then came back to Vietnam to teach. But we just couldn't understand the language.

"However," he said, "a French nun ran the leprosarium, a leper colony. We went out there to deliver an X-ray unit for their hospital. And the French nuns were super, especially Sister Mary Michelle, who was in charge and so very dedicated. She understood English, and we were able to communicate." And commiserate, he indicated.

When he returned from his tour of duty, Smith planned to create a book from the photographs and slides that he had collected in Vietnam. "I had a publisher who was interested in the book, but because of the economy, he decided not to do it. I hope one day to have such a book published. It would be a book about how the people lived there. I believe," Smith said, "it would be very viable, very important for the public to get a look at the other side of the fence."

"When I came home," he said, "a lot of derogatory things were said about them. But that was not the way I knew them. I spent 10 months in combat, and I got to see a village where to me the people were very interesting and very human, with human frailties. I had a lot of respect for them. And the American people need to know that it wasn't all killing! We did a lot of positive things."

Smith explained that the public has seen "very, very little about how they live. I saw all kinds of people. And there's a very big contrast in the way they lived."

"I've been teaching history classes here at the school and showed pictures and slides to give the students a different viewpoint."

Smith, who has won awards in photographic competitions, has been featured in one-man shows and exhibited in New Jersey galleries over the past 15 years, expressed a desire to return to Vietnam for a visit.

"I would love to go back to see what my village is like today. My base camp was there. It came home in 1963, so I really don't know if the village still exists. But it would be interesting to see what changes have taken place."

The New York-born Smith, who has been married for 22 years, has resided with his wife, Bonnie, in Hill-

WORRALL COMMUNITY NEWSPAPERS VOL.63 NO.9—SPRINGFIELD, N.J., WEDNESDAY, NOVEMBER 27, 1991—2# TWO SECTIONS — 50 CENTS

Koch addresses Jewish community on joint 40th anniversary celebration

By David Brown

Taking his own advice, former New York City Mayor Ed Koch spoke his mind on the state of the Jewish people both here and in the Middle East.

Addressing an audience of more than 800 members of Springfield's Temple Beth Ahrim and Temple Sinai, both congregations celebrating their 40th anniversary, the outspoken former mayor-turned critic, urged the American Jewish community to take a vocal role in promoting Judaism's relation to the rest of the world.

"Israel is in great danger," said the 66-year-old Koch, who graduated from the old Southside School in Newark. "The special relationship that had existed between the United States and the state of Israel since 1948 no longer exists," he said, presenting his assessment of the recent summit, recapping the recent rioting in Brooklyn's Crown Heights section over the death of a black child, and the retaliatory murder of a young Jew by a black mob.

While he believed the Madrid talks went "very well," Koch cautioned the two congregations not to let up on American Jewish support of the hard-line Israeli position.

"I believe that the West Bank will eventually be divided in some way," he said, "and that the Arabs should feel themselves. But I think it's foolish for the Israelis to give up the West Bank or any other territory until there is true peace in the region."

Koch has been on the lecture circuit since he was defeated three years ago by present New York City Mayor David Dinkins. As on his regular television appearances as a social commentator and critic, Koch's remarks were often witty, always blunt and ranged widely in subject matter. It was awarded two Battle Stars and an honorable discharge as a sergeant in the Army, and partnerships in several prestigious law firms, presenting his view on a number of topics during the Jewish unity and strength. "Israel is basically strong in the world," Koch said, offering an example. "If Saddam Hussein had chosen to invade Israel by coming through Jordan, do you think America would've sent over 500,000 troops? The administration will say yes, but I don't believe that."

"We have to make sure the Jewish community stands up for Israel," said Koch, a former three-term mayor of New York City, two-term New York City councilman, and nine-year congressman. "Even if we don't agree with every detail of Israel's policy, we must stand up for it."

On the domestic front in the battle against anti-Semitism, Koch again urged Jews to speak up and "not be afraid to disrupt relations" with other ethnic groups and races.

"There's an enormous amount of anti-Semitism among blacks," he said, recapping the recent rioting in Brooklyn's Crown Heights section over the death of a black child, and the retaliatory murder of a young Jew by a black mob.

Criticizing the actions of defeated Louisiana gubernatorial candidate and former Ku Klux Klan Grand Dragon Duke and City College of New York Professor Leonard Jeffries, an outspoken anti-Semite, as outrageous and a dangerous trend, Koch suggested Jews stay active in the fight for better race relations.

"Too many Jews are trying to disappear," he said, pitting the Jewish population at about 1.8 percent of the American total. "Those I see trying to disappear, I tell them, your neighbors know you."

"Koch, whose resume includes service in World War II, for which he was awarded two Battle Stars and an honorable discharge as a sergeant in the Army, and partnerships in several prestigious law firms, presenting his view on a number of topics during the

Some of his responses included:

- Why did he lose the 1989 mayoral election? "Because of longevity. People get tired of you. However, I can't tell you how many people come up to me on the street and say, 'Gee, I miss you.' And I say, 'Why? You voted me out! I won't run for office again. It's more fun to be a critic than a victim.'"
- On the Civil Rights bill, recently signed into law: "It's not a civil rights law. It's a law that encourages quotas. And because Jews make up such a small percentage of the population and workforce, they'll be hurt the most. Can you imagine applying this quota system to professional associations?"
- On New York Governor Mario Cuomo: "I think Mario will run in the presidential election. He'll win the Democratic primary, but lose in the general election. Mario is the most articulate speaker in politics today."

Arthur's files Chapter 11; set to close in early '92

By Dennis Schaaf

Arthur's, a venerable Springfield retail institution at the General Green Shopping Center, has filed Chapter 11 bankruptcy and will be closing its Morris Avenue facility early next year, the company's attorney said this week.

Jay Lubetkin, the Roseland attorney representing the privately held firm, said under the bankruptcy reorganization Arthur's would maintain its Greentown store, but shut its remaining outlets in Springfield, Wayne, Flemington and Ledgewood.

He noted that the court has ordered the Plainfield-based company to run liquidation sales that must be completed by the end of January. Shoppers at the Springfield store this week found most items discounted 10 percent.

Although Arthur's voluntarily filed for bankruptcy protection Oct. 21, the local store's fate only came to light last week when Mayor Marc Marschall disclosed that the company had secured a permit from the township for a going-out-of-business sale.

The exit of Arthur's, which built its own warehouse at the mall and has been a fixture on the retail scene for more than 10 years, highlights several business closings and openings in the township in recent weeks. Jimmy Woo's Chinese restaurant, also located in the business district on Morris Avenue, closed its doors last week, the mayor said. On a more optimistic note, Palaski Savings Bank opened its doors on Mountain Avenue last Saturday and Sixth Avenue Electronics recently unveiled a 65,000-square-foot retail store on Route 22 West.

Speculation was rife in the community this week concerning what type of business might replace Arthur's at the General Greene Shopping Center.

Edward Hart of Kaufman Realty Corp., the New York City company that is the managing agent for the property, expressed concern this week because the professional liquidator for the Arthur's sale is a subsidiary of Job Lot Inc.

Hart stated that if a company such as Job Lot, which he said sells "lower-echelon merchandise," decided it liked the Springfield location and eventually opened a store, it might lead to a "downturn" via a vice shopping center's traditional clientele.

Hart emphasized that any conjecture at this juncture about Arthur's replacement is preliminary — and conjecture. He said "it concerns him" that the court might have "broad leeway" in choosing a new company to occupy the space on behalf of the creditors of Arthur's.

Hart indicated that Arthur's holds a long-term lease on the property. Lubetkin, the attorney for Arthur's, noted that at the end of the liquidation sale, the court will view the company's lease as an asset. In instances of this type, it is not uncommon for the court to sell the lease through competitive bidding.

Under this scenario, the real estate executive indicated that Kaufman Realty might have input into who it rents space to, but that the final decision would be under the jurisdiction of the bankruptcy court on behalf of the creditors. "We'd be like a dummy in a bridge hand and I'm concerned about that," Hart said.

Noles hits anti-drug homer at Jonathan Dayton H.S.

By David Brown

One-time Philadelphia Phillies phenomenon Dickie Noles is no longer on the ballfield. He is, however, still hitting home runs and striking out a new opponent on the lecture circuit.

Noles spoke to the student body of Jonathan Dayton Regional High School in Springfield Monday on the harmful effects of drug and alcohol abuse, because, he said, "I know first hand what it can do."

Noles, like the fans who followed his career on the mound with the Phillies, the New York Yankees, the Texas Rangers and other major league baseball teams through the mid-1970s and into the 1980s, is keenly aware of the effect alcohol and drugs had on his career.

"I should be in the majors today," said Noles, who spends much of his time speaking to kids about the dangers of drug and alcohol abuse.

Noles' impressive start on the mound, including an appearance with the 1980 World Champion Phillies, was cut short by a 1983 bar-room brawl which resulted in a critical knee injury, drastically turning the direction of his life.

"That incident," Noles told the captivated audience, "ended my career. It changed my life, and I can never go back and recover what I've lost."

Insisting his sad story had a happy ending, Noles provided the audience with a quick, stand-up autobiographical sketch to give them an idea of the events that led up to his abuse of alcohol, marijuana and cocaine.

Noles, whose father was, and is today, an alcoholic, said life in the major leagues was conducive to heavy drinking. "I know first hand what it can do," Noles said in North Carolina.

"I'd already tried alcohol by the time my friends got hold of it," Noles said in his Southern drawl, recounting how his uncles had gotten him drunk as a 9-year-old. "After a while, drinking beer was a regular thing."

That casual habit of drinking beer, according to Noles and a host of law enforcement officials and the national media, evolved into a self-destructive habit of heavy drinking and drug use, resulting in extensive police records in several countries.

The bar-room brawl that ended Noles' career resulted in an $800,000 lawsuit and a 180-day jail sentence. Since his release, Noles has continued substance abuse treatment, and has been sober for eight years during which time he has addressed more

Natives see holiday in somber way

By David Brown and Glenn Fannick

While European Americans celebrate Thanksgiving by feasting on turkey and watching football games, many Native Americans are preparing to fast and observe the day in a much more somber way.

For New Jerseyans of European descent, Thanksgiving is a day of reverence approaching that of Christmas and the Fourth of July. For New Jerseyans of Native American descent, however, the celebration has for centuries represented both democratic freedom and the coming of a savior.

"Many of our people will fast on this day," said James Leno Bear Reeve, chairman of the New Jersey Indian Office, a private organization established 17 years ago to perpetuate the culture of the region's Native Americans.

"Our people used to celebrate Thanksgiving because the original celebration included Indians," said Reeve, a direct descendant of the Lenape people. "But since the Europeans murdered our people, many will fast on that day."

The Lenape pronounced le-nap-oo — were the peoples who inhabited much of the Northeast and were direct descendants of the native people who

Report indicates little growth in enrollment

By Dennis Schaaf

An independent educational consultant pointed out this week that population trends in the six municipalities that comprise the Union County Regional High School District "will not increase enrollment significantly over the next few months."

Leonard Bornstein of Human Resource Consultants in Millburn, Penna. reported last March at the request of the Union County Regional High School District No. 1 titled "Facility Study Based on Factors of Efficiency." The $11.500 study used 1989-90 expense figures at the four regional high schools combined with on-site facility inspections and interviews with administrators to assess efficiency factors at the buildings.

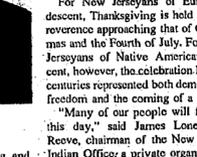

Bornstein's study did not make any specific conclusions regarding the future of the schools. The schools' fate will be the subject of much discussion over the next few months by the Regional Board of Education's Long-Range Planning Committee.

Although Bornstein will not say so, the clear inference of his findings is that taxpayers — and even the students themselves — are not being adequately served by the continuation of four regional high schools that currently house a total of roughly 2,100 students.

The Bornstein study was discussed Nov. 19 during the regional board's regular meeting. Superintendent Donald Merachnik stated that the Bornstein report will be one useful tool among many when the board considers future options for the schools.

Merachnik said, however, the board had not expected so many statistical inaccuracies as it found in the Bornstein report.

Bornstein, who was not present during the meeting at Governor Livingston High School in Berkeley Heights, said this week that "any statistical information used by my company was obtained from the offices of the Union County Regional Board of Education during the 1990-91 school year. The only complete figures available were for the 1989-90 school year."

Without challenging Merachnik's statistical clarifications, Bornstein said that the Human Resource Consultants was not given the opportunity during the study's duration to communicate with the board, nor did any board member pose any additional questions.

The operation of all four regional high school buildings is deemed inefficient when expenditures per student are compared at full functional capac-

Tuesday
The Planning Board meets at 8:30 p.m. in the Municipal Building.

Little enrollment growth reported

Students inhabiting these areas? The Bormstein report contends the enrollment drop has affected certain business courses and the shop class by "lack of viable class size." In response to a question this week, Bormstein said he also feels it is inefficient for the board to pay certain teachers to travel from school to school in order to provide the impact of offering.

"There is a point," the report stated, "at which staff reduction and program elimination will impoverish both the overall curriculum and its array of offerings. Sooner or later it will become difficult to avoid discussion of property reduction or consolidation." Several local districts, the study points out, are also considering the admittance of students on a tuition basis. The Bormstein report calls on the regional board to consider the impact of open tuition if a neighboring district puts this policy into place and to further assess the implementation of a voucher system for the district itself.

The Lenape had constructed a society not unlike the type intended by America's Founding Fathers. Benjamin Franklin, Alexander Hamilton and Thomas Jefferson were said to have studied this Native American society and culture before they wrote the Constitution, said an Allentown, Pa., museum curator.

According to Herbert Kraft, an anthropology professor at Seton Hall University in South Orange, "The Lenape society was egalitarian, where women had a voice in government and there was an equal division of labor. It was a matrilineal society, in which descent passed down through the female family line." Kraft, an authority on the Native American history of the region who has penned several books on the history of the Lenape, said that the peaceful people were advanced in their concepts of government, medicine and even family planning.

Arthur's to close

Kaufman Realty, meanwhile, has been sending out preliminary feelers to possible tenants to let them know the space might be available.

Marshall acknowledged this week that rumors have been rife concerning what company might want to set up shop when Arthur's closes its doors. He noted that any new business that comes into the general commercialized zone would have to appear before the Planning Board for review.

"Arthur's was one of the anchors of the shopping center," Marshall said in reference to the 46-year-old Plainfield company.

Educating the public like other naturalists teaches school children on field trips about New Jersey's first inhabitants and their use of indigenous wildlife for survival.

"They were a very peaceable people that lived off the land. Unlike the native Americans of the Southwest," she explained, "the Lenape didn't have to fight other tribes for a limited food supply. Deer, bear and other foods were in abundance in this part of the country."

Yablonsky said the lectures elicit several standard questions from the audience, usually fourth-graders.

As naturalists, Knapp and Yablonsky welcome the recent revival of the study of the Native Americans' perspective on the environment.

"I think there is a greater concern for the validity of the Lenape's way of life," said Yablonsky. "While the settlers tried to get the natives to accept the European way of life, only now are Americans beginning to respect nature and the environment" as the native inhabitants of this country did.

While acknowledging the limited effect such a small population could have on the environment, Yablonsky said the Lenape were aware of the delicate balance of nature.

"They knew, for example, plant life affected animal life," said Yablonsky. "They had to. Their survival depended on it."

The response to the hour-long presentation, filled with anecdotes and one-liner characteristics of Koch's wit and agility in debate, came as no surprise to Helen Golden, co-chairperson of the "Evening with Ed Koch."

"I expected this kind of response," Golden said. "So many of these people have seen this feisty character on television, I'm sure they were intrigued to see him in person."

McGrath named Dayton Student of the Month

Sean McGrath of Mountainside, a senior at Jonathan Dayton Regional High School in Springfield, has been named the school's Student of the Month for November.

A true student-athlete, McGrath has attained a grade-point average of 4.2 out of a possible 4.5, and is ranked second academically in the senior class. He serves as president of the Jonathan Dayton chapter of the National Honor Society, and of the school's Student Council.

As the captain of the Jonathan Dayton Cross Country team, McGrath earned a fine season this fall, placing third in the Union County Championships and the North Jersey, Section 2, Group II meet. In addition, the Student of the Month is a member of the Dayton Indoor and Outdoor Track teams. He also competes for the Jonathan Dayton team in the Suburban Cablevision "Challenge" academic tournament and is a member of the Spanish Club and Chorus. Outside of school, he serves as president of the Catholic Youth Organization group at Our Lady of Lourdes Church in Mountainside.

By Fanny Lee Correspondent

If you are interested in the 1940's, or simply wish to have a good time, Springfield's Jonathan Dayton Regional High School's fall dramatic presentation, "Our Hearts Were Young and Gay," is certainly for you. Set in Bryn Mar, Mass. in the 1940s, the light-hearted comedy depicts the lives of two young ladies, Emily Kimbrough and Cornelia Skinner, bound for Paris, both girls are looking for adventure.

Returning once again as director this year is Joseph Trinitly, drama director at Jonathan Dayton. Trinitly says he thinks the audience "will be surprised by all the talented performers we have at Jonathan Dayton."

"Our Hearts Were Young and Gay," by Jean Kerr, opens at Jonathan Dayton's Halsey Hall auditorium, Mountain Avenue in Springfield, Dec. 12 and 13 at 8 p.m. Tickets are $3 each and may be purchased at the door.

Fanny Lee is studying journalism at Jonathan Dayton Regional High School.

UCC students assisting in town's redevelopment

Some 20 architecture students at Union County College are researching possibilities for upgrading downtown Springfield and Roselle through a collaborative project with the Union County Economic Development Corp.

The effort continues a tradition established last year when selected UCC architecture students submitted renderings to upgrade facades at several Cranford downtown buildings, achieving a uniform colonial look. Drawings were unveiled at an Oct. 2 ceremony at the Cranford Public Library in a similar cooperative effort that also included the Cranford Downtown Management.

Now that the students' job for Cranford is completed, they are moving on to sharing their talents with Springfield and Roselle. The students toured both communities' downtown areas recently, obtaining additional information from the municipal master plans in terms of zoning and planning requirements. From that point, they are designing preliminary layout work and taking photographs to determine the project's scope. Drawings and colorization will follow.

According to Adam Farrar, director of financial programs for the World AIDS Day stresses need for public awareness

Dec. 1 is World AIDS Day and the Red Cross Chapters throughout New Jersey will join millions of people by having display booths in many locations, to distribute informational literature about HIV/AIDS virus and to loan videos to interested persons.

In Westfield, Video Video of 184 Elm St. will offer films from Dec. 1 to 8, along with the literature.

Harold and Joyce Rosenbaum, owners of Video Video, are receptive to the display. "We have to inform the public more about this terrible problem."

The Westfield/Mountainside Red Cross is involved in the HIV/AIDS network in New Jersey, which holds monthly meetings to discuss better ways of informing the public about AIDS.

There will be a volunteer at the booth Dec. 1 from 1 to 4 p.m. to answer questions about the literature. Any person interested in becoming an HIV/AIDS instructor can contact the Red Cross Chapter House in the area. The Westfield/Mountainside Chapter is located at 321 Elm St., Westfield, (908) 232-7090.

The chapter is a participating agency of the United Fund of Westfield.

Host of artists' paintings hung for holiday season

A show of members' paintings has been hung for the holidays in Children's Specialized Hospital, Mountain-side, by the Westfield Art Association.

Artists participating in this show and sale are Grace Koleda, Marga Voegelé, Rose Arbes, Ruth Nelson, Sylvia Glesmann, Evelyn Turner, Sylvia Noera, Mollie Arbeitman, William Coombs and Florence MacDowell.

There have been many sales of paintings during past shows. A percentage of each sale is donated to the hospital by the artist. Anyone interested in seeing this show may do so during daytime hours by contacting Shirley Biegler, hospital community resources coordinator.

Another ongoing loan show is at the Midland Bank, Elm Street, Westfield, where Philip Kas is exhibiting his watercolors in the showcase in the rear entrance.

Red Cross gets facelift

The Westfield/Mountainside Chapter of the American Red Cross is getting a "Face Lift" in the Transportation Department at the chapter house. Al Plesco, a local contractor from Westfield, has donated his services to accommodate the service to Westfield, Mountainide, Clark and Garwood.

'Letters From The Sand' available for Christmas

"Letters From The Sand: The Letters of Desert Storm and Other Wars," a 184-page, hardcover book, is now on sale at the Springfield and Westfield post offices.

"Letters From The Sand" tells the story of America as it was recorded by those who served, those who fought, and those who gave their lives. It includes letters from soldiers involved in Operation Desert Storm, and in all wars dating back to the Civil War.

"This book is an encompassing tribute to the fighting spirit of the troops that served in Desert Storm. But it also says thank you to the thousands of postal employees who proudly saw to it that the tons of mail sent overseas during the 1990 holiday season were handled with extra-special care," Springfield Postmaster William G. Daniels said.

"What this book accentuates is the importance our fighting men and women place on 'mail call,'" Daniels said. "It includes a collection of dramatic, heartwarming letters from the brave men and women who fought in every American war. With its collection of photographs and 51 stamp reproductions, it provides a remarkable insight into the soul of a nation at war."

The book, which sells for $24.95, comes complete with a block of four 29-cent Desert Storm commemorative stamps.

Easy stamps to ease holiday mailing clutch

Several stamp-buying services that help postal customers year-round are particularly handy during the holiday season, Springfield Postmaster William G. Daniels points out.

"We want our customers to get their Christmas mail in early, but we don't want them to have to wait in line to buy stamps," he said. "Through Easy Stamp Services you can have stamps delivered to you within three days by filling out a form you can get from your letter carrier."

Newcomers Club opens busy 1991-92 season

The Mountainide Newcomers Club is planning a "Mommy and Me" Holiday Party Dec. 20.

The activity will be at Deerfield School between 1:15 and 3 p.m. in the All-Purpose Room. The cost is $4-per child. Members and prospective members are invited to attend. Since Santa will be making a visit to the party, those who attend are asked to purchase a book, wrap it and write the child's first and last name on the package for distribution by Santa on the day of the party.

Anyone interested in attending is urged to respond by Dec. 13.

Santas sought

Last year, several fathers in the community dressed up as Santa Claus and visited children in their neighborhood whose parents participated in this activity. Parents who are interested should purchase a small gift for their children so Santa can bring it to their home on his visit. Anyone interested in being a Santa Claus or having him visit your home on Dec. 22 can call Barbara Garber at 654-9512.

Jewish War Vets slate annual bagel breakfast

The Elin-Unger Post 273, Jewish War Veterans of the United States, Springfield/Milburn area, will hold its monthly Bagel Breakfast business meeting, Dec. 1, 9-30 a.m. at the Sarah Bailey Building, 30 Church Mall, Springfield.

Guest speaker for the morning program will be Dr. Mark D. Crabnitz, associate director of clinical research at Sandoz Institute, who will speak on the topic "The War Dividend," in relating the advancement of medical science and development in the military.

Ready for the new season are Mountainide Newcomers Club officers, from left, Shelley Modi, vice president; Marie Scollard, president; Theresa Palumbo, treasurer, and Hillary Weldon, recording secretary.

The Jewish War Veterans is the oldest, most active veterans organization in the nation, organized in 1896.

Girl Scout Brownie Troops 204, 424 and 750 after their Investiture.

Local girl scouts invested as Brownies

The Mountainide Girl Scouts of Troops 204, 424 and 750 were recently invested as Brownies at a group investiture at Deerfield School.

The girls, all first-graders at Deerfield, were presented with their Brownie pins and their first Try It Badge, during the ceremony.

In order to become Brownies, the girls had to know the Girl Scout signs, promise and law, and be able to tell why they wanted to be Brownie Girl Scouts. The girls were joined at the ceremony by family and friends.

Are Mutual Funds A Safe Investment Alternative?

With interest rates lower than they have been in many years, people are looking for ways to gain higher returns. I'm often asked if mutual funds are a wise alternative to insured certificates of deposit.

Basically, a mutual fund allows you to acquire a proportionate interest in a large investment portfolio. The fund may distribute earnings periodically, and the worth of your investment is subject to market fluctuations, which can increase or decrease your investment. If, for example, the market is depressed when you need your money, you may not recover your original investment. Another major concern that many investors consider is that mutual funds are not covered by the Bank Insurance Fund.

If you choose to invest in a mutual fund, it is of paramount importance that you are knowledgeable about the fund, and know where the fund is invested. It may invest in stocks, bonds, or a combination of both.

Tomorrow is a time to give thanks

Thanksgiving is here. Finally. So with tomorrow designated as a time to give thanks, one area high school football team may be extending a gracious thank you to a league foe.

Because if Dayton Regional can top a winless North Plainfield squad on the road tonight, the Bulldogs will win a share of the Mountain Valley Conference-Mountain Division.

That's because Governor Livingston Regional of Berkeley Heights upset Immaculata of Somerville 8-6 last Saturday night in Somerville. Immaculata, playoff bound in North Jersey, Parochial A, came in with a 7-1 mark.

So, not only will Dayton Regional, 5-3, finish with a winning season this year, it's first since 1988, but the Bulldogs can share the MVC-Mountain Division crown with Immaculata. A win over North Plainfield, 0-8, would put the finishing touches on a 6-3 overall record and 6-1 mark in the division.

Last year Dayton Regional struggled through a 1-8 campaign. AMONG THE FIVE AREA TEAMS (North Zone of Worrall Community Newspapers), MVC-Mountain Division foe Hillsdale is the only other school not playoff-bound. The Comets finished 2-7 this season and were defeated at home last Saturday by Ridge 14-6.

Sophomore fullback Kendall Ogle, the team's leading rusher and scorer this season, broke loose for a 27-yard touchdown run in the second quarter. Look for Ogle to be one of Union County's outstanding running backs, if he isn't already, in 1992 and 1993.

That brings us to area squads Union, Roselle Park and Brearley Regional. All three wrapped up their regular seasons last Saturday and are in the midst of preparing for this Saturday's NJSIAA playoff confrontations.

Union remained unbeaten and untied by blanking Scotch Plains 14-0 in Scotch Plains. The Farmers received touchdowns from junior fullback Brian Sheridan and senior halfback Danny Taylor.

Sheridan, the team's leading rusher and scorer, gained 136 yards on 17 carries. He scored Union's first touchdown on a seven-yard run in the second quarter.

Later in the period, Taylor broke loose for a 57-yard touchdown run. He gained 78 yards on 11 carries.

Union rushed for all of its offensive yardage, a total of 256 yards. The Farmers held Scotch Plains to just 61 yards total offense.

Union, 9-0, has won its last four games by shutout and its starting defense has not allowed a touchdown in the past 26 quarters — dating back to the second quarter of the team's third game. The Farmers have outscored the opposition by a 195-46 margin.

But while Union was rolling along to its ninth consecutive victory, Roselle Park was stumbling for the first time in eight games. Archival Roselle bounced back from a 7-6 halftime deficit to derail the Panthers by a 26-7 score in Roselle.

Roselle Park, 7-2, had reeled off seven consecutive victories following an opening-season 20-6 setback at Johnson Regional. Roselle senior halfback Mike Pullman paced the Rams, who finished 5-4, with three touchdown runs, including scores of 70, 55 and one yards.

WHAT'S GOING ON
J.R. PARACHINI

Brearley Regional, 6-2-1, had to settle for a 14-14 tie with Johnson Regional in Kenilworth. The Crusaders knotted the score at 14-14 when senior quarterback Dan Redziniak hit Justin LaSala with a 68-yard touchdown pass in the fourth quarter. LaSala kicked the extra-point.

Bears senior quarterback Jonathan Chango hit junior halfback Steven Miceli with a 13-yard touchdown pass in the second quarter and ran for a one-yard score in the third.

The victory gave Johnson Regional the MVC-Valley Division championship with a 5-0-1 mark. Roselle Park finished second at 5-1 and Brearley Regional third at 4-1-1.

SO WITH THE REGULAR SEASON OUT OF THE WAY, it's time to get ready for the playoffs. Union and Brearley Regional will be playing in Union County and against teams they faced in the regular season. Roselle Park will be taking Route 46 into Morris County for its confrontation.

Here are my playoff picks. Last week's record was 2-1-1 (tonight's pick: Dayton Regional 38, North Plainfield 0). For the season, the record is 33-6-1 for 846.

All of Saturday's NJSIAA playoff contests are scheduled for 1 p.m. starts.

NORTH JERSEY, SECTION 2, GROUP 4

SEMIFINAL ROUND
Elizbeth (8-1) at Union (9-0) — Union, the No. 1 seed for the first time since 1984, has not won a playoff game since winning at Roxbury 17-14 in overtime for the 1987 sectional title, the Farmers' record seventh championship and fourth in a row at the time. Elizbeth, seeded fourth, has not lost a playoff game since dropping a 21-0 decision at Union in the 1985 semifinals. Elizbeth has won three sectional titles, more than anyone else in the section except Union.

Union is hungry to stave for first round losses in 1988 and 1990. The Farmers did not qualify in 1989 despite finishing 8-1.

Elizbeth won the sectional title in 1988 and 1989 before not qualifying last year with an 8-1 mark. The Minutemen are 37-3 since the beginning of the 1988 season.

However, two of those three losses have come to Union. The Farmers topped Elizbeth 24-14 in Elizbeth last year and earlier this season blanked the Minutemen 6-0 in Union.

Both teams have not given up much defensively this season and look for Saturday's game to be another low-scoring affair. Each squad has its standouts on defense and its barn-burners on offense.

Union 7, Elizbeth 3 —

The other semifinal game pits third-seed Roxbury, 7-1-1, at No. 2 Randolph, another regular-season rematch. Back on Friday night, Nov. 1 in Randolph, the Gaels managed to hold Randolph to a 6-6 tie, snapping the Rams' country-best 54-game winning streak.

But since then Randolph, 8-0-1, has won three straight and now holds a country-best 58-game unbeaten streak. Roxbury was buried at home by Morris Knolls 27-0 last Saturday. Randolph topped Livingston 25-0 last Saturday night to win its sixth consecutive Iron Hills Conference-Iron Division title.

Randolph 28, Roxbury 6

If both home teams, Union and Randolph, win on Saturday, it would create a steam matchup on Saturday, Dec. 7. Randolph, at 9-0-1, would venture into Cooke Memorial Field to face Union, at 10-0, for the sectional championship.

The Farmers would like nothing better than to get a chance at knocking off Randolph, a school which has not lost a game in more than five years. The Rams knocked off Union 6-0 in Union last year in the sectional semifinals en route to their first Group 4 sectional championship.

NORTH JERSEY, SECTION 2, GROUP 1

SEMIFINAL ROUND
Roselle Park (7-2) at Mountain Lakes (9-0) — The Panthers, seeded third, have reached the playoffs for the first time since 1986 and will be facing a second-seeded Mountain Lakes squad which captured the Colonial Hills Conference title last Saturday with a 20-8 win over a 7-1 Bayley-Ellard of Madison club.

Last year Roselle Park finished 6-3 by knocking off Roselle the Saturday before Thanksgiving. That was because the Rams had qualified for the playoffs in North Jersey, Section 2, Group 2.

Roselle bounced back to win its first playoff game before bowing to Hanover Park in the final. Roselle Park will be looking to at least do the same this year by bouncing back with a win over Mountain Lakes.

The going, as has been the case all season long, won't be easy for the Panthers. However, Mountain Lakes is by no means dominating 9-0 squad.

Roselle Park has matured a great deal this season, including a first-ever win over New Providence and a key victory over Brearley Regional. Throw out last Saturday's second-half performance. Roselle Park at Mountain Lakes should be a real battle to the end.

Roselle Park 18, Mountain Lakes 7

NORTH JERSEY, SECTION 2, GROUP 1

SEMIFINAL ROUND
Brearley Regional (6-2-1) at Johnson Regional (7-1-1) — Didn't these guys just play each other last Saturday? Yep, they did but a 14-14 tie doesn't settle anything, does it?

So the two go to it again in Clark this Saturday. Ironically, Brearley Regional did not qualify for a playoff berth in the section last year with a 7-1 record at the cutoff date before finishing 8-1 with five shutouts. This year the Bears beat out Belvidere by a slim margin for the fourth seed. Johnson Regional is the top seed.

The Bears like to ground it out while the Crusaders look to score through the air. A low-scoring game will probably favor Brearley Regional and a high-scoring one Johnson Regional.

Brearley vs. Johnson 2, the winner will move on

By J.R. Parachini
Sports Editor

Last Saturday Union County football fans were able to see the showing of Brearley Regional vs. Johnson Regional 1, shot at Ward Field in Kenilworth. What a finish, as both teams battled to a 14-14 tie in their last regular season contest.

So as aficionados were teased with a result that ended without closure, a sequel will take place this Saturday. Brearley Regional vs. Johnson Regional 2 — the winner moves on. The major differences in this weekend's game will be that the contest can end in a tie and that the night will be Clark. Top-seeded Johnson Regional will host No. 4 Brearley Regional in the NJSIAA North Jersey, Section 2, Group 1 playoffs at Nolan Field, 1 p.m. The victor will face the winner of Saturday's Roselle Park at Mountain Lakes contest at the sight of the higher-seeded team on Saturday, Dec. 7.

"When the game was over the kids said, 'see you next week,'" Brearley Regional head coach Bob Taylor said. "We have a very classy rivalry with them and the kids respect everybody."

It was a 68-yard touchdown pass thrown by Crusader senior quarterback Dan Redzinski to senior flanker Justin LaSala two plays into the fourth quarter that knotted the game. That and a successful LaSala placement kick.

H.S. Football

"It was a good defensive game," Taylor said. "If they had one advantage, it was that they ended up winning the conference. If we had one advantage, it was that we got to play a championship caliber team before the playoffs."

"And now we get another shot at them." And vice versa. Johnson Regional, 7-1-1, ended up winning the Valley Division of the Mountain Valley Conference with a 5-0-1 mark. Roselle Park finished second at 5-1 and Brearley Regional third at 4-1-1.

The Crusaders held paydirt first against the Bears, 6-3-1, when junior fullback Mike Montz played in from the one to cap a seven-play, 32-yard drive following a poor punt snap.

Brearley Regional was able to knot the game at 7-7 when senior quarterback Jonathan Chang hit junior half-back Steven Miceli with a 13-yard touchdown pass. The play, right before halftime, capped a two-play, 18-yard drive that was set up by a 25-yard interception return by Brearley Regional senior linebacker Bob Taylor Jr.

After recording two sacks on defense to halt Johnson Regional's first second-half possession, the Bears put together a 17-play, 62-yard drive that got them into the end zone for the second time. A roughing-the-punter penalty aided the drive that ended with Chang bolting in from the one.

Playoff histories This is the sixth trip to the state playoffs for Brearley Regional. The Bears won the section with an 11-0 record in 1981, beating Roselle 17-15 for the championship.

Brearley Regional then made the playoffs four consecutive seasons from 1985-1988. In 1985 the Bears beat Roselle Park 35-6 in the final and in 1986 topped the Panthers 28-7 for the championship. The Bears lost to Mountain Lakes 25-22 in the 1987 semifinals. Brearley Regional lost to New Providence 30-14 in the 1988 final after eliminating Verona 28-14 in the semifinals. The Bears also captured the Central Jersey, Group 1 crown in 1967.

In addition to reaching the final in 1985 and 1986, Roselle Park also made the playoffs in 1984, losing a first-round game to eventual champion Chatham Borough. Johnson Regional made the playoffs in North Jersey, Section 2, Group 3 in 1977, losing at an unbeaten and top-seeded Parsippany team 14-12 in the first round. Phillipsburg went on to win the section that year with a 26-0 win at Parsippany in the final.

Union-Linden series not the same

By J.R. Parachini
Sports Editor

For the first time since they've been playing each other dating back to 1932, Union and Linden High School will not be going at it on the gridiron tomorrow on Thanksgiving.

The Watching Conference scheduled both Group 4 schools (Linden moved up this year from Group 3) to face each other during the regular season. This meant that both would face a smaller-sized school on Thanksgiving, the week after the state playoffs are determined.

What that does is give each team a chance at gaining more power points — thus giving both more of a chance to qualify in North Jersey, Section 2, Group 4.

So, since Union qualified for the playoffs, and as the top seed at 8-0, the Farmers played at Scotch Plains (Group 3 school) last Saturday. Since Linden, 5-3, did not make the playoffs in the section, the Tigers will host Rahway (a Group 2 school) tomorrow at 10:30 a.m. as originally scheduled.

Further looking back at the Union-Linden series shows how dominant the Farmers have been since Lou Retino took over as head coach in 1977. Union's last losing season occurred in 1976 and since 1977, the Farmers have won 14 of 16 against the Tigers (including one playoff game).

These facts and figures stick out: Linden vs. Linden under Retino and 8-1 at Linden's Cooper Field and 6-1 at Union's Cooke Memorial Field. The 1978 game was played at Cooper Field because Cooke was under renovation.

Union is 13-2 in the regular season and 1-0 in post season. Union played Linden 10-9 in overtime at Cooke Memorial Field in the semifinal round of the 1987 North Jersey, Section 2, Group 4 playoffs.

The last four games played at Cooper Field between the two schools have resulted in Union shutouts, victories:

- 1991 — Union 10, Linden 0
- 1989 — Union 8, Linden 0
- 1987 — Union 12, Linden 0
- 1985 — Union 10, Linden 0

Seven of the last eight games at Cooper Field have resulted in Union shutouts. Union won 34-0 in 1978, 45-0 in 1979 and 27-0 in 1981. Linden won 14-6 in 1983 and lost 30-6 in 1977.

The Tigers have not scored a point in a home game against Union since 1983 and in nine home games against Linden. Farmers since Retino has been the head coach, Linden has scored just 20 points.

Of Union's 14 wins against Linden under Retino, eight have resulted in shutout wins. Linden's last victory was a 7-0 shutout of Union, the only time the Farmers have been blanked by the Tigers in the past 15 games.

FARMERS FOOTBALL

Two more pieces remain in the puzzle. A puzzle Union has not put together since 1967.

The first step is this Saturday at home against Elizabeth. Of the 17 sectional titles won in North Jersey, Section 2, Group 4, 10 have been won between these two teams — Union seven and Elizabeth three.

The New Jersey State Interscholastic Athletic Association instituted its playoff system in 1974. Here's a list of the champions in North Jersey, Section 2, Group 4:

- 1974 — Morrisown (at Atlantic City's Convention Hall)
- 1975 — Barringer
- 1976 — Westfield (at Giants Stadium)
- 1977 — Westfield (at Giants Stadium)
- 1978 — Union (at Giants Stadium)
- 1979 — West Essex (at Giants Stadium)
- 1980 — Elizabeth (at Giants Stadium)

- 1982 — Union
- 1983 — Union
- 1984 — Union
- 1985 — Union
- 1986 — Union
- 1987 — Union
- 1988 — Union
- 1989 — Union
- 1990 — Union
- 1991 — Union

Ironically, Linden won the first game between the two teams, blanking Union 12-0 in 1932. The Tigers won the first four games between the two teams before Union blanked Linden 7-0 in 1936 for its first victory.

Union and Linden played to 0-0 ties in 1951 and 1958. Linden won six in a row from 1942-1947.

Since 1967, Union has won 21 of the last 26 games to take a 32-24-5 series advantage. Linden's only victories since 1967 are:

- 1970: Linden 22, Union 6
- 1974: Linden 14, Union 7
- 1975: Linden 22, Union 6
- 1983: Linden 14, Union 6
- 1986: Linden 7, Union 0

Union has now won the last six games and had a seven-game winning streak snapped in 1983, its longest string of success in the series.

Another rematch for the Farmers When Union hosts Elizabeth on Saturday, it will be the sixth time the Farmers will be playing a regular-season opponent again in the playoffs. Union has won four of the previous five contests.

Simon comedy is staged

Neil Simon's comedy, "I Ought To Be In Pictures," comes to the George Street Playhouse, 9 Livingston Ave., New Brunswick, through Dec. 22.

The story of a Hollywood screenwriter and his teenage daughter recedes, covering each other for 16 years, "I Ought To Be In Pictures" is a look at one family's expectations and dreams. GSP's producing artistic director, Gregory S. Hurst, directs.

Hoboken resident John P. Connolly portrays Herb Tucker, a once-successful Hollywood writer who walked out on his Brooklyn family 16 years ago. Connolly, who Broadway credits include the musical, "Big River," has also appeared on television in "Cop Rock," "Capitol News," "Kate and Allie," in addition to such films as "12 Weeks" and "Under Surveillance."

Connolly can currently be seen on the HBO comedy, "Seasiders," produced by Billy Crystal and starring Elliot Gould.

Dorrie Jensen is Libby, the daughter Herb deserted 16 years earlier. Joiner, who appeared, under Hurst's direction, in the world premiere, "A Walk Out of Water," at the Pennsylvania State Company, also portrayed Annette in the Off-Broadway hit, "Steel Magnolias."

Rounding out the cast is Maplewood resident Suzanne Douglas as Steffy, Herb's part-time girlfriend. Douglas, who starred as Jenny River in the recent revival of "Three Penny Opera" with Sting, received the 1989 Black Image Award as best supporting actress for her work in the film, "Tap," in which she co-starred with Gregory Hines and Sammy Davis, Jr.

Working with Hurst are designers Deborah Jansen (sets), Donald Holder (lights), Sue Ellen Rohrer (costumes) and production stage manager Tom Clewley.

Performance times for "I Ought To Be In Pictures" are Tuesday-Saturday evenings at 8 p.m.; Sundays at 2 and 7 p.m.; Thursday matinees on Dec. 5, 12 and 19 at 11 a.m.; and a Saturday

Soupy Sales brings laughter to UCAC

Who besides Soupy Sales could lay claim to having gotten an estimated 19,000 custard pies in the course of his career?

The mop-and-towel brigade will be on alert backstage at Rahway's Union County Arts Center for the comic's appearance there on Saturday. For anyone past age 30, "Soupy Sales & The Party Animals" should rekindle memories of Soupy's madcap TV days of the 1960s and '70s.

The comic with roots in North Carolina and West Virginia had broken into radio broadcasting as a script writer in the late 1940s, following his discharge as a combat Navy veteran in World War II. From writer, he graduated to a deejay post at WHTN in Huntington, W. Va. He made his TV debut in Cincinnati in 1950.

When the "Soupy Sales Show" finally arrived in New York in 1964, its star had already garnered status in Detroit, L.A. and nationally via the ABC network. By 1966, the new show was being aired in Canada, Australia and New Zealand as well as nationally.

The unexpected success of Soupy's original novelty dance, "The Mouse" was followed by a personal appearance at New York's Paramount Theater in April 1965 that was to rival Sinatra's opening in the 1940s as one of that show-biz's greatest draws.

The comic became a regular panelist on TV's "What's My Line?" and subsequently did a three-year hitch with "Sho-Na-Na," plus a string of guest spots on a variety of network shows. He launched his nightclub act in 1968, playing Vegas, the Playboy Clubs and all the other major venues around the country.

Certain time for the "Soupy Sales & The Party Animals" at the Union County Arts Center in Rahway is 8 p.m. Tickets can be reserved by phoning the box office at 908-499-8226.

NJAR president advises on ways to cut costs

Saving for a down payment on a home requires discipline, sacrifice and cutting corners. Every little bit helps, from bagging your lunch to cutting up your credit cards.

Utility bills are one area where you can save money. Although utility bills, like death and taxes, are one of life's few certainties, they can be reduced with a few simple steps, according to Maurice Hageman, 1992 president of the New Jersey Association of Realtors.

"Saving money is a priority for most of us, but reducing our energy needs is also good for the environment," Hageman says. The following energy-saving tips are provided by the New Jersey Association of Realtors.

Water bills: You shower in one of the easiest places to cut down on water use. Install a low-flow nozzle to save up to 50 percent on usage. A shower head with its own on/off switch makes it easy to conserve water while soaping up.

Leaky faucets and toilets are some of the biggest water wasters. A leaking faucet can waste up to 25 gallons daily! Most repairs are simple, so don't delay.

There are dozens of other ways to conserve water, you just need to think about them. Before beginning any household chore that requires water, stop and consider how you could use less. For example, when washing your car, don't leave the water running while sponging it down.

"I have a plan that can help your home sell faster, for a better price."

It's a fact: homes covered by the ERA® Buyer Protection Plan or ERA® Seller Protection Plan sell an average of 38 days faster and for 1-1/2% more than other homes. That's the sales power of the home warranty plan that protects buyer and seller alike against the expense of unexpected breakdowns to major appliances. Just the kind of help you'd expect from a friend!

National artists will participate in show

From Maine, Arizona and West Virginia, and points in between, 120 professional artists, crafters and photographers will participate in the third annual Fine Art and Crafts at the Aspen show on Saturday and Sunday at the Aspen Hotel/Convention Center in Parsippany. This juried show presenting jewelry, wood, leather, pottery, glass, country folk art, clothing, art, photography, fabric specialties will benefit the Northwest Chapter of the Multiple Sclerosis Service Organization, Inc.

Patrice Monaghan of Westfield is a jeweler with a background in the arts. After receiving her B.A. in Fine Arts, she continued her studies at the School of Art in London, the New York Studio School and the Philadelphia Academy of Fine Arts. Through her exploration of painting and sculpture, Monaghan became intrigued with the idea of functional art. She began making jewelry in 1988 and started marketing her designs as "Dener Art" in 1990. The prime concern of Dener Art is quality and diversity of design. These concerns are met by Monaghan's research into all art fields and her devotion to expert craftsmanship.

Artist find unusual outlets for their creative talents. Lyn Moser of Bally, Penn., began in oil painting but switched to porcelain when she realized the kiln-fired colors would be permanent and not subject to fading. She began painting on glass-globed lamps as a natural extension of her work in porcelain — the techniques are similar, albeit more subtle, for the use of light illuminates all brush strokes and increases the aspect of three-dimensionality, with the design must be slightly altered to allow for the distortion of line that occurs when working on concave and convex surfaces. Throughout the years she has been very active in restoring damaged lamps. "In this way, I feel as though I have studied with the original painters of the Victorian era — studying hundreds of different techniques, ranging from grand to garish, from the grotesque to the delicately decorated," Moser said.

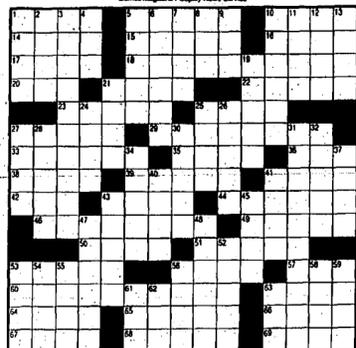

A local jewelry designer at the show is Irene Scott Lantz of West Orange. Also a painter and sculptor, she has a BFA from Pratt Institute and an MFA from Hunter College. Her work, produced in 18k, 14k gold and sterling silver has been sold at Sak's Fifth Avenue and can be seen on Lifetime TV's "The Image Workshop." Lantz said, "I enjoy creating one-of-a-kind pieces. I incorporate my ideas and feelings from my paintings to the jewelry. I find it exciting to create disparity by using texture and form and at the same time something beautiful to wear."

From Parsippany is Dolores Ann Ziegler, artist, teacher, demonstrator, and lecturer on watercolor and acrylic paintings on paper and carved pine. Ziegler's use of color fusion and design have won her many awards. Her work is in the private collection of AT&T, Nabisco, PSA&G and in private collections in Spain, Canada, Switzerland, Australia, and Mexico.

These are just a few of the exhibitors to be seen at the Fine Art and Crafts at the Aspen show. The Aspen Hotel/Convention Center is located on 808 Rt. 46 West in Parsippany. The hours of the show are 10 a.m. to 6 p.m. on Saturday and 10 a.m. to 5 p.m. on Sunday. The entrance fee is $4 for adults, $3.50 for senior citizens. For more information or directions, call Rose Squared Productions, Inc. at 908-874-5247.

Groups to receive grants

Forty-five arts groups and presenters of arts programs will receive a total of $51,988 from the Union County Arts Grants Program in 1991-92, according to Walter E. Boright, freeholder liaison to the county's Cultural and Heritage Programs Advisory Board. "This represents the majority of the grant of $64,456 from the New Jersey State Council on the Arts to our Office of Cultural and Heritage Affairs," Boright said. "The remainder and a cash match of $12,000, provided by the Board of Chosen Freeholders, will enable the office to present technical assistance workshops and provide other programs for the benefit of Union County artists and residents."

Marcia Cohen, chairwoman of the Cultural and Heritage Programs Advisory Board, said, "Applications were initially evaluated by professional panels and were reviewed by the advisory board's arts grant committee in a highly competitive process before being acted upon by the entire advisory board."

The organizations receiving grants through the Union County Arts Grants Program include:

- Clark Public Library, $500 for presenting three summer concerts and a children's series.
- Linden Free Public Library, $800 for presenting a cultural series for family and youth.
- Linden Summer Playhouse, $2,000 for producing a fully-staged musical theater production showcasing young talent.
- County of Union, Trailside Nature and Science Center, Mountainside, $500 for presenting arts and crafts from early American life at annual the "Harvest Festival."
- Rahway Historical Society, $500 for presenting a silent film classic.
- Rahway Landmarks T/A Union County Arts Center, $2,000 for presenting a Black History Month program.
- Roselle Park Council on the Arts, $900 for presenting arts workshops and an original one-act play.
- Roselle Park Veterans Memorial Library, $500 for presenting free outdoor concerts with local professional musicians.
- Celebration Singers, Union, $500 for producing popular music programs by and for the local community.
- Foundation For Jewish Arts and Heritage, Union, for presenting theatrical productions based on the Jewish experience.
- Union Symphony Orchestra, $800 for presenting concerts with local musicians.
- William Chaison Dance Theater of New Jersey, Union, $2338, for producing a series of multi-ethnic, contemporary dance performances.
- YM-YWHA of Union County, Union, $1,400, for presenting a choral group project for seniors who perform at the Y and for other organizations.

Maplewood Nursery in bloom

"Tis almost the season to be jolly and Wayne Maudsley, owner and proprietor of Maplewood Nursery in Springfield, has plans to do something about it.

On Sunday, Christmas trees of all shapes and sizes will be arriving. On hand will be those of the Douglas and Frazer Fir, Blue Spruce, and Balsam varieties from which customers may pick and choose their favorite.

Although trees are plentiful around this time of year, there is one thing special about the trees at Maplewood Nursery and that is they will be equipped with what Maudsley calls the "Stand Straight System." In explaining this system, the owner said that holes are drilled in the bottom of each tree so that they are able to stand upright.

"We will price trees according to economic times," he said. "We understand there is a recession or depression or whatever is going on." Maplewood Nursery, located at 160 Springfield Ave., will also be making hand-made wreaths and blankets on the premises.

So before you pick up a saw or axe, it may be a good idea to stop at the Maplewood Nursery and pick up a few hints from Wayne Maudsley, or call the nursery at 376-7698.

Wayne Maudsley, owner of Maplewood Nursery, is preparing for delivery of Christmas Trees.

Give a warming treat to Christmas

"O Come All Ye Faithful"... "Joy To The World"... "Silent Night." This holiday season, the familiar strains of beautiful Christmas songs will once again drift through the crisp night air as strolling carolers, rekindling a centuries-old tradition, enliven wintry streets and doorsteps with voices joined in song.

It is also a time-honored tradition to offer the bundled-up singers a special treat, in grateful appreciation of their musical efforts. Thaw the icy toes and rosy cheeks of your local carolers

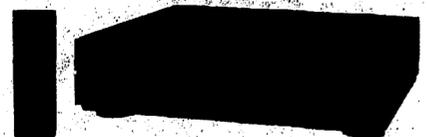

CHRISTMAS COGNAC TRUFFLES FROM THE HOUSE OF Remy Martin

3/4 oz. semi-sweet chocolate
 1 tablespoon milk
 1 tablespoon Remy Martin V.S.O.P. cognac
 A few drops vanilla extract (for rolling)
 3/4 oz. softened butter
 2 egg yolks
 1 tablespoon heavy cream
 1/4 oz. unsweetened cocoa powder
 1 oz. unsweetened cocoa powder (for rolling)
 4/5 oz. confectioner's sugar, sifted

1. Melt the chocolate on very low flame with the milk and cognac.
2. Add the vanilla, butter, egg yolks, heavy cream, cocoa powder and sugar. Mix thoroughly. Allow the resulting paste to sit in the refrigerator for several hours.
3. Remove from refrigerator and, with a spoon and the palm of your hand, roll the chilled mixture into one-inch balls. Roll the balls in the cocoa powder to coat thoroughly.
4. Always keep the truffles refrigerated until ready to serve. They will keep for several days in this manner. Makes about 2 dozen truffles.

WARM THE SPIRITS of this year's Christmas carolling party with a traditional French holiday offering of rich coffee, spirited Remy Martin Cognac and dark, luscious cognac truffles.

MAKE A GRAND ENTRANCE AT THE HOLIDAY PARTY with a stunning cape. The drama and romance of capes proved irresistible to designers for fall, 1991. They're not just opera wear either, but go smartly over suits and sportswear. The houndstooth cape (left) in red, purple, black and white wool is from Bob Mackie. A classic in modern design: Movado® Museum Watch.

It was inspired by the group of international artists who founded the famous Bauhaus School in the mid 1920's.

The famous Museum dial represents the quintessence of the modern design movement. Its stark, dramatic purity has won it a place in the permanent collection of the Museum of Modern Art.

And now, the perfect symmetry of the Museum watch dial is enhanced by an elegant link bracelet, balancing texture and form like a fine piece of sculpture.

Each highly polished link of the bracelet is crafted with the same meticulous attention to detail that goes into the crafting of the case by Movado master artisans in Switzerland.

The Movado Museum Watch is water-resistant and has an electronic quartz movement.

The Movado Museum Watch. A contemporary classic. A timeless timepiece.

For him and for her $795.00.

Employers share in the spirit

Homes aren't the only places where gifts will be exchanged this holiday time. The spirit of the season is apparent at many businesses where gift-giving has become a popular tradition.

According to a recent survey, three-fourths of all businesses who give gifts present at least some of them during Christmas and Hanukkah.

"Holiday gift-giving to customers is an opportunity to build good will and increase awareness of your company name," explains C. Ronald Schwisow, chairman of the board of the Specialty Advertising Association International (SAA International), the trade group of the ad specialty industry.

Results of a study of business gift recipients, conducted by Arizona State University, found that two out of three (67 percent) of those surveyed were more cognizant of the attributes of a company's products or services after receiving a business or executive gift.

"Year after year, business gifts have proven effective in creating a positive customer perception and the likelihood they will contact the giftgiver when the product or service is needed," notes Schwisow.

This year's most popular business gift items are personal items, such as clocks, watches and wearing apparel, or desk items, including pens, pencils and calendars. While there is a world of difference between an imprinted pen and an embroidered sweater, both items can be used by the recipient.

"We're seeing a trend in giving functional, sometimes higher-priced and always quality items," Schwisow says. "The key is to give something that is worthy of being called a 'gift.' Like the personal gift, the business gift is most appreciated when it is thoughtfully chosen and presented with some degree of personalization."

To increase the impact of business gifts, Schwisow suggests subtly imprinting items with your company logo or message. The gift itself also should reflect your company's image.

"Imprinted gifts have a lasting impact after the holiday season has ended," Schwisow says.

In fact, a survey of business people found that eight in 10 (82 percent) of respondents with ad specialty items on their desks indicated they are conscious of the advertiser's name, logo or message on the items. And 98 percent of the respondents stated they appreciate having the items.

Planning is a crucial aspect of a successful gift-giving program, according to Schwisow.

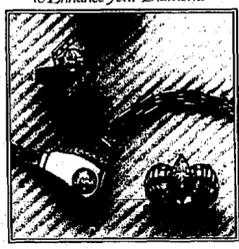

"Business gifts should be used judiciously to be cost-effective and achieve results," Schwisow emphasizes. "The success of the gift-giving program often depends on the vehicle selected and the method in which distribution is handled."

Many corporate executives do not have the time or knowledge to develop a gift program. One solution is to utilize a specialty advertising distributor, a professional who is familiar with the thousands of ad specialty products available and can advise on the best and most cost-effective ways to implement a program.

The best source for identifying distributors is through referral. They also can be found in the telephone book under "Advertising Specialties."
