Parade salutes

By Suzette Stalker Managing Editor

It was an all-American salute to United States veterans Monday as Springfield officials, residents and organizations joined together for a traditional Memorial Day parade, complete with colorful bands, poignount testimonials and the waving of Old Glory as marchers made their way from Edward V. Walton School up Mountain Avenue to Town Hall.

The parade sparked even greater patriotic spirit than usual this year as its grand marshals, all Springfield veterans of Operation Desert Storm, and their families led the procession past cheering crowds which lined the route along Mountain Avenue, Caldwell Place, Morris Avenue and back up Mountain Avenue to the Springfield Municipal Building.

Grand marshals included Maj. John W. Battagliola, United States Air Force Reserve; Capt. Kevin Russo, United States Air Force: Sammy M. Leedy, United States Navy; Alan Talarsky, United States Naval Reserve; and Pvt. Greg Wioland. Leedy and Wioland have not yet returned home.

They led an array of parade marchers from Springfield, Mountainside and elsewhere, including police, fire and rescue units, the Scouts, Red Cross and Elks. New to the parade this year were the Emerald Society of the State of New Jersey, which brought its pipe band; the Classic Car Club and a contingent from the National Guard.

Springfield Fire Chief Gerard Richelo served as master of ceremonies for a special tribute held in front of the Municipal Building immediately following the parade, during which Bunny Sobin of Springfield introduced each of the grand marshals. In March, Sobin organized a victory rally to honor local military personnel who were then stationed in the Persian Gulf.

American vets

"Memorial Day this year holds great significance," Richelo said, referring the recent success of America's military forces in liberating Kuwati from Saddam Hussein's strenghold. He praised the generous spirit of American troops, saying, "They demonstrated to the entire world that our fighting forces are the most magnituded to the centre world that our fighting forces are the most magnituded the compassion displayed, by United States troops toward read builders who were taken prisoner during Operation Desert Storm, giving them food and treating their wounds, which reflected the high value Americans place on human life under any circumstances.

Mayor Mare Marshall of Springfield, accompanied by members of the Springfield Township Committee, reminded his audience that "freedom is not free; there is a price we have to pay." He added that this year's parade was the biggest Memorial Day procession his had over seen.

The township's tribute to American veterans began with a memorial service conducted by the Rev. Jeffrey Curtis of the First Presbyterian Church, Springfield, at the Springfield Fire House on Mountain Avenue. Members of the Fire Department and local veterans' groups subsequently visited several local cemeteries for a traditional firearms salute and the playing of taps.

All of the cemeteries which were visited by the group are rich in American military history, according to Curtis. The Presbyterian Cemetery on Taft Lane, for example, contains the graves of 22 local veterans of the American Revolution, as well as many from the Civil War.

The other sites, including the Methodist Cemetery on Academy Green and the Daughters of the American Revolution Cemetery on Mountain Avenue, also contain the graves of United States veterans who fought during various military conflicts since America won its independence from Great Britain.

Students exhibit collage of talent

By Suzette Stalker

Fifty-four students from Union
County Regional High School District
1 displayed their creativity, imagination and unique skills last week during the 1991 Gifted and Talented Expo, which was held for family members, friends and others at Arthur
L. Johnson Regional High School in Clark

The Regional District includes Jonathan Dayton Regional High School in Springfield, which enrolls both Springfield and Mountainside students; David Brearley Regional High School in Kenllworth, Arthur L. Johnson and Governor Livingston Regional High School in Berkeley Heights.

Each student enrolled in the Gifted and Talented programs at the four high schools gave a 15-minute presentation, performance, demonstration or exhibit during the exposition May 22, which marked the culmination of 180 hours work on specific projects completed during the 1990-91 school year.

Students chose project topics from a wide range of disciplines, including psychology, science, medicine, art and literature, music and dance, creative writing, engineering, the environment, foreign language and culture, interior design, volunteer groups, communications, architecture and safety.

John Schiano of Springfield and Jeanne Spagnola of Mountainside, both juniors at Jonathan Dayton, collaborated on a science project focusing upon the behavior and performance of mice, funded through a $100 grant for equipment and research from the New Jersey Junior Academy of Science, headquartered at Rutgers University.

John Schlano of Springfield and Jeanne Spagnola of Mountainside, both juniors at Jonathan Dayton Regional High School in Springfield, present the results of their study on the behavior and performance of mice during the 1991 Gifted and Talented Expowhich was held last week at Arthur L. Johnson Regional High School in Clark.

The students constructed two wooden mazes to study the reactions of the mice, which were divided into two groups, one of which gradually received less food than the control group to test their speed and decision-making processes when placed inside the mazes with food as their reward for successfully making their way to the end of the structures.

Schiano and Spagnola discovered that the underfed mice moved more quickly through the maze and had a greater tendency to pick the correct door containing food than did those mice which did not have their nourishment reduced. They also observed that the underfed mice eventually became "lazy" as they adapted to the reduction in the amount of food they

Springfield resident Seth Eisen, a junior at Jonathan Dayton, designed a public relations campaign for the NASA space station, which had been planned as a permanent laboratory in space. The project is now in jeopardy, however, since the Congressional Appropriations Committee cut $1 million in funding for it last week. Eisen created a public service

States government urging the United States government and its citizens to support the space station, using clips of past achievements by the space program, including the first landing on the moon and recent Space Shuttle missions. The student said he is interested in pursuing public relations as a career.

For his project, Eisen spoke with United States Senator Jake Garn, R-Utah, who traveled into space aboard See STUDENTS, Page 2

Capital funds OK'd; amendment rejected

By Suzette Stalker Managing Editor

An ordinance calling for the Springfield Township Committee to appropriate $239,202 from its Capital Improvement Fund was adopted Tuesday after the Republican majority rejected a proposed amendment by Democrat committee members Lee Eisen and Marcia Forman that two items in the ordinance be withheld for further consideration.

One of the two ordinance appropriations which Eisen and Forman wanted withheld for consideration included a five-year contract for Law Enforcement Television Network signal acquisition and reception equipment for the Springfield Police Department at a total of $28,152.

The second involved a $47,450 appropriation for desktop personal computer workstations for the Police, Recreation and Emergency Management departments, including furniture and software. The appropriated amounts included $32,000 for six Police Department units, $10,300 for two Recreation Department units and one for Emergency Management costing $5,150.

The Democrats' proposed amendment called for department representatives to appear before the Township Committee "to demonstrate that the expenditures affecting the respective department is necessary to the efficient operation of that department and that they made a diligent effort to accomplish the same level of efficient operation" at less cost.

Forman cited the Law Enforcement Television Network appropriation which provides training videos for the Springfield Police Department, proposing that since it is not known how many officers would actually be using the service, it might have been more practical to incorporate this expenditure on a yearly basis into the municipal budget.

Springfield Mayor Marc Marshall

claimed that Eisen and Forman did not take an opportunity to review the LETN demo tape and printed material which he said he received several months ago, arguing that the Democrats should have addressed any concerns they may have had to municipal department heads during that time. He added that the material was available to all members of the governing body.

Eisen maintained that he and Forman had reviewed "some of the materials" and that they had voiced concerns about the costs involved in the LETN program several times during the months prior to the adoption of the capital budget.

The committeeman added that the GOP majority "has now spent $30,000 of the taxpayers' money by locking themselves into a five-year program with no management plan and no way to gage the effectiveness of this service."

The Democrats maintained that they were not necessarily against the two appropriations, but said they felt further study of the expenditures could have been done before the capital budget was adopted. Committee members, though they voted 3-2 against the proposed amendment to the ordinance, voted unanimously to adopt the overall budget.

In other news, the committee on Tuesday adopted an ordinance calling for the licensing of cats owned by township residents in an effort to curb the spread of rabies, which recently emerged in Union County. The virus, which is spread by infected raccoons and other forms of wildlife, entered New Jersey for the first time in 40 years last November.

Several other Union County municipalities have also recently passed similar ordinances regarding the licensing of cats, which are considered to be especially susceptible to the rabies virus because they are nocturnal and have a tendency to roam, bringing them into frequent contact with wildlife.

Three face burglary rap in theft of house safe

Managing Editor

Three men, believed to be part of an organized crime ring, were charged with burglary May 19 after they allegedly broke into a Springfield residence and removed a large safe, Springfield police confirmed this week.

Detective Judd Levenson of the Springfield Police Department stated that a neighbor called police at 12:30 a.m. to report that a home in the 500 block of Mountain Avenue was being burglarized. The owners of the home were away at the time the robbery took place, Levenson added.

The suspects were allegedly seen placing a large object into a white van parked in the driveway of the robbery scene, after which they fied south on Mountain Avenue toward Route 22 with police in pursuit. The van, after traveling along several side streets, pulled into a dead end at Mountain Avenue, where the suspects attempted to flee on foot.

Officer Michael Ferrigno apprehended the driver of the van, identified as Frank Fabio, 55, of Hackettstown, shortly after he fled the van. The other two suspects, brothers Brian Giannolla, 33, of Demerest and Jon Giannolla, 31, of Norwood, were arrested 15 minutes later in an Albert Court backyard. Officer Jim Fine also participated in the arrests,

A 5-foot, 600-pound steel safe containing an undisclosed amount ofcash, jewelry and antique firearms was recovered from the van, according to Levenson, along with a police scanner and a hand truck apparently used to move the safe from the home into the vehicle.

The detective said authorities believe that all three suspects are affiliated with organized crime and that "this was a well-planned robbery.

They knew what they were after."

Each of the suspects was charged with burglary, theft, criminal damage, conspiracy to commit burglary, possession of burglary tools, possession of a police scanner and possession of gambling records. The suspects were remanded to the Union County Jail, where they were being held last week on $75,000 bail each, pending a court hearing.

David Lodge's social comedy "Nice Work," published in 1989, will be featured at the last book discussion of the 1990-91 season at the Springfield Public Library, Mountain Avenue, Springfield, to be held Tuesday at 7:30 p.m. in the library's children's room.

Lodge, a professor of English at the University of Birmingham, England, has written several "campus" novels. "Nice Work" features a young femalé English lecturer assigned to "shadow" an industrialist as he goes about his work in a grimy factory.

The two have opposing backgrounds and prejudices and at first are. uncomfortable with one another; gradually they develop a munual respect. The New York Times called the novel funny, intelligent, superbly paced," and said readers are "in for a treat."

The discussion is free and open to the public. Anyone wishing to read the book may request it at the library reference desk. After a summer break, the book discussion will resume Oct.

1 and continue on the first Tuesday of the month after that:

On Wednesday, Dr. Rick Wolf, a Union chiropractor, will give a free seminar titled "Stress Management" at the library.

During the month of June, the library will also feature a display by Springfield students in the Gifted and Talented programs. According to program coordinator Dr. Pamela Gray, the exhibit will consist of works by academically, artistically and musically talented young people.

Eisen explained that his goal in doing this project was to petition congressmen and senators to support funding for the space station, since the facility "provides us with science and technological advancements which will propel us into the world market and cut down on the number of foreign imports."

Jonathan Dayton, titled her project "Foreign Aid: Human Rights vs. U.S. Interests," during which she highlighted the efforts of Amnesty International on behalf of political prisoners worldwide.

She also discussed how the United States has often given money to nations, such as the Philippines, which have committed atrocities against their own citizens as well as foreigners, because these nations are important trading partners or investors or because they represent strategic military bases.

"The United States is supposed to be the moral leader of the world." Kathy McCabe, a senior at McCabe remarked during her presentation, noting that the United States was listed among 143 countries in Amnesty International's 1990 report on human rights violations, primarily for capital punishment. "I always knew we weren't perfect, but now my opinion has been drastically changed."

The Gifted and Talented Exposition is held annually at one of the four 🧳 Regional high schools as a showcase for the students' projects. Students are targeted for the Gifted and Talented program as sophomores based on their special gifts or talents or overall academic record, and have an opportunity to participate during their iunior and senior years.

Camp registrations accepted

Washington Rock Girl Scout Council, which includes troops in Springfield and Mountainside, has announced that it is still accepting registrations for summer resident camp. The overnight camping programs are held at Camp Hoover, Middleville, located on 328 acres overlooking scenic Swartswood Lake, Sussex County.

Camp Hoover, fully accredited by the American Camping Association, is open to all girls entering grades 2-10. Girls do not have to participate in a Girl Scout troop to register for Camp Hoover.

A choice of general camp programs or specialty programs are available, as well as seven different weekly sessions beginning June 30 and ending Aug. 17. Activities include swimming, boating, arts and crafts, gymnastics, hiking and horseback riding.

Camp program highlights include "Fun, Fashion and Fitness," which will be offered to girls in grades 7-10. Girls will learn the basics of fashion, makeup, fitness and general camp program. "Hoover Discoverers" will offer girls entering grades 2 and 3 an opportunity to enjoy swimming, cooking over a camp fire, gymnastics, hiking and horseback riding.

Campers are divided by age and program in one of five units or two contemporary lodges. Camp Hoover also boasts a modern, fully-enclosed. recreational facility for indoor activities. For more information, one can call Toni Gaston at 232-3236.

Freeholders introduce budget; cap expansion motion on first reading

By Alec Schwartz Managing Editor

The Union County Precholders, as expected, introduced a $216-million budget May 23, by a 5-2 vote along party lines.

At the same meeting, the freeholders also introduced an ordinance on first reading to expand the cap from 4.5 to 5 percent, which if passed on second reading would allow the county to spend around $500,000 more. The budget which was introduced assumed the cap increase will pass at the June 20 meeting.

The budget carries with it a 4 perby taxation, and just a 3 percent According to Freeholder Chairman James Connelly Welsh, the decrease in the necessary tax levy was brought in the county government which will ments and divisions.

Assemblyman Neil Cohen, D-Union, however, points to state legis-

Cohen said that state legislation mandating a tight cap without many exemptions and a substantial property tax rebate are the reasons the levy will decrease. The introduced budget by assuming a 5 percent cap only requires $131,815,743 to be raised by taxes, compared with $137,888,600 in 1990. However, the county is receiving $13 million more in other revenues, which includes around $20 million in property tax rebate provided by the state.

Augustine said that because he received his copy of the budget at 8:20 p.m. on the night of the meeting, he was not prepared to vote affirmaabout by an anticipated restructuring tively for introduction. The meeting was scheduled to begin at 8 p.m. and decrease the total number of depart- did not offically start until around 9

> Welsh, at the conclusion of the public meeting, chastised Kelly and lation as the real reason the budget Augustine for their negative votes and won't impact severely on taxpayers' said that it was a shame that the freeholders peeded to ask Freeholder Gerald Green to come to the meeting in a sickly condition to ensure that the budget would pass. Five affirmative votes were needed, and after the budget was introduced Green left. Neither Freeholder Louis Santagata nor Walter Boright was present for the vote, but Boright arrived at around 9:30 p.m.

Welsh said that Precholders Augustine and Kelly both knew that introduction was not equivalent to passing the budget and that their failure to vote affirmatively was uncalled for.

The budget calls for $94.2 million in appropriations for salaries and wages, with $31.2 million going to the Health and Welfare Department. That department also received $37 million to cover other expenses and overall is the recipient of 31.5 percent of the budget expenditures.

An appropriation of $14.6 million was set aside for debt service and another $1.5 million for capital improvement projects.

Charity lockup helps Muscular Dystrophy patients

The Muscular Dystrophy Association recently locked up some of Springfield's most prominent citizens for a good cause during its amual fundraiser. The event was held at the Olive Garden Restaurant in Springfield, where "jailbirds" were treated to unlimited soups and salads while being entertained by Jack-da-Wack disc jockey from Z-100 Radio.

The event is expected to have raised more than $8,000 for "Jerry's Kids," — the young Muscular Dystrophy patients who have benefited for many years by the annual telethons organized by entertainer Jerry Lewis.

Springfield Township Committeeman Jeff Katz served as judge for the event, during which local businessmen Harry Pappas and Paul Gagliotti were taken into custody. Springfield Mayor Marc Marshall was also put behind bars, after being charged by Judge Katz with "running an honest administration and getting himself elected." His bail was set at $600.

The "jailbirds" were picked up by the Springfield police and taken to mobile telephones at the makeshift jail to raise their bail. Bail funds are slated for Muscular Dystrophy patient services, camp programs and research grants for the association. All funds raised go back into the area served.

Protecting ethics

Most local governing bodies have begun or shortly will begin to consider the options allowed by the Local Government Ethics Law, which took effect May

Under the law, the local body may choose to form its own municipal ethics board for ethical cases which arise locally. Without such a board, cases will be heard by the state's Local Finance Board.

When forming a local ethics board, municipalities must follow guidelines, set forth by the state, to assure that the members are not biased. The sixmember board must consist of at least two members of the public who do not serve the town in another capacity. Also, no more than three of the six members may belong to any one political party. These guidelines are disastrously loose and almost encourage placement of people who have their own agendas.

Forming local boards could result in witch hunts and result in no justice whatsoever.

A local board will have the option of adopting a local ethics code which is stronger than the state law. The board cannot adopt a code which is weaker, but could if it chooses adopt an identical code.

If a governing body wishes to maintain local control of ethics, then it must be prepared to strenghten the code at the same time.

There is no need, and it is possibly counterproductive, to form a local ethics board which doesn't strengthen the ethics code.

We acknowledge that in some instances there may be some benefits to forming a local board.

For instance, a local board would strengthen the code. It could require more detailed financial disclosure by elected officials including the monetary amounts or at least the ranges of gifts, and other incomes they receive.

In addition, local boards could include clauses which regulate problems such as nepotism, which are not covered in the 11 guidelines set forth in the state law

If the goal is to truly ensure ethical behavior, municipalities should go one step beyond the state and draft an iron-clad code for their local bodies.

Plastics recycling

Harry A. McEnroe, D-Essex, chairman of the Assembly Waste Management, Planning and Recycling Committee, is the sponsor of legislation that would require all New Jersey municipalities to recycle plastic beverage containers.

It's another major step toward recycling 60 percent of the total waste stream that McEnroe and his committee recognized as necessary when they approved legislation to provide for the recycling of two types of containers — polyethylene terephthalate and highdensity polyethylene. One is used for most plastic soda bottles and the other for milk containers.

We wholeheartedly approve of McEnroe's measure and urge the Assembly Appropriations Committee to waste no time in reviewing the bill.

The bill also contains county and municipal budget cap exemptions for the money spent on recycling programs, amounts received by municipalities under the state's tonnage grant program, and revenues raised by the municipalities from the sale of recyclable materials. We like this part of the bill and so should everyone in county and municipal government.

McEnroe's bill is timely since the plastics recycling industry has come of age and there's now a market for putting a dent into plastic bottles that make up an estimated 8 percent of our landfill space.

At the moment, it's also estimated that about half of the state's population is recycling slightly more than 20 percent of the plastic beverage container garbage we produce and that's not an acceptable figure.

McEnroe believes we can do better. He believes that plastics recycling will work, as the current programs have — if the municipalities enforce it.

That means, by Jan. 1, 1992, each municipality would be required to provide for the recycling of PET containers and HDPE containers, as they do for other materials, under McEnroe's bill.

Also as part of the bill, the Department of Environmental Protection will be required to submit annual reports on the effectiveness of these programs, with first reports due April 1, 1993. The reports also must include an analysis of the actual commitment made by beverage container manufacturers to the success of the recycling project.

The analysis is needed because it would be based on the success of the industry in meeting statewide recovery targets for beverage containers of 15 percent by Jan. 1, 1993; 35 percent by Jan. 1, 1994; and 50 percent by Jan. 1, 1995.

The survival of our planet depends on whether bills such as this work.

letters to the editor

Dems want to debate the issues

It is only May and the Republicans have already declared war. The first shot was fired two weeks ago and you, the voters, will be subjected to this bombardment from them for the next six months. It is sad to think that Republican political tactics must rely on negative campaigning: personal slurs, innuendos, lies, among others. We have challenged them to debate the issues - that is what we intend to do.

We both feel that Springfield voters deserve a full discussion of the issues involving the way our town is run. We intend to confine our comments to the way the present majority has governed Springfield and the ideas we have to make Springfield a better town in which to live.

We challenge our opponents to run a campaign based on their record. We see their vicious attacks as a smokescreen designed to divert the voters' attention from the inadequacies and failures of the current majority to deliver what they promised — unfulfilled promises.

We are optimistic about Springfield's future. We believe we can restore pride to our community by bringing strong, ethical, positive leadership.

Myma Wasserman Steve Firsichbaum Springfield

Sickened by continued bickering

Ad Nauseam! The election for the Springfield Township Committee is months away. Are we to be inundated with all this negative rhetoric? This town has been divided in the past, let us not make the same mistake again.

It's enough to make one almost give up the precious right to vote. Charlotte Gelfond Springfield

Vendettas are a waste of time

To the Editor:

Every week I read the letters submitted by people in Springfield. I finally decided to take pen in hand and write my feelings about what is going on in this town between the Democrats and Republicans.

My husband and I have lived in Springfield for 26 years. I have always been a Democrat. My parents and grandparents before me were Democrats. Democrats have always stood for the working class people, whereas the Republicans were known to support big business.

The Democrats of this town have changed that for me. I must tell you, for the last four years I have voted for and supported the Republican party. Why? The reasons are clear. The Democrats who are in office now, who are supposedly representing Springfield, are really representing themselves. Their ideas, their viewpoints, are not of the Democratic people of this town.

I do not condone the mudslinging from either side. What matters to me is what have you done for me lately? --- and --- who did it? The answer I come up with, are the Republicans,

I would like the Republicans to stop spending so much time digging up personal things about the Democrats, and put their energy where it belongs running and improving Springfield.

Personal vendettas are a waste of time. They breed hate and accomplish nothing. Above all, they teach our children the wrong way to handle things.

Auditor-treasurer practice not new

In last week's piece of editorial nastiness, Republican candidates Katz and Pappas found my "revelation" that in small towns like Springfield the town's auditor sometimes performs functions that might normally be expected from the treasurer, "shocking." "Kaish let the practice go on for years." Shocking!! Dreadfull! Tsk. Tsk.

The very week they huffed and puffed their sanctimonious indignation on this page, they passed the budget at the town meeting. Who did they have present at the meeting to answer questions and to explain the budget? The treasurer? No, the treasurer wasn't in the room. They brought the auditor to do the treasurer's work. Who did they turn to when asked how much the budget went up? How much taxes were changing? What were the implications to the state's requirement that they spend the surplus they have accumulated before raising taxes? The treasurer? Well, hardly. The treasurer wasn't even in the room. They relied on the auditor, just as I did when I was mayor and just as Republican and Democratic administrations have done before I got there and, apparently, since I left.

The only thing that is "shocking" in all this is that one week after Katz and Pappas said, "We solemnly pledge that in the months that follow, we will never try to deceive you," they did try to do just that. And at my expense.

When the popular song about Bad Bad Leroy Brown called him "meaner than a junk yard dog," it was referring to a guy who would carve up anyone or anything that strayed into his territory. The Republican campaign has become meaner than a junk yard dog, snarling and snapping at everybody they don't like to see in the neighborhood of Town Hall. While they may not draw blood each time, they sure do make a lot of noise.

I don't think Springfield needs a junk yard dog. I think it needs a good watch Stanley Kaish Springfield

Questions posed again

To the Editor:

When in doubt, punt, Or, as the local Democrats do, talk out of both sides of your mouth at the same time and hope everyone is confused

Did you notice in the May 16 column written by Bruce Bergen, Democratic chairman of the "All in the Family" team, that he "forgot" to answer several questions we asked of the Democrats the week before?

First, did Bergen discuss the possibility of a conflict of interest with Mrs. Wasserman and Mrs. Forman before placing the second family member on the Second, can Bergen, Wasserman, Firsichbaum, Forman, Eisen, Kaish or Marylin Schneider deny that they fully supported Robert Fish for the Board of Education, knowing that his brother-in-law was already a member of that body?

Third, will the same seven "leaders" of the Democratic Party deny that they kept this "All in the Family" ploy from the Springfield Leader and the public? (We raised the issue of two family members - Wasserman and Forman controlling 40 percent of every Township Committee vote in April).

Fourth, will the same seven Democrats deny that they remained silent and failed to disclose to the public and the Springfield Leader that the other candidate for the Board of Education, Ruth Brinen, is an employee of the board's attorney? Fifth, can the Democrat team of seven, particularly former board President voted on matters that affected the income of her boss or voted on litigation to be handled by him at a fee? Sixth, will Bergen, Forman, Eisen, Firsichbaum, and aide-de-camp Marylin Schneider state publicly that they didn't know that Ruth Brinen worked for board attorney Yale Greenspoon and that any of her votes on Greenspoon's appointment, salary, and work were highly unethical? Seventh, will this same group of seven admit that if the Springfield Leader had known about their "All in the Family" script, it might not have endorsed their candidates?

Myrna Wasserman, tell the public and the press how many times Ruth Brinen

Eighth, will Bergen. Wasserman, Firsichbaum, and Kaish go on record publ icly as supporting Forman's vote in opposition to support of our troops fighting in the Persian Gulf? (Even Eisen ran from that position and voted yes).

Ninth, will Wasserman or the leaders of the Democratic Party admit that her running mate's statement that he "believes government is a service organization, not a business" is totally absurd? The simple fact is that Firsichbaum has absolutely no idea what it means to run a business

Tenth, will the Democratic Party go on record and pledge that their "All in the Family" members such as Greenspoon, Kaish, Schneider, etc. will not be given a political position if the "family" takes control of the Township Committee?

Perhaps before you, Mr. Bergen, and your team asked any questions of us, you should first answer these 10 questions and only then will the voters fully understand what clear choices they will have this November.

Lastly, with reference to Mr. Kaish's letter and his comments about "Berlin in the 1930s" and "shades of Joseph Goebbels," we find those statements to be in exceedingly poor taste.

In addition, he should think twice about attributing a quotation to someone who did not make the statement. Mr. Kaish is a man who apparently enjoys dabbling in mendacity.

To Mrs. Schneider, we are reminded of another quote: "The lady doth protest too much, methinks."

LWV activities are fair to all

A defeated candidate in the recent Springfield Board of Education elections has made public, unfounded allegations which need to be corrected.

As it has done for many years as a service to the community, the Springfield League of Women Voters sponsored a candidates night and distributed candidate sheets containing nonpartisan information. The candidate unfortunately recalls in error several points. LWV neither edits material nor supports candidates. All candidates received a candidate questionnaire on which to provide biographical information in not more than 50 words total. Spaces were provided in categories: education, occupation, additional training and experience. Two questions were asked to be replied to in 200 words or less. The candidate's signature indicating that the material may be published was required at the bottom. The particular candidate's signed questionnaire, along with the others, was printed exactly as submitted. It is unfortunate that she did not include at that time all the information that she later felt warranted attention.

The candidates night, moderated by an impartial chair, was a public forum at which the candidates presented their qualifications for election, answered questions from the electorate and made clear their positons. On the basis of that information conveyed, the electorate voted.

The Springfield League of Women Voters is proud of its service to the community in sponsoring such efforts to provide nonpartisan election information. This letter is to make certain that the public understands how we ensure that league-sponsored activities are fair to all.

Jeffrey Katz called me to respond to the letter to the editor in the May 16 edition of the Springfield Leader.

Mrs. Schneider was not telling the truth when she told your readers that Mr. Katz wrote my letter for me and my husband. We have been Democrats all our lives and my mother-in-law was a Democratic district leader in Springfield. We objected to the "masquerade" that the Democrats tried to pull off in Springfield by doing to the Township Committee the same thing they have done to the Board of Education. That is making it a family affair.

We will be voting and working very hard for the Republican party and the election of Jeff Katz and Harry Pappas. As voting Democrats, we can't afford to allow the likes of Myrna Wasserman and Marcia Forman to have a monopoly on the Township Committee. We are not leaving the Democratic Party; it has Susan. Rabies clinic to be offered

The Westfield Board of Health, which provides health services to Mountainside, Westfield, Fanwood and Garwood, will conduct a free rables clinic on June 8 from 9-11 a.m. for the inoculation of both cats and dogs.

The clinic will be held at Westfield Fire Station 2, Central Avenue, Westfield. No appointments will be required.

Health officer Robert Sherr has noted that a confirmed case of rabies in a raccoon was documented in Westfield during the week of May 1. In response to the rabies outbreak, Sherr recommends that the public fol-

· Make certain that all cats and

- dogs are vaccinated against rabies. Do not leave family pets outdoors overnight or feed animals outdoors.
- · Avoid contact with all wild
- · Discuss with children not to bring home, pet or attempt to "help" a sick wild animal.

If one is bitten by any animal, one is advised to consult his or her physician immediately and to contact the local health department at 789-4070 to report the incident.

Health fair is scheduled

The Summit Regional Board of Health has announced that a health fair will be held at the Sarah Bailey Center, Church Mall, Springfield, on Monday from 8 a.m.-noon. The program is open to all residents of Springfield, Summit, Berkeley Heights and New Providence.

Tests offered will include blood pressure screening, colorectal take-home test kits for cancer, breast selfexam education, skin cancer screening and SMAC blood test. Preregistration is required for the SMAC and there is a charge of $15 per person.

Bill targets emotionally disturbed youth turbed youngsters currently being treated out-of-state could find care closer to home under legislation introduced by Sen. Donald T. DiFrancesco.

Under the terms of the bill. New Jersey would be required to redirect funds currently used to pay for out-ofstate residential care to a statewide. coordinated system of community and home-hased services for emotionally disturbed children.

"This measure is an effort to preserve the sanctity of the family and prevent the unnecessary placement of children with emotional disturbances out of their homes, and often, out of the state because of the lack of suitable facilities in New Jersey to service their needs," said DiFrancesco (R-Union, Essex).

Officially dubbed the "Bring Our Children Home Act," the measure would give top priority to keeping children with emotional disturbances close to home, and whenever appropriate, in the home within the family

The senator said the measure was inpart prompted by the closing of the Brisbane Child Care Center in Long Branch, which will displace about 50 children with emotional problems. These children now need to be phased in to community and homebased programs," he said.

"But overall, the state needs to take a hard look at the services it provides for these children and develop a comprehensive plan that will enable us to bring hundreds of children home, closer to their families and the communities in which they reside," he

"Despite the exorbitantly high cost of placing children in out-of-state residential treatment centers, the results are not always a huge success. Also, monitoring out-of-state programs becomes difficult and expensive because of the travel costs involved - both for parents and the DYFS treating and caring for these children.

By concentrating our resources in New Jersey, we may be able to provide more comprehensive and efficient services, at a lower cost, closer to home." Currently, there are 766 New Jersey youngsters, under the supervision of the State Division of Youth and Family Services, receiving treatment in out-of-state residential facilities. At an average of $40,000 per. child for room and board per year, the total annual cost to the state exceeds $35, money that might be better spent on community and home-based treatment programs in New Jersey, DiFrancesco said.

Under terms of the proposal, which would be implemented by the Department of Human Services, families would be fully involved in planning and implementing services for their children. Comprehensive services that address the physical, educational, social and emotional needs of a child would be provided in the least restrictive setting and geared to the unique needs and potential of each child and "The state would be responsible for providing children and their families with the appropriate educational and family support services, whether the child lives with the family unit or in another residential setting," he said. Another key provision is the early identification of children with emotional disturbances and intervention by the state in the form of providing "Our top priority is to provide the best possible care for these children," DiFrancesco said. "If we are going to spend $35 million a year on their care, we should make every attempt to see that they are getting the benefit of every single dollar. A network of local, county and state sponsored programs could help accomplish that.

"Our optimum hope is to have as many children as possible placed back in the home with their families. When that is not possible, the next best thing is to have the child in close proximity to his or her family."

Retirement

School crossing guards would have the option of joining the Public Employees' Retirement System under legislation approved by the General Assembly.

Its sponsor, Assembly Majority Leader Wayne R. Bryant (D-Camden), said that currently PERS membership is optional only for crossing guards who are eligible for benefits under other pension systems. All other crossing guards must join the PERS system.

"This is a job, not a career, for most school crossing guards," Bryant said. "For many of them, it is a second, part-time job. It seems to me that in many cases, the money involved would be much more welcome in the person's paycheck rather than used for pension benefits.

"This bill gives school crossing guards the choice: If they want to become members of the pension system, they can; if they don't want money taken out for pension benefits, even they have no other pension plan, they don't have to join," he said.

County college to close Scotch Plains campus aid totaling more than 20 percent, limited county appropriations, increasing mandated costs and increasing fulltime enrollment of 24 percent in the past three years, Union County College has prepared a new strategic plan for 1991-93, calling for the closing of the Scotch Plains campus by the summer of 1992, and the elimination of eight associate degree programs.

Our college has been experiencing fiscal difficulties for the past three years as a result of declining state aid as well as large increases in enrollment, which have required annual tuition increases," said Thomas H. Brown, UCC president. "It is likely this budget crisis, which is cumulative, will continue into the near

Furthermore, Brown said, there have been many changes in the fiscal climate of New Jersey and Union County, in the Union County workforce, including an increase in the employment rate, and in the composition of the Union County population as determined in the 1990 census.

"Therefore, a revised, near-term strategic plan is required to help the college alleviate the budget crisis and to place it in a favorable strategic position, so it can more productively serve the citizens of Union County in the years ahead," Brown said. "As a result of these steps, our college will be stronger, more vibrant and better prepared to meet the higher educa-

Copies of a 200-page draft report have been distributed to all full-time employees of the college. In a transmittal memorandum, Brown said, "Clearly, the college no longer can support a four-campus configuration, based upon the number of programs of study which are viable, the number of courses we can support fiscally, and projected enrollments." Union County College currently operates its main campus in Cranford, branch campuses in Elizabeth and Scotch Plains, and an extension center in

The strategic plan was developed by the Strategic Planning Committee and has been distributed to the entire college community for input, reactions and suggestions, Brown said.

The plan proposes a three-campus configuration for Union County College, utilizing the existing main campus in Cranford, the full development of the Elizabeth campus by completing the renovations of the former headquarters building of the Elizabethrown Gas building, and renovating the Plainfield Center, which is located in the former Courier-News building.

"Once we eliminate or discontinue programs and courses with low enrollments, we will have a need for fewer facilities," Brown said. "Our studies show that all of the remaining programs and courses could be housed in Cranford, Elizabeth and Plainfield. We selected the Plainfield Center because it is relatively inexpensive to operate, it is conveniently located for those who require public transportation, it carries out the objectives of the college's urban initiatives to serve better the residents of Union County's major urban areas, and it would serve dents who are in the greatest need of higher education services."

"Union County," according to the strategic plan, "is becoming ever more urbanized, spreading out to include not only Elizabeth and Plainfield, but most of Eastern Union County, and its jobs - creating ability is slowing - indeed to a point where it has the lowest job-creating rate in the entire New York Metropolitan area. This means Union County has increasing costs directly related to its urbanization and has fewer tax dollars to pay for them.'

Union County College's 1990-95 Master Plan warned that Union County may be changing faster than its community college can respond to these changes.

"The new 1990 census and other data indicate this is true to even a greater degree than anticipated," according to the strategic plan. Furthermore, the master plan's assumptions that state and county aid would continue to increase at the rate of inflation is not happening. The college is receiving less state aid and anticipates further cuts in the future. Meanwhile, county funding is interim superintendent at the Union County Vocational-Technical schools. The Linden resident will head the schools until a permanent uperintendent is chosen to replace Richard R. Phillips, currently on medical leave, who will retire on June 30.

Michael E. Petro, school business administrator, had been handling the dual role until Taranto was appointed.

Charles Mancuso, president of the Board of Education of the vocational schools in Union County, expressed much satisfaction that Taranto had agreed to accept the post. "He is an experienced and dedicated educator who will provide excellent leadership here at the schools," Mancuso said.

Taranto began his career as a teacher at Linden High School in 1942 and worked his way up in the system to be named superintendent of schools in 1972, retiring in 1986. A veteran of World War II, Taranto has been involved in a wide variety of professional organizations. He has a long record of community service to Linden and was first chairman of the March of Dimes Drive for three consecutive years. Among his published writings is "Consumer's Education Today," which appeared in Business Education Today.

Taranto holds a bachelor's degree from Lebanon Valley College, a master's degree in education from Rutgers, and has done advanced studies at both Upsala College and New York University.

The new interim superintendent and his wife. June Cicarell Taranto. are the parents of Frank W. Taranto. coordinator of audio-visual/ educational media for the Linden

Season ends for Dayton

By Mark Yablonsky Sports Editor

Like many seasons past, the 1991 spring campaign ended with a loss for the Jonathan Dayton Regional High softball team, a 16-5 setback to Govemor Livingston last Thursday in Berkeley Heights. But in many ways, 1991 was a lot different for the Lady Bulldogs.

For one thing, their final showing of 8-11 is noticeably better than records of years past, such as 4-16, for instance. And Dayton showed its competitiveness by battling schools such as Roselle Park and Union Catholic, two of the county's toughest teams, to losses as tight as 12-8 and 6-3, respectively.

"Well, it was a vast improvement for us," explained Dayton coach Arthur Krupp, shortly after the loss at Governor Livingston put the wraps on Dayton's '91 season. "Defensively, except for the last four or five games, we played very well. We were very

"We have a good nucleus of young kids. Five of our starters were either sophomores or freshmen. We have a lot of kids coming back and overall, I'm very pleased."

Of those young kids, none stood out as well as sophomore shortstop Laura Leyrer. The team leader in hitting, runs scored and runs batted in, Leyrer ended her '91 season by going 2-for-3 against G.L., with one of the hits being a run-scoring single in the fourth inning.

Sophomore Wendy Saladino, who has also made her presence felt offensively, followed Leyrer's RBI single in the fourth with one of her own immediately afterward. Sally Kisch singled home a run in the fourth inning for Dayton, which had grabbed a 2-0 lead by scoring twice in the first. But Regina Kalucki's two-run double to left-center in the bottom of the first snapped a 2-2 tie and gave the Lady Highlanders the lead for good.

Despite the run-scoring hits from Leyrer and Saladino in the top of the fourth, G.L. poured across five more runs in its half of the fourth to put an early end to the game. By way of the 10-run rule, the contest ended after Dayton was held scoreless in the top of the fifth inning.

"We got better as the season went on," Krupp concluded. "Unfortunately, in the last couple of games, we regressed somewhat, but we're looking forward to next year.

"With renewed vigor." BULLDOG BRIEFS - One of Dayton's down notes of the season occured when senior second baseman Sheri DeRonde broke her finger during Dayton's 6-3 loss to Union Catholic in Union County Tournament play ... Against G.L., Dayton also got hits from Angela Pasquarelli, Holly Olarczuk, Christine Saliceti, Kristin McLear and Amy Prignano. \ Derek Vanderkooy, a hard-hitting

Mangels wins

In the minor boys' division of the Roselle Park Youth Baseball League, Mangels remained undefeated by beating Mulcahy's, 6-5, in recent league play. Joe Paulauskas and Ed Adamo combined for the win, while Rich Solomita delivered a gamewinning, bases-loaded double.

In other action, Colline Bros. beat Jedji Boat, 9-2, behind four RBI from Raineri Ventura, and a 3-for-4 effort by winning pitcher Pat O'Connell. Matt Russo hurled three no-hit innings and also hit two doubles in a loosing effort.

In the major boys' division, Mini's Pizza beat T.J. Skoops, 14-9, behind three innings of no-hit ball by pitcher Brian Lawson, who struck out seven batters during that time. Donavan Marhole and Joe Bielski had key hits.

Mini's Pizza also defeated Somerset Tire, 17-0, on a no-hitter by Robbie Basile. The pitcher also drove in six runs on three hits, while teammate Lawson homered, and Steve Matthews and Scott Heath each tripled.

In other action, Park Trophies outlasted Executive Carpet, 14-12, behind four RBI from Ryan Zoeller. Mike Sweeny has reached base 11 straight times over the last three games. Supreme Auto topped Somerset Tire, 10-5. In the senior boys' division, Vinnie Kovacs went 3-for-3 and Ryan Vanderkooy tripled and homered to lead Schinestuhl Plumbing past the PBA, 13-2.

TAKING A SWING - Brearley infielder Peter Accomando follows through after swinging at a pitch during last Friday's North Jersey, Group 1, Section 2 quarterfinal-round game with Butler at Ward Field. Butler scored a run in the top of the eighth inning to hand the Bears a 5-4 defeat. Brearley ended its season at 19-5.

Panthers finish up at 12-10

By Mark J. Yablonsky Sports Editor

With bats swinging in almost every direction, the Roselle Park High baseball team ended its 1991 season on a winning note by winning its last two games, a 6-5, come-from-behinder over Brearley Regional on May 21, and then a 13-1 pounding of St. Patrick's last Thursday afternoon in Thus Park, which was guilty of six errors in a 6-5 loss to Butler in a state sectional playoff game on May 20, finished up at 12-10.

"I was pleased that we had a winning season," Panther skipper Jack Shaw commented. "And I was pleased with the way we played overall, and that we were in every game we played. I was proud that the kids always played hard and hustled."

On a team that has averaged nearly seven runs a game, the finest spring of all seems to have belonged to junior rightfielder who has compiled some pretty impressive statistics. Including his 2-for-4 effort against St. Patrick's, Vanderkooy unofficially ended the 91 season with a batting average of .476, courtesy of 30 hits in 63 official trips to the plate.

Vanderkooy also scored 25 runs and drove in 28 more.

After a four-run outburst from Brearley in the fifth inning had put Park in a 5-4 hole, the Panthers came to bat in the sixth and pulled it out with two runs - with Vanderkooy the main architect of the win.

After Andres Alarcon had left off the top of the sixth inning with a single. Vanderkooy connected for a run-scoring triple to tie the score at 5-5. Chris Hartzler then delivered a game-winning single for the victory.

"I-was-very-proud-of that win because it came against a quality team," Shaw said, "and it showed a lot of character, coming a day after such a tough loss (to Butler)."

The win against St. Patrick's became assured after just a single turn at bat by Park. Sparked by Vanderkooy's two-run single and Scott Bermingham's 380-foot-plus, two-run homer to left-center, the Panthers tallied eight times in the first to quickly put it away.

Dan Serretti delivered two hits, as did Hartzler, Bermingham and catcher Joe Arena. In addition to having two hits, Arena also scored two runs.

Mann, Higgins power Indians, 5-1

The Indians scored a 5-1 victory over the Astros in last week's Mountainside Little League baseball action. Brian Mann had a double and two RBI, and Patrick Higgins singled and doubled for the Indians. Mark Cantagallo had two hits and scored the only run for the Astros.

In other action, Phil Statile smacked a two-run homer to lead the Indians to a 6-0 victory over the Yankees. Brian Mann had three hits. while Evan Chiswick and Harris lacobs each had two. Statile also turned in some fine defensive play at second base. Matt DeAnne, John Doorley, Nick Mancinelli and Steven Cash each had hits for the Yankees.

The Pirates and Braves finished up a game that had been put on hold due to darkness earlier in the season. The Pirates led by two runs with one inning left to play when the game resumed. Fine pitching by Bret Davis and Nick Bourlotis, and three hits each by Larry Chiswick and Robert Hopkins helped the Pirates to an 8-6 win. Mark Levrer of the Braves tripled and David Hassid singled and doubled.

Led by a strong offensive effort, the Cubs posted a 22-10 victory over the Orioles, Kevin McDonough had three doubles. Shaun Farhion had two doubles and a triple. Tom Tancred had two doubles, Pat Collins doubled, Joe Leaon had two hits, Jimmy Russo had two hits, and Chris Datre had a single. Tancred pitched three scoreless innings and McDonough finished the game by allowing only two runs. Matt Farrington had an unassisted double play for the Cubs. Carlos Santos hit a two-run home run, his first homer of the season, for the Orioles. Santos also singled and tripled.

'Dawgs romp, 11-3, in state quarterfinal

By Mark Yabionsky Sports Editor

Dayton Regional has been winning a lot of baseball games lately and has been beating some tough opponents, including Roselle Catholic and Immaculata - and after last Thursday, the next victim became Mendham, whom the Bulldogs defeated handily, 11-3, in the quarterfinal round of the ongoing, North Jersey, Group 2, Section 2 playoffs.

The win elevated fourth-seeded Dayton (13-8-1) into the section's semifinals with top-seeded Chatham, a game scheduled to have taken place this past Tuesday in Chatham.

The Bulldogs, who had beaten both Roselle Catholic and Immaculata in extra innings earlier in the week. needed no additional time to knock off Mendham, which dropped to 16-11 with the defeat. The Bulldogs collected 12 hits, and half of them went to pitcher Clayton Trivett and third baseman Terrence Young both of whom went 3-for-4.

Trivett, who worked a completegame, seven-hitter to improve his record to 5-1, slugged a two-run homer to right field to cap Dayton's five-run bonanza in the second inning, then added a run-scoring single in the fourth when Dayton scored twice more to seize a commanding 8-3 lead. Trivett also began Dayton's three-run attack in the top of the seventh with a singled, stole second, took third on a bad throw, and then came home on a single by Jay DeSai - whose single in the eighth inning two days earlier had brought Dayton a 6-5 win over Immaculata.

In the second inning, Young singled home Dave Tazaki; and in the fourth, Young tripled home Andy Huber, who had reached on an error. When Dayton iced it with three runs in the seventh, Anthony Palermo doubled in the first run, and soon after, Peter Gittrich blasted a two-run homer to right.

"I'm extremely pleased with the way we played today," said Dayton coach Rick Iacono on Thursday night. "I'm really pleased with the way we've played all week. It's just been a great week, and there's no question that these kids are truly playing their best baseball of the season."

Bears lose 3rd straight, as Butler wins, 5-4, in 8

By Mark Yablonsky Sports Editor

Butler is not exactly what you'd call an overwhelming team. But somehow, someway, the Bulldogs are getting the job done.

And after upsetting Roselle Park, 6-5, in a sectional first-round game carlier in the week, Butler paid a visit to Ward Field, Kenilworth, last Friday afternoon and came away with a 5-4 upset win over the Bears of Brearley High, the top-seeded team in North Jersey, Group 1, Section 2. The game was decided in the eighth inning. Just like that, the Bears saw their season end. After holding a 19-2 record, Brearley, which had been scoring runs in bunches for much of the season, lost its last three games in a row, including the game with Butler. "I think the boys had a great season, first of all," summarized Brearley coach Ralph LaConte on Friday night. "Unfortunately, the losing came at the end. The hits we were getting at the middle of the season we weren't getting at the end of the season. I applaud em for their efforts, but it just wasn't enough.

"We all had opportunities. I can't blame any one particular thing."

Butler, which was able to take advantage of six Park errors to make off with that win in the sectional quarterfinals on May 20, grabbed a quick 3-0 lead on Brearley when Craig Eisenhardt clubbed a two-out, basesloaded, three-run double to rightcenter off of Brearley hurler Chris Carey in the top of the first inning,

Not to be outdone, the Bears came right back with four runs in their half of the first. Chris Parkhill reached on an error, and both Don Dayon and Mike Archibald singled to load the bases. Carey then singled in two runs, and after another run came in on an error, Tim Kaufmann singled home Carey with the run that gave the Bears their short-lived 4-3 lead.

That lead evaporated when third baseman Drew Burns whacked a leadoff homer to tie it at 4-4 in the top of the third inning. After that, there was nothing through the remainder of regulation time - although the Bears had a chance to win it when they loaded the bases with one out in the seventh inning. But a strikeout and grounder back to McConnell ended that threat.

Then, in the top of the eighth inning, Butler, the section's No. 8 seed, pulled it out. Burns hit a leadoff triple to right-center, and soon came in on a sacrifice fly to center field by none other than McConnell, the pitcher.

"I never foresaw us losing three games in a row," further explained LaConte, whose team had also lost, 8-4, to Arthur L. Johnson Regional the previous day in Clark. "But that's

Sen beats Rosner, 3-0

Dee Sen of Berkeley Heights downed Mark Rosner of Springfield, 3-0, to win the Mon's C Division in the recently-held Summer Squash championships at the Chatham Club in Chatham Township. In order to reach the final, Son had to advance past Anthony Booth of Chester, 3-1, while Rosner had to turn back Mack McCauley of Bedminster, 3-2.

The tournament was sanctioned by both the United States Squash Racquets Association, and by the Northern New Jersey Squash Racquets

UCC to sponsor camp

A week-long day camp offering training in the fundamentals of soccer will be available this summer for players six through 17 years of age at Union County College.

The co-ed camp, which is sponsored by the Union County Department of Parks and Recreation, will provide instruction by licensed coaches and skilled college players who will teach skills, technique, team tactics and strategies from beginner to advanced levels. Special training will also be offered for goalkoopers. Further information is available by calling 709-7601.

Summer tennis

Applications are now being accepted for the Springfield Recreation Department's summer tennis

Boys and girls from ages 10-17 who are interested in joining the township's junior tennis team may compete in the New Jersey Youth Tennis League during the summer months. League matches will begin on July 8. Team members will be eligible to compete in the state tournament at Plainfield in August.

Rejoining the team will be the 14-year-old veteran, David Gubernat, who will be defending his 1990 New Jersey Town Tennis championship in the boys' division. Gubernat, who is coached by his father, Cliff, joins previous members of the team who have performed well in the tournament: Lisa Taub, first place, 1989; Bland Eng, third place, 1984; Linda Hockstein, third place, 1983; Eric Kahn, third place, 1983; Michael Berliner, second place 1980 and 1981; and Alan Berliner, second place, 1979.

The women's tennis program will include competition in the Suburban Women's Tennis League on Thursdays. League play will begin on June Interested players may sign up by calling Susic Eng at 467-8376.

Coaches favor Saying 'yes'

The New Jersey High School Football Coaches Association, the New Jersey Athletic Directors Association and the New Jersey Society of Athletic Trainers all recently announced their endorsement of the "Say Yes to Better Sports for Kids and Say No to Drugs" program.

The program is part of the National Youth Sports Coaches Association, a national non-profit program dedicated to educating parents and coaches as to their roles in making youth sports a positive experience for all children.

The NYSCA and the "Say Yes Program" are actively involved in over one hundred communities throughout New Jersey. The goals of the organization are to reduce the 70 percent drop out rate in youth sports by the age of 13 and to utilize the role of coach as a deterrent to alcohol and drugs in today's youth.

The organization works actively with the Federal Office of Substance Abuse and Prevention, the Drug Enforcement Agency, the National Parent-Teacher Association and Just Say No International.

The program has Isiah Thomas of the Detroit Pistons as its national spokesman and has been previously. endorsed by Jeff Torborg, manager of the Chicago White Sox. For further information about the program, contact Dr. Bakker at 527-2547.

This week's question: What is the lowest batting average ever to win a league title, and which player did it?

Last week's answer: This was a tough one, and some of the answers might surprise you. Joe DiMaggio dld not make the covers of all three magazines. Neither did Ted Williams, Wilt Chamberlain, Terry Bradshaw, Joe Montana, Larry Bird or Wayne Gretzky.

Those that did make the three covers, though, are certainly deserving of the honor. The "exclusive seven" are Nolan Ryan, Joe Namath, Hank Aaron, Pete Rose, Muhammad Ali, Secretariat and the 1980 United States Olympic Hockey Team.

This week, Henry Hascup of Lodi submitted a correct answer.

Collins gets three wins

Carrie Collins of Union, a pitcher for the Georgia Southern University softball team, won three games recently and improved her record to 9-10. She allowed just six hits and an earned run in a 2-1 win over Georgia Tech. In her next game, Collins threw a four-hitter in the Lady Eagles' 4-1 win over Augusta. In a 9-5 win over Georgia College, Collins pitched a complete game, allowing three earned runs and striking out five.

'A Chorus Line' dances its way across Paper Mill stage

Lifestyle Editor

Naturally, it is appropriate for the Paper Mill Playhouse, Millburn, and its executive director, Angelo Del Rossi, to decide on a fabulous finale to their season. And what could be more fabulous than "A Chorus Line," the long-running, award-winning Michael Bennett musical?

The show was conceived by the late Bennett and originally directed and choreographed by him, with a book by James Kirkwood and Nicholas Dante, music by Marvin Hamlisch and lyrics by Edward Kleban.

Watching the Paper Mill production, which has been rechoreographed by Bob Avian and restaged by Baayork Lee, who played the role of Connie and served as dance captain in the Broadway version, and who, later, was entrusted by Bernett to take charge, one can understand why this show created theatrical history.

An audience can further understand why "A Chorus Line" ran for 15 years on Broadway, won 10 Tony Awards, a Pulitzer Prize, the New York Drama Critics Circle Award, five Los Angeles Drama Critics Circle awards, a Gold Record award from Columbia Records and was made into a money-making movie here and abroad..

In this show, Bennett has given an inside view of what chorus dancers and singers are all about - how excited and nervous they are about getting even a small part in the chorus of a musical that may or may not make it - and the struggles they must endure to land a job and keep it.

In "A Chorus Line," which is staged in one act without an intermission at the Paper Mill, it is 1975 and the show begins with dozens and dozens of young people auditioning and dancing their hearts out for a job in the chorus line. When the stage director, capably played by Michael Danek, has to single them out by number, he does so regretfully, as they sing "I Hope I Get It." Seventeen boys and girls are selected, and each wonders how many of that group will be selected, for they later discover that only eight chorus members are needed — four boys and four girls.

What transforms this scenario into theatrical magic is the ability of 17 people to show such distinctive characters and personalities. After Danek interviews them briefly, the audience seems to know them personally and almost intimately. They tell of their youth, their life-long ambitions to dance, and their unsatisfactory home lives. When Mike, played by Matt Zarley, goes into a routine about how his mother took him along at the age of 4 to his sister's dancing lessons, he recounts how he looked at the routine just once and said, "I can do that," and as he sings and dances to that number, the audience becomes emotionally stirred.

One cannot single out which of the chorus dancers is best because they are equally and brilliantly talented. Every performer in the cast is worth mentioning. The cast includes Jane Lanier as Cassie; Robert Longbottom as the dance captain, who also served as assistant to the director, Matt Zarley, whose personal rendition of his story had a show-stopping moment with the audience applauding; and Michelle Chase, Philip Clayton, Mindy Cooper, Canuto, Scott Coppola, Rieka Roberta Cruz, Kriss Dias, Inga Frederic, Linda Gabler, Lyd-Lyd Gaston, Aldrin Gonzalez, Kelly Groninger, Jan Leigh Herndon, Gib Jones, Frank Kosik, Tom Kosis, David La Duca, Paula Leggett, Du'Quon Mack, Mary Jo Mahaffey, Michelle Mallardi, Eric Paeper, Michael Paternostro and Darnell D.

The musical numbers, particularly "What I Did For Love," which became world famous, enliven an audience as much as the dancers do. With a background of mirrors, which gives the impression that there are double the number of dancers on stage, the dancers, singly and in groups, tap and fly and leap during such numbers as "At the Ballet," "Sing," "Hello Twelve, Hello Thirteen, Hello Love," "The Music and the Mir-"One," and "The Tap Combination."

The most heartbreaking moment in the show is when Danek has to select eight dancers, and the audience almost wishes that he didn't have

Hopefully, "A Chorus Line" does not end with the Paper Mill's marvelous production. At least, this reviewer would like to see another half-dozen revivals. And preferably with the same cast!

Hillside's Funny Farm gets off to a shaky start

Staff Writer

There is a beginning to everything and May 15 was the night that the Funny Farm Comedy Club began in Hillside. With a little work. . . well, maybe more than just a little, the Funny Farm could be a success for its owners, and for the

Let me say right off the bat that, potentially, the Funny Farm could become to Union County what Rascals is to West Orange or Bananas is to Fort Lee - a hot spot for laughter.

There were some genuinely funny moments, and Reflections, the Hillside restaurant in which the show took place, is a nice comfortable place to go and see a comedy show.

With the nicities out of the way, I have to say that I was disappointed with some of the things I saw that night

I was not impressed with the hosting skills of Funny Farm's host-of-the-month Ray Solimeno. He wasn't all that funny, although the juggling and unicycle portions of his act were good. . .he should stick to that.

Of the rest of the comedians, the only one that was actually and consistently funny was Joseph Recca. He made me, my guests and the audience laugh without a lot of insults, curses or generally rude and vulgar jokes.

The second comedian, someone who went by the name of the Bulldog, was very high energy, a little to high energy for my tastes, and definitely a little too loud.

The Bulldog focused on off-beat racial and crime-based humor that would have been funnier if he told his jokes at a slower, more coherent pace.

Eddie Gambino, the last comedian and the main attraction of the night, was vulgar and gross. . .but he made me laugh in spite of their rude nature. Some of my guests were not so appreciative.

The biggest let down of the evening occurred when the Funny Farm's own Company B performed a stupid skit about a stupid boxer named Bang Bang. A co-partner in the club, Robin Gershon-Wong, portrayed an interviewer and someone else, I think it was Solimeno, played the boxer. I honestly did not care enough about the skit to find out for sure who played the boxer. I didn't want to know, and I think that the person who "acted" the part should never mention it in public again. . .ever.

The skit was so not funny, as to be painful. I didn't laugh, the people I brought with me didn't laugh, nor did anyone in the audience of more than 200 people.

All in all, opening night was not a great success, but it wasn't a bomb either. With funnier comedians, and a sound system that doesn't occasionally let out enough feedback to rattle your bones, the Funny Farm could be a

But, please. . .a note to Bill Stone and Robin Gershon-Wong, co-partners in the Funny Farm, if you can't find the right people to form an improvisational group, don't do it yourselves. In this case, nothing is better than something.

Marathon taps along

Union-based dance company choreographer Carolyn Dorfman participated with other nationallyrecognized New York University dance department alumni to stage Dance Marathon, marking the 25th anniversary of the Tisch School of Arts on New York University's campus. Twenty-five hours of dance was scheduled from May 10, 1 p.m. to 1 a.m. and again May 11, noon to 1 a.m. Other alumni joining Dorfman included Ze'eva Cohen, Sean Curran, Tina Dudck, Hilary Easton, Juliet Forrest, Mickie Geller, Edward Henkel, Kristen Jackson, Carol Kueffer, Rachel Lampert, Lom MacDougal, Susan Matheke, Karen Pearlman, Jennifer Sargent, Stephanie Skure, Melanie Slater, Meg Stuart, Kenneth Tosti, Judy Trupin and Jeremy Weichsel.

Robin Shevitz, veteran member of The Carolyn Dorfman Dance Company, performed the solo picce, "Hourglass," which expresses through movement the human experience of "waiting" for something or someone.

The Carolyn Dorfman Dance Company will kick off its 10th anniversary season performing at The Artist/Teacher Institute, July 26-Aug. 4. Stockton State College. Pomona. In the fall, Dorfman and her six-member modern dance troupe will begin their tour, includ-

'The Tempest' starts Shakespeare festival

The New Jersey Shakespeare Festival, Bonnie J. Monte artistic director and Michael Stotts, general manager, kicks off its 1991 season with William Shakespeare's "The Tempest" directed by Monte. Preview prerformances begin Tuesday, with a special gala opening on June 7. Performances run through June 22.

Not seen at NJSF since 1976, "The Tempest" is one of the most theatrical of Shakespeare's plays. It is both a graceful romance and the story of a man's difficult inner odyssey. Set on a magical island that is not bound by the natural laws of the "real" world, it reveals the plight of Prospero, a banished Italian duke, now the exiled ruler of this island. When "fortune" brings a ship bearing his old enemies to the island, he stirs up a mighty tempest to revenge himself, and sets a turbulent whirlwind of events in motion in order to right past wrongs. Aided by his faithful servant Ariel, he uses his magical powers to weave a complicated net of illusions around his captives. His daughter Miranda falls in love with his enemy's son, and his other servant Caliban joins up with drunken castaways from the king' ship -- thus supplying tender and comic

This production of "The Tempest" is set on an enchanted island in the world of ancient Greece. When the shipwrecked voyagers begin to explore their new environs, they find they are in a time and place that transcends all logical explanation. It is a "brave new world" that they find themselves a part of and it is that very phrase, taken from "The Tempest," that NJSF is using to characterize this inaugural season of new leadership.

The cast includes Miguel Perez as Prospero who comes to NJSF directly from the successful off-broadway production of "The Resistible Rise of Arturo Ui" at CSC Repertory. His other New York credits include "Hamlet," Cymbeline," and "Henry IV, Parts I & II" at the New York Shakespeare Festival. Ariel is played by A. Benard Cummings who was last seen as Joe in "Pill Hill" at the Philadelphia Theater Company, a role he originated at the Yale Repertory Theater. His other credits include Michael Kahn's "Richard III" at the Folger Theater and "Fences" at Arena Stage. Conan McCary as Caliban has appeared on Broadway in "A Few Good Men," and "Macbeth" with Christopher Plummer and Glenda Jackson.

Also appearing in the "The Tempest" are Fred Sullivan Jr. as Stephano, William Preston as Gonzalo, Douglas Krizner as Antonio, James Michael Reilly as Trinculo. Gordon Stanley as Alonzo. The young lovers are played by Barnaby Spring as Ferdinand and Julie Moses as Miranda.

This is Monte's first production at NJSF since assuming the post of artristic director last October. The design team for "The Tempest" includes Michael Ganio (scenic design), Christine McDowell (costumes), Bruce Auerbach (lighting), and Andrew Bellware (sound).

"The Tempest" will be performed Tuesday through June 22, at Bowne Theatre, Drew university, Rt. 24 Madison. Performances are Tuesday through Saturday at 8 p.m.; Sundays at 7 p.m; Wednesday, Saturday and Sunday matinees at 2 p.m. Prices range from $5 to $30. Tickets are available by calling the NJSF box office at 377-4487. The box office is open from 10 a.m.-6 p.m. Season subscriptions and group sales are available.

Botanical illustration workshop is slated Arts (NJCVA) and the Reeves-Reed Botanical illustrator Robin A. Jess.

noted for her work at the New York Botanical Garden, will offer an "Introduction to Botanical Illustration" workshop on June 13 and 20 in the first collaboration to be sponsored by the New Jersey Center for Visual Arboretum, both in Summit. Advance registration is required.

The workshop from 2:30 to 5:30 p.m. will involve use of the gardens for drawing and painting. A slide lecture of contemporary illustrations and original works with highlights on the importance of botanical illustration to scientific research. Participants will then draw or paint flowers outdoors or, in the event of inclement weather, on the glass-enclosed supporch in Wisner House.

Emphasis will be placed on accurately portraying the flower rather than technical instruction and some drawing experience is required.

In addition to her New York Botanillustrations in Audubon Field Guides, Robin A. Jess received the NJSCA Distinguished Artist Fellowship in design arts for 1990. She holds an MFA from Pratt Institute and her works appear in the permanent collections of the Hunt Collection for Botanical Documentation in Pittsburgh, Johnson and Johnson. Academy of Medicine and the New York Botanical Garden.

Refreshments are included in the $45 fee. Registrations will be accepted at the NJCVA, 68 Elm St. or the Reeves-Reed Arboretum, 165 Hobart Ave., near Rt. 24. For more information, call 908-273-9121 or 908-273-8787.

Artists, craftsmen invited to Roselle Park fest

The Roselle Park Council On The Arts invites artists and craftsmen to participate and display their works at the third annual Festival in the Park.

The event will be held Saturday from 10 a.m. to 4 p.m., at the Roselle Park High School Grove. The rain date is Sunday.

Artwork will be judged by S. Allyn Schaefer of Fanwood. Craftsmen are invited to display and sell their crafts. The entrance fee is $10 per allotted space, and interested participants may contact 245-4456 or the Office of the Superintendent of Roselle Park Schools at 245-1197. Since this is a family affair, there will be many demonstrations and hands-on participation of skilled crafts such as weaving and paper making, as well as pony rides and a petting zoo for the children, and music all day for everyone.

The event is supported in part by a grant from the Union County Office of Cultural and Heritage Affairs, through funding made possible by the New Jersey State Council on the Arts/Department of State.

with the Best Novice Director award. Hickory Tree's own Brocade, 1990's Novice Quartet winners, were awarded fourth place amoung 13 competing quartets.

New officers for 1991-92 have been installed. They are president, Joyce Brandt of Stirling; vice president, Barbara Costanza of Hillside; treasurer, Jeannie Allen of Florham Park; recording secretary, Jean Huff of Morristown; and corresponding secretary, Bettie Hatem of Summit.

arts workshop planned for adults, children

The Westfield Workshop for the Arts, a five-week summer enrichment program which gives children and adults an opportunity to explore their creative talents, will be held July 1 through Aug. 2. The workshop's main campus is the Edison Intermediate School in Westfield. Individuals are encouraged to register early to ensure getting the desired schedule of classes.

Entering its 20th season, the workshop has assembled a highly qualified staff of dedicated and talented teachers who will tailor their classes to meet the individual ability and age of each student. Participants can choose from more than 100 classes in instrumental music and voice, dance, drama, fine arts, crafts, musical theater, communication arts and special interests.

In addition to the old-time favorites like photography, jewelry making, fencing, ballet, sculpture, children's theatre, and magic, several new courses are being offered. They include "Video Playhouse," "Clowning Around," which will introduce students to all aspects of being a clown, "Basketry," "Dance/ Twirl," and "Twirl/Porn," "Exploring Cartooning," "Cartooning II," Life Drawing using a live, clothed model, "Guitar," "Sing-a-long," and "Games."

Pre-kindergarten and kindergarten programs in the form of self-contained mini-workshops are also available for younger children.

Park will be the site of art show

The fourth annual Spring Art and Crafts at Nomahegan Park show will take place on Saturday and Sunday at Nomahegan Park in Cranford across from Union County College. This repeat of the 1990 show will feature juried, professional artists, photographers and craftspeople displaying and selling their hand-crafted work. The show is co-sponsored by the Union County Department of Parks and Recreation and Rose Squared Productions, Inc.

To be in the show, the potential exhibitors had to submit slides or photos of their work. All entrants were judged on originality, creativity, quality of work and general show appeal before being selected to partiDevorah Susman, of Lexington, Mass., and Nancy Shelly, of Bethle-

A jeweler since 1970, Susman has exhibited in Chicago, Houston, Evanston, and Annapolis. Using the lost wax casting process, soldering, chasing and repousee techniques, Susman sculpts one of a kind pieces in sterling and gold. Fascinated with the more ornate designs of the Baroque, Victorian and Renaissance eras, she created a style of jewelry very gypsy-like and fanciful in nature

Shelly is a self-taught maker of Scherenschnitte, the Pennsylvania German techique of paper cutting.

Her original designs are inspired by folk motifs and matural objects, but she does not imitate native art styles. Each of the pieces is sketched, cut with scissors and/or knife, then mounted on acid-free mat and framed simply. Some designs are painted with watercolor after cutting. Her work can be seen in the gift shops of the Mercer Museum, Doylestown, and the Annie Kemmerer Museum of the Decorative arts in Bethlehem. In 1989 she was invited to design historically appropriate cut-paper ornaments to decorate a tree in the 19th century "Pennsylvania room" of the Annie Kemmerer Museum.

Besides handcrafted jewelry and scherenschnitte, the Fall Art and feature artists, photographers, weavers, clothing specialists, wood workers, whose work includes toys and carvings, country crafters, leather workers, stained glass artists, and much more. The show will be accented by a variety of ethnic foods.

Nomanhegan Park, located on Springfield Avenue in Cranford, can be reached by taking the Garden State Parkway to Exit 138 (Kenilworth) and following signs towards Kenilworth. Go approximately two miles to Springfield Avenue. Parking is free across the street at the College. The hours of the free event are 11 a.m - 5 p.m., rain or shine. For further information, call 874-5247.

Classes are from 8:30 a.m. to 12:30 p.m. To meet the needs of working parents, the workshop will provide an early morning drop-off where parents may bring their children to the workshop at 7:30 a.m. Those interested in an afternoon athletic program can enroll their children (grades 1-6) in "Afternoon Adventures" at the Westfield "Y."

As part of its community outreach efforts, every summer, the workshop presents to the public high quality musical theater and dramatic productions that showcase the talents of workshop students. In late July and early August, Union County Music Theater will present "Once Upon a Mattress," Junior Musical will present "Mary Poppins," and Studio One will present "The Clumsy Custard

The workshop is embarking on its 20th season and has designated '91 "The Year of the Child," according to Dr. Theodore K. Schlosberg, workshop director. "We are renewing our commitment to provide a supportive environment that recognizes the creative spirit in each child," Schlosberg said. "And since learning is not reserved for the young," he continued, "the workshop also welcomes and encourages adults to participate, especially those who work with young people."

The Westfield Workshop for the Arts is open to all New Jersey residents. To receive a free catalog on the workshop classes and a registration form, call the workshop at 908-322-5065 or write P.O. Box 507, Westfield, 07091.

The Westfield Workshop for the Arts is a non-profit program of the New Jersey Workshop for the Arts, an arts education organization that also oversees the Music Studio and the Westfield Fencing Club.

Stash's

Wood Ave., in Linden, is a great place to eat, to relax, to bring the family or celebrate with friends. It's one of variety of dinner entrees, such as those rare restaurants with an inforprime rib, baked ham, stuffed peppers mal atmosphere, where a variety of or stuffed cabbage, depending on foods is offered, including Polish and one's appetite. Italian specialties, full dinner, smaller meals, and snacks. It's a place where one can hold a banquet for a special

"Bigos" is one especially delicious Polish dish, offered as a main dish or an appetizer at Big Stash's. A combination of sauerkraut, kielbasa and small pieces of spareribs, it is served piping hot with slices of fresh rye and butter on the side. This dish is a must, and eaten with mustard, is out of this world! It could easily become an addiction. My partner and I started with two appetizers, shrimp cocktail and bigos. Five very large shrimp were served in the shell, with a particularly picante horseradish cocktail sauce I really enjoyed. We were completely sold on the bigos, as mentioned earlier, and plan to return, next time ordering it as a main dish.

have come back as regulars for over Our entrees were prime rib and One can order homemade soups, broiled scallops, which came with two hot or cold sandwiches, such as steak, types of salads. The cole slaw was very creamy smooth and fresh. The vegetable salad, consisting of cucumber, finely chopped cabbage and carrots, with oil and vinegar was delicate.

with a light flavor, not overly filling. The prime rib was thick, flavorful and juicy; and the scallops, broiled lightly and served in butter, were done just right. They were sweet and tender, cooked to perfection, an art many chefs cannot master. Hot rolls, hot mough for butter to melt right inside them, were also served in a basket with the meal.

A glass of chilled Zeller Schwarzekatz, a German white wine, accompanied the meal, and was just the right flavor, not too sweet nor too dry.

For dessert, the open face apple pie, topped with whipped cream, not too sweet, was the perfect way to end a really satisfying meal.

Some of Big Stash's most popular dishes include fresh ham, stuffed peppers, stuffed cabbage, and the super special complete weekend entree meals reasonably priced at $8.25. \mathbf{O}

Luncheon specials are $5.25 and include main dishes like barbecued ribs or salisbury steak. Sandwiches range from $1.70 for a hamburger to a fried shrimp sandwich at $5.25. Dinner prices start at $6.95 for many dishes, such as chicken, stuffed cabbage, veal cutlet, to king crab legs at $15.95. Most dinners offered were under $10, and include salad, potato, vegetable, roll and butter.

Mary Garrity, the waitress we had, who has worked there for 18 years, was very warm and solicitous, and offered excellent service.

There's a good reason why this restaurant is always busy, and why people from miles around come to enjoy the atmosphere and cuisine. The food is great, offering special homemade soups and sauces, daily specials, reasonable prices, and a place so comfortable that it beckons its guests to return again and again.

Big Stash's is open seven days a week, from 11 a.m. to 11 p.m. Monday through Wednesday; until midnight Thursday through Saturday; and from noon until 9 p.m. on Sunday. The restaurant is closed on major holidays.

Mercury for the 90s arrives in local dealership

The first all-new full-sized car for the 90s — the 1992 Mercury Grand Marquis - has arrived at Compass Lincoln-Mercury, Inc. in Orange.

The new Grand Marquis features a modern, aerodynamic shape and an assortment of major functional improvements, while retaining its traditional roominess and comfort. "The new Grand Marquis brings the traditional full-sized car up to date for the 90s," said Arthur Picon, president of Compass Lincoln-Mercury, Inc. "We've improved the appearance, performance, ride, handling and fuel efficiency of the Grand Marquis without compromising its sixpassenger seating or best-in-class luggage capacity.' While maintaining the same dimensions, the sleek new Grand Marquis has an air-drag coefficient of .36, as compared with 45 on the previous model. This reduces wind noise and improves fuel economy by allowing a smoother air flow over the car. Exterior refinements such as limousine doors and flush glass all around help contribute to the overall air-drag reduction. Interior room is improved as well, with more head and hip room in the front and rear seats, and greater overall passenger volume. The trunk remains the biggest in its class, with a lower liftover height for easier access. A powerful, fuel-efficient new 4.6 liter V-8 engine coupled with a four-

Antique car show comes to Union

Don't be surprised if you're awakened by a strange rumbling in the Cranford area on June 9. No, it's not an earthquake or other natural phenomenon; it's more than 300 antique cars, hot rods and 4X4 trucks converging on the Union County College

The eighth annual "Street Meet" auto show and swap meet will take place at Union County College, 1033 Springfield Ave., Cranford. Hundreds of antiques, customs cars, street rods, monster trucks and lowriders will be on display 9 a.m.-4 p.m. The show is sponsored by the Garden State Chevelle Club to benefit the Make A Wish Foundation of New Jersey.

The swap meet is the perfect place to discover that hard-to-find part for a current restoration project. Dozens of vendors will sport their wares for the general public starting at 9 a.m. Besides auto parts, vendors will have oldies tapes. T-shirts and automotive memorabilia for sale.

Food will be available at the college campus. Spectator admission is $2; children under 12 and handicapped free; active military personnel half price. For information on entering a car or renting a swap meet space, call event chairman Dena Temple at 908-964-0184.

speed automatic transmission is standard equipment for the 1992 Grand Marquis.

"This new engine is the first of a whole new family of engines that will power Ford and Lincoln-Mercury vehicles in the years ahead," Picon said, "It offers the economy and performance that customers will demand in the decade ahead."

The new engine features an overhead, chain cam drive, aluminum cylinder heads and a sequential electronic fuel injection (SEFI) system. It compared to the previous model's engine, while at the same time, improving fuel economy and reducing emissions, noise and vibration. When combined with an optional dual offers an increase of 40 horsepower exhaust system, it generates 210

Other functional improvements for 1992 include standard four-wheel disc brakes, speed-sensitive variable assist power steering, childproof rear door locks, an improved front suspension and the addition of a rear stabilizer bar. Fuel tank capacity has been increased to 20 gallons, and air condi-suspension, a passenger air-bag suptioning and a driver's side air-bag plemental restraint system, Ford JBL supplemental restraint system remain sound system, keyless entry system, standard equipment.

Major new options include an antilock brake system (ABS) with elec- er lumbar and power recliner and a tronic Traction Assist, rear air spring performance and handling package.

Festival brings a taste of Greece to New Jersey

Imagine traveling to Greece for a walk through history, culture and tradition. Think about gazing upon the Parthenon while drinking Greek coffee early in the morning at a local Athens cafe. And then the rest of the day remains for either roaming through the flea markets or swimming in the crystal clear water at the beaches.

Perhaps the place is too far away for most people, but during the first weekend in June make these thoughts become a reality by coming to the Greek festival at Sts. Constantine and Helen Greek Orthodox Church, located in Orange at 510 Linden Place.

Come on Friday, Saturday or Sunday to shop around at the boutiques. Dance until the music stops playing and choose from the several Greek dishes, wine and pastries available. And if time allows, take a guided tour through the church, which contains Byhzantine sculpture and paintings.

The boutiques will have on display several Greek novelty items, including T-Shirts, hats, buttons, Greek dolls. an assortment of Greek musical tapes, icons, worry beeds, and Katerina Tsigas, will be at the festival to display and sell her handmade icons.

After browsing through the boutiques and looking at authentic artwork, visitors can choose to eat a variety of Greek food. Entrees include moussaka (layered eggplant with chopped beef topped with cream sauce), pastitso (layered macaroni with chopped beef topped with cream sauce), spanakopita (spinach with cheese in strudel pastry), souvlakia (shish-kebob), psari plaki (baked fish) and orektika (appetizers). The Grecian gyro is also available.

But what would a Greek meal be without something special to drink? Greek wine and liquor, including ouzo, will be available, along with beer, coffee, tea and soda-

And for dessert, select from several pastries, consisting of kataifi (shredded wheat biscuit with nuts and syrup), galactobouriko (custard filling in strudel pastry), diples (tender pastry rolls in honeyed syrup), fenekia (shortbread in honeyed syrup), loucoumades (dripped honey puffs), kourambiedes (powdered sugar cookies) and baklava (strudel pastry filled with nuts and honeyed syrup).

After taking in all the food, gifts, music and entertainment at the festival, everyone is welcome to take a guided church tour.

The church was orginally organized by a handfull of Greek immigrants in 1916. Services were first held in Regan Hall on Main Street in Orange, and then for 35 years in a frame structure on Bell Street and Main.

In 1956, a lot was purchased on Linden Place, one block north of Main Street, and construction of the church was completed in June 1957, with the first divine liturgy being celebrated there in September.

The following is a list of chairpersons for this year's festival, and where they live in New Jersey.

ocal architectural firm tapped for state arts center team

An East Orange-based architectural firm, with extensive project development experience in the Newark community, has been selected by New Jersey Performing Arts Center Architect Barton Myers to join the design team for the first phase of the minority-owned firm, will provide expertise and assistance in assuring that the design meets local design and construction codes, coordinating complex site development issues with the building architecture, obtaining permits and approvals in the city, and construction phase of the project.

"We participated with Barton Myers in a thorough search which led to the selection of Woodbridge Associates," Gail L. Thompson, NJPAC Directors of Planning and Design, said in making the amouncement.

ifications, deep expertise and a genuine enthusiasm for the project. Woodbridge's familiarity with the Newark community, based on this past accomplishments, and the pride he exhibits in the future of the city, were important considerations in his selection.

Wilson Woodbridge, the owner of Wilson Woodbridge Architects and the former president of Woodbridge & Ray Architects, is a graduate of Cornell University's School of Architecture. A registered architect licensed in New Jersey and Pennsylvania, he performs the dual roles of director of architecture programs and lege in Newark Woodbridge has also been invited as a special lecturer to the school of architecture at New Jersey Institute of Technology. His list of clients includes Cali Corporation, Sandstone Associates, the Newark YMWCA, the

Star-Ledger, Geyer Development

Corporation, Prince Hall Mason,

college architect at Essex County Col-ration and the Newark Housing Authority.

The East Orange native was with both the Houston and New York offices of Skidmore, Owings & Merril and the Grad Partnership in Newark before establishing his own firm. Projects in which he has participated include Gateway Three, Newark; One Pillsbury Center, Minneapaolis, Minnesota; Gibralter Savings Center, Midland, Texas; Westchase National Bank, Houston, Texas; Continental Terminal "C" at Newark International Airport; Crumm & Forster Offices, Bernard Township; Freehold Justice Center, Freehold; and One Centennial Plaza in Piscataway.

"Woodbridge's staff has excelled in architectural renovations in Essex County and the surrounding area, providing architectural, interior design and planning services on a variety of projects," Thompson said.

The firm will work in cooperation with the Los Angeles-based Myers.

a 2.700-seat, multi-purpose hall and a 300-scat studio theater on a 12-acre parcel bounded by Park Place and Center Street.

"I am looking forward to working with Mr. Woodbridge and his staff,' Myers said. "His close associations with the leaders and residents of the area and his comprehension of their aspirations for the revitalization of Newark will enhance every aspect of the design process. His firm's expertise in architecture and construction supervision is essential."

A Master Plan for the development of the Arts Center and a proposal for a surrounding Cultural District in downtown Newark which was propared by Skidmore, Owings & Merrill and James Stewart Polshek & Partners, was announced in February.

block associations are just a few of the types of organizations which can take advantage of The Newark Museum's special children's programs this summer. Suited to groups of 10 or more, the programs are offered Tuesday through Friday mornings by the Newark Museum's Education department. Among the programs featured are "Bird Tracking," "Games From Around the World" and "Gold More Gold."

Mixing science with art, "Bird Tracking" will lead groups through the mini zoo and museum galleries for lots of hands-on experience with such thing as discovery boxes filled with bird eggs and feathers. In "Games From Around the world," children will play "Senet" in the Classical Gallery or "Go-Bang" in the Japanese

Gallery. With "Gold More Gold," groups can also discover the mysteries of gold and its decorative uses from ancient times to the present in the exhibit "The Regilded Age."

These and other gallery programs are offered only through July and August. For information, group reservations and fees call the Newark Museum Education Office at

The Newark Museum is located at 49 Washington St. in downtown Newark. It is open Wednesday through Sunday, from noon to 5 p.m. Admission is free. The Museum Cafe is open for light refreshments Wednesday through Friday, from noon to 3:30 p.m. and on weekends from 1 to 4 p.m. Parking is available in the museum's Penny Lane Parking Lot at the corner of Central and University Avenues.

The Newark Museum is funded primarily by the City of Newark and State of New Jersey. Additional funding is received from Essex County and the New Jersey State Council on the arts through the Department of

Installations Unlimited zeroes in on customers' needs

By Mark Farls Staff Writer

Specializing in service, Installations Unlimited of Union provides its customers with individualized attention to ensure that the equipment they purchase is right for their car, and for them.

Installations Unlimited is located on Rt. 22 and West Chestnut Street in Union, and has recently opened a branch in the Roxbury Mall on Rt. 10 in Succasunna. Also known as the "Auto Mall of Mobile Electronics," the establishment offers a diverse range of electronic sound, alarm, radar and mobile communications systems for automobiles.

Mark Fish, general manager, said that Installations Unlimited is the largest car stereo, security, and car electronics installer in the state.

He said that his company sells top-of-theline equipment by Alpine, Sony, JVC, Clarion, Nakamichi, Clifford, Prestige, and many others. Installations Unlimited also offers custom-designed speaker boxes and system enclosures built in its own woodshop.

Fish said that Installations Unlimited will even custom fit a sunroof, which it backs with a lifetime guarentee.

To help a customer chose a car stereo, speakers, a cellular phone or a car alarm, Installations Unlimited has two sound rooms and working models of virtually everything it offers.

"Just about everything that we sell is on display here, and is hooked to a high-tech switching system so that customers can listen to anything we offer in any combination," Fish said.

The five salespeople who work out of the company's Rt. 22 office specialize in "the personal touch." He said that they have been with the company for more than five years and work on a non-commission basis.

"Our salespeople are not only thoroughly knowledgable about the products we offer, they are experts in the installation as well," Fish said.

The general manager said that his salespeople even use computers to match the systern to the car, "right down to the wires" used.

Once a customer choses a system, Fish said that, 90 percent of the time, the company's 25 to 30 professional installers can put it in within one day.

"A customer can come into our store in the morning and chose a system, our installers will then take the vehicle to our shop for them, install the system and then return the vehicle for a demonstration to ensure that the customer is satisfied," Fish said.

So that customers can wait for their vehicle in comfort, Installations Unlimited offers a waiting room equipped with a television and VCR.

Customers leave the store feeling secure,. Fish said, because of the knowledge that Installations Unlimited's service department employs technicians that can fix "everything that we sell."

"We are also an authorized service department for General Motors, Ford and Chrysler, as well as all of the manufacturers whose equipment we sell," the Fish said.

Simple maintenance

Every 20 minutes, Americans scrap enough cars to form a pile as high as New York City's Empire State Building. Many of these vehicles reach the junk yard before their time, not because of accident damage but because of pure and simple neglect, according to the Car Care Council.

Auto financing.....

A well-maintained 10- or 15-year-old car still should have plenty of useful life left in it. It is not unusual for an engine to run a quarter-million miles or more with no major repairs when it receives routine maintenance like regular oil and filter changes, cooling system service and tune-ups.

Customers come first at Industrial Truck Body

When Industrial Truck Body, 251 N. Ave. in Elizabeth, was founded in 1947, operating within fewer than 3,000 sq. ft. and six employees, the company envisioned a thriving complex dedicated to responsive, custom, personalized service. Hard work and dedication to customer-oriented service have enabled ITB to realize that dream.

Today, the ITB facility is a sophisticated complex utilizing six acres of prime real estate in the heart of the northeast's industrial complex. As one of the largest facilities of its kind in the northeast, ITB can accommodate virtually any large or small customcr's need.

The most important attributes separating ITB from the competition are customer service and customized services. ITB's design and manufacturing expertise, along with its diverse production experience, have often resulted in substantial dollar savings and most importantly, customer satisfaction.

ITB has consistently represented the widest range of manufacturers' products for more than 40 years with unprecedented

Auto financing: How to play the game Visit a bookstore and look in the "New-car sales are down and aggressive advertising is up," advises Consumer Reports. "But sluggish auto sales don't necessarily make it easier to negotiate a good deal on a new car.

"In fact, rebates, low-interest financing and other incentives can create considerable confusion about the actual price."

Ouch. Why does buying a car have to be such a headache? If it isn't bad enough that you part with thousands of hard-earned dollars, you have to play games to do it.

So be it: Let the players take their places. This time, using the following suggestions, you'll be the

COUNTY

Before you visit the showroom, decide what you can afford and what you need (large or small, two or four doors, sedan, hatchback, wagon or minivan).

After you've researched available models, focus on the equip-ment you prefer. It's usually cheaper to buy options in a package - if you want all or most of them.

Of course you'll be visiting car lots, and you'll be approached by salesmen ready and eager to deal. It's OK to take a test drive, pocket a brochure and leave. But if you return, be sure to ask for the same salesperson who served you earli-auto section for a guide that lists dealers' costs for the makes and models of the cars you're interested in - it's essential negotiating information.

On a midprice domestic that is in ample supply, you may be able to negotiate 2 percent to 4 percent over involce. Keep in mind that indemand vehicles will have a higher markup, and luxury cars and sporty models often command a remlum.

One of the first questions you're likely to be asked is if you have a trade-in. That should be one of the last questions you answer, advises Consumer Reports. "If you talk trade-in too soon, the dealer can offset a good deal on the car BORROWER BEWARE you're buying with a bad deal on the car you're trading - or vice

If a rebate is available, great. Just make sure the salesperson understands you want the rebate up front as an additional discount off the price of the car, not as a check you'll receive later (otherwise, you'll pay more sales tax).

Even though you think you're home free and have made a great deal - and the sales contract is being drawn up - be cautious. Watch out for last-minute fees and extras that increase your total; question every item you don't understand. If you feel the dealer is being unfair, walk out.

Unless the automaker is offering a promotional rate on auto loans for the model you're buying, you may be better off arranging financing elsewhere.

It pays to shop around - inves tigate the terms and rates available to you from banks, S&Ls, your credit union and/or a consumer finance company.

Cut costs by choosing a 36-month contract rather than 48- or 60-month. The payments will be higher, but you'd pay more for the additional time - and at some point might end up owing more than the car is worth. Another way to reduce the amount of the loan is to make a large down payment.

When we were kids, "auto accessories" meant fancy hubcaps, chrome goodies under the hood, and maybe that automotive equivalent of the lawn flamingo, fuzzy dice.

You can still get most of the same toys if you want, but they have been joined by others far more sophisticated and expensive.

Car phones used to be glorified radios, cumbersome things that were mostly the province of the rich because nobody else could justify the high price. But executive salaries have gotten so high, and urban traffic so bad, that companies cannot afford to have their people driving around incommunicado. Hence the proliferation of cellular phones.

Phone prices vary wildly but

No laughing matter, we agree. You realize, of course, that if a thief really wants your vehicle, he or she will steal it — security system or not. But you can up your odds tremendously by taking certain precautions, some of which you purchase and install, others you simply keep in mind.

Four out of five stolen cars' doors aren't locked when they're taken, says the Insurance Information Institute, and one in five are recovered with the owner's keys still in them!

The L.I.I. suggests the following ways to reduce the chance of your car being ripped off:

 Always roll up windows, lock the doors and pocket the key.

• Have your vehicle identification number etched onto the windshield, flip top and sunroof.

• Sharply turn the front wheels of the car to make it difficult to tow backward. On front-wheeldrive vehicles, engage the emergency brake and set the gear in park to lock all four wheels.

 Put packages and valuables out of sight.

tion in your wallet or purse.

• Park in well-lighted areas.

The LLI offers free consumer information about auto, home and business insurance; write them at 110 William St., New York, NY

The technology available in car security these days is phenomenal: The more sophisticated of these systems are integrated with such convenience features as remotecontrolled locking devices and climate adjustors.

The simplest is a locking device on the steering wheel, such as the much-publicized The Club. This locks on the steering wheel, rendering it undriveable; it's endorsed by police departments in a number of U.S. cities. It doesn't, however, prevent your stereo from being ripped off. The cost is around $50 to $60, and it's sold at auto supply stores and major department stores.

If an alarm system is more what you had in mind, for an affordable $100 you can install the FoxGuard L a black box with a cord you plug into the car lighter. A red light alerts thieves of its presence; when triggered through a current sensor, a motion sensor and/or a glass-break detector, it light.

Passive security systems are those that automatically switch themselves on a few moments after you leave your car; some even lock the doors for you. These are the systems favored by insurance companies, many of which will reduce your premiums by as much as 10 percent (in some states they're required by law to do so). The range of options in this cat-egory is staggering, the least exive of which start at around $250. Some can tell the difference between a nudge from another car and an actual break-in.

Systems that must be armed manually can sometimes get you a 5 percent rate break from your insurance company; before you go shopping, call your agent and see if there are particular brands they discount for.

Perhans the most techy systems to date are the ones that track ω your car via tansmitter. In Caliyour car via tammusea. fornia, the Mobile Electronic of Tracking System has a central station bookup; when the alarm is alerted the station calls the owner to verify it has been taken. If so, the police are alerted. Cost is around $600 installed with a $10 to $15 monthly service charge.
