used his long reach to pull the ball for a first down just 15 yards from pay dirt.

The final decisive play came when Power, who grabbed three passes for 86 yards, made a diving, sliding catch at the three for a first-and-goal situation with 41 seconds to play. Bodner then scored the right side on his three-yard sweep run on the very next play, delighting the partisan home crowd.

"We got a great bunch of kids," said a bleeding, but happy Crusader skipper Steve Cicciotti, who had accidentally been caught at the nose by one of his players after Bodner's game-winning score. "We had confidence in our kids, we never gave up, and what a great ending. I think our kids were very tense because they knew they had to win to get into the states."

"I think their size hurt us a little bit in our man-to-man coverage," conceded Brearley coach Bob Taylor, whose club still registered a 186-78 edge on the ground, with Big Chee's 63 yards in 14 carries enabling him to regain the team lead in rushing from Capizzano. "You can't take anything away from them; they deserved the victory. I don't think too many teams could lose a starter in the backfield and a starting defender, and hang in there. We could have been blown out, had we not had the character to hang in there."

'Dawgs fall to Manville, 21-7

By MARK YABLONSKY
Manville quarterback Pat Brennan, arguably one of the top throwing quarterbacks in the state, completed 16 of 22 passes for 209 yards to lead his team to a 21-7 victory over Jonathan Dayton Regional High this past Saturday in Manville.

After stopping a first-quarter Dayton advance deep in Manville territory via an interception, the Mustangs opened the scoring by driving 70 yards in three plays, all of them being passes, including a 10-yard scoring pass from Brennan to Pete Murovaki. The extra point attempt failed.

After Manville increased its lead to 14-0 in the second quarter, the Bulldogs cut the lead in half when Jeff Stoffer ran three yards for a touchdown late in the third quarter. Only four plays after teammate Matt Lynch had recovered a Manville fumble, Glenn Mike added the extra point. The Mustangs led the win with a multi-play, 81-yard drive that overlapped the last two periods and took approximately seven minutes to complete. Brennan capped the weekend off before playing best to Brearley Regional on Thanksgiving Morning. "But we really can't blame the weather because they also missed two days of practice."

These kids are great and the thing I appreciate most about the kids is that they never give up," said Brearley's second-year, head coach, Jim Dougherty, whose team beat out Cranford, Union and Union Catholic on Friday, Nov. 6 to win a second consecutive county tournament crown. "We've been behind in at least half the meets by a few points, and we would come back and win it on the beam and on the floor. They're a very aware group. They're very, very together kids."

Dougherty is a firm believer in finding work for all 13 members of his squad, and since the Lady Bears have done so well against so many opponents, including Union, Cranford and Bound Brook, that has not been difficult. But a few team members have also managed to grab individual honors along the way, including junior Adriana Chess, who placed second in that county championship meet, falling to beat only Roselle's Cathi Lee for top overall honors — except when it came to the balance beam.

Lady Bears win UCT crown

By MARK YABLONSKY
This Brearley Regional High team has gone 12-0, overwhelmed several opponents, and won a second straight Union County Tournament title. They don't receive nearly as much public acclaim as their football and wrestling brethren do, but they win about as often. They are the gymnastics squad, and they may well be considered as the best kept secret in Kenilworth.

These kids are great and the thing I appreciate most about the kids is that they never give up," said Brearley's second-year, head coach, Jim Dougherty, whose team beat out Cranford, Union and Union Catholic on Friday, Nov. 6 to win a second consecutive county tournament crown. But a few team members have also managed to grab individual honors along the way, including junior Adriana Chess, who placed second in that county championship meet, falling to beat only Roselle's Cathi Lee for top overall honors — except when it came to the balance beam.

In that exercise, Chess's 8.9 mark earned her the county's number one spot, and a chance to compete in the North Jersey Section 2 championship meet this past Saturday, since it takes a tally of at least 7.75 to qualify. Also getting good marks have been senior Maureen Naky and junior Lisa Faucher, who placed 7th and 18th, respectively, in N.J.C.T. competition.

Naky was recently named as Brearley's Homecoming Queen as well. "And as good as Brearley's record is, it might have been even better had matches with Kearny, Governor Livingston Regional, Westfield and Elizabeth not been cancelled, either because of insufficient team numbers, or in Elizabeth's case, a teachers' strike."

Sting wins crown

The Sting captured the Springfield Recreation Soccer League championship this past weekend with a 5-1 victory over the Aztecs. Leading the way for the 6-1 Sting was Roman Nil, who scored four goals, while teammate Peter Singer added the other tally.

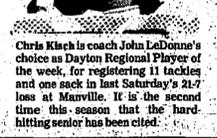

Josh Key registered the only goal for the 5-2 Aztecs.

In the consolation game, the Timbers, led by a five-goal outburst from Peter Kucharski, blanked the Fury, 6-0, thus leaving the 3-4 Timbers alone in third place. Jonathan Kirtzer scored the other goal for the victors.

Dayton Player of The Week

Chris Klach is coach John LeDonne's choice as Dayton Regional Player of the week, for registering 11 tackles and one sack in last Saturday's 21-7 loss at Manville. It is the second time this season that the hard-hitting senior has been cited.

UP, UP AND AWAY — Despite an admirable blocking attempt by Brian Power, 33, of Johnson Regional, Mike Vergura's extra point offering gets off safely in last Saturday's action in Clark. While the kick tied the score, however, the Crusaders came back to win, 17-10.

BOOM! — Linden High will need both the strong kicking and running leg of Lamont Tate if it is to give top-ranked Union a run for its money in this Saturday's North Jersey, Group 4, Section 2 playoff game in Union. Both teams are 8-0.

GETTING AWAY — And by all means, the Roselle High defense will have to avoid scenes such as this if the Rams are to end their 1987 season with a win over neighboring Roselle Park on Thanksgiving Morning. Hillside's Dennis Combs happened to be the culprit in this particular situation a month ago.

Tips for a healthful holiday feast

"Traditional holiday meal indulgence can add as much as one pound to your body weight in a single day," according to Mindy Hermann-Zaidins, a clinical diet/nutrition specialist for the Memorial Sloan-Kettering Cancer Center in New York City.

Compound this by several holiday binges and you could find yourself four to five pounds heavier by Jan. 2. And those who fail to shed that extra weight after the new year arrives join the ranks of the overweight.

"People do give themselves license to indulge over the holidays," Hermann-Zaidins said. "They think they'll take those extra pounds off after Jan. 1. What they don't realize is that to lose even four pounds, they'll have to burn off an extra 14,000 calories. That's equivalent to about 35 hours of aerobic exercise."

As the accompanying chart indicates, it's not at all uncommon to consume over 7,000 calories in one day of excessive holiday over-eating. Yet most only need about 2,100 calories a day, and women 1,600, depending on their body frame and activity level.

The main weight-gain culprits, according to Hermann-Zaidins, are fats and sugary foods. Fat is more dense in calories than other foods. An ounce of protein, carbohydrates or sugar has 115 calories, compared to 255 for fat.

"Fortunately, however, people can indulge over the holidays and not gain weight by making some simple food choices," Hermann-Zaidins said.

A variety of alternatives exists for foods rich in fat and sugar. Sugar-free soft drinks can be substituted for sugared sodas; low-fat margarine for butter. And a white breast of turkey without the skin can replace a dark meat drumstick with skin, cutting the fat content in half.

By choosing these healthier alternatives, you can indulge this holiday season without paying for it later in extra pounds.

Cook's tour of turkey picking, preparation

Thanksgiving will soon be here and most people are looking forward to the traditional dinner of turkey, stuffing, sweet potatoes, cranberry sauce and homemade pies. For this special holiday, the dietitians at Union Hospital offer the following tips for a safe and delicious holiday meal.

According to the hospital dietary experts, choosing, stuffing and roasting a turkey properly can avoid unnecessary calories and unwanted illness.

Turkeys come in three varieties: frozen plain, frozen self-basting and fresh birds. A frozen plain turkey is usually the least expensive.

A frozen self-basting turkey has been injected in the breast with a solution of butter or cooking oil. The dietitians recommend that you check the ingredients to find out what type of basting fluid was used.

Butter and coconut oil are high in unsaturated fats; so, if a self-basting turkey is preferred, choose one containing corn oil. This type of turkey is high in polyunsaturated fats and is a healthier choice.

All frozen turkeys should be bought when they are solidly frozen and they be defrosted in the refrigerator for several days to prevent bacterial growth. A fresh turkey should be bought close to the holiday and stored in the refrigerator for no more than two to three days, according to the dietitians.

Whether you buy a fresh or frozen turkey is a matter of personal preference. There is no significant difference in quality between a fresh turkey and a frozen one. But if you choose to buy a fresh turkey, buy it only a day or two before you plan to roast it; if you like to shop ahead, you should buy a frozen turkey, since it can be stored for up to a year in your freezer at 0 degrees Fahrenheit.

There are three ways to safely thaw a frozen turkey. You can move the turkey, in its original wrappings, from the freezer to the refrigerator. It will defrost in the refrigerator in two to five days. You can also thaw it in cold water, generally in less than a day. Make sure there are no breaks in the wrapping, and then cover the frozen bird in cold water. Change the water frequently for safety. The third safe method for thawing is to use your microwave, following the manufacturer's recommendations.

The dietitians added that to prevent the growth of harmful bacteria, the following steps are recommended in stuffing a turkey. Cook the stuffing separately and stuff the bird loosely so that it is no more than two-thirds full. Place the stuffing inside the bird just before cooking and remove from the turkey as soon as the bird is done.

To roast the turkey, place it breast side up on a rack in a shallow roasting pan and do not add any water. Cover the turkey with a tent of heavy duty aluminum foil in order to prevent overbrowning and to allow for maximum moistness and heat circulation.

To eliminate guess work about whether the bird is done, insert a meat thermometer through the foil and into the thickest part of the thigh muscle without touching the bone. Roast the bird according to the chart on the label. To broil the turkey, remove the foil 20-30 minutes before roasting is finished. Continue to cook the turkey until the thermometer registers 185 degrees.

Once the turkey has been cooked the proper amount of time according to its weight, and you and your family are ready to sit down to a delicious holiday meal, remember that bacteria will begin to multiply on food left out at room temperature for more than two hours. Be sure to put the remaining turkey in the refrigerator or freeze it for leftovers after that.

Also remember that frequently opening the oven door prolongs cooking time. The dietitians also warn that a turkey should never be partially cooked one day and finished roasting the next day because this will increase the chance of bacterial growth.

"Following these guidelines, you will be able to prepare and enjoy a delicious and healthy Thanksgiving dinner," Hilary Weiss, Union Hospital Dietary Director says. "This is important, since this holiday should be a time of togetherness, not illness."

How to read a food label

If you are doing a lot of entertaining during this holiday season, you may find yourself buying many different foods for guests who have dietary restrictions that you want to follow. Labels are often hard to interpret. For instance, what's the difference between foods that are low sodium, and very low sodium. "Meat and Poultry Labels Wrap It Up" contains valuable information on how to read labels like these and how to know just what you are buying. It also has information on commonly used additives and what is required in standard products such as chili con carne, chicken soup, and hamburger.

For additional turkey cooking tips, the U.S. Department of Agriculture has a booklet for you called "Talking About Turkey" (Item 527R, free).

To send for a copy of Meat and Poultry Labels Wrap It Up (Item 600R, free) published by the Department of Agriculture in cooperation with Oscar Mayer Food Corporation. For your copies, send name and address to S. James, Consumer Information Center, Pueblo, Col. 81009. Please include the item numbers with your order.

County to celebrate Arts Week '87

A major photography exhibition is the keynote event as Union County celebrates National Arts Week '87.

Thirteen Union County photographers will display their work in an exhibit, co-sponsored by the Union County Office of Cultural and Heritage Affairs and the Elizabeth Public Library in the Library's 3rd floor gallery area. Partial funding for this exhibit is provided by the New Jersey State Council of the Arts Department of State.

The photographers will be at the opening night reception which will take place tomorrow from 6 p.m. to 8 p.m. The public is invited to attend.

Artists whose work will appear in this invitational show are Nancy Walsh of Cranford, Frank Brindley and Brian Lav of Elizabeth, Robin Schwartz and Kat Wolfe of Linden, and Jean Mattson, David Pitts and Mel C. Schnur of Plainfield.

Schnur is the curator of the exhibit.

Also featured are John Cooper, David Rose and Anne Ross of Summit, Donald P. Lokuta of Union, and John Wyatt of Westfield.

More information can be obtained by calling the Union County Office of Cultural and Heritage Affairs at 233-7906.

ON EXHIBIT — "Bull Terrier and Pit Bull Pups," by Robin Schwartz of Linden, one of the works by Union County photographers to be included in the National Arts Week exhibition at the Elizabeth Public Library Nov. 20 to Dec. 30.

IN VIEW — "Screen and Window," by Donald P. Lokuta of Union, one of the works by Union County photographers to be included in the National Arts Week exhibition.

Victorian decor is holiday show

Experience the splendor of a Victorian holiday with a visit to "Christmas in the Ballantine House" at the Newark Museum. Throughout the holiday season from Friday, Nov. 27, through Sunday, Jan. 10, the five first-floor rooms of the mansion will be decorated with poinsettias, evergreen garlands, wreaths, mistletoe and other holiday ornaments.

The Ballantine mansion, home of the Newark-based, beer-making family, was built 102 years ago at the height of the Victorian era.

Visitors will enter the restored mansion through the grand hallway, which will be decorated with evergreen garlands. The decorated tree, trimmed with antique, hand-painted glass ornaments donated by Doris Palmer of Newark, will be placed in the white Drawing Room. It was here that the tree stood during the holidays of 1900-1919, enjoyed by the family and Alice Ballantine Young's children, who were the last to grow up in the house.

Surrounding the tree will be dolls, toys, games and other presents of the era from the Museum's Decorative Arts collection. Children's clothing from the period will be displayed. The dining room will display china, crystal and silver flatware appropriate for a holiday repast.

Free holiday tours of the mansion will be given on Tuesdays through Fridays at 12:30 p.m., and Saturdays and Sundays at 1:30 and 2:30 p.m. Tours will meet at the Museum's Main Gallery Information Desk. Groups must reserve in advance by calling 596-6615. The museum is closed Mondays, Christmas and New Year's Day.

To hold art show Faculty writings in library exhibit

Resolve Community Counseling Center is sponsoring its fourth annual art auction in conjunction with the Fine Arts Gallery of Ardmore.

The benefit art show and auction will be held Nov. 21 at the Immaculate Heart of Mary Church on Maritime Avenue in Scotch Plains. Art work may be previewed from 7 p.m. with the show and auction scheduled to begin at 8 p.m.

Novels, poetry, how-to manuals and textbooks ranging from nursing care to management are among the published works by Rutgers-Newark faculty currently on exhibit in the campus' John Cotton Dana Library through Nov. 30.

On Nov. 24, from 3 to 5 p.m., the library will co-sponsor with the Rutgers-Newark Provost's Office, a public reception for the authors in the library's main lobby.

Inquiries on the exhibit may be directed to 648-5910.

Complimentary refreshments will be served throughout the evening.

Educational travel is the ticket

Over 100 educational travel programs ranging from eight to 42 days in the winter, spring and summer are detailed in the free 1988 Educational Travel Programs brochure now available from the American Institute For Foreign Study of Greenwich, Conn.

The institute, a subsidiary of AIFS Inc., a publicly owned company, has organized overseas learning programs for over 300,000 students, teachers and other adults since the organization was founded in 1964. While the programs were originally created for students, many travelers are adults who wish to take advantage of the low cost, educational opportunities.

Campus programs combine three or four weeks in a university town in Europe with a one or two-week travel or cruise program. These are classes in the morning in language study, art history, literature and other subjects, followed by excursions and activities in the afternoon.

Program locations include: London and Cambridge, England; Cannes, Paris, La Rochelle and Antibes, France; Rome, Italy; Salamanca, Alicante and Granada, Spain; Innsbruck, Austria; Quebec City, Canada; and Hawaii.

Traveling programs are 14 to 28-day educational tours, many with courses taught by a team of British educators.

Council has design grants

The design arts are the focus of a new fellowship program recently announced by the New Jersey State Council on the Arts. The program awards grants to professional New Jersey designers for outstanding work in the fields of architecture, preservation, landscape architecture, urban planning, and interior, industrial, graphic and fashion design.

Last year, the NJSCA awarded fellowships in the amounts of $5,000, $8,000, and $15,000. All awards are based solely on artistic merit.

Ten 35mm slides of complete work must accompany all applications, which are due Feb. 24, 1988. For program guidelines and an application form, contact the Grants Office, New Jersey State Council on the Arts/Department of State, 109 W. State St., CN 306, Trenton, 08625, (609) 292-6130.

The Central Jersey Region of Women's American ORT (Organization for Rehabilitation through Training) honored Gertrude S. White, of Springfield, national president of Women's American ORT from 1983 to 1987 at a luncheon at the Chanticleer Chateau in Warren, Nov. 3.

The luncheon's program included speeches by national officers.

White, immediate past national president of Women's American ORT, has been active in the organization since 1952. She joined the Elizabeth Chapter, and over the next few years served as its membership chairman, financial secretary, treasurer and president. She was then named region membership chairman of the North Central Jersey Region and after that, financial secretary, vice president and chairman of the executive committee. She was elected region president in 1964 and again in 1965.

She joined the national executive committee in 1966 as chairman of the special campaign for the Israel deficit. She went on to become national membership chairman, recording secretary and vice president. From 1971 to 1979, White was chairman of the committee on organization, during which time 10 districts were established. In 1979, and again in 1981, she was elected chairman of the national executive committee. In 1983 she was elected national president at the 27th biennial convention in Los Angeles, Calif.

She is vice president of the American ORT Federation, is a member of the executive committee of the World ORT, and serves on the board of trustees of the Branson ORT Technical Institute in New York.

White was a member of the 1971 Women's American ORT delegation on its fact-finding tour of ORT installations in France, Italy, Iran and Israel, where she participated in the ground-breaking of the ORT School of Engineering in Jerusalem; led the 1981 delegation on a tour of ORT installations in Paris, Strasbourg, Casablanca and Israel, and recently, led the 1984 Fact Finding Mission to France, Morocco, Italy and Israel. She saw the growth of the ORT network and the effect of the ORT movement in strengthening Jewish communities and in reinforcing Jewish identification in the young people.

Since 1967 she has been budget analyst at the institute of child study, a clinical complex, at Kean College of New Jersey, Union.

Born in New York, White was educated at the College of the City of New York, where she majored in business administration. Her husband, Solomon, is a printing executive and publisher in New Jersey. The Whites have three daughters.

THE UNION HOSPITAL Guild Association will hold its annual holiday boutique in the hospital lobby at 1000 Galloping Hill Road, Union, today and tomorrow. A variety of hand-crafted articles, toys, novelties, and other items will be on sale. The public is invited.

THE GREATER WESTFIELD Chapter of Women's American ORT will sponsor a flea market Sunday at the South Avenue Railroad Station, Westfield, from 10 a.m. to 4 p.m. Rain date is Nov. 29. More than 100 vendors are expected to attend. Additional information can be obtained by calling ORT at 654-7982.

Clubs in the news

THE LADIES AUXILIARY of Connecticut Farms Post-35, American Legion, Union, attended the annual visitation meeting of the post on Nov. 5. Two seniors from Union High School discussed their experiences while attending Boys State last June, sponsored by the American Legion. On Nov. 10, a regular meeting of Connecticut Farms Unit 35, American Legion Auxiliary, was held at the Post home.

Members of the unit will attend a meeting of the Union County Organization of the American Legion Auxiliary today. The Ladies Auxiliary will hold a mini bazaar and white elephant sale along with the regular monthly pancake breakfast on the morning of Nov. 29.

The next meeting of Unit 35 will be held Dec. 8 at 8 p.m. at the Post Home, Bond Drive, Union.

THE CENTRAL JERSEY Region of Women's American ORT, Organization for Rehabilitation through Training, has announced that it will hold its annual holiday bazaar Dec. 6, at the Y.M.-Y.W.H.A. of Raritan Valley, The Highland Park "Y," which is located on the corners of South Adelaside and Raritan avenues, Route 27, will be open from 9:30 a.m. to 5 p.m.

Karen Schneider, chairman, has announced that all items for sale are new and include toys, health and beauty aids, household goods, clothing, books, jewelry, linens, and various gift items.

The bazaar is a cooperative effort of the 11 chapters that make up the Central Jersey ORT Region; the chapters include:

Brunswick Hills, Brunswick Lakes, Elizabeth, Greater Westfield, Hillsborough, Matwood, Piscataway, Somerset Valley, Springfield, Union and Watchung Hills. Donations of new, out of season, or "second" merchandise, can be made by contacting Mrs. Schneider at 549-1155.

Gifted Miss Mills

By MLT HAMMER
Pick of the LPs: "If I Were Your Woman," by Stephanie Mills.

Here's another car-pleser by the gifted Miss Mills.

Stephanie began singing in her native Brooklyn, N.Y., at the age of 3. By age 9, she had landed her first Broadway role in a production of "Maggie Flynn." At 16, she gained national acclaim starring as Dorothy in the Tony-winning Broadway show, "The Wiz." Today, her ongoing romance with contemporary music continues in the studio and on stage.

Disc it ditty

Mills' dynamic vocal abilities have sold millions of records around the world, earning her both the coveted Grammy and American Music awards. She could undoubtedly be called the biggest voice from the smallest package in show business.

"If I Were Your Woman," her latest MCA LP, demonstrates her gifts all over again. A host of top-flight producers worked with Mills — who serves as one of the project's executive producers — including Paul Laurence of Fred- die Jackson fame; Wayne Braithwaite, who worked with Billy Ocean; La La, a producer with Whitney Houston; Davy-D and Russell Simmons from the rap music scene; Nick Martinelli and Ron Kersey, who worked on

STEPHANIE MILLS

Mills' debut MCA LP, and Robert Brooks, a labelmate at MCA. Center-stage throughout the album is Mills herself, interpreting heartfelt ballads, "Secret Lady," and "Touch Me Now," which she co-wrote; and shimmering rhythmic numbers, "Can't Change My Ways," and "You're Puttin' A Rush on Me."

"If I Were Your Woman" is the latest step forward in Mills' steadily-advancing career. She entered the pop music world early — at the tender age of 11 she won the "Amateur Hour" contest at the legendary Apollo Theater for six consecutive weeks, winning her first professional booking as the Isley Brothers' opening act.

'Song' set

The Montclair Opera Club is in rehearsal for its first major production of the season, "The Desert Song," by Sigmund Romberg, scheduled for tomorrow to Sunday and Wednesday, Nov. 27, 28 and 29 at the Mont Hebron School Theater, Bellevue Avenue, Upper Montclair.

The club, which has been staging musicals in Montclair since 1925, has invited the public to join the troupe's designers, carpenters, and painters in transforming the Mt. Hebron stage into the North African desert encampment of the "Riffs" and their mysterious leader, the "Red Shadow."

The stage crew, which has painting construction sessions scheduled for Mondays and Fridays at 8 p.m. at the MOC Studio, 495 Valley Road, Upper Montclair, also will create the home of the French Governor, General Birabeau, and the palace of the chieftan, Ali Ben Ali.

The Friday sessions, nicknamed "Friday Frolics," are followed by a social hour, which includes refreshments.

Further information can be obtained by calling Manager Chris Cooper at 744-7702 or art coordinator Fran Patton at 226-4174, or scene painting director Virginia Soule at 748-3235.

PLANNING VISIT — Westfield Symphony Orchestra prepares for its return to Carnegie Hall, New York City, Saturday. Joining Maestro Brad Kelmach, left, on the Carnegie Hall stage are Assembly Speaker Chuck Hardwick, who serves as honorary chairman of the Carnegie event, and Carter Booth, right, symphony president.

New award

A documentary video of Plays-in-the-Park's 25th anniversary was the recipient of the CAPE award at the fourth annual Cable Television Network CTN award presentations for the Best Single Program/Culture/N.J. Producer. The video was produced by the Middlesex County Cultural and Heritage Commission with Estelle Goldsmith as chairman and was shown on the series, "The Arts" during the month of June on cable networks throughout New Jersey.

Plays-in-the-Park is a project of the Middlesex County Department of Parks and Recreation started 25 years ago by the Middlesex County Board of Chosen Freeholders.

The award-winning show was conceived and directed by Gary Cohen, director at the theater. Phyllis Elfenbein, producing director of Plays-in-the-Park, says that she looks forward to a continuing collaboration with Cohen on additional video projects.

More information can be obtained by contacting Phyllis Elfenbein at 548-2884.

Folk dancing is featured

International folk dancing will be featured in Summit when the Summit Folk Dancers open their 33rd season. There will be a selection of international dances for the beginner as well as for experienced dancers. There will be village dances from Rumania, proud circle dances from Israel, melancholy dances from Greece, flirtatious dances from Italy and stately contras from England.

The group meets two Friday nights, at 8 each month at the YWCA, Maple Avenue, Summit. The public is invited to all sessions. Teaching is shared by folk dance teachers. Bill and Bea Levidow of Springfield are starting their 16th year with the group. Further information can be obtained by calling the group at 467-8278 or Gloria Johnson at 273-4918.

Hungarian music scheduled at Y

Concertgoers can attend a preview talk with the musicians

IN 'THE WIZARD OF OZ' — Mother Seton Regional High School, Clark, will present its annual musical tonight, tomorrow and Saturday at 7:30 in the school auditorium under the direction of Jack Duffy and Sister Theo Furniss as coordinator. From left are Frank Mitacchone of Roselle Park, Jim de Stefano, Kim Iungerman of Roselle Park and Michael Burd. Others in the cast include Maria Eckert of Mountnside and Lisa Fichner and Christine de Lorenzo, both of Linden.

Series set for Opera

The State Repertory Opera has announced that its series of programs will include three concerts, two Broadway revues, and a full-scale opera.

A production of the music of Irving Berlin will be presented Sunday at 3 p.m. at the William Carlos Williams Center in Rutherford. It will be directed by Don Pendley. Dita Delman, artistic director of SRO, will serve as music director.

On Feb. 21 at 3 p.m., Robert Brown will present a revue titled "Looking At Life," a potpourri of songs reflecting moods, maturity, and stages of life. It will be presented at the Central Presbyterian Church in Montclair.

On Feb. 21 at 3 p.m., mezzo-soprano Candida Joseph will present a recital at the William Carlos Williams Center in Rutherford.

On March 20 at 3 p.m., selections from the music of Jule Styne will be presented at the Williams Center.

Further information can be obtained by contacting Delman at 763-7969.

'Nunsense' will premiere

The George Street Playhouse, New Brunswick, will present the New Jersey premiere of "Nunsense" by Dan Goggin, tomorrow. It will run through Dec. 20 with a preview performance tonight.

Maureen Heffernan, GSP acting artistic director, will direct "Nunsense."

Performances are scheduled Tuesday, Wednesday and Thursday evenings at 8. Friday and Saturday evenings at 8:30 and Sunday evenings at 7:30. Curtain for matinees are Saturdays at 3:30 and Sundays at 2:30.

The number to call for tickets reservations is 246-7717.

'A Night at Opera' staged Saturday

"A Night at the Opera," featuring "Aida" will be staged Saturday at the Unitarian Church in Summit. Sponsored by the church, the fund-raising event will include a pre-show fete at the church's Community House to be followed at 7 p.m. by Giuseppe Verdi's "Aida." The opera will be in Italian with English sub-titles and will be shown on a large screen in the church corner of Springfield and Waldron avenues.

Wilson comedy continues

The Major Theater series of Montclair State College will continue its 1987-1988 season with Lanford Wilson's comedy "Hot L Baltimore," winner of the New York Drama Critics' Circle Award for the best American play of 1973 and an off-Broadway success.

Wilson's play, a Major Theater series' production directed by Gordon Edelstein, will run Dec. 2 to 5, at 8 p.m. in Memorial Auditorium on the campus of Montclair State College. There will be one matinee performance on Dec. 4 at 2:15 p.m. Additional information can be obtained by calling 893-4205 or 893-4380, starting Monday, for ticket information and reservations.

The remainder of the Major Theater series includes Spring Festival of Dance, March 3 to 5 and "A Midsummer Night's Dream," May 4 to 7.

Parents can use TV as tool

Children average 25 hours a week watching television and will have spent more time in front of the TV than in the classroom by the time they graduate from high school. Consequently, many parents and teachers rightly worry that excessive viewing is cutting into time that should be spent on homework or other activities and that youngsters are being exposed to too much sex, violence, mindless pap, and commercial toy pitches.

But turning off the TV set is not the answer, according to a new brochure by the Corporation for Public Broadcasting titled "TV Tips for Parents: Using Television to Help Your Child Learn." CPB's Education and Corporate Communications departments have developed this bilingual brochure and related public-service radio campaign to guide parents to a mix of high-quality, creative, and educational TV watching and time beforehand and afterward into "quality time."

Doing your own thing

One of the real joys of Christmas has always been the tradition of family carol singing, and when we think of carolers, we think of those delightful strolling house-to-house singers of Charles Dickens' time. Here's a colorful scene that will help your home have that old-fashioned Christmas feeling.

Measuring approximately 35 inches by 52 inches, this outdoor display is easy to make. Just adhere the color poster onto exterior grade plywood with waterproof or a resin-based glue and saw it out (dotted lines will guide you). Prop the display up with a wooden stake, dramatize with a small spotlight, and you'll have the cheeriest house on the block! It's also ideal for churches, office buildings, schools and stores.

To obtain Carolers, $10, send $10. Prices include postage and prompt handling. Send check or money order to Steve Ellingson, c/o County Leader Newspapers, P.O. Box 2383, Van Nuys, Calif. 91409-2383.

Bloch to appear

Tomorrow the National Acclaimed Real Estate Consumer Advocate, Sonny Bloch, will make a special guest-appearance at the "Northern New Jersey Real Estate Investor's Club," at the Coachman Inn, Cranford. The inn is located at Exit 136 of the Garden State Parkway. Doors open at 6:30 p.m. and the program will begin at 7:30 p.m. The general public is welcomed to come and discuss their real estate ideas, questions or problems with the expert, Sonny Bloch. Contact Ray Ebert, program chairman, at 789-3124, regarding reserved seating.

New Jersey Realtors set convention plans

The New Jersey Association of Realtors announces that its 71st Annual Convention, entitled "Charting New Courses," will be held this year, Dec. 1 through 4 at the Inns on the Park (Bally, Claridge and Sands) in Atlantic City.

Over 8500 people attended last year's convention in Atlantic City," says Bill Thomas, NJAR president, "and, you can bet, thousands more will be coming this year for a good dose of real estate education as well as quality entertainment that's always offered in Atlantic City." Thomas also notes that NJAR's convention is the largest real estate convention of any state association in the country.

For Realtors who want to know exactly where they're headed in their real estate future, NJAR has scheduled the Strategic Planning Committee to kick off the convention on Dec. 1, with the update: "Your Future in Real Estate." Says Thomas, "never before has there been so many changes on the horizon in our state — Realtors need to hear now what to expect in the future, and how to prepare for it."

Programs offered on Dec. 2 and Dec. 3 feature speakers who are instructed in NJAR's 1986 Convention, and are back again by popular demand: Steve Clark and Herb Krumnick of Kansas will show Realtors how to play the numbers game in real estate investments; dynamic Mitzie Bryant's program is "Go Ahead and Object...I Can Handle It"; and an entertaining Floyd Wickman will take Realtors "Back to the Basics in Real Estate."

The New Jersey Association of Realtors, based in Edison, is comprised of 43,000 real estate licensees covering all of the recognized specializations within the industry, and is the largest trade association in the state.

Kim joins Schlott

Sharon Kim of Edison, a former residential sales associate for Edison Realty World, has joined Schlott Realtors Commercial Division where she will be working out of the commercial and industrial department in Springfield.

Kim has already had record-breaking sales in a short period with Schlott. She specializes in neighborhood commercial real estate and investments, such as multi family and strip centers.

Schlott Realtors Commercial Division specializes in all aspects of commercial real estate services including: office, industrial, land brokerage, investment properties, business brokerage and retail leasing.

Like's the climate

Given the economic climate of today, it's not surprising that real estate has once again come into favor as a solid, long-term investment, reports Robert Becker, senior vice president of Schlott Realtors.

"More than ever, large and small investors are coming to appreciate the tangible and tax benefits of owning real estate," Becker said. "People all over the world want to own a piece of the United States of America, particularly in the Northeast corridor where we are so fortunate to live."

"One of the effects of the recent stock-market gyrations will be that people will increasingly look to real estate as the best place to accumulate wealth," Becker continued. "Few investments offer that opportunity while, at the same time, providing tangible security and a significant contribution to a higher standard of living."

"People will find," he added, "that lower interest rates, combined with the impact of tax reform, as well as stabilized home prices and the large selection of good homes on the market, will create a climate that makes buying a first home, or moving up, too good to pass up for very long."

ERA brokers hold confab

Over 1100 ERA Real Estate Broker, Managers and Agents of ERA Region 1 attended their annual convention at the Sheraton Meadowlands Hotel on Thursday and Friday, Oct. 29 & 30. Mark Wang, distric manager for New York and New Jersey notes, "The overall feelings throughout the convention were enthusiasm and excitement and the atmosphere was uplifting and highly successful."

The highlights of the convention included a luncheon on Thursday, ("Brokers and Managers Day"), during which the top 25 Brokers in the Region were announced. Floyd Wickman, was the keynote speaker during this luncheon. Several breakout sessions were also held.

During the course of the Meadowlands convention, collections were also taken for the Muscular Dystrophy Association.
