Fire Engine Delivered At Mountainside

Apparatus Marks 4 Years' Effort By Firemen To Acquire Equipment

MOUNTAINSIDE—The new $2,300 Mack fire engine for the Mountainside Volunteer Fire Company arrived at headquarters last night at 8:45 and was the object of interest from residents, who flocked to inspect the apparatus as word of its delivery spread throughout the borough.

The new engine, which will replace the present truck, has a 600-gallon capacity tank, four ladders reaching a height each of 40 feet. It spreads overall barely enough to be housed in the new garage from end to end. Previously, equipment of this kind was purchased by the Volunteers and in 1936; Herman E. Honecker was named chairman of a special committee to negotiate for the new apparatus to be bought by the Borough Council.

Salter Reports Two Sales of Property

CENTER ST. CURBS ALMOST FINISHED

Construction of the sidewalk and curbing on Center street, through WPA labor, is about one-third finished according to latest reports. The curbing is almost complete and the gang is at work pouring concrete for the sidewalk which will run from Morris avenue to Hamm street, on both sides.

Day Family Record On Pupils Continues

An unusual record, in that every member of the Day family in town has had at least one pupil in the James Caldwell School since its erection in 1906, was disclosed last night by Herbert R. Day of 20 Keeler street, local overseer of the poor.

Trenton Salary Raises Attacked

Disclosure of salary increases being made for State officials above the $1,500 level, when everyone thought the Legislature had prohibited such action, brought from Maurice L. Poole of Summit, Democratic candidate for Assembly, charges today that Republican Assemblymen had attempted to trick the New Jersey taxpayers into spending still more of their money.

Richard Day, young son of Mr. and Mrs. Howard Day of Keeler street, will be among the newcomers at school Monday morning. His father is a nephew of Herbert Day and thus the record is continued.

Farmers Planning Picnic At Union

The annual picnic of Union County farmers will be held on Saturday, September 14, at the farm of Senator Hamilton P. Keen on Morris avenue in Union starting at 1 P. M.

WEEKLY NEWS ANALYSIS By Roger Shaw

Nazi Long Range Guns and Bombers Blast Great Britain's Southeast Coast; Mussolini Seeks Greek Naval Bases; Japs Push English Out of Shanghai

EDITOR'S NOTE—When opinions are expressed in these columns, they are those of the news analyst and not necessarily of this newspaper.

Pictured above is the United States representation on the joint Canadian-American Defense Board now meeting in Ottawa and working out preliminary steps in planning hemisphere defense measures.

THE WAR: Long-Range

Long-range German guns, posted in France along the channel shore, banged away at England, not so many miles away.

The German aerial losses had been terrific, well over 1,000 planes, and maybe many more of them.

The British banged back, by bombing Helmske, Messerschmitt, Junkers and Dornier air-plant works, and the Zeppelin works on Lake Constance.

Italy

The Italians continued to bully the Greeks in quest of Greek naval bases to use against England in the Eastern Mediterranean.

Chamberlain

Old Chamberlain was on the way out, in politics, and so were Duff Cooper, the stylish propagandist expert, Sir Kingsley Wood, the budget maker, and Cockney Herbert Morrison, the economic bigshot.

CAMPAIGN: Squabbles?

Willkie found that his ardent supporters consisted of two groups: the independent Willkie clubs, and the dissident Willkie Democrats.

Willkie himself is an ex-Democrat and very independent of the regulars in his ways and habits.

Some of the regulars, too, thought that "their man" Willkie was too New Dealish.

F. D. Bonaparte

F. D. Roosevelt-Bonaparte found himself in the same position as Napoleon in the decisive year 1815.

DEAD: R. I. P.

They died like flies, the bigshots did. Sir Oliver Lodge of England was one of them.

SHOES: In la France

La France nationalized all the shoes in the republic. It was done this way: out, out. The republic standardized and streamlined its totalitarian footwear.

Doleful Duo

These seven-year-old twin refugees from Brussels, Belgium, Johannes and Francisus De Baat-Doleman, sit and survey the future after landing at Jersey City, N. J., from the child refugee ship the S. S. Exeter.

WHAT THEN? If and how

People began to wonder whether Russia might eventually enter the war on the British imperial side.

Spain, Too

Then again—it appeared extremely probable that General Franco's Spain might go in on the German side.

POLAND: Tyranny

There was more German tyranny in conquered Poland. The iron military heel was crushing down old Polish customs and ways of life.

BIG: Bomber

The biggest airplane ever built is nearly finished. It will be the property of the army air corps.

Some fast footwork and placating White House palaver has kept the explosive situation under cover so far, but it is very serious.

GENERAL HUGH S. JOHNSON Says

AIR BASES FOR U. S.

Getting air and naval bases, from Iceland to the South American "bulge" should have the unified support of this country.

Perhaps in view of our geographic and strategic problem, that can't be helped. But do our Canadian and British secret understandings go further?

Mr. Roosevelt is reported to have scouted the idea that there is anything in the deal for bases about our detaching a part of our insufficient navy—50 destroyers—to fight on the side of Britain.

From his Chicago "quarantine" speech to the present moment, there has not been an act of the President inconsistent with an inference of his willingness.

Mr. Ickes, Mr. Wallace and others have emphasized Mr. Willkie's endorsement of "our foreign policy."

Some of Mr. Willkie's Republican and Democratic supporters in New York are also minded to involve us in foreign war.

Step by step in the rapidly expanding policy of intervention everywhere, our general staff has been confronted with new and lightning-like changes in policy.

General Marshall's talk about an army of 3,000,000 to 4,000,000 men was wholly based on a new diplomatic theory that we are to police every American country from the North Pole to Cape Horn.

It is about time that this government settled down and decided exactly what its foreign policy is going to be and, more precisely, as controlling that, exactly what policy it can enforce, without a possible disaster, within the realistic and reasonable limits of its present and immediately potential strength of arms and men on land, sea and in the air.

In that connection, the immediate controlling nubbin is naval and political policy in the Pacific. As between our necessary defensive policy of remaining dominant on both American coasts as far as Natal in Brazil and in addition to that of maintaining a threatening attitude in Asia, Indo-China and the East Indies, there is a difference of unestimated billions of dollars of expense and of comparative safety as contrasted with sprawling all over the map and constantly risking not only our prestige but our peace and even our existence.

Strange Facts

Republic Moved Restoring Paintings Greedy Albatross

When Panama seceded from Colombia in 1903 and became an independent republic, it "moved" from one continent to another.

Expert restorers of oil paintings sometimes transfer a famous picture from its rotting canvas or boards to a new canvas.

The albatross, largest of the sea birds, sometimes attains a wingspread of 17 feet and is so powerfully built that it often flies for days without alighting.

MARKED MAN

By H. C. WIRE

ON his left, southward, a new ripple of gunfire sounded, and Walt heard unmistakably the fog-horn voice of Horstheif Fisher, and another that was like the baying of a Texas bloodhound. The C C riders came! Bailey too, and his bunch!

He drew down, resting his winded horse, with a hollow feeling all at once, and he sat spent, alone as far as his gaze could penetrate the prairie top, while the ripple of guns moved on west and the thunder of cattle grew more and more distant.

Morning grayed at his back. Someone was coming. He wheeled and saw Paul Champion loping toward him.

The boy came up. "Why didn't you let me in this? Look!" He held up his forty-five. "Lain't fired a shot!"

Gandy reined over to him and grinned. "That's all right, boy. Who's come? Everyone?"

"Sure. The boss got back, too. He's somewhere."

"Did Helen...?"

Paul turned quickly in his saddle as if just remembering something. "Helen was—there she is." He pointed into the gray dawn.

"Go ahead," said Gandy. "If there's any left." He swung to the ground and was standing braced against the black horse when Helen Cameron reined and dropped beside him.

"Wait!" she cried. "Listen, do you know? Lavin told me. I made him talk. It was... Walt... it was Stoddard!"

"Wait a minute," he calmed her. "Wait now. Then tell me just one thing. Did Stoddard kill Ranger Powell?"

"Yes! And Chino Drake!" She choked, staring up.

"Wait," said Gandy, putting out a hand to her. "In a moment her words came evenly, in full control: 'I'm all right now. When I told Bent Lavin that Bill Hollister was not going to live, he talked. It's too terrible, but he has been so jealous of dad, and Bill too, that when he knew Chino Drake was playing traitor, he wouldn't tell us. Walt, it was Drake who took Bill's rifle from the rack and gave it to Stoddard. And Stoddard that Powell with that gun! After that he couldn't let Drake live. Don't you see? He killed Chino and then put the gun back in our house himself and the whole thing looked like the C C's doing.'"

She broke off, going on then with effort. "All this time Sheriff Battle has had the cast of some tracks. They were Stoddard's! But Battle was trying to prove they were Bill Hollister's."

"I know," said Gandy. "Bill laid himself open to suspicion by having those boot tracks flooded out. You know by this time, don't you, that he felt he was shielding your father?"

She nodded. "I knew that only last night—there at Outpost cabin. Oh, if Dad and Bill had only talked! Each thinking his silence was protecting the other!" I felt that Bent knew something—but I thought it was something against Bill Hollister. I've been trying night and day to get it from him. He is so deaf he couldn't have heard any of those Drake or Powell shots, but he has eyes that never miss a thing. Walt, I had every reason to believe he held information against Bill Hollister, and had turned that information over to Jeff Stoddard."

She finished in a sudden rush of breath, "Stoddard can't get away! We can't let him slip out now!"

Gandy held her. "He won't. You stay here. Don't leave. I'll not be gone long." He turned and gathered the black's reins and had drawn himself up into one stirrup, when from eastward across the prairie came the rolling vibration of a pistol shot. One, no more.

Helen blanched, gasping. "What was that?"

Walt stared into the gray morning; it was a minute before he said, "Couldn't mean anything much. But I guess if you'll get on your horse, we'll ride back together. We'll find Fisher, and he can pick up the loose ends here. Then you and I can go on in."

Plan Back-to-School Wardrobe Of Style-Right Wash Apparel

By CHERIE NICHOLAS

STOP, look, listen, Miss Collegiate and Miss Junior! Teen-age and Miss Junior! This should interest you. It's all about assembling a back-to-school wardrobe within a minimum clothes budget that will turn you out looking the part of a fashion sophisticate. Well, here's letting you in on the secret—it's just a matter of planning your clothes collection in terms of swank wash apparel. Follow up this idea and you will have the joy and satisfaction of achieving a style prestige along with the best of your sorority group. As to economy, that's the best part of the story.

Modern wash materials are more amazing than ever. The handsome weaves with a swirling woolish finish, the crepes, the spun rayons (one of the marvels of the age), the eye-catching rayon and other synthetic silks and satins, (fit for a queen), the smart suede-finish cloths, the stunning corduroys, the handsome plaids and stripes (three cheers for 'em), the color-gloried prints are that convincingly good-looking they definitely outclass anything in the way of wash fabrics that has ever gone before.

As to this wide range of versatile weaves, their adaptability to every conceivable sort of all-purpose wear is astonishing—a miracle in modern times! Pajama costumes, slacks, shirts, house coats, swim suits, negligees, afternoon dress frocks, party gowns and "prom" formals, in short a schoolgirl's every need is met in the wash-apparel specialty shops and in departments devoted to washables these days.

Recently the National Wash Apparel association presented a highly fashion-significant style show in Chicago. The hundreds and hundreds of most intriguing college, school, career-girl and junior fashions, styled throughout, as they were, of swank wash fabrics, was nothing less than a revelation. We are showing three representative types from the gala autumn style revue in the accompanying illustration as a forerunner of the endless modes you'll be seeing in the new fall parade.

Plaids are going to be better than ever this season. The happy school-faring miss pictured to the left in the group, is wearing a gay Mexican checkerboard plaid. It is shirred at the shoulders, has a swing skirt which conforms to fashion's call for skirts that at least create the impression of slimmness, whether they have plaits or not. There is smart color contrast in the leather belt and of course there are decorative pockets.

The attractive junior frock centered in the picture uses plain reverse check in its make-up. The material is rabbit-woolish in its softness. The skirt fringes soft-pleated fullness to the front in latest styled manner. Novelty braided pockets, a girlish neckline and a yoke back and front together with a soft wide belt are distinguishing style details. You can get this model in football brown, loyal blue and kick-off red.

Stripes are still the talk of the town. See the clever use, the designer makes of stripes as illustrated to the right. The skirt is of the bias-cut swing type. There is a double-action styling given to the back of the blouse. A leather belt and buttons in three colors give a telling style flourish. Touch-down green, football brown and college blue, the colors in which this model comes, are passwords that will admit this smart dress to college environs with acclaim.

Audit Week

By DOROTHY DOUGLAS (McClure Syndicate—WNU Service.)

LUCY LATTIMER, INC. was beginning to be a very successful firm of interior decorators—the firm being solely and entirely the fair-haired, bright-eyed Lucy.

"And I'm not pinning any ribbons on myself," Lucy was wont to say when friends made flattering comments on her artistic ability. "If Dad hadn't taught me to keep books in so simple a manner that I know just exactly where I stand financially, I could not have done it."

In view of the hard-boiled facts then it was a bit of a surprise that Lucy took the course she did a few days later, but, as a matter of fact, she had a particularly pleasant motive behind her action. The motive was, however, known only to Lucy.

She was standing chatting with the owner of a charming tearoom—charming because Lucy herself had decorated it in the alluringly warm shades of a summer sunset—when she noticed a most attractive young man sitting in a perfect sea of books and bills and receipts.

"What hot!" said Lucy, "who is your friend?"

Mrs. Le Mar laughed. "That," she said a bit chastely, "is my auditor. Since Lucy Lattimer, Inc., made my tearoom so lovely business has become so overpowering that I had to resort to help in the way of keeping books—these are of income tax people mustn't find any flaws. Friends recommended me to Donald McLean as being a very deserving accountant just rising to success, so—behold Donald!"

Lucy smiled softly. She had got the information she wanted without even asking for it. "Saves a pile of worry, too, doesn't it?" she commented.

However, when she returned to her big office Lucy took up the telephone book before she removed her sea green hat which would release her glorious curls of red gold to their own sweet way. Among the McLennans she found the one she wanted. After that she typed a most business-like note and went straight out to post it.

Having heard, in the course of a mail or two, that Donald McLean would take over the auditing of her books, Lucy proceeded with a strange course.

Most carefully she put away all her books and every evidence of a well-conducted business—at least as far as bookkeeping went—and got together just her statements, check stubs and as little as she felt expedient for the success of her idea.

And when on the Monday morning sharp at nine o'clock Donald arrived to audit the books of Lucy Lattimer, Inc., he wondered just how he was going to manage to sit beside Lucy for perhaps a full week and keep his mind affixed to the business of auditing.

Lucy herself was more than pleased at having a full week ahead. "Have you kept no books at all?" questioned Donald.

"Not a book," Lucy told him and gazed most innocently back at him.

"Then you don't even know whether you are making or losing?"

"No," said Lucy, and hoped she might be forgiven for yawning so easily, "but I kind of think I'm going to be successful."

So audit week went on happily. Lucy, of course, could not be in her show rooms all the time and must needs be out among clients and wholesale houses. She did, however, rush things a bit white out, and each time the door of the office opened and admitted the firm of Lucy Lattimer, Inc., Donald tried his best not to look up with the feeling of joy that entrance gave him.

"I think you are going to have a fairly big income tax bill to pay this year," he told her; "things are looking up well for you."

"Oh, I'm glad to know I'm muddling through some way—you're such a help," she added, and cast a glance at Donald which necessitated the adding of an entire column all over again.

Another day passed and Donald gave her exact figures, and, in spite of herself, Lucy's thorough business head sprang into its own. It was not to be put out of business by this bluff idea she was trying to put over on Donald.

"I'm glad—that's exactly what I made it out. My books show the identical figures."

"What's that—your books—you told me—" but he was speaking to himself for Lucy had fluttered quickly out and into the big show room.

She returned a second later and deposited a number of books on the desk beside Donald.

"I wanted them all verified," she told him. "And if you aren't doing anything this evening and would like to stay and have dinner with me—no—no, not now, Donald—I must see an important client right away, and I mustn't give him crumson cushions for his yacht when he gleefully wants green which I will do if you make my heart turn upside down this way."

But before he released her Donald said swiftly, "You found, you know, your own way one at least for all this work you have given me for nothing."

"I won't be for nothing, Donald," said Lucy softly.

First state by state poll encourages Willkie backers... Wheeler disappointed because Willkie won't use isolationist issue.

(Bell Syndicate—WNU Service.)

WASHINGTON—In following the polls which have already started and will continue until election, it would be wise to bear a couple of points in mind by way of discounting. There is no possible way, for example, for any poll to measure the efficiency of a political machine in (1) getting the voters to know what is on its side registered, (2) in getting the registered voters to know what are on its side to the polls on election day, and (3)—to put it mildly—in the activity of its watchers in seeing to it that its side has a fair count on election night.

The first state by state poll which most of us have seen shows, for instance, that New York and Pennsylvania both lean to Wendell Willkie by the percentage of 52 to 48. Now if you go shopping around for bets among the politically well informed, you will discover that if you want to bet on the Republicans winning that you will have to give odds-in-betting on Pennsylvania, whereas in betting on New York you can have even money easily, and may even find persons willing to give you a 5 to 4 wager.

Illinois Percentage. The percentage for Illinois is stronger—53 for Willkie to 47 for Roosevelt, but obviously this poll cannot measure the efficiency of the Cook County machine of Mayor Edward J. Kelly.

But with all this cleared up, the fact remains that the first state by state poll was enormously encouraging to the Willkie backers. They have realized, as was told some time back in these dispatches, that the only possible hope for Willkie would be to carry both New York and Illinois, or to break the South. This last, this writer pointed out 10 days ago, would be extremely unlikely, despite the very large number of individual Democrats in the South who are personally for the "Democrat," as they regard him, who has the presidential nomination on the Republican ticket. The polls show that the preponderance of the Democrats in the South is even stronger than some of us had believed in view of Willkie's appeal below the Mason and Dixon's line.

Close Race Expected. What really encourages the Republicans is that the state by state poll shows that Willkie CAN be elected! Strange as it may seem, there has been an element of doubt way-back in the minds of a good many folks who are enthusiastic for Willkie. They had not been talking very much, but they had figured that it was impossible to break the South, and that New York and Illinois would be delivered to Roosevelt by the big New York and Chicago machines.

So the campaign becomes a horse race, one that is apt to keep the folks up until all hours on election night.

At least that is the view now, with full knowledge that President Roosevelt may throw a monkey wrench into the machinery any time between now and November 5 by some overwhelmingly important move in connection with the war.

Willkie Is Virtually Ruling Out Two Issues, That Might Be Called the International or Isolationist Issue and That Involving Farm Payments. In doing so he is really distressing a large some of his most ardent supporters.

There is a considerable group that believes the isolationist issue would elect Willkie hands down. There is a smaller group which believes the agricultural policy of the Roosevelt administration is cockeyed, and if properly pounded home, would ruin third-term hopes.

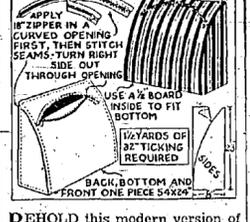

Shrewd political observers are inclined to agree with the larger group, and to disagree with the smaller. In other words, they believe that Willkie could win on the isolationist issue, but that to treat the AAA checks would mean sure defeat in the farm belt. And Willkie MUST carry the farm belt. The entire group of north central states from Wisconsin to the Dakotas and south to Kansas, to have a chance for victory.

Wheeler Disappointed. One of the most disappointed men in the United States over the failure of Willkie to take isolation as his paramount issue is Sen. Burton K. Wheeler of Montana. Wheeler has been almost as prominent in the fight against conscription in the senate as he was when he led the fight which defeated President Roosevelt's court packing bill in 1937.

Before the Republican convention at Philadelphia, Wheeler told friends that if the G. O. P. was smart it would make the campaign on the "keep-us-out-of-war" issue.

HOW TO SEW

by Ruth Wyeth Spears

BEHOLD this modern version of an old-time laundry bag. It is made of sturdy ticking in crisp red and white stripes. It hangs flat against the wall with ivory rings over brass hooks. It closes neatly with a zipper and may be opened with one hand. The zipper is applied in a curve to make an ample opening, and the bag is held in shape with a board in the bottom. Surely you will want one of these and will want to make one or more for gifts. Christmas is not so far away, and here is something for a man, woman or child.

Everything you need to know to make this bag is given in the sketch. These directions are not published in any of the booklets, so be sure to clip them. There is also an interesting laundry and shoe door pocket in Book 4. An easy-to-make garment bag illustrated in Book 1, and twin pockets for a pantry door in Book 3, solve the problem of what to do with clean and soiled tea towels. All these closet accessories make grand gift and bazaar items.

NOTE: These homemaking booklets are a service to our readers and No. 5 just published contains a description of the other numbers, as well as 22 pages of clever ideas—fully illustrated. They are 10 cents each to cover cost and mailing. Send order to:

MRS. RUTH WYETH SPEARS, Drawer 10, Bedford Hills, New York. Enclose 10 cents for each book, orders.

To unmold cornstarch pudding easily add a tablespoon of butter to the mixture just before it is removed from the stove. Be sure, too, to rinse the molds with cold water just before you fill them.

Keep the sifter holes on spice boxes closed, otherwise the spices will lose much of their flavor.

When separating the yolks from the whites of eggs, break them over a funnel. The whites will pass through, leaving the yolks in the funnel.

To sharpen dull scissors or needles, cut or stitch a few inches through a piece of fine sandpaper.

To keep books on shelves or in cases in good condition sprinkle them occasionally with powdered camphor.

When making biscuits, doughnuts, cookies and jumbles, the softer you can handle dough after turning it onto the board and the less you handle it, the better results you will get.

Want of Courage. A great deal of talent is lost to the world for the want of a little courage.—Sydney Smith.

Mountain Named in Honor of Indian Genius

CANTONING, TENN.—The shadows of the afternoon were slanting down from the surrounding mountains as Wiley Oakley, the "Roamin' Man of the Mountains," pointed a brown hand off toward a peak that peaked its nose 6,000 feet into the blue and said:

"That's Mount Sequoyah, named for the greatest of my race."

The government named the peak to perpetuate the memory of the uneducated Indian who, without books or tutors, attained in a few years what was developed through several ages of Phoenician, Egyptian and Greek wisdom.

Sequoyah invented the Cherokee alphabet.

Cherokees will tell you the Great Spirit sent Sequoyah. But history shows he came from the marriage of a peddler named Gist and an Indian girl.

Gist ran away and left his wife with a baby who became so great that the greatest trees in the world were named in his honor.

"Yes," said Wiley Oakley, himself part Cherokee, "Sequoyah was a great man. He gave us the Cherokee alphabet."

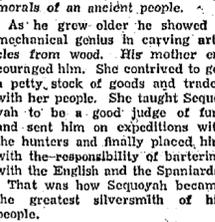

It took Sequoyah many years to invent the alphabet, and the task seemed impossible, for the language is not made of words but of syllables.

The genius, himself uneducated, finally solved the riddle, by using symbols for syllables and the only Indian alphabet was created.

His mother labored and taught him and sent him on his way with a name from the language of her

Evening Snood

The popular snood is playing a dual role. Not only does it serve as a protector for windblown tresses during the day. The latest is the jewel-encrusted snood that you wear as here shown. An evening snood is to be coveted for it not only is a gay flatterer but it is a friend indeed in that it gives you a confident poised feeling that your hair will stay put.

For his furs, Sequoyah received broad silver pieces from the Spaniards. He beat them into rings and broad ornamented bands for the head, devised breast-plates, necklaces, bells for the ankles, rings for the teeth.

Sequoyah did not share the belief of his people that the written speech of the white man was a gift of the Great Spirit. He boldly declared it to be a more ingenious thing the Red Man could muster if he would try.

Sequoyah tried to invent symbols to represent words. This proved an unhappy experiment. Three years of hopeless struggle with the mighty debris of his symbols left him a mighty man of words.

But through that heroic effort, undaunted, Sequoyah ginned the vast glimpse into the elements of language.

Longer Gloves Is Late Style Edict

For once in her life fashion is logical. With those youthful short-sleeved, chubby for jackets which top the list of must haves this fall longer gloves are definitely the thing. Because while bare midriffs may be a smart whim in evening clothes, you don't want that effect between the end of your gloves and the beginning of your jacket sleeves.

American glove manufacturers have taken account of the important short-sleeved for jacket fashion and have figured out that the eight-to-ten length glove is perfect with most of these jackets. It's long enough to cover the exposed part of the arm, but not too long to be comfortable under the jacket sleeve. And you can have it in the classic slip-on type or, if you like to be a bit forward in a mousquetaire—the straight-cut, closer-fitting glove with the buttoned opening.

And whichever style you prefer, you have a stunning range of fall colors to choose from.

Towering Turbans Reaching Skyward

Turbans are likely to reach skyscraper proportions by fall. If the new designs are any indication, for they seem to be draped higher and higher in every new collection. Some are brought up to a high peak in a triangular draping and some are elaborately twisted and looped to reach magnificent proportions.

New Hat Silhouettes. Even hats are taking to the tower silhouette in the new creations shown for early fall wear.

Changes Fastening In Separate Skirts

Slide fasteners, modern miracles that they are, occasionally give a heavy look to the left side of separate skirts. To eliminate this difficulty one designer who specializes in clothes for the costume night scene to have all of her newest skirts fasten at the center of the back.

5 Years Ago This Week in the SPRINGFIELD SUN

Local schools were not expected to reopen for the Fall term due to the spread in this section of the State of infantile paralysis. A special meeting of the school government committee of the local school board, headed by Edward M. Cook, met to discuss whether schools will open as scheduled, and if not, which day will be designated. Springfield had only one case reported, and there were no outbreaks since August 17, when it was first discovered.

Children of the James Caldwell School playground presented the closing program of the season to about 200 parents and friends in the school auditorium. The singing and dancing was directed by Miss Katherine Monahan, and the dramatics, by Miss Katherine Burke. At the end of the program the playground supervisor, Miss Louise E. Krompasky, was presented with a bouquet lamp as a token of appreciation from the playground children. Jeanette Houck made the presentation.

The program was as follows: "On the Good Ship Lollipop," by Edith Pieper and Eleanor Poldors; tap dance, by Phyllis Poetsche, Hazel Baker, Marie Dandrea, Anna Donato and Julia Stricchiola; songs "The Lullaby of Broadway," by Betty Pieper and "About a Quarter to Nine," by Constance Passanella; dance, by Josephine Gerardi, Betty Pieper, Marie Dandrea and Constance Passanella.

One-act comedy play, "What All Housewives Know," with Jeanette Houck, Edward Poetsche, Duane Smith, Tommy Parks, Edith Cullen, Florence Cullen, Lillian Searles and Lewis Smith. Dancing followed the program with music by an ERA orchestra.

The closing event at the playground was a party given by Miss Krompasky to the children who had attended the playground regularly during the season.

A special school election was called to vote the use of funds for erection of a penthouse addition over the stage of the auditorium in the annex of the James Caldwell School to be used for classrooms.

Mr. and Mrs. John E. Gunn of 69 Morris avenue, made plans to celebrate their silver wedding anniversary with a reception at their Summer home at Rock Ridge Lakes, Devilsille. Guests were expected to include those who attended the original wedding reception.

Your Garden This Week

BY FRED D. OSMUN

County Farming Agent

Now is the time to get the garden ready for the Fall season. This calls first for a general clean-up, and secondly for attention to individual plants.

Roses should receive an application of fertilizer now, fertilizer containing not too much nitrogen. As roses are no longer injured by Japanese beetles, for this year at least, they should make good strong growth before frost, especially if given a little extra encouragement.

Very often New Jersey gardeners obtain the best bloom from roses in September and October.

If chrysanthemums in the garden are getting tall, staking should be done without further delay, otherwise Fall rains will beat the plants down. Although dahlias should have been cut back earlier, it is not too late to do it if they, too, have become somewhat leggy. Remove superfluous buds as they are formed, leaving only crown buds to produce flowers. A little extra fertilizer often does dahlias good at this time of year.

Geraniums and other plants intended for the house this winter should be lifted now, repotted, and the pots sunk in the ground so that they will take good root growth before the time comes to bring them into the house. Cuttings of such plants as Lantana may also be taken now and rooted in sand. Both Lantana and verbena may be saved for next year by potting up choice specimens now and rooting cuttings from them later inside for planting outdoors next Spring.

As soon as those Fall bulbs you order arrive, they may be planted. Seed of annual delphiniums or larkspurs, cornflowers, annual coreopsis, and poppies should be ordered now, but not planted until the middle or latter part of September.

Although peonies generally benefit from Fall planting, be sure the foliage ripens somewhat before this task is undertaken. When purchasing clumps or divisions, be sure the buds are stout and healthy and capable of producing good blooms next year. If the weather is dry, soak the plants thoroughly when planting is finished.

Kathleen Norris Says: The Husband Who Was Too Obedient

Jack loves to take her places, to his golf club, to movies, to lunch down town, and she flatters him by referring everything to "Daddy." I feel neglected and lonely.

By KATHLEEN NORRIS
STEPMOTHER—almost always has a trying time of it, and in these days of easy divorces the world is full of stepmothers.

What makes the situation especially trying for them is that in the beginning everything sounds so pleasant and simple. Sam has two darling children, and Sally adores them already. The little girl is shy, and naturally talks a good deal about her mother, but the boy is a perfect darling. After Sam and Sally are married she means to make much of Sam's children. Anyway, says Sally, joyously flustered with wedding plans, they'll be with their mother a lot of the time.

Sam feels at the moment that Sally is such a wonderful girl that she can't help winning the children's hearts. They'll adore her. So Sam gets his divorce, and it is settled that Bruce and Betsy are to stay with their mother 10 months of a year, spending two months with Dad and the new stepmother. That being legally arranged, and financially arranged, what more is there to worry about?

Trifles Threaten Later. Well, nothing, at the moment. But within a few months the worries arise, and these trifles that seemed so unimportant on the wedding day, arise later to threaten the safety of many a second marriage.

For one thing, the mother of Bruce and Betsy has every reason for the world for making trouble, if she can. She makes it hard for the children to pay those promised visits to their father's house. She talks of him slightly, or perhaps with bitter scorn, before his children, and leads them to believe that Sally is the adventuress who came into a happy home and robbed them of their father.

Finally it wasn't a happy home at all. Possibly Alma was the one who wrecked it, who wanted the divorce, who made no effort to hold Sam or Sam's affection. But all that is forgotten once Sam has started off upon a fresh marital hazard with Sally.

Children Sense Trouble. The children, feel the trouble in the air, and they are not unreasonable with their stepmother. Sally, on her side, is young, she has had no experience with children, and very shortly she comes to see that it is wiser to leave them most of the time with their mother. This makes Sam restless. He loves his boy and his small girl, and wants them to enjoy his new home and his new family with him. He becomes unnatural, too, so there are four of them; all uncomfortable; all placed in a false position.

A man cannot divorce, their mother, marry another woman, and remain toward his children in the same position that he had when he was a part of their home and their background; the person they look for granted as Dad, who wanted them to be on time for breakfast and save them movie money.

A woman cannot take her children away from their father, and put another man in that father's place, and combine with her new husband happiness and her absorption in her new mate her motherly attitude as well.

There Are Exceptions. These things simply don't mix, and the woman who tries to reconcile them merely wrecks her own nerves and those of everyone around her. Of course there are exceptions. There are wise, simple, self-effacing

FIRST-AID to the AILING HOUSE

by Roger B. Whitman
(© Roger B. Whitman—WNU Service.)
Coal Gas.

QUESTION: I have a hot air furnace. For the past five years, we have frequently had coal gas in the house, which comes from the registers. Once or twice every year the furnace has been locked over by heating men who have centered all joints and done everything they could think of to stop the gas, but so far without success. Can you make any suggestions?

Answer: It is unhealthful to breathe coal gas, and if it is strong, it may even be fatal. When coal gas comes through registers, it is a proof of leakage from the furnace into the surrounding air jacket. The leakage is apparently in some obscure part that can be located only by removing the jacket so that the furnace can be closely examined. The fault may be in small cracks in the metal, but whatever it is, you should locate it and make the necessary repairs without delay. You may even find it necessary to replace the furnace. You will be justified in taking so extreme a step by the danger of the present condition. With the heating season over, you can take plenty of time to make the thorough examination that may be necessary.

Oil Burners.
Question: What are the three best oil burners in your opinion?
Answer: Success with any burner depends entirely on the skill with which it is installed. Any burner will work well when installed by a man who knows his business, and the heat of burners will be a flat failure when wrongly installed. Inquire among your friends who burn oil, as to their opinions of the local agent and installers, and select the one on whom you get the best reports to recommend a burner suitable to your requirements. Be sure the man you pick is going to remain in business. If he puts in "your burner, and then disappears, you'll have a "Little Orphan Annie" on your hands.

Aluminum Paint.
Question: Do you recommend aluminum paint for a primer in painting a house? There will be one coat of paint on the primer.
Answer: Aluminum paint is excellent as a primer, but for best results the liquid part should be what is known as a "long oil" varnish; that is, a varnish made with an exceptionally large quantity of oil. Aluminum paint of this kind, known as aluminum house paint, is available in many parts of the country. Where it cannot be had, aluminum paint as a primer on wood should be made with a varnish with the greatest proportion of oil that is available. At a paint store ask for a "long oil" varnish—Add 2 pounds aluminum powder to each gallon.

Broken Porcelain.
Question: An art object of fine porcelain has been broken. A marble figure has also suffered the loss of a hand. What kind of cement or adhesive can be used that would successfully repair the pieces? Have tried the transparent cement without success.
Answer: The cement you have used is satisfactory, but the broken pieces have to be bound together while the cement is hardening. Binding can be done with cord or adhesive tape. Remove the old cement with a lacquer thinner, then coat both surfaces, immediately pressing the two pieces together.

Washtubs in Cellar.
Question: I want to install washtubs in a basement. The soil pipe leaves the house through the basement wall about four feet above the floor. As I cannot see any way to connect the tubs to the soil line, I would like to know if a cesspool under the basement floor would be advisable. Can you suggest anything else?
Answer: A cesspool so far below grade may not be satisfactory because of the ground water level. You may not get any drainage. A small sewage ejector pump may be more practical for your purpose. A good plumber can do the job.

Asphalt Driveway.
Question: Do you know of a road material similar to asphalt that could be applied to a garage driveway by an amateur? I understand there is a preparation which is laid on to a depth of two or three inches and rolled with a garden roller.
Answer:—There are several types of asphaltic compounds used for driveways. This work can be done by an amateur with good results. Inquire of your local road commissioner.

Sandstone Stoop.
Question: Can you tell me what one can do for a red sandstone stoop which is peeling? Is there any way of cementing over it?
Answer: Brownstone stoops are repaired by covering with cement colored to match the stone. This work should be done by a professional. You will find a list of firms doing this kind of work in the classified telephone directory, under the heading of "Stone Renovating."

Finish for Stille.
Question: Should shellac or varnish be used over gilt for protection and for holding gloss?
Answer: Real gilding does not require any protection. The liquid part of gilt paint is usually a variety of varnish that requires no further finishing.

Spotlight on GRANTLAND RICE

OVER 35 years ago Jack Chesbro stepped out and blew himself to 40 Yankee victories. A few years later Ed Walsh moved into the 40-game set, a record which doesn't include 10 or 12 other games he happened to save. Walsh that year worked in 68 ball games.

Under changed conditions it may be that Bob Feller will never reach the 40-game mark on the winning side, but with any luck at the age of 21 he will sit in the 30 winning-game division this next fall with such all-time performers as Christy Mathewson, Grover Alexander, Walter Johnson, Smokey Joe Wood and Lefty Grove. Matly and Alexander reached this mark on three consecutive occasions.

But Feller is headed for the same fertile country at the age of 21. There is no telling what heights he might reach if the draft or war doesn't interfere. The Cleveland star is without any question the greatest young pitcher in baseball.

Matly was just getting under headway at 21 and Alexander was 24 when he came to Philadelphia and hung up 23 wins. But at 21 Feller is all ready to join the pick of the flock.

If the world ever settles down to something like its old normalcy there is no telling how many ball games Blasting Bobby might put away before he checks out.

BOB FELLER.

He hecked control, but from the jump he was as cool as a slice of cucumber on ice.

After whiffing 17 of the enemy in one of his first games, the Van Meter phenom was a trifle too keen on the strikeout path for some time. This wrecked his control. He was also a bit lopsided in holding runners on base, but he has long since cured both faults. He has added a good curve ball to his speed.

Feller has the poise and balance of a much older man. He has shown no sign of age of an enlarged head, no sign of kid freshness with older men.

A fellow like Feller will mean a healthy package to Cleveland when the stretch running begins a few weeks later on. And a fellow like Feller can turn a world series upside side, if he gets the chance.

The Reds' Sad Story
When I sat on the bench a short while back with Bill McKechnie his Reds had a nine-game lead and they looked to be breezing. It was the first time I had ever seen Uncle Will breathing normally with his pulses in order. You could see that with this lead, plus Derringer, Walters and Thompson, his worries were just about over.

But they are not over now. It has been suggested that Willard Hersberger's death had a depressing effect. But the sliding had started before the young Red catcher ended his life.

The shock began when the Giants beat Bucky Walters in the game that Walters had tied up in a run-losing knot in the ninth inning with two out. The Reds have never quite recovered from that shock. Later on the suicide episode didn't help.

They were due for a slump, but no one looked for any such August dip. They still have the call with the pitching they have, but the old easy-going gallop is over. As some philosopher has said, "There is also gameness in front running." In fact, there is plenty.

DESSERTS FOR THE BEGINNER

With fall fast creeping upon us, your brides of the past few months are eagerly looking forward to the end of the vacation season. Then you can proudly show to your friends and newly acquired relatives that you are becoming not only a proficient hostess and homemaker, but also a first-rate cook.

Perhaps you'll decide upon a tea for your friends, serving dainty sandwiches, small cookies or tiny frosted cakes. But the families usually anticipate a family dinner which tends to make the bride feel that they will arrive with an extremely healthy appetite and a critical eye.

When you plan your first family dinner, select a menu that is not only simple to prepare and easy to serve, but one that will require only a few minutes in the kitchen. Start the meal off with a bang! Create a favorable impression right at the beginning of the meal. An appetizer that is fairly highly seasoned, small in amount, piping hot or well chilled, and one that whets the appetite instead of retarding it, will insure a successful meal.

The guests' natural curiosity will be appeased, and they will settle back in their chairs satisfied that the "new cook" is a good one.

The bride who can make a perfect floating island need not dread the problem of company dessert. There is nothing more delicious or generally welcome than the old favorite, especially when it is made with orange juice and combined with slices or segments of the fresh fruit. It is not the only "easy-to-make" beginner's recipe, but you will find that the others will help you in selecting your company desserts.

Orange Floating Island.
(Serves 6)
3 eggs (slightly beaten)
1/4 teaspoon salt
3 tablespoons sugar
1/4 cup milk (scalded)
1/2 cup orange juice
2 egg whites (beaten stiff)
1/4 cup confectioner's sugar
1 teaspoon vanilla
Orange segments or slices

Combine egg yolks, salt and sugar; gradually stir in hot milk and orange juice. Cook over boiling water 5 minutes or until mixture will coat metal spoon, stirring constantly. Cool quickly in large serving dish or sherbet glasses or sauce dishes. To make the "islands": beat egg whites until stiff; gradually beat in the confectioner's sugar and add the vanilla extract. Drop by spoonfuls onto custard. Chill. Garnish with water-thin slices of the whole unpeeled orange or with orange segments.

Frozen Rice Pudding.
(Serves 6)
1/2 cup rice
1 quart milk
1 cup sugar
1/2 teaspoon salt
1/2 teaspoon nutmeg
3 eggs (beaten)
1 teaspoon vanilla extract
1/2 teaspoon almond extract
1 cup cream (whipped)

Wash and cook rice in boiling water for 5 minutes. Drain. Put rice, milk, sugar, salt, and nutmeg in the top of a double boiler and cook 45 minutes. Stir in slowly the beaten eggs and continue cooking 5 minutes more. Add flavorings, chill and then fold in the whipped cream. Pour into freezing tray of automatic refrigerator. Set cold control to lowest degree and freeze.

Chocolate Marshmallow Cake.
(Serves 8-9)
1 1/2 squares unsweetened chocolate (1 1/2 ounces)
2 tablespoons sugar
1/2 cup water
1/2 teaspoon vanilla
1 cup cake flour
1/2 teaspoon baking powder
1/4 teaspoon salt
1/2 cup shortening
1/2 cup sugar
2 eggs (beaten)
1/2 cup milk

Cook chocolate, 2-tablespoons sugar and water together until thick (about 3 minutes), stirring constantly. Cool thoroughly, and add vanilla. Sift together the flour, baking powder and salt. Cream shortening, add 1/2 cup sugar, gradually, and continue beating until the mixture is very light and fluffy. Add dry ingredients alternately with the milk. Pour batter into well-greased deep layer-cake pan. Cover with topping.

Topping— 1 egg white
1/2 cup sugar
8 marshmallows (cut in small pieces)
1/2 square unsweetened chocolate (1/2 ounce)
Beat egg white until foamy; add sugar gradually and continue beating until the egg white is very stiff. Fold in the cut marshmallows. Spread over cake batter; grate chocolate and sprinkle over the meringue. Bake in a moderate oven (350 degrees) about 45 minutes. Apple Seventh Heaven.
(Serves 5-6)
6 apples
1/2 cup golden corn syrup
1/2 cup butter
1/4 teaspoon cinnamon
1/2 teaspoon salt
1/2 cup nut meats (cut fine)
Pare and core the apples, and cut in eighths. Arrange in rows in a shallow, well-buttered baking pan. Heat syrup, butter, cinnamon and salt to the boiling point, and pour over the apples. Sprinkle with nut meats. Bake in a hot oven (450 degrees) for about 30 minutes. Serve warm or cold with top milk or cream.

STAGE, SCREEN, RADIO
BY VIRGINIA VAUGHAN
(Released by Western Newspaper Union.)

IT SEEMS that those year-old twins, Beverly and Barbara Quintanilla, are to play just one baby instead of two in Warner Brothers' "Four Mothers," and all because William Keighley used his head.

The script called for Priscilla Lane to be the mother of a one-year-old child. One of the laws that give directors gray hair is that an infant can't be kept under the lights for more than 20 minutes, and can't work more than two hours a day. So Keighley did some arithmetic and engaged twins for the role. He claims that the scheme has two advantages—it doubles the shooting time, and though one baby isn't in the right mood at the big moment, her sister may be full of ambition.

Members of the company of "Virginia" were sitting around on location, waiting for the shooting to start; off at one side, a young lady was crocheting. She seemed to be so expert that one of the extras, a local girl, asked if she'd teach her. The pretty crocheter was most affable about it; when the director, Edward H. Griffith, called the players together at last the pupil thanked her. "By the way," she said, "What's your name?" The crocheter replied "Call me Madeleine—Madeleine Carroll."

Maybe this is bribery—but Director Mitchell Leisen has told Ray Milland and Claudette Colbert, co-stars of his picture, "Arise My Love," that if they complete their roles ahead of schedule he will buy each of them a tailored suit. Director Sam Wood also became clothes-conscious and sent little Betty Brewer (a sweeper and a plaid skirt for being such a good girl when Claudette's husband, Dr. Joel J. Pressman, took her tonsils out. Not to be outdone by all this generosity, Claudette is working between scenes on a blanket which will be a gift for the Ray Milland heir, little David Daniel.

Paulette Goddard danced three numbers with Fred Astaire for scenes in "Furiously." "Second Chorus" and set a record that probably won't be broken in Hollywood for many years to come. Though she has never danced for films before she did it so well that every dance photographed perfectly in one take, thanks to working like a dog at rehearsals.

Frank Capra seeks realism in his pictures. When Gary Cooper had to protest a decision to a baseball umpire in "Meet John Doe," Capra asked Pat Flaherty, former major league pitcher, what players usually say in such a case.

"You've never seen it printed, have you?" asked Flaherty. Capra shook his head. "Then you wouldn't want to use it in the picture, would you?"

So the protest will just sound like an angry speech by Donald Duck.

"The one, the only, the original Professor Quilt," who recently celebrated his 200th consecutive week on the air, has been broadcasting for four years—during that time he's received almost 2,000,000 letters, containing more than 12,000,000 questions—and has paid out more than $25,000 in prize money. He's not superstitious, but he refuses to go on the air without the battered old felt hat from which the questions are selected at the broadcast—it was borrowed years ago from a station manager in Charlotte, N. C., and is looked upon as the good luck charm of the show.

Donna Woods' fine soprano voice was going to waste in a mediocre girl trio, and the "Collegians" were breaks, not so long ago. But when they joined talents and became the "Smarties" things began to happen—they auditioned successfully on a Boston station, won several shows, then Horace Heidt heard them, hired them—and how they're known as "Donna and Her Don Juana" and featured with the Musical Knights on the Pot o' Gold and Treasure Chest programs.

The politician, sporting a brand new hat, stepped upon a soapbox in one of the city's toughest districts. "Ladies and gentlemen," he began.

That was as far as he got. An overripe tomato sped from the second floor of a tenement house and landed squarely in his face. The startled speaker looked up and discovered a sullen-faced woman glaring down at him.

"Madam," complained the politician, "what's the idea of assaulting me with a tomato?" "That will teach you, mister," she scowled, "to take your hat off when addressing a lady!"

TEN CENTS AN 'ARTICLE'
A half dozen railroads have announced that porters will now charge 10 cents per "bag or article" at railroad terminals, turning over this money to the railroads and being placed on regular wages. Well, the rate is screwy and unfair to everybody. On the New Haven road, where it is being tried, we saw a woman give a brief case, a small cape and a demi-tasse bundle to a porter. She thought she was being generous when she handed him 20 cents. And you should have heard her when the porter demanded 30¢. (P. S.—During the argument a man who had given a porter a bass viol to tote handed him a dime, which was strictly regulation.)

The 10 cents per article rate is just going to make travelers-hesitate to hand to a porter anything smaller than a concert grand, an iron stove or a parlor rug.

PATTERN SEWING CIRCLE DEPARTMENT

This dress is particularly pretty in plaid gingham because the front and back panels are cut bias. But it's also sweet in percale printed with red cherries or pink flowers, or in white pick, with bright ric-rac braid. Certainly your daughter will want it in more than one material, when she sees how nice she looks in it! The simple diagram design is so easy that lots of girls can make it for themselves.

Barbara Bell Pattern No. 1942-B is designed for sizes 4, 6, 8, 10 and 12 years. Size 8 requires 2 1/2 yards of 3 1/2 inch material; 6 yards of ric-rac. Send order to:

Pro Footballers To Start Sunday

Professional football, featuring several Jersey boys, gets under way Sunday night at Newark City Stadium on Bloomfield avenue at 8:30 o'clock. The Chicago Bears of the National League, featuring Sid Luckman and Bill Osmanski, will oppose the Newark Grid Bears, defending champions in the American Pro Football Association.

New members of the Newark club expected to star this season are Harry Stevenson of Notre Dame and Bloomfield; Mike Koehler of Fordham and Bloomfield; Butch Fortunato of Fordham and Montclair; John Fiorellino of Catholic University and Newark; Frank Stellata of Lafayette and Nutley. Other new stars are Pete Holovak of Fordham, Ed Burke of Colgate, Ed Turlock of Wallington, Tony Farnsworth of Lehigh and Newark, Art Schneider of N. Y. U. and Newark.

Coach Gene Robinson of the Newark club also will present veteran stars including Rudy Chobordia of Irvington, Ray Oldinski of Perth Amboy, Eddie Belinsky of Bloomfield, Bill Battaglia of Brown, Ken Armstrong of Missouri, Jimmy Joe Zeller of Indiana, Charley Elder of West Virginia, Tom Ranzetta of St. Francis, Izzy Friedenthal and Leo Hirsch of Long Island University.

Owner-Coach George Hales of Chicago, and his assistant, Hank Anderson, come to Newark today following their Philadelphia contest last night against the Eagles. In addition to Luckman and Mantel, the Windy City array includes Hampton Pool of Stamford, Wayland Becker of Marquette, Dick Schweidler who starred for Newark last Fall, Bernie Masterson of Nebraska, Danny Portman of Colgate, Jack Manders of Minnesota, Harry Clark of West Virginia, Gary Farnsworth of Boston College and many others.

A raft of National League coaches, including Steve Owen of the Giants and Jock Sutherland of the Dodgers, will be on hand to scout Chicago.

Scarlet Training Sessions Begin

NEW BRUNSWICK — Rutgers football squad camped Monday at Sea Girt for a 17-day pre-season practice session, during which Head Coach Harvey Harman and his staff of aides will prepare the squad of 45 for an eight-game schedule which is to open October 5 with Springfield.

An enormous amount of work remains to be done towards filling the spots vacated by the wholesale departure of varsity regulars. A start was gained in spring practice, but Harman and his staff must do yeoman service to groom seven or more new cogs for the 1940 machine.

In the list of "dogs to be filled" are "Boss" of Big Bill Ivanavitch, one of Rutgers' all-time grid greats, and Art Gottlieb, both backs, as well as Ralph Russo, Charles Craig Len Cooke and Doug Hotchkiss, linemen, and several useful reserves.

About half of the candidates making the trip to Sea Girt are sophomores and upperclassmen trying out for the varsity for the first time.

Two Backs Return
Vin Utz and Ralph Schmidt, spinning and blocking backs respectively in the 1939 combination, are the returning backs, along with Ray Foster, combination end and back who will likely spend all his time this fall in the ballcarrying corps and furnish most of the punting.

The squad—Ends: James Wallace, Deal; Joseph Varju, New Brunswick; Albert Schaeffe, Ashville, N. C.; Emil Polzer, Plymouth, Pa.; Franklin Gilbert, Burlington; Richard Langer, East Orange; Otto Siedel, Elizabeth.

Tackles: Alex Szot, Wallington; Anthony Dilario, Morrisstown; George Anderson, Wharton; William Smith, Maplewood; Leonard Hansen, Englewood; William Neuman, Brooklyn.

Guards: Vincent Kramer, Paterson; John Schmidt, New Brunswick; William Schmitt, Bergenfield; Simon Klosky III, New Brunswick; Rudolph Matzner, New Brunswick; James Wilson, Yonkers.

Centers: Otto Hill, Flushing, N. Y.; Kenneth MacDonald, Wyckoff; Kenneth Omsley, North Bergen; Joseph Pulco, Buffalo, N. Y.; Milton Nelson, New Rochelle, N. Y. Allens: Vincent Utz, Bridgeport, Conn.; Ralph Schmidt, Newark; Thomas Combitis, Pulaski, Va.; Raymond Foster, Bergenfield; Albert Hasbrouck, Jr., Rahway; William King, New Brunswick; Arnold Sigfried, Oak Haven; Chester Bensch, Sewell; Joseph Horvath, Perth Amboy; Werner Kuhn, Springfield, Mass.; Angelo Trandilou, New Brunswick; Edwin Arnold, Maplewood; Louis Bauer, North Bergen; Nicholas Pennak, Philadelphia, Pa.; William Hayes, Vincentown; Charles Morfit, South River; T. WHITEOAK HERITAGE by Mazo de la Roche, an Atlantic Monthly Press book, is the seventh book in which Miss De la Roche relates the stories of the fires of the Whiteoak family. Whether you already know the turbulent, much-loved, and much-loved Whiteoak clan or are meeting them for the first time, this is an entertaining reading adventure.

MRS. MINIVER by Jan Struther is, according to Christopher Morley, a perfect portrait, of the twentieth century's only humane achievement, "the civilized woman" and "the testament of a happy woman." The book describes two years with Mrs. Miniver, an English wife and mother, who enjoys her forties much more than her thirties, and finds enjoyment in the people and things around her. These pleasant sketches will appeal to all.

LETTY AND THE LAW by Faith Baldwin, a witty romance in which David Alcott, a sober young lawyer, becomes the legal guardian of Letty McDonald, rich and glamorous. David, who had been too busy making his way to a good job in Manhattan to pay much attention to girls, finds Letty his most interesting case.

DEATH DEMANDS AN AUDIENCE is an Inspector McKee story by Helen Reilly. A crowd in front of a store was watching a display set in a new rising and falling stage in which a figure of a girl was reclined on a sofa... a perfect model.

Then the crowd saw the model was not alone. There was a small kneeling, and as the display rose, the man lurched sideways and rolled over, and that, as Inspector McKee said, "was the most bizarre corpse New York had ever seen."

FIRE DEPARTMENTS WILL FORM LEAGUE

Due to the shortening of the daylight hours, the tentative Millburn-Springfield Fire Department softball play-off game will not be held. It is expected that a Firemen's softball league composed of Springfield, Millburn, Union, Summit, Irvington and Maplewood Departments will be formed next Spring.

Your Home - A BUSINESS ASSET

Time was when a home owner had to prove himself an established "success" in business before he could build or buy a home. Today—our new FHA Plan reverses the process. An ambitious man with a very modest salary—say, less than $2,000—can begin with a home of his own. And his standing as a property owner in the community can contribute to his business success. Call on us for details about the new FHA Plan for small homes and learn how to become a home owner on a small income.

Of all the really good things of life, few can take the place of a dish of Alderney ice cream... or a sundae or ice cream soda of your favorite flavor.
Made from carefully selected farm-fresh Alderney milk and cream, pure cane sugar and the finest of fresh fruits, Alderney ice cream is truly "Hit of the Party" ice cream. Your choice of 31 flavors... plus birthday, anniversary, wedding and surprise holiday dessert!
As another treat, we bring to you the latest advancements in the art of cooking—ceramic broiling of steaks and chops, golden brown chicken fried in temperature-controlled automatic fryers and especially prepared delicious sandwiches.
Last, but not least—our kitchen is finished in spotless stainless steel... dishes are washed in an electric dish washer and glasses are sterilized in an automatic electric glass washer. All are in the open... for your inspection.
