Fred Kosches, Garage Repairman, Dies From Automobile Injuries

Fred Kosches, 43 years old, owner of the Springfield Heights Garage at 721 Mountain avenue, died in Overlook Hospital, Summit, Monday night at 10:40 from injuries suffered in a truck collision eight hours earlier in Mountain side...

While working beneath his auto wrecker to adjust a loose chain, a truck skidded out of control and crashed into the Springfield man...

He was taken to the hospital by Police Lieut. Roeder of Mountain side in the Rescue Squad ambulance and never regained consciousness...

He suffered a fractured skull, fractured shoulder and internal injuries.

According to police, Kosches was driving west on Route 29 and happened at the corner of Central avenue to adjust the chains...

He parked the wrecker at the side of the road and went under the left rear wheel to repair the chains...

Soon after, the truck driven by Francesco Molinaro, 20 years old, of 230 Washington street, Orange, descended down the slight grade on Route 29 and approaching the wrecker, began to slide...

He blew his horn to attract Kosches' attention, he said, but failed to do so and collided into the left rear wheel, pinning the garage man below the car...

The truck is owned by Burris of Essex County, 418 Central avenue, Newark.

Less than 10 minutes later, another truck operated by Edward Kehoe, 48 years old, of 1048 Kilsyth road, Elizabeth, and owned by Coles Express of Garwood, skidded in the same westerly direction and got out of the Burris truck.

At this point, several large trailers approaching skidded, not being aware of the blocked vehicles in the roadway...

Warning was finally given to oncoming cars, which were halted several hundred yards back from the scene...

Molinaro was held under $1,000 bail by Recorder William Winkler on a mandatory charge of reckless driving and causing death by a motor vehicle...

Kosches had been in the auto wrecking and repair business here for 15 years. He was active in the auxiliary reserve of the Springfield Fire Department and his wrecker was used to tow the trailer used by the firemen on Defense Council work.

He was born in Newark and lived in Newark before moving to Springfield. He was a member of Irvington Lodge E. and A. M. of Irvington.

He leaves his wife, Mrs. Ida Kosches, and his mother, Mrs. Sarah Kosches, of the Mountain avenue address; a sister, Mrs. Joseph Miller of Minneapolis, and a brother, Norris of Maplewood. Funeral services were held Wednesday afternoon from Apter's Funeral Home, Stratford place, Newark, with Masonic services held earlier.

Silver Star Is Awarded to Lieut. Marmon

Second Lieutenant Edwin A. Marmon, son of Mr. and Mrs. Louis J. Marmon of 710 Morris avenue, has been awarded the coveted Silver Star for gallantry in action on Leyte Island, November 11 and 12...

"Lieutenant Marmon," the citation read, "demonstrated the highest traits desired in an officer, by moving beyond the infantry front line, under fire, and directing artillery successfully against the enemy. He was wounded, but remained at his post for approximately 17 hours and continued to adjust the greatly needed artillery fire, and left his post only after having been ordered to return to the rear for medical attention."

"Lieutenant Marmon's utter disregard for his personal safety and high devotion to duty reflect the greatest credit upon himself and the military service."

WCTU Aims For Individual Gifts

The devotional service of the Women's Christian Temperance Union meeting held on Tuesday afternoon was conducted by Mrs. Otto Marek, Mrs. Raymond Gogel and Mrs. Fred Brown. The meeting was held at the Marek home, Marion avenue.

During the business session, the State, County and Social budget appropriation was decided to be raised by individual gifts rather than by luncheon, teas, etc.

Mention was made of the New Jersey executive board having recently voted in favor of Commissioner Driscoll's request for a Legislative appropriation for the Medical care of Alcoholics, but the members present, though approving the medical care, felt that like small pox victims, something should be done to eradicate the source of the affliction.

In our country, at present, are over a million alcoholic addicts and another million of the youth in our public schools now, will soon follow the same course, unless strenuous efforts are put forth to counteract the evil.

House, a Brig. Gen. Camp, spoke to the new men and introduced them to the company officers. Among those officers was Lieutenant Frank Gloger of Springfield. During the course of talk we had, I learned he is in the pool for overseas assignments, handed monthly to different officers.

"Our Company Commander, a Captain Smith, has just returned from a year and a half overseas."

"You can't imagine how much we enjoy reading the SUN," writes Private First Class Michael J. O'Cono somewhere in the Philippines. Pfc. O'Cono's letter reads: "Here I am a long way from good Springfield. Just finished reading every word in two of the SUN editions. First of all, before I go any further, let me take this time in thanking the editor and staff of this lovely paper for their splendid support and taking the taste of sending copies of our paper to the boys overseas. You can't imagine how we enjoy reading them. Sometimes over and over until we get the next copy. Even though after reading it, I get homesick more than ever.

"I got to see a few of the boys from the town. Henry Beck, whom I used to go to school with, and when we see each other we sit and talk of the hometown a lot.

"There isn't much I can tell you of what I am doing and where we are at. All I can say it is plenty rough. As for the Philippines, I don't care for it at all, U.S.A.

Summit Secretarial School Reaches Another Milestone In Its History

That the Summit Secretarial School has reached another milestone under the ablest administration in its history there can be little doubt according to the testimony of a number of leading manufacturers and industrialists in the Metropolitan area who are constantly seeking the school's graduates. In the nearly two years Harold F. Hudson has been at the helm of the secretarial school, these leaders have observed what they term an unparalleled period of expansion and development in virtually every phase of secretarial school life.

The attention of these business leaders in the Metropolitan area has been focused upon the Summit Secretarial School as a result of the successful program which Mr. Hudson has planned and directed. This program has been extensive and far-reaching, culminating recently in the purchase of the Donner estate at 385 Summit avenue.

Landscaping that was well planned, tall and stately trees, and a wide variety of shrubbery add greatly to the beauty of the campus of this ultra-swanky school for secretaries.

So great has been the material progress of the Summit Secretarial School since its inception 15 years ago that it is difficult to assess or appraise it accurately. And, still more important, academic progress has kept pace with the material progress which is exemplified in the spacious Summit avenue quarters.

To stimulate faculty members, many of whom have graduate degrees, Mr. Hudson has introduced numerous projects designed to meet the needs of an ever increasing exacting student demand. Important curriculum changes have been adopted. Now that the school's physical facilities are ample, the role of the school library has received greatly increased emphasis.

Mr. Hudson has been interested at all times in raising the educational standards of the school. To this end, he has stressed the importance of quality in both students and teachers. To administer an effective program for students, Mr. Hudson has completely reorganized his office. Here, he receives new pupils both at the beginning of their term and from time to time during the progress of their studies in the business field. Individual conferences are a part of the school's regular program aiming to prepare the student in the field of personnel relations, the mastering of individual lessons, and what is very important, how to approach the prospective employer. Each student receives individual counseling in the way and whereabouts of what to do in an office, how to get along with people.

The excellence of the academic work at the Summit Secretarial School has resulted in greater recognition in business school circles generally. The school is not only an accredited member of the State Association of Business Schools but also of the National Council of Business Schools. Mr. Hudson is the elected treasurer of the State association.

In his counseling work, Mr. Hudson places considerable stress upon "Business Psychology."

"You see," mused Mr. Hudson, "girls too often have the idea that all there is to being a secretary is a mere knowledge of shorthand and typing. That's not so. The human equation comes to the fore so often that we must give our students this grounding or receive a severe reprimand from the employers to whom we send them."

One of the main things that Mr. Hudson dwells upon in his Business Practices course and counseling periods with his students is the importance of tact and diplomacy. On this point, he commented as follows:

"When a new girl gets into a strange office, there may be some instances when an amount of friction or tension is created. One girl may envy the new one and especially so if a new girl procures the position for which someone else may have aspired. We advise our students to meet a situation like this by the simple expediency of being friendly and kind and trying to show the other girls that they (the newcomers) are not trying to grab the whole show, but that they just wish to earn a living and gain the satisfaction of meeting their responsibilities in a first class manner. By this method, we have yet to find an instance where any of our alumnae do not make the grade."

Mr. Hudson has testimonials from a number of personnel offices of leading business and industrial concerns in the Metropolitan area testifying to what one personnel director calls "an excellent background training for any seeking success in office work." This director not only mentioned the training in typing, stenography and bookkeeping; students receive at the Summit Secretarial School, but also their training and practice in the cutting of stencils and the operation of the mimeograph and the milligraph.

To make his school a more complete community in itself, Mr. Hudson has plans for the installation of a cafeteria where students may purchase tasty lunches at cost. Also realizing that a regular program of recreation is an indispensable part of every office worker's daily routine, Mr. Hudson has plans well advanced for recreation facilities which will include opportunities for ping-pong and shuffleboard.

A modern teaching program, which places emphasis on visual education, makes it possible for a student to choose the curriculum for which he or she is best fitted. As in all private schools, individual instruction is important. Each student is allowed to progress as rapidly as possible compatible with mastery of the subject matter.

Prospective students are invited to make inquiries for the next term which starts early next month. Employers who have not already availed themselves of the opportunity of seeing first-hand the training offered at the Summit Secretarial School are invited to visit the school.

REGIONAL HIGH

(Editor's Note: "Regional High" covers the happenings of interest about former pupils and what they're doing.)

Staff Sergeant Michael O'Such, a 1943 graduate of Regional High, has been awarded the fourth Oak Leaf Cluster to the Air Medal for "meritorious achievement." Sgt. O'Such, son of Mr. and Mrs. Nicholas O'Such of 216 Second Avenue, Garwood, is attached to an Eighth Air Force Bomber Station in England. He has flown more than thirty missions against Nazi war targets. Sgt. O'Such entered the service in May, 1943.

Sergeant Edith Shapiro, WAC, recently gained considerable favorable press comment as a member of the WAC detachment who, according to a headquarters dispatch, "Drove a jeep in a skill and precision drill at a War Bond show staged by more than 1,000 service men and women and civilians in Jacksonville, Fla. The twenty-one jeep maneuver, in a display of figures and driving technique ended with an appeal to buy more war bonds. All women drivers were selected on the basis of outstanding qualifications as drivers of army vehicles. Some had had previous driving experience, but many were trained as expert drivers since joining the WAC." Sgt. Shapiro, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Nathan Shapiro of Ravitan road, Clark Township, is a 1938 graduate of Regional High.

Lieutenant Harold Roach is with the Army Air Corps, stationed in Colorado. Lieut. Roach, son of Town Clerk and Mrs. Lawrence C. Roach of Westfield avenue, Clark Township, is a graduate of Regional High School, class of 1940.

The promotion to sergeant has been given to John J. Zabalski, U. S. Army Air Corps, son of Mr. and Mrs. Len Zabalski, 245 Willow street, Garwood. It has been announced by a Twelfth Air Force B-25 Base. He is a tall gunner

YOUR RED CROSS

Engle Hershey, Chairman of the Camp Kilmer Council, announces that he has just received orders to "help" provide 100,000 recreation chests for the boys overseas. The various organizations represented on the Council are asked to help supply some of these chests. The chests will contain games, cards, small musical instruments, such as harmonicas, sweet potatoes, etc. A full list of contents desired will be announced later. All games, cards, etc., must be either new, or slightly used. Mr. Hershey is going to have one or two of these wooden chests made up to display as soon as possible. Watch for them in town. Each organization is asked for donations for the contents of these chests. Mr. Hershey urges the representative from each organization to be sure to be present at the next Camp Kilmer meeting. Notifications of the meeting will be sent out. Let's see to it that our boys get the proper equipment so that they may enjoy their leisure time.

Mrs. Leslie Chisholm, chairman of Sewing, announces that she has received a new assignment of 400 boy's shirts and 100 girls' woolen cloaks with hoods, to be made up and sent abroad for civilian war relief. The material has not yet been purchased, but when it is, Mrs. Chisholm's committee will need extra help.

Plans for the Annual Meeting to be held at the Legion Hall, on Monday evening, February 5, at 8:15 are going ahead smoothly, reports Mrs. Lewis Macartney, chairman of the meeting. At this meeting the election of the officers will be held, committee reports read, and entertainment will be provided. Not the least of the entertainment will be the colored movies of the functions of the Red Cross in Springfield, planned and carried out by Mrs. Henry McMullen and her committee, and "shot" by Mrs. Richard Bunnell. You'd better come early to get a good seat!

The station wagon is now filled for the day of the State Conference in Trenton. Anyone else desiring to go, will have to travel by train, expenses paid. Call Mrs. Macartney, Millburn 6-1973.

Educator to Address Carteret Faculty Feb. 1

On Thursday evening, Feb. 1, Dr. Thomas H. Briggs, educator and former professor of Secondary School Education at Teachers College, Columbia University, will address the faculty at Carteret School in the new Loree Hall Dormitory.

This is the first time Loree Hall has been used by Carteret School for an event of this kind since it was purchased from the estate of Leonor F. Loree. It is now operating as a dormitory for boys from distant locations who are attending Carteret School and for local boys whose parents prefer they live at the school during school days and return home week-ends.

War Prisoners Aid

The increasing millions of war prisoners include men of almost every race, and of every profession, occupation and rank. The prince and the peasant, the scientist and the bootblack, the former soldier of fortune and the once-sedentary bank clerk, rub elbows in the hideous, squalid contrasts of the prison camps.

Most of these prisoners are housed in regular camps, but some occupy fashionable hotels, old forts, tents, medieval castles, pagan temples, monasteries and disused reformatories.

Equally striking are the contrasts in occupation frequently found under one roof, by visiting representatives of War Prisoners Aid of the Y. M. C. A., a participating service of the National War Fund, in their rounds to see that prisoners have necessary materials for leisure-time activities. Thus one but may serve as a chapel, theatre, library, game room, and lecture and music room.

A recent "high" in contrasting activities is reported by a Y. M. C. A. visitor to the British section of Stalag VIII C, Germany. Entering the theatre room, he found a symphony orchestra practicing at one end, while, at the other, the "camps' boxer" were engaged in training bouts. In the pauses of the music, he could hear the quick padding of the boxers' feet and the whisper and smack of the gloves.

STATISTICS OF SPRINGFIELD

Population—1941, 5,000; assessed valuation—1941, $6,477,225; tax rate—1941, 29.07 (Township—22.21; school, $1.82; state and county, $3.99).
Springfield was settled in the early 1700's. Its township form of government was established April 1, 1794, and was incorporated in 1857.
Springfield is essentially a community of homes, with little industry except for farming, nurseries and an ornamental manufacturing for these 45 minutes from New York City on the Lackawanna R. R. with two stations at Millburn and Short Hills, less than a mile away; 7 miles to Elizabeth; 7 miles to Newark; excellent bus connections to Newark, Elizabeth, Summit and Plainfield.
The Valley Valley Railroad with a freight station in the township affords service for factories, commercial and industrial purposes. State Highway 29 makes New York City convenient by auto in 30 minutes. Site of the 500,000 Union County Regional High School, serving Springfield, Mountainside and four other county municipalities.
It has good streets, water, gas, electricity and modern sanitary sewer system, excellent police, fire and school facilities; mail carrier-delivery system, and zoning regulations for the protection of the individual property owner.
Of interest in Revolutionary history with its historic Presbyterian Church, where the Rev. James Caldwell cried: "Give 'em witte, boys!"—in the midst of the Battle of Springfield, fought on June 23, 1780. Several colonial landmarks are to be found in Springfield, one of the oldest communities in Union County.

WHAT THE SUN ADVOCATES

1. Sidewalks wherever needed.
2. 5c bus fare to Union Center.
3. Extended local telephone scope to Newark and Elizabeth.
4. Federal Post Office building.
5. An active Board of Trade to stimulate "Try Springfield First" in purchasing.
6. Full-time position for the Township Clerk's office.
7. Encouraging clean industry, to increase tax rates.
8. Extension of mail delivery by local R. F. D. routes, to all portions of the township.

Orange Screen Earns Fourth Army-Navy "E"

The Army-Navy production award for outstanding achievement has been won by the men and women of the Orange Screen company, Maplewood, for the fourth time, for their outstanding record in producing materials essential to the war effort.
Word was received from Washington this week that the company had earned the right to fly a third star on the "E" pennant which flies above the Valley street building which houses Maplewood's largest war plant.
The first citation was made to the company on July 3, 1943, when the Army-Navy "E" flag was presented at Columbia high school by ranking Army and Navy officials. Subsequent "E" stars have been added to the flag at six-month intervals.
Robert P. Patterson, under-secretary of war, said to the men and women of Orange Screen company in a letter received this week, "By maintaining the distinguished record which previously brought you distinction, you are once again proving your leadership on the production front."
The Orange Screen company has been specialists in the manufacture of aluminum products for many years, and made the aluminum screens for the White House which at one time received much publicity. Their war program has included aluminum fabrications for radar, radio and other necessary equipment for the communications field and the B-29 bomber program. The PT boats are equipped with windows made in Maplewood by the Orange Screen company.

Everett P. Balch, president, stated today that although tentative plans for the company's post-war program had been developed, they will be held in abeyance until the company's war program is completed. Mr. Balch was one of the first in this area to organize the "professional shift" of men and women, which operated five evenings a week from 6:20 to 10:30 p. m. and has proved "highly efficient."
Men and women from all walks of life, according to Mr. Balch, have responded to the call and "over 100 work each evening at the plant."
The daytime women's shift is still operating in full force, he continued. Women perform not only the simple operations of assembly but have taken up the more difficult tasks of aluminum welding and spray painting. A college degree is not essential to these tasks, although several in the welding department are college trained, he pointed out.

LOOKING AHEAD

by GEORGE S. BENSON
Fruitland/Annapolis College
Spring, Michigan

Two southerners sat near me in a crowded day-coach recently and carried on a heated and revealing conversation. Both men were farmers, but their similarity ended there. They were not at all alike. One seemed to be about 70 years old. He spoke with a soft "Deep South" inflection. He had attended college, was well dressed and had lived in several big cities.
The other man was nearer 30, spoke with the accent of the delta country and was obviously a practical dirt-farmer with very limited schooling. The conversation was about rice. The older man insisted that rice was not grown in Arkansas. "It would be so foolish," he said scornfully. "So long as Asiatic labor is cheap there will be no money in raising rice in this country."

The young man was right. The old gentleman almost persuaded the young man that he had been calling something rice that was not rice at all. I didn't intrude to say that I drive through miles of rice fields every time I make a trip from Searcy to Memphis, although I hated to see a man in possession of the truth so crushed under courteous language and ideas that have been out of date for 25 years.

Workers in the Arkansas rice fields are relatively well paid, as farm hands are compensated. They earn more than cotton choppers and pickers; draw wages more like a California orange grove worker. Just the same, Arkansas rice is priced right. Our growers could ship it to Japan in normal times and sell it there at a profit in competition to Chinese rice, Cooite raised.

Custom-Built Economy
It sounded quite familiar when the cultured gentleman-farmer explained, "The biggest part of the cost of anything is labor." The statement used to be made often and used to be almost true, but American volume production by machinery has disrupted the idea with success for years; longer than the younger man could remember. Rice in Arkansas, a new industry, is loaded up well.

That's exactly why our rice workers are well paid. They produce a lot of rice per man. An American worker, with modern tools, can produce 50 times as much rice as a China boy with a heavy hoe. Allowing liberally for machinery expense, he can earn 30 times as much as the Chinese, and does. At the same time, the rice costs less per bushel and can profitably sell for less. That's America.

Parent of Prosperity
Shorter hours and higher wages for people who work lower prices and better merchandise for people who buy, are universally popular ideas. The same people want all four, because working people buy the biggest part of everything that's sold. It is strange however that all four of these benefits come from the same source (investment) which is not a popular idea.

Good equipment costs something. It calls for investment. With good equipment, workers increase production per man and get their pay raised, also increase production per day (or per acre) and show the investor a profit. Good equipment also increases the available supply per customer and thus lowers prices. What America needs, not to mention China, is to encourage investment.

BEWARE!

You don't have to consult a crystal ball to know that an evil spirit will soon try to force his way into your home. He is bent on freezing your water pipes and causing you discomfort, worry and expense. His name is Jack Frost.

A warm reception will discourage him. To keep him away and thus prevent frozen plumbing and expensive repair bills:

- Wrap exposed water pipes and meter with old newspapers, rags or burlap.
- Make your basement air tight. Repair broken window panes. Stuff cracks in walls, around windows, and around doors which admit cold air.

A warm basement will also conserve heating fuel. More important, it will help to protect your pipes and plumbing against freezing when repairs will be extremely difficult to obtain.
