Rambling
Around
Town

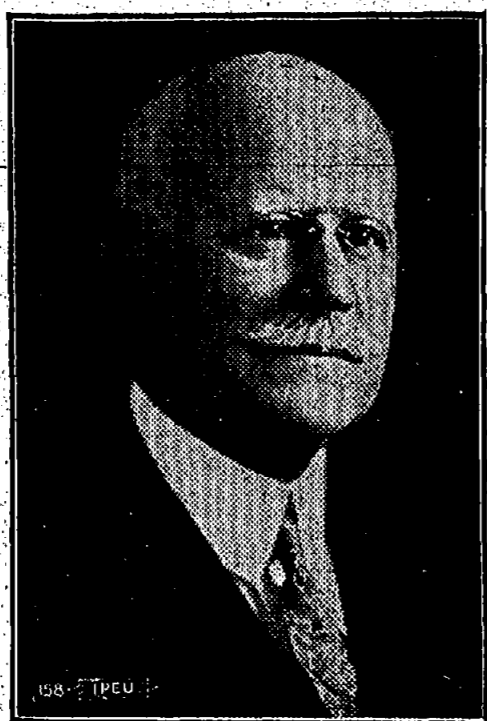

THE TIME HAS BEEN REACHED when Springfield policemen will present themselves on local thoroughfares in neat and natty uniforms the entire year round. . . we understand that new wearing apparel of blue in both winter as well as spring seasons is to be the fashion. . . with the new police car and now uniforms the coppers will make a fine appearance. . . The conversation heard in a hardware store near the post office as the first speaker murmurs, "Those canaries certainly feel happy by their singing" . . . and the answer was to the point, "Well, you'd feel happy, too, if you had your feed thrown into your cage when you were hungry" . . . It has been mentioned from a source which cannot be treated as too reliable that the managers of Larchmont Estate, now in Union, would relish being situated in Springfield and that if the section is annexed to our township, it would cover that area from Burnett avenue in Union . . . it seems the Larchmont Estate developers would prefer the name of Springfield to that of Union. . . it is to be recalled that the colonial atmosphere attached to the development actually concerns this township since Union at the time of the Revolution was in Springfield. . . it may not come to pass but the Rambling Reporter passes it on. . . a certain member of the Township Committee has a habit, unconscious perhaps to himself, of talking in a whisper. . . he may be able to accomplish a bit more by speaking in public session, just a trifle louder, not too boastful, of course. . . the significance of local growth is reflected in that the number of daily newspapers covering local happenings of all sources has increased within the past month. . . in normal times the Red Cross are responsible for more relief in Springfield than any other welfare groups we can name. . . in these present conditions, their activity is increased at least ten-fold, especially on the eve of a predicted "bad" winter. . . we urge residents to contribute, not in large numbers, but in what they may afford, when the local chapter commences its annual Roll Call on November 11. . . "It's what you give from the heart that counts"

Local Police Assist Newark Authorities to Find 8-Year Old Girl

Definite guilt of the kidnapping of eight-year old Anna Kleinhandler from in front of her parents' store at 26 Avon place and her subsequent discovery in the woods of Springfield, has not been entirely placed by Newark police upon Samuel Morris, 30, of 173 Spruce street, Newark, held as a suspect.

The child was found here Monday morning at 5:30, suffering from slight penknife wounds in the neck and over the heart, but otherwise unhurt. Two hours after she had been taken to Springfield headquarters by Eugene Murphy, helper at the Moschuts farm in Shunpike road, where she had been found, detectives arrested Morris as a suspect at a factory in Frelinghuysen avenue when he appeared for work after an all-night absence from his home.

The girl and Michael Rossell of 67 Smith street, Newark, a taxi cab driver, identified Morris immediately after seeing him as the man who drove to Springfield with the girl. At first, the girl denied Morris was the man.

From inside sources, higher police officials in Newark declare Morris to be the guilty kidnapper, but certain evidence points toward doubt, a theory adhered to by other authorities working on the case.

The girl told police the abductor had alcohol on his breath, but Morris when examined, was found to be perfectly sober. The effects of liquor, it is reported, would have been noticeable, even five or six hours after the time of the kidnapping.

The suspect denied implication, but Newark detectives doubt his story that he spent the night in a coffee house. It is reported two affidavits have been taken from persons in the coffee house that Morris was not there all night.

The man has no criminal record. Police

Final Hearing Postponed As Act Is Referred to Law and Order Committee

Opposition to the powers vested in the chairman of the Township Committee toward appointing members of the proposed planning and zoning board, resulted in action of the Governing Body Monday to hold over a hearing on an ordinance authorizing the said board. It will be considered by the law and order committee for changes before being acted upon.

Committeeman Lewis F. Macartney, who was absent from the meeting at which the ordinance was introduced several weeks ago, objected when the ordinance was read and suggested that the entire Township Committee be empowered to select the members of the group. He declared that the planning and zoning board was a powerful body according to state laws and felt the matter should be carefully decided before placed into effect.

All members of the board and several representatives of the Taxpayers' Association present expressed approval of the ordinance to set up zoning restrictions. A sum of $800 has been appropriated to carry out the work and Committeeman Alfred G. Trundle explained this would cover expenses of zoning experts who would make recommendations to the planning board. A motion was passed approving the $20,000,000 relief diversion referendum to be decided at the general election.

Charles S. Cannon, chairman of the Township Committee, told the committee it would be disastrous to Springfield if the plan is not adopted.

"We should go on record in favor of the movement and give it utmost publicity," he said. "We are one of the few municipalities receiving 100 per cent relief." He added, "Springfield will not decide the issue, but we should take some step."

A tax anticipation note of $5,000 to meet current expenses, was authorized. It will bear interest at the rate of six per cent.

say he quarreled with the child's mother last Friday when she refused to cash a $20 check and he declared "he would make her sorry."

Newark detectives were in town yesterday, checking over clues in the vicinity of the Baltusrol Golf Club, the scene of the attack.

Clever detective work resulted in finding Rosell had driven his passengers to Springfield and, through him, police were able to direct the search there. He took detectives as far as the home of Harry Anderson at 130 Mountain avenue and said he had dropped the man and child there. The detectives awakened Anderson, who said his son-in-law, William Colby, who lives with him had seen the couple leave the cab. Colby told of watching the man and said he had walked up a sidewalk to the house while the cab was leaving. As soon as the cab disappeared, Colby said, the man, holding the child by the hand, walked away in the direction of Shunpike road.

Joined by Patrolman Selander and Phillips of Springfield, and Anderson and Colby, the detectives began a search of the neighborhood. They walked a quarter of a mile to the golf course.

Flashing lights across the course and into the brush surrounding it the party searched for the child. The detectives believe their lights may have frightened the kidnaper. When a half hour's search proved futile, the Newark police returned here, intending to wait until day-light and resume the hunt with a larger force.

The girl said it was just beginning to get light when she opened her eyes and found herself lying on the damp ground in a clump of bushes. Her captor, she said, was walking rapidly away. She walked across the golf course to the farm, where Murphy discovered her and took her to the police station. Identification of Morris followed.

Favor Hobart Act Retention

The referendum of the Hobart Enforcement Act was the principal topic of discussion at the monthly meeting of the W. C. T. U. Tuesday afternoon at the home of Mrs. Fred A. Brown of 28 Washington avenue.

All members present read or spoke on current events favoring the referendum and brought out the following points: total cost of enforcement now five cents a person yearly is exceeded by the fees and fines collected; money spent for booze wouldn't buy shoes; a million dollars invested in a brewery would employ seventy-eight men; a million dollars invested in other industry would employ 318 workers; money spent for liquor wouldn't buy bread and milk so that little children go hungry and soon our taxpayers' money must go to orphan's homes and institutions to care for the deprived ones and for alcoholic wards and cures which are about extinct and may return.

Mrs. Edwin D. Pannell, president of the local union, left yesterday morning to attend the state convention in Bridgeton, which is being held from yesterday afternoon until next Monday.

The following have been named officers in a newly formed Junior Young People's Branch: president, Violet Hamilton; vice-president, Carl Bergman; recording secretary, Frances Funcheson and treasurer, Robina Jelley. The branch will hold a Hallowe'en party on Friday evening, November 4, at the home of Miss Emilie L. Stone of Old Short Hills road, Millburn. Prizes will be given for the most unique and most beautiful costumes.

not being used in the school because the domestic science course was eliminated this year from the curriculum, from motives of economy.

The first unit to do any sewing was the group from the Presbyterian Church, under the chairmanship of Mrs. William Richardson. They met at headquarters yesterday and completed garments which had previously been cut out. However, the large Red Cross banner hanging inside the store was made on one of the machines on Wednesday by Mrs. Charles D. Horster, branch chairman, who states that during the sewing program, a supply of Red Cross flags of all sizes will be made for display purposes. Government cloth is given out on Wednesday only, on application made the week before.

The distribution of used garments on Mondays, Wednesdays and Fridays, between 2 and 4 o'clock in the afternoon, continues. Through Lewis F. Macartney, relief director, Mrs. Charles G. Nelson, president of the Parent-Teacher Association, has obtained from the membership of the association, three chairmen who are serving on the three days, Mrs. Percy T. Hammonds on Monday; Mrs. Fred Nessman on Wednesday and Mrs. E. M. Cunningham on Friday. Each has a committee of women who stand ready to assist.

Mrs. A. Palmer Brill, Chairman of the Red Cross Nursing Activities Committee, states that Mrs. Belle Wagner, Supervisor of Red Cross Nursing, who visited the clinic at Springfield Square last Friday, was much pleased with the service rendered for the welfare of the babies and was impressed by their well-being.

A Roll Call Rally will be held in the office of the nurse in the Town Hall next Friday, November 4, at 2:30 o'clock, at which Mrs. Hattie Doerries, chairman of Roll Call, will preside. A short business meeting of the executive committee will be held preceding the rally as the regular meeting day falls on Election Day. O. S. Lund, Red Cross Field Representative for New Jersey, and Mrs. L. E. Tideman, Newark Chapter Executive Secretary, will be present and answer questions which the local volunteer workers may wish to ask. The Junior Red Cross will assist in the Roll Call by distributing posters.

3,000,000 FAMILIES HELPED BY RED CROSS

Distress in All Areas Met by Giving Food, Clothing and Other Aid.

More than 3,000,000 families throughout the nation were given relief of various types by the American Red Cross in the past winter, to aid them in their distress caused by unemployment, disaster or other misfortune.

A major relief task, due to unemployment and other unusual conditions in the bituminous mining counties in twenty states, was met by the Red Cross chapters alone, or participating with other agencies. In these 143 counties, the Red Cross aided 90,000 families through giving groceries, school lunches, clothing, flour and other necessities to combat privation.

Flour, milled from government wheat turned over to the Red Cross by Congress, was given to 15,000,000 persons in the period from March 8 to June 30, the close of the fiscal year. Flour will continue to be given through the winter of 1932-33, and Red Cross chapters also will give cotton clothing, made from government cotton turned over to the Red Cross for distribution.

"The Red Cross faces the busiest winter since the days of the World War," Chairman John Barton Payne said. "It is organized in virtually every one of the 3,072 counties in the United States, and will co-operate with all agencies to meet distress wherever found. The flour has proved of great benefit, and the cotton clothing will be given wide distribution."

While carrying on nation-wide these unemployment and other relief measures, the Red Cross also was engaged in its regular peace-time activities in public health nursing, service to ex-service men and their families, teaching home hygiene, life saving and first aid. The Junior Red Cross, composed of almost 7,000,000 school children, also rallied to the support of the society's relief efforts, and the children aided others of their age in practical ways, formed sewing and food canning classes, and were of great assistance in chapter relief work.

While the wheat and cotton were given by the U. S. Government, no money was provided to pay for the necessary work entailed. The Red Cross will meet this expense of almost $500,000 from its treasury. Citizens can aid by joining as members of the local Red Cross chapter during the roll call from Armistice Day to Thanksgiving Day.

Clothes for the Needy

Women volunteers sewing for the needy under direction of the Red Cross produced 296,000 garments last year, and will produce millions of garments in the winter of 1932-33. These will be from the millions of yards of cotton cloth distributed by the national Red Cross from the 500,000 bales of cotton turned over to the organization by Congress. Cloth was sent to all chapters requesting it, and later it was proposed to send some simple ready-made garments, including trousers, overalls, underwear, stockings and so on.

Huge Task of Nurses

Red Cross public health nurses, who work in hundreds of communities, are meeting the greatest demands in history for their services, due to the depression. Visits in maternity cases, protecting the health of infants and children, and aiding mothers in distress due to unemployment of the bread-winners have taken them into thousands of homes. The nurses made 57,000 visits to or on behalf of individuals, and inspected 949,000 school children. More than 58,000 adults were instructed in home hygiene and care of the sick.

Moisture

It seems almost impossible, yet it is a fact, that a large sunflower plant will give off from its leaves one pint of water in one day.

SCOUTS NEAR GOAL IN FUND CAMPAIGN

A total of $225 out of the $300 goal has been collected in the local Boy Scout drive for funds, Clarence W. Gillis, chairman, reported today. The quota is expected to be reached, and the chairman wishes to express his thanks to the public and committee assisting.

Military Funerals

For a military funeral, officer's escort consists of the band, the body bearers, firing party and trumpeter. The size of the escort is in accordance with the rank of the officer. The escort of enlisted men consists of body bearers, firing party and trumpeter. The vehicle which carries the casket is the caisson. The casket is draped with a flag whenever one is available.

Teachers and Exercise

Teachers might be able to avoid many of their ailments if they would take more exercise. A survey made by Frances Ross Hicks and reported in Hygeia, the Health Magazine, shows that nearly 63 per cent of 602 teachers take no daily exercise other than that required in going to school. Nearly half of the 602 state that they ride to school.

Difference in Almonds

Almonds are of two kinds—bitter and sweet. The bitter almond is cultivated to a limited extent in Mediterranean countries, and the nuts are used in the manufacture of flavoring extracts and of prussic acid. The sweet, or edible, almond is grown on a commercial scale in the south of Europe, in California and in some other countries.

NEW OFFICERS INSTALLED BY LEGION POST

High Legion Man Officiates,
Glutting Succeeds Rose
As Commander

TOWN OFFICIALS ARE PRESENT

One of the outstanding events of the year for the Connecticut Farms Post, No. 35, American Legion, took place at Legion Hall Thursday night with the installation of new officers by Theodore R. Crichton, of Hackensack, Past State Commander and member of the national executive committee.

George Glutting of Springfield was installed as commander, succeeding Al Rose. Other officers installed were: Senior vice-commander, William Bauer, Jr.; junior vice-commander, Arthur Grabau, of Summit; chaplain, Frederick Stewart; sergeant-at-arms, Fred Jansen; and historian, Edwin Fennelly, Jansen, who has been ill, was unable to attend.

The ritual team presented the Ten O'clock Ritual. After the meeting refreshments were served. Presentations included a silver bell given by former commander Rose to the post; a past commander's star to A. F. Rose; past adjutant's insignia from Rose to his adjutant, Homer Butler.

Commander Glutting promised the Township Committeeman present that relief work will be the center of the post's program during the year. Chairman Max A. Schoenwalder, of the Township Committee, congratulated the post on its civic activities and on the appearance made by the bugle and drum corps.

Riding Academy Owner Is Fined

Edward Brown of 745 Valley street, Maplewood, owner of the Maplewood Riding Academy, was fined $20 and $2 costs Monday night by Recorder Maurice A. Scotch in Police Court, on a charge of cruelty to animals, brought by Fred S. Eckert, agent for the S. P. C. A.

Brown, it was charged, allowed three horses to be ridden from his table with raw sores under the saddles. Similar charges brought against the three riders last week were dismissed because of lack of proof they knew the horses were sore.

Recorder Scotch asked Brown how many times he had been arranged before for the same offense. Brown admitted there had been two or three complaints.

"Your failure to use cut-out pads," said the court "constitutes lack of care, and inflicts pain upon the animals. If there were any way you could be put out of business for a repetition of this offense I certainly would take it up with the Township Committee."

Joseph Tishler of 106 Ridgewood avenue, Newark, was fined $10 for driving a horse with sores on its neck, back and rump. Charges of allowing the horse to be driven

Book on Colonial Architecture to Relate Springfield History

Springfield colonial history will be contained in a proposed book on Colonial architecture of New Jersey through co-operation of the Free Public Library Association with Herbert T. Turner of 74 Wilder street, Elizabeth, editor of the volume.

An inquiry to the Township Committee Monday night from the author was referred to the library group. Mr. Turner plans to use the book among architects and builders throughout the state, with brief sketches of each town and building represented.

Credit will be given in the text for assistance offered by residents who furnish information and use of photographs. Mr. Turner desires photographs of old buildings, particularly farm houses and churches.

The Library Association is expected to suggest a local representative, to handle details in assisting Mr. Turner. Meanwhile, readers who are interested in providing aid, may communicate with Mr. Turner.

Dear Sir:

At a meeting of the Board of Directors of the Union County Taxpayers Association, held on October 20th, 1932, a resolution was adopted commending County Treasurer N. R. Leavitt for his recent letter to department heads of the Board of Freeholders, which letter was mentioned in the newspapers throughout the county.

Mr. Leavitt, in the letter to which we refer, declared that drastic economy is necessary in creating the new budget and also requested cooperation on the part of the department heads in having definite appropriations shaved to the minimum.

We not only commend Mr. Leavitt for his action, but we also wish to express appreciation to all members of the Board of Chosen Freeholders for the evident fact that an attempt is being made to follow out the assurance given last year to representatives of this association in regard to the 1933 budget.

We realize that the problem of reducing the county budget will require real cooperation on the part of all concerned, in order to cut costs without destroying permanent values or employee morale in public service. The Board of Directors of the Association sincerely believes that real results can be accomplished and pledges its best efforts to the public welfare.

In line with the thought expressed in the foregoing paragraph, we have appointed a committee of six, consisting of Messrs. H. C. Davis, C. F. Manchon, W. A. Kirk, C. H. Stein, C. F. Stout and L. J. Zehnbauser, to cooperate with the Board of Freeholders in the study of the 1933 budget.

The above mentioned committee is ready to confer with you in regard to the proposed budget, and respectfully await an early reply advising us of the time and place you would have our committee meet with you.

Very truly yours,
H. G. ELWELL, President,
Union County Taxpayers Association.

One thing is sure, Springfield is on the map as our Trenton friends think. In a recent issue of the official organ of the N. J. League of Municipalities our library is mentioned with Newark in an article about what libraries are doing for towns. Surely this is something for which residents should be proud.

In our juvenile department we are adding regularly many desirable books so much so that we now have to use the top of the lower bookcase to keep the overflow from the shelves. The importance of this department can well be appraised in the knowledge that a large proportion of our circulation is for those fourteen years of age and under.

The "Oz" books, fourteen of them, are very popular for there are seldom more than five on the shelves at any one time. Then our set of books by Madeline Branda, telling in single language of child life in various countries, is almost as popular.

John Martin has a book, also loved by the little readers. In the Boy Scout series and the Girl Scout series are to be found many well written, interesting and exciting tales to entertain older children.

Six new volumes of Burgess animal stories have been placed on the shelves and replacement of rebound volumes are now coming in regularly.

Of course, there are reference books, biographies, encyclopaedia and such non-fiction available for school children at any time.

Now that the season has changed to rocking chair and fireplace days and evenings, the entertaining story book is coming into its own. It doesn't have to be a new story or author either, for some writers last a long time because their work is good.

F. Hopkinson Smith has a way about him which makes his tales always interesting. "Tom Grogan" is one of our later additions to the free shelves. Back in 1925 Martna Ostenson wrote "Wild Geese." We have it and the proof of its popularity is the record in the rear of the book of the many times it has been borrowed.

"Rogue Herries" is one of Hugh Walpole's best works. It is a study of old English life before the recollection of those living now.

Of the newer books on the free shelf we have "All Kneeling" by Anne Parrish. This is considered by some as a fine piece of work and others are outspoken in criticism. It's in the way one looks at literature that judges its reputation.

On our pay shelf the committee has added "Inheritance" by Phyllis Bentley. This is an unusually popular book. "Smith" by Warwick Deeping, is another addition this past week. Deeping writes with considerable insight and his characters are truly drawn.

Election Causes Change in Bowling League Date

Due to Election Day falling on the night of matches in the Municipal Bowling League November 8, contests scheduled for that night will be held the next evening, Wednesday, November 9.

Three advisors to each patrol have been named as follows: new patrol, Robert Briggs; Owl, Rochford Ern, and Cuckoo, Edward Phillips. A fourth advisor will be named later. Officers in the troop have asked for a volunteer for troop cheers and song leader. Come, ye with lusty voices, and submit your names.—THE NEWS SCOUT.

It's a Boy

A seven and a half pound boy was born Thursday of last week in Orange Memorial Hospital to Township Committeeman and Mrs. Alfred G. Trundle of Perry place. The child has been named Donald Robert.

The Springfield Football Club maintained its clean slate of winning three straight games and keeping its goal line unscored upon by defeating the fighting Irvington Senators at Flemer Oval last Sunday, 8-0.

Thus far, the locals have defeated the Maple A. C. of Newark, the Belleville Clintons and the Irvington eleven. They will meet the Chatham F. C. next Sunday at 2:30 o'clock.

Coach Ed Ruby's boys started in the first quarter to give the appearance of a runaway when a Springfield man recovered a fumble on the visitors' one foot-line. Four plunges failed to score, however, as the Camptowners kicked out of danger.

A thirty-yard pass in the second quarter from Byron to Klein over the goal line resulted in the first score and in the third quarter, Bartoli, local left tackle, came through to pick up a blocked kick in the Railway River branch adjoining the field, where the ball had rolled, to score a safety. The field was wet and the ball was slippery. Kenneth Niebuhr, crack backfield star of the locals, suffered a wrenched knee and will be out for the season, it is believed.
