Regional Apple Packers Lose In Semi-Final

The highly favored Regional apple packing team lost first place in a contest for Central New Jersey, by less than two points, in the semi-final apple packing and egg grading contests held at the Allentown-High School on Tuesday afternoon.

The past few years the Regional Ag boys have been outstanding. Two years ago, John Metz of Springfield set a new all time national record of 3 minutes and 10 seconds for packing 3 half bushel baskets.

When Wilhelm N. Peigebek, local Agricultural instructor called for candidates for the holidays, he told his boys that this year's team would have to practice hard to win. Curtis was the only boy on hand from last year's squad.

Candidates were James Kluge and James Thompson of Berkeley Heights, Harold Seafus, Edward Patz, Wilbur Thomas and Nelson Siles of town. By Monday the squad was Ledermann, Thomas and Siles, the last two boys being equally skilled. At the contest, Skippy Siles, an up and coming Sophomore, new at apple packing, did all his teammates in practice.

Regional's boys came through with a score of 92.13, the lowest score of the day being only 91.25. Ralph Davison and T. McLaughlin, both seniors at Allentown High School, spotted Regional's high hopes of winning first place with the highest team score ever achieved, of 94.05. The boys will also sell a product, yet unnamed. It is the belief of the committee that the new practice will be a success at this time and in the future to raise small funds.

To Consider Plan Of Draft Head on Replacing Farmers

Vincent DePaul Slavin, chairman of Selective Service Board 2, which covers Springfield and Union, received on Tuesday a reply concerning his telegram to War Mobilization Director James Byrnes, suggesting that conscientious objectors be used as replacement for farmers, between 18 and 25 years of age, now facing induction.

Lucius D. Clay, deputy director to Byrnes has directed Maj. Gen. Lewis Hershey, selective service director, to investigate and report on the possibility of carrying out the recommendation.

Slavin had hit at the objectors' "directional sign painting pursuits, photographic hobbies, stasias and evening fireside chats," all features the draft board chairman said he observed at a Civilian Public Service Camp at Westampton, N. J., last summer. He had added that perhaps it should be up to farmers to decide whether they want to use the conscientious objectors.

The draft board chairman expressed satisfaction in Clay's reply, stating: "We have sent many recommendations to Hershey, some of them now part of National law, but never even received an acknowledgment."

WMC, Selective Service Arrange Check on Labor

An co-operative plan between Selective Service and the War Manpower Commission in New Jersey to prevent the transfer of workers enjoying draft deferment status in war work to less essential jobs has been announced by the heads of the two agencies.

Under the program agreed to by Colonel Edgar N. Bloomer, a state director of Selective Service, and State Manpower Director Thomas P. Costello, a record of every job referral made to an employer by the United States Employment Service of a male worker between the ages of 18 and 38 will be sent to the individual worker's own local draft board. By this means it is believed the draft boards will be able to constantly keep abreast of the occupational activities of every draftable man in the state. Similar notices will be channeled to the draft boards of out-of-state residents who are referred to jobs in New Jersey.

Costello and Bloomer emphasized the fact that the new scheduling agreement between the two agencies does not change the basic operating principles under which Selective Service has extended draft deferment to workers in certain age groups engaged in essential war work, but they expressed the belief that it will make it possible for the local draft boards to quickly catch up with workers so deferred who leave their essential jobs to seek less-essential employment in which they are not entitled to deferment consideration.

It was pointed out that the current Priority Referral Program under which male workers, except in certain specified war work categories, may be hired only upon referral from the United States Employment Service will greatly facilitate the program of keeping a constant check on the deferred workers. The War Manpower Commission will continue to cooperate with Selective Service by providing this agency with information concerning essential activities.

Direct USES transmittal of copies of referral cards to draft boards will check a considerable bank of information necessary for up-to-the-minute maintenance of draft eligibility lists. Hereafter deferred workers were charged with the responsibility of filing the cards with local boards, with the result that large numbers failed to do so and received calls for military service.

Bloomer and Costello both stated today that the responsibilities of keeping local draft boards fully informed of the change in status of deferred workers remain with the men deferred and the workers who merit such Selective Service consideration by virtue of their essential war work. In instances where workers leave their deferred employment, to accept less-essential jobs they will be quickly summoned for military induction, in accordance with the recent instructions of Director Lewis B. Hershey of Selective Service. Bloomer declared. There has been no change in the draft status of men between the ages of 18 and 38 as established early last year, he said.

Mailmark reporting cards for all registrants and out-of-state holders. Service will be sent to the War Manpower Commission, 239 Morris Ave., N. J.

Reid is Still G.O.P. Chairman

It was incorrectly stated in last week's SUN that Charles F. Beardsley was recently named chairman of the Republican County Committee to succeed William Reid, who was said to have moved from the township.

Mr. Beardsley is not the committee chairman, since Mr. Reid is still a resident and is serving as head.

At a recent meeting of the County Committee, Mrs. Alberta Appleby of Henshaw avenue was named to fill a vacancy caused by removal from the township of Mrs. Margaret Merick, third district member.

Ed. Note: We cannot emphasize too much the importance to the folks at home, and the servicemen themselves, that unless changes of mailing address are given to us promptly the difference in time of the receipt of papers each week at the fighting front is reflected in that much.

"Red Market"

In administrative suspension hearings at District OPA headquarters in Newark this week, 46 North Jersey retailers appeared to answer charges of rationing violations. This was announced by District OPA Director Richard J. Tarrant.

Among them was the first "Red Market" case, in which a butcher is charged with collecting 25 red points for 2 1/2 pounds of Utility Grade beef, which is point-free. Also scheduled to appear were 28 gas station operators who transferred counterfeit gas ration stamps, or sold gasoline without coupons. Fifteen shoe retailers were charged with inventory shortages; three butchers accused of selling rationed meat without points; and a meat jobber and a restaurant charged with ration banking overdrats.

In connection with the "Red Market" described as the illegal practice of some butchers who collect red points for non-rationed meats, Tarrant pointed out that a new regulation on grade stamping went into effect last week.

The new regulation, Tarrant explained, requires the grade marks to appear at least every two inches along both sides of the backbone and down the outside of the round, or hind leg; they must also appear along the belly on each side of the carcass and across the shoulder. This means that a grade mark will show on every second or third steak or chop, and on almost any piece of coasting or boiling meat of over a few pounds.

It is illegal for a retailer to remove the grade-mark from meat prior to its sale, he added. Retailers are required to show the grade of the meat, along with the selling price, on tags at or near the display tray.

We feature the famous Hallmark Greeting Cards for all occasions, and for the men and women in service. Springfield SUN Stationery and Gift Shop, 8 Plomer Ave., 2 doors from bank.—Adv.

tering to the average woman. Wear the evening dress, but don't flaunt it on any pretext.

Ques. Where can I give a luncheon in a public place that is not too expensive?

Ans. We suggest either the William Pitt in Chatham or the two larger department stores in Newark. All places will take your reservation and give you a secluded table with a prearranged menu at a set figure.

Ques. Do you like maple furniture for a living room?

Ans. Frankly, no. However, a maple living room can be done inexpensively and in good taste. If you are in doubt, look around a bit more. Buy one piece of furniture at a time, but make it a good piece. You will have it a long time.

Wartime Food Conservation

By MARY W. ARMSTRONG
Home Demonstration Agent

Conserve food to speed victory! This is a maxim of increasing importance in 1945. We, in this country, are likely still to be careless, especially in regard to food that is easy to get.

At this season, small families are likely to have some stale fruit cake on hand. Even though this is one of the best keepers in the cake family, there comes a time when it is just too dry to be appetizing.

Have you thought of serving it as steamed pudding with a sauce? A few minutes in the top of a double boiler will moisten it. Make it tender and renew the good flavor. It doesn't need to look or taste like the plum puddings you may have had several times during the holidays, either. Vary it with the sauce. Hard sauce is taboo under the present bitter situation, of course, but there's custard sauce or lemon sauce, marmalade cherry and pineapple sauce, or foamy sauce. The sweetest choice is, of course, whichever ingredient makes the best use of available ingredients.

If the left-over starting you in the face every time you open the refrigerator door is a little dab of mincemeat, mix up your own steamed pudding. Add a few extra raisins, currants, dried fruit, or nuts, if your recipe calls for more mincemeat than you have, and serve-up-the-steaming-splee mixture proudly. A few dried cranberries or bit of cranberry sauce will find a welcome place in either pudding or sauce.

Remember, to that those very special dates in this year of scarcity aren't likely to be left over if they aren't kept out of sight, but they'll go a lot further chopped up in muffins for a Sunday morning breakfast treat.

And, if you bought kumquats mostly for decoration because the family doesn't like them especially, nary a one need to go to waste. Epicures give high praise to kumquat marmalade. A general favorite to save on the butter makes use of oranges, kumquats and cranberries in equal amounts.

Honey and Orange-Sauce
1 c. honey
1/2 c. orange peel, finely chopped or grated
1/2 c. orange juice
1/4 t. salt

Combine the ingredients and let mixture stand over hot water, without cooking, for about 30 min. to blend the flavors. Serve over pudding.

Ques. What name does a woman use if she is a widow? (We have checked several authorities on this question)

Ans. A woman does not drop her husband's name at his death. While her husband is living, a woman's name is Mrs. John Smith. After her husband's death, her name is exactly the same: Mrs. John Smith.

By this name she should be listed in the city directory and in the telephone book. With this name her visiting cards should be engraved. By this name all letters to her, social and business, should be addressed.

And a widow signs her letters, business letters as well as social letters, exactly the same as she did when her husband was living.

THINGS TO COME

Just as the day follows the night, winter follows fall. And just as certainly, winter brings freezing weather. Right now is the time to protect your water pipes from cold weather. Burst water pipes will take longer to repair this year due to material and manpower shortages. So by taking precautions now you'll save yourself inconvenience and money.

- Wrap exposed water pipes and meter with old newspapers, rags or burlap.
- Make your basement air-tight. Repair broken window panes. Stuff cracks in walls, around windows and around doors which admit cold air.

Keeping cold air out of your basement will also conserve heating fuel. More important, it will help to protect your pipes and plumbing against freezing when repairs will be extremely difficult to obtain.

Your Garden This Week

BY FRED D. OSMAN
County Agricultural Agent
If you were fortunate enough to have a live Christmas tree for the holidays, undoubtedly you would like to save it. And this can be done easily enough if the roots are not allowed to dry out until it is time to set them in the ground. A tree that has been kept in a warm room for more than 10 days or two weeks may start growth, however, and if this happens it will not be able to stand cold weather. It will have to remain in the house until spring. But if the roots of the tree are kept well watered during the Christmas season, they will not suffer from a period of approximately 10 days indoors.

Place the tree in a shed or some other place where it will not freeze too hard until the balled roots can be put in the open ground. Never let the roots dry. We may possibly have a thaw in January, when the soil can be worked without any danger of puddling it. This is the time to plant the tree. Wrap the top with burlap or some similar material to keep the wind from striking the tree with too much force, and put a thick mulch around the base of the trunk. If the tree is in a tub, set it out as suggested above, or keep the tub under cover and the soil moist until planting time in the spring.

Pointsettias are native to warm climates, and the best way to cure for them is to keep them well watered until they ripen off sometime in the middle of winter. Then put the plants in the cellar and see that the soil is kept just barely moist until they are brought up again in the spring. When they start their spring growth, cut them back to the first or second joint above the soil. Cuttings that will probably bloom late in the fall and early winter can be rooted from these older plants, but most gardeners do not find that it pays them to bother growing their own pointsettias. Commercial growers usually do a better job because they can give the plants the special type of growing conditions they require.

Cyclamens, flowering begonias, and other plants sold extensively at the holidays are best coaxed to continue growth if they are kept cool in a moist atmosphere. But the living rooms of most houses and apartments are too warm and dry for these plants, and for this reason it is usually better to enjoy the plants while they are blooming at the Christmas season and then discard them trying to spend too much time trying to keep them alive and thriving under adverse conditions.

Red Ball Up In Most Parks

The Union County Park Commission has announced there is skating at all lakes and ponds in Union County except Green Brook Extension in Plainfield and Lake Trap Shooting Grounds, Kenilworth. If the weather stays the same they expect to have good skating over the week-end in the County. There will also be tobogganing at Galloping Hill Golf Course over the week-end.

Agencies Join To Hold War Workers on Job

In a "new" and drastic move to speedily fill every vacant high urgency war production work post in New Jersey the War Manpower Commission this week ordered an immediate inventory of all persons engaged in less essential employment preparatory to imposing "selective employment ceilings" on employers through which specific types of workers will be ordered to fill critical war jobs.

Thomas F. Costello, State Manpower Director, is announcing a new program designed to draw off from less-essential employment the workers specifically needed to fill vacant war production jobs, said the new program will be worked, insofar as possible, on a basis that will treat all less-essential employers alike. He made it plain that less essential workers in plants which also produce war goods will be subjected to exactly the same inventory and referral treatment as those working in plants now designated as wholly-less-essential.

Costello said the war effort could not wait for long-drawn-out negotiation as to the term and conditions under which workers could be "loaned" by less-essential employers to fill high urgency war jobs in the plants of other employers. As specific types of workers needed in war production are located in the ranks of less-essential groups they will be immediately withdrawn through the application of "selective ceilings" which are to be applied by the WMC to effect the release of specific types of workers, he said.

WMC and U. S. Employment Service personnel will go right into industrial, mercantile and service establishments to make complete listings of types and numbers of all presently employed workers engaged in less-essential production, he said. If the employers agree to release the workers voluntarily, the manpower director said, they will be immediately referred to jobs in which they are critically needed. Otherwise the selective ceilings will be imposed and the employer required to release them as rapidly as jobs in high urgency war production are found for them.

The drastic move by the WMC is taken in the face of a possible doubling of manpower shortages in New Jersey during the next few weeks, Costello said. The program is not expected to too seriously cripple the private enterprise from which workers are withdrawn because every effort will be made to limit numbers of workers taken from individual plants. Where certain types of workers serve generally throughout a specific type of industry the withdrawals will be made from all plants so engaged in order to affect all employers proportionately. "Employers engaged in both war production and less-essential industry must understand," Costello declared, "that they must immediately transfer from the less-essential phases of their production to high urgency jobs all workers on their payroll who can be used in their war production work. Their forces of less-essential employees will be inventoried and subjected to the same 'selective ceiling' treatment as the forces of employers engaged entirely in less-essential goods production. "The war production job cannot wait upon the results of long negotiation for the transfer of workers. The armed forces are demanding production of many critically needed items and New Jersey plants manufacturing these urgently needed 'war goods' must be staffed immediately. Every effort

Tokyo Raider Tells CAP Cadets Of Crash Landing

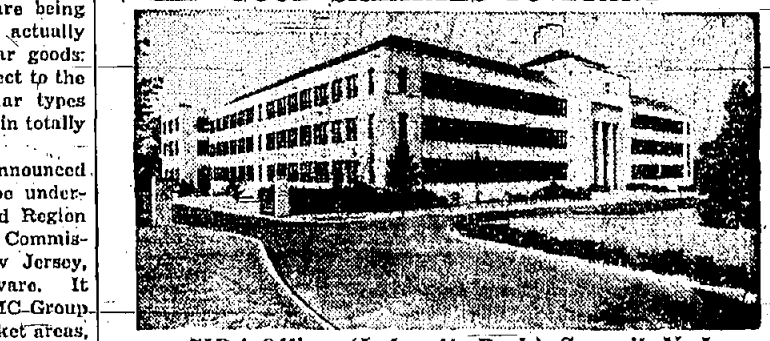

Civil Air Patrol Cadets of Squadron 222-1 were treated Monday to a surprise visit by one of the heroes whose names are already legendary in the annals of the war in the Far East. Lieutenant John Saunders, 8th Air Force, U.S.A., visited their meeting at the Summit High School in the company of Major John Donaldson, 8th Air Force, inventor of the turn-and-bank indicator and other aviation instruments, and Major Charles MacArthur, past-commander of the American Legion, Chatham Post.

Lieutenant Saunders was the only representative of the State of New Jersey who participated in General Doolittle's famed expedition to bomb Tokyo, when this gallant band took off in B-25s from the decks of the aircraft carrier "Hornet." A veteran of seventy missions over enemy territory, the recipient of the Distinguished Flying Cross, Air Medal with Oak Leaf Clusters, the Purple Heart with Oak Leaf Clusters and other decorations, Prosperity in America is the first step in the direction of a lasting peace. This prosperity ought to spread, as fast as it can, to other countries. It is in America, however, where men have the key to prosperity and the United States must lead the procession to high living standards through open competition... the only way to obtain a more abundant life, for ourselves or others.

At first thought, some people may not agree that prosperity has anything to do with peace. But they will convince themselves if they will think back. Troubles that built up to this present war were economic troubles. Hitler and Mussolini both climbed to power over ruin; ruined fortunes, ruined hopes, ruined lives. They got a following by promising people relief from misery.
Want is Serious.
People will be patient, and content themselves to wait for solutions to ordinary political problems, but they will do desperate and violent things when hungry; when their families need food. Prosperity helps to maintain peace, and as I said in the first sentence, prosperity in America is the first step. The reason is plain. Uncle Sam is the world's best customer.
When we think about the importance of the United States in world affairs, these simple figures stand out boldly. We have only 7 per cent of the earth's population and yet we buy 40 per cent of all the raw materials in the world from which manufactured goods are produced. When wheels are turning in America, markets get active to the four corners of the earth.
Looking to America.
When American smokestacks are warm, and American factories hum, the tin-mines of Malaya get busy, the rubber plantations of Sumatra swarm with workers, and the Caribbean countries commence shipping coffee, chicken and bananas. Our prosperity is the world's prosperity and the key to world peace. But why discuss it unless we can do something about it? I hasten to say we can!
Foreign lands prosper when they sell freely to America. They sell to America when jobs are plentiful and good here—when most Americans have money to buy what they want. Jobs are plentiful and good, and workers prosper, when business is expanding. Business expands when investors see possible returns from investment. They could see such opportunities now if they were not afraid of taxes.
Uncertainty Kills.
Very few business men in the United States have any idea today that they will be able to expand in peace-time pursuits. Most of them know they can't afford to expand if the present-day 95 per cent excess profits tax remains in force. It was enacted as a war emergency measure. Nobody thinks it ought to be repeated this hour. But we ought to make certain now that it will not outlive the war.
Revenue measures are the hardest of all laws to repeal. Taxes rarely get smaller. But unless taxes on business get smaller after the war, investors would be insane to spend new billions for expansion. Business men want to peace-time sales and employment now. When Congress makes a reasonable tax law to become effective with victory, world peace will have its first guarantee. It will have to be done this year.

Renews Plan to Safeguard News Among OCD Group

An appeal went out today to local defense-councils to again call attention of the public to the necessity of safeguarding military information.
"We have been asked by the Army to renew this publicity campaign," said William A. Wachenfeld, State director of Civilian Defense. "Officers of the Second Service Command have completed the local defense councils and the citizens on their work done against loose talk on military matters."
"But this is a subject on which we must ask our war workers and, in fact, every citizen to be constantly on guard. We each know something of interest to the enemy. If we realize how important even little items are, we'll be more determined to prevent 'leaks.'"
"The FBI announced over the week-end," continued Wachenfeld, "that two spies have been caught. They listened in bars, hotels and other public places to conversations of war workers. This is how they get information. Let us go on the assumption, that there are more spies on the loose but they'll hear nothing of military importance from us."
Councils were urged to send

War Prisoners Aid
Staling XVII-B, in Austria, is a well established camp, mainly of French, Belgian, Polish and Serbian prisoners, with splendid physical and cultural surroundings.
spiritual programs, an excellent studio for artists and craftsmen, and one of the most beautiful camp churches in Europe. War Prisoners Aid of the Y.M.C.A., a participating service of the National War Fund, has supplied the materials for these leisure-time activities.
Late in 1943, 3,500 Americans were transferred to this camp. They had to organize their own section from scratch. In January, 1944, their library and theatre were operating, and educational and sports programs were under way. By July, War Prisoners Aid shipments to them included 1,700 books, artists' materials, sports equipment, and musical instruments for three orchestras. Within a few months, the newcomers had built up their section to the spiritual, educational and physical level of the camp—one of the best in Europe. In a letter to the Y.M.C.A., the Camp Leader and the Educational Director said:
"We wish to thank you for your sincere efforts and interest in furthering our programs."
Characteristically, the Polish section expressed its thanks in music, composing a march in honor of the visiting "Y" representative naming it after his home town.

Regional Loses to Cranford, Jefferson

In the throes of a losing streak, Regional's basketball squad went down to defeat twice this week—at-home—against a strong Cranford five, 41-24, and on Tuesday afternoon at Elizabeth against Thomas Jefferson, 35-44.

Cranford was gunning for its eighth straight win and the score didn't reflect the hard pressed efforts of the visitors early in the game. Regional was effective in bottling up Stu "Bus" Duffield, high scoring forward, under the basket. He made only two field goals, which with six foul tries made good still gave him a total of 10 points, less than his usual averages in past games.

Cranford's shooting skill came to the fore. Shots were dropped from all corners and the locals failed to close up the gap, despite a third period rally.

For the Jeffs, it was their first win of the season in three starts. They were ahead, 26-20, at the half, and outscored the Bulldogs in the third and fourth quarters to win easily—Bill Detrick with 16 points and Gene Thorpe's 15 stood out for Regional.

IS YOUR SERVICE MAN GETTING THE SUN EVERY WEEK?

The SPRINGFIELD SUN is mailed free of charge to all service men and women in this country and overseas, upon request. Through the assistance of Continental Post No. 228, American Legion, and the Defense Council, funds from the scrap drives under its supervision, will hereafter be used to pay for such papers under special arrangements made with the SUN. It is our goal to see that EVERY local man and woman in the service gets the home town paper, which is like a weekly letter from home.

IF YOUR SON, BROTHER OR HUSBAND is not getting the paper, send his address by mail or in person to the SUN. To insure accuracy, we won't take them over the phone, and let us know if it's a new request.

IF there's any delay among the service men who are on the list, it may be due to a change in address never given to the SUN. The Post Office Dept. does not forward newspapers, as they do letters. Such names are removed from our mailing list and not restored until the folks at home give us the new address.

YOUR RED CROSS

LOCAL
The Executive Committee and the Board of Directors has announced that Cecil M. Hendon and Dennis Mahoney have accepted appointment of co-chairmen for the annual War Fund Drive in March. Their committees will be announced later.

The annual meeting of the Springfield Red Cross Chapter will be held on Monday night, February 5. Mrs. Lewis F. McCartney is chairman of the meeting.

The Board of Directors announced that the following women will serve on the Nominating Committee, to nominate officers and members of the Board for the coming year: Mrs. Charles Nelson, chairman; Mrs. Alfred Richards, from the board; and Mrs. Charles Bauman, Miss Flor Day and Mrs. John McCormick from the chapter-at-large. Members-nominated by this committee will be elected at the annual business meeting on February 5.

Overlook Personnel In Global Service Military and Civil

Many former personnel of Overlook Hospital are now serving in various places with the forces overseas—and in other essential capacities.

Dr. C. T. Davis, who holds a commission as Lieutenant in the Navy, is stationed on an island somewhere in the eastern Pacific. He has his own medical unit with one doctor assisting him and a number of corpsmen. He is busy and does a good deal of surgery.

Lt. Grace Glasgow, one of the graduates of Overlook Training School, is stationed in a large American Hospital in England. She works in the operating room where they do nothing but skin surgery. She writes that she sees some very unusual and interesting operations.

Lt. Comdr. Ingleton has been on convoy duty and has been able to return to his home in Union from time to time, although some of the trips he has taken have been of long duration.

Marion Card, former purchasing agent, stopped in recently. She is located in Geneva, N. Y., as a Red Cross staff assistant, and says she enjoys it.

Dr. Robert M. Miller expects to be back next summer. He is now located at St. Anthony which is on the northern tip of the island of Newfoundland, and is in charge of the medical services of the famous Grenfell foundation. He makes extensive trips up and down the Labrador coast and is kept extremely busy because of the shortage of doctors available for this work. He and his family are living in the home of the late Dr. Grenfell.

Editor's Mail

To the Editor of The SUN:
Will you please print the following in this week's paper? Thank you very much.

"Behold the Lord's hand is not shortened that it cannot save; neither his ear heavy that it cannot hear; but your iniquities have separated between you and your God, and your sins have hid his face from you, that he will not hear." Isaiah 59:1,2.

Monday, January 15, has been designated for a nation-wide day of prayer by all sound religious, evangelist and lay leaders of our country, and they are asking, by radio, all ministers and church members to spread this information in their churches and towns and join them in observing that day.

Let us hope that Springfield will heed this call this year, after another year of blood shed and have open churches that day, filled with a humble people on their knees before God in repentance and asking for the forgiveness of their sins.

God is still calling the world to repentance and it is hoped that America will answer that call immediately, and hasten the day of peace, with justice for all people.

"Righteousness exalteth a nation; but sin is a reproach to any people."

"The Lord is far from the wicked; but he heareth the prayer of the righteous."

"Man looketh on the outward appearance, but the Lord looketh on the heart."

"The heart is deceitful above all things and desperately wicked; who can know it?" I. the Lord search the heart."

John Quincy Adams said, "The Bible is the most precious book handed down to a sin lost world." At his request in 1844 the halls of Legislature opened their doors to a celebration of the reading of the Bible.

Why not take your Bible off the shelf, dust it and read it, or buy one if you do not have any at all.

(Mrs.) Henrietta E. Yale.

Drivers May Use Materials On Highways

With the bad winter driving on highways, the State Highway Department has placed non-skid materials on all the highways and intersections, curves at traffic lights throughout the State.

Ulysses Marinnet, who supervises Routes 10 and 24, suggests that it would be advisable for each motorist to carry a small shovel in his car, so that if vehicles are stalled in snow or unable to gain traction on slippery pavements, to use the non-skid material on the pavement under the wheels. Due to the manpower shortage, the motorist is asked to co-operate and assist in what would normally be a routine cure of the Highway Department.

The department is trying to keep traffic moving to prevent blocking of the highways, in order that vital war materials be uninterrupted on deliveries. The cinders on the roads are there for the use of the motorist.

BOARD OF EDUCATION TOWNSHIP OF SPRINGFIELD

TOWN and FARM in WARTIME

Prepared by OFFICE OF WAR INFORMATION

REMINDERS

Housewives are urged to destroy all food ration stamps that have been declared invalid, the Office of Price Administration said today. Use of these stamps by consumers as well as acceptance of them by retailers, is a violation of rationing regulations, OPA said.

At the same time, OPA explained that red ration tokens continue good and housewives may use them for buying meat-fats. Grocers will continue to give them to housewives as change for the red 10-point stamps.

Blue ration tokens, however, have not been good since October 1 and, therefore, cannot be used for canned fruits and vegetables. They are no longer needed as change for the 10-point blue ration stamps used for processed foods because point values for these items are set in multiples of ten.

Ration stamps which were invalidated as of 12:01 a. m., Tuesday, December 26, 1944, and which are not good for consumer use are:

Red Stamps A8 through Z8 and A5 through F5.

Blue Stamps A8 through Z8 and A5 through W5.

Sugar Stamps 30, 31, 32, 33 and 40, along with all home canning coupons outstanding.

Stamps continuing to be good—and those soon to be made good—are:

Red Stamps Q5, R5 and S5, which became good December 3. In addition, five more red stamps T5, U5, V5, W5 and X5—will become good on Sunday, December 31.

Blue Stamps X5, Y5, Z5, A2 and B2. In addition, five more blue stamps—C2, D2, E2, F2 and G2—will become good on Monday, January 1.

Sugar Stamp No. 34, which became good on November 16. Another sugar stamp will become good on February 1, 1945.

Expiration dates have not been set for the stamps that still remain good.

Gasoline—A-14 coupons good for four gallons.

Fuel Oil—East and Far West 1 and 2 coupons good for ten gallons per unit. Mid-West and South 2 and 3 coupons good for ten gallons per unit.

Shoes—Airplane Stamps 1, 2 and 3 in Book Three, good indefinitely.

Ration Action for Fairer Distribution

The mounting exactions of a lengthened war and failure of past partial rationing to fairly distribute available foods to all Americans are causes reported by the Office of Price Administration for tightening and increasing the rationing system on foods. Cancellation of unspent ration stamps validated prior to December 1 was done, OPA said, because supplies are just not large enough to permit spending both 1945 ration stamps and all those unspent in 1944. Stamps issued for this past December and for January are to provide for current needs. Major facts on the supply situation are:

Sugar—The home canning ration this year is severely tightened and coupons for no more than 700,000 tons can be issued in the 1945 season, compared with 1,150,000 tons last season. This reflects an excessive use of 1944 supplies and the fact that 1945 will see no more than 5,400,000 tons available for civilians as against 6,100,000 in 1944, 6,700,000 in 1943 and 7,350,000 in 1941.

Butter—Civilian creamery stocks are at such a low level that supplies in the hands of wholesalers and retailers must be increased if a fairer distribution is to be obtained. The total available for 1945 is expected to be smaller than last year.

Processed Foods—Needs of the armed forces for canned fruits are expected to remain heavy and military procurement needs and set-aside requirements for canned vegetables from the 1944 pack were bigger than in 1943. The supply now on hand must be made to last until the next canning season. The present stocks of commercially canned vegetables on December 1, 1944, was about 56 per cent of the quantity on hand for civilians—12 months previous.

Meat—Prospects at present are for supplies during the first three months of this year and are about 15 per cent below the last three months of 1944 and also the first quarter of last year. This applies to both rationed and unrationed kinds. Hog production available for slaughter is about 25 per cent below a year ago.

Says OPA: "Food rationing, in effect, must be placed on a pay-as-you-go basis. During the next few months, and perhaps throughout 1945, ration stamps will be only good on the basis of the supplies that can be made available to civilians without upsetting the fair distribution obtainable. Shortages in some items, such as butter, may continue. The choice and variety of meats and canned fruits and vegetables may continue to be spotty in some cities. But as closely as possible point values will be maintained to assure the shopper a reasonable choice of rationed foods."

War Food Administration reports that deliveries of food and other farm products for shipment to the Allies under lend-lease during November totaled 467,500,000 pounds, or 251,800,000 less than in October. In November 1943 shipments were 1,015,900,000 pounds. Of these totals the United Kingdom and British possessions received 52 per cent, Russia 41 per cent, and Greece, West Africa, North Africa, the Netherlands, Poland, Yugoslavia and the French Committee of National Liberation, 7 per cent.

Farmers who need lumber for emergency maintenance and repair of farm dwellings may now apply to the War Food Administration for preference ratings instead of to the War Production Board field offices. WPA's Office of Civilian Requirements has transferred to WFA 15,000,000 board feet of lumber from its allotment for the first quarter of 1945 to provide lumber for emergency maintenance and repair of farm dwellings.

Less than one-fourth of the motor trucks estimated as needed to meet essential war and civilian transportation requirements during 1945 will be produced and distributed to commercial operators, the Office of Defense Transportation announced today. The estimate is based on the 1945 civilian truck program approved by the War Production Board. Increased demands by the armed services for all types of motor transport was given as the chief reason for the severe reduction. The total authorized program amounts to 136,792 light, medium, light heavy and heavy heavy trucks, or 24.1 per cent of the ODT stated requirement of 573,935 vehicles.

REGIONAL HIGH

(Editor's Note: "Regional High" covers the happenings of interest about former pupils and what they're doing.)

The Air Medal has been awarded Lieutenant William D. Russo, son of Chief of Police and Mrs. D. V. Russo of Berkeley Heights. Lt. Russo is stationed with the Eighth Air Force in England. He is a graduate of Regional High, class of '35. Russo played the part of Kirk O'Farrell, a detective, in the Senior play, "The New Poor."

Technical Sergeant Harry E. Richards, son of Mrs. Edward Gottlieb, of Mountain avenue, Murray Hill, has been awarded the Croix de Guerre with Palmes by order of General Charles De Gaulle. He is stationed with the 12th Air Force in Corsica. A tail gunner on a bomber, Sgt. Richards holds the Air Medal with 11 oak leaf clusters and a Presidential citation which was awarded him last October. He has completed more than 60 missions and according to a recent letter received by his mother, is expected home on furlough soon.

Sgt. Richards entered the service in August, 1942 and received his training at Atlantic City, Goldsboro, N. C., Fort Meyers, Fla. and Shreveport, La. He also received special "bomber" training at the Glenn L. Martin Airport plant in Baltimore. He went overseas in August, 1943 and has been stationed in Ireland, England, Scotland and North Africa.

A 1938 graduate of Regional High School, Sgt. Richards was associated with the Western Electric Company at its Kearny plant.

Theodore Roosevelt Encyclopedia Gift To Carteret School

A special assembly of Carteret School for Boys is being held in the school auditorium on Friday morning, Jan. 12, at 10:30 o'clock at which time the school will formally receive the Theodore Roosevelt Encyclopedia which is being given by Mrs. Theodore Roosevelt of Oyster Bay, L. I.

Theodore Roosevelt and Thomas A. Edison are the two characters the boys are repeatedly recommended to emulate, one representing statesmanship, courage and physical activity; the other representing accuracy, scientific research and its practical application. The mottoes of these two men are known by every boy in the school, Roosevelt's being "Keep your eyes on the stars and your feet on the ground;" and Edison's "Everything comes to him who hustles while he waits."

Both Mrs. Theodore Roosevelt and Mrs. Thomas A. Edison attended the dedication exercises of Carteret School when the student body moved to its new building five years ago.

The presentation is to be made on behalf of Mrs. Roosevelt by Mrs. Charles F. Robbins, whose sons attend Carteret School and who herself has been a supporter of the policies fostered by the school.

Rev. Raymond J. Lindquist, pastor of First Church of Orange, will address the student body and friends attending the exercises.

Over 10,000 greeting cards in stock for any occasion at the Springfield Stationery and Gift Shop, 8 Plumer Ave., 2 doors from bank.—Adv.

Druggist Heard In Court Suit

Morris Lichtenstein, owner of the Springfield Pharmacy, Morris avenue, testified in the Armour divorce suit, before Advisory Master Campbell in Newark on Monday. Lichtenstein testified that neither Dr. Benjamin Kramer, Brooklyn pediatrician, a co-respondent named in the suit, nor anyone else bought a certain headache preparation in his store June 12, 1942.

Testimony had been given that a apothecary had directed Dr. Kramer to the local drug store, Bernard R. Armour of Englewood, president of the Hayden Chemical Co. of New York, is suing Mrs. Martha S. Armour of Westchester County, N. Y.

Lichtenstein was questioned by Richard J. Fitzmaurice, counsel for Armour and George W. McCarter, representing Mrs. Armour. An examination of the store records revealed that the drug was not purchased on the day in question. Lichtenstein said the drug would not have been sold without a prescription, although he testified that any medical man could have obtained the preparation, upon furnishing evidence of his profession, without a prescription.

After hearing the druggist, the advisory master and counsel for both sides went to Long Branch to check on elements of testimony involving Mrs. Armour and Nathan Berger, New York lawyer, at the Hollywood Hotel there. Testimony of A. M. Korff, architect of the hotel, and Peter Anagnostis, a caretaker, was taken.

If it happened in town, read it in the SUN.
