Plans to construct a garden apartment on the southerly side of Morris avenue, between Short Hills-avenue and Profit avenue, were disclosed to the Township Committee Wednesday night by Elmer N. Rinhart, president of Elmer N. Rinhart & Co. of 10 Bank street, Summit, owners of the property.

A letter from Mr. Rinhart, told of his plan of constructing a project similar to Manley Court and Kent Court apartments in Summit, which he also built and owns.

"I have recently purchased a block of property having a frontage of approximately 500 feet on Morris avenue, located between Short Hills avenue and Profit avenue.

"It is my desire to construct a garden apartment on this property similar to Manley Court and Kent Court which I built and own in Summit. The preliminary sketches and plot plans have already been completed. I am following the Williamsburg type of Southern colonial design, and I would be very happy to submit these plans to your Board for approval.

"It is my information that the Federal Government agencies, who have controlled the building industry—and dictated—the type of buildings that could be constructed since the war started, are going to cease advocating the war housing program going to permit the building industry to prevail the type of building that prevailed prior to the war.

"It has not been, nor is it my desire to construct, nor my housing on this property. Now that we can build a group of buildings which will enhance the property values of the neighborhood, I would like to develop my property along these lines. I assure you that any construction on this property will be of a character and design that will harmonize with the adjacent property."

Attention! ALL HOME CANNERS!

Before you begin your 1944 canning, Good Housekeeping Magazine advises you: use the boiling-water bath method for tomatoes and fruits, only. Can all vegetables except tomatoes by the correct use of a pressure cooker to be sure of killing botulism germs. In the last few years, cases of botulism food poisoning have crept up in widely different parts of the country. Buy, borrow, share a pressure cooker—but don't can low-acid vegetables any other way. HANDLED WITH CARE

It is Fisher policy to select the best products of America's better furniture makers. It is further an essential part of that same policy that these pieces of furniture be chosen with an eye to smartness, style and quality of construction that will stand the test of time. Finally, before any chair, any sofa or table is delivered to the purchaser's home it is carefully checked for flaws and imperfections. This insistence upon "buyer satisfaction" has helped build one of New Jersey's finest furniture stores. (Another good reason for rapid growth is the low price on every piece made possible by Fisher's on-the-highway location.)

Johnston, Newark, New Jersey District Manager of the Office of Defense Transportation's Highway Transport Department, that there will be a shortage of heavy and medium-duty truck and bus tires for replacement purposes during July, August and September.

"Third-quarter tire allocations by the Office of the Rubber Director," Mr. Johnston said, "are substantially below requirements on 30-day-and-over tires in sizes 7.00 x 19 up. The supply of tires in smaller sizes is reasonably adequate."

He explained that the ORD (total allotment) to the ODT, as the claimant agency for tires for all forms of domestic transportation, is 795,945 heavy and medium-duty truck and bus tires for the third quarter, an increase of about 18 percent over the second-quarter allotment of 674,891 tires in these categories.

"The number of tires for original equipment on new vehicles in the third quarter is 160,058," Mr. Johnston said, "an increase of about 65 percent over the 97,156 tires required for this purpose in the second quarter. This leaves a total of 635,887 tires remaining for replacement purposes in the third quarter, as compared with a total of 577,735 replacement tires in the second quarter."

"The net effect," he continued, "is that the number of tires available for replacement purposes during the second quarter total by only about 10 percent, while the normal seasonal increase in replacement demands between the second and third-quarter is at least 25 percent."

Mr. Johnston emphasized that the shortage made it imperative that the most rigorous conservation measures be practiced. Operators who are experiencing tire difficulty should apply to an ODT District Office for assistance, he advised.

From Pharaoh to Modern Times

Although the practice of embalming goes back to Pharaoh's time, modern mortuary science bears little resemblance to the ancient art. The modern method stresses the scientific and new chemical discoveries backed by a constant program of research. One important difference between the ancient and modern method is that today sterilization and preservation are stressed along with lifelike appearance.

FROM GARDEN TO SHELF

WARTIME FRUIT SPREADS

By Mary W. Armstrong

If you are going to have lunch boxes to pack for children or adults next winter (and who won't?), better take the advice of the OPA and use a reasonable amount of your canning sugar for making some wartime sweet spreads.

You can save on sugar by making jams, marmalades and fruit butters rather than jelly, because they require less sugar. Another thing you may want to do is to can fruit juices now without sugar, and make jelly later when there are fewer demands on the family sugar ration. This will also give you the advantage of having fresh jelly, which has a better flavor than jelly which has stood on the shelf for a long time.

How They Differ

For the sake of clarity, let's define what we mean by jam, conserve and some of the other fruit spreads. Jam is usually a combination of one fruit and sugar, with no effort made to retain the shape of the fruit.

A conserve is always a mixture of fruits, to which raisins and nuts are usually added.

Marmalade is a combination of two or more fruits; (one usually citrus) the pieces of which must be distinct.

Fruit butter is the pulpy part of fruits, often the pulp left from the jelly making is used and combined with another fruit.

A preserve is made of whole small fruit or pieces of larger fruit, cooked with sugar until thick.

For wartime jams and fruit butters, use 1/2 cup sugar to each cup fruit. For preserves, use 3/4 cup sugar to each cup fruit. For jelly, use 1/2 to 3/4 cup sugar to each cup juice, depending upon the pectin content.

Epsom Salts Test for Pectin

To test fruit juice for pectin content: Combine 1 tablespoon fruit juice with 1 tablespoon sugar and 1/2 tablespoon Epsom salts. Stir well to dissolve sugar and salts, and let stand for 20 minutes. A gelatinous mixture should form, the thickness of which will determine the degree of pectin in the juice.

If the test shows very little pectin content, you may add an equal amount of juice from a fruit high in pectin such as apple or currant, or you may add 1 tablespoon lemon juice to each cup of fruit juice. Regardless of which you use, make the Epsom-salts test again to be sure of sufficient pectin content. You may, of course, add a commercial pectin and follow the directions on the package.

Since we are cutting down on sugar in these wartime spreads, careful sealing of glasses and jars is of primary importance. Melt the paraffin over low heat and be sure a thin coat covers the surface of the jelly or preserve. Carefully turn the glass so that it runs up the side of the glass all around the edge of the glass. A second thin layer is an added protection.

Two Basic Recipes

Here are two basic wartime recipes, one for jelly and one for jam, which you can adapt to other fruit juices or mixtures of fruit.

Red Raspberry and Currant Jelly

1 qt. raspberries, 1 qt. currants, 1/2 cup water - Sugar, Wash raspberries, crush slightly, and cook until soft. Remove heavy stems from currants, add the water, and work until soft. Strain each through a heavy jelly bag. Combine equal amounts of raspberry and currant juices. Best combined juices for pectin content. Allow 1/2 to 3/4 cup sugar to each cup juice, depending upon pectin content. Boil juice for 5 minutes. Add sugar and boil rapidly until jelly test is reached. At this point the jelly will drop from the spoon in a "sheet." Put in sterilized glasses and seal.

Berry Jam

2 quarts berries, 2 cups sugar. Wash berries but do not allow them to soak. Place in a 3 or 4 quart saucepan. Crush a few about a pint. Set over fire and bring to boiling point as soon as possible. Boil rapidly, with constant stirring, to the thickness desired in the finished jam. Remove from fire and stir in sugar. Return to fire and boil as rapidly as possible, with constant stirring, to the thickness desired. Remove from fire, pour into sterilized glasses at once, and seal.

New Building For Firehouse Set In Borough Ordinance

MOUNTAINSIDE—An ordinance authorizing purchase of premises and building of a firehouse, to be used as a firehouse, was introduced by the Borough Council Tuesday night. The ordinance provides an expenditure of $9,000 to buy the building, now used as a garage, located several hundred feet from the Borough Hall, and to remodel, repair and convert the structure to house local apparatus.

Present quarters in the rear of the Borough Hall are crowded with one fire truck and the Rescue Squad ambulance. With the acquisition of a new truck, the Fire Department requires additional floor space as provided in the new building. Public hearing on the ordinance will be held August 8.

A liquor license was granted to John Marone of Route 29, who operates the "Clubhouse Restaurant"—it had been held over for several weeks pending investigation by local authorities. A music box had restaurant license for the premises was also approved.

The Council approved $50 expenses for Police Chief Charles Honecker to attend the International Police Chiefs' Convention July 14, 15 and 16 at Cleveland; Mayor John Maxon pointed out that the opportunity doesn't often present itself for a convention so close to home and that it has not provided for in some time.

"And besides," he added, "it's good for the police morale," the Council having previously acted upon a new firehouse.

Will Is Disclosed

MOUNTAINSIDE—Mrs. Augusta S. Schweitzer, widow of Mountainside who died June 3, left personal property of $525, letters of administration disclosed last week in the office of Surrogate Charles A. Otto, Jr., at the Courthouse, Elizabethtown. Her son, John, of Summit Road, was named administrator-guardian.

Family Injured In Crash Sunday

MOUNTAINSIDE—A large truck driven by Francis Mooney of Chester County, Pa., collided with a car driven by Joseph Sharo of Linden on Sunday while driving east on Route 29 near Mountainside Inn. Five members of the Sharo family were slightly injured, and were treated for cuts and bruises by members of the Mountainside First Aid Squad.

Sharo stopped short on the highway causing the truck to plow into the back of his car, reported Police Chief Charles Honecker and Special Officer J. McRae, who said no arrests will be made.

Objections Raised On New Grades For Evergreen Court

MOUNTAINSIDE—Objections raised by several property owners over the regrading of Evergreen court, prior to resurfacing the road, caused the Borough Council Tuesday night to defer action on final passage of an ordinance for that purpose.

It was proposed to repave 700 feet on Evergreen court, from Oak Tree road southeasterly and lower the grade, particularly at the crown of a steep grade on the street, from six inches to four inches.

M. C. MacMartin of Evergreen court and L. N. Lee of Evergreen court opposed the lowering grades, due to the existing levels of their driveway entrances into the roadway. In Mr. MacMartin's case it was pointed out that the location of his garage would cause a sharp angle turn, making it impossible to enter his home.

Borough officials stressed lowering the grade to provide safety for children going to school, and prevent skidding to motorists during the winter months, who, it was explained, by Councilman Whitford Ray, an Evergreen court resident, "are unable to climb the hill on an icy pavement."

The hearing was adjourned to August 8 and Borough Engineer Arthur H. Lenox will confer with the property owners July 21 at the Borough Hall to furnish a compromise which will be satisfactory to the protesting citizens.

Application was made through State aid to pave 1,800 feet of Central avenue next year, west of New Providence road and also to pave New Providence road between Central avenue and the Union County Park road, a distance of 600 feet, both with an 18-foot pavement of four-inch macadam base and a three-inch bituminous macadam pavement. The borough's share would be $18,000 and the State's portion would be $16,200, for a total cost on the project of $34,200.

Councilman Meir G. Hoy reported he had conferred with Plainfield Union Water Co. officials about complaints from Sky Top road residents about low water pressure, particularly so close to the company's water tank nearby.

Hoy said he was informed a booster on the water pump would boost all of the water out of the tower. The company also advised him that the tank is always two-thirds full and that small water pipes, of copper tubing, could be responsible since the tubing may have been clogged in places. As a result, the Fire Department will test water pressure in the roadway and also at several homes in the affected area, to determine if a variance exists between both places.

4-H Club Goes All Out in War Bond Effort

The Four-H Clubs of America, 1,700,000 strong, are making a vital contribution to the war program in the gigantic problem of keeping the food supply line strong and in buying War Bonds. Here are some scenes of 4-H boys and girls at their war work.
 No. 1 shows Glenn Whittenberg, of Hidalgo County, Texas, with his fine litter which will help the food supply. Glenn is putting his profits in War Bonds. No. 2 shows an ambulance purchased by the 37,000 members of the 4-H Club members of Virginia. Representing the Virginia Clubs in the picture is Carolyn Steele, Fairview, and Richard Fleming, of Bransville. Major Bernard Sobel, USA, is accepting the ambulance, with Director M. L. Wilson of the Extension Service Department of Agriculture, looking on. No. 3 shows Billy Fleming of Fairfax County, Virginia, helping Dad with the chores. Billy is putting his earnings into War Bonds. 4-H Club members own 90,000 head of dairy cattle. No. 4—4-H Clubs make a mighty contribution to the poultry and egg supply, raising 9 million chickens in 1943. Here is Helen Wheeling, Brown County, South Dakota, with a couple of her birds. She also buys War Bonds with her profits. No. 5—4-H Clubbers are also Victory Gardeners. Here is Jane Bader of Frederick County, Maryland, in her garden. These farm youngsters raised 5 million bushels of garden produce last year. Back the Attack—Buy More Than Before.

WANTED AGAIN:

the women who helped avert a crisis

It was last summer, and the canned food situation looked critical. Because of military demands, the winter months ahead would see short civilian supplies of commercially canned foods.

But the American people did something about it. Victory Gardeners worked miracles of production, and 25 million housewives quietly and determinedly swung into action in their kitchens.

When the work ended, over four billion jars or cans of food had been put up for winter needs. It was one of the most important reasons why the threatened crisis didn't get a chance to happen!

YOU'RE NEEDED THIS YEAR, TOO!
 Another winter lies ahead, and the military demands for commercially canned foods are greater than ever. To feed civilian families, America needs her women again... needs you at your kitchen battle station!

Stop at your nearest Jersey Central office for free canning directions.

In the first five months of 1944, the Office of Price Administration enforcement program against the gasoline black market has cost owners to jail, convicted 150 car owners of buying gasoline with counterfeit or stolen coupons or without coupons, took away rations from 775 car owners, suspended gasoline selling rights of 1,538 filling stations, put 156 filling stations out of business, and gave jail sentences to 230 counterfeiters, peddlers and gasoline dealers.

A former Illinois farmer, a sergeant, solved a transportation problem for his Marine buddies on Saipan, the Navy Department reports. It was impossible to haul much-needed ammunition up the rugged, steep hills by truck and camp the wounded back. As the sergeant suggested, a detail of Marines, who as civilians had handled live stock, were sent out to catch stray oxen. Within two hours they had a regular service into the hills using hand made muzzles two wheel carts drawn by the oxen. "The whole trouble so far has been the oxen don't understand our language," the sergeant said, "I'll bet they only understand those pesky Nips."

Service men's wives eligible for emergency maternity care are urged to apply at the beginning of pregnancy so that their health and that of the child can be better safeguarded. Katherine F. Leonard, chief of the Children's Bureau, Department of Labor, says:

NAMED PRESIDENT

ROY LEWIS

Roy Lewis of 114 Mead avenue has been elected president of the Wekernny Club, employees, social, athletic, and educational organization at the Western Electric plant in Kearny.

Last July he was elected director of the club, a position which he held for the second time. A Wekernny for fifteen years, Mr. Lewis has also served as treasurer of the organization.

He is a supervisor in the cost department of Western Electric and is a graduate of the Wharton School of the University of Pennsylvania.

and vegetable crop, 700,000 full-time or 1,400,000 part-time workers must be recruited; the War Manpower Commission says: "Because of the dependency of overseas service men on canned fruits and vegetables it is imperative that these foods be made available to them."

Round-up

Under new OPA instructions, the amount and type of gasoline rations issued to individuals after June 30 are now available to the public or newspapers upon inquiry to local rationing boards. OPA has removed new rationing tubes from gas lines, thus helping conserve gas; inasmuch as gas tubes properly inflated prolong the life of producers, carriers and haulers of farm products have been authorized and urged to form committees to assist Office of Defense Transportation district managers in putting to full use all motor trucks available for transporting farm products, OPA says.

Claim Constitution Will Help Remedy Load Of Taxpayers

New Jersey's home owner, whose average tax is higher than that in any other State, should welcome the proposed new constitution as a remedy for the situation which today finds him carrying 80 per cent of the tax burden although his holding is only 25 per cent of the State's total taxable property.

This was asserted today by Judge Milton A. Feller who, as an Assemblyman, helped draft the proposed charter and who has served as the Assembly's taxation chairman. Feller, Senator Herbert J. Pascoe and Assistant Prosecutor Kenneth C. Hand, all of whom had an active part in framing the new constitution, are the nucleus of a new non-partisan committee designated by the Republican county committee to acquaint county voters with proposed constitutional changes.

The committee branded as "ridiculous" a 1943 County charges that the tax change in the proposed charter would benefit railroads. Rather, it was said, it will benefit equitably all taxpayers, particularly the Hudson home owners who "have borne so terrific a tax yoke all these years." Said Judge Feller: "The method of taxation set up in the present constitution is a system of taxation which for years has been recognized as unenforceable and which in practice absolves one class of property owner and places a penalty upon another class. Revision has presented the opportunity of providing a modernized tax method which would equitably and broadly tax the tax base and reduce inequities."

"The tax change in the new constitution provides 'property shall be assessed for taxes under general laws, and by uniform rules, according to the standards of value as may be provided by law, but not in excess of true value. This will empower the Legislature to set up different standards of value for different classes of property, a condition unnecessary 100 years ago."

"For example, legislators may set up a certain tax standard for residential realty, another standard of value for income-producing realty and still another for intangible personal property. As to tangible personal property, as to taxing to assess according to 'true value' is too inflexible because it sets up an ad valorem system that is a tax on the capital value of property at unlimited rates, a bad yardstick for measuring the tax-paying capacity of property. It has resulted in removal of millions of dollars worth of property from assessment—the so-called 'flight of the corporations'."

job landscape, but because of the way this school is doing in training.

1st Lieut. Malcolm Baldwin is home on a ten-day leave visiting his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Malcolm Baldwin Sr. of 161 South Springfield avenue, St. Albans, who was promoted to Monday from second to first lieutenant, entered the Armed Forces on January 6, 1943 and received his commission at Fort Benning, Ga., in August of last year. He has been stationed at Fort Blending, Fla., but at the completion of this leave, will report at Fort George G. Meade, Md.

A V-Mail letter came to us this week from Private Channing Brown, son of Mr. and Mrs. Milton Brown of Meisel avenue. Pvt. Brown writes: "This is just another letter to show appreciation for your paper, but it has all the singularity of all the others. Over here on this side of the Atlantic the SUN is a treasured paper that is looked forward to each week."

Thanking you again for your swell paper, Pvt. Brown, who graduated from Regional High in 1942, is stationed overseas.

William Tiley has recently been promoted from Flight Officer to 2nd Lieutenant at the Kearny Air Base, Kearny, N. J. Tiley, son of Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Tiley of 31 Bryant avenue, is now at a location unknown. He was recently ordered to active duty. Lt. Tiley is a graduate of Regional High School, class of '38 and was graduated from Montclair State Teachers College in June, 1943. He entered the Armed Forces in December, 1942.

Stationed at West Patuxent Park, Washington, D. C., Yeoman third class Jenn de Crescenzo, sends us the following letter: "This is to inform you of my new address. I'll be looking forward to getting the paper here in Washington with as much enthusiasm as I did in Iowa."

"Your paper really hits the spot, with its news about people at home and the 'gang' at Regional and what they are doing now. That little paper looks mighty friendly sitting in your mail box. Many thanks for the SUN. I'm eagerly awaiting the next issue."

Yeoman de Crescenzo is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Richard de Crescenzo of 120 Morris avenue. She is a graduate of Regional High, class of '41.

Seaman second class Tommy Palmer, son of Mr. and Mrs. James Palmer of Mapes avenue, was home over the week-end on a 66 hour pass from the Great Lakes Naval Training Station, Chicago, Ill. Seaman Palmer has been enrolled in the Gunnar's School for the past 13 weeks and expects to graduate next week. He has been in the Navy since February.

Lieutenant Ellis T. Ladner, U.S. Army Air Corps, left Monday for Bowman Field, Ky., after being home on a week's leave visiting his mother, Mrs. Anna Ladner of Short Hills avenue. Lt. Ladner, who has been in the service a year and a half, was recently transferred to Bowman Field from Altus Field, Okla., where he was a pilot instructor. He received his commission in December, 1943.

We received a letter from Apprentice Seaman William H. Smith, stationed at the California Institute of Technology. It reads: "I've been transferred from Brown University to California Institute of Technology. I'm out here to study aerology, a very interesting subject. The length of my course is one year. This will be followed by four months midshipman's school and a commission in the Naval Reserve, that is, if everything goes well."

"California is really beautiful. If I didn't think that I was betraying my home state, I'd even say that California was more beautiful than New Jersey. California Park is an excellent school. It ranks high for both undergraduate and graduate students. I like it very much here. I even have a chance to get a B.S. degree in aerology from this Institute."

"As much as I like California, I do miss the news of Springfield. I guess that everyone longs for a trip back to their home town. In the past, the SUN has brought me vivid accounts of Springfield. Your paper is almost as good as a visit to Springfield."

Smith is the son of Arthur Smith of Milltown road. He is a graduate of Regional High School, class of '41.

Seaman Second Class Robert Cumberley will return to duty tomorrow to the Naval Training Station at Bainbridge, Md., where he is stationed. Seaman Cumberley has been home on his nine day "boot leave" visiting his family at 6 Perry place.

Several Foods Are Returned To Ration List

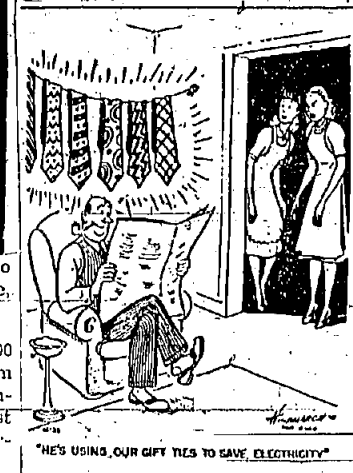

Peas, tomatoes and asparagus have been put back on the ration list, it was announced today by the Summit Rationing Board. Grapefruit juice, orange juice and a combination of the two are now ration free.

Leg of lamb and other lamb roasts, rib and loin lamb chops are now on the rationing list. Steaks have gone up in price. Porterhouse, T-bone and club steaks are up from 12 to 15 points. Round steak and boneless loin are now 15 points instead of 13, and sirloin with the bone is up from 11 to 13. Rib roasts are up from six and eight to eight and ten points, depending on the size. Veal and pork and the cheaper cuts as well as canned fish, are still off the rationing list.

Butter still costs 12 points, the Rationing Board says, but the cream cheeses are back on the list at four points.

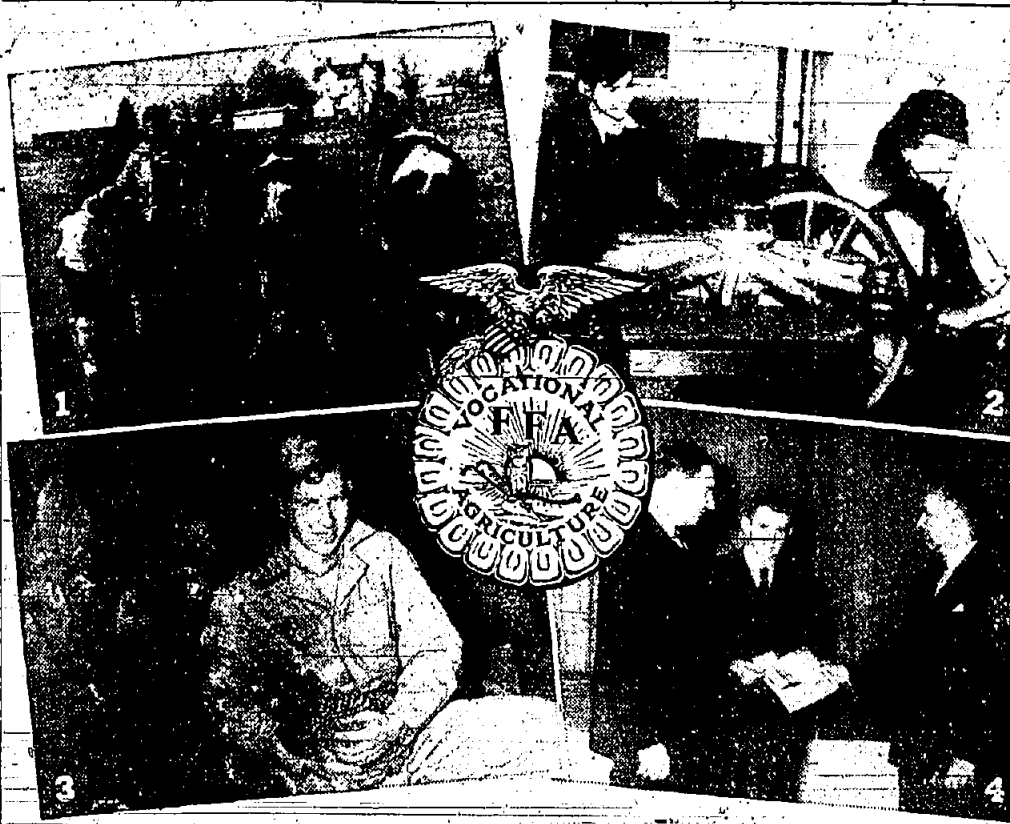

Several vegetables have also been put on the price ceiling list, the Board announced this week. Cherries are to sell at 40 cents a pound. Strawberries will be 32 cents a quart, and lettuce is 9 cents a head under 10 ounces and more proportionately.

Concerning the return of vegetables to the point list, Price Administrator Chester Bowles says: "We are already getting into the new canning season, the problem now is to distribute this year's

Future Farmers Put Food Profits in Bonds

Throughout the nation the FFA boys are making a substantial contribution to the war effort through the production of the all-important food supply and purchase of War Bonds with their profits. Shown here are some instances. No. 1 shows Robert Hill of the Welcome Chapter FFA, North Carolina, with three of his eight registered dairy calves. North Carolina FFA boys owned 9,299 dairy cows and invested profits in War Bonds totalling $398,650. No. 2 shows two Wilson County, Tennessee, boys of the Green Gale Chapter at Lebanon repairing farm equipment. At an auction of this farm equipment, a total of $85,000 went into War Bonds. No. 3—Edward Jones of Pittsboro Chapter, FFA, North Carolina, and some of his 455 high-producing victory hens. Edward made a net profit of $548.12 from his flock last year and is putting his profits in War Bonds. No. 4 shows Colin English, State Superintendent of Public Instruction, Herbert Stuman, president Palmetto Chapter FFA, and Harrison E. Barringer, State Senator, all of Florida, at the high light of an annual Father-and-Son banquet. The Florida Future Farmers bought a $1,000 War Bond with the funds from their farm produce grown on their own class project. Back the Attack—Buy More Than Before.

output of canned vegetables evenly, giving everyone an opportunity to buy his share. This could not be done with canned vegetables at zero points." Vegetables still point free are green and wax beans, peas, carrots, corn, spinach and leafy greens. All canned fruits, still in short supply, retain their current high values while all frozen fruits and vegetables remain ration free.

Curtis Rogers, processed foods, rationing chief, has warned that most "canned" foods will be back under rationing and that the supply for civilians will be 15 to 20 per cent less during the new peak year. The increased allotments for the Armed Forces have trimmed civilian allowances, he said.

Approximately 2,357,000 men are serving with the U. S. Army. 70% of whom, fewer than one-half are already overseas.
