Bears To Have Banner Bill

The Newark Baseball Club will stage its banner attraction of the season Friday night when the Bears will meet the Buffalo Bisons, their closest rivals in the International League pennant race, in a twilight-night doubleheader at Ruppert Stadium. Since Friday night is also ladies night one of the largest crowds of the year is expected.

The Buffalo series, which will be concluded along with the Bears here Sunday afternoon, will go a long way towards deciding the International League pennant. If the league leaders can tame the herd like they did in a recent series at Buffalo where they won three out of four, the Bears will pile up a comfortable lead which will practically assure them of the flag and $5,000 cash bonus that goes to the winning club.

If Bisons Win

However, if the Bisons should take the series and cut into Newark's lead, the Bears will start their long road to Saturday night fully aware that they will have to win on foreign soil to protect their lead. The trip which will keep the Bears away until August 12 will open Sunday in Montreal where a five-game series will be played against the Royals who still harbor pennant hopes.

The Bears have won only two games out of six in Montreal and only three out of six in Rochester where five games will be played in three days later on the northern tour. Thus does it behoove the league leaders to make hay while they have the chance at home if for no better reason than to ease the tension on the road.

Freddie Hutchinson, Buffalo ace and leading pitcher of the league, has been knocked out only once in 20 starts and the Bears did that on May 2. The only newcomer in the Buffalo lineup is Eric McNair, veteran infielder, who boasts a lifetime batting average of .290 in the American League.

Nulton Advanced To Reserve Major

County Clerk Henry G. Nulton, of Hillsdale, has been notified of his appointment as a major in the U. S. Army Infantry Reserve. It is considered unlikely he will be called for active service, however, as younger officers are desired at this time.

Nulton joined the New Jersey National Guard February 15, 1916, and became a part of the regular army when war was declared in 1917. Overseas Nulton served with Company 3, 11th Machine Gun Battalion, 28th Infantry Division. He was commissioned as a lieutenant and assigned to the Berlin Military Commission. He stayed in Germany until his honorable discharge from the army in September, 1919.

In December of the same year Nulton began his service in the county clerk's office, reaching the

Best Drivers In Union Meet

The second annual Eastern State 100 lap championship a week off, a couple of dozen hungry midwest racing drivers will vie in the 25-lap feature grid on the Tri-City cinder track Sunday night.

While the drivers, like the fans, are anxious for the Century spin, it will be far away from the drivers' mind when they take to the cinders Sunday night. Uppermost in the minds of the "doodlers" is the feature event of this week.

General Manager Albert Santo, who has elevated the sport tremendously since coming here last year, announces that such outstanding small car drivers as Johnny Ritter, Charley Miller, George Ponder, Joe Gordon, D. Randolph, Red Richmond, Harry Wheeler, Sherry, Charles Eyring, Jr., and Do Toran, Harry Gassell, F. Christopher, P. Plerson, J. Peterson, Doc Schmebrook, D. Allen, S. Yanigan, Hans Kohler and Chet Gibbons will be among the starters.

Seven Preliminaries

As usual there will be seven preliminary events. In these rides the boys will vie for the right to compete in the main event. The card is split up into three qualifying heats, two semi-finals and a pair of consolation brushes, and then the finale.

These race drivers are hungry for competition. They had a bad month during July with more than three-quarters of the scheduled racing being washed out by rain. They showed just how hungry they are in the last two meets run at Tri-City when the boys went haywire in seeking high honors.

The spectators haven't cooled off from that thrilling race ending of two weeks ago in which five doodlers spilled in a turn crash at the 12th lap of the main ride. It was a city bitter among the drivers, and one that will linger long in the minds of the some seven thousand spectators who witnessed it.

The first event, strictly AAA racing, will start promptly at 8:30 p. m.

McLEAN-STRESSES DAYLIGHT SAVING

Congressman Donald H. McLean, of Hillsdale, who has had a bill on file with the House of Representatives which would establish nationwide daylight saving time, has urged that Congress immediately act on President Roosevelt's request for authority to establish the advanced time throughout the country.

McLean said "It is estimated that it would save 736,282,000 kilowatt hours of electricity annually. Of course, the sooner it is established the greater will be the saving."

Butterworth At Playhouse Mon.

"Western Union, Please," the new comedy which opens at the Frank Carrington Paper Mill Playhouse, Millburn, Monday for a week's engagement, brings back to the theatre three Hollywood exiles. Charles Butterworth, the star, is returning after an eight years' absence. The authors, Frances Goodrich and Albert Hackett, are still remembered for the successful comedies, "Up Pops the Devil" and "Bridal Wreath."

When Aldrich and Meyers first approached Mr. Butterworth in regard to playing the role of Danny Daley, the adventure seeking hero of the Goodrich-Hackett play, he was nervous at the idea of playing before a Metropolitan audience. He agreed, however, to accept the part with the provision that he play roles for at least four weeks on the Summer circuit.

Aldrich and Meyers jumped at his proposal and engaged him for the Cape Cod production of "George Washington Street Here." In the four weeks appearing at Buck's Comedy, Maplewood, Tracy Town, Conn., and Dennis, Mass., Mr. Butterworth has broken all house records.

Supporting Charles—Butterworth in the role of Mrs. Daley is June Walker, one of the leading actresses in the theatre. Miss Walker is still remembered for her performance as the gold digging Lorélie in "Gentlemen Prefer Blondes." Other well known parts played by her include the Eric Canal girl in "The Farmer Takes a Wife" and Maria in the recent production of "Twelfth Night," starring Helen Hayes.

The case of "Western Union, Please," includes Boyd Crawford, Dudley Clements, Frances Reid, William J. Kelly, Peggy Elder, Constance Brigham, Peggy Van Fleet, and Billy Callahan. Henry Ephraim, who has been associated with George S. Kaufman in the plays which he has directed since "Merely We Roll Along," is the director. Mr. Ephraim also directed the Summer production "George Washington Street Here," which starred Mr. Butterworth. The sets are executed by Kenneth Lloyd Mapes, a member of the staff of the Paper Mill Playhouse.

Double Feature Program At New

Vivien Leigh and Laurence Olivier in "That Hamilton Woman" feature the coming week's bill at the New Theatre, Elizabeth. The film will be shown Sunday, Monday and Tuesday. Another feature picture will be shown on the same program, "The Devil and Miss Jones," starring Jean Arthur with Robert Cummings and Charles Coburn.

Tomorrow and Saturday the program will consist of "Rage in Heaven," with Robert Montgomery and Ingrid Bergman, and "The Marx Bros. Go West."

On the request program Wednesday and Thursday will be "Maryland," featuring Walter Brennan and Fay Bainter, and "Stanley and Livingstone," with Spencer Tracy, Nancy Kelly and Richard Greene.

Freeholders

First Federal Savings and Loan Association of Westfield and Chairman of the Westfield Chapter of the American Red Cross, Freeholder Smith has served on the present small Board for eight years. At present, he is Chairman of the Finance Committee and a member of the Roads, Purchasing, Welfare, and Insurance Committees. He also serves as a member of the Union County Welfare Board, in which capacity he has been exceptionally active. As head of the Finance Committee, he has been, to a large degree, responsible for the present decrease in County tax budgets.

Alfred C. Brooks has been a resident of Union County and the City of Rahway from 1930 to 1934. His business experience has been in the real estate and insurance line and he is now President of the Butter-Brooks Co. Freeholder Brooks is a graduate of the local Rahway schools and of Bryn Mawr Academy. He attended and received his college degree from Brown University. He has always been athletically inclined and during his preparatory schooling and college career, he was most active in the field of sports. He is a member of various social and fraternal orders in this State. Mr. Brooks has served on the small Board of Freeholders since the inception of this Board nine years ago and previously thereto he served on the large Board of Freeholders for four years. He has served on practically all of the important committees and is present Chairman of the Purchasing Committee and a member of the Public Property, Grounds & Buildings, Bridges, Drainage & Flood Control, Roads, and Legislation Committees. Mr. Brooks has always shown a high interest in road construction and maintenance and many of our present fine County Highways can be attributed to his efforts.

James O. Brokaw, a former business man of Elizabeth, has been a life-long resident of that City. For many years he was a member of the large Board of Freeholders and he has been a member of the small Board since its beginning. As present Freeholder, he is Chairman of the Bridges, Drainage & Flood Control Committee and a member of the Public Property, Grounds & Buildings, Welfare, Insurance, and Purchasing Committee. He is probably best known for his constructive work on bridge and drainage problems and he has, of late, taken an increasing interest in welfare work. He has always taken an active interest in Bonnie Burn Sanatorium and he is a frequent visitor on inspections at that institution.

"Love Crazy"

Comical complications ensue thick and fast when William Powell sets out to convince Myrna Loy that he's crazy in "Love Crazy," their latest hilarious adventure now playing at the Elizabeth Regent Theatre.

It starts with a marital quarrel, and Myrna decides on a divorce. But Powell discovers that she can't legally divorce an insane husband, so instead he goes in a big way, chewing up phonograph records and otherwise staging "bughouse" antics.

But the alienists take him seriously and he's locked in the asylum. Then his antics in trying to become "crazy" provide more trials and tribulations until he turns female impersonator to escape from his well meaning friends and find his way out of the dilemma and back into his wife's heart.

Very Funny

Powell was never more irresistibly funny than in his "crazy" portrayal and Miss Loy is ideal as the sentimentalized wife. Gail Patrick plays the "other woman" with conviction, and Jack Carson adds hilarity as the suitor who turns up after the separation.

Also of great aid to the production are Florence Bates, playing Powell's neezy mother-in-law, Sidney Blackmer as his lawyer, Sig Ruman and Vladimir Sokoloff as the alienist who pronounces Powell insane, Donald MacBride, Sara Haden, Kathleen Lockhart, Fern Emmett, Joseph Crehan and George Meeker.

Jack Conway's skillful direction gets every jot of comedy from the screaming situations, and Ray June photographed the picture with deft artistry.

TIME TO SAVE

As banking authorities are pointing out, saving on the part of the public is especially important now. Saving does two things, both of which are desirable and necessary. First, it builds up a backlog for the future when the defense program will be over and we will have to return to some sort of normal basis of living.

Second, it diverts money from the consumer goods markets—and that, in turn, helps build up the stocks of materials needed for military preparedness.

Today the government is urging the people to purchase the special defense bonds and stamps newly issued by the Treasury. The banks of America, knowing full well the gravity of our economic problems, are cooperating fully in this endeavor, without a nickel of profit to themselves. When we loan to the government, we are directly aiding defense, we are investing in the safest known form of security, and we are helping fight inflation.

Every family should make defense bond purchases an integral part of its budget for as long as the emergency endures. Buy as many bonds as you can. And don't dispose of them unless it is absolutely unavoidable.

OIL APLENTY

This country is building a great mechanized army. The very soul of that army will be oil—gasoline to propel it, and lubricants to grease the intricate mechanisms. So one of the extremely important questions of the time is this: Have we the motor fuel we need—and will there be enough left over for our civilian demands after military requirements are met?

That vital question was recently answered by the Texas Company. It is estimated that gasoline for the Army's 250,000 motor vehicles—tanks, blitz buggies, trucks, etc.—may total 1,000,000,000 gallons a year. That's a lot of gas—yet, says the Company, America's refineries can turn out that billion gallons in less than two weeks, leaving 50 weeks to produce for the air force, the Navy and the civilian population.

That shows how well the oil industry is prepared for this emergency. Under the American private-enterprise system, it has developed, on its own initiative and with its own money, the greatest plant of its kind in the world. Thus, oil belongs with those other great industries—electric power, railroads, mining, etc.—which are ready to meet any demands circumstances may impose. That is what the private enterprise system—the democratic system—has done for this country. It is the system which has made America great, and which we are building our defense to protect.

STUDY IN RELATIVITY

A short time ago, a dog which was suspected of having rabies, ran loose in the city of Peoria, Illinois. The animal had bitten a 7-year-old boy. If the dog was not captured at once to test him for rabies, the boy would have to take anti-rabies inoculation—which is both painful and somewhat risky.

The dog got loose because three women undertook to stage a "dog delivery" at the city pound in protest against animal experimentation which they contended entailed suffering on the part of the animals.

Commenting on this, the Peoria Journal Transcript said: "Apparently the question thus posed is one of relativity in suffering. Even if it be assumed that the charge animals suffer under experimentation is true (a charge denied by medical research workers), the situation presently disclosed here is that if the dog which is a rabies suspect escapes capture and return to the pound, the boy bitten by the dog will certainly not escape the pain and suffering incidental to anti-rabies inoculation. This is a neat little study in relativity."

The Peoria case seems to be one where ignorance of the necessity of animal experimentation by qualified scientists drove well-meaning people to a dangerous extreme of action. If experimentation on animals is forbidden, the experiments must be made on human beings. Science cannot guess. It must prove. And proof comes only from experimentation.

Medical experimentation on animals has resulted in some of the greatest and most beneficial medical discoveries. It has been the means of saving hundreds of thousands of human beings from suffering and death. To forbid it, would turn back the clock of medical advancement.

--Propaganda Diagnosis--

(Editor's note: "Propaganda Diagnosis" will appear in the SUN from time to time, and is devoted to a study of the functions of propaganda and how to "detect" it. Comments and questions from readers are welcomed.)

A recent AP dispatch from Moscow told how a German soldier pinned a written paper on a barbed wire in the Eastern front which told how the German despised Hitler. The statement read: "Down with bloodthirsty Hitler. The German people do not want to fight the Soviet Union."

Announcements of this nature makes good copy. Some people will believe it, whether true or not. If true, the Russian propaganda would call this incident a "natural" and would see to it that the world was informed. If not true, he would spread it to the world, anyway.

An even more effective story which came from Moscow radio the other day, was the broadcast which said that Hitler suffered an epileptic attack during a war council. Probably everyone outside of Germany wished he had. That is why the broadcast was made—some will believe that Hitler is a sick man. Watch, before long, when Berlin will give a detail account of Stalin's latest illness. The Germans will give him a good allment.

What should make you dubious of such a report about Hitler's epilepsy is that the broadcast facts were taken from "well informed circles in Berne, Switzerland." Berne, a neutral city, is the birth of a great deal of propaganda ballyhoo. Can you imagine facts of this type coming from Paris? Neither can anyone else. If Hitler is sick, the world won't know about it.

Another wild story told how the Germans shot down more Russian planes than the Russians were supposed to have had on the Eastern front. Good reading in Berlin and excellent reading for those who don't want to think. How many planes were in operation on the Russian side? How many were shot down? Can the Germans answer these questions? Can they think answer them? They can. They laugh them off and the lazy don't bother to ask themselves a few obvious questions. They take them for granted. The man who probably knows best how the lazy mind works is the Nazi dictator himself, who in "Mein Kampf" said: "All propaganda should be popular and should adapt its intellectual level to the perception of the least intelligent of those toward whom it intends to direct itself. Therefore, its intellectual level must be screwed lower, the greater the mass of people which one wants to attract. If—as with propaganda for carrying on a war—the object is to include an entire people in its field of action, there cannot be too much caution in avoiding too high spiritual assumptions."
