Town mourns loss of dedicated volunteer

By David Wise
Staff Writer

Springfield lost an extremely dedicated civic worker last week, leaving behind a void in this town where volunteerism is greatly valued.

Matthew D'Andrea, 70, died at his home Jan. 30 from bone cancer. He was greatly respected and very much admired for his years of devoted service in the community.

A member of the Springfield Volunteer Fire Department for 35 years, D'Andrea received praise for his uncommon dedication from Mayor Marc Marshall, who said, "You don't see that kind of devotion. It's hard to replace."

The Fire Department will have a huge hole to fill, said Marshall, assessing what D'Andrea meant to the organization, after serving as its secretary and deputy chief for a total of 20 years, in addition to working as secretary of the Springfield Exempt Firemen's Association from 1986 to 1991.

Springfield Committeewoman Marcia Forman agreed that few could replace D'Andrea. "Volunteers like Matthew make a tremendous difference. He'll really be missed," she said.

After his illness was first discovered in October of 1989, D'Andrea remained active in the Fire Department despite periodic stays at Overlook Hospital in Summit. He continued working until shortly after last Thanksgiving.

The volunteer firefighter was born in Millburn, lived in Springfield for 65 years, and worked as a letter carrier at the Springfield Post Office from 1945 to 1984. Throughout his life, D'Andrea maintained good health and enjoyed exercise and sports, including baseball and football.

He graduated from Jonathan Dayton Regional High School in 1938 and played semi-professional football. The World War II veteran carried his love of sports over to local organizations such as the Springfield Little League and American Legion, where he coached several baseball teams from 1961 to 1972.

D'Andrea's stalwart devotion to duty attracted the attention of many in the community, who honored him as "Fireman of the Year" in 1971 and "Citizen of the Year" in 1981. Fire Captain Marcel Campion called D'Andrea an extremely "giving person," never reluctant to help others, particularly in times of need. The well-liked postal worker fought many fires and also helped rescue individuals trapped in wrecked cars on numerous occasions.

He was a real "behind-the-scenes man who never took credit," said Campion, saddened by the loss. D'Andrea possessed all the fine qualities of a civic leader, someone that others looked up to, and to whom they brought their problems, he said.

"His men loved and respected him," added Mayor Marshall, who attended D'Andrea's funeral on Saturday. "We are all going to miss him. He felt strongly about this community. It's hard for me to accept the loss of somebody like Matt."

Friends noted that D'Andrea died less than a month after 1991 was named "The Year of the Volunteer" in the mayor's New Year's Day proclamation.

At Tuesday night's Springfield Township meeting, Deputy Mayor Philip Kurnos said, "I've known Matt for a long time. I coached his son. He was a driving force in Springfield." Out of respect, the Township Committee observed a moment of silence for D'Andrea prior to the discussion of municipal business.

Committeeman Jeffrey Katz said D'Andrea participated on the Springfield Emergency Management team and called the volunteer's passing "a very sad event."

The firefighter's funeral, attended by several hundred mourners, including township officials, was held at St. James Church in Springfield.

The man who touched so many lives leaves behind his wife, Agnes; four daughters, Marie Anglim, Christine Gardella, Patricia Yotcoski and Angelina Grip; a son, Daniel; a sister, Teresa Hagenbush, and 11 grandchildren.

District's new supervisor charts a different course

By David Wise
Staff Writer

At the Union County Regional High School District there is a new supervisor of curriculum, Kenneth Matfield, replacing Martin Seigel, who retired last September. With him, Matfield brings a bold plan to enable students to get the most out of their high school years, simply by having teachers adopt the pupil's "point of view" of school.

As it stands now, the student's perspective of high school is much different from the view taken by teachers, said Matfield. This difference often prevents the faculty from accomplishing its objectives, since students and teachers are operating on two separate wavelengths.

To illustrate this variance, students usually start their day at 8 p.m., attending prescribed classes that are divided by the disturbing sound of bells ringing at the end of each period. Hectic as the daily pace may be, their learning experience is much more "diverse" and "holistic" than that of teachers, who normally teach only one subject a few times a day.

According to Matfield, this approach to learning has not changed in years and, consequently, the way in which schools evaluate academic programs has not undergone any significant alterations either.

Schools have never fully considered how students feel about the learning process; all input regarding academic affairs is traditionally conveyed by the faculty. But now things are beginning to change, said Matfield. Gathering viewpoints from students, in conjunction with comments from teachers, is the newest trend in curriculum development, a course expected to provide better integration of all high school subjects.

Teachers learn by seeing high school from the student's perspective, and students discover the interrelation of math, science and history, instead of obtaining a fragmented view of their curriculum. This is the new approach that high schools are taking, said the curriculum supervisor.

In class, Matfield said, a student often asks himself or herself a very basic question about a high school course: "What kind of connection can I make here?" Students are always trying to find a connection between the subjects, and to foster this valid concern, Matfield would like to "break down" the walls that divide each discipline.

This goal is achieved, to some extent, by having teachers "communicate with each other" and working to bridge the gap between high school subjects. Greater staff development, See CURRICULUM, Page 2

Israel receives economic and moral support at temple rally

By David Wise
Staff Writer

Millions are showing their support for the American troops in the Persian Gulf, and it is time for people to rally behind Israel, the much-battered and financially troubled Jewish state, said Rabbi Joshua Goldstein of Temple Sha'Arei Shalom in Springfield.

Goldstein held an ecumenical rally, attended by many Christians and clergymen, to raise money for Israel on Tuesday night at Temple Sha'Arei Shalom. The rabbi sent notices to both Jews and non-Jews recently, requesting that they attend the fund-raiser and purchase "Israel bonds," interest-bearing certificates similar to those issued by municipalities. Like municipal bonds, money raised from these certificates goes toward helping the financially distressed Israeli government.

Alleviating some of Israel's economic woes, created in part by the Gulf War, is Goldstein's latest mission. Since the hostilities broke out several weeks ago, the tiny nation has suffered at least $30 million in property damages due to the bombardment of poorly guided, but relatively destructive, Iraqi SCUD missiles.

Some experts are projecting that at the current rate of SCUD missile attacks, Israel will lose $1 billion a month in this war in which it is supposed to be a non-participant, according to Goldstein.

A collateral effect of Operation Desert Storm upon Israel is the huge drop in tourism, one of the principal ways Israelis generate revenue. Few people are willing to travel to a country, however scenic and historic, if the area is under missile assault and threats of terrorism.

Add to these problems the large influx of Soviet emigres, who need jobs and housing, and the financial outlook appears more bleak. Even before the crisis, the Israeli government was strapped with double-digit inflation and many domestic problems, such as bloody clashes between the Palestinians and national militia.

A primary objective of Goldstein's rally was also to demonstrate moral support of the beleaguered nation and "solidarity with Operation Desert Storm," he disclosed. At the gathering, the audience took part in an "open discussion" of the Middle East crisis and engaged in a solemn session of prayer.

Goldstein mentioned that Temple Sha'Arei is organizing a shipment of goods to the U.S. soldiers in the Persian Gulf, consisting of ordinary personal items, to make their tour of duty more pleasant. In a few weeks, the troops can expect to receive writing paper, candies, razors, soap, games, socks and other conveniences donated by local residents.

Those interested in donating money or purchasing a bond for Israel, or those who would like to donate items to the American troops in the Gulf, may call the temple at 379-5387.

Test regarded too hard; board may offer change

By Dave Wise
Staff Writer

After determining that the Iowa Test of Basic Skills is confusing to kindergartners, the Springfield Board of Education is considering whether to replace the standardized test with the California Achievement Test, reputed to be more understandable to children who have not yet developed adequate reading skills.

The widely used Iowa Test, a basic skills exam measuring ability in areas such as vocabulary, language arts and reading, is administered to elementary students throughout the country. For years, it has been a test given to all elementary grades in Springfield.

Kindergartners, it was later learned, have been experiencing difficulty in taking the Iowa test, which requires students to read many instructions before each exam section. In the first-grade and upper levels, though, students have already developed reliable reading skills, and so the test causes few technical problems.

Students in kindergarten, however, are just learning to read and they find the Iowa test instructions difficult to follow. As a result, kindergartners have often guessed on many questions in sections that were found to be confusing and frustrating.

On Monday, the school board met with the ad hoc Early Childhood Committee to listen to its evaluation of both the Iowa and California tests. Sharon Knoller, chairwoman of the committee consisting of several elementary teachers, discussed the merits of each test while giving a test sample to all the board members.

First, the board members were instructed by Knoller to answer questions on the Iowa, in areas of word analysis and reading. The chairwoman read the instructions, originally designed for kindergartners, to board members, who then marked their answer sheets.

After responding to a number of questions, many board members acknowledged that the Iowa could be confusing to the average kindergartner.

A sample of the California test was next administered and board members remarked favorably about the exam. Board members and Knoller subsequently began a dialogue on the advantages and disadvantages of the two tests.

"The California test is much more appropriate," Knoller told the board. "It does not require independent reading and children are less likely to guess." The test, she added, contains more pictures and is "much more logical."

"We hope you will approve our recommendation," Knoller continued, adding that the new test would reduce "the high degree of stress" associated with the Iowa exam.

Curriculum Director Albert LaMorges, also present at the meeting, asserted that kindergartners should not be subjected to a test that they are unprepared to take.

"Do we expect our kids to read independently?" questioned LaMorges. "The answer is no."

The purpose of the standardized test, said LaMorges, is to help teachers accurately assess the child's learning ability. The Iowa test, on the other hand, fails to meet this objective, because it does not consider that many kindergartners lack reading skills.

School Superintendent Gary Friedland, after hearing board member Gary Tiss question whether the California test had widespread popularity, said the new test is used in school districts similar to that of Springfield.

Friedland told the board that data extracted from the exam "will be much more relevant" than information received from the Iowa test. The replacement test would "reduce frustration" and provide a better measure. See IOWA, Page 2

Elementary students prepare to enter Channel 13 art show

By David Wise
Staff Writer

Elementary school children in the Springfield district are submitting their best artwork to Channel 13's annual Student Arts Festival, a year-long academic project that highlights the creativity of students in grades kindergarten through 12.

Every year, the program selects by committee the best 150 art pieces out of a pool of about 4,000 from the tri-state area. Students from New York, New Jersey and

Connecticut submit their best abstract paintings and photographs, for instance, to a panel of judges, comprised of artists and educators, who select — subjectively, of course — the creme de la creme. See STUDENTS, Page 2

School board election may be delayed by new state bill

School Superintendent Gary Friedland reports that school board elections have been delayed, moved to April 30, as a result of two bills passed in the state Legislature. The Springfield School District received notice from Education Commissioner John Ellis that Governor Florio is expected to sign legislation authorizing the new school board election date.

The deadline for filing petitions for the three school board seats, due to expire in April, has been extended as well. Nominees now have until 4 p.m. on March 7 to submit petitions to the board secretary.

The board office is located at the rear of Florence M. Gaudineer School on South Springfield Avenue. The office is open to receive petitions between the hours of 8 a.m. and 4 p.m. during regularly scheduled school days.

Curriculum supervisor plans changes for school district

(Continued from Page 1) enhancing the teaching skills of teachers, is perhaps the best way to change the course of learning in schools today, said Mattfield. Already teachers meet periodically to sharpen their skills in half-day conferences held in the district, but Mattfield said more such workshops are needed.

Additionally, the curriculum supervisor said the district will encourage more education for teachers, to help them improve their classroom techniques. He explained that continuing education constantly renews the learning experiences of teachers.

For many students, much time in high school is spent on taking the path of least resistance. To these students, high school is merely a way station before entering real life. Mattfield wants to change this common attitude, making school a place where one can truly develop and grow, intellectually and emotionally.

One way to change the mindset of students is to encourage participation in extracurricular activities and steer them in the direction they should go. Mattfield admonishes students "to do what you love and love what you do."

There are many other changes that schools can adopt, said Mattfield, who admires the new educational initiatives set by President Bush, often dubbed "the education president." Last year, the U.S. Department of Education unveiled an ambitious plan to bring the nation's school system up to snuff in the 21st century. Some of the far-reaching proposals include the elimination of drug usage in schools and having a No. 1 ranking in the world in terms of scholastic achievement in math and science.

Without aid from mathematicians and scientists on the university level, however, some of these "extremely lofty" objectives may be only pipe dreams, according to Mattfield. More collaboration between high school and college faculties is needed to make the national program feasible.

Staying competitive, or surpassing, the academic standards of industrialized countries, such as West Germany and Japan, requires more output from American students, many of whom work part-time jobs after school. In West Germany and Japan, due to rigorous class schedules, part-time employment is not as prevalent among high school students.

Mattfield said that in the not-too-distant future schools may undergo major changes like those occurring in parts of the country right now. In some states, schools are proposing to revamp the school season, the traditional nine-month session accompanied by three vacation months during the summer. This agricultural calendar is being placed under a lot of scrutiny recently, and this debate may signal a coming trend.

An academic ridge exists between high school and college in this country, and Mattfield is attempting to construct a land bridge in the district between the two institutions. Students must receive adequate preparation to pursue degrees beyond their high school diplomas, he added. Mattfield, however, does not expect too much assistance from the federal government to reach this aim.

"The Persian Gulf situation has put education further on the back burner," said the new curriculum supervisor.

Students in the elementary school district are ready for the Channel 13 arts festival

The elementary school district has competed in this contest before, and with strong results.

Last year, Jessica Moelk, a James Caldwell School fourth-grader, was recognized for her outstanding artwork and had a blurb about herself written in a Channel 13 publication.

In the 12 years the art project has been presented, Springfield elementary students have seen their work honored in Channel 13 art exhibits in such far-flung places as Armenia and Paris.

The winners of the arts festival this year can expect to see their work aired on Channel 13 during station breaks. It will also appear inside the network's corporate offices in New York and New Jersey, the Garden State Plaza, the United Nations, the Ferguson Library in Stamford, Conn., and at Sotheby's, the famous art auction house in Manhattan. People may view these selected artworks, cited for their originality and rich themes, in many local displays from March through December.

Channel 13 calls the 1991 festival "Rainbow Harmony" to focus attention on the ethnic and cultural diversity that is evident in schools and neighborhoods throughout the country. From this art project, it is hoped that students will explore their own culture, and those of others, to learn about the importance of heritage and tradition.

Marilyn Schneider, an art teacher at Caldwell and Thelma L. Sandmeier School, has been helping to coordinate the districtwide program since September, when students first began painting pictures to compete in the contest.

"We teach children how to see, to use their imagination," said Schneider of the elementary art lessons. The teacher uses a variety of methods to instruct children on the intricacies of art, including the study of art books and photos. Sometimes students are encouraged to just look out the window to see the real and imaginary world, said Schneider, who trains children to distort patterns, details, and colors until they achieve the desired effect in their artwork.

Second-graders in the districts are painting abstract designs, while the third- and fourth-graders are centering the work upon the "Rainbow Harmony" art festival theme. Twenty of the best paintings will be chosen from each Springfield elementary school, including Florence M. Gaudineer School, and the finalists will have their work exhibited in school halls, local banks, Sarah Bailey Civic Center, Town Hall, and Springfield Public Library.

After an art commission, consisting of teachers in art and other disciplines, selects the winners, the elementary schools will hold the annual district art show in June.

"All children have the satisfaction of seeing their work exhibited," Schneider explained.

Iowa test may stop

The Iowa test "is inappropriate and therefore should be changed," Friedman concluded.

Board member Ned Sambar concurred with the superintendent: "With the Iowa test, you almost have to teach children how to take the test. The California test tests what has been taught."

The new test is "less ambiguous," remarked board member Stephen Fischbein, while his colleague, Ruth Brinen, asked the childhood committee if changing the test for kindergartners would present a problem for first-graders, who will continue to take the Iowa test.

The answer is no, the committee replied.

The board, on Monday night, did not arrive at a decision on whether to adopt the California test, and will continue to assess the benefits of the exam in later meetings.

Springfield police arrested two suspects Feb. 1 at 8:30 p.m. for possession of a stolen vehicle on Route 22 East, after their car was observed driving through a number of store parking lots, according to Police Chief William Chisholm.

SIGNS OF TENSION

How can you tell if you are suffering from nervous tension? There are certain signals you should be aware of that tell you relief is needed from this condition. Talking in a loud voice, raising your voice to a higher pitch, and talking more rapidly than normal may be signs of nervous tension. Do you frown more often than usual? Are you irritable and "out of sorts?" And when you lie down to rest, do you have difficulty in falling asleep because of an overall tenseness in your body? Untreated or unrelieved nervous tension may affect your whole body as well as your disposition. It may pull your spine out of alignment, or cause a tightening of the muscles in your neck, back, shoulder and pelvic muscles or your thighs. Nervous tension may cause "insults" to nerve tissue in these areas as well as other parts of your body. This results in aches and pains as well as mental irritation until you get the relief you need to feel well again.

Parent workshop slated

The Huntington Learning Center will hold a workshop titled "Homework: A Parent's Survival Guide," on Feb. 12 from 7-9 p.m. at Walnut Avenue School, Cranford. This two-hour program was developed in response to growing parental concern over weak study skills and poor homework habits.

"Homework is a vital element of an education. The work students do at home reinforces what they learn at school," said Kim Orth of the Huntington Learning Center in Livingston.

"Many students never acquire adequate study habits...sometimes the quality of the homework doesn't reflect the student's best work, or it takes all night to get assignments done, or the child will wait until the very last minute...there are many symptoms of poor study skills. And with understanding and commitment, these skills can be strengthened," she said.

For example, during "Homework: A Parent's Survival Guide," parents are told that they, together with their child, should define mutually acceptable goals and expectations.

"You can't expect a child to achieve a goal that is not clearly defined," Orth stated. "Simply saying 'do your homework' may not be sufficient direction for some students."

Admission to the workshop is free. For more information about the program or about the Huntington Learning Center, one can call 994-2900.

Tax assistance available

The Springfield Public Library, 66 Mountain Ave., will offer income tax assistance from 9 a.m. to noon beginning Feb. 19. Trained volunteers will be present to assist with federal and state income tax returns and applications for the Homestead Rebate.

Taxpayers seeking assistance should call the library at 310-4390 for an appointment and should bring a copy of last year's tax return. The program is sponsored by the American Association of Retired Persons. With respect to the Homestead Rebate, changes in the law require the filing of a state income tax return even if no tax is owed. The amount of the rebate is calculated differently. It is based upon income and real estate taxes or rent paid.

Rebates for homeowners range from $100 to $500, and for tenants from $35 to $500. Gross income in excess of $100,000 does not qualify for the rebate.

Support group to begin

A free self-help group for persons with anorexia nervosa, bulimia and compulsive eating disorders will begin on Feb. 15 from 6-7 p.m. The group will meet for seven weeks at the home of Amy Koontz, 514 South Livingston Ave., Livingston.

The group will be led by Koontz, a counselor who has successfully overcome an eating disorder herself. The aim of the group will be to provide people with the support and understanding they need to start them on the road to recovery.

Valentine customs will be highlighted

St. Valentine's Day will be celebrated at the Miller-Cory House Museum, 614 Mountain Ave., Westfield on Sunday, Feb. 10, from 2-4 p.m. Named in honor of St. Valentine, a Roman martyr priest of the third century A.D. who was the patron saint of lovers, this festive occasion became a welcome winter treat.

The custom of exchanging valentines was brought to America by the English settlers but was not widely celebrated during the 1700s. Lace papers and hearts produced in England and Germany were often put together by hand and sold in America in the 1800s.

Evie Kennelly of Westfield will demonstrate some techniques used in making early valentines and will have a variety of examples on display for visitors to enjoy.

Ann Douglas, Lisa Stroup and Theresa Kanzler of the museum's cooking committee will explain how farm families such as the Millers and Corys preserved and utilized apples throughout the winter months. The 1802 inventory of Joseph Cory's possessions lists a cider house, cider barrels and a cider mill and press.

Bonnie LoPresti and Bette Peterson will be conducting tours through the 18th-century farmhouse, which was originally part of a 100-acre farm in the "Westfields" of Elizabethown.

Unique valentine gifts can be found in the museum shop along with plenty of winter reading materials and craft projects. For additional information about the museum's programs, one can call the Miller-Cory Museum office at 232-1776.

COLONIAL VALENTINE — Volunteer Evie Kennelly will create early Valentine designs Feb. 10 during a special celebration at the Miller-Cory House Museum in Westfield. The custom of exchanging valentines was brought to America by English settlers during the 1700s, but did not become popular until the 19th century. Original valentine gifts will also be available in the museum gift shop.

Artwork to be displayed

The public is invited to view the art of Betty M. Stroppel, a well-known area watercolorist and art teacher, which will be on display at Children's Specialized Hospital, Coles Avenue and New Providence Road, Mountainside, throughout the month of February.

Stroppel, a resident of North Plainfield, is a graduate of the School of Fine Arts of Miami University and has served as a faculty member of the du Crest School of Art in Plainfield. She also conducts workshops and lectures and also teaches privately throughout the area.

She is the recipient of more than 100 awards for her watercolors, including a fellowship grant from the New Jersey Council on the Arts; the Medal of Honor from the New Jersey Watercolor Society and the President's Award in the Grand National Exhibition of the American Artists Professional League.

She is a member of the New Jersey Watercolor Society, the Garden State Watercolor Society, the Westfield Art Association and was recently elected to membership in the prestigious National Association of Women Artists.

Her paintings are in many public, private and corporate rooms throughout the United States and Canada. If an individual or group is interested in viewing the display, they can contact the hospital's community resource coordinator, Shirley Biegler, at 233-3720, extension 379.

The artists' works are for sale, with a portion benefiting Children's Specialized Hospital.

A student must earn a grade point average of 3.5 or higher on a scale of 4.0 to receive dean's list recognition.

'Cut-A-Thon' to aid kids

Creative Concepts, South Avenue West, Westfield will hold its third annual Cut-A-Thon on Feb. 24 from 11 a.m. to 5 p.m. to benefit the young patients at Children's Specialized Hospital in Mountainside.

The event will be open to men and women, adults and children, and will be conducted on a walk-in basis. No appointments are necessary. The costs for a haircut is $12, including wash and blow dry; $5 for a manicure and $5 for makeup. Light refreshments will be served.

For more information about the Cut-A-Thon, one can call Monica Cavanagh at Children's Specialized Hospital at 233-3720. The hospital treats children and adolescents who require rehabilitative care.

Firm reports net income

Central Jersey Bancorp, which has branches in Mountainside and other Union County municipalities, has announced its operating results for the quarter ending Sept. 30.

Elsie Sokol, Bancorp president and chief executive officer, stated that the net income for the third quarter totaled $2,386,000, or $28 per share, as compared with the $4.87 million or $5.55 per share, posted during the same period in 1989.

Sokol further stated that the third quarter results include a loan loss provision of $4 million taken during the third quarter of 1989. The resultant reserve for loan losses at Sept. 30 stands at $17,247,000 or 1.70 percent of loans net of unearned discounts.

A cleanup boost

As the state mandates more programs for which municipalities must bear the financial cost, it's enlightening to see a bill circulating in the Assembly that would allow a municipality to clean a state highway that falls within its borders and then pass the cost of the cleanup to the state.

Assemblyman Neil Cohen's bill, A-978, not only makes it easier for a municipality to clean the road and prevent hazardous conditions, it also gives the municipality more muscle in maintaining home rule.

Cohen's bill was prompted by an incident in Hillside, where local officials temporarily closed a portion of Route 22, a state highway, in order to clean debris and other materials from the roadway that were impeding traffic.

Hillside tried unsuccessfully for months to bring in the state to clean up the road.

Cohen's bill recently came out of an Assembly committee and awaits a full Assembly vote. If it becomes law, municipalities will be able to accomplish the task of cleaning their roadways without having to wait for the proverbial red tape to be cut.

By tackling the problem of cleaning state highways as soon as it needs to be done — and without having to bear its cost — municipalities can increase their power of home rule. No town wants to see their roadways strewn with litter, and if it means taking the initiative to have clean state roads, towns can avoid having a tarnished reputation because the state has been lax in its duties.

Bill 978 must get the full support of the Assembly. Maintaining safety along our roads cannot be done by waiting for outside help.

Mail call

For the men and women serving in the Persian Gulf, mail call becomes synonymous with home. Our armed forces personnel discover that each letter they receive written by a member of their family, a friend, or even by someone who lives in their hometown, shortens the distance between the Middle East and the United States.

Letter writers describe the mood here — the American flags waving proudly on almost every street in the neighborhood, the yellow ribbons tied around trees, on the sideview mirrors of vehicles, and on front doors all across Middletown, U.S.A.

They write about the protests across the nation and try to ingrain in them that, while most of the protesters decry the war, more still back the troops.

Letters might include anecdotes about a younger brother or sister, a word or two about war efforts on the part of the local citizenry, or a recap of the final seconds of the Giants' victory in the Super Bowl.

Regardless, those are letters from home, and probably the one item every member of the armed forces anticipates while he or she awaits the next move in the Gulf.

The Springfield Leader has been behind our troops since they began deployment in Saudi Arabia and through every Scud missile attack perpetrated by Saddam Hussein. We at the newspaper look for feature stories — reaction stories — that highlight the members of the armed forces who reside here. When it comes down to it, it is they who are preserving our freedom for future generations and deserve to be noted.

We will continue to do so, and in the meantime, we'd like to assist in reaching out and making their lives in the Persian Gulf a little more bearable.

We'd like to ensure them more correspondence from home.

If you have the address of a member of your family, a friend, or a resident of the community serving in Operation Desert Storm and would like others to write to them, drop us a note and we'll publish the names and addresses as soon as possible.

Send your letters to Roll Call, c/o Springfield Leader, P.O. Box 3109, 1291 Stuyvesant Ave., Union, 07083.

Mideast peace was not in Saddam's plans

The missile terror attack by Iraq against Israeli civilians in an effort aimed at widening the Persian Gulf war should lay to rest any doubts that Saddam Hussein was ever interested in peace in the Mideast. Israel is the fourth neighboring country that Iraq has attacked; the others being Saudi Arabia, Iran and Kuwait.

For over a decade, Saddam Hussein has been planning a war of conquest, and he received enormous help from countries that sold Iraq billions of dollars in arms, including the Soviet-made SCUD missiles that were launched against Israel and Saudi Arabia.

The buildup of Iraq's military, chemical and nuclear arsenal points up the urgency of halting a worldwide arms race through tough trade and financial sanctions against countries that buy or sell weapons of mass destruction.

Even as the missiles were on the launching pads in the Persian Gulf, former Warsaw pact countries that desperately need capital were busy selling their surplus military hardware to the highest bidders, including many poor Third World countries. Defense analysts fear that the Soviet Union will join the parade by dumping tanks, planes and missiles on the world market as part of an agreement limiting its forces in Europe.

Report From Washington

By Matt Rinaldo

The Soviet Union has dominated worldwide arms sales during the past 10 years with sales of $134 billion. Almost $46 billion worth of Soviet-made weapons went to Iraq. France sold it $26 billion, Britain $14 billion, China $6.2 billion, and North Korea $3.3 billion in modern arms and missiles.

This enormous and unprecedented arms buildup in Iraq does not include the military bases and infrastructure developed with help from several countries. Nor does it calculate the costs to pay the West German firms for their technology and expertise in the construction of chemical and biological warfare plants.

The Western democracies have been just as culpable in their hunger for profits from selling arms to unstable countries, such as Iraq and Syria. Six of the world's top 10 merchants of mass destruction are Western countries, and they accounted for $104 billion worth of arms sales out of the $261 billion sold by the top 10 exporting countries over the last decade.

With 6 percent of the world's gross national product and 20 percent of all government expenditures of developing countries spent on arms, it is time to halt this dangerous competition. Once the Iraq war ends, President Bush will have an opportunity to offer a new initiative to stop the arms race. As a start, I am urging the president to reassess the proposed transfer of $30 billion worth of U.S. weapons to our allies in the Persian Gulf.

Only the oil-rich Gulf states can afford to purchase the sophisticated missiles and new weapons of mass destruction. Indeed, Iraq's main goal in invading Kuwait was the billions in oil wealth it needed to develop its nuclear capacity and missile delivery systems. Stopping Iraq thus became a moral imperative.

The Bush-Gorbachev summit meeting can lay the ground for establishing a common framework for controlling the arms race. We must end this plunge toward military terror by dangerous dictatorships.

Congress can do its part. I am sponsoring the War Prevention and Arms Transfer Act to cut off foreign firms and buyer nations from U.S. trade and military and economic aid if they violate restrictions of the Arms Export Control Act. The president could waive these provisions on a case-by-case basis and allow arms sales for legitimate self-defense. But long-range missiles that can be fitted with nuclear or germ warheads could not be sold to countries that are determined by the president to be a threat to peace.

Arms makers would have a stark choice: Either stop selling weapons of mass destruction to countries like Iraq and Syria, or lose access to the lucrative U.S. market for consumer and industrial goods. It could serve as a model for restraint by other countries caught up in the arms race.

Rep. Matt Rinaldo is the U.S. congressman representing New Jersey's 7th District, which includes Springfield.

Senators offer reality to temper war support

"The war will be longer than people had anticipated. There will have to be ground forces used, and that will be bloody and long."

— Sen. Bill Bradley
"We could very well be looking at reinstating the draft. Operation Desert Storm could plunge us into a very deep recession."

— Sen. Frank Lautenberg
No one can accuse New Jersey's two U.S. senators of pulling punches or being overly optimistic about our involvement in the Persian Gulf. In separate statements last week, Bradley and Lautenberg offered gloomy forecasts regarding the duration of the war and the condition of the Middle East when the war finally does end.

Bradley and Lautenberg were two of 47 senators to vote against the use of U.S. force against Iraq on Jan. 12. But once Operation Desert Storm began, both voted to support the war effort. That has not stopped either from speaking openly and somewhat surprisingly about the Gulf crisis.

In a speech before the Morris Chamber of Commerce, Lautenberg, a member of the Defense and Foreign Relations Subcommittee, said, "The war could last weeks, even months and could turn from an air into a ground war with thousands, perhaps tens of thousands of casualties." He also quoted reliable sources that estimated that "90 percent of the casualties will be American."

Beyond these gloomy predictions of casualties, Lautenberg's statement regarding the likelihood of the draft being reinstated is particularly troublesome. The senator's son, Josh, is of draft age. While 80 percent of the U.S. public says they support Operation Desert Storm, that figure doesn't take into account the possibility of a draft. Obviously, the idea of moving beyond volunteer military service is something most of us don't want to talk about. Therefore, Lautenberg's frank talk is like a slap in the face. A reality check of dramatic proportions.

Beyond the human cost, Lautenberg spoke directly to the issue of the economics of war. Noting that since

Screening New Jersey

By Steve Aduabato

October, the war has cost us close to $15 billion, he concluded that a protracted war effort could "plunge us into a very deep recession," which would put off vital investments in non-defense areas such as education and health. There is a very good chance taxes will have to be raised to pay for this effort. Again, something most of us don't like to think about.

Finally, on the issue of stopping Saddam Hussein, Lautenberg again refuses to jump on the bandwagon: "We don't want to knock off one tyrant to make room for the rise of hostile, radical and dangerous regional powers like Syria or Iran. There is more at stake than just stopping a brutal bully on the world stage."

In an interview with a major North Jersey newspaper editorial board, Lautenberg's colleague Bill Bradley concurred, stating, "A war that takes tens of thousands of Iraqi lives, Arab lives, is one that could very well lead to a wave of anti-Western, anti-American sentiment when the war is over."

Bradley did say the United States would ultimately defeat Hussein, but questioned the price we would have to pay for such a "victory." "There will have to be ground forces used and that will be bloody and long." Bradley agreed with Lautenberg's assessment of further Middle East instability upon the war's conclusion, saying that a "crippled" Iraq would be vulnerable to stronger hostile neighbors such as Syria, Turkey and Iran. Such a dangerous development would not be good for the United States or for the only real friend we have in this volatile region — Israel.

Bradley said that the only way to avoid such chaos might be a "long-term American occupation of Iraq." Such an action would obviously be unpopular at home and even less popular among Arab countries. While most Americans support our current war effort, are we willing to be the policeman for the Middle East with the responsibility of maintaining peace in a region that at times seems more comfortable when fighting?

With our preoccupation in the Persian Gulf, Bradley once again goes against the tide, raising an issue that is both uncomfortable and inconvenient for Americans, especially George Bush — that issue is the Soviet military crackdown in Lithuania and Latvia.

Saying that we may be witnessing "the death of Glasnost," in which 20 Lithuanians and Latvians have already been killed in their fight for freedom, Bradley called on the president to end economic and agricultural support to the Soviet Union.

And finally, Bradley reminds us that in spite of our current commitment to protect Kuwait and Saudi Arabia and the fact that it would anger our "good friend" Mikhail Gorbachev, we can't turn our backs on Lithuania and Latvia: "This is a democratically-elected parliament that's being surrounded by and intimidated by military force. I do not believe that we can fail to take action."

Waving the flag, donning yellow ribbons and cheering for our troops clearly has a place when our country goes to war. Optimism is important, patriotism essential. We all as Americans need to be supportive at such a critical time in our history. But so, too, is it important to have candid, sometimes unvarnished talk from our political leaders about the realities of war and its ugly aftermath. Sens. Lautenberg and Bradley have provided that in spades.

Steve Aduabato Jr. is a political analyst for WWOR-TV, a former state legislator and an instructor of public administration and mass media at Rutgers University.

letter to the editor

More than one view was presented

To the Editor:

I have read the coverage of the resolution of Jan. 22 written by your reporter, David Wise. It is obvious that he only covered the remarks of those people who objected to the resolution. I was the last person to speak on this particular subject in support of our president and our men and women in the Gulf.

My remarks also involved using Neville Chamberlain's appeasement attitude as a lesson in history by itself forgotten by too many people. However, your reporter chose to eliminate my viewpoint or, perhaps, his writing was censored. In any event, all of the audience participating in this discussion spoke from the floor, not the podium, which should also be corrected.

When you choose to give such detailed coverage on an issue of debate, then all participants should have their opinions noted. In short, there are people in Springfield who still live by the concept "My country right or wrong" in the time of tension and concern. It is the best country in the world and you should have at least found time and space for the opposing view of a Springfield resident.

The yellow ribbons and flags on the houses and trees of this town show the true spirit of Springfield.

THE CHILDREN — Students in Barbara Antonelli's kindergarten class at Robert Gordon School in Roselle Park recently studied about how animals get food in the winter. They made bird feeders out of milk cartons to hang on trees near their homes. They were helped by Kimberly Imperiale, a student at Union College, who is spending time observing this semester. Death penalty is discussed

Former Assembly Speaker Chuck Hardwick, R-21, the sponsor of legislation that would put teeth in New Jersey's death penalty law and limit court-ordered proportionality reviews, recently issued a statement in reaction to the state Supreme Court ruling in the Robert Marshall capital punishment case.

"After 27 consecutive reversals and years of procrastination, I'm glad the court has finally affirmed a conviction in a capital punishment case," Hardwick said.

"But we shouldn't lose sight of the fact the court did not say Robert Marshall will be put to death for his crime," he added. "The court will undertake a proportionality review to determine whether the sentence will stand."

"For some time now, I have been warning that proportionality review may be one of the largest remaining loopholes," the assemblyman said.

The court may, in fact, already have laid the groundwork for overturning Marshall's sentence by using proportionality review. In its most limited form, proportionality review will compare the sentence imposed in the Marshall case with other cases where the death penalty was imposed.

"We have already seen the court overturn the conviction of Walter Gerald, who viciously stomped an invalid to death. Marshall can now argue that if someone as vicious as Gerald can't be sentenced to death, why then should he? I will believe the Supreme Court is not trying to subvert the death penalty when it finally sets a date for a death sentence," Hardwick concluded.

PUBLIC NOTICE
PLEASE TAKE NOTICE THAT THE REGULARLY SCHEDULED BOARD OF ADJUSTMENT MEETING ON MONDAY, FEBRUARY 11, 1991, HAS BEEN RESCHEDULED TO MONDAY, FEBRUARY 25, 1991, 8:00 PM. THIS IS DUE TO THE OBSERVANCE OF LINCOLN'S BIRTHDAY.

(609) 892-0434

PUBLIC NOTICE AND STATEMENT OF BASIS

Notice is hereby given that the New Jersey Department of Environmental Protection, Division of Water Resources, proposes to terminate the valid New Jersey Pollutant Discharge Elimination System (NJDES) Discharge to Ground Water (DGW) Closure/Post-Closure permit issued to:

Stampings Incorporated
278 Sheffield Street
Mountaineer, NJ 07092
The site is a metal parts production facility. Metal is cut (stamped) and formed for a variety of intermediate products used by other industries.

Waste Water from a metal parts tumbling operation was formerly discharged to an on-site dry well located underneath the building. This discharge was to Wisconsin Stage III overlying interbedded shale, siltstone, and sandstone of the Triassic-Jurassic Brunswick Formation (Passaic Formation, USGS). Waste Water is now discharged to the Rahway Valley Sewerage Authority.

This NJDES DGW Closure/Post-Closure permit required that the permittee implement a ground water sampling and analysis plan to confirm that there were no residual pollutants remaining from this past discharge. Two (2) monitoring wells or piezometers were installed, sampled on one (1) (MW-1) or two (2) (MW-2) occasions, depending on proximity to potential contaminant source areas. The monitoring wells were installed to monitor to within acceptable standards. A third monitoring point (MW-3) was installed, but not sampled, because it was an up-gradient monitoring point. Because down-gradient sampling points were within standards, this monitoring point was not sampled, as allowed per monitoring requirements. Sampling results are available for review as part of the administrative record.

Permittee has completed, to the satisfaction of the New Jersey Department of Environmental Protection (Department), the closure/post-closure requirements of the permit. Therefore, the Department is preparing to re-classify the status of the discharge indicator as INACTIVE, and is considering the discharge unit as formally closed.

This notice is to inform the public that NJDEP has prepared a draft TERMINATION NOTICE for a NEW JERSEY POLLUTANT DISCHARGE ELIMINATION SYSTEM (NJDES) (NJDES ID: NJ0072178). In accordance with the provisions of the New Jersey Water Pollution Control Act (N.J.A.C. 7:27-1 et seq.) and its implementing regulations (N.J.A.C. 7:27-14.1 et seq.).

This is an existing facility with a past discharge to ground water and implementation of the NJDES requirements are the enforcement mechanism by which existing and past pollutant discharges are brought into conformance and compliance with laws, regulations and standards. The pollution control requirements are those conditions necessary to restrict the discharge of pollutants and protect the public health and the environment.

Copies of the draft permit termination have been sent to the Mayor, Municipal Clerk, Planning Board, Sewerage Authority, Health Officer, and the Joint Advisory Committee of the Borough of Mountaineer and/or the County of Union.

The draft document prepared by NJDEP is based on the administrative record which is on file at the offices of the NJDEP, Division of Water Resources, located at 401 East State Street in the City of Trenton, Mercer County, New Jersey. It is available for inspection, by appointment, between 8:30 A.M. and 4:00 P.M., Monday through Friday. Appointments for inspection may be scheduled by calling (609) 292-0400.

Interested persons may submit written comments on this draft to the Assistant Director, Ground Water Quality Management, at the address cited above. All comments shall be submitted within thirty (30) days of the date this notice is available to all persons, including the owner or operator, who believe that any condition set forth in this document is inappropriate, must raise all reasonably ascertainable issues and submit in writing to the Department all reasonably available arguments and factual grounds supporting their position, including all supporting material, by the close of the public comment period. All comments submitted by interested persons in response to this notice, within the public comment period, will be considered by the NJDEP with respect to the requirements being applied to this facility. After the close of the public comment period, the Department will make a final decision. The Department will respond to all significant and timely comments when a final decision is made. The owner or operator and each person who has submitted written comments will receive notice of NJDEP's final decision.

Any interested person may request in writing that NJDEP hold a nonadversarial public hearing on the draft document. This request shall state the nature of the issues to be raised in the proposed hearing and shall be submitted within thirty (30) days of the date of this public notice to the Assistant Director, Ground Water Quality Management, at the address cited above. A public hearing will be conducted whenever the NJDEP determines that there is a significant degree of public interest in the permit decision. If a public hearing is held, the public comment period in this notice shall automatically be extended to the close of the public hearing.

Additional information concerning the draft document may be obtained between the hours of 8:00 A.M. and 4:30 P.M., Monday through Friday from Stephen J. Urbanik of the Bureau of Ground Water Discharge Control at (609) 292-0424.

THE WHOLE TOOTH

Saving the Part

We humans tend to think in absolutes. All or nothing at all, as the old popular song has it. A desire for perfection seems to be built into most of us.

That's not the way dentists approach the care of your teeth. We are not prepared to sacrifice the part for the whole, particularly when advances in treatment and technology make it possible to maintain the natural architecture of your mouth — an overriding objective.

There are times when tooth damage is limited and the way is open to saving part of a tooth, usually in the case of a molar. This may happen due to a loss of bone foundation or a vertical fracture that affects one side of the tooth.

There are several options before adopting the extreme recourse of extraction. Your dentist, for example, can take a vertical cut through the molar and surgically remove the damaged roots, saving the remainder with a root canal — truly, not as painful or frightening as popular legend has made it seem.

This, in technical terms, is called a hemisection.

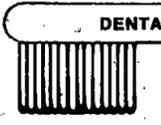

There is another way to deal with an infected root. Sometimes it can be surgically removed without harm to the tooth's crown as in the previous example.

Your dentist may consider adopting this approach if the tooth in question is capped and hemisection would entail demolishing a perfectly good restoration. Another reason would be if the tooth is basically healthy and in strong relationship with adjacent teeth.

The procedure in this case sounds severe but isn't, really. It calls for lifting and turning the tissue alongside the roots (called bisecting) and removing the infected root. The final step is to perform a root canal on the remaining root or roots.

The final message is elementary. Save the tooth, even if it's less than the whole. It's yours and is worth preserving.

Lenten season set

The Lenten season will be ushered in at the First Congregational Church of Union with a special Ash Wednesday evening service this Wednesday at 7:30. "Worshippers can come in at any time during the hour and stay for as long as they wish, for prayer, reflection and meditation, sitting quietly in the candle-lit sanctuary with the organ playing softly throughout," said the Rev. Nancy Forsberg, pastor.

At intervals the minister will invite small groups to join her around the Communion Table to partake of the Sacrament of The Lord's Supper, as she shares personal thoughts on the significance of the Holy period on the Christian calendar.

Starting on Feb. 15, the traditional noonday Lenten services will be held with a half-hour worship service led by "Rev. Nancy" from noon to 12:30 p.m. "followed by a simple luncheon in Founders Hall between 12:30 and 1 p.m. The entire experience is designed to fit within a one hour time frame to enable working people to participate during their lunch hour," she said.

The noonday services will be held on the six Fridays of Lent, with guest organists and soloists assisting the pastor. The meal will be coordinated by women of the congregation.

Further information about the Ash

Historical Society to address origins

Kathy Christo, vice president of the Union Township Historical Society, announced that guest speakers Bill and Ruth Frolich will be in attendance for the Feb. 21 meeting at 7:30 p.m. in the Rev. James and Hammah Caldwell Parsonage, 909 Caldwell Ave.

The program, "Union County History," will feature 35-mm color slides and commentary prepared by the Frolichs. Some of the historic events illustrated will be Elizabethtown as the first permanent English settlement in the province of New Jersey, the origin of the cities, towns and boroughs in Union County, Thomas Edison's electric lighting of Roselle, Edison's cement homes built in Union Township, and the Central Railroad train and depots in Union County. Some of the old buildings still standing in Union County also will be shown.

The public is invited and admission is free. Kay Genis and Lucy Giacalone will be in charge of refreshments.

Genevieve DiVenuto, nominating committee chairperson, will present a slate of officers for the 1991-92 year.

Members of the Society have translated a Thomas Clark (father of Abraham Clark — a signer of the Declaration of Independence) and James Clark (Thomas' brother) Indenture made on Oct. 31, 1750, to purchase six acres of land, a sawmill and a grist mill, by the Rahway River in the Borough of Elizabethtown from Daniell Sayre for 133 pounds.

James Clark and his family were buried in the graveyard of the First Presbyterian Church. The deed belongs to the UTH Society.

Julius Benevento, graphic arts teacher at Union High School, framed the original document with a translation mounted next to the original.

The deed will be on display for open house on Feb. 17 from 2 to 4 p.m. Michael Yessenko, president of the Society, will conduct tours of the Parsonage.

The first 50 adult visitors to the museum on Sunday will receive a free copy of the translation of the Thomas and James Clark Indenture.

Chris Sapienza of Brearley Regional has Craig Mahon of Johnson Regional in trouble during this 119-pound bout during last Saturday's Brearley-Johnson clash in Kenilworth. Sapienza won, 9-4, while the Bears, who are 9-1-1 and the tentative No. 2 seed in North Jersey, Group 1, Section 2, won big, 45-14.

Park earns section's top seed

By Mark Yablonsky
Sports Editor

For the first time all season, the Roselle Park High wrestling team was outwrestled, but a 34-21 setback in Cranford this past Saturday did little to upset the team's high ranking, both in local and state competition.

In fact, according to an unofficial published report, the Panthers, with their 11-1 record, will be the No. 1 seed in North Jersey, Group 1, Section 2, ahead of second-seeded Brearley. If and when that does become official, that particular section will have only a post-season field of five teams and not eight, since not enough teams had good enough records and/or power-points to qualify.

This coming Tuesday in Roselle Park, there will be a preliminary bout between Butler and Cedar Grove, the section's tentative fourth and fifth seeds, respectively, at 5:30 p.m. That survivor will face Park later on in the evening at 7 p.m., and if Park wins, it will advance to the final two nights later, Feb. 14, against the Brearley-Kinnelon winner at 7 p.m. — also in Roselle Park.

Prior to Park's loss at Cranford, the Panthers were able to defeat Arthur L. Johnson of Clark, 42-18, last Wednesday in Clark. In that match, the Panthers, after winning at 103 pounds, 5-4, behind Mike DiMaio, dropped the 112-pound bout, but then reeled off seven straight wins to put it away.

Bob McCafferty started the run with a pin of Greg Mahon at 1:24 in the 119-pound bout, and John Petrosky (125), Keith Appello (130), Pat McCafferty (135), Anthony Barra (140), Chris Powers (145) and John Ranieri (152) won after that.

Also, unbeaten junior Dave Patterson, who now stands at 15-0 along with Ranieri, pinned Bill Flemm at the 1:51 mark at 171 pounds. Junior Ryan Dwyer won Park's other bout, an 18-7 decision over Roy Pitta at 189 pounds.

Against Cranford, DiMaio came through with a 5-4 decision over John Cuccolo in the opening 103-pound match, but it would be the only time all night that Park would hold the lead. Park's other winners against the Cougars were Keith Appello, who won, 6-5, over Dan Clancy at 130 pounds; 135-pounder Pat McCafferty, Ranieri and Dave Patterson.

Patterson in fact recorded a fall over Greg Williams in just 24 seconds.

"We wrestled and we just got beat, that's all," explained Park coach Sam Appello, when asked if the loss to Cranford might have any effect on his team. "You've got to give Cranford a lot of credit."

Will Panthers be 6th?

By Mark Yablonsky
Sports Editor

By the time you read this, the seedings for this year's Union County boys' basketball tournament will have been chosen and made public. And Roselle Park, which was 18-0 entering Tuesday's game with St. Mary's, was hoping for a seeding as high as sixth — providing, of course, that Park was able to defeat St. Mary's.

If nothing else, you can be sure that Park's unblemished record will have caused an extra debate or two to pop up along the way. There are those who say that 18-0 is 18-0, and deserves to be acknowledged as such; and, of course, there are others who have been insisting that strength of schedule is more important — meaning that a school larger than Roselle Park should get the benefit of the doubt.

Whatever. "I think the way we've played all season, we do deserve a No. 6 seeding," explained Panther skipper Pat Lalley on Monday evening. "If we do get the sixth seed, we just have to prove that we're capable of beating the first team we play."

"Record-wise, we deserve that seed, and we've just got to prove that we can play."

More than likely, Park, if it is seeded sixth, will face the No. 11 seed in first-round play, and teams such as New Providence and Union Catholic were two real possibilities for the No. 11 spot at last night's seeding committee meeting.

In the meantime, Scott Sexton, the red-hot junior shooting guard, just keeps right on rolling. In Park's 55-43 victory over New Providence last Friday night in Roselle Park, Sexton pleased the hometown fans with a 33-point effort, a new season high for him.

Sexton, who is averaging roughly 18 points a game this season, was 6-for-7 from three-point range and 11-for-17 off the floor overall against the Pioneers.

Other team leaders include junior forward Steve McCauley, who is averaging 12 points a game, and senior center Scott Birmingham, who is averaging eight points and eight rebounds a game.

Also, senior point guard Mike Leonardis is averaging close to seven assists and three steals per game. Chris Kelly, a senior forward, is averaging 10 points and five rebounds per contest.

"It's been a great year so far, and hopefully, that will carry over into the counties and the states," Lalley added.

Bears clinch state slot

By Bob Taylor Jr.
Sports Correspondent

The 1990-91 Brearley Regional High wrestling team picked up two more decisive victories during the past week, and ended up clinching a post-season berth in North Jersey, Group 1, Section 2 as a result. The Bears, who are now 9-1-1, defeated Bound Brook, 38-24, last Wednesday, and then outpointed sister school Arthur L. Johnson of Clark, 45-14, on Saturday in Kenilworth.

Both matches were team efforts, with the Bears winning key bouts up and down the line.

Bound Brook came into Kenilworth riding the momentum of a big victory over Johnson, and kept it going by winning the first three bouts over Brearley to grab a 12-0 lead. But beginning with a 12-1 win by Bob Cox at 125 pounds, the Bears won eight of the last 10 bouts, including two-by forfeit, to put it away. The key victories came at 135 and 140 pounds, with junior Ron Cagno beating Dave Parisi, 7-3, in the former bout; and co-captain Clint Kaminski securing a pin in the latter.

At 152 pounds, senior Deomid Rappoport won his first varsity bout of the season by defeating Greg Beatty, 10-0.

Against Johnson, the Bears dominated throughout. Dom Tripodi began things with a pin at 103 pounds, and Joe Dillon won at 112 by forfeit. After Chris Sapienza defeated Craig Mahon, 9-4; at 119 pounds, Johnson got its first points of the day when Tim Hoerle settled for a 4-4 draw at 125 with Cox.

The Bears later won at 135 pounds behind Cagno, and ended up capturing the last five matches to win handily. Individually, the Bears have also fared well this season. They have seven wrestlers with 10 victories or more, including co-captain Vic Verno (13), Bob Taylor (12), Jose Rodriguez (11) and Scott DuBeau (11), Kaminski (10), Tripodi (10) and Cagno (10).

Prior to the Group 1 sectionals, for which Brearley will likely be seeded second, the Bears will compete in the Union County wrestling tournament this weekend in Elizabeth. The UCT begins tomorrow evening and concludes on Saturday.

'Dawg grapplers halted

The Jonathan Dayton Regional High wrestling team returned to the mats this past Saturday and lost a tough 38-29 decision to Governor Livingston Regional in Berkeley Heights.

Dayton, which hadn't wrestled since losing, 42-19 to Brearley on Jan. 23, got off to a quick lead behind wins from Jim Basile at 103 pounds, Dante Puorro at 112 and Kevin Delaney at 119.

But after that, the Bulldogs managed just three more wins the remainder of the way: by Pat Laffan, Russ Nesovich and heavyweight DeJohn Cataldo.

The 'Dawgs, who are now 5-6-1 on the season, will compete in this weekend's Union County Tournament in Elizabeth.

Sign-ups set

The Kenilworth Little League will hold registration for the upcoming 1991 season this Saturday, Feb. 9, from noon until 3 p.m. at the borough's recreation center.

Boys and girls who will be at least seven years old by July 31 are eligible. Birth certificates are required for first-time applicants. The fee is $30.

Applications for Little League Queen will also be taken at the same time. Girls who are 7 to 10 years of age are eligible.

A T-Ball program will be available to youngsters who will be six years old by July 31. The fee is $10.

Lady Bears win twice more

By Kim Eagan
Sports Correspondent

The Brearley Regional High girls' basketball team improved its record to 10-2 this past week, defeating Dayton last Tuesday, 66-42, and a very strong Bound Brook squad, 60-41, on Friday.

Against Dayton, the Lady Bears came out strong and outscored the home side by a 22-12 margin in the first quarter. By halftime, Brearley had a 20-point lead and maintained it for the rest of the way. Senior Kim Eagan, who is averaging 26 points a game, scored 36 points, and center Tricia Anglim netted 14.

In Brearley's big conference win over Bound Brook, Eagan hit for 31 points, five rebounds, five assists and seven steals. Anglim pulled down an outstanding 24 rebounds and also contributed 14 points.

County tourneys in B-Ball and wrestling set to start

By Mark Yablonsky
Sports Editor

With the arrival of February comes the time of year all local basketball and wrestling buffs look forward to, and that, of course, is the Union County Tournament. And beginning this weekend, the annual mid-winter event will get under way in full stride.

As you are reading this, the seeds for both boys' and girls' basketball have already been decided. And tonight, seeding for wrestling will be conducted in a meeting among county coaches.

The first to get underway will be wrestling, and that's tomorrow night at 6 p.m. at the Dunn Sports Center in Elizabeth, where preliminary-round bouts will be held. Then on Saturday morning at about 9 a.m., more preliminaries will take place, followed by first and semifinal-round competition. The finals will commence at roughly 3 p.m.

In boys' basketball, the 55th annual rendition of the UCT — referred to by the Union County Interscholastic Athletic Conference's executive director, Frank Cicarell, as "the granddaddy of all county tournaments in New Jersey" — begins on Saturday with preliminaries scheduled at the old Batin High building in Elizabeth. Preliminaries will conclude on Monday at the Dunn Center, and first-round games will follow on Feb. 12

"Elizabeth is very strong. One, two and three (seeds), I think, are pretty solid. After that, it gets tough to handle. I think it's wide open, it really is, once you get past Elizabeth."

Stan Kokie

and 13, with the sites including Cranford High, Arthur L. Johnson Regional in Clark, and the Dunn Center.

Next Friday and Saturday nights, Feb. 15-16, boys' quarter-final games will be held at the Dunn Center, the permanent site for all UCT games from this point on. After the semifinals are played on Feb. 19-20, the two surviving teams will meet in the title game on Saturday, Feb. 23, at 3 p.m.

In girls' basketball, it all starts with the preliminaries this Saturday at Johnson Regional in Clark, and then on Monday at three other locations as well: Cranford, Brearley Regional in Kenilworth, and Union Catholic in Scotch Plains. The quarters will take place next Thursday, Feb. 14, at both Clark and the Dunn Center, and the semifinals will follow four days later in Elizabeth.

The title game to decide the 16th UCT champion will be played on Thursday, Feb. 21, at 8:30 p.m. at the Dunn Center.

In boys' basketball, the general opinion is that Elizabeth, winner of the UCT for six of the last seven years and this year's likely number one seed, will be in the title game on Feb. 23. The question is, who will be there to oppose the powerful Minutemen?

"Elizabeth is very strong," commented Roselle coach Stan Kokie, whose Ram squads have emerged as tournament runner-up for the past two years. "One, two and three (seeds), I think, are pretty solid. After that, it gets tough to handle."

"I think it's wide open, it really is, once you get past Elizabeth."

Union High coach Bill Hazelton believes there will be a "real dog-fight" to determine which team will be left to deal with the Minutemen.

As of press time, Linden, whose 1988 title is the only thing interrupting Elizabeth's dominance in the last seven years, seems the likely No. 2 seed in the boys' field. And Linden's powerful, well-balanced girls' squad should, in all probability, be the top seed.

HOW MANY ARE THERE? — Pictures don't lie, but once in a while, they do get a little deceiving. Roselle's Machil Joseph (10) doesn't have four arms and four legs as this photo might suggest, because he's busy battling underneath the basket for a rebound against a Hillside player during last Friday's Mountain Valley clash between the two teams in Roselle. Joseph netted eight points in Roselle's 56-47 defeat to the Comets, who now are alone atop the MVC's Mountain Division standings.

Griffith earns second letter

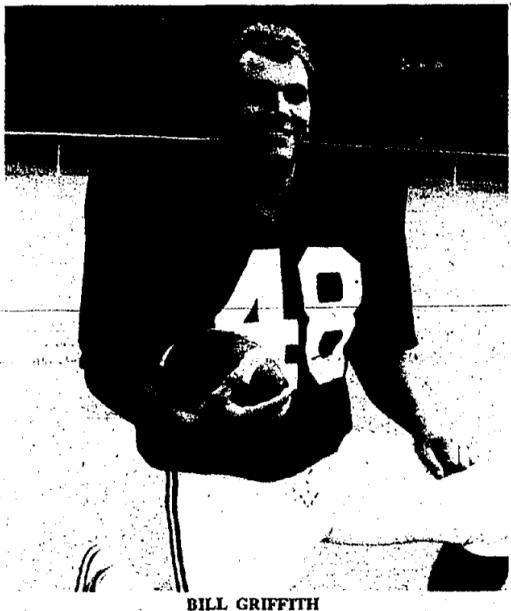

Springfield resident Bill Griffith, a junior linebacker, was a member of the Springfield College football team which posted a 6-4 record during its centennial season this past fall.

The 6'0", 220-pound Griffith received his second varsity letter after recording 42 tackles (14 primary), including 12 stops in a 39-16 victory against Slippery Rock in the season-opener.

Springfield, under coach Mike DeLong, captured its third consecutive Mayor's Trophy with a 23-20 victory over crosstown rival American International in the season finale. The Chiefs were tied for sixth with East Stroudsburg in the final Lambert-Meadowlands Division II Northeast poll and seventh in the final ECAC Division II poll.

A psychology major, Griffith is a 1987 graduate of Seton Hall Prep High School in West Orange where he was captain and MVP of the football team, and an All-State/Iron Hills Conference selection. Griffith also lettered in basketball.

Griffith attended the Milford Academy in Connecticut for a year before enrolling at Springfield.

WHO'S ON FIRST?

This week's question: Here's another question to test your hockey knowledge. Who holds the record for most assists in a single game? Two individuals share this record and we need both names for your answer to be considered correct.

Last week's answer: Three members of that gold-medal winning hockey team are still playing in the National Hockey League. Mike Ramsey, who attended the University of Minnesota, joined the Buffalo Sabres after the Olympic Games in March, 1980. He remains a steady presence on defense for Buffalo.

Dave Christian, who attended the University of North Dakota and scored eight points in the Olympics, joined the Winnipeg Jets after the Games. He now plays right wing for the Boston Bruins.

Forward Neal Broten, another Golden Oopher from the University of Minnesota, returned to school after the Olympic Games. He later joined the Minnesota North Stars, where he is still playing.

In all, 12 of the 20 members of the 1980 Olympic hockey team played at the National Hockey League level. Others played professionally, but in Europe or on the minor league level, never making it to the NHL.

This week, Henry Hascup of Lodi submitted a correct answer. Please have your responses in our Union offices — at 1291 Stuyvesant Ave. — by no later than noon each Monday.

Farmer swimmers take 2nd

For the third straight year, the Union High boys' swimming team captured second place in the Union County championships this past weekend in Elizabeth. Westfield, the county's perennial champion, came in first as usual, and Scotch Plains finished in third behind the Farmers.

In the 200-medley relay, Union came in second behind a squad of Steve Waszak, Frank Acque, Scott Stephenson and Kevin Smith. Kevin Smith finished first in the 200-yard freestyle, with Paul Ulrich coming in seventh and Ed Friend 12th.

In the 200-individual medley, Scott Stephenson was fifth and Joe Moran ninth. In the 50-freestyle, Acque came in 10th before later taking fourth in the 100-butterfly. Smith was second, Ulrich seventh and Friend ninth in the 500-yard freestyle.

The 200-freestyle relay unit of Ulrich, Acque, Moran and Rick Santangelo placed fifth. In the 100-yard backstroke, Greg Lear placed seventh and James Guinee came in 12th. Scott Stephenson finished first in the 100-yard backstroke, and Waszak took fifth. The Farmers came in second in the final event, the 400-freestyle relay behind the efforts of Stephenson, Waszak, Ulrich and Smith.

"The swimmers all did a terrific job," said Union coach Dennis Reinhard. "This year's team has lived up to and surpassed our goals, and most of the team will be back next year."

Croce cited by college

Frank Croce of Roselle Park, who was an All-American wrestler at both Middlesex County and Kean College, was recently named as Kean's Male Athlete of the Week for going 4-0 while leading the Cougars to three wins — despite suffering from torn rib cartilage at the time.

Croce, who has wrestled at 150 pounds, held a recent record of 16-1-3 on the season for Kean, which was 11-7-1 after a 31-15 victory over Western Maryland on Jan. 26. That week, Kean also beat Stevens Tech and Elizabethtown, Pa., while losing to Montclair State College.

Tourney slated

The Township of Union Recreation Department will be sponsoring a one-day Winter Snowball Softball Tournament on Saturday, Feb. 16.

All proceeds from the tournament will be donated to the Make-A-Wish Foundation. Further information is available by calling the Union Recreation Department office at 686-4200.

Kammermusik hits area

The Garden State Chamber Orchestra will present the music of New York Kammermusik at its next concert on Feb. 15 at 8 p.m. in Kean College's East Campus Theater, Union. On Feb. 23 at 8 p.m., the orchestra will perform the same concert at the Grace Episcopal Church in Madison.

The Kammermusik group is composed of various combinations of double-reed instruments to provide a variety of ensemble effects; it will perform Renaissance music from a soon-to-be-released CD as well as works by Handel, Händel, Mozart, Salieri and Telemann.

The New York Kammermusik was founded in 1969 and has performed throughout Europe, China and South America.

Commenting on the forthcoming concerts, Frederick Storfer, the Garden State Chamber Orchestra's music director, stated that "the employment of combinations from duets to sextets conforms to the instrumental demands of the composers; they provide a unique and unusual musical experience for audiences which rarely get to hear combinations of instruments such as these."

The February concerts are the third in the Orchestra's five-concert subscription series. Tickets for both Kammermusik concerts at $16 each are available from the orchestra at 144 Main Street, Hackensack, N.J. 07601. They may also be purchased at the two concerts immediately prior to the performances.

'Y' sets senior plans

The senior department of the YM-YWHA of Union County, located on Green Lane in Union, under the direction of Myrna Friedman, has prepared its calendar of events for the spring season.

Headlining the events is a trip to Lou G. Siegal's, the popular Kosher New York dairy restaurant. A five-course meal will be served and accompanied by entertainment featuring a Klezmer band, a singer and a comedian. Early registration is requested for this special program, as it is anticipated that it will fill quickly. The cost is $35 for members, $40 for non-members.

Always a memorable morning at the "Y" is the agency's traditional seder. This year, the seder will be held on March 27 at 10 a.m. This program is filled with the recitation of Passover prayers and melodies plus a festive meal complete with all the trimmings. The charge for this event is $4 for members, $6 for non-members.

Where would spring be without a trip to the Catskills? Save April 28 to May 3 for a vacation at the Tamarack Hotel. The price of $225 for members, $250 for non-members includes six days and five nights, plus tips and tax. Registration is open now, and Friedman encouraged early reservations.

For further information regarding these and other programs offered through the "Y's" Older Adult Program, contact Friedman at 289-8112.

Series offers Jersey's own Colorado quartet

Afternoon Music, the concert music at the Unitarian Church in Summit, will present the Colorado String Quartet on Sunday at 4 p.m. This performance will also feature guest artist and clarinetist Bernard Yannotta.

The Colorado Quartet originated in 1976 at the University of Colorado at Boulder. Currently based in New Jersey, the group maintains its original name.

This ensemble appears regularly in major halls around the globe. The quartet made history in 1983 when, within a 10-day period, it won two of the highest honors in chamber music: the Naumburg Chamber Music Award and the First Prize at the Banff International String Quartet Competition. Since then, it has been acclaimed on four continents as one of the great quartets of all time.

The quartet's first CDs, released on the Fidelio label, have received much critical praise.

The quartet consists of violinists Deborah Redding and Julie Rosenfeld, violist Francesca Martin and cellist Diane Chaplin. Joining the quartet for this special performance is clarinetist Yannotta.

Yannotta is a native of Berkeley Heights and has performed as clarinet soloist throughout the United States and Europe. He has recorded for CRI, Columbia, SEI, Vanguard and Erato records and has appeared in more than 60 live broadcasts and recent television programs in Franco, Austria, Belgium and the U.S. Yannotta is a candidate for a doctor of musical arts degree from Yale and is on the faculty of the Mannes School of Music.

The program will include the Barber String Quartet, Opus 11 and the Beethoven String Quartet, Opus 59, No. 1. Yannotta will join the quartet in the performance of the Clarinet Quintet by Mozart.

The Unitarian Church is located at the corner of Springfield and Waldron avenues in Summit. Tickets may be purchased at the door for $15; $12 seniors and $5 for students. For more information, call 273-3245 or 277-3327.

UCC prof shows off his work

Prof. Robert Yoskowitz of Belle Mead, who teaches fine arts at Union County College, will show a dozen of his original photographic works in the college's Tomasulo Art Gallery of the MacKay Library on the Cranford campus.

The artist's works will be displayed through Feb. 28.

Yoskowitz will exhibit unique silver prints based on Roman antique busts and found photographic imagery, all prepared over the past 18 months. Entitled "Nouns," the show's methodology deals with the modernist notion of two-dimensional flat space and working within the framework of photographic mimetic characteristics.

He fuses disparate elements to obtain results similar to a collage, which have both characteristics plus depth. The support construct is two-dimensional by its nature, relating to the philosophers Henri Bergson's and Rolande Barthes' idea of equating photography with death. Yoskowitz has manipulated a contemporary image via photographic deception. The photographs remain true to their two-dimensional space, detailed but grainy, to reinforce the photochemical process and present a dichotomy of the veristic and the false.

A graduate of Kean College with a bachelor's degree, Yoskowitz holds master's degrees from both Pratt Institute and Hunter College, and currently is working towards a doctorate at City University of New York. He has had his works exhibited in both solo and group displays throughout the New York metropolitan area.

Gallery hours are 1 to 4 p.m., Mondays through Saturdays; 6 to 9 p.m. on Mondays through Thursdays.

State Theatre hosts 'Oklahoma!'

Rodgers and Hammerstein's enduring musical classic "Oklahoma!" will be performed at the New Brunswick Cultural Center's State Theatre on Saturday at 8 p.m. The performance is a production of Music Theatre Advancement Group, Inc. — formerly Opera-Northeast — which has staged critically acclaimed national tours of the Broadway musicals such as "Fiddler on the Roof," "Showboat," "The Pirate of Penzance," "Carousel" and "Kimset."

This is the first season for musicals at the State Theatre since its 1988 opening. "We weren't sure about whether or not we could compete with New York," producer Bill Wright said, "but, as it turns out, people want to stay in New Jersey. They'll gladly forego the commute if we give them something comparable and we do." The State Theatre opened its with a successful production of "Hello, Dolly!" and will present "The Sound of Music" in March.

"Oklahoma!" is a classic of the American musical theatre. It was considered so revolutionary when it opened in 1943 that its success caused a dramatic shift in the course of American musical theater. Until that time dramatic plots, fully dimensional characters, ballets and integrated lyric entertainments and were never found together in one production. Today, the form that defines the art can be traced to this landmark show.

"Oklahoma!" was so successful that it yielded its backers a 2,500 percent payback on their original investment. The show generated unprecedented demand for tickets and set a run record that was not surpassed until "My Fair Lady" opened in 1961. It received a special Pulitzer Prize and it launched an international tour that continued for 10 years, performing in every corner of the world.

The first joint venture by Richard Rodgers and Oscar Hammerstein, "Oklahoma!" launched their 17-year partnership that resulted in a string of Broadway triumphs. Together, the two created "Carousel," "South Pacific," "The King and I," and "The Sound of Music," in addition to a host of other projects for film, stage and television.

The show's score features a number of songs that have become American standards, such as "The Surrey With the Fringe on Top," "People Will Say We're in Love" and "Oh, What a Beautiful Morning." Based on the Lynn Riggs play, "Green Grow the Lilacs," "Oklahoma!" is a love story that parallels the turbulent burgeoning of the American Midwest.

Donald Westwood is producer/artistic director for Music Theatre Advancement Group, Inc. Jerome Shannon is the production's music director/conductor and Joseph Patton is the stage director/choreographer.

The State Theatre's presentation of "Oklahoma!" will take place on Saturday at 8 p.m. Tickets are $32, $28, $24 and $20, and may be purchased through the New Brunswick Cultural Center's Ticket Central by calling 908-246-7469.

This performance is made possible in part by funding from the New Jersey Council on the Arts/Department of State.

LOCAL ARTS — The Union County Board of Chosen Freeholders recently hosted "Visual Arts '90," the third annual county arts exhibition sponsored by the department of parks and recreation. Freeholders Gerald Green and Casimir Kowalczyk, Assemblyman Neil Cohen and Freeholder Walter Boright are joined by Rahway artist Christine Dollnich. Below, the officials honor Springfield artist Louis Winarsky.

Celebrate St. Valentine's Day

St. Valentine's Day will be celebrated at the Miller-Cory House Museum, 614 Mountain Ave. in Westfield, on Sunday from 2-4 p.m. Named in honor of St. Valentine, a Roman martyr priest of the third century A.D. who was known as the patron saint of lovers, this festive occasion became a welcome winter treat.

The custom of exchanging valentines was brought to America by the English settlers but was not widely celebrated during the 1700s. Lace papers and hearts produced in England and Germany were often put together by hand and sold here in the 1800s.

Evie Kennelly of Westfield will demonstrate some techniques used in making early valentines and have a variety of examples on display for visitors to enjoy. Ann Douglas, Lisa Stroup and Theresa Kanzler of the museum's cooking committee will explain how farm families such as the Millers and Corys preserved and utilized apples throughout the winter months. The 1802 inventory of Joseph Cory's possessions lists a cider house, cider barrels and a cider mill and press.

Bonnie LoPresti and Bette Petersen will be conducting tours through the 18th century farmhouse, originally part of a 100 acre farm in the "West Fields" of Elizabethtown.

Unique valentine gifts can be found in the museum shop, along with plenty of winter reading materials and craft projects. For additional information about the museum's progress, call the office at 232-1776.

George Grizzard and Katherine Houghton star in "To Kill a Mockingbird"

'Mockingbird' opens at PMP

For its first major production in the United States, "To Kill a Mockingbird" — based on the Pulitzer Prize-winning novel by Harper Lee and adapted for the stage by Christopher Sergel — will be produced at the Paper Mill Playhouse. The drama opens on Wednesday at the Millburn theater and continues through March 23.

This run includes an extra week of performances — longer than the traditional run at the Playhouse — due to the interest producers say the play has generated.

Stage, screen and television actor star George Grizzard heads the cast as Atticus Finch, a highly respected attorney given the difficult task of defending a black man falsely accused of committing raping a poor white girl in Alabama, circa 1935.

Grizzard last appeared at the Paper Mill in the 1965 production of "The Glass Menagerie," which went on to Broadway and to the White House for a command performance before President Lyndon Johnson. His numerous Broadway credits include the original production of "Who's Afraid of Virginia Woolf," and the revival of "The Country Girl" with Jason Robards.

His television appearances include work on "The Golden Girls" and "Murder, She Wrote." He won an Emmy nomination for his portrayal of John Adams in "The Adams Chronicles."

The play also stars Katherine Houghton as Finch's neighbor, Miss Maudie. Houghton starred in the film "Guess Who's Coming to Dinner" with Spencer Tracy and Katherine Hepburn and appeared on Broadway in "The Front Page" and the revival of "Our Town."

Performances are Wednesdays through Sunday at 8 p.m.; Thursday matinees at 2 p.m.; Saturday and Sunday matinees at 3 p.m. Extra matinees at 12:30 p.m. have been scheduled for March 19, 20 and 21. Tickets range in price from $22 to $36; Mastercard and Visa are accepted and group rates are available. For more information, call the box office at 376-4343.

Audio-described performances for the visually-impaired are scheduled for March 14 at 2 p.m.; March 16 at 3 p.m., and March 17 at 8 p.m. A sign-interpreted performance for the hearing impaired is slated for March 17 at 8 p.m.

Applications ready for summer arts institute

The New Jersey Summer Arts Institute — entering its 11th year as the state's only residential program for selected, artistically talented students currently in grades 7 through 12 — has applications available for summer 1991.

The program is held at Rutgers, the State University, in New Brunswick and is planned in cooperation with the Mason Gross School of the Arts, a state-designated center of excellence for the arts.

Interested students are encouraged to apply early and to schedule their audition workshop as quickly as possible. Early applicants gain the opportunity to apply for the variety of scholarships available through the Arts Foundation of New Jersey and avoid being closed out from their department of choice.

SAI offers a six-year sequential program for returning students and individualized placement within the more than 85 courses offered. The eight departments at the art institute are visual arts, including divisions in painting, sculpture, drawing, printmaking and photography; instrumental music, including jazz and classical; vocal music, with an emphasis on ensemble, popular, classical and opera; workshop; dance, including ballet, modern and jazz; writing offering poetry, playwriting and fiction; theater, including acting, mime, signing, Shakespeare, musical and technical theater; art and technology with a focus on computer graphics, video/film and advanced photography; and interarts, an ensemble of multi-arts disciplines, studying communal art making and the creative arts process. Advanced level students in some departments may earn escrow college credits.

School includes six hours daily of intensive study within the chosen major — plus open studios, independent study, individual lessons and practice times. Trips to galleries, museums and performances in the tri-state area are scheduled throughout the residency. Rutgers' Summerfest and Moscow Conservatory offer music students unique opportunities for master classes with world class musicians, while visits to their performances are regularly scheduled for those who are interested.

Regional auditions are held on April 13, May 5 and June 8. The program is sponsored by the Arts Foundation of New Jersey and is funded, in part, by the State Council on the Arts/Dept. of State and the Geraldine R. Dodge Foundation. For copies of the curriculum or artist/faculty profiles, send a self-addressed, large brown envelope with $1.25 postage for free applications to AFNJ, Box 352, New Brunswick, N.J. 08903; or call 201-463-3640.

Hickory Tree Chorus airs on cable

Hickory Tree Showcase Chorus will be cablecast on TV-36 during the month of February, on Tuesdays from 12:30 to 1 p.m. and on Thursdays from 9 to 9:30 p.m. Produced by Beth Pincus, the show provides an opportunity to hear, enjoy and learn about women's barbershop singing with the Hickory Tree Chapter of Harmony International, formerly Sweet Adelines Inc.

Hickory Tree performs several arrangements in four-part harmony — barbershop style — with choreography. Brocade, one of the chorus quartets, shows how they achieve their smooth four-voice blend in this television broadcast. New director Jack Pinto and associate director Carolyn Schmidt familiarize viewers with general knowledge about this unique American art form and the special musical character of this championship chorus.

Potential new members are encouraged to attend any rehearsal on Wednesday evenings, at 7:30 p.m., in the Madison Presbyterian Church, 19 Green Ave. in Madison. Call 522-1954 or 647-0867 for more information.

Restaurant review

Jade Lake Gourmet

By Sharon Cates

If you are looking for the perfect spot for a lunchtime escape or the ideal place for a romantic evening rendezvous, then look no further, the Jade Lake Gourmet is the place to go. Conveniently located at 243 W. St. Georges Ave., Linden, the restaurant boasts two spacious dining rooms. Patrons can either dine in the front room, or, for that special occasion, important business meeting, or to add an extra touch to an evening out, they can enjoy their meal in the glass-enclosed Garden Room.

The Garden Room offers privacy and intimacy. It can also provide a festive atmosphere for a special occasion or party.

Specializing in Hunan and Szechuan cuisine, Jade Lake offers a large variety of poultry, beef, seafood, vegetable, and noodles and rice selections. The entrees are modestly priced and range from $4.75 to $10.95, with most of them priced below $7.

In addition there are 20 mouthwatering house specialties to choose from. The house specials range from $8.55 to $24, with most of the entrees priced between $9 and $11.

If it's lunch you want, there are 20 luncheon specials all priced at $4.25, which includes an entree, fried rice and soup. Lunch specials are served daily from 11:30 a.m. to 3:30 p.m.

The Jade Lake offers something to satisfy everyone's palate, from the seafood-lover to the vegetarian. They have a specially prepared diet portion on their menu. Also, there are several "hot and spicy" entrees, seasoned to taste by Sonny, the chef.

In a recent visit, my companion and I started our meal with a PuPu Platter for two. Priced at $9.95, the platter offers six hot appetizers and allows patrons to taste a sampling of the delicious, well-prepared cuisine. The platter includes lightly breaded fantail shrimp, tender mongolian beef, and traditional egg rolls.

For our entrees, we both selected one of the house specials.

My companion chose the Sizzling Seafood Special. Served on a sizzling platter were shrimp, scallops and crab meat garnished with Chinese vegetables. Placed on a bed of white rice, the meal was moderately priced at $11.95.

For $10.95, I selected the Hunan Market Place for my entree. The meal offered sliced chicken and shrimp with a variety of mixed Chinese vegetables. Both the chicken and shrimp were deliciously tender, the vegetables were crisp and fresh.

The meal was served with the chef's special sauce, which was light and tangy and enhanced the flavor of the food.

For dessert they serve ice cream, sesame bananas, fruits and cookies. My companion and I shared a fruit platter.

Uniquely prepared, the fruits were designed to represent flowers and animals. The fruits were fresh and juicy and served as the perfect light ending for the meal.

Although they do not have a liquor license, the restaurant encourages patrons to bring their own bottle of liquor or wine.

Jade Lake is also available to cater parties. And, they deliver.

Ample free parking is available for all customers in the rear of the establishment.

Take-out orders are also popular at Jade Lake, for those who wish to savor their authentically prepared food, but do not have the time to dine in.

The Jade Lake Gourmet is open on weekdays from 11:30 a.m. to 10 p.m. and on weekends from noon to 11 p.m.

Just mention to Lisa and Sonny that you read about them in Worrall Community Newspapers and you will receive a complimentary pleasant surprise.

horoscope

For week of Feb. 10-Feb. 16

ARIES (March 21 to April 19) You could exceed your expectations this week. Focus yourself on romance, and a promotion. A long-standing obligation you have will be fulfilled. Celebrate with kindred spirits.

TAURUS (April 20 to May 20) Take a calculated risk when it comes to both business and social activities. Playing it safe can be dull. Learn to differentiate between love and lust. Promote a sense of levity.

GEMINI (May 21 to June 20) Your proverb for the week is "Rules are made to be broken." Pull the plug on your old methods. Dynamic action will pay off. But do not trample the little people on your way up.

CANCER (June 21 to July 22) Those memories of childhood can trip you up. Pay credence only when it is warranted. Your active imagination can stir up a witch's brew. Analyze your own personal style.

LEO (July 23 to Aug. 22) Steer yourself clear of anger and frustration. Put on your thinking cap. A sharp mind can penetrate quicker than dull emotions. Put the accent on the unorthodox.

VIRGO (Aug. 23 to Sept. 22) Find the balance between partnerships and self-expression. Keep any extreme actions to a minimum. Record your dreams. Relaxation and re-creation are in vogue. Do it all your own way.

LIBRA (Sept. 23 to Oct. 22) Take a relative under your wing this week. Do not allow those emotional storms to create a sense of financial havoc. Beautify your personal surroundings. Attend gallery openings.

SCORPIO (Oct. 23 to Nov. 21) A trip you have planned may be delayed. Watch out for needless words. A slip of the tongue may cause some embarrassment. Maintain an open-door policy with your friends and relatives.

SAGITTARIUS (Nov. 22 to Dec. 31) Strengthen your leadership skills. Do not paint yourself into a corner. Abandon any romantic illusions you may have. Break yourself free of those self-imposed restrictions.

CAPRICORN (Dec. 22 to Jan. 19) A crisis in a love relationship will subside. A walk on "financial Easy Street" looms ahead for you. Call in your chips. Do not get dizzy riding on the business merry-go-round.

AQUARIUS (Jan. 20 to Feb. 18) Some secret information will be provided to you. It could not be in better hands. Watch out for shopping fever, however. Give your credit cards the week off. Love will blossom again.

PISCES (Feb. 19 to March 20) Put on regal airs. Step away from pride and arrogance. Make plans regarding your life's work. Your hopes and dreams can be fulfilled now. Touch the lives of the needy.

Jackson, Wallach paired in 'Sparky and the Fritz'

Anne Jackson and Eli Wallach will bring their renowned talent to the George Street Playhouse stage in Craig Volk's new comedy, "Sparky and the Fritz," running Feb. 15 to March 3.

The play tells what happens when a set-in-her-ways housewife is faced with a newly retired husband who has too much time on his hands and an amorous UPS man. This love story gives new meaning to special delivery.

Steve Rothman, who directed GSP's production of "The Subject Was Roses" with Isabel Sanford, returns to direct this world premiere comedy, where growing old can sometimes mean having to grow up all over again.

Wallach and Jackson, husband and wife in real life, have been performing together for more than 40 years. Some of their favorite plays include "Waltz of the Toreadors," "The Typist and the Tiger," "Liv," "The Diary of Anne Frank" and the recent Broadway production of "Cafe Crown." In addition to theatre, both have worked in film, with Wallach currently starring as Don Altobello in "The Godfather, Part III."

Rounding out the cast is veteran actor Ben Hammer. Hammer has appeared in such noted productions as "The Great Sebastians," "The Diary of Anne Frank," "The Tenth Man" and "Mother Courage," among others.

Working with Rothman on "Sparky and the Fritz" are designers Deborah Jasien — sets, Donald Holder — lights and Barbara Forbes — costumes. Michael Suenkel is production stage manager.

Previews for "Sparky and the Fritz" begin on Sunday at 7 p.m. Performances run through Saturday evenings at 8 p.m. and Sundays at 2 and 7 p.m. There will be Saturday matinees at 2 p.m. on Feb. 23 and March 2, with Thursday matinees at 11 a.m. on Feb. 14 and 28.

Tickets for this production range from $16 to $26 with discounts for students and senior citizens. For information or reservations, call ticket central at 908-246-7469.

Reeves sets winter series

Rain Forest Day, two innovative "exercise in the garden" classes and two luxury-coach trips to the Philadelphia Flower Show headline the adult winter series at the Reeves-Reed Arboretum in Summit. Enrollment has now begun and is open to the public.

Free demonstrations on Feb. 14 are available with reservations to try the half-time lunchtime postural stretching class for relief of work stress, starting at 12:30; or the golden age exercises for senior citizens for improved flexibility and circulation, starting at 1:30 p.m. Six weekly classes in each exercise plan will begin March 7 and will be held outdoors when possible or in the glass-enclosed sunporch with panoramic garden views.

Rain Forest Day on Feb. 16 opens at 9:30 a.m. with an illustrated lecture, "The Rain Forest and You," featuring Eugene Fox. Following will be a choice of workshops. Participants may elect to attend at 10:30 a.m. either "Growing Plants from Cuttings" or a kitchen session on making "Cashew Crunch." Cutting techniques for propagation will be taught by Dr.

Thomas M. Ombrelló, a professor at Union County College and horticultural advisor to the Reeves-Reed Arboretum director Lu Rose will demonstrate how to use fresh cashews, a product of the rain forest, to make a butter-brittle — with samples to taste and take home.

Participants may also view the rain forest color photography exhibit which continues through Feb. 23. A final program emphasizing tropical flora and fauna features a bus trip in April to New York City's rain forests.

Two luxury-coach trips to the Philadelphia Flower Show, March 11 and 14, are offered and additional programs includes "All About Orchids" and crafting a springtime centerpiece of fresh flowers and vegetables.

Arboretum membership provides advance notice and discounts for all adult education programs and trips. For information on fees and registration, call 273-8787 from 9 a.m. to 3 p.m. on Monday, Tuesday and Thursday; or stop by the Reeves-Reed, 165 Hobart Ave., near Rt. 24. Program brochures are available at the Summit, Millburn, Scotch Plains and Fanwood libraries.

Cantorum seeks singers

Singers in all voices are invited to join the New Jersey Schola Cantorum, which has resumed rehearsals for the spring season. A mid-April concert, to be presented at the First Methodist Church on Front Street in Plainfield, will feature the John Rutter Requiem, which has become an "instant classic" of contemporary music," according to representatives of the group. The chorus will also perform a number of a cappella Bruckner motets.

The New Jersey Schola Cantorum, which has been the recipient of numerous government and corporate grants, rehearses Tuesday evenings from 8 to 10 p.m. at the Wilson Memorial Church at the corner of Valley and Hillcrest Roads just off the Watchung Circle in Watchung. The 40-member chorus draws singers from communities in Union, Middlesex, Somerset and Morris counties.

James Little, a teacher of choral music at the Pingry School and organist/choir director for the Community Presbyterian Church in Mountaintain, is music director of the Schola Cantorum.

For further information, call chairwoman Julie McGeath at 757-3405. Formal auditions are not required for singers who wish to join the group.

Dotsy puts trust in the roof over your head

Unless he is familiar with construction, the average homeowner doesn't know too much about roofing. So, when people need a new roof, they look for someone they can trust.

Dotsy Lou Roofing of Union is a 7-year-old business that has built its name on trust, and has done so through providing its customers with workmanship and materials that are literally unmatched in quality, price and pride.

According to Mike Postal, the owner and founder of Dotsy Lou Roofing, experience and expertise is what has made his business a success over the years.

"I started out in the roofing business 16 years ago with my grandfather," says Postal. "He taught me the trade and I've made it my career ever since."

According to Postal, Dotsy Lou Roofing also specializes in siding, replacement windows, dormers and additions.

"We do all our own work," Postal says, "so there is never a middleman. That's how we keep our costs down, and that's how we stay competitive — very competitive. We save money and we pass those savings on to our customers."

"We like to keep our material costs low too. We do that by shopping around for materials. With the war going on, and the economy the way it is now, suppliers are always trying to make the sale. We take advantage of that in the interest of our customers and shop around for the best deal."

But Postal's words are modest. Dotsy Lou has never received a complaint from one of its customers. Just check with the Customers Satisfaction Department of the Better Business Bureau and see for yourself.

"We do everything the old-fashioned way," Postal says. "We don't use nail guns — everything is nailed by hand. It takes a little longer, but it saves time from going back and fixing something that wasn't done right in the beginning."

Unlike most other contractors, Dotsy Lou Roofing is busy all year long, even during the typically "slow months" of winter. That's why customers usually leave a message with the company's answering service, and a prompt return call is promised.

For a new roof, new siding, new windows or a new addition, call Dotsy Lou Roofing at 688-2188 and leave your worries behind.
