BETTIQUETTE SAYS

Bottled stockings are something new for the stylish American women this summer. Manufacturers say they should be applied so as to cover the legs like the sheers of hose. When properly put on, bottled hose will not run nor smear, yet can be easily removed with warm soapy water. Many shades make it possible to match ensembles. In some territories milk bottles carry messages approved by the U. S. Department of Agriculture reminding housewives to be careful about mail-time planning—that "Food Fights Too" for Victory. ODDITIES British railroads classify typewriters as musical instruments. In the Arkansas backwoods an old superstition is to wear a broken jackknife around the neck as a charm, for protection against evil. There is a telesepe in California so powerful—it would be possible to be in San Francisco and read a typewritten page in New York. Round pamphlets, consisting of several pages of wax-covered tablets were the "blank-books" used by children of ancient Carthage. The Stylus was its flattened end for rubbing on the wax. To you readers who wish to send "oversize" packages, here is the information: "Christmas parcels and cards must be mailed between September 15 and October 15 to Army personnel overseas and by November 1, to members of the Navy. No requests from addresses.

Vera M. Le Moine In Church Ceremony

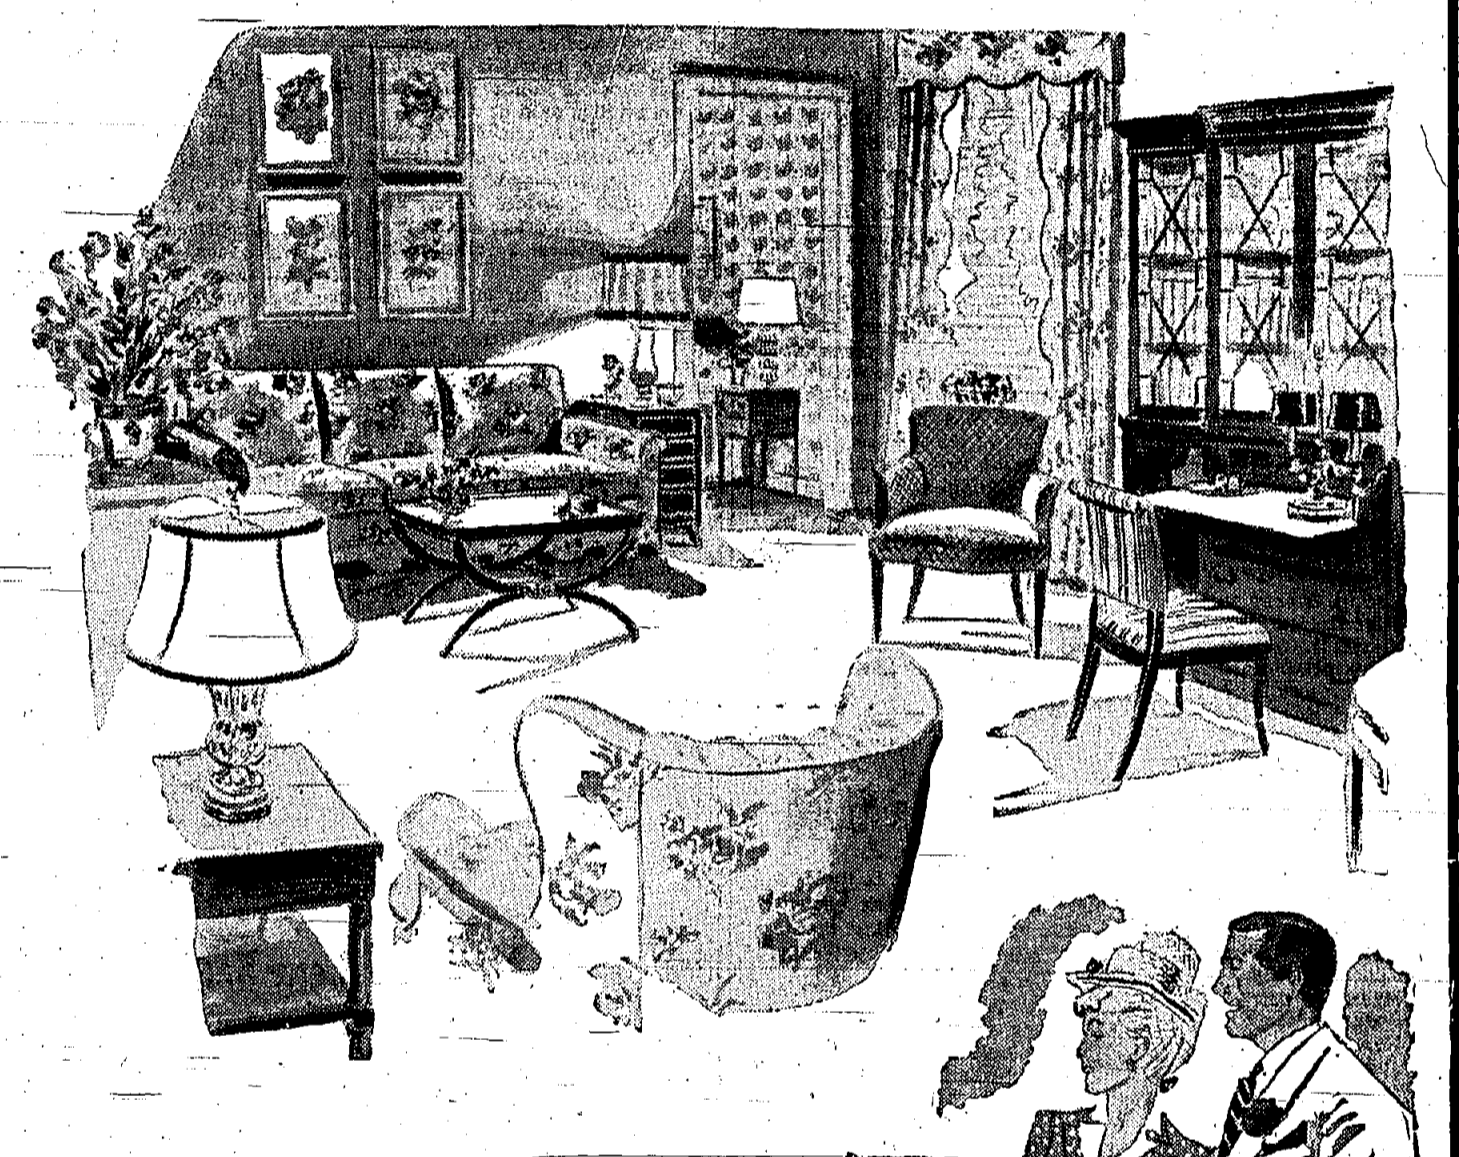

Miss Vera M. Le Moine, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Harry J. Le Moine of 170 Balmoral avenue, was married on Saturday evening to Private First Class Thomas E. Economy, U. S. Army, son of Mr. and Mrs. Leon Economy of 219 Waverly place, South Orange, in the First Presbyterian and Trinity Church of South Orange. Rev. Alward C. Shurtz performed the ceremony. The bride's matron of honor was Mrs. Lewis Ingram, Jr. of Montclair. Best man was Michael Boruch of Passaic. Mr. Ingram, J., and Robert Le Moine of Maplewood, cousin of the bride, ushered. The bride wore a white satin gown trimmed with lace and seed pearls and her fingertip veil was gathered to a matching tulle. She carried white roses and gypsophila. Mrs. Ingram wore an aqua gown and carried red roses. A reception followed in the home of the bride's parents. After a short wedding trip the bride will reside in town and Pvt. Economy will return to Fort Hancock, where he is stationed. The bride is a graduate of Millburn High School. Private Economy graduated from St. Bernard's Preparatory School and Diesel School of Engineering, Newark. If it happened in town, you'll find it in the SUN.

Fisher Makes Possible IMPORTANT SAVINGS On Better Made Furniture Yes... the savings are important... doubly important because they represent not only an actual dollars and cents difference, but also the enduring savings of longer life, longer lasting beauty. Fisher furniture is better furniture... made by America's best furniture makers... sold by us at lower prices because we've cut our overhead to a minimum... eliminated all the faddlers actually associated with the selling of fine furniture, and added the savings made possible by our highway location. You're invited to see this unusual display... to DISCOVER THE DIFFERENCE! The Fisher Store is open nightly and all day Saturday to 9:00 P. M. It's Just a Matter of Minutes to the Fisher Store. We're only 3 minutes from Millburn and Springfield; 5 minutes from Maplewood and Summit; 10 minutes from the Oranges, Irvington, and Union... and only 20 minutes from Newark and Morestown. Our store is just a short walk from the Lackawanna "Short Hills" station and Bus 70 stops at Morris and Millburn Avenues. Bus 72 passes the door. We're Specialists in BETTER BEDDING, at LOWER Prices, Too. We insist on selling only the best products of America's better furniture makers, and that policy is true of our bedding department, too. Our prices are lower because of our "highway" location. FISHER Furniture GALLERIES 505 MILLBURN AVE. (opp. Chanticleer) MILLBURN, NEW JERSEY Planned Payments... Open Evenings 10-9 P. M. Preserving Foods in Brine

By MARY W. ARMSTRONG
County Home Demonstration Agent

Although foods have been preserved for many years in all countries of the world, most modern cooks consider it a better idea to limit salt's use to foods for which they have no other means of preservation. If you are fond of the tart, acid tang of sauerkraut, you will welcome the change in flavor that you find in brined vegetables. But if this flavor is so objectionable to you that you "soak" the brined vegetable to remove it, much of the food's nutritive value is lost. It is essential that the vegetables used in brining be in prime condition in order to keep well and to have a good flavor. Salting and brining are done in sealed crocks, wooden kegs, or jars. Other pieces of equipment needed are regular utensils in the kitchen. The salt is combined with the vegetables in one of three ways—by dry salting, by a weak brine (five per cent solution) plus vinegar, or by a strong brine (15 per cent solution). The salt-vegetable mixture is covered with several layers of clean cheesecloth, which can be tucked down inside the crock. On top of this, place a plate or wooden disk, and on the disk place a weight. As fermentation begins, scum will form on top of the brine. This is removed very simply by lifting the cheesecloth. Wash the cloth and replace it, the cover, and the weight. When fermentation is rapid, it will be necessary to remove the scum every other day. Dry Salting This is the method commonly used in making sauerkraut, but it is also adaptable to legumes, turnips, rutabagas, snap beans, and beets. After washing the snap beans or beets, they are cut into slices and then arranged in alternate layers with salt in a crock—slicing eight ounces of salt and one cup of household vinegar for each 10 pounds of vegetable. The proportion of salt for the other vegetables, which are shredded, is four ounces for every 10 pounds of food. No vinegar is added. When the fermentation has ceased, pack the food into clean glass jars up to within one-half inch of the top, and process in a boiling water bath 25 minutes for pints and 30 minutes for quarts. If additional brine is needed to help fill the jars, mix one ounce of salt and two ounces of vinegar with each quart of water. Seal the jars tightly after processing. This processing stops the fermentation but does not entirely cook the food. Weak-Brine Plus Vinegar by this method whole beets, parsnips, and green tomatoes, as well as greens and cauliflower, can be preserved. Snap beans which have been blanched for five minutes in steam or boiling water may be packed into a crock also and covered with a brine made of one-half pound (3/4 cup) salt, one cup vinegar, and one gallon of water. The quantity of brine needed is equal to half the capacity of the crock. Merely rinsing these vegetables is sufficient before cooking, because the acid taste will be removed by soaking. Strong Brine Peas and lima beans left in the pods, pepper hulls, corn-on-the-cob, silver skin onions, whole cauliflower, carrots, and snap beans may be put down in this 15 per cent brine. The corn must be boiled 10 minutes to set the milk, and the beans are blanched for five minutes before brining. Weigh the food as you pack it into the crock. Then cover it with a brine made of 2 1/2 cups salt for each gallon of water. To keep the brine that strong, place a heap of salt (2 1/2 cups) in every 30 pounds of food on the cover, to be slowly dissolved in the brine as fermentation progresses. Do not allow it to spill over into the brine, however. When bubbling within the crock has stopped, repack the food into clean containers which can be sealed. This food must be soaked overnight to remove the excess salt. Use one gallon of water for each pound of food. Further directions, including recipes for using these brined foods, are contained in the circular "Salting and Brining Vegetables," by Marie C. Doernmann, available free of charge at your county extension office. NEXT WEEK: Sweet Peppers for Winter. Oatmeal is high in iron, thiamine, phosphorus, and protein.

Playground Activities

For the past week the children on the playground have been busy making individual game plates. The game plates vary in design and are patterned to suit the individual and much attractiveness has been shown along the handicraft line. Mrs. Rullison, Nature supervisor, gave a very interesting talk to the children on the stars, the moon and the sun. A Professor Quiz program was then conducted by Mrs. Rullison covering the lecture and the winner was presented with a book covering information on the planets. The grounds have been wet for the past few days, but the weather has failed to dampen the enthusiasm of the children working for meals. Winners of the daily contests are: Paddle tennis doubles, Frank Sciarillo and Philip Marcantonio; Richard Sherry and Harold Scaries; Melni; Chinese checkers, boys, Harold Scaries, Richard Schroeder and Billy Pollack, and among the girls, the winners were Gene Puerhelm and Marilyn Irela.

ACTIVITIES OF MOUNTAINSIDE

PETITIONS FILED FOR RENOMINATION

MOUNTAINSIDE—No opposition is expected in the Republican primary September 21, as petitions for renomination were filed yesterday with Borough Clerk Lanning by Mayor John Moxon for another 3-year term; Councilman Winfield Raa for a 3-year term; and Councilman Norman Woolley for an unexpired 1-year term.

Ausbruck In Service

MOUNTAINSIDE—Friends of "Cy" Ausbruck, former garbage man in Springfield road, will be pleased to learn he has been in the Merchant Marine for about three months and returned to this vicinity recently after a trip abroad.

In Colorado Ski Patrol

MOUNTAINSIDE—Pvt. Howard McDowell, son of Mr. and Mrs. F. B. McDowell of Walnut avenue is now stationed with a ski patrol at Camp Hale, Colorado. He is specializing in shooting both with rifle and machine gun.

Airs Situation On Converting School

(Continued from page 1) 7,700 gallons of oil. By their own admission on the "Ration Board" forms they used an average of 10,000 gallons. This with extra curricular activities at night; P. T. A. meetings, first-aid classes, other nightly meetings, keeping the room temperatures at 70 degrees (although the children have only 65 in their homes) and running along normally. If they must have all of this, the mountainside engine heat 10 make up for the 2800 gallons of oil. Say 3000 gallons of oil. The coal equivalent of the 3000 gallons of oil is less than 18 tons. With coal at the maximum of $10 per ton, this will cost $180.00. With an auxiliary coal boiler connected right into the present steam system they can get their "normal" supply. This boiler will cost about $500 completely installed. Therefore at a total cost of $680 they can scrap the setup at the end of a year. Therefore collection is not necessary.

Test Shows Swimm Waters As Polluted

MOUNTAINSIDE—A special meeting of the Board of Health was held on Tuesday evening at the Borough Hall. Members present were Ernest Johnson, Wallace Winkler, Henry Pfeifer, Charles Wadas, and Health Officer Wilsey. It was recommended that application and license forms issued by the Board of Health be ordered printed. Previously the Borough Council handled the license and application forms.

Received His Wings

MOUNTAINSIDE—Private Henniker, son of Police Chief and Mrs. Charles Henniker of Locust avenue, who recently completed his five initial jumps in the paratroopers and received his wings, has been home on a ten-day furlough. When he returns he will be stationed at Fort Benning, N. C. where he will take up further study on paratrooper jumping and acrobatics.

Sugar For Canning

Summit War Price and Rationing Board yesterday issued an explanatory statement on the amount of sugar allowed for canning and preserving purposes, as follows: "There seems to be a good deal of misunderstanding in regard to the amount of sugar allowed for canning and preserving. The Nos. 15 and 16 stamps are each good for five pounds for these purposes, but not for general consumption in the home. Five pounds of the test can be used for making jellies and jams; and the other five pounds are for canning. The person canning must make these five pounds for twenty quarts of canned fruit. Many persons use considerably more than this amount of sugar in canning and, by so doing, make it impossible for them to get extra sugar for canning during the balance of the season. "Any one who applies for the extra sugar allowance, pounds per person must show that she has used those ten pounds according to the rules."

AIR CADET HOME

MOUNTAINSIDE—Air Cadet Edward Rainondi of Walnut avenue, is home on a two weeks' furlough. He entered the service in February, 1943, is training for the Air Corps, and is stationed at Shaw Field, South Carolina.

AROUND THE BOROUGH

Mr. and Mrs. Carl Evans of Birch Hill road spent the week-end at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Horach in Flemington.

Mr. and Mrs. Wilfred C. Hand of Evergreen court and their niece, Sandra Cramer of Miami, Fla. are spending the week at Orleans, Cape Cod, Mass. with Mr. and Mrs. Temple C. Patton.

Mr. and Mrs. William Rader, son and daughter-in-law of August Rader of Evergreen Court, have returned from Miami, Fla.

Police Chief and Mrs. Charles Honecker of Locust avenue, will spend a few days at Seaside Park.

Mr. and Mrs. Edmund Frey of Summit road have just returned from a few days' vacation at Seaside Park.

Mr. and Mrs. John Kazmar of New Providence road has left for a six weeks' visit with her sister in New Mexico, who is ill.

Playground Youngsters On Swimming Party

MOUNTAINSIDE—On Monday the Echo Lake playground youngsters went on a swimming party. The children are now making one big rag doll for the playground. Everyone is taking part in making it.

On Wednesday the playground group went on a hike up to the Sunrise Lake Museum. Thursday they had a target contest in the afternoon, and on Friday there was a marble contest.

On August 6, the playground pet duck, Oscar, died.

A call to the SUN, Millburn 6-1256, will bring a representative to estimate on your job printing requirements.—adv.

"Come on in, Girls - the Work's Fine"

SAYS THE GIRL WHO WORKS AT WESTON'S
Mrs. Alma Maier, Newark, N. J.

"WANT TO DO EASY, PLEASANT WORK? That's the big thing that appeals to me here at Weston's. I do important war work—but it's light. And always interesting."

"MEET FRIENDLY PEOPLE Say, you ought to drop into our cafeteria here at Weston's and talk with the girls eating their lunches. You'll find plenty of them my age, and plenty still in their teens. And all of 'em are simply swell."

"KEEP NEAT AND CLEAN? I used to think factory work meant grimy clothes, greasy hands and broken nails. But not at Weston's! I can dress for my job at Weston's as any other business woman would, for any other business position."

"MAKE REAL MONEY? Listen, I'm able to buy War Bonds, run my house and help pay taxes. Yes, I'm proud of my job at Weston's—just as I'm proud of two sons and a son-in-law in service. We're all boosting Peace."

Your job is waiting at Weston—a big job in terms of what it will accomplish in helping to win this war—but an easy job in actual working terms. Our plant is light, clean and airy. There's an up-to-date cafeteria to serve you wholesome, nourishing meals at low cost. Hours are reasonable—you'll certainly find a shift convenient to your schedule. Transportation is convenient—all No. 11, 12, 62 and 24 buses stop at our door. In addition, there are established transportation groups which may meet your needs completely.

If you are not now employed at your highest skill, call at our employment office. You'll get a hearty welcome.

LOOKING BACKWARD

Ten Years Ago

Chief Newman, aviator, who operated the Free Brook airport was fined $25 and grounded two weeks for piloting the plane which flew over the United Singers Grove on a Sunday afternoon at the height of the annual celebration of "German Day" of the German American League of Essex County. Thousands of pro-Nazi circulars were dropped over the grounds during the celebration as 7,000 persons thronged the grove.

Fifty girls, employees of the dress factory at 230 Morris avenue, on strike three days, returned to work after "disension" between their employers and manufacturers in New York City over the blanket code provisions of the National Recovery Act, had been settled. Max Wasserman and William Rhea, owners of the factory, encouraged the strike on the grounds that they, the sub-contractors felt it unfair to wait until September 1 to put the blanket code into effect, as the temporary agreement provided.

PARACHUTE TRAINING OUTLINED

Springfield Man Conducts School At Newark Where Instruction Is Given In Such Education

(Editor's Note.—The following article on "Parachutes" is submitted by R. Caswell of Summit road, together with P. W. O'Brien, both instructors of Parachute Training, Inc., a school to train parachute work at 65 Market street, Newark.)

Why does the layman fear a parachute and not a life preserver, when both save life in time of emergency? Many who shudder at the thought of a parachute or of jumping from a plane without a moment's hesitation jump into a stormy sea, supremely confident that a life preserver would keep them afloat until rescued. Why then is there such a general attitude of distrust directed at the life preserver of the air, the parachute?

There is no bug-a-boo to the parachute. It is a mechanical device that has been perfected by the intrepid pioneers who in years past risked their lives and suffered the disappointments consistent with all advancement in the evolution of man in his desire for mastery of the elements.

Possibly some of the misunderstanding regarding parachutes found birth in the unfortunate conditions surrounding the parachute pioneer. In order to get out an existence it was necessary to tread parachute jumping as something akin to a sideshow attraction or dare-devil exhibition featuring nerve, good judgment and good luck. Probably such showmanship was necessary in order to guarantee an enthusiastic remunerative response from the spectators, as I think it can be generally agreed the crowds of the day were more morbidly curious as to a possible failure of the parachute, than they were interested in its potentialities as a life saving device.

Today we know that a parachute properly packed and properly treated will open every time. Standards for proper packing and care of parachutes have been set up by the Civil Aeronautics Authority and are enforced to the letter.

Fishing For Food Serious At Parks

Although "fishing for fun" has been the ruling motive for visits to well-stocked Union County Park lakes and streams in the past, the possibilities of "fishing for food" are not to be overlooked these days.

With bass and pickerel season well under way, the park system's "serve yourself" fish markets have long of "steady customers", Mr. Tracy reports.

One of the best catches recently was a 22 1/2 inch pickerel, which William W. Friberger, grandson of Township Clerk W. W. Friberger, of Union, caught Monday of last week at Lake Surprise in the Watchung Reservation. Some 24 and 26 inchers have been caught in the past as well as bass weighing over five pounds.

"A whiffal" for local fishermen occurred recently when Andy Shraw, county fish and game warden, placed 2,000 fish weighing up to 2 pounds, in Echo-Lake and Lake Surprise. These had been netted in a reservoir. Shraw also distributed 9,000 bass fingerlings in the park lakes. More bass are expected later this year from the U. S. Bureau of Fisheries.

There are no special regulations governing fishing in Union County parks as long as a State fishing license is obtained by those required by law to have one. Fishing is permitted both from the bank as well as from rowboats that may be rented (for 25 cents per hour) on several park lakes.

Did you know that about three medium-sized tomatoes furnish a day's requirements of vitamin C for the average person?

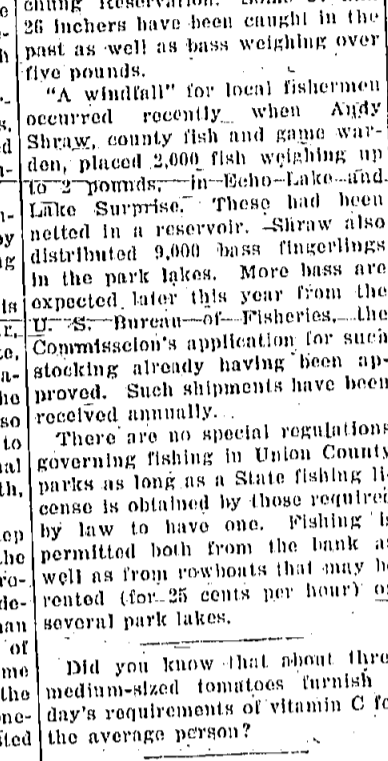

Don't be caught short. When your printing supplies are running low, try the SUN for the next order. Millburn 6-1256—adv.

VICTORY CANNING

FOOD is a combatant in any war. Every pound of food we can at home means another pound released for our forces.

The government's request that we do home canning appeals to our practical patriotism. We know that New Jersey homemakers would want to use the most reliable methods of home canning, so we had our Home Economics Department compile a booklet, ask for a copy of 'Can It'. There is no charge.

OFFICE OF WAR INFORMATION

Fathers 18 to 27 years old, with children born before September 15, 1942, will be reclassified to make them available for induction into the armed forces after October 1. Fathers will be drafted only when it is necessary to fill a local board's quota; they will be called without distinction regarding the number or ages of their dependent children; those who are "key men" in agriculture or essential industry will be deferred; and those whose induction would cause "extreme hardship and privation to their families" will be deferred.

Photographic and short-wave radio equipment purchased from private owners is now in service on many battle fronts as well as in the continental United States. The War Department has announced that the Signal Corps, Army Service Forces, has made a special appeal to persons possessing certain high-grade or scarce items to sell them as a means of aiding the war effort. Owners who wish to offer equipment for sale should write to: Emergency Purchase Section, Philadelphia Signal Corps Procurement District, 5000 Wissahickon Ave., Philadelphia, Pa. Nothing should be shipped unless requested.

Members of the armed services of the U. S. and of the United Nations who are eligible to use War Ration Book Three will receive application blanks from their commanding officers including about August 15. Processing of these military applications and issuance of War Ration Book Three will be completed between August 15 and September 10. The book will not be needed for buying rationed commodities until after that time. It is estimated that approximately 700,000 copies of the book will be required.

Between 25,000 and 30,000 tons of paper will be saved by issuance of War Ration Book Three. This paper will be utilized to better advantage in meeting war requirements and certain civilian needs. Although the general public may have fewer fancy articles made from paper, the real needs of the average citizen will not be seriously affected because plenty of millipaper articles will still be available.

A subscription to the SUN will keep you informed of all local happenings, $2 per year, or 5c at all local newsstands.

TO THE PEOPLE OF SPRINGFIELD

BELIEVING that the township of Springfield has arrived at a point in its development when a sound business administration is necessary to insure its future welfare, we are announcing our candidacy for the REPUBLICAN NOMINATION for TOWNSHIP COMMITTEE MEN, based on principles applicable to all of its citizenry.

We Therefore Pledge Ourselves To The Following Program

GREGG L. FROST

To Our Service Men and Women

We owe all we have to the fact that we are Americans. To you, honored men and women of our community who are serving in the armed forces, we give our solemn pledge that during your absence and upon your return to normal life, we shall concern ourselves with your welfare and with the continuance of the principles for which you serve now (and for which we served in the last war) in order to protect and preserve the "American way of life."

EDUCATION

We shall give our utmost co-operation to the extension of our present educational system. We will urge that property owned by the Township, suitable in location and extent, shall be set aside for future school purposes, based upon reasonable requirements.

RECREATION

Being aware that many advantages due our youth are not at present available, and to forestall any possibility of juvenile delinquency, and to build strong bodies and clean minds in the citizens of the future, we pledge to exert our efforts to expand existing recreational facilities.

FINANCE

There is one thing that all taxpayers agree upon: present taxes are too high for value received. The Township is a business, the people are partners in this business and as such are entitled to know what is going on and to have a voice and have this voice considered. We therefore promise that all budget meetings will be open to the public; all suggestions considered and the final budget, when passed, will be understandable by "the man in the street." There will be no hidden appropriations. All expenditures will be anticipated and no "emergency appropriations" made where avoidable, thereby preventing an increase in the tax rate, such as is the unwanted situation for 1944.

PURCHASING

We will work to have a centralized purchasing agency whose duty it shall be to prevent overlapping purchases, small lot buying by individuals, and loss of savings, which can be avoided by quantity buying for several departments. By this means, budget appropriations will be adhered to and expenditures kept within them.

PLANNING

We will recommend to the public and ask its approval of a practical Planning Board, completely divorced from politics and political influence on the following general basis:

- (a) It shall be made up of representatives from ALL sections of the Township and shall be of ALL POLITICAL PARTIES.
- (b) They will make recommendations as to the elimination or improvement of places considered "eyesores."
- (c) They will approve all future types of improvement and construction.
- (d) They will recommend public works where needed.
- (e) They will assist in flood control problems.
- (f) They will plan and recommend present and future plans for the development of the Township and its beautification.

GENERAL

We shall use our best efforts to continue and to improve the excellent work of the TOWNSHIP EMPLOYEES, POLICE AND FIRE DEPARTMENTS. We will assist those who now give service to the community and will urge further participation in Township affairs by a united citizenry, and will do our best to build up a sound community spirit of friendliness, co-operation and neighborliness.

We sincerely believe that the members of the Township Committee are the servants of the people and should be guided by the people they represent. With these pledges in mind, we offer our names as candidates, seek your support and votes, and in so doing help in community betterment.
