County under early deadline to buy leased quarry parcel

By David Wise
Staff Writer

Union County is operating under a March 1 deadline to buy the 93-acre parcel in Springfield's Houdaille Quarry for $4.5 million. The land is currently leased — for virtually no money — to the county, which operates a leaf-composting facility on the property.

About two weeks ago, the state contacted Union County and requested that county officials purchase the 93-acre parcel before March 1, or face the possibility of having the land placed at public auction. The state, through a letter written by Lester Finch, manager of the state Department of Transportation's bureau of property and relocation, said his department was experiencing "significant pressure" from the Federal Highway Administration to receive compensation for the money that federal agency used to initially acquire the $8 million Houdaille Quarry.

The state bought the 163-acre site from Houdaille Quarry Co. in 1981, with funds appropriated mainly from the Federal Highway Administration, to acquire land to construct a portion of Route 78. In order to recoup these highway funds, the federal government is consequently pressuring the state to sell the 93-acres in Houdaille Quarry, still under $1 per year lease to Union County.

Ninety-three acres of Houdaille Quarry has remained under state ownership since 1981, while a 70-acre parcel was transferred to the county in the mid-1980s in a land swap that gave the state a portion of the Watchung Reservation, which later formed a 5.5-mile "missing link" section of Route 78.

At least 50 of the 93 acres leased to the county — with the option to buy — have been used for leaf composting. For two years now, 17 communities, including Springfield, Mountainside, and Berkeley Heights, have used the site as a dumping ground for collected leaves, thus saving each municipality thousands of dollars while raising over $300,000 for the county. Each town pays Union County approximately $3.75 for each cubic yard of leaves dumped at the $2 million composting facility.

Proposals to turn the quarry into a commercial venture have often been met with vocal opposition, most notably from groups like the Springfield/Summit Citizens Organization to Protect the Environment, headed by its chairwoman, Marilyn Schneider.

The potential sale of the 93-acre parcel began generating more controversy last week, as Assemblywoman Maureen Ogden, R-Essex/Union, Schneider, and others, feared the move was being prompted by a private developer interested in constructing a business on the land. Other officials, like Springfield Committee-man Jeffrey Katz, said the threat to place the land at public auction is actually an attempt to close either the state or federal budget.

The biggest worry officials have now is getting the March 1 deadline extended and raising the money to purchase the land. While some Union County freeholders remarked, immediately following the DOT's sale offer, that the $4.5-million asking price is too steep, board members now appear ready to acquire the property, possibly at the requested amount.

Freeholder Elmer Erl said Monday, "I think it's a piece of property that we should acquire," adding, "but I don't think we'll be able to negotiate on the price."

Erl is correct, in view of statements made by DOT spokesman Randy Linthorst, who was quoted as saying the state would not accept anything less than what was originally paid to acquire the land. Based upon an appraisal conducted last year, the land is actually worth $20 million, Linthorst said. The state says it is offering the $4.5 million parcel far below its fair market value price.

The county would like to purchase the land at a cost lower than the $4.5 million — a price some local officials say is inflated — because the land offers a great social and environmental value to Union County.

Regional trustees sought for education foundation

By Suzette Stalker
Staff Writer

Dr. Donald Merachnik, superintendent of schools for Union County Regional High School District 1, met with several area residents recently at Jonathan Dayton Regional High School in Springfield regarding a proposed Education Foundation for the district.

The Regional District includes Jonathan Dayton, David Brearley Regional High School in Kenilworth, Arthur L. Johnson Regional High School in Clark and Governor Livingston Regional High School in Berkeley Heights.

The purpose of the Education Foundation, which would be independent from the Regional District Board of Education, would be to raise funds from corporate or private sources to be used for education programs not covered under the board's annual budget.

A board of trustees would be required to oversee the foundation, according to Merachnik, with one or two individuals representing each of the six district communities. These communities include Kenilworth, Springfield, Mountainside, Clark, Garwood and Berkeley Heights.

Several people have already expressed interest in serving as trustees for the foundation, but district officials emphasized during Monday's meeting that additional volunteers will be needed in order to get the foundation off the ground by the beginning of the 1991-92 school year.

"The Board of Education is interested in exploring the idea of an education foundation, which would have a great deal of flexibility and leeway that a board of education doesn't have," Merachnik remarked. "However, unless you have someone representing each one of our six communities, we can't have a regional education foundation."

"We're essentially appealing to two groups of people," added district spokesman Thomas Long, "residents in general, because the schools belong to the residents, and individuals who may not live in the district but who own businesses here or work for major corporations locally."

Three trustee candidates attended the meeting with Merachnik and Long at Jonathan Dayton, including Clark attorney Stan Fink and Berkeley Heights residents Alan Schwarz and Tony Fernandez. Fink is a member of the Regional District Business Education Advisory Council.

Schwarz, who is active in the Governor Livingston PTA, stressed that the proposed foundation would provide supplemental funding for district education, noting that "there were some things which we were able to offer in 1980 but which we will not be able to offer in 1992."

A banker, Fernandez explained that he was motivated to become involved in plans for a foundation out of concern for his son, who will be attending high school next year. He said he wanted to "do his part" to enhance the quality of education offered to students at the four regional high schools.

The prospective trustees agreed that the potential impact of the Quality Education Act of 1990, which calls for a reduction in state aid to New Jersey school districts between 1992 and 1996, could make the services of an education foundation especially vital to the Regional District.

Anyone interested in serving as a trustee for the Regional District Education Foundation can call Long at 376-6300, Ext. 328.

School race draws many candidates

By David Wise
Staff Writer

The upcoming Springfield school board election may be one of the most highly contested races in recent memory, judging from the number of candidates who have filed petitions so far, in addition to the two board members who are campaigning for re-election.

With the March 7 filing deadline fast approaching, School Superintendent Gary Friedland reports that at least eight people have requested nomination forms, greater than any amount he has seen since assuming his administrative post in 1976. When these petitions are completed and returned, the election ballot will be further crowded with at least two other candidates, board members Ruth Brinen and Ned Sambur, who are seeking additional terms. The other board seat due to expire in April is held by board President Myrna Wasserman who, thus far, has not decided whether to run for re-election.

As time draws closer to the April 30 school election, postponed by the state legislature, the candidates will have the opportunity to publicly state their qualifications and reasons for wanting to serve on the school board. Catherine Filepp, a part-time consultant with Citibank in New York, is campaigning for a board seat for the first time. A Springfield resident since 1983, Filepp is married with three children, one of whom, a 7-year-old, attends James Caldwell School. The working mother keeps a busy schedule taking care of her two pre-school-age children, while employed in the customer relations division of Citibank.

She holds an MBA in marketing from Rutgers and has held a number of executive positions with well-respected financing institutions like Merrill Lynch. Filepp possesses a Series 7 brokerage license and has sold securities and performed consulting work in areas of capital fundraising.

The Rhode Island native says she is running for the purposes of "refining and strengthening the elementary and junior high schools" in the Springfield district, as opposed to campaigning against the board members who are currently seeking re-election.

Filepp, in fact, thinks very highly of the Springfield Public School System, particularly after she "sat in on the classrooms" to fully assess the quality of education available to students in town. Despite some negative comments she heard about Springfield Public Schools prior to settling in the community, Filepp discovered that local teachers "do more than the bare minimum."

Problems pertaining to academic deficiencies, Filepp later learned, are no longer the overriding worries of Springfield school officials.

The paramount concern of the school district, says Filepp, is how to retract the new Quality Education Act that was recently signed into law. She believes the new school aid package, which proposes to redistribute money from property-rich suburban areas to poor urban schools, "will do a lot of harm to the school district."

Already the working mother has participated in a letter-writing campaign, directed at local congressmen and legislators, for the sake of having the new school funding law repealed. And she is not happy — "I'm a little upset" — that the state legislature is in the process of rechanneling millions of school aid dollars toward property tax relief.

Filepp feels this tax relief plan, drafted in an attempt to redistribute state revenue, only compounds the problem, originally caused by QEA through the expansion of a wasteful bureaucracy.

Election postponed; aid figures due

By Suzette Stalker
Managing Editor

The Board of Education of Union County Regional High School District 1 received word from the state Department of Education last week that the date for New Jersey school elections has been extended from April 2 to April 30 while the state attempts to determine state aid figures for the 1991-92 school year.

The Regional District includes Jonathan Dayton Regional High School in Springfield, David Brearley Regional High School in Kenilworth, Arthur L. Johnson Regional High School in Clark and Governor Livingston Regional High School in Berkeley Heights.

The state has delayed release of state aid figures to New Jersey school districts while a special commission appointed by Governor James Florio has been studying the proposed impact of the Quality Education Act of 1990, which would siphon aid to local school districts between 1992 and 1996.

A controversy arose last July after Florio signed the QEA, which also calls for school districts to assume teacher pension and Social Security costs. The governing bodies of affected communities fear they will have to raise municipal taxes to compensate for the loss in state aid.

The Regional Board has traditionally completed its tentative school budget by the third week in December, and submitted that budget to the office of the Union County superintendent of schools by January. The board typically held its public hearing on the budget at its first meeting in March.

The state was scheduled to release aid figures to school districts by Jan. 15. That date was later extended to Feb. 1 and has now been set for March 15. School districts have been stymied in their attempts to develop budgets for 1991-92 without knowing the amount of state aid they will be receiving.

"I think a lot of people are getting frustrated by the delay," remarked Regional District spokesman Thomas Long on Monday. "The board suspended formulation of its budget for 1991-92 back in December and agreed to begin again after state aid figures were received, but so far we haven't gotten them."

County must buy the quarry parcel

land-use policy, must convey the land to Union County at below fair market value, if the property provides a significant social utility. This is a fact county officials are trying to exploit in order to reduce the sale price.

Union County, having invested in the successful leaf composting facility on the quarry site, is reluctant to have the property placed at public auction. Ertl calls the 93-acre parcel a "valuable piece of property" and "necessary" to maintain operation of the Union County Conservation Center, the program which includes leaf composting.

Ertl said "the county will move forward in that direction" and "people were instructed to see if the March 1 deadline can be delayed." The freeholder explained that the only pertinent question now is "how we are going to pay for it" — whether the funds will be raised through financing such as bond issues. He said the county's finance department is currently at work on the matter.

Schneider, who remains active on issues involving the quarry, has been in constant contact with officials, such as Freeholder Alan Augustine, to resolve the dilemma. The SCOPE chairwoman attended the Feb. 14 Union County Freeholders Board meeting where she "pleaded and urged freeholders not to let this land slip through our fingers." During the meeting, however, the freeholders avoided giving a concrete course of action regarding the proposed sale. Schneider said, although they expressed general support for acquiring the parcel.

Furthermore, she spoke to Assemblywoman Ogden about the March 1 deadline, and the state official remarked that "it's not a hard and fast date." Schneider said Ogden, who is very much in favor of preserving New Jersey's scarce open spaces, mentioned that money is available to Union County through a recently approved $300 million bond issue earmarked for conservation.

On the local level, Mayor Marc Marshall has been instrumental in securing support from Congressman Matthew Rinaldo, R-7, whom he met during the Lincoln Day Dinner held at the Westwood restaurant in Garwood. A "very receptive" Rinaldo said he would discuss the situation with Senators Bill Bradley and Frank Lautenberg, both of whom have Washington contacts capable of negotiating a deal for the county, according to Marshall.

Since time is of the essence with the imposition of a March 1 deadline, state and county officials "have to stop the clock," declared Marshall. "The ball is in the freeholders' court."

For his part, the mayor has been "very active on the phones, contacting people to voice my concerns...the municipality can only lend support. Realistically, we can't do anything else."

Thus far, Marshall said, most politicians — including state Senators Don DiFrancesco and Lou Bassano, as well as Assemblymen Chuck Hardwick and Bob Franks — have been in favor of acquiring the property.

"I have been assured by all those concerned with this problem, that they will do everything that they can to successfully resolve this matter," he said.

Dayton honor student starts tutorial

By David Wise
Staff Writer

Usually when a tutoring program is started in school, it is implemented by faculty members rather than students. At Jonathan Dayton Regional High School, the reverse is true — a new tutoring program has begun under the auspices of one student, Michelle Weinberg, a senior and president of the student council.

Enrolled in Dayton's Gifted and Talented program, Weinberg has developed a tutorial, as part of her class project, designed to help students at Florence M. Gaudineer School in various subjects, such as math, science, social studies, language arts, spelling, and reading comprehension. This tutorial, which started this week and is taught by at least 20 Dayton students, is offered to all Gaudineer students, from grades 5 through 8.

Weinberg originated the program after a year of research that included reading many news articles on the subject of tutoring, a topic she finds interesting. The information gleaned from these local and national news items gave Weinberg ideas about how to create a tutorial, and she devised one to be administered specifically by students.

To the best of her knowledge, there is no similar program undertaken entirely by high school students in the country. Weinberg's unique program has received support from top administrators of both Dayton and Gaudineer, including the two respective principals, Judith Wickline and Kenneth Bernabe.

"We received overwhelming response from Dayton and Gaudineer," says Weinberg, who was given a list of 20 Gaudineer students requesting a tutor, provided by the middle school's guidance counselor, Lucille Weiss.

"The schools are backing me up," she adds. "It means a lot to me, their support."

The hourlong tutoring sessions are scheduled three days a week, starting immediately after school, inside the Springfield Public Library. The student tutors are taught within one hour by Weinberg herself, using a 10-page instruction packet that she wrote. Inside this manual, the Dayton National Honor Society member spells out the many objectives her program is designed to achieve, some of which include building self-confidence, better study techniques and improving communication skills.

While still in its early stages, there is anticipation that Weinberg's program will be successful in aiding Gaudineer students experiencing academic difficulties, perhaps on levels not possible with adult tutors. Every day more Dayton students are applying for tutorial positions, and Weinberg is wondering whether the program will be expanded to offer more remedial sessions for Gaudineer students each week.

Board election delayed

has also extended to March 7 the deadline for candidates for the Regional Board of Education to file their nominating petitions with the office of Regional Board Secretary Harold R. Burdge. The original filing deadline was Feb. 7 at 4 p.m.

Three board seats will become available this year, including those of Board President Natalie Waldt of Springfield, Board Vice President David Hart of Mountainside and board member Joan Toth of Garwood. All three board vacancies are for full, three-year terms.

Waldt and Toth have both already filed petitions, while Hart has opted not to run for re-election. Regional Superintendent Dr. Donald Merachnik's office has confirmed.

First elected to the Regional Board in 1967, Waldt will be completing her eighth term this year. She has, along with Hart, served as board liaison to both the Union County School Boards Association and the New Jersey School Boards Association, according to Long.

A school administrator for many years, Hart was previously principal of Carl H. Kumpf and Charles Brewer schools in Clark.

Candidates filing a nominating petition for a seat on the Regional Board of Education must meet the following criteria: he or she must be a citizen of the United States, at least 18 years of age and have the ability to read and write.

Candidates must also be a resident of the municipality from which they are to be elected for at least one year preceding the date of the election, as well as being a registered voter in the Regional District.

Finally, those filing nominating petitions must not be directly or indirectly interested in any contact with or any claim against the Regional Board of Education, and must not be disqualified as a voter.

Girl Scouts to attend spring camp

Washington Rock Girl Scout Council, which includes Girl Scout troops in Springfield, Mountainside and Kenilworth, has announced the creation of special Vacation Camp for girls which is designed to coincide with spring vacation from school.

Vacation Camp, April 1-6, will utilize the seven modern buildings at Camp Hoover, Middleville, overlooking Swartswood Lake. Both Girl Scout members and non-members in grades 1-9 can attend the overnight camp program.

Experienced adults will supervise the girls, who will be divided by age in the five large heated chalets equipped with sleeping accommodations and kitchen and bathroom facilities. Two large program buildings will provide ample space for varied indoor activities.

"The Vacation Camp program will offer a variety of activities including hiking, gymnastics, crafts, sports, campfires and horseback riding," remarked Camp Administrator Peggy Mellors.

Two workshops will be offered each morning from the five areas of Girl Scouting: Arts; People; Out-of-Doors; Today and Tomorrow and Well Being.

The afternoon program will include such activities as finding animal tracks along the camp trails; learning how to use a compass or creating a favorite craft project at Creation Studios. Evenings will include square dancing, a talent show and sing-alongs.

Teenage counselors will also be on hand to assist in the program. Girls in grades 10-12 may apply to be a volunteer apprentice counselor.

Washington Rock Girl Scout Council has also launched its 1991 Annual Giving Campaign to raise funds for local Girl Scout programs. Tax deductible contributions to Washington Rock Girl Scout Council help organize troops, train leaders, provide camping experiences and many special events for local girls.

Washington Rock Girl Scout Council serves more than 7,000 girls in 508 active troops. The council also includes 2,093 volunteers who provide leadership and learning opportunities to girls ages 5 through 17.

Washington Rock Girl Scout Council helps families become more involved in their daughters' lives; reaches out to girls in need; expands learning opportunities for girls and is committed to community service for all ages.

The council also provides camping opportunities at Camp Hoover, its year-round outdoor center in Sussex County, and offers programs dealing with contemporary issues.

The goals of Girl Scouting are to help girls develop values and self-confidence, with the emphasis on growth and self-awareness.

If anyone is interested in learning more about Vacation Camp or the other programs and goals of the Washington Rock Girl Scout Council, one can call the council at 232-3236.

This evaluation will determine proper positioning in the chair to relieve pressure while promoting skin integrity.

World issues to be aired

A program titled "Children At Risk," a special in the series "Global Problem; Local Action," will be shown on Communities on Cable, Inc. TV 32 on Feb. 23 at 6:35 p.m. and Feb. 27 at 6:05 p.m. The channel reaches subscribers in Springfield, Summit, Berkeley Heights, Millburn and New Providence.

In this program, host Esther Greenberg will discuss, with Dr. Stefan Stenchyshyn, a specialist in maternal fetal medicine, who these children at risk are.

Another program in the series, called "An Environmental Crisis At Home And Abroad," is currently being shown on TV 36 on Tuesdays at 6 p.m. and Thursdays at 8:30 p.m. Liz Price is the host of this program.

The program features Mountainside resident Dr. Christine Durbak, chairperson of World Information Transfer; Steve Madonna, the only environmental prosecutor in the United States; and Jerry Bello, an environmental private consultant.

Madonna calls the crisis an appeal for action on the part of both government and individuals, and Bello supports this position. Durbak talks about efforts on the part of the United Nations to implement laws similar to the ones passed in the United States.

They also talk about the environmental crisis in the Persian Gulf. Both "Children At Risk" and "Environmental Crisis At Home And Abroad" were taped in the studio of TV 36 in Summit and were produced by Greenberg and Price.

THE WHOLE TOOTH

A Blow to the Mouth

Imagine a bad scene. Your young son is attacked by the school bully and in the ensuing fracas has one of his front teeth knocked out.

Let's hope such an incident never happens. But the possibility of losing a tooth by some kind of injury is not unlikely. Children fall off bicycles and are hit in the face with baseballs all the time. Teeth don't take kindly to that kind of treatment.

Fortunately, if an accident happens, the result need not be the permanent loss of the tooth. Your dentist can handle an emergency like this -- if you act promptly.

You have a vital part to play in this rescue operation. Wrap the dislodged tooth in a wet cloth. Better yet, put it in a glass of salt water. The idea is to keep the tooth "alive" until it is in the dentist's hands.

Very important -- don't wash off the tooth or clean it in any way. You may think you're removing "dirt" when in fact you could be washing off live tissue. As in surgical grafts generally, living tissue helps assure the success of restoring the tooth to its proper place.

The next thing is to bring your child to the dentist. Don't delay. Time is of the essence. Experience has shown that between thirty minutes and an hour is the period when a tooth replant has the best chance of being successful.

Don't panic. Most of all, in your anxiety don't forget that all important tooth.

Neurology unit debuts

The new neurosciences center at Overlook Hospital in Summit, located on the ninth floor of the hospital, is a multifaceted team program clustering the expertise of neurologists, neurosurgeons, radiologists, neuroscience nurses and ancillary staff.

It is staffed by nurses specially trained to provide care for patients with neurological and neurosurgical needs. Counseling and support groups conducted by social workers are available to patients and families.

As part of the continuity of care, patient education is provided by the nursing staff and includes the resources of a specialized library of neurological medication information for patients.

The neurosciences team approach, which integrates medical, nursing and ancillary services and is enhanced by sophisticated equipment, maximizes patients' rehabilitation while decreasing the length of a patient's hospital stay.

The hospital's new pediatric unit is specifically designed to meet the spectrum of needs for families with youngsters of varying ages and stages of illness.

Adolescents are grouped with their peers in a specially designated Young Adult section. Critically ill youngsters are intensively monitored in a four-bed unit where telemetry screens supply continuous information.

A short-stay observation section permits the necessary monitoring to determine if a youngster needs hospital-based treatment or is well enough to be cared for at home. Large rooms and daybeds accommodate a parent sleep-over.

County layoffs issued

By Tom Canavan
Editor

In a move to reorganize and shrink the size of county government in order to absorb a $12 million deficit, Union County issued more than 200 layoff notices to its employees.

The layoff notices were distributed Friday, according to Peggy Woliansky, the county's media liaison, and will take effect April 1.

Because of budget constraints and changes in the cap law, she said, Union County is attempting to reduce its number of code departments from 11 to six and a law department, and in the process, is forced to issue the notices.

The positions that are targeted are classified as middle- and upper-management positions. However, under civil service guidelines, civil service employees in high level positions who receive a layoff notice can "bump" another employee who is lower on the department's roster, she said. Hence, employees who do not receive notices also can face layoffs.

In the meantime, the reorganization committee of the Union County Board of Chosen Freeholders has been meeting with County Manager Ann Baran in an effort to find ways to cut costs in other areas of government to reduce the number of layoffs.

In fact, the committee is meeting tonight and may act on an ordinance that reorganizes government and outlines its composition, Woliansky said.

The six departments, following the reorganization, will include a Finance Department; Public Safety Department, which will include Corrections; Department of Administrative Services, which will comprise central services and personnel; Human Services Department, which comprises welfare and social and senior services; Reynold's Specialized Hospital; and a department that is a combination of government property, parks and recreation, public works and engineering.

The county is trying to target "middle- and upper-management instead of front-line type people" such as laborers, said Freeholder Chairman James Connelly Welsh.

Welsh cited the nation's recession and said that during periods of this kind, enrollment at county colleges increases, as does the usage of the county's parks. "Front-line" people then play a more active role.

But, "if we can't effectuate savings in other areas of spending, we will have to go with the layoffs. If we can effectuate savings in other areas, it will minimize the number of layoffs," he said.

Welsh said that because of the state's cap law, which prohibits "runaway" spending, the county "was already in a hole of almost $12 million" on Jan. 1. The plan to reorganize government, he said, is one way to recoup that loss. "When you don't have the money, you have to cut back. There's no question that county government has to be scaled back in certain areas."

While he called the situation "a severe problem," Welsh said the reorganization, or downsizing, of government will result "in a benefit to the taxpayer. If the $12 million can be absorbed into the existing budget, Union County's tax increase will be only 1 percent."

He said that on a county level, the cap law, which is the purpose of the reorganization, seeks to eliminate runaway spending in government.

Welsh called the reorganization preparation a "minute-by-minute process which has been occurring for a number of months."

Because the state Personnel Department requires 30-day notice of the elimination of civil service positions, and then requires employers to provide 45-day notice to the employees, the process has been "continuously ongoing."

Woliansky said Union County already received approval for its preliminary plan in January. The notices that will be distributed Friday will put employees on a 45-day notice — or a layoff date of April 1.

Once the reorganization plan is in place, the county will return to the Personnel Department.

While no additional layoff notices are foreseen following those that are to be distributed Friday, Woliansky said that the county may be able to absorb some of the money through cost-cutting measures and "perhaps no layoffs will occur."

Some of those measures include meetings between the county and the unions, the de-privatization of services, and eliminating vacant positions.

At the library

The Adult Department of the Springfield Public Library, 66 Mountain Ave., Springfield, has assembled a display of its many books on the Middle East, complete with maps, and has also purchased extra copies of books that are currently in high demand.

Included in the display are books which explore individual countries in the beleaguered area, including Syria, Israel, Lebanon, Iraq and Jordan, among others.

The volumes, part of the Library of Congress area handbook program, provide in-depth information on the history of a specific country, as well as that nation's current economic, social and political climate.

In addition, there is a critically acclaimed book by Thomas Friedman, "From Beirut to Jerusalem," which attempts to legitimize the Palestinian question.

"Saddam Hussein and the Crisis in the Gulf," by Judith Miller and Laurie Myrolo, a recent New York Times release, gives a thorough explanation of Saddam Hussein's rise to power and his conversion of Iraq into the bizarre police-state it has become.

It also discusses the invasion of Kuwait and the threat it poses to world peace.

Jean P. Sasson's "The Rape of Kuwait" gives several personal accounts of how the Kuwaiti people are coping with the brutality of the Iraqi invasion.

In "The Prize," author Daniel Yergin describes the far-reaching impact of oil on the course of world history and current events, and conjectures about its future influence on both politics and the environment.

Probably the most emotional account of the Middle East is Betty Mahmood's "Not Without My Daughter." A recently released film, it is a mother's horrifying account of her struggle to escape from Iran and the prison her husband's family created for her.

For further information, one can call 376-4930.

Preserve the quarry

Ninety-three acres of Houdaille Quarry in Springfield may not sound like a big deal, but if it's sold to private developers at public auction, the land could turn into just that — a big deal.

A big deal to the private investor who, during a real estate slump, successfully procures the largest piece of undeveloped property in Union County at a rock bottom price, and later turns it into a profitable business venture.

That's probably what will happen if the 93 acres are placed at public auction. Some corporate fat cat will seize a golden opportunity, take the dirt-cheap land and bulldoze all of the natural beauty and wildlife within it, all in the name of progress.

The woods, which help to replenish the oxygen supply in this densely populated and traffic congested county, will be leveled to make way for towers of steel and glass, most likely.

And who will be the big losers in this game of high-rollers and high-finance? Union taxpayers, of course.

Their tax money contributed to the $8 million purchase of Houdaille Quarry in the first place, and now the federal government is demanding they cough up another $4.5 million to boot by March 1.

Right now, the state is saying the $4.5 million sale price is equitable, actually far below the land's fair market value of $20 million — appraised last year — according to state officials.

This deal, however, is not fair to Union County residents who again will surrender acres of scarce land — filled with deer, fox, birds and other wild creatures — just so an expansionistic investor can stake his claim, to the detriment of thousands of Union County taxpayers.

The county needs the 93-acre parcel, not to stifle commerce, but to preserve the delicate balance in which we find our environment, already seriously damaged by water and air pollution.

Scientists are theorizing that the Earth's climate is getting slightly warmer each year, with the worldwide destruction of woodlands, a development now called the "greenhouse effect" or "global warming."

Much of Union County's unspoiled and undeveloped property was handed over to the state to construct Route 78, ultimately considered a boondoggle to some, an ecological disaster to others.

Union County residents deserve a better deal: They should have the 93-acre Houdaille parcel with no strings attached. Neither the federal government nor the state, as a matter of principle, should be permitted to sell the Union County property that's needed for open spaces, merely to close a budget deficit.

The 93-acre parcel is Union County's last frontier, after which there will never be another. And once a bit of nature is dismantled, it can never be returned to its original state. This is why the land must be conveyed to Union County in perpetuity, so it can be protected and preserved for future generations.

Caveat emptor

In times of war, it is not uncommon for citizens to pull together and rally behind their country. Since the United States has many service people in the Persian Gulf, many Americans have decided to show their support in a visual way — with flags and yellow ribbons.

As difficult as it may be for people to comprehend, not everyone thinks war is a somber occasion. Some people view it another way: as an opportunity to make a quick buck off other people's pain and suffering.

It's easy to be overwhelmed by flashy merchandise, especially items that appeal to our sense of national pride. But keep in mind that many merchants are doing nothing but selling the public back its own reflected patriotism. Instead of lining the pocket of the rich, if you want to show how much you love the troops and America, find a worthwhile charity and make a donation. You'll be glad you did.

State Of The State

By Gov. Jim Florio

It's starting to be clear that 1991 isn't going to be a routine year. Our country is at war. And we're in a national recession. New Jersey can't help but be affected by these developments. But we shouldn't let pessimism cloud our vision of the future. There is a lot happening in New Jersey that should make us feel optimistic about what lies in store for us and our children.

First of all, we in New Jersey have a firm foundation for growth.

Our economy is diversified. We've got the know-how to build parts of the Patriot Missile and the muscle to build new highways and airports.

We're the strongest state in the region. Our unemployment rate continues to be below the national average. A record number of firms last year left New York City for New Jersey. And our Wall Street credit rating is number one in the nation.

And this is the year we'll start getting the dividends from investments we began making last year — investments that will mean jobs today and a future of opportunity for our children.

That's the promise we've made to the people of this state. And, 1991 is all about keeping promises.

You'll be able to keep track of how well we're doing at keeping our promises. Mark these dates on your calendar.

On March 17, we keep the promise of clean water. That's the date when the long-time practice of dumping sludge in our ocean will finally come to an end.

Last year, we had great success at keeping our beaches clean. Despite New Jersey's extremely high clean water standards — the toughest in the

in our state's history. It also provides increased aid to local and county governments to help them pay for schools and social services that otherwise would be paid by local homeowners' property taxes.

There are likely to be some changes as people all across this state debate what should be in our budget. But whatever the details of the final budget happen to be, I'm confident it will keep New Jersey's future secure and keep the promise we made last year that no matter what happened to the national economy, we wouldn't raise taxes again.

When that final budget is approved, we'll publish a concise, easy-to-follow "People's Budget." It will contain information about how the state gets money and where those taxpayer dollars are spent. People want information so they can participate in the debate about New Jersey's future. The "People's Budget" will be something to which people can refer for the entire budget year.

Another important date is July 31. We're proposing that by that day you'll receive your homestead rebate checks.

This is the year that the state's largest-ever property tax relief program goes into effect. Under this new program the most money — up to $500 — goes to the middle class families who need it the most. For 1 million homeowners, this year's rebates will add up to more than they received under the old system of rebates and income tax deductions.

This year is also the first time that tenants can get as much as homeowners.

I've submitted my proposed budget to the Legislature. It's the property tax relief budget. It represents a real break from our past patterns of spending. Direct aid to people is up by close to $2 billion. Money spent on state bureaucracy is down by $130 million.

This budget proposal fully funds the largest property tax relief program

And those are not the only promises we're going to keep this year. Our budget proposal calls for a renewed commitment to our state's commuters by not increasing NJ Transit bus and rail fares. We're going to keep our commitment to our young people by fully funding the largest school aid package in our state's history. And we're going to help college students by offering more for tuition assistance.

And we won't forget that we're committed to making government smaller. We've already proposed eliminating three departments in state government and combining scores of agencies and divisions that do the same thing.

By taking these steps we will save taxpayers hundreds of millions of dollars. And by getting rid of the waste and duplication that we all know is there, we'll go a long way toward making our state work better.

The people of New Jersey have made it clear that when it comes to government, "Smaller is better."

It's time for those in government to start saying, "We hear you. And, we're acting."

I'm optimistic that this year we will do the things we need to do, so that when the thousands of fighting men and women from New Jersey come home again, they'll find a secure state filled with opportunity. Because as they do their job overseas, we're getting ready at home by sounding a battle cry of our own: "New Jersey works."

Exam needed of Social Security manpower

Report From Washington

By Matt Rinaldo

The Social Security system is in good financial shape with surpluses piling up for future generations. Conservative estimates are that the system will have some $400 billion in surpluses by 1993, and that it will grow exponentially to $2.5 trillion in 2005 and to $12 trillion in the 2020s. At that time the fund, which is restricted by law to purchase Treasury securities, will own the entire national debt and may even have to seek new avenues of investment.

Administrative costs of the system have remained modest. But simply piling up huge surpluses for future retirees will not ensure public confidence in the system. The Social Security Administration needs to restore its image as a service center for 39 million Americans. Having someone answer the phone promptly and giving the elderly and disabled the time to explain their problems is vital to its mission of serving the public.

Over the past six years, the Social Security Administration has reduced the number of employees by 17,000. It has left local field offices badly understaffed and unable to cope with the flood of inquiries either by telephone or in person.

The Elizabeth office, once one of the most efficient in New Jersey, has seen its staff cut from 80 employees to 43, while the caseload has continued to rise. Once able to take calls for assistance directly, callers are now automatically switched to the national toll-free hotline or to one of three telephone service centers in Lodi, Parlin or Jersey City which are part of the busy New York-New Jersey area.

The Social Security Administration established the toll-free 1-800-2345-SSA number to save on they received an overpayment, are not satisfied by calling a toll-free number. They want a trained claims representative to review their case and to explain the circumstances in person.

That is why I am fighting in Capitol Hill to protect the Social Security system from people who want to cut every nickel and dime out of it. For instance, Congress last year voted to protect administrative funds from budget cuts, but the Office of Management and Budget wants to pare them back. I am leading a bipartisan effort in Congress to protect those funds from budget-cutters and assure that the system serves all beneficiaries.

Waiting for a lost Social Security check to turn up in the mail, or to have an appeal quickly resolved, can be traumatic for many Social Security recipients who depend on that monthly check to cover their rent, utilities, food and medicine. For most elderly and many disabled people, it is their only source of income. While the toll-free network is helpful, it is not an adequate substitute for the thousands of claims examiners whose jobs have gone unfilled.

I am urging the House Ways and Means Subcommittee on Social Security to review the manpower needs of the Social Security Administration and to learn if the toll-free network is in need of more help.

Rep. Matt Rinaldo is the congressman representing New Jersey's 7th District, which includes Springfield.

Beneficiaries must report change

To the Editor: Social Security and Supplemental Security Income beneficiaries must report any change in mailing address or risk having their checks suspended. This is especially true of those who use direct deposit, because they are not using a mailing address to receive monthly checks. However, notices of changes and reminders of reporting requirements cannot be sent to a bank, so having a correct mailing address on file is extremely important.

In addition, in January of each year, Social Security sends each beneficiary a Form SSA-1099, the Social Security Benefit Statement. If the U.S. Postal Service returns a Form 1099 as undeliverable, that person's benefit may be suspended for lack of a good address, even if the beneficiary is using direct deposit.

For more information about Social Security, contact the Elizabeth Social Security office at 24-52 Rahway Ave., Elizabeth, or call 1-800-234-5772. George W. Dearness, District Manager Social Security Administration Elizabeth

Scouts reflect on their world

The Girl Scouts of America will spend tomorrow, which has been designated as Thinking Day, as a special time for contemplation and an opportunity to take a worldwide view beyond their local programs and activities.

Girl Scout troops in Springfield, Mountainside, Kenilworth and Roselle Park belong to the Washington Rock Girl Scout Council.

The Girl Scouts is an organization that encourages girls "to do things," though many people are only familiar with such Girl Scout activities as hiking, camping, swimming, or selling cookies.

The Girl Scouts are expected to give thought tomorrow to the goals they share with members of the worldwide Girl Scout/Girl Guide community. Tomorrow, Girl Scouts will change their focus from near to far, from here to there, to recognize their alliance with the 8 million Girl Guides and Girl Scouts in 112 countries around the world.

In 1988, Thinking Day was dedicated to thoughts of peace — a commitment made by the World Association of Girl Guides and Girl Scout Thinking Days.

The Springfield Girl Scouts are dedicating the 1991 Thinking Day to peace in the Middle East, and the safety of all Americans serving over there.

This is in addition to other meaningful topics for all people on the earth — topics such as a worldwide good health, an end to world hunger, literacy for all and the preservation of the world's natural resources.

The mission of the Girl Scout/Girl Guide Movement is to give each girl a sense of her own personal inner strength. Thinking Day helps Girl Scouts to focus that strength outside themselves for the good of people everywhere.

Springfield realtor honored by peers

Lezlie K. Winter of Springfield was honored as Realtor of the Year during the recent Orange-Maplewood Board of Realtors' 80th annual dinner-dance. The award is conferred upon the realtor who, in the opinion of board members, has made an outstanding contribution to the betterment of her community, her fellow realtors and her chosen profession.

Board president Gloria W. Costello of Raymond Connolly Realtors, Millburn, praised Winter for her contributions.

"Lezlie has been a highly positive force on behalf of the board for many years. She has chaired or served on such committees as multiple listing, by-laws, equal opportunity, house and grounds, membership, budget and finance and advanced planning.

"Lezlie was one of the first Cuyahoga Plan instructors, and her contribution to the New Jersey Association of Realtors' committees for license law and for multiple listing service has proved invaluable," Costello continued.

Winter has also been involved with local causes. She has chaired many charitable events for cancer research, and has raised thousands of dollars for the benefit of patients at the Flo Okin Clinic of the Beth Israel Medical Oncological Center in Newark. She has acted as a trustee of the religious school of Temple Beth Ahm in Springfield.

Winter expressed her gratitude for the award and her pride in being a board member. "I'm thankful to all the members of the board who have worked side-by-side with me over the years. As I watch them celebrating the board's 80th birthday tonight, I see almost a century of wisdom behind us and a vibrant, vital future ahead of us."

Winter entered real estate 14 years ago, and has been a trustee of the Orange/Maplewood board since 1984. She was named secretary in 1987, treasurer in 1988, and vice president in 1990.

Winter resides with her husband, Larry, and her two children, Brett and Jason. She is the owner of the ERA R.G. Schaffer Realty Co., Millburn.

A SPINE OUT OF BALANCE
If you're feeling out of sorts, with a vague discomfort in your back, your spine may be out of balance. Your spine serves a vital function in many ways. The spine and nervous system attached to it, in fact, have a direct effect on any of the functions of your body. It's important to keep the spine in proper balance. The spine is connected to a foundation made up of your pelvis and legs. If this foundation is well-balanced and working normally, it helps to keep your spine in balance, otherwise it can cause pain and discomfort. For example, if a house's foundation is crooked or unsteady, it will distort the walls. You'll see cracks in the plaster. Doors won't fit properly. Windows may not open. You can repair the cracked plaster and trim the doors and windows to fit again. But how long will these "cover-ups" last? Your body also needs a good foundation. If your spine is out of balance, seek the treatment you need to put it right again.

Paulsboro beats Park

By Mark Yablonsky
Sports Editor

After outlasting Brearley Regional to nail down another sectional title, the Roselle Park High wrestling team went on to lose, 42-18, to powerful Paulsboro in the Group 1 finale this past Saturday in Paulsboro.

Paulsboro, which has now won nine straight Group 1 titles, took command quickly from the start with pins at both 103 and 112 pounds, making the score 12-0. Park fought back to within a 16-12 count when it sandwiched pins by both Bob McCafferty and John Petrosky — at 119 and 130 pounds, respectively — around a defeat at the 125-pound level.

But from that point on, Paulsboro won six of the final eight bouts, with only Anthony Barra (140 pounds) and Chris Foy (189 pounds) able to gather points for Park. Also, for the first time this year, Park's two top wrestlers, 152-pounder John Ranieri and 171-pounder Dave Patterson, were defeated. Both wrestlers enter the individual post-season activity with 24-1 records and 14 pins.

Thus, the Panthers, who have now won four straight sectional titles, end the 1990-91 season with a 15-2 record. The individual competition begins tomorrow night at Millburn, the site of the District 10 tournament, and will conclude Saturday, with the top three in all weight classes advancing to regional competition the following week.

Earlier in the day, Park, which also beat Cedar Grove, 57-7, last Tuesday in the North Jersey, Group 1, Section 2 semifinals, was able to advance to the Group 1 finale by outpointing

Palisades Park, 35-30. Key wins came early in the bout from 103-pounder Mike DiMaio, who decisioned Chris Tennant, 6-2; from McCafferty, who won by technical fall at 119 pounds over Ed Giannantonio; and from Keith Appello, who decisioned Ron Shingelo, 10-9, at 125 pounds.

The biggest wins of the night, however, came from Ranieri, Patterson and Foy, all of whom pinned their opponents, enabling Park to retake the lead for keeps. Ranieri pinned Mike Ealough in 2:42, Patterson halted Richie Katz in 3:20, and Foy, who is 14-7, got the fall against Eric Zitz less than two minutes into the bout.

Comets top Panthers, 74-57

The Hillside High School boys' basketball team put all the pieces together on Saturday night and came away with a 74-57 win over sixth-seeded Roselle Park in the quarterfinal round in the Union County Tournament. Hillside, the third seed in the tournament, advanced to the semifinal round and were scheduled to meet second-seeded Linden High School at the Dunn Sports Center last night.

"I thought we played well, but we did have some lapses out there," said Hillside head coach Morris Griffin. "Roselle Park is a very smart team, and they played well. We had to play them really tough on defense."

Panther head coach Pat Lalley agreed. "Every one of our guys played as well as they could, but Hillside was the better team on Saturday night. They played strong defensively and a great game for us," Lalley said. "Scott Bermingham also played extremely well. And I was very pleased with the play of Kevin Kirby. He scored eight points. He's a freshman, so this was great experience for him."

For the Comets, Darryl Purnell was the high scorer with 30 points and 12 rebounds. Dwayne Arrington added 13 points and seven assists and also distinguished himself defensively.

"We played well as a team offensively," Griffin said. "That's something we've been working on. As long as we keep looking for each other out on the floor, we'll do alright."

The results of last night's Hillside-Linden UCT semifinal game were unavailable when this paper went to press. As for the Panthers, they play this afternoon at home against Governor Livingston. They play their first state tournament game on Saturday.

Bears lose heartbreaker, 31-29

By Bob Taylor Jr.
Sports Correspondent

The Brearley Regional High wrestling team, following its 35-30 victory over Butler in the North Jersey, Group 1, Section 2 semifinals, rolled into Roselle Park last Thursday looking for its first sectional championship. But the Bears, despite wrestling their best match all year as a team, fell one match short as the Panthers won, 31-29.

Versus Butler, the Bears used a strong comeback to offset an early Butler lead. Middleweights Mike Lynch (130 pounds) and Ron Cagno (135 pounds) gave Brearley the spark needed to send it into the finals.

The Bears then traveled down

Michigan Avenue two nights later to face rival Roselle Park. The Bears started the match off with freshman Dom Tripodi grabbing a 12-3 victory over Mike DiMaio at 103 pounds, but Park then proceeded to rattle off three consecutive victories to take a 15-4 lead.

At 130 pounds, Lynch avenged an earlier defeat when he drew with John Petrosky, 2-2. Cagno followed suit by tying Roselle Park's Pat McCafferty, 6-6. Senior captain Clint Kaminski also avenged a previous loss in defeating Anthony Barra, 1-0, at 140 pounds.

Roselle Park was victorious at 145 and 152 pounds to grab a 28-11 lead, but senior Vic Verno brought the Bears back to within nine points of Park by pinning Paul Mooney in 1:04. The fall thus gave the Bears a chance to win the match if they could win the final three bouts.

But victory for the Bears was not meant to be. At 171 pounds, in a rematch of the county finals, Park's Dave Patterson scored a controversial 3-2 victory over Bob Taylor, enabling Park to forfeit the final two bouts and still win the match, 31-29.

Brearley will look to rebound in the District 10 tournament, which will take place this weekend in Millburn.

Lady Bears win conference

By Kim Eagan
Sports Correspondent

The Lady Bears of Brearley Regional High beat New Providence in a very close game, 46-44, last Tuesday night to win the Mountain Valley Conference's Valley Division title.

Brearley was up by seven points at halftime, but fell behind by two points when New Providence outscored the Lady Bears by a 15-6 margin in the third period. However, Kim Eagan came back in the fourth quarter to score all of Brearley's 12 points, including a pair of foul shots with 17 seconds remaining that produced the final 46-44 score.

Eagan also pulled down 10 rebounds and registered seven assists.

'Dawgs batter Summit

The Jonathan Dayton Regional High swimming team completed a solid 12-4 season with a convincing 114-49 victory over Summit last Friday afternoon at the Boys and Girls Club of Union. The Springfielders won all but one event in the meet.

Rob Bierwirth, a resident of Clark, won both the 100 and 200-yard freestyle events, while Marty Visitation took the 100-backstroke and 200-individual medley, in addition to being on two winning relay teams.

SHOWING SIGNS — Chicago White Sox manager Jeff Torborg recently took time off from his winter schedule to run a baseball clinic in Linden. Torborg, whose team finished second to Oakland in the American League's Western Division last year, was the 1990 A.L. Manager of the Year.

Zawacki stands at 5-0

Union resident Tracy Zawacki, a sophomore at Wake Forest University in Winston-Salem, North Carolina, has a perfect 5-0 record in women's tennis singles matches this season. She recently tallied wins over Sanford, Alabama and Arkansas.

Her success has helped Wake Forest to a perfect 5-0 record. Zawacki is also 4-1 in doubles matches with her partner, Diane McKeon.

Senior league Scoreboard

The Union County Senior Softball League is now planning for its second season, scheduled to begin May 1.

If enough players are interested, the League is planning to expand from one six-team league for players 50 and over, to two leagues for ages 50-59 and for players 60 and over. This will help to even out the competition.

Further information is available by calling or writing to Ray Mayer, 1127 Salem Avenue, Hillside, N.J. 07205, 353-4430.

WHO'S ON FIRST?

Who's on 1st?

This week's question: Here's one that is definitely for your hockey trivia book: who scored the final goal in the old Madison Square Garden? Sorry, no clues.

Last week's answer: The NBA's all-time leader in steals is current Knick point guard Maurice Cheeks, who, entering the 1990-91 season owned the total of 2,066.

Cheeks, interestingly enough, never once led the league in steals, either in total number or in average. The closest Cheeks came to attaining this was in the 1981-82 campaign, when his 209 steals in 79 games for the Philadelphia 76ers worked out to a 2.65 per-game average. But Magic Johnson's 208 steals in 78 games for the L.A. Lakers worked out to a pace of 2.67, and Michael Ray Richardson led numerically with 213 steals for the Nets in 82 games, an average of 2.60.

The NBA, it should be noted, recognizes the leader(s) in steals by per-game average, and not by total number.

This week, Henry Hascup of Lodi submitted a correct answer. Please have your responses in our Union offices — at 1291 Stuyvesant Ave. — by no later than noon each Monday.

Lawn spinners unsafe

New Jersey Director of Consumer Affairs Patricia A. Royer, the federal Consumer Product Safety Commission (CPSC) designee for the state, recently announced the voluntary recall of the "Pro-Sport" lawn spinner game by the Service Merchandise Company, Inc. of Brentwood, Tennessee in cooperation with CPSC.

The plastic fins of the spinner discs may cause serious facial injuries if a player throws the disc with too much force, misses the intended target, and the disc strikes another player or bystander.

From 1988 until September 1990, approximately 18,000 of the lawn spinner games were sold in Service Merchandise stores nationwide. CPSC knows of 18 facial and eye injuries to young children from thrown plastic spinner discs of similar type or design, which were sold by stores other than Service Merchandise.

The "Pro-Sport" lawn spinner game consists of four colored plastic discs which are nine inches in diameter, and two stakes. The disc is flat and has seven fins with multiple holes. Players throw the spinner discs, scoring points when one of the holes of the disc drops onto the stake.

Consumers can identify lawn spinner discs purchased at Service Merchandise stores by the word "Taiwan" molded into the discs. Service Merchandise advises consumers to return the discs to a Service Merchandise store for a refund.

To report an unsafe consumer product or a product-related injury, consumers may call the CPSC's toll-free hotline at 1-800-638-2772.

Expensive services at affordable cost

People for Animals, a low-cost neuter and spay clinic located at 433 Hillside Ave., Hillside, provides expensive services at a cost that is affordable for everyone.

Carol Hilton, the assistant manager and vice president of the clinic, has been working for People for Animals for about 10 years and believes it is one of the most professional clinics of its type.

According to Hilton, the clinic has five members on its staff and is able to provide surgical services for extremely low prices. "We always urge people to spay and neuter their pets," Hilton says. "The benefits are numerous and help both the pet owners and the animals themselves. But the primary reason for neutering your pet is to help stop the growing problem of domestic animal overpopulation."

"More than 100,000 cats and dogs are destroyed in New Jersey alone every year because they are unwanted," Hilton says. "This can easily be stopped simply by making sure your pet stays healthy and is neutered at the proper time."

Currently, People for Animals performs 30 to 40 operations every day with spring, of course, being the busiest time. To date, the clinic has performed close to 17,000 operations.

"We like to call spring 'Kitten Season,'" says Hilton. "Most people don't realize that female kittens can get pregnant at five months, and that pregnant animals can be spayed safely."

Hilton said it is important not to allow kittens to become pregnant or to go through a heat cycle before getting the animal spayed.

"During the height of Kitten Season, between April and June, we get 30 to 40 calls per day from people who want help in putting pets up for adoption," says Hilton. "The survival rate for most stray cats is one out of every four. If you multiply those figures together, the numbers of animals dying are outstanding."

When someone brings a pet, or even a stray animal, into People for Animals to be spayed or neutered, the animal receives plenty of care even before the surgery is performed.

The animal receives a complete screening examination and all inoculations prior to the operation to make sure the pet is fit for the procedure, all for one low price. After qualified veterinarians determine the animal is a good candidate for surgery, the operation is permitted.

Rates for pet spaying and neutering are as follows: female cats, $35, male cats, $25; female dogs $35 to $50 and male dogs, $25 to $35.

People for Animals also has special programs for "outside cats," and outside cat owners are urged to call the clinic for more information. Residents can also call for information regarding special discount rates for residents on fixed incomes.

Dedicated to care, comfort and quality service, People for Animals is the best choice in town. The number to call for appointments is 964-6887. The office is closed on Mondays.

Tin painting exhibited

The Miller-Cory House Museum — at 614 Mountain Ave. in Westfield — will feature country tin painting on Sunday, from 2-4 p.m. Mary Ellen Halsey will demonstrate this popular form of decoration in New Jersey during the late 18th and early 19th centuries.

As time permitted, painted designs were added to household items such as coffee pots, document boxes and kitchen canisters. Halsey will explain the technique used and have a variety of examples on hand. She is currently president of the New Jersey chapter of the Historical Society of Early American Decoration.

Ellen Hess of Cranford will discuss the types of leavenings used in batters and dough at the time of the Millers and Corys. Hess is a member of the museum's cooking committee.

Life on an 18th New Jersey farm during the winter months will be highlighted by Christine Glazer of Cranford and other docents in period dress as they guide visitors through the furnished farmhouse.

The Museum Shop contains many educational items and handcrafted gifts, and will be open from 2-4 p.m. Staffed by volunteers, the museum welcomes new members. Anyone wishing further information about the museum's schedule of events or the volunteer orientation program can call the office at 232-1776.

League offering videos

The Junior League of the Oranges and Short Hills is offering to make video tapes at no charge for family and friends of members of the U.S. Armed Services in the Persian Gulf or at U.S. Military bases. Tapes will be sent directly to those individuals. This new war service effort has been initiated with the help of the Millburn-Short Hills Chapter of the American Red Cross.

League volunteers will make tapes either at the league headquarters or at the office of the American Red Cross, both located in Millburn. Family and friends can do a variety of things on the tape, including singing, reading and talking. This service is available immediately. League members also will provide free round trip transportation. Call Lise P. Chapman or Lisa Gadsen at the league at 379-9655 to set up a date and time for taping.

The league serves the communities of the Oranges, Maplewood, Livingston, Millburn, Short Hills, Union and Springfield. With more than 500 members, the league initiates and staffs community projects in the fields of health, welfare, education, ecology and cultural arts.

Craft exhibitors sought

Exhibitors are being sought by the sisterhood of Temple Sha'arey Shalom in Springfield for its 4th annual Crafts Show and Boutique, which has been scheduled for April 21 from 11 a.m. to 4 p.m. The event will be held in the temple's newly expanded facility.

Artisans and merchandisers featuring jewelry, stationary, accessories, knitted and crocheted items, pottery, ceramics, leather goods and personalized gift items are being sought. There is a $15 application fee per table, plus a charge of 10 percent of sales and orders.

Space is available on a first-come, first-served basis. For information and an application, call the temple office weekdays at 379-5387.

W. David Wilkins confronts Alice Staunton, as Norman Anderson, Ella Ackerman and Michael Hodson look on in rehearsal for "Arms and the Man."

Shaw play seems timely now

Though George Bernard Shaw set it in Bulgaria nearly 100 years ago, "Arms and the Man" is a play with meaning today, according to producers at the Summit Playhouse. The play deals with the "romance of war" — an odd phrase when one thinks about it. The wit, characters and use of language makes it both romantic comedy and a satire.

Director Arnold Buchiano said he has been waiting 25 years to stage "Arms," which he considers one of Shaw's most brilliant works. It opens Friday at the Summit Playhouse and features a number of players popular with local audiences.

Michael Hodson appeared in "Children" in Summit and received critical acclaim for his work in "Glass Menagerie" at Chatham and in area productions of "The Wool Gatherers," "Extremities" and "Lone Star." W. David Wilkins is remembered for his performance in "The Boys Next Door," and as the sadistic cousin in "Murder in Mind" on local stages.

Ella Ackerman is a principal in many Stony Hill productions, now making her first appearance in Summit. She's been seen in "The Mousetrap," "The Lion in Winter" and "Blithe Spirit" among others.

Alice Staunton attended the American Academy of Dramatic Arts, and interned at the New Jersey Shakespeare Festival where she was in "Tom Jones" and "The Night of the Iguana."

Norman Anderson and Jeff Maschi also are familiar for many local appearances. Sue Winik may be recognized from her appearances in television commercials.

"Arms and the Man" runs Saturday, Sunday and Feb. 23, 24, 28, March 1, 2, 8 and 9. Tickets are available through Jill Stevens, 431 Springfield Ave. in Summit or by calling Karen Horbatt at 273-8290.

Gala aids WCP troupe

The Westfield Community Players are hosting a gala dinner theater event — at a cost of $25 per person — to benefit the troupe on Saturday night. Cocktails will begin at 6 p.m. in the theater, located at 1000 North Avenue West in Westfield.

Director of activities Pam Heller, with the assistance of Lou and Ingrid Casella, has planned an evening that includes cocktails, a candlelight buffet and staged readings of original one-act plays by Helen and Sid Frank.

Heller said that the evening has the dual purpose of giving local theatergoers a new experience and providing additional funds to defray costs. For information or to reserve seating, call Ingrid Casella at 908-647-6308 after 6 p.m.

Hogan talks of black era in baseball

Dr. Lawrence Hogan of Fanwood, a history professor at Union County College, will speak on his traveling memorabilia display and upcoming documentary, "Before You Can Say Jackie Robinson: Black Baseball in the Era of the Color Line, 1885-1950," on Feb. 27 at the college's Plainfield Center.

The public is welcome to attend the 1 p.m. program, which has been arranged to coincide with February's national designation as Black History Month.

Hogan will use videos in his discussion of his travel photo and memorabilia exhibit and its offshoots, including a national conference/reunion, black baseball archives and writing of a major text and photo history. The college recently received a $6,000 grant from the New Jersey Historical Commission to finance post-production work on the video documentary.

His presentation will deal with the history of black baseball nationwide, using New Jersey as a case in point to illustrate the sport's overall societal implications. Examples of black baseball teams outlined in his research include the Atlantic City Bacharach Giants of the 1920s — with Baseball Hall of Famer John Henry Lloyd, and the Newark Eagles of the 1930s and 1940s — with Abe and Effa Manley as owners. That team featured such greats as Monte Irvin and Ray Dandridge, both Baseball Hall of Famers.

The original traveling exhibit debuted at the Newark Public Library in 1989, and has since been displayed in Baltimore. It consists of more than 300 photo and text panels. Featured in the exhibit, and its subsequent documentary and related teaching vehicles, are photographs, newspapers, scrapbooks, organizational records and personal testimonials.

Hogan, who has been teaching at UCC since 1977, earned a doctorate in American and Afro-American history from Indiana University.

WHERE TO DINE

A Guide to Find the Finest Dining In New Jersey

Restaurant review The Coachman Restaurant

By Suzette Stalker

A visit to the Coachman Restaurant in Cranford, at Exit 136 of the Garden State Parkway, is to experience hospitality, fine cuisine and professional service at its very best. It is all these qualities and more which make this the ideal setting for a family dinner, a romantic rendezvous or a large gathering.

My companion and I were welcomed into the restaurant by a friendly hostess, who seated us at a comfortable booth in the Coachman's elegant dining room. The recently renovated room, furnished in mauve and pastels, was softly lit by custom-made brass chandeliers and by small candles on every table.

We began our feast with two of Coachman's many tantalizing appetizers. My companion selected mozzarella sticks with a tasty sauce, while I opted for a serving of the equally delicious stuffed mushrooms.

My companion chose for his entrée a dish called the Odd Couple, a delectable combination of veal and breast of chicken scaloppine, sautéed with sherry wine, onions and sliced fresh mushrooms. It was accompanied by mashed potatoes, a salad and Italian vegetables.

I enjoyed the Surf and Turf combination, with tender portions of filet mignon and lobster tail, also served with potato, salad and vegetable. As a grande finale to this fine meal, I ordered the restaurant's creamy chocolate mousse topped with whipped cream.

The Coachman comprises a cocktail lounge and dining room a la carte, as well as six banquet-convention rooms designed to accommodate between 20 and 500 people. There is live entertainment on Friday and Saturday and a DJ in the lounge Sunday through Thursday.

Coachman's diverse menu, prepared by longtime chef Nathaniel Dickey, includes appetizers, soups, entrees, desserts and a children's section. Seafood and charcoal-broiled offerings are among many entrees featured on the menu, as well as generous salad platters.

All dinner entrees are served with the customer's choice of potato or mixed rice and vegetables and a complimentary salad bar. There are also fine California wines available by the glass, carafe or half carafe; domestic and imported beers; and an impressive wine list presented upon request.

The children's menu, for patrons under 10 years of age, features such fare as hamburgers, fried chicken and fried fillet of fish, all of which are served with a helping of french fries; spaghetti and meatballs, beverage and dessert.

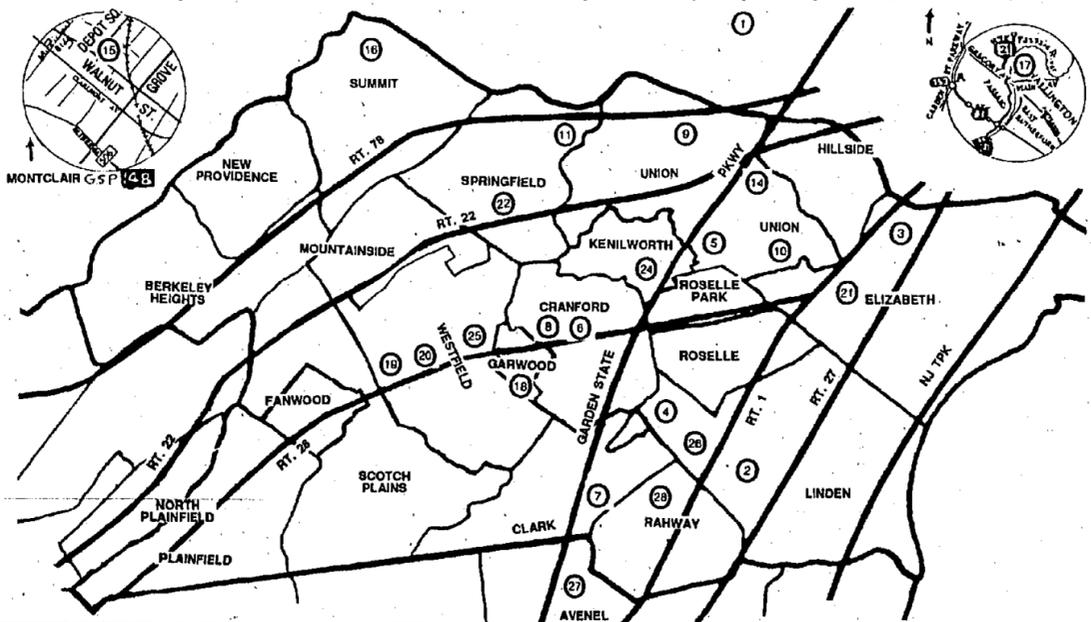

Patrons can also enjoy their favorite cocktail at the Coachman, which counts martinis, whiskey sours, strawberry daiquiris and pina colodas among its specialties.

The restaurant is open from 7 a.m. to midnight Sunday through Thursday, and from 7 a.m. to 2 a.m. on Friday and Saturday. It periodically opens even earlier to accommodate conventions and other large-scale events. Coachman serves breakfast, lunch and dinner, and even includes a late evening menu.

General Manager Joseph R. Ambrozy, a most cordial gentleman, reported that the restaurant is planning to mark its 20th anniversary in March with an expanded menu and entertainment roster which is expected to include performers from Atlantic City, New York and Philadelphia.

Buy Low - Sell High! A Matter of Time!

Ever hear the question "How high is it up?" It's one of those lighthearted "brainteasers" to which there is no precise answer. When listing your home for sale, you may face a similar question: "How long should the listing period be?"

That's a question to which there can be many answers. Friends may advise you not to sign a listing for more than thirty days, saying "It will make your agent work harder!" On the other hand, you may be asked to sign a one-year listing. So, what is the best approach? How long is long enough?

The selling time for homes can vary widely from city to city, and even differ greatly from one neighborhood to another. Homes in a popular subdivision may experience an average sale time of 63 days, while those in a less attractive one may require 227 days - even though they are only a mile apart.

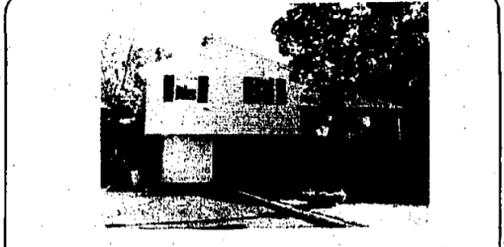

Before signing a listing on your home, ask your agent to provide detailed information about all home sales in your neighborhood over the past twelve months - sale prices, financing offered, and the time they took to sell. If there were nine sales, eliminate the two with the longest and shortest times. There were probably some special circumstances which caused their exceptionally long or short sale time.

Look at the remaining seven sales and average them. If your home is being offered at a fair price, on similar terms, you can probably expect a similar marketing time. If the average marketing time was 117 days, consider signing a listing for a four month period. If the average is much higher, say 193 days, a six month listing may be in order. Unless your home offers some unique benefit to prospective purchasers, its sale time will closely parallel that of other homes in the area.

How long is long enough? With the information provided, give your agent a fair amount of time to produce a buyer. You may then expect loyalty and productive effort from your agent.

IF YOU'RE PLANNING TO SELL YOUR HOME SOON AND WOULD LIKE INFORMATION ON ITS CURRENT VALUE, GIVE ME A CALL AT 688-1340 ext. THERE IS NO COST OR OBLIGATION.
