"Milkweed Scouts" To Be Looking For Kapok Substitute

The "Milkweed Scouts" this summer will include Boy and Girl Scouts, and practically all the other clubs and organizations for youngsters of school and high school age in the populous north-east part of the nation, it was announced today by K. W. Iversen, assistant county agricultural agent.

Whenever there is a hike, or a picnic, a trip to a swimming hole or a journey to a farm to help a farmer on the food front, it is expected that youthful eyes will be kept peeled to "spot" milkweed plants that will be ripe for picking about the time school starts in the fall.

Milkweed pods are needed as a substitute for kapok, Kapok, the U. S. Department of Agriculture explains, is the material that has proved most useful for filling life jackets that will keep sailors or soldiers afloat if their ship is shot out from under them in the war.

nie, Mountain Side, has received the Air Medal, according to a letter received from Lieut. General George C. Kenny of the Fifth Air Force in the Southwest Pacific. The award was made in recognition of courageous services and meritorious achievement while participating in aerial flights in the Southwest Pacific area.

He entered the service on August 1, 1942 and received his commission and wings at Victoria, Texas, on May 24, 1943. He went overseas November 2, 1943. Lieut. Galloway graduated from Regional High School, class of 1939.

The SUN received a letter this week from Lieut. Galloway, telling us that he feels Springfield is his "second home," how he witnessed the Army and Navy film on Springfield and he thanks us for sending him the paper. The letter reads as follows: "I have received several copies of the SUN in the past month. As you know, I'm not a resident of Springfield, but after spending two years at Regional High, I feel as though Springfield is a second home."

"Last week I saw the film taken of Springfield and shown to the Armed Forces, as a model town. It certainly was good to see those familiar scenes again. Springfield should be proud of such a distinction. Perhaps you'll be interested in knowing where I'm located, but not by choice. Events of the war over here are increasing in frequency. It is really encouraging to hear of us to know that the machine is at last getting under way."

"We received the news of the invasion of Europe with much happiness. It's taken a long time to get started, but we all believe this is the beginning of the end for the Axis. I know a good many of my friends are flying over there, so they should make it pretty tough on the Luftwaffe."

"In closing, I want to extend my thanks and congratulations to the SUN and also the town of Springfield for the wonderful job being done at home. Keep up the good work."

School's Grounds Scene of July 4 Celebration Here

MOUNTAINSIDE — The annual Fourth of July celebration exercises, under auspices of the Mountainside Civic Council, were held Tuesday on the grammar school grounds, marked by a large attendance and a brief but highly interesting program of events.

After the invocation by Dewey G. Knoll, Mayor John Moxon welcomed the gathering. Councilman Theodore V. Mundy was master of ceremonies and called attention to several outstanding flyers who attended the celebration.

Featured was the presentation of a new fire truck, built by members of the Fire Department, themselves, presented to Mayor Moxon by Fire Chief Herman Honacker. Elsewhere in this issue of the SUN is a complete account of the new apparatus.

Athletic events for the youngsters were held under the direction of Charles Wadsworth, local school principal. Winners received War Savings stamps.

Summaries of the track events follow: 25-yard dash for girls 5 and 6, won by Phyllis Wolf, with Phyllis Verla second; 50-yard dash for boys 7 to 12, won by Arthur Pfister and Eddie Peterson second; 50-yard dash for girls 7 to 9, won by Carol Wren and Grace Engleman second; 50-yard dash for boys 10 to 12, won by Alan Zimner and Robert Miller second; same event for girls, won by Ruth Eberenz and Catherine Green second.

A 25-yard bag relay was won by H. Honacker, R. Hnmbacher, D. Dalridge, D. Milton and C. Green. The house and rider relay, 25 yards, was won by Eddie Peterson, Norman Hnmbacher, R. Miller and Richard Hnmbacher.

A hand-own was won by the Police Department over the Fire Department, two out of three. A softball game between Kay Honacker's team and Mrs. Henry Sevcovic's team was won by the Sevcovic team, 9-2.

Ted Mundy's softball squad won over Police Chief Honacker's team in 11 innings, 6-4, when Milton's home run with one on, decided the outcome.

A victory garden exhibit was in charge of Ralph Hill and Joseph Hershey. Richard Keller and Joseph Lindenfeller were in charge of the Rescue Squad display. Mrs. Edward Hansen, local librarian, was at the library to show any interested persons around. The Boy Scouts set up a campsite under direction of Joseph Hershey. Cub Scouts, directed by George Howson, gave a program. Refreshments were handled by Mrs. Edward Menerth and John Ferguson.

Police Court Cases

MOUNTAINSIDE — In Police Court last Thursday night, the following forfeited fines when they failed to appear on charges of speeding:

Frederick Englehart, Jersey City, $8; Frank Dien Jr., Dunellen, $10; Henry Juliana, Union, $10; Wilma Schurr, Houston, Tex., $10; and Joseph Serpinski, Newark, $8.

The following were fined for passing stop streets $3 each: Gerald Braxton, Westfield; Elsa Peterson, Summit; Richard McDowell, West Caldwell; George Garavanta, Jersey City; Franz Kahler, 817 South Ave., Plainfield; and Charles Butler, Newark. Alexander Palma of Newark was fined $5 for having improper plates and $5 for passing a traffic signal.

Volunteers Built Fire Truck Given To Borough

MOUNTAINSIDE — The result of six months' volunteer labor by members of the Fire Department in building their own hose and ladder apparatus was unveiled to borough residents Tuesday at the July Fourth celebration on the school grounds as Chief Herman Honacker, on behalf of the firemen, presented the truck to Mayor John Moxon, who accepted it from the department as a gift to the community.

Beginning December 5, the firemen took the used Ford chassis which they had bought and designed the body into a piece of apparatus which compares favorably with any custom-built job, costing considerably more than the $1,500 spent on the entire project. The new truck is estimated to be valued at $1,500 and cost the department only $1,000, largely made up of proceeds from a series of plays given by the firemen.

Several garages were used from time to time, and for those who want statistics, the men worked 80 different days for a total of 565 hours, making up 107 full working days.

The apparatus is equipped with a foam outfit, two ladders, 1,000 feet of 2 1/2-inch hose, 600 feet of 1 1/2-inch hose, flashlights, generating system, 120-volt pump, canvas covers, carbon dioxide extinguishers, chain pumps, axes, gas masks, asbestos gloves, life belt, pipe pliers, axes and bars and miscellaneous tools.

With the acquisition of the new equipment, the department now has on hand one of the best fire trucks in the county. Several years ago, a 600-gallon Made triple combination hoister, hose and pump wagon was purchased and the OCD gave Mountainside an auxiliary trailer pump.

The following members of the Fire Department worked on the truck: Chief Herman Honacker, Harold Engelmann, Charles Honacker, Joseph Hershey, Elmer Hoffarth, Henry Sevcovic, William Van Ness, Benjamin and Fred Nolte, Fabian Vincent and Fred Wagner, the latter two being in the service.

The Fire Department wishes to acknowledge, with thanks, the services or donations offered by the following: N. Nolte and Sons, for use of tools, welding and shop; Tony Young of Somerset Bus Co. for painting; Jack Meftae and Frank Perry, use of garage; Edward McGuire and Frank Ralner, use of tools; Chittin Brothers, seat covers; Gene Young, car heater; and Ted Van Houten, for motor work.

1944: 48.2 (previous year, 48.2); schools: $187; state and county, $99.
Springfield was settled in the early 1700's. Its township form of government was established April 14, 1797, and was incorporated in 1852.
Springfield is a community of homes, with little industry except for farming, nurseries and coordinated manufacturing; for these, 45 farmers from New York City out the Lackawanna R. R. with two stations at Millburn and Short Hills, less than a mile away; 7 miles to Elizabeth;
7 miles to Newark; excellent bus connections to Newark, Elizabeth, Summit and Plainfield.
The Highway Valley Railroad with a freight station in the township affords service for domestic, commercial and industrial purposes. State Highway 29 enters New York City convenient by auto in 20 minutes—site of the 500,000-gallon County Regional High School, serving Springfield, Montclair and four other county municipalities.
It has good state water supply, electricity and modern sanitary sewer system, excellent public fire and school facilities, mail carrier delivery system, and zoning regulations for the protection of the individual property owner.
The town's revolutionary history with the historic Episcopalian church, where the Rev. James Caldwell preached "No more slaves, boys!" in the midst of the Battle of Springfield, fought on June 27, 1780. Several colonial landmarks are to be found in Springfield, one of the oldest communities in Union County.

WHAT THE SUN ADVOCATES

1. Sidewalks wherever needed.
2. 5c bus fare to Union Center.
3. Extended local telephone scope to Newark and Elizabeth.
4. Federal Post Office building.
5. An active Board of Trade to stimulate "Try Springfield First" in purchasing.
6. Full-time position for the Township Clerk's office.
7. Encouraging clean industry, to increase tax rates.
8. Extension of mail delivery by local R. F. D. routes, to all portions of the township.

Picnics Popular In Park System

"A picnicking well go" is the exclamation resounding in many a home these summer days and it is echoed in the offices of the Union County Park Commission, Warrinane Park, where a young woman is kept busy making reservations for family, church and other organization groups who want to be sure of a picturesque and peaceful setting for their outing.
A third more people picnicked in the parks last month than was the case in June, 1943. This fact is planned both from the attendance estimates of park police and from the actual number of picnic area reservations issued. Police records show 42,078 picnickers last month throughout the park system, while the 1943 total for the corresponding month was 24,734. Reservation figures were 301 this June as compared to 217 last. These were days the most popular of the thirty-seven reservable picnic spots, according to George T. Cron, acting superintendent of recreation, are those "closest to home." First choices include the three areas in Spinning's Woods, and Dipsea Woods, all in Warrinane Park; The Bond, The Maple and The Quadrangle, all in Railway River Park; and The Birch, The Hilltop and Locust Grove, all in Echo Lake Park.

A goodly percentage of the park picnickers, Cron said, use the picnic kits made available at no charge. A $5 deposit, however, is

Let's make this pledge with Phoebe Snow—that each will do his part to show
The Axis how free men can fight for what they know is just and right.
No matter what our jobs may be, they all add up to Victory!
For this we strive each day and night, along the Road of Anthracite!

The Train Nobody Cheers

EXTRA 1503" entries several hundred troops to night. But there will be no cheers.
There'll be no rollicking songs...no wisecracks huddled at girls on station platforms...no eager, youthful faces crowding open windows.
The hand on "1503" throttle will be extra gentle tonight. And a switchman, standing aside as she rolls by, will look long and reverently after the winking, red tail lights.
The conductor will have no tickets to collect, no reservations to check. Silently, he will gaze down a dim-lit aisle where wounded men sit restlessly in their berths...while only a white-capped, uniformed figure stands guard.
And the conductor's face will be grim and thoughtful. For in America, too, tonight, the Hospital Trains are rolling.
The route of the Lackawanna Railroad lies far beyond the sound of guns. Yet in a very real sense, it is part of the fighting front for every day and night, Lackawanna trains are speeding men and munitions to and from the battle zones.
The men and women of the Lackawanna know what a tremendous task this is. They know how much more difficult that job has become as the great battle of liberation grows in intensity. They have been called upon to do the almost impossible—and they are doing it!
They are hastening the day when there will be no more Hospital Trains...only trains for the late and triumphant!

SHOES - Airplane stamps 1 and 2, good indefinitely. Newly established ceiling prices for used passenger cars and certificates of transfer required on all completed sales may be obtained from local War Price and Rationing Boards or car-dealers, the Office of Price Administration announcements. Prices vary by three geographical zones. After July 10, any seller and the buyer of a used car must jointly fill out a transfer certificate giving the applicable maximum price, the actual selling price, and other details of the sale. The purchaser then files the completed certificate with his local War Price and Rationing Board. You can make scarce fuel go further next winter by preparing your home for winter now, be you owner or merely a lease-holder, the Federal Housing Administration says. An FHA Title 1 loan will enable you to borrow enough to pay for both materials and workmanship needed to insulate your home, to repair your heating plant, to install storm windows—up to as much as $2,500. You can borrow enough for any or all of these things without down payment, without security and with three years in which to pay, FHA says. Get best prices on jobs you want done, then get your local dealer or contractor to tell you where you can get an FHA Title 1 loan to cover the entire bill. The OPA has restored rationing to best cuts of lamb in order to get better distribution among consumers, and it has restored point values to certain types of cheese and canned mushrooms, peas and tomatoes, which were rationed for two weeks because of large stocks on hand. For the first time, public eating and drinking places will be covered by a national restaurant regulation July 31, when they must post their April 4-10, 1943, basic period ceiling prices for 40 basic menu items served, OPA announces. However, a cup of coffee with sugar and cream may sell for no more than a nickel at any establishment that did not charge more than a nickel for it October 4-10, 1943. The extra egg-buying of American housewives has made it possible to save the 25 million dozens of eggs that were in danger of spoilage a few weeks ago for lack of storage space, War Food Administrator Marvin Jones said. Retail stores, newspapers and radio were of great help in calling attention to the problem, he said.

LOOKING AHEAD
BY GEORGE S. BENSON
President, Farming College, Seelye, Arkansas

VICTORY MATERIAL
The United States is winning a war for humanity in 1944 as a direct result of what our pioneer ancestors did in 1776. This nation has had 168 years of freedom. Its citizens (its fighters abroad and its workers at home) possess 168 years of experience at minding their own business and taking care of themselves under a system of free enterprise. It's a great asset. I wish every child in America, at about the sixth grade, where serious study of synonyms and antonyms begins, could be impressed that liberty is the opposite of slavery—impressed so deeply they couldn't forget. I am afraid words that mean freedom have grown poetical and abstract to all of us. To our colored forebears, don't forget, liberty meant escape from something strictly awful. Pardonable Pride—Bragging about ancestors never was a habit of mine but today, along with millions of other citizens of the United States, I am glad my grandfather's great-grandfather was a free man. Do you wonder what he ever did for me that did me any good? Just this: He taught my grandfather and the idea gained strength until I picked it up from my dad. Of course this freedom would have but little value if it were exclusive to the Bensons, but it's not. There were 16 young men, back in 1776, who could qualify as my grandfather's great-grandfather and they have a lot of posterity by now. Besides, they all had liberty-loving friends that year, comrades in arms perhaps, who laid the foundation of the world's greatest nation. Our Way is Best—Getting used to civil liberty keep the hot jars off any cold surface. Use a jar filler if you are packing out beans; pack whole beans with stagger lines on its side on a table. Add one level teaspoon of salt per quart when the jar is two-thirds full and then complete filling it. Pour the bleaching water into the jar to within one-half inch of the top. Run a case knife down the sides of the jar to work out air bubbles. Wipe the jar rim clean so that no speck of food will prevent an airtight seal. Seal jars for processing according to the type of jar closures you are using. Pint jars of snap beans are processed in a pressure cooker for 30 minutes at 10 pounds pressure; quart jars for 40 minutes at 10 pounds pressure. Be sure the gauge on your cooker has been tested—it can be done at your County Home-Economic Extension Service office. Then follow the time chart accurately. The processing may be done in a hot water bath for 120 minutes, counting from the time the water in the bath reaches a good rolling boil after jars have been put in. After one inch of water, should cover the tops of your jars. Non-acid vegetables, such as beans, which have been processed in a hot water bath must be boiled for 10 minutes after they are removed from the jars, before they are tasted or eaten. Frozen Beans—Snap bean varieties which give the best frozen product are Kentucky Wonder and Stringless Green Pod. Wax beans do not freeze so well as green-podded varieties. After washing beans and removing tips and ends, prepare them for freezing, either whole or cut. Blanch one or two pounds at a time for two minutes in a large quantity of boiling water. Quickly immerse the beans in ice-cold water and chill them until they have cooled through the center to room temperature. Pack into moisture-vapor-proof containers and seal. Freeze immediately at minus 10 degrees Fahrenheit. Let Be Practical

FROM GARDEN TO SHELF
SNAP BEANS FOR WINTER
By Mary W. Armstrong, County Home Demonstration Agent
Snap beans play a leading role in our Victory Gardens. There's a dramatic thrill, too, in canning them at the peak of their tenderness and in knowing that next winter they will "open" and "play to a full house" of hungry people! Pick only young, crisp, firm pods for canning, and gather them as early in the morning as possible after the dew has dried. Can the beans within two to four hours after picking. One-half bushel, weighing 12 pounds, will fill about eight quart jars. Wash the snap beans in several waters until every trace of sand and grit is gone. Lift them out of each water instead of pouring the water off, so the dirt won't drain back on them. Then remove stem and blossom ends. Unless you want to can the beans whole, place them by hand on a bread board and cut across them with a heavy, sharp knife. Prepare only enough for one canner load at a time. When food stands around, the chances of food spoilage are greater. Hot-packed Beans—Cover beans with boiling water and boil them for five minutes. This blanching helps to set the color. Have jars clean and hot. When you pack, take one jar from the water at a time, using clean cloths to protect your hands and to takes them, perhaps as much. Usually it takes a liberated nation longer than one man's life-span to become adjusted to freedom. But our freedom came six generations ago and it's certainly being useful now. The U. S. now making half the world's war material, has done more in three years than our enemies did in 23 years. Raising, training and equipping a huge army for a fast-moving war has been Germany's everyday task since World War I officially ended. The Japs have been prowling around "civilized" countries marking the soft spots longer than that. Meanwhile America all but forgot the other war and went ahead learning and building, buying and selling with malice toward none.

On Being Prepared
Hitler figured the Germans, a sturdy and warlike people, could conquer the world if they all had his objective. As a rule, he disciplined them to obey him, but he is important but Hitler knows now that it's no substitute for wit. This is a war of iron-rod discipline against personal liberty and the personal ability that grows out of liberty. Who's winning? Free enterprise is military preparedness. In the "dictator countries" people forget how to think because their centralized governments think for them. Thinkers get scarce while the masses grow torpid from being bullied. In America, free minds whetted daily in open competition, get brighter and more competent. The American system qualifies people to live in peace and plenty, and in safety because alert people can meet emergencies.

What's the Cost of a Wooden Cross?

Every white wooden cross that marks the grave of an American fighting man is paid for in full—with a gold star, a handful of bitter-sweet memories... and an empty heart at home. It's tough to die alone, far from your loved ones, with the feel of the metal that's biting out your life—but some fighting man is dying that miserable death right now, because our country asks it of him. When a Victory Volunteer buying during the Fifth War Loan, think of the cost of a wooden cross before you answer—think of the price some soldier—and his family—is paying at that very instant. Then pledge every dollar you can. Because you have an American heart—because it's your country and your duty.

War-time Places New Emphasis Now On Need For Nurses

Those planning to enter the Overlook Hospital School of Nursing are being urged to do so as soon as possible since the number of regular students who can be accepted is limited. This does not apply to the Cadet Nurse Corps whose members may be transferred to other hospitals in the vicinity which are cooperating with the government in this project.

The war and its casualties have put a new emphasis on the profession of nursing and the need for nurses, according to Howard G. Turner, superintendent of Overlook, who also declared that here in our own community we have a fully equipped, rapidly growing school of nursing.

The training school of Overlook Hospital graduated its first class in 1910 and during the period of 1910-1916 about twenty-seven students became graduate nurses. But in the thirty-four years of its existence, the school's enrollment has increased until at present twenty students are graduated each year, and the total enrollment is sixty-nine. In less than fifteen years when there were thirty-three students, (1929) the school has doubled in size.

As the nursing school has developed, the area from which its students have come has widened so that now twenty-five communities in New Jersey are represented in the lists of student addresses. In addition to Summit, Springfield, Chatham and Bernardsville send the greatest number of girls to Overlook.

The physical expansion alone, however, is not the only test of development. The Overlook Nursing School curriculum today offers its students the same type of training that larger schools throughout the country provide.

The course is a three year one, and includes three periods of affiliation instead of the first one established in 1925 at the Jersey City Medical Center. While an undergraduate nurse still goes through twelve weeks' work in pediatrics, as a probationer she commences training with a sixteen week pre-clinical period at Newark University. For the courses in science taken during that time she receives college credit. Then before she is graduated, the Overlook Hospital student spends two months at the New Jersey State Hospital at Greystone Park doing psychiatric nursing.

In 1936 the school was approved by the New York State Board of Nurse Examiners for registration in the state of New York. This approval widens the field in which any graduate of the hospital may work.

Two recent developments in the school have further increased the scope of the training offered there. In 1940 the school formally adopted student government which directs and guides student activity. Then, this year, the Training School was enrolled in The National U. S. Cadet Nurse Corps.

Each applicant must be at least 17½ years of age and a high school graduate. A personal interview is required of each applicant. This may be arranged by writing or phoning the directress of nurses, Mrs. Florence Dressah. Participation in the Cadet Nurse Corps is optional and information on this may be obtained upon request.

Junior Engineering Program to Start At Jefferson High

The Rutgers University War Training Program announces the opening date and the names of instructors for its special tuition-free summer Junior Engineering Drawing program to be inaugurated next month at the Thomas Jefferson High School, Elizabeth.

The center is being opened at the request of local war industries anxious to obtain trained junior engineering draftsmen and junior engineers as replacements for essential workers being required by the armed services.

The school, provided under the auspices of the U. S. Office of Education, opened Monday Morning, July 3 in Room 8 at the Thomas Jefferson High School. Classes are to meet from 8 in the morning until 4:30 p. m. Mondays through Fridays up to and including August 25.

Porter W. Averill, principal of the Thomas Jefferson High School, will instruct the mathematics connected with the course. Ray Passmore, assistant principal, will be responsible for the engineering drafting instruction.

Recent high school graduates, including members of this year's class, who have had one year or more of mathematics and who wish to prepare for urgently needed junior engineering draftsmen replacements, may still apply.

Eighteen members of this and last year's high school classes have already applied for the training program.

The course covers the mathematics needed for engineering duties, training in the use of the slide rule and engineering handbooks, lettering, theory and application of projection drawing, sketching, working and assembly drawing.

At the end of the eight weeks' course, a Rutgers guidance director will assist the graduates in securing placements where they are most critically needed.

Elizabeth is one of eight centers where this tuition-free training opportunity is being made available. The other centers include: Asbury Park, Atlantic City, Dover, New Brunswick, Paterson, Trenton and Woodbury.

Further details may be obtained from local high school principals or from the War Training Office, Rutgers University, New Brunswick.

square in the back of the shrub border which will provide an excellent site. A pit about a foot deep is advisable but not necessary as the material can be piled on top of the ground.

Any sort of waste plant material may be put on the pile. Right now there may be pea or bean vines, weeds pulled out of the garden, vegetable waste from the kitchen, cornstalks. Fine twigs pruned from shrubs, leaves as they fall, are also good material for the pile. I have seen excellent manure produced from packing excelsior.

In order to confine the material in a small compost pile, drive in stakes at what would be the corners of the pile. Midway, between the corner stakes, on each side, place another stake. Around this, wrap four strands of old clothes-line, some similar fairly strong cordage, with a turn around each stake, spaced about a foot apart. Into these large heavy prunings from the shrubs or other brush making a sort of wattle fence.

How to Cause Decay

Pile the material in layers about six inches deep, trod down. Then put on a sprinkling of lime and of Victory Garden fertilizer to speed decay. Or if you are keeping poultry or rabbits, this is a good place to use some of the manure. It would be well also to spread on a thin layer of garden soil to supply the bacteria and other organisms of decay. There need be no mysterious connection with the

YOUR VICTORY GARDEN

THE COMPOST PILE

By FRED D. OSMAN,
Union County Agricultural Agent

Anyone who does much gardening should have a compost pile. This is one way to practice conservation of organic matter, one of the most important constituents of a garden soil. It is a way to maintain the organic matter after the same manner as Nature. By having a compost pile, we make our plants work for us and receive additional benefits, aside from the crop, from the fertilizer, lime, moisture and care we have expended in the garden.

A compost pile is simply a pile of plant refuse, properly treated, that will eventually yield a manure-like substance that may aid the garden in two ways. Such material for mulching the garden, and this may be dug in to improve the soil after it has served its purpose as a mulch. When the material when partly decayed, makes excellent material for mulching the garden, and this may be dug in to improve the soil.

Pit in Obscure Place
The compost pile may be located in an out-of-the-way place. For instance, you may have a space about five or more feet

Build the pile up to a height of four to six feet in successive layers if you wish, with a flat or slightly concave top so that water will not run off but will be held. Keep the sides as nearly vertical as possible. It is necessary that the pile be kept moist. While turning the pile over is a good practice, it is not essential if the material is to be used for mulching as well as for digging in. When turning, be sure that the parts that were on the outside are mixed into the interior. Young plant material will rot down thoroughly in two to three months in summer. Decay is much slower in cold weather. Sawdust, twigs and similar materials may require six months or longer.

Since organic material is such an important part of a good garden soil, we should save all we can.

The Weather— Believe It Or Not!

The rains came and a most welcome relief from the heat wave of Thursday and Friday they proved to be. With the temperature at 110 in the sun and 90 in the shade, scattered showers in Friday evening were more than welcome to local residents who had borne the burdens and the heat of the day. Clearing at about eleven, the showers gave little relief but gave the illusion of coolness for a short time. Saturday, Sunday and Monday were a bit warm with showers late on Tuesday.

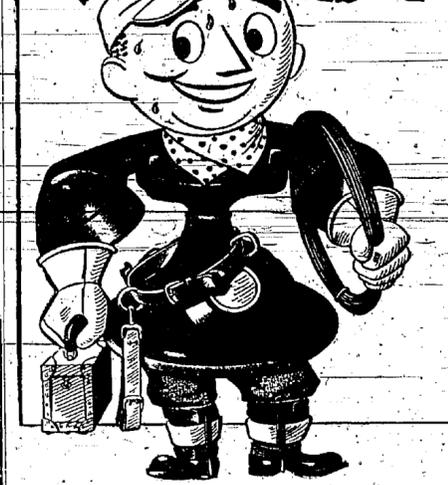

Since organic material is such an important part of a good garden soil, we should save all we can.
