"As You See It"

This feature, in which residents are asked to give their views on various subjects, will appear in The SUN from time to time. Suggestions are welcomed.

QUESTION: Of all the 50 questions you will be asked by a U. S. Census taker sometime in April, two have received considerable opposition on the grounds that they are too personal. These are:

1. What is the value of your home, and do you own it?
2. What was your income for the year of 1939?

Do you feel that the government is getting too nosy when it starts asking such questions?

PLACES OF INTERVIEW: The Post Office, Springfield, and Blitwe's Store, 1 Springfield road, Mountainside.

MILTON P. BROWN, representative, Public Service Gas and Electric Co., 121 Meisel avenue.

"I don't think the first question is an imposition on my privacy, but I do think the second is. The matter of income is an individual's own concern. Even in my own company, as an example, the persons in an office do not know the salaries of the others in the same office. These should not be a matter of public record."

EDWARD C. MYERS, garage owner, Central and Beach avenues, Mountainside.

"If a man's honest about his business and his dealings, there's no reason why he should hold back anything from the government. I think knowing these things will be a good thing myself, and I believe it would be of benefit to the government to have the complete picture of the country that these questions would help develop."

MRS. EDWARD SCHLEGEL, housewife, 38 Bryant avenue.

"Yes, I do, after all, a person's house is his private property and his income is his private business. What a household costs, or how much my husband makes is no business of the government. As a matter of fact, they should know the income by the income tax returns."

CHARLES J. WADAS, supervising principal, Mountainside School, Springfield road, Mountainside.

"If they are going to do a job of census taking, I say do it thoroughly. As long as it only comes every ten years, let them get as much information as possible while they are doing it. After all, progress in government is centered around the needs of the country, and the census can help determine these needs only if it is thorough.

"About the incomes in particular, they'll find out about them anyway, and a true statement as to the income in the Nation would be of great value. Since the figures are confidential, I don't see any harm in giving the true facts."

HENRY A. MACLOUGHLIN, painter, 21 Keeler street.

"I don't approve of these questions. My work is seasonal, anyway, and it would be pretty hard for me to keep track of the income. If I get it right, I think some of the other questions are too personal too."

MRS. FRED YOUNG, housewife, 226 Morris avenue.

"I really don't think such personal questions should be asked, especially if people in my own neighborhood or town act as the census takers. After the census is over, they are not bound to any secrecy, they can go ahead and tell all about it."

GREGG L. PROST, statistician, 345 Morris avenue.

"Yes, I do think it is an imposition to ask these questions. In the first place, as regards mortgages on the home, these are a matter of public record, and can be obtained legally. Secondly, I don't think it's anybody's business but his own how much a person earns. He has a constitutional right for privacy. I'm going to refuse to answer both the questions."

Mrs. Chas. Nelson

Mrs. Charles G. Nelson of Bryant avenue was elected chairman of the local Red Cross chapter Tuesday afternoon at a meeting of the executive board in the home of Mrs. Robert D. Trent, of 28 Bryant avenue. She succeeds Mrs. Lewis F. Macartney who has served the chapter as chairman for the past six years. Other officers who continue their terms of service for the chapter are: Vice-chairman, Mrs. Henry McMullen; treasurer, Mrs. Stephen Windisch; and secretary, Mrs. Frank Geiger. Miss Pearl Creevy, field representative for New Jersey from the Washington headquarters, attended the meeting.

The benefit bridge sponsored by the Nursing Welfare Committee will be held at Keos-Bros. Store in Railway, Thursday, April 11 at 2 P. M. Proceeds will be used to replenish the supply closet at the Town Hall, and also for welfare work. Mrs. Treat and Mrs. A. H. Richards, co-chairmen, are in charge of reservations.

Thanks From Scouts

To the Editor of the SUN:
The Girl Scouts of Troop 1 wish to thank everyone who helped in any way to make their cake sale in Pinkwater's Showroom last Saturday a success.

"It was the first undertaking the troop has sponsored, and the members are proud to announce that they realized $13.00 from it. Some of this money will be used for registration fees, and the balance will be kept in the treasury."

Proposal to Buy Hartshorn

Land Rejected By Committee

32-Acre Land Near Water Works Is Suggested

An offer that the Township Committee purchase 32 acres of land, bounded on the south by the Short Hills water pumping station of the Commonwealth Water Company, and on the east by the Presbyterian Cemetery, with outlets on both Main street and Morrison road, was submitted to the board Monday night in a letter from Hartshorn Estates of Short Hills, owners of the tract.

Committee members discussed the proposal and ordered the clerk to notify the Short Hills real estate firm that they were not disposed to consider the plan, at this time.

The Hartshorn company wrote: "Due to the number of new homes about to be built in Springfield, and the demand for land near low cost

AUTO OVERTURNS AT MOUNTAINSIDE

MOUNTAINSIDE—A car operated by Edward T. Snook, former Mayor of Summit, crashed over on its side Wednesday night at 7.15 at the foot of the grade on Summit road. The accident, reported by Officer Frank Salzer, was caused when the machine hit a soft shoulder on a curve at the bottom of the hill. The side of the car was damaged, but Mr. Snook, who resides at 63 Oak Ridge avenue, Summit, and the only occupant in the car, was uninjured.

New Column Begins This Week in SUN

This week, the SUN inaugurates a new column which will appear from time to time: in an effort to tell its readers how the citizens of Springfield and Mountainside feel about various questions. This week's question obviously represents a political issue. Others in the future will not be limited to politics. In fact, a wide variance in questions is planned.

The procedure for obtaining answers will be the posting of a reporter at some point where he will interview anyone who comes along.

We want to be sure, however, that no one is imposed upon by the asking of these questions. If, for any reason, you should be approached by the reporter, and should not wish to commit yourself, please just say so, and the interview will be ended.

We hope the column will provide entertainment and interest for the readers of the SUN. If you enjoy reading it up, then we'll be well satisfied.

Any suggestions from our readers about the questions to be asked, will be accepted gratefully.

Schmidt Elected As Team Captain

Raymond E. Schmidt, of 33 South Maple avenue, a guard on the Springfield (Mass.) College basketball squad, was elected captain of next year's team by his teammates at a dinner meeting of the squad last Sunday evening. He will succeed another guard, Alfred C. Werner of Rochester, N. Y., who was captain of last season's Maroons.

Schmidt's play was one of the highlights of a campaign that brought Springfield College a record of 16 victories out of 18 starts. In addition to basketball, Schmidt plays baseball from the pitcher's mound, and the New York Yankees have shown an interest in his abilities on the diamond.

A graduate of Roselle Park high school in 1937, Schmidt is a junior in the health and physical education division of Springfield College. He is the son of Mr. and Mrs. August H. Schmidt.

Turn Down Stable

Report was received from William F. Baumschmidt, secretary, that the Board of Adjustment at a hearing February 19 had denied an application of Wilbert V. Kimey, of 61 Rodwell avenue, Newark, for an exception to a Class A residential zone in Baltusrol road. The latter sought permission to operate a stable for boarding and hiring saddle horses on a farm owned by Charles Faltoute. The site is about 135 feet south of the Summit line.

In the absence of one board member, Committeeman Alfred G. Trundle, the Governing Body decided to delay acting upon the adjustment body's recommendation, and will discuss the application at a full board session.

Golden Wedding Anniversary Sunday For Frank W. Bohl

Couple to be Greeted at Open House Tomorrow

Fifty years of domestic bliss will be behind Mr. and Mrs. Frank W. Bohl when they celebrate their golden wedding anniversary tomorrow afternoon at an open house in their home, at 18 Morris avenue. Their two daughters, Mrs. Jessie Hamilton, wife of the Rev. Willis C. Hamilton of Springfield avenue, and Mrs. Daisy R. Burd, wife of Frank R. Burd of 49 Salker avenue, are arranging the affair. Six grandchildren, the Misses Violet and Jessie Hamilton, Willis, Jr. and Robert Hamilton, and the Misses Dorothy and Jean Burd, all of Springfield, will be among the 100 guests at the Bohl home.

"The Bohls moved to Elizabeth in 1898 from Brooklyn, N. Y., where they had been married eight years before. Mr. Bohl left the head of a Brooklyn awning company to come to Elizabeth where he was employed by the Elizabethtown Water Company. He has been with the company ever since, and now holds the position of Chief Engineer, at its pumping station, off Seven Bridge road. In 1900, two years later, the Bohls moved to Springfield.

Although Mrs. Bohl the former May Osborn had long been a resident of Brooklyn when she met her future husband at a church social held by the Eighteenth Street Methodist Episcopal Church, Mr. Bohl had moved there from Union when he was 17 years old. He had formerly lived in different parts of Union and Essex Counties, and can remember when Morris avenue was but a dirt road winding all over Union County. He also recalls walking three miles to school every day when his home was in Butter Milk Valley, now part of the South Mountain Reservation. This hike

Walks Throughout Morris Avenue Are Ordered by Board

Accedes to Requests from Citizens for Further Street Improvement

The Township Committee Monday night directed Engineer Arthur H. Eggers to prepare an ordinance and plans for sidewalks on Morris avenue, which will ultimately bring about walks on the township's main thoroughfare from the Union boundary to the Summit line, on both sides of the street. Specifically, the latest and last link in the sidewalk proposal will include the distance from Baltusrol way to the Summit line, on both sides of Morris avenue, and also the south side, from Profit avenue west to Baltusrol way.

Citizens protested to the Governing Body February 28 against passage of legislation which would allow walks only on Morris avenue, from Baltusrol way to the Henshaw property line, on the grounds that it fell short of the bus fare limit at the Summit line, a short distance away. They also complained that pupils enroute to school should have the benefit of walks on the entire south side of Morris avenue, whereas the present stretch between Profit avenue and the Baltusrol way is not so improved, as is the opposite side of the street.

The revised ordinance is expected to be introduced Wednesday night, at which time date will be set for a public hearing. Labor will be furnished by the WPA, and the township's share of the cost will be assessed against fronting property benefited by the improvement.

Manning Day, 82, Long Resident, Died Wednesday

Funeral services will be held tomorrow afternoon at 3:30 o'clock from the residence, 656 Morris avenue, and burial will be in the Presbyterian Cemetery. The Rev. Raymond E. Neff, pastor of the Arlington Methodist Church and former local Methodist pastor, will officiate.

Mr. Day was born in Lyonsville, near Boonton, in Morris County, and resided in Summit for several years before coming to Springfield in 1882. He and his wife, the late Eleanor Green Day, who died five years ago celebrated their golden wedding anniversary in September 1930.

As a young man, Mr. Day worked with his father-in-law, James H. Green, who conducted an antique shop for many years in Summit. At the turn of the century, he became the first master mechanic of the Morris County Traction Company, at its car barn in Millburn, adjoining the site of what is now the Millburn Coal Co. off Main street. He transferred to Summit when the company opened a barn there, and after Public Service Co-Ordinated Transport acquired control of the traction company in 1928, Mr. Day was assigned to the Summit division's station in Flomer avenue.

During his employment here, he suffered an injury in the local bus garage, in which he received a fractured skull and retired on a pension.

He leaves four sons, Howard, Manning, Jr., Herbert R., all of Springfield, the latter overseer of the poor; James, of New York City, and a daughter, Mrs. Edgar Jacobs, of Springfield. There are also eight grandchildren and three great grandchildren.

Ferguson, William White, Herbert Quinton, Richard O. Horner, Police Chief M.

What A Life' to Repeat Tonight

Parent-heckled and girl-troubled Henry Aldrich, kept pressed high school student, had an audience of nearly 400 laughing last night during the first of two performances of "What A Life," the annual senior class play in Regional High School auditorium.

Henry Aldrich, who was more Henry Aldrich than he was Richard Salsched, Garwood student, who played the lead, fibbed his way out of embarrassing circumstances all through the two hours of the entertaining comedy and right into the hearts of the audience. Shirt tails bagging out and the end of a big red tie, flopping out from under the bottom of his sweater, he played the principal of his school, led by Richard Titley of Springfield, through a hectic time trying to extract the young son of Mrs. Aldrich, demanding P. T. A. president, played by Linda Guerrero of Garwood from the continual scrapes he got into.

Outstanding in the supporting cast were two comedy figures, Bill Bataille, of Springfield who played the part of Yocohito, the junkman whose daughter seemed to get lost in the madrigal at his school, and Michael Liotra, who acted the part of Detective Ferguson, derby hatted and cigar smoking "flatfoot" who helped solve the mystery of the plot.

Miss Kay Hoagland of Kenilworth played the romantic lead, opposite Henry Aldrich. Robert Tansey of Springfield turned in a good performance as the sympathetic assistant principal, and Daniel Staehle, also a local boy, managed to carry the villain's part with effectiveness. Lillian Robertson, Springfield, was the physical education teacher, and Mary Jane Hicks of Berkeley Heights played opposite Tansey as the principal's secretary. Mr. Patterson, perplexed history teacher, was played by William Wagner, Berkeley Heights, and science teacher, Miss Pike, by Muriel Edwards of Clark Township.

Lillian Fischer of Garwood was the steady-as-a-rock teacher and Rose Crump of Garwood, was the music teacher. "Bill" and "Gerlie," two students, were played by Fred Hund of Garwood, and Conetta Davis of Kenilworth. Other students were Ruth Larson, Mary Luca, Peggy Egan, Jean Arthur, and Marlon Griffin.

The play was coached by Miss Kay Johnson, and a great deal of credit goes to her for the finished performance which had even professional touches in spots, and to the large group of committee members who worked back stage and in completing arrangements for the presentation.

The play will be repeated tonight in the auditorium at 8:15 o'clock.

Band Appearance Started Yesterday

A series of short 20 to 30 minute concerts at the beginning of local P. T. A. meetings in the communities of the Regional High School district was inaugurated last night by the Regional Band at a meeting of the Kenilworth association.

The series which will be continued when the band appears next Thursday at a similar meeting in Mountainside, the following Monday, March 16 in Springfield; the next night in Clark Township; Thursday, March 21, in Garwood and on April 16, in Berkeley Heights.

The purpose of the entertainment by the student organization is to provide an opportunity for those who have not heard it because of living in the widespread sections of the school district, and who consequently were unable to attend the recent band concert. It is also hoped that the concerts will help parents realize the value of instrumental instruction in the grades and high school.

Students will wear uniforms at all the performances, and will be provided with bus transportation except for appearances in Garwood and Berkeley Heights. The full band will participate in all the concerts except the one in Berkeley Heights where limited accommodations will allow only the appearance of the brass and clarinet ensemble.

SCOUT COMMITTEE WILL MEET MONDAY

The Executive Committee of Springfield Girl Scouts will meet Monday at 2 P. M. at the home of Mrs. William Gramp of Hillside avenue. Plans will be formulated for Scout activities for the Spring season.

Troop 3, under the leadership of Mrs. Jean Craft, held a picnic Saturday in the South Mountain Reservation where the girls cooked their own lunches over an open fire place.

COUNCIL ELECTIONS SLATE

Red Cross Council of Regional High School recently elected officers, for the coming year. Charles Morrison of Garwood was selected president, and Miss Dorothy Nery, also of Garwood, was chosen vice president. Other officers include: Secretary, Norma Fischer, of Garwood; treasurer, Lillian Fisher, of Garwood; and publicity chairman, Grace Farnham of Kenilworth. The Council will be a unit of the newly-formed Red Cross Chapter of Union County.

WEEKLY NEWS ANALYSIS BY JOSEPH W. LaBINE
Merger of Two Wars Feared
If Allies Send Aid to Finland;
Poles Drill Big Army in France

(EDITOR'S NOTE—When opinions are expressed in these columns, they are those of the news analyst and not necessarily of this newspaper.)

U.S. and the Wars; After Six Months
Six months had passed since Germany invaded Poland, since President Roosevelt summoned congress to safeguard U. S. neutrality. Good intentions notwithstanding, the U. S. found itself deeply concerned with Europe's wars—politically, financially, economically, socially. Items in a week's news:

Agriculture
During senate hearings on the reciprocal-trade act, Secretary of Agriculture Henry Wallace hinted the U. S. may seek means to help the farmer, whose exports have been reduced since the war started. Main reason for war: Allies claim they need all their foreign exchange to buy munitions. One possible remedy is an excise tax on munitions exports which might be paid to farmers.
Trade
U. S. exports exceeded imports in January by $128,589,000, the largest margin in recent years. One unhappy trend: Gold and silver holdings of the U. S. piled higher and higher as foreign nations used this method to pay for their purchases.
Industry
Latest item in the $1,000,000,000 worth of allied war purchases in the U. S. was a $20,000,000 contract placed with Douglas Aircraft company for construction of bombers for Great Britain.

California
A California youth, stopped at Rockford, Ill., admitted he and 20 other Americans had been recruited by one Col. Charles Swentey (believed an American soldier of fortune) and ordered to report in Toronto for aviation training. The FBI went to work.
Maritime
The U. S. had two British blockade problems: (1) Britain sought Canadian co-operation in establishing a combined control system in the Pacific to stop U. S. rubber and tin from reaching Siberia, Russia, from whence it may be going to Germany; (2) Pan-American clippers, avoiding British small seizures at Bermuda, decided to fly direct from the U. S. to the Azores and Lisbon.
Congress
Ironed out were senate-house differences in the measure to raise the Export-Import bank's lending power by $100,000,000, thus providing $20,000,000 for non-military purchases by Finland.

EUROPE: The Wars

Finland Front. Around Vilpuri on the Karelian Isthmus and near Petsamo in the far north, Finland's defenders continued retreating before Russian pressure. But the Finns held their ground at the "waistline," halfway up the border.
Western Front. Increased patrol and artillery activity was acknowledged by both high commands. Heavy German troop movements were reported near Luxembourg and the Nazis were said to be extending the Siegfried line along the Belgian and Dutch frontiers.
In the Air. British reconnaissance planes flew over Berlin two successive nights, while Nazi planes were chased away from Paris.
At Sea. Allied warships, massing in the Arctic sea to block Russian-German sea commerce, sank two Nazi merchantmen near the Finnish shore. An undated report of naval activity off Petsamo was considered by observers as the first sign that Europe's two wars may merge.

POLAND'S SIKORSKI
Where will his army go?
(See Below)

Behind Scenes
Somewhere in France correspondents discovered Gen. Wladyslaw Sikorski of Poland drilling about 100,000 troops—peasant boys, students, miners and professionals—men who escaped from Poland after Germany's blitzkrieg. With France's live nights, while Nazi planes were chased away from Paris.

At Sea. Allied warships, massing in the Arctic sea to block Russian-German sea commerce, sank two Nazi merchantmen near the Finnish shore. An undated report of naval activity off Petsamo was considered by observers as the first sign that Europe's two wars may merge.

NAMES in the news...

At Little America, Adm. Richard E. Byrd reported he and two assistants had mapped the long-unknown South Pacific coast of Antarctica, discovering a vast mountain range and an ice-covered island 80 miles offshore.
At London, ex-Premier David Lloyd George scored England's woefully "poor" food production, claiming that two and a half million acres which produced 1,000,000 tons of food in 1914 are now overgrown with weeds.
At London, it was rumored Maj. Kermit Roosevelt, son of the "Rough Rider," would leave his British army post to lead an international brigade against Russia in Finland.
Arriving in the U. S. for a three-week visit, Archduke Otto of Austria, hoped to arouse sentiment for his "enthronement" provided Germany loses the war and Austria is restored.
Died: Gen. William Graves, 74, who commanded U. S. expeditionary forces in Siberia from 1918 to 1920.

Congress' Work

Passed by the House: (1) The senate-approved bill to give Finland a $20,000,000 non-military loan; (2) a $90,000,000 appropriation to keep crop control checks flowing to farmers.
Proposed: By Sen. Robert F. Wagner (D-N. Y.), legislation to regulate investment companies on behalf of the Securities and Exchange commission.
Sent to the Senate: The house approved resolution to extend for three years the administration's reciprocal trade program.
Argued in Both Houses: The 1940 census, scheduled to start April 1. While Census Director W. L. Austin moaned, Republican orators urged constituents to risk penalties by not giving censustakers "personal" information which is "none of their damned business."

Magnit line already well manned, observers had reason to wonder where Poland-in-exile will send its first five divisions which will be ready for action by midsummer. Finland seemed the best bet, for behind a ceaseless barrage of rumors and counter-rumors flooding Europe this month could be seen an ever-narrowing breach between the two wars.
Both London and Paris reported it was certain the allies would land an army at far-north Petsamo, supplying spasmodic aid which has dribbled to the Finns through Norway and Sweden. In the light of this possibility, German overtures in Scandinavia seemed ominous.
The overtures: Nazidom "has sought a Finnish-Russian truce to stop competition of Russian war materials and thus get more for herself; Hitler has also threatened intervention on Russia's side if an allied expeditionary force is sent to Finland's aid. He had also hinted to Norway and Sweden that it would be best for them to block allied aid to the Finns if they wanted to escape the war. But at the same time he had not overlooked the value of Scandinavian friendship, for Swedish iron ore would be cut off if the northern countries joined Britain and France.

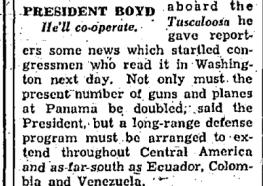

Peace Gesture
Despite gloomy news, irrepressible peace rumors still bobbed to the surface. In London Lord Tavistock, chairman of the British council for Christian settlement, said he had received a set of peace terms through Germany's legation in Dublin. These he had passed on to Foreign Secretary Viscount Halifax. The terms: (1) Independence to Slovakia; (2) independence to Poland, with an outlet to the sea; (3) a plebiscite in Austria, maybe; (4) disarmament, if others will do likewise; (5) German re-entry to the League of Nations, provided Britain doesn't continue to run the show. To most observers, they looked like the sanest offer of peace terms brightened with a new coat of paint.

Mr. Welles Goes Calling
Hastily concluding his preliminary discussions in Rome with Benito Mussolini, Undersecretary of State Sumner Welles hurried to Switzerland and thence to Berlin. What had been advertised as a pure-and-simple fact-finding expedition was developing (as everyone had expected) into a queer peace offensive. Premier Mussolini had "evidently told Mr. Welles his terms, and it was widely advertised that Adolf Hitler would do likewise. Everyone, obviously, would talk tough.

Other political news:
Pur Democratic tentacles, Massachusetts' Walsh, Iowa's Herring, Michigan's Brown and Indiana's Minton indicated they could conceive of an international situation which would make it wise to nominate and elect Franklin Roosevelt for a third term.
Thomas E. Dewey had his name filed in the Nebraska G. O. P. primary, where he will fight it out with Michigan's Sen. Arthur Vandenberg.
Vice President John Nance Garner let his name be entered in New York.

WHITE HOUSE: Home Again

Outward from Panama into the Caribbean headed the cruiser Tuscaloosa, bearing Franklin Roosevelt home from a fishing expedition. South of Panama he had fished for fish; in the Canal Zone he had fished for information, getting himself convinced that America's Gibraltar is inadequately guarded.

PRESIDENT BOYD
Tuscaloosa he gave reporters some news which startled congressmen who read it in Washington next day. Not only must the present number of guns and planes at Panama be doubled, said the President, but a long-range defense program must be arranged to extend throughout Central America and as far south as Ecuador, Colombia and Venezuela.

Reason for this, he said, was the need for a better opportunity to discover an attacking force at a much longer distance from the canal. Even the new Caribbean fortresses were inadequate protection from the east, he maintained.
An interested observer was Augusto Boyd, president of Little Panama, whose country will profit by heavy U. S. expenditures in the Canal Zone. Said he, after a conference aboard the Tuscaloosa: "I think we're all in the same boat. Latin America must co-operate with the United States in defense of the canal. We are in there 100 per cent as far as co-operation is concerned."

DOMESTIC: Nose Count

Of all questions in the 1940 census, none has drawn more fire than those regarding personal income. When census takers begin their rounds April 1 many a citizen will probably refuse to answer these questions despite the threat of a fine. Adding weight to the G. O. P.-sponsored campaign of protest, Miss Catherine Curtis of New York appeared before the senate subcommittee on behalf of women investors. Said she: Congress will have to enlarge the jails to house protesting women if income-questions are not stricken from the census.
Nevertheless Census Director William Austin went ahead with his plans, hoping his nose-count will not be completely sabotaged. Meanwhile the department of commerce announced creation of a new national income division which will "analyze and interpret the flow of income from various sources and its expenditure in the final analysis for goods and services." For its source material the division will probe every source of personal income data available, including social security records, Bureau of Internal Revenue—and the 1940 census.

LABOR: Biggest Election

At Washington the National Labor Relations board issued orders for the largest collective bargaining election ever held. "As soon as possible," approximately 150,000 employees in 59 General Motors plants in 11 states will cast their ballots, the principal issue being affiliation with C. I. O. or A. F. of L.

POLITICS: Victory in Ohio

Both Republicans and Democrats conceded that Ohio's six-county seventh congressional district was a sounding board for Ohio's political cross-currents. In that district, Republican J. Harry McGregor was fighting it out with Democrat Byron Ashbrook, nephew of the late Rep. William A. Ashbrook.
In the twenty-second district a Republican victory was not unexpected, provided Ohio would send a woman to congress. Hoping it would, socially prominent Mrs. Frances Payne Bolton sought to succeed her late husband.
When the votes were in Mrs. Bolton found herself elected. So did Republican McGregor, which was a significant victory if the prophetic seventeenth district wasn't fooling. At Washington the G. O. P. congressional campaign committee hailed Ohio's results as a sign that "the tide of national sentiment continues strongly toward a Republican sweep next November."

Earning How to Pitch

The time had come when he had to do more than just rear back, stretch out and whip that frobbal at the hitters. The old blaze had died out in his fast ball. He couldn't fool the hitters with it any more. He had to do something he hadn't done before. He had to stop and think to study the hitters and develop a curve ball, a change of pace ball and a slow ball and brush up on his control. And when he had done all that, he was a pitcher—a real pitcher.

LOS ANGELES.—I read recently that Old Mose Grove had signed his contract with the Red Sox. That's Old Mose's sixteenth major league contract. He signed his first one with the Athletics away back in 1925. He was 25 years old then and had come up to the big show after five years in Baltimore. The late Jack Dunn had kept him in Baltimore for five years because in those days the Orioles ruled the International league as the Yankees rule the American league now. It was good business for Jack to hold onto his ball players for a few years. They pulled in the crowds at the turnstiles, they won pennants and Little World Series—and the longer they remained in Baltimore the more eager the major league club owners were to buy them and the bigger the price they brought.
Jack Bentley—Joe Boley—Max Bishop—Grove—all brought box car figures when Dunn, one of baseball's shrewdest traders, sent them to market. Grove brought $100,000. I don't know what the $500 was for. Amusement tax, possibly.

MOSE GROVE
In 1925, he was $100,000 with, perhaps, a little off for the Giants. But McGraw wasn't paying $100,000 for a pitcher

Offered to McGraw

At the time the story was—and so far as I know it may have been true—that John McGraw had turned Dunn down when he offered the big left-hander to the Giants.

MOSE GROVE

In 1925, he had just won four pennants in a row, thereby cracking an all-American record for the major leagues—and it looked as though he might go on from there. So he wasn't interested.
At any rate, that's the story.

The Yankees' Cousin

Meanwhile, Dunn had some sort of agreement with Connie Mack that called for him, in the natural course of events, to send his better players over the short line from Baltimore to Philadelphia and in the spring of 1925 Grove arrived at the training camp of the Athletics.
He was young, eager and tireless. He had a strong back and a rubber arm. But he wasn't a pitcher. He was a thrower. He won 10 games in 1925, 13 in 1926 and 20 in 1927.

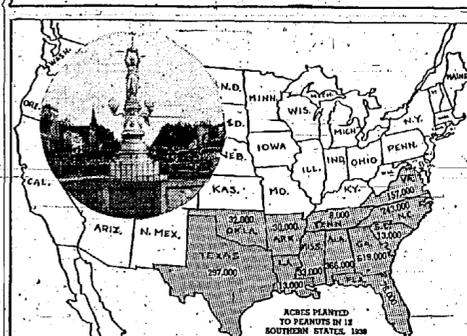

Those were the years in which he was first cousin to the Yankees. By the ball players' argot a cousin is a pitcher that the hitters like to face—and there wasn't a pitcher in the American league who the Yankees liked any better than Grove. All they had to do was to wait him out—or hurry him—and then slug him.

As he acquired pluck, he became more effective, not only against the other clubs but against the Yankees as well. His figures in the victory column mounted. He won 24 games in 1928, slipped to 20 in 1929, rose to 28 in 1930, and to 31 in 1931. He won 25 in 1932 and, although he dropped to 24 in 1933, he led the league again—as he had in 1928, 1930 and 1931.
In the winter of 1933 he was sold to the Red Sox for $125,000. In 1934 he had trouble with his arm and won only eight games while losing as many—and it was right after that that he became a real pitcher. He was forced to out-think the batters, and in doing that he became one of the greatest pitchers in the history of baseball.

Lowly Peanut Replaces Cotton To Boost South's Prosperity

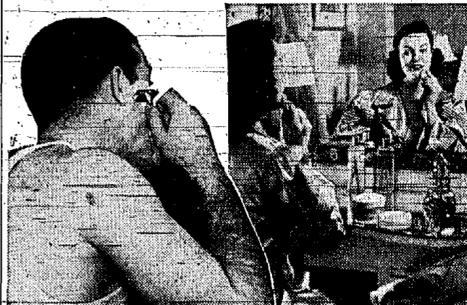

In the little town of Enterprise, Ala., is an elaborate monument (inset) inspired by the lowly peanut. It was erected in honor of the boll weevil when that insect ruined cotton crops and brought peanut raising into popularity. Since then the peanut industry has been expanded so rapidly that today 12 southern states have a total of 1,837,000 acres planted to peanuts, as shown on the map above. The industry is highly promoted, and many new uses for the peanut are being developed each year. In January the state of Virginia observed its annual "Peanut Week." The peanut is honored each year by the Virginia Carolina Peanut association. Miss Emily Cross of Suffolk, Va., (left) was queen.

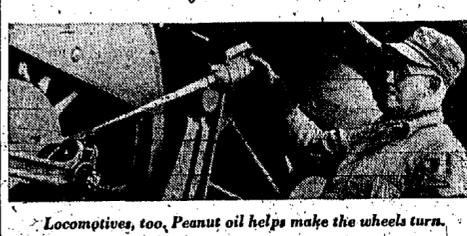

Picture Parade

By this year the peanut harvest has become so great that a serious problem faced more than 30,000 southern farm families who depend on the crop for their livelihood. Organized aid was provided through special producer-consumer drives, the latest in a series to move surplus farm products, by independent merchants and by the rapid distribution system of food chain stores.

John L. Lewis got an unexpected kickback from his rip-roaring assertion that Madame de Pompadour knew as a hunchabout labor problems "as a hunchabout-knows about the moral code."
Two weeks after the convention he received a letter from a foreign missionary reading as follows:
"Dear Mr. Lewis: I cannot let the insult you hurled at the Hottentots pass unchallenged. I have lived and worked among these people for many years and have found on the whole that they have a much higher respect for the moral code than people who live in so-called civilized nations.
"If what you say about Miss Perkins is true, then she must be a very excellent public servant. I commend her."

By DREW PEARSON and ROBERT ALLEN

WASHINGTON.—That secret Dies committee meeting did not consider new investigational plans as announced by Chairman Dies. What actually took place was a fight to fire J. B. "Doc" Matthews, the committee's so-called "Communist expert."

The effort came within one vote of succeeding. Matthews was saved only by the slim margin of 3 to 2. The dismissal motion was made by Rep. John J. Dempsey, silver-haired New Mexican, who has long been opposed to Matthews' employment. Supporting Dempsey were his two liberal colleagues, Reps. Joseph Casey of Massachusetts and Jerry Voorhis of California. Voting with Dies, who hired Matthews and has been his chief backer, was the fourth Democrat, Joe Starnes of Alabama, and the two Republican members, Noah Mason of Illinois and J. Parnell Thomas of New Jersey.

Dempsey's move provoked a heated clash. In demanding Matthews' ouster, Dempsey charged the investigator with bringing the committee into disrepute by his "radical background" and his "passion for grinding personal axes."

As an instance of this he cited Matthews' report on alleged Red influence in consumer organizations. This report, issued last December from Dies' home in Orange, Texas, without the knowledge or consent of the full committee, vigorously assailed the Consumers Union.

"I hold no brief for this organization," Dempsey asserted, "but it happens that it is a competitor of Consumers Research, in which Matthews has a large financial interest. But he didn't mention Consumers' Research in his report, while he attacked Consumers Union and other consumer groups."

Dies immediately rushed to the defense. "I know Matthews is a former radical," he shouted, "but that doesn't alter the fact that he has been very valuable to us in exposing the inner workings of the Communist movement."

"If that is so," broke in Casey, "then let's keep him in that role. I have no objection to keeping him on our payroll as long as he remains in the job we hired him for an informer. But I strongly object to his acting as the principal investigator of the committee, asking questions of witnesses and issuing reports he has no authority to put out."

Undaunted by the rejection of his dismissal motion, Dempsey offered another to slash Matthews' salary, upped from $3,600 by Dies, to $4,800. But again Matthews was saved by one vote—4 to 3.

ROOSEVELT AND DIPLOMATS
The President has discarded all the formal trappings he received in a new diplomat. He tried the informal manner and liked it. This means three principal changes in procedure. He receives in his office instead of in the White House proper; he wears his business suit, instead of pin striped trousers and cutaway coat; and he omits the reading of the official messages.
These messages are still prepared and released to the press, but the new diplomat is saved the trouble of reading, and the President is saved the trouble of listening. Incidentally, the last message presented was "the longest on record—that of Panama's new Ambassador George Boyd.
The President now uses the time to better advantage. With no one in the room except himself and the diplomat, unless an interpreter is required, he carries on an informal and friendly chat on matters that interest them both.

Fabric Alone or With Straw Is Millinery Theme for Easter

ONE glance at these hat fashions for spring, year 1940, and forthwith you feel your spirits mount high for you know in a flash that milliners are turning out creations of the flatterer sort.

Perhaps the most outstanding news in regard to hats that will grace the Easter millinery picture is the wide use being made of fabric, especially jersey.

One of the big attractions offered to style-seeking women this season is the printed dress and hat ensemble or the print blouse that sells with a matching turban.

NATIONAL AFFAIRS

Reviewed by CARTER FIELD

Recent developments, according to Carter Field, leave no doubt that Roosevelt can have the nomination if he wants it.

WASHINGTON.—Developments in Massachusetts and Ohio, following those in Illinois, are worth noting.

Jackson, Cohen, Corcoran and Norris are reported by friends to be furious with Jerome Frank and Leon Henderson.

Just what Jackson, Cohen, Corcoran and Norris were so anxious to have the SEC take over the receivership of Associated Gas seems very clear to anti-public ownership men.

Lewis' Latest Blow at Roosevelt Shrewdly Aimed.—The blow that John L. Lewis struck at President Roosevelt in his speech before the American Youth Congress was much more shrewdly aimed than the more outspoken attack before the United Mine Workers gathering at Columbus.

McNutt Has Handicap in Farley's Personal Antipathy.—Paul V. McNutt was the first candidate to pick that particular line. But there was more political sagacity in McNutt's course than in Farley's.

When he first started on this "I am for Roosevelt if he wants it, but if he doesn't then I am after the nomination" strategy, McNutt did not know how bitterly the left wingers in the New Deal were against him.

commission, two men who have been regarded as the extreme left end of the left wing of the New Deal.

Wheeler and Rayburn Are Opposed to SEC as Receiver.—It happens that Wheeler and Rayburn sponsored the public utility holding company bill when it went through congress after a bitter fight.

The SEC voted, four to one, against accepting the job. But despite this, Attorney General Jackson later asked the New York court having the appointment to name SEC as receiver.

The amazing thing about all this to Washington observers is that Corcoran and Cohen had always assumed they had the SEC in their pockets—especially after William O. Douglas, who had proved a bit untrustworthy from their standpoint, had been replaced by Jerome Frank, whom they regarded as a tried and true radical.

Household News By Eleanor Howe

Some Ideas for a Party.—Shur-re-an in the merry month of March, it's St. Patrick's day we're thinkin' of when we pass along these ideas for a party.

It is to find an Irish Paddy's Pig at your place at the table. Small Irish potatoes, scrubbed until they shine, make the fat bodies of the pigs.

head, fasten a large round gum drop to one end of each potato, with a toothpick. Make the snout from a small gum drop plucked to the proper shape.

These two party menus are planned for St. Patrick's day. You'll find other suggestions for parties of every kind, in my book "Easy Entertaining."

Menu I.—Chicken Saled in Lettuce Cups, Hot Cloverleaf Rolls, Potato Chips, St. Patrick's Lime Pie.

Menu II.—Shamrock Salad, St. Pat's Hat, Sweet Pickles, Angel Food Snowballs, Beverage, Green and White Mints, Salted Nuts, Refrigerator Cloverleaf Rolls.

Startling Color Schemes Are Seen.

Daring is the word for the startling color schemes that are carried out to a nicely by designers this season.

Navy for the skirt, old gold for the blouse, bright red for the wide corselet girdle and the entire sum up-to-color perfection as a charming dress in sheer wool recently displayed bears testimony.

Clever two or three-color alliances are being handled with brilliant and decided novel technique. A dark dress takes on a front panel of vivid turquoise such as red with navy-fuchsia with turquoise.

Dual Personality In Jacket Outfits

Bright print jacket costumes possess a dual personality which more than doubles their practicality.

A print with a white pattern on pearl gray makes an ideal background for bright-colored accessories.

High-Color Gloves Match to Jewelry

A new move in the fashion realm is that of bright gloves that sound the key color for the rest of the accessories.

More Stripes

THE CENSUS PROBLEM

Evidently Springfield feels the way the rest of the country does about the questions on the census sheet this year. Reverberations have come from all parts of the Nation against some of the questions to be asked by the census takers. The SUN's new column, "As You See It," shows a trend here in town that closely parallels the national feeling.

Letters have been piling into Washington from all parts of the country protesting the two questions which demand the value of a person's home and the amount of his income. Various reasons accompany these objections. Number one argument, of course, is that it's none of the government's business and that the questions represent an imposition on the individual's privacy. Then also, it is feared that it will be used as a basis of new income tax levies. Then it is claimed, that the information is apt to be divulged by the census takers who, in many cases, are the neighbors of the persons whose information they seek. There is a $500 fine on any census taker who does divulge what is essentially confidential, but evidently the citizens feel that this is either inadequate or could not be enforced.

Senator Tobey of New Hampshire has introduced a bill in Washington which would strike these specific questions from the census. We would hesitate to do such a thing until we have had the explanation from the other side of the picture, but the most potent argument for the Senator's bill is the fact that the defenders of the census have, in no way, attempted to explain the necessity of these questions. Instead, President Roosevelt lambasts against the Republicans for making a political issue out of it, in no way, tries to justify it. This is evading the issue.

It has gone so far, that district census supervisors have been stripped of their authority to make any statement to the press containing information on the census, and the progress of the campaign. Frank J. Pfaff, Union County representative of the census bureau is tongue-tied, or gag-tied, rather, by orders straight from Washington.

We'd like to get the low down on all this. If there's a reason, for the questions, why not just tell us, Mr. Roosevelt?

FINE RESIDENT ON ASSAULT CHARGES

MOUNTAINSIDE—Charles Heckel, 22, of Summit road, was fined $25 and $2 costs by Recorder Albert J. Benninger last Thursday night in police court, for allegedly having punched a Plainfielder as he sat in a Route 29 restaurant February 19. The plaintiff, George Fosbre, 22, of 423 West Fifth street, Plainfield, pressed assault charges against Heckel, claiming that he had knocked three teeth out, and lacerated his lip and cheek.

CLOVERS STILL IN BASKETBALL RACE

MOUNTAINSIDE—The Mountainside Clovers, as a result of a last-period rally which enabled them to win Wednesday night from the Bound Brook Ramblers, 32-28, have a chance to tie for the top rung in the Queen-City League of Plainfield. They are a game behind the Flying Eagles, who, like the locals, have a postponed game also to be played, the regular season having concluded. Coach Charles Wadas' five were on the short end of an 18-6 score at the half, but an 18-point rampage by Al Pfeiffer and Ed Werle in the last quarter put them back into the running and they forged ahead to win easily. The Ramblers will be the Eagles' last opponent.

SQUAD MEETS SUNDAY

MOUNTAINSIDE—The Mountainside Rescue Squad will meet Sunday morning at 10:30 A. M. in the Squad headquarters at Borough Hall. Herman Honecker, president, will conduct the meeting which will feature election of officers.

PERSONAL MENTION

Sonia Myers, daughter of Edward Myers, and student at the Mountainside school is confined at home.

Anniversary

at that time known as the "King of Coney Island." McCane had been indicted on a charge of evading election laws, and the case had many political complications. The trial lasted a month, and every night of this time the jury was locked up in rooms in the St. George Hotel. This was in 1895, and the verdict, when it finally came out was "Guilty." McCane got four years in the penitentiary. Shortly after his arrival in Springfield, Mr. Bohls took the lead in construction of "Pierson Oval" on Pierson avenue, a baseball diamond and sports field which was used for many years until 1937. It was located on the land that now fronts the Regional High School. Over 100 loads of ashes were used in filling this land in which, at that time was swamp land. In 1923, the Bohls constructed their home at 18 Morris avenue, and have lived there ever since. The good wishes and congratulations of many friends of the Bohls go with them on their golden anniversary.

NEW BOOKS IN LIBRARY

DANGER IS MY BUSINESS by John D. Craig. There has never been an adventure book quite like this one. Its background is over and under the seven seas. At the age of twenty, Craig came into an all fortune left to him and was able to gratify the one desire of his life—the search for the unknown. He has traveled in thirty-five countries where he has filmed sequences for leading motion picture companies which later appeared in "Trader Horn," "Devil Tiger," "I Cover the Waterfront," and many others. This is a complete story of a man who is at home on the sea floor or in the underbrush of a jungle, a man whose daily life is a gamble with death to make a living.

OTHER GODS by Pearl Buck. This story opens on the highest peak in the Himalayas which Bert Holm has reached in a brilliant dash. Upon his return to Feking, Bert meets and marries Kit Talbot. They return to America, and Kit learns what it is to be the wife of a hero. When his fame wanes, a new expedition to the mountains is organized, and Kit goes along. The rest of the book tells of their experiences in this new venture.

UNCLE SNOWBALL by Frances Frost. If you read "YOKE OF STARS," you will surely want to read this new book by Miss Frost and get acquainted with Uncle Snowball and the Hayward family who adopted him as well as the nine children. These boys and girls were of all sorts and sizes and the kind who love to collect snakes and mice. It's a novel full of humor and tenderness and is thoroughly enjoyable.

HEAD OF THE HOUSE by Grace Livingstone-Hill is the story of a conflict between relatives that rages over several young Graemes children whose parents have been killed in a tragic airplane accident. Their adventures are described with the sympathetic understanding of the author.

During the month of February, a number of cards have been issued to new borrowers at the library. This is a fine record for such a short month and with so many holidays. The fourth grade of the James Caldwell school has made quite a record. From their 28 pupils, 22 have library cards and these are in constant use.

What IS this FHA PLAN

for BUILDING HOMES? BETTER HOUSING PROGRAM

It's really very simple. We lend you money to build. Just how much depends on your circumstances, but frequently the building lot is sufficient to cover the down payment, which may be as low as 10 percent.

You repay this loan out of your income. The payments are fixed monthly sums, similar to rent. They are based on what you can afford to pay. With the new 4 1/2 percent interest rate, they average as low as $5.81 per thousand, which includes principal, interest, and FHA insurance. ($26.15 a month can pay off a $4,500 insured mortgage on a $5,000 home!)

These convenient payments make you a Home Owner.

HOUSEHOLD QUESTIONS

Coconut Marshmallows. To roll marshmallows in coconut, shake them one-by-one in a bag of shredded coconut.

When cleaning celery, use a vegetable brush. It gets into the grooves and cleans the celery better than it can be cleaned otherwise.

Use Dry Holder. Never use a damp or wet cloth or holder in removing a hot dish from the oven or stove. A dry one prevents the heat from penetrating and scorching the fingers.

Hooked rugs will lay flat if they are dried properly. Place them, top side down, on papers spread over the floor. Allow them to dry thoroughly.

Cleaning Mica. Hot vinegar will remove stains from mica windows on stoves.

Cooking Pork Sausage. Pork sausage requires slow cooking. If much fat collects, drain it off to prevent greasiness. Pierce link sausage several times with a fork to prevent them from bursting while cooking. To form a brown, crusty covering on sausage sprinkle them with flour just before they are cooked.

Billy's first year in school was still new enough to be exciting and his mother was surprised one day to see him home in the middle of the morning. 'Why Billy, what's the matter?' 'Too hot,' said Billy laconically. 'Yes, it is hot,' she agreed. 'I suppose you must go back tomorrow?' 'Now,' said Billy. 'We are laid off until Monday.'

A NAME FOR THE MOTHER-IN-LAW. 'Did you see,' asked Senator Dummer, 'where a group of women recently voted for a change in the term "mother-in-law"?' 'I did,' replied Representative Dummer. 'The vote to change it to kin-mother, the big allies.' 'The foolish season is here ahead of time,' said the senator, 'and winter must be nearly over. There are many names I could call this old girl, but kin-mother is not among 'em.' 'What was the big idea, anyhow?' asked Dummer. 'Were the mothers-in-law complaining?' 'Mothers-in-law are always complaining,' snapped the senator. 'Do you see this bruise over my eye?' 'I do,' said Dummer. 'How come?' 'From walking up to my wife's old lady and saying, "Hello, kin-mother," that's how I got it. She thought I said something else, and when I tried to explain she said mother-in-law was good enough for her, and it would have to be good enough for me.'

'I noticed that there were many other names suggested before the final vote,' said Dummer. 'One of 'em was "Blitzkrieg Mother,"' laughed the senator. 'I rather liked that one. It will linger in my memory long after I have forgotten all about "kin-mother." But do you know what I think is called for now?'

'A new name for mothers-in-law to call their sons-in-law and daughters-in-law.' 'Haven't our mothers-in-law enough names for them already?' asked Dummer.

'I mean something printable; something that can be used in polite society,' argued the senator.

'How about asking her to call you a kin-son?' asked Dummer.

'She would re-taliate by calling me a kin-bum and say she misunderstood me,' barked Senator Dummer.

'Couldn't she just call you a kin-guy or a kin-sux?' asked Dummer.

'She might be glad to,' said the senator.

'Will anything come of the whole business?' asked Dummer.

'Nothing whatever,' declared Senator Dummer. 'A man never refers to his mother-in-law as his mother-in-law, anyhow. He either calls her "that woman," "old iron-sides," "the crackdoodle" or "the family static."'

'Do you know what I call mine?' asked Dummer.

'What?' 'The Roman-Galley,' declared Dummer.

'Why?' asked the senator, a bit puzzled.

'Because she is always putting in her oar,' concluded Representative Dummer, dodging a chair.

Legion Juniors Top Basketball League With Boy Scouts

Snap Four-Game Winning Streak of Boy Scouts In Second Extra Period

The Legion Juniors snapped the four-game winning streak of the Boy Scouts Tuesday night at the Raymond Chisholm School in a thrilling overtime tilt, 20-19, which required two extra periods and resulted in a deadlock for first place in the league standing between the teams. Harry Doyle's foul shot in the overtime period decided the outcome.

With 14-5 lead at the half, the Scouts appeared to be on the way to a fifth straight win, until the Juniors showed a reversal of form and went on to hold their opponents to 3 and 2 points in the last two regular quarters. Meanwhile, the Legion boys dropped in seven points in each of the periods and evened the count.

The first overtime ended without a score, necessitating a second period. Conley and Quinton topped the scoring for the winners, with Morton and Beas excelling for the Scouts.

The Jokers eked out a 28-25 victory over the Bull Dogs in another contest of the evening, and the third event gave the Crescents a 27-18 win against the Comets.

Barons Take 2nd Straight Victory

The Springfield Barons gained their second straight victory in a hard fought game with the South Orange Ramblers Monday night in the James Caldwell gym. Led by Fred Pelper, high scorer for this "pick up" quintet, the local team pulled ahead to an 85 to 81 victory after the score was tied up at the half.

The team is made up of players from various other teams in the Springfield Senior Basketball League who can't get enough exercise on Thursday night. Included in the roster of players is George (Bud) Conroy, Stan and James Callahan, Ken Springle and Herman Mendon. They play 15 minute quarters and manage to arrange a game every Monday night, in case you're interested.

INDIAN TRIBE AT STRAND TOMORROW

Chief Blow Snake, 85-year-old Hopi Indian chief will appear at the head of his tribe in a special matinee program tomorrow afternoon at 3 o'clock in the Strand Theatre, Summit. The Indians who were featured attractions at the World's Fair in New York last Summer will make their one appearance in this section in the Strand theatre with a series of dances, including the Scalp dance, the knife and war dances, and a special dance celebrating the wedding ceremony.

Chief Blow Snake who stands six feet and three inches tall was a young warrior when his tribe went to battle against an Indian fighting detachment of the United States Army led by a General Custer. The battle, famous now as "Custer's Last Stand" has gone down in history. The Chief is one of the few Indians still alive who participated in this massacre.

B. & L. MEETING

Baltusrol Building and Loan Association will hold its monthly meeting and "pay night" Monday at headquarters, 277 Morris avenue.

SPORT HIGHLIGHTS

By BILL PRICE

Orchids go this week to Coach Bill Brown and members of his basketball squad for the season they have just ended up by beating Cranford again last Friday night 44-33 in a slow benefit game in Garwood. Not that orchids are the appropriate flower. They're a little too pluk, but the feeling is there anyway.

Over a three-year period the team can boast of a record of 54 wins to only 12 lost games. Of these 12 games, only four were lost by margins of more than two points. And then we don't have to mention, we think, the fact that Regional copped the county title twice out of the three years the school has been in existence.

There are other things about this basketball business that are even rarer than most of us stop to think about. As Ed Hoffer, well-known Regional fan, says in a letter to the SUN, the team has brought a lot of good clean advertising to the town, and it is setting up the Regional district as a power in the local sports world. Consistently good winners, in coaches, and teams are at a premium anywhere, and Springfield has a lot to be grateful for, in the fact that it has both. We also have a feeling that the example set by the High School team, and the enthusiasm it has left behind it, has contributed in no small way to the inauguration of the Springfield Basketball League that is now being carried on by both a senior and junior division.

And this brings up another point. Principal Charles J. Wadas of the Mountside School has what seems to us a cracker jack idea. As long as the various communities that are represented at Regional have ownership interests in the school, why not, he reasons, develop a league of adult teams, such as the Barons here in town, and his own Mountside. Clovers, who could meet once a week in the Regional gym and take advantage of the school facilities. Besides bringing additional interest to the school, it would serve the communities that own it by enabling them to use the gym. Some of them have no facilities at all for playing basketball, while others have inadequate arrangements.

In his own case, for instance, despite the fact that his team is in second place in the Plainfield Queen City League, he has had to play all his games away from home because the facilities at Mountside consist of a small court with only one basket. If someone could donate a trophy, perhaps in the future, such an arrangement would create a great deal of interest, and enable the six communities to get more their money's worth out of the Regional high building. We think it has possibilities, how about you?

The little man with the bumpy eyes who popped up in this column two weeks ago was turning handspins all over the Elizabeth Army last night. He thought it was bad when all the seeding arrangements in the county tourney were upset, but when he saw the mighty Woodrow Wilson team of Weehawken which defeated Regional so nicely get nosed out by Rahway by a score of 31 to 23 at the half and 48 to 47 after the last gun, it scared him out of the bleachers. He had witnessed the first big upset of the State tournament. He doesn't understand yet that if it weren't that way, basketball wouldn't really be basketball.

As a matter of fact, Rahway has had plenty to give all throughout the season. They were just slowed up by a couple of defeats, one by Regional by the way, that they experienced in the middle of their schedule. By rushing the Weehawken star, Gabbianelli and making him shoot in a hurry, Coach Earl Walters' team managed to get the ball off the backboard for themselves and then go ahead and make some more accurate shots themselves. Gabbianelli did make enough to stay in there as high scorer with 15 points. They must have known he was hot, however, for Col. David S. Hill who arranges things down at the armory, had two men patrolling the basement of the drill shed all during the games with fire extinguishers in their hands to prevent any fires. Actually, orders to do so have come from the Elizabeth Board of Fire Commissioners who claim that the building, especially the basement where a lot of old equipment and ammunition is lying around, constitutes a fire hazard. They have been ordered to refuse the use of the floor to anyone but the National Guard unit operating there. They have allowed the use of the building for the remainder of the commitments already made, however, on the provision that at least two patrol the basement with adequate equipment.

Well, this is a lot of gab to ask anybody to read, but, in case you

MARCH 8, 1935

John Potts was elected president of the Board of Education at the organization meeting this week. He succeeded G. Arnold Wright, president since 1931, who declined to run for re-election because he felt that greater interest among board members would be aroused if no one man held the office of president too long. Wright will still continue to serve as a member of the board.

"Church Night," the first event of its kind to be held in the Methodist Episcopal Church, drew a crowd of over 300 for the feature. The affair was for young and old alike, and featured entertainment and skills by various church members and clubs which rivaled "Amateur Night" on the radio. First prize for the entertainment went to the Aethra Bible class whose skit "Mock Wedding" was voted most entertaining. Second prize went to the Young Women's Service Club which presented the "Family Album."

Mrs. Lewis F. Macartney, chairman of the Springfield Chapter of the Red Cross appointed committee chairmen for the year at an executive meeting. These included Mrs. Charles A. Mundy, Mrs. Hattie Doerries, Mrs. Charles Phillips, Mrs. Robert Treat, Mrs. Charles Nelson, Mrs. Frank Kohler, Miss Julia Wegle, Mrs. Herbert Day, and Mrs. Stephen Windisch.
