ARGUMENTS DIVIDED FOR RACE TRACK AT PUBLIC HEARING

Civic League Representatives Ask Governing Body to Await Recommendations of That Group Before a Final Decision—Adjacent Landowners Speak Against Project—Employment Is Cited

Divided opinion in favor and opposed to an automobile race track and sports stadium on the old Miller farm on Route 29 at South Springfield avenue was expressed to the Township Committee Monday night in the Town Hall auditorium as a noisy crowd of 200 citizens picked the ball at a public hearing. Petitions for and against the stadium were submitted, and, although most of the adjacent large property owners opposed the track, the majority of the audience favored it.

Civic League Meets Tonight

The Civic League will meet tonight in the P. O. S. A. Hall, 230 Morris avenue, at 8 p. m. to discuss adoption of a set of by-laws and constitution for the new association. Discussion will also be taken on the auto race track proposition, the group having asked the Township Committee to hold up granting a permit until recommendations in writing are submitted by the Civic League.

Mrs. Etta Geiger Opposes Stadium

Mrs. Etta Geiger, of South Springfield avenue, wife of Committee chairman, strenuously opposed the track. She said the place would breed noise, bring in undesirable, and eventually lead to gambling. She criticized maintaining the latter under an agreement, claiming more police than we have now to maintain order.

Questions Irregularity of Petition Signers

It is with amazement that I find the names of many residents of Linden and Mountain avenues attached to a petition for the siting of a permit for a race track on Route 29. Not long ago these residents were unanimous in their appeal to the Township Committee to eliminate the M. & K. Wrecking Company, a business established on Mountain avenue long before many of these people moved to that section, because it was an eyesore, it depreciated their property and prevented its ready rental and sale.

Housewife Should Safeguard Milk As Carefully As Distributors Do

Here Are Some Simple Rules For Preserving Quality of the "Most Nearly Perfect Food"

By FRED W. JACKSON

Director, Division of Consumer Information
Department of Agriculture, Trenton, N. J.

MANY consumers have freely commented upon the unflinching service of the milk-deliveries during the trying storm period of February and March.

Behind this unflinching service were many performances worthy of mention. On the farm no effort was spared to insure the city dwellers supply. "Getting through" with the milk was the task of the distributors. Some delays were experienced but only a very few cases in isolated districts did delivery fail. Farmers, distributors, and especially the retail route men, all earned recognition for their loyal service.

This unflinching service is so often taken for granted that seldom does it gain full recognition on the part of the public. Such performances are but a part of the daily routine of the "integrated organization" behind every bottle of milk.

The importance of these conscientious efforts to deliver wholesome quality milk may serve as an example to consumers in caring for the milk after delivery. Careless handling in the home may undo what has been accomplished up to the time the milk arrives on the doorstep.

Neglect in the Home

A veteran milk route man with a record of years of service recently voiced disappointment at the way in which milk is often neglected in the home. All previous painstaking efforts to protect it may be wasted and this driver has made the following suggestions to his customers:

1. Have the milk delivered where it will not be exposed to the sun. Use a box container to avoid summer heat and winter freezing.
2. Bring in the milk as soon as possible and put in a cool place. The cooler you can keep your milk, the longer it will stay wholesome.
3. Rinse off bottles or wipe off the top before pouring out the milk.
4. Keep the bottle covered at all times, and take out only the quantity needed each time. If the bottle cap is lost, invert a tumbler over the bottle.
5. Never mix new milk with milk left over from the previous day unless you are using it immediately.
6. Do not pour left-over milk or cream back into the bottle.
7. Keep milk away from foods with strong odors, as milk readily absorbs odors.
8. Wash and rinse all milk from the bottle as soon as emptied, and leave the bottles in a convenient place for collection by your milk man.
9. Never use milk bottles for any other purpose.
10. Remember the three C's—keep milk clean, cold and covered. By observing these rules, the housewife can be assured that the milk she buys will be in the best possible condition when served. Milk, "the most nearly perfect food," deserves this special attention in the home.

"PUT YOURSELF IN HIS PLACE"

By LEONARD A. BARRETT

An incident which occurred in the boyhood life of Lincoln is not found in many of his biographies. It runs like this:

"I can remember," says Abraham Lincoln, "going to my little bedroom after hearing the neighbors talk with my father and spending a small part of the night trying to make out the exact meaning of their sayings."

I was not satisfied until I could repeat it and put it into language plain enough for any boy I knew to comprehend. This very remarkable practice explains the clearness as well as the convincing directness of Mr. Lincoln's addresses. A boy can understand them and yet they challenge the thought of the wisest of men. One of these speeches is the Gettysburg address. It is a classic and has a permanent place in American literature. Edward Everett, who spoke on the same platform with Mr. Lincoln, at the time the latter gave this address, wrote to Lincoln as follows: "I should be glad if I could flatter myself that I came as near to the central idea of the occasion in two hours as you did in two minutes." Simplicity of speech is difficult. It is worth all the effort necessary to attain it.

Misunderstandings are the cause of much of our worry, and particularly of our domestic troubles, which could be avoided if every person would put his thought into language plain enough for any boy to comprehend.

The use of a wrong word in an important sentence may change its entire meaning. Many an important lawsuit has been settled on the interpretation placed upon a single word. Frankness of expression is the essence of permanent friendship. Our actions which are the reactions of our thoughts many times convey a different meaning than was intended. Avoid this by cultivating clearness of thinking and expression.

One way to cultivate clearness of expression is to do just what Lincoln did—think in terms of the other man's point of view, see the problem as he sees it, try to feel the pulse of the argument as he feels it. In other words, put your self in the other person's place.

Just A Spot of Ancient India In The Heart of "Old" New York

THE above pictured diorama of a northern India tea estate is now being exhibited in New York City. Essentially, cross-wound puzzle creators have so far overlooked that word, "diorama." The original of this diorama is on display at the Imperial Institute, London. The background, showing the Himalaya Mountains, is painted in oils by the noted London artist, Jane Jackson. In the middle foreground are graphically natural figures of tea-pluckers and foreman. The diorama is enclosed in a case 7 feet wide, 5 feet high and 3 feet deep. Under electric illumination, it is a splendid visualization of a tea garden of India, whence comes most of the world's tea.

Food Market Advice

In grandmother's day, oranges were luxuries which appeared only on the very special occasions. Perhaps, if she had been very good, grandmother found one at the bottom of her Christmas stocking.

One of the food miracles that has been performed is to bring oranges to your dining table at such low prices that the discovery of protective vitamins in orange juice has made the orange an important food as well as a universal favorite. Of course, it is possible to get the same vitamin protection from tomato juice at less cost, but the orange still remains the great favorite.

Large juicy, sweet oranges are very cheap right now—about as cheap as they can get. Sliced or sectioned they make delicious salads or desserts. Grapefruit continues to be good though not so attractive in appearance as they have been. With pineapple and strawberries also in the market at moderate prices, the great variety of fruit cups can be served. Grapefruit and oranges, grapefruit and pineapple, oranges and pineapple, pineapple and bananas, pineapple and strawberries and strawberries with any or all of these are good combinations. Rhubarb while not strictly a fruit is used as one and combined with other fruits. The peak of the winter grape season and the accompanying lowest prices will be reached in the next week or two.

It is not too late for raw and cooked apple dishes. Some apples such as Winesaps and McIntosh are good all-purpose fruit. Others such as Delicious, Golden Delicious, Gravenstein and Rome Beauties, are used largely for cooking.

All Meats Available
The available meat choices now include most cuts of beef, veal, lamb, fresh and smoked pork and poultry. Beef is being sold at a low price as well as the whole fish and fish steaks are plentiful.

Fish More Plentiful
Fresh salt water fish are becoming more plentiful as the weather grows milder. Haddock and cod fish as well as the whole fish and fish steaks are plentiful. With the exception of smelts, fresh water fish are scarce and high. Smelts in the Great Lakes are plentiful.

Your Teeth and Your Health

By DR. J. M. WISAN
Chairman, Council on Mouth Hygiene, New Jersey State Dental Society

Dentistry in Time of Stress

IT is not uncommon to hear the remark that lack of funds prevent one from obtaining dental treatment. Undoubtedly, the depression has decreased the number of people able to pay for dental service. The unfortunate part of it is that in the end neglecting the teeth over a period of years will prove rather expensive.

A Good Suggestion
Dr. Walter Wilson, editor of the New Jersey State Dental Journal, in discussing this subject with the writer, expressed the opinion that dentists ought to write to their patients offering to render temporary and inexpensive treatment. The idea back of the suggestion was to protect the teeth until such time as the patient could afford to pay for permanent treatment.

I hope some public spirited dentists will adopt this plan. Of course some laymen will suspect that such a suggestion is made merely to get the patient to the office in order to use high pressure methods for more extensive work. Since dentists, like all other professional and business men, have suffered through this period, I am sure they will be sympathetic in meeting the needs of their unfortunate patients.

SUNDAY DINNER SUGGESTIONS

By ANN PAGE

WARMER days call for simpler foods, cold dishes and an increased emphasis on fruits, vegetables and salads. Such meals release many women from their kitchens to gardens, golf or other open air hobbies. The produce markets offer a wide variety of inexpensive vegetables and fruits.

Asparagus, cauliflower and artichokes are relatively cheap; spinach, carrots, beets and onions are really cheap. Green peas are inexpensive and green beans are becoming better in quality and lower in price. Cabbage is a favorite raw as well as cooked. Raw carrots, raw beets, thinly sliced raw cauliflower and raw spinach have been added to the salad list.

Rhubarb, pineapple and strawberries are supplementing the oranges, grapefruit, apples and bananas to give a wide variety of fresh fruits. The Quaker Maid suggests the following menu:

- Low Cost Dinner
Braised Rump of Veal
Mashed Potatoes
Scalloped Tomatoes
Bread and Butter
Baked Apples
- Medium Cost Dinner
Roast Duck
Apple Sauce
New Potatoes
Bread and Butter
Fresh Pineapple
- Very Special Dinner
Roast Beef
Potatoes in Cream
Asparagus Salad with Dressing
Bread and Butter
Strawberry Tart

OUR CHILD AND THE SCHOOL

By Dr. ALLEN G. IRELAND
Director, Physical and Health Education
New Jersey State Department of Public Instruction

How to Live Long

All of us want to live long. Or, if we cannot, our ambition is to aid our children in having long and happy lives. Thank to the discoveries of physiologists and scientists the average length of life today is much greater than it used to be.

Now we are informed that if we eat properly from birth to old age, at least 50 per cent can be added to the average man's life expectancy.

What is the special diet that Dr. Sherman finds is necessary for long life?

Why, it is made up primarily of our old friends, milk, vegetables, fruits and cereals. Such a diet, we are informed, will improve the health of all of us, but if children are given adequate amounts from very early in life, it will not only give them good health but will lengthen their years.

Next week Dr. Ireland will tell when a child should return to school after illness.

FOOD FACTS

Did You Know That—
Milk is the safe basis for any diet, whether to gain in weight or to reduce it.
Ninety per cent of the beans in commercial New Jersey markets are now fed cod liver oil every day. This increases the Vitamin B content of their eggs.

Crabberries are not picked by hand but with an apparatus having comblike teeth which comb the berries off as it is run through the vines?

In the United States, the average consumption of cheese is between 4 and 5 pounds per person while in many European countries each person consumes nearly 20 pounds?

These "food facts" are compiled by The Division of Consumer Information New Jersey State Department of Agriculture.

A PRAYER

By ANNE CAMPBELL

LORD, when I stand in that first moment, blinded From being nearer the rising sun, I will be wonder-struck and unendowed. Of all the kindly deeds I might have done, Give me thy pity, Lord, and blame me not, For the omission of my sorry lot, But with thine all-enduring charity Judge me by what I truly meant to be!

"Proper Food Will Prevent Tooth Decay," say Experts

NEW YORK, N. Y.—Dr. E. V. McCollum, Professor of Chemical Hygiene at Johns Hopkins, stated that "mouth cleanliness" was as essential as being clean in the New York audience of two-thousand cause of decay as far as the sand eminent dentists, physicians to discover in his laboratory and nutrition experts when he does not so much a matter of clean teeth as modern civilization was as it was "proper protective habits."

Dr. McCollum, discoverer of Vitamin D, submitted his "protective food" diet as consisting of:

- 1 quart of milk
- 1 glass of orange or tomato juice
- 1 egg
- 1 teaspoonful of cod-liver oil or an equal amount of vitamin D as contained in Vitamin D bread or milk.
- 1 ounce of butter
- 1 serving of leafy vegetables (raw or cooked)
- 1 serving of fresh or dried fruits in addition to cereal, meat, potatoes, dessert, etc.

Usefulness

THE world today is greatly in need of the men and women whose reflection of God's loving-kindness and good will will inspire confidence, enable us to see and do better, and help us to live more fully. Every individual is dependent upon God alone for his supply of good. The happy, contented person is he who recognizes this great truth and utilizes every circumstance to prove it.

The individual is also doing right by himself when, through spiritual understanding, he releases his unreal "desires" from the mental difficulties, or unfavorable environment. Christian Science has revealed God's indelible image and man. His image, as always, is the manifestation of love, and the fulfillment of these obligations is the highest degree of understanding of this divine law encourages one to realize the life that advances year by year, bringing facility and a divided mind. Owing to this change of life, the spiritual and physical are united and the human mind loses its power to convince him that he must avoid strenuous activity and remain a gradual but inevitable condition of feebleness. Every thought of person should watch the trend of his thoughts, lest by a mistaken sense of years he should be relating himself or another to the figurative "chimney corner."

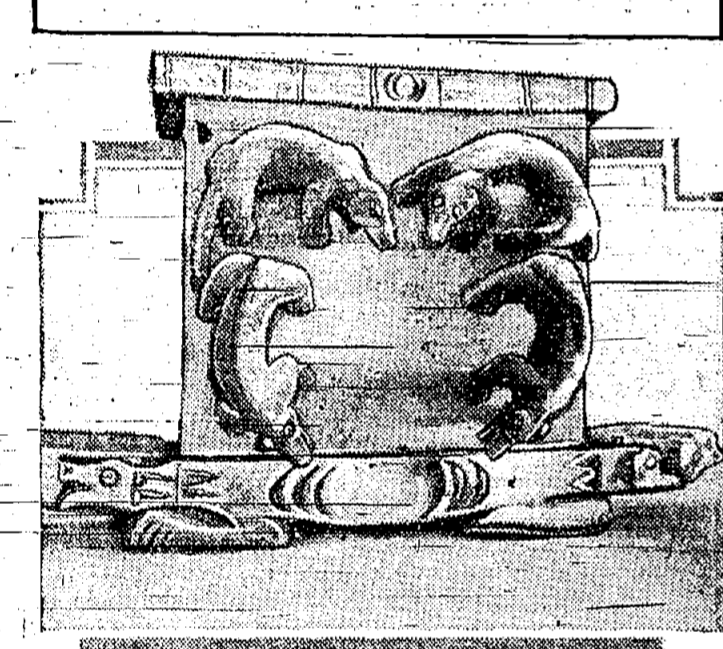

What are called poor business conditions may seem to give force to the harmful arguments that one is disabled, misplaced, or has no place at all. The fact that God, unchanging divine Principle, eternally maintains His entire creation in perfect, harmonious adjustment refutes such obstructive fears and, when realized, frees their victims.

Many are familiar with the old adage, "A place for everything, and everything in its place." More human reasoning, however, is inadequate to guide one seeking to find one's place. Divine wisdom alone can do this.

Spiritual man, the beloved son of the Father, lives and has his being in the realm of divine Mind, being the unvarying reflection of being in the realm of divine Mind. An individual's right of being consists, then, in serving mankind through the active, uninterfered expression of spiritual ideas and qualities. This happy state constitutes his usefulness and the reason for his existence.

In human experience, one may be "troubled on every side, yet not distressed," if he will cling courageously to these spiritual truths and thank God daily for every opportunity, however small, to reflect and love which inspires and blesses every good deed.—The Christian Science Monitor.

WHAT recently anthropologists of the Canadian Government unearthed in British Columbia what is believed to be the last Indian tomb of its kind that will ever be discovered. It is the work of some member of the Musqueam tribe of which only fifty members remain. Elaborately carved, the relic takes the form of a wooden structure mounted on a boatlike platform about eight feet long. The carving, which is shown above, was made from a solid piece of cedar about eighteen inches thick and three feet square, and was probably hewn out with an adze. Only one other example of this type of tomb is known. It is in the Government Museum at Ottawa where the new discovery has also been placed.

"Mickey's Way of Selling Milk"

MIKEY-MOUSE'S latest venture, a campaign to reduce the milk surplus, is providing a lot of fun for millions of kiddies as can be seen from this page which is reproduced from the "Mickey Mouse" Magazine, distributed monthly by the milk companies of National Dairy Products Corporation. This publication is mighty important to hundreds of thousands of farmers who it is devoted to increasing the consumption of fluid or bottled milk, from which farmers secure the greatest revenue. The magazine is built upon the fact that children will drink more milk if it is made a pleasure rather than a duty.

WILKINSON, GADDIS & COMPANY, MUTUAL GROCERY STORE OWNERS, CELEBRATE SEVENTIETH BIRTHDAY

Called Wilkin- son & Voorhees, Lone Firm in Wholesale Busi- ness Before Entering Re- tail Grocery Field.

This month marks the seventy-first anniversary of the founding of New Jersey's great industrial company, the Wilkinson, Gaddis & Co., owners and operators of the well-known Mutual Stores.

The company, for a long exclusively in the wholesale grocery business, started out under the name of Wilkinson & Voorhees, and it was not until 1873 that they became known as Wilkinson, Gaddis & Co., located in Newark then in Commerce street, in the center of the produce business.

1887 found Wilkinson, Gaddis &
Co. at the corner of Broad and Fair streets, in bigger and better quarters. Fair street is now called Lafayette street.

In 1914 another move came, and then to their present buildings, which occupy nearly a whole city block at Railroad and Parkhurst street.

Soon after this time the Wilkinson, Gaddis & Co. reorganized their business to take over the ownership and management of the Mutual Stores, a chain of fine grocery stores, at that time less than a hundred in number. The last ten years has seen this number grow to nearly three hundred, but the remarkable growth has not been so much in the number of stores as it has in the type and size of the new units opened in this chain.

From cramped little stores carrying groceries only to the big modern markets marks the real growth of popularity of the Mutual Stores. For the women of New Jersey appreciated the convenience and economy of buying everything under one roof at one time. Hence the modern Mutual Markets dotted all this section of New Jersey. Markets that carrying everything that a housekeeper needs, large meat departments, appetizing departments for fresh fruits and vegetables, as well as dry products and sea foods.

The Mutual Markets were first opened in the belief that the women of New Jersey would give their patronage to a chain of stores of highest quality merchandise, there-

Federal Land Bank during March reached an all-time record for a

OVER 1,200 TONS OF "EATS" GIVEN TO JERSEY NEEDY

NEWARK, April 12.—A greater quantity of government gift products was delivered to needy families in New Jersey during March than in any other period since the distribution of surplus foodstuffs to homes eligible for emergency relief began last November.

Including eggs and fruits, more than 1,200 tons of edibles were given to clients. Of foodstuffs measured by weight, a total of 2,399,430 pounds was distributed during the month among 99,455 families listed on the emergency relief rolls at the end of February, according to a compilation at State ERA headquarters. This distribution was entirely supplementary to the regular state relief.

These foodstuffs alone, valued at $389,359.20, represent part of the supplies which have been turned over to the state emergency relief organization by the federal government. With other supplies added, the total value charged, at wholesale prices, went to $475,759.20. All were acquired through purchases of the federal surplus relief organization in the national administration's effort to raise prices of products on the basis of the country.

The March distribution included 544,704 pounds of apples, 207, 800 pounds of bananas, 253,384 pounds of canned fruit, 1,225, 300 pounds of canned peaches, 253, 300 pounds of butter, 40,000 pounds of cheese, and 93,320 pounds of lard. Also 80,820 1/2 pounds of corn, 2813 bags of oranges and 28,800 pairs of blankets were given.

A total of 7,554 retail stores scattered over the state provided the machinery for the distribution.
All are regularly inspected to insure proper handling.

single month with $4,135,600 disbursed. The number of individual loans, in January, when 1971 were made, exceeded the number in March by 92, however, and the total involved in the January loans was $28,200,000, according to a report for the first quarter issued by H. H. Thomson, president.

The total for the 70-day month-period was $11,550,500. The 7087 loans, divided as follows: Land Bank loans on first mortgage, $6, 142,000; Federal Bank, Commissioner's loans, chiefly on second mortgages financed from emergency fund, $5,409,500. During the first 72 complete working days in March, loans were made at the rate of $5 a day or one every 7 minutes. The average amount of each loan was $2,202.50.

New England received 709 of the March loans, representing $1, 565,000. Massachusetts had 192 for $416,000; Maine, 302 for $519,200;
Vermont, 140 representing $250,
000; Connecticut, 108 for $236,700;
New Hampshire, 50 for $114,300;
and Rhode Island received 11 totalling $22,400. New York State had 839 for $1,943,800, whereas New Jersey received 249, totaling $724,200.

At the close of March, 1707 applications for short-term loans had been approved by the 30 production credit associations operating in New England, New York and New Jersey. Altogether they have received applications for over $5,

How Dead Is "Dead"

An enthusiastic citizen at the public auto race track hearing Monday night exclaimed, among other things, that all Springfield could boast of is its churches and cemeteries. Notwithstanding, we're proud to have a man, incidentally, another spoke in the wheel, who has died. Certainly, anyone at the hearing thought otherwise. There was plenty of noise from both sides. Those "south neighborhood" farmers can raise a fuss when called upon to shout. If such opinions on subjects as the SUN editors of recent weeks help to develop cross-sections of discussion on town-topics such as the auto race track, then we promise more and plenty of them for the future. Until such time as a citizen speaks, Springfield will remain silent. When its people have spoken, Springfield moves ahead.

There Is Some Hope

ESTER has come and gone again. Instead of peace on earth and good will toward all, there is unrest, class hatred and actual revolution in many parts of the world. Politics has become the "biggest business." It bids fair to consume savings and capital of many countries. Taxation grows and the constant fear of war drains the public treasuries to prepare for war. With growing talk of fascism, communism and socialism as a remedy for worldly troubles, we, as a nation, should not lose sight of one outstanding fact, namely, that we, the people of the United States, are the government. No other form of government ever gave such complete control to "the people" as does our own constitution. We have a ruling class here that it is necessary to revolt against in order to protect ourselves. By the ballot, we, the people, have the power to express our views in a more emphatic, orderly and speedy manner than can ever be accomplished by force. In these days of unrest and discontent we should remember these facts. We should appreciate the great government that we have. We should get down on our knees and offer a prayer of thankfulness that our ancestors, through trial and suffering, created a constitutional form of government that gives each and every one of us the greatest liberty and equality of opportunity of any people in the world. Our constitution is the poor man's greatest heritage and the rich man's only protection.

Now That Spring Is Here

Now that spring is here, and summer is just around the corner, the minds of millions are occupied with plans for vacationing. This is an unusual year for the traveler. The mysterious exigencies of international exchange have made tremendous changes so far as paying for one's wanderlust is concerned. The current rate of exchange with most European currencies, for example, is much less favorable than it was a year ago. That American dollar—which used to be so potent has literally shrunk in size. A hundred and fifty or two hundred of them are needed to do the work that a hundred used to do. The result is that where travelers used to first think of Europe, they are now looking elsewhere. They're going either to countries where the money rate is favorable—or they are going to follow the old adage and really see America. Seeing America is an especially excellent idea. It's a big country and very few of its citizens have more than a cursory acquaintance with it. Take, for instance, Alaska, which is attracting a steadily increasing number of people who want a real vacation at a moderate cost. Most of us think of it in terms of ice—not knowing that certain sections produce giant strawberries and flowers. We think of the Arctic circle as being as far away as the North Pole—yet a little way south of it, at Fairbanks, there is a first class school of mines and an agricultural college. We think of the seas bordering it as being perpetually torn with storms—and the fact is that sailing to Alaska is almost always calm, with dancing on deck in warm evenings. Yes, it's a fine year to look over your own home—the United States. And you'll find a satisfaction in knowing that the money you spend will go to American workmen and industries, and help us toward recovery.

What the SUN Advocates

- 1. A high school.
2. Removal of dilapidated buildings which are "sore spots."
3. Sidewalks wherever they are needed.
4. Encouraging clean factories to increase the rateables.
5. An active Board of Trade to stimulate "Buying in Springfield."
6. Postal carrier delivery.
7. Reduced bus fare within town limits and to Millburn R. R. station.
8. Full time position for the township clerk's office.
9. Set of Building Zones, before township is developed.
10. A county park.

ONE HUNDRED MILE CLASSIC WILL

FEATURE OPENING OF HANKINSON'S

LANGHORNE SPEEDWAY ON APRIL 28

Record List of Entries, Including Fred Frame, Expected For Inaugural Event Under New Management.

PHILADELPHIA, April 12.—The banner of Langhorne Speedway will be hoisted over Langhorne Speedway on Saturday, April 28, when the famous, venerable racing organization returns to Philadelphia's mile course to stage the first eastern meet of the season, a 100 mile classic sanctioned by the AAA Contest Board.

Not since 1920 and 1931, peak years of the Langhorne oval, has the Hankinson staff been identified with the motor sport in Philadelphia, and since that time promotions at Langhorne have bogged down—badly.

For the initial card under his management the veteran speed promoter promises eastern racing fans a preview of the full size of American Day grid at Indianapolis in May.

Many of the cars and drivers regarded as certain contenders for laurels at Indianapolis are represented in early letters and inquiries reaching Hankinson Speedways headquarters in Philadelphia. Among others expected to take the Langhorne classic are Fred Frame, 1932 Indianapolis victor; Al Gordon, hero of 27 consecutive wins at Ascot, and others.

NEWARK BEARS TO PLAY OPENER

International Leaguers In Start Against Champion Buffalo Bisons

Manager Bob Shawkey and his Newark Bears are ready to sweep into action against the champion Buffalo Bisons next Wednesday afternoon at Ruppert Stadium.

Newark in the inaugural game of the 1934 season of the International League. The Bruins are entering the strenuous campaign full of fight and enthusiasm, as they have selected for their slogan "A Pennant and the Little World Series Crown."

Elaborate ceremonies have been arranged for the opening by George W. Weiss, vice-president and general manager of the Newark Club, as this year the league is celebrating its golden jubilee anniversary.

Governor A. Harry Moore and Mayor Elwell L. Hall of Newark, have accepted invitations to be present and assist in blowing the baseball lid skyward. The two distinguished citizens will form the opening battery. Governor Moore will throw the first ball and Mayor Hall will be behind the bat.

Invitations have been accepted by all the city and county officials as well as a number of prominent baseball men to attend. Colonel Jacob Ruppert, owner of the Newark Bears; Edward G. Barrow, business manager of the Newark Yankees, and other Newark officials will be present.

The opening ceremony will be held at Ruppert Stadium, Newark, N. J., on Wednesday, April 18, at 7:30 p. m. The game will be broadcast on the radio by the Newark Bears.

Charles H. Knapp, president of the International League, will be present to award the President's Cup to the Newark Club for finishing first in the International League race last year.

Preceding the game there will be a parade in which the players of both clubs will ride in automobiles through the streets accompanied by delegations from various clubs in the city. At the park the usual band concert and parade to the flagpole will take place.
