TWO NABBED HERE ON THEFT CHARGE

Forty-Five Gallons of Oil Arouse Cops' Suspicion

Wanted by Plainfield police on a charge of larceny, Elmer W. Giles, thirty-six, 1489, South 2nd street, Plainfield, and Ernest Stiles, thirty-two, 1511 Springfield avenue, Irvington, were arrested by Patrolman Harold D. Scarles last Friday morning at 9:20 a. m. on Morris Avenue when the officer was attracted to a large, wrapped bundle in the rear of the Cadillac touring car the men were driving in.

After finding 45 gallons of oil and some other articles of the Standard Oil Company, the pair were taken to headquarters. Plainfield police, when notified, told of a service station, managed by Edwin Elliot, in Plainfield, that had been robbed, and the two were taken back to Plainfield by Captain Flynn of that place. It was said that the Standard Oil Company will make a compensation to the owners against the pair.

Who's Who In Springfield

EDWARD C. TOWNELY

Fire Commissioner and Former Township Clerk for Sixteen Years.

Having served as Township Clerk for sixteen years, from 1911 to 1926, and acting now as a member of the Board of Fire Commissioners, Edward C. Townley is well acquainted with the legislative functions of Springfield.

He was born in Union in 1877 of an old family which dates back to the days of Captain John Smith.

In fact, a certain section of Union Township is named after Mr. Townley's father, the Townley district.

He was educated in the schools here and after taking a business course in Newark, entered the insurance line.

After working in this profession for several years, Mr. Townley obtained employment with the D. L. & W. Railroad Company of New York in the coal division in 1901.

In 1909 when the coal division was made a separate company, he was made a member of the engineering department, and is still on the company's force as a combustive engineer.

When Olin D. Sickley resigned as township clerk in 1911, Mr. Townley was appointed to fill out the unexpired term, and that fall, he was elected Township Clerk. He was re-elected each three-year term until 1926 when he declined the opportunity of running again for the position, and in the election held that fall, he was succeeded by the present clerk, Robert D. Treat.

He is a charter member of the Springfield Fire Company, and served one year as chief. Several years after the Board of Fire Commissioners was organized, Mr. Townley was elected a member, and is still serving. He is now vice-president of that body.

Mr. Townley is also vice-president of the Firemen's Relief Association, organized under State law for the purpose of protecting volunteer firemen.

He is married, has three children, Edward, Townley, Jr., Edna, and Marjorie, and resides at 48 Short Hills Avenue.

SCHOOL BUDGET SHOWS DECREASE FROM LAST YEAR

1930-1931 Figures, Approved
By Board, Total $128,300,
Compared With $128,400

$89,150 TO BE RAISED BY LOCAL TAXATION

The 1930-1931 school budget which was passed by the Board of Education Tuesday night shows a decrease of $100 over the previous year. The 1929-1930 budget was $128,400, while this year it is $128,300.

This is brought about by several factors, first, that the money received from the State funds will be more than last year, that a balance of $19,250 is left from last year's budget, and that a provision was made in the 1929-1930 budget for three teachers, but conditions did not warrant three additional classrooms, says District Clerk William Hoppough.

Most of the amounts for the different departments remain about the same, with slight differences. The totals of the budget compared with last year are as follows:

Current expenses, 1929-1930, $90,000; 1930-1931, $93,000; increase, $3,000.

Manual Training, 1929-1930, $4,300; 1930-1931, $4,200; decrease, $100.

Repairs and Replacements, 1929-1930, $8,000; 1930-1931, $10,900; increase, $2,900.

Land, buildings, equipment, 1929-1930, $4,100; 1930-1931, $1,600, decrease, $2,500.

The sum to be raised by taxation is $89,150, which includes $18,100 interest on school bonds and notes, previously authorized. The corresponding figures for the 1929-1930 budget to be raised by taxation were $93,850, of which the school bonds, notes and interest were $20,700, leaving a sum of $73,850 to be approved by voters against $71,050 last year. The decrease amount to be raised by taxation this year is therefore $2,100 less than the year before.

TOWN RATABLES JUMP $209,341

Figures For 1930 Show Total of $5,370,454

Springfield's tax ratables this year exceeded by $209,341 those of 1929, according to figures filed with the county by Clerk of the Board of Tax Assessors Frank E. Meisel.

This year's net total, which will be used in the computation of the 1930 tax rate is $5,370,454 as compared with last year's mark of $5,161,113. The valuations are made up as follows:

1930

Land $2,110,055

Improvements $2,845,950

Personal Property $ 544,825

2d Class R.R. property $ 6,224

Total $5,507,054

From this may be deducted the following exemptions:

Household Property $ 87,500

Soldiers' and Sailors' $ 49,100

Total $ 136,600

The net total for 1930 is therefore $5,370,454.

The corresponding figures for last year are as follows:

1929

Land $2,086,189

Improvements $2,660,150

Personal Property $ 532,100

2d Class R.R. property $ 6,224

Total $5,284,663

Less the following exemptions:

Household Property $ 79,300

Soldiers' and Sailors' $ 44,250

Total $ 123,550

The net total for 1929 is $5,161,113.

Increases

The increases of this year over last year are summarized as follows:

Land $ 23,866

Improvements $ 185,800

Personal Property $ 12,725

Gross increase $ 222,391

Household Property $ 8,200

Soldiers' and Sailors' $ 4,850

To Our Water Consumers--

The Commonwealth Water Company has recently completed a major improvement program, which now places at the disposal of the territory served a DAILY WATER SUPPLY OF 20,000,000 GALLONS, when fully developed, against an average present daily DEMAND OF 9,000,000 GALLONS. We summarize below these projects in the belief that everyone in this territory is vitally interested in information regarding their most necessary public service and in the provision we have made to take care of the present needs and future requirements of our customers in this rapidly expanding community.

The Commonwealth Water Company has constructed and recently placed in service a 700,000,000 gallon reservoir, designed to impound the flood waters of Canoe Brook. In connection with this reservoir, the Company has built complete purification works of the most modern type to provide for the filtration and sterilization of this impounded supply. The water from this new source will be mixed with the well supply. This will result in a much SOFT-ER WATER, as the impounded water carries less hardness than the supply from the present Well Fields

The Commonwealth Water Company has also recently acquired the Short Hills Water Company, which has a potential well field capacity of 5,000,000 gallons per day. This new source will be developed as rapidly as the demands of the territory require.

Never in its forty years of service has the Commonwealth Water Company been in A BETTER POSITION TO SERVE ITS CUSTOMERS THAN IT IS TODAY. Although recent expenditures for additional water supply have totaled several million dollars, this sum has been put in the property in the firm belief that the increasing population justifies such an expenditure. The completion of this water supply expansion program not only provides for future requirements, but also assures the entire territory served a pure, tasteless and odorless supply of water which will not be excelled by any other public water supply in Northern New Jersey.

THE WAY OF PROGRESS

To the onlooker of the human show, there appears to be much going forward and retracing, much fumbling and paradox in the way men go about things. Accomplishments are arrived at gropingly. New ideals, new conceptions of living are approached with hesitation, with a timorous clinging to the old, whose efficacy is doubted, but to which people, nevertheless, hold on with something of desperation.

The forward movement of people is inscribed in history. Any advance recorded there seldom appears as proceeding in a direct line. The procession is like that of a pendulum, backward and forward, with the advance a little greater than the recession, so that over the stretch of years, sometimes centuries, a gain is noted. That is the way progress has been made in all forms of human living. That is the method in government, education, science, even religion. None of the dominating religions of today resemble their original appearance. Ideas have been lopped off, new ideas added, and the element of revision has crept in.

It is inevitable from our makeup, and the roots of our mental and physical being that we must proceed into the future with caution, that we press into the future carrying the past with us, and releasing the past with difficulty. If we could thrust ourselves into the future like the goddess Minerva, full grown with matured wisdom on the instant, then we could at one sweep abandon the past, and always assume the future with assurance. But the future is dim and indiscernible. It is penetrated only scantly by knowledge, and is stormed chiefly by courage and faith.

There is a reason for the stubborn attachment to the past and what exists. We draw our sustenance out of the past. We are built out of it. Long before we get conscious ideas, we have been fed and nursed out of things from the past, out of established systems trained in body and thought along set routes, until they become habitual with us. The very shapes of our ideas, the words of language, are not of our making, but are ready made for us, with definite meanings, tending to fixed forms of thought.

We imagine we live our lives consciously. But an enormous part is already determined, and goes on automatically. There might be comparison to the iceberg. It is judged by what we see of it. But the preponderant mass is under water unseen.

The wonder is not that we progress into change slowly, but that considering the tight hold which the past has on us, we are ever able to break loose from it at all. There is no transcending the limits nature sets for our development. The ardent advocate of change will have to resign himself to the provoking, but nevertheless, sure means of a progress obtained by futile fits and starts, by timid oscillation between the old and the new.

Rambling Around
SPRINGFIELD

The list of tax ratables recently released by the Board of Tax Assessors shows an increase of more than $200,000. Springfield's total is mounting up each year. No doubt the completion of the sewers will help increase it much more next year.

"Patience is a virtue," was the saying quoted years ago by famous Greek philosophers. And right here in Springfield, we may repeat. "Action is greater than words." Several weeks ago at the meeting of the Township Committee, when complaints had been made of the condition of the streets due to the sewer excavations, the petitioners were told that everything would be repaired and left in its original condition. Then bad, damp weather came along and hindered everything. Still when conditions became favorable, the sewer contractors arranged everything and only last week the sewer committee of the township governing body were satisfied that everything possible had been done to renovate the streets and leave them in a condition for automobiles and trucks to pass.

While bemoaning in a philosophic mood we might add that another quoted ditty, "If at first you don't succeed, try, try again," was also born in the great minds of the old-time Greeks. In ultra-modern years, it revolutionized into, "Don't give up the ship." Last Thursday the local Lackawanna League bowlers, after losing three games to Millburn the week previous, turned about and took revenge on the Morristown B team on the home alleys and captured three games.

Several progressive residents in town have been discussing the possibility of having a public library right here in Springfield. No doubt there are many who would help to contribute to such a worthy cause. One man, who is a former resident of Springfield, and who owns considerable property here, has volunteered to donate a plot of ground opposite the Municipal Building, provided the Township will erect a building for library purposes.

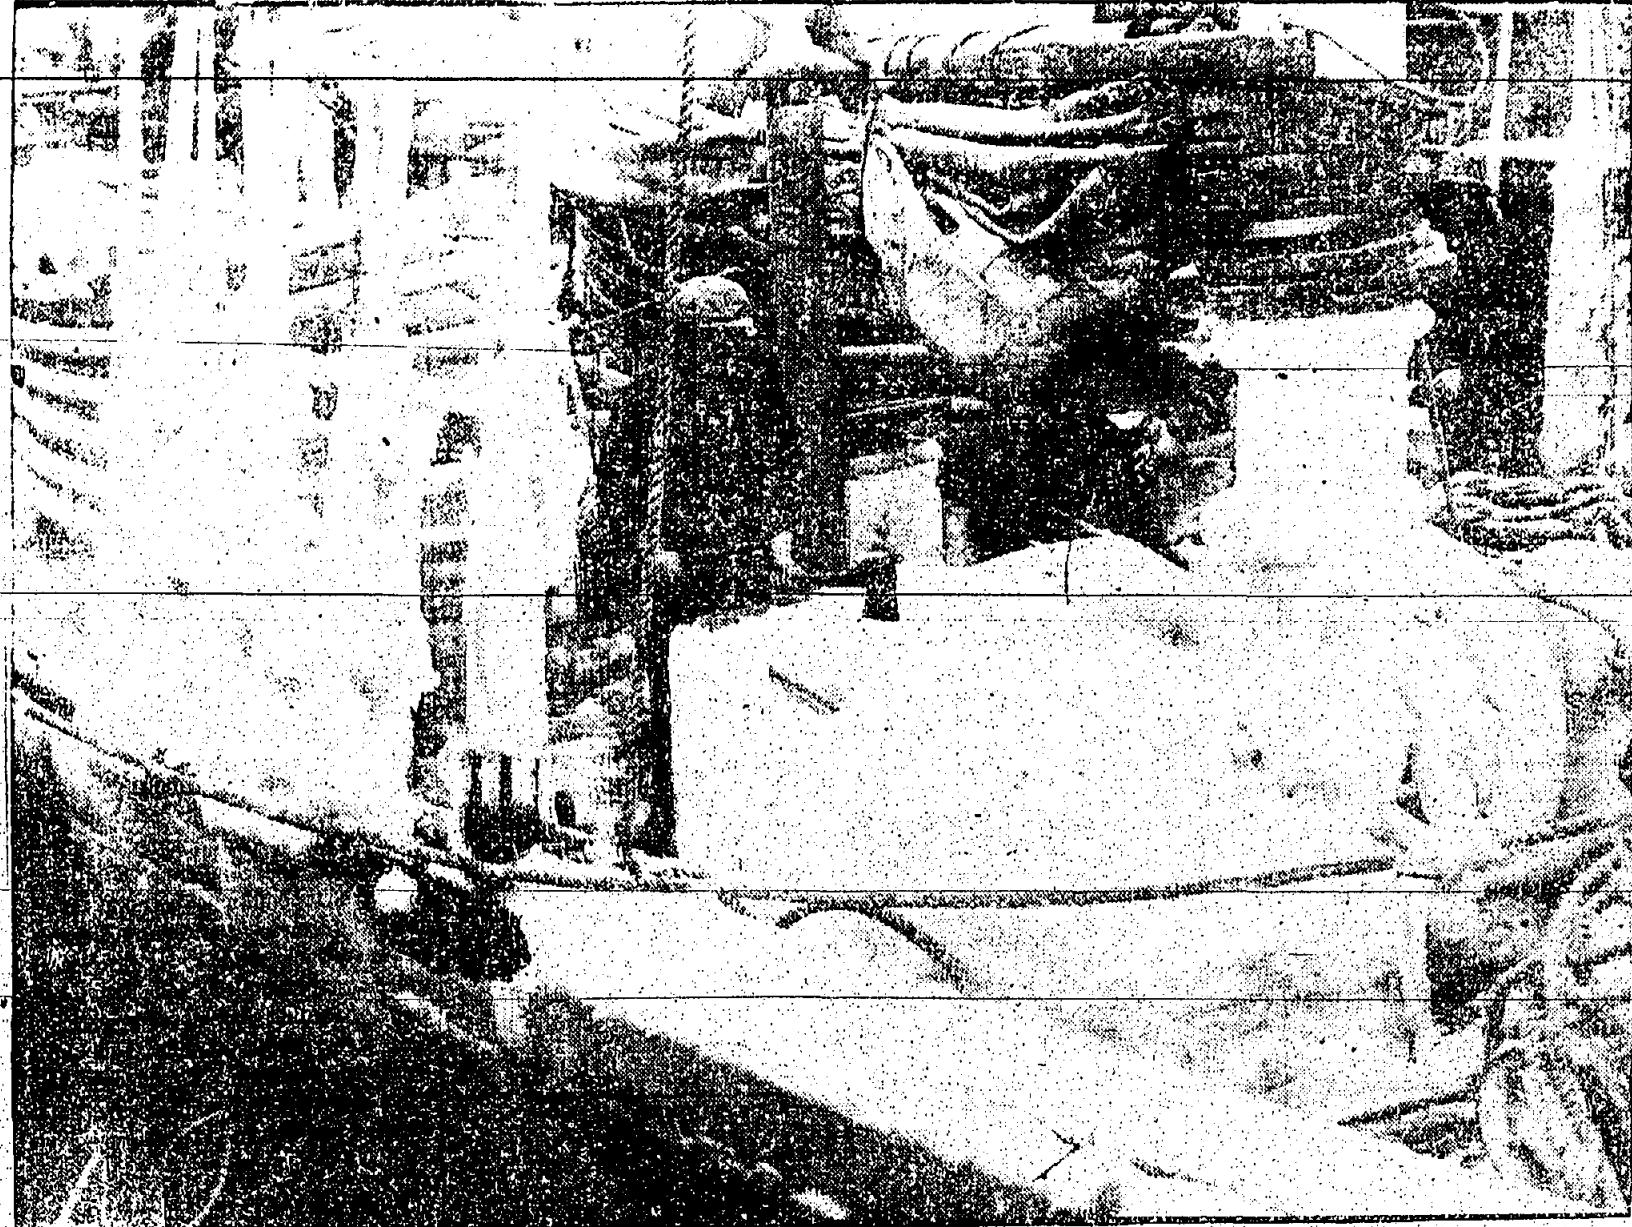

Local taxpayers will be glad to hear that the school budget as passed by the Board of Education Tuesday night is $100 less than the year before. Instead of $128,400 for the 1929-1930 budget, the total is $128,300. Although the program of the schools is being increased, the reason given for the apparent decrease is that the budget of 1929-1930 shows an estimated surplus of $19,250 by July 1, the beginning of the school year; that the 1929-1930 budget provided for three teachers and the formation of three new classrooms to accommodate the increasing number of pupils, and that conditions did not warrant three classrooms, leaving that money for other purposes; and lastly, that the amount received from the State Funds for appropriation to schools exceeded the Board of Education's figures. Voters at the election February 11 will be asked to approve the budget, of which $89,150 is to be raised by taxation while the year before the amount raised by taxation was $93,850.

AT THE STRAND

A talking, singing, dancing musical comedy sensation produced on a lavish scale with an all-star cast opened at the Roth-Strand Theatre, Summit, this week, Friday and Saturday. It is "Broadway Scandals," a Columbia production with Sally O'Neil, Jack Egan, Carmel Myers and Doris Dawson. Infectious song hits, comedy, gorgeous costumes, and wonderful dancing make this picture a joy to the ear and the eye. The love romance behind this carnival of dance and song will grip you with its beauty and tenderness.

"Our Gang" in "Bouncing Babies" is the all-talking comedy booked at the Roth-Strand for Friday and Saturday of this week.

"Friendship," a two-act tabloid drama from the pen of Eugene Walter, is an associate screen of Romance," this Saturday's matinee special at the Strand, Summit Theatre.

All is not gold that glitters and being a leading man like Joan Crawford has its penalties. At least Robert Montgomery had to pay for the privilege, and heavily, in Miss Crawford's first all-talking starring vehicle, "Untamed," at Roth-Strand next Monday and Tuesday.

Laurel and Hardy lead the short subject unit of next Monday and Tuesday's scheme of entertainment. Their contribution will be the two-reel all-talking comedy, "They Go Boom," Hollywood, as pictured by a current issue of Screen Snap Snoots, and the latest release of Pathé's sound news completes the bill.

Bessie Love, Mary Doran, Jed Prouty, Raymond Hackett and Ford Sterling make up the unusually strong quintet of featured players in "The Girl in the Show," the all-talking picture to be at the Strand, Summit next Wednesday and Thursday. The first three are direct from M-G-M's tremendous success, "The Broadway Melody." Raymond Hackett has just scored in "Madame X" and "The Trial of Mary Dugan" and Ford Sterling—well everyone knows this fun-maker!

A brand new program every day. What do you want to hear 'em play? A song? A dance? or bit o' news? Take it or leave it as you choose. Get a set with the right selectivity and you can vary your program to suit your mood. Dependability is the one thing that you need in a receiver. WATER CO. HEAD TELLS OF PLANS

W. I. McMane of Commonwealth Issues Public Statement

"We have never been in a better position to take care of the growing demands for water in the territory supplied than we are today," said W. I. McMane, vice-president of the Commonwealth Water Company. "With the completion of projects now under way, we will be able to furnish to our consumers in excess of twenty million gallons of water per day against a present consumption of approximately nine million gallons. As far back as 1927 we started making plans for greatly enlarging the capacity of the Commonwealth Water Company. We have just completed a new reservoir with a capacity of seven hundred million gallons, which is designed to impound the flood water of Canoe Brook.

"The impounded water, after complete purification, will be so added to the present well water supply as to make the water furnished to our customers somewhat softer in quality than we have been able to furnish in the past. This new source of supply will augment and be mixed with the present well supply. In addition to this large development, we recently purchased the Short Hills Water Company, which has a well field capable of developing approximately five million gallons per day.

"There is no cause for concern with regard to the present or future water supply," Mr. McMane continued. "In fact, Commonwealth Water Company has never been more ahead of demand and more capable of furnishing water to take care of future requirements than it is at the present time; and we have been serving this territory for more than forty years."

"I would like to point out, at this time, that during the extraordinary drought of last summer and early fall we were always able to take care of the demands of all the territory which we serve. As many people know, this was not the case in many other North Jersey communities, where stringent curtailment had to be effected in order to eke out the dwindling reserve supplies of water."

"The developments which I have described represent an expenditure on the part of the Commonwealth Water Company of several million dollars."

Commenting on the slight taste in the water, which has occurred recently, Mr. McMane said that this was due to a temporary condition in adjusting purification processes to the mingled supply, which condition is being entirely eliminated, and our customers can be assured of an adequate supply of pure, tasteless, and odorless, soft water, unequalled by any public water supply in northern New Jersey.
