Rambling Around Town

THE OWNER OF THE NEW dwelling being built at Marcy and Morris avenues will soon give up explaining that during construction, the two shanties of the WPA in front of his property have no connection with his project. . . . In fact, the Rambling Reporter will come to the aid of a fellow who seeks an argument, by reminding readers that the WPA is installing concrete curbs and gutters on Marcy avenue, and not going in for home construction, yet. . . .

Johnny Farrell, home pro at Baltusrol Golf Club, came through with a course record, Wednesday when he went over the upper course in 62, or ten under par. . . . he was playing with a group of club members in a friendly foursome and finished the par-shattering round in a thunderstorm, with a birdie on the 17th and a 5 on the last hole, the only one on which he went over par. . . . the former National Open champ had nine birdies and an eagle. . . . the competitive course record of 67 was set by Tony Manero in the last 18-hole stretch of the 1938 National Open at Baltusrol. . . .

The Associated Press, which was asked several years ago to correctly report that Springfield and not Short Hills is the home of Baltusrol has evidently a poor memory of Farrell's record-breaking round at Baltusrol was flashed over the wires to newspapers all over the country with "Short Hills" as the dateline, instead of Springfield. . . . now, if there were an active Chamber of Commerce. . . .

Our attention is called to an unusually fine special feature showing at the nearby Millburn Theatre on "Drunk Driving" . . . the short subject is running Sunday, Monday and Tuesday and in its 21 minutes, the film delves into the tragic ending of an unforgettable incident in which dangerous drunken driving caused many hardships and bitter conclusions. . . . the film is recommended.

Class of 183 Given Diplomas

The third annual commencement exercises of Regional High School were held last night with the largest class in its history, representing 183 graduates. A tableau and choral reading featured the exercises, emphasizing the importance of cherishing essential American traditions. The dramatic interpretation, "Last We Forgoit," was written by Lillian Flesher and Dorothy Merry. A forum, "Responsibility" was conducted with Raymond Maguire, class president, as chairman. Those who participated included Lillian Flesher, Gladys Phillips, Iris Raimondi, Walter Groskurk and Grant Lennox.

In the second portion of the exercises, the address of welcome was given by Fred Hund, class vice-president. Following were heard: A piano solo by Linda Guerriero, accordion solo by Barney Lantz, and a chorine, trio composed of Harry Wanat, Leonard Schlotter and Richard Sachsel. The class gift was presented by Evelyn Linders.

Seven P-T. A. honors and a bronze plaque of Pioneer Chapter, Future Farmers of America, were also awarded. The P-T. A. awards, consisting of gold keys, were distributed by Mrs. Xavier Masterson.

Will Air Pin Ball Licensing

The Township Committee deferred action Wednesday night on the proposed pinball ordinance which provides for a $200 license fee, pending a conference scheduled for Wednesday night with a representative of an organization of operators who furnish machines to local storekeepers and taverns.

Since the report of tentative regulations and license fee, which were intended to prohibit play by minors and allow for strict police supervision, local taverns and merchants have expressed hopes to eliminate certain nuisances and have the fee reduced.

The Amusement Board of Trade, the organization functioning on such machines, has taken an interest in the proposed ordinance and according to reports, their representative will recommend a model ordinance for adoption, which is said to incorporate features not found in the present ordinance first brought forth last week by Police Chairman Macarney.

Diplomas Given At Mountainside

Fifteen students received diplomas Wednesday night at commencement exercises of the Mountainside School. John A. McCarthy, assistant State commissioner of vocational education, was the principal speaker. After the invocation by Rev. Roland R. Gest, pastor of Union Chapel, Eleanor Pfeiffer presented the salutatory, which was followed by McCarthy's address. Barbara Danenhour, president of the graduating class presented the class gift—a large dictionary and stand, which was accepted by Robert Von Borstel, school president.

A play, "Hansel and Gretel" was the highlight of the evening's exercises. The cast included: "Peter", a broom binder, portrayed by Andrew Schneider; "Gertrude", his wife played by Susanna King; their children, "Hansel and Gretel" portrayed by James Hong and Doris Ritzinger, respectively; "The Cookie Witch" by Adele Roeder; "Said-Man" and the "Dow-Man" by Mary Wolf.

WPA Recreation Program Planned

The Board of Education Tuesday night authorized the building and grounds committee, through Supervising Principal Fred J. Hodgson, to arrange for WPA projects covering a supervised recreation program at the James Caldwell School during the Winter months, as well as activities under such direction in the Summer.

Dr. Henry P. Dengler, school physician, reported that physical examinations of teachers and other employees had been completed and no signs discovered of communicable diseases, a procedure recently ordered in schools of the State.

The resignation of Miss Elizabeth Gunn as home economics teacher was accepted, since she will transfer to the Railway school system. Miss Jane Gurney Lord of Maple (Continued on Page Four)

Schools Joined For Graduation

The first combined graduation exercises of the James Caldwell and Raymond Chisholm Schools were held Wednesday night at the Caldwell School auditorium. The enlarged Raymond Chisholm School, which opened for the first time last Fall with eight full grades, joined in commencement with the James Caldwell School.

After the opening selection by the school orchestra under the direction of Miss Ruth Corcoran, the welcoming address was given by Janet Dunleavy. "The Open of a Door," a play of the supernatural, was presented by the graduates. The cast of the play was as follows: "Esther Fraser, sister of David Parrish," played by Karen Torp; "Martin Fraser, her husband," portrayed by Phyllis Bunnell; "Mrs. Parrish, her mother," by Dorothy Bushman; "Ruth Parrish, her sister," by Doris Lamb; "Owen Bennett, a neighbor," by Gene Polling and "Joseph a servant," by Thomas Palmer. The play was directed and scenery supervised by John M. Nies of the faculty. The Glee Club was heard in three selections.

MARKED ANNIVERSARY

Police Sergeant and Mrs. Harold D. Seales of 323 Morris avenue celebrated their 30th wedding anniversary on Sunday. Many friends and neighbors joined in congratulating them on the occasion. They have been long residents of the township.

FIREMEN PLAN PARTY

A supper and program of entertainment will be held Tuesday evening from 6 to 9 o'clock in Singers Park, for members of the Springfield Fire Department. Township officials have been invited to attend and join the firemen. Russell Stewart is general chairman.

REGIONAL BOARD MEETING DEFERRED

Due to a lack of quorum, the Regional Board of Education adjourned Wednesday night until next Wednesday, since several members were absent due to graduation exercises in their respective communities.

Six bids were received for painting work at the school to be done this Summer. They were referred to the building and grounds committee for recommendation at the adjourned meeting.

Farming Groups Hold Field Day

The Agricultural Department of Regional High School held its first annual "Agriculture Field Day" Tuesday night in the school cafeteria, as parents and friends witnessed the award of 16 diplomas to evening adult agricultural class graduates, and poultry demonstrations were given by freshman students of the school. In addition, numerous indoor and outdoor exhibits were displayed, in addition to commercial shows and a technical film on "How Does Your Garden Grow?" which concluded the evening's program.

Wilhelm N. Felgelbeck, agricultural instructor, arranged for the event and explained to the gathering how scientific methods employed by the pupils have proven more effective in their field. Chapter, Future Farmers of America, a school organization acted as guides. From 8 to 9:30 P. M., the exhibits were inspected, after which Professor H. O. Simpson, State supervisor of agricultural education, presented certificates to the evening school graduates.

Those who completed the course and received certificates were: Henry Dreyer, Mrs. Henrietta Dreyer, Miss Albino Schaefermuth, Mrs. Dorothy Huss, James Abel, Almer Akerley, John Conley, Fred Huss, Lewis Dawkins, C. Stuart Knowlton, William F. Baumstihl, Phillip Hardy and Robert Lewitt of Springfield; and Charles Sturman, John Pannos and C. Wolf of Berkeley Heights. It was unique, being the first class of its kind in Union County.

Eldred Funeral Tonight

Funeral services for Nell K. Eldred, 231 50 Salter street, one of two local youths who died in a motorcycle accident in Linden Monday night, will be held tonight at 8 o'clock in Young's Funeral Home, 149 Main street, Millburn. Burial will be tomorrow in Fairview Cemetery, Westfield.

Services were held yesterday for Dayton A. Dietrich, 22, of 9 Rose avenue, the other Springfielder fatally injured in the accident, at Miller's Funeral Home, 500 North Wood avenue, Linden. Interment was in Rosehill Crematory.

Both young men died instantly at 11:43 P. M. Monday when a motorcycle which they were riding, collided head-on with a car in North Wood avenue about 100 feet from Raritan road. Dietrich was driving the cycle with Eldred sitting behind him.

Leonard J. Galati, 22, of 1409 Winans avenue, Linden, driver of the car, and his wife, Rose, 22, a passenger, were treated at St. Elizabeth Hospital, Elizabeth. Galati told police he was returning from a visit with relatives in Roselle Park and traveling south on Wood avenue, when he saw a vehicle with one light approaching in the opposite direction. Police believe the two Springfielders were attempting to turn into Raritan road. Galati said he swerved his car to the right of the road, but the cycle struck his left front wheel and mudguard, throwing the men to the ground. Dr. Herman Catta of Linden declared them dead at the scene.

Eldred lived here for 17 years with his uncle and aunt, Mr. and Mrs. Phillip L. Melsel of 50 Salter street. He also leaves a sister, Doris, of the same address. He was born in Corland, N. Y., and was graduated from the James Caldwell School, later attending Roselle Park High School. He was employed in a local chain grocery store.

Besides his uncle, aunt and sister, he is also survived by five brothers, Bernard, Basil, Burrill, Phillip and Leo, all of New York. Dietrich, a former corporal in the U. S. Marine, had planned to reenlist within the next two weeks. He lived in Springfield seven months and boarded at the Rose avenue address. Until a month ago, he was employed at the Howard Johnson Restaurant, Route 29. He leaves a brother, James, who is a Marine stationed at Farris Island, S. O.

German Troops Enter Paris; French Make Desperate Plea For Additional Aid From U. S.

(EDITOR'S NOTE—When opinions are expressed in these columns, they are those of the news analyst and not necessarily of this newspaper.) Released by Western Newspaper Union.

'Marked Men'

A historic spot where American doughboys fought in the Argonne district of France is marked by this stone—it was "marked" in another fashion in World War II. A German aerial bomb scored a hit, shattering the monument.

When Italy joined forces with Germany in the war against France and England she had a good supply of armored tanks to aid in clearing the way for troops in true blitzkrieg fashion. Here are pictured a number of Mussolini's soldiers manning the best tanks Italy has been able to produce. In addition to these "regular" tanks, the Italian army is said to possess a large number of the "flame-throwing" variety.

THE WAR: Help Wanted

"Our race does not allow itself to be beaten down by invasion. . . . Our race has always thrown back or dominated the invaders. . . . Brave words these, spoken by Premier Reynaud of France as he was telling his people of his "last" appeal for help to President Roosevelt.

If President Roosevelt was planning on helping the allies, next morning he learned that there was nothing much to be done to aid them in defending the French capital, Paris. For during the night word had come through from Ambassador Bullitt that the German army was "inside the gates of Paris."

When the French government had transferred itself to the city of Tours, Ambassador Bullitt decided to stay in Paris. While there he watched the French clear the city of all troops so that it might be declared "an open city" and thus be spared destruction by the invading forces.

As the French army abandoned Paris, the high command explained that no worthwhile strategic aim would justify the destruction of the historic capital, almost sure to result in any battle to defend it.

As the news spread that Paris was not being defended rumors spread that a separate peace for France was in the offing. Soon, however, Britain announced that she was pouring every available man and all available equipment across the channel to aid in the further defense of France. But in his plea for help, Premier Reynaud had said he hoped for "clouds" of U. S. warplanes.

And as the military experts were calculating the combined strength of England and France against Germany and her new ally, Italy, it became increasingly apparent that plans were the prime need of the defenders. For while Britain and France may control the sea, their air power is sadly lacking. The figures show that the Rome-Berlin axis has over twice as many fighting planes as the allies.

HOME FRONT: Big Job

In a machine age war world, with its "big" things, its "big" equipment, its industrial mobilization of national resources, takes precedence over manpower mobilization.

Germany's swift thrusts into enemy territory stand as evidence that while France and England idly watched, Nazi factories were working overtime turning out their mechanical instruments of war.

HEADLINERS

- Gov. Luren Dickason of Michigan removed Thomas C. Wilson as sheriff of Wayne (Detroit) county after hearing charges that the sheriff received a "cut" in a vice and gambling payoff.
Former Governor of Louisiana, Richard W. Leche, was given a 10-year federal prison sentence for using the mails to defraud.
Arriving safe in Canada, Princess Juliana of the Netherlands, and her two infant children plan to live in the dominion until the end of the war.
Vacationing in Kentucky, Supreme Court Justice McReynolds warned in an interview that "if Adolf Hitler's plans prevail, our fanciful security cannot survive."
Sen. Robert La Follette (R., N. H.) charges that President Roosevelt is "crisscrossing for war" in portmanteauing army and navy plans to be purchased "indirectly" by the allies.

Allied leaders themselves are admitting these days that it was this lack of a unified industrial production program that left them so far behind Germany when the war began.

Evidently the United States does not intend to be caught napping in a similar fashion, should this nation be called upon to defend its shores against invasion. For the $5,000,000,000 preparedness program is moving along with increasing smoothness and speed.

The President's defense commission, co-operating with government agencies, has increased the tempo of its program to aid in this mobilization.

From Detroit, likely to be the key point for the mass production of war planes, came news that after Henry Ford and his engineers had inspected two planes sent them by the war department, he announced that his statement of being able to produce 1,000 ships a day, still stood. It was further stated that given six months notice Ford could turn out this many planes without interruption to normal output of automobiles. Ford emphasized in an interview that any planes he produced would be "for defense only."

Paying the Bill

Secretary of the Treasury Morgenthau believes that the public is "willing and ready" to accept additional taxes to support the defense program. Most tax experts agreed with him but many cautioned that a hurried revenue bill rushed through congress would have to be reviewed and studied later to see that the tax was distributed fairly among all income groups.

POLITICS: Now Is the Time

Opening their national convention in Philadelphia the Republican party faces a difficult task indeed. From its ranks it must pick a presidential candidate that will first of all be able in some manner to match the experience in international affairs that the Democratic party can present to the U. S. voting population in its candidate.

For war or peace, preparedness or lack of it, the foreign situation is to be the biggest factor in the 1940 political campaign. Both major political parties realize this and many domestic issues, truly important ones, may be neglected because of it. And with knowing this they are concentrating on choosing a standard bearer that will give the American public full confidence that if elected he will be successful in pursuing a wise foreign policy.

INDUSTRY: Upturn

Since last December, American business has been following a downward trend but now the picture is changing and according to recent reports of the federal reserve board this trend has been suddenly reversed.

Government economists and Secretary of Commerce Harry L. Hopkins believe that domestic business activity will increase enough (due to the multi-billion dollar defense program) to more than offset losses in international trade due to invasion of many of Uncle Sam's good customers in Europe.

Not only have the so-called war industries (machinery, aircraft, shipbuilding and chemicals) evidenced nice gains recently, but other industrial fields not directly related to armed conflict have increased their activity. Outstanding among these other industries are: metal-packing, rayon production, petroleum output and coal production.

But the greatest increase in volume of business is in production of steel. Marked increase in orders for foreign buyers and domestic manufacturing plants are pushing steel plants up to capacity.

High Schools Also Turn Out 'Vocational' Grads

New York City's Board of Education does not confine its high school students to the study of languages and mathematics. On the contrary, there is an 11-story building, right in the heart of the garment center, wherein high school students receive the vital training necessary to those who would enter the trades. In the Central High School of Needle Trades, every trade, from retail merchandising and selling, to hand-made shoe manufacturing, is taught to girls and boys later to follow those pursuits in the commercial world.

These two boys are engaged in the fur-working class, putting finishing touches to fur jackets. Vocational work such as this is of greatest value in fitting students for jobs after graduation.

It is known that generally speaking these nations do not have huge supplies of food and will be forced to get huge stocks of grain from somewhere.

But the situation is so uncertain that the farmer who takes a gamble on getting in on some of the "extra-ventual" trade may be left holding a full grain sack.

MEDICINE: New Trend

Arch foe of any attempt to "federalize" or centralize authority in control of the practice of medicine, the American Medical Association is now about ready to make available to the public a system or systems of statewide medical care at low cost.

Details of the plan to be presented are not immediately available but it is known that prepayments to cover sickness promise to run from $1.50 to $2.50 per month per individual.

Opposition to any compulsory health insurance plan was expressed by leaders of the association.

Meeting in annual convocation in New York, the A. M. A. house of delegates heard reports on the results of experiments by 300 county societies over the country in joining with relief authorities to provide medical service to the indigent. The new plan, which will be an outgrowth of these experiments, does not limit its service to the indigent but will be available for all to whom low cost is essential.

At least 14 states already have a statewide plan in some stage of development.

EAST SIDE: Accord and Discord

On the world's troublesome east side where eyes of the western world are cast in never-ending vigilance there are some signs of accord. . . . and added signs of the usual discord.

For from Tokyo comes word that Japan and Thailand (Siam) have concluded a treaty of friendship, which a foreign office spokesman described as "unmistakable evidence of Japan's peaceable intentions in the South Pacific."

And in London the British reported a non-aggression pact between Thailand, Japan and Great Britain as well as a partial settlement of an old dispute with Japan on the matter of money circulation in China and the prolonged silver dispute in the city of Tientsin.

If all this sounded as if Great Britain's campaign to woo Japan's friendship was bearing fruit, there were more ominous sounds droning from the motors of Japanese bombers over China's provisional capital, Chungking. For the Japanese air force has been concentrating its attacks these past weeks in an effort to destroy that city and force the government officials to surrender.

Outside of China the Japanese seem to be in a mellow mood for news from Moscow reports that in accord with Russia in the Soviet-Mongolian border dispute.

The Washington Merry-Go-Round

Washington, D. C. Attorney General Bob Jackson's plea for a federal law requiring registration of all privately owned firearms had more behind it than he disclosed.

Following the World War, one armament company alone disposed of 15,000 "Tommy" guns to private purchasers after trying unsuccessfully to sell them to the army. About 10,000 of these deadly weapons are "unaccounted for."

Another unmentioned factor troubling officials is the tremendous increase in the sale of guns and ammunition in the last two years. Tax collections by the internal revenue bureau give the following figures on this astounding traffic in our "peaceful" country.

Total sale of taxed firearms, rifles, shotguns, pistols, revolvers, to private persons in 1938—$24,959,048; in 1939—$36,010,684.

In the past three years these sales reached the amazing total of $97,403,730—which is almost one-fourth of the army's 1937 appropriation. It is also vastly in excess of average sales for sporting purposes and law enforcement.

Note—The U. S. is far behind other powers in regulating firearms. England, France, Germany, Italy, Japan all have drastic laws on the private possession of weapons. The national firearms act of 1934 imposed a limited regulation on the sale of machine-guns and sawed-off shotguns by requiring manufacturers, dealers and pawnbrokers to register sales and transfers.

OIL TO ITALY

Italy's entrance into the war has at least one harmful effect upon her ally, Germany. It means the end of U. S. oil shipments to Italian ports for trans-shipment to Germany.

These shipments, especially of lubricating oils, have been heavy since the first month of the war. With Italy at war, however, U. S. ships are barred.

This will stimulate Axis efforts to open up oil resources in the Near East, and Italy is sure to make a drive for the British and French oil fields in Iraq. Or getting through the Suez canal, she will strike at the oil fields of Iran, under control of the Anglo-Iranian company.

Meanwhile, British oil shipments from these sources will be diverted from the Mediterranean route, and the result probably will be a heavy increase of U. S. oil shipments to Britain and France.

APPEASING MUSSOLINI

It was on a Monday that the Italian dictator shouted his hour-long proclamation of war, directed as it was into the air, Saturday, the French were still dithering with him. At that time they offered him the island of Corsica, birthplace of Napoleon, as well as the important African colony of Tunisia, plus French Somaliland with its Red Sea port of Djibouti.

But Mussolini wanted more. Real fact probably was that he could not afford to antagonize Hitler by failing to declare war. A Nazi victory looked too certain, in which case Mussolini would have been left facing the triumphant and resentful hordes of Nazi-Germany, just across the Brenner pass.

ROOSEVELT'S MOVES

President Roosevelt came to realize that nothing counted with Mussolini except (1) what he was going to get in return for keeping the peace; and (2) whether he was going to be on the winning side.

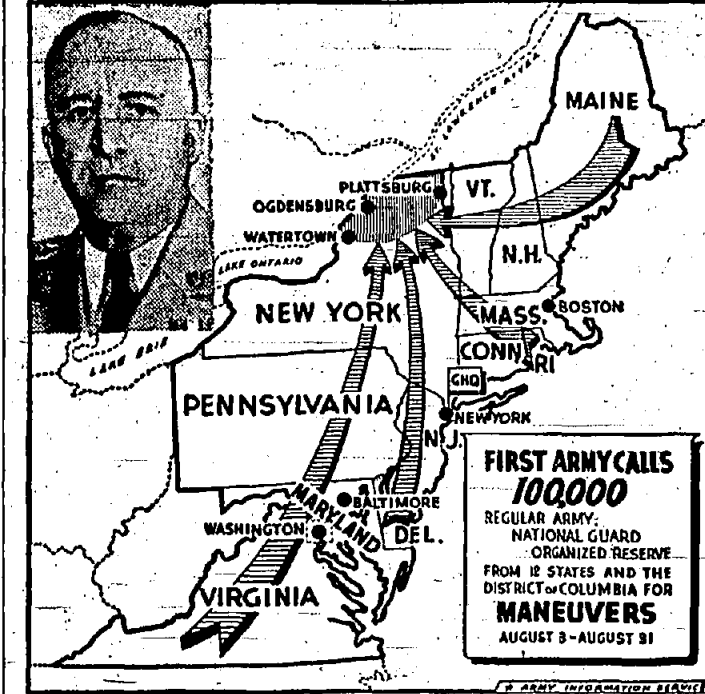

Accordingly, the last week's announcements from the White House that the United States was selling army and navy planes direct to the allies, plus surplus army equipment, was calculated to have a double effect. One was the actual help it would give the allies. The other was the hope that Mussolini would be influenced by the fact that the United States was talking in deeds, not mere words, and that these deeds might turn an allied victory.

POLITICAL CHAFF

One of Alf Landon's hardest jobs is scolding booms for himself. Practically every day, by long distance phone or telegraph, he has to nip the boom of some admirer to start a drive for him.

Following reports that Communist and Nazi agents are working along the Mexican U. S. border, Senator Josh Lee of Oklahoma proposed construction of a series of forts, each within sight of the next, to shoot any foreign agent seen sneaking into the U. S.

Scene of Biggest Army Maneuvers

LIEUTENANT-GENERAL HUGH A. DRUM, commanding general First Army with Headquarters at Governors Island, N. Y., will command the First Army Maneuvers to be held in the Plattsburg-Watertown area in northern New York during the period August 3-31, and map of states which will send troops.

The First Army maneuvers which are to be held during the period August 3 to 31 in the Plattsburg-Watertown Area in Northern New York are the largest of the four Army maneuvers to be held this summer as part of the nation's defense program.

More than 100,000 officers and men of the Regular Army, National Guard and the Organized Reserves will concentrate in the Plattsburg-Watertown area for these maneuvers. They will include troops from Maine, New Hampshire, Vermont, Massachusetts, Connecticut, Rhode Island, New York, New Jersey, Delaware, Pennsylvania, Maryland, Virginia and the District of Columbia. First Army units include the First, Second and Third Tactical Corps; the 26th, 27th, 28th, 29th, 43rd and 44th National Guard Divisions; the 1st Regular Army Division and certain Corps and Army troops, both Regular Army and National Guard.

The concentration in the maneuver area will be divided into two opposing groups. Lieut.-General Hugh A. Drum, (inset, above) who will supervise all training programs and maneuver activities from a headquarters at Canton, N. Y., has emphasized that the purpose of the maneuver is the training of officers and men in the approach to and conduct of battle.

News headquarters will be established at Ogdensburg, N. Y.

Political Oratory

Doesn't Win Votes

Political oratory, as far as winning votes is concerned, is "bunk," according to Dr. Allen L. Edwards of Northwestern university, who recently described an experiment he had made.

To make his test, Dr. Edwards used three groups of listeners. One was composed of strong believers in the Roosevelt administration's New Deal. The second group was composed of strong anti-New Dealers. The third group was made up of neutrals.

Then Dr. Edwards recited as strange a political speech as has been made for many months. Half of the speech was a stirring tribute to the New Deal. The other half was a strong condemnation, denouncing everything the New Deal has attempted.

Dr. Edwards then sat down, getting ringing applause from both sides, and the listeners were given an examination to test what they remembered of the speech.

The memory results were just what you might expect. Those who favor the New Deal remembered the sections that praised it.

Those who hate the New Deal remembered the sections that criticized it.

It indicates, Dr. Edwards concluded, that you remember what agrees with you, and don't remember much else. He put it in somewhat more scientific terms.

"Material that harmonizes with one's own preconceptions is remembered," he said, "in a significantly better than material that conflicts with the same frame of reference."

War Fears Add Deaths

In U. S., Says Professor

Hate and fear rising out of the general war in Europe will undoubtedly be responsible for many deaths in this country, Fred W. Don Caslake of the Chicago College of Osteopathy recently told the Illinois Osteopathic association.

"High blood pressure resulting from the tension, excitement and frustration of modern living accounts in part for the increase in the heart-disease death rate," said Professor Caslake. "This strain, which has been aggravated by the worries of the depression and recession years, will now be further intensified by the intrusion of war fears and war news."

"Millions of Americans fear we will be drawn into the European conflict and, additionally, the outbreak of the war has increased hatreds many Americans have against one side or the other."

"Hate and fear have extreme physiological effects. Tension caused by these powerful emotions causes the heart beat to increase, the minute muscles in blood vessel walls to contract and the internal organs to labor under pressure."

Warmongers or others who act to increase fear and hatred, he concluded, are enemies of public health. He pointed out that the death rate for heart disease in the United States is twice that of its nearest rival, cancer, and three and a half times that of tuberculosis, according to all for about one of every six to seven deaths.

"The French, during the World War, made the biggest gun the world has ever seen. It was a monster with a bore of 20 1/2 inches, and a barrel 78 feet long. Its shell weighed 3,200 pounds."

One smack from this gun on Fort Malmaison, in 1918, put the fort, then the strongest ever built, permanently out of action.

Believe It or Not

Coeds Really Do Study

The Chicago Vassar club has revealed the answer to what co-eds do with their time. A time survey conducted by Vassar's Student Curriculum committee showed that the students spend an average of 43 hours a week on study.

The 11-week survey, watched by educators "all over" the country, showed that the college woman of today (at least at Vassar) studies an average of 4 1/2 hours more each week than the co-ed of 15 years ago. Educational institutions throughout the nation have written to the famed Poughkeepsie college for information on its survey and for copies of the booklet "Where Does Your Time Go?" which was distributed to 1,200 Vassar students.

The students were asked to record the number of hours spent on academic work, exercise, sleep, college activities, absence from college, cultural and miscellaneous activities. The records of 601 students were found acceptable for the survey.

Although 43 hours was the average figure, the hours of study varied from a high of 67 to a low of 20 hours a week. A detailed analysis of time spent on individual courses also showed an uneven distribution. Other hour averages for a typical college week were: exercise, 3 1/2; sleep, 5 1/2; college activities, 3 1/2; help, 2; cultural activities (unrequired lectures, good books, plays, operas); 5; time away from college, 12; and miscellaneous, 66.

Dean C. Mildred Thompson saw the neglect of exercise as the most unsatisfactory finding of the committee.

A special study was made of the reports of the freshman class, in order to determine how its needs and abilities differed from those of the upper classes. The survey showed that the freshmen studied longer than members of the other classes, spent more hours sleeping and less time away from college.

Biggest Gun in World Was Made by France

One of the biggest guns the world has ever contemplated was begun in Britain during the Great War. It was a 28-inch monster, firing a shell weighing two tons. It was assigned to the order of Lord Fisher, first lord of the admiralty, but the Germans gave in to time. The gun was never completed.

Lord Fisher's gun would have made Germany's "Big Bertha" look silly. "Big Bertha," a gun with a range of 75 miles, was only a freak. It was designed to spread terror by its unexpected and startling range, rather than by the destruction of its shell. The caliber of "Big Bertha" was only 8 1/2 inches, and its 330 pound shell carried only 33 pounds of explosives.

"Big Bertha" did, however, achieve the highest muzzle velocity ever attained by any man-propelled object—5,000 feet per second, or 3,400 miles an hour.

The French, during the World War, made the biggest gun the world has ever seen. It was a monster with a bore of 20 1/2 inches, and a barrel 78 feet long. Its shell weighed 3,200 pounds.

One smack from this gun on Fort Malmaison, in 1918, put the fort, then the strongest ever built, permanently out of action.

THE STORY THUS FAR

Walt crossed the street, moved quickly on into the next block and reached a press of men that overflowed from the audience inside Gospel Hall.

His mind flicked over what Bill Hollister had written about Cameron, the cattlemen who had made himself king of this range...

He stretched, turning his head and saw Bill Hollister on the witness bench up front. Across less than 20 feet their eyes met.

For a deeply puzzled moment Walt Gandy waited, and then he said, "Sweet Agent."

Walt looked up again toward Bill Hollister. His lank border partner sat on the bench placed against the room's left partition...

CHAPTER IV

GOSPEL HALL was a low, shallow room. Benches without backs crossed it, leaving a narrow aisle down the middle.

NATIONAL AFFAIRS

Reviewed by CARTER FIELD

Now that the country is awake, tax legislation will be given a thorough overhauling.

WASHINGTON.—The new tax measure is not just going to be the sort of lick and a promise which had been indicated earlier.

There are two reasons for this. One is that the amount of expenditures necessary for national defense has been consistently underestimated.

AFRAID TO SPEAK But—none of them thought the public would stand for it. From the President down, all were afraid of telling the country that we had to spend billions more on national defense.

It must be realized in this connection that the fiscal situation was already very bad. Even with terribly inadequate national defense spending, the government was headed directly for financial rocks.

SLOW TO MAKE CHANGES It is not so surprising to students of naval and military history that the navy suddenly discovers our battleships need better deck armor as a protection from airplanes, and the drive to the English channel on top of that.

TOOK A LONG TIME There were three lessons to be learned from that battle, plus the easy victory the day before of the Merrimac over the wooden Union ships lying in Hampton Roads.

Household News

Place a rounded teaspoonful of butter in very small greased muffin tins (1 1/2 inches in diameter).

Choose an interesting variety of dainty sandwiches for your tea. Oblong brown bread sandwiches with cream cheese and marmalade are good.

Beat eggs until light, and add the sugar, beating just enough to mix. Sift flour, baking powder and salt, dates, cherries and chocolate which has been broken into pieces about the size of a five-cent piece.

OUR LIBRARY Use Your Library

Every afternoon, 2:30 to 5. Mon. and Fri. Evenings from 7:30 to 9. James Truslow Adams has just published a new book, EMPIRE ON THE SEVEN SEAS. Readers will not only get pleasure but authoritative information of those who made possible the empire on which the sun never sets. It is said that Mr. Adams' writings have caused more Americans to read history than any other writer in the field.

This new book gives the story of the rise of the second British Empire from the ruins of the first, beginning with the French Revolution and ending with the second World War. These 150 years are of great interest today as it shows us how the British faced the crisis during the years of the Napoleonic era.

It also tells of the great men and women in every field of endeavor and the effects of their lives on the history of the empire and the whole world.

HISTORIES FOR YOUNG CHILDREN. Carolyn Sherwin Bailey has written three books of stirring tales of boys and girls during discovery, colonial and pioneer days.

HISTORIES FOR YOUNG CHILDREN tell of the men and women who lived in centuries past, but what about the boys and girls of earlier days? Children of the glacial period play through discovery days, boys who sailed with Leif Erickson and Columbus, the Aztec maid who led Cortez through Mexico, all tell their stories.

IN COLONIAL DAYS you will read of Benjamin Franklin, Peter Faneuil, who built the famous hall in Boston and other great ones as well as little maids who contributed to the foundation of our country.

In these books children meet the characters they read about and see the events that fill their history books through the eyes of the youngsters of their own age who lived in those days.

MY HUSBAND WANTED TO PIN A MEDAL ON ME!

You should have heard him last week, passing out the praise! "MMMMmm," he said, "that's the finest steak you ever cooked!" But this morning he thought he was putting me on a spot. "Let's see if you can serve such a tender steak again tonight!"

"Can I get another steak—as perfect as the last one?" said I to my butcher. I told him how tender and juicy and flavorful the last steak had been. Then I asked for another like it—two perfect steaks in succession! Instead of looking at me as if I were asking for the moon, he just smiled and said, "Of course..."

"This time and every time—it's always tender because it's TENDERAY"

my butcher said with wonderful conviction. Then he went on, "Hundreds of our customers are as enthusiastic about Tenderay as you are. And no wonder! Tenderay beef is always tender and full of flavor. It doesn't cost you a cent more than ordinary beef!"

WHAT'S TENDERAY? Tenderay is a scientifically controlled method which aids and speeds up nature's own slow way of tenderizing fine, wholesome, fresh beef to make it extra tender and delicious. Tenderay makes all cuts of beef tender—chuck, flank, sirloin, etc. In the Tenderay process no chemicals are added to the meat; there is no precooking and no mechanical treatment. Tenderay is a patented process developed by the research laboratories of Westinghouse, in cooperation with food scientists of the world-famous Mellon Institute. U.S. Pat. Nos. 2,169,001 and 2,192,349

The powerful dissolving effect of digestive juices has been demonstrated by their action on various kinds of metals fed to rodents. In one case a steel ball bearing, while in the stomach of a rat for 15 days, was reduced 24 per cent in weight.
