Rambling Around Town

DIRECTION SIGNS INDICATING the location of the Chateau Baltusrol greeted the eyes of curious spectators Monday morning after news had spread around that the popular roadhouse burned to the ground early that morning. A marker about a gasoline station at Mountain and Tooker avenues points an arrow west in Tooker avenue and further still, at the intersection of Bryant avenue and Shunpike road, a second sign directs one to the left.

former Scoutmaster Grenville A. Day of Troop 66, present deputy commissioner, who was named as plumbing examiner by the Board of Health last week, is as industrious a worker in Scouting as we have seen. If he continues along the line, he may result in obtaining a higher official position in town. The appointment was made in note of his record of having made the highest mark in examinations for master plumber since the system was inaugurated several years ago. A duplication of the strange doings at the last Board of Fire Commissioners election may not be seen this year, if plans of firemen and friends to be alert, go through an unprecedented movement to oppose regular candidates was made at that time; by several insurgents and almost proved successful.

Charles H. Ruby and T. C. Davidson, candidates for reelection next month, are "baby" members on the board although they are just completing nine years of service. Robert B. Ferguson has been secretary since the board was formally organized back around 1906. The actual date has been difficult to obtain. David S. Jeakens, president, and Edward C. Townley, fourth and fifth members, were elected shortly after Ferguson. The combined record of the five members in years totals almost ninety. That's a long time to serve on a board which pays no compensation. A friend just told the Rambling Reporter an interesting story on the Chateau fire. It seems he knows a volunteer fireman, visiting a lady friend not more than two blocks away from the scene, who actually failed to hear the whistle and answer the alarm. The friend (?) informer further asks us to remind the fireman to explain should he be asked that he was not in town. It will save embarrassing questions.

PLAN COURT OF HONOR PROGRAM FEBRUARY 10

Boy Scout Court of Honor exercises for District E of Union Council, which comprises troops of Union, Springfield, Vaux Hall and Kenilworth, will be held in the James Caldwell School, Springfield, on the evening of Friday, February 10.

The program arranged by Deputy Commissioner Grenville A. Day, includes a scout play, minstrel, Indian ceremony and an investiture of new members. Awards will be made of first-class pins, merit badges, life Star Scout and Eagle Scout badges.

DAMAGE OF $25,000 ESTIMATED AT CHATEAU BALTUSROL FIRE; DENSE FOG HANDICAPS FIREMEN

Roadhouse is Completely Destroyed—Flames Get Started Long Before Alarm

Fire of undetermined origin completely destroyed the Chateau Baltusrol on Baltusrol Way early Monday morning in one of the most spectacular fires here in years. The building, a popular roadhouse and landmark in this vicinity, was valued in addition to furniture, at $25,000.

Fire officials are conducting an investigation to determine the cause. Fog and smoke hampered the firemen when they arrived at midnight. The flames were well under way and efforts to stop the fire were fruitless. When firemen left the ruins at 6:30 A. M., only large chimneys were left standing, surrounded by smoking piles of ashes.

A little before 11:30 Sunday night, George Mayzel, manager, and Herbert Lowe, the chef, went to sleep in their rooms in the building. At 11:45 Lowe had flozed off when he awoke coughing and looked up to discover the ceiling blazing above his head. He ran downstairs to awaken Mayzel and both went to the second floor to dress. Mayzell fell and was severely bruised as they stumbled choking down the stairs. Unable to reach a telephone because of fire, they got into Mayzell's automobile and drove to Springfield

Center where they notified a policeman. Meanwhile, a watchman employed at the Andrew Wilson, Inc. factory nearby by the

SEWER INTEREST CHARGE OF $48,615 IS HEAVY ITEM; EXPECT SAME TAX RATE

An increase of $28,972.69 in appropriations over last year's figure is contained in the 1933 municipal budget introduced and passed on first reading by the Township Committee Monday night. The budget totals $136,218.38 as compared to $107,245.69 in 1932. It is estimated that the increase will raise the local tax rate of $1.27 per $100 valuation twenty-four points higher to $1.51. An item of $48,615 for interest on sanitary sewer bonds as compared to $2,100 last year is responsible for the in-

Panzer School President to Explain Work in Caldwell School Monday

Miss Margaret C. Brown, president of the Panzer School of Physical Education in East Orange, will speak at the monthly meeting of the Parent-Teacher Association Monday night in the James Caldwell School auditorium.

Mrs. Charles G. Nelson, president, will preside at the business meeting which will precede.

In addition to a talk, Miss Brown will present a demonstration by a group of students to exhibit physical training work as carried on at the school. Selections will be heard by Miss Urcela Bergmann, a member of the musical department in Union schools.

Refreshments will be served after the meeting. Mrs. Alfred G. Trundle, hospitality chairman, will be in charge assisted by members of her committee.

Plans are being furthered for the revue, minstrel and dance to be given by the association Friday of next week in the school. Freddy Sleckman of Elizabeth is director of the show. James A. Callahan is general chairman of arrangements.

Specialty dances will be given by the Misses Peggy Smith and Lorraine Ammerman; Katherine J. Gunn, Lillian Serales, Betty Sorge and Adelaide Deller. Local characters will comprise the cast in the minstrel and revue choruses.

Tickets at fifty cents are being sold by members of the P. T. A. and the cast dancing, with music by Sleckman's Orchestra, will be held after the show until 11 A. M.

A rehearsal will be held early next week and a dress rehearsal the night before the show next Thursday.

Chateau Was Once Summer Residence of Chas. Crossman

Popular in this vicinity as a roadhouse since 1924, the Chateau Baltusrol, which was destroyed by fire early Monday morning, discloses a colorful history live in the memory of many old timers in town.

Dating back to about 1904, the building was erected by John L. Denman for the late Charles S. Crossman, wealthy New York jewelry appraiser. Mr. Denman lives at 14 Salter street and despite his sixty-eight years, all of which were spent in Springfield, is still listed in the township crease. The amount to be raised by direct taxation is $82,533.38, an increase of $12,127.69. A public hearing was fixed for Tuesday, February 7, at 8 o'clock in the Municipal Building. The official budget, in legal form, appears elsewhere on this page.

Parings in budget expense items offset the debt sewer charges which are listed for the first time. Delay in operation of the sewer which held up assessments, is responsible for the larger interest charges than would have been appropriated.

An analysis of the budget shows items decreasing taxes as follows: police department salary deductions, $2,075; administrative and executive, $3,505; grounds and buildings, $634; lighting streets, $1,650 and ash and garbage disposal, $1,200.

New budget items include $500 for the Springfield-Free Public Library, heretofore without an appropriation; $800 for the newly appointed planning and zoning board commission, which serves without remuneration; $5,220 for the Rahway-Valley Trunk Sewer sinking fund; $2,622 for the abeyance fund of the local sanitary sewer, which is repaid as new developments are opened; and $3,972.10 for uncollectible taxes of the Chemical Company of America, which represents the sum remaining after the township last year settled for and collected part of the taxes due.

The increase in appropriations for sewer interest is offset by anticipated revenues of $30,000 in 1933 on sewer interest payments as compared to $8,000 in 1932.

The item of police salaries resulted from action of police to take cuts ranging from 10 to 20 per cent and reflected in a submitted budget of Chief M. C. Runyon. Although the appropriations list the 1933 figure at $24,540, the actual saving for the entire police department's operation over the 1932 item of $25,500 is $9,835.

Additional salary cuts shown in administrative and executive departments, in addition to those announced at the January reorganization meeting of the Township Committee total $650 and includes a reduction of $1,850 to $1,600 for the three-man Board of Assessors. Clerk Frank E. Meisel's salary will be reduced from $1,350 to $1,200. Elmer Sicklely and Alfred W. Warner, other members, will receive a cut from $250 to $200. Committeemen themselves, will drop from $300 to $220 having already accepted a 10 per cent cut. The salary of the township hall janitor is further reduced from $1,404 to $1,354 and the clerk in the tax collector's office is reduced from $1,350 to $1,300. The salary of Recorder Everett T. Spinning, formerly $600, will be reduced to $500.

Committeeman Trundle, finance chairman, announced $38,000 sewer bonds had been sold at private sale. This would enable the township to pay the balance of its county and state taxes for 1932 and release a state refund to the township school system, he stated. The sale would also put the township's current expense account in good shape for the next few months, Trundle declared.

When one is called upon to do a definite service, pride in the tacit acknowledgment of the ability to perform, is justifiable. Our library is now gathering together books which are used in the schools as a part of the regular work.

Many of the desired titles we have on our shelves. Another number has already come from the Public Library Commission at Trenton. More will be arriving soon. There are others which are probably to be found right here in Springfield. The SUN, our friend as always, is giving our library additional space to publish our needs that these little volumes may be put to work for the education of our children.

Isn't it significant that the school budget this year contains no appropriation for the school library?—F. P. L.

Radio Hissing Device Would Help, Says Earle

If audiences could hiss radio programs, it would bring immediate improvement in the character of radio entertainment, declares George Earle, one of America's foremost musical directors. "People were never so hard to please as they are today, and with a hissing device, the audience could bring its disapproval to the attention of artists and program-directors."

GEORGE EARLE

Entertainment in the theatre is responsive to the reaction of the audience, Mr. Earle explained, and a hearty Bronx cheer starts the producers to work to correct defects. But boos of radio fans are not audible in the broadcasting studios.

"I have had to make a study of audiences to ascertain them successfully," said Mr. Earle. "I have found that the public is restless and impatient, and that to hold their interest you must give them not only speed and variety but you must continue to be a showman, even though your audience is hidden."

The Blue Coal Program, which Mr. Earle directs over the Columbia network every Sunday afternoon, and on the WEAJ network of New York Wednesday evenings are among the most popular now on the air, due to Mr. Earle's constant study of his audiences.

Criticisms are welcome. The publishers are open at all times to constructive suggestions in making this paper more interesting.

New Interest in Hawaii, Land of the Pineapple

If wishes were sea-going liners, or better still, airships, many of us would take "Dutch leave" from care and ride to Hawaii. Mere mention of the Hawaiian Islands conjures up visions of a Garden of Eden existence—blue sea and sky, balm laden breezes, stately palms, tinkling, teasing ukuleles, laughing hula dancers.

Yet, about thirty years ago, Big Business found its way to the "Jewels of the Pacific." Today, exploring pineapple plantations is one of the popular pastimes of sightseers who make these islands their playground.

From a birdseye view, the pineapple field looks like a tapestry carpet, its design in bas-relief. One draws nearer to find that the reason for the symmetry of the pattern is that each pineapple plant has been trained in the way it should go—from its infancy when its baby shoots were thrust into the ground through holes punched in a long strip of paper, which serves to check the growth of weeds, retains the moisture and brings about a material increase in bacterial action in the soil.

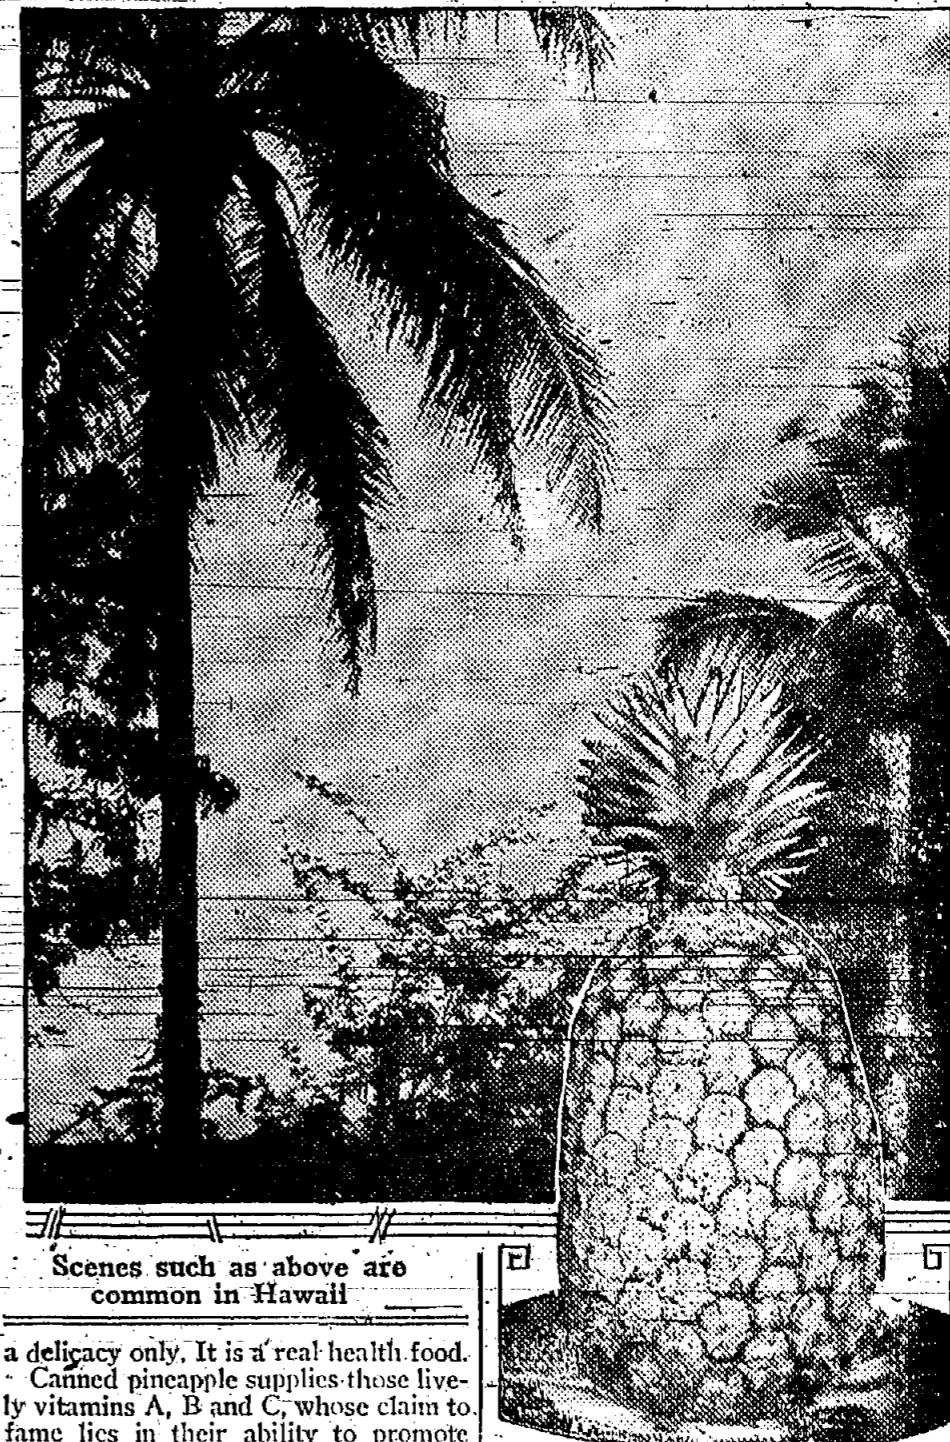

Pineapples ripen nearly all year round, but are at their most plentiful golden best in June, July and August. At the ripe stage, pineapples will not stand packing and shipping, so they are rushed to the nearby cannery and canned so quickly that none of the exquisite flavor of the fresh fruit is lost.

First the pineapple loses its top knot of leaves, then it is turned over to a machine which with one movement peels it, cores it and passes it on to a device which slices or crushes the fruit, packs it into a can and fills the can with syrup. Just six minutes from the time the pineapple goes to the peeler, it is in its can and ready for the cooker.

There is no chance for the fruit to come into contact with anything unsanitary.

Fifty-two pineapple cans pass through a canning unit every minute. Even so, the supply does little more than keep up with the world's demand. For housewives everywhere have proved the expediency of keeping a can or two on the emergency shelf against the time when company comes or the appetite needs stirring. Nothing makes a more delicious salad than slices of canned pineapple upon a bed of crisp lettuce, nor can a more delectable appetizer well be imagined than a fruit cup made from crushed pineapple.

For the last two years, research has been in process involving special analyses and food tests of fruits and vegetables on the human system. The conclusion is that canned pineapple is not a delicacy only. It is a real health food. Canned pineapple supplies those lively vitamins A, B and C, whose claim to fame lies in their ability to promote normal growth of the body, sound teeth and strong bones. Canned pineapple lends aid in helping such proteins as meat, eggs and beans to rest lightly on the stomach—it possesses qualities which act as a digestive. Canned pineapple increases the alkalinity of the body and helps prevent acidosis. With the aid of iron, copper and manganese, the three mineral salts that are a part of its composition, it safeguards the system against the inroads of nutritional anemia.

The fruit now recognized as containing more health values than any other

These are facts uncovered in the two years of intensive research. Here's a suggestion to the housewife, to whom the welfare of her family is of paramount importance—two glasses of canned pineapple a day, as their equivalent in crushed fruit, is a simple and easy way to promote good health.

The Municipal Budget

SPRINGFIELD taxpayers will have an increased municipal tax rate this year following an announcement that the budget of the Township Committee for 1933 shows $12,533.38 to be raised by taxation over that of the 1932 figures. Unfortunately, the tremendous burden of debt service for the sanitary sewer system strikes at the most inopportune time, when the earning power of the small taxpayer is seriously strained.

Only through close co-operation on the part of school authorities who reduced their budget considerably to offset possible increases in other township departments, was it possible to predict the tax rate will be about the same this year as last, $4.28.

We must not overlook the economies practised by the Township Committee. With rare exceptions, almost every employee on the township pay roll contributed in salary reductions. Expenditures were pared to a point where they might even be called dangerous due to the small leeway left open in estimated expenditures.

Taxpayers should rejoice in the Township Committee's efforts in preparing the 1933 budget, the most important piece of work any such board ever had to compile. No other Governing Body could ever have gone through such a strained budget as the present administration will have to. Let's cooperate in keeping Springfield on the right side of the ledger.

Population—1930 census 3,725; 1920, 1715. Assessed valuations—1931, $5,481,774. Tax rate, 1932—Township, $3.22; state and county, $1.06. Incorporated 1877; settled early in 1700. Springfield is essentially a township of homes. It is 35 minutes from New York City on the electrified D. L. & W. Railroad and has excellent bus connections to Newark, Elizabeth, Summit and Plainfield. The railroad stations at Millburn and Short Hills are less than a mile from Springfield. Center. The Railway Valley Railroad has a freight station in Springfield, giving service for factories, commercial and industrial purposes. State Highway Route 29 makes it convenient to reach New York in thirty minutes by car when completed. Numerous state and county highways pass through the township. It has good streets; water; gas; electricity and a newly opened sanitary sewer system. Of interest in Revolutionary history with its historic Presbyterian Church where Rev. James Caldwell cried, "Give me liberty or give me death" in the midst of the Battle of Springfield fought on June 23, 1780. Several colonial landmarks are to be found in Springfield, one of the oldest communities in Union County.

What the SUN Advocates

Believing that the following improvements are vital necessities to nourish Springfield's betterment and substantial progress, the SUN advocates:

1. A high school.
2. Removal of delapidated buildings which are "sore spots."
3. Sidewalks wherever needed.
4. Encouraging clean factories, to increase the ratables.
5. An active Board of Trade to stimulate "Buying in Springfield."
6. Postal-carrier delivery.
7. Reduced bus fare within town limits and to Millburn R. R. station.
8. Full time position for the township clerk's office.
9. Set of Building Zones, before township is developed.
10. A county park.

MATTER of OPINION

Those who are opposed to a "soak the rich" policy of taxation which policy appears to be included in the seven-point economic program tentatively set forth in what was called by Lowell Thomas a "trial balloon" announcement by one of President-elect Roosevelt's advisors, will be interested in the leading article in the Saturday Evening Post of January 28, "Tax Blindness" written by the noted financial expert, Edwin Lefevre. The writer treads on many corns and severely criticises several public departments, notably the school system. He also gives his views on large public works programs, a proposed plan for bringing about economic recovery. Mr. Lefevre believes that during the period of construction while the money paid to labor is being used in the village, everybody is happy, but in due time it is realized that the cost of the project is a first mortgage on all of the property in the community, and "the interest on the bonds comes ahead of the interest on your regular first mortgage." An entirely new slant on taxation, at least to this writer is set forth by the author. He believes that taxing the individual and not the dollar may be the only solution. For instance, he believes that the soldiers would not get the bonus at all, if every American man, woman and child had to take the money out of his or her pocket, which he computes would be $20 per capita. He suggests that a proposal to levy a direct tax of $30 on all relatives of ex-soldiers and $15 on non-relatives would be still more effective in enlightening the public on the cost of this bonus payment. The whole article is a protest against finding new ways of taxing instead of reducing taxes, and an indictment of those on the public pay-roll, who, entrenched in life-time jobs, are selfishly blind to the risks.

Doubtless those residents of Springfield who do little or no reading are not cordial to the $500 municipal appropriation for the Free Public Library, but would have no criticism to make upon the expenditure of a good portion of that sum for the school library. The item of $250 last year included in the school budget for library purposes was this year omitted, and it should further be pointed out that the public library serves a much larger group in that it provides books for persons of all ages and tastes instead of being limited to the use of pupils in the class rooms. Further, it is estimated that the appropriation adds about forty cents to the tax bill of the average home-owner, whose property is assessed at about $4000. This is less than one cent a week, and cannot be called a burden even in these hard times.

Social Contest

Held by W.C.T.U.

Over thirty-five persons attended the dues-paying social and silver medal declamatory contest of the local W. C. T. U. Friday at the home of the president, Mrs. Edwin D. Pannell of 318 Main street. Guests included Mrs. Minnie Conover of Elizabeth, county director of temperance and missions; Miss J. Angus Knowles, vice-president of the county W. C. T. U. and Miss R. C. Robertson of Cranford; Miss Virginia Roe and Mrs. Ada S. Nodlocker of Roselle; county president.

Jeanette Houck won the medal with a recitation of "The Burglar" by Caroline R. Freeman. Other contestants were Willis and Robert Hamilton, Margaret Staehle, Barbara Gridley and Lorraine Alley. They received pencils.

The local union will meet Tuesday, February 28, at the home of Mrs. Charles H. Huff of 95 Morris avenue. The subject to be discussed will be "Temperance and Missions." An invitation to attend will be made to church missionary societies in the vicinity.

Mrs. Pannell, Mrs. Walter White and Mrs. Mark M. Brady attended the tri-county conference in Newark yesterday.

THROUGH A Woman's Eyes

By JEAN NEWTON

DON'T IMITATE MEN; LET US BE OURSELVES

THAT is the advice which Jane Addams gave the Alliance of Business and Professional Women of Chicago at their meeting the other day.

Herself one of America's greatest women, Miss Addams is a shining example of the heights of achievement to which a woman can rise by applying herself to what she can do best, rather than by seeking success in the paths that men have blazed. It was out of her modest and unostentatious efforts to meet the need for social service where she saw it that there evolved the great institution of Hull House, her social service center in Chicago, which is looked upon as an example by humanitarians in all the enlightened countries of the world.

Of course, every woman's instincts and abilities do not run along the same lines. But the point that is valuable for us in Miss Addams' advice to stop imitating men is the fact that we can realize our greatest possibilities by being ourselves in our approach to what we have to do rather than by attempting to shape ourselves into a masculine mold.

Women have something that is unique and different from what men have to give. It is not necessarily better or worse, it is ours, and it should not be crushed or disparaged. For we shall do better and with more originality if we do with a spirit that is our own.

NINETY DAYS IN JAIL FOR DRUNKEN DRIVER

Fred W. Nissen, 54, a butcher, of 233 South Twenty-first street, Irvington, was found guilty of drunken driving by Recorder Spinning Monday night and committed to the county jail for ninety days. It was his second offense. Nissen's driver's license was also permanently revoked. He pleaded not guilty and his counsel declared he would appeal but changed his decision yesterday when Nissen surrendered at headquarters. He was taken to Elizabeth yesterday morning.

Nissen was arrested by Patrolman Stiles December 26 at Meisel avenue and Milltown road after his car collided with one driven by James B. Haynes of 12 Hamilton avenue, Cranford. Dr. Henry P. Dengler declared Nissen unfit to drive.

Crossman House

directory as a builder and a real estate and insurance agent.

The Chateau, as it shall be termed, served merely as a summer residence for the Crossman family. In the Winter, they spent the season in Florida. Mr. Crossman died in October, 1930.

Shortly before the World War, the building was exchanged by Mr. Crossman at a value of $20,000 plus an additional $60,000 for premises at 20 Maiden lane, New York City. The Maiden lane building, later known as the "Charles S. Crossman Building," brought a fancy selling price and a nice profit.

Some years later, Jerome J. Donovan, present owner, secured the Baltusrol Way building from a concern which had taken it over from the corporation Crossman had made the exchange with.

In relating how the original residence was built, before Donovan made additions for dance hall purposes and enclosed the porch, Mr. Denman recalls that Crossman was particularly fond of oddities. He secured doors and trim for his Springfield residence from the old Hotel Plaza in New York City, torn down just the year before. The best part of lumber in an exclusive social and athletic club in Summit, which enjoyed patronage from the Metropolis and which was being wrecked, was taken to the Springfield building. Mr. Denman recalls that Crossman overlooked no detail in building his home.

The brass mantelpiece in the living room of the house actually served at one time as the sill under the front step of the entrance to the old Hotel Plaza, over which thousands of New Yorkers passed daily for years.

Hundreds of other curious plans for the house were devised by Crossman, Mr. Denman narrates, but your correspondent, for lack of space, could question no more and as the ruins of the Chateau are removed, perhaps the memory of the former Crossman house as a fashionable summer home will soon be aged with no signs in the future of a building on the premises.

AT THE STRAND

William Collier, Jr. in "Speed Demon," and "They Just Had to Get Married" with Slim Summerville and Zasu Pitts, will be shown at the Strand Theatre in Summit tomorrow, Saturday.

"The Animal Kingdom," starring Ann Howard and Leslie Howard is the attraction Sunday and Monday with Myrna Loy in a supporting role. Robert Armstrong in "The Billion Dollar Scandal" is the associate feature.

SYNOPSIS OF MINUTES OF BOARD OF FREEHOLDERS

An adjourned meeting of the Union County Board of Chosen Freeholders was held at the Court House, Elizabeth, N. J., on Tuesday, January 17th, 1933, at 1:30 p. m.

Roll call showed 20 members present and 4 absent.

Director McMans announced the time for hearing on budget was at hand and anyone who wished to speak for or against same would be heard at this time.

Freeholders Keelan, Terrill and Ewald reported at this time.

After a general discussion by 20 representatives of Taxpayers' Association and the announcement by the Clerk of the receipt of numerous communications and petitions protesting against the cut of Park Commission, Mosquito Commission and Shade Tree Commission appropriations, the Director declared the hearing closed and upon motion of Freeholder Van Doren, duly seconded and carried, the Director declared Board adjourned until Thursday, January 19th, 1933, at 2:30 p. m.

CHAS. M. AFFLECK, Clerk.

Chateau Fire

Chateau, had seen the flames and notified fire headquarters. Mayzell and Lowe returned to the scene at the same time as the firemen. They explained they could not see the firehouse in the fog and had passed headquarters.

The fire, which apparently started near the roof in the center of the building, had worked downward and the entire structure was burning at both ends when the fire trucks arrived. Firemen laid three lines and about 2,000 feet of hose was used to pump water from the nearest hydrant, 850 feet away.

Soon after the firemen arrived, a gas stove in the kitchen exploded, blowing out a real wall. Several firemen had narrow escapes from injury. Fireman Charles S. Quinzel was hurt when his hand was caught in a line of hose. Not long after, several boxes of shotgun shells exploded and firemen were busy ducking flying shots. None was hit.

Only a few months ago most of the furniture in the Chateau was replaced with new pieces and all this was destroyed, along with instruments owned by an orchestra which played there.

A dog and cat, pets of employees, were in the place when the blaze started. The dog was found whimpering outside during the fire but the cat did not appear and it is assumed it was a victim.

The roadhouse, which was opened in May, 1924, was owned by Jerome Donovan of 1175 Clinton avenue, Irvington.

So thick was the fog that neighbors in the vicinity were not aware of the blaze until they were within several hundred feet of the building.

James Dunn in "Handle with Care" will be screened Tuesday and Wednesday. Boots Mallory has the leading feminine role. "Breach of Promise," starring Chester Morris is also on the program.

Voodoo magic by which a crippled white "king" of a black African empire works a terrifying scheme for revenge, is shown in "Kongo," which comes to the Strand Thursday and Friday. Walter Huston plays the "king," and the cast includes Lupe Velez, Virginia Bruce, Conrad Nagel and others.

ELIZABETH'S MODEL HOME NOW COMPLETE

At the conclusion of the 22nd day of construction, the Elizabeth Chamber of Commerce 1933 Model Home is rapidly assuming the proportions of a finished house. L. M. Dennis, architect of the home, states that many building trades contractors are congratulating him on the progress of construction which has established a local record. The appearance of the house fulfills all predictions as to its beauty of design. The stucco-covered cement walls, topped by an old English brick chimney with uniquely planned chimney pots, present a pleasing appearance with their steel-sashed, leaded-glass windows. On the interior, one finds all electrical wiring completed, all plumbing and radiation installed and the rough coat of plaster on the walls.

More than the usual early interest in the construction of the home is manifested by the public as was evidenced by over 1,000 persons visiting the site of the home last Sunday. The vari-colored random width slate roof is drawing very favorable comment from the early visitors who readily vision a completed home in keeping with the style and quality of the roof.

The interior lay-out is arousing many complimentary remarks with its many modern conveniences indicated as the building work progresses. The large well lighted rooms show the promise of being finished into spacious quarters for the person upon whom fortune smiles the last night of the Elizabeth Own Your Home Show in April, when the Model Home will be given away as the main award of the show.

The Model Home while it is a prize to truly covet will not be the only award at the show. The committee in charge plans to give many valuable cash order awards in addition to a variety of merchandise awards at each afternoon and evening session of the ninth annual exposition.

Plans are being made at this time for the sale of show tickets which will start February 15th. Individual and agency sellers will be established in every community in Union County as well as many outside cities.

Five Aces and Gypsies Lead in Municipal Bowling League

Continue on Top by Clean Sweep

The Five Aces and Gypsies continue to lead the Municipal League as they won all three games Tuesday night from Battle Hill and Hook and Ladder, respectively. Hose Company and Recreation are tied for third as a result of the former taking three from the Juniors and the latter winning two games from the Indians.

Wall Parsil's average of 232.2 for the night, the highest the league has ever recorded, included 231, 266 and 201. The 266 score was the individual high mark to date, a 260 by Howard Smith having been ahead until that time.

Just a minute later, Elmer Smith of Battle Hill, brother of Howard, came along with a brilliant 267 to nose out Parsil by a mere pin and that stands high until someone comes along to beat it.

Dean Widmer's antics in one-legged trousers, the other having been torn off, was as funny a sight as the alleys could laugh at.

The Five Aces and Gypsies had games of 1025 and 1010. This circuit is getting too tough, the boys are saying.

GREETINGS, Sahib! This is the Hindu Bottle Trick which was disclosed to me by a Hindu fakir in far-off Kabul and which I will now teach you so you may mystify your friends to their delight and entertainment.

I was walking with the Princess Nadji on the street of Kabul when I paused to light my cigarette, blowing out the match afterwards as is my habit. "Try to blow it out through a wine bottle, Sahib!" said the fakir. "Thus!"

From his pocket he took a small candle which he lighted and placed on the ground behind the bottle. He blew on the bottle, and the candle was immediately extinguished. Then he lighted it again and set a bottle and a glass in front of it. Once again he blew, and once again the light was extinguished, his breath apparently cutting through both the bottle and the glass to do so!

You, too, can mystify your friends with the Hindu Bottle trick as does Chandu, the Magician of the Air. A small candle or even a match may be used. Place an ordinary round bottle in front of the flame and blow. Your breath will follow round the sides of the bottle and extinguish the flame. Making sure that the glass is round, more than one bottle or glass may be successfully used in this mystifying trick.

SB BOYS WIN

The SB boys defeated 8A in basketball this week, 14 to 7. The lineup of SB follows: center, Eugene Meeker; guards, Edward Hocking and Tony Marcantonio, and forward, Robert Ruban and John Branti. The substitute guard is Carmel Ippolito. —DORIS MAINWARING.

THINGS WE'RE DOING

Part of our class is working on arithmetic mits. We have a chart. Richard Yeager and Billy Smith are the only pupils finished thus far. We are studying the Congo region in geography. An American boy went to Africa and wrote a diary of his experiences. He drew pictures and we are trying to copy them. We hung five of the best drawings on the bulletin board. —ELEANOR WHITE, fourth grade.

DUTCH STORIES

On our library table there are many stories about the Dutch people. They tell us how they dress and live. We are going to write story books about the Dutch, which will be made like a wooden shoe. On each page we will write one thing we have learned. —HARRIET MEEKER, PAULINE LIEBRAND, second grade.

OUR POEMS

In our class each month we learn a poem. This month we learned "A Blind Boy." He said he is happy although blind. It was written by Colley Cibber. —MARION BRIGGS, 5B.

WEEKLY READERS

Many children are getting the Weekly Readers. In these there are many interesting things about important people in the world and South America but best of all Uncle Ben writes us a letter every week. —KATHLEEN TRACY, fourth grade.

BIRD EXHIBIT

The 6B grade is having a bird exhibit. It is being held all this week. Mrs. Jean Turton and Mr. Hodgson will be judges. The decoration committee has put bird houses in scenes and drew borders along the top of blackboards. There are sixteen bird houses in the exhibit. —VIRGINIA DENSON.

NEWS OF 8A

We have many plants in our room which are coming along fine with the aid of Neil Elred who is helping. Our 8A class has a splendid collection of news articles on the labor problem. —ALVERA MUELLER.

LEARNING DANCE

The seventh grade girls are learning a dance called the Irish Tilt, under the supervision of Miss Almond, our gymnasium teacher. The exhibition will be held next month in the auditorium. —LEONA RINKER, MARGARET STAEHLE.

STUDYING ESKIMOS

We are studying about the Eskimos. We made pictures of igloos and an Eskimo boy. We made a man in a kayak. A kayak is an Eskimo's boat. —Miss Charlton's class, grades one and two.

NEWS REPORT

The class is making a frieze for the room. The pictures are illustrations of paragraphs of the story, "How Cotton Came Into the World." Evelyn Ferry, Isabel Ferry, Arthur Meloni and Marion Grimm have painted three scenes. Charles Roll made a sky-scraper-night scene out of cut paper. Fred Van Pelt and Edward Meeker made a map of New England. They are going to paint the manufactured cotton goods of New England on it. —ROBERT MAYER, grade 5A.

BASKETBALL TEAMS

The sixth grade basketball teams have chosen captains. They include Ernest Street, Morrison Groves and John Mulligan. —THOMAS PALMIERI.

January Tea Sale!

Since the days of clipper ships, we have used the most modern carriers to bring teas from foremost tea countries. This is but one of the things we have done to help reduce the cost of tea.

Founded as an organization of tea specialists in 1859, A&P today is the world's largest tea retailer. To offer at all times the utmost values in the best teas, we control every step...

blend and retail our own teas. This week we are offering at special sale prices our famous Nectar Tea embodying in quality and flavor our 74 years' experience as fine tea specialists.

NECTAR TEA is offered in Orange-Pekoe India-Ceylon-Java, Mixed, and Formosa-Oolong, Orange-Pekoe India-Ceylon-Java blend contains genuine India Tea as identified by the "Map of India" on the packages.
