FROM GARDEN TO SHELF

CANNING CHATTER TOMATO JUICE AND CORN

The most popular juice concocted in American kitchens is undoubtedly that made from one of the Nation's favorite foods—the solid, rich, red tomato now being harvested in thousands of New Jersey Victory Gardens.

First, cut clean, ripe tomatoes into sections without peeling them. Simmer these sections at 170 to 180 degrees Fahrenheit until the juice begins to flow.

Some separation in the tomato juice is normal because the pulp is heavier than the juice. The finer the sieve used for straining the juice, the less pulp will settle.

TOWN and FARM in WARTIME

CIVILIANS AT PEACE
The Government needs and asks its citizens in this first week of PEACE to:

- 1. Continue to fight the danger of rising living costs by buying only what you need and at ceiling prices. Remember that 40 per cent of the price rise occurred after the armistice in 1918.
- 2. Stay at your post as a nurse's aide or return to professional nursing to help your local hospital handle record "numbers" of patients. Care of sick and wounded will require the services of military nurses for many months.
- 3. Stick to your plans. Limited food supplies must not spoil, and farm labor will continue short until long after harvest.

Highlights of Plan For Reconversion
The Japanese surrender has brought an end to a number of wartime restrictions on the civilian economy. But it still leaves problems of keeping prices stable, conservation of scarce consumer goods, and other basic matters involved in reconversion from war to peace, according to reports from the Office of War Mobilization and Reconversion, WPB, OPA and other government agencies responsible for an orderly transition to a peace economy.

The report of the Office of War Mobilization and Reconversion, submitted by John W. Snyder, Director, and entitled "From War to Peace: A Challenge," stresses that the goal of our peacetime economy is a vastly expanded production which will make possible the attainment of the four major economic objectives which face us in the months ahead. They are:

- 1. Jobs for all those willing and able to work; a steadily rising standard of living; stabilization of our economy to avoid disastrous inflation or deflation; and increased opportunities for farmers and businessmen.
- 2. The report highlights the following important questions that VJ-Day has raised and gives some specific answers:
I. Military Contracts: All military contracts are being terminated immediately, except those required for experimental and development purposes and for the maintenance and supply of the armed forces. The largest continuing item in Army procurement will be in food and this will be cut as fast as demobilization will permit. Navy reductions will be smaller and more gradual.
- 3. II. Demobilization: Demobilization from the armed services will return from at least 7,000,000 men to civilian life within the next year. At present, the Army is demobilizing at the rate of 170,000 per month. Within several months, the rate is expected to reach 500,000. The Army will demobilize on the same basis as formerly, releasing first those men with the longest combat service and greatest number of dependents. The Navy plans to demobilize some of its personnel almost immediately. Both the Army and the Navy will continue to draft on a reduced basis, some men to replace those of longer service.
- 4. III. Unemployment and Manpower: All controls over manpower are to be removed and the compulsory 48-hour week ended at once. The U. S. Employment Service will devote its best efforts to finding jobs for displaced workers and veterans and assisting claimants for unemployment compensation. Unemployment currently is estimated at 1,100,000 persons. This represents the total without jobs on a given day, many of them being persons "between jobs." This total of unemployment is expected to rise to 5,000,000 or more within three months; perhaps to 6,000,000—before next spring, as those released from war jobs are joined by large numbers of men discharged from the armed services. Many of the unemployed will find new jobs within a few weeks—others will face extended periods without jobs.
- 5. IV. Production and Distribution Controls: Many production and distribution controls will be removed at once. Only those which remain in force which are essential for expediting production, breaking bottlenecks, preventing inventory hoarding, and assuring economic stabilization. Rationing of certain scarce commodities must continue for a while.
- 6. V. Price and Wage Controls: For some period of time the dangers of inflation will be with us. There will be more demand for many kinds of goods and services than business can supply. As long as some materials and products remain seriously short, price ceilings on those materials and products must be maintained as a barrier against inflation. Rent controls also must continue. While price and rent ceilings remain in force, wage stabilization must be continued. Wherever price ceilings will not be endangered, collective bargaining will be restored. Wage and price increases will be allowed to correct substandard pay scales, to relieve hardships of individual workers and enterprises and, where necessary, to stimulate increased production.
- 7. VI. Legislative Program: In order to speed reconversion and to mitigate the extremes of hardship during the transition period, a number of legislative enactments are needed. These include: Increased unemployment compensation benefits; revision of the Fair Labor Standards Act to increase minimum wages; tax program to stimulate production and to maintain markets; appropriations for the planning and execution of public works; adequate appropriations for the United States Employment Service and retention of this service under Federal control during the interim of transition.
- 8. Rules for Mailing Yule Gifts Overseas
Millions of Christmas gifts will go overseas again this year to our armed forces. It will be especially difficult to deliver these gifts safely and on time, the Army and Navy point out, unless families of service men and women cooperate in starting them off right. The following rules are therefore suggested for mailing Christmas packages abroad.
1. If your soldier is en route home or about to come home, don't send him a Christmas package.
2. Use his latest address and be sure it's complete and accurate; name, rank, serial number, organization and unit, APO, in care of postmaster at port of embarkation. Address it—then check it.
3. Mail Christmas gifts overseas from September 15 to October 15. In the Army, this is the only time you can mail a parcel overseas without a written request from your soldier. But ... 4. If there's reason to believe he may move to a new location, it's safer to wait till you can mail your gift to the new address—even if this means asking him for a letter requesting your gift so that you can mail it after October 15. 5. Use a heavy box and strong cord. (Government-approved overseas boxes can be bought at retail stores.) 6. Send only usable gifts like tinned dried fruit, canned luxury foods, razor blades, fountain pens, wallets, watches, etc. 7. DON'T mail perishable foods, intoxicants, weapons, poisons, and all inflammable materials, including matches and lighter fluids. 8. Your package must not weigh over 5 pounds. It must not be more than 16 inches long, or more than 36 inches in length and girth combined.

RADAR

Spotted Enemy Targets Through Darkness, Smoke or Fog

The Bell System — the largest source of Radar for our fighting forces

THIS is not surprising, for Radar, development and production stem from the same roots that produced and continue to nourish this country's telephone system.

Radar, the instrument which enabled our land, sea and air forces to spot enemy targets through darkness, smoke or fog, was one of the outstanding new fighting instruments of the war.

Two years before Pearl Harbor the Government asked Bell Telephone Laboratories to put its wide experience and knowledge of electronics to work to help perfect Radar as a military instrument. From then on the Laboratories co-operated closely in the Radar program with the National Defense Research Committee, with Army and Navy specialists, and with scientists of Great Britain.

The Western Electric Company, manufacturing branch of the Bell System, became the Nation's largest supplier of Radar systems. One type it made was universally used by B-29's in the Pacific for navigation, target location and high altitude bombing. Another played an important part in aiming the guns on our warships.

If you're waiting for a home telephone, it helps a little to know that Radar is one of the reasons. For years telephone manufacturing plants were devoted to war needs.
