Springfield school budget heralds reductions

By Dennis Schaal
Staff Writer

For the first time in his five-year tenure, Springfield Superintendent of Schools Dr. Gary Friedland noted this week that the proposed 1991-92 Springfield school budget targets programs for reduction or outright elimination.

"This is the first phase of the dismantling of the school system under the Quality of Education Act," Friedland offered on Monday following the Springfield Board of Education's 8-0 adoption of its preliminary budget proposal.

He argued that the QEA must be revised for the sake of suburban districts like Springfield.

The board, in convening its regular meeting at Gaudineer Middle School, tentatively passed an $8,719,170 budget for the upcoming school year, notching a 6.45 percent increase over the 1990-91 plan. This figure and level of increase does not include the $1,135,249 state-reimbursed cost for pension and Social Security expenses.

School officials disclosed that the proposed budget came in at roughly $700 below the state-mandated cap.

The board states that any impact of the school tax levy will be "offset" by the QEA municipal tax rebate provision, resulting in no tax increase for Springfield residents.

"This is probably one of the most austere budgets we've presented," Friedland said. "It's the first time we've taken a step backward."

The board's budget proposes "consideration" of the elimination of the school Hot Lunch Program. Money is budgeted for equipment maintenance, but some $10,000 allotted last year for the food service, utilized by some 45-50 percent of the school population, has been erased.

Business Administrator Lois Lundgren explained Tuesday that classroom teacher aides have already been notified that their hours are being reduced from 30 per week to just under 20.

The board members are also considering instituting tuition for extra-curricular Summer-School activities, although the basic skills/remedial aspect will still be without charge.

And, rounding out the proposed cutbacks, the board has lopped $8,000 off its contributions to community recreation programs.

The only budget discussion at the board meeting, attended by just four members of the public, focused on the issue of the elimination of the Hot Lunch Program. Board members Ned Sambur and Ben Stravato argued that the board should defer a decision on the lunch program and be flexible in case monies are dug up later in the year.

"The district would be at a loss; we'd be losing something, especially at the lower level, if we don't support the program," Sambur said.

Superintendent Friedland responded that the budget proposal doesn't inevitably mean that the program will be eliminated next year — just that no funds have been budgeted.

And Lundgren concurred that the same holds true for reductions targeted at teacher aides, the Summer School and recreation programs. She indicated that additional funding for these areas also can be reconsidered several months down the road.

Although these programs face the prospect of significant pressure, the board plans several new initiatives including the implementation of a K-1 social studies program, a revised mathematics curriculum for grades K-6, and revision of seventh- and eighth-grade foreign language texts.

Lundgren pointed out that the money for these new programs will come from reallocating existing budget funds from the appropriate line items.

The budget process in Springfield, as in municipalities throughout the state, was thrown off by the late arrival two weeks ago of state aid figures due to amendments to the QEA.

Excluding the reimbursed teacher pension and Social Security costs, Springfield will receive from Trenton for 1991-92-$499,214, a 5.8 percent increase over last year.

That figure includes $19,087 in "transitional aid," a new category this year that, for minimum aid districts like Springfield, will be phased out at a 25-percent-per-year clip starting with the 1992-93 budget.

The Springfield board's budget blueprint provides the material to show that the 5.8 percent increase in state aid for next year does not offset substantial cost hikes to support Special Education, plant operation, negotiated salary increases for instruction and fixed charges like group medical and dental payments.

In addition to the expense portion of the budget proposal, "the capital portion of the budget supports major renovations and improvements to our See SPRINGFIELD, Page 2

Students share world of cultures

By Dennis Schaal

Sofia Sherman, 12, a seventh grader who studies Spanish, got to teach the numbers in Spanish to an eighth-grade French class. "They picked it up pretty easily," she remarked.

Dana Poindexter, 14, an eighth-grader in her second year of French, enjoyed the pot luck dinner and carnival replete with games like El Golf and Nommez la Chanson, or Name That Tune. "Everybody kind of learned about other cultures," she said.

And Andrea Brounstein, 13, an eighth-grader who takes French, thought the trivia bowl was interesting, especially if travel is on the agenda someday. "I didn't really know where a lot of the Spanish countries were," she said.

The three students this week reflected on the full schedule of innovative events which made up Foreign Language Week at Florence M. Gaudineer School. The programs, held earlier this month, were designed to broaden student appreciation of diverse languages and cultures as part of National Foreign Language Week.

The festival was organized by Jan Kappel and Linda Axelrad, the French and Spanish teachers, respectively, as well as the students themselves.

"On a grand scale the community at large and the school children focused on foreign languages, and we showed that the foreign language program is active and alive and well in the district," Kappel said.

Springfield school administrators strongly recommend that the seventh and eighth graders study either French or Spanish in preparation for required high school courses. Kappel noted that the week-long festival, which took about two months to plan, also exposed fifth and sixth graders in the middle school to the wonders of foreign tongues.

Throughout the week, Florence M. Gaudineer School was decked out with about 150 student-crafted posters portraying the value of foreign languages. In addition, signs were displayed played in key areas with notations in other languages for the words "exit" or "bathroom," for instance.

On the Monday of Foreign Language Week, the students and faculty wore name tags in French or Spanish with an appropriate country of origin.

"The hope was that children throughout the school would look at the tags and say, 'I didn't know they speak French in New Caledonia,'" the French teacher said.

Some 300 students and parents attended a pot luck dinner and carnival during the Tuesday evening of Foreign Language Week. They shared ethnic cuisine, played games with French or Spanish names and were entertained with performances of rap dances and a Broadway tune, Kappel explained.

On the Wednesday, some 80 children from Clark Middle School joined about 150 Springfield students in a foreign language trivia bowl. Students were divided into teams for friendly competition and had to try to name such things as all the Romance languages, the South American countries where Spanish is the official language, or the King of Spain.

"They loved it and went crazy with it," said Kappel.

Thursday brought the student teaching exchange. A student studying Spanish taught the French class and a student studying French tried a divergent accent on a Spanish class.

Dayton teen-ager cited for achievements

Eric Swenson, son of Janis and Eugene Swenson of Springfield and a senior at Jonathan Dayton Regional High School, has been named as the school's most recent Student of the Month based on his academic and athletic accomplishments, as well as his extracurricular activities, during his high school career.

Swenson, described by his nominators as a friendly, caring individual, is known in the Jonathan Dayton community for his good deeds.

The student attends classes at both the Springfield-based high school and at Union County Vocational School in Scotch Plains, where he is enrolled in the retailing program. Outside of school, Swenson is employed at Shop-Rite in Clark and enjoys boating, basketball and baseball.

After his graduation from Jonathan Dayton in June, Swenson plans to attend Union County College. He intends to pursue a course of study geared to hotel and restaurant management, a field in which he later hopes to start a career.

The Student-of-the-Month program is offered at all four high schools within Union County Regional High School District 1, which includes Jonathan Dayton, David Brearley Regional High School in Kenilworth, Arthur L. Johnson Regional High School in Clark and Governor Livingston Regional High School in Berkeley Heights.

The program is designed to recognize those Regional District high school students who have demonstrated exceptional academic and/or athletic ability, as well as leadership qualities, good character and service to their community throughout their high-school years.

Judith Wicklins, principal of Jonathan Dayton Regional High School, presents Eric Swenson with a plaque noting his selection as 'Student-of-the-Month.'

Adult High School to close by 1992

By Dennis Schaal
Staff Writer

The Union County Regional High School District 1 Board of Education unanimously decided Tuesday evening to close the Adult High School, headquartered at the David Brearley Regional High School campus in Kenilworth, on June 30, 1992.

Faced with the September end of state aid specifically targeting the Adult High School program, the board weighed the option of closing the degree program in June — but decided to give the program a final, one-year lease on life.

"It's unfortunate that a program like this has to go by the wayside," explained Charles Serson, the region's supervisor of adult and vocational education.

In other actions at Tuesday's meeting, which took place in Jonathan Dayton Regional High School in Springfield, the board decided to operate the Summer Evening Cultural Arts Program for one year on a non-tuition basis through the Adult School Program.

The Regional Board, which operates four high schools for students from Springfield, Mountain-side, Kenilworth, Berkeley Heights, Clark and Garwood, unanimously opted to consolidate the Adult School Program from the four regional high schools into two.

Beginning in September, Jonathan Dayton and Arthur L. Johnson in Clark, will hold all the Adult School classes. They already house the majority of the offerings.

Superintendent of Schools Dr. Donald Meyachnik posed the context for these program decisions at the start of the session.

He noted that when the state, under the Quality Education Act, turns over responsibility for pension and Social Security costs in two years, the region will still have to present budgets within the 7.5 percent cap, "which makes it difficult to have a decent expense budget."

Several board members and administrators noted that the region will have to start making the difficult decisions now about which programs to slice. The emphasis, they said, will have to be for district high school students, rather than adults or out-of-district students.

The board decision on the Adult High School means that the degree program for the 65 district and 179 out-of-district adults slated to return will run from September through June at a budget of about $88,000 less than the $302,000 generated from 1989 enrollments.

Serson explained that no new students from outside the district will be allowed to begin the program and that the only district students that will be allowed to start in September must be able to complete the program by its phase-out in June 1992.

In its decision to continue the Summer Cultural Arts Program this summer, the board set aside a proposal to charge participants an average of $118 for the Fine Arts, Crafts, Vocal and Music Theater programs. The extension will cost the board about $14,600 plus supervisory costs.

Board member Joan Toth of Garwood suggested that a survey be conducted of the roughly 125 participants concerning whether they would be willing to pay tuition to keep the program going the following year.

Board member Burton Zitomer of Berkeley Heights summed up the sentiments of several representatives who successfully pushed the move to keep the Summer Cultural Program going for another year without tuition.

"I hate to see these kinds of programs go," Zitomer said. "This is just a fly in the overall ointment of this budget."

Superintendent Merachnik summed up the dilemma of a board that will increasingly have to wield a reluctant budget knife.

"At some point in time this board has to bite the bullet," he said. "At what point the board's going to start to do it is a policy decision."

The proposed budget includes provisions for replacing the roof at Thelma Sandmeier School and completing a similar job at Walton School; removing underground storage tanks and managing asbestos at James Caldwell and Walton schools; replacing ceilings and installing energy-efficient lighting at Sandmeier, Walton and Gaudineer schools; and performing exterior wall waterproofing and wall reconstruction at James Caldwell School. Public hearings on the board's preliminary budget proposal will take place April 8 at Gaudineer School and will be continued April 15, if necessary. The board vote to formally adopt its budget, which is still subject to modifications, will follow the hearings. Township voters will have the opportunity to vote the budget up or down April 30. They will also select their choices for three open board seats. In a related development, the board presented plaques to teachers Glen Brown, James Guinee and William Vetter just prior to the regular meeting Monday. The three teachers, at a reception attended by approximately 50 of their peers, were presented with Governor's Teacher Recognition Awards which recognize the educators for exceptional contributions to the learning process.

Culture shared

(Continued from Page 1) Day, was not only fun for the kids, but the proceeds raised about $52 for the Foreign Language Club, according to its treasurer. The students were able to hire volunteer helpers for $1 for the day. The helpers had to carry books, clean lunch areas and carry out similar tasks. Upon request, they also had to wear their clothes inside out or sport huge sunglasses or don non-matching sneakers. Kappel emphasized that she thought the events sparked student creativity without disrupting normal school activities. "It was absolutely brilliant the way the students were willing to give so much time to this," she said.

She added that a corollary benefit is that many parents, especially new arrivals to the township, came to realize that the school district features "a bonafide foreign language program."

Open house to be held

Holy Cross Christian Nursery School, Mountain Avenue, Springfield will be holding an open house on April 12 to provide information on nursery school programs and enroll children for the 1991-92 school year.

Holy Cross is fully licensed by the state of New Jersey and its staff maintains an average student-to-teacher ratio of 8:1.

The school will begin its 32nd year of providing a Christ-centered program with developmentally appropriate activities designed to meet each child's needs: physically, socially, intellectually, emotionally and spiritually.

Anyone interested in visiting the school can call 379-7160 to make an appointment to attend the open house.

The overall winners in the science fair which was held recently at St. James School in Springfield are, from left, Carl Wagner, who won second place for his project on canals; Erin Wagner, who won first place for her project on hydroponics; and Piper Smith, who was awarded third place for her project on physical changes in matter.

Models are wanted

A Union-based promoter will be holding a statewide model search at the Ramada Hotel, Clark, for young women on May 16 from 7 to 11 p.m. Interviews for participants between the ages of 19 and 27 are currently being held.

Mark Magliaro of Magliaro Enterprises has announced that models are being sought. He is asking interested applicants to call for an interview. The show will consist of swimsuit and formal wear competition.

There is no entry fee for the show. The winner will receive $1,000 in cash. Consolation prizes will be awarded to the other entrants. The evening will include the show and dinner. Tickets are $30 each.

For more information, one can call 687-3385.

Budget boost

Our commendations to the Board of Education of Union County Regional High School District 1, which includes Springfield, for its tentative 1991-92 budget. We believe this budget, approved last week, is quite reasonable in light of several factors which shaped its outcome.

The $36 million budget, while it represents an increase of more than $1 million over last year's figure, reflects a rise in fixed charges of almost 15 percent. Local school boards are obligated to cover these charges, which include employee hospitalization and insurance and are determined by the state.

An even greater factor, however, is the state's mandate that local school boards pick up the tab for teacher pension and Social Security costs over the next two years. This policy, part of the Quality Education Act of 1990, is expected to bring the district budget to a grand total of $39.6 million.

The district has, since last June, demonstrated an effort to control costs by combining administrative positions. It is our belief that in a year which has been both difficult and challenging for all New Jersey school boards, the Regional District has done its best to maintain quality education for all students under its jurisdiction.

Register to vote

With six candidates running for three Board of Education seats, and a $9,854,419 million school budget being proposed, Springfield should be more motivated than usual to vote in the April 30 school board election.

But you can't participate in the election if you're not registered. And the statewide deadline to register is Monday — just four days away.

If you're new to Springfield and you were registered to vote in your former town, that's not good enough. You must be registered here.

You can register at the township clerk's office in the municipal building. You must be at least 18 years of age, be a citizen of the United States and have your main residence in Springfield — but that's all that's required.

Even if you will be out of town on April 30, you can still vote by applying for an absentee ballot and then filing it by April 23 through the Office of the Union County Clerk. The office is located in the courthouse on Broad Street in Elizabeth.

WHAT IS IT? WHERE IS IT? — Here's our latest photo feature for you to ponder? Do you know what it is? Or where it is? We'll let you know next week. In the meantime, if you know of a site or landmark that would make an interesting photo feature, let us know. If we use the idea for publication, we'll give you credit for it in the Hillside Leader.

L.A. racial beating has message for us all

Screening New Jersey

By Steve Aduabato Jr.

I teach a course at Rutgers University on the mass media's ability to impact upon public opinion. One section in the course, called "the power of pictures," examines television's impact on public opinion and the political process.

The most powerful piece of video I show to students is a network news clip from the early 1960s that graphically shows black civil rights demonstrators being savagely beaten by southern white policemen and bitten by police dogs. Hoses are turned on black men, women and children for demanding the right to register to vote and to eat at a lunch counter.

I've shown this video dozens of times to hundreds of students. The pictures are in black and white, but the reaction is almost universally the same. Horror, shock and shame that this could happen in America. Tears run down the faces of some students; others turn away, unable to watch. These pictures were so powerful that a previously reticent U.S. Congress was moved, largely by guilt, to pass overwhelmingly the Voting Rights Act and other major civil rights legislation that had languished for years. Those pictures changed the course of American history.

Twenty-five years later, television once again brings into our homes a horrible American picture involving racial minorities and the police that cries out for swift action. Only this time, it's not in the South, it's in one of America's biggest and supposedly most modern cities, Los Angeles. It's not a network television crew that captures the horror of several white Los Angeles police officers administering at least 56 blows to an unarmed 25-year-old black victim, Rodney King; it's a bystander testing out a new home video camera. L.A. Police Chief Darryl Gates absurdly points out that the beating took place after cops stopped King, who had been driving more than 100 miles per hour — as if that's some sort of justification for what his out-of-control cops did.

While four of the city's finest proceeded to smash King's cheekbone, break his leg, damage his internal organs and fracture his eye socket, possibly as many as 21 other cowardly white cops stood by. The pictures once again brought horror, shock and shame to millions of television viewers. There have been calls for Gates' resignation, which he adamantly resists.

Some of you might wonder what this much-publicized Los Angeles incident has to do with New Jersey. The answer is everything.

The issue is much larger than whether Darryl Gates should resign as police chief. It's bigger than the court case of the four criminally-indicted cops who perpetrated this injustice. This issue is one for every American to take a stand on regardless of where you live or the color of your skin.

Citizens should demand that their local PBAs and other police organizations speak out against their Los Angeles brothers. It is especially important in places like Teaneck, Vineland, Perth Amboy and Plainfield, four New Jersey communities that in the past few years have experienced highly-publicized incidents involving white cops allegedly beating, and in some cases killing, minority youths. Unfortunately, most cops have kept quiet on this issue. One must assume they think it's not their business because it happened on the West Coast, or that it's somehow an issue of loyalty. They're wrong. Their silence is deafening.

There are those like Chief Gates who will argue that this is not a racial incident. He calls it an "aberration." He is being modest. He fails to mention the time Jamaal Wilkes, a former basketball star with the Los Angeles Lakers, who is black, was handcuffed by cops because his auto registration was about to expire. And how about the case of Hall of Fame second baseman Joe Morgan, another black, who was thrown to the ground by L.A. cops and handcuffed because they thought he looked like he was a drug dealer. The cops later apologized, but a court awarded Morgan a $540,000 settlement.

To make matters worse, a few days after the Rodney King videotape, a police recording was released exposing the fact that racial slurs were made by several white cops when reporting the incident. Nothing racial? Guess again.

To be honest, over the years I had grown somewhat skeptical of the constant charges of "racism" that seemed to surface every time a minority was arrested or convicted. But these "L.A. stories" should force all of us, especially whites who can never imagine what it must be like to be a young black male in America, to re-examine our positions. Can you imagine what it's like always to be under suspicion and to live in daily fear of a white cop with a gun? I can't.

A couple of years ago when dozens of black professionals were stopped on the New Jersey Turnpike, asked to get out of their BMWs and searched for drugs because they fit a certain profile, it was recognized and stopped by incoming state police superintendent Justin Dintino. If it happened in the South and in L.A., it can no doubt happen in New Jersey.

Let's be clear on this. Cops, especially in our drug- and weapon-infested cities, have an almost impossible job. Showing restraint and proper judgment in all circumstances is a lot to ask. Second guessing, especially by those of us who never face these realities, is easy. Most cops are heroes as far as I'm concerned. But what went on in L.A., and what is surely going on in other American communities, is an outrage. The question remains: What are we going to do about it?

It's time for serious re-examination of how our police are selected, trained and monitored. It's time to address the need for racial sensitivity and awareness. It's time for cops, whether they be in L.A. or in Long Branch, to speak out when a minority suspect becomes a victim of obvious harassment and abuse. It's time to take charges of police brutality and civil rights violations more seriously. We shouldn't have to wait until the next powerful television picture shocks us on the evening news. By then, it's a little too late.

Steve Aduabato Jr. is a political analyst for WWOR-TV, a former state legislator and an instructor of public administration and mass media at Rutgers University.

Watershed lands in state need protection

Those who envisioned Central Park in New York, and the Essex County Park System, were very astute. They looked ahead and saw the coming shortage of open space.

In the late 1800s, in what is now urban New Jersey, the Essex County Park Commission was formed to set aside land for parks and woodland reserves. Union County wasn't far behind.

Today, every county has a park committee or commission of some kind, except for the rapidly suburbanizing counties of Sussex, Cumberland, Salem and Burlington.

Also, in those years, towns set up areas to protect their water supplies. Newark, East Orange and Jersey City, among others, acquired large tracts around rivers and reservoirs to protect the cleanliness of their water supply sources. Some private water companies did the same. Thus, a lucky coincidence helped save open space.

The need to keep water clean by protecting the land where reservoir feeder streams flow or well fields are fed has not diminished. But rising land values are eroding zeal to protect such open land spaces. Towns such as Peapack, Morristown and Jersey City have sold long-protected open spaces, and private utilities such as the Elizabethtown Water Company and the Hackensack Water Company have done the same.

The State We're In

By David F. Moore

Now, we have a ludicrous situation. On one hand, public money is spent to save open space and recreational land here in America's most densely populated state. But at the same time, established recreational lands are disappearing with sale or development of water supply protection areas.

Such land sales have been rationalized on grounds that since we have the technology to treat water for drinking purposes, land-saving to protect water supplies from non-point pollution isn't needed anymore. That's nonsense, for at least three different reasons.

First, water treatment, no matter how technological, cost money; the dirtier the water, the more the expense.

Second, dirtier water fails to meet the water quality goals we've set for the nation under the Clean Water Act. Remember, that law aims for swimmable and fishable water.

Finally, just because water is called safe to drink doesn't mean it is free from problems. Salt, the ubiquitous material applied to slippery winter roads, can kill stream organisms, and isn't usually taken out by water treatment processes. We have the same trouble with viruses. Ordinary sewage and water treatment doesn't faze them at all.

We haven't yet learned to run rivers into and out of treatment plants to clean them up. Only nature can do that. The sale of those watershed lands, or their development, results in the inability of nature to clean and keep clean our water supplies. It also invites salt applications in vulnerable areas when development brings roads.

While there is proposed legislation to deal with part of the problem, we need much stronger regulations. Indeed, watershed lands, those owned by both utilities and towns, are public trust lands, acquired by public eminent domain authority, and should be treated just like other parklands we've thoughtfully protected all these years.

David F. Moore is the executive director of the New Jersey Conservation Foundation.

Springfield teachers honored

The Springfield Board of Education has recognized three local teachers for their achievements and contributions to Springfield's public school system.

The teachers — Glenn Brown, James Gulpee and William Vetter — accepted this year's Governor Teacher Recognition Awards from Springfield Board of Education President Myrna Wasserman before an audience of more than 100 people during the board's last meeting.

The Governor's Awards honors teachers who have distinguished themselves through exceptional contributions in the following areas: use of effective instructional techniques and methods; establishment of productive classroom environment and rapport with students and development of feelings of self worth and love of learning in students.

Springfield Superintendent of Schools Dr. Gary Friedland announced to the public that the awards are given to faculty members "who have served unselfishly in guiding children through one of the most important stages of their lives."

"The recipients of these awards are special people who exemplify the qualities of all outstanding teachers," Friedland said. "They have demonstrated exceptional leadership by their involvement in serving on numerous district committees dedicated to the improvement of programs of the school system."

Teachers who receive the Governor's Award are nominated by community members, parents and teaching staff.

These nominations are reviewed by a nine-member panel that includes the superintendent, principals, community members and past award recipients who select finalists to represent the Springfield public schools at a convocation in May at Princeton University.

Wasserman and other members of the board commended the staff for their accomplishments and recognized each teacher by formally adopting a resolution proclaiming the contribution of each.

Red Cross seeks to aid military kin

The Westfield-Mountainside Red Cross is seeking to help meet the needs of U.S. military personnel, their families, refugees, people made homeless by the conflict and prisoners of war, as well as other war victims, by continued support of its $30 million Gulf Crisis fund campaign.

In addition, the organization needs volunteers to meet continuing domestic needs and to replace resources which have gone to the Persian Gulf, according to Gail Moffett, executive director of the Westfield-Mountainside chapter.

Moffett said the American Red

Cross is also supporting the humanitarian relief work of the International Red Cross and Red Crescent Movement, which is helping thousands of refugees and people made homeless by the war.

One can call the chapter at 232-7090 about serving as a Red Cross volunteer. Red Cross volunteers are not being sent to the Persian Gulf, Moffett said, but their help is needed in working with military families and other people.

One can also call the chapter to donate blood or to keep a blood donor appointment if they already have one. Although the Red Cross is not sending blood to the Persian Gulf at this time, Moffett said, there is a continuing need for blood donors for domestic needs.

In addition, one can call the chapter to request a tissue donor card. The Persian Gulf conflict alerted many people to the need for skin tissue and bone donations for reconstructive surgery on those wounded in the war.

Cleanup bill moves in Assembly

The Assembly approved legislation that would require the state Department of Transportation to reimburse local governments for highway cleanup costs.

The bill (A-978) sponsored by Assemblymen Neil Cohen (D-Union), and Joe Mecca (D-Essex/Passaic), applies to the cleanup of any debris, construction or otherwise, on all state roads.

Cohen drafted the bill in response to the Route 22 debris cleanup by the township of Hillside. The Union County municipality was forced to shut down part of the state road to clear off dangerous debris that impaired the safety of the roadway.

"Local governments are under the same financial strain as the state," said Cohen. "The DOT must begin to clean up after itself because municipalities do not have enough money budgeted for cleaning up debris that is not on their roads."

Under the legislation, local governments could bill the DOT for personnel and other expenses incurred during a state road cleanup.

According to the bill, the DOT would pay the cleanup bill within 30 days of receipt of a work completed statement.

Municipalities would be prohibited from initiating their own cleanup of state roads if the DOT makes other arrangements for cleanup.

According to the amended bill, the money for reimbursement to local governments would come from the Clean Communities Fund or the hazardous Spill Cleanup Fund.

The bill, approved by a 75-0 Assembly vote, now moves to the Senate for approval.

Crop Walk planned

Back in 1973, it was reported by the First Presbyterian Church of Roselle, that the churches of Roselle and Roselle Park determined "not only to be concerned about the problem of world hunger but also to do something very specific about it." It was out of that commitment that the CROP Walk for Hunger began, and it has continued to be held each year since then. In the 18 years that "we have been walking for the hungry, we have raised nearly $60,000 for this cause."

The local churches work through the national offices of Church World Service, an arm of the National Council of Churches, whose work in world relief dates back to the 1940s.

This year, the walk will be held tomorrow morning on Good Friday morning. Registration will begin at 9:30 at the Church of the Assumption, Westfield Avenue, Roselle Park, and will conclude about noon.

It was announced that the walk will be approximately 10 kilometers (six miles) and will start from the Church of the Assumption, then follow a route through the two boroughs, passing by each of the constituent churches. It will finish back at the starting place, where refreshments will be served.

Merle Murphy of the First Presbyterian Church of Roselle has a supply of "sponsor envelopes" for those who "wish to walk that day." If one cannot walk, but would like to sponsor one of the church walkers, the walkers will be wearing red CROP buttons from now until the Crop Walk and "will be happy to take your pledge."

The benevolence committee has announced that it will sponsor each church member who walks at a rate of $1.50 a kilometer.

Maundy Thursday at the First Presbyterian Church will be held tonight at 8 p.m. "in grateful remembrance of the Last Supper that Jesus shared with his disciples. We will gather in the chapel to celebrate the sacrament." Tomorrow at 8 p.m., a devotional service will be held in the chapel.

The traditional Church Family Easter breakfast will be held in the fellowship hall Sunday from 8 to 9:15 a.m. The menu will include scrambled eggs, ham and potatoes. The board of deacons will be in charge.

Festival service set

Calvary Lutheran Church, 108 Eastman St., Cranford will "proclaim the good news of the empty tomb" at festival services of Holy Communion at 8:30 and 11 a.m. on Easter Sunday, March 31.

The Rev. Christine Regan, assistant pastor, will preach at the 8:30 service, and the Rev. C. Paul Strockbine, senior pastor, will preach at the 11 o'clock service.

Both services will begin with the Calvary Choir singing "Alleluia" by Randall Thompson. The Senior Ringers Handbell Choir also will play an arrangement of "Lift High the Cross" by Cynthia Dobrinski. In addition the Teen Choir will sing at the 8:30 service, and the Alleluia and the Junior Choirs, young children's choirs, will sing at the 11 o'clock service.

"Following a tradition of the past few years, any member of the congregation who would like to join Calvary Choir at the end of the service in the singing of the 'Halleluja Chorus' from Handel's Messiah is invited to do so, it was announced.

Music will be under the direction of Mary Lou Stevens, director of music at Calvary.

The public is invited to all services. Nursery care for children 5 years of age and under is available in the education building for the 11 o'clock service.

Chairman appointed

Holy Week events

The final events of Holy Week will be observed in St. Stephen's Church, 119 Main St., Millburn, where 40 percent of its congregation is from Union, Springfield and Mountainside, with a Maundy Thursday service of Holy Eucharist tonight at 8 and special observances tomorrow, Good Friday, from noon to 3 p.m. and also at 8 p.m.

On Easter Sunday, two services of Holy Eucharist will be celebrated at 8 and 10 a.m.

Tonight's Maundy Thursday service of Holy Eucharist will commemorate the Last Supper shared by Christ with his disciples. The Rev. Gordon Hyde Tremaine, rector, will give "a dramatic interpretation of the impact of Jesus on a servant at the inn where the Last Supper took place." At the offertory the choir will sing "Behold the Lamb of God" by Healey Willan.

On Good Friday churchgoers can attend all or part of the observances of the traditional hours of Christ's crucifixion from noon until 3 p.m. Beginning at noon, a passion pilgrimage for children, The Way of the Cross, will be led by the rector and members of the Church School. From 1 to 3 p.m. Tremaine will preside at an open service of passion observance, using a series of Biblical readings and meditations. For those who cannot attend the afternoon service, the traditional Good Friday liturgy will be observed at 8 p.m.

The festival of Easter will be celebrated on Sunday with a service of Holy Eucharist at 8 a.m. and a Festival Choral Eucharist at 10 a.m. Tremaine will celebrate the Eucharist and preach the Easter sermon at both services.

As the organ prelude to the 10 o'clock service, Dr. John Eric Floreen, organist and choir director, will play George Frideric Handel's Concerto in F. As the choral introit, the children's choir under the direction of Donna Monteleone will sing "That Easter Day with Joy Was Bright" by Michael Praetorius.

Two anthems will be sung at the 10 o'clock service by the Senior Choir under the direction of Floreen: Johann Sebastian Bach's "Sing Praise to Christ" and "Christ the Lord, the Lord Most Glorious" by John Antes. During communion Miriam Koenig, soprano soloist, will sing "Alleluia"

Easter message

"The Cross" — what does the Cross mean in your life? "Then Jesus called the crowd and his disciples to him." "If anyone wants to come with me," he told them, "he must forget himself, carry his Cross, and follow me." For whoever wants to save his own life will lose it; but whoever loses his life for me and for the gospel will save it." Mark 8:34-35 TEV.

The Cross upon which His body hung on that event filled Friday soon became empty with His burial. The empty Cross remained silhouetted against the sky. Thoughts turn away from that Cross until Easter Morning when they would return to the empty Cross as the Risen Saviour is greeted. We find ourselves standing in awe before that Cross silhouetted against the sky. We find ourselves greeting that empty Cross with sounds of rejoicing. The empty Cross has a new meaning for us. It once meant death. It now means life.

We bear many crosses in our lives. Yet, those crosses become empty when we give our lives to Christ. We as believers are reminded of our hope when we stand before the empty Cross. The Cross which held Christ who bore the sins and burdens of all now means life.

I invite you to make the empty Cross the center of your life. Worship the Risen Saviour this Sunday and every Sunday. Attend your House of Worship. "The Lord is Risen! He is Risen indeed!"

Jeffrey D. Gehris, pastor
Battle Hill Community Moravian Church

of Wolfgang Amadeus Mozart. For the postlude Floreen will play the Toccata from Symphony V of Charles-Marie Windor on the Beckerath organ.

Nursery care will be provided during the 10 o'clock service, and all children attending church will be given Easter mementos created as a Lenten project of the Church School. Following the service there will be a coffee hour and fellowship in the Parish Hall.

Frontier Night set

At 7:30 p.m., there will be a video and slides of the camp and its operation. A question and answer period will follow the presentation with camp personnel.

There will be no sunrise service at 6:30 a.m. The Resurrection Sunday morning praise service will be held at 11 a.m. The evening service at 6 o'clock will be a Baptismal service.

Union's first bank is still first

▪ First in safety ▪ First in earnings

WNBC-TV RATES UCNB AS THE BEST BANK IN UNION. In 1923 a group of life-long Union residents formed The Union Center National Bank to satisfy the increasing financial demands of a residential and business community. Since that time The Bank has been a pillar of strength and a safe haven for its depositors. Our bank remains strong today, in spite of present economic conditions, with solid earnings, no non-performing loans, a high equity ratio and a very liquid position. Our dividend has remained unchanged and represents 55% of the 1990 earnings, which amounted to $2,523,000.

Simply put, we're the best bank in town for safety and performance as evidenced by the ratings we've received from Veribanc, a leading bank rating service, from Sheshunoff Information Services, Inc., a leading bank analyst firm, and from WNBC-TV.

We're proud of the results of our operations, particularly in light of ever-increasing competition from the "Johnny Come Lately Banks". We'll continue to remain prosperous while keeping to that original goal from 1923 of "service to the community".

Things looking up for local teams

By Mark Yablonsky
 Sports Editor

With the return of spring comes the return of baseball, that greatest of American sports which coincides with Easter, Passover, chirping birds and everything else that relates to springtime.

The following is a preview of what you can expect to see when the 1991 high school baseball season begins on April 2.

BREARLEY

Always cheery and optimistic, Brearley coach Ralph LaConte simply loves the game of baseball, and enjoys teaching it to his players.

And with a large handful of returning lettermen back in uniform, LaConte feels that 1991 could be a promising season for the Bears.

"I think that we have a lot of returning lettermen," explained LaConte, whose team went an impressive 16-8-1 last year. "There is the makings here for a very good season."

"As for the young players, it's going to be a learning process. But some of the seniors are going to be pushed by the younger kids and that's good. We just have to play good baseball, that's all. We just have to play our best and the pieces will fall in."

And with enough luck, so will a lot of hits. Leading the list of returning senior letterwinners is second baseman Peter Accomando, who batted .381 and drove in 10 runs in 1990 as the number nine hitter, while also fielding a cool .935.

Look for senior Luan Ahmetaj to replace the hard-hitting Jeff Barr at first base, and definitely count on Chris Parkhill to play third base. Another senior, catcher Mike Archibald, is returning for his third year in a varsity uniform; and Don Dayton, who was terrific as Brearley's quarterback in football last fall, will begin his second varsity season in center field.

Baseball

Two more seniors — Tim Kaufmann and Don Sammet — are good pitching candidates for LaConte, who will likely have both in the outfield when they're not on the mound. And Chris Carey and Kevin Bell lend both pitching and infield experience to Brearley as well. Carey, who is now in his third varsity season, had a strong first half last year, but after hurting his arm in a 2-0 shutout victory over New Providence in county tournament competition, he had to sit out the rest of the way.

A "key utility man" for the Bears, LaConte feels, is junior Ron Cagno, who can play at second base and in the outfield, and if necessary, fill in at designated hitter, too.

Other names to look for include juniors Joe Corbo, Mike Emery, Jose Rodriguez and Dan Russoniello; and sophomores Brian Kasprzyk, Patrick Knierim, Bill Picone, Jon Ciravolo and Lou Kruk.

Brearley, which has new T-shirts announcing that baseball at the Kenilworth-based school is in "full swing," will begin its '91 season with away games at St. Mary's and St. Patrick's on April 2 and 4, respectively, before returning home to face Academic High of Jersey City on April 6.

DAYTON

For a while last spring, the Bulldogs had a lot of people surprised with a 4-1 start, one that was based primarily on clutch hitting and some nifty pitching, too.

This year, with two of last year's key hurlers — Billy Hart and Matt Gallaro — lost to graduation, Dayton cannot assume that it will get off to another big start.

But if some of last year's returning starters can come through, it is quite possible that Dayton could surprise a few people, while hopefully avoiding the kind of fade that brought about a 9-12 finish last year.

"Last year, we started 6 to 7 sophomores a game, and many of those kids are back," explained Dayton skipper Rick Iacono. "So we think we're going to be a stronger team than we were."

"We're definitely a bigger team defensively."

The pitching staff shows much in the way of promise. Iacono's big trio will be senior Craig Haucisen and juniors Jay Desai and Clayton Trivett, with the probable catcher being senior Mike Reddington.

The infield appears set with junior Mark Nadzan replacing the graduated Dale Torborg at first base, Trivett and David Bernosky competing for the starting job at second, and Terrence Young playing third.

As Dayton followers know, Huber owns a quick bat and a quality glove at short. He should bat third in Dayton's lineup.

Senior Peter Gittrich will likely start in left field, followed by junior Anthony Palermo in center and David Tazacki in right. Archie Guilas, another junior, is slated to play as a backup in both the outfield and infield — and depending on who pitches, he may well get a few starts at one position or another.

ROSELLE PARK

The Panthers may not always dominate, but they're usually competitive. That was the case in last season's 10-12 record, and should be the case this spring once again.

"Well, hopefully we can improve our record and gain a winning season," said Panther coach Jack Shaw Monday. "It's hard to tell because we haven't been outside yet, but we have good enthusiasm and hopefully, we'll be back on the winning track this year."

One player who figures to have a good year is senior Scott Bermingham, the likely opening day starter for Park this coming Tuesday, April 2, in Manville. A strong and durable 6-foot-2, 200-pound pitcher, Bermingham will play in center field on days he's not on the mound. Look for him to bat cleanup in Shaw's lineup.

And when Park returns home to take on Middlesex on April 4, senior Chris Kelly will likely be the man on the mound for Shaw. When he doesn't pitch, Kelly can play left field.

With Ray Jankowski lost to graduation, both Mike Baker and Joe Arena are battling for the job as starting catcher. Baker can also serve as designated hitter, while Arena can play third base, depending on who does — and doesn't — earn the starting job behind the plate.

Chris Hartzler, Tom Baylock and John Niche are working for starting infield positions, as well as senior Dan Cerretti, who is a good bet to return to shortstop. Rich Huxford is set to be the first baseman, while junior Andres Alarcon can either play second or pitch, as of press time, he was set to bat in the leadoff position for Park.

Junior Derick Vanderkooij, who came up from the junior varsity ranks late last season, will look to play right field this spring.

Other pitching help should come from senior southpaw Jon Price, who can also play the outfield when he doesn't pitch. Hartzler and freshman Mark Leonardis can pitch as well.

Boro outpoints seniors

Senior bowling tournament promoter Charles Vitale offered no apology for the recent narrow loss to the Kenilworth Boro Employees team. Vitale said the "youngsters" could not field a full three-team contingent as required by the rules, and the senior citizens could have claimed a victory by default.

Instead, the Seniors gave the Boro team two of their bowlers in order to balance the teams. It also helped the Boro team, consisting of coach Albert Testa and other council and boro officials, to victory.

Senior citizen member Frank Amitrano, bowled the single game high of 200.

Kopelman places first

Paul Kopelman of Roselle Park placed first in the Second Thursday 0-2000 Swiss Teams during the recently-held Spring North American Bridge Championships in Atlantic City.

More than 7,000 bridge enthusiasts ranging from novices to World Grand Masters competed in this 10-day event. Competitors from more than 12 countries participate in the spring championships every year to decide nine major championships and many lesser titles.

Lady Owls set to go

Three night games in Warinanco Park and 11 doubleheaders will highlight the 1991 schedule of the Union County College's second-year women's softball team. The schedule was announced recently by athletic director Fred Perry.

The night contests are scheduled for April 11 against Lackawanna Community College of Pennsylvania, April 15 against Bergen Community College and April 23 against Raritan Valley Community College.

Coach Sue Harris will send her Lady Owls into action at Nomahegan Park in Cranford on April 5 against Bucks County College of Pennsylvania.

In away contests, the Lady Owls will face Orange Community College of New York, Ocean County College, Brookdale, Middlesex County College, County College of Morris, Camden County, and Northampton Community College (Pa.).

The 20-5 record he posted makes Erik Wnuck the winningest freshman wrestler at Rahway High School. His list of accomplishments also includes a second-place finish in the UCT, the District 11 title and a fourth-place finish in the Region 3 Tournament.

"Erik is one of the hardest-working kids I've had at any weight," coach Fred Steuber said. "He's always the last one out of the weight room." Dante Puorro may not have had quite the season that he did in last year's 27-6 campaign, but at 26-5 this year, the hard-working 112-pound senior still is among the state's elite wrestlers.

After an injury prevented Puorro from winning a second straight Union County title, he gained revenge by defeating Rich Ortega of Governor Livingston in Region 3 competition to help earn a return trip to Princeton. Senior Bob McCafferty was a very big man for Roselle Park this winter, going a sparkling 26-6 to earn a fourth straight varsity letter.

Four of those losses were at the hands of Cranford's Willie Carpenter, who won county, district and regional titles. McCafferty, who won a District 10 championship, leaves Park with a career total of 79 wins.

"Bobby's probably one of the hardest workers we've ever had here at Roselle Park," Panther coach Sam Appello said.

Quietly and without much fanfare, John Petrosky of Roselle Park went out and did his job, constantly picking up points early on to send the Panthers on to victory in most cases.

When it was all over, this two-year starter and letterman had piled up a 22-8-1 record with nine pins, as well as a runner-up spot in District 10.

"Over the two years, John has done everything we asked of him, and now he's become one of the better wrestlers," commented Appello.

After his first season of varsity wrestling, Rahway junior Dan Rivera has made quite an impression. "He put together a great season for someone who's never wrestled at the varsity level before," Steuber said.

Rivera posted a 14-9-1 record at 130 pounds. He also recorded a fourth-place finish in the Union County Tournament and a third-place finish in the District 11 tournament.

By any standard, Andy Troczynski had a great season. Wrestling at 135 pounds for Arthur L. Johnson Regional High School, he finished with a 23-6 record and placed third in the Union County Tournament, fourth in the region and he won the District 11 title.

"Andy wrestled as a freshman but got hurt," his coach Richard McSorley said. "He's a great kid and he really works hard."

Dan Lilley went about his senior year in typical fashion for Union, going 33-5 with 22 pins and a Union County Tournament championship, not to mention first runner-up during the District 10 tournament.

Unfortunately, a knee injury two days before the start of the Region 3 tournament limited him to a third-place finish, and the last available state tournament slot. Once there, Lilley posted a fourth-place finish to cap a lifetime mark of 110-17-3.

Mike Francesca very nearly went unbeaten to win a state championship, but Matt Suter of Paulsboro ended up with the title by winning, 8-5, over Francesca in the 145-pound title match in Princeton.

But all told, Francesca went 32-1 with 20 pins, winning county, district and regional titles along the way.

And unlike last season, there were no illnesses interfering with Francesca's senior year.

"When he was healthy, he was unstoppable," said Lilley.

For the second straight year, John Ranieri was able to stay healthy. And that was a big factor in Park's sectional championship.

Fashioning a spectacular 32-4 record, Ranieri also notched 23 pins, including a handful of technical falls. Most impressive is the fact that his 97 career wins at Park leave Ranieri as the school's all-time victory leader.

"John worked awfully hard this season," explained Appello. "He was a team leader in many aspects."

For the second straight year, Brearely's Vic Verno is a member of our All-County wrestling squad.

This year, Verno claims our 160-pound spot with a 29-4 mark. A Region 11 champion, Verno recorded some lopsided victories, including a 19-6 win over Brian Martin of Brick Memorial during the state tournament.

Steve Marcantonio of Rahway High School leaves the Indians as the fourth-winningest wrestler in school history. The 171-pound senior posted an impressive 25-5 record this season. His career mark at Rahway is 61-19-1.

During the season, Marcantonio gave some of his best performances in his biggest matches. He finished third in the UCT, second in the District 11 Tournament, second in the Region 3 Tournament, and he placed in the top 12 in the recent state tournament.

As good as he is in football, Dave Patterson is also something else in wrestling.

One of three 171-pounders to share this space, Patterson rolled to a 26-2 record and 17 falls. That includes Union County and District 10 titles.

"He gave his much-needed strength in the upper weights," said Appello in reference to his co-captain.

Brearely's Bob Taylor Jr. is quite a wrestler.

His hard work brought him a first-ever District 11 title, as well as a trip to the state tournament.

The junior recorded a 26-4 record and 10 pins. Taylor placed second in the county tournament to Patterson, and ahead of Marcantonio. And Taylor won his regional crown by beating Marcantonio, 11-7 — just two months after Marcantonio had defeated Taylor in December's Woodbridge Tournament.

And Jose Rodriguez, who is also active for Brearely in football and baseball, went 22-3 this past winter and came in second in the District 11 tournament. Only by a small margin did he miss qualifying for the state tournament.

Scott DuBeau had a big year for the Bears, despite facing tough foes such as Rahway's Daryl Furr-Bell and Elizabeth's Ed Perez, both of whom lost to DuBeau (19-5) when the latter won a first-ever District 11 championship.

"Scott had a successful year and he really wrestled well this season," said Brearely coach Ron Ferrara.

Finally, Union's Scott Platt did everything for Union. Going 22-3-1 with county and district titles, the senior heavyweight helped the Farmers win the Watchung Conference championship.

Who's on 1st?

This week's question: When Ramon Martinez of the L.A. Dodgers went 20-6 last year, he became the second-youngest pitcher in team history to win 20 games. Who was the first?

Last week's answer: Rod Gilbert remains the leading scorer in Ranger history. Gilbert, who played his first NHL game in the 1960-61 season, holds many team records. But his lifetime total of 1,021 points (406 goals, 615 assists) stands as the most noted achievement of his brilliant 19-year career with the Broadway Blueshirts.

This week, Henry Hascup of Lodi, Peter Caggiano of Berkeley Heights and Stephen Reithinger of Union submitted correct answers.

Merlin performs 'Magic'

What does the Union County Arts Center on Irving Street in Rahway have in common with the White House, the Smithsonian, Kennedy Center and the U.N.? On April 7 it joins these prestigious sites on the list of places at which the versatile Jack Adams has performed.

Actor, illusionist, pantomimist, storyteller and quick-change artist, Adams will be portraying fabled court magician Merlin. The Theatreworks USA Production of "Merlin Magic" will have a one-time-only matinee performance at the theatre that has become one of New Jersey's most talked-about restoration projects.

Though "Merlin Magic" is aimed mainly at kids, parents may find Adams a departure from what usually passes as "family entertainment." He has tread the boards with the best of the headliners — James Earl Jones, Jack Lemmon, Liza Minnelli and Dudley Moore, to name a few — and has performed his magic throughout the world.

Showtime is 2 p.m.; doors open at 1 p.m. Tickets are $5 and may be purchased at the box office at 1601 Irving St., at the junction of Main Street and Central Avenue in Rahway; or call 908-499-8226.

Pushcart tells its tales

Pushcart Players, the Verona-based professional theatre ensemble for young and family audiences, will perform "Stone Soup And Other Stories" on April 6 at the Roosevelt Intermediate School in Westfield at 11 a.m.

"Stone Soup And Other Stories" — Pushcart's spring mini-production — is an excellent introduction to theatre for children from pre-school to fourth grade. It contains story favorites from Africa, India, Eastern Europe and the United States and is filled with humor, fantasy, color and wit. Tickets are $5, and for more information, call the school — located on Clark St. and Cowperthwaite Place — at 908-789-4401.

Pushcart Players is available to perform in schools and performing arts centers and is also offering "Three Cheers For America" — a salute to 20th Century America in song, dance and story — in the spring. All Pushcart performances are accompanied by a comprehensive study guide for each classroom teacher and an optional discussion period with the cast immediately following the show.

Pushcart programs are made possible through grants provided by Hoffmann-La Roche, Inc., New Jersey State Council on the Arts/Department of State, DeLuxe Check Printers, Inc., Metropolitan Life Foundation and Mutual Benefit Life.

For further information regarding any of Pushcart's programs or to book one of the shows, call 201-857-1115. Or write "Pushcart," 197 Bloomfield Avenue, Verona, N.J. 07044.

NJSO set for season as faces change

Music director Hugh Wolff has announced plans for the New Jersey Symphony Orchestra's 69th season, 1991-92. The season will include 56 subscription concerts throughout New Jersey, as well as performances at Carnegie Hall and Avery Fisher Hall in New York City.

It will be Wolff's final season leading the NJSO. The orchestra will also enter the season with a new face at the helm; executive director John Hyer stepped down last week after more than 10 years with the NJSO.

Subscription concerts will be heard at Symphony Hall in Newark, the State Theatre in New Brunswick, John Harms Center for the Arts in Englewood, the Count Basie Theatre in Red Bank, the Pingry School in Martinsville, the War Memorial in Trenton and Richardson Auditorium in Princeton. The season will open Oct. 3 in Englewood with a program of music by Beethoven, Berg and Brahms, conducted by Wolff and featuring violinist Midori.

Guest conductors leading the NJSO next season include Kazuyoshi Akiyama, Jahja Ling, Michael Morgan, Carl St. Clair and Christopher Wilkins, all making their NJSO debuts. Returning to lead the orchestra will be Leon Fleisher, conductor/violinist Joseph Silverstein and NJSO assistant conductor Peter Rubardt.

Returning guest artists featured in the 1991-92 season will be pianist Joseph Kalichstein and Andre Watts, violinists Cho-Liang Lin, Midori, Nadja Salerno-Sonnenberg and Joseph Silverstein, violist Kim Kashkashian, cellist Carter Brey, soprano Rebecca Copley, mezzo-soprano Laura Brooks Rice, tenor Gary Lakes, baritone Sanford Sylvan, bass John Cheek and the Westminster Choir, with Joseph Flummerfelt, director.

Making their NJSO debuts will be pianists Jon Kimura Parker and Helene Wickel, violinist Daniel Phillips, guitarist Christopher Parkening and the traditional music group, the Chieftains.

The NJSO's Major Concert Series will continue to present 10 programs in Newark, and eight programs each in Englewood, Trenton and New Brunswick. The Red Bank series will include six programs.

Highlights include performances of Verdi's "Messa da Requiem" with the Westminster Choir and soloists Rebecca Copley, Laura Brooks Rice, Gary Lakes and John Cheek. The NJSO will present the world premiere of New Jersey composer George Walker's "Poeme for Violin and Orchestra," to be performed by Cho-Liang Lin, both in New Jersey and at Carnegie Hall; and the New Jersey premiere of John Harbison's "Remembering Gatsby: Foxtrot for Orchestra." Other highlights include Alfred Schnittke's Viola Concerto and Toru Takemitsu's "Star Isle."

Symphonies to be performed in the Major Concert Series include Beethoven's fourth, Brahms' second, Rachmaninoff's second, Shostakovich's tenth and Sibelius' first. Also to be heard are concerti by Berg, Schumann, Beethoven, Elgar, Mendelssohn and Tchaikovsky; and works by Mussorgsky-Ravel, Britten, Copland, Bartok, Rossini, Ives and Respighi.

The NJSO's Chamber Orchestra Series will continue to present four concerts each in Princeton, New Brunswick, Englewood and Martinsville, featuring works of the 18th selling subscriptions for both the Major and Chamber Orchestra Series. The box office can be reached at 624-8203; or call toll-free at 1-800-ALLEGRO.

The orchestra's schedule also includes several non-subscription concert appearances. The NJSO and Wolff will return to Carnegie Hall on Nov. 7 with the New York premiere of the full orchestra version of Harbison's "Remembering Gatsby: Foxtrot for Orchestra;" the world premiere of Walker's "Poeme" and Chausson's "Poeme," both performed by Cho-Liang Lin, and Rachmaninoff's "Symphonic Dances." This concert will mark the seventh appearance by NJSO and Wolff at Carnegie Hall.

In addition, the NJSO and Wolff will make a second New York appearance next season on Jan. 15, 1992, at Avery Fisher Hall. The concert, entitled "Absolut Concerto," is sponsored by Absolut Vodka and will feature the New York premiere of David Diamond's "This Sacred Ground" and the world premieres of works by American composers commissioned for the occasion by Absolut Vodka.

Two special St. Patrick's Day weekend performances next year featuring The Chieftains will be presented in New Brunswick March 20 and Trenton, March 21.

The NJSO will continue to present programs for schoolchildren throughout New Jersey, Young Artists Auditions, summer pops concerts and concerts at the Garden State Arts Center. Details on these performances will be announced at a later date.

New Jersey Symphony Orchestra is supported in part with major grants from the New Jersey State Council on the Arts/Department of State, and the National Endowment for the Arts.

Springfield in the hi-tech age

If everything in the 1980s wasn't done by computer, then a computer in the 1990s will find out what hasn't been done by computer yet.

Springfield Computer, at 261 Morris Ave., provides all the tools necessary to computerize a home or office so that no one gets left behind by the times.

"Everything these days is computers," Joseph Chioi, owner of Springfield Computer, said. "The hi-tech war in the Persian Gulf was fought by computer and 25 percent of all homes have a computer today."

Chioi is encouraging people to put computers in their homes so that children can start using them at an early age. He sells several brands of IBM-compatible computers including Packard Bell, NEC, Leading Edge, and his own brand. In addition, Springfield Computers provides peripherals including Hewlett Packard and Epson printers, and a variety of VGA and Super VGA monitors.

"In the real world, all companies use IBM or compatibles," Chioi said. "It is important that kids learn on these kinds of computers."

Springfield Computers is the retail end of a business which began in January 1985. According to Chioi, the wholesale portion of the business, now located in Orange, grew and the company realized it needed to expand into retail.

Chioi has done business with the federal government and also holds large corporate accounts. He added that prices are constantly coming down on computers and that some systems can be purchased for less than $500.

All employees at Springfield Computers have backgrounds in computer science, and in addition to knowledge of how the inside of a computer works, they are able to provide consulting so that systems are user-friendly.

The consultants help diagram local area networks for small businesses and recommend software which will help businesses and individuals efficiently accomplish their goals. In the past only expensive minicomputers and mainframes could be used to link several users in an office, but in the past few years technology has improved so much that similar tasks can now be performed by linking simple personal computers together for a fraction of the cost.

People can use computers for word processing, planning a home budget and preparing tax returns. They also may be used to tie into large public databases for doing research at home, or advertising goods and services on bulletin boards.

With developments in desktop publishing, projects such as newsletters, magazines and reports that integrate graphics and text can also be prepared in someone's home.

Chioi may be reached at (908) 376-8833 or (800) 762-1212.

WHERE TO DINE

A Guide to Find the Finest Dining In New Jersey

By Lillian Abbracciamento and Dennis Schaal

On a sun-kissed day, the visitor climbs a flight of stairs and strolls through a grand, European wrought-iron gate to the veranda. Once inside the restaurant, the diner passes the stone-walled bar into an elegant, yet casual indoor garden-style dining room with its backdrop of lush foliage and warm skylights.

Restaurant review

Individual napkins wrapped candelabra-style in the wine glasses coupled with the stone grotto fish market, replete with a scale to weigh the live lobster catch, render an atmosphere of a special adventure in an Old-World Portuguese village.

Settle back and let this feast begin. But the patron is forced to reconsider...this is not sunny Portugal. The odyssey takes place at Costa del Sol and Old Cider Mill, located at 2443 Vauxhall Road, Union.

Costa del Sol

The restaurant, which specializes in Portuguese, Spanish and seafood dishes, has been drawing a family-style clientele, spanning all age groups, since 1982. In addition, the owners point out, local businesses and fraternal organizations have been utilizing the 12-acre grounds, the site of the old cider mill, for picnics, weddings and other outings since 1921.

Chef Tony emphasizes that the culinary focus is on the best piece of meat, the freshest adaptation of broccoli or greens. And this attention to quality and detail was evident in virtually every offering from house specialties Veal Costa del Sol and Chicken and Garlic to appetizers Chorizo and Onions and Portuguese Clams.

The entrees were reasonably priced for a restaurant of this caliber, ranging from $13.75 for Pollo al Ajillo to $27.95 for imported Dover Sole Meuniere.

Waiter Dennis Rodrigues, who hails from Castelo Branco, was, from house specialty, was on an almost equal footing.

And the Salmon with Shrimp Sauce, prepared in a light batter and served with a side portion of rice, was an unusual, but distinct pleasure.

Dessert lovers will not be disappointed here. The Flan was heavenly, as was the Banana Chocolate Chip cake; and the Cheesecake, the German Chocolate Cake, the French Chocolate Chambord and the Chocolate Mousse Pie could round out anyone's dinnertime fare.

Business functions and weddings can be handled both inside the restaurant and outside on the grounds; the outdoor picnic grounds can accommodate up to 3,000 people and catering services are available.

Costa del Sol, in easy reach of Routes 22, 24, 78, the Garden State Parkway and the New Jersey Turnpike, is open for lunch Monday through Friday from 11:30 a.m. to 2:30 p.m. The dinner menu is offered Monday through Friday from 4:30 p.m. to 10 p.m., Saturday 4:30 to 11 p.m. and Sunday from 1 p.m. to 9 p.m.

For week of Mar. 31-Apr. 6
ARIES (March 21 to April 19) Are you feeling more serious than usual? Do not worry about it. Rely on your experience instead of hunches. Release those old fears and habits. Old friends will help you.
TAURUS (April 20 to May 20) Do not waste your time on idle pursuits. Forge ahead in life with a sense of ambition. A psychological block is removed. Learn to rely on yourself more than others.
GEMINI (May 21 to June 20) Take the conservative approach when it comes to business. A sense of humor will serve you well. Break down large tasks to a manageable size. Express emotions without guilt.
CANCER (June 21 to July 22) Plan to take a pleasure trip. Spend time socializing with dear friends. Recent pressures will be released. Painful emotional encounters will prove to be fruitless.
LEO (July 23 to Aug. 22) A time of new beginnings is approaching. Take some risks. Break away from the past. Superiors will see your changes. Rewards are imminent. Keep your love life on track.
VIRGO (Aug. 23 to Sept. 22) Try a new approach in an effort to solve an old problem. The past is not necessarily a prologue. Lighten up at work. Pressure is only what you make it.

attention to your dreams. Strangers will bring you glad tidings. Share your good fortune with others. Keep your relationships friendly, as opposed to sexual. You need to take it slow.
SCORPIO (Oct. 23 to Nov. 21) Are mental gymnastics causing you to worry? Let it rest. Physical exercise is the way to release tension. Plan a hiking trip and get out in the world. Hobbies will help, too.

CAPRICORN (Dec. 22 to Jan. 19) Career ambitions really start to zoom ahead. What is this renewed confidence coming from? It is inside, of course. Be the "goo humor" man. Spread the wealth among friends and associates.
AQUARIUS (Jan. 20 to Feb. 18) Say goodbye to your secure, but ultimately dull, work. Do what you love. The travel bug will bite you again. Take advantage of it. Be yourself in relationships.
PISCES (Feb. 19 to March 20) Learn more about the power of your subconscious mind. Personal projects will get the green light. Remember that patience is a virtue. Do not waffle on important issues.

Realtors give thanks by donating blood

The Board of Realtors of the Oranges and Maplewood has announced a change in the theme of its April 11 area-wide blood drive. With Operation Desert Storm now a chapter in the nation's history books, Realtors at the Oranges-Maplewood Board, in thanksgiving for the limited loss of American lives in the Gulf area, have updated the blood drive's theme to "Give Thanks, Give Blood." The drive, conceived by the Community Service Committee of the New Jersey Association of Realtors as part of its Realtors Care program, was originally developed so Realtors could show their support for Operation Desert Storm. "With the successful completion of the conflict in the Gulf region, we have modified the umbrella theme to Give Thanks, Give Blood," said Gloria Costello of Millburn's Raymond Connolly Realtors, the board's 1991 president. "Even the loss of one life is a tragedy," she continued, "but we have much to be thankful for with so many of our men and women returning safely." The North Jersey Blood Service has chosen the board headquarters, located at 2101 Millburn Ave., Maplewood, as the donation site. The Bloodmobile will be there from 3 to 7 p.m. on April 11. Anyone wishing to make an appointment may do so by calling 763-5450. A free cholesterol screening may be requested at the site. The Board of Realtors of the Oranges and Maplewood has been serving Realtors and homeowners in Irvington, Livingston, Millburn, Short Hills, Newark, Springfield, Maplewood and the Oranges since 1911.

Freedom of Speech!
You've decided to buy a home, and the search is underway. You understand the process, that not every home will suit your tastes. You are prepared to see a number of homes before locating the one that best suits your lifestyle and personal tastes.

In the first home, you note that the color scheme combines greens and browns, while you prefer soft blues and mauve. You comment that "the colors are not right."

The second home you see has three bedrooms with a small loft study, but because you are a free-lance writer, you require a spacious and secluded fourth bedroom to house your desk and computer in privacy. You comment "the loft area is not large enough."

The third home has an eat-in kitchen and a dining area. Because you often give formal dinners for friends and associates, you comment "the dining area is just not adequate."

Your three comments reflect your personal needs and tastes, and take nothing away from the value of the ones you've rejected. Nevertheless, imagine how "by owners" would feel as you remarked: "the colors are not right, the loft area is not large enough, and the dining area is just not adequate!"

From the owners' point of view you have disparaged their home, taken something away from it, and they may become defensive.

That situation can be avoided by selecting a REALTOR® before you begin your home search. When viewing homes listed for sale, the owners will often be absent. Because the REALTOR® has no ownership interest in the homes you will be shown, remarks can be made (and taken) objectively.

Free to discuss both the pros and cons of each home, you and the REALTOR® may find alternative benefits which outweigh any negatives encountered. A home you may have avoided initially could become the home of your dreams.

Finding the right home is a process requiring patience, creativity, and vision. First discuss your needs and desires with REALTOR®, then enjoy your home buying experience!

IF YOU'RE PLANNING TO SELL YOUR HOME SOON AND WOULD LIKE INFORMATION ON ITS CURRENT VALUE, GIVE ME A CALL AT 686-1340 EVES. THERE IS NO COST OR OBLIGATION.

And my basket is full of useful gifts to please your family.
