TWO SECTIONS — 50 CENTS

Springfield will receive $573G in property tax relief

By Dennis Schaal
Staff Writer

The commercial poses the question: "How do you spell relief?"

The state of New Jersey recently provided an answer. In Springfield it's spelled "$573,705."

That's the precise amount the township will receive in 1991 from the state for local property tax relief under the provisions of the revised Quality Education Act of 1990.

Township Mayor Marc Marshall said this week that it would be premature to comment on the impact of this new municipal aid until after the Township Committee finalizes its budget proposal.

The Township Committee was slated to conduct an emergency session tomorrow at 4 p.m. in the Municipal Building to discuss the budget. The meeting is open to the public.

Mayor Marshall indicated that the Township Committee hopes to have its budget proposal finalized for presentation at next Tuesday's committee meeting.

"I think it will provide some substantial relief," noted committee member Leo Eisen Monday in reference to the QEA property tax relief monies. "Hopefully, we can use it to offset other areas affecting the taxpayer."

Eisen stated that committee members have "all worked very hard to come up with a very practical budget." He pointed out that the budget proposal "might come in with a very small increase" and that "he would think" that the property tax relief funds would counter-balance it. Actually, residents' tax bills contain four components: township, county, regional school district and local school taxes. The bottom line on town residents' tax bills and the impact of the QEA funding will not be totally clear until the four elements are finalized.

As the Township Committee continues work on its new budget proposal, the Springfield Board of Education last week unveiled a 1991-1992 budget proposal of $8,719,170, which represents a 6.45 percent increase over the previous spending plan.

The school board will conduct public hearings on its budget proposal Monday evening at Florence M. Gaudineer School and will sponsor an additional hearing, if necessary, April 15.

In adopting its preliminary budget last week, the school board issued a statement which said "the original QEA would have been fiscally disastrous to the Springfield school district."

"As a result of the revisions that were brought about by those efforts, the tax rate in Springfield for the average homeowner is projected to decrease," the board statement contended.

"The impact of the school tax levy is offset by the QEA municipal tax rebate provision of the new law and it results in a zero tax levy increase."

The Union County Regional High School District 1 Board of Education, meanwhile, passed a preliminary 1991-92 budget March 19 which calls for $39,689,118 in spending, a 5.51 percent hike. Springfield is one of the six municipalities in the district.

In announcing Springfield's share of the state property tax relief initiative, Assemblyman Neil Cohen, who represents District 21, last week characterized the "historic property tax relief" as "a landmark fiscal decision." He voted in favor of the measure.

"The new funds will provide you with the opportunity to significantly reduce the municipal tax burden placed upon your residents," Cohen wrote in a letter to Marshall and the Township Committee members.

The precise impact of the property tax relief will unfold as the budget processes further develop over the next several weeks.

Opera star to appear at D.C. gala

By Suzette Stalker
Managing Editor

Springfield resident Rose Senerchia, an internationally acclaimed opera star, will be taking her talents to Washington, D.C., on May 3 for a gala benefit commemorating the 30th anniversary of astronaut Alan Shepard's becoming the first American in space.

The star-studded event will be held at the Washington Hilton with 4,000 people in attendance, including President Bush and First Lady Barbara Bush, as well as members of the United States Congress and the Senate. Senerchia will be sharing the bill with such luminaries as Walter Cronkite and Bob Hope.

"I'm on right after Bob Hope and before the president," Senerchia, a soprano, gazed this week. "You couldn't ask for better billing. Right now I'm too euphoric to be nervous, but that evening I know I'll be nervous. The adrenaline will really be flowing."

"I'm sure it will be a night I'll always remember," Senerchia added. She said that her husband, Robert, and her 13-year-old daughter, Toni Ann, a student at Florence M. Gaudineer School in Springfield, will be joining her for the Washington, D.C., festivities.

Proceeds from the event, which costs $10,000 per table, will benefit the Mercury 7 Foundation, named for America's seven original astronauts, to provide college scholarships to underprivileged students majoring in science.

The benefit will also aid the foundation's Space Camps, which afford children and young adults an opportunity to learn more about the United States space program and about space exploration itself.

An avid follower of the space program, Senerchia met and became friends with her idol, Shepard, in 1984 while she was performing with the Houston Opera Company. Since then, the opera star has been seeking ways to help the Mercury 7 Foundation, which led to her invitation to sing at the gala.

The Washington appearance is just one of many upcoming milestones for Senerchia, who will sing "The Star-Spangled Banner" for the Houston Astros' opening day game April 12 at the Astrodome in Houston, followed by "America the Beautiful" and "God Bless America."

The songs are planned as a tribute to American troops who are either stationed in or have recently returned from the Persian Gulf. Senerchia, who has also been asked to sing the national anthem at next year's Super Bowl, will be accompanied in her Astrodome performance by the United States Military Band.

On April 27, Senerchia will debut at Steinway Hall in Manhattan in a concert featuring popular arias and selections from the successful Broadway musical "Phantom of the Opera," for which she was recently offered the important role of opera star "Cariqua."

She will also be performing duets that evening with baritone Abe Poliakoff, another internationally known opera singer who has also performed at the Metropolitan Opera.

Finally, Senerchia will be performing "An Evening of Opera" May 11 at 8:30 p.m. at Temple Beth Ahm in Springfield with Eujenio Fernandi, an internationally known tenor who has performed at the Metropolitan Opera. This performance will also include selected arias and excerpts from "Phantom."

A native of Irvington, Senerchia graduated from the Juilliard School in Manhattan with a degree in voice. She began her career as a ballerina, dancing with the American Ballet Theater and the Royal Ballet in London before turning her talents to opera.

She has performed with major opera companies both nationally and internationally, performing such classics as "La Boheme," "Carmen," "La Traviata" and "The Magic Flute." Last Dec. 5, Senerchia debuted at Carnegie Hall, performing the last act of Strauss' "Salome."

In May of next year, Senerchia will be traveling to Great Britain for a command performance at the London Palladium for the Royal Family, which will be broadcast on ABC-TV. The performance was postponed from this May because of the war in the Persian Gulf. On June 8, she will be

MICKEY VISITS ST. JAMES SCHOOL — Mickey Mouse recently visited the open house for preschool and kindergarten children at St. James School in Springfield. Teacher's aide Diane Geiger, left of Mickey, and kindergarten teacher Kathy Hodic, right of Mickey, join prospective students for the 1991-92 school year. For more information about preschool or kindergarten classes, one can call the school at 376-5194 for information and registration.

Firefighter to compete in benefit gourmet cookoff

By Dennis Schaal
Staff Writer

Springfield Fireman 1st Class Jim Anagnos knows how to stamp out a kitchen fire, but he's never received any formal training in the culinary arts.

Still, one spice led to another so that the 29-year-old Springfield native will represent the township's fire department at the first Firemen's Mutual Benevolent Association Gourmet Cookoff at the Woodbridge Sheraton April 14.

Seventeen firefighter chefs will compete for awards that evening. Proceeds from the benefit will go to the Saint Barnabas Burn Foundation, which supports New Jersey's only certified burn treatment facility at Saint Barnabas Medical Center in Livingston.

Anagnos, who resides on Bryant Avenue, plans to show off his skills with his rendition of shrimp and scallop jambalaya along with desserts of chocolate mousse and ambrosia, which consists of crushed pineapple, bananas, pistachio pudding and Cool Whip.

John Pyar, Jim Beyer and Charlie Colline, fellow members of the 17-person paid Fire Department, will assist the "local gourmet" in prepping the ingredients.

"I saw a TV show one day, some Louisiana guy cooking all kinds of jambalaya," Anagnos said in explanation of his submitting a cookoff recipe for the Cajun specialty. "I sort of made a few adjustments, winged it the first time and it worked out pretty good."

Anagnos served the Springfield

Fire Department for eight years as a volunteer before becoming a department professional almost five years ago. He didn't set out to become a cook.

"I started out just cooking for the guys down at the fire house when we were working nights," Anagnos recalled.

Department members, who work on a rotating schedule of two days on, one day off and then two nights on, find themselves confronting a hunger pang or two at the Caldwell Place firehouse on any given evening.

Anagnos has sort of a captive audience for his cooking experiments. He noted that he tried out the jambalaya recipe on several Springfield firefighters during a lunch recess in the

First county rabies sparks warning

By Suzette Stalker
Managing Editor

The Springfield Health Department has renewed its warning to area residents to avoid contact with any wildlife, such as raccoons and skunks, as well as stray dogs and cats, which are suspected of carrying the rabies virus.

The latest advisory was issued March 26 after the New Jersey Department of Health verified a case of raccoon rabies in Cranford. It marked the first confirmed case of rabies to occur in Union County since a statewide rabies alert was issued nine months ago.

The wildlife rabies epizootic — an animal epidemic — first arrived in New Jersey in November 1989. Health officials theorize that the virus was brought from Pennsylvania across the Delaware River into New Jersey by a raccoon.

It has since spread to nine counties, including Union, Hunterdon, Mid-dlex, Morris, Passaic, Mercer, Somerset, Sussex and Warren, with a total of 620 rabies cases having been reported since the epidemic began. Prior to 1989, no rabies cases had been reported in New Jersey for 40 years.

The Cranford case was brought to light after a raccoon became involved in a fight with a dog owned by a resident of that township during the week of March 18. Police and animal control services dispatched to the scene captured the raccoon, which subsequently tested positive for rabies.

The dog, which had been vaccinated against rabies, was given a booster shot and is currently under a 90-day quarantine. Springfield Health Officer Cynthia Weaver said Monday that the rabies epizootic arrived in the Union County area "a lot sooner than expected." State health officials, who have been tracking the virus since it arrived in New Jersey, did not expect it to hit this area until the summer.

She reported that of domesticated animals, cats are the most susceptible because of their tendency to roam and because cats are generally not vaccinated as regularly as dogs are. Sherr emphasized that it is just as important for cats to be inoculated as it is for dogs.

Weaver urged area residents to avoid contact with all wildlife, as well as with any unfamiliar dogs or cats. She advised them to contact their local police or health department to secure the animal and riot to make any attempt to apprehend the animal.

The health officer reported that a rabid animal is likely to behave in either an aggressive or sickly manner.

It may be vomiting, having difficulty walking or appear intoxicated, she added. In addition, a wild animal infected with rabies may appear

Egg hunt is rescheduled

The Spring Egg Hunt, which was recently postponed, has been rescheduled for Saturday at the Chisholm Community Center, South Springfield Avenue, Springfield. The event is being sponsored by the Springfield Recreation Department and the Springfield Recreation Committee.

The egg hunt is open to Springfield residents 3 1/2 years old through third grade. Registration for children 3 1/2 to kindergarten will be held that day at 12:30 p.m. and children in grades 1, 2 and 3 should report at 1:30 p.m. for registration.

library notes

The Springfield Public Library will present an art exhibit by the Discovery Club, an after school program at the Walton School in Springfield, beginning tomorrow and continuing until April 30. All artworks will be originals done by students in kindergarten through grade 4.

The head teacher is Barbara Wade, with art teacher Sona Berke and assistants Daniela Saurini and Lynn Ryzkalla.

On Sunday, Springfield resident Emma Lampariello will return to the library to conduct her popular origami workshop beginning at 2 p.m. Origami is the Japanese art of paper folding. The former teacher is well-known for her creative decoration of the library's Christmas tree each year.

The free workshop is open to all ages, but advance sign-up is requested. One can call the library at 376-4930 during library hours to register or sign up in person at the circulation desk. The library is located at 66 Mountain Ave.

The library has also announced its schedule of Story Time Programs. Preschool Story Time, for children ages 3 1/2 to 5, will be held on Tuesdays from 10:30-11:15 a.m. It will begin this Tuesday and be held again on April 23 and 30 and May 7, 21 and 28. There will be no sessions on April 16 or May 14.

Story Time For 3's and 4's will be held on Tuesdays from 1:30-2:15 p.m. for children ages 3 and 4. This group will also begin this Tuesday and be held again April 23 and 30 and May 7, 21 and 28. There will be no sessions on April 16 or May 14.

Toddler Story Time will be held on Wednesdays from 10:30-11 a.m. for children 2 1/2 to 3 1/2 accompanied by a caregiver. This group will meet April 10 and 24 and May 1, 8, 22 and 29. There will be no sessions on April 17 or May 15.

Mother Goose Rhyme Time will be held April 11, May 9 and May 24 from 10:30-10:50 a.m. for children 18 months to 2 1/2 years accompanied by a caregiver.

The Children's Department of the library has announced its spring schedule of special programs and activities. A Story/Craft Program for children in kindergarten through grade 4 will be held May 22 from 3:30-4:30 p.m.

Bedtime Story Programs will be held Monday from 7-7:45 p.m. for children ages 4-9; May 6 from 7-7:45 p.m. for children 4-9 and May 20 from 6:45-7:15 p.m. for children ages 3-5.

An origami storytelling and workshop will be held April 11 from 3:30-4:30 p.m. for children in grades 2-4 and a Saturday Story Program titled "Grandparents Are Special" will be held April 27 from 10:30-11:15 a.m. for children ages 3 1/2 and up accompanied by a grandparent.

Registration is required for these programs. One can stop by the library or call 376-4930.

Senerchia, a member of the Royal Academy of Dancing, recently opened her own school — the American Academy of Dancing — on the border of Springfield and Summit. She was also recently inducted into the International Music Museum Hall of Fame in London, which recognizes composers and performers "who have distinguished themselves in the music profession, both past and present," the opera star explained.

"I can't believe this is all really happening," Senerchia exclaimed. "It's all so wonderful, but I worked a lot of years for this. It doesn't happen overnight. There's no such thing as overnight success."

abnormally passive. Weaver urged township residents to ensure that all pets are vaccinated against rabies and that these vaccinations are up to date.

For further information on the rabies epizootic, one can contact the Rabies Epizootic Update Line at 1-609-292-5769.

BENEFIT OF HIS EXPERIENCE — Maureen Curley, program chairman of the Millburn-Springfield Kiwanis, presents a guest speaker certificate to Scott M. Dukowsky, D.D.S.. Dr. Dukowsky spoke to the club about dental benefits. The Kiwanis is a group of business and professional people who live and work in the area and are dedicated to community service. The Kiwanis meets every Thursday at 12:15 p.m. in the Tower Steak House Restaurant, Route 22 East, Mountainside.

Becky Seal lunch menu

The Becky Seal Nutrition Program for the elderly is being held at the Chisholm Community Center on South Springfield Avenue in Springfield Monday through Friday. Reservations may be made by calling 912-2233. Transportation can be arranged by calling 912-2227.

The lunch menu for April 8-12 is as follows:
Monday — Hamburger with ketchup and onion; cole slaw, baked beans, fruit cocktail, vegetable juice, hamburger bun, margarine and milk.
Tuesday — Knockwurst with mustard, red cabbage, hot German potatoes, applesauce, beef barley soup, bread, margarine and milk.

Wednesday — Baked chicken with gravy, green beans, herbed stuffing, pineapple tidbits, cream of mushroom soup, bread, margarine and milk.
Thursday — Beef liver with gravy, sliced beets, mashed potatoes, chocolate pudding, chicken noodle soup, bread, margarine and milk.

Fireman to compete

middle of their taking a test to become captain.

"They seemed a little more relaxed going back in," Anagnos remarked. Sue Doyle, a spokeswoman for the FMBA, which represents some 5,400 paid state firefighters, said this week that the original idea for the cookoff emanated with a challenge to New York City firefighters. Monies raised, she said, would have gone to respective burn centers, but the New Yorkers backed down.

The Saint Barnabas Burn Foundation will benefit from the cookoff between firefighters from 15 local New Jersey fire departments. Tickets go for $25 and participants will be served hors d'oeuvres, followed by buffet-style entrees and dessert.

Doyle noted that the contest will be judged by several sports personalities as well as renowned chefs and food critics. She said the public will also have a chance to select a "people's choice" winner.

Once the cookoff terminates and becomes the stuff of firefighting lore, the gourmets' recipes will be printed in the third edition of "Alarming Recipes," a cookbook published by state firefighters.

In the days leading up to the event, Anagnos and his assistants were plotting strategy. "I plan to get there early and to get everything ready and to cook the best I can," he revealed. Anagnos pointed out that members of the township force have strong feelings about aiding burn victims. He noted that recovery can be "very long-term and very painful." He recalled that over the years "we've had a couple of fatalities in town" and that "it gets to you."

The department participates in the statewide Aluminum Cans for Burned Children program, a recycling project funded by ALCOA. The local Fire Department collects cans and drops them off monthly at a facility in Belleville. ALCOA compensates the burn center for the recycled cans.

The cookoff will feature a Monte Carlo Night and a raffle to raise funds for the burn unit. Sponsors of the event include: Automatic Data Processing, Philip Morris, Hoffmann-LaRoche, Bristol-Myers Squibb Company, Schering Plough, Seilers and New Jersey Bell.

As the cookoff approaches, one question remains for Anagnos: how has the culinary regimen changed the world for Springfield's firefighting gourmet?

Not much, says Anagnos, noting that his mother, Carol, still does most of the cooking for him when he returns home late from the fire house. "Things are about the same. I'm pretty much still getting the leftovers."

Museum will be spotlighted

The Springfield Historical Society will hold its next meeting on Sunday at 2 p.m. in the Sarah Baily Recreation Center, Church Mall, Springfield. The public is invited to attend.

Program Chairman Catherine Siess announced that a slide lecture will be presented titled "The New and Innovative Exhibits at the Newark Museum" by Emma Fantone.

Fantone will emphasize the latest nuances incorporated in the renovations recently completed at the museum. She explained that the focus at this time will be on American art starting with the late 18th century to the present, including folk art and other styles.

For many years, the Newark Museum has housed a large Asian collection, and now there is expanded space for the museum's exhibits from Tibet, Nepal, China, Japan, India, Korea and other Far Eastern lands.

Fantone will also show slides and discuss new educational programs for children.

Cal Deckert & Sons Celebrate 50th Year In Business

FIFTY YEARS IN BUSINESS — Cal Deckert & Sons, Inc., celebrate their 50th year in the window, shade and awning business. The company, located on Morris Avenue, started business in 1940 with little more than sheer determination and a crew of four. Today, however, the company is much larger. The businessmen are, from left, Rick Mattia, Marilyn Deckert, Carl Deckert, Robert Deckert Sr., Mayor Anthony Russo, Robert Deckert Jr., Hans Hirdes, Hector Rivera, John Padula and Ray Donegan.

THE ENTIRE DECKERT FAMILY WANTS TO SAY "THANK YOU" TO THE PUBLIC FOR HELPING US REACH OUR 50TH YEAR

In 1940 John Calvin Deckert Sr. founded "Union Window Shade & Awning Company" with nothing more than sheer determination and a crew of four. His loving supportive wife, Mary, and their three sons, Cal Jr., Bob, and Carl, helped him launch his new business venture. Many long hours helped this hard working crew pull together at all times making their family business "One that works," an accomplishment rarely seen today.

Now, three generations later, they are celebrating their "50th Year" in business and still servicing the public at the same location, 1873 Morris Avenue, in their hometown of Union. And they are still serving the public in the same caring way that Cal Sr. began doing 50 years ago. This attests the fact that, "No job is too big or too small for the Deckerts."

All of the Deckerts invite you to see their large beautiful showroom filled with many home improvement products that they install including vinyl replacement windows, garage doors, storm doors, vinyl and aluminum siding, vertical blinds, and aluminum and canvas awnings. This does even begin to touch the number of products that Union Window Shade & Awning Company sells and installs.

Along with Cal Deckert Sr. (1st Generation), Cal Jr., Bob and Carl (2nd Generation), Robert T. Deckert Jr. and brother Chris Deckert (3rd Generation) are all serving you in the same traditional way that has been the Deckert's success...dealing with the public in an old fashioned, friendly and honest way. Their motto is, "Giving the best service they can."

The Deckerts look forward to seeing you and your new generation of family members since so much of their success is based on repeat business passed from family to family. Please drop in and say hello to the Deckerts and their business family.

New YWCA programs to promote fitness and fun

The Summit YWCA, 79 Maple Street, Summit has announced that Springfield and Mountside residents are eligible to participate in the spring term of classes and activities beginning April 15 at the YWCA. Registration is taking place at YWCA now.

Two new fitness classes are available this spring, including Teen Aerobics on Monday and Wednesday afternoons; Cheerleading Clinic on Tuesday afternoons, Creative Movement on Wednesday and Saturday, Dancelot for pre-schoolers with a parent on Saturday, Jazzercise and more.

The YWCA offers a well-balanced selection of exercise and fitness classes to meet the needs of women and their families. Classes run the gamut from dance to swimming to aerobics to a fully-equipped Fitness Center.

If one is looking for cardiovascular conditioning, one can look into the YW's Aerobics Extravaganza program where, for one low fee, one can choose from eight different classes offered several times throughout the week.

Class times range from 7 a.m.-8 p.m. Another class recommended for those interested in cardio-respiratory endurance is Tapaerobics, a dance class for women.

For those who need to strengthen and tone their muscles and increase their flexibility, the Fitness Center is fully equipped with free weights, treadmill, Eagle cybox circuit equipment, bicycles, a stairmaster and more. The YW trainers will design a program appropriate for each participant.

Expectant and new mothers can firm up their muscles in the Pre-Natal and Post-Partum Fitness classes.

Pre-Natal Fitness combines calisthenic and strengthening exercises to promote muscular strength and flexibility before delivery. Post-Partum adds stretching and aerobic exercises to tighten and re-strengthen muscles. Babies are welcome.

Participants have the option of taking these classes one, two or three times each week at different times.

Fitness Combos offer "super bargain" combination packages of Aquatics and Aerobics classes, Fitness Center/Yoga, Fitness Center and Aquatics and Fitness Center/Aerobics classes for those who are looking for over-all fitness.

The YWCA also offers exercise classes for children of all ages. These include the Rollerbeats program, gymnastics classes, karate, dancing and swimming. New this term are Intro to Dance and Intro to Modern Dance, Dancelot and Creative Movement.

All of these classes have Saturday sections to accommodate working parents. Children and a parent can begin swimming lessons at age one and continue through the Red Cross series of classes. Classes are offered many times throughout the week and on Saturdays as well.

For more information about keeping fit at the YWCA, one can call Carol White, director of Health Promotional Services, at 273-4242.

For non-physical YW members, the spring term offers English as a Second Language classes, French, a decorating workshop and "Kindergarten — Fun or Fear," a workshop for parents of pre-schoolers.

In addition, the YW will be holding a course called "Divorce, NJ Style," with area attorneys, for those who are separated or just thinking about it, and "Dollars and Sense in Hard Times," a workshop on budgeting and making money.

For more information about these classes, one can call Diane Gallo, Women's Program director, at 273-4242.

New for children is Handweaving, a direct, hands-on class for young elementary-age youngsters. Also offered this term is "Be A Better Babysitter," a Red Cross-certified course for young teens.

Day camp registration is continuing now at the YWCA. Campers can sign up for Camp Littlefoot in the mornings, a new extended Day Camp, an all-day program and Karate Camp.

For more information, one can call the YWCA at 273-4242. One can register by telephone with a major credit card or in person at the YW. The YWCA is a United Way Agency.

Workshops to establish parent-child interaction

Trailside Nature and Science Center will be offering Saturday morning and afternoon sessions of its already popular preschool and parent program titled "Two Of Us," which are nature-related workshops for ages children ages 2 1/2 - 4 accompanied by an adult.

The workshops are designed to promote an awareness of the natural environment while encouraging parent and child interaction and learning.

The program is currently being offered on Wednesdays at 9:30 a.m. and 1 p.m. but due to an increased demand for preschool programs, the center is offering the additional Saturday sessions at 10 a.m. and 1 p.m.

Programs for April include "April Fool," "Wet and Wonderful," "Forests are More Than Trees" and "Buzzzz."

"Working parents have expressed a desire to participate in quality-time programs on the weekends," explained Trailside assistant director Betty Ann Kelly.

"We're very proud of our preschool program offerings. We have received a tremendous amount of positive feedback from parents and the preschoolers as well," she added.

In 1987, "Two Of Us" received an award from the National Association of Counties Organization. Preschool naturalist Debbie Stein, mother of two and a former preschool teacher and scout leader will be leading the workshops.

Stein also instructs "Small Fry Days," another NACO award recipient, a drop-off program for four and five year olds offered on Thursdays and Fridays.

"Baby Makes Three" is a more flexible program which often includes hikes or "strolls" led by Kelly on alternate Tuesdays at 1 p.m. for 2 1/2 to 4 year olds with younger siblings accompanied by an adult.

This program not only allows interaction between parent and children but "sibling team-work" is also encouraged.

Trailside's primary goal, according to Kelly, "is to instill respect for life, nature and the environment through our programming."

Pre-registration is required for these programs. Parents can contact Trailside at 789-3670 for space availability and registration information.

Artists exhibit their oil paintings at local hospital

The public is invited to view a special two-person art show by Carol Balliet and Dorothy Wilkenson which will be on display at Children's Specialized Hospital, New Providence Road, Mountside, throughout the month of April.

The artists' exhibit of oil paintings will focus upon wildlife of Milton Lake, Rahway.

Balliet, a resident of Westfield, works in various media, including oils, watercolors, prints and lithographs. She is the winner of many juried art shows over the past 18 years throughout New Jersey, Virginia and North Carolina.

A member of the Westfield Art Association, she has studied with master printers Anthony Kirk and Michael Palletieri and at schools in London and Wales.

Balliet's etchings are included in many private and corporate collections including AT&T, Knight Publishing, Bell Communications Research and Tenneco.

Wilkenson, a resident of Clark, has taught oil painting and has received numerous prizes for her works. She is a charter member of the Clark Art Association and served as that group's first president. She is also a member of the Westfield Art Association and the New Jersey Center of Visual Arts.

Wilkenson is a graduate of the DuCret School in Plainfield and many of her paintings are included in private art collections.

If an individual or group would like to view the display between 8 a.m. and 4:30 p.m. weekly or on weekends, one can contact Shirley Biegler, the hospital's community resource coordinator, at 233-3720, extension 379. The artists' works are for sale, with a portion benefiting the hospital.

Civic Calendar

The Civic Calendar is prepared each week by the Springfield Leader and the Mountside Echo. To avoid conflicts in scheduling local events, please post dates, times and places as early as possible and send to P.O. Box 3109, Union, N.J. 07083.

Open auditions for the Open Gate Players production of "Snow White and the Seven Dwarfs" will be held Monday and Wednesday at 7:30 p.m. at Temple Sha'arey Shalom, South Springfield Avenue and Shunpike Road, Springfield.

This is an adult cast musical play for children. To be cast are Snow White, Prince Charming, various dwarfs and other roles. For further information one can call director Bobbe Weinstein at 376-9492.

Trailside Nature and Science Center, Coles Avenue and New Providence Road, Mountside, will hold a planetarium show throughout the month of April entitled "Everyday is Sunday," at 2 and 3:30 p.m., for ages 6 and up.

Participants will find out how the space craft Ulysses will offer a three-dimensional perspective on the sun as never before revealed.

Changes in legislative districts could affect election results

By Tom Canavan and Alec Schwartz
Staff Writers

Two of Union County's legislative districts have changed significantly in the state's redistricting plan, and the restructuring could result in the upset of at least one assemblyman's re-election chances this year.

Now that the former all-Union County 21st District is composed of fewer Union County municipalities than the number of western Essex County suburbs with which it is now aligned, Democrat Neil Cohen might face a tough campaign for his second bid in the Assembly.

Cohen will share the 21st District with Republican Assemblywoman Maureen Ogden, who formerly represented the 22nd District. That district, which was represented by Ogden and Republican Assemblyman Robert Franks, will be shared by Franks and Republican Chuck Hardwick, formerly of the 21st District, under the revised plan. Hardwick has announced his intention to decline a bid for another term in the Assembly, leaving a vacancy in the 22nd District.

The 22nd District, which comprises municipalities in Union and Essex counties, now comprises municipalities in Union, Somerset and Morris counties.

With one exception, the 20th District is virtually unchanged.

Hillside, which was in the 21st District, is now aligned with most of the city of Newark in the 29th District.

The state's Legislative Apportionment Commission adopted the redistricting plan on March 28, as it does every 10 years following the results of the census, which reflects population shifts across the state.

Union County will be represented primarily in the 20th, 21st and 22nd legislative districts, the exceptions being Hillside, and Plainfield, which will be represented in the 17th District with municipalities from Middlesex County.

The 20th District, which included Elizabeth, Linden, Rahway and Middlesex County's Carteret, now consists of four Union County municipalities — Elizabeth, Linden, Rahway and Roselle. The district will continue to be represented by Democratic Sen. Raymond Lesniak, and Assembly members Thomas Deverin and George Hudak, both Democrats. Deverin, following November's election, will move to the 19th District.

The new configuration of the 21st District includes the Union County municipalities of Kenilworth, Roselle Park, Springfield, Summit and Union, and the Essex County municipalities of Caldwell, Cedar Grove, Essex Fells, Livingston, Millburn, North Caldwell, Roseland and Verona. The district will be represented by Republican Sen. Louis Bassano, and Cohen and Ogden in the Assembly.

The 22nd District includes the Union County municipalities of Berkeley Heights, Clark, Cranford, Fanwood, Garwood, Mountainside, New Providence, Scotch Plains, Westfield and Winfield, Morris County's Chatham and Passaic Township, and the Somerset County municipalities of Dunellen, Green Brook, North Plainfield, Warren Township and Watchung. The district will continue to be represented in the Senate by Republican Sen. Donald DiFrancesco. In the Assembly, the district will be represented by Franks and Hardwick, both Republicans.

Hardwick said his decision to step down from his seat in the Assembly has nothing to do with the redistricting.

"The past 14 years of public service have been a remarkable experience, but now it's time for me to focus on my private career and family life," Hardwick said. "I have been honored to represent the people in this district and to serve a statewide constituency as Speaker."

Cohen said he is looking forward to representing the constituency in his new district.

"I always have difficult races and that will continue," he conceded. "I hope to provide Essex County with the same representation as Union County. I have openly stated my own views. I have opposed Florio on QEA and state income tax. I am an advocate of environment-sensitive issues. I also intend to protect the woman's right to decide her reproductive rights. My biggest obstacle will be informing new constituents about myself and my history of quality representation."

Ogden too is looking forward to representing her new district.

"One town, the second largest after Union, is Summit, where I have been involved. I'm looking forward to representing Union, Springfield, Roselle Park, Kenilworth and all of my other towns."

"True property-tax relief is an issue we all share," she said. "I look forward to having a Republican majority in the Assembly to help repeal the onerous Florio legislation. Although I live in Essex, I have been equally involved in Union County."

Bassano is taking a cautious approach to the reconfiguration of the 21st District. "The district as it exists right now is very compact and the new district is spread out more. I don't think anyone in politics likes change of this sort. You build up a constituency and a following and then it's taken away from you and you have to start over again."

"From a Republican point of view, I think it's a better district. But a lot of close ties are being severed. I had constituents who knew when to pick up the phone and approach me. The QEA and Florio's tax package remain the main issues. Those issues don't change whether you're down in Elizabeth or up in Bedminster."

DiFrancesco noted that "I have a nice district; it's more compact now. I like having more Union County because that's where I'm based. And I have a little Somerset and a little Morris."

Lesniak said he was not happy losing Carteret, but added, "I feel that Roselle is a great community to add. It is similar to the communities I already serve. I have many friends there and I am looking forward to representing Roselle."

Hardwick announces decision not to run for an eighth term

By Alec Schwartz
Staff Writer

Citing a need to focus on his private career and family life, Republican Assemblyman Chuck Hardwick announced Tuesday he would not seek re-election for an eighth term.

Although the announcement came in the wake of redistricting news, which would have shifted the 14-year veteran of the 21st District to the newly organized 22nd District, Hardwick said the new district was not a factor in his decision.

"The past 14 years of public service have been a remarkable experience, but now it's time for me to focus on my private career and family life," Hardwick said. "I have been honored to represent the people in this district and to serve a statewide constituency as Speaker."

Hardwick, a 25-year employee of New York-based Pfizer Pharmaceuticals, is currently vice president and the director of the Department of Civic Information. The Westfield resident was first elected to the Assembly in 1977 and has since been re-elected to six additional terms.

"Although it's hard for me to give up this aspect of my public service career, which has meant so much to me, it's a decision I have to make," Hardwick said. "I've been very fortunate to have been supported by a great staff in the Trenton and Westfield offices and by a wonderful wife."

Hardwick was selected by the Republican caucus in 1981 as Minority Whip and later served as Minority Leader. For four years beginning in 1986, he served as Speaker of the Assembly.

Hardwick has campaigned heavily for reform of adoption laws, protection against unnecessary strip searches, aid to compulsive gamblers and requiring state government to pay for state mandates. He also has advocated enforcing the current capital punishment law which, he added, a "reluctant" Supreme Court is not enforcing.

"Governor Florio and the Democrat majority in the state legislature have pushed New Jersey in the wrong direction," said Hardwick, who unsuccessfully sought the Republican nomination for governor in 1989. "The people want a change, and I firmly believe this November Republicans will recapture both the Senate and the Assembly."

Assemblywoman Maureen Ogden, the Republican incumbent in the 21st District, shared Hardwick's confidence in installing a Republican governing body. She added that she was sad to see Hardwick step down.

"I'm sorry that an individual of Chuck's ability with total commitment to good government is stepping down," Ogden said. "It's really a shock that someone running for governor just a couple of years ago is now stepping out of politics. I hope he returns sometime in the future."

Hardwick and his wife, Pat, have lived in Westfield for over 20 years. They are parents of a son, Chuck, Jr., and a daughter, Ginger. They also have two grandchildren, Jacob and Sarah Lapidus who reside in Scotch Plains.

"I want to especially thank the many friends and supporters who have helped me for the past 14 years," Hardwick added. "Their personal friendship and interest have sustained me through the difficult periods. I'm grateful and will never forget them."

IS IT REALLY ARTHRITIS?

If you have an arthritic-like condition and it's not getting any better, maybe you should find out if it really is arthritis.

The word "arthritis" comes from the Greek "arthron", meaning joint, and "itis", which stands for inflammation. In other words, arthritis refers to inflammation of the joint. Maybe you've been taking medication for joint pain and wonder why you're not getting relief. Or maybe you've resigned to the fact that you'll be taking medication for the rest of your life.

But if an examination shows that the affected joints are not inflamed, the problem may be that the joint is not functioning normally. When you receive the treatment you need, the joint may return to its normal function, and the pain may be relieved or eliminated.

No one wants to suffer from the pain of arthritis. On the other hand, if examination shows you don't have arthritis, treatment is available to correct the condition and hopefully end the pain and discomfort.

Commendations

The Parent-Teacher-Student Organization and the senior class at Jonathan Dayton Regional High School in Springfield are planning to hold a "Project Graduation" party for Dayton graduates on June 20-21.

The purpose of the party, which made a successful debut last year, is to provide graduates with an evening of fun to share with their classmates without the presence of drugs or alcohol.

Teens can enjoy dancing, refreshments and other activities in a safe, relaxed environment.

Drugs and alcohol have been responsible for many graduation night tragedies — because of alcohol, many young lives have been lost and as many dreams ended. It is uplifting to see young people turn away from a potentially-fatal one night "high" in favor of a celebration they will remember and a future they otherwise might not see.

We encourage the Mountainside parents, teachers, municipal officials and members of the business community to once again show their support for "Project Graduation," and urge all Jonathan Dayton students to take part in what has proven to be one of the most worthwhile projects ever developed by the high school.

Budding journalists

The Pulitzer Prize, which recognizes excellence in writing, has been bestowed on a select group of writers each year since its inception in 1917.

The namesake of the prize is Joseph Pulitzer, one of America's most respected journalists, whose birthdate is April 10. This year on that date, "Encourage a Beginning Writer Day" has been designated to give a boost to high school and college writers who someday aspire to be among the working press in New Jersey and across the nation.

As the owner of New York World, Pulitzer helped shape public and political opinion and set standards for editorial policy that are used by many newspapers.

He endowed the Columbia University School of Journalism before his death in 1911, and with this gift, the school established the Pulitzer Prizes, which recognize outstanding writing in the areas of fiction, poetry, biography, history, drama, music and various categories of newspaper work.

Like Pulitzer, we at the Springfield Leader would like to share our resources to encourage writers on the high school and college levels. In that spirit, we are resuming our summer intern program and are seeking aspiring journalists to cover feature articles, and possibly board of education and municipal government meetings for the newspaper.

If you are interested in writing for the Springfield Leader's summer intern program, write to Tom Canavan, Editor, 1291 Stuyvesant Ave., P.O. Box 3109, Union, 07083.

If you know of a site or landmark that would make an interesting photo feature, let us know. If we use the idea for publication, we'll give you credit for it in the Springfield Leader.

Need action so citizens are not scapegoats

Be Our Guest

By Harry Pappas

There is no doubt that the taxpayers and county employees are relieved that the Board of Freeholders along with the county manager found the better part of $12 million to close the budget gap. For this they are to be congratulated — maybe.

The full impact of the details on how they found the $12 million and/or what means they used will surface shortly. Only then will it be determined if it was done with smoke and mirrors or through sound and practical measures that will have a lasting effect.

Before Freeholder Chairman Welsh, Vice Chairman Ertl, Freeholder Finance Chairman Green and County Manager Ann Baran break out the caviar and champagne, I suggest that the following questions be answered or looked into.

If Union County government was truly facing 400 to 600 layoffs, as first reported in December 1990, what is there to prevent the same problem in December 1991? What safeguards are being put into effect today for tomorrow? Has anyone thought of developing a master plan, or who in county government is even thinking past the next headline, contract or election? Ms. Baran is blinded by her three-year contract and Freeholders Welsh, Green and Ertl are looking at Trenton for a possible run for the Assembly or a position in state government.

Unless these answers are developed or found, the county employees and every taxpayer will relive the same scare tactics or confusion in government as witnessed over the past several months. Had this been the private sector, the pink slips would have been issued to the freeholder chairman, vice chairman, finance chairman and the county manager first.

Ms. Baran stated the administration was able to save jobs, in part, by not filling vacancies. "That aren't critical to governmental operations." What about reviewing many existing positions to see if they "aren't critical to governmental operations" as well?

Does Union County need expensive part-time employees, some with full benefits; a deputy county manager at $80,000; an ombudsman/county spokesperson at $41,000; a fist full of confidential aides with salaries ranging from $26,000 to $50,000 or the positions that are held by the family members of some of the freeholders? Is it politics or business as usual?

Why does Union County continue to pay a couple of insurance brokers in excess of $250,000 yearly in insurance commissions, while refusing to place the insurance needs of Union County out for public bid? Is it because the brokers are the largest contributors to the Democratic Party and/or because one of the brokers is the treasurer of the same party? Perhaps the freeholders will tell us soon.

Why the refusal, by Ms. Baran, to place $2 million worth of furniture for public bid? Was there a conflict of interest on her part? Was her action responsible and professional on her part not to ensure that Union County received the most competitive price? Perhaps Ms. Baran will answer some of these questions soon.

Why has there been no movement to reduce the size of the county motor pool and cut back on portal to portal use of county cars and the consumption of expensive fuel that is used to bring any given employee to work and back home?

There must be some indication from Freeholders Welsh, Ertl, Green and Ms. Baran, as the leaders, that they are thinking ahead to 1992 and beyond. I firmly believe that concern and action must be taken in 1991 to cut positions "that aren't critical to governmental operations," revamp or correct the current purchasing practices, reduce or eliminate the many change orders that pop up on a weekly basis, review the use of expensive car phones, and remove in total the expensive trips to conventions or conferences around the country.

It is a matter of common sense that every effort be made by the current freeholders and administration to develop the master plan mentioned above, that will ensure that the scapegoat in 1992 will not be the taxpayers or the county employees again. The taxpayers and voters will judge the freeholders and their county manager on Election Day Nov. 5. If it is anything like last year's election results, those incumbents or Democrats running have a great deal of work ahead of them and so does their county manager, Ann Baran.

Smokers' issue betrays misplaced priorities

The override of a governor's veto is a very big deal. It takes two-thirds of the state Legislature to undo the actions of our powerful chief executive. In fact, it's been nine years since the last override of a New Jersey governor. An override allows a bill to become law without the governor's signature.

It takes a very important issue to bring democratic and republican legislators together, especially in an election year.

Was it the environment? Property tax reform? Auto or health insurance? Nah — it's smokers' rights.

That's right, smokers' rights. Recently, both houses of the Legislature overwhelmingly passed a bill prohibiting employers from firing or refusing to hire or promote workers if they smoke at home. This bill's sponsor, cigar-smoking Sen. Francis McManimon, said it is a question of privacy.

This so-called smokers' rights bill was promoted by the tobacco lobby as an extension of New Jersey's current civil rights law, a law that protects people regardless of race, color or religion, especially with respect to employment. The American Civil Liberties Union supports this "bold" civil rights bill protecting smokers. Even non-smokers like Sen. Gerry Cardinale, who refuses to allow smoking in his office, supported the bill. Virtually everyone agreed that this was more of a constitutional issue than a smoker/non-smoker issue.

So, when Jim Florio vetoed the bill, saying that smoking shouldn't be elevated to the status of a civil right, the reaction was swift and clear. As if our governor needed to be publicly embarrassed more than he's already been, on Feb. 14, the Senate overrode his veto by a whopping 32-4. The Assembly is expected to follow suit. So, for the first time since 1982, a New Jersey governor's veto is about to be overturned to protect the rights of smokers.

Screening New Jersey

To be totally honest, smoking disgusts me. In restaurants or meetings, it drives me crazy. It's an ugly habit. I do believe, however, that people have a "right" to destroy their lungs and take a few years off their lives if they want to.

So what's my problem with the smokers' rights issue? Simply put, it's a matter of priorities. It's an issue of what the Legislature chooses to put its emphasis on. One must question why a smokers' rights bill is elevated to such a top priority while other civil rights issues are ignored by our legislative leaders like the plague, such as the seven-year effort to protect from job discrimination any person, regardless of that person's sexual orientation.

Seven years ago as a state legislator, I was one of 22 cosponsors of a bill to protect lesbians, gay men and bisexuals from the same kind of treatment from which smokers seek to be protected today. Back then, at the beginning of the AIDS hysteria, there was no legislative groundswell to protect the civil and human rights of this population. In fact, the opponents, many of whom now champion the smokers' rights bill, accused those who were not married at the time of not supporting "mainstream-family values." There were innuendoes and whispers, especially as the 1985 legislative elections approached.

The bill's supporters were urged to give up their efforts or risk their political careers. Needless to say, the opposition won. Since 1985, there hasn't been a peep on the issue. The two remaining sponsors of the bill don't push for its passage very hard for fear of political reprisals.

The case of Assemblywoman Marlene Lynch Ford, chairwoman of the Assembly Judiciary Committee, is revealing. According to Peter Jewell, former president of the New Jersey Lesbian and Gay Coalition, "Her political career was cut short three years ago because of her previous support of lesbian and gay rights. She was re-elected last year, but has distanced herself from our cause. The bill hasn't a chance in her committee."

I served with Ford in the Legislature. We sponsored that bill together. In 1985, we lost together. She is a fine legislator, but her actions in this instance are most disappointing.

And for those who fight so hard for smokers' rights of privacy and job protection, while adamantly opposing the same protection for people regardless of their sexual orientation, your position screams of hypocrisy.

In a recent letter to all state legislators who supported the smokers' rights bill, the Campaign to End Discrimination said, "If individuals wish to continue this practice (smoking), they should have that right within the privacy of their own homes — it is their choice. It naturally follows, then, that you should move as swiftly to protect the privacy of an even larger group of citizens who have suffered a longer and more brutal history of discrimination. New Jersey's 750,000 lesbians and gay men have absolutely no basic civil rights under current law, and sexual orientation is something one is born with. Unlike smoking, it is not a choice."

So, in New Jersey, if you're a smoker who chooses to destroy your health and, potentially, the health of others — fear not. Your civil rights will be protected by a heroic act of our state Legislature. But if you choose, in the privacy of your own home, to live a particular lifestyle without infringing on others — too bad. Not only won't the Legislature override a governor's veto to protect your rights, the public discussion of your rights is seen as tantamount to political suicide.

It simply doesn't make sense. Most Americans say they support people's rights of privacy. We say we believe in civil rights for all. Now is the time for legislators to stand up for the civil rights of all New Jersey residents, regardless of sexual orientation, the way they stood up for smokers. A little consistency and courage are in order.

Merit Pay for Teachers?

Marty Connors is executive director of the Southern and New England Republican Exchange, a Birmingham, Ala. based research organization founded by Gov. Lamar Alexander that has held numerous forums on education issues.

YES

Should teacher pay be based on merit?

Absolutely. We do not pay teachers enough today. Next to our parents, teachers are the most important and influential mentors we will meet in a lifetime. It is time we professionalized teaching and respected it with the same standards we apply to other professions. Good teachers are not afraid of scrutiny. As nominated Secretary of Education Lamar Alexander has said, "Let's pay teachers more for teaching well."

What effect would this have on our educational system?

Merit pay is another form of restructuring. It pulls power away from the whims of state legislatures and puts it back where it belongs — with the local school system. It gives teachers greater financial incentive to take more time with individual children and gives educators more personal control of their destinies. Merit pay significantly improves the recruitment of specialty and high-powered teachers. We can rejuvenate the near extinct physics teacher, the endangered chemistry and foreign language teachers. Finally, merit pay will improve the general quality of those entering the teaching profession.

What are the benefits/problems with merit pay?

Those who oppose merit pay for teachers cite certain operational difficulties. They wrongly assume that teachers can't be tested and that political bias would prevail. All such arguments would crumble if an evaluation system based on five principles were enacted: experience and educational background; continuing education and extracurricular activities; personal portfolio of each teacher's assignments, tests, etc.; student progress testing; and review and judgment of a teacher by master teachers outside of the applicant's school district to eliminate bias. The goal of some teacher unions is collectivism, not excellence. The best of the best are thwarted for the protection of the least competent. Ultimately, their objections are purely political. Merit pay gives real power to the people who educate, not those who legislate.

NO

Should teacher pay be based on merit?

No. Teachers reject the notion of merit pay largely because it fosters competition — rather than cooperation — among educators. It sets up a system that allows for winners and losers. Teachers' attitudes are framed not by the concept of merit pay as much as by what they know of its long history of failure. Merit pay plans have been hampered by arbitrary limits and scarce funds.

Teachers often ask: What do you mean by merit pay? If you view merit pay as part of an overall increased compensation system, you'll get their attention. But if you're talking about a compensation system that does nothing to generally elevate what teachers already consider "low pay" for important work in our society or one that sets a limit on the number of teachers eligible, you'll be talking to a deaf ear.

What effect would this have on our educational system?

Merit pay, as we know from our past experiences, results in dissension, misunderstanding and lowered morale among teachers. These can have a negative impact on what happens in the classroom. Effective student learning results when teachers work together as teams.

What are the benefits/problems with merit pay?

It's hard to see any benefits. Teachers see problems with "merit pay" because it generally isn't what it sounds like. Historically, merit pay plans have been underfunded, leading to random quotas on participants, recognizing a few teachers at the expense of other qualified professionals. In short, merit pay is viewed as arbitrary and capricious.

Teachers have also seen what's happened in past efforts where policy makers adopt a merit pay plan, then find that it's a lot costlier than they thought and begin to renege on their promises. It's not always what merit pay is; it's how it's practiced that makes the difference.

Moving costs may be deductible

If you meet certain criteria, you may be able to deduct the cost of moving your family and household goods, as well as some of the costs associated with buying your new home and selling your old one.

The first rule to keep in mind is that moving expenses are itemized on Schedule A of Form 1040. But moving expenses are not subject to the percent floor that applies to most miscellaneous itemized deductions.

What's more, your move must be connected with a new job or new position with a current employer. Your new place of employment must be at least 35 miles farther from your old residence than your former job was. For example, if your former job was 10 miles away from your old home, your new job has to be at least 45 miles away from that old home. If you are moving to take your first job, you must show that your new job is at least 35 miles from your old home.

Incidentally, for IRS purposes, your home means your principal residence — it may be a house, apartment, condo, trailer home, or even a houseboat, as long as it meets this requirement.

In addition to the distance test, you must also meet a time test. If you are an employee, you must be employed on a full-time basis for at least 39 weeks during the 12 months immediately after the move. Those weeks do not have to be consecutive and you need not work for the same employer. If you are self-employed, you must work at your business full time for at least 78 weeks out of the first 24 months (including at least 39 weeks during the first 12 months). If you are married, and both you and your spouse work full time, either of you can satisfy the full-time work requirement. But you cannot add the weeks you worked to the weeks your spouse worked to arrive at the necessary number of weeks.

If you qualify to deduct moving expenses, your deductions may include:

- The cost of trips to the area of the new job to look for new housing.
- The cost of moving your furniture, household goods and personal effects, including the cost of packing, insurance and storage for up to 30 days.
- The cost of getting yourself and your family to the new home, including travel costs, lodging and 80 percent of meals paid for en route.
- The cost of temporary lodging and 80 percent of meal costs for up to 30 days in your new hometown — if these temporary living expenses are necessary because you have not yet found a new home or it is not ready when you arrive.

Certain costs associated with the sale of your old house and purchase of the new one. If you prefer, you can choose to use these expenses to reduce the gain on the sale of your previous residence or to increase the basis of the new one.

Travel and moving expenses are fully deductible. There is no limit on how much you can deduct for reasonable expenses associated with moving household goods or travel expenses for yourself and your family. But there is a dollar limit on the amount you can write off for certain expenses. Ask your CPA to help you determine the exact deductibility of your specific moving expenses.

Finally, keep in mind that if your employer reimburses you for all or part of your expenses, you must report that amount as income on your tax return. Generally, the reimbursement is listed on your W-2.

Polluters should pay for their sins

I believe that polluters should have to make up tangible for their environmental sins. Now two new and different ways of getting this to happen are emerging.

Both ways put money directly into the hands of agencies providing for remedies, rather than simply having dollars disappear into state or federal treasuries.

One method is via the Federal Clean Water Act, which allows citizens or citizen groups to sue polluters. Resulting fines or settlement dollars can be contributed to charitable organizations to do projects that result directly in cleaner water.

Another way is called mitigation. It too results from laws calling for keeping resources from diminishing, such as those for wetlands protection. It works like this: If a wetland must be sacrificed for a development that is judged to be in the public interest, replacement wetlands nearby must be established.

Sometimes that means reclaiming a former marsh destroyed by fill, or creating a wetland where none existed before. It can even assure protection of a large wetland area in perpetuity through purchase or easement.

One of my favorite examples of such a project is along the Delaware bayshore. The public-private partnerships, including the citizen-supported New Jersey Conservation Foundation, for which I serve as executive director, have secured land along the beaches and in the marshes behind them so that thousands of shore birds can continue to find safe haven when they feed on horseshoe-crab eggs in their arduous spring migrations.

The State We're In

By David F. Moore

Much of the funding for this operation came from Public Service Electric and Gas Company, which provided dollars both to restore marsh and to buy bayshore land and manage it, through the auspices of the state Natural Lands Trust. This is an exchange for the filling of marsh to build the access road to the Salem nuclear plant.

Another project resulted from a Clean Water Act violation suit lodged against United States Metals Refining Company by the New Jersey Public Interest Research Group. NJCF received an award of $1.1 million to acquire lands to protect stream corridors flowing into the Arthur Kill, where the pollution occurred.

A study to find the highest-quality lands to be protected is being paid for with the interest earned by the award money. Matching dollars are being offered to towns and counties in the 26-municipality area, buying the best quality streamside lands, or buying and repairing damaged lands with the fund.

Most of the dollars will go to endow loans offered to local governments through the state Green Trust, a part of the state Green Acres Program. By spending dollars in that way, towns can more than double their money.

Such settlement money is carefully monitored by NJPIRG, and by the U.S. attorney's office, through a periodic reporting system. NJPIRG doesn't get to keep any of the settlement money; they're in it to keep the water clean.

Charitable donation dollars are harder and harder to find because of growing competition among private nonprofit groups assuming responsibilities formerly shouldered by government. This situation results from budget cutbacks and tax law changes, making it less advantageous to contribute to charities.

The resulting bottom line is that mitigation and money from settlements are essential if society is to stay even in the struggle to maintain the environment.

David F. Moore is the executive director of the New Jersey Conservation Foundation.

Rotary club sets pancake breakfast

The Roselle-Roselle Park Rotary Club is sponsoring its annual "Pancake Day" on April 27, from 8 a.m. to 2 p.m. at the Community Methodist Church in Roselle Park.

Tickets are priced at $4 for adults, $3 for children and seniors, and can be purchased from any Rotarian or at the door on Saturday. Children will have the opportunity to take a picture with a "Ninja Turtle" or "Big Bird" at a nominal cost.

The Roselle-Roselle Park Rotary is in its 68th year of operation. This "Pancake Day" is a major fundraiser sponsored by the service club. The local Rotary Club has a membership of 40, representing professions and businesses from all walks of life. The club meets every Friday at 12:15 p.m. in the Community United Methodist Church. A business meeting is held each Friday, followed by a special program each week.

Budget hearing to be held

The Board of Education of Union County Regional High School District I will conduct a public hearing on its tentative proposed 1991-92 school budget Tuesday at 8 p.m. in the Instructional Media Center of Governor Livingston Regional High School, Watchung Boulevard, Berkeley Heights.

At this public hearing, residents of the Regional District communities of Springfield, Mountaintop, Kenilworth, Clark, Garwood and Berkeley Heights may air their questions, concerns and comments regarding the district's tentative proposed budget of $36,049,840.

This proposed spending plan reflects an increase of 5.51 percent from this year's budget, yet it is still nearly $1.7 million under the state-approved budget cap for school districts.

Residents of Union County Regional High School District I will have an opportunity to vote on the amount to be raised by taxation for the current expense portion of this budget, $29,650,073, on an annual school election day, April 30.

county notes

Women's club holds Founder's Day luncheon

The Union County Club of the National Association of Negro Business and Professional Women's Clubs Inc. will hold its 18th annual Founder's Day Scholarship luncheon at the Landmark Inn in Woodbridge on April 20.

The club's highest honor, "The Sojourner Truth Award," will be presented to Nellie Suggs. Other awardees are: Sally Hughes — "Professional Woman of the Year"; Fredrica Williams — "Business Woman of the Year" and Harvey Judkins — "Man of the Year."

Scholarships will be presented to Kimberly Owens of Hillside High School; La Tysha Gaines and Judette Louis of Linden High School; Hassana Jackson of Elizabeth High School and Tobias Pinckney of Plainfield High School.

The cost of the luncheon is $30. Tickets may be purchased from club members or by writing to Union County Club, NANBPWC Inc., P. O. Box 2529, Plainfield, 07060-0529.

Environmental Commission elects officers

The Union County Regional Environmental Health Commission recently announced its new officers for 1991.

The new president is Dennis San Filippo, health officer of Union. The other officers are Vice President, Dr.

Dominick Pissno of Summit, and Anthony Deige, health officer of Rahway, who will serve as treasurer. The commission meets the second Friday of each month at its headquarters in Rahway City Hall.

UCREHC services 19 municipalities in Union County with air pollution, noise pollution, and solid waste controls as required by the New Jersey Department of Environmental Protection and the state Health Department.

The Union County Board of Chosen Freeholders has also designated UCREHC as the lead agency responsible for the enforcement of the County Environmental Health Act.

County to sponsor historical workshop

Union County will offer a workshop to members, volunteers and staff of historical societies, museums and libraries.

On April 13, David W. Carmichael will lead a program titled "Handle With Care." The workshop will provide information on the proper storage, care and display of historical paper materials.

According to Freeholder Walter E. Boright, "This program includes information about policies, processes and equipment necessary for the proper storage and care of archival documents. Much of this information is also pertinent for collections of museum artifacts."

"Hands-on activities are included in the workshop, which is geared for both beginning and intermediate archivists and volunteer staff."

An archivist for Westchester County, N.Y., Carmichael is responsible for developing the archives for one of the largest and oldest counties in the nation. He frequently leads workshops and serves as a consultant to historic sites, museums and libraries on archival needs.

The program is supported by the Union County Board of Chosen Freeholders and the New Jersey Historical Commission, Department of State.

A fee of $10 will be charged to cover refreshments and materials. Registration is required by Monday. To register for the workshop, which will be at the County Annex Building in Westfield from 8:30 a.m. to 3 p.m., contact the Union County Office of Cultural and Heritage Affairs, 633 Pearl St., Elizabeth, 07202, or call 908-558-2550.

Dental insurance to be focus of chamber meeting

Dental insurance is a benefit employees get excited about. For companies considering dental coverage for their employees, the Union County Chamber's Human Resources Committee meeting may provide the appropriate information. The meeting will be 8 a.m., Monday, at the Ramada Hotel, Clark. The cost is $15 per person for chambers members, and $20 per person for non-members.

The speaker will be Maryann Carroll, the outreach manager of the New Jersey Dental Association. She will answer questions and assist current and potential purchasers of dental benefits. They do not sell insurance or represent a particular plan or company.

Reservations may be made by calling the chamber at 352-0900.

Summer camp applications are available

Union County 4-H agent James Nichmadowicz is inviting all Union County boys and girls, ages 9 to 12, to attend 4-H Summer Camp. 4-H Camp is located in Sussex County and will be held from July 15-20. The cost for lodging, meals and transportation is $140.

At camp, children will have the opportunity to learn about nature in hands-on programs, take swimming and boating lessons, learn to complete various types of crafts, and become involved in the experience of living away from home for one week.

The camp features a lake, indoor bathrooms and showers and is sanctioned by Rutgers University and the New Jersey Camp Safety Act.

A camp brochure and application form may be obtained from the Union County 4-H office, County Administration and Service Building, 300 North Avenue East, Westfield, 07090 or by calling 908-654-9854.

The 4-H program is the youth phase of the Rutgers Cooperative Extension of Union County, an educational arm of Cook College, Rutgers University. Educational programs are offered without regard to race, sex, handicap, color or national origin. Rutgers Cooperative Extension is an Equal Opportunity Employer.

Roselle Park Middle School's Students of the Month are Lesley Klaus and Michael Kiselow.

Roselle Park Middle School names Students of the Month

Students of the Month for February at Roselle Park Middle School were announced by faculty members using the following criteria: excellence in grades, leadership qualities, special projects or accomplishments, conscientiousness, citizenship, behavior around the school, school spirit, and involvement in extracurricular activities.

Student of the Month in grade six is Lesley Klaus, who said she enjoys tennis, swimming, cheerleading, and collecting shells.

Klaus plays clarinet in the Middle School band, is secretary of her homeroom and a member of the Junior Great Books club. She has received academic honors with all A's and a B on her report card. She said she wants to be a lawyer or a veterinarian.

In grade seven, Michael Kiselow was named Student of the Month. Kiselow enjoys baseball, soccer and basketball. He plays trumpet in the band. He is a member of the Council of Ten and is in the gifted and talented program.

Kiselow received academic honors with all A's and a B. He said he would also like to be a veterinarian.

Assembly acts on day remembering vets

Legislation which would designate May 7 as "Vietnam Veterans' Remembrance Day" in the state of New Jersey was approved by the Senate State Government and Federal and Interstate Relations Committee.

The measure is sponsored by Assemblymen Fred Scerni (D-Atlantic) and Neil Cohen (D-Union) who noted that May 7 marks the anniversary of the day that the Vietnam conflict officially ended.

"New Jersey's Vietnam Veterans have not received the recognition that they deserve for the courage they displayed and the hardships they faced," Scerni said. "The men and women of New Jersey who served in Vietnam deserve recognition and tribute for their heroism and sacrifices."

Under the measure, A-3327, May 7 of each year would be designated as "Vietnam Veterans' Remembrance Day" in New Jersey and Gov. Florio would be called upon to issue a proclamation calling for New Jersey citizens to recognize the day with appropriate observances.

"It is only proper and fitting that this day be set aside as a time to honor Vietnam veterans and to especially remember the heroic New Jersey men and women who lost their lives defending their country," Cohen said.

Scerni and Cohen noted that more than 300,000 New Jersey residents served during the Vietnam conflict and more than 1,473 died and 62 are still listed as missing in action.

The measure now goes to the full Senate for consideration.

Free membership offered

In honor of National Library Week, the Friends of the Kenilworth Library is offering free membership.

A member does not have to be active to belong. Applications are available at the library. Hours are 10 a.m. to 8 p.m. on weekdays, and 10 a.m. to 3 p.m. on Saturdays.

Pap smears offered by R. Park board

The Roselle Park Board of Health, in cooperation with Union Hospital, will be providing free pap smears for female residents over 18 years of age living in Roselle Park, announced Janet Landis, president of the board.

A breast examination will be conducted with the pap smears.

The dates for the screening program are April 24 and April 25. Appointments are required for the testing and may be made by calling Union Hospital at 851-7014 between 9 a.m. and 3 p.m.

The pap smear is a simple, painless test for uterine cancer. In the test, cells that the body sheds from the uterus are collected on a cotton swab and examined under a microscope.

If any abnormal or suspicious cells are found, further tests are conducted. Early detection of uterine cancer is important.

Tax-deferred annuities reduce taxes and build assets.

You'll earn retirement income that's guaranteed. A Tax-Deferred Annuity* is a powerful way to build your assets for the future. It postpones taxes until you make withdrawals,** so your money grows faster. In fact, in twenty years, it can yield almost twice as much money as a fully taxable investment opened at the same time. †

In addition, a Tax-Deferred Annuity can offer guaranteed monthly income that starts and ends when you choose . . . 10 years, 15 years or for life.** And your principal and interest are fully guaranteed by one of the highest rated insurance companies in America.

Special Bonus Rate

You'll get a high rate on your opening balance . . . plus a 1% bonus for the first year. For example, as of April 1, the current annual market rate †† was 7.95% which makes your bonus rate 8.95% for the first year. After that, your opening balance will earn the current annual market rate. What's more, every time you add $50 or more to your annuity you'll receive a 1% bonus over the current annual market rate, guaranteed for one year.

1-800-282-BANK

Put the power of tax deferral to work for you! Purchase a Tax-Deferred Annuity at any United Jersey branch or call us toll free.

*Tax-Deferred Annuities available at United Jersey are offered through Lincoln National Life Insurance Company and First Penn-Pacific Life Insurance Company, Ft. Wayne, Indiana. Annuities are not deposit accounts of United Jersey and are not FDIC insured or guaranteed by the U.S. or its agencies. Not available in all states. **Interest received is subject to ordinary income tax. Penalties may apply to early withdrawals. †For example, after 20 years, $20,000 invested at 8% interest (if you're in a 38% combined Federal/State tax bracket) will amount to $93,200 in a tax deferred investment compared to $52,662 in a taxable investment. ††Interest rate is reviewed each month and changed depending on current market conditions, but will never go below the guaranteed rate shown in your contract. The entertainment program will feature the Rutgers Hillel folk dance group, which will perform Israeli and other folk dances. Harold Gottesman, the congregation's cantor, will entertain and lead community singing while being accompanied by Daniel Spialter on accordion. There also will be folk dancing for all.

American and Israeli foods will be served, including falafel, pita, assorted salads, desserts, soda, coffee and tea.

Selected tables for Jewish singles will be reserved, it was announced.

For reservations or travel directions, one can call the synagogue office at 686-6773.

Holocaust Day set

Temple Sha'arey Shalom, 78 South Springfield Ave., Springfield, will observe Yom HaShoah, Holocaust Commemoration Day, April 12 at 8:30 p.m. A special creative service, "Zachor" (Remember) will be used, it was announced. Members of Sha'arey Shalom, who are Holocaust survivors and children of survivors, will participate at the beginning of the service in a candlelighting ceremony. In addition, Milly Stanfield, guest speaker, will discuss "Anne and Otto Frank."

It was reported that "Miss Stanfield is a cousin of Anne Frank and her father, Otto. She knew Anne as a baby and in 1938, spent a weekend with the family in Amsterdam when Anne was nearly nine. Moreover, Miss Stanfield and Otto Frank remained close friends until his death in 1979. Currently, she is writing her reminiscences."

The public is invited to attend the Holocaust commemoration service.

Holocaust Memorial

The adult education committee and Sisterhood of Congregation Israel, 339 Mountain Ave., Springfield, will present its annual Yom HaShoah Holocaust Memorial program Sunday at 8:15 p.m. Guest speaker will be Judith Miller.

Miller, a correspondent for the New York Times, spent time in Saudi Arabia during the Persian Gulf war, after which she wrote the recent cover story, "Saudi Arabia: The Struggle Within," for the New York Times Magazine. She also is the author of the books, "Saddam Hussein and the Crisis in the Gulf" with Laurie Mylroie, and "One by One by One."

Refreshments will be served. For further information, one can call the Congregation Israel office at 467-9666.

Frontier Night set

Jeffrey Drown of Scotch Plains, chairman of the Christian Service Brigade committee of Mountaineer Gospel Chapel, 1180 Spruce Drive, has announced that the church will sponsor Northern Frontier Night, tomorrow at 7:30.

"We are extending an invitation to you and your family to attend a presentation about Northern Frontier," said Drown. "Northern Frontier is a Christian Service Brigade summer camp located in the beautiful Adirondack Mountains."

Featured will be a brief video and slides of the camp and its operation. A question and answer period will follow the presentation with camp personnel.

Visitors are welcome, it was announced. Reservations can be obtained by calling the church office at 232-3456.

Annual meeting due

The Rosary Society of Church of the Assumption, Roselle Park, will hold its annual meeting Tuesday after recitation of the Rosary at 7:30 p.m. in the church.

The program will be given by the Carterei Sereadars, featuring a variety show. Janet Foglia is in charge.

How things shape up for '91

By Mark Yablonsky
 Sports Editor

Baseball, or any variation of it, is indeed an enjoyment of the best kind. So now that we've taken a look at the baseball teams in our area, it's time for a word or two about our high school softball teams as well.

BREARLEY

Like Dayton, Roselle Park and other area schools, the Lady Bears have been hurt by graduation, too. Tracy Hoefling is among those no longer in uniform.

So Brearley coach Marge Egan has been "juggling" her lineup during the pre-season, even though it sometimes means shifting her better players to different positions in order to compensate.

"I've lost a lot through graduation," Egan said. "I'm looking to rebuild and right now, we're rebuilding through a lot of inexperience."

But not everywhere. There's still junior Karen Savage, who would normally be stationed at first base but might have to switch over to the outfield if necessary. Joann Cheeka, another senior, will likely "flip-flop" with Savage between first base and the outfield, Egan said. Meanwhile, junior Sharina Western has been used at catcher, but she may also be needed in the outfield from time to time.

And, of course, there's senior Kim Egan, who despite a finger injury should be the starting shortstop for Brearley.

As of press time, sophomore Tina Kaufman was slated to pitch for Brearley, which is scheduled to open at home tomorrow afternoon against Pingry at 4 p.m.

DAYTON

In most seasons, Arthur Krupp, like many other coaches, has patiently gone about the business of fielding competitive softball teams at Dayton. And like other coaches, he's had to deal with smaller turnouts, too. But this year, the number of girls out for softball in the Springfield-based school has begun increasing, and that definitely has Krupp in good spirits.

"Overall, we have a lot more depth from top to bottom," explained Krupp, who, with the exception of 1989, has coached the Dayton varsity for five of the last six years. "First off, we have 40 players out, and we'll have three teams."

"But our overall depth has improved, especially at the younger levels. I think we'll be very competitive for most of the teams we'll be playing. Our enthusiasm is up, and we have five or six freshmen who will be pushing our depth way up."

"Things are looking up." The one down note is that Lauren Meixner, the team's standout, slugging left fielder in both '89 and '90, has been lost to graduation. And at least partly because of Meixner's absence, there — as of press time — was quite a battle underway to determine Dayton's starting lineup in time for the scheduled season opener with Roselle this past Tuesday in Springfield.

In fact, just three positions had been locked up by late last week. Senior Sheri DeRonde will play second base and bat leadoff, sophomore Laura Leyrer and her "gun for an arm" will play shortstop, and another senior, Sally Kisch, will likely start in right field.

DeRonde and Kisch are the team's co-captains, and Krupp is confident in the abilities of all three of the above. Kisch, by the way, equaled Meixner's .444 batting average last spring, which was the third best in the local coverage area.

As far as pitching is concerned, junior Holly Otarczuk, who did most of the pitching for last season's 7-12 squad, is back. And in junior Jennifer Minieri, sophomore Debbie Netschert and freshman Michelle Lopapa, there's plenty of pitching around for Krupp to turn to this spring.

Softball

we've ever had," the coach commented in reference to pitching.

Third base, meanwhile, remains "wide open," Krupp said. To begin with, there are freshman Christine Saliseti, and seniors Mami Cure and Karen Venes all vying for the job at third, and then there's also Wendy Saladino, Krupp's sophomore "jack-of-all-trades" standout who can play just about anywhere if needed.

"She will be a starter," Krupp promised of Saladino. "Where we'll fit her in, we don't know."

Also, senior Laura Sexton will see playing time in the Dayton outfield.

ROSELLE PARK

Gone is Kim King, along with her .532 batting average and her 14-5 record of a year ago. Obviously, that's quite a bit for Park skipper John Wagner to replace.

But, as Wagner pointed, "the nice thing is our entire infield is back."

"I really feel we'll be very strong on defense," commented Wagner. "We're young with experience, let's put it that way. We're looking to stay real experience."

With as many as five freshmen on the roster, staying competitive could be a challenge for Park. Or maybe not. The freshmen ranks include pitcher Jessica DeLuca and outfielders Kristine Vordran and Tara Bogota. As of press time, all three were slated to start in the home opener against Manville two days ago.

But the infield is composed of senior Dawn Skebeck at first base, sophomore Kim Harris at second, junior Jenna Gallicchio at shortstop and Gina Antonucci, another junior, playing third base. Then there's senior catcher Maura Geoghegan, who returns this spring, along with her .362 average of a year ago and her 99 putouts, too.

Among the substitutes Wagner will turn to include sophomore outfielder Laura Milligan, senior Chris DeLuca, Jessica's sister, and another freshman, Jennifer Fuzo.

"Again, Jessica has shown a lot of maturity and she's thrown a lot of strikes," Wagner concluded. "Obviously, the question is how you're going to hit the ball."

UNION

In Union this spring, there won't be the unforgettable Carrie Collins. Union's star righthander from 1988 to 1990, to handcuff opposing batters anymore.

But somehow, Union always manages to turn out competitive teams. And even without Collins, there's no reason to believe that last season's 20-7 record won't be equalled, or maybe even surpassed.

"Well, defensively, I think we'll be pretty sound," explained Lady Farmer skipper George Hopkins prior to a scrimmage with South Brunswick last Thursday afternoon. "It depends on how well we pitch — and hit, of course."

Well, with senior Karen Mollach around, you'd better believe that the Lady Farmers are in good shape, at least in the infield. Mollach, who batted .364 and drove in 10 runs from the number eight spot in Hopkins' lineup last year, appears ready to bat much higher in this spring's Union lineup — as in cleanup, which the personable senior did in the scrimmage with South Brunswick.

Also, keep in mind that Mollach committed just a lone error in 43 total chances, for a cool .977 fielding average in 1990.

Junior Donna Milia, meanwhile, who batted .376 in '90 as a designated hitter, should be the starting shortstop this year. And remember, Milia drove in a team-leading 32 runs a year ago.

KIM EAGAN

What's more, she also scored 28 more.

More than likely, Doreen Olivo will play second base, while sophomore Kristin Alvarez should play first when Shannon Schmitt pitches. When Schmitt doesn't pitch, look for her to play first instead.

Schmitt, Union's emergency backup hurler who stepped in for Collins and pitched superbly in the Lady Farmers' 2-0 defeat to Westfield in last year's Union County Tournament title game, appears ready to do plenty of pitching this spring. Hopkins also has two freshmen, Kelly McDonald and Coleen Brehm, around as pitching candidates.

Kristina Jacob is a most talented player, one who can play just about any infield position, including catcher. But as of press time, Jacob was still recovering from a recent finger injury.

Finally, don't forget about Marcie Blank, a strong-armed right fielder, who, like Jacob, is a backup catcher to starter Sunny Montas. Steffie Gatto will likely be in center, and either Nancy DiGesu, Lorene Cutrino and Jennifer McDonald will get the job in left.

Liloia hurls 5-hitter

By Mark Yablonsky
 Sports Editor

Mike Liloia got what he wanted, which was the season-opening assignment against Elizabeth this past Monday in Union. And that made the rest of his teammates very happy, because the Farmers and every other Union baseball observer got what they wanted: a season-opening, 3-2 victory over the Minutemen.

Liloia, a hard-throwing junior righthander, fired a gutsy five-hitter to halt the powerful Minutemen in front of some 200 spectators, many of whom were active participants, to say the least. And Liloia, who first came on the varsity scene with a brilliant one-hit shutout against Irvington last May 24, this time served notice that his pitching abilities are for real.

"He wanted the game," explained Union's long-time coach, Gordon LeMatty, shortly after the game was called after six full innings because of impending darkness. "He really wanted the game. And that's the difference."

For the record, it was Steve Fernandez's clutch, two-out single in the bottom of the fifth inning that made the difference. Fernandez, who had walked and struck out in his previous two trips to the plate, cracked a hard single to center off of Elizabeth starter and loser Pat Migliore to plate Farmer teammate Anthony Lanzi, who had walked earlier in the inning.

Particularly interesting was the fact that the previous hitter, catcher Dave Melia, had also singled to center, but a hustling Pete Simko, after rounding third and getting the hold sign from LeMatty, simply could not get back to the bag in time. The out call, which angered many of the Union supporters, left Lanzi on second and Melia on first, thus setting the stage for Fernandez's heroics.

Liloia, who worked the full six innings, then hung tough and survived a scare in the top of the sixth by striking out the last two hitters to face him, Migliore and catcher Joe Clemente. Stranded at third for Elizabeth was Jason Scavalia, who had led off with a double to right-center, and then crossed over to third on a 6-3 groundout by Mike Wansaw.

In all, Liloia struck out seven and walked three to support his five-hitter. The game was called following Union's turn at bat in the bottom of the sixth inning.

"It feels great," a proud Liloia said after the game. "I could have waited all week for this game. I could not wait for this day (in school) to go by. "I felt better, (with) a little composure. I like challenging batters."

Softball ump's sought

The Springfield Recreation Department is presently seeking umpire candidates to officiate in the township's Youth Girls' Softball League this spring. Umpires will be paid $10 per game.

Candidates must be at least 14 years of age and own prior baseball or softball experience. Games are played on Monday, Wednesday and Friday evenings.

Anyone who is interested is asked to contact the recreation department at 912-2226.

Collins wins 2, saves 1

Carrie Collins of Union, a pitcher for the Georgia Southern University Lady Eagles, picked up two wins and a save in three recent games. She pitched five innings, allowing four hits and striking out five in a 12-0 victory over Augusta College. Collins faced only three batters over the minimum and recorded her 12th complete game.

In the second game of a doubleheader against Augusta, Collins pitched one and two-thirds innings to pick up her third save in a 6-3 Lady Eagle win. Collins then won her fifth game of the season in an 8-3 victory over Stetson University.

The Lady Eagles increased their winning streak to six consecutive games. Their season record stands at 13-12-1 overall and 3-2-1 in the New South Women's Athletic Conference.

Owls start off with Casalino

James Casalino, the head coach of Union County College's newly-established baseball team, believes he has recruited the talent necessary for the Owls to qualify for the Region 19 National Junior College Athletic Association tournament.

It's a seemingly lofty goal for players who have never competed in college-level competition. But the Owls—recently found themselves as owners of a 2-1 record.

Casalino, a Union resident, was hired last May to develop a 1991 spring semester baseball team from scratch. The head baseball coach at Irvington High School for the past five years, Casalino's experience stretches back 18 years as assistant coach at Newark's Barringer High School and also at Essex County College in Newark, which has since disbanded its baseball team.

Throughout his years in baseball, Casalino has developed numerous contacts in Union and Essex counties, many of whom gave him the leads to his current 22-member team. Others were recruited from play on American Legion teams throughout the area. Casalino also heads a post team in Irvington that is sponsored by that town's Police Athletic League.

"I like working with young men because I serve as a father figure to many," Casalino said. "I use baseball to teach them principles that are useful to them in later years."

Among these values are discipline and punctuality, he noted. The coach shares his dinner meals, his car and even his home with promising players. As a result, he has seen at least one of his players make it to a major league team. This youngster had "no home life at all," and Casalino believes that his outreach in letting the player become part of his own family helped boost the young man to success.

Casalino knows that coaching a college team is somewhat different. "The college kids pick up a lot quicker," he said. "They already have the fundamentals and really enjoy playing for their college."

He approaches baseball by developing a strong defense, coupled with an aggressive offense and players' ability to "run, run, run."

"It's hard to sell a new program, but UCC has high academic standards and the players like the opportunity to play here rather than at another college where there is already an established team," said Casalino. "They're excited to be the first, curious to see how we'll do."

The new team will play on fields in Nomahegan Park across the street from the Cranford Campus and night games at Warinanco Park.

Casalino is being assisted by Robert Bruno of Westfield and George Harris of Union.

Union duo wins

Two members of the Union Wrestling Club earned the title of state champion at the recently-held state tournament at Union High School. Union's two champions were David Bubnowski at junior 85 pounds, and Greg Francesca at junior 100. Taking second-place finishes for Union were Eric Swick (Jr. 75), Ron Bubnowski (Intermediate 133 pounds) and Jason Alatorre (Intermediate 168).

Matt Marshall came in third for Union.

To compete in this tournament, wrestlers had to have placed either first, second or third at a previously-held qualifying tournament.

Zawacki wins

Union's Tracy Zawacki recently moved to number one doubles for the Wake Forest University women's tennis team, and that has helped resulted in an 11-3 record for the Deacons. Zawacki joined Celine Menain to win a three-set match in Wake Forest's recent 5-4 victory over Florida State University.

ALL WOUND UP — And ready to go are Roselle Park pitchers Andres Alarcon, left, and Scott Bermingham, seen here loosening up during a team practice last week. Bermingham, a 6-foot-2, 200-pound senior, was slated to be the starter two days ago when the Panthers opened their 1991 season in Manville. Alarcon, who is a junior, will also pitch quite a bit this season when he isn't playing second base. The Panthers, weather permitting, will play their home opener today at 4 p.m. against Middlesex.

All-Mountain choices named

Daryl Purnell of Hillside and Tim Zawacki of Roselle Catholic were recently named to the Mountain Valley Conference's Mountain Division boys' basketball team by the conference coaches.

Scott Sexton of Roselle Park and John Anglim of Brearley were named to the Valley Division team.

Dwayne Arrington of Hillside, Mike Fullman and Eric Magazine of Roselle and Aaron O'Hanlon of Roselle Catholic were second-team Mountain Division selections. Frank Pasquale of Johnson and Scott Bermingham of Roselle Park were named to the Valley Division's second team.

Farmers set to run

By Mark Yablonsky
Sports Editor

Of course, Union competes in a tough conference. But it's because of schools like Union that the Watchung Conference is so tough each spring in boys' track.

And this year, Union followers may be assured that Bill Soranno's representatives are going to give WC competitors such as Westfield, Elizabeth and Newark East Side a run for their money.

"We probably have one of the better sprint-hurdle teams we've had in years," explained Soranno, who is beginning his 11th season at the Union helm. "Because of that, we should do real well in the sprint and hurdle-relay events at the invitational championship meets."

"That's our strength," reaffirmed Soranno. "The jumping events, the sprints and hurdles are our strong events right now."

And with athletes such as Chris Jackson and Abdul Osborne around, how could the sprints and hurdles not be among Union's strengths? Both members of Lou Rettino's football team last fall, Jackson and Osborne should provide plenty of points for the Farmers in areas such as the long jump and any of the various sprint events.

Boys' Track

And look out for senior Brian Leschinski, this past winter's Union County champion in the 55-meter high hurdles. Also, don't forget about Kalsimo Simmons, another senior who happened to win the county's winter 55-meter dash title, as well as place fifth statewide in the 60-yard dash.

Simmons will definitely be running the 100-meter dash and other sprint events for the Farmers this spring.

On hand for the field events include Rob Schiffl, Nick Karadimas and sophomore Giorgio Alfano at the shotput and discus. Look for junior Spencer Mell to contribute plenty as the team's top distance runner.

"We run a tough schedule," noted Soranno, whose team was slated to open at Westfield two days ago. "Our division (American) of the Watchung Conference is really tough with Westfield, Elizabeth and East Side. They're going to be our toughest rivals in our division."

Just as Union figures to be among the toughest rivals any of the fore-named schools will face, Count on it.

This week's question: With the Stanley Cup playoffs now officially under way, we thought it appropriate to ask you this: who holds the NHL scoring record for a single season of post-season play? In scoring, we mean both goals and assists.

Last week's answer: Sure, the Dodgers have had a lot of brilliant rookie pitchers throughout their history, but it is Ralph Branca who holds the distinction of being the youngest pitcher in Dodger history to win 20 games when he won 21 in 1947. Of course, Branca is much better known as being the hurler who surrendered Bobby Thompson's dramatic three-run homer in the third and final game of the 1951 National League playoffs.

But up until that "shot heard 'round the world," Branca was actually a pretty good pitcher. From that point on, however, his numbers dropped off noticeably until his retirement after the 1956 season.

This week, Henry Hascup of Lodi and Bob C. Dilly of Springfield submitted correct answers.

Family plays together

Toby and Gary Hoffman are known to their audiences as members of Musica da Camera, and as first-rate artists; but few people are aware that they come from a family of first-rate artists. On Sunday, they will be joined by their mother, Esther Glazer on violin, Deborah Hoffman on harp and Joel Hoffman, pianist and composer, for a unique chamber music concert.

Glazer first started her career by winning first prize in the Naumberg Competition. She has performed with major orchestras and has toured extensively.

Deborah Hoffman is the winner of several harp competitions and was soloist with the St. Luke's Chamber Orchestra at Carnegie Hall. She is currently principal harpist with the Metropolitan Opera Orchestra. Joel Hoffman has been commissioned by groups such as the Cleveland Quartet and the Tanglewood Festival. He recently was appointed new music advisor to the Buffalo Symphony.

The concert will be held on Sunday at 7:30 p.m. at First Baptist Church, 170 Elm St. in Westfield. Tickets are $15; students, $8. They can be reserved by calling 762-8486.

Spaulding set to swing

"Spring into Swing" at the "Thank God It's Friday Big Band Concert" Friday at 8 p.m. with The King's Road Swing Band. The stage is set at Cranford High School Auditorium to benefit Spaulding for Children, the free adoption agency.

A total of 15 musicians — including Ron Spinella of Clark — and vocalist Jill Vache of Rahway will feature arrangements made famous by the great name bands of the '30s and '40s.

Socialize and mingle with the musicians and friends and have dessert in the high school cafeteria after the concert. The donation for adults is $10, and $7 for senior citizens and students.

Advance tickets are available at Off-The-Record in Cranford and The Music Staff and the Spaulding office in Westfield; as well as at the door. Arranged by Spaulding for Children Volunteer Auxiliary, the event benefits the non-profit agency, enabling it in continuing to find parents for homeless children.

Spaulding has three offices: in Westfield, Haddonfield and East Orange. For information on adoption or the concert, call 908-233-2282.

Choruses join voices

The long-established Saenger-Chor, a German men's chorus based in Clark Township, together with Vocal Point, an internationally-known vocal swing ensemble, will present an international songfest at the Union County Arts Center on Saturday at 8 p.m. Tickets are $10.

In addition to traditional American and European folk songs, the songfest will feature music by Duke Ellington, Cole Porter, George Gershwin and others. In a rousing finale, the "Battle Hymn of the Republic" will be sung in honor of the U.S. troops who fought in the Persian Gulf.

The Union County Arts Center is located at 1601 Irving St. in Rahway. To reserve seats, call 908-499-8226.

Artist exhibits progress in her work

By Bea Smith
Staff Writer

If Union artist Hannah Horowitz-Mastrolia stares intently at a person during a conversation, she is not being impolite. She is merely "studying one's facial expressions for some mysterious quality."

The habit stems from her early interest in art. "I started drawing at an early age because I was prompted by a fascination with the human face. And even on the subway in New York City on the way to school, I would search my fellow riders' facial expressions for some mysterious inner quality," she explained.

Mastrolia, who will show her work at the Les Malamut Gallery in the Union Public Library starting Sunday and ending May 16, maintains her own studio at the Ethical Cultural Society, 516 Prospect St. in Maplewood. Her exhibit will feature oils, portraits and abstract oils, some sculpture and a mixed media and pastels. "And everyone can see how I feel about what I see and how I explore the human face," she said, as she explored this writer's face.

The Mastrolia display will be the 25th exhibition since the gallery was first opened as the Wheelchair Gallery in February, 1988. She has been exhibiting her work and winning awards since 1973, including two first place prizes in the Festival on the Green in Union in 1976 and 1977 and other awards in South Orange, Plainfield, Westfield and Cranford. Mastrolia has had juried exhibitions in Murray Hill, Summit, Elizabeth and Cranford.

The amiable, versatile, talented woman was born in Perth Amboy. "But I grew up in New York City. I had been drawing at a very young age," she said, "and I believe it really is innate. I would go to school and stare at faces to try to get something behind those features. In high school, I was doing portraits of my fellow classmates.

"My son says he does the same thing," she noted. Mastrolia's son, David Reiss, is 37 and owns a software business in Park Ridge. She also has a daughter, Jane, 42, who is an industrial developer in the Buffalo area.

"It's in the family," she said. "I have two sisters, Ethel Perin, a professional water colorist, and Roselle Sperling, a non-professional fiber artist. The feeling for art and creativity is quite prevalent in the family."

Mastrolia also has two stepchildren, Elizabeth Shaw of Scotch Plains, who teaches sixth grade at Central Six-Jefferson School in Union, and Mary Ann Golaszewski of Pennsylvania.

After she was graduated from high school, she took courses in oil painting at the New School for Social Research.

"Then I got married to my first husband, Everett Reiss. I put my husband through school. He was rather ill during our marriage. He died, and I subsequently remarried. That was in 1966, when Tony Mastrolia, a retired pharmacist, and I moved to Union. We moved from Great Neck, New York. And I had an opportunity to get back to my art and to follow my bliss.

"He's very supportive. And I know I've been very fortunate. And he takes a lot of pleasure in what I do," she said of her husband.

Mastrolia studied drawing and painting at Union College in Cranford, Kean College and with Patricia Lambert, a color theorist in Greenwich, Conn. She also studied sculpture with the Salem Craftsmen in Union and Upper Montclair, the Artist's and Craftsmen's Guild in Cranford, the Summit Art Center and with Giselle Maurer, metal sculptor, in Baltimore.

"After raising my family, I decided to express my creativity through the medium of sculpture," she recalled. "I felt I had a three-dimensional mind. As an artist you have a vision, and if you can do both sculpture and painting, you can portray the vision you want."

"It's nice to have a fun technique at your fingertips," she said, "so you can elicit the vision that you have in your gut. Yes, I said gut. That's where it all is basically."

She said that "with the cooperation of my teachers, I would study a medium, such as metal or stone, and work in my own studio where I had the solitude I required to solve the problems of taking a work from one step to the next. I would then bring my work to class for the professors' critique and instruction. Using what I had learned of balance and the illusion of movement, I went on to a concentration on the interplay of two forms in the medium that would best express my idea."

Mastrolia explained that in 1977, "I decided to take courses in drawing. My professor saw that I work very tonally and he felt that I should paint again. I got as involved in painting as I did in sculpture. I became intrigued with creating the three-dimensional reality of everyday life on a two-dimensional canvas, or plane, depicting space, light and the figure. That fascinated me. I began to get commissions for portraits, some of which will be in this exhibition."

Three years ago, said Mastrolia, "I went on a vacation to Tucson, Arizona, where I would visit the canyons. It was just amazing. It was like staring in a space — like being in the midst of a primordial cataclysm. It was like the

WHERE TO DINE

A Guide to Find the Finest Dining In New Jersey

By Debbi Agins

I was just telling a friend the other day that I was looking for a good Italian restaurant. The opportunity presented itself in timely fashion when I was asked to try Cortina Restaurant. Cortina is a special restaurant, a place where Old World charm and New York sophistication come together in a unique and inviting manner.

The restaurant conveniently has

Restaurant review

two entrances, with ample parking near the front entrance after 5 p.m. and a large parking lot at the rear. The interior of Cortina is inviting, with fresh, homegrown roses on every table. The lighting is dim enough for a romantic evening, while still light and cheerful enough to accommodate lively parties. Beautiful paintings by a talented local artist fill the walls. Owners Frank and Janice Romanelli have taken a lot of time and effort to make dining at Cortina a pleasant experience.

Immediately upon our arrival, Janice approached my companion and me, introduced herself and personally escorted us to a perfect table. I watched her do the same for every party that came in to Cortina that night. The moment we were seated, Frank approached the table to offer his services. It is rare these days to find service as attentive as the Romanellis provide. While Frank chatted with us, we were brought delicious warm bread before ordering.

The selection at Cortina is quite impressive. There is a full page listing appetizers alone, including three different types of soup ($1.95-$3.95) and a Caesar salad for two ($7.95). Since all entrees include a tossed green salad, we ordered appetizers. Mine was the Fungui Ripieni Ai Granchi ($5.75), large mushrooms stuffed with crabmeat and topped with a creamy bearnaise sauce — delicious and filling. My companion chose the Antipasto Gamberi e Vongole ($6.75), shrimp in a light sauce and stuffed clams. I tasted both and found his to be equally as good as my mushrooms, particularly the shrimp.

By the time our entrees arrived, I was slightly more proficient in Italian, and a lot more full. I had chosen the Gamberi Portofino ($14.95), which, as promised, was shrimp baked in butter, garlic and herbs. There were a number of large, tender shrimp and the sauce was divine. My meal included a side order of either the vegetable of the day or the pasta, Baked Ziti, which I chose. The tomato sauce was nice and light. My companion chose one of the specials, Gnocchi, which was topped with a choice of marinara sauce or a meat sauce. He was quite pleased with the blend of beef and veal in the meat sauce. Other entrees included Chicken Parmigiana ($13.25), Veal Marsala ($14.75), and a large selection of pasta dishes.

Though quite full after our plates were cleared, I willingly allowed myself to be coaxed into dessert. My companion, showing great restraint, ordered the fresh honeydew melon. I, on the other hand, could not resist the lure of the Homemade Chocolate Mousse Torte ($3.75) and was glad I gave in. I consider myself a chocolate mousse connoisseur, and Cortina's was definitely one of the best. Other desserts include Homemade Cannoli ($3.25), Homemade Cheesecake ($3.75), and the Cortina Grand Marnier Souffle ($3.50). Be sure to try either the espresso or cappuccino along with your dessert.

Before leaving, the Romanellis thanked us for coming, and I assured them we would return soon. We walked out full and content, and the best part is that I can now tell my friend that I found great Italian food at Cortina Restaurant.

CORTINA — 28 W. North Ave., Cranford. Closed Mondays. Open for lunch Tuesday-Friday, 11:30 a.m.-3 p.m. Dinner Tuesday-Friday, 5 p.m.-10 p.m.; Saturday 5 p.m.-11 p.m.; Sunday 4 p.m.-9 p.m. Appropriate dress requested. All major credit cards accepted.

NEWSPAPER POSITIONS OPENING

Did you major or minor in Journalism or communications while in college? If you are a recent college graduate, a homemaker who desires to get back into the work force or just plain unhappy or bored with your present situation, we might have a job for you with one of our award-winning newspapers.

We are considering applications for the following positions: EDITOR/Writers: The need here is for a person with skills in writing, editing and page design. This is a full time position.

REPORTERS: Our need is a person to cover a municipal beat and write features. This is a full time position.

EDITORIAL ASSISTANT: A good opportunity for someone who wants to do a variety of newspaper "chores" such as typesetting, research, filing and even writing feature stories.

SPECIAL SECTIONS EDITOR WRITER: Here's an opportunity for someone to write features on a variety of subjects and design their own section. A fun position with some extra perks. Looking for a full time person.

We're a group of weekly newspapers with editorial offices in Bloomfield, Maplewood, Orange and Union. We offer competitive salaries and full benefits. Now that you know about us, we would like to know about you.

horoscope

For week of Apr. 7-Apr. 13
ARIES (March 21 to April 19) Harness your imagination in order to complete those major tasks. Attention to detail will pay off handsomely for you. Avoid an tug-of-war with your colleagues.
TAURUS (April 20 to May 20) Do not allow your stubborn pride to come inside. Expertise, patience and determination will win you some favors. Keep a watch out for internal conflicts between home and work.
GEMINI (May 21 to June 20) Keep your usually glib comments under wraps. Swear off operating by secrecy and monkey business. Keep your confidence level high. Something big is about to pop right in front of you.

CANCER (June 21 to July 22) New people and events are taking center stage with you. Allow your loved ones to share in this. Keep your psychic batteries charged. A strong point of view will be a big help to you.
LEO (July 23 to Aug. 22) New alliances will take some time to build. Have patience. Finish any minor tasks you have quickly. Do not ignore any warnings about your health. Make a change in your weekend routine.
VIRGO (Aug. 23 to Sept. 22) Get away from the city lights for awhile. Put yourself in your loved one's shoes. Unusual investments will attract your attention. Consult with the experts before making a move.

LIBRA (Sept. 23 to Oct. 22) Follow your heart and do what you love; the money will follow. Listen to your inner voice. Childhood memories will begin to flood the psyche. Hand work lies ahead of you.

SCORPIO (Oct. 23 to Nov. 21) Handle your dealings with others from a position of strength. Release judgements. Acquire new tools that will help you in your work. Use a low-key approach with family members.

SAGITTARIUS (Nov. 22 to Dec. 21) Spread your wings and fly. Be sure and stay busy. Business and pleasure mix well this week. Measure your words carefully. The proof will be in the proverbial pudding.

CAPRICORN (Dec. 22 to Jan. 19) The trend toward fewer emotional demands continues. Concentrate on your work, but do not forget about play. Music will liberate your soul. Clear out any psychic cobwebs.

AQUARIUS (Jan. 20 to Feb. 18) Do not count on others. Allow the unconventional side of your nature to reign supreme. Giving will lift the emotional clouds. Announce your feelings.

PISCES (Feb. 19 to March 20) Are you ready to settle down? If the answer is yes, make the result a priority. Responsible people will enter your realm. Turn your work space upside down. Beautify your home.

Teens sought by theater troupe

The Union County Music Theater, a project of the New Jersey Workshop for the Arts Inc., will audition for its summer stock production of "Once Upon a Mattress" Tuesday.

Auditions, at 7:30 p.m. at Roosevelt Intermediate School, 301 Clark St. in Westfield, are open to all Union County residents entering grades 9-12. Registration fee is $50.

"Once Upon a Mattress" is a slightly "fractured" version of "The Princess and the Pea" fairy tale. The cast includes a variety of noblemen and women as well as ladies-in-waiting, knights, soldiers, servants and musicians. There is one non-speaking male leading role.

Each person auditioning should prepare an upbeat song and bring music. Those interested in leading roles are asked to prepare a short one- to two-minute monologue.

Entering its second season, Union County Music Theater offers high school students training in every facet of the theater and takes them through the process of creating and presenting a full-scale production. The training includes music and voice, blocking and stage movement, acting, costume and set design, makeup, lighting, sound, marketing and public relations.

The project culminates in performances for the entire family. This summer the performances will be held on July 25, 26 and 27 at Roosevelt Intermediate School.

Professional leadership is provided by Dr. Theodore K. Schlosberg, project director; Peter Bridges, music director; and Arno King, drama director.

Rehearsals will be held on Monday through Thursday, from 7 to 10 p.m., and will begin June 24. According to Bridges, rehearsals are scheduled in the evening "to allow participants to hold jobs and meet other daytime commitments. The program also gives students an organized and worthwhile activity for five weeks of their summer vacation."

In addition to receiving theater training, King said UCMT students gain another benefit. "Students from different schools and communities throughout the county get the opportunity to meet, and they form close-knit relationships," she said.

Directed by Schlosberg, NJWA serves as an umbrella organization for the Westfield Workshop for the Arts, Union County Music Theater, the Music Studio and the Westfield Fencing Club. For information about auditions, tickets to the production or the NJWA programs, call 908-322-5065.

 world was just beginning," she said. "And the colors are so different from the colors of the east. And the size of the boulders. For the first time, I really had a great desire to work — abstractly — with nature. And I really call it 'pushing color.' It's very exciting."

"It is painting how I feel about what I see, and like any new adventure one embarks on, the journey can be painful and frustrating, but always filled with thrilling new discoveries and insights. And," she noted, "when you're working at your best in this medium, you're painting how you feel about what you see. And it's not easy to reach that, and that's the process I'm going through now."

Mastrolia also takes time out to be active in the League of Women Voters in Union. "I've been on the board for a long time, and I'm still a member," she said. "I'm very active with the Ethical Cultural Society and I belong to the Art Center of New Jersey, which is based in Upsala. I'm also a member of the Art Gallery of South Orange and Maplewood."

How did Mastrolia arrange to show her paintings in Union?
 "Well, the Les Malanum Art Gallery space is really very lovely," she said. "I spoke to Viola Meskin, and she gave me a date, and I began to work and I've been working ever since," she said. "It's very hard for me because this is my town. And I'm excited about people seeing my work who have not seen it before, basically. I intend to show my early work as well as my present work. It will show the steps that one takes in one's career. And that was really important to me."

After this exhibition, Mastrolia said, "I already have a couple of canvases for my next show. I've done a lot of work, but it's given me the momentum to really work hard. Actually, one of my reasons is to show and not to sell. My work is more of an educational process as I see it."

"It must be wonderful fun if you don't know much about art, and even if you do, to see the progression. I've been following my bliss for 20 some odd years, and it's like a gift to myself."

 to represent.
 The commission or compensation to the broker will also be a part of the listing agreement. It is most commonly stated as a percentage of the final sale price or as a flat fee, and is usually payable at settlement. Fees are not fixed by the government or real estate licensing authority, but are negotiable between the broker and the property owner.

The duration of the listing is a time period agreed upon by sellers and the real estate broker. The listing period can be any length of time, and may be based on the average selling time for the property being listed.

A listing should also contain the price at which the owners are willing to sell, as well as any other terms of sale required by the seller. The broker can then work to procure a buyer "ready, willing and able" to make the purchase at that price and on those terms.

In order to properly identify the real estate covered by the listing, the legal description of the property is included. This spells out precisely which parcel of real estate the broker is authorized
